A BILL

To prohibit the enforcement of certain contractual clauses that restrict disclosure of sexual abuse of minors, and for other purposes.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4 This Act may be cited as the “Terminating Restrictive
5 Enforcement of Youth Settlements Law” or “TREY’S 6 Law”.

7 SEC. 2. FINDINGS AND PURPOSES.

8 (a) FINDINGS.—

1           (1) INSTRUMENTALITIES OF INTERSTATE COM-
2       MERCE.—Congress finds the following:

3           (A) Sexual abuse of minors, including 4       abuse facilitated through instrumentalities of 5       interstate commerce, is a matter of national 6       concern.

7           (B) Agreements containing nondisclosure
8       and confidentiality provisions, frequently con-
9       cluded through the instrumentalities of inter-10      state commerce, have been used to silence sur-11      vivors of sexual abuse and conceal ongoing or 12      repeated abuse.

13          (C) The enforcement of such provisions
14      interferes with reporting to law enforcement 15      agencies, child protection authorities, Federal 16      regulators, Members of Congress, and the 17      courts, and frustrates the enforcement of Fed-18      eral criminal and civil law.

19          (2) NECESSARY AND PROPER CLAUSE AND EN-
20      FORCEMENT OF FEDERAL CRIMINAL LAW.—Con-21      gress further finds the following:

22          (A) Sexual abuse and trafficking of minors 23      are prohibited under Federal criminal law, in-24      cluding chapter 110 of title 18, United States

1 Code, and section 1591 of title 18, United 2 States Code.

3 (B) Nondisclosure and confidentiality
4 agreements that prohibit or restrict disclosure
5 of sexual abuse of a minor interfere with re-6 porting to law enforcement, child protection au-
7 thorities, courts, Federal regulators, and Mem-
8 bers of Congress.

9 (C) Such agreements frustrate the inves-
10 tigation and prosecution of Federal crimes, chill
11 cooperation with law enforcement, and function 12 as private mechanisms to obstruct justice.

13 (D) Congress has authority under clause
14 18 of section 8 of article I of the Constitution 15 of the United States (commonly known as the 16 “Necessary and Proper Clause”) to ensure that 17 private agreements are not used to impede the 18 enforcement of Federal criminal and civil law 19 protecting minors from sexual exploitation and 20 abuse.

21 (3) STATE ACTION AND SECTION 5 OF THE 22 14TH AMENDMENT.—Congress further finds the fol-
23 lowing:

24 (A) Survivors of child sexual abuse possess 25 fundamental constitutional interests, secured by

1 provisions of the Bill of Rights as incorporated
2 against the States through the 14th Amend-
3 ment to the Constitution of the United States, 4 in reporting crimes, seeking redress through the 5 courts, cooperating with law enforcement, and 6 petitioning the government for protection and 7 enforcement.

8 (B) When State courts or other govern-
9 mental authorities enforce nondisclosure or con-10 fidentiality provisions that prohibit or restrict 11 disclosure of sexual abuse of a minor, such en-
12 forcement constitutes State action for purposes
13 of the 14th Amendment to the Constitution of 14 the United States.

15 (C) Judicial enforcement of such provisions
16 may deprive survivors of due process of law, 17 equal protection of the laws, and meaningful ac-18 cess to courts, including rights derived from the 19 First Amendment to the Constitution of the 20 United States and incorporated against the 21 States, in violation of the 14th Amendment.

22 (D) Agreements that obstruct justice, sup-
23 press the reporting of crimes, or conceal crimi-
24 nal conduct have long been regarded at common 25 law, including at the time of the founding of the 1 United States, as void and unenforceable as 2 against public policy, and fall outside the tradi-

3 tional scope of protected contractual liberty.

4 (E) At the time of the founding of the 5 United States, private agreements purporting to 6 suppress prosecution, conceal felonies, or re-
7 strain the reporting of crimes were not recog-
8 nized as valid or enforceable contracts, and no 9 party possessed a vested right in their judicial 10 enforcement.

11 (F) Congress has authority under section 5
12 of the 14th Amendment to the Constitution of 13 the United States to enact appropriate remedial
14 and preventive legislation to prevent and rem-
15 edy constitutional violations arising from State 16 judicial enforcement of private agreements that 17 suppress disclosure of criminal conduct involv-
18 ing minors.

19 (b) PURPOSE.—The purpose of this Act is—

20 (1) to enforce the guarantees of the 14th 21 Amendment to the Constitution of the United 22 States, including the right to petition the govern-
23 ment for redress of grievances and the right of ac-24 cess to courts, by preventing State courts and other 25 governmental authorities from enforcing nondisclo-

1       sure or confidentiality provisions that suppress dis-
2       closure of sexual abuse of minors;

3           (2) to ensure, pursuant to the authority of Con-4       gress under article I of the Constitution of the 5       United States, including the Necessary and Proper 6       Clause, that private agreements are not used to ob-7       struct the investigation or prosecution of Federal 8       crimes involving the sexual abuse or trafficking of 9       minors;

10          (3) to preserve access to courts and the right
11       to petition the government for redress of grievances; 12       and

13          (4) to ensure that survivors of sexual abuse of 14       minors, and persons with knowledge of such abuse, 15       may disclose such abuse freely and without fear of 16       civil liability.

17 SEC. 3. DEFINITIONS.

18       In this Act:

19          (1) MINOR PERSON.—The term “minor person”
20       means an individual who has not attained 18 years 21       of age.

22          (2) NONDISCLOSURE CLAUSE.—The term “non-23       disclosure clause” means a provision in a contract or 24       agreement that prohibits 1 or more parties to the 25       contract or agreement from disclosing conduct or in-

1 formation covered by the terms and conditions of the 2 contract or agreement.

3 (3) SEXUAL ABUSE AGAINST A MINOR PER-4 SON.—The term “sexual abuse against a minor per-5 son” means—

6 (A) conduct that constitutes or allegedly 7 constitutes—

9 title 18, United States Code; or

10 (ii) sex trafficking of a minor person 11 under section 1591 of title 18, United 12 States Code; or

13 (B) any sexual act or sexual contact involv-14 ing a minor person that constitutes a criminal 15 offense under Federal law or the law of the 16 State in which the act or contact occurs.

17 SEC. 4. NONDISCLOSURE AGREEMENTS VOID AND UNEN-
18 FORCEABLE.

19 (a) IN GENERAL.—A nondisclosure clause shall be 20 void and unenforceable as against public policy only to the 21 extent that the nondisclosure clause prohibits—

22 (1) a victim or alleged victim of sexual abuse
23 against a minor person from disclosing—

24 (A) that act of sexual abuse against a 25 minor person; or

1 (B) facts related to that act of sexual 2 abuse against a minor person; or

3 (2) any other person from disclosing facts re-4 lated to sexual abuse against a minor person de-5 scribed in paragraph (1) in support of, in further-6 ance of, or consistent with the right of a victim or 7 alleged victim to disclose under that paragraph.

8 (b) PERMISSIBLE CONFIDENTIALITY.—Nothing in 9 this section shall be construed to prohibit a person, includ-
10 ing a victim or alleged victim of sexual abuse against a 11 minor person, from entering into a contract or agreement 12 that restricts the disclosure of information, including the 13 amount or payment terms of a settlement, by another 14 party to the contract or agreement, including an alleged 15 perpetrator, so long as such restriction does not prevent 16 disclosure protected under subsection (a).

17 SEC. 5. RETROACTIVE APPLICATION.

18 (a) IN GENERAL.—This Act shall apply to any non-19 disclosure clause in a contract or agreement entered into 20 before, on, or after the date of enactment of this Act.

21 (b) NO ENFORCEMENT ACTIONS.—No person may 22 enforce or attempt to enforce a nondisclosure clause de-23 scribed in section 4(a), regardless of the date on which 24 the contract or agreement containing the nondisclosure 25 clause was entered into.

1       (c) PREEMPTION.—

2           (1) IN GENERAL.—This Act supersedes any 3       State law to the extent that such law permits en-4       forcement of a provision, the enforcement of which 5       is prohibited under this Act.

6           (2) RULE OF CONSTRUCTION.—Nothing in this 7       Act shall be construed to prohibit a State or locality 8       from enacting legislation that—

9           (A) is consistent with this Act; or

10          (B) provides greater protection to a victim 11       of sexual abuse against a minor person than is 12       provided under this Act.
