The Honorable Abraham Ribicoff
Chairman
Senate Governmental Affairs Committee
3308 Dirksen Senate Office Building
Washington, D.C. 20510

Dear Chairman Ribicoff:

President Carter on 25 February ordered a government-wide, zero-base review of Federal advisory committees.

As a result of that review, the President announced initial reductions in May and further reductions in August which would eliminate 480 advisory committees, or 40 percent of the 1,189 committees reviewed.

The reductions would be accomplished by eliminating 261 committees--including 21 which were created by statute--and by consolidating 297 others into 78 committees.

I have introduced the Administration's bill, S. 2088, the "Advisory Committee Termination Act of 1977," to repeal the authority for 21 statutory committees which the President believes are no longer carrying out the purposes for which they were established.

The Subcommittee on Reports, Accounting and Management has scheduled hearings on the Administration's bill and three others which would amend the Federal Advisory Committee Act.

So that the Congress and the public will know the reasons for and results of the President's advisory committee reduction program, I ask that the details of the program--including a listing of terminated, consolidated and surviving advisory committees--be published as a committee print.

Very truly yours,

FOREWORD

On 25 February, President Carter ordered "a government-wide, zero-base review of all advisory committees," with the presumption that all committees should be abolished except those

- (1) for which there is a compelling need;
- (2) which have truly balanced membership; and
- (3) which conduct their business as openly as possible consistent with the law and their mandate.

On 24 August, the President announced that he was approving reductions in the number of Federal advisory committees that would eliminate 480 committees, or 40 percent of the 1,189 committees reviewed.

He said the reductions would be accomplished by eliminating 261 committees and by consolidating 297 others into 78 committees.

The committees subjected to the President's zero-base review included the 1,159 which existed on 31 December, 1976 and 30 established in 1977.

To implement the reduction program, I introduced the Administration's bill, S. 2088, known as the "Advisory Committee Termination Act of 1977," on 13 September. It would repeal the authority for 21 advisory committees that were created by law.

The Subcommittee on Reports, Accounting and Management will hold hearings soon on S. 2088 and on three bills-- S. 1329, S. 1838 and S. 1847--to amend the Federal Advisory Committee Act.

To facilitate the subcommittee's consideration of these bills, the details of the President's advisory committee reduction program are being published as a committee print.

It includes statements, memorandums and other documents issued by the White House, and listings of terminated and surviving advisory committees compiled by the Office of Management and Budget.

AUGUST 24, 1977

Office of the White House Press Secretary

THE WHITE HOUSE

The President today approved a further reduction in the number of federal advisory committees that, together with previous reductions, eliminates 480 committees, or 40 percent, of the 1,189 reviewed.

The reductions will be accomplished by eliminating 261 committees and by consolidating 297 others into 78 committees.

It is estimated that terminating 261 committees will save $14.6 million; additional savings will result from the committee consolidations.

Of the 261 committees to be eliminated, 19 were established by statute, 5 by executive order and 237 by authority of the various departments and agencies. The President has signed an executive order that terminates the five committees created by Presidential directive. A legislative proposal to Congress to terminate the 19 committees created by statute is being drafted.

On May 25, the President announced that an initial review had resulted in a reduction of 304 committees. At that time, the President directed all departments and agencies to intensify their review of advisory committees and to rethink the need for committees remaining. This further review increased the number of committees to be eliminated by 176.

In a memo to heads of executive departments and agencies, the President commended these officials for their part in this effort "to make the government more effective and efficient."

"The actions necessary to carry out the recommended terminations and consolidations should be completed as soon as possible," the President said. "In addition, you should continue to give your personal attention to assuring that committees are terminated when no longer necessary."

MEMORANDUM FOR THE HEADS OF

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENTS AND AGENCIES

SUBJECT: Advisory Committee Review

We have completed the reviews of Federal Advisory committees directed by my memoranda of February 25 and May 24, 1977.

I am pleased that, as a result of the actions recommended, the 1,189 advisory committees reviewed will be reduced by 480 or forty percent of the total. I commend you for your part in this effort to make the government more effective and efficient.

The actions necessary to carry out the recommended terminations and consolidations should be completed as soon as possible. In addition, you should continue to give your personal attention to assuring that committees are terminated when no longer necessary, and that new committees are established only when absolutely necessary.

ADVISORY COMMITTEES REORGANIZATION

MEMO FOR: EDITORS, NEWS DIRECTORS

FROM: The Media Liaison Office
The White House

Because governmental reorganization is a long-term project, we plan to send you background reports as it progresses. Here is a report on actions stemming from President Carter's directive to reduce the number of advisory committees within the Federal Government. The President has approved a 40% reduction of the advisory committees that were reviewed. If you have questions, please contact Patricia Rario or Jim Purks, Media Liaison Office, 202/456-6623 or 2947.

BACKGROUND

On February 25, the President ordered "a government-wide, zero-based review of all advisory committees." The President said: "Advisory committees can be of great value. They may contribute to the openness of governmental decision-making, and provide talent and opinions not otherwise available. However, many existing committees have outlived their usefulness, or are not providing truly balanced advice and recommendations."

On March 20, in a message to Congress, the President said that the total number of advisory committees "should be sharply reduced." He assigned to the Office of Management and Budget, his arm for reorganization, the overall responsibility for achieving the reductions.

On May 25, the White House announced that an initial review of federal departments and agencies resulted in a reduction of 304, or 26%, in the 1,189 committees reviewed. President Carter then directed federal department and agency heads to intensify their review and to return with additional recommendations on the need for committees left remaining.

NEW REDUCTIONS

There were 1,189 advisory committees when the review began, including the 1,159 in existence at the end of 1976 plus 30 committees which were created between then and March 30, 1977. About 20 additional advisory committees have been created during the review period.

- MORE -

The White House has now announced that President Carter has approved substantial further reductions in the number of federal advisory committees. Together with reductions announced earlier, the proposed eliminations and consolidations bring the overall reduction in the number of such committees to 480, or 40% of the 1,189 reviewed.

The reductions approved by the President are to be accomplished by elimination, in the case of 261 advisory committees, and by consolidation. A total of 297 committees are to be consolidated to 78.

IMPLEMENTATION

Committees to be terminated:

- 19 created by statute (Bills abolishing these committees will be submitted to Congress)
- 5 created by Executive Order (Executive Orders rescinding these committees will be issued)
- 237 created by agency authority (Presidential memoranda are being sent to the agencies directing them to terminate these committees)

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q: What are some examples of advisory committees that are recommended for elimination?

A: Here are some recommended for elimination, picked at random as examples: Advisory Council on Environmental Education, Board of Tea Experts, National Advisory Council on Nurses Training, Administrator's Advisory Committee on Cemeteries and Memorials, President's Advisory Board on International Investment, Advisory Committee on Salmonella, Cattle Industry Advisory Board, Condor Advisory Committee, Lyndon B. Johnson National Grasslands Advisory Board, National Peanut Advisory Committee, Semiconductor Manufacturing and Test Equipment Technical Advisory Committee, Advisory Group on the Utilization of Gravimetric Data, Consulting Group on Welfare Reform, Panel on Review of Skin Test Antigens, Hot Springs National Park Examining Board for Technicians, Committee on the Selection of the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Citizens Advisory Council on the Status of Women, Advisory Committee on Transportation Related Signs and Symbols, Commandant's Advisory Committee on Marine Corps History.

Q: What was the reason for terminating any particular committee?

A: Committees were terminated because it was determined, as a result of these reviews, that they did not meet the criteria for continuation: ". . .those (1) for which there is a compelling need; (2) which will have truly balanced membership; and (3) which conduct their business as openly as possible consistent with the law and their mandate."

Q: How much money will be saved as a result of these reductions?

A: We do not have precise figures, but the Fifth Annual Report of the President reported that the estimated cost of each advisory committee, during 1977, is $56,000 (which included salary, travel and per diem allowances for committee members, staff support costs, printing, etc.). On that basis, terminating 261 committees would result in savings of $14.6 million, and additional savings should result from consolidations.

Q: How much are members of advisory committees paid?

A: It varies: The Federal Advisory Committee Act permits the payment of members up to the daily rate of a GS-18 (about $184). However, unless required to do otherwise, some agencies (State and Commerce) generally do not pay members, and HEW generally pays members $100 per day.

Q: How many people served on these committees?

A: Again, we do not have precise figures, but in 1976 the average number of members per committee was 19. On that basis, about 5,000 people were serving on the 261 committees to be terminated.

Q: What is the total cost of advisory committees to the Federal government?

A: The Fifth Annual Report of the President estimated that the cost of advisory committees would be about $65 million in calendar year 1977.

Q: Is this reduction in the number of advisory committees consistent with the Administration's emphasis on openness and citizen participation?

A: Yes, it is consistent with that emphasis to eliminate committees which have out-lived their usefulness, to obtain advice through open meetings rather than through standing committees, to consolidate committees and to eliminate duplication, thereby improving their competency and efficiency. In fact, this will make access easier and more focused.

Q: Have any new committees been established in recent months?

A: Yes, about 20 new committees have been established since the review time. Some were required by law (Agriculture's National Forest Management Act Committee of Scientists), some were established by Executive Order (President's Commission on Military Compensation), and some were established under agency authority (HUD's Task Force on the Future of the Federal Housing Administration).

Q: Isn't the establishment of new committees inconsistent with the effort to terminate committees?

A: No. The objective was to terminate unnecessary committees. As the President indicated in his February 25th directive, "Advisory committees can be of great value. They may contribute to the 'openness' of governmental decision-making, and provide talent and opinion not otherwise available."
