Office of the Secretary of Defense § 88.4

active duty (or full-time National Guard duty) under other than adverse conditions as determined by referring to the reason for separation as well as the enlisted member’s service, as outlined in Department of Defense Directive 1332.14.

(b) Separation entitlements. Benefits provided to Service members being involuntarily separated on or before September 30, 1995 as defined in paragraphs (a)(1) through (a)(4) of this section, and their families. Benefits provided to Service members being separated under the Special Separation Benefit or Voluntary Separation Incentive on or before September 30, 1995, as defined in paragraph (c) of this section and their families. These benefits include: Training opportunities under the Job Training Partnership Act as described in section 4465 of Public Law 102–484; priority affiliation with the National Guard and Reserve, as described in section 502(a)(1) of Public Law 101–510, as amended; enrolled in the All-Volunteer Force Educational Assistance Program (“Montgomery G.I. Bill”), as described in section 4404 of Public Law 102–484; extended medical and dental care, as described in section 502(a)(1) of Public Law 101–510, as amended, and sections 4407 and 4408 of Public Law 102–484; continued use of military family housing as described in section 502(a)(1) of Public Law 101–510, as amended, and sections 4407 and 4408 of Public Law 102–484; continued use of military family housing as described in section 502(a)(1) of Public Law 101–510, as amended, and sections 4407 and 4408 of Public Law 102–484; continued use of military family housing as described in section 502(a)(1) of Public Law 101–510, as amended, and sections 4407 and 4408 of Public Law 102–484; transition entitlements as described in section 502(a)(1) of Public Law 101–510, as amended, (subject to Status of Forces Agreements overseas); extended and commissary privileges as detailed in section 502(a)(1) of Public Law 101–510, as amended, (subject to Status of Forces Agreements overseas); travel and transportation allowances, as detailed in section 503 of Public Law No. 101–510, as amended; continuation of enrollment in Department of Defense Dependents Schools as detailed in section 504 of Public Law 101–510, as amended, (subject to Status of Forces Agreements overseas).

(c) Special separation benefit and voluntary separation incentive. Voluntary separation programs established in section 661 and section 662 of Public Law 102–190, as amended. Service members separated under these programs are eligible for both transition services and separation entitlements outlined in paragraphs (b) and (d) of this section.

(d) Transition services. Preseparation counseling, individual transition planning, employment assistance, excess leave and permissive temporary duty, and relocation assistance for personnel overseas as described in section 102 (a)(1) of Public Law 101–510, as amended.

§ 88.4 Policy.

It is DoD policy that: (a) Transition assistance programs prepare separating Service members and their families with the skills, tools, and self-confidence necessary to ensure successful reentry into the Nation’s civilian workforce.

(b) Transition assistance programs be designed to complete the military personnel “life cycle.” This cycle begins with the Service member’s recruitment from the civilian sector, continues with training and sustainment throughout a Service member’s active service in the Armed Forces, and ends when the Service member returns to the civilian sector.

(c) Transition assistance programs include: (1) Transition service as defined in §88.3 (d) to be provided to Service members and their families for up to 90 days after separation, space and work load permitting.

(2) Separation entitlements as defined in §88.3 (b) for Service members who are involuntarily separating as defined in §99.3 (a) or separating under the Voluntary Separation Incentive or Special Separation Benefit Programs as defined in §88.3 (c).

(d) Service members from one Service shall not be restricted from participating in another Service’s transition assistance program unless workload or other unusual circumstances dictate. Every effort will be made to accommodate all eligible personnel, especially if referral to another transition site will require the Service member to travel a long distance and incur significant expense.

(e) [Reserved]

(f) When being discharged, released from active duty, or retiring (hereafter referred to as “separating Service members”), Service members and their families bear primary responsibility for their successful transition into the civilian sector.
§ 88.5 Responsibilities.

(a) The Assistant Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness shall: (1) Issue guidance on transition assistance programs for Service members and their families, as necessary.

(b) Coordinate, as necessary, within the Department of Defense to ensure the availability of high quality, equitable, and cost-effective transition programs among the Military Services.

(c) Coordinate with and seek the assistance of the Departments of Labor and Veterans Affairs, and other Federal Agencies to facilitate delivery of high quality transition assistance programs to separating Service members.

(d) Evaluate the level of resources needed to deliver quality transition programs and facilitate efforts to obtain these resources.

(e) Monitor and evaluate the overall effectiveness of transition assistance programs.

(f) Coordinate with theater commanders, though the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, on transition assistance programs (job fairs and training conferences, for example) impacting overseas Unified Combatant Commands.

(g) Establish the Department of Defense Service Member Transition Assistance Coordinating Committee, consisting of representatives from the Military Services and Assistant Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness. The purpose of this committee is to provide DoD-level direction and coordination for transition assistance programs.

(h) Collect data to determine systematically the degree to which transition assistance programs satisfy the needs of transitioning Service members and their families.

(i) Review, modify, and reissue policy guidance, as required.

(b) The Assistant Secretary of Defense for Reserve Affairs shall establish and publish guidance on transition assistance programs for Reserve personnel and their families.

(c) The Assistant Secretary of Defense for Health Affairs shall establish guidance on transitional medical and dental care, including health insurance and preexisting conditions coverage, for Service members and their families.

(d) The Secretaries of the Military Departments shall ensure compliance with the criteria in Public Law 101–510, 102–190, and 102–484, as amended, and the following provisions:

(1) Preparation counseling shall be available no later than 90 days before separation to all separating Service members.

(2) High quality transition counseling and employment assistance programs are established on military facilities with more than 500 Service members permanently assigned or serving at that installation.

(3) The participation of separating Service members in transition assistance programs shall be coordinated with mission requirements.

(4) Transition assistance programs are allocated the resources necessary to deliver quality transition assistance programs.

(5) The Military Services are represented on the Department of Defense Service Member Transition Assistance Coordinating Committee. Each of the Military Services may invite an installations-level transition manager to participate.

(6) Quarterly reports on the status of transition programs are submitted to the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness beginning the second quarter after this publication is published, and continuing each quarter until cancellation of this part.

(7) The Inspector General of each Military Service shall review and report compliance with §88.5(d)(1) through (d)(6) to the Service Secretary, on an annual basis, due no later than January 31 of the next calendar year.
