OPENING STATEMENT OF CHAIRMAN

Senator MORSE. The hearing will come to order.

Attest:

W. PAT JENNINGS,

Clerk.

Senator MORSE. At the conclusion of the oral testimony this morning, I further direct that there be inserted in the record correspondence and materials pertaining to the bills which have been received by the subcommittee.

In the ordinary course of events the subject matter on which testimony will be taken would have been incorporated as an amendment to the Higher Education Amendments of 1967.

However, as I am sure we will hear from the witnesses, and as indicated in the correspondence we have received, there is great concern in the educational community about the numbers of students who can be given work-study opportunities under the terms of the existing statutes.

Unless speedy action is taken upon a separate measure the Office of Education is required under the statute now in effect as of August 20 to require that the funding of the work-study program be made upon a 75 percent Federal share and a 25 percent matching institutional share. Heretofore, the matching requirements have been 90 percent Federal and 10 percent institutional.

The proposed legislation would for fiscal year 1968 require an 85 percent Federal and a 15 percent institutional contribution.

90-10 MATCHING RATIO

As a Senator from Oregon who has for years been working for the enactment of sound legislation in the student financial assistance area, even though I am the author on the Senate side of S. 2151, I feel free to say that in our further work during this session I shall urge upon my colleagues that in the Higher Education Amendments of 1967, amendments be taken which will fix the matching provisions for the future at a 90-10 level.

However, I am also a political realist. I recognize the urgency of the need for effective action to allay concern and I therefore hope that upon the conclusion of the statements of our witnesses today, together with my colleagues on the subcommittee, we can in executive session report to the full committee for favorable consideration the pending measure.

I shall urge my colleagues, if the testimony of the educational spokesmen warrants, to accept the House measure and to urge in full committee the reporting of the measure to the floor without delay.

With this brief preliminary, I now call upon our first witness. Since we have a full committee meeting scheduled for 11 a.m. this morning, I give my customary reassurance to witnesses that the written testimony will be printed in full in our hearings record, and I urge that the oral presentation be succinct and touch upon the major points covered fully in the written testimony.

TRIBUTE TO DR. JOHN F. MORSE

Our first witness will be Dr. John F. Morse, Director of the Commission on Federal Relations of the American Council on Education. I welcome him to the stand as a longstanding partner of this subcommittee. I think it is proper to use the word "partner."

I want you to know, Dr. Morse, that in my opinion, we would not have been able to obtain legislative implementation of some of the bills if you had not given us the testimony and the data which made it possible for me to go to the floor of the Senate without any concern about the successful challenge of the evidence I was presenting. A good deal of the evidence has come from your research.

I also want the record to show that I have been advised this morning by counsel for the subcommittee, Mr. Charles Lee, that just recently, you were the recipient of an honorary doctorate from St. Michael's College in Vermont in recognition of the terrifically fine work you have been doing in the field of education. On behalf of the whole committee, I want the record to show our congratulations.

You may proceed in your own way.

STATEMENT OF JOHN F. MORSE, DIRECTOR, COMMISSION ON FEDERAL RELATIONS, AMERICAN COUNCIL ON EDUCATION

Mr. MORSE. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

I am grateful for those kind words and grateful to be considered a partner.

Very briefly, Mr. Chairman, to summarize what is already a brief statement, we are in complete support of this bill as a temporary measure. I must say I am gratified to hear that you will give serious consideration eventually to going back to the matching requirement of 10 percent non-Federal funds and 90 percent Federal funds.

The reasons, very briefly, that we feel this is important are that, especially with the new coverage of the higher educational institutions under the Fair Labor Standards Act, we have the problem of rapidly increasing payrolls for all employees in the higher education field. This work-study program has been an enormous boon to the institution in terms of Federal aid—financial aid, I should say—to needy young people who probably, without it, could not possibly attend college. It is important to remember that this program has largely been created over and above normal employment within the institutions, normal employment in terms of regular employees, and then, because of the quite proper requirement of maintenance of effort, it has been superimposed on the institutions' regular student employment program. Thus, it is a greatly expanded work program, designed primarily for financial aid to students, placed on top of all the other work. The minimum wage requirements, which will go up 15 cents a year until the minimum wage reaches $1.60, is creating severe budgetary problems for the institutions. We welcome the relief this bill will provide by reducing the current level of non-Federal matching from 25 percent in affect this week to 15 percent. We do hope that when you take into consideration more comprehensive higher educational amendments later in the session, you will give serious consideration to retaining the matching requirement of non-Federal funds at 10 percent.

I might also add—this is not in my formal statement, but I think I should say the other provision of the bill which will allow institutions to average out the workweek permissible for student employees to 15 hours is a very sensible provision. Fifteen hours a week over the course of a year is probably plenty for the kind of youngster who is receiving this aid. But there are irregularities in the college year, and it does make sense, in certain weeks—for example, around registration time in the fall and in the spring—to allow a youngster to work more than 15 hours a week. We therefore strongly favor the provision that 15 hours a week be considered an average rather than a specific limitation for each week of the year.

Senator MORSE. I would like to have it in the record, without objection there will be inserted at this point in the record the prepared statement Dr. Morse has submitted to the subcommittee this morning and the material that he just referred to.

(The prepared statement of Mr. Morse follows:)

PREPARED STATEMENT OF JOHN F. MORSE, DIRECTOR, COMMISSION ON FEDERAL RELATIONS, AMERICAN COUNCIL ON EDUCATION

Mr. Chairman and members of the subcommittee, I am John F. Morse, director of the Commission on Federal Relations of the American Council on Education. The Council is, as you know, an association with a membership of 1500 accredited institutions of higher education and other educational associations.

I should like to discuss with you S. 2151, a bill to amend the provision respecting matching requirements for the college work study program and to commend the chairman of this committee for introducing it. Very briefly, we support the bill and would urge its speedy enactment, so that its provisions may be in effect at the beginning of the new college year.

Unless this bill is enacted, the required non-Federal matching share for the work study program will rise from its previous level of 10 per cent to 25 per cent. Technically, in fact, the 25 per cent requirement has been in effect for a week, but its impact will not be felt until classes resume.

Actually, Mr. Chairman, the position of the American Council on Education is that the non-Federal matching requirement should be retained at 10 per cent. I should like to call your attention to several factors that have led us to that position.

1. The law requires, quite properly, that institutions maintain, and pay 100 per cent of the cost of, their own basic work program at a level equal to the average amount expended in the previous three years.

2. The law prohibits, quite properly, the replacement of employed workers by students employed under work study.

3. The result is that the work study program is superimposed on institutions' normal employment pattern. There can be no doubt that a great deal of important work has been accomplished under the program, but the prime purpose has been to provide financial aid to needy students. As we see it, there is little more reason to require an increased non-Federal share in this program than there would be in the NDEA loan program.

One new consideration, which has considerable bearing on your deliberations, has arisen since the original work study act was passed. Since February 1, 1967, colleges and universities have been included as enterprises covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act. So far the impact of this coverage has not been severe, except in the matter of greatly increased expense for recordkeeping. As a newly covered enterprise, the minimum wage at the present time is $1.00 per hour, and many, possibly a majority of institutions, were paying this already.

However, the minimum wage will go to $1.15 on February 1, 1968, and will increase an additional 15 cents annually until it reaches $1.60. The institutions must, of course, meet this increase for their permanent work force and for students employed in their regular employment program. They will be hard put to it to meet the double escalation of minimum wage and an increase in the matching percentage for their work study program. As I pointed out to you in a recent letter, Mr. Chairman, at present, institutions can provide financial aid work opportunities at a cost to themselves of ten cents an hour. But if non-Federal matching remains at 25 per cent, this figure will rise to 33 cents an hour by 1969.

We hope, therefore, that you will regard the provisions of S. 2151 as a means of providing immediate relief to our institutions, but that you will take the long-range problem under further careful consideration.

The bill before you calls for an increase of required matching to 20 per cent in FY 1969 and presumably to 25 per cent in FY 1970. At the present time, however, there are no authorizations for the program in either 1969 or 1970. It seems clear, therefore, that this committee must continue to weigh the merits of the program, probably as you consider the more comprehensive bill of proposed amendments to various higher education programs contained in S. 1126. If we are given an opportunity to testify on that bill, we shall urge a return to the 10-90 per cent ratio of non-Federal to Federal funding of the work study program.

I am grateful for this opportunity to appear before you and shall be happy to answer any questions.

Senator MORSE. I also want inserted, and I want Mr. Morse to know that the record will receive, any additional material he submits for the record in support of his position.

Mr. MORSE. Thank you, sir.

FUTURE CONSIDERATION BY SUBCOMMITTEE

Senator MORSE. Senator Randolph, Dr. Morse is testifying in behalf of the American Council on Education in support of S. 2151. The House committee has urged us to act as rapidly as possible. They are doing the same over there with regard to this change in the work-study program with respect to the 75 Federal and 25 local and institutional matching basis. We are going to receive, before the record is closed, testimony on the great hardship that is going to be worked on many institutions unless we act quickly. The proposal, on an emergency basis, is to have a matching formula consisting of 85 percent Federal grants with 15 percent institutional contributions. At a later date we will reconsider the matter in an amendment to the higher education institutions bill. The plan is to return to the 90 percent Federal matching and 10 percent institutional matching. I am going to do everything that I can to speed the earliest possible consideration of this bill so we can get it, in whatever form the committee decides, to the floor of the Senate just as rapidly as possible.

Thank you very much, Dr. Morse.

Senator RANDOLPH. Mr. Chairman, if I may go off the record for a moment.

Senator MORSE. Certainly.

(Discussion off the record.)

Senator RANDOLPH. Mr. Chairman, I have hurriedly read the statement which you had the privilege of listening to earlier today. I do understand that there is an urgency for action, that it is imperative that we move to have a continuity of this program. In West Virginia, I know the value of the program and I join you in the expeditious manner in which you are handling the subject this morning. Thank you.

NEED FOR S. 2151

Senator MORSE. I want to get your comment on an idea, Dr. Morse.

The correspondence that I have received points out that many of our small colleges, and a good many of the colleges of the type that I shall now mention, are simply not going to be able to have a work-study program of the magnitude that is needed on their campuses if the 25-percent matching requirement is continued.

The correspondence with YMCA college in Chicago which is a highly approved college shows—and there are others in the same category with it—that there is no question about the quality of the academic work that is being done. It is, however, a college that serves students of very low economic means. With the work-study program under the previous legislation of 90-percent Federal contribution and 10-percent institutional contribution, it was hard enough for them to meet even the 10 percent. But the evidence in the correspondence shows that they just cannot have this if they have to meet 25 percent. Is it your testimony that there are a considerable number of such colleges?

Mr. MORSE. Yes; there are very large numbers of such colleges, Senator, and they are being pinched all over the lot by the matching requirements. There are many institutions that do not apply for as much NDEA loan funds as they know they need because of their inability to raise the required 10-percent non-Federal share. So it is not just the work-study program, it is also the basic NDEA loan program which is doing so much.

LACK OF PROGRAM MATCHING CAPABILITY

Senator MORSE. That is what I want to stress for the written record. The argument may be made that the application for work-study assistance from a good many of these colleges does not show a great demand. The reason it does not show a great demand is that, in many instances, they are just not applying. They are not going to apply and go through all the paperwork, and put the burden of the paperwork on the Government, too, when they know that they just cannot make the money. They are not making the applications for work-study money for that reason.

Is it your testimony that that is the attitude of a good many of them? Mr. MORSE. It is not so much the attitude as the rather grim facts of life. If they know they cannot dig up the matching required for the present need, there is no sense in going through the motions. I think that is true.

Senator MORSE. If we can go back to the original 90-10 matching there will then be a great demand again, but even with this emergency legislation which the House committee has advised the chairman that they think, as a stopgap program, this is what we ought to do for now because it gives the greatest assurance that they will have little or no difficulty at all over on the House side getting it passed, but 85-15 ought to be applied for the beginning of this fall term in school and then let the Congress work its will on the higher education bill on a proposal to change that formula after we get into that bill.

Mr. MORSE. Yes, sir.

Senator MORSE. Is that your understanding?

Mr. MORSE. That is my understanding. This will provide a much-needed relief I do not think it is a cure to the problem.

Senator MORSE. We will put into the record, at the end of the hearings, a letter from the National Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges, which not only supports this bill but also makes a plea for going back to the 90-10 because of the unfortunate experiences they are having with the present matching basis. That letter is signed by Russell I. Thackary, of the National Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges. Another letter from the Association of American Colleges, signed by Dr. Sullivan. This is another plea for support for the bill that is before us.

WORK-STUDY COVERAGE

Senator RANDOLPH. May I make a further comment?

Senator MORSE. You certainly may.

Senator RANDOLPH. It is my understanding, Dr. Morse, that 1,700 institutions of higher learning are now or have been participating in this program. Is that correct?

Mr. MORSE. I cannot give you the precise figure, but that is pretty nearly correct.

Senator RANDOLPH. How many colleges and universities are there in the United States?

Mr. MORSE. Roughly, of all varieties, accredited and nonaccredited about 2,200.

Senator RANDOLPH. Then there is a very substantial participation by the colleges and universities in the country?

Mr. MORSE. Very substantial indeed.

Senator RANDOLPH. And I think Senator Morse is correct in saying that even though the formula is not just as we desire, we are interested in something that both the Senate and House can approve so that the program will not bog down, will continue, and that the institutions and students will be served?

Mr. MORSE. Yes, sir.

STUDENT NEED

Senator MORSE. Clearly implied by your testimony and also by the supplemental statements that I have inserted in the record, it is clearly implied that the work-study program does perform a great service to students who without it, in many instances, would have to drop out of college or not start college until they have spent some time accumulating funds that would make it possible for them to start college.

Mr. MORSE. There is no question about that, sir. And also, since it goes to extremely needy young people, it is one method by which they can avoid taking on an overwhelming burden of debt, even assuming that there were adequate loan funds available, which there are not.

Senator MORSE. It also deals with that group of students unable to start college because they do not have the funds with which to start. Their families have economic difficulties and cannot be of any assistance to them, so they do not start college; instead, they go out and get jobs. The tendency then, for a considerable percentage of them, is to drop plans for college and they never do start and never do go back. Is that true?

Mr. MORSE. I think that is right, sir.

Senator MORSE. Senator Yarborough?

Senator YARBOROUGH. Dr. Morse, do you have any data on the number of colleges that do not participate in this work-study program because of lack of money to put up their 10-percent matching funds as required by the law?

Mr. MORSE. I do not have any data on that, and I doubt whether the Office of Education does, simply because institutions that do not apply for funds rarely indicate why they are not applying for funds.

Senator YARBOROUGH. There are weaker colleges, though, that have very little money for any participation insofar as aiding students is concerned?

NONPARTICIPATION IN PROGRAM

Mr. MORSE. Yes, sir.

Senator YARBOROUGH. Out of this more than 2,200?

Mr. MORSE. Yes, sir, and it is true, that there are many institutions in a weak financial condition that just do not apply because it is pointless.

Senator YARBOROUGH. They cannot put up the money?

Mr. MORSE. They cannot put up the money.

Senator YARBOROUGH. How much money did the Federal Government spend in the last fiscal year on the work-study program?

Mr. MORSE. I believe $139 million.

Senator YARBOROUGH. How much money was available to lend under the National Defense Education Act?

Mr. MORSE. About $210 or $211 million.

Senator YARBOROUGH. Did they lend all that?

Mr. MORSE. Yes, sir, I believe they did.

Senator YARBOROUGH. Made it all available?

Mr. MORSE. I believe they did. Not only that, but on top of that, there was the relending of the repayments made during the fiscal year. I do not have the precise figure. I can get it for you.

Senator YARBOROUGH. How many colleges are participating, roughly, in the NDEA guaranteed loan program?

Mr. MORSE. Roughly about as many as are participating in the work-study.

NDEA TITLE II COMPARISONS

Senator YARBOROUGH. Is there any requirement that a student borrowing under the NDEA guaranteed loan cannot also work under this program? There was a thing a while back where a student could borrow some, work some, and then get an NDEA loan.

Mr. MORSE. There is no requirement that he take a work-study stipend. There is a requirement, however, that not more than half his need may be met by a grant. The rest of his need must be made up by loans or jobs or both.

Senator YARBOROUGH. But not more than half the need can be met by an NDEA loan?

Mr. MORSE. Not more than half of the need may be met by the so-called opportunity grant.

Senator YARBOROUGH. Oh, this work-study?

Mr. MORSE. Yes, then this work-study program can be used to match his grant.

Senator YARBOROUGH. The opportunity grant?

Mr. MORSE. Yes.

Senator YARBOROUGH. How much money did the Federal Government spend in the past fiscal year on opportunity grants?

Mr. MORSE. I would have to look that up, sir. I am sorry, I do not have the figures with me.

Senator YARBOROUGH. If you will just phone it to the staff man, Mr. Lee, the staff will put it in the record. I would like to have that very much. I think it should show how much is spent on opportunity grants, how much in NDEA loans.

Senator MORSE. It is so ordered.

INSURED LOAN PROGRAM

Senator YARBOROUGH. Do you remember how much was lent by the insured loan program?

Mr. MORSE. That is a very fuzzy figure, Senator. It has been hard to get a hard figure. But the administration estimates that by the opening of college next month, $400 million will have been loaned-through the guaranteed loan program.

Senator YARBOROUGH. In the period of its operations?

Mr. MORSE. In the period of its operations. Now, that is extremely spotty. In some States, virtually nothing has been loaned through the program. On the other hand, in New York State in the last 12 months, $84 million has been guaranteed.

Senator YARBOROUGH. In one State alone?

Mr. MORSE. Yes. In some States, banks have not participated—

Senator YARBOROUGH. In some States banks do not want to participate because they can get more interest in other lines.

Mr. MORSE. In fairness to the banks, this has been a terribly rough year in terms of the cost of money to make 6 percent loans—

Senatr YARBOROUGH. I was not criticizing the banks. They are charging people to put money in there to make money out of them. I just point that out to say that we cannot expect the private sectors to exercise sovereign powers of the Government. They are in the business of lending money. This Government should be operating for the purpose of educating its people.

I have had some complaints from students who borrowed money to go to school under the loan program that the banks required financial statements, that the banks required sureties on notes, that the banks required that they open an account there, that the banks had all kinds of requirements. I personally have a great apprehension of that. I fear that the banks in my section of the country, when election time comes around, will call in their chits on those loans. That is what other people lending money do. I do not think this will be any different. I think they will try to use this as a wedge for political influence with those families. I think it is valuable that these students get credit and loans without strings attached.

Mr. MORSE. That is right.

Senator YARBOROUGH. I think we should keep a sharp watch on that, or it will be greatly abused.

WEST VIRGINIA EXPERIENCE IN WORK-STUDY PROGRAMS

Senator RANDOLPH. Mr. Chairman, I note that in West Virginia, there are only three institutions of higher learning that are not participating in this work-study program; more than 25 are. So this has a very helpful impact on the educational structure of West Virginia.

I just wanted to impress the fact that in our State we are conscious of this and we are participating in its benefits.

Senator MORSE. The Chair wants the record to show this point very briefly, that we really want to help students who need programs such as this to go on to college, and here is a chance to do it. Here is a chance to see to it that money gets to the students we are trying to help. The basic importance of this cannot be overemphasized, in my opinion. We do a lot of talking about dropouts, about students not being able to enter college for lack of financial assistance. Here is a work-study program where the money goes to pay them to help work their way through college. They work. You are not giving them a scholarship. You are not handing money to them. You are making it available to the institutions so that these students can work. The work-study program is related to job assignments that are also, in turn, beneficial to them in preparing themselves for their way of living after they get out of college, another one of the strong features of the work-study program.

HEW AUGUST 8, 1967, MEMORANDUM

The person on the House side who, in effect, has the responsibility of handling this matter, in urging the Senate subcommittee to join with the House in trying to get this bill adopted, supplied us with a memorandum from the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, dated August 8, 1967, which shows statistical material for fiscal 1967 and 1968 as to the amount of Federal funds for this program requested, which is, for fiscal 1967, $165.3 million; $140.3 million made available; in 1968, $174.2 million requested. They estimate that the budget would allow $139.6 million—quite a difference—$158.8 million has been recommended for it, and there is, in round numbers, about $35 million difference.

(The material referred to may be found on p. 3458.)

Mr. MORSE. May I make an observation, sir, on that?

Senator MORSE. Certainly.

NDEA LOAN FUNDING

Mr. MORSE. The problem is compounded by the fact that the requests for NDEA loans are about $230 million as opposed to a $190 million budget request and $190 million approved by the two Appropriations Committees. So we are short in both of these critical programs.

Senator YARBOROUGH. How much was requested—$230 million?

Mr. MORSE. $230 million was the approved institutional request. Actually, that had been pared down by panels working for the Office of Education.

Senator YARBOROUGH. And the law authorizes $225 million?

Mr. MORSE. Yes, sir.

Senator YARBOROUGH. Yet the budget request was only $190 million and the Congress went along with that pared-down appropriation?

Mr. MORSE. We urged the Appropriations Committee to appropriate the amount authorized, but—

Senator YARBOROUGH. Well, I hope you can get a supplemental appropriation later on in this year.

Senator MORSE. I do, too.

SMALL COLLEGE HARDSHIPS

The material that Representative Green sent over, prepared by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, bears particularly on the kind of college that is now suffering because of the 75-25 ratio, which the 85-15 would at least help. These are just samples, but they bear on what the chairman said earlier, that many of our small colleges particularly just do not have the funds to meet a 25-percent matching requirement:

Defiance College, Defiance, Ohio; student enrollment, 984. You can see their plight. Here is where you need the work-study program we are talking about for the students that otherwise get to that college. I want the entire statistical material on Defiance College inserted in the record.

Mary Hardin-Baylor College, Belton, Tex., enrollment 537 students; another example of one of these small colleges we just have to get some help to.

Morehouse College, Atlanta, Ga., 907 students.

Henderson County Junior College, Athens, Tex., enrollment 1,322.

Senator YARBOROUGH. You are certainly hitting close to home. That is my home county.

Senator MORSE. I was going to read them before you came.

Senator YARBOROUGH. I might say on this Mary Hardin-Baylor College, that is a woman's college founded in the days when Texas was a Republic. In fact, it is fact that it was chartered by the Republic of Texas. It is one of the three remaining colleges that were chartered by the Republic of Texas. When they left the gulf area and went into the interior to get away from yellow fever, as many colleges did in 1847, they found after a while that they had established a small city. Many of the other colleges, of course, have grown much faster since then.

Senator MORSE. Also among this group is Coe College, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, with an enrollment of 871 students; Junior College District of St. Louis County, St. Louis, Mo., 4,080; Grand Rapids Junior College, Grand Rapids, Mich., 2,957; Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh, Pa., 4,119.

Now we get a bigger one, University of Hawaii, Honolulu, 12,163.

Then Hampton Institute, Hampton, Va., 2,025; and Chicago City College, Wilson Campus, Chicago, Ill., 2,225.

These are 12 examples of institutions in dire need of a change in the formula in order to meet the work-study requests of students for this fall term. That is why I stressed in the beginning of this program, when this program on the 75-25 matching went into effect August 20, that the colleges are waiting and hoping that action will be taken on this emergency bill in time so that it can be applicable for this fall term.

The material with regard to these small colleges will appear in the record at this point.

Senator MORSE. Thank you very much, Dr. Morse.

Mr. MORSE. Thank you, sir.

Senator MORSE. Our next witness is Mrs. Mary Condon Gereau, Division of Federal Relations, National Education Association.

Mrs. Gereau has been very, very active, may I say, in the work on this program and has appeared before this committee many times and is always very valuable to us.

We are delighted to have you before us again at this time, Mrs. Gereau.

TRIBUTES TO MRS. MARY CONDON GEREAU

Senator YARBOROUGH. Mr. Chairman, I want to thank Mrs. Gereau for her very active and fine assistance on the GI bill that Congress passed, and the NEA supported. The day before yesterday the Congress raised the monthly stipend for the 400,000 veterans who go to the college under this program in graduated amounts, depending on whether they are single, married, or have children. She has been very helpful in our work on this legislation including bringing on-the-job training and flight training back into the bill. The National Education Association put its shoulders to the wheels to help the student veteran finish high school or go to college. We have also added a provision for the Federal Government to pay a stipend; for the first time in any GI bill, the Federal Government will pay that until he finishes high school and then pay his month-to-month allowance after he finishes high school and he goes on to college. The Senator from Oregon, as the very able chairman of this subcommittee, has been coauthor of everyone of these bills, and one of the leading workers on these GI bills. There ought to be a million more veterans that have a chance to go to college, in addition to these NDEA loan grants and the opportunity grant and work-study programs and the guaranteed loan programs.

Senator MORSE. I want to join Senator Yarborough in expressing appreciation to you for the help you gave on the GI bill, as well as all other legislation, Mrs. Gereau. I am going to reply to his other remarks, not here, but in Texas. It will be the first opportunity I have gotten to speak in Texas for some time. I am not going to tell him now what I am going to say in Texas. I will keep him in a state of anxiety about that. But I have so wanted an opportunity. It is not going to be too far away, my first opportunity to tell the people of Texas of the great assistance he has been to me, over the years, as we have sought to take through this committee and through the Senate these very important educational bills.

Senator YARBOROUGH. Off the record.

(Discussion off the record.)

Senator MORSE. You may proceed in your own way, Mrs. Gereau.

STATEMENT OF MRS. MARY CONDON GEREAU, DIVISION OF FEDERAL RELATIONS, NATIONAL EDUCATION ASSOCIATION

Mrs. GEREAU. Thank you very much, Senator Yarborough and Senator Morse. It has been a real pleasure for the National Education Association to work with both of you gentlemen. I think it is practically unheard of that either of us disagree on anything. We have been most happy for the opportunity to support the GI bill along with the other great legislation that this committee has produced.

If I may, sir, we will file our statement. The comments are practically—we raise the same points that Dr. Morse of the American Council on Education raised in his very excellent statement.

Senator MORSE. Mrs. Gereau's prepared statement will be inserted in the record in its entirety.

Mrs. GEREAU. We would stress the fine points Dr. Morse stressed, that we hope you will consider the permanent ratio, that when the higher education amendments are considered later in the session, they will set the ratio of matching funds at a permanent 90-10 and forget about the graduated increase at the institution level, for the reasons which Dr. Morse said, and which we repeat in our statement—that the smaller institutions many times can not apply because they cannot even raise the 10 percent. They might have been able to raise the 10 percent, but they could see from the law that next year, it would have to be 15, the next year 20, the next year 25, and they did not start the program because they felt, they knew that they could not come up with the 25 percent which would be required this fall.

I have experienced, if I may be slightly personal, of working my own way through college, as many of us did in those years. I had one of the last NYA grants. The thing that was very valuable was that it did not require me to work the same number of hours every week. As you know, some weeks in college are busier than others. All students need a little time right before exams to catch up on things they should have done all semester. So during that period of time I could take off a week or two from my work, since my work would be increased after the exam.

My particular work assignment was to work with a professor and I had the job of grading the papers, and so on. Those weeks I could work 30 or 35 hours. In the amendment you are considering, you permit the student to work an average of 15 hours a week a semester, and I think this is a very reasonable proposal, because the work loads on the student and the institution varies.

I also worked during registration and sometimes then we would work 45 hours a week. This would mean I would have my work done for a couple of weeks and then I could spend my time on getting prepared for my classes. This is what this bill anticipates, I think.

IMPORTANCE OF PROGRAM TO YOUNG WOMEN

I may also say, sir, if I may speak again personally as a woman, I think that the work-study program is, of all of the student aid programs, the most favorable for young women, because many of them hesitate to become indebted for the necessity of paying off a guaranteed loan, which is practically impossible in some instances for the woman to get, because the bank figures well, she will get married and have a harder time to do it. I know girls who hesitate to borrow money because they are not sure what their future will be. Perhaps they have dreams that are not realized in the immediate future, but they expect to be married and they do not want to go into marriage with this debt, having borrowed to go to college as part of the complication. So I think that the work-study program is of particular value to young women.

I would like to make this point in the record, because I think we all agree that young women have as much need to be educated in this modern day and age as young men, whether or not they stay in the work force or wait and return to it after their families are grown.

Senator MORSE. I am so glad you mentioned that, Mrs. Gereau. It is one of the points that has been mentioned over on the House side. They are further along with this bill than we are. As you know, Mrs. Green has given stress and emphasis to the need of seeing to it that we do not, in effect, unknowingly discriminate against providing equal opportunity for women in the higher education program. There is no denying the fact that—in fact, there is a considerable amount of evidence that it has that effect. A good many of these programs are geared more to the making available of opportunity for the men than for women. Here is a program, a work-study program, that gives women an exceptionally good opportunity to earn some money with which to go to school, because a good many of the jobs that you make available on the campuses, particularly in connection with the work assisting the faculty in their paper work, is particularly suitable to women. I am so glad that you mentioned it. I had overlooked it. I am glad you refreshed my memory about it.

Mrs. GEREAU. We women do not want any special privileges, but we like an equal break every time we can get one.

Senator MORSE. Yes; as we are constantly pointing out, an equal opportunity.

Mrs. GEREAU. The hesitancy on the part of young women to borrow money is a valid one.

(The prepared statement of Mrs. Gereau follows:)

PREPARED STATEMENT OF MRS. MARY CONDON GEREAU, DIVISION OF FEDERAL RELATIONS, NATIONAL EDUCATION ASSOCIATION

Mr. Chairman and members of the subcommittee: The National Education Association appreciates this opportunity to present the Association's views on S. 2151 to amend the College Work-Study Program.

In the interest of time we urge that the Senate concur with the House bill, H.R. 11945, so that this very worthwhile student aid program can be continued during the coming school year. Institutions of higher education need action now so that they can be prepared to assist students at the time of registration for the fall term beginning in mid-September.

We are pleased that the House has reduced the institutions' matching requirement to 15%, rather than maintaining the 20% as provided in the present law. We urge, however, that when the Higher Education Amendments, of which the work-study program is a part, are considered, that the initial matching formula of 90-10 be made permanent.

Experience indicates that this type of student aid is extremely valuable, not only to the student but to the institution and to the community. Those who participate would be unable to enroll in college without this program. The work performed is of benefit to the student as well as to the institution or community he serves. It is also of benefit to the nation because it serves to increase the supply of brain-power by making it possible for economically disadvantaged young people to become competent, professional, constructive members of society.

The 90-10 matching formula is not unreasonable. It is in line with the 90-10 matching formula for federal highway funds, for example. Certainly it is of equal, if not greater importance, to provide assistance to the development of the nation's skilled manpower.

The increase in the percentage of funds to be provided by the institution will serve only to curtail the program, thus depriving many deserving young people of the opportunity, through self-help, to achieve a college education. The compensation the students receive must be in keeping with the prevailing minimum wage laws—a sound policy we agree. However, with the increase in the minimum wage the colleges, especially those operating under biennial appropriations from the State legislatures, have more demand on their funds which are earmarked for labor costs. This fact, coupled with the increased percentage of matching funds required in the present law, can only result in reducing the number of students who can be aided. Private non-profit institutions are caught in a similar financial bind. The victims are the disadvantaged students.

We urge, therefore, that the 90-10 matching formula be established in place of the graduated scale provided in the present law.

S. 2151 also provides that the student's obligation be adjusted to provide for an average of 15 hours work per week during a school term rather than limiting them to 15 hours each week. This is a practical proposal in the interest of the student—and the institution. It provides flexibility and permits the student, in cooperation with the employer, to adjust his work schedule for the maximum benefit to his program of study. As we all know, some weeks are tougher than others in college.

Again, Mr. Chairman and Members of the Committee, we appreciate this opportunity to make these brief comments in support of further strengthening one of the best student aid programs ever enacted by the Congress.

Senator MORSE. Senator Yarborough?

COLD WAR GI BILL COMMENTS

Senator YARBOROUGH. Mrs. Gereau, in line with the comments just made by you and by Senator Morse, I mention the GI Bill because most of the service people coming out of service are men. There is a limited number of women coming out of the service, but I doubt it is as high a percentage as after World War II. That bill was criticized on the basis that it discriminated in favor of men. I do not think so. I think if you take the burden off the family for that boy, then it takes the extra burden off the family so that the girl can go to college. Very often, if a family can educate only two out of four children or only one out of two, they will say, well, the girl has an opportunity to get married, the man has to support a family, so they send the son to college. I think this takes the pressure off the work-study program, off the NDEA loans, and gives the young women an opportunity there.

Mrs. GEREAU. Yes, sir. As you will recall, when I testified before the House committee, I made this point.

As you recall, before the first, S. 9, bill passed, there was evidence in the record that institutions tended to give most of the NDEA loans to those what we call cold war veterans, because they felt an obligation to them. This was unintentionally discriminating against the women students, because the bulk of the NDEA loans in this sort of thing were going to these young veterans who did not have the GI Bill. Our statement was if you could take care of the veterans under the GI Bill, then the young women would have a more equal break on getting the other loans, which is exactly what happened.

Senator YARBOROUGH. Yes, you were able to point that out, that if was not an established policy, but just a matter of looking at them and saying, this young man is older, he has lost 2 years, and he should get the student loan so he can catch up.

I want to congratulate the chairman on his leadership in introducing this measure to stop this escalation of percentages that these colleges have to put up.

Senator MORSE. Senator Randolph?

NONPARTICIPATION BY THREE WEST VIRGINIA INSTITUTIONS

Senator RANDOLPH. Mr. Chairman.

Mrs. Gereau, you have spoken about the application of a work-study program, with particular reference to institutions of higher learning. I note particularly that the colleges and students of West Virginia have been participating. There was a notable exception, for me, and that was Greenbrier College for Women. I would not know the answer, but one of the three institutions not participating in our State is the women's college. I am going to talk to the officials there myself and find the clarification of perhaps our need and the answer.

Would you care to comment?

Mrs. GEREAU. Sir, I would not know, either. I am familiar just with the reputation of the institution. It is an excellent one. But I would have no idea why they have not participated. I would not hazard a guess, because I am not that well acquainted with the officials in the administration, and I would not know.

Senator RANDOLPH. Mr. Chairman, colleges that are essentially institutions for women are private in this country. We have no record that they have not been able to participate in this program, have we, the institutions where we have young ladies and young gentlemen?

Mrs. GEREAU. I have no data on that, sir. The Office of Education could perhaps get it by the time you are up for full hearings on the higher education bill, but I hope we do not delay this bill waiting for the information.

Senator MORSE. Mr. Lee, I want you to ask the Department to get us a memorandum to be added to this record immediately of anything like that. I know some of these participate, but I could not raise my right hand and testify as to what the percentage was.

Is anybody from the Department here who could make it available now?

Supply it for the record as fast as you can. If you can, get it up this afternoon.

Meredith College, Raleigh, North Carolina
St. Mary's Dominican College, New Orleans, Louisiana

Judging from the above list, it seems fair to assume that needy students in women's colleges may participate in the work-study program on an equal basis with students in other institutions.

If the Office of Legislation can be of further assistance, please let us know.

Sincerely yours,

ALBERT L. ALFORD,
Assistant Commissioner for Legislation.

TEXAS EXPERIMENT

Senator YARBOROUGH. I note from the record that of 119 colleges in my State, 89 are participating, 30 are not participating. The women's colleges are participating, with one group of exceptions. That is the nursing schools. None of those seems to be participating. If they have "college of nursing" in the title—are they practical nurses, or student nurses? Is that the reason?

Mrs. GEREAU. I think the type of training a student nurse takes requires her to spend so many hours in wards and so forth. She might not have time to participate in a work-study program so many hours a day.

WORK EXPERIENCE IN SMALLER COMMUNITIES

There is one other point I would like to make, sir. That is to point out that many institutions of higher learning, and even larger ones—I am speaking of my own alma mater, the University of Iowa—are located in small communities. There is nothing in Iowa City except the university, which has some several thousand, maybe 15,000 or 20,000 students. It is very difficult to find a job other than this type that is provided for in this work-study program in a small town. In a city, perhaps a student can go out and get a job in the private economy, because here in Washington, you know, you run into students driving taxicabs and working as waiters and waitresses, and working part time on Saturdays in stores.

But in the small college communities—and, Senator Randolph, there are many in your State—they are just not able to get a job. Even though I worked as a hostess in a restaurant for my meals, I worked as a clerk in a clothing store, and I had my NYA job, I wound up working 47 hours a week.

Senator RANDOLPH. Then the student enrollment was so very low compared with the student enrollment today.

Mrs. GEREAU. And I think I did not get as good an education as I should have, because I spent too much time working.

Senator RANDOLPH. I would doubt that. You are here today as an example of a person who came through a program where individual initiative was certainly a very important factor.

Mrs. GEREAU. I think of some of the small communities in Montana, with which the chairman is familiar. Some young men and women who try to get jobs there—in Dillon; I do not know whether Dillon College is in the work-study program, but I cannot think of where they could find a job except on the campus. The only real community is the college. I do not recall whether there is even a stockyard there; it is in the middle of the cattle country. They have to work on campus or there are not any jobs. So this kind of program is especially helpful to that kind of institution.

Senator RANDOLPH. You would not want them to be cattle rustlers, would you?

Mrs. GEREAU. No, sir; but they might be cowboys.

Senator MORSE. I share Senator Randolph's view as to the kind of education you got, as proven by your contribution to the work of this committee and to the National Education Association.

Thank you very much, Mrs. Gereau. We are glad to have had your testimony.

Senator YARBOROUGH. Mr. Chairman, I would like to associate myself with remarks Mrs. Gereau made on another point, having partially worked my way through college.

I drilled with the National Guard 3 years. That paid for my meals twice a week. I waited on tables in boarding houses for 2 years. I worked in the library at State teachers college, and I worked in the law library at the University of Texas Law School. I worked then because it was necessary. I had to earn money to go to school. But I do not think it improved my education any. I think if I had had that time to put into study and reading in the library, instead of working there, it would have been more educational and profitable.

Senator MORSE. I dissent.

He would not be a liberal. That is what I was going to say. It made a liberal out of him.

Mrs. GEREAU. I reserve the right to disagree with what you say, too. I think perhaps both of us learned a little bit about what it means to earn a living. I think this is not a bad thing to learn. I think we also both picked up a little bit about what it means to be successful in politics. In your case that has been good for the Nation.

Senator RANDOLPH. Off the record.

(Discussion off the record.)

Senator MORSE. On the record.

Thank you very much, Mrs. Gereau.

The Chair will insert in the record at this point the letter from the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, giving a report on this bill.

(The letter referred to follows:)

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE,
Washington, D.C.

Hon. LISTER HILL,
Chairman, Committee on Labor and Public Welfare,
U.S. Senate, Washington, D.C.

DEAR MR. CHAIRMAN: This is in response to your request for reports on S. 2151 and H.R. 11945, bills "To amend the college work-study program with respect to institutional matching and permissible hours of work."

The first section of the bill would amend section 124(d) of the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964 to permit a student under the work-study program to be employed for an average of fifteen hours per week. The existing law provides that no student shall be employed under the work-study program for more than fifteen hours in any week.

Section 2 of the bill amends section 124(f), which provides a decrease in the maximum Federal share of the compensation paid to students under the work-study program from 90 to 75 percent beginning with fiscal year 1968. The proposed legislation would provide for a stepped-down Federal share of 85 percent for fiscal year 1968, 80 percent for fiscal year 1969, and 75 percent thereafter.

The Administration's recommendations contained in the proposed Higher Education Amendments of 1967 (S. 1126) provided for an amendment to section 124(d) which would authorize the Commissioner of Education to issue regulations under which students who are attending classes during vacation periods or comparable periods of additional or nonregular employment may be employed under the program for up to 40 hours per week during such periods.

The amendment contained in S. 2151 and H.R. 11945 authorizing some variation in the hours of work per week permitted students under the work-study program provides a reasonable degree of flexibility while retaining the essential safeguard that students devote the major portion of their time to studies during periods when classes in which the student is enrolled are in session.

Under the Administration proposal the Federal share of compensation for work-study students would be fixed at 80 percent for fiscal years beginning with fiscal year 1968. It is the Department's belief that under the 20 percent institutional matching requirement the funds available for the work-study program could cover more students than the higher Federal share, without imposing an undue burden upon the institutions. In view of the fact that the 1967-68 academic year is upon us and institutions must be able to make commitments to students who wish to participate in the work-study program, we would not object to the enactment of the proposed legislation. We do, however, hope that when the proposed Higher Education Amendments of 1967 are acted upon the legislation will fix an 80 percent Federal share for future fiscal years, rather than allowing the share to drop to 75 percent.

We are advised by the Bureau of the Budget that there is no objection to the presentation of this report from the standpoint of the Administration's program, but the Bureau points out that under the Federal share provided by S. 2151 and H.R. 11945 fewer students would be assisted with the Federal funds available for fiscal year 1968 than under the Federal share proposed in the Administration bill, S. 1126.

Sincerely,

JOHN W. GARDNER, Secretary.

LEWIS AND CLARK COLLEGE,
Portland, Oreg., February 14, 1967.

The Hon. WAYNE MORSE,
Senate Office Building,
Washington, D.C.

DEAR SENATOR MORSE: Our efforts to build a successful program of student financial aids for Lewis and Clark are now encumbered by a serious problem growing out of provisions in the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964. The provision which increases the institutional share of on-campus funding for Work-Study from 10% to 25%—effective August 21, 1967—jeopardizes the future of the Work-Study program at Lewis and Clark.

With the passage of the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964, Lewis and Clark joined other colleges in developing programs for economically deprived young people. As a result, the College has been able to attract larger numbers of students with exceptional financial need. A key factor in our program has been the creation of part-time jobs on the campus. Our campus Work-Study project which began with a FY 65 expenditure of $7,518, will reach $50,000 this year, and we anticipate that our student financial needs and expanding departmental programs will create a campus Work-Study project requiring $90,000 by 1968-69. Until now, the cost to the College has been the maintenance of its own employment program, plus the indirect costs of providing for the special needs of disadvantaged students and 10% institutional share of the Work-Study program.

To support a $50,000 campus Work-Study project for 1966-67, we have committed $5,000 of institutional funds. However, to support a comparable project ($51,750) for 1967-68, we would be forced to commit $11,815. Projecting ahead to a $90,000 budget two years hence, the institutional requirement of $22,500 will clearly exceed our means. (This is in the context of an existing financial aid "package" under which in 1966-67, the College committed $58,858 from its operating funds before adding the Work-Study matching requirement.)

If the Lewis and Clark example demonstrates the case for the private colleges, the case is even more crucial for the community colleges—where financial aid programs are relatively young and funded at minimum levels.

If the Congress is seriously intending to make higher education available to culturally-deprived students, it should be clearly understood that any initial program will generate its own momentum for growth. Under the 75-25 formula, this growth is seriously restricted by limitations on institutional funds, and the very students which Congress intends to help are short-changed in the bargain.

Considering all these factors, we urge the Congress to retain the 10% institutional matching provision now scheduled to expire August 20, 1967.

Cordially,

JOHN R. HOWARD, President.

UNITED STATES SENATE, COMMITTEE ON COMMERCE,
June 20, 1967.

Hon. WAYNE MORSE,
Chairman, Subcommittee on Education,
Committee on Labor and Public Welfare,
U.S. Senate

DEAR MR. CHAIRMAN: I am enclosing, for your information, a letter from the President of the International Association of Evening Student Councils.

It concerns changes which the Association recommends be made in the Higher Education Act.

I do hope your Committee will look favorably on these recommendations.

With appreciation and kindest regards, I am

Sincerely yours,

DANIEL B. BREWSTER,
U.S. Senator.

INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF EVENING STUDENT COUNCILS,
Philadelphia, Pa., June 10, 1967.

HON. DANIEL B. BREWSTER,
*240 Senate Office Building,
 Washington, D.C.*

DEAR SIR: Recently at the International Association of Evening Student Councils' regional conference in Baltimore, Maryland, you indicated a desire to be the American evening student's spokesman—in the Senate of the United States. We deeply appreciate this offer and, therefore, respectfully request your attention to the following statements of the discriminatory treatment of the evening student in the Higher Education Act of 1965—Section IV.

SCHOLARSHIP GRANTS

Scholarship grants now available are restricted exclusively to full-time students. These scholarships may not be less than $200 per year, more than $800 per year, or one-half the amount received by the student from all other scholarships (public or private), whichever is lower.

We vigorously recommend the extension of these grants to deserving, qualified evening students.

INSURED LOANS

These insured loans are available to those "carrying at least one-half of the normal full-time workload as determined by the institution."

We urge the adoption of a uniform definition of full-time students as those who are carrying 12 or more credit hours per semester and part-time students as those carrying six or more credits per semester.

Let it be emphasized here that, although an evening student can mortgage his future like a full-time student, he cannot earn a scholarship as the full-time student can.

WORK-STUDY PROGRAM

The purpose of this program is "to stimulate and promote the part-time employment of students, particularly students from low income families." However, the program is limited to full-time students! Does this mean that there are no worthy, qualified, and needy part-time students who could benefit from this program? Of course not! Therefore, we recommend that this be changed to allow the qualification of part-time students in all respects.

In the above matters, we are supported and reinforced by the Association of University Evening Colleges. Their views have been expressed to the United States Senate Committee on Education and Public Welfare and to the United States House of Representatives Committee on Education and Labor. We also vigorously support their recommendations on the matching of Work/Study Programs which is to return to the 10%/90% institution/federal government matching ratio and freeze it at this level. Due to the fact that this ratio was raised to 25%/75% in June, 1967, we feel that this program will be eliminated from the programs of many schools.

We respectfully request that you strongly urge your colleagues to modify the Higher Education Act of 1965, Section IV, as recommended above. We would also request that the above recommendation become a part of the committee's records.

Attached is a short summary of the goals and philosophies of our organization, as well as an indication of its size.

Sincerely yours,

JAMES E. QUINN, President.

TEMPLE BUELL COLLEGE,
Denver, Colo., August 2, 1967.

HON. LISTER HILL,
*New Senate Office Building,
 Washington, D.C.*

DEAR SENATOR HILL: Temple Buell College strongly supports two bills (HR 11586 and S 2151) recently introduced in Congress to amend paragraphs (d) and (f) of section 124 of the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964. The College feels this legislation is most timely and is vitally important to the future of the College Work-Study Program.

If the scheduled 75-25 federal-local matching formula goes into effect on August 20, many institutions of higher education will find it impossible to raise the extra 15% in matching funds and be forced to discontinue their Work-Study programs. Consequently, many worthy students will be deprived of the opportunity for higher education. In adjusting the matching formula to a more gradual increase in local contributions, HR 11586 and S 2151 offer an acceptable compromise between the drastic increase to 25% and the present 10%.

The amendment to section 124(f), which permits a more flexible arrangement of work-study hours, is a workable solution to the problems caused by erratic pattern of student activities, examinations, and vacations which make it difficult for a student to conform to a rigid work schedule. As time is a significant factor, your immediate support for this legislation is requested so that Congressional action will be possible before the August 20 deadline.

Your continued interest in higher education is admired and appreciated.

Sincerely,

EUGENE E. DAWSON, President.

AMERICAN COUNCIL ON EDUCATION,
Washington, D.C., July 21, 1967.

The Hon. WAYNE MORSE,
*Chairman, Subcommittee on Education,
Committee on Labor and Public Welfare, U.S. Senate, Washington, D.C.*

Dear SENATOR MORSE: As you know, the non-Federal matching share to fund the college work-study program is due to rise, on August 20, 1967, to 25 percent from its current level of 10 percent. In testifying before the Special Subcommittee on Education of the House on April 19, we indicated that this would work an extreme hardship on all institutions of higher education and particularly those which are most hard pressed for discretionary funds and which are serving large numbers of needy students. We urged retention of the 90-10 matching ratio.

The deadline for increasing the non-Federal share is now close at hand, and I understand that thought is being given to finding a way to provide immediate relief. If this is the case, I should like to remind you of one other factor which makes the situation even more critical.

Since February 1, 1967, colleges and universities have been included as enterprises covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act. They are thus required to pay students the Federal minimum wage. This is scheduled to increase from $1.00 per hour at the present time to $1.15 on February 1, 1968, and to $1.30 in February 1969. Thus, colleges employing students under the work-study program will be subject to a double escalation. The effect of the existing Act will be to increase the college share of the program from the current 10 cents per hour to 25 cents per hour on August 20, 1967, 29 cents per hour in 1968, and 32.5 cents per hour in 1969. To put it another way, the institutional share will increase over 300 percent in a period of two years.

The financial strain on institutions will, of course, be compounded by the fact that they are required to maintain the level of their own pre-existing job programs in order to be able to qualify for any work-study funds. These pre-existing programs are also subject to the escalation of the minimum wage. I am fearful, therefore, that with the many other demands for institutional matching funds, many colleges will have no alternative but to cut back on the number of jobs they make available under the work-study program. They will thus be reducing the number of opportunities they can offer to youngsters in most need of help.

I hope that you and your committee can take these facts under consideration as you weigh the desirability of reducing the non-Federal matching share.

Sincerely yours,

JOHN F. MORSE, Director of the Commission.

WICHITA STATE UNIVERSITY
Wichita, Kans., March 22, 1967.

HON. WAYNE L. MORSE,
*Senate Offices,
Washington, D.C.*

DEAR SENATOR MORSE: The Kansas Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators held a meeting at Kansas State Teachers College, Emporia, Kansas, March 20, 1967. At this meeting Mr. Paul Chrisman, Director of Financial Aids, Wichita State University, read a resolution he had prepared concerning the "Higher Education Amendments of 1967."

The members of this association felt that you should be aware of our appreciation for your introduction of Senate Bill 1126. We hope that you will continue to do everything in your power to see this Bill passed through the Senate.

A copy of the resolution Mr. Paul Chrisman prepared and that the members of our association accepted is enclosed for your consideration. We hope that you and other Senators and Congressmen will continue to work for us in gaining financial aid for students to obtain higher education.

Sincerely yours,

LARRY G. RECTOR,

KANSAS ASSOCIATION OF STUDENT FINANCIAL AID ADMINISTRATORS RESOLUTION

Whereas the continued need for financial aid for students attending institutions of higher education in Kansas appears inevitable, and

Whereas this need involves educational opportunities for great numbers of students of the State of Kansas, and

Whereas such need will inevitably require an increase in allocated funds, and

Whereas most institutions find it extremely difficult to maintain sufficient funding of their diverse financial aid programs, and

Whereas the opportunity to endorse the new bill entitled "Higher Education Amendments of 1967" which has been introduced to Congress presents itself, and,

Whereas the Kansas Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators believes in and is committed to the optimal use of funds that may be used to meet deserving students' needs: Be it, therefore,

Resolved by the Kansas Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators, That Congress be urged to proceed with all due expedition the passage of such amendments that provide for:

- (1) Institutions to borrow student loan funds from the Commissioner of Education as an alternative to receive Federal capital contributions that must be matched;
- (2) Work-Study assistance to students being used as matching funds for Educational Opportunity Grants;
- (3) Federal funds for Work-Study to be scheduled on an 80%-20% ratio; and
- (4) Students being able to work 40 hours a week on the Work-Study Program while attending summer classes and (5) Other provisions that will provide students and their institutions the ways and means to plan effectively for the future growth and development of their State, Nation, and their resources.

Senator MORSE. I want the attention of my colleagues, and I want the attention of the majority and minority staff members. This is just a suggestion I am making at this point, and we will see to what extent it will subsequently be implemented.

My colleagues know what a stickler I am for committee procedure. But I want to point out for this record that we have a very, very serious emergency in that it is highly desirable that this bill be acted upon by the Senate before the Labor Day recess. That is why the House is urging that we find every means of expediting the consideration of it. I am just making the comment for the benefit of the minority and majority counsel.

I think the reality here is that we have a bill on which there is not going to be the slightest objection by either side of our committee. I think we have a bill here that will be unanimously approved. I want the record to show that I am going to try to see Chairman Hill of the full committee, at the earliest possible moment, and if we can get unanimous consent of the committee, see if we can get this bill reported out by a poll so we can get it to the floor of the Senate and act on it early next week. It is the type of procedure I usually would object to, and there may be some on the committee who would object to it as matter of policy, and I would respect their point of view.

On the other hand, I think if we can get the majority and minority staff members, and this is my instruction, but majority and minority staff members and the administrative assistants and legislative assistants of each member of the committee ought to be contacted today so that they all understand that we have something here which is of an emergency nature, and see if we can get this bill out by poll if we cannot get it considered in the full committee meeting. I am going to try that, of course.

But our problem is this: If we do not get this bill enacted before Labor Day, these schools, by the time we get back, some of them will be going into session and they need to know and they need to know now—it is too bad that they could not have known 30 days ago, but that is no one's fault—what their work-study financial arrangements are going to be for this next term.

There is nothing official about this, may I say to Senator Yarborough and Senator Randolph. There is nothing official about it. I am simply telling you for this record what the Chairman is going to try to do. If I run into a procedural objection, I shall respect it. I doubt that I will. But once each member of this committee understands the emergency of it and that we have really a noncontroversial bill before us, I think we can get a procedural way to get the bill reported by poll.

Is there anything further?

Senator RANDOLPH. I would like the record to indicate, Mr. Chairman, that I fully agree with your hoped-for procedure. I have a feeling that members of this subcommittee, of course, and also the committee itself, will go along with your intention in this matter.

Senator YARBOROUGH. Mr. Chairman, I am in accord with the course of procedure the Chairman has described, and express the hope that it might be voted out this morning.

Senator MORSE. I am hoping the committee will get a quorum.

Thank you very much, Mrs. Gereau.

This adjourns the hearing on S. 2151 and H.R. 11545.

(Thereupon, at 11 a.m. the hearing was adjourned subject to call of the Chair.)
