

15. AID TO STATE AND LOCAL GOVERNMENTS

State and local governments serve a vital role in providing services to their residents. The Federal Government contributes to that role by aiding State and local governments through grants, loans, and the tax system. This chapter focuses on Federal grants-in-aid in the 2015 Budget. Information on Federal credit programs may be found in Chapter 20, “Credit and Insurance,” in this volume. Chapter 14, “Tax Expenditures,” in this volume, includes a display of tax expenditures that particularly aid State and local governments at the end of Tables 14-1 and 14-2.

Federal grants-in-aid are assistance provided to State and local governments, U.S. territories, and American Indian Tribal governments to support government operations or provision of services to the public. Most often grants are awarded as direct cash assistance, but Federal grants-in-aid can also include payments for grants-in-kind—non-monetary aid such as commodities purchased for the National School Lunch Program. Federal revenues shared with State and local governments are also considered grants-in-aid.

Federal grants generally fall into one of two broad categories—categorical grants or block grants—depending on the requirements of the grant program. In addition, grants may be characterized by how the funding is awarded such as by formula, by project, or by matching State and local funds.

Categorical grants have a narrowly defined purpose and may be awarded on a formula basis or as a project grant. An example of a categorical grant is the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants, and Children, also known as WIC, administered by the Department of Agriculture. WIC targets the nutrition needs of lower-income pregnant and postpartum women, infants, and children. Applicants to this program must meet defined categorical, residential, income, and nutrition risk eligibility requirements.

In contrast to categorical grants, block grants provide the recipient with more latitude to define the use of the funding and are awarded on a formula basis specified in law. The Department of Health and Human Services’ Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) program is an example of a block grant. States may use TANF funds in a variety of ways to meet any of four purposes set out in law. Each State also has broad discretion to determine eligibility requirements for TANF benefits. In addition, TANF has a matching requirement known as “maintenance of effort” which specifies a minimum amount that States must spend to assist low-income families in order to receive the full Federal grant.

Project grants can be awarded competitively and are typified by a predetermined end product or duration.

They can include grants for research, training, evaluation, planning, technical assistance, survey work, and construction. The Government Accountability Office describes each of these categories of grants as striking “a different balance between the interests of the [F]ederal grant-making agency that funds be used efficiently and effectively to meet [N]ational objectives, and the interests of the recipient to use the funds to meet local priorities and to minimize the administrative burdens associated with accepting the grant.”¹

As recipients of Federal grant funding, State and local governments may provide services directly to beneficiaries or States may act as a pass-through, disbursing grant funding to localities using a formula or a competitive process. This pass-through structure allows States to set priorities and determine the allocation methodology within the rules of the Federal grant guidance.²

Most State spending comes from general fund revenues, but Federal funds are also a significant part of States’ overall budgets. In 2013, general funds³ were 40.5 percent, Federal funds 30.9 percent, other state funds 26.1 percent, and bonds 2.5 percent of total State spending.⁴ The Federal funds share has decreased since 2011 due to increasing general fund revenues over the last several years and the end of temporary measures enacted in the Recovery Act and its extensions.⁵

According to the fall 2013 Fiscal Survey of States, total State spending in 2013 is estimated to be $1.71 trillion; this is a 4.6 percent increase over the prior year.⁶ The components of total State spending for 2013 are estimated to be: Medicaid, 24.5 percent; elementary and secondary education, 20.0 percent; higher education, 10.0 percent; transportation, 8.0 percent; corrections, 3.1 percent; public assistance, 1.4 percent; and all other expenditures, 33.0 percent.⁷

The Fiscal Survey of States looks at enacted State budgets to make projections for the coming year. According to the most recent report, 2014 State budgets show that “modest [S]tate fiscal improvements are widespread across the country”.⁸ Fiscal 2014 could be the fourth consecutive year of general fund spending growth. The report also states that “forty-three [S]tates enacted higher spending levels in fiscal 2014 compared to fiscal 2013” and “many [S]tates ended fiscal 2013 with a budget surplus” but, growth will be less than the historical average of 5.6 percent.⁹

As a share of the total Federal budget, outlays for Federal grants-in-aid accounted for 15.8 percent of total outlays in 2013 and totaled $546.2 billion. This was an increase of $1.6 billion over 2012, less than one percent, and $14.8 billion less than what was estimated for 2013 in last year’s Budget. Federal grant spending in 2014 is estimated to be $607.2 billion, an increase of 11.2 percent from 2013. The Budget provides $640.8 billion in outlays for aid to State and local governments in 2015, an increase of 5.5 percent from 2014. In addition to the outlays for grant spending detailed in this chapter, the Budget includes a $56 billion Opportunity, Growth, and Security Initiative in 2015 to fund a range of priorities, including a number of grant programs, some of which are mentioned later in this chapter.

Federal grants help State and local governments finance programs covering most areas of domestic public spending including infrastructure, education, social services, and public safety. The term for these broad purposes in the Budget is “functions.” The distribution of grant spending in 2015 among functions remains similar to recent years. Of total proposed grant spending in 2015, 55.7 percent is for health programs, with most of the funding going to Medicaid, a program which makes health insurance accessible for low-income Americans. Beyond health programs, 17.0 percent of Federal aid is estimated to go to income security programs; 10.8 percent to education, training, and social services; 10.5 percent to transportation; 2.7 percent to community and regional development; and 3.3 for all other functions. Section A. of Table 15-1 (on the next page), Trends in Federal Grants to State and Local Governments, shows actual spending at the start of each decade since 1960, actual spending for 2013, and estimates for 2014 and 2015 by budget function.

The Federal budget also classifies grant spending by BEA category—mandatory and discretionary. Programs whose funding is provided directly in authorizing legislation are categorized as mandatory. Funding levels for most mandatory programs can only be changed by changing eligibility criteria or benefit formulas established in law and are usually not limited by the annual appropriations process. Funding levels for discretionary grant programs are determined annually through appropriations acts.¹⁰ Section B. of Table 15-1 shows the distribution of grants between mandatory and discretionary spending.

Outlays for mandatory grant programs were $404.0 billion in 2013. The three largest mandatory grant programs in 2013 were Medicaid, with outlays of $265.4 billion; Child Nutrition programs, which include the School Breakfast Program, the National School Lunch Program and others, $19.3 billion; and Temporary Assistance for Needy Families, $17.1 billion.¹¹ Outlays for mandatory grant programs in 2014 were $414.5 billion, a 2.6 percent increase. In 2015 grants-in-aid with mandatory funding are estimated to have outlays of $468.1 billion, an increase of 12.9 percent from 2014.¹²

Outlays for discretionary grant programs were $142.2 billion in 2013. The three largest discretionary programs in 2013 were Federal-Aid Highways, $40.8 billion; Tenant Based Rental Assistance, $18.0 billion; and Accelerating Achievement and Ensuring Equity (Education for the Disadvantaged), $16.7 billion.¹³ Outlays for discretionary grant programs in 2014 are estimated to be $192.8 billion, an increase of 35.6 percent. In 2015, grants-in-aid with discretionary funding are estimated to have outlays of $173.7 billion, a decrease of 10.4 percent from 2014.¹⁴

¹¹ Obligation data by State for programs in each of these budget accounts is found in the appendix to this chapter.

¹³ Obligation data by State for programs in each of these budget accounts is found in the appendix to this chapter.

¹⁴ As stated in footnote number 13, the year-to-year pattern of mandatory and discretionary grant spending is heavily influenced by the Budget’s proposal to reclassify surface transportation programs from discretionary to mandatory. Discretionary outlays for grants outside the transportation function are estimated to increase by 7.5 percent from 2013 to 2014, and then to decrease by 6.8 percent from 2014 to 2015. The decrease in 2015 is largely due to the phase out of one-time outlays in 2014 for disaster relief and education programs.

HIGHLIGHTS OF FEDERAL AID TO STATES AND LOCALITIES

Highlights of proposals and changes in the Budget are presented below by functional category. Each section begins with the overall spending level for that category followed by a discussion of significant proposals or changes to programs in that category. The funding level for grants in every budget account can be found in Table 15-2, organized by functional category and by Federal agency. This table, formerly printed in this chapter, is available on the OMB web site at www.budget.gov/budget/Analytical_Perspectives and on the Budget CD-ROM.

An Appendix to this chapter includes tables of State-by-State obligations of major grant programs.

Natural Resources and Environment

Grant outlays for natural resources and environment programs are estimated to be $6.5 billion in 2015.

The Budget represents an unprecedented commitment to America's natural heritage through investments in Land and Water Conservation Fund (LWCF) programs. The proposal includes full funding for LWCF programs in the Department of the Interior (DOI) and USDA and, similar to last year's proposal, includes a mix of discretionary and mandatory funding in 2015 to transition to all mandatory funding beginning in 2016. Starting in 2015, the Budget proposes to invest $900 million annually, equal to the amount of receipts deposited in the LWCF each year. In 2015, $575 million is proposed to conserve lands in or near national parks, refuges, forests, and other public lands, including collaborative LWCF funds for DOI and the U.S. Forest Service to jointly and strategically conserve the most critical landscapes. This funding will provide the stability needed for agencies and States to make strategic, long-term investments in our natural infrastructure and outdoor economy to support jobs, preserve natural and cultural resources, bolster outdoor recreation opportunities, and protect wildlife. Such investments support the President's America's Great Outdoors Initiative to promote job creation and economic growth by strengthening our natural infrastructure for outdoor recreation and enjoyment. Other America's Great Outdoors programs include grant programs that assist States, Tribes, local governments, landowners, and private groups (such as sportsmen) in preserving wildlife habitat, wetlands, historic battlefields, regional parks, and the countless other sites that form the mosaic of our cultural and natural legacy.

In recent years, honey bee colony collapse disorder and other pollinator declines have led to rising concerns among both the scientific and agricultural communities regarding the health of these insect populations, the risks posed to pollinator services and the implications for agriculture. To help combat this multi-faceted problem, the Budget provides $50 million across multiple agencies within the Department of Agriculture (USDA) to enhance research through intramural projects, public-private research grants, to strengthen pollinator habitat in core areas, to double the number of acres in the Conservation Reserve Program that are dedicated to pollinator health, and to increase funding for surveys to determine the impacts on pollinator losses.

The Budget calls for a fundamental change in how wild-fire suppression is funded to help reduce fire risk, manage landscapes more holistically and increase the resiliency of our Nation's forests and rangelands and the communities that border them. Since responsibility for improving community resilience to wildland fires is the responsibility of Federal, State, local, and Tribal governments and homeowners, the Budget also targets funding for fuels management and certain State programs to communities that implement programs to reduce fire risk on non-Federal lands, including improved building standards for fire resiliency and defensible spaces.

The Budget increases support for the Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA) partnership with States and Tribes. Under the Clean Water Act (CWA), the Clean Air Act (CAA), and other Federal environmental laws, EPA sets standards and enforceable pollution limits and establishes best practices to ensure human health and the environment are protected. States and localities implement the rules while taking into account each State's specific needs, while addressing the public health and environmental standards and requirements. Categorical grants to States and Tribes to implement their delegated authorities are funded at $1.1 billion, $76 million above the 2014 enacted level. Within these totals, funding is increased in priority areas including $20 million for State implementation of the President's Climate Action Plan, $31 million to build Tribal capacity and assist Tribes in leveraging other EPA and Federal funding, and $18 million for activities including water permitting and improving nutrient management.

The Budget builds on existing collaboration of EPA and its partners to improve water quality across the United States while utilizing new approaches. For example, over the past two years, EPA, USDA, and State water quality agencies have collaborated to select more than 150 priority watersheds, where voluntary conservation programs could help reduce water impairments from non-point source pollution. The Budget builds upon this collaboration by having agencies work with key Federal partners, agricultural producer organizations, conservation districts, States, Tribes, non-governmental organizations, and other local leaders to implement a monitoring framework and begin collecting baseline performance data to demonstrate that this focused and coordinated approach can achieve significant improvements in water quality. In addition, in 2015, EPA will work to develop tools to improve measurement of water quality and expand technical assistance efforts for communities to develop effective stormwater plans. Through its water quality programs and through the Clean Water State Revolving Fund, EPA will promote green infrastructure approaches such as green roofs, rain gardens, wetlands and forest buffers, all of which can help to effectively meet CWA requirements and protect and restore the Nation's resources for safe drinking water, recreation and economic development.

The Budget provides $1.775 billion for the Clean Water and Drinking Water State Revolving Funds (SRFs), $581 million below the 2014 enacted level. The budget proposes a reduction to focus on communities most in need of assistance but will still allow the SRFs to finance approximately $6 billion in wastewater and drinking water infrastructure projects annually. Nearly $60 billion has been provided for the programs to date, including over $21 billion since 2009. Going forward, EPA will continue efforts to target assistance to small and underserved communities that have a limited ability to repay loans, including Tribes.

Transportation

Grant outlays in support of transportation programs are estimated to be $67.2 billion in 2015.

To spur economic growth and allow States to initiate sound multi-year investments, the Budget proposes a four-year, $302 billion surface transportation reauthorization proposal to support critical infrastructure projects and create jobs while improving America's roads, bridges, transit systems, and railways. The reauthorization proposal will also include reforms to improve the review process and delivery of infrastructure projects; support American exports by improving movement within our country's freight networks; increase economic mobility by linking economically isolated communities to job opportunities; permanently authorize the TIGER grant program to help spur innovation by competitively awarding funding to projects around the Nation; improve regional coordination by Metropolitan Planning Organizations to stimulate economic development; and advance the Climate Action Plan by building more resilient infrastructure and reducing transportation emissions by shifting travel growth from roads to transit.

The Administration's four-year reauthorization plan would dedicate approximately $4 billion for a competitive grant program, Fixing and Accelerating Surface Transportation, designed to create incentives for State and local partners to adopt critical reforms in a variety of areas, including safety and peak traffic demand management. Federally-inspired safety reforms, such as seat belt and drunk-driving laws, have saved thousands of lives and avoided billions in property losses. This initiative will seek to repeat past successes across the complete spectrum of transportation policy priorities. Specifically, the Department will work with States and localities to set ambitious goals in different areas—implementing distracted driving safety requirements or modifying transportation plans to include mass transit, bike, and pedestrian options—and tie resources to goal-achievement.

Too many elements of the U.S. surface transportation infrastructure—our highways, bridges, and transit assets—fall short of a state of good repair. This can impact the capacity, performance, and safety of our transportation system. At the same time, States and localities have incentives to emphasize new investments over improving the condition of the existing infrastructure. The Administration's reauthorization proposal will underscore the importance of preserving and improving existing assets, encouraging government and industry partners to make optimal use of current capacity, and minimizing life-cycle costs through sound asset management principles. Accountability is a key element of this system, as States and localities will be required to report on highway condition and performance measures.

The Budget provides $10 billion over four years for a dedicated regional freight infrastructure investment program to support multi-modal, corridor-based projects designed to eliminate existing freight transportation bottlenecks and improve the efficiency of moving goods in support of the President's National Export Initiative. The Budget also provides $19.1 billion over four years to fund the development of high-performance rail and other passenger rail programs as part of an integrated national transportation strategy. The proposal also benefits freight rail and significantly restructures Federal support for Amtrak to increase transparency, accountability, and performance.

The Budget nearly doubles annual transit investment over the prior reauthorization, with resources supporting both existing capacity and capacity expansion (New Starts) in projects involving bus rapid transit, subway, light rail, and commuter rail systems. These investments are driven by data showing that demand for public transit continues to climb, and would represent a historic increase in transit funding. Additional funding would enable a major expansion of new transit projects in suburbs, fast-growing cities, small towns, and rural areas across the country, while meeting the growing needs of established, and aging, transit systems, which will improve the quality of life in our neighborhoods and communities by providing affordable transportation options. All of these efforts will also help ensure that workers can access jobs, supporting economic mobility and opportunity.

To ensure the highest safety standards for the U.S. pipeline system, the Budget proposes a Pipeline Safety Reform initiative to both enhance and revamp the Department's Pipeline Safety program. The need for reform is acute; pipeline safety inspectors, who work in collaboration with State partners, are spread too thinly across the 2.6 million miles of pipeline, and the current staffing levels cannot ensure prompt investigations following incidents. The Budget increases funding for the State Pipeline Safety Grant program, institutes reforms to the Federal program, and funds the next phase of a multi-year effort to more than double the number of Federal pipeline safety inspectors. In addition, the Budget modernizes pipeline data collection, mapping capabilities and analysis, improves Federal investigation of pipeline accidents of all sizes, and expands public education and outreach.

Community and Regional Development

Grant outlays for community and regional development programs are estimated to be $17.4 billion in 2015.

The Budget provides $2.8 billion for the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program and $950 million for the HOME Investment Partnerships Program. These funding levels represent a total decrease of $280 million below the 2014 enacted level for these two programs. However, the Budget also proposes a series of reforms to improve each program's performance by eliminating small grantees, thereby improving efficiency, driving regional coordination, and supporting grantees in making strategic, high-impact investments that address local community goals.

The Budget also proposes reforms to the economic development grants within the Economic Development Administration (EDA) to ensure grantees demonstrate measurable progress in achieving economic development goals, and provides EDA the flexibility to award catalytic grants tailored to address communities' specific economic needs, delivering the greatest impact for distressed regions.

The Budget provides $58 million for a new economic development grant program, within USDA, designed to target small and emerging private businesses and cooperatives in rural areas. The program will utilize performance targets and evidence of what works best to create jobs and foster economic growth, strengthening the agency's grant allocation and evaluation process. It is anticipated that this new program will aid in creating or saving nearly 14,000 jobs and assisting more than 10,000 businesses. Roughly 25 percent of rural households lack access to high-speed Internet. The Budget proposes to double the current funding for broadband grants that serve the neediest, most rural communities, which are least likely to have access to high-speed broadband infrastructure sufficient for economic development. This level of funding is anticipated to support 16 rural communities.

First responders are at the forefront of addressing natural disasters and other threats. The Budget provides $2.2 billion for State, local, and Tribal governments to hire, equip, and train first responders and build preparedness capabilities. To better target these funds, the Budget proposes to eliminate duplicative, stand-alone grant programs within the Department of Homeland Security, consolidating them into the National Preparedness Grant Program. This initiative is designed to build, sustain, and leverage core capabilities as established in the National Preparedness Goal. The National Preparedness Grant Program will apply a comprehensive process that identifies and prioritizes deployable capabilities, ensures grantees put funding to work more quickly, and requires grantees to regularly report progress in the acquisition and development of these capabilities.

Education, Training, Employment, and Social Services

Grant outlays for education, training, employment, and social service programs are estimated to be $69.3 billion in 2015.

The Budget maintains support for the landmark 2014 Preschool for All proposal to ensure four-year-olds across the Nation have access to high-quality preschool programs. The proposal, financed through an increase in the tobacco tax, establishes a Federal-State partnership to provide all low- and moderate-income four-year-old children with high-quality preschool, while providing States with incentives to expand these programs to reach additional children from middle class families and put in place full-day kindergarten policies. To support this effort, the Budget also proposes to double the current discretionary investment in Preschool Development Grants to $500 million in 2015. An additional $250 million would be provided through the Opportunity, Growth, and Security Initiative for a total discretionary investment of $750 million. These grants will ensure that States and localities willing to commit to expanding preschool access are able to make the critical investments necessary to support high-quality programs. The preschool initiative is coupled with companion investments in the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) voluntary home visiting and high-quality early care and education for infants and toddlers, described further below.

The Department of Education has focused its reforms on building evidence and improving outcomes. The Department's most mature reforms are its signature K-12 initiatives—Race to the Top (RTT), Investing in Innovation (i3), School Improvement Grants (SIG), the Teacher Incentive Fund (TIF), and Promise Neighborhoods—which have contributed to a sea change in how schools across the country deliver education. The Budget continues to invest in these priority programs, the successes of which are now becoming apparent. The President named the first five Promise Zones in January 2014, and 15 other communities will be created in the year ahead. In support of the goals of this initiative, the Budget requests $100 million to support current Promise Neighborhoods and create up to five more and includes $200 million in the Opportunity, Growth, and Security Initiative to support another 35 awards.

The Budget includes a new proposal that acts on the findings in the final 2013 report of the Equity and Excellence Commission by proposing a new $300 million RTT Equity and Opportunity competition centered on closing the achievement gap. The RTT initiative will link together State and local fiscal, student achievement, and human resource data systems, allowing them to work in concert to provide underserved students access to high-quality teachers and leaders, coursework, and other evidence-based supports. RTT Equity and Opportunity grants will reward tracking resources at the school level and using data, including return on investment metrics, to target intensive interventions to schools that most need the extra help. The initiative will also leverage resources from other Federal programs, such as Title I Grants and the State Longitudinal Data Systems, which the Budget proposes to double in funding to $70 million.

In addition, the Budget maintains significant investments in Title I Grants and IDEA Grants to States to ensure communities receive a critical base of support for their low-income and high-need students. The Budget also provides $150 million for a new program to redesign high schools to focus on providing students challenging, relevant learning experiences, and $200 million for the ConnectEDucators program to ensure that students receive the full benefit of the next-generation broadband and wireless connections in their schools and libraries.

The Budget also proposes $5 billion in mandatory funds for RESPECT (Recognizing Educational Success, Professional Excellence, and Collaborative Teaching) grants to support teachers by improving preparation and early career assistance; helping teachers as they lead the transition to college- and career-ready standards; and ensuring that teachers have a supportive work environment.

In addition, the Budget proposes $4 billion in mandatory funds for a new competitive grant program, the State Higher Education Performance Fund. This fund will support States that are committed to investing in higher education and improving performance and outcomes at their public higher education institutions.

Within the Department of Labor, the Budget invests more than $3 billion in formula grants to States and localities to provide training and employment services to more than 20 million Americans at 2,500 American Job Centers across the country. The Opportunity, Growth, and Security Initiative would add another $750 million to restore prior cuts to these grants; increase the investment in innovation, evidence-based practices, and performance in the workforce system; and provide additional funding for programs that serve populations with significant barriers to employment, including Native Americans, ex-offenders, and people with disabilities.

The Budget invests an amount equal to five percent of Workforce Investment Act (WIA) formula grants in driving innovation and performance at the State and local level through: (1) $60 million in the Workforce Innovation Fund, to support innovative State and regional approaches to service delivery, and (2) $80 million for improved Incentive Grants to reward States that succeed through their WIA programs in serving workers with the greatest barriers to employment. Combined, these funds will fuel innovative approaches to workforce system service delivery and incentivize better program coordination to serve those who need the most help to find high-quality jobs.

The Budget proposes to include in the Opportunity, Growth, and Security Initiative $1.5 billion in 2015 to support a four-year, $6 billion Community College Job-Driven Training Fund, which will offer competitive grants to partnerships of community colleges, public and non-profit training entities, industry groups, and employers to launch new training programs and apprenticeships that will prepare participants for in-demand jobs and careers. The fund will also help to create common credentials and skill assessments to allow employers to more easily identify and hire qualified candidates. Five hundred million dollars of each year's funding will be set aside for grants to States and regional consortia to create new apprenticeships and increase participation in existing apprenticeship programs. This four-year investment would support doubling the number of apprenticeships in America over the next five years. The Budget also invests $2.5 billion in mandatory funding for Summer Jobs Plus, which will fund summer and year-round job opportunities for 600,000 youth as well as innovation grants aimed at improving skills and career options for disadvantaged youth.

The Administration is also exploring opportunities to reform the job training system to streamline access, more fully engage employers to ensure that training is well matched to jobs, and improve efficiency and outcomes. For example, the Budget proposes a New Career Pathways program that will reach as many as one million workers a year with a set of core services, combining the best elements of two existing programs—Trade Adjustment Assistance for Workers and WIA Dislocated Workers. The Administration is proposing strong accountability for outcomes and ensuring that the needs of all job-seekers and workers, including those with barriers to employment, continue to be met.

The Budget supports initiatives that will help every child reach his or her potential and strengthen the Nation's competitiveness. This includes $650 million in the base program budget and $800 million in the Opportunity, Growth, and Security Initiative for Early Head Start-Child Care Partnerships, to provide access to high-quality infant and toddler care for more than 100,000 children, and additional resources in the Opportunity, Growth, and Security Initiative to support Head Start grantees who are expanding program duration and investing in teacher quality.

The Community Services Block Grant (CSBG) provides funding for the important work of community action agencies, but the program's current structure does little to hold these agencies accountable for outcomes. The Budget provides $350 million for CSBG and proposes to competitively award funds to high-performing agencies that are most successful at meeting community needs.

Health

Grant outlays for health related programs are estimated to be $357.0 billion in 2015.

The Budget includes $164 million to support the President's Now is the Time initiative, a plan to protect our children and our communities by reducing gun violence, to expand mental health treatment and prevention services across the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) and Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). The Now is the Time initiative includes $55 million for Project AWARE (Advancing Wellness and Resilience in Education) to help States and communities implement plans to keep schools safe and refer students with behavioral health challenges to the services they need as well as to provide Mental Health First Aid training in schools and communities to equip adults who work with youth to detect signs of mental illness; $50 million to train 5,000 new mental health professionals to serve students and young adults; $20 million for Healthy Transitions to help support transitioning youth (ages 16-25) and their families in accessing and navigating behavioral health treatment systems; and $5 million to change the attitudes of Americans about behavioral health workforce needs.

Medicaid is critically important to providing health care coverage to the neediest Americans, and the Administration strongly supports State efforts to expand Medicaid with the increased Federal funding provided in the Affordable Care Act. The Budget strengthens Medicaid and the Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP) by providing tools to States, Territories, and the Federal government to fight fraud, waste, and abuse, and make it easier for eligible children to get and maintain coverage. The Budget also includes other program improvements aimed at improving efficiency and effectiveness as States expand Medicaid. The Administration remains committed to providing affordable, comprehensive coverage for children covered by CHIP and the Budget proposes to extend the CHIP performance bonus fund in anticipation of work with Congress to ensure their coverage.

The Budget makes room for new investments through a series of eliminations and reductions among public health programs that we can no longer afford, such as terminating the Preventive Health and Health Services Block Grant (PHHSBG). The PHHSBG is duplicative with existing activities that could be more effectively implemented through targeted programs within CDC.

Income Security

Grant outlays for income security programs are estimated to be $109.1 billion in 2015.

The Budget makes an investment of $158 million in reemployment and eligibility assessments and reemployment services (REA/RES), an evidence-based approach to speed the return to work of Unemployment Insurance (UI) beneficiaries. This investment would reach those who are most likely to exhaust their UI benefits, as well as all recently separated veterans transitioning to civilian jobs.

The Budget also provides $2 billion in mandatory funding to encourage States to adopt Bridge to Work programs, which would allow individuals to continue receiving their weekly UI check while participating in a short-term work placement; and support other strategies for getting UI claimants back to work more quickly. In addition, the Budget provides $4 billion in mandatory funding to support partnerships between businesses and education and training providers to train approximately 1 million long-term unemployed workers for new jobs.

Too many American workers must make the painful choice between the care of their families and a paycheck they desperately need. While the Family and Medical Leave Act allows many workers to take job-protected unpaid time off, millions of families cannot afford to use unpaid leave. A handful of States have enacted policies to offer paid family leave, but more States should have the chance to follow their example. The Budget supports a $5 million State Paid Leave Fund to provide technical assistance and support to States that are considering paid leave programs. The Opportunity, Growth, and Security Initiative would provide an additional $100 million to support this effort.

The Budget includes $20.0 billion for the Housing Choice Voucher program to help more than 2.2 million low-income families afford decent housing in neighborhoods of their choice. This funding level not only supports all existing vouchers, but restores reductions in assisted housing units that resulted from the 2013 sequestration and provides an additional 40,000 new vouchers including 10,000 for homeless veterans.

The Budget provides $2.4 billion for Homeless Assistance Grants. This funding supports new permanent supportive housing units and maintains over 330,000 HUD-funded beds that assist the homeless nationwide. In addition, under the Housing Choice Voucher program, the Budget proposes $75 million to expand assistance under the Department of Veterans Affairs Supportive Housing (HUD-VASH) program to 10,000 homeless veterans. Supported by the collection of robust data and using best practices from across the country, this evidence-based investment will continue to make progress towards two of the President's homelessness goals, providing the resources needed to end Veterans homelessness by 2015 and to end chronic homelessness by 2016. Between 2010 and 2013, homelessness among Veterans declined by 24 percent, and the total number of individuals experiencing chronic homelessness on a single night declined by 15.7 percent.

To support affordable housing priorities, the Budget also proposes an investment of $1 billion in mandatory funding for the Housing Trust Fund.

The Budget also includes $9.7 billion for the Project-Based Rental Assistance program to maintain affordable rental housing for 1.2 million families. This amount is sufficient to continue assistance to the same number of units currently subsidized. Further, the Budget provides $6.5 billion in operating and capital subsidies to preserve affordable public housing for 1.1 million families.

An additional $10 million for the Rental Assistance Demonstration (RAD) will be targeted to public housing properties in high-poverty neighborhoods, including designated Promise Zones, where the Administration is also supporting comprehensive revitalization efforts. RAD leverages private financing to reduce backlogs of capital repairs and the Budget proposes to eliminate the cap on the number of units eligible for this demonstration.

The Budget provides an increase of $120 million for Choice Neighborhoods, a program that works to change neighborhoods of concentrated poverty into opportunity-rich, mixed-income neighborhoods. This funding level will be used to revitalize HUD-assisted housing and surrounding neighborhoods through partnerships between local governments, housing authorities, nonprofits, and for-profit developers. Preference for these funds will be given to designated Promise Zones. To further support Promise Zones, the Budget includes companion investments of $100 million in the Department of Education's Promise Neighborhoods program and $29.5 million in the Department of Justice's Byrne Criminal Justice Innovation Grants program, as well as tax incentives to promote investment, jobs and economic growth. To help public housing residents increase their employment and earnings potential, the Budget also provides $25 million for the evidence-based Jobs-Plus program. Through Jobs-Plus, public housing residents receive on-site employment and training services, financial incentives that encourage work and "neighbor-to-neighbor" information-sharing about job openings, training and other employment-related opportunities. Rigorous evaluations have found that this program improves employment outcomes for public housing residents who participate in the program.

The Budget also proposes funding for HUD programs in the Opportunity, Growth, and Security Initiative to fully grow our economy and create opportunity. The Initiative includes an additional $125 million for Jobs-Plus to increase employment opportunities for a total of 50,000 public housing residents. It also includes an additional $280 million for Choice Neighborhoods and $75 million for Integrated Planning and Investment Grants. These investments will help fully realize the President's vision for Promise Zones, and assist communities to develop comprehensive housing and transportation plans that help expand economic opportunity.

The Administration strongly supports the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) and other programs that reduce hunger and help families meet their nutritional needs. SNAP, administered by the USDA, is the cornerstone of our Nation's nutrition assistance safety net, touching the lives of 47 million Americans, the majority of whom are children, the elderly, or people with disabilities. In addition to supporting SNAP, the Budget also invests $30 million to support summer electronic benefit pilots, which are proving successful in reducing childhood hunger and improving nutrition in the months when school meals are unavailable.

The Budget supports the ongoing implementation of the Healthy, Hunger-Free Kids Act of 2010 with an increased investment of $35 million in school equipment grants to aid in the provision of healthy meals and continued support for other school-based resources. The Budget also provides $6.8 billion to support the 8.7 million individuals expected to participate in the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC), which is critical to the health of pregnant women, new mothers, infants, and young children. The Budget also supports changes to the WIC food package that will improve consumption of nutritious foods that are important to healthy child development. In addition, the Budget invests $13 million at USDA in a newly authorized Healthy Food Financing Initiative, which will provide funding to improve access to affordable, healthy foods in underserved areas. This complements investments through the Department of Treasury's Community Development Financial Institutions Fund.

The Budget provides $2.8 billion for the Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program to help families with residential heating and cooling costs, including $200 million in contingency funds to address extreme weather conditions or short-term spikes in energy prices and $50 million for competitive grants to reduce energy burdens.

The Budget invests $18 billion over ten years to support access to higher-quality child care. With this level of funding, comprehensive improvements in the quality of child care will not come at the expense of access for working families. Further, the Budget provides additional discretionary and mandatory resources for States to support higher-quality child care, and dedicates $200 million in discretionary funds to improve the quality of child care. In addition, the Budget invests $15 billion in mandatory funds over the next 10 years to extend and expand evidence-based, voluntary home visiting programs, which enable nurses, social workers, and other professionals to connect families to services and educational supports that improve a child's health, development, and ability to learn.

The Budget proposes to modernize the Child Support Enforcement Program, which touches the lives of one-quarter of the Nation's children and helps secure contributions toward their financial and emotional well-being from non-custodial parents. The Budget proposes to change current law to encourage non-custodial parents to take greater responsibility for their children while maintaining rigorous enforcement efforts. The Budget also continues funding for evidence-based models that prevent teenage pregnancy.

The Budget proposes to redirect $602 million in annual Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) funding to a Pathways to Jobs initiative, which will support State partnerships with employers to provide subsidized job opportunities for low-income individuals. This proved in recent years to be an effective strategy for getting disadvantaged adults back into the workforce, and the Budget proposes to build on that success.

Administration of Justice

Grant outlays for justice programs are estimated to be $4.7 billion in 2015.

The Budget bolsters the Administration's efforts to ensure that more Federal grant funding flows to evidence-based activities in State and local criminal justice. Within the Department of Justice, the Budget increases set-asides for research, evaluation, and statistics; couples the formula Byrne Justice Assistance Grant and Juvenile Accountability Block Grant programs with competitive incentive grants that provide "bonus" funds to States and localities; expands the Pay for Success initiative; adopts a more evidence-based, data-driven use of competitive grant funds; and invests in the expansion of CrimeSolutions.gov, a "what works" clearinghouse for best practices in criminal justice, juvenile justice, and crime victim services.

The Budget includes $147 million to help State and local governments continue implementing the Administration's proposals for increasing firearms safety and supporting programs that help keep communities safe from mass casualty violence. Included in these initiatives are $75 million for the Comprehensive School Safety Program, $55 million in grants to improve the submission of State criminal and mental health records to the National Instant Criminal Background Check System, $15 million to improve police officer safety, and $2 million to develop better gun safety mechanisms to prevent the use of firearms by unauthorized users.

The Budget proposes $299.4 million for the Department's Juvenile Justice Programs and includes evidence-based investments to prevent youth violence. This includes $18 million for the Community-Based Violence Prevention Initiative; and $4 million for the National Forum on Youth Violence Prevention. Further, the Budget makes available $23 million for research and pilot projects focused on developing appropriate responses to youth exposed to violence.

The Budget includes $274 million to support evidence-based community policing in the Nation's local law enforcement agencies. Of the amount provided, $247 million is provided for the hiring and retention of police officers and sheriffs' deputies across the United States. Thirty-five million dollars of the total is set aside for Tribal Law Enforcement to help ensure the safety and security of our tribal partners.

The Budget provides $422.5 million to reinforce efforts to combat and respond to violent crimes against women. These grants play a critical role in helping to create a coordinated community response to this problem. The Budget also provides $35 million for a new grant for communities to develop plans to address their untested sexual assault kits at law enforcement agencies or backlogged at crime labs.

OTHER INFORMATION ON FEDERAL AID TO STATE AND LOCAL GOVERNMENTS

A number of other sources provide State-by-State spending data and other information on Federal grants, but use a slightly different concept of grants.

The website Grants.gov is a primary source of information for communities wishing to apply for grants and other domestic assistance. Grants.gov hosts all open notices of opportunities to apply for Federal grants.

The Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance hosted by the General Services Administration contains detailed listings of grant and other assistance programs; discussions of eligibility criteria, application procedures, and estimated obligations; and related information. The Catalog is available on the Internet at www.cfda.gov.

Current and updated grant receipt information by State and local governments and other non-Federal entities can be found on USAspending.gov. This public website also contains contract and loan information and is updated twice per month. Additionally, information about grants provided specifically by the Recovery Act can be found on Recovery.gov.

Prior to the creation of USAspending.gov, the Bureau of the Census in the Department of Commerce provided data on public finances and has published data on Federal aid to State and local governments in the Consolidated Federal Funds and Report Federal Aid to States report. However, the Federal Financial Statistics program was terminated so there are no new reports after 2010.

The Federal Audit Clearinghouse maintains an on-line database (harvester.census.gov/sac) that provides access to summary information about audits conducted under OMB Circular A-133, "Audits to States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations." Information is available for each audited entity, including the amount of Federal money expended by program and whether there were audit findings.

The Bureau of Economic Analysis, also in the Department of Commerce, produces the monthly Survey of Current Business, which provides data on the national income and product accounts (NIPA), a broad statistical concept encompassing the entire economy. These accounts, which are available at bea.gov/national, include data on Federal grants to State and local governments.

APPENDIX: SELECTED GRANT DATA BY STATE

This Appendix displays State-by-State spending for select grant programs to State and local governments with summary information in the first two tables. The programs selected here cover almost 89 percent of total grant spending.

The first summary table, "Summary of Programs by Agency, Bureau, and Program" shows obligations for each program by agency and bureau. The second summary table, "Summary of Grant Programs by State," shows total obligations for each State across all programs.

The individual program tables display obligations for each program on a State-by-State basis, consistent with the estimates in this Budget. Each table reports the following information:

- The Federal agency that administers the program.
- The program title and number as contained in the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance.

- The Treasury budget account number from which the program is funded.
- Actual 2013 obligations for States, Federal territories, or Indian Tribes in thousands of dollars. Undistributed obligations are generally project funds that are not distributed by formula, or programs for which State-by-State data are not available.
- Obligations in 2014 from balances of previous budget authority and obligations in 2014 from new budget authority distributed by State.
- Estimates of 2015 obligations by State, which are based on the 2015 Budget request, unless otherwise noted.
- The percentage share of 2015 estimated program funds distributed to each State.
