Diplomatic Programs (DP) is financed by this appropriation, fees for services, and reimbursements from other agencies (including for administrative and other services provided by the Department of State). As in previous years, two-year funding is requested for this account, except for funds requested for Worldwide Security Protection (WSP), which are to remain available until expended. DP is the Department of State's primary operating account and funds a broad range of activities from policy setting, planning and design, to implementation and operations and maintenance. The 2025 request includes base funding for State Department operations in Iraq, Pakistan, and other High Threat Posts (HTP) as well as the new Pacific Island posts, Eastern Caribbean posts, and the Department's planned resumption of operations in Libya.

Funds are requested in the following categories:

Human Resources.—This category supports American salaries at overseas and domestic U.S. diplomatic missions, including Department of State employees carrying out security protection activities. Through continuous professional development and training, the Department ensures that its professionals have the skills, experience, and judgment to fulfill its functions at all levels. Training programs are designed to provide employees with the specific functional area and language skills needed for the conduct of foreign relations in the Department and abroad. This activity also supports the management, recruitment, and performance evaluation of Foreign and Civil Service employees (including efforts to attract a diverse applicant pool) and locally employed staff.

Overseas Programs.—This category provides funding for the operational programs of all the regional bureaus of the Department of State, which are responsible for managing United States foreign policy through bilateral and multilateral relationships. Funds made available for 2025 will support more than 270 United States embassies, consulates, and other diplomatic posts worldwide. Resources for this activity are used to provide for: the political and economic reporting and analysis of interests to the United States; the representation of U.S. diplomatic and national interests to countries abroad; and the bilateral and multilateral negotiation of U.S. foreign policy objectives, including the hosting of and participation in various international conferences, meetings, and other multilateral activities in the United States and abroad. This activity also encompasses medical programs for the Department of State, the Foreign Service and other U.S. Government departments and agencies overseas. Centralized funding for travel and transportation of effects associated with the assignment, transfer, home leave and separation of the Department's personnel and dependents is also included in this activity.

Diplomatic Policy and Support.—This category supports the operational programs of the functional bureaus of the Department of State, which includes providing overall policy direction, coordination, and program management among United States missions abroad in pursuit of regional and global foreign policy objectives, including the hosting of various international conferences and meetings in the United States and abroad. Funds to support the work of the Global Engagement Center (GEC) are also included in this category. The GEC's mission is to direct, lead, synchronize, integrate, and coordinate efforts of the Federal Government to recognize, understand, expose, and counter foreign state and foreign non-state propaganda and disinformation efforts aimed at undermining or influencing the policies, security, or stability of the United States, United States allies, and partner nations. Resources also fund the management of U.S. participation in arms control, nonproliferation, and disarmament negotiations and other verification and compliance activities, in addition to funds otherwise available for such purposes. The information management activity in DP includes resources that are used for the creation, collection, processing, use, storage, and disposition of information required for the formulation and execution of foreign policy and for the conduct of daily business. Components of the information management activity include: telecommunications, information security, information system services, pouch, mail and publishing services for both unclassified and classified information. These activities include domestic and overseas execution of Department programs, such as budget and financial management, contracting and procurement, domestic facilities and vehicles, and rental payments to GSA.

Security Programs.—This category provides for the operation of security programs, including for Worldwide Security Protection (WSP) and the Bureau of Diplomatic Security (DS), to protect diplomatic personnel, overseas diplomatic missions, residences, domestic facilities and information. The salaries paid to Department employees who carry out the security protection function worldwide are included in the Human Resources program activity. This activity identifies resources that are used in meeting security and counterterrorism responsibilities, both foreign and domestic. Programs covered in this activity include but are not limited to: security operations; engineering services, which are related to the technical defense of U.S. Government personnel and establishments abroad against electronic and physical attack; homeland security related activities; protection of Department personnel and foreign dignitaries; and physical security operations.

The Department of State continues to seek stable budget authorities to ensure that the Bureau of Consular Affairs (CA) can function as a self-sustaining fee-funded operation for the long-term. The Consular and Border Security Programs (CBSP) account uses revenue from consular fees and surcharges to fund programs and activities, consistent with applicable statutory authorities. These fees and surcharges include Machine Readable Visa (MRV) fees, Western Hemisphere

Travel Initiative (WHTI) surcharges, Passport Security surcharges, Immigrant Visa Security surcharges, Diversity Visa Lottery fees, H and L Visa Fraud Prevention and Detection Fees, Affidavit of Support fees, Expedited Passport Fees (EPF), and use of J Waiver Fees from a Diplomatic Programs account.

The Passport Application and Execution Fees (PAEF) are the only retained fees that are specifically designated by Congress to offset the costs for providing U.S. citizen services overseas. Section 7069(e) of the Department of State, Foreign Operations, and Related Programs Appropriations Act, 2022 (Div. K, P.L. 117–103) provided the Department with new authority to retain PAEF and to deposit them in the CBSP account. However, that provision only provided authority to spend fees deposited in 2022. Fees deposited in the CBSP account after 2022 remain unavailable for expenditure. Expenditure authority for PAEF and other fees also reduces the reliance on Machine-Readable Visa (MRV) fees to fund U.S. citizen services and costs while providing critical resilience to fluctuations in demand and temporary revenue authorities. In 2025, the Budget requests $491 million to support critical U.S. citizen services and passport activities using PAEF revenues, offset with a proposed cancellation of other CBSP prior-year balances. The proposal will enable PAEF balances and new receipts to be applied to meeting the cost of critical U.S. citizen services and passport activities for which the fee is being charged to the public.

Section 7025(m)(9) of the general provisions provides a permanent extension of the Western Hemisphere Travel Initiative Surcharges. Section 7059 provides for the recovery of costs of consular services not otherwise subject to visa fees and surcharges retained by the Department. Section 7060 provides legislative language expanding the authorities of the Border Crossing Card and Passport Security Surcharge. Finally, Section 7047 provides the ability to use the Fraud Prevention and Detection fees for the costs of providing consular services.

The Department plays a vital role in supporting U.S. citizens through emergency and routine services, issuing millions of secure passports to U.S. citizens domestically at 29 passport facilities and more than 8,000 state and local government facilities and protecting U.S. borders through visa adjudications. Together with the Department of Homeland Security, the Department of Justice, the Intelligence Community, Department of the Treasury, and the law enforcement community, the Department strengthens its layered visa and border security screening system that rests on training, fraud prevention and detection, technological advances, biometric innovations and expanded data sharing. These efforts are only possible building on a strong, stable, and constantly improving base of security, technology, and trained personnel funded by consular fees and surcharges.

This appropriation provides for the implementation of audits, investigations, and inspections of the Department's programs and operations as mandated by the Inspector General Act of 1978, as amended, and the Foreign Service Act of 1980, as amended. The objectives of the Office of the Inspector General (OIG) are to: improve the economy, efficiency, and effectiveness of the Department's operations; detect and prevent fraud, waste, abuse, and mismanagement; and evaluate independently the formulation, applicability, and implementation of security standards at all U.S. diplomatic and consular posts. The OIG also assesses the implementation of U.S. foreign policy, primarily through its inspection of all overseas posts and domestic offices on a cyclical basis. The State Department's Inspector General also serves as Inspector General of the U.S. Agency for Global Media and has partial oversight of Department of State-managed foreign assistance resources, as mandated by law. In addition, this appropriation funds the Office of the Special Inspector General for Afghanistan Reconstruction (SIGAR). SIGAR provides independent oversight of programs and operations funded for the reconstruction of Afghanistan. SIGAR performs this oversight through audits, field inspections and investigations of potential waste, fraud and abuse in coordination with, and receiving the cooperation of, the Inspectors General of the Department of State, Department of Defense and the United States Agency for International Development.

This appropriation provides funding to the Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs (ECA) for international exchange programs authorized by the Mutual Educational and Cultural Exchange Act of 1961, as amended, to support U.S. foreign, economic, security policy objectives and to advance U.S. influence overseas. These goals are addressed by building increased mutual understanding through international exchange and professional development activities. Programs under this appropriation include:

Academic Programs.—Includes the J. William Fulbright Educational Exchange Program, which provides U.S. and international students, teachers, scholars, and administrators the opportunity to pursue degrees, teach, and conduct research in foreign and U.S. universities. Academic Programs also include English language programming and educational advising services. English language programs help train and develop foreign teachers of English, send Americans overseas to teach English and train instructors, teach English to disadvantaged students, and provide language learning materials and resources. In addition, educational advising programming supports outreach to international students worldwide to assist in applying to U.S. universities.

Additional academic programs, such as the Benjamin A. Gilman International Scholarship Program, provide opportunities for American participants with financial needs to study abroad. The American Spaces Program supports more than 600 open-access cultural centers that freely share American books, movies, and programs that demonstrate American values with foreign audiences in more than 140 countries to connect the world with the United States. The Madeleine K. Albright Fellowship Program is for participants from foreign countries focusing on understanding and promoting the core principles of a democratic society.

Professional/Cultural Exchanges.—Includes exchanges linking U.S. and foreign participants in multiple fields directly tied to U.S. foreign policy goals. The International Visitor Leadership Program brings thousands of foreign leaders to the United States for intensive short-term professional exchanges to meet and confer with their American counterparts, gaining first-hand knowledge about U.S. society, culture and democratic values. The Citizen Exchanges Program participants partner with an extensive network of organizations and experts from across the United States to conduct professional fellowships and arts, sports, and high school exchange programs focused on current and future leaders. The Citizen Exchanges Program also includes the TechCamp Program, which leverages cutting-edge communications and private sector expertise to build networks of influential activists worldwide to advance shared policies including countering disinformation, supporting good governance, and mitigating violent extremism.

Youth Leadership Initiatives.—Includes programs targeting young private, public, and civil sector leaders in Africa, Southeast Asia, and the Americas.

Program and Performance.—Includes the U.S. Speakers Program that connects professional foreign audiences with American experts on topics of strategic importance to the United States and collaborates with U.S. embassies and consulates worldwide to develop and implement customized programs. Funds also support opportunities for ECA program alumni to build on participant experiences and maximize the return on investment in people-to-people connections by turning exchange experiences into enduring relationships that are part of a growing network of active alumni associations across the globe, as well as on-going evidence-based program performance measurements and independent evaluations to strengthen ECA's ability to monitor, evaluate, learn, and innovate.

Exchanges Support.—Includes all domestic staff, overseas Regional Language Officers, and operational support costs managed by ECA, and provides government-wide exchanges coordination.

Under the direction of the Secretary of State, the overall mission of the Bureau of Overseas Buildings Operations (OBO) is to provide U.S. diplomatic and consular missions abroad with safe, secure, and functional facilities that support the foreign policy objectives of the United States. Specific program functions include: providing guidance to posts, the regional bureaus and other foreign affairs agencies on the renovation, construction and operations of facilities; providing expert space and facilities planning; managing and overseeing the design, construction, and renovation of mission facilities; incorporating security features into overseas and domestic facilities; and ensuring the security of facilities during construction or renovation. In addition, OBO is responsible for establishing standards and policies for overseas housing, developing, in conjunction with posts, effective maintenance programs for post facilities, and monitoring and reporting the inventory of maintenance and backlog requirements. OBO also ensures the safety of the building occupants through the development of fire/life safety and accessibility compliance programs.

In 2025, the Department will manage the twenty-first year of the Capital Security Cost Sharing (CSCS) Program. This program has two main goals: accelerating the construction of new safe, secure and functional embassy and consulate compounds, and providing an incentive for all United States Government agencies to right-size their presence overseas through the use of cost-sharing. The $2.2 billion program includes funding consistent with the Benghazi Accountability Review Board's recommended funding level for the construction of new secure facilities overseas. The 2025 request continues the Maintenance Cost Sharing (MCS) Program to provide critically needed renovation, construction, and repair of overseas facilities, to provide adequate working conditions for multi-agency staffs, and protect the U.S. taxpayer investment. Both programs are funded within a combined CSCS-MCS program in FY 2025. Funding sources include ESCM appropriations, interagency contributions, and consular fee revenues.

The objective of the Asset Management Program is to obtain the best use of diplomatic and consular properties overseas through sale of surplus or underutilized properties and reinvestment of the proceeds in properties that provide a greater return to the U.S. Government and/or improve the safety of mission personnel. In lieu of appropriated resources, OBO uses asset sales proceeds for long-term capital investment to minimize the growth of U.S. Government leasehold requirements (through property acquisition) or to address a high-priority need for new construction or fit-out of leased space.

This appropriation also provides for capital expenditures necessary to preserve, maintain, repair, and plan for buildings owned or leased by the Department of State overseas.

The current appropriation finances any unfunded liability created by new or liberalized benefits, new groups of beneficiaries, and salary increases. The 2025 permanent appropriation provides a supplemental payment to the fund for disbursements attributable to the Foreign Service Pension System; and unfunded interest along with liability from military service for the Foreign Service Retirement and Disability System. In addition, the appropriation also finances the annual balance of the Foreign Service normal cost not met by employee and employer contributions. The amount of the appropriation is determined by the annual evaluation of the Fund balance derived from current statistical actuarial data, which includes inflationary cost-of-living adjustments.

The Foreign Service National Defined Contributions Fund (FSNDCF) is an after-employment benefit plan for Locally Employed Staff (LE Staff) working for the Department of State and other Foreign Affairs agencies. The purpose of the fund is to accumulate and distribute U.S. Government (USG)-funded contributions for end-of-service benefits for LE Staff in countries where U.S. missions have determined that participation in the local social security system (LSSS) is not in the public interest of the United States. The Department determines which countries are eligible to participate in the fund. Upon separation, payments under this Plan shall be made consistent with the host country law, including any court order affecting payments to participants, unless decided otherwise by the Department.

This fund, which is available without fiscal year limitations and is authorized by sections 13 and 23 of the State Department Basic Authorities Act of 1956 (22 U.S.C. 2684), finances on a reimbursable basis certain administrative services, such as printing and reproduction, editorial material, freight forwarding, library, post-assignment travel, motor pool, operations and dispatch agencies operations, inter-agency cooperative administrative support services, acquisition services, information technology support, medical services, aviation services, special issuance passport services, and expenses of carrying out the Foreign Missions Act, including any acquisitions of property under the authority of the Foreign Missions Act.

The International Cooperative Administrative Support Services (ICASS) program was fully implemented in 1998 using the Working Capital Fund. ICASS allows more decision-making and managerial participation by all participating agencies, more equitable cost distribution, and incentives for efficient provision of services. Under ICASS, each agency represented at an overseas post chooses the services it wishes to receive and pays a proportional share of the cost of those services. Working through inter-agency councils at each overseas post, all agencies have a say in determining post administrative budgets and defining service standards, as well as reviewing costs and vendor performance.

The Foreign Service Retirement and Disability Fund (FSRDF) was established in 1924 to provide pensions to retired and disabled members of the Foreign Service. The FSRDF's revenues consist of contributions from active participants and their U.S. Government agency employers; appropriations; and interest on investments. Monthly annuity payments are made to eligible retired employees or their survivors. The FSRDF includes the operations of two separate retirement systems—the Foreign Service Retirement and Disability System (FSRDS) and the Foreign Service Pension System (FSPS). This appropriation provides mandatory funding for the Foreign Service Retirement and Disability Fund (FSRDF) as prescribed in the Foreign Service Act of 1980 as authorized in Section(s) 821 and 822.

This fund is maintained to pay accrued separation liability payments for eligible Foreign Service National (FSN), FSN Personal Service Contractors (PSC), and FSN Personal Service Agreements (PSA) employees of the Department of State in those countries in which such pay is legally authorized. The fund, as authorized by section 151 of Public Law 102–138 (22 U.S.C. 4012a), is maintained by annual government contributions from the Department's Diplomatic Programs (DP) account (including Program Direct, Public Diplomacy and Worldwide Security Protection resources), Consular Affairs (CA) Consular and Border Security Program (CBSP) fees, the International Narcotics Control and Law Enforcement (INCLE) account, and International Cooperative Administrative Support Services (ICASS) working capital fund that includes both State's DP and other agencies shares. Eligible local staff include former United States Agency for International Development (USAID) ICASS employees who were consolidated into the Department. The Department of State funds and manages its own FSNSLTF separate and apart from any separation pay that may be provided by other agencies to non-State Locally Employed Staff (LE Staff).

Engineering.—Resources provide for technical engineering guidance and supervision of planning, construction, operation and maintenance, and environmental monitoring and compliance of international projects; studies relating to international problems of a continuing nature; and preliminary surveys and investigations to determine the need for and feasibility of projects for the resolution of international problems arising along the boundary.

Reimbursements are received from Mexico for O&M costs of the South Bay and Nogales International Wastewater Treatment Plants as well as from the City of Nogales for O&M costs at Nogales. Other reimbursements are received from the Western Area Power Administration, U.S. Department of Energy, for O&M and capital costs of hydroelectric generation at Falcon and Amistad International Dams.

This appropriation provides the United States' treaty mandated assessments and expenses to 19 international commissions and organizations including three bilateral commissions (the Great Lakes Fisheries Commission, the International Pacific Halibut Commission, and the Pacific Salmon Commission), nine multilateral bodies, two marine science organizations, one whaling commission, the Arctic Council and the Antarctic Treaty Secretariat, as well as funding regional sea turtle and shark conservation, and travel expenses of non-government U.S. commissioners and their advisors. These commissions and organizations coordinate scientific studies of shared fish stocks and other living marine resources and their habitats and establish common management measures to be implemented by member governments based on their results. Many entities also oversee the allocation of fishing rights to their members. In addition, the Great Lakes Fishery Commission carries out a program to eradicate the invasive, parasitic sea lamprey. The marine science organizations coordinate international research on valuable fisheries, oceanography, and marine ecosystems and the results are publicly disseminated and used to advise member governments on fisheries and marine science policy.

The first phase of the President's Emergency Plan for AIDS Relief (PEPFAR), from 2004 to 2008, was the largest ever global public health initiative by a single country to fight the HIV/AIDS epidemic. Funding was appropriated in the Global HIV/AIDS Initiative account for this purpose through 2007. Beginning in 2008, funds were appropriated in the Global Health and Child Survival (now Global Health Programs) account, and will continue to be requested in that account.

(2) immunization and oral rehydration programs; (3) other health, nutrition, water and sanitation programs which directly address the needs of mothers and children, and related education programs; (4) assistance for children displaced or orphaned by causes other than AIDS; (5) programs for the prevention, treatment, control of, and research on HIV/AIDS, tuberculosis, polio, malaria, and other infectious diseases including neglected tropical diseases, and for assistance to communities severely affected by HIV/AIDS, including children infected or affected by AIDS; (6) disaster preparedness training for health crises; (7) programs to prevent, prepare for, and respond to unanticipated and emerging global health threats, including zoonotic diseases; and (8) family planning/reproductive health: Provided further, That funds appropriated under this paragraph may be made available for United States contributions to The GAVI Alliance and to a multilateral vaccine development partnership to support epidemic preparedness: Provided further, That none of the funds made available in this Act nor any unobligated balances from prior appropriations Acts may be made available to any organization or program which, as determined by the President of the United States, supports or participates in the management of a program of coercive abortion or involuntary sterilization: Provided further, That any determination made under the previous proviso must be made not later than 6 months after the date of enactment of this Act, and must be accompanied by the evidence and criteria utilized to make the determination: Provided further, That none of the funds made available under this Act may be used to pay for the performance of abortion as a method of family planning or to motivate or coerce any person to practice abortions: Provided further, That nothing in this paragraph shall be construed to alter any existing statutory prohibitions against abortion under section 104 of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961: Provided further, That none of the funds made available under this Act may be used to lobby for or against abortion: Provided further, That in order to reduce reliance on abortion in developing nations, funds shall be available only to voluntary family planning projects which offer, either directly or through referral to, or information about access to, a broad range of family planning methods and services, and that any such voluntary family planning project shall meet the following requirements: (1) service providers or referral agents in the project shall not implement or be subject to quotas, or other numerical targets, of total number of births, number of family planning acceptors, or acceptors of a particular method of family planning (this provision shall not be construed to include the use of quantitative estimates or indicators for budgeting and planning purposes); (2) the project shall not include payment of incentives, bribes, gratuities, or financial reward to: (A) an individual in exchange for becoming a family planning acceptor; or (B) program personnel for achieving a numerical target or quota of total number of births, number of family planning acceptors, or acceptors of a particular method of family planning; (3) the project shall not deny any right or benefit, including the right of access to participate in any program of general welfare or the right of access to health care, as a consequence of any individual's decision not to accept family planning services; (4) the project shall provide family planning acceptors comprehensive information on the health benefits and risks of the method chosen, including those conditions that might render the use of the method inadvisable and those adverse side effects known to be consequent to the use of the method; and (5) the project shall ensure that experimental contraceptive drugs and devices and medical procedures are provided only in the context of a scientific study in which participants are advised of potential risks and benefits; and, not less than 60 days after the date on which the USAID Administrator determines that there has been a violation of the requirements contained in paragraph (1), (2), (3), or (5) of this proviso, or a pattern or practice of violations of the requirements contained in paragraph (4) of this proviso, the Administrator shall submit to the Committees on Appropriations a report containing a description of such violation and the corrective action taken by the Agency: Provided further, That in awarding grants for natural family planning under section 104 of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 no applicant shall be discriminated against because of such applicant's religious or conscientious commitment to offer only natural family planning; and, additionally, all such applicants shall comply with the requirements of the previous proviso: Provided further, That for purposes of this or any other Act authorizing or appropriating funds for the Department of State, foreign operations, and related programs, the term "motivate", as it relates to family planning assistance, shall not be construed to prohibit the provision, consistent with local law, of information or counseling about all pregnancy options: Provided further, That information provided about the use of condoms as part of projects or activities that are funded from amounts appropriated by this Act shall be medically accurate and shall include the public health benefits and failure rates of such use: Provided further, That of the amounts apportioned directly to the United States Agency for International Development under this heading, $8,000,000 shall remain available until expended for necessary expenses to carry out the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961, in addition to funds otherwise available for such purposes, for a Health Reserve Fund for global health activities in challenging environments and countries in crisis: Provided further, That funds described in the preceding proviso may support activities relating to health service delivery, health workforce, health information systems, access to essential medicines, health systems financing, and governance: Provided further, That of the unobligated and unexpended balances from amounts made available under the headings "Global Health Programs" and "Economic Support Fund" in this Act and prior Acts making appropriations for the Department of State, foreign operations, and related programs, up to $10,000,000 may be transferred to, and merged with, funds made available for the Health Reserve Fund.

In addition, for necessary expenses to carry out the provisions of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 for the prevention, treatment, and control of, and research on, HIV/AIDS, and for global pandemic preparedness, including for an international financing mechanism for such purposes, which may be made available as contributions, $5,836,600,000, to remain available until September 30, 2029, which shall be apportioned directly to the Department of State: Provided, That funds appropriated under this paragraph may be made available, notwithstanding any other provision of law, except for the United States Leadership Against HIV/AIDS, Tuberculosis, and Malaria Act of 2003 (Public Law 108–25), as amended, for a United States contribution to the Global Fund to Fight AIDS, Tuberculosis and Malaria (Global Fund): Provided further, That the amount of such contribution shall be $1,191,600,000: Provided further, That up to 5 percent of the aggregate amount of funds made available to the Global Fund in fiscal year 2024 may be made available to USAID for technical assistance related to the activities of the Global Fund, subject to the regular notification procedures of the Committees on Appropriations: Provided further, That of the funds appropriated under this paragraph, up to $22,000,000 may be made available, in addition to amounts otherwise available for such purposes, for administrative expenses of the United States Global AIDS Coordinator.

Note.—A full-year 2024 appropriation for this account was not enacted at the time the Budget was prepared; therefore, the Budget assumes this account is operating under the Continuing Appropriations Act, 2024 and Other Extensions Act (Division A of Public Law 118–15, as amended). The amounts included for 2024 reflect the annualized level provided by the continuing resolution.

The Global Health Programs account funds health-related foreign assistance for the Department of State (DOS) and the U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID). Global health programs seek to improve health outcomes by increasing impact through strategic integration and coordination; strengthening and leveraging multilateral institutions; encouraging country ownership and investing in country-led plans; building sustainability through health systems strengthening; improving metrics, monitoring and evaluation; and promoting research, development and innovation.

Global Health Programs-State.—The Global Health Programs-State (GHP-State) account supports the goal of controlling the HIV/AIDS epidemic through the President's Emergency Plan for AIDS Relief (PEPFAR). The 2025 Budget requests $5,836.6 million in the GHP-State account for global HIV programming. PEPFAR is led and coordinated by the Bureau of Global Health Security and Diplomacy in the Department of State, which draws upon the expertise and experience of other U.S. government partners including USAID, the Department of Health and Human Services, the Department of Defense, and the Peace Corps to align resources, activities, and expertise at the country level in the fight against global AIDS. Programs work through expanded partnerships to build capacity for efficient, effective, innovative, country-led, and sustainable services, and to create a supportive and enabling policy environment for combating HIV/AIDS, including as part of the broader USG and country-level health and development approach. In addition, GHSD/PEPFAR supports strong monitoring evaluation and accountability systems to set benchmarks for outcomes and programmatic efficiencies through regularly assessed planning and reporting processes to ensure goals are being met. PEPFAR programs support strategic, scientifically sound investments to rapidly scale up core HIV/AIDS prevention, care, and treatment interventions within the context of strengthened health systems, particularly in terms of human resources in nations with severe health worker shortages and lack of service delivery capacity. PEPFAR supports the advancement of the Administration's Global Health Worker Initiative as part of strengthening the public health system, and will continue to prioritize support for healthcare workers, who have been critical to the progress made towards HIV epidemic control to date and will be critical to sustaining that progress in the years to come. PEPFAR integrates its efforts with important programs in other areas of global health as well as other areas of development, including education, gender equity, and economic development. PEPFAR is actively promoting greater program sustainability and country-level ownership through the development of country sustainability roadmaps. A contribution of $1,191.6 million to the Global Fund to Fight AIDS, Tuberculosis and Malaria is included in GHP-State for the seventh replenishment, with the United States offering to match $1 for every $2 contributed by other donors. The Budget also requests $50 million for a United States contribution to the United Nations Joint Program on HIV/AIDS (UNAIDS) in support of the Sustainable Development Goal 3 to end AIDS by 2030 through strategic direction, normative guidance through the World Health Organization (WHO), civil society advocacy, and technical support. The Administration strongly supports congressional reauthorization of the PEPFAR program during FY 2024 and will work with congressional and other stakeholders to ensure that PEPFAR has the tools it needs to empower countries to reach the 95–95–95 goals and implement the five-year strategy.

The Budget request for GHP-State also includes $250 million for the Pandemic Fund, which will strengthen global health security and pandemic preparedness and help make the world safer from infectious disease threats. Two years after President Biden made the first public pledge, the Pandemic Fund has mobilized $2 billion in commitments from over two dozen donors, including sovereign nations and philanthropies, and has provided over $330 million of these funds to 37 countries in 6 regions to strengthen their pandemic preparedness. Continued U.S. leadership is critical to help mobilize long-term and sustainable resources from other donors, and will help maximize the Fund's goals, which include: 1) Building capacity and demonstrating capability; 2) Fostering cooperation amongst countries globally and regional across sectors and within countries; 3) Incentivizing additional investments in pandemic prevention, preparedness, and response; and 4) Ensuring administrative and operational efficiency of resources.

Global Health Programs-USAID.—The 2025 Budget requests $3,991.0 million in the GHP-USAID account for a comprehensive and integrated approach to prevent child and maternal deaths, combat infectious disease threats, and control the HIV epidemic. This approach strives to maximize impact and to expand its reach by building upon previous investments made through maternal and child health, nutrition, family planning and reproductive health, vulnerable children, tuberculosis, neglected tropical diseases, global health security, the President's Emergency Plan for AIDS Relief, and the President's Malaria Initiative. This approach will continue to save millions of lives while fostering sustainable health care delivery systems that can address the full range of developing country health needs including preparing for, and responding to, the next global disease outbreak or pandemic. USAID, working in partnership with foreign governments, local private sector and non-governmental organizations, and other public-private partnerships, will build capacity, strengthen health systems, and promote sustainable integrated health care for vulnerable populations. The Budget provides $300 million to support a contribution to Gavi, the Vaccine Alliance, as the first year of a four-year pledge towards Gavi's next strategic cycle. It also provides $100 million for contributions to multilateral organizations working to enhance global health security, $90 million to replenish the Emergency Reserve Fund, as well as $410 million to support bilateral global health capacity-building in at least 50 countries, in support of Administration priorities under the National Biodefense Strategy and Global Health Security Strategy. It also includes $8 million for the Health Reserve Fund to support global health activities in challenging environments and countries in crisis, and $20 million to support the Administration's Global Health Worker Initiative by protecting and expanding the global health workforce and advancing equity and inclusion.

Funds primarily support the programs of international organizations, including the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR), the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC), and the International Organization for Migration (IOM), as well as non-governmental organizations (NGOs).

Humanitarian Migrants to Israel.—These funds assist humanitarian migrants resettling in Israel.

U.S. Refugee Admissions.—MRA funds overseas processing, transportation, and initial placement for refugees and certain other categories of special immigrants resettling in the United States. These activities are carried out primarily by NGO partners, UNHCR, and the International Organization for Migration (IOM).

Administrative Expenses.—These funds finance the salaries and operating expenses for the Bureau of Population, Refugees, and Migration in Washington, D.C. and overseas. (Note: Funds for the salaries and support costs of the positions dedicated to international population policy and coordination are requested under the Department of State's Diplomatic and Consular Programs appropriation.)

In 2025, the MRA account will support ongoing as well as emerging needs.

The Complex Crises Fund (CCF) account supports programs to prevent or respond to emerging or unforeseen complex crises overseas. USAID deploys CCF when there is an unanticipated and overwhelming urgent need or window of opportunity where a U.S. Government response will help stem the rise of violent conflict and instability or advance the consolidation of peace and democracy. CCF funding allows the U.S. Government to respond to rapidly changing, complex crises that include a combination of humanitarian, political, and security dimensions and contributes to overarching U.S. foreign policy or national security goals.

Enduring Welcome (EW) is the whole-of-Government effort to expeditiously process the applications of our Afghan allies, such as Afghan Special Immigrant Visa (SIV) candidates, and family reunification cases, and welcome them to the United States while simultaneously safeguarding national security. The 2025 Budget includes a request to establish an Enduring Welcome Administration and Support account. The purpose of this new account is to ensure that we meet our commitment to our Afghan partners who served alongside us in Afghanistan by providing a consolidated, flexible funding source to meet these complex responsibilities through the State-led EW effort. No new budget authority is requested for this account. 2025 will be a transition year to begin funding EW administration and operations using this account upon enactment of legislative authority.

All activities associated with Enduring Welcome in 2025 will be funded using appropriations from prior years or transferred to the Department of State for this purpose, which the Budget estimates will total approximately $1.7 billion in carryover into 2025. These funds will be transferred into the new EW account from the following accounts: $344 million in the Diplomatic Programs account, approximately $1,261 million in the Emergency Migration and Refugee Assistance account, approximately $20 million in Emergencies in Diplomatic and Consular Service account, and approximately $104 million in Embassy Security, Construction, and Maintenance account. The 2025 activity represents a current estimate at the time the budget was submitted and is subject to change.

International Narcotics Control and Law Enforcement (INCLE) advances U.S. national security interests by supporting bilateral, regional, and global programs that enable partners and allies to manage and address transnational threats at their source. INCLE programs mitigate security threats posed by all forms of transnational crime, including production and trafficking of narcotics, and strengthen partner countries' criminal justice systems. These programs improve the ability of partner countries to cooperate effectively with U.S. law enforcement, and address the underlying conditions, such as corruption and weak rule of law, that foster state fragility and spur irregular migration to the United States.

Established by the Millennium Challenge Act of 2003, the Millennium Challenge Corporation (MCC) partners with low and low-middle income countries to reduce poverty through economic growth. MCC provides large grants to developing countries that meet rigorous standards for good governance, from fighting corruption to respecting democratic rights, as evaluated by MCC's scorecard. MCC takes a business-like approach, with bedrock commitments to data, accountability, and evidence-based decision making. Since its inception, MCC has signed 46 compacts and 32 threshold program agreements, totaling an investment of $16.5 billion dollars. In addition to providing large grants, MCC works with countries to advance policy and institutional reforms to create the enabling conditions for private sector-led growth. MCC's evidence-based approach leads to compacts that drive partner country ownership, including financial accountability and transparent and fair procurement practices, and measurable development impact to ensure that MCC assistance is used responsibly and effectively. In 2025, MCC will build on its rigorous, evidence-based model and will focus on the strategic areas of climate change, inclusion and gender, and sustainable infrastructure investments that are aligned with the Partnership for Global Infrastructure and Investment. Focusing on these priority areas will enable MCC to expand impact and further strengthen its ability to deliver on its mission to reduce poverty through sustainable and inclusive economic growth.

The 2025 Budget requests mandatory resources in a new International Infrastructure Fund, to be implemented by MCC and other international agencies, as part of a broader proposal to out-compete China globally. MCC's ability to leverage grants to finance high-quality, sustainable infrastructure projects stands in stark contrast to others that often create increased debt burdens on low and lower-middle income countries.

International Military Education and Training (IMET) assistance provides grants for foreign military and civilian personnel to attend military education and training provided by the United States Government either at United States military schools or by trainers in country. In addition to helping these countries professionalize their militaries, this program also exposes foreign students to American democratic values, particularly respect for civilian control of the military and for internationally recognized standards of individual and human rights.

The Global Security Contingency Fund (GSCF) permits the Department of State and the Department of Defense to combine resources and expertise to address emergent challenges and opportunities. The GSCF can be used to provide military and other security sector assistance to enhance a country's national-level military or other security forces' capabilities to conduct border and maritime security, internal defense, and counterterrorism operations, or to participate in or support military, stability, or peace support operations, consistent with U.S. foreign policy and national security interests. The GSCF can also be used to provide assistance to the justice sector (including law enforcement and prisons), rule of law programs, and stabilization efforts in cases where civilian providers are challenged in their ability to operate. Assistance programs under this account are collaboratively developed by the Department of State and the Department of Defense. The fund allows direct contributions from each Department to be transferred into the fund for implementation by the most appropriate agency in a given situation, be it State, Defense, the U.S. Agency for International Development, or others. No direct funding is requested in 2025.

The FY 2025 Budget includes a request for an FMF loan guarantee program for NATO and Major Non-NATO allies, including entities treated as Major Non-NATO allies for any purpose under any provision of law, to complement traditional FMF grant assistance.

The Foreign Military Loan Liquidating Account records all cash flows to and from the Government resulting from direct loans obligated and loan guarantees for foreign military financing committed prior to 1992. This account is shown on a cash basis and reflects the transactions resulting from loans provided to finance sales of defense articles, defense services, and design and construction services to foreign countries and international organizations. No new loan disbursements are made from this account. Certain collections made into this account are made available for default claim payments. The Federal Credit Reform Act (FCRA) provides permanent indefinite authority to cover obligations for default payments if the liquidating account funds are otherwise insufficient. All new foreign military financing credit activity in 1992 and after (including modifications of direct loans or loan guarantees that resulted from obligations or commitments in any year) is recorded in corresponding program and financing accounts.

The amounts in this account are a means of financing and are not included in budget totals. It is an account established for the debt relief of certain countries as established by Public Law 103-87, Foreign Operations, Export Financing, and Related Programs Appropriations Act, 1994, Section 11, Special Debt Relief for the Poorest, Most Heavily Indebted Countries. The MDRF buys a portfolio of loans from the Foreign Military Loan Liquidating Account, thus transferring the loans from the Liquidating Account to the MDRF Account.

Clean Technology Fund

The Clean Technology Fund (CTF) was created in 2008 to provide concessional financing to multilateral development bank (MDB) projects or stand-alone projects to support clean technology and energy.

Since its establishment, the CTF has invested over $7.8 billion in helping emerging markets scale up deployment of clean and energy efficient technologies. Every dollar of financing committed by the CTF is expected to mobilize $10.50 in co-financing from the MDBs and other public and private actors. The private sector has accounted for the largest share of co-finance: $3.40 dollars for every $1 in CTF finance.

The Global Agriculture and Food Security Program (GAFSP) is a multi-donor trust fund dedicated to improving food and nutrition security worldwide. It provides grants to low-income countries to support national agriculture and food security investment plans that governments develop together with farmers, agribusinesses, technical experts, and civil society through a participatory and transparent process. Governments, farmer and producer organizations, and the private sector are in the lead, designing and implementing these projects in partnership with a development agency of their choice.

Launched by the G20 in the wake of the global response to the 2007–08 food price crisis, GAFSP works to build resilient and sustainable agriculture and food systems in the world's poorest countries. GAFSP has provided direct support through projects to more than 16 million rural-dwelling people, including nearly 7 million women. Since 2010, GAFSP has pooled over $2 billion in donor funds to provide financial and technical resources - grants, technical assistance, concessional loans, blended finance, and advisory services - to demand-driven projects along the food chain, from "farm to table." Of GAFSP's $2 billion portfolio, 60 percent is dedicated to Africa, 12 percent to East Asia, 11 percent to South Asia, and 8 percent to other countries (e.g. Central Asia and Europe). In 2023, GAFSP allocated more than $300 million to low-income countries and producer organizations through its 7th Call for Proposals that was designed to respond to the food security crisis exacerbated by Russia's war on Ukraine. The GAFSP Steering Committee also approved in 2023 the Business Investment Finance Track (BIFT) to catalyze and scale up private and climate financing for investments in smallholder farmers and agri-food value chains through partnerships between the private sector, governments, and civil society organizations.

The 2025 Budget requests $15 million in additional resources to establish a new account that would enable Treasury to meet new and emergent needs that can occur outside of the U.S. budget cycle through international financial institutions (IFIs), financial intermediary funds and trust funds administered by IFIs, and other international organizations, as well as debt restructuring and technical assistance. Requested resources will be used to support global macroeconomic and financial stability and international development, and to advance U.S. strategic priorities and leadership, including countering the influence of malign actors. Funding provided through this account could enable Treasury to implement innovative solutions to address those needs in a timely manner.

International Bank for Reconstruction and Development

The International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD) is the arm of the World Bank that provides financing to creditworthy lower middle and middle-income countries to promote inclusive economic growth and reduce poverty. These countries—home to over 60 percent of the world's poor—rely on the IBRD for financial resources and strategic advice to meet their development needs. Working across a range of sectors, including governance, agriculture, sustainable infrastructure, health and nutrition, and education, the IBRD supports long-term human and social development needs which private creditors generally do not finance. During its 2023 fiscal year (July 1, 2022 to June 30, 2023), the IBRD approved $38.6 billion in loans and technical assistance. Europe and Central Asia received the largest portion of the IBRD's lending at $10.2 billion (26 percent), followed by Latin America and the Caribbean at $9.8 billion (25 percent) and East Asia and Pacific at $6.6 billion (17 percent). In FY 2023, IBRD approved over $11.1 billion in infrastructure-related financing (29 percent of total approvals), composed of $6.9 billion in energy, $630 million in information and communications technologies, $1.2 billion in transportation, and $2.4 billion in water infrastructure.

The United States is and will remain the largest shareholder in the IBRD, and the United States is the only country with veto power over amendments to the Articles of Agreement. The United States share of total voting power will be 15.9 percent after all countries subscribe to their shares under the 2018 capital increase. The countries with the next largest percentage of shares are Japan, whose share will be 6.8 percent, followed by China, with a 5.7 percent share.

Global Environment Facility

The Global Environment Facility (GEF) is one of the largest dedicated funders of projects to improve the global environment. Since its inception, the GEF has provided $23 billion in grants and blended finance and an additional $129 billion in co-financing for more than 5,000 projects. The GEF benefits the U.S. economy and environment by addressing many global environmental problems that affect our domestic health, safety, and prosperity, such as by conserving tropical forests, combatting wildlife trafficking, reducing harmful pollution, and conserving fish stocks outside U.S. waters.

International Finance Corporation

The International Finance Corporation (IFC) is the private sector arm of the World Bank Group. Established in 1956, it promotes private sector development in developing countries by making loans to and equity investments in private sector projects, mobilizing private capital alongside its own resources, and providing advisory and technical assistance services. In its 2023 fiscal year, the IFC made $16.7 billion in long-term investment commitments from its own resources ("own account") and mobilized an additional $15.0 billion in long-term investments from other sources for 325 projects in 78 countries. IFC made 21 percent of its long-term, own account commitments to the poorest and most fragile countries (those eligible for funding from the World Bank's IDA) in its fiscal year 2023, and averaged about 25 percent on this metric between its fiscal year 2019 and 2023. IFC aims to increase this share to 40 percent by 2030. IFC also made $11.0 billion in short-term investment commitments during its fiscal year 2023. IFC made long-term commitments across the globe during its fiscal year 2023. The largest recipient regions were Latin America and Caribbean at $3.9 billion (23 percent), Africa at $3.8

billion (23 percent), East Asia and Pacific at $2.4 billion (15 percent), Europe at $2.2 billion (13 percent), and South Asia at $2.1 billion (13 percent). The top sectors for IFC long-term investment during its fiscal year 2023 were financial markets at $8.6 billion (52 percent), infrastructure at $2.4 billion (15 percent), and manufacturing at $1.5 billion (9 percent). IFC spent $260 million on advisory services during its fiscal year 2023, with IDA countries receiving $141 million (54 percent).

Funding requested in this account would guarantee loans by the World Bank to support the World Bank's Portfolio Guarantee Platform and would support trust funds and financial intermediary funds administered by the World Bank. These programs will help meet U.S. objectives as part of the MDB Evolution effort. These efforts will demonstrate U.S. leadership in breaking reliance on the People's Republic of China and addressing today's increasingly complex global challenges, which cross boundaries, disproportionately affect the poorest and most vulnerable, and threaten to roll back past development gains.

Of the requested funding, $750 million would be used for guarantees of World Bank loans to sovereigns, removing risk from the World Bank's balance sheet and providing a cost-effective way for the United States to expand World Bank lending for projects that address critical transboundary challenges. Because of the unique leveraging features of the Multilateral Development Banks, this program would allow the World Bank to expand its overall lending capacity by approximately $36 billion.

$250 million of the requested funding would be used for contributions to support trust funds and financial intermediary funds (TFs/FIFs) administered by the World Bank. These TFs/FIFs would deploy resources across a range of areas that address key global challenges, including boosting pandemic preparedness and prevention and promoting diversified and resilient critical mineral and manufacturing supply chains- thereby reducing reliance on China.

International Development Association

The International Development Association (IDA) is the arm of the World Bank Group that supports poverty reduction and development in the world's 74 poorest countries. IDA works across a wide range of sectors including education, health, clean water and sanitation, environment, infrastructure, agriculture, and governance. Because countries receiving IDA financing are too poor and lack creditworthiness to attract sufficient capital to support their significant development needs, they depend on concessional finance—low or no interest loans and grants—to create jobs, build critical infrastructure, improve governance and public service delivery, increase agricultural productivity, increase access to energy, improve job creation and the business environment, and invest in the health and education of future generations. IDA's goal is to help countries reduce poverty and achieve higher levels of growth and institutional capacity. Over time, IDA's support helps countries finance their development needs through domestic revenues and borrowing at non-concessional rates, including through international markets. During the World Bank's 2023 fiscal year (July 1, 2022, to June 30, 2023), IDA supported projects totaling $34.2 billion, of which, $26 billion (75 percent) went to countries in Sub-Saharan Africa. Countries in the South Asia region received the second largest amount at $5.7 billion (17 percent). As of September 2023, the United States holds the largest percent of total votes in IDA at 9.6 percent, followed by Japan at 8.3 percent and the United Kingdom at 6.9 percent. Voting power distribution fluctuates slightly with each IDA replenishment.

Inter-American Development Bank

The Inter-American Development Bank (IDB) is the largest source of development financing for 26 countries in Latin America and the Caribbean, a strategically significant and economically important region for the United States where roughly 144 million people live in poverty. In 2023, the IDB approved $12.7 billion in financing. The United States is the largest shareholder in the IDB, with 30 percent of total shareholding, enabling the United States to wield significant influence over major decisions about the direction of the IDB.

Inter-American Investment Corporation (IDB Invest)

The Inter-American Investment Corporation (IIC), colloquially known as IDB Invest, is an arm of the Inter-American Development Bank Group established in 1984. IDB Invest promotes development of the private sector in Latin America and the Caribbean. It is a legally autonomous entity whose resources and management are separate from those of the IDB itself. In 2017, the IIC implemented organizational and operational reforms stemming from the 2016 consolidation of the IDB's private sector financing activities into the IIC. As a result of this consolidation, all of the IDB Group's private sector lending activities, including for small- and medium-sized enterprises and financing for private infrastructure and corporate entities (with the exception of small-scale innovation focused work being done by IDB lab), are now funded by IDB Invest. In 2023, IDB Invest committed approximately $6.1 billion in short- and long-term financing.

Asian Development Bank

The Asian Development Bank (AsDB) promotes broad-based sustainable economic growth and development, poverty alleviation, and regional cooperation and integration in the Asia-Pacific region. It has two main financing windows: (1) the Asian Development Bank's Ordinary Capital Resources (OCR), which provides "hard loans" at market-linked rates and "soft loans" to eligible countries at concessional rates; and (2) the Asian Development Fund (AsDF), which provides only grants to the region's poorest countries that are at moderate or high risk of debt distress. Prior to January 2017, when AsDF's equity and lending operations were merged with AsDB's OCR, the AsDF also provided concessional loans.

The AsDB provides long-term loans at market-based rates to 39 low- and middle-income countries that utilize such resources to finance their national economies, build critical infrastructure, and support inclusive growth. AsDB also supports private sector development with technical assistance, loans, guarantees, and direct equity investments in viable private sector projects with strong development impacts. In 2023, AsDB committed $23.8 billion from its own resources for projects, including grants issued by the Asian Development Fund and Special Funds, and mobilized another $11.6 billion in co-financing from official and commercial sources. Through its lending, equity investments, trade finance, and technical assistance, AsDB supports investments in critical infrastructure, the expansion of private enterprise, and sustainable economic growth. Typically, the majority of AsDB assistance is for investments in energy, transportation, agriculture and natural resources, public sector management, and finance. In 2023, the AsDB invested approximately $9.1 billion in infrastructure, or about 38 percent of total commitments that year. AsDB is financed through capital contributions from donors, income earned on its loan and investment portfolios, and bond issuances.

Asian Development Fund

AsDF currently provides grants to 13 of the poorest and most vulnerable countries in Asia and the Pacific that face moderate or high risk of debt distress. It focuses on supporting inclusive, sustainable economic growth, as well as regional cooperation and integration. AsDF projects support water, energy, transportation, financial sector deepening, agriculture, and health. AsDF also invests in cross-cutting activities, such as connecting entrepreneurial training with financing for small and medium-sized enterprises. In 2023, AsDF committed a total of $774 million in sovereign and $15 million in non-sovereign grants for AsDF-eligible countries. In recent years, the United States has focused attention within AsDF on countries where support aligns with U.S. strategic interests, particularly to support small Pacific island countries and support for the Afghan people.

The African Development Bank Group includes: (1) the African Development Bank (AfDB), which lends at market-linked rates to middle-income African countries and Africa's private-sector; and (2) the African Development Fund (AfdF), which provides grants and concessional loans to the poorest African countries. The AfdF account includes a portion of the U.S. commitment to the Multilateral Debt Relief Initiative (MDRI). In 2023, approximately 91 percent of AfDB and 21 percent of AfdF project approvals were in the infrastructure sector, composed of investments in transportation, power, water and sanitation, environment, and urban development.

African Development Bank

The AfDB provides public sector financing at market-linked rates to 20 middle-income African countries and provides loans, equity investments, lines of credit, and guarantees to support private sector investments in all 54 African member countries. In 2023, the AfDB approved $5.79 billion in financing. 2023 lending activities focused on financing (including products such as partial risk guarantees, line of credit, and support for micro-lending to female-run micro-, small and medium-sized enterprises), transportation and multi-sectoral projects (which includes policy based lending and projects that include more than one sector of operations). The United States will remain the largest non-regional shareholder of the AfDB and the second-largest shareholder after Nigeria. The United States' shareholding is 6.5 percent.

African Development Fund

The AfdF is the AfDB Group's concessional lending window and traditionally one of the largest official financiers of infrastructure in Sub-Saharan Africa, providing grants and highly concessional loans to the poorest countries in Africa. Some AfdF recipient countries are becoming frontier emerging markets and growing U.S. trading partners. Many other AfdF recipient countries, however, remain fragile and are trapped in conflict and poverty. Most AfdF countries are highly vulnerable to both internal and external shocks. In 2023, the AfdF provided approximately $1.53 billion, focused in transportation, power, and agricultural activities to eligible countries. The AfdF also sets aside special funding for regional projects and fragile and transitioning states. In total, approximately half of its resources continue to be directed to fragile states.

Created in 1990, the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development (EBRD) supports market-oriented economic reform and democratic pluralism, predominately through private-sector lending and investments. Its original field of operation in the countries of Central and Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union was expanded in 2012 to aid in the transitions of key countries in the Middle East and North Africa. In April 2022, EBRD Governors voted to suspend access for Russia and Belarus to EBRD resources. In May 2023, EBRD Governors voted to amend the Articles Establishing the Bank to allow for limited and incremental expansion to sub-Saharan Africa and Iraq. The United States is the largest shareholder in the EBRD, with a 10.09 percent share of total voting power. The countries with the next largest percentage of shares are France, Italy, Germany, Japan, and the UK, each of which holds 8.59 percent.

An early mover following the Russian invasion, the EBRD has now committed $3.3 billion over 2022–2023 in Ukraine, supported by a supplemental grant contribution of $500 million from the United States for risk-sharing as well as almost $1 billion from other donors. The EBRD's assistance has focused on energy security, vital infrastructure, food security, trade, and the private sector.

All operations approved at the EBRD must comply with the principles of additionality, sound banking, and transition impact. Additionality ensures that EBRD will not crowd out private sector actors or replace already existing commercial sources of finance, while sound banking requires that the EBRD pursue profitable transactions while minimizing unnecessary risk. The transition impact measures countries' transition to market economies and multiparty democracies. The EBRD approves loans under three main sectors: financial institutions; industry, commerce, and agribusiness; and sustainable infrastructure. Approximately 75 percent of its financing is to the private sector. The EBRD has no separate concessional window and instead supports various multi-donor special funds that are used to fund technical cooperation as well as grants and concessional finance alongside EBRD financing. The EBRD plans to invest up to $12.6 billion in 2023. As of the end of November 2023, the EBRD had signed 393 projects for a total investment of $12.5 billion for the year, with half of all investments in green and energy efficient projects and 40 percent with a gender focus.

The EBRD had also mobilized $2.0 billion in private financing through November 2023.

The International Fund for Agricultural Development (IFAD) was established in 1977 as an international financial institution and specialized U.N. agency focused on promoting rural agricultural development and food security in developing countries. IFAD's mandate is to help rural, small-scale producers and subsistence farmers increase their agricultural productivity, incomes, and access to markets as well as to promote job creation and rural economic growth in developing countries, including conflict-affected and fragile areas. IFAD has 177 Member States, with Ukraine in the final stages of becoming its 178th Member. As such, Ukraine will need to be factored into future IFAD programming. As of December 2023, IFAD expected to approve $911 million in support of 21 new projects and 12 additional financing proposals by year-end, resulting in a total project portfolio of $8.1 billion. Most IFAD projects are in Africa and focused on low- and low-middle-income countries. The approximate regional distribution of IFAD's ongoing portfolio is Asia and the Pacific (32 percent); Western and Central Africa (27 percent); Eastern and Southern Africa (24 percent); the Near East, North Africa, and Europe (10 percent); and Latin America and the Caribbean (6 percent).

In addition to its assessed payments, the United States contributes to voluntary funds of many UN-affiliated and other international organizations and programs involved in a wide range of sustainable development, humanitarian, scientific, environmental and security activities. Through such contributions, the United States can multiply the influence and effectiveness of its own assistance and provide support for international programs that are capable of attracting additional resources from other donors, leveraging those contributions to advance U.S. strategic goals.

Established in 2010, the Green Climate Fund (GCF) is the world's largest multilateral fund for supporting developing countries in building resilience against weather-related challenges and fostering low-emissions development. The GCF invests in projects in partnership with abroad network of accredited entities, including U.S. private sector companies, and coordinates on projects with international development experts including the U.S. Agency for International Development and U.S. International Development Finance Corporation. The GCF advances its mission by using a range of financial instruments to support its projects and programs to attract private sector investment and foster stronger policy environments in developing countries. The GCF funds activities across a variety of sectors, including transport, water and other infrastructure, energy generation and efficiency, and land use, including agriculture and forestry. GCF projects have helped to promote energy security and innovation; build resilience against natural disasters; and conserve critical ecosystems in developing countries, particularly the least developed countries, small island developing countries, and African countries. To date, the GCF has approved 243 projects with a total GCF funding amount of $13.5 billion and an expected $38.4 billion in co-financing. Through these investments, the GCF will continue to support development that is sustainable, resilient, and resource-efficient.

Debt Relief and Debt Restructuring

Debt relief and restructuring are fundamental to helping countries stabilize their economies, restart economic growth, and alleviate poverty and instability. Restructuring debt, including with principal haircuts, also allows beneficiary countries to increase poverty reduction expenditures in areas such as health, education, and rural development. The United States regularly provides debt restructuring through the Paris Club, in coordination with other bilateral lenders. However, since the COVID-19 pandemic began, debt burdens for low-income countries have substantially increased. In response, with strong U.S. leadership and support, the G20 and Paris Club developed the Debt Service Suspension Initiative (DSSI) and the G20 Common Framework for Debt Treatments beyond DSSI (Common Framework) as central pillars of the international policy response to the COVID-19 pandemic. The DSSI, which has now ended, provided official bilateral debt service suspension to low-income countries, allowing them to focus on responding to immediate health, economic, and social spending needs related to COVID-19. Recognizing that many countries may need more comprehensive debt treatment to address unsustainable debt and heightened liquidity needs, the G20 and Paris Club in November 2020 also endorsed the Common Framework, which aims to facilitate timely and orderly treatments within the context of an IMF program and fosters fair burden sharing among all official bilateral creditors and comparable treatment from private creditors.

The International Disaster Assistance (IDA) account provides funds to save lives, reduce human suffering, and mitigate and prepare for natural and complex emergencies overseas. Specifically, these funds provide for the management of humanitarian assistance, rehabilitation, disaster risk reduction, transition to development assistance programs, as well as emergency food interventions. Humanitarian relief interventions include, but are not limited to, shelter, emergency health and nutrition, as well as the provision of safe drinking water. Emergency food responses include interventions such as local and regional purchase of food near crises, the provision of U.S. commodities, food vouchers, or cash transfers and complementary activities that support the relief, recovery and resilience of populations affected by food crises. IDA programs target the most vulnerable populations who are affected by disasters and complex crises, including those who are internally displaced and refugees.

The Fund, authorized by section 635(m) of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961, finances on a reimbursable basis the costs associated with providing administrative support to other agencies under the International Cooperative Administrative Support Services (ICASS) program overseas. Under ICASS, each agency pays a proportional share of the cost of those services they have agreed to receive. Working through inter-agency councils at post, all agencies have a say in determining which services the USAID mission will provide, defining service standards, reviewing costs, and determining funding levels. The Fund is also used for deposit of rebates from the use of Federal credit cards, the deposits then being made available for start-up costs at new ICASS service-provider missions and technical support to missions currently providing services.

The Better Utilization of Investments Leading to Development Act of 2018 (The BUILD Act), signed into law on October 5, 2018, consolidates, modernizes and reforms the U.S. Government's development finance capabilities—primarily the Overseas Private Investment Corporation (OPIC) and the Development Credit Authority (DCA) of the U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID)—into a new agency: the United States International Development Finance Corporation (DFC), which launched on January 2, 2020. DFC continues to liquidate the last obligations in this account.

As required by the Federal Credit Reform Act of 1990, the Program Account records the subsidy costs associated with the direct loans obligated and loan guarantees committed in 1992 and beyond (including modifications of direct loans or loan guarantees that resulted from obligations or commitments in any year), as well as administrative expenses of this program. The subsidy amounts are estimated on a present value basis; the administrative expenses are estimated on a cash basis.

The FY 2025 request for the U.S. Trade and Development Agency (USTDA) will strengthen the Agency's ability to help U.S. companies create jobs through the export of U.S. goods and services for priority development projects in emerging economies. USTDA links U.S. businesses to export opportunities by funding project preparation activities, pilot projects and reverse trade missions that create sustainable infrastructure and foster economic growth in its partner countries. In carrying out its mission, USTDA prioritizes activities where there is a high likelihood for the export of U.S. goods and services that can match the development needs of the Agency's overseas partners.

DFC's portfolio of loans, loan guarantees, political risk insurance, technical assistance, and equity investments across the developing world is more than $41 billion. The size and complexity of DFC's portfolio and its expanded development mandate requires an effective OIG. Through its audits and investigations DFC OIG prevents, detects, and deters fraud, waste, and abuse involving DFC investments, projects, systems, employees, and contractors. The OIG also provides advice and assistance to agency management, the DFC Board of Directors, and Congress. OIG work strives to promote efficiency, effectiveness, and economy in DFC's programs and operations, which so far has identified $41 million in cost avoidance, resulting in a positive return on America's investment in DFC OIG.

The President's Budget requests $8 million for DFC OIG to be funded from the General Fund. This will allow the OIG to continue to independently oversee DFC through audits, investigations, inspections, and evaluations that identify improvements to the management and execution of DFC's operations and programs.

The Peace Corps will provide direct and indirect support to Americans serving as Volunteers in FY 2025, including the necessary safety and security provisions for Volunteers, trainees, and staff. The FY 2025 Budget supports recruitment, screening, and placement of Peace Corps trainees and represents a cost-effective investment in strengthening our nation by advancing sustainable, localized development and promoting people-to-people ties. The Peace Corps enters a country upon invitation of the host country government. The Volunteers help fill the trained manpower needs of developing countries and encourage self-sustaining development of skilled manpower. The Peace Corps also promotes mutual understanding between the peoples of the developing world and the United States and helps develop the next generation of American leaders who return home and leverage their leadership and entrepreneurial skills to serve communities across the United States. Peace Corps Volunteers work primarily in the areas of agriculture, community economic development, education, environment, health and HIV/AIDS, and youth in development.

The Peace Corps Office of Inspector General provides independent oversight in accordance with the Inspector General Act of 1978, as amended. Through audits, evaluations and investigations the office prevents and detects waste, fraud, abuse and mismanagement; provides advice and assistance to agency management; and promotes efficiency, effectiveness and economy in agency programs and operations.

This account transfers funds to the operating expense account for the Peace Corps to finance upward adjustments of recorded obligations because of foreign currency fluctuations. Transfers are made as needed to meet disbursement requirements in excess of funds otherwise available for obligation adjustment. Net gains resulting from favorable exchange rates are returned to this account and are available for subsequent transfer when needed. The account is replenished through the utilization of a special transfer authority that allows the Peace Corps to withdraw unobligated balances from the operating expenses account from prior years as long as the authorized limit of $5 million is not exceeded at the time of the transfer.

The United States African Development Foundation (USADF) is a Federally funded public corporation that invest in African grassroots organizations, entrepreneurs, and small- and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs). USADF's investments promote African-designed and African-delivered local economic development by increasing incomes, revenues, and jobs and by creating pathways to prosperity for underserved communities. Working through a community-led development model, USADF provides grant capital of up to $250K, capacity-building assistance, and convening opportunities to develop, grow, and scale African enterprises and entrepreneurs. These investments improve lives and livelihoods while addressing some of Africa's biggest challenges around food insecurity, insufficient energy access, and unemployment, particularly among women and youth. USADF furthers U.S. priorities in these areas to ensure critical development initiatives enacted by Congress, such as the Global Food Security Act, Electrify Africa Act, and the African Growth and Opportunities Act, extend to rural populations.

The IMF is a shareholder institution and quotas are its primary source of resources for lending to members and determine voting shares. The United States is a member of the International Monetary Fund (IMF) through its quota subscription to the IMF, denominated in Special Drawing Rights (SDRs). The United States is the largest shareholder with approximately SDR 83 billion (about $110 billion) quota subscription, or 17.43 percent. As the largest shareholder, the United States has considerable influence at the IMF and a veto over major IMF decisions.

In December 2023, the IMF Board of Governors concluded the 16th General Review of Quotas to determine what changes to IMF resources and shareholding, if any, are necessary for the IMF to continue to effectively fulfill its role. With strong leadership from the United States in reaching an agreement that supported the IMF's role in the world and U.S. interests, the IMF members approved a 50 percent increase in quota resources, to be allocated to all members in proportion to their quotas (i.e., an "equiproportional" quota increase), that would be fully offset by a reduction in the New Arrangements to Borrow (NAB) and the complete elimination of the Bilateral Borrowing Agreements (BBAs), all of which will keep the IMF's overall lending capacity constant. The agreement allocates the increase in quotas by keeping all member quota and voting shares constant, which fully protects the U.S. voting share and veto, while removing the BBAs where the United States has limited influence. The increase in the U.S. quota share is SDR 41 billion (about $55 billion).

The use of U.S. quota resources at the IMF constitutes an exchange of monetary assets and does not result in budget outlays. When the United States transfers dollars or other reserve assets to the IMF under the U.S. quota subscription, the United States receives an equal, offsetting, and interest-bearing claim on the IMF, which is reflected as an increase in U.S. international monetary reserves. The U.S. reserve position in the IMF is readily available to meet a U.S. balance-of-payments financing need.

The IMF backstops its quota resources through the New Arrangements to Borrow (NAB), which is a standing arrangement among certain IMF members to supplement the IMF's quota resources when needed to forestall or cope with an impairment of the international monetary system or to deal with an exceptional situation that poses a threat to the stability of the system. The NAB became effective in 1998 and can be activated when quota resources fall below a certain threshold.

A total of 40 countries and institutions participate in the NAB for a total of SDR 361 billion (about $515 billion), of which the current U.S. share is approximately SDR 56 billion (about $80 billion). The reduction in the U.S. NAB share is SDR 9 billion (about $12 billion) and would hold our NAB share roughly constant at 15.5 percent. Activation of the NAB requires the approval of 85 percent of the NAB members based on shares, giving the United States a veto over its activation.

Our authorization to participate in the NAB remains in effect until December 31, 2025, and we must notify the IMF of our intention to continue our participation in the NAB by December 2024 or we will forfeit our NAB shares.

Like quota resources made available by the United States under the NAB constitute an exchange of monetary assets and do not result in any budgetary outlays because such transactions result in an equivalent increase in U.S. international reserve assets in the form of an equal, offsetting, interest-bearing claim on the IMF. The U.S. reserve position in the IMF is readily available to

Contributions to IMF Facilities and Trust Funds

The International Monetary Fund (IMF) maintains several facilities, some in the form of trust funds, to provide assistance to the world's poorest and most vulnerable countries. The Poverty Reduction and Growth Trust (PRGT) is the IMF's concessional financing facility, and it provides subsidized loans to support the 69 low-income countries (LICs) that are eligible. Since the beginning of the COVID-19 pandemic the PRGT committed $29 billion in zero-interest loans to more than 50 LICs—a roughly fourfold increase in lending from the PRGT's pre-pandemic average. This support helped hard-hit LICs, which typically lack reliable access to global capital markets, respond to the economic shocks, and prevent economic collapse. IMF programs through the PRGT generally support policy reforms to help address longstanding economic, governance, and debt issues that are resulting in balance of payments problems. Due to the strong demand for IMF lending under the PRGT, additional grant and loan resources will be required to preserve the PRGT's self-sustainability over the medium term. A U.S. loan to the PRGT would help sustain the PRGT with the resources it needs to continue to help address economic shocks exacerbated by Russia's war against Ukraine and mitigate economic scarring.

The United States led the design of a proposed new IMF trust fund, the Resilience and Sustainability Trust (RST), to provide additional support through the IMF to vulnerable countries in need. The RST was operationalized in October 2022. It provides affordable, long-term financing alongside traditional IMF programs for countries facing current or potential balance of payments needs resulting from pandemics and natural disasters, including through energy security. By providing affordable, longer-term financing alongside regular IMF programs, RST lending benefits from IMF lending safeguards, including strong governance requirements on borrowers, and RST lending is overseen and approved by the IMF's Executive Board.

The Special Defense Acquisition Fund (SDAF) helps expedite the procurement of defense articles for provision to foreign nations and international organizations. The 2025 request reflects $900 million in new SDAF obligation authority, to be funded by a combination of offsetting collections and previous SDAF procurements, referred to as SDAF reimbursements. In 2025, offsetting collections will be derived from the FMS sales of stock as well as other receipts consistent with section 51(b) of the Arms Export Control Act. The 2025 request will support advance purchases of high-demand equipment that has long procurement lead times, which is often the main limiting factor in our ability to provide coalition partners with critical equipment to make them operationally effective in a timely manner. Improving the mechanism for supporting U.S. partners is a high priority for both the Departments of State and Defense.

The International Infrastructure Fund will advance strategic hard infrastructure projects, particularly for projects that align with U.S. national security and economic interests in countries that are vulnerable to malign influence by strategic competitors. Such projects could include ports, rail, and other transportation projects; critical mineral mining and processing; energy diversification; terrestrial and subsea cables; and mobile and wireless networks. These projects will advance quality infrastructure financing that is fair and transparent, while providing opportunities for the USG and U.S. companies to meet the infrastructure needs of low- and middle-income countries around the world.
