The Office of Management and Budget (OMB) assists the President in the discharge of budgetary, management, and other executive responsibilities.

Defense Programs; Intelligence and International Affairs Programs; Justice and Transportation Programs; Housing, Treasury, and Commerce Programs; Homeland Security Programs; Natural Resources, Energy, Science, and Water Programs; Health Programs; and Education, Income Maintenance, and Labor Programs.—These offices examine Federal agency programs, budget requests, and management activities, analyze legislation, apportion appropriations, study proposed changes in agency functions, and conduct special studies aimed at establishing goals and objectives that would result in long- and short-range improvements in the agencies' financial, administrative, and operational management.

Financial Management.—The OMB Office of Federal Financial Management develops and provides direction on the implementation of financial management policies and systems. This office also supports the effective and transparent use of Federal financial resources by improving the quality, utility, and transparency of financial information, and protecting against waste, fraud and abuse in the Federal government.

Information and Regulatory Affairs.—The OMB Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs reviews and coordinates agency proposals to implement or revise Federal regulations and information collection requirements. In addition, it analyses, develops, coordinates, and maintains information resources management and statistical policies and practices.

Procurement Policy.—The OMB Office of Federal Procurement Policy provides overall direction of Government-wide procurement policies, regulations, and procedures for executive agencies.

Economic Policy and Made in America.—The OMB Made in America Office establishes standards and manages compliance with domestic content preferences in statute. It reviews agency waiver requests to assess consistency and compliance and establishes policies in an effort to ensure Federal funds are supporting domestic content and jobs. Economic Policy collaborates with other OMB offices, supplying technical expertise on statistical analysis, policy simulation, and various other economic methods and concepts, and maintains and implements guidance on benefit-cost analysis for Federal spending and engages in the development of tax policy and macroeconomic forecasts.

OMB-wide Offices.—These offices provide executive direction and coordination for all OMB activities. This includes the Director's Office; the Deputy Director, the Deputy Director for Management and the Executive Associate Director; Communications; General Counsel; Legislative Affairs; Management and Operations Division; Chief Information Officer; the Legislative Reference Division; the Budget Review Division; and Performance and Personnel Management. In addition, these offices provide overall leadership for OMB's activities; develop instructions and procedures on a wide range of management, legislative, legal, economic, budgetary, administrative, and IT-related issues; coordinate OMB review of agency activities; and prepare the President's Budget documents.

The Office of National Drug Control Policy (ONDCP), pursuant to the Office of National Drug Control Policy Reauthorization Act of 1998, as amended, is charged with developing policies, objectives, and priorities for the National Drug Control Program. This account provides funding for personnel compensation, travel, rent, and other basic operations of the Office.

For FY 2026, the Budget proposes to transfer the High Intensity Drug Trafficking Areas (HIDTA) program to the Department of Justice. Also, the Budget proposes to transfer the Drug-Free Communities Support (DFC) program, the Anti-Doping Activities program and the World Anti-Doping Agency (WADA) Dues to the Department of Health and Human Services. These proposals will enable ONDCP to focus resources on its core mission: to reduce drug use and its consequences by leading and coordinating the development, implementation, and assessment of U.S. drug policy.

The Office of the United States Trade Representative (USTR) is responsible for developing and coordinating America's trade policy, leading trade negotiations with other nations, and enforcing compliance with our trade agreements and U.S. trade laws. USTR also coordinates with other Federal agencies in developing trade policy and advising the President on trade matters.

USTR provides trade policy leadership and negotiating expertise in its major areas of responsibility, including industrial, textile, agricultural, and services trade policy; bilateral, regional, and multilateral trade and investment issues; trade-related intellectual property protection, labor and environmental issues; all matters within the World Trade Organization; and direct investment matters dealt with by international institutions. USTR is organized to accommodate sectoral, regional, and functional policy perspectives, which are integrated into the decision-making process and coordinated externally with the Congress, other government agencies, the private sector, and foreign entities.

Information Technology Oversight and Reform (ITOR) funding provides the Government with a resource base controlled by the Director of the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) to transform the Federal Government to a mission first, technology enabled organization. ITOR provides funds for the Office of the Federal Chief Information Officer (OFCIO) to carry out this effort through exercising major authorities and utilizing statutory requirements to drive results across the Federal Government. OFCIO is primarily responsible for portions of the following technology focused legislation: Clinger-Cohen Act of 1996, E-Government Act of 2002, Federal Information Security Modernization Act of 2014 (FISMA), Federal Information Technology Acquisition Reform Act of 2014 (FIT-ARA), 21st Century Integrated Digital Experience Act (IDEA Act), AI in Government Act of 2020, Modernizing Government Technology Act of 2017, Section 508 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, OPEN Government Data Act of 2018, FedRAMP Authorization Act, and the Federal Acquisition Supply Chain Security Act (Title II of SECURE Technology Act).

OFCIO drives Government-wide implementation through robust engagement with departments and agencies. These engagements focus on ensuring agencies deliver modern and secure government systems and services at the best cost to the American taxpayer. OFCIO is focused on responsible IT spending and lowering costs through shared services, resource consolidation, and implementation of emerging technologies that streamline government operations. ITOR funding also ensures OFCIO meets its FISMA responsibilities through risk-based oversight of agency and government-wide cybersecurity programs and management of major incidents. In addition, ITOR funds the United States DOGE Service (USDS), which transforms Federal technology and software, driving unprecedented efficiency and productivity. By advising Federal agencies on the tools to deliver high-impact outcomes, USDS streamlines government operations and tangibly improves the lives of the American people.

The Spectrum Relocation Fund (SRF), created by the Commercial Spectrum Enhancement Act of 2004, as amended by the Middle Class Tax Relief and Job Creation Act of 2012, reimburses Federal agencies that must relocate or share wireless communications systems in Federal spectrum that has been or will be reallocated for commercial use. Auction receipts associated with the reallocated spectrum are deposited into the SRF to pay eligible pre- and post-auction costs that help efficiently and effectively transition Federal agencies off of the reallocated spectrum or facilitate the sharing of Federal systems with non-Federal systems. The Office of Management and Budget (OMB) administers the SRF in consultation with the National Telecommunications and Information Administration (NTIA) of the Department of Commerce.

Funds from multiple auctions of Federal spectrum are being transferred to agencies with approved transition plans to reimburse them for the costs associated with clearing or sharing the auctioned bands. (The Advanced Wireless Services 3 auction transfers began in 2015; the Citizens Broadband Radio Service auction transfers began in 2021; and the 3450–3550 megahertz auction transfers began in 2022; and these transfers will continue in future years.) Most funds in the SRF must be returned to the Treasury eight years after they are deposited.

The Spectrum Pipeline Act of 2015, part of the Bipartisan Budget Act of 2015, authorized the transfer to agencies of up to $500 million of SRF balances, and a portion of future deposits into the SRF, to fund advance planning and research projects that are expected to facilitate future spectrum auctions.
