FEDERAL CIVILIAN PERSONNEL, NOVEMBER 1970

Introduction

This report shows civilian personnel of the Federal Government as of November 1970, and comparison with the preceding month of October.

Figures in the report are compiled from official personnel reports submitted to the Joint Committee on Reduction of Federal Expenditures by the various component agencies of the legislative, judicial, and executive branches of the Federal Government.

The report also includes payroll figures for October 1970 and comparison with the preceding month of September 1970. It will be noted there is a lag of a month in the reporting of payroll figures in order that complete actual expenditures may be shown.

Tabular material contained in this report shows personnel for each of the three branches of the Federal Government, with further detailed information on executive branch personnel to show employment inside and outside the United States, full-time permanent personnel, and employment of disadvantaged persons under certain Federal opportunity programs. Some historical tabulations are also included at the back of the report.

The report is summarized as follows:

[1] November figure includes 2 disadvantaged persons employed under Federal opportunity programs as compared with 2 in October and their pay.

Table 4.—Disadvantaged Persons

By Civil Service Commission determination (with Bureau of the Budget concurrence) employment of disadvantaged persons under three Federal programs is being treated separately for Federal personnel reporting and ceiling control purposes. The three programs involved are:

1. Stay-in-school program: up to 25,000 students may be employed part-time while in school.
2. Temporary summer aids: up to 70,000 youths may be employed during the summer months.
3. Public service careers program: up to 25,000 "worker-trainees" may be employed in full-time permanent positions.

As a result of this reporting policy, the Joint Committee shows employment of disadvantaged persons in a separate table (table 4, below).

This employment is included in other detail tables in this report. Appropriate notations are made on all affected tables. This category of employment is shown in the summary table (p. 1), and included in Federal civilian employment totals as reported by the Joint Committee.
