5     records of the Congress;

6           (3) it is also challenging for Members and com-
7     mittees of Congress to provide timely access to cur-

9     tained by Congress;

10          (4) congressional documents which are placed

12     the public electronically by the Superintendent of 13     Documents under the direction of the Public Print-
14     er;

15          (5) other congressional documents are also
16     made available electronically on websites maintained
17     by Members and committees of Congress;

18          (6) a wide range of records of Congress remain
19     inaccessible to the public;

20          (7) the public should have easy and timely ac-
21     cess, including electronic access, to records of the 22     Congress; and

23          (8) Congress should use new technologies to en-
24     hance public access to records and other important
25     information of the Congress.

1 (b) PURPOSES.—The purposes of this Act are—

2 (1) to foster democracy by ensuring public ac-
3 cess to records of Congress;

5 gress;

6 (3) to enhance the electronic public access, in-
7 cluding access through the Internet, to records of
