LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

AUGUST 14, 1965.

To the Members of the Subcommittee on Domestic Finance:

Transmitted herewith is a list of overpayments made by servicemen to Federal Services Corp., which are being held by Suburban Trust Co., Hyattsville, Md.

During the subcommittee's investigation of Federal Services Finance Corp., it was learned that Suburban Trust Co. of Hyattsville, Md., serves as the exclusive allotment collection agency for Federal Services. Since it is against military regulations for servicemen to make an allotment to a finance company, this regulation is bypassed by having Federal Services military borrowers initiate an allotment with Suburban Trust Co., Hyattsville, Md., and at the same time sign an agreement with the bank that each allotment will be immediately turned over to Federal Services. Thus, the serviceman does not make an allotment to a finance company directly, but indirectly accomplishes an act that is forbidden by military regulations.

In more than 1,000 cases, Suburban Trust Co. is holding funds for Federal Services borrowers who cannot be located. These funds total more than $86,000. These funds are above moneys which were forwarded by the bank to Federal Services for repayment of loans. In some cases, the servicemen mistakenly made out allotments for more money than was required to meet their monthly repayment schedules to Federal Services. In other cases the servicemen mistakenly believed that it would be to their advantage to accelerate their repayments.

It is impossible for me to believe that the owners of this $86,000 are aware of this situation and are content with having the money remain on deposit in Suburban Trust, without drawing any interest. I find it hard to believe, as is one case, that a serviceman who for the most part is underpaid, would deposit more than $1,000 in a bank on a non-interest-drawing basis and forget about it, especially if the $1,000 were built up over a 20-month period involving excess payments of $53 a month.

It is my sincere feeling that every effort should be made to locate the owners of these excess funds. As Members of Congress, we have a deep obligation to provide guidance to servicemen in the field of consumer credit, and we are further obligated to see that the serviceman is not treated as a "second-class citizen" in financial matters.

The experience of Suburban Trust in the area of unclaimed funds points up the need for a national clearinghouse of dormant accounts. The agency would handle dormant accounts for such institutions as banks, savings and loans, finance companies, credit unions, and any other organization which might be holding funds for persons who cannot be located without a great deal of time and expense. Gas, water and electrical companies would be a good example of public utilities which could avail themselves of a national clearinghouse. These public utilities would be able to use the clearinghouse to help locate customers who have made deposits for services and then moved without leaving a forwarding address.

The clearinghouse would not act to determine who was the rightful owner of any unclaimed funds, but would only provide information so as to help the courts, if necessary, to determine the rightful owner of the money.

WRIGHT PATMAN, Chairman.

EXCESS PAYMENTS BY SERVICEMEN ON LOAN ACCOUNTS

An investigation by the subcommittee has revealed that $86,752.88 in unclaimed funds is being held in Suburban Trust Co., Hyattsville, Md., as a result of overpayment of servicemen allotments designed to repay loans from Federal Services Finance Corp.

Under an agreement between Suburban Trust, a commercial bank, and Federal Services, a serviceman who has a loan from Federal Services is encouraged (often required) to repay the loan via allotments to Suburban Trust Co. Federal Services pays the bank 25 cents a month for each allotment.

Normally, these allotments are involved in a "washout" transaction. This means that the serviceman who is to repay Federal Services $50 a month for 24 months will make out an allotment for $50 a month and it will be forwarded by the military to Suburban Trust and deposited in the serviceman's account. It is immediately withdrawn and forwarded to Federal Services. Thus, the account is normally dormant and without funds except for 1 or 2 days a month.

ATTEMPTS TO LOCATE FAIL

At the present time, Suburban Trust has 1,090 accounts dating back to 1960 that did not wash out each month, and attempts to locate the owners of these accounts have failed. Suburban Trust is not able to explain all of the non-washout accounts, but it is believed that the reason for the excess funds involves a mistake on the part of the servicemen in making out their allotments or in the inability of the servicemen to cancel the allotment after a final payment has been made on a Federal Services loan. In many cases, a serviceman who is repaying a loan with a 20-month maturity will not cancel that allotment in time to prevent a "21st payment." In other cases, he is not aware that an extra payment has been made. Some servicemen fill out allotments by mistake in amounts greater than the required monthly repayment of the loan and others believe that by accelerating their payments they would be refunded any unused interest if the loan was paid off ahead of time. However, in these cases, Suburban Trust only forwarded the stated monthly payment to Federal Services. There are instances where a serviceman has funds in two dormant accounts.

Officials of Suburban Trust have informed the subcommittee staff that they have made attempts to reach the more than 1,000 unlocated depositors and at one point asked the military services for help in locating these people. According to Suburban Trust, the military did not respond to the request. However, this request was not made until February 1965.

Suburban Trust indicated that they did not attempt to obtain a nearest relative or permanent home address of the unlocated depositors from Federal Services, nor did they periodically advise the more than 1,000 excess depositors that a nonwashout deposit was building up in their accounts. Suburban Trust officials admitted to the subcommittee staff that a periodic audit of the excess funds and a notification to the depositors probably would have prevented this situation.

The funds in each unclaimed account range from an excess balance of $2 to $1,119.75. The average amount for each account is $79.59.

It is interesting to note how these excess funds accumulated. In the case of the largest balance, $1,119.75, the serviceman made payments (above his loan repayment) of roughly $80 per month for a 13-month period. He apparently was never notified that he was depositing more money than was necessary for repayment of a Federal Services loan, nor did the bank ask for instructions as to what to do with the extra money. Another case involves a soldier who made excess payments of $3 a month over a 32-month period, building his backlog of funds to $96. The excess payment time period of the accounts ranges from 1 month to 32 months. None of the excess accounts draw any interest from Suburban Trust and, at the present time, no service charge is being levied against these accounts. However, Suburban Trust officials have stated that they are allowed, under Maryland law, to charge a service account for as long as 20 years. Although the bank does not attach a service charge, it still receives a great deal of benefit from the funds since it can use the money for lending purposes, subject to meeting the normal demand deposit reserve requirements.

Following is a list of accounts of servicemen that Suburban Trust has been unable to locate. In some cases the branch of service for the account holder was not known and in others incomplete or no military serial numbers were provided.
