§ 1042.330 Selling engines from an engine family with a suspended certificate of conformity.

You may sell engines from an engine family with a suspended certificate of conformity if you meet the following requirements:

(a) You test each engine you produce and show it complies with emission standards that apply.