DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

The District of Columbia (Washington, D.C.) is the seat of Government of the United States. As the Capital of the Nation, it is a separate political jurisdiction.

The District has a population of about 740,000—the Nation's ninth largest city.

The 68.25 square-mile area of the District of Columbia lies between Maryland and Virginia. One boundary of the city is the Potomac River at the high water mark on the Virginia shore. The Anacostia River flows through the eastern section of the District to join the Potomac. The city's land boundaries are two Maryland counties—Montgomery and Prince Georges.

Under the U.S. Constitution, Congress has legislative jurisdiction over the District. The city's municipal government operates under authority delegated by Congress.

A new, elected, local government took office January 2, 1975. This home rule government, the city's first in about 100 years, was authorized by legislation signed December 24, 1973, and approved by the citizens in a referendum May 7, 1974.

The new government, which was given strengthened and broadened authority in a number of areas, is headed by an elected mayor and 13-member city council.

In 1790, Congress narrowed the area for the permanent Capital to an 80-mile stretch along the Potomac River. It gave George Washington 10 years to pick the site from land ceded by Maryland and Virginia and to provide the buildings for the Government's move from Philadelphia. The District of Columbia became the Nation's Capital on December 1, 1800.

In 1802, the city of Washington was incorporated under a mayor named by the President and an elected city council. Ten years later, the city's charter was changed to provide for an elected board of aldermen, which along with the council, selected the mayor. In 1820, another change was made to make the mayor elected.

In 1846, the Virginia portion of the District of Columbia site was returned to that State.

The District was given city status June 1, 1871, absorbing the governments of the cities of Washington and Georgetown and the county of Washington. A territorial form of government was established. It was headed by a governor and council, both named by the President, and an elected house of delegates and an elected nonvoting delegate to the House of Representatives.

Congress abolished the territorial government in 1874 and replaced it with a government headed by a three-member Board of Commissioners appointed by the President.

On November 3, 1967, the city government again was reorganized to provide for a commissioner (known popularly as mayor) and nine-member council, all appointed by the President with approval by the Senate.

This reorganized government was replaced by the newly elected mayor-city council government.

Elected mayor was Walter E. Washington, and elected council chairman was Sterling Tucker. Mayor Washington had served as the appointed Mayor-Commissioner under the previous government and Chairman Tucker had served as the council's vice chairman.

District residents, since 1968, also elect their school board members. Under legislation approved in September 1970, voters also elect a nonvoting delegate to the House of Representatives, who has been the Reverend Walter E. Fauntroy.

RULES GOVERNING PRESS PHOTOGRAPHERS' GALLERY

1. (a) Administration of the Press Photographers' Gallery is vested in a Standing Committee of Press Photographers consisting of six persons elected by accredited members of the gallery. The Committee shall be composed of one member each from Associated Press Photos, United Press International Newspictures, magazine media, and local newspapers and two "at large" members. At large members may be, but need not be, selected from a media otherwise represented on the Committee.

(b) The term of office of a member of the Committee elected as the Associated Press Photos member, the local newspapers member, or one of the "at large" members shall expire on the day of the election held in the first odd-numbered year following the year in which he was elected, and the term of office of a member of the Committee elected as the United Press International Newspictures member, the magazine media member, or the remaining "at large" member shall expire on the day of the election held in the first even-numbered year following the year in which he was elected, except that a member elected to fill a vacancy occurring prior to the expiration of a term shall serve only for the unexpired portion of such term.

(c) Elections shall be held as early as practicable in each year, and in no case later than March 31. A vacancy in the membership of the Committee occurring prior to the expiration of a term shall be filled by special election called for that purpose by the Committee.

(d) The Standing Committee of the Press Photographers' Gallery shall propose no change or changes in these rules except upon petition in writing signed by not less than 25 accredited members of the gallery.

(e) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (b)—

(A) the term of office of the local newspapers member elected in the election held in 1968 shall expire in 1969.

(B) the term of office of the United Press International Newspictures member holding office on January 1, 1968, shall expire in 1969, and

(C) the term of office of the United Press International Newspictures member elected in 1969 shall expire in 1970.

2. Persons desiring admission to the Press Photographers' Gallery of the Senate shall make application in accordance with Rule 34 of the Senate, which rule shall be interpreted and administered by the Standing Committee of Press Photographers subject to the review and approval of the Senate Committee on Rules and Administration.

3. The Standing Committee of Press Photographers shall limit membership in the photographers' gallery to bona fide news photographers of repute in their profession and to Heads of Photographic Bureaus under such rules as the Standing Committee of Press Photographers shall prescribe.

4. Provided, however, that the Standing Committee of Press Photographers shall admit to the gallery no person who does not establish to the satisfaction of the Committee all of the following:

(a) That any member is not engaged in paid publicity or promotion work or in prosecuting any claim before Congress or before any department of the Government, and will not become so engaged while a member of the gallery.

(b) That he or she is not engaged in any lobbying activity and will not become so engaged while a member of the gallery.

The above rules have been approved by the Committee on Rules and Administration.

HOWARD W. CANNON,
Chairman, Senate Committee on Rules and Administration.

Persons desiring admission to the Radio and Television Galleries of Congress shall make application to the Speaker, as required by rule XXXIV of the House of Representatives, as amended, and to the Committee on Rules and Administration of the Senate, as required by rule XXXIV, as amended, for the regulation of Senate wing of the Capitol. Applicants shall state in writing the names of all radio stations, television stations, systems, or news-gathering organizations by which they are employed and what other occupation or employment they may have, if any. Applicants shall further declare that they are not engaged in the prosecution of claims or the promotion of legislation pending before Congress, the Departments, or the independent agencies, and that they will not become so employed without resigning from the galleries. They shall further declare that they are not employed in any legislative or executive department or independent agency of the Government, or by any foreign government or representative thereof; that they are not engaged in any lobbying activities; that they do not and will not, directly or indirectly, furnish special information to any organization, individual, or group of individuals for the influencing of prices on any commodity or stock exchange; that they will not do so during the time they retain membership in the galleries. Holders of visitors' cards who may be allowed temporary admission to the galleries must conform to all the restrictions of this paragraph.

2. It shall be prerequisite to membership that the radio station, television station, system, or news-gathering agency which the applicant represents shall certify in writing to the Radio and Television Correspondents' Galleries that the applicant conforms to the foregoing regulations.

5. Members of the families of correspondents are not entitled to the privileges of the galleries.

6. The Radio and Television Galleries shall be under the control of the Executive Committee of the Radio and Television Correspondents' Galleries, subject to the approval and supervision of the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the Senate Committee on Rules and Administration.
