FOREWORD

It is a longstanding practice of the Small Business Committee of the House of Representatives to publish at the close of each Congress a cumulative compilation of its hearings, reports, and committee prints, together with a listing of committee members.

The great number of requests for copies of this publication received from Members of Congress, small businessmen and their associations, universities, other educational institutions and libraries, as well as the public generally, demonstrates the need for continuing this publication.

This current issue covers the full span of the committee's 33-year history since its beginning in 1941. As in the past, it is completely indexed alphabetically and by Congress. The additional listing for the 93d Congress brings the cumulative total to 157 series of hearings and 194 reports.

This compilation reflects the continuing efforts of the committee to search out and help solve the problems faced by this Nation's small businessman.

It is hoped that this publication will continue to provide a source of information which will be useful as a reference for Members of Congress and for others who have an interest in small business.

JOE L. EVINS, M.C.,
Chairman, Permanent Select Committee on Small Business,
U.S. House of Representatives.

DECEMBER 1974.
