§ 2400.40 Institutions of graduate study.

Fellowship recipients may attend any accredited university in the United States with a master’s degree program offering courses or training that emphasize the origins, principles, and development of the Constitution of the United States and its comparison with the constitutions and history of other forms of government.

§ 2400.41 Degree programs.

(a) Fellows may pursue a master’s degree in history or political science, the degree of Master of Arts in Teaching in history or political science, or a related master’s degree in education that permits a concentration in American history, American government, social studies, or political science;

(b) Include courses, graduate seminars, or opportunities for independent study in topics directly related to the framing and history of the Constitution of the United States;

(c) Be pursued at a university that assures a willingness to accept up to 6 semester hours of accredited transfer credits from another graduate institution for a Fellow’s satisfactory completion of the Foundation’s Summer Institute on the Constitution. For the Foundation’s purposes, these 6 semester hours may be included in the required minimum of 12 semester hours or their equivalent of study of the United States Constitution; and

(d) Be pursued at a university that encourages the Fellow to enhance his or her capacities as a teacher of American history, American government, social studies, or political science and to continue his or her career as a secondary school teacher. The Foundation reserves the right to refuse to approve a Fellow’s Plan of Study at a university that will not accept on transfer the 6 credits for the Institute.

§ 2400.42 Approval of Plan of Study.

The Foundation must approve each Fellow’s Plan of Study. To be approved, the plan must:

(a) On a part-time or full-time basis lead to a master’s degree in history or political science, the degree of Master of Arts in Teaching in history or political science, or a related master’s degree in education that permits a concentration in American history, American government, social studies, or political science;
