those with good vision to have diabetes, poor hearing, heart problems, high blood pressure, lower back pain, and strokes, as well as have increased risk for falls, injury,
and depression;

Whereas the majority of people with vision impairment and blindness are over the age of 50 years;

Whereas a slight vision impairment can reduce productivity in the workplace by 10 percent and accuracy by 40 percent;

Whereas 50 percent of blindness and low vision in children can be easily prevented or treated, most often with nothing more than a pair of glasses;

Whereas globally, at least 450,000,000 children have a sight condition that needs treatment, with 90,000,000 children living with some form of sight loss;

Whereas children with vision loss are 2 to 5 times less likely to be in formal education in low- and middle-income countries;

Whereas glasses are one of the most effective health interventions for children, reducing the odds of failing a class by 44 percent; and
