CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

Recognizing the involvement in or support for acts of international terrorism by senior officials of the Government of the Republic of the Sudan and calling on Sudan to cease its involvement in acts of international terrorism and to prosecute and punish any Sudanese officials who have supported or have been involved in acts of international terrorism.

Whereas the Government of the Republic of the Sudan came to power through a military coup in 1989 and, since 1993, has been included by the Department of State on its list of countries that sponsor terrorism;

Whereas Sudan gave sanctuary to Osama bin Laden from 1991 to 1996, allowing him to build his terror network worldwide;

Whereas Sudan has refused to disassociate itself from terrorist groups, such as Hamas and Hezbollah that openly maintain offices in Khartoum, and Sudan has refused to close these offices;

Whereas Sheikh Abdel Rahman, the leader of the 1993 World Trade Center bombing, received his visa in Khartoum and reportedly was a guest of a senior Sudanese Government official for several weeks;

Whereas of the 15 men indicted for the 1993 World Trade Center bombing, five were Sudanese nationals who had strong ties with Sudanese diplomats stationed in New York at the Mission of the Government of the Republic of Sudan to the United Nations;

Whereas in 1995, members of the terrorist group Gama'a Islamiya tried to assassinate President Hosni Mubarak of Egypt while he was in Ethiopia for a summit meeting of the Organization of African Unity (now referred to as the African Union);

Whereas the 11-man assassination team was given safe haven in Sudan to prepare for its mission to assassinate President Mubarak;

Whereas, according to a United Nations report, the weapons used in the assassination attempt were reportedly flown to Ethiopia by Sudan Airways, and the passports used by the assassins were prepared in Khartoum;

Whereas one of the assassins escaped on Sudan Airways to Sudan, where he joined two other members of the assassination team;

Whereas the United Nations Security Council imposed punitive sanctions on Sudan in 1996, demanding the extradition of the three assassins;

Whereas the whereabouts of the three assassins are currently unknown, although reports suggest that senior Sudanese officials facilitated their escape to Afghanistan in the mid-1990s; and

Whereas not a single senior government official in Sudan has been removed from power or has been imprisoned because of involvement in or support for acts of international terrorism: Now, therefore, be it
