To assist States in providing voluntary high-quality universal prekindergarten programs and programs to support infants and toddlers.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MARCH 21, 2013

Mrs. CAROLYN B. MALONEY of New York (for herself and Ms. SCHWARTZ) introduced the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on Education and the Workforce

A BILL

To assist States in providing voluntary high-quality universal prekindergarten programs and programs to support infants and toddlers.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the “Prepare All Kids Act of 2013”.

SEC. 2. HIGH-QUALITY PREKINDERGARTEN PROGRAMS.

Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (20 U.S.C. 6301 et seq.) is amended—

(1) by redesignating part I as part J; and
(2) by inserting after part H the following:

“PART I—HIGH-QUALITY PREKINDERGARTEN PROGRAMS

“SEC. 1841. FINDINGS.

“Congress makes the following findings:

“(1) Investments in children and early childhood development education should be a national priority.

“(2) State-funded preschool is the most rapidly expanding segment of the United States educational system, but in many States a lack of stable funding poses an enormous threat to the provision or continuation of high-quality preschool.

“(3) Researchers, educators, and economists have long noted an achievement gap for low-income and minority students as compared to their more advantaged peers that is often already evident when children enter school for the first time.

“(4) One study showed that before entering kindergarten, the average cognitive scores of preschool-age children in the highest socioeconomic group are 60 percent above the average scores of preschool-age children in the lowest socioeconomic group.
“(5) For low-income preschoolers, research shows that high-quality early education and development is vital to closing the achievement gap between them and their more advantaged peers.

“(6) Numerous studies have shown that high-quality preschool programs—

“(A) improve a number of specific life outcomes for children; and

“(B) are cost-effective.

“(7) The provision of high-quality prekindergarten is a cost-effective investment for children and for the Nation. Research shows that for every $1 invested in high-quality early childhood programs, taxpayers save up to $7 in crime, welfare, remedial and special education, and other costs.

“(8) High-quality early education increases academic success for schoolchildren who received that education by—

“(A) improving skills in areas such as following directions and problem solving;

“(B) improving students’ performance on standardized tests;

“(C) reducing grade repetition;

“(D) reducing the number of students placed in special education; and “(E) increasing secondary school graduation rates.

“(9) High-quality early education promotes responsible behavior by teens and adults who received that education by—

“(A) reducing crime, delinquency, and unhealthy behaviors such as smoking and drug use;

“(B) lowering rates of teen pregnancy;

“(C) leading to greater employment and higher wages for adults; and “(D) contributing to more stable families.

“(10) High-quality prekindergarten programs prepare children to—

“(A) succeed in school;

“(B) achieve higher levels of education; and

“(C) become citizens who—

“(i) earn more in adulthood;

“(ii) compete in the global economy; and

“(iii) contribute to our national prosperity.

“(11) The gap in developmental progress prior to preschool is significant for thousands of young children, and needs to be addressed in order to have a strong foundation for children’s progress in preschool and later years.
