Fiscal Year 2024 Report

Bipartisan Budget Act of 2015 Reporting Requirements

Section 845(c) of the Bipartisan Budget Act (BBA) of 2015 requires us to submit a report to the House Committee on Ways and Means and the Senate Committee on Finance by January 1st of each calendar year. The report must contain:

- The number and total value of overpayments we recovered or scheduled to be recovered during the previous fiscal year for the Old-Age, Survivors and Disability Insurance (OASDI) and Supplemental Security Income (SSI) programs, including the terms and conditions of repayment of the overpayments; and
- The number and total value of OASDI and SSI overpayments we waived during the previous fiscal year.

This report provides an overview of our programs, our program overpayments, and a description of our procedures to collect overpayments or adjudicate requests for reconsideration or waiver. Finally, it provides the OASDI and SSI overpayment information required by BBA.

Overview of our Programs

We administer three programs under the Social Security Act:

- Old-Age and Survivors Insurance: Established in 1935, the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance (OASI) program provides retirement and survivors benefits to qualified workers and their family members. In fiscal year (FY) 2024, we paid OASI benefits to an average of approximately 59 million beneficiaries each month and incurred over $1.3 trillion in benefit payment expenses¹ to OASI beneficiaries through the fiscal year.
- Disability Insurance: Established in 1956, the Disability Insurance (DI) program provides benefits for workers who become disabled and their families. In FY 2024, we paid DI benefits to an average of approximately 8 million beneficiaries each month and incurred about $157 billion in benefit payment expenses¹ to DI beneficiaries through the fiscal year.
- Supplemental Security Income: Established in 1972, the Supplemental Security Income (SSI) program provides financial support to aged, blind, and disabled adults and children who have limited income and resources. In FY 2024, we paid SSI benefits to an average of 7.4 million recipients (approximately 2.5 million of whom concurrently receive DI benefits) and incurred about $56 billion in SSI Federal benefits and State supplementary benefit payment expenses¹ through the fiscal year.

¹ Benefit payment expenses consist of benefits paid and the change in benefits accrued during FY 2024.

OASDI and SSI Overpayments

We are good stewards of the OASDI and SSI programs, striving to pay the right amount to the right person at the right time. Our payment accuracy in the OASDI programs is exceptionally high: 99.8 percent of benefits were free from overpayment in FY 2023. In the SSI program, which is more difficult to administer due to complex policies surrounding income and resource limits, 90.8 percent of payments were free from overpayment in FY 2023.²

In creating the Social Security program, Congress recognized the possibility that beneficiaries would be overpaid. Accordingly, since 1939, the Social Security Act has provided us statutory authority to enforce the recovery of overpayments.³ When OASDI and SSI benefit overpayments occur, we collect these to the extent possible under the law.

An overpayment occurs when we pay an individual more than they should have been paid for a given period.⁴ Many factors can cause overpayments.⁵ For instance, in the SSI program, one reason for overpayments is that recipients do not timely report changes in their current living arrangements to us. We generally discover these overpayments when we conduct SSI redeterminations, which are periodic non-medical reviews of SSI recipients' eligibility.

After we confirm that an overpayment exists, we establish the debt on our records and send a written overpayment notice to the overpaid individual.⁶ The overpayment notice includes the following information:

- The payment amount the individual received and the payment amount the individual should have received for each month in the adjusted period;
- How and when the overpayment occurred;
- The individual's right to request reconsideration (i.e., an appeal of the determination that an overpayment exists);
- The individual's right to request a waiver of recovery of the overpayment;
- Repayment options; and
- The need for the individual to contact us before we begin collection efforts.⁷

If the overpaid individual does not contact us, we use available collection methods to recover the overpayment. For example, if a person is currently receiving benefits, we can withhold a portion of those benefits to recover an overpayment. If a person is no longer receiving benefits, we may use a variety of external debt collection methods to seek recovery.

² Our FY 2024 Agency Financial Report contains a detailed report on improper payments, which discusses our payment accuracy performance.

Right to Appeal⁸

The existence and amount of an overpayment are initial determinations. An overpaid individual may appeal the determination through the following stages of the appeals process:⁹

- Reconsideration;
- A hearing before an administrative law judge;
- Appeals Council review; and
- A civil suit in a Federal district court.

An individual must request a reconsideration within 60 days of the overpayment notice.¹⁰ If the individual requests a reconsideration after the 60-day period has expired, we will determine whether good cause for late filing exists.¹¹ If for some reason we determine an overpayment does not exist and we reverse our decision, we will eliminate the debt.¹²

Right to Request Waiver¹³

An overpaid individual may request that we waive recovery of the overpayment.¹⁴ If we approve the request for a waiver, the individual does not have to repay the debt.¹⁵ An individual may request a waiver at any time, including after we have fully recovered the debt.¹⁶

We will grant an OASDI overpayment waiver when:

1. The individual was without fault in causing the overpayment; and
2. Recovery or adjustment of the overpayment would:
 - a. impede the efficient or effective administration due to the small amount involved (administrative tolerance);
 - b. be against equity and good conscience; or
 - c. defeat the purpose of the OASDI program.

We will grant an SSI overpayment waiver when:

1. The individual was without fault in causing the overpayment; and
2. Recovery or adjustment of the overpayment would:
 - a. be caused by the beneficiary's countable resources exceeding the statutory limits by a small amount;
 - b. impede the efficient or effective administration of SSI due to the small amount involved;
 - c. be against equity and good conscience; or
 - d. defeat the purpose of the SSI program.

¹⁶ See POMS GN 02201.019.A and SI 02260.001.A.3.

Without Fault¹⁷

“Without fault” means that facts show the individual did not cause the overpayment. For example, the individual is at fault if they fail to:

- Furnish full and accurate information affecting basic rights to benefit payment;
- Comply with annual earnings and other reporting requirements; or
- Return checks that were not due the recipient.

Defeat the Purpose of the Program¹⁸

Recovery of an OASDI or SSI overpayment defeats the purpose of the program if:

1. The individual needs substantially all of their income (including OASDI and SSI benefits) to meet ordinary and necessary living expenses;
2. The individual receives any type of public assistance payments (we generally consider recovery of an overpayment to defeat the purpose when an individual receives only SSI); or
3. The individual who is receiving OASDI benefits would have his or her total assets reduced to:
 - a. below $3,000, if they have no dependents; or
 - b. below $5,000, if they have one dependent, adding $600 for each additional dependent.

Against Equity and Good Conscience¹⁹

Individuals can establish that recovery of an overpayment would be “against equity and good conscience,” regardless of their financial ability to repay any part of the overpayment if:

1. They changed their position for the worse or relinquished a valuable right because of their reliance upon a notice that a payment would be made or because of the overpayment itself. For example, a beneficiary, relying on the benefit payments, signed a lease on a more expensive apartment; or
2. They were receiving benefits on the same earnings record as the overpaid person, were living in a separate household from the overpaid person at the time of the overpayment, and did not receive the money.

We do not need financial information to make a waiver determination for an “against equity and good conscience” finding. In “against equity and good conscience” situations, we would grant a waiver, and the individual seeking waiver would not need to repay the overpayment.

SSI Overpayment Waivers due to Excess Resources

An SSI recipient must be without fault in causing an overpayment before we will consider approving their waiver request. In some cases, a recipient’s excess resources may exceed the statutory limit by such a small amount that we will find the recipient to be without fault. We may determine an overpaid SSI recipient to be without fault if his or her countable resources exceed the resource limit by $50.00 or less unless we determine the overpaid person willfully and knowingly failed to report the value of their resources accurately and timely.

Access to Financial Institutions (AFI) is an automated process that verifies alleged bank account balances with financial institutions to help determine SSI eligibility. In addition to verifying alleged accounts, the process also requests that financial institutions with a physical presence nearby the individual search their records for undisclosed accounts. Along with preventing overpayments for current SSI recipients, the AFI process can find that an applicant is ineligible before they have started receiving benefits.

Access to Financial Institutions (AFI) for Waivers

Section 834 of BBA, which applies to OASDI and SSI, authorizes us to use AFI to obtain financial account balances and search for undisclosed accounts before making a waiver determination that recovery of the debt would “defeat the purpose” of the program. Before obtaining financial account balances, we request the individual’s authorization.

OASDI and SSI Overpayments Recovered, Scheduled, and Waived

In FY 2024, we recovered approximately $4.9 billion in OASDI and SSI program overpayments. We had approximately $10.3 billion scheduled for repayment. We waived approximately $302 million.

Overpayments Recovered in FY 2024²⁰

OASDI	7,307,701	$3,216,430,588

Total	22,508,599	$4,924,602,474

Overpayments Scheduled for Repayment

When an overpaid individual requests to repay their overpayment by monthly installments, we negotiate a reasonable monthly payment amount and advise the individual that the installment agreement does not become effective until we receive the first installment payment. If they do not make a payment in accordance with the agreement and are currently receiving benefits, we recover the overpayment by withholding from their benefit payment. If they no longer receive benefits, we use our external debt collection tools, such as administrative offset.
