RESOLUTION

Expressing the sense of the House of Representatives that Article I, section 10 of the United States Constitution should not be used to renew the interstate economic protectionism of our Nation's early history.

Whereas in consenting to the Northeast Interstate Dairy Compact in 1997, Congress undermined the fundamental

Constitutional principle of one nationwide market free from interstate barriers;

Whereas recent use of Article I, section 10 of the United States Constitution with regard to national dairy policy has renewed the interstate economic protectionism of our Nation's early history;

Whereas fashioning a national dairy policy supporting United States dairy producers without promoting interstate regionalism is in the National interest;

Whereas the Northeast Interstate Dairy Compact has cost consumers in New England more than $140,000,000 in higher milk prices, harming those who can least afford it;

Whereas if compacts were to be expanded to the mid-Atlantic, South, intermountain and Pacific Northwest regions, consumers would pay more than $2,000,000,000 in higher milk prices;

Whereas according to a 1999 University of Missouri study, dairy producers outside of existing and proposed compact regions stand to lose between 16 and 21 cents per hundredweight of milk;

Whereas the Northeast Interstate Dairy Compact promotes the overproduction of Class I milk; and

Whereas the Northeast Interstate Dairy Compact is the only congressionally authorized interstate compact providing economic protectionism: Now, therefore, be it

1 Resolved, That the Northeast Interstate Dairy Com-
 2 pact should be allowed to expire under its own terms on
 3 September 30, 2001.
