FOREWORD

Public Law 92–198 continues the basic concept of pension for non-service connected disability or death of a war veteran based on "need" of the beneficiary but substitutes a new formula approach for the previous statutory tables of pension rates and income limitations.

The formula is designed to preclude the loss of aggregate income when a pensioner might receive an increase in income from another source, regardless of the source.

Public Law 92–197 likewise incorporates a formula to be employed in determining payments of Dependency and Indemnity Compensation to parents. This will substantially obviate any adverse effect on such payments by reason of increases in Social Security or other income and permit a higher aggregate income available to the parent, subject only to the maximum income limitation.

Under the formulae, a maximum monthly rate is specified for each type of benefit. As income increases, the formula provides for reduction of benefits by a specified number of cents per dollar, with those receiving the greatest amount of pension having a smaller reduction applied and with the amount of the cents reduction increasing through groupings as income increases.

VANCE HARTKE,
Chairman, Committee on Veterans' Affairs.

LIBERALIZATION OF BENEFITS
[PUBLIC LAW 92–197 AND PUBLIC LAW 92–198]

I. Rate Increases

A. PENSION

(1) Computation formula.—Public Law 92–198 establishes a new method of paying pension effective on January 1, 1972. Rates are based on annual income with the maximum rate being reduced on the basis of a formula for each additional dollar by which the payee's income exceeds the minimal amount warranting the maximum rate.

(a) All income limits are increased by $300, except for children for whom the $2,000 limit (unearned) has not been changed:

Veteran or widow alone, from $2,300 to $2,600.

Veteran or widow with dependent(s), from $3,500 to $3,800.

Note: Although there has been no change in old law pension rates, the income limitations are increased from $1,900 and $3,200 to $2,200 and $3,500, respectively.

(b) As countable income increases, the monthly rate is decreased by a specified number of cents for each dollar of annual income. The reduction factors are variable in that they increase as outside income increases. Rate tables show the rates at even $100 intervals with the reduction (decrement) factors for the dollar amounts in excess of the full $100 levels. The law provides, therefore, for pension rates in fractional dollars.

For example, a veteran with one dependent, with countable income other than pension of $3,399, will receive monthly pension computed in the following manner:

$900 500	$3,200 900	$3,399 3,200
$400×0.02¢=$8	$2,300×0.03¢=$69	$199×0.05¢=$9.95

The above italicized figures added produce a total of $86.56, which is then subtracted from $140 (the maximum monthly for this category of pensioner), to provide for payment of pension in this case in the amount of $53.05. This veteran, under current law, is eligible for a pension payment of $50, therefore he will receive a monthly increase of $3.05.

(2) New rates.—The increase in rates is sufficient to assure that no pensioner will receive less pension solely as the result of the increase in his social security provided by Public Law 92-5.

(a) Rates for the continued maximum of three dependents of a veteran pensioner now apply throughout the pension scale. Additional amounts for these dependents are no longer limited to a veteran whose income is $1,000 or less.

(b) The rate for a widow with a child (or children) will never be less than $42 (plus $17 for each additional child) as long as her income is within the $3,800 limit; that is, when her income is $3,634 or more, but not in excess of the $3,800 limit.

(c) Children's rates have been increased from $40 to $42 for a child alone and from $16 to $17 for each additional child in excess of one.

B. DEPENDENCY AND INDEMNITY COMPENSATION (AND PARENTS' DEATH COMPENSATION)

(1) Public Law 92–197 provides for increased rates for DIC parents, widows, and children.

(a) The rates for parents will be determined on the basis of a formula, similar to the pension formulas in Public Law 92–198, as explained in subparagraph a(1) above, with income limits also increased by $300, from $2,300 and $3,500 to $2,600 and $3,800, respectively.

(b) Widows' rates, as determined by the veteran's pay grade, are increased by 10 percent; with the rate for each child under age 18, where there is a widow, increased from $20 to $22.

(c) The additional and separate rates for children over age 18, where there is a widow, are increased for a helpless child from $88 to $92, and for a school child from $45 to $47.

(d) The rates for DIC children alone are increased to $92 for one child, $133 for two children, $172 for three children with $34 for each additional child in excess of three. The additional payment to a helpless child where there is no widow, is increased from $32 to $55. Although this figure is the same as the aid and attendance allowance for widows, the criteria for payment continues to be "incapable of self-support."

For example, in the case of two parents living together, the beneficiaries might have joint countable income of $3,453. Their DIC payment will be computed as follows:

$1,300	$3,400	$3,453
1,000	1,300	3,400
$300×1¢=$3	$2,100×2¢=$42	$53×3¢=$1.59

The above italicized figures added produce a total of $46.59, which is then subtracted from the maximum monthly rate of $67, to provide for payment of DIC to these dependent parents in the amount of $20.41. Under current law, these parents are eligible to receive $10 per month, an increase under Public Law 92–197 of $10.41 per month.

(2) Aid and attendance benefits for parents:

Effective January 1, 1972, parents in receipt of DIC or death compensation who are found to be in need of regular aid and attendance of another person are entitled to increased benefits of $55 monthly.

(a) The existing criteria applicable to determining entitlement of widows for this benefit will be applicable to parents' claims.

(b) If the parent is also a veteran, adjustment of DIC benefits because of VA hospitalization will be in accordance with VA regulation.

(c) VA regulations will apply to parents' claims for aid and attendance.

II. Apportionment of Death Cases

The VA is in the process of changing regulations for the purpose of disposition of the fractions of a cent and odd cents which occur from time to time in apportionment computations. The total apportioned share of death pension or compensation, or DIC payable for the children not in the widow's custody will be deducted from the total amount payable (for the widow and all children) and she will be paid the balance.

III. Loss of Dependent

Public Law 92–198 amends 38 U.S.C. 3012(b)(2) to provide that the effective date of reduction or termination of compensation, DIC, pension or educational assistance, because of the loss of a dependent by reason of marriage, divorce or death, will be the last day of the calendar year in which such marriage, divorce, or death occurred.

This liberalization applies to the prime payee's (veteran or widow) award and not to any award to or for a dependent of a payee. The apportionee-award for the dependent will be terminated under current regulations.

Note: In DIC cases, where there is a widow, each school or helpless child (over age 18) receives his benefit under an additional and separate award and his marriage or death has no effect on the widow's award.

(1) This liberalized end-of-year (or earlier date) rule applies only to reductions or terminations and will not prevent veterans or a widow from receiving an increased rate when the "lost" dependent is receiving an apportioned share. In such instances, the rate for the veteran or widow without this dependent, will be computed and compared with the amount paid during the apportionment.

(a) If the rate for the veteran or widow without this dependent is greater than the apportioned rate, the veteran or widow (prime) award will be increased as of the date of termination of the apportionment.

(b) If the apportioned rate is greater, the prime award will be amended to continue the apportioned rate to the appropriate future, by establishing the prospective reduction, as provided in foregoing subparagraph (1).

(2) If additional benefits are paid based upon a child over age 18 attending school, and the child marries but continues in school, the additional benefits will be payable to the end of the calendar year or earlier date of termination of the enrollment, as appropriate. If, however, the child discontinues school before or after marrying, the additional benefits will be discontinued at the end of the month in which the child last attended school.

(3) Other contingencies, such as hospitalization reduction for this veteran as having no dependent, will continue to be subject to current regulations, applying the factual dependency status.

IV. Mexican Border Period

As amended by this legislation, 38 U.S.C. 101(30) provides that Mexican border period service qualifies as wartime service for a veteran with service during the period beginning on May 9, 1916, and ending on April 5, 1917, who served 1 or more days during such period in Mexico, on the borders thereof, or in the waters adjacent thereto as defined by VA regulation.

(a) For disability or death pension purposes, a veteran who has qualifying MBP service must also have a total of 90 days' active wartime service or otherwise meet the service requirements of 38 U.S.C. 521.

(b) This amendment will permit combining (tacking) the MBP service of less than 90 days required for pension.

(c) This will also permit payment of burial allowance if the veteran had at least 1 day of Mexican border period service.

V. Effective Date

All provisions of these laws are effective January 1, 1972.

TABLE XIV

How to use Charts A and B

1. Select from chart A the rate for the $100 income increment applicable after disregarding the dollars which are a fraction of $100.
2. Subtract from this the rate payable at the next higher even $100 level. This is the reduction factor.
3. On chart B, locate the fractional $100 amount which was disregarded in step 1. Select the number opposite this under the reduction factor determined in step 2. Subtract this from the rate from step 1 to determine the pension rate.
