SCHEDULES 1–11

RECEIPTS, DISBURSEMENTS, ACCUMULATION OF INCOME, ASSETS, LIABILITIES AND NET WORTH OF 647 FOUNDATIONS, 1967

The source of this data is documents submitted to the Select Committee on Small Business by 647 foundations. The information contained herein was, for the most part, obtained from the foundations' tax returns. There were cases, however, where figures shown in tax returns differed from figures in other financial statements which were submitted to the Subcommittee. Where such discrepancies exist, the figures used here are those which the foundations prepared for the Subcommittee.

In some cases, foundations failed to furnish the data required on the tax return. Following are a few of the omissions:

Capital gains (or losses) were omitted.

Interest and dividend income were not reported separately.

Figures shown on the face of the tax return did not always agree with those shown in supporting schedules.

Accounts receivable and notes receivable were not shown separately.

The liabilities and net worth sections of the tax return were not fully completed.

The 1967 data appearing in schedule 7, column 23(a) are as of the end of the fiscal or calendar year. The 1967 data appearing in schedules 8 and 9, columns 24–49 are also as of the end of the fiscal or calendar year.

The 1951 data appearing in schedule 7, column 23(b) and schedule 8, column 37 are as of the beginning of the fiscal or calendar year, unless other years are indicated.

We have attempted to accurately record all data for the period under study, as furnished to us by the foundations. We have not checked out the arithmetic on the documents submitted by those organizations.

[9] Wherever market values were submitted, the valuations are as of the dates shown. The market valuation of investments generally is as of the same date as the foundation's accounting yearend. In cases where these dates are not identical, the market valuation made available by the foundation at a date closest to its accounting yearend is used. Where market quotations are unavailable, the stocks are shown at the foundation's carrying value. Generally, assets other than stocks are shown at carrying value.

Some foundations failed to separate market values of bonds and stocks. Their figures are shown as reported by them.

[13] The following provides information relative to the dates on which the stock was acquired by the Foundation number of shares acquired, and the manner of acquisition:

As of Dec. 31, 1953, the Institute purchased from Hughes Tool Co. certain nonfixed assets aggregating $74,618,037.61 by assuming Hughes Tool Co. liabilities aggregating $56,574,737.86 and issuing its 3-year 4 percent Promissory Note payable to Hughes Tool Co. for $18,043,299.75. The Institute concurrently transferred to Hughes Aircraft Co. (a Delaware corporation) all such assets, together with $1,000.00 cash, and certain intangible assets (patents, copyrights, trade names, designs, goodwill, etc.) which had been contributed by Hughes Tool Co. to it, and which had a net book value to the donor of $36,463.34, in exchange for the capital stock of Hughes Aircraft Co. and the assumption by Hughes Aircraft Co. of the liabilities previously assumed by the Institute.

[14] The 1967 tax return of the Clayton Foundation for Research does not give details for holdings of 5 percent or more stock, although there is reference to the fact that the Foundation owned all of the capital stock of 13 corporations. Upon our request, the Foundation submitted the information shown in this report.

[15] The tax return of the William H. Donner Foundation does not show separate market values for the various types of securities. Hence, the $34,634,392 covers stocks, bonds, notes, etc.

[16] This is the amount of dividends paid to the Clayton Foundation for Research by all of the wholly owned corporations. The Foundation failed to indicate the amount received from each corporation.
