§ 147.5 Guideline C—Foreign preference.

(a) The concern. When an individual acts in such a way as to indicate a preference for a foreign country over the United States, then he or she may be prone to provide information or make decisions that are harmful to the interests of the United States.

(b) Conditions that could raise a security concern and may be disqualifying include:
   (1) The exercise of dual citizenship;
   (2) Possession and/or use of a foreign passport;
   (3) Military service or a willingness to bear arms for a foreign country;
   (4) Accepting educational, medical, or other benefits, such as retirement and social welfare, from a foreign country;
   (5) Residence in a foreign country to meet citizenship requirements;
   (6) Using foreign citizenship to protect financial or business interests in another country;
   (7) Seeking or holding political office in the foreign country;
   (8) Voting in foreign elections;
   (9) Performing or attempting to perform duties, or otherwise acting, so as to serve the interests of another government in preference to the interests of the United States.

(c) Conditions that could mitigate security concerns include:
   (1) Dual citizenship is based solely on parents' citizenship or birth in a foreign country;
   (2) Indicators of possible foreign preference (e.g., foreign military service) occurred before obtaining United States citizenship;
   (3) Activity is sanctioned by the United States;
   (4) Individual has expressed a willingness to renounce dual citizenship.

§ 147.6 Guidance D—Sexual behavior.

(a) The concern. Sexual behavior is a security concern if it involves a criminal offense, indicates a personality or emotional disorder, may subject the individual to coercion, exploitation, or duress, or reflects lack of judgment or discretion. Sexual orientation or preference may not be used as a basis for or a disqualifying factor in determining a person's eligibility for a security clearance.

(b) Conditions that could raise a security concern and may be disqualifying include:
   (1) Sexual behavior of a criminal nature, whether or not the individual has been prosecuted;
   (2) Compulsive or addictive sexual behavior when the person is unable to stop a pattern or self-destructive or high-risk behavior or that which is symptomatic of a personality disorder;
   (3) Sexual behavior that causes an individual to be vulnerable to coercion, exploitation, or duress;
   (4) Sexual behavior of a public nature and/or that which reflects lack of discretion or judgment.

(c) Conditions that could mitigate security concerns include:
   (1) The behavior occurred during or prior to adolescence and there is no evidence of subsequent conduct of a similar nature;
   (2) The behavior was not recent and there is no evidence of subsequent conduct of a similar nature;
   (3) There is no other evidence of questionable judgment, irresponsibility, or emotional instability;
   (4) The behavior no longer serves as a basis for coercion, exploitation, or duress.

§ 147.7 Guideline E—Personal conduct.

(a) The concern. Conduct involving questionable judgment, untrustworthiness, unreliability, lack of candor, dishonesty, or unwillingness to comply with rules and regulations could indicate that the person may not properly safeguard classified information. The following will normally result in an unfavorable clearance action or administrative termination of further processing for clearance eligibility:
   (1) Refusal to undergo or cooperate with required security processing, including medical and psychological testing;
   (2) Refusal to complete required security forms, releases, or provide full, frank and truthful answers to lawful personality disorders (Guideline I) in determining how to resolve the security concerns raised by sexual behavior.

1 The adjudicator should also consider guidelines pertaining to criminal conduct (Guideline J) and emotional, mental and personal conduct involving questionable judgment, untrustworthiness, unreliability, lack of candor, dishonesty, or unwillingness to comply with rules and regulations could indicate that the person may not properly safeguard classified information.
