79–011 WASHINGTON : 2026

THE WHITE HOUSE,
Washington, October 16, 2026.

Hon. MIKE JOHNSON,
Speaker of the House of Representatives,
Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. SPEAKER: Please find below the Lindsey O. Graham Sanctioning Russia and Iran Act of 2026 Waiver Certification and Report.

Acting under the authorities vested in me as the President of the United States, I make the following certification pursuant to section 115 of the Lindsey O. Graham Sanctioning Russia and Iran Act of 2026 (22 U.S.C. 10812 et seq.) (the Graham Act):

I certify that it is in the national interests of the United States to waive the application of section 102 regarding sanctions provisions and other restrictions.

The basis for my certification is that the application of sanctions provisions and other restrictions pursuant to section 102 of the Graham Act, including the requirement in section 102(d) to maintain sanctions and other measures provided for under any Executive Order issued to address the national emergency that the President continued on March 24, 2026, with respect to specified harmful foreign activities of the Government of the Russian Federation, would at this time impede ongoing U.S. efforts to negotiate a durable and comprehensive peace between Ukraine and the Russian Federation.

While I am exercising the discretion afforded to me under section 115 of the Graham Act, I or my delegee will apply sanctions provisions or restrictions under the Act if I or my delegee determine that the application of such sanctions provisions or restrictions is necessary to incentivize resolution of the Russia–Ukraine war or otherwise determine that circumstances have changed such that a waiver is no longer in the national interests of the United States.

These waivers shall take effect on October 16, 2026.

Sincerely,

DONALD J. TRUMP.

THE WHITE HOUSE,
Washington, October 16, 2026.

Hon. MIKE JOHNSON,
Speaker of the House of Representatives,
Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. SPEAKER: Please find below the Lindsey O. Graham Sanctioning Russia and Iran Act of 2026 Waiver Certification and Report.

Acting under the authorities vested in me as the President of the United States, I make the following certification pursuant to section 115 of the Lindsey O. Graham Sanctioning Russia and Iran Act of 2026 (22 U.S.C. 10812 et seq.) (the Graham Act):

I certify that it is in the national interests of the United States to waive the application of section 103 regarding sanctions provisions and other restrictions.

The basis for my certification is that the application of sanctions provisions and other restrictions pursuant to section 103 of the Graham Act at this time would impede ongoing U.S. efforts to negotiate a durable and comprehensive peace between Ukraine and the Russian Federation.

While I am exercising the discretion afforded to me under section 115 of the Graham Act, I or my delegee will apply sanctions provisions or restrictions under the Act if I or my delegee determine that the application of such sanctions provisions or restrictions is necessary to incentivize resolution of the Russia–Ukraine war or otherwise determine that circumstances have changed such that a waiver is no longer in the national interests of the United States.

These waivers shall take effect on October 16, 2026.

Sincerely,

DONALD J. TRUMP.

THE WHITE HOUSE,
Washington, October 16, 2026.

Hon. MIKE JOHNSON,
Speaker of the House of Representatives,
Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. SPEAKER: Please find below the Lindsey O. Graham Sanctioning Russia and Iran Act of 2026 Waiver Certification and Report.

Acting under the authorities vested in me as the President of the United States, I make the following certification pursuant to section 115 of the Lindsey O. Graham Sanctioning Russia and Iran Act of 2026 (22 U.S.C. 10812 et seq.) (the Graham Act):

I certify that it is in the national interests of the United States to waive the application of section 104 regarding sanctions provisions and other restrictions.

The basis for my certification is that the application of sanctions provisions and other restrictions pursuant to section 104 of the Graham Act at this time would impede ongoing U.S. efforts to negotiate a durable and comprehensive peace between Ukraine and the Russian Federation.

While I am exercising the discretion afforded to me under section 115 of the Graham Act, I or my delegee will apply sanctions provisions or restrictions under the Act if I or my delegee determine that the application of such sanctions provisions or restrictions is necessary to incentivize resolution of the Russia–Ukraine war or otherwise determine that circumstances have changed such that a waiver is no longer in the national interests of the United States.

These waivers shall take effect on October 16, 2026.

Sincerely,

DONALD J. TRUMP.

THE WHITE HOUSE,
Washington, October 16, 2026.

Hon. MIKE JOHNSON,
Speaker of the House of Representatives,
Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. SPEAKER: Please find below the Lindsey O. Graham Sanctioning Russia and Iran Act of 2026 Waiver Certification and Report.

Acting under the authorities vested in me as the President of the United States, I make the following certification pursuant to section 115 of the Lindsey O. Graham Sanctioning Russia and Iran Act of 2026 (22 U.S.C. 10812 et seq.) (the Graham Act):

I certify that it is in the national interests of the United States to waive the application of section 105 regarding sanctions provisions and other restrictions.

The basis for my certification is that the application of sanctions provisions and other restrictions pursuant to section 105 of the Graham Act at this time would impede ongoing U.S. efforts to negotiate a durable and comprehensive peace between Ukraine and the Russian Federation.

While I am exercising the discretion afforded to me under section 115 of the Graham Act, I or my delegee will apply sanctions provisions or restrictions under the Act if I or my delegee determine that the application of such sanctions provisions or restrictions is necessary to incentivize resolution of the Russia–Ukraine war or otherwise determine that circumstances have changed such that a waiver is no longer in the national interests of the United States.

These waivers shall take effect on October 16, 2026.

Sincerely,

DONALD J. TRUMP.

THE WHITE HOUSE,
Washington, October 16, 2026.

Hon. MIKE JOHNSON,
Speaker of the House of Representatives,
Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. SPEAKER: Please find below the Lindsey O. Graham Sanctioning Russia and Iran Act of 2026 Waiver Certification and Report.

Acting under the authorities vested in me as the President of the United States, I make the following certification pursuant to section 115 of the Lindsey O. Graham Sanctioning Russia and Iran Act of 2026 (22 U.S.C. 10812 et seq.) (the Graham Act):

I certify that it is in the national interests of the United States to waive the application of section 106 regarding sanctions provisions and other restrictions.

The basis for my certification is that the application of sanctions provisions and other restrictions pursuant to section 106 of the Graham Act at this time would impede ongoing U.S. efforts to negotiate a durable and comprehensive peace between Ukraine and the Russian Federation.

While I am exercising the discretion afforded to me under section 115 of the Graham Act, I or my delegee will apply sanctions provisions or restrictions under the Act if I or my delegee determine that the application of such sanctions provisions or restrictions is necessary to incentivize resolution of the Russia–Ukraine war or otherwise determine that circumstances have changed such that a waiver is no longer in the national interests of the United States.

These waivers shall take effect on October 16, 2026.

Sincerely,

DONALD J. TRUMP.

THE WHITE HOUSE,
Washington, October 16, 2026.

Hon. MIKE JOHNSON,
Speaker of the House of Representatives,
Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. SPEAKER: Please find below the Lindsey O. Graham Sanctioning Russia and Iran Act of 2026 Waiver Certification and Report.

Acting under the authorities vested in me as the President of the United States, I make the following certification pursuant to section 115 of the Lindsey O. Graham Sanctioning Russia and Iran Act of 2026 (22 U.S.C. 10812 et seq.) (the Graham Act):

I certify that it is in the national interests of the United States to waive the application of section 107 regarding sanctions provisions and other restrictions.

The basis for my certification is that the application of sanctions provisions and other restrictions pursuant to section 107 of the Graham Act at this time would impede ongoing U.S. efforts to negotiate a durable and comprehensive peace between Ukraine and the Russian Federation.

While I am exercising the discretion afforded to me under section 115 of the Graham Act, I or my delegee will apply sanctions provisions or restrictions under the Act if I or my delegee determine that the application of such sanctions provisions or restrictions is necessary to incentivize resolution of the Russia–Ukraine war or otherwise determine that circumstances have changed such that a waiver is no longer in the national interests of the United States.

These waivers shall take effect on October 16, 2026.

Sincerely,

DONALD J. TRUMP.

THE WHITE HOUSE,

Hon. MIKE JOHNSON,
Speaker of the House of Representatives,
Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. SPEAKER: Please find below the Lindsey O. Graham Sanctioning Russia and Iran Act of 2026 Waiver Certification and Report.

Acting under the authorities vested in me as the President of the United States, I make the following certification pursuant to section 115 of the Lindsey O. Graham Sanctioning Russia and Iran Act of 2026 (22 U.S.C. 10812 et seq.) (the Graham Act):

I certify that it is in the national interests of the United States to waive the application of section 108 regarding sanctions provisions and other restrictions.

The basis for my certification is that the application of sanctions provisions and other restrictions pursuant to section 108 of the Graham Act at this time would impede ongoing U.S. efforts to negotiate a durable and comprehensive peace between Ukraine and the Russian Federation.

While I am exercising the discretion afforded to me under section 115 of the Graham Act, I or my delegee will apply sanctions provisions or restrictions under the Act if I or my delegee determine that the application of such sanctions provisions or restrictions is necessary to incentivize resolution of the Russia–Ukraine war or otherwise determine that circumstances have changed such that a waiver is no longer in the national interests of the United States.

These waivers shall take effect on October 16, 2026.

Sincerely,

DONALD J. TRUMP.

THE WHITE HOUSE,

Hon. MIKE JOHNSON,
Speaker of the House of Representatives
Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. SPEAKER: Please find below the Lindsey O. Graham Sanctioning Russia and Iran Act of 2026 Waiver Certification and Report.

Acting under the authorities vested in me as the President of the United States, I make the following certification pursuant to section 115 of the Lindsey O. Graham Sanctioning Russia and Iran Act of 2026 (22 U.S.C. 10812 et seq.) (the Graham Act):

I certify that it is in the national interests of the United States to waive the application of section 109 regarding sanctions provisions and other restrictions.

The basis for my certification is that the application of sanctions provisions and other restrictions pursuant to section 109 of the Graham Act at this time would impede ongoing U.S. efforts to negotiate a durable and comprehensive peace between Ukraine and the Russian Federation.

While I am exercising the discretion afforded to me under section 115 of the Graham Act, I or my delegee will apply sanctions provisions or restrictions under the Act if I or my delegee determine that the application of such sanctions provisions or restrictions is necessary to incentivize resolution of the Russia–Ukraine war or otherwise determine that circumstances have changed such that a waiver is no longer in the national interests of the United States.

These waivers shall take effect on October 16, 2026.

Sincerely,

DONALD J. TRUMP.

THE WHITE HOUSE,

Hon. MIKE JOHNSON,
Speaker of the House of Representatives,
Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. SPEAKER: Please find below the Lindsey O. Graham Sanctioning Russia and Iran Act of 2026 Waiver Certification and Report.

Acting under the authorities vested in me as the President of the United States, I make the following certification pursuant to section 115 of the Lindsey O. Graham Sanctioning Russia and Iran Act of 2026 (22 U.S.C. 10812 et seq.) (the Graham Act):

I certify that it is in the national interests of the United States to waive the application of section 110 regarding sanctions provisions and other restrictions.

The basis for my certification is that the application of sanctions provisions and other restrictions pursuant to section 110 of the Graham Act at this time would impede ongoing U.S. efforts to negotiate a durable and comprehensive peace between Ukraine and the Russian Federation.

While I am exercising the discretion afforded to me under section 115 of the Graham Act, I or my delegee will apply sanctions provisions or restrictions under the Act if I or my delegee determine that the application of such sanctions provisions or restrictions is necessary to incentivize resolution of the Russia–Ukraine war or otherwise determine that circumstances have changed such that a waiver is no longer in the national interests of the United States.

These waivers shall take effect on October 16, 2026.

Sincerely,

DONALD J. TRUMP.

THE WHITE HOUSE,
Washington, October 16, 2026.

Hon. MIKE JOHNSON,
Speaker of the House of Representatives,
Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. SPEAKER: Please find below the Lindsey O. Graham Sanctioning Russia and Iran Act of 2026 Waiver Certification and Report.

Acting under the authorities vested in me as the President of the United States, I make the following certification pursuant to section 115 of the Lindsey O. Graham Sanctioning Russia and Iran Act of 2026 (22 U.S.C. 10812 et seq.) (the Graham Act):

I certify that it is in the national interests of the United States to waive the application of section 111 regarding sanctions provisions and other restrictions.

The basis for my certification is that the application of sanctions provisions and other restrictions pursuant to section 111 of the Graham Act at this time would impede ongoing U.S. efforts to negotiate a durable and comprehensive peace between Ukraine and the Russian Federation.

While I am exercising the discretion afforded to me under section 115 of the Graham Act, I or my delegee will apply sanctions provisions or restrictions under the Act if I or my delegee determine that the application of such sanctions provisions or restrictions is necessary to incentivize resolution of the Russia–Ukraine war or otherwise determine that circumstances have changed such that a waiver is no longer in the national interests of the United States.

These waivers shall take effect on October 16, 2026.

Sincerely,

DONALD J. TRUMP.

THE WHITE HOUSE,
Washington, October 16, 2026.

Hon. MIKE JOHNSON,
Speaker of the House of Representatives,
Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. SPEAKER: Please find below the Lindsey O. Graham Sanctioning Russia and Iran Act of 2026 Waiver Certification and Report.

Acting under the authorities vested in me as the President of the United States, I make the following certification pursuant to section 115 of the Lindsey O. Graham Sanctioning Russia and Iran Act of 2026 (22 U.S.C. 10812 et seq.) (the Graham Act):

I certify that it is in the national interests of the United States to waive the application of section 112 regarding duties.

The basis for my certification is that increasing the rate of duty for all goods imported into the United States from the Russian Federation at this time would impede ongoing U.S. efforts to negotiate a durable and comprehensive peace between Ukraine and the Russian Federation.

While I am exercising the discretion afforded to me under section 115 of the Graham Act, I or my delegee will impose the increased rate of duty on goods from the Russian Federation, consistent with the terms of the Act and my October 16, 2026, Executive Order, should I or my delegee determine that such an increase is necessary to incentivize resolution of the Russia–Ukraine war, or otherwise determine that circumstances have changed such that a waiver is no longer in the national interests of the United States.

These waivers shall take effect on October 16, 2026.

Sincerely,

DONALD J. TRUMP.

THE WHITE HOUSE,
Washington, October 16, 2026.

Hon. MIKE JOHNSON,
Speaker of the House of Representatives,
Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. SPEAKER: Please find below the Lindsey O. Graham Sanctioning Russia and Iran Act of 2026 Waiver Certification and Report.

Acting under the authorities vested in me as the President of the United States, I make the following certification pursuant to section 113 of the Lindsey O. Graham Sanctioning Russia and Iran Act of 2026 (22 U.S.C. 10812 et seq.) (the Graham Act):

I certify that it is in the national interests of the United States to waive the application of section 113(a) regarding duties.

The basis for my certification is that increasing the rate of duty for all goods imported into the United States from these countries at this time would impede ongoing U.S. efforts to negotiate a durable and comprehensive peace between Ukraine and the Russian Federation.

While I am exercising the discretion afforded to me under section 115 of the Graham Act, I or my delegee will impose the increased rates of duty on certain imports as required by section 113(a), consistent with the terms of the Act and my October 16, 2026, Executive Order, if I or my delegee determine that such an increase is necessary to incentivize resolution of the Russia–Ukraine war, or otherwise determine that circumstances have changed such that a waiver is no longer in the national interests of the United States.

These waivers shall take effect on October 16, 2026.

Sincerely,

DONALD J. TRUMP.

THE WHITE HOUSE,
Washington, October 16, 2026.

Hon. MIKE JOHNSON,
Speaker of the House of Representatives,
Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. SPEAKER: Please find below the Lindsey O. Graham Sanctioning Russia and Iran Act of 2026 Waiver Certification and Report.

Acting under the authorities vested in me as the President of the United States, I make the following certification pursuant to section 115 of the Lindsey O. Graham Sanctioning Russia and Iran Act of 2026 (22 U.S.C. 10812 et seq.) (the Graham Act):

I certify that it is in the national interests of the United States to waive the application of section 117 regarding sanctions provisions and other restrictions.

The basis for my certification is that the application of sanctions provisions and other restrictions pursuant to section 117 of the Graham Act at this time would impede ongoing U.S. efforts to negotiate a durable and comprehensive peace between Ukraine and the Russian Federation.

While I am exercising the discretion afforded to me under section 115 of the Graham Act, I or my delegee will apply sanctions provisions or restrictions under the Act if I or my delegee determine that the application of such sanctions provisions or restrictions is necessary to incentivize resolution of the Russia–Ukraine war or otherwise determine that circumstances have changed such that a waiver is no longer in the national interests of the United States.

These waivers shall take effect on October 16, 2026.

Sincerely,

DONALD J. TRUMP.
