This account supports the vetted Syrian opposition forces operations against the Islamic State of Iraq and the Levant. Appropriated funds and cash contributions from foreign countries, international organizations, and individuals are deposited into this account for DOD to provide assistance, including training, equipment, logistics support, supplies, and services, stipends, facility and infrastructure repair and renovation, and sustainment.

PROCUREMENT

The requests that follow would fund the acquisition of combat and support vehicles, aircraft, weapons, and communications and other equipment needed to support Operation Freedom's Sentinel, Operation Inherent Resolve, and other areas in direct support of these operations. Funds provided will be used to replace equipment worn out by combat operations or lost in battle. Additional funding is provided to improve the force protection capabilities of units and equipment, including enhanced protection against Improvised Explosive Devices. These requests will also fund classified activities.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

In addition to the base resources provided for the Department of State and Other International Programs to maintain critical diplomatic and development efforts around the world, the 2016 Budget provides the necessary Overseas Contingency Operations (OCO) resources to advance the national security interests of the United States. These OCO funds accommodate the extraordinary, temporary costs in the frontline states of Iraq, Afghanistan, and Pakistan; respond to the crisis in Syria; bolster global counterterrorism partnerships; provide peacekeeping contingency funds for unanticipated needs; and support costs related to countering Russia's aggressive actions. The costs associated with OCO are temporary in nature and will diminish as the missions are normalized.

The Overseas Contingency Operations (OCO) funding requested for Diplomatic and Consular Programs (D&CP) will address the extraordinary and temporary costs associated with deploying, securing and supplying the Department's civilian presence in the frontline states, and transition operations related to Syria. The request for Iraq supports the normalization of the diplomatic presence in Baghdad and the provinces, including the full-year costs for security and logistical support. The embassy and consulates play a vital role in building relationships with the Iraqi people, managing ongoing programs and mitigating potential conflict. The requests for Afghanistan and Pakistan support implementation of a comprehensive diplomatic and development strategy to defeat Al Qaida and support the Afghan people. D&CP funding for Afghanistan and Pakistan enables a civilian presence, including diplomats, development specialists, and civilian expertise from across the U.S. Government, along with critical security and logistical support. In Syria, the Department intends to continue operations in support of reestablishing its diplomatic presence, counter sectarian strife and terrorism, and enable transition to peace and democracy.

This appropriation provides funds for the United States to support unforeseen requirements of peacekeeping operations and activities, including peace enforcement missions undertaken directly by the United Nations, or by regional coalition forces. The purpose of this appropriation is to ensure that the United States can respond quickly to emergent needs of such operations and activities without disrupting continued American support for any such ongoing activities that serve U.S. interests in promoting international peace and security, stability, and rule of law. Depending on requirements identified by the Secretary of State, funds would be transferred and merged with either the Peacekeeping Operations (PKO) account or the Contributions for International Peacekeeping Activities (CIPA) account to support potential future needs in Africa, Syria, or elsewhere as needed around the world.

The Economic Support Fund (ESF) Overseas Contingency Operations (OCO) account includes the extraordinary costs of our involvement in Afghanistan, Pakistan, Syria, Jordan, Iraq, and Ukraine.

For Afghanistan, OCO resources will maintain stability following the 2014 security transition and foster economic development that will gradually lessen the country's reliance on international assistance. OCO funding will prioritize those areas critical to sustaining gains of the last decade and objectives of the new government while continuing to lay the foundation for sustained economic, political, and social sector development.

For Pakistan, OCO funds will support stabilization, infrastructure, and increased regional trade and private investment, particularly in the tribal areas and border regions with Afghanistan. These resources will expand the writ of the government to improve democracy, governance, and the delivery of essential services, and expand economic opportunities in areas prone to instability.

For Syria, OCO funds will continue to provide funding to Syrian opposition groups to support critical needs resulting from the ongoing crisis.

These funds will help the United States advance a political transition, counter violent extremism, including the Islamic State in the Levant (ISIL), support local communities in liberated areas to maintain basic services and preserve U.S. national security interests in the region.

For Jordan, OCO funds will continue critical support to mitigate against the economic strains due to regional instability from the Syrian crisis, ISIL, and the influx of refugees from Iraq and Syria. In addition to supporting Jordan's economic stability, funding will provide assistance to the water, health, and education sectors which are increasingly under strain due to the significant number of refugees from Syria and Iraq.

For Iraq, OCO resources will support the President's strategy to degrade and ultimately defeat ISIL. These programs will have a direct impact in communities and areas liberated from ISIL's control and will help local governments and service ministries respond to citizens' needs and rebuild trust and legitimacy. This will help strengthen Iraqi governance, counter ISIL's messaging, and promote stabilization, recovery, and reconciliation.

For Ukraine, OCO will support the aspirations of the Ukrainian people for Euro-Atlantic integration as the country continues to face Russian pressure and aggressive action. The request includes funds for further macro-economic financing in FY 2016 if Ukraine continues to make progress on its IMF programs, implements reforms, and if conditions warrant.

The request includes $390 million in Nonproliferation, Antiterrorism, Demining, and Related Programs (NADR) Overseas Contingency Operations (OCO) funds for the State Department portion of the Counterterrorism Partnerships Fund. Funds will enable the United States to enhance activities in support counterterrorism, counting violent extremism, and crisis response, as well as provide enabling support to partners engaged on the front lines against terrorism. Pursuant to strategic threat assessments, funds will support counterterrorism capacity-building efforts as well as targeted efforts to address the underlying conditions conducive to violent extremism, including those that facilitate groups' recruitment of terrorists. Programs will be balanced among interventions focused on military, border security, and criminal justice, and interventions focused on addressing the conditions driving recruitment and radicalization. The CTPF builds on existing authorities, but provides the Federal Government with expanded flexibility and resources to respond more nimbly to evolving terrorism threats and to further develop and invest in partnerships to support a sustainable and effective counterterrorism strategy. Specific allocations of CTPF funding will be subject to an interagency policy process jointly led by the National Security Council and the Office of Management and Budget in order to ensure integrated planning and comprehensive oversight of CTPF funds.
