MOURNING THE LOSS OF FORMER CONGRESSMAN JAMES C. CLEVELAND

(Mr. BASS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. BASS. Mr. Speaker, New Hampshire today mourns the loss yesterday of former Congressman James C. Cleveland. Congressman Cleveland served ably from the Second Congressional District in New Hampshire from 1963 until 1980, when he retired and his seat was taken by now Senator JUDD GREGG.

Congressman Cleveland was a conservationist, a sportsman, an attorney. Indeed, he set up a law practice with my uncle in Concord in the fifties. I think what is most important to us was that Congressman Cleveland represented in the sixties and seventies many of the values that we as Republicans now hold dear to us, fiscal conservatism and a concern for the environment as well.

Mr. Speaker, I am saddened by the loss of Congressman Cleveland. He was a political ally. He was an adviser. But, most important to me, he was a dear friend.

SPECIAL ORDERS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the Speaker's announced policy of May 12, 1995, and under a previous order of the House, the following Members will be recognized for 5 minutes each.

FREE THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from the District of Columbia [Ms. NORTON] is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. NORTON. Mr. Speaker, according to this morning's paper, the majority leader of the Senate, Mr. DOLE, said, and I am quoting him, concerning a Federal Government shutdown, "I don't believe we should shut down the Government. I think it would be a mistake. I do not believe it should happen. I don't believe it will happen."

I think the majority leader is probably right. The Congress would be insane or close to it to shut the Government down 10 days before Christmas. A lot of folks who are not Federal employees and are nowhere close to Federal employees would regard that as the act that deserved the Scrooge Award of 1995.

But will the Congress overlook the District of Columbia and allow it the short continuing resolution that I am certain will come for Federal employees? My prediction is you will probably let the Government stay open until we get back from the recess.

Mr. Speaker, I am here to explain that for the District, that does almost nothing, because we are not a Federal agency. We are a city of almost 600,000 people, and you cannot run a complicated city, down on its luck, with 2- and 3-week continuing resolutions. You then have to calibrate how much money you spend on the basis of for example, if it is 2 weeks, one-fourteenth, so you do not overobligate. With the city in the financial condition it is in, that should be unthinkable.

There is a very special congressional responsibility, therefore, to release in the next continuing resolution the District's money, raised solely in the District, until such time as an appropriation bill has been signed. I would hope that an appropriation bill will be signed before December 15. But, very frankly, our appropriation is stuck on stupid. It is stuck up here on controversial issues having nothing to do with the wishes of the people of the District of Columbia. So I cannot guarantee that by December 15 our appropriation will be signed.

I have a bill that would allow the District to spend its own money until such time as an appropriation bill is signed. That way we would have the flexibility to run the city. Otherwise, we are put in the position where, if unfunded mandates such as AFDC have to be matched on time, as they do, and a payroll has to be paid on time, as it does, we could overobligate.

The Congress has been most critical of the District for what it says has been overobligation in the past. The last thing the Congress, I am sure, would like to do, is put the District in the position where it is between the hardest rock and the worst hard place, where it had unfunded mandates and funded mandates that it had to meet and had no way to meet them because it can only spend a certain percentage of its funds.

The Washington Post said in an editorial recently:

House Speaker Gingrich, Subcommittee on D.C. Appropriations Chairman Jim Walsh and other Congressional leaders who seek to bring financial order to this city should see the importance of separating the local functions as well as the responsibilities of the Control Board and chief financial officer from Federal stalemates. If their concern for the District's financial stability is genuine, they should press for immediate enactment of a continuing resolution, as well as for protections against any more situations like this.

Shutting the District down, when its own money is here only because the Congress requires it to come here, not because the Congress provides it, is an outrage. I ask this body, if and when such time should come that a continuing continuing resolution is needed to keep Federal agencies going, and if that continuing resolution is a short-term continuing resolution, that you allow the District to spend its own money—and about 80 percent of the money in our appropriation is raised by hard working D.C. taxpayers in the District of Columbia—and that you allow that money to be spent, so that the District will not be thrown into worse financial shape than is already the case.

That is not what this body desires. This body has been working beneficially with the District. So has the Financial Authority. We do not need another setback. I acknowledge that the District is responsible for many of its own problems, but the fact is, it is trying to get hold of those problems now. The District should not be thrown into further disarray because the Congress goes into short-term continuing resolutions, overlooking the difference between HHS, the State Department, and HUD and the District of Columbia.

The District is a living, breathing city that has suffered tremendously throughout this period. It is the innocent bystanders for whom I speak now, not the Mayor, not the City Council and not the Delegate, but the hard working residents who pay taxes in the District of Columbia. Free the District of Columbia.

PERMISSION FOR COMMITTEE ON WAYS AND MEANS TO HAVE UNTIL MIDNIGHT TONIGHT TO FILE REPORT ON H.R. 2684, THE SENIOR CITIZENS RIGHT TO WORK ACT OF 1995

Mr. BASS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that the Committee on Ways and Means may have until midnight tonight to file a report to accompany H.R. 2684, the Senior Citizens Right to Work Act of 1995.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from New Hampshire?

There was no objection.

ILL-ADVISED MISSION IN BOSNIA SHOULD BE ABANDONED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the Speaker's announced policy of May 12, 1995, the gentleman from Missouri [Mr. SKELTON] is recognized for 60 minutes as the designee of the minority leader.

Mr. SKELTON. Mr. Speaker, Friday evening, the Vice President was on ABC News "Nightline." In his comments, the Vice President stated that the task of bringing peace to Bosnia would be done at a minimal risk to American troops. This would be true, but for one provision to which the administration has signed up: namely, the guaranteeing and coordinating of the arming and training of one of the belligerents.

According to testimony by Secretary of State Warren Christopher, our Government policy is supervising—that is, guaranteeing and coordinating—the arming and training of Bosnian Moslem forces. This is a flawed and dangerous policy. It gives the appearance that we favor one side of this bitter internal struggle over another. It makes our Government appear to be a combatant. We cannot be both a combatant and a peacekeeper.

This policy of arming and training Bosnian Moslems—even through a third party, but guaranteed and supervised by us—concerns me greatly. Three points are to be considered:

First, already, there exists a parity between the warring factions, the Serbs on the one hand and the Croat-Moslem Federation on the other. Note the recent battlefield successes by the Federation. Further, the Moslems have been receiving arms by way of Croatia for some time.

Second, our allies are not in favor of arming and training the Moslem forces. The French and British, in particular, are against it. This was pointed out in news reports Thursday morning.

Third, the arming and training of the Moslem forces, quoting the Vice President: "we are going to see that it happens * * * we commit to making sure that is going to happen."

Mr. Speaker, this is a flawed policy. The Vice President concedes that it would be wrong for the American troops to directly arm and train the Bosnian Moslems, as it would destroy the even-handedness and perception of even-handedness of our troops in the field. I say that the United States guaranteeing and coordinating this effort is just as bad. Having America in charge of this effort—having other countries or other persons contracted to do the job—still destroys the even-handedness and perception of even-handedness of our Americans in uniform. This policy has red, white, and blue stamped all over it. This policy paints each American soldier with a bulls'-eye target.

In order for peacekeeping to work, there must be trust—trust of the former belligerents in the impartiality of the peacekeepers. This trust and confidence will not exist so long as our Government pursues the policy of supervising the arming and training of the Moslems. It is one thing, in the words of Secretary of Defense William Perry, to "be the meanest dog in town." It is another not to have to fight at all.

The U.S. Army Field Manual, regarding peacekeeping, states: "Peacekeeping requires an impartial, even-handed approach." Our National Security Committee heard testimony from retired generals and others who stressed the need for peacekeepers to be neutral, to be even-handed.

Soon, our American soldiers, some 20,000 of them, will arrive in Bosnia as peacekeepers between the three warring sides: the Croats, the Bosnian Serbs, and the Bosnian Moslems. A few weeks ago, in a White House meeting, Deputy Secretary of State Strobe Talbot told me of plans for the U.S. Government to arm and train the Bosnian Moslems. Being concerned with this policy, I wrote a letter to the President on October 31, criticizing this stance. After the peace agreement was signed, I wrote another letter on November 22. After I, along with several others, criticized this plan—which would clearly put our troops in danger by destroying their required impartiality—a new plan to arm and train then appeared. This new arrangement is one of farming out, contracting out, laundering out the task to third parties.

There is nothing in the Dayton peace agreement, initiated by the three belligerents, that requires the United States to arm and train anyone. This slightly altered policy still violates the required impartiality of the United States, and that lack of impartiality will be transferred to our soldiers serving as peacekeepers.

Ordinary military risk is one thing; inviting vengeance against our troops is another.

Those who came up with this wrong-headed policy should learn the wisdom of the Missouri Ozarks: "Those who aid my enemy become my enemy." The Serbs will look upon American troops as enemies and the Moslems will expect favors.

Bosnia is a snake pit of anger, hatred, and vengeance. We are putting our troops in a snake pit while we are angering half the snakes. This policy could well be a death warrant for scores of American men and women in uniform. Taking sides in previous peacekeeping efforts—1983 in Beirut and 1993 in Mogadishu—brought tragedy to Americans in uniform. We should learn from the past.

The President agreed to furnish 20,000 troops for peacekeeping—not 20,000 targets for vengeance.

Remember, this is the Balkans, the scene of centuries of hate, centuries of killing, and centuries of vengeance. I, for one, see no reason for American troops to be made victims of vengeance because of this wrong-headed policy of arming and training the Moslems.

As a matter of fact, our troops have not been forewarned of the additional security risk that our policy could bring. On December 1, I wrote the Secretary of Defense a letter, urging his Department to issue memorandums to the soldiers to be on extra alert, as this policy puts them at higher risk.

I understand the need for America to assume a leadership role in the world. I understand the need for America to be the leader of NATO. But I do not understand why American troops will be inserted into this war-torn country as both peacekeepers and combatants. The credibility of American soldiers as impartial peacekeepers will be lost.

I urge this administration to abandon this policy, as it will undoubtedly bring needless loss of life and injury to our fine troops in Bosnia.

I include for the RECORD my letters dated October 31, November 22, and December 1.

CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES,
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
Washington, DC, October 31, 1995.

THE PRESIDENT,
The White House, Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. PRESIDENT: Please know that I very much want to help you in supporting the promising Bosnian peace initiative. However, I have great concerns about the effort to equip and train the Bosnian Muslims, especially while U.S. troops are operating in Bosnia.

I believe the "equip and train" effort corrupts the implementation force (IFOR) as a neutral peace force, and needlessly places the lives of American troops at risk. The effort will cause America to be perceived as a party to the conflict in the eyes of the Bosnian Serbs, their friends, and their allies. There will be no avoiding it, even if an attempt is made to keep the effort separate from IFOR. The message received in the region will be clear: American troops are not in Bosnia to implement a peace agreement, but rather to protect the Bosnian Muslims.

The purpose of the "equip and train" effort is to establish military parity. However, given what has happened in Bosnia over the last three months, I question the assertion that a military imbalance exists. On the contrary, I suggest a regional military balance has existed for sometime. Furthermore, I sense that the warring factions have grown weary of prolonging the fight.

We are walking down the dangerous path toward an arms race in Bosnia just at the time when American troops will attempt to bring peace to an area suffering from a savage war. Will not the Russians respond to the cries of their ethnic cousins, the Bosnian Serbs, who fear being driven from their homes in the future by a menacing Bosnian Muslim force? Our effort to equip and train Bosnian Muslims could bring more war to the region.

No matter how we try to separate it from IFOR, the effort to equip and train will have "RED, WHITE, AND BLUE" written all over it. This would jeopardize the safety of U.S. forces. The Serb partisans will have an incentive to make American troops pay the price, and American troops will become the object of Serb anger and acts of vengeance.

Therefore, I believe that we should defer any effort to equip and train until IFOR departs the country. My suggestion keeps faith with the Bosnian Muslims without needlessly jeopardizing the lives of American troops.

Again, Mr. President, I want to help you bring peace to Bosnia. But I would find it difficult to support U.S. participation in IFOR should we embark on the dangerous path of equipping and training Bosnian Muslims.

Sincerely,
IKE SKELTON,
Member of Congress.

CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES,
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
Washington, DC, November 22, 1995.

THE PRESIDENT,
The White House, Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. PRESIDENT: Now that a Bosnian peace agreement has been reached, our attention turns to the impending deployment of American troops to Bosnia as peacekeepers. With the proposal for American military participation in the implementation force, it is critical that Congress have the answer to the question I have raised with you and members of your Administration over the past few weeks. The question is:

Will the U.S. government or any of its allies supply training, armaments or equipment, either directly or indirectly, to any of the belligerents or former belligerents between now and the end of our troop involvement in Bosnia?

I ask the question because we have had the sad experience of American forces being viewed as favoring one side over another in previous conflicts, resulting in American injuries and deaths. I refer to Beirut in 1983 and Mogadishu in 1993. This is especially important in light of the news report on the BBC this morning that the Bosnian Serb leadership is sharply divided on this agreement.

I would appreciate hearing from you.

Very truly yours,
IKE SKELTON,
Member of Congress.

CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES,
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
Washington, DC, December 1, 1995.

Hon. WILLIAM J. PERRY,
The Secretary of Defense, Washington, DC.

DEAR SECRETARY PERRY: If the U.S. Department of State insists on arming and training the Croat-Muslim Federation—with an American guarantee and coordination of the effort, as testified to by Secretary Christopher yesterday—will the 20,000 American soldiers in the Bosnia-Herzegovina region be forewarned of this additional security risk? Will they be informed of the possibility of vengeful acts by the Serbs, or of hostilities from Muslims expecting but denied favorable treatment?

This is a major security issue. I urge the Department of Defense to issue memoranda to each soldier to be on extra alert, as this State Department policy will put them at higher risk.

Please respond at your earliest convenience. Thank you.

Sincerely,

IKE SKELTON,
Member of Congress.

"(a) REQUIREMENTS FOR RELIEF.—

"(1) PROSPECTIVE RELIEF.—(A) Prospective relief in any civil action with respect to prison conditions shall extend no further than necessary to correct the violation of the Federal right of a particular plaintiff or plaintiffs. The court shall not grant or approve any prospective relief unless the court finds that such relief is narrowly drawn, extends no further than necessary to correct the violation of the Federal right, and is the least intrusive means necessary to correct the violation of the Federal right. The court shall give substantial weight to any adverse impact on public safety or the operation of a criminal justice system caused by the relief.

"(B) The court shall not order any prospective relief that requires or permits a government official to exceed his or her authority under State or local law or otherwise violates State or local law, unless—

"(i) Federal law permits such relief to be ordered in violation of State or local law;

"(ii) the relief is necessary to correct the violation of a Federal right; and

"(iii) no other relief will correct the violation of the Federal right.

"(C) Nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize the courts, in exercising their remedial powers, to order the construction of prisons or the raising of taxes, or to repeal or detract from otherwise applicable limitations on the remedial powers of the courts.

"(2) PRELIMINARY INJUNCTIVE RELIEF.—In any civil action with respect to prison conditions, to the extent otherwise authorized by law, the court may enter a temporary restraining order or an order for preliminary injunctive relief. Preliminary injunctive relief must be narrowly drawn, extend no further than necessary to correct the harm the court finds requires preliminary relief, and be the least intrusive means necessary to correct that harm. The court shall give substantial weight to any adverse impact on public safety or the operation of a criminal justice system caused by the preliminary relief and shall respect the principles of comity set out in paragraph (1)(B) in tailoring any preliminary relief. Preliminary injunctive relief shall automatically expire on the date that is 90 days after its entry, unless the court makes the findings required under subsection (a)(1) for the entry of prospective relief and makes the order final before the expiration of the 90-day period.

"(3) PRISONER RELEASE ORDER.—(A) In any civil action with respect to prison conditions, no prisoner release order shall be entered unless—

"(i) a court has previously entered an order for less intrusive relief that has failed to remedy the deprivation of the Federal right sought to be remedied through the prisoner release order; and

"(ii) the defendant has had a reasonable amount of time to comply with the previous court orders.

"(B) In any civil action in Federal court with respect to prison conditions, a prisoner release order shall be entered only by a three-judge court in accordance with section 2284 of title 28, if the requirements of subparagraph (E) have been met.

"(C) A party seeking a prisoner release order in Federal court shall file with any request for such relief, a request for a three-judge court and materials sufficient to demonstrate that the requirements of subparagraph (A) have been met.

"(D) If the requirements under subparagraph (A) have been met, a Federal judge before whom a civil action with respect to prison conditions is pending who believes that a prisoner release order should be considered may sua sponte request the convening of a three-judge court to determine whether a prisoner release order should be entered.

"(E) The three-judge court shall enter a prisoner release order only if the court finds by clear and convincing evidence that—

"(i) crowding is the primary cause of the violation of a Federal right; and

"(ii) no other relief will remedy the violation of the Federal right.

"(F) Any State or local official or unit of government whose jurisdiction or function includes the appropriation of funds for the construction, operation, or maintenance of program facilities, or the prosecution or custody of persons who may be released from, or not admitted to, a prison as a result of a prisoner release order shall have standing to oppose the imposition or continuation in effect of such relief and to seek termination of such relief, and shall have the right to intervene in any proceeding relating to such relief.

"(b) TERMINATION OF RELIEF.—

"(1) TERMINATION OF PROSPECTIVE RELIEF.—(A) In any civil action with respect to prison conditions in which prospective relief is ordered, such relief shall be terminable upon the motion of any party or intervenor—

"(i) 2 years after the date the court granted or approved the prospective relief;

"(ii) 1 year after the date the court has entered an order denying termination of prospective relief under this paragraph; or

"(iii) in the case of an order issued on or before the date of enactment of the Prison Litigation Reform Act, 2 years after such date of enactment.

"(B) Nothing in this section shall prevent the parties from agreeing to terminate or modify relief before the relief is terminated under subparagraph (A).

“(2) IMMEDIATE TERMINATION OF PROSPECTIVE RELIEF.—In any civil action with respect to prison conditions, a defendant or intervenor shall be entitled to the immediate termination of any prospective relief if the relief was approved or granted in the absence of a finding by the court that the relief is narrowly drawn, extends no further than necessary to correct the violation of the Federal right, and is the least intrusive means necessary to correct the violation of the Federal right.

“(3) LIMITATION.—Prospective relief shall not terminate if the court makes written findings based on the record that prospective relief remains necessary to correct a current or ongoing violation of the Federal right, extends no further than necessary to correct the violation of the Federal right, and that the prospective relief is narrowly drawn and the least intrusive means to correct the violation.

“(4) TERMINATION OR MODIFICATION OF RELIEF.—Nothing in this section shall prevent any party or intervenor from seeking modification or termination before the relief is terminable under paragraph (1) or (2), to the extent that modification or termination would otherwise be legally permissible.

“(c) SETTLEMENTS.—

“(1) CONSENT DECREES.—In any civil action with respect to prison conditions, the court shall not enter or approve a consent decree unless it complies with the limitations on relief set forth in subsection (a).

“(2) PRIVATE SETTLEMENT AGREEMENTS.—(A) Nothing in this section shall preclude parties from entering into a private settlement agreement that does not comply with the limitations on relief set forth in subsection (a), if the terms of that agreement are not subject to court enforcement other than the reinstatement of the civil proceeding that the agreement settled.

“(B) Nothing in this section shall preclude any party claiming that a private settlement agreement has been breached from seeking in State court any remedy available under State law.

“(d) STATE LAW REMEDIES.—The limitations on remedies in this section shall not apply to relief entered by a State court based solely upon claims arising under State law.

“(e) PROCEDURE FOR MOTIONS AFFECTING PROSPECTIVE RELIEF.—

“(1) GENERALLY.—The court shall promptly rule on any motion to modify or terminate prospective relief in a civil action with respect to prison conditions.

“(2) AUTOMATIC STAY.—Any prospective relief subject to a pending motion shall be automatically stayed during the period—

“(A)(i) beginning on the 30th day after such motion is filed, in the case of a motion made under paragraph (1) or (2) of subsection (b); or “(ii) beginning on the 180th day after such motion is filed, in the case of a motion made under any other law; and

“(B) ending on the date the court enters a final order ruling on the motion.

“(f) SPECIAL MASTERS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—(A) In any civil action in a Federal court with respect to prison conditions, the court may appoint a special master who shall be disinterested and objective and who will give due regard to the public safety, to conduct hearings on the record and prepare proposed findings of fact.

“(B) The court shall appoint a special master under this subsection during the remedial phase of the action only upon a finding that the remedial phase will be sufficiently complex to warrant the appointment.

“(2) APPOINTMENT.—(A) If the court determines that the appointment of a special master is necessary, the court shall request that the defendant institution and the plaintiff each submit a list of not more than 5 persons to serve as a special master.

“(B) Each party shall have the opportunity to remove up to 3 persons from the opposing party's list.

“(C) The court shall select the master from the persons remaining on the list after the operation of subparagraph (B).

“(3) INTERLOCUTORY APPEAL.—Any party shall have the right to an interlocutory appeal of the judge's selection of the special master under this subsection, on the ground of partiality.

“(4) COMPENSATION.—The compensation to be allowed to a special master under this section shall be based on an hourly rate not greater than the hourly rate established under section 3006A for payment of court-appointed counsel, plus costs reasonably incurred by the special master. Such compensation and costs shall be paid with funds appropriated to the Judiciary.

“(5) REGULAR REVIEW OF APPOINTMENT.—In any civil action with respect to prison conditions in which a special master is appointed under this subsection, the court shall review the appointment of the special master every 6 months to determine whether the services of the special master continue to be required under paragraph (1). In no event shall the appointment of a special master extend beyond the termination of the relief.

“(6) LIMITATIONS ON POWERS AND DUTIES.—A special master appointed under this subsection—

“(A) may be authorized by a court to conduct hearings and prepare proposed findings of fact, which shall be made on the record;

“(B) shall not make any findings or communications ex parte;

“(C) may be authorized by a court to assist in the development of remedial plans; and “(D) may be removed at any time, but shall be relieved of the appointment upon the termination of relief.

JOINT EXPLANATORY STATEMENT OF THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

The managers on the part of the House and Senate at the conference on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses on the amendment of the Senate to the bill (H.R. 2076) making appropriations for the Departments of Commerce, Justice, and State, the Judiciary, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1996, and for other purposes, submit the following joint statement to the House and Senate in explanation of the effect of the action agreed upon by the managers and recommended in the accompanying conference report.

Senate Amendment: The Senate deleted the entire House bill after the enacting clause and insert the Senate bill. The conference agreement includes a revised bill.

OVERSEAS STAFFING

The conferees agree with the concern expressed in the House report concerning the lack of a system for determining overall allocation of resources and costs among agencies for operations outside of the U.S. Expansion of staffing or presence overseas is to be brought to the attention of the House and Senate Appropriations Committees at the outset of the planning process, well in advance of the proposed use of any appropriated funds, preferably through the annual budget submission. The conferees are intent upon finding the proper way to assure control of the deployment of personnel and resources outside of the U.S.

TITLE I—DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

GENERAL ADMINISTRATION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $74,282,000 for General Administration as provided in both the House and Senate bills. The conference agreement also includes a provision that limits the number of positions and amounts expended for the Department Leadership and Executive Support programs as included by the Senate, but modifies the provision to permit augmentation of the Department Leadership program by reimbursable and non-reimbursable personnel and to allow for continuation of reimbursable positions for the Office of Freedom of Information and Privacy Appeals. The House bill did not contain a provision on this matter.

The conference agreement also assumes elimination of the Office of the Associate Attorney General.

COUNTERTERRORISM FUND

The conference agreement includes $16,898,000 for the Counterterrorism Fund, instead of $26,898,000 as proposed by both the House and Senate bills. The conferees understand that balances of $24,445,000 remain available from the 1995 Supplemental Appropriation, Public Law 104-19, for authorized purposes of this Fund.

ADMINISTRATIVE REVIEW AND APPEALS

The conference agreement includes $86,666,000 for Administrative Review and Appeals as proposed by the Senate, instead of $87,516,000 as proposed by the House. Of this amount, the conference agreement provides that $47,780,000 will be provided from the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund (VCRTF) for both expedited asylum and deportation hearings as proposed by the House, instead of providing $14,347,000 from the VCRTF only for expedited deportation hearings as proposed by the Senate. The conferees agree that of the total amount provided, $85,252,000 is included for the Executive Office for Immigration Review and $1,414,000 is included for the Office of the Pardon Attorney.

The conference agreement also includes technical bill language that allows outstanding balances for these programs from prior years to be merged with this new appropriation account.

OFFICE OF INSPECTOR GENERAL

The conference agreement includes $28,960,000 for the Office of Inspector General, instead of $30,484,000 as proposed by the House and $27,436,000 as proposed by the Senate.

UNITED STATES PAROLE COMMISSION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $5,446,000 for the U.S. Parole Commission as proposed by both the House and Senate bills.

LEGAL ACTIVITIES

SALARIES AND EXPENSES, GENERAL LEGAL

ACTIVITIES

(INCLUDES TRANSFER OF FUNDS)

The conference agreement includes a direct appropriation of $409,520,000 for General Legal Activities, as proposed by both the House and Senate bills. Of this amount, the conference agreement provides that $7,591,000 will be derived from the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund (VCRTF) as proposed by the House, instead of $2,991,000 from the VCRTF as proposed by the Senate, to support immigration initiatives. In addition to this amount, the conferees agreed to provide $12,000,000 by transferring balances available in the Department of Justice Working Capital Fund. Thus, the total amount provided for General Legal Activities is $421,520,000.

Both the House and Senate bills assumed a transfer of General Legal Activities resources to the U.S. Attorneys program. The conference agreement does not include this transfer of resources. However, the conferees agree that the Attorney General should report to the Committees on Appropriations of both the House and Senate by March 1, 1996, on the transfer of attorneys to field locations of the Environment and Tax Divisions and offices that are co-located with U.S. Attorneys.

The conferees have also agreed that funding for the Community Relations Service activities will not be provided from funds available under the General Legal Activities account, as proposed by the House.

THE NATIONAL CHILDHOOD VACCINE INJURY ACT

The conference agreement includes a reimbursement of $4,028,000 for fiscal year 1996 from the Vaccine Injury Compensation Trust Fund to the Department of Justice, as proposed by both the House and Senate bills.

SALARIES AND EXPENSES, ANTITRUST DIVISION

The conference agreement provides $85,143,000 for the Antitrust Division as proposed by both the House and Senate bills. Of the amount provided, the conference agreement assumes, based on latest estimates, that $19,360,000 will be derived from unobligated offsetting collections from the prior year, instead of $16,000,000 as assumed in both the House and Senate bills.

SALARIES AND EXPENSES, UNITED STATES ATTORNEYS

The conference agreement includes $925,509,000 for the U.S. Attorneys, instead of $911,556,000 as proposed by the House and $939,463,000 as proposed by the Senate. Of this amount, the conference agreement provides that $30,000,000 will be derived from the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund (VCRTF) as proposed by the Senate, instead of $14,731,000 from the VCRTF as proposed by the House. The conferees agree that amounts provided from the VCRTF shall be used to support expedited deportation of denied asylum applicants, Federal Victim's Counselors under the Violence Against Women Act, and increased demands for criminal prosecution and related activities.

The conference agreement provides for the following: (1) requested adjustments to base, including restoration of absorption of the 1996 pay raise; (2) $10,000,000 for security upgrades at U.S. Attorneys offices; (3) $2,158,000 for increased prosecution of violators of immigration laws; (4) $9,231,000 from the VCRTF for expedited deportation of denied asylum applicants; (5) $48,083,000 to maintain attorney and support personnel hired in fiscal year 1995 and for additional attorneys and support for violent crime prosecution; and (6) $500,000 to implement a program to appoint Federal Victim's Counselors. The conference agreement does not assume a transfer of resources from the General Legal Activities account to the U.S. Attorneys program, as proposed by the House. In addition, the conferees agree that to the extent possible within the resources provided, the Department of Justice should expand the pilot debt collection program, as stated in the Senate report.

The conference agreement also includes bill language to reflect the total number of positions and full-time equivalent (FTE) employment expected to be supported by the level of resources provided for the U.S. Attorneys in fiscal year 1996. Within the FTE provided, the conferees assume 300 FTE will support student interns. The conferees agree that this language is necessary as a result of the U.S. Attorneys mismanagement which led to the hiring of more employees in 1995 than could be sustained by the resource level provided in fiscal year 1995. The conferees' strong support for the mission of the U.S. Attorneys does not extend to careless hiring and fiscal management practices.

UNITED STATES TRUSTEE SYSTEM FUND

The conference agreement provides $102,390,000 in budget (obligational) authority for the U.S. Trustees, instead of $101,596,000 as proposed by the House and $103,183,000 as proposed by the Senate. Of this amount, the conference agreement provides that $44,191,000 will be derived from anticipated offsetting collections. In addition, under section 111, the conferees agree to include an extension of post-confirmation quarterly fee payments made under Chapter 11 as proposed in both the House and Senate bills and expect that these fees will apply to all pending Chapter 11 cases with confirmed reorganization plans.

SALARIES AND EXPENSES, FOREIGN CLAIMS SETTLEMENT COMMISSION

The conference agreement provides $830,000 for the Foreign Claims Settlement Commission as proposed by the House, instead of $905,000 as proposed by the Senate.

SALARIES AND EXPENSES, UNITED STATES MARSHALS SERVICE

The conference agreement includes $448,248,000 for the U.S. Marshals Service, instead of $443,973,000 as proposed by the House and $454,639,000 as proposed by the Senate. Of this amount, the conference agreement provides that $25,000,000 will be derived from the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund (VCRTF) as proposed by the House, instead of $15,000,000 from the VCRTF as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement provides for the following: (1) requested adjustments to base; (2) $10,000,000 for security upgrades at existing courthouses; (3) $18,209,000 for additional security personnel to staff new and expanded courthouses scheduled to open in 1996; and (4) $11,066,000 for equipment and communications expenses in new courthouse locations. The conferees understand that the Marshals Service funded a number of requirements by reprogramming resources at the end of fiscal year 1995 and thus have not provided funding increases for requested items. The conferees agree that any additional funding for these items, if necessary, should be requested through a reprogramming of resources in fiscal year 1996.

FEDERAL PRISONER DETENTION (INCLUDING TRANSFER OF FUNDS)

The conference agreement provides $252,820,000 for Federal Prisoner Detention, instead of $295,331,000 as proposed by the Senate and $250,331,000 as proposed by the House. In addition to this amount, the conferees understand, that based on the latest carryover estimates, an additional $33,511,000 is available for this program from unobligated balances from the prior year. The conferees have also agreed to provide an additional $9,000,000 by transferring balances available in the Department of Justice Working Capital Fund. Thus, total funding provided for this account is $295,331,000.

The conferees have also agreed to change the name of this appropriation from "Support of U.S. Prisoners" to "Federal Prisoner Detention".

FEES AND EXPENSES OF WITNESSES

The conference agreement includes $85,000,000 for Fees and Expenses of Witnesses as proposed by both the House and Senate bills.

COMMUNITY RELATIONS SERVICE

The conference agreement provides $5,319,000 for the Community Relations Service (CRS) instead of $10,638,000 as proposed by the Senate and elimination of this program as a separate account as proposed by the House. The conferees agree that if emergent circumstances require additional funding for Conflict Prevention and Resolution activities of the CRS, the Attorney General may provide resources for these activities within transfer authorities provided under Section 605 of this Act.

The conferees have also agreed that the activities related to the resettlement of Cubans and Haitians should be transferred to the Immigration and Naturalization Service and that the costs of these activities should be supported by the Immigration Examinations Fee account.

ASSETS FORFEITURE FUND

The conference agreement provides $30,000,000 for the Assets Forfeiture Fund instead of $35,000,000 as provided in both the House and Senate bills. This reduction is based on a revised estimate of revenue from forfeited assets that will be available in fiscal year 1996.

RADIATION EXPOSURE COMPENSATION

ADMINISTRATIVE EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $2,655,000 for administrative expenses in accordance with the Radiation Exposure Compensation Act, as proposed by both the House and Senate bills.

PAYMENT TO RADIATION EXPOSURE COMPENSATION TRUST FUND

The conference agreement includes an advance appropriation of $16,264,000 for fiscal year 1997 for payments to the Radiation Exposure Compensation Trust Fund, as proposed by both the House and Senate bills.

INTERAGENCY LAW ENFORCEMENT

INTERAGENCY CRIME AND DRUG ENFORCEMENT

The conference agreement includes $359,843,000 for Interagency Crime and Drug Enforcement as proposed by the Senate, instead of $374,943,000 as proposed by the House.

The conferees recognize that over $76,000,000 of funds requested for this account are for agencies other than Department of Justice (DOJ) agencies and while the conferees have agreed to the level proposed by the Senate they have not allocated the reduction solely to non-DOJ agencies, as proposed by the Senate. Instead, the conferees expect the Office of Investigative Agencies Policy at the Department of Justice to allocate these resources based on current task force requirements and to notify the Committees on Appropriations of both the House and Senate of the proposed distribution of these resources pursuant to the reprogramming requirements in Section 605 of this Act. In addition, the conferees direct the Administration to submit the budget requirements of non-DOJ agencies for fiscal year 1997 within the budgets proposed for those agencies.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

(INCLUDING TRANSFER OF FUNDS)

The conference agreement includes $2,407,483,000 for the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), instead of $2,332,081,000 as proposed by the House and $2,506,671,000 as proposed by the Senate. Of this amount, the conference agreement provides that $218,300,000 will be derived from the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund (VCRTF), instead of $80,600,000 as proposed by the House and $202,500,000 as proposed by the Senate. In addition, the conferees agree that of the amounts provided, not less than $102,345,000 shall be used for counterterrorism investigations, foreign counterintelligence, and other activities related to national security, instead of $121,345,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement provides for the following program increase: (1) $1,400,000 for personnel to staff the FBI Command Center;

(2) $3,450,000 for FBI Legal Attaches; (3) $25,000,000 for tactical operations development and acquisition program; (4) $8,470,000 for 125 additional FBI staff; (5) $12,500,000 for FBI forensic services, including $9,900,000 to modernize FBI forensic laboratory equipment and $2,600,000 for 75 forensic examiners, technicians and support personnel; (6) $2,900,000 for equipment for Emergency Response Teams; (7) $5,000,000 to upgrade and develop FBI databases on gangs and hostage/barricade situations; (8) $4,000,000 for State, Indian Tribal and local training; (9) $33,400,000 only for research efforts and engineering services to develop new techniques and equipment to perform court-approved wiretaps and interceptions of communications and shall not be used for deployment of any technology that may be developed without authorizing legislation; (10) $3,000,000 for aviation maintenance and equipment; (11) $10,000,000 for wireless radio communications and leasing of antenna sites; (12) $5,000,000 for Safe Street Task Forces; (13) $4,200,000 for FBI's DRUGFIRE program, including equipping of State and local laboratories; and (14) $15,000,000 for FBI's Combined DNA Index System, including $9,500,000 to equip State and local laboratories with this technology.

The conference agreement does not include $28,737,000 requested to fully annualize positions approved in fiscal year 1995 because the FBI failed to hire personnel to fill these additional positions.

FBI international operations.—The conference agreement provides an increase of $3,450,000 for FBI Legal Attache offices. However, the conferees are concerned that the FBI has not adequately presented its short and long term plan for expansion of its international operations and activities. Therefore, the conferees agree that the additional funds provided in this Act may not be expended until a plan for FBI international operations has been developed jointly by the Department of Justice and the Department of State, and has been presented to and approved by the Committees on Appropriations of both the House and Senate consistent with the reprogramming requirements in Section 605 of this Act.

NCIC 2000.—The conferees agree that one of the highest priority projects of Federal, State and local law enforcement is the completion of NCIC 2000. The conferees are aware of delays in the scheduled completion and additional resource requirements that are necessary to bring this vital system on line. The conference agreement therefore ensures that funds will be available for completion of this project by directing balances available in the FBI ADP and Telecommunications account and the Department of Justice Working Capital Fund to be applied to this project. Furthermore, the conferees are aware that the FBI has an additional $34,548,000 in unobligated balances to be transferred into the Department of Justice Working Capital Fund and directs the FBI to transfer this entire amount immediately to the Working Capital Fund to support the NCIC 2000 project and other needs of the Department of Justice.

The conferees direct the Attorney General and the FBI to make oversight of the management of this project and the contractor a top management priority. Upon receiving information that the contract was severely behind schedule and that the cost for completion of the NCIC 2000 project had escalated to almost double the initial cost estimates, the Committees on Appropriations of both the House and Senate urged the FBI to consider a "firm-fixed" contract in its renegotiation process. The conferees are concerned that the FBI has entered into another "cost-plus" contract for this project. Congress has made completion of this project on time and within the resources provided a priority. The Department of Justice and the FBI should do the same. The conferees direct the FBI to provide a quarterly status report on this project and the performance of the contractor.

Similarly, the conferees are concerned about schedule delays within the Integrated Automated Fingerprint Identification System (IAFIS) project. The conferees are particularly concerned that while the FBI will have entered into contracts on each of the four IAFIS segments by the end of this calendar year, it does not appear that the issues related to integration of these components systems have been adequately addressed. Again, the conferees direct the Attorney General and the FBI to make management of this important project a top priority and expect to receive quarterly status reports on the IAFIS project.

CONSTRUCTION

The conference agreement includes $97,589,000 for Construction for the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), instead of $98,400,000 as proposed by the House and $98,800,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement provides for the following: (1) $10,000,000 for renovations, equipment and telecommunications upgrades to the FBI Headquarters Command Center; (2) $57,089,000 for architectural design, site planning and the first phase of construction for a new FBI Forensic Laboratory Facility to be located at Ft. Belvoir, Virginia; and (3) $30,500,000 for upgrades to the FBI Training Academy at Quantico, Virginia, including $21,350,000 to fully complete the modernization of the outdoor firing range and the tactical firearms training center and $9,150,000 for necessary maintenance.

DRUG ENFORCEMENT ADMINISTRATION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $805,668,000 for the salaries and expenses of the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) instead of $793,488,000 as proposed by the House, and $850,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. Of this amount, the conference agreement provides that $60,000,000 will be derived from the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund (VCRTF) as proposed by the Senate, instead of $12,000,000 as proposed by the House. The conferees also agree that in addition to amounts appropriated, $47,241,000 will be available from the Diversion Control Fund for diversion control activities.

The conference agreement includes the following program increases: (1) $580,000 for DEA's legal attache program; (2) $5,000,000 for contract linguist support; (3) $1,650,000 for advanced telephony; (4) $7,400,000 for office automation; (5) $3,965,000 for 30 new agents for domestic heroin enforcement; (6) $4,950,000 for mobile enforcement teams, including teams to address illicit drug activities in rural areas; (7) $2,000,000 for wireless radio communications; and (8) $2,000,000 for DRUGFIRE systems.

The conference agreement does not include $15,400,000 requested to fully annualize positions approved in fiscal year 1995 because the DEA has failed to hire personnel to fill these additional positions.

The conferees understand that the funding provided for an additional DEA Legal Attache office is a portion of funds necessary to establish a joint FBI/DEA Legal Attache office in Beijing, China. Consistent with funding provided for FBI Legal Attache Offices, the conferees agree that these funds should not be expended by DEA until the Committees on Appropriations have approved the plan for FBI international operations.

IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION SERVICE

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $1,711,023,000 for the salaries and expenses of the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS), including the Border Patrol, instead of $1,725,023,000 as proposed by the House, and a total of $1,735,796,000 as proposed by the Senate ($1,119,296,000 for INS and $616,500,000 for the Border Patrol). Of the amounts provided, the conference agreement provides $316,198,000 from the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund (VCRTF), instead of $303,542,000 as proposed by the House and $175,662,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conferees also agree that in addition to amounts appropriated, $821,447,000 will be available from offsetting fee collections for the purposes outlined in the House and Senate reports. The conferees agree not to include funding for border control activities by doubling the current fee for 245(i) applications. Furthermore, the conferees agree not to implement a border crossing toll as proposed by the Administration.

The conference agreement provides for requested adjustments to base, including the full cost of the pay raise and the following program increases to support enhanced border control, detention and removal of criminal and other deportable aliens, and worksite enforcement and verification:

Border control.—The conference agreement includes 1,420 positions, 614 FTE and $152,172,000 for enhanced border control activities, of which $30,872,000 is from the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund, including (1) $83,500,000 for 800 new border patrol agents and 160 support personnel and the reallocation of 200 border patrol agent positions from interior stations to the front lines of the border; (2) $7,100,000 for border technology and an additional helicopter; (3) $20,000,000 for 400 new land border inspectors for the Southern border; (4) $6,000,000 for anti-smuggling units; (5) $4,700,000 for a pilot interior repatriation effort; and (6) $30,872,000 for automated border lookout systems, including a pilot exit control system.

Detention and removal of deportable aliens.—The conference agreement includes an increase of 1,400 positions, 702 FTE and $128,716,000, of which $33,116,000 is from the VCRTF, to apprehend, locate, detain and deport illegal aliens, including: (1) $46,116,000 to fully support the Institutional Hearing Program; (2) $42,700,000 for 418 detention personnel and for over 2,800 additional detention beds; (3) $26,315,000 for 279 deportation personnel to remove absconders, criminal aliens and illegal aliens who have been denied asylum or apprehended from worksites; (4) $5,200,000 to add warrants for arrest into NCIC 2000 for aliens who are repeat offenders to reentry after deportation; and (5) $8,385,000 for the purchase of new vehicles and transportation costs.

Worksite enforcement and verification.—The conference agreement includes an increase of 384 positions, 192 FRE and $50,444,000, including $40,444,000 for investigations personnel to enhance employer sanctions activities and backfill 200 border patrol agent positions that will be reallocated to border patrol stations along with immediate border, and $10,000,000 to improve the accuracy of INS records and develop pilots for verification systems, including the expansion of the current INS telephone verification systems.

Border control systems modernization.—Within total amounts provided in the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund, $153,570,000 is recommended to continue the border systems modernization effort started last year. The conferees agree that within this effort, the INS should conduct a pilot program to collect records of departing passengers and should also extend fingerprint-based identification systems and automated case tracking systems to the entire Southwest border, as stated in the House and Senate reports.

Resource deployment.—The conferees expect that INS will deploy border patrol agent and inspector positions to the Southwest border to support the greatest areas of illegal traffic. The conferees direct INS to assign these new positions as "front-line" employees on the immediate border and to staff inspection lanes for the facilitation of traffic across the border. In addition, as mentioned in the House and Senate reports, the conferees expect INS to ensure that staffing levels at the Miami and Hawaii airports are consistent with past years INS staffing models plus projected passenger increases for fiscal year 1996 and that INS participates in the Unified Port Management Pilot Project. The conferees also expect INS to review the requirements of States and localities in the central region of the country in its allocation of additional personnel for interior enforcement initiatives. The conferees direct INS to consult with the Appropriations Committees of both the House and Senate before a final allocation of all of these positions is determined.

INS Offices of Congressional and Public Affairs.—The conferees have agreed to include language that clarifies the activities to be performed by the INS Offices of Congressional and Public Affairs, as proposed by the Senate.

BORDER PATROL

The conference agreement for the Immigration and Naturalization Service includes $584,800,000 for the Border Patrol, including $78,000,000 to be provided from the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund (VCRTF). For the past two years, the conferees agree that the Congress has made resources to hire additional Border Patrol agents a top priority. The conferees are concerned that despite clear guidance from Congress, those resources have in some instances been diverted to other activities within INS. At a time when budgetary resources are scarce and Congress has made difficult choices in order to ensure that funding is provided to maintain the integrity of our Nation's borders, mismanagement of resources by INS cannot be tolerated. To ensure that the funding provided by Congress is used for its intended purpose, the conferees have agreed to add bill language which directs INS to provide the level of funding for the Border Patrol assumed by the conferees in their determination of total funding levels for the INS.

The resource level provided by the conference agreement provides for an additional 1,000 border patrol agents on the front lines of the border by hiring 800 new border patrol agents and reallocating 200 border patrol positions from interior border patrol stations to stations that are on the immediate border. The conferees understand that INS must undertake a significant recruitment and training process in order to hire and train the new agents in addition to over 2,000 other INS employees. Therefore, the conferees expect INS to report to the Committees on Appropriations of the House and Senate on a quarterly basis, its progress and plans in meeting the hiring goals for new border patrol agents. In addition, the conferees urge the Department to seek, on behalf of INS, the allowable waivers from the Office of Personnel Management that would allow INS to reemploy retired (with no loss of retirement pay) Border Patrol agents and investigators, if feasible, in order to meet training and hiring requirements.

The resource level provided by the conference agreement includes $12,000,000 for the reallocation of 200 border patrol agent positions from interior stations to the front lines of the border. The conferees agree that effective border control is the most important means of controlling illegal immigration and that the INS must utilize its border patrol resources in a way that ensures that apprehension of illegal aliens at the border is its first priority. The conferees also agree that INS can no longer use border patrol resources on functions not directly related to border control. However, the conferees recognize the importance of an INS enforcement presence in parts of the country that have significant populations of illegal immigrants. Rather than close any of these offices, the conferees direct INS to restaff these offices with criminal investigative positions in order to ensure that the interior enforcement activities currently performed in these locations can continue. The conferees also recognize that some of the border patrol agents in these offices may opt to convert to the investigator positions and encourage INS management to consider personnel and relocation issues in implementing this action.

California checkpoints.—The conferees have agreed to eliminate the provision in the House bill that would have closed the border patrol traffic checkpoints in San Clemente and Temecula, California. However, the conferees agree that the current operation of these checkpoints is unacceptable. The conferees agree that the effectiveness of these checkpoints is contingent on full operation of these checkpoints on a continuous 24-hour basis and improvements to the current San Clemente checkpoint to reduce delays and increase the safety of agents, the persons being checked, and nearby communities. Therefore, the conferees have included language that prohibits operation of the checkpoints if the checkpoints are not operated on a continuous 24-hour basis and a commuter lane pilot program to expedite commuter traffic is not established. In addition, the conferees direct INS to immediately make the needed improvements, with $7,500,000 currently available in construction resources, to the San Clemente checkpoint and expect the procurements required to complete these improvements to be made on an expedited basis. The conferees further stipulate that if INS fails to complete these improvements by July 1, 1996, the checkpoint will close immediately until the improvements are completed. However, funds will be available, subject to the reprogramming requirements in section 605 of this Act, to reopen the checkpoint if the Attorney General certifies that exigent circumstances exist. The conferees also expect that INS continue its policy that eliminates high speed pursuits at these checkpoints and direct INS to seek approval by the Committees on Appropriations of both the House and Senate prior to any change in this policy. Furthermore, the conferees direct INS to assign staff to these checkpoints at the full authorized strength and provide additional permanent interior enforcement personnel to Oceanside, Vista, and Carlsbad, California in order to address the problem of alien smuggling operations and related criminal activity in the communities surrounding these checkpoints.

CONSTRUCTION

The conference agreement includes $25,000,000 for Construction for INS, instead of $11,000,000 as proposed by the House and $35,000,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement provides for the following: (1) $7,000,000 for border infrastructure improvements; (2) $4,300,000 for a triple fencing pilot project along the San Diego border; (3) $2,700,000 to renovate Charleston Naval Base for a satellite training facility for the Border Patrol; and (4) $11,000,000 for construction costs for the planned joint INS/U.S. Marshals detention facility to be located in Batavia, New York.

Border Patrol training facility.—The Committees on Appropriations of the House and Senate approved a reprogramming for $2,300,000 submitted by the Department of Justice on August 11, 1995, to upgrade and modify facilities at the Charleston Naval Base to meet additional training requirements of the Border Patrol which exceed the capacity of the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center at Glynco, Georgia. The selection of Charleston Naval Base as the new Border Patrol training center was announced by the Department of Justice on July 28, 1995, following a competitive evaluation of several active and former Department of Defense facilities.

Justice Department officials recently informed the House and Senate Appropriations Committee of their desire to establish two INS training facilities, instead of the single Border Patrol facility at Charleston. Their latest proposal would establish a new training facility for INS personnel, other than the border patrol, at Charleston, and a new, separate Border Patrol training facility be constructed at another location.

The conferees have reviewed the most recent Department of Justice proposal and agree that only one additional training facility is necessary to meet INS training requirements for the Border Patrol and that INS should prioritize its remaining training requirements and accommodate this training at the FLETC and through exported training in INS field locations. The conferees have reviewed cost estimates submitted by the Naval Facilities Command and are confident of the accuracy of the Navy's cost estimates and schedule. The conferees question whether a training facility at another location can be constructed more expeditiously and for less cost and believe that the Department has already delayed the process needlessly. Accordingly, the conferees have agreed that construction and modifications at the Charleston Naval Base for the new Border Patrol Training Facility, the site already approved by both the House and Senate Appropriations Committees, should proceed without further delay.

IMMIGRATION EMERGENCY FUND

The conferees have included language in section 605 of this Act, which applies reprogramming requirements to the unobligated balances from prior years of all agencies covered in this Act, including all unobligated balances available in the Immigration Emergency Fund.

FEDERAL PRISON SYSTEM

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $2,581,078,000 for the salaries and expenses of the Federal Prison System, instead of $2,588,078,000 as proposed by both the House and Senate. Of this amount, the conference agreement provides that $13,500,000 will be derived from the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund (VCRTF), as proposed by both the House and Senate. The conferees also agree that in addition to amounts appropriated, $47,000,000 will be available from unobligated balances from the prior year, instead of $40,000,000 as assumed in both the House and Senate bills. The amount provided is the full amount requested to activate all facilities that are scheduled to open in 1996 and is to be used for the purposes set forth in the House and Senate reports, including activations and expansions of prisons at the following locations: Beaumont, Texas; Taft, California; Forrest City, Arkansas; Tallahassee, Florida; Milan, Michigan; Lompac, California; Fort Worth, Texas; and Lexington, Kentucky. In addition the conferees agree that funding should also be provided so that facilities located in Yazoo City, Mississippi, and Brooklyn, New York are prepared for activation and to ensure that security is not compromised.

The conferees also agreed to include bill language prohibiting the privatization of Federal prison facilities located in Forrest City, Arkansas and Yazoo City, Mississippi, which were included as part of the Administration's proposal to privatize most future pretrial, minimum, and low security prisons.

National Institute of Corrections.—The conferees recognize the value of and support the continuation of activities and programs of the National Institute of Corrections (NIC). Beginning in fiscal year 1996, funding for NIC shall be included in the Bureau of Prisons Salaries and Expenses budget, Contract Confinement program. The conferees have included $8,000,000 for this purpose. The NIC shall continue to carry out all functions currently performed by the NIC as outlined in sections 4351-5353 of title 18 United States Code, with the exception of its grant program. Because these activities are primarily performed on behalf of State and local entities, the conferees expect the Bureau of Prisons, when practical and to the maximum extent possible, to pursue reimbursement from State and local entities for these services and to present a plan to the Committees on Appropriations of both the House and Senate by June 30, 1996, that outlines a reimbursement structure that will fully support these activities.

Health care privatization demonstration project.—The conferees understand that health care costs are one of the fastest growing components of the Bureau of Prisons budget. The conferees agree that the Bureau of Prisons should develop and provide a plan to the Committees on Appropriations of both the House and Senate by March 1, 1996, to utilize private and other contracts to provide medical care for inmates, including the use of telemedicine and electronic media. The conferees agree that the Bureau of Prisons should conduct a demonstration project at a minimum of one Federal correctional complex beginning in fiscal year 1996 and for the duration of not less than three years as outlined in the Senate report.

BUILDINGS AND FACILITIES

The conference agreement includes $334,728,000 for construction, modernization, maintenance and repair of prison and detention facilities housing Federal prisoners, instead of $323,728,000 as proposed by the House and $349,410,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conference agreement provides for the following program enhancements:

Beaumont, TX, Medium Security Facility	$64,500,000
Western Region, Architectural/Engineering design	11,000,000
Mid-Atlantic Region, Site/Planning and design	12,350,000

Hawaii, Detention Space Site/Planning	14,253,000
Marshals Service Holding Facilities	20,051,000
Health and Safety Renovations	4,526,000

The conferees have agreed to provide funding for one facility in the Western Region, as proposed by the Administration. The conferees direct the Bureau of Prisons to select one of the two sites considered in their long range plan and to notify the Committees on Appropriations of both the House and Senate of this decision, with appropriate justification, by January 15, 1996.

FEDERAL PRISON INDUSTRIES, INCORPORATED (LIMITATION ON ADMINISTRATIVE EXPENSES)

The conference agreement includes a limitation on administrative expenses of $3,559,000 for the Federal Prison Industries, as proposed by both the House and Senate bills.

OFFICE OF JUSTICE PROGRAMS JUSTICE ASSISTANCE

The conference agreement includes $302,377,000 for Justice Assistance, instead of $250,377,000 as proposed by the House and $345,245,000 as proposed by the Senate. Of this amount, the conference agreement provides that $202,400,000 shall be derived from the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund (VCRTF), instead of $152,400,000 as proposed by the House and $242,900,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement provides for the following programs from direct appropriations and the VCRTF:

The conference agreement provides $7,800,000 to assist the National Institute of Justice in its efforts to adopt technologies for law enforcement purposes. Within this amount, $5,000,000 is provided for continuation of the law enforcement technology network, as proposed by the Senate, and $2,800,000 is to expand the technology commercialization initiative, as proposed by the House.

Missing children.—The conference agreement provides $5,971,000 for the Missing Children Program as proposed by both the House and Senate. The conferees agree that within this amount, consideration be given to the establishment of an exploited child unit within the National Center of Missing and Exploited Children to assist in the nationwide investigation of child sex offenses.

National White Collar Crime Center.—The conference agreement includes $3,850,000 for the National White Collar Crime Center as proposed by the House, instead of $2,100,000 as proposed by the Senate. Of the amount provided, $2,100,000 is for the ongoing operations of the NWCCC and $1,750,000 is for the establishment of a State and local law enforcement support capability for computer crimes.

Management and administration.—The conference agreement provides $24,277,000 for Management and Administration expenses of the Office of Justice Programs. In addition, the budget assumes that up to one percent of the total appropriation for each program funded under the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund may be used for management and administration expenses of those programs. The conferees agree with that assumption. Further, if one percent is insufficient to support the administration of these programs, the Attorney General may request an increase in that percentage in accordance with the reprogramming requirements in section 605 of this Act.

Violence Against Women Act Programs.—The conference agreement provides $175,000,000 for Violence Against Women Act programs as proposed by the Senate, instead of $125,000,000 as proposed by the House. Of the total provided, $500,000 is included under the U.S. Attorneys appropriation for Federal Victim's Counselors. The conference agreement also includes language as proposed by the Senate, to clarify that funds provided for Grants to Combat Violence Against Women and to Encourage Arrest Policies are provided to States, units of local governments and Indian Tribal governments.

STATE AND LOCAL LAW ENFORCEMENT ASSISTANCE

The conference agreement includes $3,393,200,000 for State and Local Law Enforcement Assistance, instead of $3,333,343,000 as proposed by the House and $3,487,100,000 as proposed by the Senate. Of this amount, the conference agreement provides that $3,005,200,000 shall be derived from the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund (VCRTF), instead of $3,283,343,000 as proposed by the House and $3,147,100,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement provides for the following programs from direct appropriations and the VCRTF:

Direct Appropriation

Edward Byrne grants to States.—The conference agreement provides $535,000,000 for the Edward Byrne Memorial State and Local Law Enforcement Assistance Program, of which $60,000,000 is for discretionary grants and $475,000,000 is provided under the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund for formula grants under this program.

Byrne discretionary grants.—The conference agreement provides $60,000,000 for discretionary grants under Chapter A of the Edward Byrne Memorial State and Local Assistance Program, instead of $50,000,000 as proposed by the House and $80,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. Within the amount provided, the conferees expect the Bureau of Justice Assistance (BJA) to provide:

$28,500,000 for the Weed and Seed program; $4,000,000 for State and local law enforcement activities related to the 1996 Olympic Games;

$3,000,000 for the National Crime Prevention Council to continue and expand the National Citizens Crime Prevention Campaign (McGruff);

$1,750,000 to continue and expand the Drug Abuse Resistance Education (DARE) program;

$2,000,000 for continued funding for the Washington Metropolitan Area Drug Enforcement Task Force;

$1,000,000 for continued funding for the National Judicial College;

$4,350,000 for a grant to the Boys and Girls Clubs of America; and

$1,000,000 to SEARCH Group, Inc. to continue and expand the National Technical Assistance Program, which provides support to State and local criminal justice agencies to improve their use of computers and information technology.

Within the available resources the conferees also urge BJA to favorably consider funding for the Centers of Excellence on Violence Prevention; the National Night Out Program; and the Center of Advanced Support in Technology for Law Enforcement (CASTLE), as stated in the Senate report.

State identification grants.—The conference agreement does not include $60,000,000 or authorize a new State Technology Grant program as proposed by the Senate under section 119. The conferees understand the intent of the program is to grant funds to State and local governments to upgrade their criminal justice identification systems for linkage to national databases such as the Integrated Automated Fingerprint Identification System (IAFIS), NCIC 2000, ballistics testing systems, and DNA Identification Systems. However, the conferees also understand that the two primary systems, IAFIS and NCIC 2000, are not scheduled to be on-line until 1998. Thus, providing funding for State linkages to these systems at this time is premature. However, the conferees recognize that State and local governments could benefit from systems upgrades and linkages for ballistics testing and DNA identification and analysis. Therefore, the conference agreement provides a total of $21,000,000 under the FBI and DEA for the FBI's DNA CODIS system and DRUGFIRE system, including funding for State systems upgrades. In addition, $10,000,000 is provided under the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund for Information Technology and DNA identification grants and $25,000,000 is provided to upgrade criminal history records in order to implement the National Instant Criminal Background Check System (NICS), resulting from the Brady Handgun Violence Prevention Act.

VIOLENT CRIME REDUCTION TRUST FUND PROGRAMS

Local law enforcement block grant.—The conference agreement includes $1,903,000,000 for a Local Law Enforcement Block Grant program, as proposed by the House, instead of $1,690,000,000 for the Community Policing Program, $100,000,000 for Drug Courts, $10,000,000 for rural law enforcement, $2,000,000 for the Ounce of Prevention Council and $30,000,000 for crime prevention programs, as proposed by the Senate.

The Local Law Enforcement Block Grant will provide resources directly to local communities to permit them to combat violent crime according to their local needs and priorities. This includes putting more police on America's streets. The conferees have included language encouraging localities to use funding provided under this block grant to hire additional police and to build on the police hiring initiative funded in fiscal year 1995. The block grant requires a local match of 10 percent, as compared to 25 percent under the Community Policing Program, thereby enabling more communities to hire police.

The conference agreement provides that the funding will be distributed for this block grant to local governments by using the outline provided in H.R. 728, as passed by the House of Representatives on February 14, 1995, with some modifications, and may be used at the discretion of local governments for the following purposes:

(1) Hiring, training, and employing on a continuing basis new, additional law enforcement officers and necessary support personnel;

(2) Paying overtime to presently employed law enforcement officers and necessary support personnel;

(3) Procuring equipment, technology, and other material directly related to basic law enforcement functions;

(4) Enhancing security measures in and around schools and any other facility or location which is considered by the unit of local government to have a special risk for incidents of crime;

(5) Establishing or supporting drug courts;

(6) Enhancing the adjudication process of cases involving violent juvenile offenders; and

(7) Establishing multi-jurisdictional task forces, particularly in rural areas, composed of Federal and local law enforcement officials to prevent and control crime.

The conferees have also included language that clarifies that the types of prevention programs allowed under the law enforcement block grant are programs that involve cooperation between community residents and law enforcement in order to control, detect, or investigate crime or to prosecute criminals. Examples of these programs currently used in many local communities which have high rates of success include the Drug Abuse Resistance Education (DARE) program, National McGruff Network programs, Boys and Girls Clubs of America, and other direct police-sponsored programs such as neighborhood watch programs. The conferees have also included as an allowable use under the block grant the purchase of insurance to indemnify sworn law enforcement officers subjected to legal action as a result of the discharge of their duty, in cases where the officer acted in good faith and in a manner in which the officer reasonably believed to be in the best interest of public safety. In addition, the conference agreement provides that $10,000,000 of the total amount provided will be available for educational expenses under the Police Corps program.

National instant criminal background check system.—The conference agreement provides $25,000,000 for states to upgrade criminal history records as required under the Brady Bill and for the FBI to complete development of the national instant criminal background check system, as proposed by both the House and Senate.

State prison grants.—The conference agreement provides $617,500,000 for State Prison Grants pursuant to section 114 of this Act which amends the Prison Grant program included in the Violent Crime Control and Law Enforcement Act of 1994. Of this amount, $200,000,000 is provided for reimbursement to States for the incarceration of criminal aliens and $12,500,000 is provided for the Co-operative Agreement Program. The remaining $405,000,000 is intended for General Grants and Truth-in-Sentencing Grants and administration of the program and includes a $1,215,000 set-aside for Indian Tribes to build corrections facilities.

State Criminal Alien Assistance Program.—The conference agreement provides $300,000,000 for the State Criminal Alien Assistance Program for reimbursement to States for the costs of incarceration of criminal aliens, as proposed by both the House and Senate. In addition to this amount the conferees have also agreed to provide $200,000,000 for this purpose under the State Prison Grants program, as proposed by the House. Thus, the conferees recommend a total of $500,000,000 for reimbursement to states for alien incarceration, as proposed by the House. The conferees have also agreed to provide this funding pursuant to section 242(j) of the Immigration and Nationality Act as proposed by the Senate, instead of pursuant to section 501 of the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986, as proposed by the House, so that funds will also be available for political subdivisions of the State.

Youthful offender incarceration grants.—The conference agreement provides funding for youthful offender incarceration grants as an allowable use under the State Prison Grant program. Therefore, funding is not included under this separate program as proposed by both House and Senate.

DNA identification State grants.—The conference agreement includes $1,000,000 for DNA Identification State Grants, as proposed by both the House and Senate.

Improved training and technology/automation grants.—The conference agreement provides $9,000,000 for Improved Training and Technical Automation Grants, as proposed by the Senate, instead of $10,000,000 as proposed by the House. As stated in the House report, the conferees expect that within the overall amounts recommended, the Office of Justice Programs will examine the following proposals, provide grants if warranted, and report to the Committees on Appropriations of the House and Senate on its intentions for each proposal: (1) North Carolina fingerprint system, and (2) San Francisco communication system.

Law Enforcement Family Support Programs.—The conference agreement includes $1,000,000 for law enforcement family support programs, as proposed by the House, instead of $1,200,000 as proposed by the Senate.

Treatment of tuberculosis in correctional institutions.—The conference agreement provides $200,000 for treatment of tuberculosis in State and Federal Correctional institutions, as proposed by the House.

Gang investigation coordination and information collection.—The conference agreement includes $1,000,000 for improved information collection on gang investigations as proposed by both the House and Senate. The conferees are aware that the Regional Information Sharing System (RISS) is developing gang databases for use by State and local law enforcement agencies and encourage the Office of Justice Programs to utilize the RISS network to enhance the collection of gang investigative information.

Motor vehicle theft prevention.—The conference agreement includes $500,000 for grants to combat motor vehicle theft as proposed by the House, instead of $1,100,000 as proposed by the Senate.

WEED AND SEED PROGRAM FUND

The conference agreement includes $28,500,000 for the Weed and Seed program, instead of $23,500,000 as proposed by the House and $43,500,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conferees agree that the total amount provided shall be derived from discretionary grants under the Edward Byrne Memorial State and Local Law Enforcement Assistance Programs. Within the amounts provided, the conferees expect that $270,000 will be provided to the Gospel Mission of Washington, D.C., for the purpose of renovating the former Fulton Hotel and converting it into a drug treatment center for women.

JUVENILE JUSTICE PROGRAMS

The conference agreement includes $148,500,000 for Juvenile Justice programs as proposed by the House, instead of $168,500,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conferees have agreed to eliminate a provision proposed by the House that provided $10,000,000 of discretionary grants under this program to be used for the Weed and Seed program. The conferees suggest that these funds be used to enhance grants addressing youth gangs and related violence and have therefore agreed to also eliminate a provision proposed by the Senate that provided an additional $20,000,000 for youth gang prevention from discretionary grants under the Edward Byrne Memorial State and Local Law Enforcement Assistance Programs.

Juvenile justice and delinquency prevention.—Of the total amount provided, $144,000,000 is for grants and administrative expenses for Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (JJDP) programs including:

1. $5,000,000 for the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP) (Part A).

2. $70,000,000 for Formula Grants for assistance to State and local programs (Part B).

3. $25,000,000 for Discretionary Grant for National Programs and Special Emphasis Programs (Part C). Within the amount provided for Part C discretionary grants, the conferees expect the OJJDP to provide:

$2,300,000 to continue and expand the National Council of Juvenile and Family Courts which provides continuing legal education in family and juvenile law;

$1,000,000 for the Teens, Crime and the Community program; and $250,000 for the Low Country Children's Center.

In addition, the conferees also expect OJJDP to examine each of the following proposals included in the House and Senate reports, to provide grants if warranted, and to report to the Committees on Appropriations of both the House and Senate on its intentions for each proposal:

A grant to the Santa Fe Boys and Girls Club;

A grant to the Mable Dodge Lujan Foundation in Taos, New Mexico;

A grant to the Kids Peace national Center for Kids for its Intensive Treatment Family Program;

A grant to Parents Anonymous Inc.;

A grant to continue funding for an Institute for Families in Society Study; and

A grant to the Institute on Violence and Destructive Behavior.

4. $10,000,000 to expand the Youth Gangs (Part D) program which provides grants to public and private nonprofit organizations to prevent and reduce the participation of at-risk youth in the activities of gangs that commit crimes.

5. $10,000,000 for Discretionary Grants for State Challenge Activities (Part E) to increase the amount of a State's formula grant by up to 10 percent, if that State agrees to undertake some or all of the ten challenge activities designed to improve various aspects of a State's juvenile justice and delinquency prevention programs.

6. $4,000,000 for the Juvenile Mentoring Program (Part G) to reduce juvenile delinquency, improve academic performance, and reduce the drop-out rate among at-risk youth through the use of mentors by bringing together young people in high crime areas with law enforcement officers and other responsible adults who are willing to serve as long-term mentors.

7. $20,000,000 for Incentive Grants for Local Delinquency Prevention Programs (Title V), to units of general local government for delinquency prevention programs and other activities for at-risk youth.

Victims of Child Abuse Act.—The conference agreement includes $4,500,000 for the various programs authorized under the Victims of Child Abuse Act (VOCA). In addition, funding of $6,750,000 is provided for Victims of Child Abuse programs under the Violence Against Women Programs funded by the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund. The following programs are included in the recommendation:

$4,500,000 to Improve Investigations and Prosecutions (Subtitle A) as follows:

$500,000 to establish Regional Children's Advocacy Centers, as authorized by section 213 of VOCA.

$2,000,000 to establish local Children's Advocacy Centers, as authorized by section 214 of VOCA.

$1,500,000 for a continuation grant to the National Center for Prosecution of Child Abuse for specialized technical assistance and training programs to improve the prosecution of child abuse cases, as authorized by section 214a of VOCA.

$500,000 for a continuation grant to the National Network of Child Advocacy Centers for technical assistance and training, as authorized by section 214a of VOCA.

PUBLIC SAFETY OFFICERS BENEFITS

The conference agreement includes $2,134,000 for Public Safety Officers benefits as proposed by both the House and the Senate bills.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

GENERAL PROVISIONS

The conference agreement includes the following general provisions for the Department of Justice:

Section 101.—The conference agreement includes section 101 as proposed by both the House and Senate, which makes up to $45,000 of the funds appropriated to the Department of Justice available for reception and representation expenses.

Sec. 102.—The conference agreement includes section 102 as proposed by both the House and Senate, which continues certain authorities for the Justice Department in fiscal year 1996 that were contained in the Department of Justice Authorization Act, fiscal year 1980.

Sec. 103.—The conference agreement includes section 103 as proposed by both the House and Senate, which prohibits the use of funds to perform abortions in the Federal Prison System.

Sec. 104.—The conference agreement includes section 104 as proposed by both the House and Senate, which prohibits use of the funds in this bill to require any person to perform, or facilitate the performance of, an abortion.

Sec. 105.—The conference agreement includes section 105 as proposed by both the House and Senate, which states that nothing in the previous section removes the obligation of the Director of the Bureau of Prisons to provide escort services to female inmates who seek to obtain abortions outside a Federal facility.

Sec. 106.—The conferees have agreed to modify section 106 as proposed by both the House and Senate, which allows the Department of Justice to spend up to $10,000,000 for rewards for information regarding acts of terrorism against a United States person or property at levels not to exceed $2,000,000 per award, in order to clarify that the provision relates to rewards that are publicly-advertised and offered to the general public.

Sec. 107.—The conference agreement includes section 107 as proposed in the Senate bills, which allows the Department of Justice, subject to reprogramming procedures, to transfer up to 5 percent between any appropriation, but limits to 10 percent the amount that can be transferred into any one appropriation. The House bill excluded the Office of Justice Programs, Justice Assistance account from this authority.

Sec. 108.—The conference agreement includes section 108 as proposed in the House and Senate bills, which allows the Federal Prison System's Commissary Fund to invest amounts not needed for operations of the United States.

Sec. 109.—The conference agreement includes section 109 as proposed in the House and Senate bills, that allows balances remaining in the Assets Forfeiture Fund after September 30, 1995 to be available to the Attorney General for any authorized purpose of the Department of Justice.

Sec. 110.—The conference agreement includes section 110 as proposed in the Senate bill, which prohibits the transfer of Justice Department funds in fiscal year 1996 and hereafter, to other Departments and the Office of Management and Budget. The House bill prohibited this transfer only for fiscal year 1996.

Sec. 111.—The conference agreement includes section 111 as proposed in the House and Senate bills, which extends the quarterly fee payments for debtors under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code to include the period from when a reorganization plan is confirmed by the Bankruptcy Court until the case is converted or dismissed. The conferees intend that this fee will apply to both pending and new cases.

Sec. 112.—The conference agreement includes section 112 as proposed in the House and Senate bills, that continues the undercover operations authorities for the FBI and DEA for one year. No new authorities are provided.

Sec. 113.—The conference agreement includes section 113 as proposed in the House and Senate bills, that allows the user fee surcharge currently collected by the FBI to defray automation costs related to the development of the NCIC 2000 and Uniform Crime Report systems in addition to costs of the fingerprint identification system.

Sec. 114.—The conferees have agreed to include section 114 and have revised the language proposed in the Senate bill which authorizes a new Violent Offender Incarceration and Truth-in-Sentencing Incentive Grants program to replace the program currently authorized in Title II of the Violent Crime Control and Law Enforcement Act of 1994. The House bill referenced the Prison Grant program authorized under H.R. 667 as passed by the House on February 10, 1995, for resources provided for this grant program under the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund Programs, State and Local Law Enforcement Assistance.

The conferees agree that the Prison Grant program should reward and provide an incentive to States that are taking the necessary steps to keep violent criminals off the streets. The conferees further agree that the program currently authorized in the Violent Crime Control and Law Enforcement Act of 1994 fails to provide an adequate incentive because it allows fifty percent of the funds to be awarded to States even if they have not moved toward truth-in-sentencing and even if they have not increased the percentage of convicted violent offenders sentenced to prison or the time served.

The revised language included in this section authorized $10,270,000,000 for fiscal years 1996 through 2000 for States to build or expand correctional facilities for the purpose of incarcerating criminals convicted of Part I violent crimes, or persons adjudicated delinquent for an act which if committed by an adult, would be a Part I violent crime. It does not allow funds to be used to operate prisons as provided in the current program and it requires a 10-percent match by the State instead of a 25-percent match as included in the current program. The conferees agree that in developing criteria for determining the eligibility for funding to build or expand bedspace, the Department of Justice should include a requirement that States demonstrate the ability to fully support, operate and maintain the prison for which the State is seeking construction funds.

The provision would establish two grant programs to States: (1) General grants which will receive one-third of the funds, and (2) Truth-in-Sentencing grants which will receive two-thirds of the funds; except when the appropriation exceeds $750,000,000 for the Prison Grant program in which case each grant program will receive 50 percent of the funds. The conference agreement increases the minimum grant award to 0.6 percent for General grants and to 2.0 percent or 2.5 percent for Truth-in-Sentencing grants (depending on the number of States qualifying for Truth-in-Sentencing grants). A State would qualify for a General grant if it practices indeterminate sentencing and since 1993 has increased the percentage of persons convicted of a Part I violent crime sentenced to prison and increased the average time served in the State for offenses of murder, rape, and robbery under the State's sentencing and release guidelines for such offenses. A State also would qualify for a General grant if it does not practice indeterminate sentencing but since 1993 it has increased the percentage of convicted violent offenders sentenced to prison, increased the average length of such offenders given sentences, and required that such offenders actually serve a higher percentage of their sentences. A State would qualify for a Truth-in-Sentencing grant if it has enacted truth-in-sentencing laws which require criminals convicted of Part I violent crimes to serve at least 85 percent of their sentences. A State also would qualify for Truth-in-Sentencing grants if it practices indeterminate sentencing and it can demonstrate that the average time served for Part I violent crimes in the State equals at least 85 percent of the sentence established under the State's sentencing and release guidelines.

Other provisions of the new authorization require that States share up to 15 percent of the funds received with counties and other units of local government for the construction and expansion of correctional facilities, including jails, to the extent that such units of local government house State prisoners due to States carrying out the policies of the Act. In addition, under exigent circumstances, States may also use funds to expand juvenile correctional facilities, including pretrial detention facilities and juvenile boot camps. States are also required to implement policies that provide for the recognition of the rights and needs of crime victims to be eligible for grants. The authorization also includes the availability of appropriations to reimburse States that satisfy truth-in-sentencing requirements for the incarceration of criminal aliens. In addition, funds are available, to the extent they are appropriated, for the Cooperative Agreement Program for the short-term housing of Federal prisoners in State institutions and a set-aside program has been included for Indian tribes to build correctional facilities.

Sec. 115.—The conference agreement includes section 115 as proposed by the Senate which allows the Federal Prison System to enter into contracts and other agreements with private entities for a multi-year period for the confinement of Federal prisoners.

The conferees have agreed not to include section 116 as proposed by the Senate, which would have provided the Federal Bureau of Investigation with the same overseas danger pay authority currently provided to the Drug Enforcement Administration.

The conferees have agreed not to include section 117 as proposed by the Senate, which would have removed restrictions on the commercial sale of goods and services produced or provided by the Federal Prison Industries if the President certified that the sale of such goods or services would not result in the loss of jobs in the private sector or adversely affect the sale of private sector goods or services sold on a local or regional basis.

Sec. 116.—The conference agreement includes section 118 as proposed by the Senate and changes the number to section 116, which amends the National Voter Registration Act of 1993 to exempt States which have adopted same-day registration laws prior to August 1, 1994, rather than March 11, 1993, as in current law.

The conferees have agreed not to include section 119 as proposed in the Senate bill which would have provided authorization for a new State grant program for identification systems and would have appropriated $60,000,000 for this program under the Office of Justice Programs.

The conferees have agreed not to include section 120 as proposed in the Senate bill which would have required the Attorney General to reserve not less than two percent, but not more than three percent of the funds appropriated for the Local Crime Prevention Block Grant program, the Weed and Seed program, and the Youth Gang program under Juvenile Justice, to conduct a comprehensive evaluation of the effectiveness of these programs.

However, the conferees are aware that there is a diverse group of programs funded by the Department of Justice to assist State and local law enforcement and communities in preventing crime. The conferees are concerned that there has not been a recent comprehensive evaluation of the effectiveness of all of these programs and expects that nine months after enactment of this Act, the Attorney General shall provide to the Committees on Appropriations of both House and Senate, a thorough evaluation of the crime programs funded by the Office of Justice Programs, with special emphasis on factors that relate to juvenile crime and the effect of these programs on youth violence.

The conferees further expect that research for this evaluation will (1) be provided directly or through grants and contracts, (2) be independent in nature, and (3) employ rigorous and scientifically recognized standards and methodologies. It is further expected that the evaluation will measure, but shall not be limited to: (a) reductions in delinquency, juvenile crime, youth gang activity, youth substance abuse, and other high risk factors; (b) reductions in the risk factors in the community, schools, and family environments that contribute to juvenile violence; and (c) increases in the protective factors that reduce the likelihood of delinquency and criminal behavior.

Sec. 117.—The conference agreement includes section 121 as proposed by the Senate and changes the number to section 117, which prohibits the use of voter registration cards by any Federal agency as proof of citizenship.

The conferees have agreed not to include section 122 as proposed by the Senate which would have required the reimbursement to localities for the incarceration of criminal aliens for both 1996 and 1995 expenses. However, the conferees have agreed to provide funding for the State Criminal Alien Assistance Program pursuant to section 242(j) of the Immigration and Nationality Act as proposed by the Senate, so that funds provided in 1996 will be available for political subdivisions of the State. This change is included under Violent Crime Reduction Programs, State and Local Law Enforcement Assistance.

Sec. 118.—The conference agreement includes section 123 as proposed by the Senate and changes the number to section 118, which gives the Administrator of the Drug Enforcement Administration the same authority provided to the Director of the Central Intelligence Agency and the Director of the FBI to use a government vehicle for home to work transportation.

Sec. 119.—The conference agreement includes new language that authorizes the U.S. Foreign Claims Settlement Commission to receive and determine the validity and amounts of claims by U.S. nationals against the Federal Republic of Germany covered by article 2(2) of the Agreement Between the United States and Germany Concerning Final Benefits to Certain United States Nationals Who Were Victims of National Socialist Measures of Persecution, which became enforceable September 19, 1995. In deciding claims under subsection (a) of this section, the conferees intend that the Foreign Claims Settlement Commission consider on the merits the claim of any person who has not benefited from the compensation provided under article 2(1) of the agreement. In applying the criteria set forth in article 1 of the agreement, the conferees expect the Commission will determine whether an institution should be considered a "concentration camp" based on whether the institution is recognized by relevant authorities as a concentration camp or whether conditions at the institution in question were comparable to conditions at a recognized concentration camp.

TITLE II—DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE AND RELATED AGENCIES

TRADE AND INFRASTRUCTURE DEVELOPMENT RELATED AGENCIES

OFFICE OF THE UNITED STATES TRADE REPRESENTATIVE

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $20,889,000 for salaries and expenses of the Office of the United States Trade Representative, the amount proposed in the Senate bill, and $60,000 below the amount proposed in the House bill.

INTERNATIONAL TRADE COMMISSION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $40,000,000 for the salaries and expenses of the International Trade Commission (ITC) for fiscal year 1996, instead of $42,500,000 as proposed by the House and $34,000,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conferees expect ITC to apply any necessary staffing reductions proportionately to all agency offices, including program as well as administrative support offices.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

INTERNATIONAL TRADE ADMINISTRATION
OPERATIONS AND ADMINISTRATION

The conference agreement includes $264,885,000 for the operations and administration of the International Trade Administration for fiscal year 1996 as proposed by the House, instead of $266,079,000 as proposed by the Senate. The following table reflects the distribution of these funds by activity agreed to by the conferees:

Trade Development	$56,485,000
Int'l Economic Policy	18,400,000
Import Administration	29,200,000
U.S. & F.C.S.	162,600,000
Carryover	-2,000,000
Total, ITA	264,885,000

The conferees intend that this distribution be used as the basis for any proposed reprogramming of funds under this account.

The conferees concur with the language included in the House report regarding the Office of Textiles and Apparel, the National Textile Center, and the Textile/Clothing Technology Corporation. Amounts provided for Trade Development include funding for each of these items in accordance with the House report. The conference agreement includes $1,500,000 for the Market Development Cooperator Program under Trade Development. Therefore, Trade Development operations are maintained at current services levels.

The conferees expect the funds provided for the Import Administration to support a personnel level sufficient to support the enforcement of trade laws.

The conferees intend that amounts provided above the base for the U.S. and Foreign Commercial Service are for domestic field restructuring and expansion of the Commercial Service in the big emerging markets.

EXPORT ADMINISTRATION

OPERATIONS AND ADMINISTRATION

The conference agreement includes $38,604,000 for the Bureau of Export Administration (BXA) as proposed by the Senate, instead of $38,644,000 as proposed by the House. In addition, the conference agreement includes a new proviso, not in either bill, allowing payments and contributions collected and accepted for materials or services provided to support export administration activities to be retained for use in covering the cost of such activities.

The conferees understand that BXA maintains carryover balances of approximately $3,000,000, and expect the Department to submit a notification of the proposed use of these carryover amounts in accordance with section 605 of this Act.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT ADMINISTRATION

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS

The conference agreement includes $328,500,000 for the Economic Development Administration grant programs as proposed by the House instead of $89,000,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The following table shows the distribution of these funds by activity as agreed to by the conferees:

Public Works (Title I)	$165,200,000
Planning	24,400,000
Technical Assistance	9,900,000
Defense Conversion	90,000,000

Economic Adjustment (Title IX)	30,000,000
Trade Adjustment Assistance Research and Evaluation ...	8,500,000 500,000

The conference agreement increases amounts for Economic Adjustment (Title IX) above the request in order to provide assistance to communities impacted by economic dislocations such as reduced timber harvests on Bureau of Land Management and Forest Service lands and coal industry downswings. Expenditure of funds provided over the amount of the request for this activity shall be subject to the reprogramming procedures outlined in section 605 of the accompanying Act.

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $20,000,000 for salaries and expenses for the EDA as proposed by the House instead of $11,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conferees expect EDA to use either the Salaries and Expenses appropriation or the revolving fund (under 42 U.S.C. 3143) to pay the salaries and expenses of the EDA Liquidation Division.

MINORITY BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT AGENCY
MINORITY BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT

The conference agreement includes $32,000,000 for the programs of the Minority Business Development Agency (MBDA) as proposed by the House instead of $32,789,000 as proposed by the Senate. In addition, the conferees have deleted language included in the Senate bill which would have transferred $1,000,000 of prior year unobligated balances under this account to a new Commerce Reorganization Transition Fund.

The conferees endorse language included in the House report regarding funding for programs that further minority business participation in technology commercialization. Further, the conferees expect MBDA to reduce FTE in order to achieve an appropriate ratio of support staff to total program level.

UNITED STATES TRAVEL AND TOURISM
ADMINISTRATION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $2,000,000 for the salaries and expenses of the U.S. Travel and Tourism Administration as proposed by the House instead of $12,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. These funds are to remain available through December 31, 1995.

ECONOMIC AND INFORMATION INFRASTRUCTURE
ECONOMIC AND STATISTICAL ANALYSIS
SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conferees have provided $45,900,000 for salaries and expenses of the activities funded under the Economic and Statistical Analysis account instead of $40,000,000 as proposed by the House and $46,896,000 as proposed by the Senate.

ECONOMIC AND STATISTICS ADMINISTRATION
REVOLVING FUND

The conference agreement includes language allowing the dissemination of economic and statistical data products as full cost as proposed in both the House and Senate bills.

BUREAU OF THE CENSUS
SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $133,812,000 for the Bureau of the Census Salaries and Expenses account as proposed by the Senate instead of $136,000,000 as proposed by the House. Within the amounts provided, the conferees expect the Bureau to continue the initiative to restructure standard industrial codes.

PERIODIC CENSUSES AND PROGRAMS

The conferees have provided $150,300,000 for the Census Bureau's Periodic Censuses and Programs account instead of $135,000,000 as proposed by the House and $193,450,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conferees have included the following amounts for Census programs:

Economic Censuses	$25,000,000
Census of governments	2,000,000
Census of agriculture	10,000,000
Intercensal Demographic estimates	5,000,000
Decennial Census	50,000,000
Continuous measurement ..	9,000,000
Sample redesign	3,000,000
CASIC	4,000,000
Geographic support	36,000,000
Data processing systems ...	12,000,000
Less Deobligations	-3,100,000
Less carryover	-2,600,000
Total	150,300,000

The conferees intend that this distribution be used as the basis for any proposed reprogramming of funds in accordance with section 605 of this Act.

The amount provided under this account reflects the conferees' continuing concerns with the inability of the Census Bureau to recognize budgetary realities. The Bureau is preparing to undertake the Year 2000 decennial census during a time of severe budget constraints within the Federal government. It is critical that the Bureau act now to reprioritize statistical needs and to streamline operations in order to function within these fiscal constraints. The conferees are concerned that the Bureau and the Department have failed to submit a proposal, requested in the House report, on reprioritization of statistical programs and possible program eliminations. The conferees believe that this review is critical, and expect the Department to submit this proposal to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations no later than January 15, 1996.

Further, the conferees are disturbed that the Bureau continues to exceed its full-time equivalent employment (FTE) ceiling. While the conferees understand the cyclical nature of the Bureau's programs, this continuing coverage is of particular concern since it has occurred during the Bureau's low point in the ten year census cycle. According to the National Research Council's report on census modernization, between 1970 and 1990 the cost of Bureau headquarters management increased from $30,000,000 to $105,000,000, a 350 percent increase, and headquarters staff increased by almost 3,000 FTE, a 67 percent increase. The conferees believe that there are areas which can and must be streamlined and reduced. The conferees expect the Bureau to include in the aforementioned report an explanation of the cause, cost, and duration of the FTE ceiling coverage and its plans to remedy this situation.

Census 2000.—The conferees continue to be concerned about progress related to the next decennial census. The Appropriations Committee of the House and Senate have for several years cautioned the Bureau that the cost of the Year 2000 Census had to be kept in check, and that only through early planning and decision making could costs be controlled.

The conferees recognize the fiscal year 1996 is a critical year in planning for the decennial census, and that numerous decisions will be made and preparations taken which will have a significant bearing on the overall cost of conducting the census, as well as the design selected. In light of the impact these decisions will have on future appropriations in an era of shrinking resources, the conferees expect the Bureau to consult with the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations, as well as the appropriate authorizing committees, and to submit a notification in accordance with section 605 of the accompanying Act before implementing plans for the Year 2000 Census final design, methodology, content, and pre-census and post-census operations.

In addition, the conferees expect the Bureau to include in its report to the Committees, as described above, a response to the serious issues raised by the National Research Council concerning cost increases surrounding the 1990 Census and its plans to avoid such increases in the Year 2000 Census. The specific raised by the NRC to be addressed in this report include: (1) dramatic increases in census headquarters staffing and costs; (2) data collection cost increases; (3) data processing cost increases; (4) data dissemination costs; and (5) census testing costs.

Finally, the conferees are disappointed that the Bureau has failed to act on the stipulation included in the fiscal year 1995 House report directing the Bureau to work to obtain reimbursement from other Federal agencies for the costs associated with obtaining information on the decennial census. The conferees expect the Bureau to include in its report to the House and Senate Appropriations Committees an explanation of its progress in implementing this action.

NATIONAL TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND
SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $17,000,000 for the National Telecommunications and Information Administration salaries and expenses instead of $19,709,000 as proposed by the House. The Senate bill included a total of $17,000,000 for NTIA salaries and expenses, of which $8,000,000 was provided through direct appropriations and $9,000,000 was provided by transfer from the Department of Justice Working Capital Fund for spectrum management. The conference agreement does not include a specific transfer of funds from the Justice Working Capital Fund into this account.

The conference agreement also includes language, as proposed by the Senate, expanding the purposes for which funds may be transferred to NTIA from other government agencies to include spectrum management, analysis and operations. The House bill addressed only funds transferred from other agencies for costs incurred in telecommunications research engineering and related activities by NTIA's Institute for Telecommunications Sciences. This language will allow NTIA to receive funds from other agencies to offset the cost of spectrum management, particularly those costs related to national security and law enforcement. The conferees expect NTIA, working with the Office of Management and Budget, to develop a proposal allowing for the reimbursement of spectrum management costs by other agency users and to provide a report on this proposal to the Committees on Appropriations of the House and the Senate no later than January 15, 1996.

PUBLIC BROADCASTING FACILITIES, PLANNING AND CONSTRUCTION

The conference agreement includes $15,500,000 for Public Broadcasting Facilities, Planning and Construction grants instead of $19,000,000 as proposed by the House and $10,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conference agreement allows up to $2,200,000 of this amount to be used for program administration, as provided in both the House and Senate bills.

INFORMATION INFRASTRUCTURE GRANTS

The conferees have provided $21,500,000 for NTIA's Information Infrastructure Grant program instead of $40,000,000 as proposed by the House and $18,900,000 as proposed by the Senate. Within the amount provided, the conference agreement designates $3,000,000 for program administration, instead of $4,000,000 as proposed by the House and $900,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conferees have not included bill language proposed by the Senate requiring NTIA to add certain criteria to the factors taken into consideration in selecting projects funded under this program, including the extent to which a proposal is consistent with State plans and priorities and the extent to which particular applications have been coordinated with telecommunications and information entities within the State. However, the conferees support NTIA's use of such criteria as additional factors to be considered when selecting grants under this program.

PATENT AND TRADEMARK OFFICE

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conferees have provided $82,324,000 for the Patent and Trademark Office as proposed by the Senate instead of $90,000,000 as proposed by the House.

SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF STANDARDS AND TECHNOLOGY

SCIENTIFIC AND TECHNICAL RESEARCH AND SERVICES

The conference agreement includes $259,000,000 for the internal (core) research account of the National Institute of Standards and Technology instead of $263,000,000 as proposed by the House and $222,737,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conferees concur with the House and Senate position that the Malcolm Baldrige Quality Program be funded under this account. The conferees expect the remaining funds provided to be distributed proportionately to the activities delineated in the House report.

The conference agreement deletes language proposed by the Senate which would have earmarked $1,200,000 within the amount provided under this account for continuation of the "green buildings" program. The House bill contained no similar provision.

INDUSTRIAL TECHNOLOGY SERVICES

The conference agreement includes $80,000,000 for the NIST external research account instead of $81,100,000 as proposed by the House and $101,600,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conferees have provided this amount to fund only the Manufacturing Extension Partnership Program as proposed by the House. The Senate bill would have allowed up to $25,300,000 to be used to support continuation grants for prior year Advanced Technology Program awards.

The conferees have provided $80,000,000 for the Manufacturing Extension Partnership Program instead of $81,100,000 as proposed by the House and $76,300,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conferees intend that these funds be applied in accordance with the direction given in the House report.

The conference agreement retains language included in both the House and Senate bills directing that no additional grants be awarded with carryover funds under the Advanced Technology Program, and that any remaining unobligated balances be used to fund continuation costs of ATP grants awarded in prior fiscal years.

CONSTRUCTION OF RESEARCH FACILITIES

The conference agreement included $60,000,000 for the NIST Construction account as proposed by the House instead of $27,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conferees have included the House language allowing these funds to be used for both construction of new facilities and renovation of existing facilities rather than the Senate language which would have limited use of the funds to renovation of existing facilities only.

The conference agreement also includes, in a later section, the rescission of $75,000,000 of prior year carryover amounts from this account. The result of the conference action will allow NIST to obligate $79,000,000 under this account for fiscal year 1996. The conferees intend that these funds be used for the purpose of proceeding with the construction of a new Chemistry building at the NIST Gaithersburg campus, with the remaining $9,000,000 to be applied to routine maintenance and repair of structures at both the Gaithersburg and Boulder campuses. The conferees are also concerned about the obligation of more than $50,000,000 from this account late in fiscal year 1995, and expect NIST to submit no later than January 15, 1996, a full accounting of funds obligated under this account during fiscal year 1995. The conferees are particularly concerned about the obligation of $22,150,000 of funds against an existing contract for "conservative estimates". The conferees expect NIST to submit a reprogramming of funds in accordance with section 605 of this Act for any amounts subsequently deobligated under any NIST construction contract.

NATIONAL OCEANIC AND ATMOSPHERIC
ADMINISTRATION

OPERATIONS, RESEARCH AND FACILITIES
(INCLUDING TRANSFER OF FUNDS)

The conferees have provided an appropriation of $1,795,677,000 for the Operations, Research, and Facilities account of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) instead of $1,724,452,000 as proposed by the House and $1,809,092,000 as proposed by the Senate. In addition, the conference agreement allows $3,000,000 in offsetting fees related to the aeronautical charting program to be collected to offset this amount, resulting in a final direct appropriation of $1,792,677,000 instead of $1,721,452,000 as proposed by the House and $1,806,092,000 as proposed by the Senate.

In addition to the new budget authority provided, the conference agreement allows a transfer of $63,000,000 from balances in the account titled "Promote and Develop Fishery Products and Research Related to American Fisheries", instead of $57,500,000 as proposed by the House and $62,000,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement does not include language proposed by the Senate requiring the National Weather Service to expand not more than $700,000 to operate and maintain agricultural weather service centers. The House bill contained no similar provision. Funding for agricultural weather offices is addressed later in this report.

The conferees concur with instructions contained in the House and Senate reports regarding the development of a revised budget structure for NOAA in consultation with the House and Senate Appropriations Committees, and expect the submission of the fiscal year 1997 budget request to conform to this new structure.

The conferees are aware that, during the recent shutdown of Federal activities, NOAA utilized carryover funds from various programs, projects and activities to continue operating without following standard notification procedures required under section 605 of the Appropriations Act. Upon enactment of the accompanying Act, the conferees expect NOAA to submit to the House and Senate Appropriations Committees a detailed accounting of the carryover funds utilized for this purpose, including a plan for restoring those activities from which funds were redirected.

The conferees expect NOAA to use the Federal Ship Financing Fund to cover administrative expenses related to that account.

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD—HOUSE

H13903

Unless specifically stated otherwise in this Statement of the Committee of the Conference, the conferees intend that amounts expended from the NOAA Operations, Research and Facilities account be allocated as previously described in the Committee reports of the House and Senate.

The following narrative provides additional information related to certain items included in the preceding table.

NATIONAL OCEAN SERVICE

The conferees have provided a total of $175,301,000 under this account for the activities of the National Ocean Service.

Mapping and charting.—The conferees have provided $34,000,000 for NOAA's mapping and charting programs for the purposes as described in the House report, with additional guidance given under the Fleet Modernization account addressed later in this report. In addition, the conferees would be willing to entertain a proposal to reprogram up to $1,000,000 of these amounts for observation and prediction activities to maintain tide and sea level measurements.

Coastal Ocean Program.—The conferees have provided $11,500,000 for the Coastal Ocean Program, of which $700,000 is for the continuation of research on high-salinity estuaries as proposed by the Senate. Within the total amount provided, the conferees expect the Coast Ocean Program managers to respond to the algae bloom in the Peconic Estuary system and adjacent Long Island waters that have devastated the commercial fishing industry. In addition to a concentrated research effort to understand the physiology of the brown tide organism, a systematic and comprehensive mapping of the bottom of the Peconic system should be conducted as soon as possible to identify containments and profile the problems being experienced by the shellfish industry. This action would supplement current efforts to maintain the health and integrity of the entire Peconic system through the Peconic Estuary Program.

Coastal zone management.—The conference agreement includes $46,200,000 for CZM program grants. An additional $1,000,000 is provided for the National Estuarine Research Reserve program, in addition to $3,300,000 provided under the Coastal Zone Management Fund described later in this report. The conferees have agreed to provide $500,000 to complete NOAA support for the special area management plan.

Marine Sanctuary Program.—The conference agreement includes $11,685,000 for the National Marine Sanctuary Program. The conferees are aware of concerns related to the proposal to designate a new marine sanctuary site in Puget Sound, Washington. The conferees also recognize the efforts being made by State and local officials, through existing programs, to manage the unique resources in Puget Sound. The conferees expect NOAA to continue the designation process without final designation of the Northwest Straits National Marine Sanctuary in the waters of Puget Sound prior to January 1, 1997 or until all of the county legislative bodies within or bordering the proposed marine sanctuary boundaries vote in the affirmative to ask for final designation.

Other.—Within the amounts provided for geodesy, the conferees have included $500,000 for continuation of geodetic survey work as described in the Senate report, and $1,000,000 for continuation of the land information system as described in the House report. Of the latter amount, $500,000 is included for the Orleans Parish and $500,000 is for the City of Sulphur to complete the Calcasieu Parish project. The conferees expect NOAA to provide a report within 30 days of enactment of the accompanying Act on the status of unobligated balances available under this program and a proposal to restore amounts previously appropriated for this program in order to complete this activity as soon as possible.

The conference agreement includes a total of $10,000,000 for NOAA's Coastal Services Center as requested in the budget and provided by the Senate.

Deep Ocean Isolation Study.—The conferees have been made aware of an innovative deep ocean waste handling and disposal system, featuring a patented tethered delivery technology, that could identify an environmentally safe method of subaqueous capping in isolated areas of the deepest ocean. The conferees expect NOAA to evaluate this proposal, and to develop a funding plan for an engineering analysis and preliminary design work on systems to transport dredge soil to a deposit site, transfer the material to a receiving platform, and deploy the tethered delivery system to safely conduct deep ocean waste isolation. The conferees expect NOAA to provide a report on its evaluation of this proposal to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations and the appropriate authorizing committees, including an estimate of the cost to conduct an initial test of this new system, by April 1, 1996.

NATIONAL MARINE FISHERIES SERVICE

The conference agreement includes a total of $281,642,000 for the National Marine Fisheries Service.

Within the amounts provided in the above table for base fisheries resource information programs, the conference agreement includes funding at the fiscal year 1995 level for conservation engineering, marine mammal research and protected species research.

The conferees are concerned that the operations of the hatcheries funded in the NOAA Operations, Research and Facilities (ORF) and Construction accounts be performed in a manner to best support the Northwest Salmon plan. The conferees further understand that the current designation of use of the construction funds for screen diversions may be overly restrictive. The conferees intend that some of these Construction funds, not to exceed $3,500,000, may be available for operations and maintenance provided that the use of funds for such a purpose are subject to a reprogramming notification under the general provisions of this Act, and provided further that NOAA and the States can demonstrate that such a use would maximize the implementation of the Endangered Species Act requirements. The conferees further stipulate that such a plan anticipate no more than the fiscal year 1996 level of funding for these purposes in subsequent years.

Pursuant to the original intent of the Mitchell Act, it is the intent of the conferees that the hatcheries rearing or releasing fish at or below the Bonneville Dam include a program in fiscal year 1996 to release fish above the dam to rebuild upriver natural runs.

Within the funding provided for the Marine Mammal Protection Act, the conferees intend that NOAA provide $1,500,000 for marine resource observers in the North Pacific, $550,000 for harbor seal research by the State of Alaska, $250,000 to the State of Alaska to assist in the implementation of marine mammal take reduction plans in the fisheries off Alaska, and $350,000 to be allocated to the Alaska Eskimo Whaling Commission for the following purposes: (1) scientific research; (2) International Whaling Commission representation; and (3) implementation of the Alaska Eskimo Whaling Commission and NOAA cooperative agreement. The conferees also expect NOAA to complete a detailed cost-benefit analysis for the Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico menhaden fisheries which may be re-classified from Category III to either Category II or I before any final rule is implemented regarding the incidental taking of marine mammals by commercial fishermen as published in the Federal Register of June 16, 1995.

The conferees concur with the language included in the Senate report regarding RECFIN and MARFIN programs. The conferees also agree with the designations given in the Senate report, within the total amounts available for NMFS, for experimental bycatch research and funding for the Newport Marine Science Center.

The conferees have included funds for the implementation of the Atlantic Coastal Fisheries Cooperative Management Act, and strongly support the Atlantic States Marine Fisheries Commission (ASMFC) actions to improve the management of coastal fisheries. However, the conferees are concerned that in several areas involving public participation, the ASMFC's deliberative process has been inadequate. The conferees expect ASMFC to specifically improve: (1) the public hearing process; (2) the method by which the public is informed of Commission activities; and (3) the effectiveness of ASMFC's advisory committees in the fishery management process. Finally, the conferees expect ASMFC to implement a process for the peer review of fish population models upon which fishery management decisions are based.

Because the Endangered Species Act has not been reauthorized since 1992, the conferees find it inappropriate to fund the application of this law to new prelisting or listing activities associated with threatened or endangered species. These activities include designation of critical habitat, review of petitions to list species and/or revise critical habitat, or other activities the agency conducts as part of its prelisting and listing actions, except for activities associated with the development and/or implementation of habitat conservation plans. The conference agreement does, however, include funds for species currently listed under the law in order to avoid disruption of ongoing programs for these species as well as impacts on the activities of private parties. Section 207 of the accompanying Act also addresses the issue of ESA activities to be conducted by NOAA within the amounts provided.

The conferees concur with the House and Senate direction regarding the NMFS Sea Turtle/Shrimp Fishery Emergency Response Plan (ERP) except that it is the conferees' firm intent that the peer review requirements and revisions required by the House and Senate reports regarding the March 14, 1995 Emergency Response Plan shall also apply to the November 14, 1994 Biological Opinion which led to the Emergency Response Plan. The conferees expect NMFS and the Department of Commerce not to implement any shrimp fishery closures that may result from the March 14, 1995 ERP prior to October 1, 1996.

Any funding provided in this conference agreement for endangered species recovery plan are not to be used by NOAA for any sea turtle, shrimp fishery emergency response plan activities or sea turtle protection and Kemp Ridley recovery activities, except those activities, studies and recovery actions specifically outlined in the House and Senate reports and this statement of conferees. The increases provided for these activities in this conference agreement are intended to enhance salmon conservation efforts in the Pacific Northwest.

The conferees endorse the House and Senate direction regarding an independent survey and analysis of the red snapper stock and red snapper management plan and expect these to be conducted within the total amounts available for NMFS at the level provided in the Senate report. However, since passage of the House and Senate appropriations bills, the Commerce Department has approved an individual transferable quota (ITQ) system for red snapper in the Gulf of Mexico, despite recent House passage of authorizing legislation prohibiting ITQs. The conferees direct the Secretary of Commerce and the Administrator of NOAA not to expend any funds to implement or enforce an ITQ system in the Gulf of Mexico until the independent assessment and analysis of red snapper stock is completed. The conferees also direct the Secretary and the Administrator to immediately study the feasibility of establishing a commercial bycatch season allowing red snapper endorsed vessels to land restricted catch of red snapper that will utilize an amount of fish commensurate with current estimates of bycatch mortality during the closed directed harvest season. This relief quota for commercial harvesters should be evaluated and compared to the quota averages attributed to the recreational fishery in terms of its biological stock impact.

The conferees expect NOAA to include as a priority under the Saltonstall-Kennedy and MARFIN grant programs, proposals for research and education efforts directed at the protection of high-risk consumers from naturally occurring bacteria associated with raw molluscan shellfish. Specifically, the conferees expect these programs to support ongoing efforts by the Interstate Shellfish Sanitation Conference and the Gulf of Mexico Oyster Industry in addressing concerns associated with Vibrio vulnificus.

The statement of the managers accompanying the fiscal year 1995 appropriation for NOAA included a designation of $500,000 in Saltonstall-Kennedy funds for comprehensive education program for at-risk consumers who consume raw molluscan shellfish. The conferees expect NMFS to transfer the remaining $250,000 of this amount to the Interstate Shellfish Sanitation Conference (ISSC) to continue implementation of the multi-year education program. The conferees expect the ISSC to manage the program in order to fully utilize its extensive network to ensure balanced participation between Federal and state agencies, the oyster industry and other affected parties in continuing this education program.

The conferees support the NMFS proposal to create an office to address issues related to the marine recreational fishing industry, within available resources. The conferees expect NMFS, as co-chair of the National Recreational Fisheries Coordination Council, to provide the expected guidance and leadership in the effort to conserve, restore, and enhance aquatic systems to provide for increased recreational fishing opportunities nationwide.

Within amounts provided for fisheries management programs, the conferees expect NMFS to maintain a program for fisheries trade promotion.

OCEANIC AND ATMOSPHERIC RESEARCH

The conference agreement includes a total of $213,944,000 for Oceanic and Atmospheric Research activities.

Interannual and seasonal climate research.—The conferees have provided $65,500,000 for interannual and seasonal climate research under the structure proposed by the House, of which $575,500,000 is to continue the basic Climate and Global Change program. The remaining $8,000,000 is to carry out the base interannual and seasonal research programs.

Marine prediction research.—The conference agreement provided $10,226,000 for marine prediction research. Within this amount, the conferees intend that Lake Champlain and Southeast fisheries studies be funded according to the Senate report.

GLERL.—Within the $5,200,000 provided for the Great Lakes Environmental Research Laboratory, the conferees expect NOAA to continue to support the Great Lakes near-shore research and GLERL zebra mussel research programs.

Sea grant.—The conferees have included $53,300,000 for the National Sea Grant program, and expect NOAA to continue to fund oyster disease research, zebra mussel research and the National Coastal Research and Development Institute within these amounts. The conferees urge NOAA to fund proposals related to the Vibrio vulnificus issue and the education of at-risk consumers regarding raw molluscan shellfish.

NURP.—The conferees have provided $12,000,000 for the National Undersea Research Program, and direct that each NURP center receive at least $1,560,000 of these funds. The conferees direct that priority be given to the NURP centers which have received the greatest reductions from rescissions in the previous fiscal year in allocating excess funds after each center has received the minimum $1,560,000.

NATIONAL WEATHER SERVICE

The conference agreement includes a total of $606,045,000 for the National Weather Service.

The amount provided includes $405,300,000 for local warnings and forecasts, including the staffing related to the modernization of the weather service, data buoy maintenance, Pacific and Alaska regional headquarters, and specialized weather services.

The conferees expect that any reductions required within the amounts provided in this conference agreement be applied first to staffing levels at NWS central headquarters. Further, the conferees concur with language included in the House report regarding notification prior to NWS office closures.

While the conference agreement assumes the privatization of specialized weather services, the conferees recognized that it may be necessary, within the funds available, for the National Weather Service to continue to provide agricultural weather, fruit frost, and fire related services for a limited time in areas where private sector entities are not yet available to provide these services. The conferees expect NOAA to submit a report by April 30, 1996, on the status of these privatization proposals. The conferees expect NWS to continue the marine facsimile weather service program within funds provided under local warnings and forecasts.

NATIONAL ENVIRONMENTAL SATELLITE, DATA AND INFORMATION SERVICE

The conference agreement includes $471,536,000 for NOAA's satellite and data management programs.

The conferees have included $10,000,000 for NOAA's participation in the LANDSAT program. The conferees are concerned that NOAA's participation in this program will take critical funding away from operational satellites crucial to the National Weather Service. The conferees encourage NOAA to continue to work with other Federal agencies participating in the LANDSAT program to obtain funds for operating LANDSAT ground systems. Should other funding be obtained, the conferees would consider a proposal to reprogram these funds toward other NOAA satellite requirements. The conferees expect these funds not to be obligated prior to enactment of authorization legislation endorsing NOAA's participation in this program.

The conference agreement includes $29,865,000 for data management systems within with amount provided for NESDIS. The conferees have provided an increase in this account to support initiatives aimed at converting NOAA's aging paper and microfilm records into intelligent data formats.

The conferees recognize that, in general, the most cost-effective means of procurement is open competition. While there has been discussion within NOAA of providing a sole source procurement for the next buy of Geostationary Operational Environmental Stationary (GOES) satellites, the conferees believe that this procurement should be subject to competition and a fixed price contract, if practicable. The conferees are in agreement that the next buy of GOES satellites should be for "clones" of the current GOES I-M satellites (or "GOES-NEXT"), requiring no new sensors or any other change calling for additional research and development. The goals for the GOES program should be to provide continuity in coverage and to reduce unit costs.

PROGRAM SUPPORT

The conference agreement provides $132,459,000 for NOAA program support.

Marine services.—The conference agreement includes $61,100,000 for marine services. The conferees expect funds made available under this account and the NOAA Fleet Modernization account, including prior year carryover funds, for mapping, charting, and geodesy services to be used to acquire such services through contracts entered into with qualified private sector contractors. The conferees expect that contracts for hydrographic, geodetic, and photogrammetric surveying and mapping services shall be awarded in accordance with title IX of the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949 (40 U.S.C. 541 et seq.), as proposed in the House report. Further, the conferees intend that no funds provided under this account, in this Act or in any prior year appropriation, be used to procure equipment that replaces or modernizes NOAA's in-house measurement capabilities when similar services may be obtained by contract through the private sector. The conferees believe that it is inappropriate for NOAA to use its limited resources to acquire specialized equipment for the NOAA fleet, considering the uncertainty of the future of the fleet as well as the availability of such equipment among potential private sector contractors for mapping and charting activities.

COASTAL ZONE MANAGEMENT FUND

The conference agreement includes an appropriation of $7,800,000, as provided in both the House and Senate bills, from the Coastal Zone Management Fund for the purposes designated by the Senate. The conferees intend that amounts provided will be available as follows: $4,000,000 for program administration, $500,000 for State development grants, and $3,300,000 for the National Estuarine Research Reserve Program. The conferees have provided an additional $1,000,000 in direct appropriations under the NOAA Operations, Research, and Facilities account for the National Estuarine Research Reserve Program.

CONSTRUCTION

The conference agreement includes a total of $50,000,000 for the NOAA Construction account as proposed by the Senate instead of $42,731,000 as proposed by the House. The conferees have provided these funds for the purposes described in the following paragraphs.

The conference agreement includes funding for the National Centers for Environmental Prediction, as proposed in both the House and Senate reports. The conferees have provided $3,700,000 for general facilities maintenance, $1,500,000 for the Sandy Hook lease, $2,000,000 for environmental compliance, $2,000,000 for above-standard costs at the Boulder laboratory, and $1,800,000 for NOAA research facilities.

The conferees have included a total of $19,300,000 for NEXRAD weather office construction and maintenance.

The conferees have included $4,700,000 for Columbia River facilities in accordance with the language included under the National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS) addressed in the Operations, Research and Facilities account.

The conference agreement includes funds for NMFS Honolulu laboratory renovations and the Newport Science Center architectural and engineering studies in accordance with the Senate report. The conferees have provided $3,000,000 for the NMFS Southeast laboratory.

As provided by both the House and Senate, the conferees have included $10,000,000 for Pribilof Island cleanup. In addition to direction given in both the House and Senate reports, the conferees expect NOAA to use a portion of these funds to stabilize to an appropriate building condition the historic seal processing plant located on the island of Saint George.

The conferees are aware of current shortfalls that exist at the NMFS Tiburon Lab. The conferees expect the NOAA Administrator to prepare a plan of action outlining the most cost-effective approach to address these shortfalls in order to maintain the current research mission. This plan should be submitted to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations by March 15, 1996. Funds provided in prior years for the Tiburon replacement are made available for this planning effort.

FLEET MODERNIZATION, SHIPBUILDING AND CONVERSION

The conference agreement includes $8,000,000 for the NOAA Fleet Modernization account, as provided in both the House and Senate bills, and language identical to that included in the House bill. In addition, the conference agreement retains language included in section 612 of the House and Senate bills further clarifying the uses of these funds.

FISHING VESSELS AND GEAR DAMAGE COMPENSATION FUND

The conference agreement includes $1,032,000 for an appropriation to the Fishing Vessel and Gear Damage Fund as provided in both the House and Senate versions of the bill.

FISHERMEN'S CONTINGENCY FUND

The conference agreement includes $999,000 for the Fishermen's Contingency Fund, as provided in both the House and Senate versions of the bill.

FOREIGN FISHING OBSERVER FUND

The conference agreement includes $196,000 for the expenses related to the Foreign Fishing Observer Fund, as provided in both the House and Senate versions of the bill.

FISHING VESSEL OBLIGATIONS GUARANTEES

The conference agreement provides $250,000 in subsidy amounts for Fishing Vessel Obligations Guarantees as proposed by the Senate. The House bill contained no similar provision. In addition, the conference agreement makes a technical language change to clarify that no loans may be made to purchase any new vessel that would increase the harvesting capacity of any U.S. fishery.

TECHNOLOGY ADMINISTRATION

UNDER SECRETARY FOR TECHNOLOGY/OFFICE OF TECHNOLOGY POLICY

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $5,000,000 for the Technology Administration as provided in both the House and Senate versions of the bill. The conferees concur with language included in the House report regarding this account.

GENERAL ADMINISTRATION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $29,100,000 for the general administration of the Commerce Department as provided in both the House and Senate versions of the bill.

OFFICE OF INSPECTOR GENERAL

The conference agreement includes $19,849,000 for the Commerce Department Inspector General as proposed by the Senate instead of $21,849,000 as proposed by the House.

COMMERCE REORGANIZATION TRANSITION FUND

The conference agreement does not include an appropriation of $20,000,000 for a new Commerce Reorganization Transition Fund as proposed by the Senate. The House bill contained no similar provision. The conference agreement includes a new general provision (section 210) requiring that any costs resulting from reorganization or consolidations be absorbed within the total budget authority available to the Department.

NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF STANDARDS AND TECHNOLOGY

CONSTRUCTION OF RESEARCH FACILITIES (RESCISSION)

The conference agreement includes a rescission of $75,000,000 from the NIST Construction account under title II of the Act instead of a rescission of $152,993,000 from projected end-of-year carryover balances as proposed by the Senate in title VII of the Act. The House bill contained no similar rescission. This rescission of $75,000,000 reduces the carryover appropriation under this account to $19,000,000. Uses of the remaining funds are addressed in the description of the fiscal year 1996 appropriation under this account.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

GENERAL PROVISIONS

The conference agreement includes the following general provisions for the Department of Commerce:

Section 201.—The conference agreement includes section 201, identical in both versions of the bill, regarding certifications of advanced payments.

Sec. 202.—The conference agreement includes section 202, identical in both versions of the bill, allowing funds to be used for hire of passenger motor vehicles.

Sec. 203.—The conference agreement includes section 203, identical in both bills, prohibiting reimbursement to the Air Force for hurricane reconnaissance planes.

Sec. 204.—The conference agreement includes section 204, identical in both the House and Senate versions of the bill, prohibiting funds from being used to reimburse the Unemployment Trust Fund for temporary census workers.

Sec. 205.—The conference agreement includes section 205, identical in both the House and Senate versions of the bill, regarding transfer authority between Commerce Department appropriation accounts.

Sec. 206.—The conference agreement includes a new section 206 providing for the notification of the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations of a plan for transferring funds to appropriate successor organizations within 90 days of enactment of any legislation dismantling or reorganizing the Department of Commerce, should such legislation be enacted. This section also includes language allowing the Secretary of Commerce or the appropriate head of any successor organization to use available funds to cover the costs of actions relating to the abolishment, reorganization, or transfer of functions and to transfer funds between appropriations accounts in order to cover these costs, should such actions be necessary.

The Senate bill included under section 206 language entitled "Consolidation of Functions of Commerce Department" which: (1) provided broad authority to the Director of the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) to abolish, reorganize, consolidate or transfer functions within the Department of Commerce in accordance with the provisions of the Senate bill, to terminate or transfer associated personnel as considered appropriate by OMB; (2) authorized employee buyouts through December 15, 1995; and (3) established a Commerce Reorganization Transition fund to cover the costs of consolidation and employee buyouts. The House bill contained no provision on this matter.

The conferees have included new language for section 206 in order to conform the actions taken in this Act to any subsequently enacted legislation dismantling or reorganizing the Department of Commerce.

The conference agreement does not include the language under section 207 as proposed by the Senate, requiring the Secretary of Commerce to conduct a study of the Doppler weather surveillance radar to assess the impact on property owners in the immediate area of the radar sites, as well as the costs of relocating these radars. However, the conferees expect the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, upon enactment of an authorization and to the extend funds are available, to identify an alternative site for the relocation of the NEXRAD radar tower presently located at Sulphur Mountain in Ventura County, California.

Sec. 207.—The conference agreement includes section 207 requiring that no funds provided in this Act, or under any other law, be used to implement certain subsections of the Endangered Species Act until reauthorizing legislation is enacted. This language is identical to that included in the Senate bill as section 208. The House bill contained no similar provision. This language prohibits the Secretary of Commerce, through the National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS), from proposing the listing of new species under the Endangered Species Act, designation of critical habitat, or final listing determinations, pending reauthorization of that Act. NMFS may use funds for delisting, or for the reclassification of a species from endangered to threatened, and funds may be used for prelisting conservation and other activities that will help prevent future listings of species, and implementation of section 4(d) rules.

Sec. 208.—The conference agreement includes section 208, included in the Senate bill under section 209, allowing the transfer of title of a project in HilineX, Vermont, originally funded under the Economic Development Administration. The House bill contained no similar provision.

Sec. 209.—The conference agreement includes section 209, included in the Senate bill as section 210, providing for the demolition of structures, environmental cleanup and conveyance of land by the Economic Development Administration to the Tuscaloosa (AL) County Industrial Development Authority. The House bill contained no similar provision.

Sec. 210.—The conference agreement includes a new section 210, not included in either bill, requiring that any costs related to personnel actions incurred by a Department or agency funded in title II of the accompanying Act as a result of funding levels provided in this Act, be absorbed within the total budgetary resources available to such Department or agency.

TITLE III—THE JUDICIARY

SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $25,834,000 for the salaries and expenses of the Supreme Court as provided in both the House and Senate bills.

CARE OF THE BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS

The conference agreement includes $3,313,000 for the Supreme Court Care of the Buildings and Grounds account, as provided in both the House and Senate bills. The conference agreement also provides that $500,000 of the amount appropriated shall be available until expended as proposed by the House, instead of $565,000 as proposed by the Senate.

UNITED STATES COURT OF APPEALS FOR THE FEDERAL CIRCUIT
SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $14,288,000 for the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit as proposed by the Senate, instead of $14,070,000 as proposed by the House. The conferees have provided the higher amount to fund additional court security officers requested by the Court.

UNITED STATES COURT OF INTERNATIONAL TRADE
SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $10,859,000 for the U.S. Court of International Trade as provided in both the House and Senate bills.

COURTS OF APPEALS, DISTRICT COURTS, AND OTHER JUDICIAL SERVICES
SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conferees have provided $2,433,141,000 for the salaries and expenses of the Federal Judiciary, instead of $2,409,024,000 as proposed by the House and $2,446,194,665 as proposed by the Senate. Including amounts provided under the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund, addressed below, the total amount available in this conference agreement for the salaries and expenses of the courts is $2,463,141,000 rather than $2,450,524,000 as proposed by the House and $2,476,194,665 as proposed by the Senate.

Within the overall funding available for fiscal year 1996, the conferees expect the Judiciary to fund its highest program priorities, including additional magistrate judges to eliminate existing backlogs in caseloads.

The conference agreement also appropriates $2,318,000 from the Vaccine Injury Compensation Trust Fund for expenses associated with the National Childhood Vaccine Injury Act of 1986, as provided in both the House and Senate bills.

Optimal utilization of judicial resources.—The conferees are concerned about the ability to sustain the current appropriations level for the Judicial Branch in the context of the need to balance the budget and reduce the deficit. The conferees want to ensure that the Judiciary maintains its current high standards for the delivery of justice in our courts and the public's confidence in the court system. Particularly in this time of budgetary constraints, this must be done in the most cost-effective way possible.

In order to provide the Congress with the means to better evaluate the operations of the courts, the conferees expect the Judicial Conference to continue its effort to identify ways to make the courts more efficient and less costly. As part of this effort, the conferees request that the Judiciary undertake a review, to be performed by an independent, nonpartisan, professional organization outside the Judiciary, but with the complete cooperation and support of the Judiciary. A report of its finding should be submitted by no later than November 30, 1996, with an interim report on the findings to be submitted by April 1, 1996. While the report may address possible improvements in any aspect of the Judiciary and its functions, the conferees expect the report to emphasize the following:

The extent to which the current judicial workload corresponds to the distribution of judicial resources.

The extent to which underutilized court facilities could be closed, or the sharing of courtroom space expanded, without appreciably affecting the delivery of justice, and the potential for savings in space costs that could be realized.

The extent to which the use of contract services might be substituted for non-judge employees in the courts and what, if any, savings could be realized.

The extent to which savings and efficiencies can be realized through enhanced use of automation and other high technology initiatives.

Violent crime reduction trust fund.—The conference agreement includes an appropriation of $30,000,000 from the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund, the same amount provided in the Senate bill. The House bill included an appropriation of $41,500,000 from the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund for the Judiciary. The conferees intend that these funds be used to offset workload requirements of the Federal Judiciary related to the Violent Crime Control and Law Enforcement Act of 1994 and any increased workload requirements related to title VIII of this Act.

DEFENDER SERVICES

The conferees have included $267,217,000 for the Federal Judiciary's Defender Services account, instead of $260,000,000 as proposed by the House and $274,433,000 as proposed by the Senate. The amount provided is for the operation of Federal public defender and community defender organizations and the compensation, reimbursement, and expenses of attorneys appointed to represent persons under the Criminal Justice Act, as amended.

The conference agreement also includes language proposed by the Senate establishing April 1, 1996 as the date by which no funds provided under this account may be expended for Death Penalty Resource Centers (Post-Conviction Defender Organizations). The House bill included no specific date, but would have terminated these centers upon enactment of this Act. The conferees agree that establishing April 1, 1996 as the termination date will allow for a more orderly and efficient close-out of this program.

The conferees recognize the concerns expressed by the Judiciary that the cost of panel attorney representation in Federal capital habeas cases be kept to an appropriate level. Therefore, the conferees expect the Judiciary to initiate a study of approaches to reducing panel attorney costs and the feasibility of conducting a pilot project to assess flat-fee contracts as one such approach. The conferees expect a report on the results of this study to be submitted to the Committees on Appropriations of the House and the Senate within one year of enactment of this Act.

FEES OF JURORS AND COMMISSIONERS

The conference agreement includes $59,028,000 for Fees of Jurors and Commissioners as provided in both the House and Senate bills.

COURT SECURITY

The conference agreement includes $102,000,000 for the Federal Judiciary's Court Security account as proposed by the Senate instead of $109,724,000 as proposed by the House.

ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICE OF THE UNITED STATES COURTS

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $47,500,000 for the Administrative Office of the United States Courts as provided in both the House and Senate bills.

FEDERAL JUDICIAL CENTER

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $17,914,000 for the fiscal year 1996 salaries and expenses of the Federal Judicial Center instead of $18,828,000 as proposed by the House and $17,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conferees agree that education and training functions performed by the Center should be maintained at current levels.

JUDICIAL RETIREMENT FUNDS

PAYMENT TO THE JUDICIARY TRUST FUNDS

The conference agreement includes $32,900,000 for payment to the various Judicial retirement funds as provided in both the House and Senate bills.

UNITED STATES SENTENCING COMMISSION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conferees have included $8,500,000 for the U.S. Sentencing Commission as provided in both the House and Senate bills.

THE JUDICIARY

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section 301.—The conference agreement includes section 301 as provided in both the House and Senate bills allowing appropriations to be used for services as authorized by 5 U.S.C. 3109.

Sec. 302.—The conference agreement includes section 302 as provided in both the House and Senate bills which allows appropriations to be available to the Special Court established under the Regional Rail Reorganization Act of 1973.

Sec. 303.—The conference agreement includes section 303, included in both the House and Senate bills, providing the Judiciary with the authority to transfer funds between appropriations accounts. The conference agreement also includes new language exempting the Judiciary's Defender Services account from the 10 percent increase ceiling set by this provision. The conferees have included this exemption because of concerns expressed by the Federal Judiciary that the total requirements for the Defender Services account will exceed $295,000,000. Because the demands for Federal defender services fluctuate, the conferees have included this provision which will allow additional funds to be transferred to this account from other budgetary resources available to the Judiciary, should additional resources be required, subject to the reprogramming guidelines set forth in section 605 of this Act.

Sec. 304.—The conference agreement includes section 304, identical in both the House and Senate versions of the bill, allowing up to $10,000 of salaries and expenses funds provided in this title to be used for official reception representation expenses of the Judicial Conference of the United States.

Sec. 305.—The conference agreement deletes section 306 as proposed by the Senate, which would have required (1) that judicial circuit conferences or meetings authorized under section 333 of title 28, United States Code, be held within the geographic boundaries of the court over which the chief judge presides, and (2) that no circuit would receive more than $100,000 for such conferences. The House bill contained no similar provision. The conferees strongly agree that the Judiciary should make every effort to hold down the cost of judicial circuit conferences, including the use of new communications technologies such as video teleconferencing.

The conference agreement includes a new section 305, similar to section 306 included in the Senate bill, revising section 333 of title 28 of the United States Code to make the holding of judicial conferences optional and to make attendance by judges at these conferences discretionary. Section 306 of the Senate bill included these provisions, as well as a sense of the Senate that the Federal Judiciary should use new communications technologies to conduct judicial conferences and a provision making this section applicable only to contracts entered into after the date of enactment of this Act. The House bill contained no similar provision.

The conference agreement deletes section 308 regarding the National Fine Center, as proposed by the Senate. The House bill contained no provision on this matter. The conferees understand that the Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts has committed to conducting a time-out and review of the National Fine Center program. The conferees expect the Administrative Office to submit to the Committees on Appropriations of the House and the Senate a report on the results of this independent review by March 1, 1996.

TITLE IV—DEPARTMENT OF STATE AND RELATED AGENCIES

DIPLOMATIC AND CONSULAR PROGRAMS

The conference agreement includes a total of $1,719,220,000 for Diplomatic and Consular Programs, instead of $1,727,298,000 as proposed by the House, and $1,698,220,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conference agreement includes $9,720,000 for security enhancement and $700,000 to be derived from registration fees, as proposed in both the House and Senate bills.

The conference agreement includes language that allows, through April 1, 1996, continued collection of Machine Readable Visa (MRV) fees as an offsetting collection for the cost of consular services. The Senate bill provided this authority for the full fiscal year, and the House bill contained no similar provision. The conference agreement also allows MRV fees to be collected from North American Free Trade Agreement countries during the same time period, which was not proposed in either bill, consistent with the pending House and Senate foreign affairs authorization bills.

The conference agreement also provides $24,856,000 from within this account for the Diplomatic Telecommunications Service, as proposed by the House and the Senate. The conference agreement modifies the language to make the funds available until expended, and to allow $7,544,000 of enhancement funds to be expended prior to submission of the pilot project report. Both the House and Senate bills withheld all enhancement funds until submission of the report.

The conference agreement also includes language relating to fees from the operation of the International Center and the use of Blair House facilities, and allowing transfers between the Diplomatic and Consular Programs and the Salaries and Expenses accounts, as proposed by both the House and Senate.

The conference agreement also includes language that was included in both the House and Senate bills requiring that in fiscal year 1997, a system be in place that allocates to each department and agency the full cost of its presence outside the United States. To carry out this provision, the conferees direct the Office of Management and Budget to ensure that in the President's budget requests for fiscal year 1997, the full cost of each Federal agency's overseas presence is clearly reflected within its budget request to Congress.

The conference agreement deletes language included by the Senate, requiring the State Department to report to the President and the Congress on potential cost savings generated by extending foreign service officer tours of duty in nations that require two-year language study programs. The conferees note that some overseas missions, such as those in China and Japan, require language preparation and extended tours in such countries may be justified. Longer tours may yield significant savings and improve personnel management. Accordingly, the Department of State is directed to conduct the study called for in the Senate bill and to submit the study to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations not later than May 15, 1996.

The conferees agree that the language in both the House and Senate reports under this heading is to be followed in expending fiscal year 1996 funds. The continuations noted in the House report can be provided through either a grant or contract mechanism.

The conferees believe that U.S. economic and commercial interests are an integral component of our diplomatic relations, and in many overseas diplomatic posts, the cornerstone of our bilateral and multilateral relationships. It is critical that these interests be actively promoted at the highest level. The conferees note that while foreign service officers from other non-State Department agencies have been elevated to ambassadorial rank, no senior officer from the U.S. and Foreign Commercial Service (US&FCS) has been selected as an ambassador. The conferees believe that senior officers of the US&FCS have the understanding and skills necessary to effectively represent U.S. interests at the highest level, particularly in posts of strategic commercial interest to the United States. Therefore, the conferees expect the Administration to nominate at least one senior officer of the US&FCS to ambassadorial rank as soon as possible.

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes a total of $365,146,000 for Salaries and Expenses, as proposed by the House, instead of $369,870,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conference agreement includes $1,870,000 for security enhancements, as proposed by both the House and the Senate.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS REORGANIZATION TRANSITION FUND

The conference agreement does not include $5,000,000 for the Foreign Affairs Reorganization Transition Fund, as proposed by the Senate. The disposition of the Fund is discussed under section 404.

CAPITAL INVESTMENT FUND

The conference agreement includes $16,400,000 for the Capital Investment Fund, as proposed by both the House and the Senate.

OFFICE OF INSPECTOR GENERAL

The conference agreement includes $27,369,000 for the combined State and United States Information Agency Inspector General, instead of $27,669,000 for the combined office, as proposed by the House, and $24,350,000 for the combined office, as proposed by the Senate. The conference agreement includes new language exempting the Inspector General from the existing requirement to inspect all posts every five years. This language is intended to result in budget savings that will help the Office carry out its mission within the funding level provided in the conference agreement.

Upon enactment of this legislation, the Inspector General of the Department of State will have responsibility for preparing semi-annual reports for three separate organizations—the Department of State, the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, and the United States Information Agency—and international broadcasting programs. The Inspector General should consult with the House Committee on Government Reform and Oversight, the Senate Governmental Affairs Committee, and the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations on the format and content of the Inspector General's semi-annual report prior to submitting that report to Congress. This consolidated report will comply with the Inspector General Act of 1978, as amended, and will allow the State Department Inspector General to achieve cost savings and efficiencies in the preparation of these reports.

REPRESENTATION ALLOWANCES

The conference agreement includes $4,500,000 for Representation Allowances, as proposed by the Senate, instead of $4,780,000 as proposed by the House.

PROTECTION OF FOREIGN MISSIONS AND OFFICIALS

The conference agreement includes $8,579,000 for Protection of Foreign Missions and Officials, as proposed by both the House and the Senate.

SECURITY AND MAINTENANCE OF UNITED STATES MISSIONS

The conference agreement includes $385,760,000 for this account, instead of $391,760,000, as proposed by the House, and $369,860,000, as proposed by the Senate.

The conferees have agreed to rename this account from "Acquisition and Maintenance of Buildings Abroad" to "Security and Maintenance of United States Missions". The conferees believe this name more accurately reflects the activities funded by this account, which are primarily related to the management of over $10,000,000,000 of U.S. Government real property located overseas and used in carrying out the mission not only of the Department of State, but of the approximately 35 Departments and agencies that carry out programs overseas, including the Department of Justice, the Department of Treasury, and the Department of Defense, to name just a few. These properties include housing for all U.S. Government employees overseas, both U.S. owned and leased. Substantial funds are expended for security upgrades, providing security on all construction projects, and for assuring the safety of U.S. Government employees and their families at their workplace and in their living quarters.

Of the recommended funds, $369,800,000 are required to maintain current activities. The additional $15,900,000 may be used to address the backlog in maintenance projects estimated in excess of $400,000,000. No funding for any new construction projects is provided.

Under title VII of the bill, the conferees have included a rescission of $60,000,000 from carryover balances in this account.

The Department's ability to address housing and facility needs in the least costly manner possible is potentially limited by the current inability to use lease-purchase agreements. As called for in the House report, the Department is expected to report back on the benefits of the lease-purchase option in managing overseas property needs. Within funds appropriated under this account or carryover from any source, the conferees expect that $3,500,000 will be made available for architectural and engineering plans associated with a consolidated chancery complex in Kingston. These operations are currently housed in five leased facilities. The conferees believe that consolidation of existing U.S. Government owned property should result in lower operating costs. On-site housing should yield additional savings of up to $2,000,000 per year in residential security. The plans should be compatible with either a standard construction or with a lease-purchase option. The Department should report to the Committee on Appropriations on the relative costs and benefits of these two options by March 1, 1996.

EMERGENCIES IN THE DIPLOMATIC AND CONSULAR SERVICE

The conference agreement includes $6,000,000 for Emergencies in the Diplomatic and Consular Service account, as provided in both the House and Senate bills.

REPATRIATION LOANS PROGRAM ACCOUNT

The conference agreement includes a total appropriation of $776,000 for the Repatriation Loans Program Account, as provided in both the House and Senate bills.

PAYMENT TO THE AMERICAN INSTITUTE IN TAIWAN

The conference agreement includes $15,165,000 for the Payment to the American Institute in Taiwan account, as provided in both the House and Senate bills.

PAYMENT TO THE FOREIGN SERVICE RETIREMENT AND DISABILITY FUND

The conference agreement includes $125,402,000 for the Payment to the Foreign Service Retirement and Disability Fund account, as provided in both the House and Senate bills.

INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS AND CONFERENCES

CONTRIBUTIONS TO INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

The conference agreement includes $700,000,000 for Contributions to International Organizations to pay the costs assessed to the United States for membership in fifty international organizations, compared to $858,000,000, as provided in the House bill, and $550,000,000, as provided in the Senate bill.

The conference agreement does not include language proposed in the Senate bill to permit funding for the International Labor Organization. The House bill had no similar provision. Funding for the International Labor Organization will be decided by the Administration as part of its overall allocation of funds.

The conference agreement includes language contained in both the House and Senate bills regarding withholding of 20 percent of the contribution to the United Nations until a certification is made relating to the establishment of an independent Office of Inspector General at the United Nations, a prohibition on use of funds for interest payments, and limiting the payment of arrearages to uses agreed upon by the United States and the respective international organizations.

The conferees are agreed that no funds are provided for assessments to be paid to the United Nations International Development Organization.

The conferees have agreed, with respect to the Interparliamentary Union (IPU), that no funds should be provided until the IPU adjusts the schedule of IPU meetings to accommodate U.S. participation, and until the IPU reverses its decision to increase the U.S. assessment level from 12.8 percent to 15 percent. In so doing, the IPU should make such adjustments as necessary to ensure that the U.S. is not held accountable for any arrearage resulting from the aforementioned increase. In addition, funds should be provided on the condition that measurable steps are taken to reduce the budget and expenses of IPU. The final decision whether or not to provide funds for continued U.S. membership in IPU should be made by the Speaker of the House and the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, in consultation with the President and Vice President of the U.S. Group of the IPU.

Funding for the U.S. assessment for the Chemical Weapons Convention, should be ratified by the U.S., is to be considered under this account, as provided in the House report.

Allocation of the funds included in the conference agreement is to be made in conjunction with an assessment of the importance of the fifty international organizations to the national interest of the United States. The Department is expected to report the results of its review of these organizations to the Appropriations Committees no later than January 30, 1996.

CONTRIBUTIONS FOR INTERNATIONAL PEACEKEEPING ACTIVITIES

The conference agreement provides $225,000,000 for Contributions for International Peacekeeping Activities, as proposed by the Senate, instead of $425,000,000 as proposed by the House. The overall conference 602(b) allocation of funds to the Subcommittee was not sufficient to permit funding at any other level.

The conference agreement includes language included in both the House and Senate bills requiring a 15 day advance notice of votes in the United Nations Security Council for new or expanded peacekeeping missions and requiring a certification that American businesses are being given equal procurement opportunities.

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCES AND CONTINGENCIES

The conference agreement includes $3,000,000 for International Conferences and Contingencies, as provided in both the House and Senate bills.

INTERNATIONAL COMMISSIONS

INTERNATIONAL BOUNDARY AND WATER COMMISSION, UNITED STATES AND MEXICO

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $12,058,000 for Salaries and Expenses of the International Boundary and Water Commission (IBWC), instead of $12,358,000 as proposed by the House and $11,500,000 as proposed by the Senate.

CONSTRUCTION

The conference agreement includes $6,644,000 for the Construction account of the IBWC, as proposed by the House, instead of $8,000,000, as proposed by the Senate.

The conferees note that both House and Senate reports contain identical language calling on the IBWC to fulfill its existing agreements to reimburse local governments and to provide a report within 60 days of enactment of this legislation.

AMERICAN SECTIONS, INTERNATIONAL COMMISSIONS

The conference agreement includes $5,800,000 for the U.S. share of expenses of the International Boundary Commission, the International Joint Commission, United States and Canada, and the Border Environment Cooperation Commission, as provided in both the House and Senate bills.

INTERNATIONAL FISHERIES COMMISSIONS

The conference agreement includes $14,669,000 for the U.S. share of the expenses of the International Fisheries Commissions and related activities, as proposed by the House, instead of $15,119,000, as proposed by the Senate. Allocation of funds is to be made as provided in the House report.

OTHER

PAYMENT TO THE ASIA FOUNDATION

The conference agreement includes $5,000,000 for the Payment to the Asia Foundation account, instead of $10,000,000, as proposed by the House and no funding, as proposed by the Senate.

RELATED AGENCIES

ARMS CONTROL AND DISARMAMENT AGENCY

ARMS CONTROL AND DISARMAMENT ACTIVITIES

The conference agreement includes $35,700,000 for the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency (ACDA), instead of $40,000,000 as proposed by the House and $22,700,000, as proposed by the Senate. To the maximum extent possible, reductions should be taken from administrative functions, rather than from programmatic staff involved in technical aspects of ACDA's activities, including monitoring functions. The conferees note that ACDA also has the option of seeking to change the status of its considerable number of detailees from other agencies from a reimbursable to a non-reimbursable status.

UNITED STATES INFORMATION AGENCY SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $445,645,000 for Salaries and Expenses of the United States Information Agency (USIA), as proposed by the House, instead of $429,000,000, as proposed by the Senate. All other bill language, which is identical in the House and Senate bills, is included in the conference agreement.

The conferees note that even at the higher House level, substantial reductions will be required, including a reduction approaching 600 positions, and the closing of up to 20 posts and installations, reducing USIA's field presence by approximately 10 percent. Both House and Senate reports included a recommendation that operations in western Europe and Canada be looked at for further reductions, because these are parts of the world that have the greatest access to information and are most likely to be exposed to the American point of view from other sources. In addition, USIA will need to reexamine all of its major operations and downsize those posts where staffing is not in accord with USIA's resource allocation grouping model.

The conference agreement includes sufficient funding for the phase out of the Latin America data base, as provided in the Senate report.

TECHNOLOGY FUND

The conference agreement includes $5,050,000 for the Technology Fund, as provided in both the House and Senate bills.

EDUCATIONAL AND CULTURAL EXCHANGE PROGRAMS

The conference agreement includes $200,000,000 for Educational and Cultural Exchange Programs, instead of $192,090,000, as proposed by the House, and $210,000,000, as proposed by the Senate. Of the total, the conferees intend that $102,500,000 be allocated for the Fulbright program, and $97,500,000 be allocated for other programs, including $5,000,000 for international exchange events involving disability issues associated with the Tenth Paralympiad to be held in 1996.

To the maximum extent possible, the conferees urge that the following exchange programs be supported: the International Visitors Program, the Pepper Scholarships, including the Executive Education Program for Central European Business and Professional Leaders, the Muskie Fellowships, the Humphrey Fellowships, the Disability Exchange Clearinghouse, the Congress Bundestag Exchanges, the South Pacific Exchanges, the East Timorese Scholarships, the Cambodian Scholarships, the Tibetan Exchanges, the United States/Mexico Conflict Resolution Center, the Institute for Representative Government, the American Institute of Indian Studies and the British Parliamentary Exchange.

Within the total amount of funding provided, funding for exchange support activities is included.

The conferees expect that a proposal for the distribution of the available resources among exchange programs, as well as proposed enhancements for exchanges with the Newly Independent States, will be submitted through the normal reprogramming process prior to final decisions being made.

The USIA should disburse funds in the amount of $1,800,000 to Mansfield Center for Pacific Affairs to cover the Center's costs in fully implementing the Mike Mansfield Fellowships including the posting of seven 1995 fellows and their immediate families in Japan in order that the fellows may work in a Japanese government agency for one year, preparation and training for ten 1996 fellows, the recruitment and selection of the ten 1997 fellows, and attendant administrative costs.

EISENHOWER EXCHANGE FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM
TRUST FUND

The conference agreement includes language as provided in both the House and Senate bills, allowing all interest and earnings accruing to the Trust Fund in fiscal year 1996 to be used for necessary expenses of the Eisenhower Exchange Fellowships. Further issues with respect to this program are dealt with under section 412.

ISRAELI ARAB SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

The conference agreement includes language as provided in both the House and Senate bills, allowing all interest and earnings accruing to the Scholarship Fund in fiscal year 1996 to be used for necessary expenses of the Israeli Arab Scholarship Program.

AMERICAN STUDIES COLLECTIONS ENDOWMENT FUND

The conference agreement includes language as provided in both the House and Senate bills, allowing all interest and earnings accruing to the Endowment Fund in fiscal year 1996 to be used for necessary expenses of American Studies Collections.

INTERNATIONAL BROADCASTING OPERATIONS

The conference agreement includes $325,191,000 for International Broadcasting Operations, instead of $341,000,000 as proposed by the House and $294,191,000, as proposed by the Senate. The conference agreement does not include funds for Broadcasting to Cuba under this account, as proposed by the House, but rather includes it in under a separate account, as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement does not include language proposed by the Senate that would have limited funding for Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty (RFE/RL) to $29,000,000. The House had no similar provision. Under current law, funding for RFE/RL programming cannot exceed $75,000,000.

The conference agreement does not include language proposed by the House to allow funds to be used for equipment and transmission facilities for Broadcasting to Cuba, but similar language is included under the Broadcasting to Cuba account.

The conference agreement includes language, not in either the House or Senate bill, which allows USIA to use not to exceed $1,000,000 in funds received in connection with its broadcasting resources, including receipts from advertising, for authorized purposes.

All other language, identical in both House and Senate bills, is included in the conference agreement.

The conference agreement assumes $5,000,000 in funding for Radio Free Asia, under this account, as did both the House and Senate bills.

The exact distribution of funds under this account for broadcasting operations, associated technical activities and administration is to be decided upon by USIA under the new administrative structure for international broadcasting, authorized by the United States International Broadcasting Act of 1994. The conferees understand that the new Broadcasting Board of Governors has been confirmed. Clarification appears to be required as to how the Broadcasting Board of Governors will operate, how it will interact with USIA, and where ultimate operating authority for international broadcasting lies. All relevant House and Senate Committees should be provided that clarification as soon as possible.

The conferees expect that the Committees will be notified of the final distribution of funding among the activities under this account pursuant to the normal reprogramming procedures.

BROADCASTING TO CUBA

The conference agreement includes $24,809,000 for Broadcasting to Cuba under a separate account, as proposed by the Senate, instead of within the total for International Broadcasting Operations, as proposed by the House.

The agreement also includes language requiring the relocation of the headquarters of the Office of Cuba Broadcasting from Washington, D.C., to south Florida by April 1, 1996, and permits funds from three accounts, International Broadcasting Operations, Broadcasting to Cuba, and Radio Construction, to be used to carry out the relocation. The Senate bill proposed the relocation, but allowed any USIA funds to be used to carry out the relocation. The House bill contained no similar provision.

The conference agreement includes language permitting use of funds under this account for equipment and transmission facilities, as proposed by the Senate, and similar to language proposed by the House under International Broadcasting Operations.

The conference agreement does not include language proposed by the Senate to allow funds to be used to purchase or lease, maintain and operate aircraft, including aerostats, required to house and operate television broadcasting equipment.

RADIO CONSTRUCTION

The conference agreement includes $40,000,000 for Radio Construction, instead of $70,164,000, as proposed by the House, and $22,000,000, as proposed by the Senate. This account provides funding for the following activities: maintenance, improvements, replacements and repairs; satellite and terrestrial program feeds; engineering support activities; and broadcast facility leases and land rentals.

The conferees reiterate that Congress has made clear its intent on a number of occasions that, to the maximum extent possible, contracts for radio construction projects should be awarded on the basis of a strong preference to American firms and content.

The conferees expect USIA to report on the expected distribution of funds in fiscal year 1996, including carryover.

EAST-WEST CENTER

The conference agreement includes $11,750,000 for operations of the East-West Center, instead of no funds, as proposed by the House, and $18,000,000, as proposed by the Senate.

NORTH/SOUTH CENTER

The conference agreement includes $2,000,000 for operations of the North/South Center, instead of no funds, as proposed by the House, and $4,000,000, as proposed by the Senate.

NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR DEMOCRACY

The conference agreement includes $30,000,000 for the National Endowment for Democracy, as provided in both the House and Senate bills.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE AND RELATED

GENERAL PROVISIONS

The conference agreement includes General Provisions for title IV of this location, as provided in the Senate bill, instead of immediately after the State Department funding paragraphs, as provided in the House bill. The General Provisions heading is retitled to include reference to Related Agencies.

Section 401.—The conference agreement includes section 401, as provided in both the House and Senate bills, permitting use of funds for allowances, differentials, and transportation.

Sec. 402.—The conference agreement includes section 402, as provided in both the House and Senate bills, dealing with transfer authority.

Sec. 403.—The conference agreement includes section 403, as provided in both the House and Senate bills, dealing with the compensation of the United States Commissioner of the International Boundary Commission, United States and Canada.

Sec. 404.—The conference agreement includes a provision: (a) requiring that 90 days after enactment of any legislation consolidating, reorganizing, or downsizing the functions of the Department of State, the United States Information Agency (USIA), and the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency (ACDA), the heads of those agencies are to submit proposals for transferring or rescinding funds appropriated in this bill for functions that are affected by such legislation; and (b) providing those agencies with transfer authority to cover the costs of actions to consolidate, reorganize or downsize the functions under their authority required by such legislation, and of any related personnel action, including voluntary separation incentives, if authorized by such legislation. These actions are subject to reprogramming authority.

The Senate bill contained a provision giving the Director of the Office of Management and Budget broad authority to eliminate redundancies and consolidate functions among the State Department, USIA and ACDA; authorizing employee buy-outs through December 15, 1995; and establishing a Foreign Affairs Reorganization Transition Fund to cover the costs of consolidation and employee buy-outs. The House bill contained no similar provision.

Sec. 405.—The conference agreement includes a provision waiving, through April 1, 1996, provisions of existing legislation that require authorizations to be in place for State Department, United States Information Agency, including International Broadcasting Operations, and Arms Control and Disarmament Agency activities prior to the expenditure of any appropriated funds. The Senate bill included a provision waiving through December 1, 1995, the authorization requirement for State Department activities. The House bill contained no similar provision.

The conference agreement does not include a provision proposed in the Senate bill as section 406 to earmark $5,000,000 for the Tenth Paralympiad Games out of amounts provided under three United States Information Agency (USIA) accounts. This issue is addressed under the USIA Educational and Cultural Exchange Programs account. The House bill contained no similar provision.

Sec. 406.—The conference agreement includes a provision proposed by the Senate as section 408, renumbered as section 406, to amend the State Department Authorities Act of 1956 with respect to reward authority, to mandate the Department to establish and publicize its reward program. Under current law, the reward program is discretionary. The House bill contained no similar provision.

Sec. 407.—The conference agreement includes a provision proposed by the Senate as section 411, renumbered as section 407, to extend the authorization for the Au Pair program through fiscal year 1999. The House bill contained no similar provision.

Sec. 408.—The conference agreement includes a provision that expands the authorization for the Eisenhower Exchange Fellowship Program to permit the program to extend its activities to areas of the world other than emerging democracies in Europe. The Senate bill contained this provision, proposed as section 412, as well as a proposal to allow the program to use any earned but unused trust income from the period 1992 through 1995, which is not included in the conference agreement. The House bill contained no similar provision.

Sec. 409.—The conference agreement includes a provision, proposed in the Senate bill as section 413, renumbered to read section 409, that states the sense of the Senate that none of the funds in this Act should be used for the deployment of U.S. forces in Bosnia and Herzegovina unless approved in advance by Congress, with certain exceptions in case of emergency. The House bill contained no similar provision.

The conference agreement does not include a provision, proposed in the Senate bill as section 414, stating the sense of the Senate that the President should insist on full compliance of the Russian Federation with the terms of the Treaty on Conventional Armed Forces in Europe and seek the advice and consent of the Senate for any treaty modifications. The conferees consider compliance with the terms of the Treaty to be a high priority in U.S. relations with the Russian Federation, and further understand that there are ongoing negotiations relating to Russian compliance, which are the subject of ongoing meetings involving the Russian Federation, the U.S., and the Treaty's 30 signatories, and therefore reserve judgment until the conclusion of these events. The House bill contained no similar provision.

The conference agreement does not include a provision, proposed by the Senate as section 415, requiring sanctions on Serbia and Montenegro to remain in effect until the President certified that certain conditions had been met. The House bill contained no similar provision.

Sec. 410.—The conference agreement includes a new section, not proposed in either the House or Senate bill, providing that any personnel costs incurred by any Department or agency funded under this title as a result of funding reductions be absorbed within the total budgetary resources available to the Department or agency, and providing authority to transfer funds between appropriations accounts for that purpose. Transfers are to be subject to standard reprogramming procedures. The Senate bill proposed to establish a Foreign Affairs Reorganization Transition Fund under section 404, with a separate appropriation, to pay for consolidation costs. The House bill contained no similar provision.

TITLE V—RELATED AGENCIES

OPERATING-DIFFERENTIAL SUBSIDIES (LIQUIDATION OF CONTRACT AUTHORITY)

The conference agreement includes $162,610,000 for payment of obligations incurred for the Maritime Administration (MARAD) operating differential subsidy program as provided in both the House and Senate bills.

MARITIME NATIONAL SECURITY PROGRAM

The conference agreement includes $46,000,000, available upon enactment of an authorization, for a new Maritime National Security Program to provide payments to maintain and preserve a U.S.-flag merchant fleet to serve the national security needs of the United States as determined by the Secretary of Defense in consultation with the Secretary of Transportation. The Senate bill included $46,000,000 for necessary expenses of maritime security services as authorized by law. The House bill contained no provision on this matter. This program is funded under the allocation for national security programs. The conferees expect MARAD to submit a notification of the proposed distribution of these funds to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations by April 1, 1996.

OPERATIONS AND TRAINING

The conference agreement includes $66,600,000 for the Maritime Administration Operations and Training account instead of $64,600,000 as proposed by the House and instead of $68,600,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conferees intend that these funds will be distributed as follows: $30,900,000 for the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy, $6,700,000 for State maritime academies, and $29,900,000 for additional training, operating programs and general administration of the Maritime Administration.

The conference agreement also includes language proposed by the Senate, allowing proceeds from the sale or disposal of National Defense Reserve Vessels to be transferred to the Secretary of the Interior for use as provided in the National Maritime Heritage Act (Public Law 103-451). The House bill contained no similar provision.

MARITIME GUARANTEED LOAN (TITLE XI) PROGRAM ACCOUNT

The conference agreement provides $40,000,000 in subsidy appropriations for the Maritime Guaranteed Loan Program instead of $48,000,000 as proposed by the House and $25,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. This amount will subsidize a program level of not more than $1,000,000,000 as proposed by the House instead of $500,000,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conferees have also included $3,500,000 for administrative expenses associated with the Maritime Guaranteed Loan Program instead of $4,000,000 as proposed by the House. The Senate bill included no funds for this purpose. These amounts may be transferred to and merged with amounts under the MARAD Operations and Training account.

ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISIONS

The conference agreement includes provisions contained in both the House and Senate bills involving Government property controlled by MARAD, the accounting for certain funds received by MARAD, and a prohibition on obligations from the MARAD construction fund.

COMMISSION FOR THE PRESERVATION OF AMERICA'S HERITAGE ABROAD SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement provides $206,000 for the Preservation for America's Heritage Abroad as provided in both the House and Senate bills.

COMMISSION ON CIVIL RIGHTS SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $8,750,000 for the salaries and expenses of the Commission on Civil Rights instead of $8,500,000 as proposed by the House and $9,000,000 as proposed by the Senate.

COMMISSION ON IMMIGRATION REFORM SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $1,894,000 as proposed by the Senate, instead of $2,377,000 as proposed by the House.

COMMISSION ON SECURITY AND COOPERATION IN EUROPE

The conferees provide $1,090,000 for the Commission on Security and Cooperation in Europe as proposed by both the House and Senate.

EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY COMMISSION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $233,000,000 for the salaries and expenses of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, as proposed by both the House and Senate.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement provides a total of $175,709,000 for the salaries and expenses of the Federal Communications Commission instead of $185,232,000 as proposed by the House and $166,185,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conference agreement also provides for the collection and retention of $116,400,000 in offsetting fee collections, as provided in both the House and Senate bills.

Within the amount provided, the conferees intend that the FCC continue the restructuring proposal initiated in June, 1995, including the closure of certain field offices as proposed by the Commission to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations on October 20, 1995. The conferees have included, within the amount provided, $3,000,000 to begin to acquire the equipment necessary to carry out these proposed field office reductions.

The conferees expect remaining reductions to be carried out within FCC headquarters operations through the streamlining and elimination of redundant offices and functions. The conferees expect the FCC to consider first for reductions those offices which have experienced significant growth in recent years, but to hold harmless those activities supported by fees. The FCC should submit a notification in accordance with section 605 of this Act prior to implementing these reductions.

The conferees are aware that concerns have been expressed about actions taken by the FCC to challenge radio license applications or renewals for religious broadcasters on the grounds that requiring religious knowledge, training, or expertise for employees is discriminatory. These concerns have arisen because of the potential impact of such actions on legitimate religious free speech. The conferees expect the FCC not to deny any license application or renewal on these grounds inconsistent with the right to exercise this free speech in recruitment and hiring practices, and to report to the House and Senate Appropriations Committees by not later than March 1, 1996 on the Commission's policy in these cases, and its intention to follow such a policy that recognizes and preserves such religious freedom. If the FCC does move to deny a license application or renewal for a religious broadcaster according to its policy, it shall report to the Committees to demonstrate that it is not abridging the free speech of religious broadcasters.

FEDERAL MARITIME COMMISSION SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $14,855,000 for the salaries and expenses of the Federal Maritime Commission as proposed by the Senate, instead of $15,000,000 as proposed by the House.

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement allows a total operating level of $98,928,000 for the Federal Trade Commission as proposed by the House instead of $89,035,000 as proposed by the Senate, and includes language provided in both bills allowing $48,262,000 in offsetting collections from Hart-Scott-Rodino Act premerger filing fees. The conference agreement also assumes the availability of carryover fee balances of $19,360,000 to offset the appropriations level instead of $16,000,000 as assumed in both the House and Senate bills. This amount is based on actual carryover balances identified by the FTC. These actions result in a final appropriated level of $31,306,000 instead of $34,666,000 as proposed by the House and $24,773,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement also includes language proposed by the Senate allowing the FTC to use up to $300,000 of available funds to contract for debt collection services. The House contained no similar provision.

The conferees concur with House language regarding FTC's involvement in areas more appropriately addressed by States and localities.

JAPAN-UNITED STATES FRIENDSHIP COMMISSION

JAPAN-UNITED STATES FRIENDSHIP TRUST FUND

The conference agreement provides $1,247,000 for the expenses of the Japan-

United States Friendship Commission from the U.S. currency account, and provides for an amount from the Japanese currency account not to exceed the equivalent of $1,420,000 as provided in both the House and Senate Bills.

LEGAL SERVICES CORPORATION
PAYMENT TO THE LEGAL SERVICES CORPORATION

The conference agreement includes $278,000,000 for payment to the Legal Services Corporation, the same level proposed by the House bill, instead of $340,000,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement designates $198,750,000 of the amount provided for basic field programs to be used only for competitively awarded grants and contracts, instead of $115,000,000 as proposed by the Senate, reflecting a provision in the conference agreement setting April 1, 1996 as the deadline for implementation of competition, rather than September 1, 1996 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement provides $13,000,000 for the management and oversight functions of the program and designates $6,000,000 for management and administration, and $7,000,000 for the Office of the Inspector General, of which $5,500,000 is to be used to contract with independent external auditors for financial and compliance audits. The conference agreement reflects the transfer of functions and the corresponding resources for compliance monitoring and enforcement to the Inspector General, while retaining the administration of the grant program within the Corporation, as proposed by the House. The Senate did not designate funding for each activity.

	Fiscal year 1995	House	Senate	Conference

ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISIONS

The conference agreement provides for the continuance of funding for basic legal services to ensure that poor individuals have access to the civil justice system. This program has been unauthorized for a number of years, which has required these issues to be dealt with through the inclusion of a number of administrative provisions in Appropriations Acts. The conferees hope that an authorization will be enacted obviating the need for this practice. In the interim, and in keeping with past practices, the conference agreement includes numerous administrative provisions, as proposed by both the House and Senate, governing the allowable use of the funds provided, in many cases significantly current law provisions, and in all cases applying the provisions to all funds, Federal and non-Federal, received by a grantee.

The conference agreement includes language, as proposed by the House, that upon enactment of an authorization, all contradictory provisions will supersede the provisions in this Act. The Senate bill contained no provision on this matter.

As proposed by both the House and Senate, the conference agreement distributes funding for basic field programs by formula, based on the number of poor people residing in an area. A provision is included, as proposed by the Senate, to continue current practice of making certain adjustments to the formula for certain isolated states and territories. The House bill contained no provision on this matter.

The conference agreement provides that funding shall be used only for basic field programs, as proposed by the House, instead of the Senate proposal which may have allowed funding for uses other than basic field programs. The conference agreement also includes a provision, as proposed by the Senate, to mitigate disproportionate funding reductions for services to Native American communities due to the elimination of the supplemental programs which had previously served Native Americans. The conferees have taken this action because of the unique relationship between the U.S. government and Native American tribes through longstanding treaty obligations, the complexity of Indian tribal law, and the unique challenges facing programs which must provide representation in both U.S. and tribal court systems. The House bill contained no provision on this matter.

The conference agreement extends the deadline for implementation of competition to April 1, 1996, and allows interim funding for grants to basic field programs prior to that date. The House proposed that all grants be awarded competitively on January 1, 1996, and did not propose any interim funding mechanism. The Senate proposed that a portion of basic field programs be awarded competitively by September 1, 1996, and allowed the remaining basic field program grants to be distributed to basic field programs in existence prior to that date.

The conference agreement includes provisions as proposed by the House that: (1) the Corporation be considered a Federal agency, (2) all funds provided be considered Federal funds, and (3) all grantees be subject to all Federal laws regarding the proper use of Federal funds, and that any violations of Federal laws shall result in termination of the contract. The Senate bill contained no provision on this matter.

Both the House and Senate bills proposed many similar requirements and restrictions on funds provided to the LSC grantees from Federal, non-Federal, and private sources. As proposed in both the House and Senate bills, the conference agreement requires that an LSC grantee, must agree not to engage in litigation and related activities with respect to (1) abortion; (2) redistricting; (3) welfare reform; (4) political activities, including union organizing and strikes; (5) representation of illegal aliens; (6) representation of Federal and state prisoners in civil actions; and (7) representation of individuals charged with drug-trafficking in eviction proceedings brought by a public housing authority. In addition, the grantee must agree to submit to timekeeping requirements proposed by both the House and Senate.

The conference agreement incorporates a provision, proposed by the Senate, to require that the Corporation and its grantees provide written notification to non-Federal funding sources, of the restrictions in this Act or other Acts, prior to accepting non-Federal funding. The conference agreement provides an exception to this and certain other requirements in this Act with respect to the uses of Indian tribal funds. In addition, the conference agreement deletes a provision included in the Senate bill which could have allowed non-Federal funds to be used by LSC grantees to represent prisoners, illegal aliens, and individuals charged with drug-trafficking and facing eviction from public housing.

In addition, the conference agreement includes the following additional items:

The conference agreement includes language, as proposed by the Senate, to prohibit LSC grantees from participating in or bringing any class action suits. The House bill proposed to prohibit LSC grantees from bringing class action suits against Federal, State, and local governments.

The conference agreement allows LSC grantees to represent clients in fee-generating and fee-shifting cases if no private attorney is available to accept such cases, but prohibits LSC grantees from claiming or accepting any attorneys' fees. The House proposed to prohibit LSC grantees from any involvement in such cases, while the Senate proposed to allow LSC grantees, under very limited circumstances, to represent such cases and collect attorneys' fees.

The conference agreement prohibits LSC grantees from collecting any attorneys' fees for all pending and future cases, as proposed by the House. The Senate proposed to prohibit attorneys' fees for all cases initiated after January 1, 1996.

The conference agreement includes provisions, proposed by both the House and Senate, prohibiting LSC grantees from engaging in any activities related to legislative or administrative lobbying or rulemaking.

The conference agreement prohibits LSC grantees from soliciting clients, as proposed by the House. The Senate proposed a similar provision.

The conference agreement adopts a provision, proposed by the Senate, to permit LSC grantees to use non-LSC funds to communicate with State or local entities regarding funding by State or local entities. The House bill contained no provision on this matter.

The conference agreement includes language clarifying that grantees are permitted to receive funding from non-Federal sources designated for programs serving specific populations, such as people with disabilities, provided that the clients served are not otherwise ineligible, and the purposes for which the funding is provided are allowable under this Act, and the underlying statute and regulations.

In addition, the conference agreement incorporates a provision, as proposed by the House, to prohibit funds provided in this Act from being used to pursue lawsuits against the Corporation.

The conference agreement applies all restrictions and requirements in this Act to all new cases undertaken after enactment of this Act and to additional actions on pending cases which are initiated after the enactment of this Act. The agreement allows LSC grantees up to six months to dispose of all pending cases, initiated prior to enactment of this Act, which are in violation of the provisions of this Act. The Senate proposed to apply the restrictions in this Act only to new cases undertaken or additional matters addressed in pending cases after January 1, 1996. The House proposed to apply the restrictions to all pending and new cases effective upon enactment. To ensure that clients are adequately represented, and to allow attorneys to maintain their ethical and professional responsibilities, the conferees have agreed to provide a limited amount of additional time for LSC-funded grantees to withdraw from cases and matters which would now be restricted under this Act. The Corporation shall report to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations every sixty days as to the status of the disposition of pending cases. Further, while the conference agreement had provided for a transition period for disposition of pending cases, the agreement applies all requirements of disclosure and timekeeping to all activities.

The conference agreement includes language to clarify financial audit requirements to LSC-funded grantees, and ensure that auditors have appropriate access to necessary records. These provisions will ensure that LSC-funded grantees are subject to auditing requirements similar to other non-profit entities receiving Federal funding. Neither the House nor Senate bills contained these provisions.

The conferees understand the importance of proper training of attorneys and paralegals. Such training, which is technical in nature and necessary to ensure attorneys and paralegals have access to current information pertaining to statutes, regulations, and case law, is permitted. However, the conference agreement prohibits grantees from conducting training programs, or providing training materials, which are designed to facilitate or advocate particular public policies or political activities.

MARINE MAMMAL COMMISSION
SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $1,190,000 for the salaries and expenses of the Marine Mammal Commission instead of $1,000,000 as proposed by the House, and instead of $1,384,000 as proposed by the Senate.

MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., FEDERAL HOLIDAY COMMISSION
SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $350,000 for the Martin Luther King, Jr., Federal Holiday Commission for fiscal year 1996 as proposed by the Senate instead of $250,000 as proposed by the House. Bill language has been added, consistent with the Commission's vote on May 23, 1995 to sunset operations at the end of fiscal year 1996, stating that this represents the final year of Federal funding for the Commission.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION
SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes a direct appropriation of $103,445,000 for the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), as proposed by the House, instead of $134,997,000, as proposed by the Senate. It also includes an extension of registration fees under section 6(b) of the Securities Act of 1933 at one twenty-ninth of one percent, expected to generate $184,293,000, as proposed by the House, instead of one thirty-fourth of one percent, expected to generate $123,000,000, as proposed by the Senate. Together with carryover from fiscal year 1995 estimated at $9,667,000, this is estimated to provide an overall operating level of $297,405,000, as proposed by the House, instead of $267,664,000 as proposed by the Senate.

1996 Funding Summary

Net General Fund Appropriation	$103,445,000
Offsetting Collections—
Section 6(b)	184,293,000
Total Appropriation	287,738,000
Carry-over from Prior Year	9,667,000
Total Funding	297,405,000

The conference agreement includes technical language, not in either the House or Senate bill, which appropriates a total of $287,738,000 to the SEC, and then requires the appropriation to be reduced as registration fees are collected, to the level of $103,445,000 that the conferees have agreed to provide. Any fees collected in excess of $184,293,000 are to remain available until expended and are not available for obligation until October 1, 1996.

The conference agreement includes language earmarking $3,000,000 for the Office of Economics, to be headed by the Chief Economist of the Commission, instead of $3,600,000, as proposed by the Senate, and no language, as proposed by the House.

The conference agreement includes language earmarking $1,000,000 for Investment Advisers Act enforcement, instead of $1,500,000 as proposed by the Senate, and no language, as proposed by the House.

The conference agreement does not include language proposed by the Senate to prohibit funds from being used for the Office of Investor Education and Assistance. The House bill contained no similar provision.

SMALL BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

The conference agreement provides a total of $589,578,000 for the Small Business Administration, instead of $590,369,000 as proposed by the House and $588,091,000 as proposed by the Senate. The distribution of these funds by account is detailed below.

The conference agreement deletes a provision contained in the Senate bill which appropriated $30,000,000, in addition to sums provided elsewhere in the bill, for the Small Business Administration. The House bill contained no similar provision. The conferees have addressed these additional funds within the context of each individual account.

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement provides an appropriation of $219,190,000 for the SBA Salaries and Expenses account, instead of $222,325,000 as provided in the House bill and $211,881,000 as provided by the Senate. In addition, the conference agreement allows for the collection of $3,300,000 in offsetting fees to offset this appropriation, as provided by both the House and the Senate, making $222,490,000 available under this account.

In addition to amounts made available under this heading, the conference agreement includes $92,622,000 for administrative expenses under the Business Loans Program Account and $71,578,000 for administrative provisions under the Disaster Loans Program Account. These amounts may be transferred to and merged with amounts available under Salaries and Expenses, resulting in a total level of $386,690,000 for SBA operating program and noncredit initiatives rather than $396,247,000 as provided by the House and $370,203,000 as provided by the Senate.

The conferees understand that funding levels provided for SBA operating programs will require additional office downsizing and closures, and expect SBA to continue to work with the House and Senate Appropriations and Small Business Committees in a consultative manner to develop criteria for determining further headquarters and field office reductions.

The conferees note that the SBA has proposed to centralize LowDoc application processing by establishing one to four centers. While centralized processing may warrant further consideration, the conferees believe that it is inappropriate at this time to establish four centers without further study. Therefore, the conferees would consider a proposal to establish two pilot centers designed to achieve long-term cost savings, taking into account concerns previously expressed by the conferees, subject to the reprogramming procedures in section 605 of this Act.

The conference agreement includes the following amounts for noncredit programs:

SBDCs	$73,500,000
Section 7(j) grants	2,570,000
SCORE	3,250,000
Women's outreach	4,000,000
Women's council	200,000
Microloan Tech. Asst.	9,000,000
EZ One Stop Shops	2,767,000
Export Asst. Centers	3,202,000
Business Info. Cts	500,000

The amounts provided for EZ One Stop Shops include funding for staffing, equipment, rent, and related overhead expenses.

The conferees encourage the SBA to continue to work with the National Center for Manufacturing Sciences towards implementation of section 303 of Public Law 103-403.

The conferees expect the Administrator to allocate sufficient funds in order to implement biennial examinations of small business development centers as mandated by P.L. 103-403.

Within the amounts provided under this account, the conferees expect the SBA to continue the existing pilot project designed to help small businesses adapt to a paperless procurement environment.

The conferees agree with the emphasis in the Senate report regarding elimination of duplication and the need to study moving toward privatization of certain functions currently undertaken by the SBA.

OFFICE OF INSPECTOR GENERAL

The conferees have provided $8,500,000 for the SBA Office of Inspector General as proposed by the Senate instead of $8,750,000 as proposed by the House.

BUSINESS LOANS PROGRAM ACCOUNT

The conference agreement includes a total of $160,726,000 in subsidy appropriations under the SBA Business Loans Program Account, of which $4,500,000 is for the direct loan program (for the Microloan direct program only) instead of $5,000,000 as proposed by the House and $1,000,000 as proposed by the Senate, and a total of $156,226,000 is for various guaranteed loan programs. The conference agreement further designates that $1,216,000 of the guaranteed subsidy is for the Microloan guarantee program and is available until expended, as proposed by the Senate. The House bill provided $1,700,000 for the Microloan guarantee program. The conference agreement also designates that $40,510,000 of the total amount provided shall be available until September 30, 1997, as provided in both the House and Senate bills.

The conference agreement includes $114,500,000 for the SBA 7(a) general business loan program, instead of $104,500,000 as proposed by the House and $133,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. Along with prior year carryover balances, this amount will subsidize almost $11,000,000,000 in new small business loan activity under recently enacted changes in the subsidy rate for this account. The conference agreement includes a total of $40,510,000 for the small business investment corporation (SBIC) debenture and participating securities programs as proposed by both the House and the Senate. In an effort to minimize the impact of budget cutbacks on popular SBA programs, the conferees intend that no funds provided in this Act be used for the specialized SBIC (SSBIC) program, which has a credit subsidy rate of 30 percent and costs the taxpayers more than twice as much to support as the regular SBIC program.

The conference agreement includes new language, not in either bill, allowing SBA to make up to $2,500,000 in loans under the 504 Development Company program, in accordance with recently enacted authorizing legislation requiring no subsidy amounts to be appropriated. Both the House and the Senate bills had assumed that such legislation would be enacted, and language was included in the House and Senate reports that would allow a 504 Development Company program level of up to $2,500,000,000.

In addition, the conference agreement includes $92,622,000 for administrative expenses to carry out the direct and guaranteed loan programs as provided in the House bill. The Senate bill included a total of $92,622,000 for administrative expenses to carry out the guaranteed loan program only, of which $77,600,000 was provided under this account and the remaining $15,022,000 was designated under the separate $30,000,000 appropriation discussed above. The amount provided for administrative expenses is available to be transferred to and merged with the appropriations for Salaries and Expenses.

DISASTER LOANS PROGRAM ACCOUNT

The conference agreement includes $34,432,000 for subsidy costs associated with the SBA Disaster Loans Program as provided in both the House and Senate bills. The conferees note that this subsidy amount assumes enactment of changes to the SBA disaster loan program that have not yet been considered by the Congress and urge expeditious consideration of the proposed changes to this program so that additional appropriations for this program will not be required.

In addition, the conferees have included $71,578,000 for administrative expenses under this account, instead of $78,000,000 as proposed by the House and $62,400,000 as proposed by the Senate. These amounts are to be merged with amounts provided for SBA salaries and expenses.

SURETY BOND GUARANTEES REVOLVING FUND

The conference agreement includes $2,530,000 for additional capital for the SBA Surety Bond Guarantees Revolving Fund as provided in both the House and Senate versions of the bill.

SMALL BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISION

The conference agreement includes section 510, providing SBA with the authority to transfer funds between appropriations accounts, as provided in both the House and Senate bills.

STATE JUSTICE INSTITUTE

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement provides $5,000,000 for the salaries and expenses of the Senate Justice Institute as proposed by the Senate, instead of no funds as proposed by the House.

TITLE VI—GENERAL PROVISIONS

The conference agreement includes the following general provisions:

Section 601.—The conference agreement includes section 601, identical in both the House and Senate versions of the bill, regarding the use of appropriations for publicity or propaganda purposes.

Sec. 602.—The conference agreement includes section 602, identical in both the House and Senate versions of the bill, regarding the availability of appropriations for obligation beyond the current fiscal year.

Sec. 603.—The conference agreement includes section 603, identical in both the House and Senate versions of the bill, regarding the use of funds for consulting services.

Sec. 604.—The conference agreement includes section 604, identical in both the House and Senate versions of the bill, providing that should any provision of the Act be held to be invalid, the remainder of the Act would not be affected.

Sec. 605.—The conference agreement includes section 605, identical in both the House and Senate versions of the bills, establishing the policy by which funding available to the agencies funded under this Act may be reprogrammed for other purposes.

Sec. 606.—The conference agreement includes section 606, proposed by the House but deleted by the Senate, regarding the construction, repair or modification of National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration vessels in overseas shipyards.

Sec. 607.—The conference agreement includes section 607 regarding the purchase of American-made products as provided in both the House and Senate bills.

Sec. 608.—The conference agreement includes section 608 which prohibits funds in the bill from being used to implement, administer, or enforce any guidelines of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission covering harassment based on religion similar to proposed guidelines published by the EEOC in October, 1993, as provided in both the House and Senate bills.

Sec. 609.—The conferees have added language to the provision proposed by the House to limit the use of funds to expand the U.S. diplomatic presence in the Socialist Republic of Vietnam, which provides a waiver of the provision if the President certifies that Vietnam is fully cooperating with the U.S. in four areas relating to POW/MIA's. The Senate bill included no provision on this matter.

Sec. 610.—The conference agreement includes a provision that prohibits the use of funds for any United Nations peacekeeping mission that involves U.S. Armed Forces under the command or operational control of a foreign national, unless the President certifies that the involvement is in the national security interest. This provision was included as section 610 in the House bill and as section 609 in the Senate bill.

Sec. 611.—The conference agreement includes section 611 which prohibits the use of funds to provide certain amenities for Federal prisoners as provided for in both the House bill as section 611 and in the Senate bill as section 610.

Sec. 612.—The conference agreement includes section 612 restricting the use of funds provided under the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration Fleet Modernization account included in the House bill as section 612 and in the Senate bill as section 611.

Sec. 613.—The conference agreement includes section 613 imposing a limitation on funding for TV Marti, as proposed by the House as section 613 and the Senate as section 612.

Sec. 614.—The conference agreement includes section 614 repealing the authorization for the Advisory Corrections Council, making changes in the table of sections for chapter 401 of title 18 of the United States code to reflect the repeal of that council, and making this section effective 30 days after enactment of this Act. The Senate bill proposed this repeal as section 613, and also proposed termination of the Regulatory Coordination Advisory Committee for the Commodities Future Trading Commission and the repeal of section 5(h) of the Export Administration Act of 1979, which have not been agreed to. The House bill included no provision on this matter.

The conference agreement deletes section 614 as proposed by the Senate, which stated the sense of the Senate that a joint United States-Canadian technical committee should be established to review the impact of creating an outlet from Devils Lake, N.D. under the Boundary Water Treaty of 1909. The House bill included no provision on this matter.

The conference agreement deletes section 615 proposed by the Senate which would have required competitive bidding to determine the disposition of certain portions of the spectrum related to the assignment of DBS licenses. The House bill contained no similar provision. The conferees have dropped this language because the Federal Communications Commission has taken action to require a competitive bidding process for the portions of the spectrum addressed in this amendment. The conferees support this decision by the FCC since it should result in the maximum return to the Treasury.

The conference agreement deletes section 616, as proposed by the Senate, which would have given direction to the head of each agency for which funds are directed under this Act, to take all necessary actions to achieve a 5 percent reduction from fiscal year 1995 levels in the energy costs of facilities used by the agency. A government-wide policy on this issue was established in the FY 1996 Treasury-Postal Appropriation Act.

Sec. 615.—The conference agreement includes a new general provision, not in either the House or Senate bill, requiring agencies and Departments funded in this Act to absorb any necessary costs related to downsizing or consolidations within the amounts provided to the agency or Department.

TITLE VII—RESCISSIONS
GENERAL ADMINISTRATION
(RESCISSION)

The conference agreement includes a rescission of $65,000,000 from unobligated balances under this heading, instead of $55,000,000, as proposed by the Senate, and no rescission, as proposed by the House.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE
(RESCISSION)

The conference agreement does not include the proposed rescission of $36,769,000 proposed by the Senate from anticipated unobligated balances under the NTIA Information Infrastructure Grant program. Prior to the end of fiscal year 1995, these funds were obligated and are no longer available for rescission. The House bill did not include a rescission of funds under this program.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE
ACQUISITION AND MAINTENANCE OF BUILDINGS ABROAD
(RESCISSION)

The conference agreement includes a rescission of $60,000,000 from unobligated balances available under this heading, instead of $140,000,000, as proposed by the Senate, and no rescission, as proposed by the House. The conferees intend that this rescission be applied against any unanticipated carryover funds that are not associated with a specific project, or against the lowest priority projects for which the remainder of the carryover in currently reserved. The conferees expect the Department to report on the manner in which it intends to apply this rescission.

RADIO CONSTRUCTION
(RESCISSION)

The conference agreement includes a rescission of $7,400,000 against unobligated balances available under the Radio Construction account, as proposed by the Senate, instead of no rescission, as proposed by the House.

The conferees expect the United States Information Agency to report on the manner in which it intends to apply this rescission.

TITLE VIII—PRISON LITIGATION REFORM

The conference agreement includes a separate title containing legislative language to carry out prison litigation reform and is similar to the language proposed by the Senate bill to limit the remedies for prison condition lawsuits and discourage frivolous and abusive prison lawsuits.

Section 801 contains the short title of the bill, the "Prison Litigation Reform Act of 1995", as proposed by the Senate.

Prison conditions remedies.—Section 802 amends 18 U.S.C. 3626 to require that prison condition remedies do not go beyond the measures necessary to remedy federal rights violations and that public safety and criminal justice needs are given appropriate weight in framing such remedies. Specifically, the section places, limits on the type of prospective relief available to inmate litigants. The relief is generally limited to the minimum necessary to correct the violation of a federal right. Measures limiting prison population such as prison caps or prison release orders can only be imposed as last resort measures after less drastic remedies had proven ineffective. A prison cap in federal proceeding can be ordered only by a three-judge court. These same limitations on prospective relief are applied to preliminary injunctive relief and such relief would expire after a ninety-day period. Prior consent decrees are made terminable upon the motion of either party, and can be continued only if the court finds that the imposed relief is necessary to correct the violation of the federal right. The section also permits the appointment of a disinterested special master to monitor the imposed relief. The special master is intended to assist the court in finding facts and is to place those findings in the record. In addition, the conference agreement contains language, not included in the Senate bill, that provided standing to State legislators to intervene in prison lawsuits.

Prisoner litigation.—The conference agreement includes language proposed by the Senate, with the addition of provisions relating to victim notification and restitution requirements for monetary awards and severability. Section 803 amends the Civil Rights of Institutionalized Persons Act (42 U.S.C. 1997a(c)) to require that administrative remedies be exhausted prior to any prison conditions action being brought under any federal law by an inmate in federal court. It also directs the courts to dismiss suits if they are frivolous, malicious, or fail to state a claim and permits the State to waive its right of reply to any action brought by a prisoner.

Section 804 amends 28 U.S.C. 1915 to require the prisoner to list all assets when filing in forma pauperis suits. Section 805 adds a new section 1915A to 28 U.S.C. to require early judicial screening and prompt dismissal of clearly meritless suits against governmental entities or employees. Section 806 amends 28 U.S.C. 1346(b) to limit prisoner suits against the Federal government for mental or emotional injury under the Federal Tort Claims Act to instances where the prisoner shows physical injury as well. The legislation also includes new language in Sections 807 and 808, not included in the Senate bill, that mandates that restitution payments must be taken from any award won by the prisoner and that requires victims to be notified whenever a prisoner receives a monetary award from the State. Section 809 adds a new section 1932 to 28 U.S.C. to allow the court to revoke the prisoner's "good time" credit if he files repetitive frivolous, or malicious suits designed to misuse the justice system. The conference agreement also includes a provision on severability in Section 810, which was not included in the Senate bill.

The conferees also understand that approximately eight percent, or 800,000 of the 10.1 million admittances to jails annually, suffer from severe mental illness such as schizophrenia and manic depressive illness. Most of these individuals have not committed violent or serious felonies but rather misdemeanors, or other non-violent offenses. The conferees further understand that eight percent, or 80,000 of the approximately one million people currently incarcerated in our nation's prisons, suffer from severe mental illness. The conferees agree that the care and treatment provided to these individuals is essential to their health and do not intend for any of the provisions in this title to impact adversely on the availability of this care and treatment.

PROCEEDINGS AND DEBATES OF THE 104th CONGRESS, FIRST SESSION

WASHINGTON, MONDAY, DECEMBER 4, 1995

No. 191

Senate

The Senate met at 3 p.m. and was called to order by the President pro tempore [Mr. THURMOND].

PRAYER

The Chaplain, the Reverend Lloyd John Ogilvie, offered the following prayer:

Sovereign Lord, help us to see our work here in Government as our divine calling and mission. Whatever we are called to do today, we want to do our very best for Your glory. Our desire is not just to do different things, but to do the same old things differently: with freedom, joy, and excellence. Give us new delight for matters of drudgery, new patience for people who are difficult, new zest for unfinished details. Be our lifeline in the pressures of deadlines, our rejuvenation in routines, and our endurance whenever we feel enervated. May we spend more time talking to You about issues than we do talking about issues to others. So may our communion with You give us deep convictions and high courage to defend them. Spirit of the living God, fall afresh on us so we may serve with fresh dedication today. In the Lord's name. Amen.

THE BUDGET IMPASSE

Mr. BREAUX. I thank the Chair.

Mr. President, as the Congress comes back from the weekend recess, a lot of people I know throughout the country, and in my State of Louisiana in particular, have been wondering whether Congress is going to be able to get together to solve the budget crisis. We do not have a lot of time before December 15, and there is the prospect of yet another shutdown of the Federal Government because Congress has not been able to resolve how to come together on a plan to balance the budget over a specified period of time.

Mr. President, I will make a couple of comments about that impasse because I think indeed it is very serious. I remember looking at the New York Times on Saturday morning. It was a report on the progress that Congress has made on this effort to balance the budget. I will read perhaps a couple of sentences from that article on Saturday by Mr. David Rosenbaum:

The budget negotiations this week between Congress and the White House were a complete bust. For 3 days in a row, lawmakers and administration officials met around a table in a conference room in the Capitol of the United States, closed the doors, accomplished absolutely nothing, and came out and accused each other of refusing to negotiate in good faith. Then, on Thursday afternoon, they adjourned until next week. No one savvy about Washington politics was surprised.

Mr. President, at a time when President Clinton can bring all the heads of the territories in Bosnia to Dayton, OH, and ask them to sit in a room until they reach an agreement ending a war that has been going on for centuries, can we not bring together the parties in this body called Congress to agree on what we should do with the budget?

I mentioned another article, which I think is right on target. It is by our distinguished leader, Senator TOM DASCHLE, the Democratic leader. He pointed out in this article, which appeared in Roll Call:

People of this country are sick and tired of a Government that does not understand their problems or their neighbors' problems, sick and tired of politicians fighting over things that the rest of the country cannot understand, and, most of all, they are sick and tired of the fact that it seems impossible to get anything done in Washington.

Mr. President, I think that it is time, when we talk about the budget, for the moderates in both parties to come together and help resolve this problem. I am absolutely convinced that you cannot put people in a room who have visions of what the future of this country should be like that are as different as night and day. It is my opinion that the most difficult problems cannot be solved from the left working in, nor from the right working toward the center. I am absolutely convinced that you cannot take the fringes of any political party and try and use that methodology to solve difficult problems, such as a budget problem.

I know that all the folks that are working on the budget are people of good faith and have strong beliefs about what a budget agreement should accomplish and what it should contain. Mr. President, I am suggesting today that there are moderates on the Democratic side—moderates in the Democratic Party, both in the House and in the Senate, that really want to have a budget agreement. I think it is now time for the moderates on both sides of our political parties to try and band together to help resolve this problem. I am very concerned that as the days go by and hours keep ticking off the clock, that we are not making the progress needed and necessary in order to solve this problem before yet another deadline occurs.

As it was said in the Saturday article I quoted, the talks so far between Congress and the White House were a complete bust. Mr. President, we owe to the American people much more than that. We owe the best talent, the best minds, and the best dedicated public servants to work together across party lines to bring this debate to a closure. Let me suggest a couple of things I think moderates can agree to.

First, I think it is certainly possible that we can agree that there should be a balanced budget and it should be in 7 years. Point No. 1.

Second, I think that all of this debate about which economic assumptions we are going to use to help solve this problem almost border on the point of being ridiculous. The Congressional Budget Office has suggested that growth is going to be about 2.3 percent next year. The Office of Management and Budget suggested that growth rate will be about 2.5 percent. Is there not a middle ground between those two numbers, a figure between 2.3 and 2.5 that people with good intentions cannot agree to? I suggest that we split the differences between those, and I think that is something that can be done. I think it can be done in a way that brings about the best economic assumptions that we need in order to fix this problem.

Third, I think people should be able to agree on a Consumer Price Index adjustment. The people who have looked at this issue have recommended that, clearly, the Consumer Price Index on which we base so many of our economic programs is overstating the cost of products that consumers buy and that an adjustment of somewhere up to 1 percent perhaps is a reasonable and rational adjustment.

I suggest that we could take a point, a percent adjustment, and by doing that really allow us a great deal more flexibility in solving this budget impasse.

Fourth, I think we ought to be able to agree on a tax cut that is reasonable and fair. Some have suggested no tax cut at all, zero. Some have suggested we absolutely have to have $245 billion in tax cuts. Is there not, again, a middle ground that we could agree on that comes up with a reasonable tax cut and save somewhere in the range of $100 to $150 billion over the 7-year period? Is that not a fair compromise to those who say we should have none and those who say we should have the higher amount? I suggest it is.

The fifth point I think we should be able to come together on is the fact that the savings we have from these procedures I just outlined should be utilized to put back money in Medicare and Medicaid and the earned income tax credit and the welfare program, environmental programs, and yes, equally if not more important, the education programs which determine the future of the people of this country and use those extra funds to increase some of those drastic, suggested cuts in those programs.

Mr. President, I think reasonable people in both parties who could call ourselves moderate should be able to get together and do these things. I think it is more difficult when you have people who are on the left in their party, or on the right in their party trying to resolve these differences. Is it not better to have a group of people in the middle who are moderates who can agree, and once we get an agreement which I think is pretty easy to get to, work it out so that we then move toward the outside to solve the problem?

The way to solve this problem is working from the center out, not from the left end or from the right end, but, rather, working out the principles. These five principles I outlined I think give us the strong basis for trying to reach a balanced budget in 7 years, one that, hopefully, this President would be able to see meets the needs that he has outlined, solves the problem, and everybody comes away a winner.

I do not see how anybody wins if we have another stalemate. Everybody loses. Yet if we do reach an agreement, everybody should win. And winners or losers in the Congress is not really what it is all about; it is whether we will craft a program that the American people can win with and the future generations can say that Congress did the right thing when they were called upon to meet this challenge.

I strongly suggest that now is the time for moderates in the Republican Party and the Democratic Party to start talking to each other. There is nothing wrong with that. That is what a democratic Government is all about—compromises, meeting together, solving the problems in the center, and then working it away, and these agreements are received by more people in order to reach a majority.

I am just very concerned if we do not do that, if we try and solve this problem from the left working in or from the right working in, we will just have a stalemate. I do not think there is any political capital in bringing this Government to a closure again because we at that time will be admitting once again we cannot make Government work. That is not why we were sent to Congress. Just the opposite is the reason we are here.

I call today upon moderates in both parties to start talking, to meeting, to see if we cannot agree on these five principles I have tried to outline and take it from there and see where it leads us.

I suggest, in conclusion, we might be very surprised that it leads us to a balanced budget agreement that the Congress can pass with great enthusiasm, and this President will find that he will be able to support it as well.

I yield the floor.

TRIBUTE TO SENATOR ALAN SIMPSON

Mr. HEFLIN. Mr. President, I was very saddened to learn of the retirement of Senator ALAN SIMPSON of Wyoming. He and I came here together in the class of 1978 and have served with each other on the Judiciary Committee, tackling some contentious nominations and other high-profile issues. He has emerged as a true leader on many issues including immigration and population issues. He is someone I would term a "character," for he is certainly one of the more colorful and humorous individuals to have ever served in the Senate. His quick wit is legend, and many of us—Democrat and Republican alike—have been victims of it at one time or another over the years, but, much more often the beneficiaries of it. He uses it both ways—to score a point but more often to break an unresolved impasse.

Senator SIMPSON is the son of former Wyoming Governor and Senator Milward Simpson and has been in and around politics all his life. Born in Denver, CO, in 1931, he earned both his bachelor of science and law degrees at the University of Wyoming in Laramie. He served in the U.S. Army from 1954 to 1956 and began his career as a litigator, raising his family in Cody, WY, and serving as assistant attorney general of Wyoming and in the State legislature. He was elected to the Senate in 1978 and quickly became a rising star in his party. He was seriously considered for the Vice Presidential nomination in 1988 and has led the fight for passage of many major legislative efforts. His service as his party's whip was outstanding, but in matters of conscience, he never lost his independence.

Of course, our friend from Wyoming is best known here and throughout the country for his colorful personality. He is widely known for having one of the best senses of humor in Washington and one of its most acerbic tongues on occasion. He has entertained friends with his keen sense of comic timing, his witty delivery, and a standard portfolio of jokes and anecdotes, many of which could not be printed in the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD or other reputable publications. When he leaves the Senate, he could pursue a number of different careers. He has the talent to be another Johnny Carson. He could successfully pursue many other fields, for he has a brilliant legal mind and has the ability to get to the core of an issue rapidly.

I count him as one of my closest friends. His beautiful, thoughtful, and gracious wife, Ann, is likewise a superb individual and my wife and I will never forget their genuine kindness and concern when Elizabeth Ann suddenly became ill on an overseas trip earlier this year.

It has been my privilege and pleasure to serve with Senator ALAN SIMPSON over the last 17 years, and I look forward to our last year here together. I congratulate him on an outstanding career, and hope that we have not seen the last of him in the public arena. We need his leadership, his passion for the issues, and his humor to help lighten our load.

TRIBUTE TO SENATOR MARK HATFIELD

Mr. HEFLIN. Mr. President, while MARK HATFIELD's retirement announcement did not take me by complete surprise—for such decisions have become virtually a weekly event here in the Congress—I was nonetheless disappointed and saddened to learn that he would not be seeking reelection to the Senate next year. He is one of the senior Members of this body, and has been a national leader of uncommon earnestness, moderation, honesty, and principle. He is known for his lack of excessive partisanship and for always yielding to his conscience on the many difficult matters that come before us. He is thoughtful, deliberative, intellectual, and never fails to do what he believes to be right and in the best interest of his State and country.

The people of Oregon have entrusted Senator HATFIELD with its reins of leadership through State or national office since 1956, when he was elected secretary of state at the age of 34. In 1958, he was elected Governor, serving for 8 years. In 1966, he was elected to the Senate and has been here ever since.

He is a deeply religious man who has been a spiritual leader as well as a public one. His leadership of our Senate Prayer Breakfast group over the years has been nothing short of inspirational. I have also enjoyed working with him on the National Prayer Breakfasts each year, something he had been involved with even at the State level when he was Governor back in Oregon. Our friend from Oregon has led by example; his religious convictions and quiet, friendly manner have been a powerful demonstration of how an ideal public official should conduct himself. He has been one for us to look at and emulate, regardless of our own political views.

As a young serviceman, he was one of the first Americans to see Hiroshima after it was bombed. This experience left its mark, and Senator HATFIELD has been an unflinching leader on issues relating to nuclear deterrence and non-proliferation.

MARK HATFIELD was born in Dallas, OR in 1922, and graduated from Willamette and Stanford Universities. He served in the Navy during World War II, commanding landing craft at Iwo Jima and Okinawa. Early in his career, he was a teacher of political science and has written extensively on public policy issues. Since January, he has chaired the Senate Appropriations Committee, a daunting task in its own right, but particularly challenging this year. He had previously served in that capacity. His graciousness and earnestness have not been diminished by the fierce budget wrangling this year.

Senator HATFIELD and I will be leaving the Senate at the same time, so I will not be serving here once he is gone. But I do know that those Members who do remain after him will find it a much lesser place in his absence. I am proud to call him a friend, I congratulate him on his outstanding career and for the way he has always conducted himself, and wish him and Antoinette all the best for a happy, healthy, and lengthy retirement. I also look forward to serving with him over the next year.

Mr. President, I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The assistant legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. SIMON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

THE RETIREMENTS OF ALAN SIMPSON, MARK HATFIELD, AND NANCY KASSEBAUM

Mr. SIMON. Mr. President, three of our colleagues have just recently announced they are not running again for reelection. The most recent is Senator SIMPSON.

I got to know AL SIMPSON when I was a State legislator and he was a State legislator. We were at a meeting that a foundation pulled together of what they, accurately or inaccurately, called the outstanding legislators from various States, and I got to know ALAN SIMPSON there.

I have worked with him over the years. He and I differ on some things, but he is a legislator's legislator. He really legislates. He sits down and works things out. He is a man of reason. He is not frightened by a new idea. I think he has made a tremendous contribution to the Senate, to his State of Wyoming, and to the Nation, and I am very proud to have served with him.

I will add, one of the things that characterize Senator SIMPSON, Senator HATFIELD, and Senator KASSEBAUM is something the Presiding Officer has heard me talk about before, and that is there is not excessive partisanship. One of the things that has changed in my 21 years, soon to be 22 years here in Congress, is that we have become gradually more partisan. Both parties share the blame on this, and it is not a good thing. It is like the budget process. We issue statements, we have press conferences, we denounce each other instead of sitting around a table, working things out. ALAN SIMPSON, MARK HATFIELD, and NANCY KASSEBAUM were the kind of people who worked things out.

I have, up until the last election, served as chairman of three subcommittees. I do not think we ever had a party-line vote in any of my subcommittees. That meant sometimes I had to give a little more than I wanted. Sometimes others did. But I think the net effect was a good one for the Nation and, strangely, I think, good for the two parties. I think the public senses that we are excessively partisan and there is a negative attitude toward both the Democratic and Republican Parties out there. I hope we can move away from that.

The second person who recently announced that he is retiring is Senator MARK HATFIELD. Most people think about MARK HATFIELD in connection with chairing the Appropriations Committee, or a hundred and one other things that he does. I think of MARK HATFIELD particularly for his leadership in the area of arms control. Long before others raised the flag that maybe we should not be spending so much money on arms, MARK HATFIELD was telling us that.

Even today we spend more on our defense budget than the next eight countries combined. It does not make sense. If we take the 1973 budget on defense and add the inflation factor, we are spending more today than we were in 1973. In 1973 we were involved in Vietnam, we faced the cold war with what was then the Soviet Union and a nuclear threat there. We ought to be paring it down. MARK HATFIELD has been a voice of reason. Again, like ALAN SIMPSON, he has been one who has been willing to work with people on the other side.

Senator NANCY KASSEBAUM is the same. I read the stories about her, as I did about all of my colleagues and their contributions. One of the contributions NANCY KASSEBAUM has made has been on the Subcommittee on Africa, in the Foreign Relations Committee. She chaired that for a while. NANCY KASSEBAUM did not get any votes back home in Kansas by chairing the Subcommittee on African Affairs, but made an immense contribution in the very same way that ALAN SIMPSON gets no votes in Wyoming by chairing the Subcommittee on Immigration.

One of the things that we have in this body are people of real ability who have a sense of public service. And we need more of that, and a little less, as I indicated, partisanship and power grabbing. But Senator KASSEBAUM is primarily thought of by her work on the Labor and Human Resources Committee in which the Presiding Officer serves. And she has done a superb job there over the years, part of it in these years as chairman where she has had to make some very difficult decisions as we passed a budget resolution that cuts back on some of the things that she favors. But the contributions that she has made over the years have been very significant.

I have been proud to serve with all three. The people of Wyoming, Oregon, and Kansas can be very proud of these three Senators—Senator SIMPSON, Senator HATFIELD, and Senator KASSEBAUM.

Mr. President, I do not see anyone seeking the floor, so I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The assistant legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. INHOFE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. INHOFE. Are we in morning business, Mr. President?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Yes, we are.

SENDING UNITED STATES TROOPS TO BOSNIA

Mr. INHOFE. Mr. President, I, like many people, have been distressed over the weekend listening to a lot of the comments as to what is going on in Bosnia, and this seems to be—and it is portrayed by this administration that it is—a done deal. Many Republicans and many Democrats are also saying that it is a done deal; that the troops are going to go; the President has made up his mind. The President, back in February 1993, made a commitment of 25,000 American troops on the ground in Bosnia, and he has decided they are going to go. So I guess the easy thing is to say, well, the President made the decision; I may not agree with it or I may agree with it but nonetheless the decision is made, and we want to support our troops that are over there.

I am really getting tired of the demagoging that is going on about supporting the troops that are over there, as if this thing is a done deal. I grant you, Mr. President, I agree that the President of the United States does have the constitutional right to deploy troops. I think it is wrong, and historically it has not been done. The Presidents have come to the American people and have come through Congress for resolutions of approval, and this President has chosen not to do this.

Of course, I will remind all America that the House of Representatives, the other body, has already on two occasions expressed itself in a very, very strong vote in opposition to the deployment of ground troops to Bosnia. So we turn on the talk radio shows and we look at the news accounts, and they say, well, it is already a done deal and Congress has no role; Congress is not relevant in this debate.

I just do not buy that. I think this is still America, and the American people can be heard, and the best way for the American people to be heard is through their elected representatives. I think we have just a few hours to stop this thing. I am talking now about the mass deployment.

Yes, the President has already sent several hundred troops into the area of Tuzla, which is the northeastern sector, in which I had occasion to spend quite a bit of time, and I see an environment which is the most hostile environment that perhaps we have ever had the occasion to deploy any American troop into in the history of this country. We talk about and can identify that there are more than 6 million mines of all shapes and sizes that are out there, and you cannot do anything about rendering those mines harmless because the ground is now frozen and they will not appear really until a heavy vehicle gets on top of them. Of course, we are talking about the deployment of 130 M1 tanks and several other armored vehicles, so it is a very frightening thing. It is a frightening thing to think it is not just a matter of three factions that do not like each other in the former Yugoslavia. It is not just the Serbs and the Croats and the Moslems, because in addition to that you have the Bosnian Serbs, you have the Bosnian Moslems, you have the Arkan Tigers, you have the Black Swans, you have the Afghanistans, you have the Iranians. You have all of these, what we call rogue factions over there. And yet they say it is a done deal.

I think it is too easy to say that. I hope that everyone in America will demand that their Senator get on record on this issue. Mr. President, we are going to give them the opportunity to get on record on this issue. Last week, I served notice that there is going to be an up-or-down vote on the sending of troops into Bosnia.

It is not a matter of supporting our troops that are there. You bet we support them. I know something about being a troop. I used to be in a troop, and I wanted the support of the American people and got it. I think every Member of this Senate, every Member of the other body, is going to support our troops wherever they are.

That is not the issue. That is a cop-out. The issue is, should they be over there to begin with? I can remember so well when Michael Rose, who was the commanding general of the troops, the U.N. troops, in Bosnia said, if America sends troops over there, they will have more casualties than they had in the Persian Gulf. That was 390.

In the Senate Armed Services Committee, when I asked Secretary Perry and Secretary Christopher and General Shalikashvili—I said, “Is that mission to contain a civil war and to protect the integrity of NATO worth more than 400 American lives?” And Secretary Perry said yes; Secretary Christopher said yes; General Shalikashvili said yes. But I say no, because, you see, Mr. President, they were speaking on behalf of the President of the United States, the top people, the Secretary of Defense, the Secretary of State, and, of course, the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

So now we say it is a done deal and that Congress is not relevant. But I say we are going to have a vote on this, and people are going to have to be responsible for it.

I ask unanimous consent, Mr. President, that at this point an editorial be printed in the RECORD, a December 1 editorial by Abraham Sofaer.

There being no objection, the editorial was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

CLINTON NEEDS CONGRESS ON BOSNIA

(By Abraham D. Sofaer)

President Clinton has appealed to Congress and the American people to support his policy committing 20,000 ground troops to implement the peace agreement reached between Serbia, Croatia and Bosnia. It is a tribute to the American people that the president is accorded the greatest deference when he calls for the greatest sacrifice. Americans respond, at least initially, to such appeals from their President.

But Mr. Clinton is exploiting this quality. He has presented the agreement and the American role in its enforcement as an accomplished fact, though the documents have yet to be signed by the parties, and numerous preconditions to U.S. involvement have yet to be fulfilled. He is consulting with Congress, but he is already sending troops to the area without any form of legislative approval. Indeed, he claims that, while he would welcome Congress's approval, he plans to go ahead regardless.

Presidents often try to get what they want by leading aggressively. Congress nevertheless has a duty to study carefully the proposed operation and then express its view. The essential first step in that debate is to read the documents signed recently in Dayton. The complex agreement, with 12 annexes, calls for Bosnia to remain a single but divided nation, and all the warring factions to withdraw to specific lines. The agreement covers virtually all aspects of future life in Bosnia, including the division of its governments, the contents of its constitution, the selection of its judges, and the manner in which its police force is to be chosen and trained. Of principal interest to Congress, though, are those aspects of the agreement that create obligations and expectations for the U.S. to fulfill.

OUR OBLIGATIONS

These obligations, when carefully examined in context, carry to the ultimate extreme the policy of forcing a settlement on the Bosnians, rather than attempting to create an internal situation that is militarily balanced. Most significantly, the agreement makes the U.S., through the "implementation force" (IFOR), the military guarantor of the overall arrangement.

The role of U.S. troops cannot be characterized as "peacekeeping." Even "implementation" understates our obligation. IFOR will be close to an occupying army, in a conflict that has merely been suspended. We are likely to have as many difficulties acting as occupiers without having won a victory as the U.N.'s war crimes tribunal is having in attempting to apply its decisions in Bosnia without the power to enforce them.

IFOR's principal responsibilities are set out in Annex I(a) of the agreement:

The parties agree to cease hostilities and to withdraw all forces to agreed lines in three phases. Detailed rules have been agreed upon, including special provisions regarding Sarajevo and Gorazde. But IFOR is responsible for marking the cease-fire lines and the "inter-entity boundary line and its zone of separation," which in effect will divide the Bosnian Muslims and Croats from the Bosnian Serbs. The parties agree that IFOR may use all necessary force to ensure their compliance with these disengagement rules.

The parties agree to "strictly avoid committing any reprisals, counterattacks, or any unilateral actions in response to violations of this annex by another party." The only response allowed to alleged violations is through the procedures provided in Article VIII of the Annex, which establishes a "joint military commission"—made up of all the parties—to consider military complaints, questions and problems. But the commission is only "a consultative body for the IFOR commander," an American general who is explicitly deemed "the final authority in theater regarding interpretation of this agreement. . . ." This enormous power—to prevent even acts of self defense—will carry proportionate responsibility for harm that any party may attribute to IFOR's lack of responsiveness or fairness.

IFOR is also given the responsibility to support various nonmilitary tasks, including creating conditions for free and fair elections; assisting humanitarian organizations; observing and preventing "interference with the movement of civilian populations, refugees, and displaced persons"; clearing the roads of mines; controlling all airspace (even for civilian air travel); and ensuring access to all areas unimpeded by checkpoints, roadblocks or other obstacles. Taken together, these duties essentially give IFOR control of the physical infrastructure of both parts of the Bosnian state. It seems doubtful that the 60,000-man force could meet these expectations.

Article IX of the agreement recognizes the "obligation of all parties to cooperate in the investigation and prosecution of war crimes and other violations of international humanitarian law." This is an especially sensitive matter. Yet there is no mechanism in the accord for bringing to justice men who haven't been defeated in battle and who aren't in custody. This means that IFOR is almost certain to come under pressure by victims and human rights advocates to capture and deliver up the principal villains. Will it do better than we did in fulfilling our promise to capture Mohammed Farah Aidid in Somalia?

The agreement makes vague promises about reversing "ethnic cleansing" by guaranteeing refugees the right to return to their homes. Since this is in practice impossible, the West will end up paying billions in compensation awards promised in the agreement.

The agreement contains numerous provisions regarding the manner in which Bosnia is to be governed, with checks and balances built in that are based on ethnic or geographic terms. But Americans traditionally have not believed in such divisions of political authority. We fought the Civil War to put into place an undivided nation based on the principle that all people are of equal worth, and all must live in accordance with the law. It took a Tito to keep the ethnically divided Yugoslavia together. Will IFOR now assume his role of enforcing a constitution based on principles abhorrent to Western values? Even if the basic structure of the government works, what role will IFOR have to play in resolving disputes over the numerous sensitive areas that the parties have seen fit to write into the accords? If the parties don't resolve some matters successfully, they are likely to blame IFOR for these failures.

Finally, the agreement draws a vague distinction between "military" and "civilian" matters. Ultimate authority over the latter is allocated to a U.N. high representative, who is to act through a "joint civilian commission" consisting of senior political representatives of the parties and the IFOR commander or his representative. The high representative is to exchange information and maintain liaison on a regular basis with IFOR, and shall attend or be represented at meetings of the joint military commission and offer advice "particularly on matters of a political-military nature." But it is also made clear that the high representative "shall have no authority over the IFOR and shall not in any way interfere in the conduct of military operations or the IFOR chain of command."

This may seem a reassuring confirmation of IFOR's power to avoid U.N. restrictions on the use of force. Ultimately, however, IFOR's role could be made untenable if it finds itself in a confrontation with the U.N.'s designated representative about the proper handling of a "political" matter. What would happen, for example, if the U.N. high representative determined that U.S. forces had gone too far in defending themselves under President Clinton's policy of effectively responding to attacks "and then some"?

EITHER/OR

Congress cannot redo the agreement reached by the parties. But there is no need for lawmakers to accept President Clinton's either/or approach—either support his plan to implement the agreement, or pull out entirely. If the agreement represents a genuine desire for peace among the warring parties, then presumably the accord is not so fragile as to depend on the oral commitment of U.S. troops made by the administration (and which isn't even part of the agreement). Congress can and should consider other options. The U.S., for example, could assist European forces in demarcating the boundary lines, and could enforce peace in the area through the threat of air strikes on important targets. Or the U.S. could offer greater monetary and diplomatic support for the agreement but not any ground troops.

Whatever happens with the troop commitment, Congress should insist that the agree-ment's provisions allowing the training and arming of the Bosnian Muslims be rigorously adhered to. A balance of power among the hostile parties is ultimately the only basis for long-term stability in the region. And if American troops are sent to Bosnia, they will be unable to leave responsibly until such a balance has been developed. That would certainly take longer than the yearlong limit imposed by the administration.

Mr. INHOFE. This is a senior fellow at the Hoover Institution who took the time to read the some 12 annexes that we have to this agreement that has been initialed and all that was said.

We realize the responsibility that we have in the United States for this so-called peacekeeping effort. But stop and think. This is not peacekeeping; this is peace implementation. There is a little thing called mission creep. We saw it in Vietnam. We saw it in Somalia. It is a thing where you go in and tell the American people, "We are just keeping peace. There is no war on over there."

Mr. President, I was in the northeast sector of Bosnia. There is a war going on over there. The firing did not stop. The firepower is going on right now. You can hear it. You are walking around with a shrapnel jacket and helmet. You are not doing that to keep warm even though you are doing anything you can to keep warm in that area. There was a blizzard 3 weeks ago when I was there.

Nonetheless, when this scholar read the accords, not only are we responsible for implementing, that is, making peace; but we also are responsible for rebuilding the infrastructure. This $2 billion they bandy around is not even a drop in the bucket of what we are going to have to spend if the President has his way and has a mass deployment into Bosnia.

I had a telephone conversation not more than just 10 minutes ago with a retired captain, Jim Smith, who lost his leg in Vietnam and lost his son in Somalia. His son was one of those soldiers, one of those 18 Rangers that were sent over there originally for some type of a humanitarian mission that was supposed to open up the roads so we could send humanitarian goods in to some of the Somalian people.

Yes, that seemed to be a good idea. It was a 45-day mission to start with. Then President Clinton was elected. I was serving in the other body at the time, and every month we sent a resolution that said, "Mr. President, bring our troops home from Somalia. We do not have anything at stake there in terms of our Nation's security." He did not do it and did not do it and did not do it until finally 18 of our Rangers were murdered in cold blood, their corpses were mutilated and dragged through the streets of Mogadishu. And one of those corpses was Cpl. Jim Smith, the son of Capt. Jim Smith.

I talked to Capt. Jim Smith, who spent a career in the military and knows a lot more about it than I do. Captain Smith said there are so many parallels between what happened to his - son and what is going to happen to many other sons and daughters if we allow the mass deployment of troops into Bosnia. He said one of the things that stuck in his mind was the last letter that he got from his son, Cpl. Jim Smith, who said, "Dad, the biggest problem we have is we don't know who the good guys and the bad guys are." This was in Somalia. This was one of the last letters, maybe the last letter, written by Cpl. Jim Smith before his body was dragged through the streets of Mogadishu. He said, "We don't know who the good guys and the bad guys are."

That is exactly what happened 2½ years ago when President Clinton made the first decision for airdrops. I asked the person—and I cannot use his name in this public forum because it was a restricted meeting—I said, "How do you know when we drop the stuff whether it's going to get to the good guys or the bad guys?" He scratched his head and said, "You know, I don't think we know that. Come to think of it, I'm not sure we know who the good guys and the bad guys are."

That is because if you take a snapshot of any time in the history of Bosnia or the former Yugoslavia, you will find that at one time the Croats are the bad guys and the Serbs are the good guys; another time the Moslems have just finished butchering several thousand people, they are the bad guys, the Croats are the good guys. Most recently we assume the Serbs are the bad guys, so we, under the direction of President Clinton, chose sides in that civil war. At that time, many of us said, as soon as they do airdrops, then there will be airstrikes, and then they will want to send troops in. And that is exactly what has happened.

So this not over. It is not a done deal. I know the President right now is on a wave. His numbers look good. Mr. President, I can understand that, because you are an excellent politician. You just came back from Europe. You were talking about how everyone was cheering you over there. No wonder they are cheering over in Europe. You are saying we are committing 70 percent of the cost for this, and we are committing 30 percent of our troops to fight with your other troops, to fight your battles for you.

That is not our battle over there. That is relative to the security interests of Western Europe and Eastern Europe, not the United States. I saw the accounts on television when President Clinton was talking to the troops over there. I can remember when I was a troop, so I know how a troop thinks. When I was over there talking to those same troops just a few days before the President was there, they had one question. They said, "What is our mission? Why are we going to this hostile area? Why is the President obsessed in sending us into Bosnia?"

I only say this today. I know we are out of time, Mr. President. I just want to say this and I don't want to allow the mass deployment of troops into Bosnia. I emphasize there will be no free rides. There is going to be a vote. Most likely it will be Wednesday, not the vote that the leader has that is going to be a watered-down version of conciliatory remarks about what has gone on over there and about protecting our troops. We all know we are going to support our troops.

But this is going to be a vote on, Are we going to have a mass deployment of troops into Bosnia? Yes or no. And every Senator on this floor is going to have to make a record and stand up and say how he feels so that the people at home will know.

I do not know, Mr. President, how your calls are coming in in your office back in Tennessee. But I can tell you what mine are in Oklahoma. They are about 100 to 1 against it. That is because there is an infinite wisdom of the people of this country once left alone to make up their mind and make that judgment. It is not a beltway decision. It is not a Washington, DC, decision. It is not the kind of wisdom you get in the White House or within the beltway. It is back in real America where real people, real fathers and mothers are, sons and daughters who are going to be over there, shipped over to this endless war in Bosnia.

It is not going to be 12 months, Mr. President. When we were up in the area of Tuzla where our troops are going to be deployed, I said something about 12 months, and they all laughed. They said, "You mean 12 years." This is the time for it to be stopped. If Somalia had been stopped before the murder of the 18 Rangers over there and their mutilated bodies were dragged through the streets of Mogadishu, that would not have happened. This is the time to stop this before the mutilated bodies of Americans are dragged through the streets of Tuzla.

I yield the floor.

Mr. DEWINE addressed the Chair.

BOSNIA AND HAITI

Mr. DEWINE. Mr. President, we are now debating in this country the question of deployment of United States troops to Bosnia. As we engage in that discussion this week, I think it would be appropriate if we take a moment to go back and talk about the last major U.S. deployment of troops in a trouble spot situation. Of course, I am talking about Haiti.

Today, Mr. President, there are approximately 2,500 United States troops in Haiti, down from a much higher figure previously. These troops, Mr. President, were deployed in the interest of the future of peace and democracy in Haiti. It is vitally important to Haitian democracy that there be an orderly transfer of power in Haiti in the coming weeks.

On December 17 of this year—in just a few days—elections are scheduled to take place. These elections on December 17 are to be followed, on February 19, by the mass deployment of troops into Haiti. Mr. President, all over the world the orderly transition of power is considered the true hallmark of democracy.

This orderly, routine transfer of power is what separates true democracy from pseudodemocracy. It is what separates the democratic countries in the world from other countries. And there is no truer test of a democracy than its ability routinely to carry out this awesome transfer of power.

Mr. President, in the past, President Aristide has indicated that he understands this and that he understands the importance of this. In fact, on May 29 of this year, Senator SPECTER and I met with President Aristide at the White House in Haiti. We asked him at that time in a fairly lengthy conversation if he can envision any circumstances under which he would retain power. His answer was an unequivocal no. Senator SPECTER asked him again, could he envision any circumstances that he would retain power, stay in office. His answer, no.

Then I asked President Aristide, "Mr. President, many of your supporters may urge you to stay on, they may appeal to your patriotism, they may tell you that you are the only one who can carry out the duties of the Presidency, that your country needs you. How will you be able to resist those comments? How will you be able to resist those pleas?"

President Aristide's answer was very simple. He said, "Senator, I have no choice. The Constitution takes precedence over the wishes of my supporters."

Over the last couple of weeks, there has been some confusion about whether President Aristide will leave office. There has been some indication that he might not step down as scheduled. His views on this matter appear to be a moving target. The most recent accounts over the weekend, last Friday specifically, are that he said that he will step down after all and that he was really misunderstood in the comments that he made a few days prior to that.

Mr. President, it is vitally important that President Aristide does, in fact, step down, that he follows his Constitution, the Constitution of Haiti.

I cannot emphasize enough the vital importance of President Aristide's routine departure from office. Last year, the United States went to the brink of a full-scale invasion in support of constitutional democracy in Haiti. We want and the Haitian people want a strong and stable democracy in Haiti. To achieve that, there has to be an orderly transfer of power. The Haitian people deserve it.

Earlier in this century, William Faulkner described Haiti as "homeless and desperate on the lonely ocean, a little lost island" that had suffered "200 years of oppression and exploitation."

Faulkner's words could have just as well have been uttered last year, with the addition of several decades. The people of Haiti deserve hope. They need to know that the world shares their aspiration to be a full member of the community of nations. They have waited a long time. They have waited long enough.

I believe it is important that all of us—this country, other countries of the world—put President Aristide on notice that to flirt with the idea of clinging to power in violation of his country's Constitution would be to risk a huge step backward for the Haitian people. It is long past time to break the cycle of oppression in Haiti. The routine, orderly departure from office of President Aristide will be a major step in that direction.

Mr. President, I yield the floor and suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. GRASSLEY). The clerk will call the roll. The legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. HATCH. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

TRIBUTE TO REV. RICHARD C. HALVERSON

Mrs. FEINSTEIN. Mr. President, today I rise to recognize and pay tribute to a great friend to the Senate. The former Chaplain of the Senate, Rev. Richard C. Halverson passed away last week. For 14 years he tended to the spiritual needs of this body and all the people who make it work.

Educated at Wheaton College and Princeton Theological Seminary, Reverend Halverson worked in several places including California, his last place of ministry prior to moving to Washington. As the 60th Chaplain of the Senate most of our Nation knew Reverend Halverson from the prayer he delivered every morning. His respectful and quiet manner was an example to us all for how to conduct ourselves and treat others with dignity. I remember with fondness the mornings when I sat as the acting President of this chamber, and listened to Reverend Halverson speak, urge and console not only the Members of this body but everybody listening throughout the Nation.

Besides his duties as Chaplain of the Senate Reverend Halverson also was a minister to the Fourth Presbyterian Church in Bethesda, MD, and an author of several books. He took a lifetime interest in trying to speak to the improvement of the moral being of individuals, and the moral health of our Nation. I will miss Reverend Halverson, our country will miss Reverend Halverson, and this body will miss Reverend Halverson, but we are all better because of his life. I hope the example of his life will continue to set a standard for us all.

I know that Reverend Halverson's wife Doris and all the members of his family know better than all of us what an exceptional and spiritual man he was. I want to express my sympathy to them with this loss.

TRIBUTE TO THE REVEREND DR. RICHARD C. HALVERSON

Mr. SPECTER. Mr. President, I have sought recognition to honor the memory of our long-time Senate Chaplain and spiritual leader, Dr. Richard Halverson, who passed away November 28. Dr. Halverson served as Chaplain for 14 years, joining the Senate in 1981 shortly after I, too, entered the Senate. He retired this past March after distinguished service to this body and to the Nation.

As Senate Chaplain, Dr. Halverson played many roles. His prayers would open each daily session of the Senate, often reminding Senators of the higher objectives of our work. When passions ran high over controversial legislation, Dr. Halverson's opening prayers would give Senators pause for reflection and helped maintain the Senate's tradition of reasoned, respectful debate.

I came to know Dr. Halverson well through his attendance at our Bible study sessions, where he came to learn and share his thoughts on the Old Testament. He was a gracious, valued participant and we benefited from his spiritual insight.

As many know, Dr. Halverson established himself as a Chaplain who never tired of selfless service. He was always available to spend time with someone who needed his time, either for spiritual guidance or counsel. His energies were not just directed at Senators, but at their spouses and staffs, and hundreds of Senate employees. In this role, he played a vital role in keeping the fabric of the U.S. Senate together.

The Senate was a better place for having had the compassionate service of Dr. Halverson as its Chaplain for 14 years, and the Nation owes him its gratitude for the role he played in our midst.

My wife, Joan, and I extend our heartfelt condolences to Dr. Halverson's wife, Doris, and his many children and grandchildren. We will all miss his faithful, caring presence.

THE BAD DEBT BOXSCORE

Mr. HELMS. Mr. President, as of the close of business Friday, December 1, the Federal debt stood at $4,989,268,168,883.55. We are still about $11 billion away from the $5 trillion mark. Unfortunately, we anticipate hitting this mark sometime later this year or early next year.

On a per capita basis, every man, woman, and child in America owes $18,939.35 as his or her share of that debt.

CHARITABLE GIFT ANNUITY LEGISLATION

Mr. DOLE. Mr. President, I am pleased that the Senate passed two important bills impacting the charitable community—H.R. 2525 and H.R. 2519. Enactment of these bills was urgently needed to put a stop to unwarranted litigation and ensure that charities can continue to accept gift annuities from generous donors across the country. For these reasons it was important for me to clear the way to immediate passage of the bills.

Charities are critical to the Nation and to communities across the country. And charitable gift annuities are an important method for them to raise much-needed funds. This legislation will allow universities, hospitals, and other important local and national charities to continue their significant contributions to communities and the needy.

I commend my colleagues in the House and Senate for working quickly to craft this legislation. Almost 2,000 charities across the country have been defendants in unnecessary and unwarranted litigation. This congressional act will end the litigation, freeing charities to continue their important work.

CONCLUSION OF MORNING BUSINESS

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Before the Senator starts, the Chair will announce morning business is closed.

PARTIAL-BIRTH ABORTION BAN ACT

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Under the previous order, the Senate will now proceed to the consideration of H.R. 1833, which the clerk will now report.

The legislative clerk read as follows: A bill (H.R. 1833) to amend title 18, United States Code, to ban partial-birth abortions.

The Senate proceeded to consider the bill.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Utah is now recognized.

Mr. HATCH. Mr. President, I rise today to speak in support of H.R. 1833, the Partial-Birth Abortion Ban Act of 1995.

I understand that many people on both sides of this issue have very strongly held beliefs. I respect those whose views differ from my own. And, I condemn the use of violence or any other illegal method to express any point of view on this issue.

This bill, however, presents a very narrow issue: whether one rogue abortion procedure that has probably been performed only by a handful of abortion doctors in this country, that is never medically necessary, that is not the safest medical procedure available under any circumstances, and that is morally reprehensible, should be banned.

This bill does not address whether all abortions after a certain week of pregnancy should be banned, or whether late-term abortions should only be permitted in certain circumstances. It bans one particular abortion procedure.

I chaired the Judiciary Committee hearing on this bill that was held on November 17. After hearing the testimony presented there, as well as seeing some of the submitted material, I must say that I find it difficult to comprehend how any reasonable person could examine the evidence and continue to defend the partial-birth abortion procedure.

That procedure involves the partial delivery, in the late second or third trimester of pregnancy, of an intact fetus into the birth canal. The fetus is delivered from its feet through its shoulders, so that only its head remains in the uterus. Then, either scissors or another instrument is used to poke a hole in the base of the skull. This is a living baby at this point, in a late trimester of living. Once they poke that hole in the base of the skull, at that point, a suction catheter is inserted to suck out the brains. This bill would simply ban that procedure.

The bill was first brought up on the Senate floor in early November. On November 8, the Senate voted to commit the bill to the Judiciary Committee for a hearing and a report of the bill within 19 days, which included a holiday recess.

We held a comprehensive, 6½-hour hearing on the bill on November 17. To facilitate consideration on the floor, I have directed that a hearing record be printed on an expedited basis.

In addition, so that all Senators can have immediate access to the testimony and other evidence adduced at the hearing, last week I had the committee distribute to each Senator a photocopied set of the entire hearing record, including inserts and written submissions.

The committee heard testimony from a total of 12 witnesses presenting a variety of perspectives on the bill. I wanted to ensure that both sides of this debate had a full opportunity to present their arguments on this issue, and I think that the hearing bore that out.

Brenda Shafer, a registered nurse who worked in Dr. Martin Haskell's Ohio abortion clinic for 3 days as a temporary nurse in September 1993, testified as to her personal experience in observing Dr. Haskell perform the procedure that would be banned by this bill. Dr. Haskell is one of only two—maybe four doctors who have acknowledged performing the procedure—only two have acknowledged it, but there may be four of them who do this procedure.

The committee also heard testimony from four ob-gyn doctors—two in favor of the bill and two against, from an anesthesiologist, from an ethicist, and from three women who had personal experiences either with having a late-term abortion or with declining to have a late-term abortion. Finally, the committee also heard from two law professors who discussed constitutional and other legal issues raised by the bill.

The hearing was significant in that it permitted the issues raised by this bill to be fully aired. I think that the most important contribution of the hearing to this debate is that the hearing record puts to rest a number of inaccurate statements that have been made by opponents of the bill and that have unfortunately been widely covered in the press.

Because the Judiciary Committee hearing brought out many of the facts on this issue, I would like to go through the most important of those for my colleagues to clear up what I think have been some of the major misrepresentations—and simply points of confusion—on this bill.

The first and foremost inaccuracy that we must correct once and for all concerns the effects of anesthesia on the fetus of a pregnant woman. I must say that I am personally shocked at the irresponsibility that led some opponents of this bill to spread the myth that anesthesia given to the mother during a partial-birth abortion is what kills the fetus.

Opponents of this measure presumably wanted to make this procedure appear less barbaric and make it more palatable. In doing so, however, they have not only misrepresented the procedure—which is bad enough—but they have spread potentially life-threatening misinformation that could prove catastrophic to women's health.

By claiming that anesthesia kills the fetus, opponents have spread misinformation that could deter pregnant women who might desperately need surgery from undergoing surgery for fear that the anesthesia could kill or brain-damage their unborn children.

Let me illustrate how widespread this misinformation has become:

In a June 23, 1995, submission to the House Judiciary Constitution Subcommittee, the late Dr. James McMahon, the other of the two doctors who has admitted performing the procedure, wrote that anesthesia given to the mother during the procedure caused fetal demise.

Syndicated columnist Ellen Goodman wrote that, when statements of supporters of the bill are reviewed, "You wouldn't even know that anesthesia ends the life of such a fetus before it comes down the birth canal."

Let me note also that, of course, if the fetus was dead before being brought down the birth canal, then this bill by definition would not cover the procedure performed to abort that fetus. The bill covers only procedures in which a living fetus is partially delivered.

All but the head of this living fetus is outside, and then they puncture the back of the skull and suck out the brain so that the skull collapses and the baby can then be pulled out. There is no doubt in my mind that the reason the head is in is so that they will not be accused of infanticide.

An editorial in USA Today on November 3, 1995, also stated, "The fetus dies from an overdose of anesthesia given to its mother."

In a self-described fact sheet circulated to Members of the House, Dr. Mary Campbell—the medical director of Planned Parenthood who testified at the Judiciary Committee hearing—wrote:

The fetus dies of an overdose of anesthesia given to the mother intravenously. A dose is calculated for the mother's weight which is 50 to 100 times the weight of the fetus. The mother gets the anesthesia for each insertion of the dilators, twice a day. This induces brain death in a fetus in a matter of minutes. Fetal demise therefore occurs at the beginning of the procedure while the fetus is still in the womb.

When that statement was referenced to the medical panel at the Judiciary Committee hearing by Senator ABRAHAM, the president of the American Society of Anesthesiologists, Dr. Norig Ellison, flatly responded, "There is absolutely no basis in scientific fact for that statement."

The American Society of Anesthesiologists was invited to testify at our hearing precisely to clear up this obvious misrepresentation. They sought the opportunity to set the record straight.

What was terribly disturbing about this distortion was that it could endanger women's health and women's lives. The American Society of Anesthesiologists has made clear that they do not take a position on this legislation, but that they came forward out of concern for this harmful misinformation.

The spreading of this misinformation strikes me as a very sad commentary on the lengths that those who support abortion on demand, for any reason, at virtually any time during pregnancy, and apparently regardless of the method, will do to defend each and any procedure, and certainly this procedure. The sacrifice of intellectual honesty is very disheartening.

As Dr. Ellison testified, he was Deeply concerned . . . that the widespread publicity given to Dr. McMahon's testimony may cause pregnant women to delay necessary and perhaps lifesaving medical procedures, totally unrelated to the birthing process, due to misinformation regarding the effect of anesthetics on the fetus.

He stated that the American Society of Anesthesiologists, while not taking a position on the bill,

. . . have nonetheless felt it our responsibility as physicians specializing in the provision of anesthesia care to seek every available forum in which to contradict Dr. McMahon's testimony. Only in that way, we believe, can we provide assurance to pregnant women that they can undergo necessary surgical procedures safely, both for mother and unborn child.

Dr. Ellison also noted that, in his medical judgment, in order to achieve neurological demise of the fetus in a partial-birth abortion procedure, it would be necessary to anesthetize the mother to such a degree as to place her own health in jeopardy.

In short, in a partial-birth abortion, the anesthesia does not kill the fetus. The baby will generally be alive after partly being delivered into the birth canal and before having his or her skull opened and brain sucked out.

That is also consistent with evidence provided by Dr. Haskell describing his use of the procedure. In his 1992 paper presented before the National Abortion Federation, which is part of the hearing record, Dr. Haskell described the procedure as first involving the forceps-assisted delivery into the birth canal of an intact fetus from the feet up to the shoulders, with the head remaining in the uterus. He does not describe taking any action to kill the fetus up until that point.

In a 1993 interview with the American Medical News, Dr. Haskell acknowledged that roughly two-thirds of the fetuses he aborts using the partial-birth abortion procedure are alive at the point at which he kills them by inserting a scissors in the back of the head and suctioning out the brain.

Finally, in a letter to me dated November 9, 1995, Dr. Watson Bowes of the University of North Carolina Medical School wrote, Although I have never witnessed this procedure, it seems likely from the description of the procedure by Dr. Haskell that many if not all of the fetuses are alive until the scissors and the suction catheter are used to remove brain tissue.

Simply put, anesthesia given to a mother does not kill the baby she is carrying.

Let me move on to the next misrepresentation. Another myth that the hearing record debunks is that the procedure can be medically necessary in late-term pregnancies where the health of the mother is in danger or where the fetus has severe abnormalities.

Now, there were two witnesses at the hearing who testified as to their experiences with late-abortions in circumstances in which Dr. McMahon performed the procedure. Both women, Coreen Costello and Viki Wilson, received terrible news late in their pregnancies that the children they were carrying were severely deformed and would be unable to survive for very long.

I would like to make it absolutely clear that nothing in the bill before us would prevent women in Ms. Costello's and Ms. Wilson's situations from choosing to abort their children. That question is not before us, and it is not one that we face in considering this narrow bill.

I also would like to point out that I have the utmost sympathy for women—and their husbands and families—who find themselves receiving the same tragic news that those women received.

Regardless of whether they aborted the child or decided to go through with the pregnancy, which is what another courageous witness at our hearing, Jeannie French of Oak Park, IL, chose to do—and as a result, her daughter Mary's heart valves were donated to other infants—their experiences are horrendous ones that no one should have to go through.

The testimony of all three witnesses was among the most heart-wrenching and painful testimony I have ever heard before the committee. My heart goes out to those three women and their families as well as any others in similar situations.

However, the fact is that medical testimony in the record indicates that even if an abortion were to be performed under such circumstances, a number of other procedures could be performed, such as the far more common classical D&E procedure or an induction procedure.

When asked whether the exact procedure Dr. McMahon used would ever be medically necessary—even in cases like those described by Ms. Costello and Ms. Wilson, several doctors at our hearing explained that it would not. Dr. Nancy Romer, a practicing Ob-Gyn and clinical professor in Dayton, Ohio, stated that she had never had to resort to that procedure and that none of the physicians that she worked with had ever had to use it.

Dr. Pamela Smith, the director of medical education in the department of obstetrics and gynecology at the Mount Sinai Medical Hospital Center in Chicago, stated that a doctor would never need to resort to the partial-birth abortion procedure.

This ties in closely to what I consider the next misrepresentation made about the partial-birth abortion procedure: the claim that in some circumstances a partial-birth abortion will be the safest option available for a late-term abortion. Testimony and other evidence adduced at the Judiciary Committee hearing amply demonstrate that this is not the case.

An article published in the November 20, 1995, issue of the American Medical News quoted Dr. Warren Hern as stating, "I would dispute any statement that this is the safest procedure to use." Dr. Hern is the author of "Abortion Practice," the Nation's most widely used textbook on abortion standards and procedures. He also stated in that interview that he "has very strong reservations" about the partial-birth abortion procedure banned by this bill.

Indeed, referring to the procedure, he stated, "You really can't defend it. I'm not going to tell somebody else that they should not do this procedure. But I'm not going to do it."

In fairness to Dr. Hern, I note that he does not support this bill in part because he feels this is the beginning of legislative efforts to chip away at abortion rights. We have included a statement from him in the RECORD. His opinion on the procedure, however, is highly instructive.

I think Dr. Nancy Romer, a professor in the department of obstetrics and gynecology at the Wright State University School of Medicine and the vice chair of the department of obstetrics and gynecology at Miami Valley Hospital, both in Dayton, OH, explained it best. I will quote her entire statement on this point:

If this procedure were absolutely necessary, then I would ask you, why does no one that I work with do it? We have two high-risk obstetricians, and a medical department of about 40 obstetricians, and nobody does it. We care for and do second-trimester abortions, and we have peer review. We are watching each other, and if we truly were doing alternative procedures that were killing women left and right, we would be out there looking for something better. We would be going to Dr. Haskell and saying, please, come help us do this. And we are not. We are satisfied with what we do. We are watching each other and we know that the care that we provide is adequate and safe.

I think that says it all as far as safety is concerned.

Another misrepresentation that should be set straight concerns claims that the partial-birth abortion procedure that would be banned by this bill is in fact performed only in late-term pregnancies where the life of the mother is at risk or where the fetus is suffering from severe abnormalities that are incompatible with life.

I certainly do not dispute that in a number of cases the partial-birth abortion procedure has been performed where the life of the mother was at risk or where the fetus was severely deformed.

Substantial available evidence indicates, however, that the procedure is not performed solely or primarily where the mother's life is in danger, where the mother's health is gravely at risk, or where the fetus is seriously malformed in a manner incompatible with life.

The fact of the matter is—and I know this is something that opponents of the bill have not faced—this procedure is being performed where there are only minor problems with the fetus, and for purely elective reasons.

Dr. Haskell stated in testimony given under oath last month, on November 8, 1995, in Federal district court in Ohio, that he performs the procedure on second trimester patients for some medical and some not so medical reasons. [See Dist. Ct. Tr. at 104.] That court transcript is part of the hearing record.

In transcripts from Dr. Haskell's 1993 interview with the American Medical News—also part of the hearing record—Dr. Haskell states "most of my abortions are elective in the 20-24 week range. In my particular case, probably 20 percent are for genetic reasons [and] the other 80 percent are purely elective." Meaning that 80 percent of those kids that are destroyed are normal kids.

Dr. Romer testified that she has cared for patients who had received a partial-birth abortion from Dr. Haskell for reasons that were purely based on the woman not wanting a baby, for—as she put it—social reasons.

Most important, however, medical testimony at our hearing indicated that a health exception in this bill is not necessary because other abortion procedures are in fact safer and better for women's health.

As for examples of overly broad health rationales for this procedure, Dr. McMahon indicated—in a 1995 letter submitted to Congress and in a 1993 interview with the American Medical News—that, although all of the third trimester abortions he performed were nonelective, approximately 80 percent of the abortions he performed after 20 weeks of pregnancy were therapeutic.

Dr. McMahon then provided the House Judiciary Committee with a listing of the so-called therapeutic indications for which he performed the procedure. That list is a real eye opener.

The single most common reason for which the partial-birth abortion was performed by him was maternal depression. He also listed substance abuse on the part of the mother as a therapeutic reason for which he performed the procedure.

In terms of fetal so-called abnormalities, Dr. McMahon's own list indicates that he performed the procedure numerous times in cases in which the fetus had no more serious a problem than a cleft lip.

Dr. Haskell has similarly acknowledged that he is not performing the procedure in critical instances of maternal or fetal health. In Dr. Haskell's testimony in Federal district court in Ohio last month, Dr. Haskell stated: "Patients that are critically ill at the time they're referred for termination, I probably would not see. Most of the patients that are referred to me for termination are at least healthy enough to undergo an operation on an outpatient basis or else I would not undertake it."

When asked about the specific health-related reasons for which he performed the partial-birth abortion procedure, Dr. Haskell specified that he has performed the procedure in cases involving high blood pressure, diabetes, and agoraphobia on the part of the mother. [See Dist. Ct. Tr. at 105.] Of course, agoraphobia is the fear of going outside. Dr. Haskell acknowledged that in district court. That, to me, is outrageous.

Now, let me be perfectly clear that I do not doubt that in some cases this procedure was done where there were life-threatening indications.

However, I simply must emphasize two points.

First, those cases are by far in the minority. We should get the facts straight so that our colleagues and the American people understand what is going on here.

Second, the most credible testimony at our hearing—confirmed by other available evidence—indicates that even where serious maternal health issues exist or severe fetal abnormalities arise, there will always be other, safer abortion procedures available that this bill does not touch.

MISREPRESENTATION NO. 5

Finally, the next misrepresentation I would like to correct concerns whether this procedure exists. That claim should be put to rest once and for all.

Some opponents of this measure still insist on claiming that the procedure banned by this bill—the partial-birth abortion procedure—does not exist solely because the two doctors who have admitted performing the procedure—the late Dr. McMahon of Los Angeles and Dr. Haskell of Ohio—used different terms for the procedure.

The bill clearly defines the term partial-birth abortion as "an abortion in which the person performing the abortion partially vaginally delivers a living fetus before killing the fetus and completing the delivery." I think that the term partial-birth abortion does provide an accurate, shorthand description of that full definition.

Dr. Haskell refers to the procedure as a D&X, while the late Dr. McMahon referred to the procedure as an intact D&E. As medical witnesses at the hearing pointed out, the procedures—by whatever name—are virtually unheard of in the medical and scientific literature.

As Dr. Watson Bowes of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill wrote to me, "The term 'partial-birth abortion' is accurate as applied to the procedure described by Dr. Martin Haskell in his 1992 paper. There is no standard medical term for this method."

I submit that there is no medically accepted terminology for the procedure because the procedure has not been medically accepted.

There can be no question, however, that the procedure banned by this bill does exist and has been performed repeatedly. That is disturbing. It is troubling.

We should be confronting the ethical dilemmas the procedure raises rather than sticking our heads in the sand and quibbling about whether the procedure exists under any particular name or another.

On that note, I would like to close by highlighting a statement made at our hearing by Helen Alvare of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops. She remarked that opponents of this bill keep asking whether enacting it would be the first step in an effort to ban all abortions.

In her view, however, the real question should be whether allowing this procedure would serve as a first step toward legalized infanticide. I urge the bill's opponents to ask themselves this question. What is the real purpose of this procedure?

That is the fundamental problem with this procedure. It involves killing a partially delivered baby.

The previous debate on this bill ended when the Senate voted to require a Judiciary Committee hearing. Let me say to my colleagues in the Senate that the testimony presented during this hearing more than confirmed my view that this procedure is never medically necessary and should be banned.

This testimony, regardless of one's view on the broader issue of abortion, provides ample justification for an "aye" vote on H.R. 1833.

Mr. SMITH addressing the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. GRAMS). The Senator from New Hampshire.

Mr. SMITH. Thank you very much, Mr. President. Senator BOXER and I have an informal agreement that after approximately 30 minutes I would yield the floor to her, if the Chair would be kind enough to remind me if I get carried away.

Mr. President, I rise today in very strong support of H.R. 1833, the Partial-Birth Abortion Ban Act of 1995. I at this time would like to express my sincere gratitude to the Senator from Utah, Senator HATCH, first, for his splendid leadership on the issue of protecting the rights of the unborn. He has long been a champion of that issue, long before this Senator came to the Senate. But, also, I thank him for conducting the hearing, doing it in a fair manner, allowing all witnesses on both sides of the issue to be heard. He certainly performed a very valuable service, and I very much owe him a debt of gratitude for that.

Mr. President, as I am sure you know, initially I opposed the motion to refer this bill to the Senate Judiciary Committee for a hearing given the full record developed during the House's consideration of the bill. I did not really believe that the Senate needed to have a hearing. The House had extensive hearings on the bill, as you know, and quite a bit of debate.

Ultimately, however, I agreed to support the motion to refer the bill to the committee for the hearing because I was convinced that the more my colleagues could learn about this procedure about the brutality and the inhumaneness of it, the so-called partial-birth abortion procedure, I believed that the more my colleagues learned, the more I would have an opportunity to get more votes, frankly, in opposition to it. I believe that the bill will garner support, in other words, garner support to outlaw this procedure.

Later in my remarks today I am going to comment in some detail about the excellent hearing held by Senator HATCH and the Judiciary Committee on H.R. 1833. That hearing was held on November 17.

But first, Mr. President, I would like to remind my colleagues of just why it is that we are here. I want to focus again one more time on exactly what a partial-birth abortion is. The term "birth" involved in this procedure is somewhat interesting in the sense that it is called a partial birth, yet it is an abortion. I want to remind my colleagues of why a supermajority, a two-thirds majority, of the House of Representatives voted to pass this bill on November 1—two-thirds. And I would also like to remind my colleagues of why that supermajority encompassed both party and ideological lines on both sides, why it crossed those party and ideological lines, why it included such people as House minority leader RICHARD GEPHARDT, Speaker GINGRICH, House minority whip DAVID BONIOR, and House majority leader DICK ARMEY, pro-choice Democrat PATRICK KENNEDY, and pro-choice Republican SUSAN MOLINARI.

Mr. President, the sole purpose of H.R. 1833 is to ban a very specific method of abortion that is performed at a time in the gestation period of about 5 months and continues on through the ninth month of gestation. So at any period of time between the fifth and the ninth month of gestation right up until the day of birth, these abortions can be and are performed.

These are late-term babies, Mr. President. There really is not any other term for it. You can cover it up and coat it a little bit by using other terms. But they are late-term babies, the youngest of whom—the youngest of whom—at 5 months may have a fighting chance to live on their own outside of the womb, and the older of whom unquestionably, unless there were severe abnormalities or birth defects, could live outside the womb.

So this specific abortion method called partial-birth abortion—that is what it is called—it is a straightforward, plain English term for a procedure in which a living baby's body is brought entirely into the birth canal, except for the child's head, which the abortionist holds inside the mother's womb, in other words, keeps the child from coming completely out of the womb, restrains the child, keeping the head inside the womb before he punctures the baby's head with scissors and inserts a suction catheter inside that incision and literally sucks the brains out of the child.

It is understandable that the defenders of partial-birth abortions do not like the clearly descriptive and entirely accurate term "partial-birth abortion." I think most people on both sides of the aisle would, if they do not always agree with, certainly respect the words of Pulitzer Prize winning commentator George Will, who points out in an excellent column in the latest issue of Newsweek—he says, "Pro-abortion extremists object to that name, preferring," instead now of partial-birth abortion, "preferring 'intact dilation and evacuation' for the same reason that the pro-abortion movement prefers to be called pro-choice."

Mr. Will goes on to conclude that what is intact here is a baby. That is what is intact, a baby. So, instead of "partial-birth abortion," we call it "intact dilation and evacuation," the removal of a child from the womb after taking the child's life by inserting a catheter into the back of the head through an incision made by scissors, with no anesthetic, and suck the brains out.

As I remind my colleagues today what a partial-birth abortion is, I am going to again use a series of illustrations that depict the partial-birth abortion procedure. I have done this before on the floor. I have been criticized for it. The press has not gotten it right. Some of them have not gotten it right. I was accused of showing photographs of aborted babies. I was accused of displaying a rubber fetus, whatever that is, all kinds of distortions of the record.

But what I have here are simple medical diagrams. That is all they are. They simply say what the procedure is and simply show it in pictures. I am going to show it again briefly here to show what we mean by partial-birth abortion because I think we should understand what it is.

As I do it, keep in mind that these illustrations have appeared in the American Medical Association's official newspaper, the AMA News. These are not my drawings. They are not drawn by the pro-life movement. They are not drawn by anyone other than they appeared in the AMA News. So they are medically accurate, they are straightforward, they are honest depictions of the partial-birth abortion procedure as described in an 8-page paper written in 1992 by Dr. Martin Haskell who has confessed, admitted, to performing more than 1,000—1,000—of these abortions—1,000 by one doctor, 1,000 abortions between the 5th and 9th month, Mr. President. Dr. Haskell's papers are included in the Judiciary Committee's official record of its November 17 hearing on this bill.

In a tape recorded interview with the AMA News on July 5, 1993, Dr. Haskell himself said:

Moreover, during a June 15, 1995 hearing before the House Judiciary Committee's Constitution Subcommittee, Johns Hopkins University Medical School Prof. Courtland Robinson, testifying on behalf of the National Abortion Federation, was questioned by Congressman CHARLES CANADY about the same illustrations of the partial-birth abortion procedure that I will be showing my colleagues again today. Dr. Robinson agreed that they were technically accurate, commenting "this is exactly probably what is occurring at the hands of the physicians involved."

This is a person who testified for the National Abortion Federation. So I think we ought to lay to rest the misrepresentations and the distortions and, frankly, the outright lies that have been perpetrated about me and about what I have presented on this floor. These are medically approved drawings that even the other side says are technically accurate.

Dr. Watson Bowes, a professor of obstetrics and gynecology at the medical school of the University of North Carolina Chapel Hill, also, in his own right, an internationally recognized expert on fetal and maternal medicine, wrote a letter to Congressman CANADY:

Having read Dr. Haskell's paper, I can assure you that these drawings accurately represent the procedure described therein.

Let us look at the first illustration. With the aid of ultrasound, the abortionist determines the position the baby is in, and after he determines that, he reaches in with the forceps and takes the child by the feet with the forceps and turns it around inside the womb. Keep in mind that this is a late-term living baby.

Then, as you can see, Mr. President, the baby's leg is pulled out into the birth canal with the aid of the forceps. The baby is turned around so that it is a breech birth, because, obviously, if the head comes out first, it becomes a breathing child. If the feet come out first, it can be aborted, not a living thing. That is what we are told.

So the abortionist has to turn the child around. Usually it is the other way around, but now we turn the child around and make a breech birth here. So the baby's leg comes through the cervical opening and into the birth canal.

In the third illustration, we see that the abortionist now has the child enough removed from the forceps to be able to take the child in his or her hands from, as you can see in the drawing here, somewhere about midtorso. The abortionist takes ahold of this child, and he or she begins to pull the child all the way out of the womb and into the birth canal, with the exception of the head.

Let me just pause here for a moment to reflect on what is happening. If this were a doctor and this were a happy time, a woman wanting this child for whatever reason, this little child would be a patient—a patient, Mr. President. But this child is not a patient here, not in this procedure. There is no choice of his or her own. This child is not a patient. This child is a victim of the abortionist's hands. What could be kind, loving, gentle hands are now the hands of death, because, sadly, the abortionist's purpose we now see coming in the fourth illustration.

The horror of this is beyond all imagination, as far as I am concerned, having witnessed the birth of three of my own children, knowing what a beautiful experience that is to see. The abortionist holds the baby by the shoulders—I mean holds the baby by the shoulders—to prevent the child from being born, because the moment the head comes through the birth canal and out into the world, it has the protection of the Constitution of the United States.

So this doctor has to be very sure that this little head does not slip out, so he holds the child, he prevents the child from being born, because—and this may be a little girl or a little boy, but let us, just for the sake of argument, call it a little girl—if her head slips out, she is born alive. We cannot let that happen if we are abortionists, can we? That is a problem.

The columnist, John Leo, pointed out in his excellent article in the November 20 issue of U.S. News & World Report:

Stopping the head just short of birth is a legal figleaf for a procedure that doesn't look like abortion at all. It sounds like infanticide.

So, as I said, Mr. President, the abortionist holds the baby's head with the hand tightly. Obviously, the muscular action here, the contractions move this child from the womb. That is natural. But after the gripping at the shoulders with these hands in an unspeakably brutal act of, I believe, inhumanity, the abortionist jams a pair of scissors into the baby's skull. This is a late-term baby, fully capable of pain and feeling pain, and before he withdraws those scissors, which he opens to separate the wound, he enlarges that hole at the base of the baby's skull and inserts that catheter.

As you can see in the last drawing, what was moments before a living baby now hangs limp in the hands of the abortionist.

Remember what happens: Catheter in, suck out the contents of the—it is interesting, some of the pro-choice, pro-abortion people call it the contents, the contents of the head, not the brains.

You see, it sounds too much like a baby or a child to say "brains," so you say "contents," as if we were talking about a can of beans or something that you empty. Then in order to kill this baby, he uses that suction catheter to suck the baby's brains out—not the contents of some inanimate object—and the dead baby then is removed.

I ask my colleagues, if that is not a baby there, what is it? I ask anybody who wants to take the floor today and say to me that you support this procedure, tell me what it is if it is not a baby. And if it is a baby, then we are killing it, are we not? If it is not a baby, what is it? What is it?

I ask my colleagues and anyone else who may be listening, if you picked up the newspaper tomorrow morning in your hometown, wherever that may be—Anywhere, U.S.A.—and the front page of that paper said that the local pound decided to kill 100 unwanted puppies and kittens, with no anesthetic, by putting scissors in the back of the neck, by inserting a catheter in the back of the head and sucking the brains out, what would you think? My colleagues, ladies and gentlemen, American people, I think you would be outraged, I think you would be protesting probably in front of the SPCA; you would be calling it horrible, disgraceful, and saying, "What are we doing? Why would I put my dog to sleep in such an inhumane manner?"

Well, Mr. President, we are doing it to children. We are doing this to children. There you have it. But for the decision of someone else, not the baby, what could have been that beautiful journey in the process of birth, through the birth canal and into the world, which each and every one of us took because nobody got here without being born—there may have been other procedures, I grant, such as a cesarean, where you may have been born, but in most cases through the birth canal. But that beautiful journey from our mother's safe, warm womb in the birth canal and out into the wonderful world. But that is not what happens here. It is perverted by the abortionist into a savage rendezvous with death. That is exactly what it is. It is a rendezvous with death.

Do you know what? I have been called an extremist because I have said that, because I have been down here on the floor showing these drawings, pointing out to the American people what this is. I am accused of being an extremist. What is the person who performs this act? What is that person? In a partial-birth abortion, the journey of life, the beautiful process of birth—birth—this is not the average abortion we are talking about. They are bad enough, and everybody knows how I feel about those, but that is not the issue here. This is the issue of late-term abortions, which is why so many pro-choice, clear-thinking, sensible Democrats and Republicans, liberals and conservatives, in the House of Representatives voted to stop it, because they were horrified by it.

The people who do it are the extremists. That is who the extremists are. This journey of life is interrupted in the ultimate act of violent oppression. The abortionist uses his brute strength, his powerful hands, against an innocent little child, helpless, defenseless child. He stops her journey into life, holds her by the shoulders and jams scissors into her head and removes her brains.

Mr. President, this is the United States of America. When I came to the Senate in 1991, I never really dreamed that I would have to take the floor of the Senate and defend the right of a child, perhaps as old as 8½ to 8¾ months in the uterus, to have to stand here and defend this child. What a sick, horrible perversion.

How could this be in this country? How could we possibly stand by in this country and let this happen? But then, again, there is great precedent for this, Mr. President, because we saw it in the Civil War, prior to the Civil War, a couple hundred years prior to the Civil War—almost 300 years prior to the Civil War—well, 200 anyway. Slavery, which was a brutal act against our fellow mankind. We stood around for a couple hundred years before we stopped that. But here we are.

What have we come to as a people? We stand here on the floor day after day, month after month, year after year and talk about the great issues of the day—the deficit, the debt, whether or not we ought to send troops to Bosnia, the Persian Gulf, nominations of Supreme Court Justices, great issues. We have had some great debates here. But what have we come to, to be here on the floor, to have to try to stop something as barbaric as this? It should be stopped. It should not be happening. We should not have to be here.

A little baby has a right to be born. In a partial-birth abortion, a doctor who swore to the Hippocratic oath "to do no harm" does the worst possible harm to the youngest, most defenseless little patient that he could ever have. No wonder the foremost expert practitioner of this procedure, Dr. Martin Haskell, the man who admittedly performed a thousand of them, did not have the guts to accept Chairman HATCH's invitation to appear before the Senate Judiciary Committee to defend his procedure.

Mr. President, we spent hours on the floor of the Senate in the early part of November with my colleagues on the other side of this issue demanding a hearing. "We must have a hearing," I heard said. "We must have these people come in and tell us about this procedure, because we can defend it." But Dr. Haskell did not come.

In the November 20 issue of the American Medical Association's AMA News, one of Dr. Haskell's fellow abortionists really told us why Dr. Haskell did not have the guts to appear at the Senate Judiciary Committee hearing. Here is what he said, speaking of the procedure, and this is Dr. Warren Hearn, author of "Abortion Practice," the Nation's most widely used textbook on abortion standards and procedures: "You can't defend it." He said, "You can't defend it."

That is why he did not show up. You cannot defend it.

Thankfully, however, Mr. President, a nurse who once witnessed one of Dr. Haskell's partial-birth abortions, Brenda Pratt Shafer, did have the guts to appear before the Judiciary Committee. This is how she described what she saw:

I am Brenda Pratt Shafer, a registered nurse with 13 years of experience. One day in September, 1993, my nursing agency assigned me to work at a Dayton, Ohio, abortion clinic. I had often expressed pro-choice views to my two teenage daughters, so I thought this assignment would be no problem for me. But I was wrong. I stood at a doctor's side as he performed the partial-birth abortion procedure, and what I saw is branded forever on my mind. The mother was 6 months pregnant. The baby's heartbeat was visible, clearly, on the ultrasound. The doctor went in with forceps and grabbed the baby's legs and pulled them down through the birth canal. Then he delivered the baby's body and the arms, everything but the head. The doctor kept the baby's head just inside the uterus. The baby's little fingers were clasping and unclasping and his feet were swinging.

Then the doctor stuck the scissors through the back of his head, and the baby's arms jerked out in a flinched, startled reaction, like a baby does when he thinks he might fall. The doctor opened up the scissors, stuck a high-powered suction tube into the opening, and sucked the baby's brains out. Now, the baby was completely limp.

Then, the last line—and I am going to end here and yield the floor to Senator BOXER—the last, most compelling line, "I never went back to that clinic, but I am still haunted by the face of that little boy—it was the most perfect, angelic face I have ever seen." Brenda Pratt Shafer.

I yield the floor.

Mrs. BOXER. Mr. President, it is a privilege for me to take to the floor this evening in a tough debate and one that I hope will lead the Senate to amend this bill.

This bill is flawed because it makes no exception, even for the life of the mother. It criminalizes a procedure, which means that doctors, by virtue of using it without having a chance to even explain it, will be hauled into court, perhaps into jail. It sets us on a slippery slope that greatly concerns me.

I speak as a mother. I speak as a grandmother. I speak as someone who came here in part to protect people without a voice, the most vulnerable among us.

We hear similar arguments that my friend engaged in the last time that this was brought to the floor, and the Senate wisely referred it to the Judiciary Committee. I want to thank my colleagues for voting with us on that. We had to fight to get an agreement. This was going to be rushed through, without hearing from the women who had a story to tell, without hearing from the doctors who think it is necessary, without hearing from the constitutional lawyers.

Very wisely, we took a deep breath and we sent this to the committee. It was a good hearing. It was a balanced hearing. I hope Members will read the record very closely. Then I hope they will support amending this bill.

I want to make a couple of comments before I go into a presentation that I hope will pinpoint my arguments.

Mr. President, not every birth is a beautiful journey. We pray to God that everyone we know and love—everyone, every woman, every family—can experience the beautiful journey of birth without problem. I know a lot of women have had problems. It is not always easy. Not every fetus finds a safe and warm womb. No, they do not. Some are born very early. Some develop terrible diseases and problems. Some women are diagnosed with serious cancer, and they know they could lose their life if they proceed to term.

Life is not always, as somebody once said, a bowl of cherries. Sometimes it is very hard.

Here we stand as Senators—not as doctors—outlawing a procedure, a medical procedure. I daresay if you were at home and you had never heard anything about this before and you came back from, say, another planet, and you turned on your TV and you were channel surfing and came to a station and were watching us, you would probably think this is a medical school lecture. I watched the beginning of this debate on TV, and it was just like a medical lecture. There was talk about what anesthesia does. There was talk about what kind of instruments are used. There was talk about things that we have no knowledge of. We see medical drawings—admittedly, done by physicians—medical drawings. What are we doing? This is not a medical school. This is not an ethical panel of a medicine school.

Senator KENNEDY, I thought, had a very important sentence in his prepared remarks. He said some Senators could be accused of practicing medicine without a license. That is not our job. I was not sent here to be a physician, to judge medical procedures, or to be God. That is for sure.

I also take great exception to certain things that were said in this debate. I want to put those right out there because this will be a long-heated argument. I just want to go on record. It will not make a bit of difference that I am particularly offended, but I want to put it on the record.

I want to say to my friends on the other side who are leading the charge for criminalizing a medical procedure, that doctors who perform abortions are doctors. They are not abortionists. They are physicians. Many of them have saved women's lives. And you call them abortionists?

Abortion is legal in this country. They are doctors who perform abortions. They are being harassed. They are being threatened. This kind of rhetoric on this floor adds to the problem.

Case in point: My colleague said Dr. So-and-so confessed that he performed abortions. He confessed. Notice the word. Who confesses? Somebody who is guilty of a crime. Abortion is not a crime in this Nation.

Yes, there are those who want to make it a crime. They want to put the women in jail. We will get to that another day, I assure you. If they win this one, that is coming down the road.

I say to my colleagues on the other side of this issue, do not use the term "abortionist" if you can help yourself. Say doctors who perform abortion. And do not say, he confessed. Then, my colleague said, He admitted.

Yes, you are right, this doctor did not come before the panel. Other doctors did. They defended this procedure, said it was the safest procedure, and said that other procedures were 14 times more dangerous for the woman.

Maybe you do not care about the woman. We do not see on that chart the face of the woman. Why is that? I say it is on purpose. It is a woman carrying a baby. I say the word "baby." It is a woman carrying a baby who finds out in the late term some horrible thing she is faced with, with her family.

So do not talk about confessing, and do not talk about admitting.

I ask unanimous consent to have printed in the RECORD a letter from Dr. Haskell's attorney at this point.

There being no objection, the material was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

THE CENTER FOR REPRODUCTIVE

New York, NY.

Senator ORRIN G. HATCH,
Chairman, Committee on the Judiciary, U.S.
Senate, Washington, DC.

DEAR SENATOR HATCH: I am writing on behalf of Martin Haskell, M.D., whom I currently represent in litigation challenging Ohio House Bill 135, which like H.R. 1833, bans certain methods of abortion. Because of the pending litigation, Dr. Haskell must decline your kind invitation to testify before the Senate Judiciary Committee on Friday, November 17, 1995 about the federal ban on "partial birth abortions." Nevertheless, he asked me to convey you his ardent opposition to the legislation, which will prevent him from providing safe and appropriate medical services to his patients needing second trimester abortions.

Unfortunately, over the last several years, Dr. Haskell has been the object of unlawful violence and intimidation by those who oppose abortion. In addition to physical harassment at home and work, which have included blockages and threats by abortion opponents, he has been the victim of a firebomb that extensively damaged one of his clinics. As a result, Dr. Haskell has recently refused public and media appearances that my increase the risk of violence against him.

While Dr. Haskell is mindful that his appearance before your Committee might clarify much of this misinformation currently circulating about his medical practice and about the purpose and effect of his legislation, he regrets that he will be unable to attend. Please feel free to contact me if I may be of further assistance to you.

Very truly yours,

KATHRYN KOLBERT,

Vice President.

Mrs. BOXER. In this, the attorney explains why the doctor did not come and references the fact that this doctor, unfortunately, has been the object of unlawful violence and intimidation by those who oppose abortion. In addition to physical harassment at home and at work, which have included blockades and threats by abortion opponents, he has been the victim of a firebomb that extensively damaged one of his clinics, and he has not made public appearances because there are some people who happen to love him.

So, please choose your words carefully here. It could have an impact well beyond your meaning.

I read the committee's hearing, the transcript, every word. I am very glad we had that hearing. It is not surprising, the doctors who testified were split on the issue. Some said it is not a necessary procedure. Others said it is quite necessary, it is the safest procedure. Some said we need to have that procedure to save a woman's life. Others said, "We disagree."

We do know one thing. The 35,000-member organization of the OB/GYN's, the obstetricians and gynecologists, say no to this bill. The experts, the legal experts are split on the constitutionality.

So, I say we need to look at the real-life people who have had this procedure because they come to us with a real story, not some philosophical point of view—and we all have them. As a matter of fact, one of these women who came before us describes herself as a conservative Republican pro-life person. Imagine. And that testimony cannot be derided by anyone in this Chamber, regardless of his or her view. Those people told the truth about their lives, and they were backed up by their families, and no one could contradict them.

That is the face that has been missing from this debate, the face that has been missing, the mother's face.

I was very glad that we had the hearing because this mother came out and told her story. I am going to show you a photograph of this woman and her family: Coreen Costello, of Agoura, CA, she is 31, a full-time wife and mother of two. Her husband Jim is 33. He is a chiropractor. Children: Chad 7, Carlin 5. She is now pregnant. She is in the third month of her pregnancy. I want you to keep that face in mind and the faces of this family in mind. I want to tell you about her and her story.

This is her statement. I am going to read it. It is brief. I want you to listen to the words and then I want you to think about what has been said here, the cruelty expressed toward the medical profession that took a Hippocratic oath to help a family like this.

Ms. COSTELLO. Senator Hatch, Senator Kennedy, and members of the committee, I would like to really thank you for allowing me to speak to you today. My name is Coreen Costello. I live in Agoura, California, with my husband, Jim; my son, Chad; and my daughter, Carlin. Jim is a chiropractor and I am a full-time wife and mother.

I am a registered Republican and very conservative. I do not believe in abortion. Because of my deeply held Christian beliefs, I knew that I would never have an abortion. Then on March 24th of this year when I was 7 months pregnant, I was having premature contractions and my husband and I rushed to the hospital.

During an ultrasound, the physician became very silent. Soon, more physicians came in. I knew in my heart that there was something terribly wrong. I went into the bathroom and I sobbed. I begged God to let my baby be okay. I prayed like I have never prayed before in my life. My husband reassured me that we could deal with whatever was wrong. We had talked about raising a child with disabilities. We were willing to take whatever God gave us. I had no problem with that.

My doctor arrived at 2:00 in the morning. He held my hand and informed me that they did not expect our baby to live. She was unable to absorb any amniotic fluid and it was puddling into my uterus. That was causing my contractions. This poor precious child had a lethal neurological disorder and had been unable to move for almost 2 months. The movements I had been feeling over the past months had been nothing more than bubbles and fluid.

Her chest cavity had been unable to rise and fall to stretch her lungs to prepare them for air. Therefore, they were left severely underdeveloped, almost to the point of not existing. Her vital organs were atrophying. Our darling little girl was dying.

A peri—peri—a specialist recommended terminating the pregnancy. This is not a medical school class, so I do not know the names of the specialties.

A perinatologist recommended terminating the pregnancy. For my husband and me, this was not an option. I chose to go into labor naturally. I wanted her to come on God's time. I did not want to interfere. It was so difficult to go home and be pregnant and go on with life knowing my baby was dying. I wanted to stay in bed. My husband looked at me and said, Coreen, this baby is still with us; she is still alive; let's be proud of her; let's make these last days of her life as special as possible. I felt her life inside of me and somehow I still glowed.

At this time, we chose our daughter's name. We named her Katherine Grace, Katherine meaning pure, Grace representing God's mercy. Then we had her baptized in utero. We went to many more experts over the next 2 weeks. It was discovered that Katherine's body was rigid and she was stuck in a transverse position. Due to swelling, her head was already larger than that of a full-term baby. Natural birth or induced labor were not possible; they were impossible.

I considered a Cesarean section, but experts at Cedars-Sinai Hospital were adamant that the risks to my health and possibly my life were too great. There was no reason to risk leaving my children motherless if there was no hope of saving Katherine. The doctors all agreed that our only option was the intact D&E procedure.

That is the procedure this bill will outlaw.

I was devastated. The thought of an abortion sent chills down my spine. I remember patting my tummy, promising my little girl that I would never let anyone hurt or devalue her.

After Dr. McMahon explained the procedure to us, I was so comforted. He and his staff understood the pain and anguish we were feeling. I realized I was in the right place. This was the safest way for me to deliver. This left open the possibility of more children, it greatly lowered the risk of my death, and most important to me, it offered a peaceful, painless passing for Katherine Grace.

When I was put under anesthesia, Katherine's heart stopped. She was able to pass away peacefully inside my womb, which was the most comfortable place for her to be. Even if regular birth or a Cesarean had been medically possible, my daughter would have died an agonizing death.

When I awoke a few hours later, she was brought in to us. She was beautiful. She was not missing any part of her brain. She had not been stabbed in the head with scissors. She looked peaceful. My husband and I held her tight and sobbed. We stayed with her for hours, praying and singing lullabies. Giving her back was the hardest moment of my life.

Due to the safety of this procedure, I am again pregnant now. Fortunately, most of you will never have to walk through the valley we have walked. It deeply saddens me that you are making a decision having never walked in our shoes.

When families like ours are given this kind of tragic news, the last people we want to seek advice from are politicians.

I am going to read it again.

When families like ours are given this kind of tragic news, the last people we want to seek advice from are politicians. We talk to our doctors, lots of doctors. We talk to our families and other loved ones, and we ponder long and hard into the night with God.

What happened to our family is heart-breaking and it is private, but we have chosen to share our story with you because we hope it will help you act with wisdom and compassion. I hope you can put aside your political differences, your positions on abortion, and your party affiliations and just try to remember us. We are the ones who know. We are the families that ache to hold our babies, to love them, to nurture them. We are the families who will forever have a hole in our hearts. We are the families that had to choose how our babies would die. Each one of you should be grateful that you and your families have not had to face such a choice. I pray that no one you love ever does.

Please put a stop to this terrible bill. Families like mine are counting on you. Thank you very much.

I say we need to look at the real-life people who have had this procedure. We have to put a mother's face on that drawing and into this debate because we know what will happen.

Some doctors say that this procedure is absolutely necessary to save a woman's life and protect her health. Others say no. What if the ones who say it is necessary are right? You know who is going to pay the price. Not the doctor, because he or she is going to stop doing this procedure. There is no exception in this bill for the life and health of the mother. There is an affirmative defense. That means the doctor has to go into court and defend himself or herself. The burden is on the physician to prove that he was acting or she was acting to save the woman's life and health. So the doctors will stop doing this procedure.

That is what this bill is all about. So who is left with fewer options? The women. It is like telling women—we have seen this—they had better not take a mammogram. We are going to say you do not really need it until you are 50. We faced that debate. Well, that is the only tool we have to save her life. And we fought against that recommendation, and we said to women who are 40 to go get those mammograms. Maybe we will only save 15 percent of you instead of a larger number when you are 50. But that is the only tool we have.

So when we take a tool away, who will be hurt? Not the doctor. It will be your wives. It will be your sisters. It will be your children and mine and their families.

We are over 90 percent men in this Senate. And I want to appeal to those men in this Senate who talk about the beauty of the baby going through the birth canal as if they have ever experienced this themselves. I take offense when you say you are the only ones who care about babies and you denigrate people on the other side and say that we will not talk about the babies. Well, I want to talk about the babies. And I want to talk about these babies who could have lost their mother, a pro-life Republican woman who came here to testify.

So what I am going to do during this debate is concentrate on putting a mother's face on the screen and putting her family's face on the screen, and tell her story because it has been left out of this debate. I plan to talk about the chamber of horrors a doctor would have to go through if he did feel that this was the only option—and when he took his Hippocratic oath, he said, to save the life of his patient—and if he feels that is the only procedure; the chamber of horrors that he would have to go through to protect a woman's health and even her life. I will lead you through what would happen to such a physician.

This is America. What are politicians doing in the hospital room? What are politicians doing telling this religious woman how to lead her life and what to do? It is an outrage to me.

Roe v. Wade clearly says in late term the State shall regulate abortion, and here is a crowd who comes in here saying we are going to make welfare be run by the State. Fine. Medicaid by the States—we are going to have medical savings accounts. We are going to let Medicare “wither on the vine,” a well-known quote of NEWT GINGRICH. We do not need a Federal Government. But now all the doctors in here—as far as I know we only have one, and he was never an ob-gyn—are going to decide what procedure should be banned and what procedure should not be banned.

So I am going to put the face of the mother on this debate. I have many other stories we will tell in the course of time. I am going to take you through what happens to a physician—physicians most of whom who have brought thousands of babies into this world but may believe that this is the safest procedure to use so that this beautiful mother can get pregnant again and can stay alive for her husband and her children.

My colleagues, we have a lot of work to do. We do not even have a budget, and they are talking over there in the House about shutting the Government down again. Why do we not do what we are supposed to do? Why do we not stay out of things that are better left to the family? As she said, the last thing she wants is a politician involved in this tragedy. I think she wants us to do our job. Get a budget. Get a budget. Sit down around the table. Let us negotiate. Let us decide if Medicare and Medicaid are important. Let us decide if environmental protection and education are important. Let us decide how to balance this budget in 7 years with a touch of humanity. So, yes, babies and kids can get health care and can get an education.

That is what we are supposed to do. But, no. We are here with medical drawings. And do you want to know why people on the other side voted overwhelmingly for this bill? Because they never had a chance to amend it. We will give you that chance. We will give you the chance to show your support for States rights. We will give you that chance to stand up for the life and health of the mother.

This is a different place than the House where the Speaker controls the way things come to the floor. I know. I served there for 10 years. It is real difficult.

We have a chance. We have a chance to think about these women and their families and craft a bill that will not put people like this at risk.

Thank you very much, Mr. President. I yield the floor.

Mr. SIMON addressed the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Illinois.

Mr. SIMON. Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this legislation that I know is well intended. But I think it is wrong. Our colleague from California mentioned one witness. Let me read just a part of the testimony of another witness, Mrs. Viki Wilson.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that her full statement be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the material was order to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

TESTIMONY OF VIKI WILSON TO THE SENATE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE IN OPPOSITION TO H.R. 1833/S. 939, NOVEMBER 17, 1995

I'd like to thank the Judiciary committee for allowing me to testify today. My name is Viki Wilson. I am a registered nurse, with eighteen years experience, ten in pediatrics. My husband Bill is an emergency room physician. We have three beautiful children: Jon is 10, Katie is 8, and Abigail is in heaven with God.

In the spring of 1994 I was pregnant and expecting my third child on Mother's Day. The nursery was ready and we were excited anticipating the arrival of our baby. Bill had delivered our other two children, and he was going to deliver Abigail. Jon was going to get to cut the cord and Katie was going to be the first to hold her. She had already become a very important part of our family.

At 36 weeks of pregnancy all of our dreams and happy expectations came crashing down around us. My doctor ordered an ultrasound that detected what all my previous prenatal testing, including a chorionic villus sampling, an alphafetoprotein and an earlier ultrasound had failed to detect, an encephalocoele. Approximately 2/3 of my daughter's brain had formed on the outside of her skull. I literally fell to my knees from the shock. I immediately knew that she would not be able to survive outside by womb. My doctor sent me to a perinatologist, a pediatric radiologist and a geneticist all desperately trying to find a way to save her. My husband and I were praying that there would be some new surgical technique to fix her brain. But all the experts concurred. Abigail would not survive outside my womb. And she could not survive the birthing process, because of the size of her anomaly her head would be crushed and she would suffocate. Because of the size of her anomaly, the doctors also feared that my uterus would rupture in the birthing process most likely rendering me sterile. It was also discovered that what I thought were big healthy strong baby movements were in fact seizures. They were being caused by compression of the encephalocoele that continued to increase as she continued to grow inside my womb. I asked, “What about a c-section?” Sadly, my doctor told me “Viki, we do c-sections to save babies. We can't save her. A c-section is dangerous for you and I can't justify those risks.

The biggest question for me and my husband was not “Is she going to die?” A higher power had already decided that for us. The question now was “How is she going to die?” We wanted to help her leave this world as painlessly and peacefully as possible, and in a way that protected my life and health and allowed us to try again to have children. We agonized over these options, and kept praying for a miracle. After discussing our situation extensively, our doctors referred us to Dr. McMahon. It was during our drive to Los Angeles that we chose our daughter's name. We named her Abigail, the name my grandmother had always wanted for a grandchild. We decided that if she were named Abigail, her great-grandma would be able to recognize her in heaven.

My husband grilled Dr. McMahon with all the same questions that many of you probably have asked about the procedure. We would never have let anything happen to our baby that was cruel, or unnecessary . . . and Bill as my husband, loving me, wanted to be sure it was safe for me.

Dr. McMahon and this procedure were our salvation. My daughter died with dignity inside my womb. She was not stabbed in the back of the head with scissors, no one dragged her out half alive and then killed her, we would never have allowed that to happen.

Losing Abigail was the hardest thing that's ever happened to us in our life. After we went home, I went into the nursery and sat there holding her baby clothes crying and thinking she'll never get to hear me tell her that I love her.

I've often wondered why this had happened to us, what we had done to deserve such pain. I am a practicing Catholic, and I couldn't help believing that God had to have some reason for giving us such a burden. Then I found out about this legislation, and I know then and there that Abigail's life had a special meaning. God knew I would be strong enough to come here and tell you our story, to try to stop this legislation from passing and causing incredible devastation for other families like ours. There will be families in the future faced with this tragedy because pre-natal testing is not infallible. I urge you, please don't take away the safest procedure available.

I told the Monsignor at my parish that I was coming here, and he supports me. He said, “Viki, what happened to you wasn't about choice. You didn't have a choice. What you did was about preserving your life.” I was grateful for his words. This issue isn't about choice, it's about a medical necessity. It's about life and health.

My kids attend a Catholic school where a playground was built and named in Abigail's honor. I believe that God gave me the intelligence to make my own decisions knowing I'm the one that has to live with the consequences. My husband said to me as I was getting on the plane to come to Washington “Viki, make sure this Congress realizes this is truly a Cruelty to Families Act.”

Mr. SIMON. Mr. President, here is what she said.

My name is Viki Wilson. I am a registered nurse with eighteen years experience, ten in pediatrics. My husband Bill is an emergency room physician. We have three beautiful children. Jon is 10. Katie is 8, and Abigail is in heaven with God.

At 36 weeks of pregnancy all of our dreams and happy expectations came crashing down around us. . . . Approximately 2/3 of my daughter's brain had formed on the outside of her skull. I literally fell to my knees from shock [when told about this by the doctor]. I immediately knew that she would not be able to survive outside my womb. . . . My husband and I were praying that there would be some new surgical technique to fix her brain. But all the experts concurred. Abigail would NOT survive outside my womb. And she could not survive the birthing process. Because of the size of her anomaly her head would be crushed and she would suffocate. Because of the size of her anomaly, the doctors also feared that my uterus would rupture in the birthing process most likely rendering me sterile. It was also discovered that what I thought were big, healthy, strong baby movements were in fact seizures.

. . . My daughter died with dignity inside my womb. She was not stabbed in the back of the head with scissors. No one dragged her out half alive and then killed her. We would never have allowed that to happen.

Losing Abigail was the hardest thing that's ever happened to us in our life. After we went home, I went into the nursery and sat there holding her baby clothes crying and thinking she'll never get to hear me tell her that I love her.

I've often wondered why this had happened to us, what we had done to deserve such pain. I am a practicing Catholic. I couldn't help believing that God had to have some reason for giving us such a burden. Then I found out about this legislation, and I knew then and there that Abigail's life had a special meaning. God knew I would be strong enough to come here and tell you our story, to try to stop this legislation from passing and causing incredible devastation for other families like ours.

... My kids attend a Catholic school where a playground was built and named in Abigail's honor. I believe that God gave me the intelligence to make my own decisions knowing I'm the one that has to live with the consequences. My husband said to me as I was getting on the plane to come to Washington, "Viki, make sure this Congress realizes this is truly a Cruelty to Families Act."

What we are asked to do in this legislation is to say to the physicians that helped Viki Wilson and Coreen Costello and their families, if you assist these families, you will go to prison for 2 years.

That is a decision we should not make.

In the hearing, I said to the one physician who testified against this bill, who incidentally served 11 years as a missionary in Korea, who now is on the faculty at Johns Hopkins, I have been thinking about it, done exactly 30 minutes of research, and maybe we should—because a brain tumor is a life and death matter, just as this is a life and death matter—maybe we should introduce legislation that says what kind of brain tumor surgery physicians can perform. And I said to him, what do you think about that? He said, of course, it would be a terrible idea. And he followed through because he recognized the analogy that I was making.

For the first time in the history of the United States, if this is adopted, we will be saying to physicians, this is what you have to do; these are the procedures you have to follow.

I frankly have no ability to make that decision.

I wrote to the departments of obstetrics and gynecology of the medical schools in Illinois and asked the people who were in charge what they thought of this legislation. I enclosed a copy of the legislation, and I asked three questions.

I ask unanimous consent that all of these letters be printed in the RECORD, Mr. President.

There being no objection, the letters were ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO, DEPARTMENT OF OBSTETRICS AND GYNECOLOGY, THE CHICAGO LYING-IN HOSPITAL, Chicago, IL, November 14, 1995.

Hon. PAUL SIMON,

U.S. Senator, U.S. Senate, Dirksen Building, Washington, DC.

DEAR SENATOR SIMON: Thank you very much for your letter of November 9 regarding H.R. 1833, the "Partial-Birth Abortion" bill. I shall address your questions in order.

1. The term "partial birth abortion" appears in the bill to be a loosely defined entity and that makes interpretation difficult. There is a procedure known as "Dilatation and Evacuation" (D & E) which is done to interrupt late second trimester pregnancies. Presumably this medically acceptable procedure is not being addressed in the bill, but the language is sufficiently vague that I cannot be certain. Unquestionably, that procedure should never be outlawed. I believe there have been rare instances in which some physicians have done early third trimester interruption of pregnancy, presumably for late-discovered lethal or serious genetic defects, but I am not familiar with this procedure. However, I assume these are done for medically appropriate reasons.

2. I am strongly opposed and extremely concerned about the Federal Government deciding the acceptability of medical procedures in practice. These should be decided based on medical information and not by a legislative process. It appears ironic to me that the current emphasis in Washington is to reduce the Federal Government's involvement in our lives. The proposed legislation goes alarmingly in the opposite direction.

3. A physician should obviously practice medicine ethically and legally. I oppose the notion that criminal or civil penalties be introduced into the practice of medicine in the United States.

Thank you very much for the opportunity to comment on these issues. Please do not hesitate to contact me again, should you desire.

Sincerely yours,

ARTHUR L. HERBST, M.D.

Hon. PAUL SIMON,

U.S. Senate, Dirksen Building, Washington, DC.

DEAR SENATOR SIMON: Thank you very much for your letter of November 9, 1995, concerning the legislation H.R. 1833. I will attempt to answer the questions as you have posed them.

One, I am familiar with the procedure, even though I have never performed it myself. I do not agree with those who support the bill. There are instances in which I think that this procedure is appropriate. Two specific instances come to mind. One would be when the life of the woman is in danger and the most expeditious delivery of the fetus would be the safest method for her. This method allows for that, since the fetus can be delivered through a partially dilated cervix. The other instance would be a fetus that is doomed to die after delivery or has a series of severe malformations. Examples of this would be fetuses that have no lungs or no kidneys. Again, this technique of abortion can be safest for the mother because it can be performed when the cervix is not fully dilated. I believe it is cruel to force a woman to carry a fetus to term when she knows that the baby will die after delivery. One can imagine the psychological distress that a woman would have when she is obviously pregnant and people continuously inquire how she and the baby are doing. Imagine having either to hide the problems of the fetus or to not tell the inquiring person. Many times, the inquiries to the pregnant woman are simply part of a normal conversation between persons, but a woman who is carrying a fetus doomed to die would find this a very stressful situation. The instance in which this procedure would be useful is when the discovery is made after 20-22 weeks of pregnancy. It can become the safest procedure for the mother. I must also add that I find it appropriate to perform this procedure when the mother and fetus are both normal. I personally would never do that, and I would have difficulty watching such a procedure being performed on a normal fetus as an elective termination.

In answer to your second question, I have great worries about the federal government having a say on what medical procedures can and cannot be performed. This procedure is an excellent example of why I think the federal government would have problems directing the care of individual patients. There are so many possibilities concerning threats to the pregnant woman's life or fetal malformations that may or may not lead to problems in the future. This also becomes even more complicated because the state of medical art is continually changing and what would be a threat to a woman's life one year might cease to be one in future years, as medical technologies improve. I believe that the federal government is simply too cumbersome to micro-manage the care of individual patients by individual physicians.

In answer to your third question, I have worries about the imposition by Congress of criminal and civil penalties on doctors performing certain medical procedures. It really is tied to the answer to the second question, in that this is a complex area and it is difficult to micro-manage from a distance. I must say that I am very troubled by Section (e) on page 3 of the bill. Physicians would find very little comfort from the fact that "it is an affirmative defense to a prosecution or a civil action under this section, which must be proved by a preponderance of evidence, that the partial-birth abortion was performed by a physician who reasonably believed the partial-birth abortion was necessary to save the life of the mother; and no other procedure would suffice for that purpose." Very few physicians would risk prolonged civil or criminal proceedings, particularly in an area that is so charged as abortion. The other problem with this is that it is absolute in that no other procedure would suffice for that purpose. It would be difficult in any clinical situation to come to the conclusion the only one procedure would suffice.

My greatest problem with this legislation is that we could so frighten physicians that the best procedure for the pregnant woman would be precluded by the legislation. We physicians always wish to place the welfare of our patients first, and bills such as this would make us weigh what we believe to be best for patients against protection for ourselves. I, as a physician, would like never to be put in such a position. The welfare of the patient should always come first.

I hope that my thoughts have been helpful to you, and I appreciate it very much and am indeed honored that you would seek my thoughts on this important and controversial issue. If I can be of further help to you, please feel free to contact me about this or any other medical issue concerned with Obstetrics and Gynecology.

Sincerely,

JAMES R. SCHREIBER, M.D.,

ROCKFORD HEALTH SYSTEM,
ROCKFORD MEMORIAL HOSPITAL,
Rockford, IL, November 14, 1995.

Hon. PAUL SIMON,

U.S. Senator, Dirksen Building, Washington, DC.

DEAR SENATOR SIMON: This letter is a response to your inquiry of November 9, 1995, regarding Bill H.R. 1833 which is to be discussed on November 17, 1995. You raised three issues concerning the legislation and the procedure which I will attempt to respond to.

Although I am not an obstetrician, I am somewhat familiar with the procedure. The procedure that is performed is generally done somewhat differently than described in the Bill that was attached to your letter. The procedure apparently is rarely done and is not done at all at this institution. However, there are solid medical indications for doing this procedure when it is deemed safer to perform this than an operative procedure to remove the fetus either if it is non-viable or the mother's life is in danger. Abortions are not performed at this institution for a variety of reasons. Therefore, the outcome of this legislation will have very little impact at this level.

You did raise the question about how I feel about the federal government having a say in what medical procedures can and cannot be performed. I, as my colleagues do, feel quite strongly that the role of the government should not stray into the medical arena regarding what is appropriate or non-appropriate therapy. As you know, all of the ramifications from legislating at this level simply cannot be understood or realized prior to the event and the results may be completely different than those intended. Determining which medical procedures should and should not be done should lie within the confines of the institution performing these procedures. This should be decided by sound medical judgement and where appropriate, the ethical and moral considerations will be discussed at a local level with the Ethics Committee.

In a similar vein, I feel that Congress imposing criminal and civil penalties upon physicians performing medical procedures borders on the ridiculous. If Congress begins to legislate at this level, where can it possibly end?

I hope these comments are of help, and if I can be of any further assistance, please do not hesitate to ask me.

Sincerely,

DONALD E. MCCANSE, M.D.,
Vice-President, Medical Affairs.

Hon. PAUL SIMON,
Dirksen Building,
Washington, DC.

DEAR SENATOR SIMON: In response to your letter of November 9th, I offer the following comments to your questions:

(1) Yes I am familiar with the procedure described in legislation, HR 1833, but have not seen or done one. We do not perform this procedure at this institution. In proper hands (i.e. qualified physician) the procedure does have a place in the armamentarium of termination procedures.

(2) The basic question is, does the federal government have a place in deciding what medical procedures should or should not be performed. I feel strongly not. This is a medical decision.

(3) Similarly, Congress has no business imposing penalties on physicians for performing a certain procedure. If any government sanction would be appropriate, it might be at the State Department of Professional Regulation.

The overall issue of freedom of choice in pregnancy termination should not be clouded or interfered with by dictation of how the termination is performed.

I appreciate the opportunity to provide input into this important matter and thank you for asking for my opinion.

Respectfully,

DAVID W. CROMER, M.D.

Hon. PAUL SIMON,

U.S. Senate, Dirksen Building, Washington, DC.

DEAR SENATOR SIMON: I am an Associate Professor of Clinical Obstetrics and Gynecology at the University of Illinois and currently in active practice of Maternal Fetal Medicine or "high risk" obstetrics at both Michael Reese Hospital and the University of Illinois Hospital. Therefore, the issue at hand has great importance to me and to the patients for whom I provide care.

I would like to answer your questions by telling you that I am unfamiliar with the term "Partial Birth Abortion." After reading about it from descriptions in the press, I do not find that it results in an outcome that is any different from other techniques of abortion and, therefore, since abortion is a legal procedure, I have no objection to it. I feel very strongly that the federal government should not have a say in defining which medical procedures should be performed. I also believe that the Congress should not impose criminal and additional civil penalties on doctors because they perform one medical procedure and not another to accomplish the same outcome for their patient.

Prior to discussion of H.R. 1833, I was unaware of the term "Partial Birth Abortion." It is neither a term found in the ICD-9 catalog of medical diagnoses or medical procedures published by the American Medical Association nor can it be found in any medical text book with which I am familiar. After reviewing statements that have appeared in the press, I understand that the term has been used to describe one of several techniques that obstetric surgeons have used to accomplish an abortion by enlargement of the opening of the cervix or mouth of the womb (dilation) and removal of the fetus (evacuation). Dilatation and evacuation (D&E), the accepted terminology, is used to perform an abortion after the first thirteen weeks (first trimester) of pregnancy. While many physicians perform abortions and have been required to be trained to do that procedure by the American Board of Obstetrics and Gynecology, only a few physicians perform D&E for which they have received additional training.

I present the option for D&E when I find, through the use of ultrasound and other prenatal diagnostic procedures, that the patient is carrying a fetus with severe congenital or chromosomal anomalies. These abnormalities would leave the fetus with severe structural or intellectual deficits, often being incompatible with life after birth. Since these diagnoses cannot be made until after the first trimester of gestation, the patients who have chosen to end their pregnancy require termination either by D&E or by induction of premature labor. The latter procedure requires agents to soften the cervix of the womb and then use of additional medication to cause uterine contractions which expel the fetus.

There are only two physicians of whom I am aware in the Chicago area who perform D&E on patients beyond 20 weeks gestation. I do not know if they at times use the technique of D&E referred to as "Partial Birth Abortion." Most often D&E results in destruction of the fetus; however, one physician to whom I send patients is adept at surgically removing a fetus of late gestation (24 weeks or less) either intact or with only minimal distortion. This has great benefit for the patient because we are able to perform an autopsy on the fetus and confirm any of the suspected abnormalities for which the patient was referred. This information might have an influence on the patient's future childbearing since genetic patterns of inheritance may be identified. It also may provide the mother with an opportunity to see and hold this fetus if she wishes. This brief contact may help her with mourning and ease the burden of losing a pregnancy.

You have asked if I "share the sense of those who support the bill that this procedure should not be allowed under any circumstance?" I read the bill and found the definition of a "Partial Birth Abortion" contained within it extremely vague. Since this is not a medical term with which I am familiar and the description in the legislation lacks exactness, I cannot give you an answer.

I have another sense of the issue from reading accounts of the procedure in the press and understand that the term has been used to describe a D&E whereby the cervix is partially dilated and extraction of a fetus is performed by pulling down on the legs until the fetal head is just above the open cervix. Since the fetal head is larger than its chest, it does not pass through. An instrument is then used to compress the fetal head so that it can then be delivered without further opening of the cervix. It is unlikely that manipulation of the fetal skull takes place on a fetus that is alive since the umbilical cord which is attached to the fetal abdomen below the cervix and the placenta above has been compressed between the tight cervix and the fetal head resulting in fetal death prior to head decompression. It is true that this entire procedure results in fetal death, but how does this method differ from any of the other techniques of abortion? If abortion is allowed, this technique should not be singled out as being any different than any other technique that achieves the same end.

In fact, D&E may be more desirable as an abortion procedure in that it takes only about 30 minutes to perform; less time to accomplish than the 9 to 12 hours required for induction of labor. This is an advantage to the mother since there is less chance for blood loss and infection. In the past, the Center for Disease Control in Atlanta, Georgia found D&E to be the safest technique for abortion after the first trimester. With particular reference to a D&E where compression of the fetal head is performed, one can hypothesize that there is less trauma to the mother's cervix from further opening which would be required to deliver the fetal head without decompression. Greater trauma to the cervix has been implicated as a cause of an "incompetent cervix" which results in repeated pregnancy loss. I mentioned above the advantages of retrieving an intact specimen for pathologic diagnosis and also in some cases the possibility of helping the mother with the process of mourning.

I feel very strongly that the federal government should not have a say in the type of medical procedures performed by a physician. The advantages of one treatment plan, either medical or surgical, must be left to the process of peer review. It is only by this method that those procedures which have the greatest benefit and carry the least risk to the patient can be identified. Medicine is a discipline founded upon scientific principles and these principles would be superseded if government intervened.

I feel equally as strong about Congress imposing criminal and additional civil penalties upon doctors because of a certain procedure that he or she performs. If the goal of the procedure is to accomplish an end that is within the law, how can Congress possibly call one procedure legal and another illegal? The value of the procedure must be determined by the medical community who can best judge its merit by its risk and benefit to the patient. If the procedure endangers the patient, the medical community, through the process of peer review, will prohibit that procedure from being performed. Physicians who perform procedures outside of the standard of care can and do face civil and, even at times, criminal penalties; but, the issue does not have to do with the procedure they perform, it concerns the adherence to the standard of care.

I hope my response has been of help. As I have indicated, the term "Partial Birth Abortion" is not a medical term with which I am familiar. If abortion is legal, I favor the technique that will accomplish the goal with the least risk and the greatest benefit to the mother. I feel strongly that the federal government cannot decide the scientific merit of one medical procedure over another and, therefore, should not have jurisdiction over which medical procedures should or should not be performed. Congress certainly should not impose civil or criminal penalties on a physician for performing one or another procedure.

I am most grateful to have the opportunity to respond to this issue.

Cordially,

LAURENCE I. BURD, MD
Associate Professor, Clinical Obstetrics & Gynecology.

THE UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS AT CHICAGO, DEPARTMENT OF OBSTETRICS AND GYNECOLOGY (M/C 808) COLLEGE OF MEDICINE,

Chicago, IL, November 20, 1995.

Hon. PAUL SIMON,

U.S. Senate, Dirksen Building, Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. SIMON: I regret to have been unable to answer your recent letter sooner but I was away and only today on my return in the office, I found your letter.

I am still responding to your request just in case in view of a budget impasse, the hearings of your committee have been held as yet. Thus, I hope that this letter may be helpful to you and your committee.

As to the issues raised in your letter regarding "Partial Birth Abortion, yes I am familiar with the procedure. Such procedures are used very rarely and its proposed prohibition is a thinly disguised assault on the women's reproductive freedom and the physician's freedom in his or her profession. Such a proposed legislation would be injurious to women's health.

I vividly recall a patient many years ago who presented herself to the labor room in premature labor, infected, sick with high fever, and with her premature fetus partially expelled in the vagina through an incompletely dilated cervix. After administration of antibiotics, the baby had to be delivered as rapidly as possible of this clearly now viable fetus. Thus, a head decompression measure such as the one described in the partial-birth abortion bill was used. In addition, the baby turned out to be hydrocephalic. If the proposed legislation was in effect, not allowing this procedure under any circumstances, the woman would have had to be exposed to a Cesarean Section for a non-viable fetus. The invasive operative objective abdominal delivery would have increased significantly for risk of spreading infection, affecting her future fertility and perhaps compromising her life. The democratic system of this Country expressed through our federal government in its three branches, has permitted the realization of a society that, if certainly not perfect, is clearly admired by most nations in the World. However, it is clearly inappropriate and dangerous for the federal government to try to regulate the practice of medicine. Professionals must be permitted to use their judgment on what is best in the care of the individual patients rather than fitting everyone in a procrustean bed made in Washington! Imposing criminal and civil penalties on doctors performing a medical procedure would have clearly a chilling effect on the performance of any procedure, even when "the physician reasonably believed that the procedure was necessary to save the life of the mother and no other procedure would suffice." The law would clearly expose the physician's judgment to second guessing by others whose opinions may be colored by ethical standards not universally shared. This legislative approach has no place in a pluralistic society such as ours and it may result in health damage to many women among our citizens.

Again, I apologize for the lateness in my response and hope that this letter is useful for you and the committee in which you serve.

Sincerely yours,

ANTONIO SCOMMEGNA, MD.

COOK COUNTY HOSPITAL, DEPARTMENT OF OBSTETRICS AND GYNECOLOGY

Chicago, IL, November 21, 1995.

Hon. SENATOR PAUL SIMON,

Dirksen Building,

Washington, DC.

DEAR SENATOR SIMON: Thank you very much for asking me to comment on H.R. 1833, the bill which address vaginal delivery of late abortions. I am sorry that I was out of the office last week and could not answer your letter in an appropriate time and hope that this will not deter you from asking my thoughts on future issues.

To answer your specific questions:

1. Yes, as you can see I am familiar with the procedure. The issue of the vaginal extraction of late second trimester abortions is an important one, and an issue that cannot, because of its social, religious, and philosophical implications be considered solely on the basis of its medical justification. If we were to only judge the procedure on its medical merits and compared it to other methods of late second trimester abortion, it would be judged the safest method for the mother when carried out by an experienced operator. It is not however, an esthetically "clean" procedure, and not one that a caring physician would do except in the most demanding medically indicated situation. I do not agree with those who supported this bill that the procedure should not be allowed under any circumstance.

2. How do I feel about the federal government having a say in what medical procedure can and cannot be performed? I feel that they should not dictate medical care and should not intervene between a person seeking medical care and the practitioner prescribing that care. Intervention of this type, in which a particular procedure is chosen to solve a medical problem, can only escalate to other procedures and situations that others find morally or religiously objectionable. There are many in this country who find male circumcision reprehensible, should we ban those also?

3. My thoughts on imposing criminal and additional civil penalties on doctors performing a medical procedure? Doctors performing procedures that are medically indicated, carried out without complication, and to the satisfaction of the patient and or their families, should not be subjected to criminal or civil penalties. The tort system, although decidedly not perfect, imposes strict penalties on physicians performing legal procedures in less than a satisfactory manner.

Senator Simon, you can see that I do feel strongly about government intervention between patient and physician. It simply should not occur. Thank you again for asking for my opinions and thoughts regarding H.R. 1833.

Sincerely yours,

DONALD M. SHERLINE, M.D.,

Chairman.

Mr. SIMON. Let me read just a few paragraphs from some of the letters.

Dr. Arthur Herbst, who is the chairman of the department at the University of Chicago:

I am strongly opposed and extremely concerned about the Federal Government deciding the acceptability of medical procedures in practice. These should be decided based on medical information and not by a legislative process. It appears ironic to me that the current emphasis in Washington is to reduce the Federal Government's involvement in our lives. The proposed legislation goes alarmingly in the opposite direction.

The chair of the department of obstetrics and gynecology at Washington University in St. Louis, just across the border from Illinois, Dr. James R. Schreiber:

In answer to your second question, I have great worries about the federal government having a say on what medical procedures can and cannot be performed. This procedure is an excellent example of why I think the federal government would have problems directing the care of individual patients. There are so many possibilities concerning threats to the woman's life . . .

My greatest problem with this legislation is that we could so frighten physicians that the best procedure for the pregnant woman would be precluded by the legislation.

The vice president for medical affairs of the Rockford Health System, which is affiliated with the University of Illinois Medical School, writes:

You did raise the question about how I feel about the federal government having a say in what medical procedures can and cannot be performed. I, as my colleagues do, feel quite strongly that the role of the government should not stray into the medical arena regarding what is appropriate or non-appropriate therapy. . . . I feel that Congress imposing criminal and civil penalties upon physicians performing medical procedures borders on the ridiculous. If Congress begins to legislate at this level, where can it possibly end?

Dr. David Cromer, of Evanston Hospital, which is affiliated with Northwestern University's Medical School, writes:

The basic question is, does the federal government have a place in deciding what medical procedures should or should not be performed. I feel strongly not. This is a medical decision.

Similarly, Congress has no business imposing penalties on physicians for performing a certain procedure.

The head of the department of obstetrics and gynecology at Michael Reese Hospital, which is affiliated with the University of Illinois College of Medicine, writes:

You have asked if I "share the sense of those who support the bill that this procedure should not be allowed under any circumstance?" I read the bill and found the definition of a "Partial Birth Abortion" contained within it extremely vague. Since this is not a medical term with which I am familiar and the description in the legislation lacks exactness, I cannot give you an answer.

. . . I feel very strongly that the federal government should not have a say in the type of medical procedures performed by a physician.

. . . I feel equally as strong about Congress imposing criminal and additional civil penalties upon doctors because of a certain procedure that he or she performs.

Dr. Antonio Scommegna heads the department of obstetrics and gynecology at the University of Illinois at Chicago:

As to the issues raised in your letter regarding Partial Birth Abortion, yes I am familiar with the procedure. Such procedures are used very rarely and its proposed prohibition is a thinly disguised assault on the women's reproductive freedom and the physician's freedom in his or her profession. Such a proposed legislation would be injurious to women's health.

And a very similar letter from Dr. Donald M. Sherline, who heads that department at Cook County Hospital, which is a huge hospital in Chicago.

I think, Mr. President, that what we have here is something that is well-intended. I do not question the motivation of my colleague from New Hampshire. I would ask every Member of this body to read the testimony of these two women who testified before the Judiciary Committee. Anyone who reads that testimony and believes we should deny these women their right to safe health and put the physicians who give them their health and save their lives, put them in prison for 2 years, I think you have a hard heart indeed. At least I do not have the courage to say to those families, "We're not going to let you protect yourselves."

I think this is an example of the Federal Government running amok. If this passes—and I know politically maybe it is going to pass tomorrow—I trust that the President of the United States has the courage to veto this legislation and that we will protect the families of America from this political interference.

Mr. HATCH. Mr. President, I rise to address one aspect of the debate over the partial-birth abortion bill: the argument that the bill is unconstitutional.

Opponents of this bill raise arguments challenging its constitutionality that, I believe, reflect a fundamental misunderstanding of constitutional principles and of the Supreme Court's abortion jurisprudence. This is not only my view, but the view of numerous respected constitutional scholars at our Nation's finest law schools, such as, just to name a few, Michael McConnell, the Graham professor of law at the University of Chicago, and Douglas Kmiec of the Notre Dame Law School, and of other authorities on constitutional law, such as William Barr, former Attorney General of the United States. I believe that H.R. 1833 is constitutional.

Because of the timing in the birth process in which these abortions occur, these fetuses may actually qualify as persons under the Constitution. As such, they are entitled to all of the protections of the law that all other American citizens receive under the Bill of Rights, particularly the 5th and the 14th amendments to the Constitution.

This bill only applies to fetuses which are partially delivered. As such these partially born fetuses do not fall under the framework of Roe versus Wade and Planned Parenthood versus Casey, which apply only to the unborn.

Although State laws on homicide and infanticide generally protect only fully born children, at least 36 States allow recovery under wrongful death statutes for postviability prenatal injuries that cause stillbirth, and another one-third of the States consider killing an unborn child, other than through an abortion, as some form of homicide.

Given these statutes, some States logically have promulgated laws that protect children in the process of being born, such as Texas and California. In light of this existing law, as Professor Kmiec, a former Assistant Attorney General for the Office of Legal Counsel, testified before the Judiciary Committee, it is entirely appropriate for Congress to pass a statute protecting such partially born children to clarify their status under the Constitution.

Opponents of this bill would have us believe that 3 inches and 3 seconds can make all the difference. In other words, they would have us believe that a living infant, capable of life outside the mother's womb, and actually in the process of birth, is not a person, entitled to the full panoply of constitutional protections and rights, because it is 3 inches and 3 seconds from birth. Would the Constitution fail to protect a fetus 2 inches and 2 seconds from life? One second and one inch?

Even if one believes that these children qualify as unborn, the Supreme Court's jurisprudence on abortion, principally articulated in Planned Parenthood versus Casey, fully permits Congress to pass this ban on partial-birth abortion. In Casey, the Court, speaking through a three-Justice plurality, Justices O'Connor, Kennedy, and Souter, tossed out Roe versus Wade's trimester framework and articulated three principles to guide courts in abortion cases. First, the woman has a right to terminate her pregnancy before fetal viability.—Casey, 112 S.Ct. at 2804.

Second, the interest of the State in promoting prenatal life permits the State to regulate, and even prohibit, abortions after fetal viability, subject to exceptions for the life or health of the mother.

Third, the State has legitimate interests throughout pregnancy in protecting the health of the mother and the life of the fetus.

Under this framework, this bill is constitutional because it only prohibits the abortion of living, viable fetuses, and only by one abortion procedure.

The medical testimony we heard in the Judiciary Committee indicated that about two-thirds of the fetuses aborted in this manner are alive, and that this procedure is generally used largely, if not exclusively, during the period of viability.

Further, H.R. 1833 is limited only to abortions in which a living fetus is partially delivered and then killed. The Casey right to an abortion before viability is not implicated in this bill, because the bill exempts the abortion of nonviable fetuses and applies only to abortions after viability.

Opponents of the bill reduce our great Constitution to trivialities if they argue that the Constitution guarantees a right to a specific abortion procedure.

Nor does this bill somehow impose an undue burden upon the right to abortion, the test adopted by the three-Justice plurality which, I might add, is not the law of the Supreme Court until it receives a majority.

As Prof. Michael McConnell has written in a November 29, 1995, letter to the Judiciary Committee:

Since this bill would ban only one method of abortion—one that, according to testimony by medical experts, is quite rare—it seems evident that it meets this standard. It can hardly be an "undue burden" to require abortionists to conform to standard and accepted medical practice.

Although the undue burden standard is rather unclear, it is still difficult, if not illogical, to conclude that prohibiting one method of abortion, infrequently used, will interpose a "substantial obstacle in the path of a woman seeking an abortion."—112 S.Ct. at 2820.

Women seeking abortions previability still may resort to D&C and D&E procedures, which account for most abortions in this country. And, of course, women will have available the other methods of postviability abortion, which our hearings have shown are safer and more widely used.

The Justice Department and the bill's opponents have espoused two main criticisms of the bill.

First, they claim that the bill must have an explicit exception for abortions performed to preserve the health of the mother, which it currently does not have.

Second, they claim that the bill's provision for an exception for the life of the mother is unconstitutional because it is structured only as an affirmative defense.

Both arguments are, in the words of former Attorney General William Barr, meritless.

I will respond to them in turn, but let me note that legal experts of the highest reputation and credentials find these objections to be unconvincing and unsuccessful.

Let me take up the first argument. In Casey, the Court rejected the trimester framework in favor of a bifurcated approach based on fetal viability, while reaffirming the core holding of Roe.

According to the Supreme Court, after the fetus becomes viable, the Government can prohibit abortion except in cases where the life or health of the mother is threatened.

This bill does not threaten a woman's right to have an abortion, nor does it threaten a woman's life or safety, because it leaves open alternative methods of abortion both before and after viability—methods which the top experts in the field have testified are safer than Dr. Haskell's method.

By banning this rogue method, we actually enhance the woman's safety, not injure it.

I think it is worth quoting the experts on this point, due to the great weight that opponents of this bill have placed on this weak argument.

As Professor Kmiec testified before the Judiciary Committee:

The bill by its focussed, targeted structure implicitly provides for the health of the mother by not banning all abortion procedures at this later stage of the pregnancy, but only the one seen as patently and inhumanely offensive.

As Professor McConnell of Chicago concludes:

In light of authoritative medical testimony that partial birth abortions are not necessary for preservation of the mother's health, the bill could not be invalidated on that ground.

According to Former Attorney General Barr:

Congress could reasonably conclude from the record that the partial-birth abortion procedure is not safer for a mother's health than other available—and well-established—alternatives. It would therefore be pointless to include a health exception in H.R. 1833 because this exception could not be legitimately invoked.

It seems clear that a written exception for the health of the mother need be included only if Congress attempted to ban all postviability abortions, not just this single, rare, offensive method of killing partially born children.

The Supreme Court has recognized many legitimate interests that may justify abortion statutes such as the one before the Senate:

First, safeguarding health, maintaining medical standards, and in protecting potential life;

Second, protecting immature minors, promoting general health, promoting family integrity, and encouraging childbirth over abortion;

Third, protecting human life, protecting the dignity of human life, preventing both moral and legal confusion over the role of physicians in our society, and Fourth, preventing cruel and inhumane treatment.

Clearly, this bill furthers these interests—recognized as constitutional by the Supreme Court.

The Clinton administration argues that this bill would force an increased medical risk on women, and hence would violate the Constitution.

The administration relies upon two cases, Thornburgh versus American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, and Planned Parenthood versus Danforth, for the proposition that any State regulation of abortion that might increase the medical risk to the woman is unconstitutional.

First, the factual basis for this argument is absent because there is no evidence that partial-birth abortions are ever necessary to preserve the life or health of the mother.

In fact, the evidence presented before the Senate Judiciary Committee and before the House Judiciary Committee demonstrated that this procedure is often more dangerous to the life or health of the mother than the other procedures used for late-term abortions.

Second, it is unclear whether Thornburgh and Danforth are any longer good law. Casey overruled much of the holdings of these cases, and scholarly commentary—not to mention pro-abortion activists—initially attacked Casey for overruling several such abortion cases.

Indeed, the very trimester framework employed by Thornburgh and Danforth was clearly overruled by Casey.

Third, the statutes in Thornburgh and Danforth were clearly and utterly different from the bill before us. The State law in Thornburgh required that a second physician be present during a postviability abortion and that a physician performing a postviability abortion had to attempt to preserve the life and health of the unborn child.

This bill does not place such an obligation upon the physician. Indeed, the physician is free to use any other abortion procedure he or she sees fit to protect the life and health of the mother, aside from the partial-birth method.

Indeed, should the life of the mother be threatened, this bill even permits the physician to employ partial-birth procedures.

In Danforth, the state law outlawed the safest and most common abortion procedure for first trimester abortions. The Court struck down that statute because it constituted a barely veiled attempt to outlaw first-trimester abortions entirely.

Here, there is nothing of the sort. In fact, the bill permits the continued use of the more popular, and safe, methods of late-term abortions.

Turning to the second main criticism, the administration and other opponents claim that the bill is unconstitutional because it permits a doctor to justify a partial-birth abortion only as an affirmative defense to a prosecution.

The fact that the bill provides the exception required by the caselaw in an affirmative defense does not unduly burden the right to an abortion.

As I noted when I spoke about this bill last month, many of our constitutional rights arise only as an affirmative defense. Many of the protections of the Bill of Rights sometimes can only be raised as a defense to a prosecution.

To claim that the right to an abortion is not protected by an affirmative defense demeans the explicit protections of the Bill of Rights; and it raises abortion above any other right in the Constitution.

Again, top legal experts I have consulted agree that there is nothing unusual in having one's personal rights evaluated by means of an affirmative defense.

As Professor Kmiec testified before the Judiciary Committee, the Supreme Court has approved the common practice of States to place upon criminal defendants the burden of proving affirmative defenses, such as insanity or killing in self-defense.

In fact, as both Professor Kmiec and former Attorney General Barr note, it makes sense for this burden to fall upon the doctor, for it is the doctor who is uniquely well-positioned to establish that he or she reasonably believed both that the abortion was necessary to save the mother's life and that no other procedure would suffice.

Let me address two other minor arguments that have arisen.

First, there are those who argue that Congress lacks power under the interstate commerce clause to regulate the practice of abortion.

It is incredible to me that those who were in favor of the Freedom of Choice Act and the Access to Clinics Act would raise such an argument. Nonetheless, I will give it the swift dismissal that it deserves.

Whatever one might think about the expansion of Federal power under the commerce clause, whether H.R. 1833 falls within this power "poses an easy case under current interpretation," as Professor McConnell puts it.

We can all agree that the provision of medical services are commercial activities and that abortions are medical services. Even after the decision last Term in Lopez, the Court has been fairly clear that Congress may regulate all commercial activities, because they frequently involve an interstate market.

If Congress can regulate health care, which it does today in myriad different ways, it can regulate abortions. And, if this bill is unconstitutional, then a whole host of other laws, starting with the Access to Clinics Act, are unconstitutional as well.

Second, some argue that this bill will unfairly punish nonphysicians, even though only those performing the partial-birth abortion are subject to its criminal penalties. They claim that Federal aiding-and-abetting laws or misprison laws will hold liable nurses, anesthesiologists, or even rape counselors.

This argument does not even qualify as makeweight. For example, to be guilty of a misprison of felony, one must not just fail to report a crime; one must actually engage in an affirmative, overt act of concealment of a felony.

As Professor Kmiec concludes, "Logic, prosecutorial discretion under the policies of the Department of Justice, and the strict scienter element necessary to prove beyond a reasonable doubt the underlying offense, all suggest that any possible criminal liability . . . under freestanding conspiracy, misprison, or aiding and abetting statutes is highly speculative, if not far-fetched." One cannot help but agree with him.

The weight of both evidence and logic lead us to the conclusion that constitutional objections to this legislation are mere red herrings designed to throw the debate off of the real issue—whether or not this horrible procedure is justified.

Mr. DEWINE addressed the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Ohio.

Mr. DEWINE. Mr. President, I rise today in strong support of H.R. 1833, the partial-birth abortion ban bill. Mr. President, as you and the Members of the Senate know, on November 8, after 2 days of very spirited debate, this Senate voted to commit this bill to the Judiciary Committee for hearings. There were a number of concerns that had been raised on the Senate floor. A number of these concerns, quite frankly, were addressed during the Judiciary Committee hearing that I attended. So I would like for a moment to take the Members of the Senate back to the debate that we had on the Senate floor in regard to several of the points that were made by the opponents of this bill and see how the points that were made on that date, November 8, were, in fact, answered by the testimony that our Judiciary Committee, under Chairman HATCH, heard, the testimony that we heard at that committee, how it relates to the arguments made by the opponents.

Let me start, Mr. President, with Brenda Shafer. Brenda Shafer, as my colleagues will recall, is the nurse from the Dayton area who has described in great detail exactly what this procedure consists of. My colleague, Senator SMITH, has in great detail described that as well.

While we were debating this issue on the Senate floor the last time it was up, on November 8, Brenda Shafer's credibility was attacked, was attacked by the opponents of this bill. Let me say, Mr. President, after having watched Brenda Shafer testify, I do not believe anyone could have watched her testimony, could have listened to her testimony, could have observed her demeanor, and not come away with the conclusion that she was not only telling the truth, but that what she saw was etched and will be etched in her memory for the rest of her life.

Like some other Members of this body, Mr. President, I have been involved as an attorney in lawsuits. I was a county prosecutor for 4 years, assistant for 2½ years prior to that. I have seen hundreds, probably thousands, of witnesses on the stand. I cannot recall a more compelling witness than Brenda Shafer. If anyone doubts that, I would invite them to go back—do not just read the transcript that is available, but go back and get a video tape from C-SPAN of her testimony.

Let me take a couple points where nurse Shafer was attacked on this floor and talk about how those particular attacks were rebutted by her testimony.

Nurse Shafer said that the partial-birth abortion procedure was performed past the 24th week of pregnancy. She was attacked on the Senate floor for saying that.

One Senator quoted from a letter from a supervising nurse at the clinic where Brenda Shafer worked to the effect that "Dr. Haskell does not perform abortions past 24 weeks of pregnancy." This is a document entitled "Second Trimester Abortion: From Every Angle, Fall Risk Management Seminar, September 13-14, 1992, Dallas, Texas."

On page 27 of this transcript, there was a paper delivered by Dr. Martin Haskell, "Dilation and Extraction for Late Second Trimester Abortion, presented at the National Abortion Federation Risk Management Seminar, September 13, 1992."

On page 28 of this document—this is Dr. Haskell's own words—this is what he said, the author—now remember this is the same person that Brenda Shafer observed performing the abortion. "The author," Dr. Haskell, referring to himself, "performs the procedure on selected patients 25 through 26 weeks LMP."

So Dr. Haskell, in his own writing, confirms what nurse Shafer said.

Let me turn to another point. The nurse was attacked also for her comments about ultrasound. On this floor from the same letter, a Senator quoted, "Dr. Haskell does not use ultrasound." Again, in Dr. Haskell's own report, this is what he says: "The surgical assistant places an ultrasound probe on the patient's abdomen * * *." Again, Dr. Haskell's own comments.

In conclusion, I would simply say that again I would invite my colleagues to listen to her testimony. Her testimony is compelling. It is shocking. It is sickening. And it also is backed up by the doctor who performed that abortion, that is, Dr. Haskell, in his own words.

Let me turn to another issue that was raised on this floor in the last debate. Anesthesia. After the bill was introduced, bill opponents argued, without medical evidence, that the anesthesia that was administered to the mother killed the baby, so the baby felt no pain. That was the statement that was made. One U.S. Senator said the following. Let me read directly from the Congressional RECORD. "The fetus dies during the first dose of anesthesia." That is from the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD. That was said on this floor.

Further, Dr. Mary Campbell of Planned Parenthood in a fact sheet said the following, in answer to a question, "When does the fetus die?" "The fetus dies of an overdose of anesthesia given to the mother intravenously."

Further, Kate Michelman of NARAL, at a NARAL news conference, November 7, 1995, here is what she said. "There has been expert testimony by physicians who do this procedure stating that the anesthesia that is given to the pregnant women prior to the procedure causes fetal demise, the death of the fetus, prior to the procedure."

Now, Mr. President, in spite of these three comments, in spite of the three assertions that were made on this floor, the facts are directly contrary to this.

This was brought out very clearly—very clearly—in the Judiciary Committee hearing. Again, I invite my colleagues to examine the record.

The confusion raised by these statements was so great in fact, Mr. President, that the American society came forward to set the record straight, a society of people who do this every day, who administer anesthesia.

Mr. Norwig Ellison, president of ASA, came forward and testified at the Judiciary Committee hearing. This is his written statement that was presented that day, and then he gave an oral statement where he stated it again. This is what he had to say:

The widespread publicity given to this view may cause pregnant women to delay necessary and perhaps lifesaving medical procedures.

He further said:

Pregnant women are routinely heavily sedated during the second and third trimester for the performance of a variety of necessary medical procedures with absolutely no adverse effect on the fetus, let alone death or brain death.

Also at the hearing, when confronted with this fact, Dr. Campbell, who I quoted earlier, changed her position. At the hearing, Senator SPENCE ABRAHAM from Michigan asked her about the position, referring to the fact sheet that the fetus dies of an overdose of anesthesia. Senator ABRAHAM said, "This is no longer your position?"

Dr. Campbell replied: "I believe that is true."

In other words, she no longer holds the position that the fetus dies from anesthesia.

Further, Dr. Haskell, who performed this procedure on numerous occasions, himself had no doubts on this issue. The American Medical News asked Dr. Haskell the following question: "Let's talk first about whether or not the fetus is dead beforehand."

Dr. Haskell responded: "No, no it's not. No, it's really not. A percentage are for various number of reasons and probably the other two-thirds are not."

Again, one of the allegations that was made on this floor that the hearings clearly showed was wrong.

Some of the opponents of the bill would have the Members of this Senate and the American people believe that this debate is about whether we ban all abortions. It is sad that this bill is really not about partial-birth abortions, that what it really is is a covert assault on the decision in Roe versus Wade. This is totally false. Look at some of the people lining up behind this legislation: Congressman DAVE BONIOR, SUSAN MOLINARI, PATRICK KENNEDY, DICK GEPHARDT. These individuals are pro-choice. No one has questioned their pro-choice credentials.

They voted for this bill because they believe this is, in fact, a legitimate public policy issue.

Mr. President, this is a legitimate public policy issue. This procedure is especially cruel, it is unusual, it is inhumane, and it should be abolished.

It is perfectly possible and intellectually consistent and coherent to endorse this legislation and simultaneously support the Supreme Court decision in Roe versus Wade. This bill is not a ban on abortions. It is not even a restriction on when an abortion may be performed. Restrictions of that kind were actually envisioned by Roe versus Wade, based as it was on the differences of three trimesters of a pregnancy, but this bill does not do that.

Even so, even though Roe v. Wade allowed for that kind of restriction, this bill does not restrict the timeframe for a woman contemplating an abortion. All this bill does is abolish one particular procedure.

By now, we have all heard this procedure described in considerable detail. I hope that we can agree that this procedure is especially cruel, unusual, and inhumane. This debate is about a very, very, very limited number of abortions. It is a narrow, and should be narrowly structured, debate. To my friends on the other side who argue that we simply have to continue to allow this particular procedure to exist I simply say, is there not any limit to what we as a society will tolerate, what we as a society will accept? How close to an actual birth do we have to get in seconds, in inches, before we say, no?

Mr. President, the two witnesses who testified in front of our committee—my colleague from Illinois and my colleague from California have referenced them—gave some very heart-wrenching testimony. No one could have sat through that hearing without being moved, touched—really those terms are not adequate for how anyone would feel, certainly as I felt as I listened to the testimony.

I think, though, that what we need to remember is that neither of these two tragic situations would have been affected by the bill we are debating. H.R. 1833 covers only living fetuses, not fetuses that have died in the womb. In both the cases, in both the tragedies that were related by the witnesses, their babies had died prior to birth. Their babies had died in the womb. So this bill simply would not cover them.

We will continue to hear, I am sure, on this floor the argument made that we should look at these two heart-wrenching situations. I simply remind my colleagues, whether in the Chamber or back in their office listening to this debate, that we all agree these are just heart-wrenching situations. But we also should understand, and I ask my colleagues to keep in mind, that these two situations are simply not covered by this bill, and so it is really a bogus argument.

Mr. President, I yield the floor.

Mrs. BOXER addressed the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. DEWINE). The Senator from California.

Mrs. BOXER. Thank you, Mr. President. The Senator from Ohio raises a very important question—and I am paraphrasing it and if I do not do it right, he will let me know—when he asked this rhetorical question: How close do you get to a birth before you just say no to abortion?

I think, clearly, that is a crucial question to be raised. That was the question raised in Roe versus Wade when, in 1973, the Supreme Court looked at the entire issue and tried to answer that question. What they basically said was that in the first 3 months of a woman's pregnancy, she is going to have the right to choose and she is going to make that decision with her God. Government is going to stay out of that decision. That is between her and her God. And as the pregnancy develops, the State has an interest. Clearly, States may regulate later in the pregnancy, and they do. But always under Roe versus Wade, the life and health of the mother is paramount.

When my friend from Ohio says the most compelling testimony was from a nurse, it shows his point of view here because I have heard back from members of that Judiciary Committee, even on the other side of the issue, who said they were riveted to Coreen Costello and to Viki Wilson. They were riveted to hear a story from a pro-life Republican about how she faced this and had to choose this procedure for her life and her health and because of her deep and abiding love, not only because she wanted to live on this planet but for her beautiful children.

So I guess, to me, what is more compelling than someone who served in the clinic for 3 days and comes away and talks about it—I ask unanimous consent to have printed in the RECORD at this time a letter from Nurse Shafer's supervisor, Christie Gallivan, an R.N.

There being no objection, the letter was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

THE WOMEN'S MED+CENTER,
Cincinnati, OH, July 17, 1995.

DEAR CONGRESSWOMAN SCHROEDER: I am a registered nurse and have worked since July, 1993, in the Dayton office of Dr. Martin Haskell. In this capacity, I was the nurse that supervised the training of Brenda Pratt during her brief temporary employment at the Women's Medical Center of Dayton. As you know, we initially conducted a search of our employment records under the name "Brenda Shafer," as this was the name she signed to the letter which was given to us. When provided with the correct last name, we did in fact find the record of her three-day employment at our Dayton facility.

The information provided by Ms. Pratt as to our practices at the Women's Medical Center of Dayton is largely inaccurate. First, she describes Dr. Haskell performing one 25-week and one 26-week abortion procedure. Dr. Haskell does not perform abortions past 24 weeks of pregnancy. This is a self-imposed limit to which he has scrupulously adhered throughout the time I have worked for him.

Second, Dr. Haskell does not use ultrasound in the performance of second-trimester procedures. We use ultrasound only to determine the pregnancy's gestation. Therefore, her entire description of her experience when viewing a second-trimester abortion, which includes Dr. Haskell's using the ultrasound while doing the procedure, is clearly questionable.

Finally, at no point during a dilatation and extraction or intact D&E is there any fetal movement or response that would indicate awareness, pain or struggle. Ms. Pratt absolutely could not have witnessed fetal movement as she describes. We do not train temporary nurses in second trimester dilatation and extraction, since it is a highly technical procedure and would not be performed by someone in a temporary capacity. If, indeed, Ms. Pratt entered the operating room at any point during a D&X procedure, she clearly either is misrepresenting what she saw or remembers it incorrectly.

If you have any further questions, please feel free to contact our office.

Sincerely,

CHRISTIE GALLIVAN, RN.

Mrs. BOXER. In this letter, Nurse Gallivan says:

We do not train temporary nurses in second trimester dilatation and extraction, since it is a highly technical procedure and would not be performed by someone in a temporary capacity. If, indeed, Ms. Pratt entered the operating room at any point . . . she clearly either is misrepresenting what she saw or remembers it incorrectly.

Since we are talking about compelling testimony from a nurse, I think it is very compelling that the American Nurses Association has written as follows:

I am writing to express the opposition of the American Nurses Association to H.R. 1833 . . . which is scheduled to be considered by the Senate this week. The legislation would impose Federal criminal penalties and provide for civil actions against health care providers who perform certain late-term abortions.

In the view of the American Nurses Association this proposal would involve an inappropriate intrusion of the Federal Government into a therapeutic decision that should be left in the hands of a pregnant woman and her health care provider.

They go on to say:

This legislation would impose a significant barrier to these principles.

. . . The American Nurses Association is the only full-time professional organization representing the nation's 2.2 million Registered Nurses through its 53 constituent associations.

They respectfully urge us to vote against this bill. I ask unanimous consent that this letter be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the letter was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

AMERICAN NURSES ASSOCIATION,
Washington, DC, November 8, 1995.

Hon. BARBARA BOXER,
U.S. Senate, Washington, DC.

DEAR SENATOR BOXER: I am writing to express the opposition of the American Nurses Association to H.R. 1833, the "Partial-Birth Abortion Ban Act of 1995", which is scheduled to be considered by the Senate this week. This legislation would impose Federal criminal penalties and provide for civil actions against health care providers who perform certain late-term abortions.

It is the view of the American Nurses Association that this proposal would involve an inappropriate intrusion of the federal government into a therapeutic decision that should be left in the hands of a pregnant woman and her health care provider. ANA has long supported freedom of choice and equitable access of all women to basic health services, including services related to reproductive health. This legislation would impose a significant barrier to those principles.

Furthermore, very few of those late-term abortions are performed each year and they are usually necessary either to protect the life of the mother or because of severe fetal abnormalities. It is inappropriate for Congress to mandate a course of action for a woman who is already faced with an intensely personal and difficult decision. This procedure can mean the difference between life and death for a woman.

The American Nurses Association is the only full-service professional organization representing the nation's 2.2 million Registered Nurses through its 53 constituent associations. ANA advances the nursing profession by fostering high standards of nursing practice, promoting the economic and general welfare of nurses in the workplace, projecting a positive and realistic view of nursing, and by lobbying the Congress and regulatory agencies on health care issues affecting nurses and the public.

The American Nurses Association respectfully urges you to vote against H.R. 1833 when it is brought before the Senate.

GERI MARULLO, MSN, RN,
Executive Director.

Mrs. BOXER. When we look at people who nurture, who bring their love into medicine, who bring their compassion into medicine, who have been known to place themselves at risk in the work that they do to save lives, I think it is very important to note that the American Nurses Association strongly opposes this bill.

We know that Viki Wilson, whose testimony was read so eloquently by Senator SIMON, is a pediatric nurse, and she found herself in this circumstance. So if we want to talk about compelling testimony, I guess there was a lot of compelling testimony.

The reason I am keeping this family portrait up here is because I want to keep this family's face right up here. Because with all the talk about medicine and all the charts of drawings of medical procedures, as if we were a medical school here, this has been forgotten. I will not allow these families to be forgotten in this debate. This mother, this wife, this husband and father, and these children, who could have lost this extraordinary woman, who happens to be a pro-life Republican, and who, by the way, wrote in her Op-Ed to the New York Times—that is why I was grateful that we had the hearing, because more attention was paid to this. She said, "Those who want Congress to ban the controversial late-term abortion technique might think I would be an ally. I was raised in a conservative, religious family. My parents are Rush Limbaugh fans. I am a Republican that always believed that abortion was wrong. Then I had one." Then she goes into the pain of this late-term abortion, which was her only option. So, yes, I am leaving her face up here through this debate.

For those people who do not support a woman's right to choose, who say that this bill is consistent with Roe versus Wade, I remind you that Roe is very clear. Always the life and health of the woman is paramount—always, even when a State can in fact regulate abortion, which Roe says they can do under certain circumstances. There is a State interest. The woman's life and her health must always be protected, always be protected. Yes, we had physicians who said this procedure is not necessary to do, but we had others who said, clearly, that it is quite necessary.

As a matter of fact, Coreen Costello, age 31, pregnant now with her third child, her doctor said a cesarean section or induction of labor could well have cost her life.

Well, Mr. President, we are going to have a long time more to debate this. I am not going to go on too long this evening. My friend has been patient and has a lot more to say.

There is no such thing as a partial-birth abortion. There is no such terminology. There is no such thing. There is such a thing as a late-term abortion, and it is always tragic and always undertaken because it is an emergency procedure. The life of mothers like Coreen may well be at stake, or serious adverse health consequences may arise from severe fetal abnormalities, such as organs growing outside the body. These late-term abortions are not births or partial births. They are the most tragic emergency medical procedures.

So I ask again, why is the Senate taking this up—a ban on a particular procedure used in these tragic operations? Is it because nobody is regulating these abortions? No. I explained that in Roe versus Wade clearly the State has the right to, and States do, regulate late-term abortions. Is it because there is a surge in late-term abortions? No. That is not the case.

My colleagues will say that they are doing this because this is a terrible procedure. They throw away the arguments by physicians who say it is a necessary life-saving procedure and only quote those doctors who say it is not. I thought you people were conservative. You should take the conservative position. If even a handful of doctors think a woman is more likely to die—14 times more likely if she undergoes cesarean section—then take the conservative approach and give the physician every tool he or she can have, so that it can be a safe emergency procedure, so women like Coreen Costello and Viki Wilson, and the others we will talk about in debate later, will live.

Well, I think I know what the real agenda is. I do not think it is a surprise. It is not going to shatter anybody's mind when I say this. I think there is a group of Senators who want to make abortion illegal in this country. They ran on that platform. They are committed to doing it. They feel a woman should not have a right to choose.

If it was up to them, they would criminalize this procedure. They would put the woman in jail. They would put the doctor in jail. They do not have the votes, folks. They do not have the votes to outlaw abortion. They wish they did.

Now, with this Republican Congress they have more votes than they have ever had before, and I hope people in this country understand that. But they still do not have the votes to outlaw abortion straight out.

Just like those who came here to destroy environmental protection, they do not have the votes to outlaw the Clean Air Act or the Clean Water Act. So what do you do? Cut the Environmental Protection Agency by a third; cut enforcement by two-thirds. This way you do not have to go just right at it and repeal the laws.

The same thing here, but another issue. They do not have the votes to outlaw abortion. The Supreme Court, much to their dismay, upheld Roe. They have said abortion is a constitutional right. So these Senators are trying to outlaw abortion not directly but indirectly and they will take every chance to do it. That is what this is about.

Already, we have seen an erosion of a woman's right to choose. No abortion in military hospitals. Imagine, it is your daughter, she is stationed in Saudi Arabia, she cannot go to a military hospital. God knows where she will go.

As Senator SIMPSON said, and I read every word he said, when abortion was illegal in this country, women obtained abortion. A woman risked her freedom to try and get an abortion. Doctors did the same.

I lived through those days. Women died. They died in back alleys. They lost their fertility. We are not going back to those days. But there are those in the Senate who want to take us back. That is what this is about.

They may say it is nothing, you could be pro-choice and support this. That is fine. They can say it. But if you read behind the lines, you know that is the plan. That is the plan of the far right in this country. Take the victories where you get them. Force the President to sign the defense bill. Ipso facto outlaw abortion in military hospitals.

Now, if you are a Federal employee and happen to be a woman, you cannot use your own insurance for which you pay a good portion of the premium, you cannot use it to get an abortion. OK, that is gone.

How about this: one of the reasons the Health and Human Services bill has not been brought up here is there are those in this Senate who want to stop training ob-gyn's to perform abortion. Folks, listen: It does not say stop training them in this procedure. It says stop training medical students so that no one will know how to do a safe and legal abortion in this country.

I stood here on this floor and I objected to bringing that bill forward because I knew that would be offered.

How does that help a woman in this country, when she has to go back to the back alleys, and the men in this Chamber stand up and talk about the joy of giving birth?

I had the joy. Do not lecture me about that. And do not tell my children and my grandchildren that you know better for them than their God and their daughter and their husbands and their wives. Do not do that.

That is not what this Republican revolution was supposed to be about; if anything, it was supposed to be about getting Government out of our lives. Now they are putting it in the hospital room, in the medical school.

We said when this came up, we should have a hearing. We want to put a woman's face on it. We see these drawings. Time after time, day after day—where is the face of the mother? Where is the face of her husband? Where is the face of her children?

No, we did not see that face, but we got that face. We had the time to get that face into those hearings. I am so glad colleagues stuck with us on that one. It was going to be a close vote.

Yes, I hope our colleagues will read the testimony—all sides—and they will find that the medical community is split. The lawyers are split. We already know the Nurses Association is strongly against this bill. Yes, we had one nurse who is for it who worked 3 days as a temporary employee. That is if we believe the veracity of her testimony. Yes, we have some doctors who say the procedure is not necessary. But the ob-gyn organization says this bill is bad.

But no one can dispute Coreen Costello or Viki Wilson or John and Kim Leonetti, who I will talk about later in this debate, or the many others who had the courage to come forward and tell their story. They are religious women. They are God-loving mothers. No one on the other side of this would dare stand up and say what they said was not accurate. They lived it.

That is what this is about. This is what is going to happen if this bill passes and it is signed into law without exception. People like this do not have a chance.

We have a lot of work to do, as I said, in this Senate. We have a lot of appropriations bills we have to pass. We have to have a pass on Bosnia. We cannot even agree on a budget, can barely agree on the size of the table that we are going to sit around. We have work to do.

I say people sent us here to fight about those priorities. I want that debate. I want to know how Medicare survives after you cut $270 billion out of it. I want to know how Medicaid survives when you cut $182 billion out of it. I want to know how senior citizens are better off when you repeal nursing home standards and go back.

You want to talk about compelling? Why do you not read what it was like in the 1980's before we had nursing home standards from the Federal Government. It was pretty compelling.

Grandmothers and grandfathers were sexually abused, mistreated, scalded in the bathtub.

We have a lot of work to do. We should not get into what medical procedure is appropriate and what medical procedure is not.

I will say this to my colleagues. If this bill becomes law as it is now written—I believe the chances of that are nil; there is not even an exception for life or health of the mother, but say it did—and someone's wife dies, someone in this Nation loses a wife and a loving partner because of the action of this body, I tell that person, even though their case could get kicked out of court, I would tell them to sue the pants off every U.S. Senator in this place who voted to outlaw a life-saving procedure. I would make that case that we have no business getting in the middle of a tragic family decision, playing God, playing doctor without the foggiest notion about what it means to make that tragic choice.

We talk about the joy of birth. God has blessed those people who have never known such a tragedy as these families have known. You are blessed that you never knew such a tragedy. But do not stand up here and say in every single case it is all beautiful. How you can even say that, in light of this testimony, is beyond belief.

One of the reasons we were so strong on having this testimony is because of what we heard here on this floor about how every birth is joyful, and there are no problems, and you do not need this procedure. I would have hoped we put that to rest, but it is back here again on the floor, calling doctors names, vicious names, because they helped a family like this. I say to you, if that doctor did not help this woman, that doctor would be violating the Hippocratic Oath.

So, I just hope we amend this bill. Abortion is a legal right in this country. If you want to take it on, if you want to have a bill introduced to make it illegal, to put women in jail, go ahead. Let us have that debate. But I really feel to set ourselves up as a special committee, like one of a hospital that delivers babies, to stand around here and talk about what procedure should be done and what should not be done, I just think we are off the mark as to what our responsibility is here.

This is going to be a very difficult debate. This is just a preview of it. I know my colleagues and I disagree. We try very hard not to be disagreeable with one another. I certainly do not feel disagreeable to my colleagues who take the other view.

I do feel, however, that they are looking at this in a way that ignores women like this, men like this, kids like this, families like this. So I will be bringing us back to these families, these circumstances.

When you legislate, you do not legislate for the majority of people. That is easy. Most times you do not even need to think about this subject.

Of course, we cannot close our eyes and say it is a beautiful, beautiful process, this process of birth. Nothing ever goes wrong, so therefore we are going to say any and all procedures that may have to be used in emergency, let us outlaw them, because maybe if we did, we would not need them.

That is not the way to legislate. You legislate in a conservative fashion. You give the most leeway to people who may need every option at their disposal to save a woman like this and spare her family.

So, yes, we will come back to this. We will debate it. We are going to try to amend this bill. It is a tough one, and I look forward to the remainder of the debate.

I again thank my friend from New Hampshire for his courtesy, for allowing me to continue and complete my remarks, and I yield the floor.

THE PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from New Hampshire.

MR. SMITH. Mr. President, I heard during the course of the debate from the Senator from California that we should look in the eyes of a mother. She used her example of a woman who went through this very difficult decision, which I understand.

Here we can look into the eyes of a mother, Brenda Shafer. She has two children. She was horrified by what she saw, so horrified that she quit her job at that clinic.

We also heard the Senator from California make great mention of the life-of-the-mother exception. Of course, there is a life-of-the-mother exception in the bill, but it is easier to say it is not in there, so we can continue this debate, I guess; so we have something to say. But I guess my question would be something along these lines. If this is a life-of-the-mother threat that Brenda Shafer witnessed, why was it done in an abortion clinic? Why was it not done in a hospital? If the mother's life is under threat, then I would certainly think it would be done in a hospital where we could get the maximum medical attention, not in a clinic, whose specific and only purpose is to perform abortions. So, you see that is another falsehood that is being perpetrated in the debate here.

Also, another falsehood is we are somehow part of the radical right because we oppose this procedure. The radical right, we were called. In the House, PATRICK KENNEDY, son of the distinguished Senator from Massachusetts, voted for this. So he is in the radical right. I guess I must have missed something in the newspapers somewhere. I missed it, I guess. The minority leader, former majority leader of the House of Representatives, DICK GEPHARDT, is a member of the radical right. And so many others who were pro-choice who voted for this bill.

You see, the reason they voted for it is because those on the other side are the radical ones. Nurse Shafer was so horrified by this, to her everlasting credit, she stood up and exposed this for what it is. It is not done to save the life of the mother. We have a life-of-the-mother exception, but this is not done to save the life of the mother. As I said, if it is to save the life of the mother, then get the mother to the hospital, not to an abortion clinic.

Nurse Shafer told the Judiciary Committee at its November 17 hearing on this bill that this partial-birth abortion that she witnessed was carried out—this is very important, I say to my colleagues—was carried out because the little boy involved, the one with the angelic face that she describes right here: “I never went back to that clinic, but I am still haunted by the face of that little boy—it was the most perfect, angelic face I have ever seen.” Do you know what that little boy was diagnosed with? Do you know why he was aborted? He was diagnosed with Down’s syndrome.

I have heard a lot today on the floor, from the Senator from California and from the Senator from Illinois and others, that somehow I am in the business of playing God here. When a woman electively, selectively makes a decision to abort a child because it has Down’s syndrome, that is the only reason, that is the little angelic face—because of that, only, that is what we are talking about here in this particular case—is that not playing God? Somehow there is a twisted sense of logic here.

I guess I have to wonder where we draw the line. Is it a missing foot, a deformed foot? Does that qualify for that decision? A cleft palate, does that qualify? I am having trouble understanding just where it comes down. Where does it come down? God? Playing God? Who is playing God here?

Think about it: Down’s syndrome. Do you know, we see Down’s syndrome people acting on television everyday. There is a television series involving a young man with Down’s syndrome. This little baby boy was killed with a catheter to the back of his head because he had Down’s syndrome, in the United States of America. He did nothing else. He did not do anything wrong. He did not commit any crimes.

Even killers on death row who are executed are done so more humanely than this little boy died because he had Down’s syndrome. Where are we, in China? What is the next election, female child? Is that all right? Male child, twins, cannot handle that?

This little baby boy, described by Nurse Shafer, with scissors jammed into the back of his head and the catheter sucking his brains out, his crime was that he had Down’s syndrome.

This little boy, as nurse Shafer said, was executed by Dr. Haskell because he had Down’s syndrome. You know, it is no small irony, Mr. President, if I do say so myself, that we now see the sad spectacle—and it is a sad spectacle—of some of the Senate’s most respected and vigorous liberal advocates of the rights of disabled persons in our society coming to the Senate floor to defend an abortion procedure that often targets disabled children, targets them for destruction for one reason—they have a disability.

That is what the Senator from California is talking about. No, I am not playing God, Mr. President. I am not. I am trying to prevent other people from playing God. I am not playing God when I am trying to protect those under the Constitution of the United States any more than I am playing God when I say that a person in this country has the right to the protection of life under the Constitution.

Later on in this debate we may see an amendment. Who knows, somebody may offer an amendment, offered by one or more of those so-called disabled rights advocates, seeking to exempt the disabled from this bill who are disabled through no fault of their own, through some genetic abnormality. How can they claim to be defenders of the rights of the disabled and turn around and single out to target, to execute, out of the womb—not in the womb; out of the womb—disabled babies? Disabled babies.

I would like to see an opportunity where one of these disabled young Americans today, perhaps a young man or woman with Down’s syndrome, or perhaps someone with a cleft palate or perhaps someone with a foot or an arm missing due to some horrible birth defect, I would like to see that person come face to face with some of these U.S. Senators and look them in the eye and say, “You know what? No, I don’t have the same privileges you had in terms of health, but I am trying to make something of myself, I’m trying to contribute to society. And I’m doing it. And thank you, I don’t appreciate it when you say you want to take my life because of what I was dealt.”

That is what this debate is about. That is what it is about, Mr. President—make no mistake about it—killing disabled children. One of the primary debating tactics that the defenders of the partial-birth abortions employ is to argue—they argue that this brutal, grizzly procedure is utilized only in the hard cases, only in medical emergencies, only in medical emergencies threatening the life of the mother or in the case of severe congenital abnormalities.

But the words, Mr. President, of the only living doctor in America who has publicly—I will strike the word “confess”—admitted, publicly admitted that he does partial-birth abortions, Dr. Martin Haskell of Dayton, OH, has given the lie to this deceptive debating tactic. Haskell told the AMA News that the overwhelming majority—this is Haskell himself. This is not Smith, this is not the distinguished Senator from Ohio sitting in the Chair, this is not somebody from the pro-life movement; this is Dr. Haskell himself. And in the AMA News he said the overwhelming majority of the partial-birth abortions that he does are for elective reasons—elective reasons.

Haskell performed 1,000 of them. So 800 babies, 800 babies—who knows what those 800 babies may have been—doctors, lawyers, maybe somebody who came up with a cure for cancer, the first woman President, the first black President? Who knows. We will never know. They never had a chance.

In the United States of America this is going on. And people come down here on the floor, time and time again, every time we debate this issue, and accuse me and others of playing God. Haskell said, “Most of my abortions are elective in that 20- to 24-week range, and probably 20 percent, 20 percent, 200 out of the 1,000 are for genetic reasons.”

So let us call it like it is and stop distorting the record and saying things that are not accurate down here. Let us call it like it is—1,000 abortions, partial-birth abortions in the birth canal, everything but the head; 800 elective, 200 for genetic reasons.

Haskell later tried to claim he had been misquoted. It turns out, however, that the AMA News tape recorded the interview. They tape recorded it. They prepared a transcript. There was not any misquoting in there. Dr. Haskell was quoted accurately.

Like I said earlier, Mr. President, no wonder he did not have the guts to appear before the Judiciary Committee and try to defend his employment of this, because you cannot defend it. They have a bit of a problem with Dr. Haskell’s confession that he performs partial-birth abortions on perfectly healthy women with perfectly healthy babies.

We did not hear about that from the Senator from California. We did not hear anything about the perfectly healthy babies. We did not hear the Senator from California stand up on the floor and say, “I support that healthy baby having the right to live and not die at the hands of an abortionist with a catheter and a pair of scissors to the back of the head.” No, we did not hear about that.

They tried to claim that somehow the word “elective” includes “hard cases,” quote unquote. Well, Mr. President, that is another blatant and deliberate deception. And as we debate this bill, there is litigation going on in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Ohio, which I am sure the Senator in the chair is aware of, in which Dr. Haskell is challenging the constitutionality of Ohio’s new State law banning partial-birth abortions. He is an advocate. I give him credit. He does not see anything wrong with it.

During the course of the proceedings in that case, Dr. Harlan Giles has testified about what “elective” means. Dr. Giles is an obstetrician-gynecologist at the Medical College of Pennsylvania and Allegheny General Hospital who has a subspecialty in the field of perinatology, which includes maternal fetal medicine, high-risk pregnancy, ultrasound and genetics.

During his testimony before the U.S. district court in Ohio, Dr. Giles was asked to tell the court what an elective abortion is. What is it? Here is what Dr. Giles said:

An elective abortion is a procedure carried out for a patient for whom there is no identifiable maternal or fetal indication. That is to say, the patient feels it would be in her best interest to terminate the pregnancy either on social grounds, emotional grounds, financial grounds, etc. If there are no medical indications from either a fetal or maternal standpoint, we refer to the termination as elective.

There we have it, Mr. President, 8½ months, bring the child 80 percent into the world, making sure you bring it out feet first so that it cannot breathe first, and kill it. That is exactly what we are doing. That is what an elective abortion is, not for medical reasons. Once in a while that is done. But that is not what we are talking about here in 80 percent of the cases.

To sum up what he said is an elective abortion, it is one that is done on a perfectly healthy mother with a perfectly healthy baby—not always. Therefore, what Dr. Haskell told the AMA News is that 80 percent of partial-birth abortions he does are done on perfectly healthy mothers with perfectly healthy babies. But we did not hear about that today—nothing. We did not hear about that at all. That is the truth.

I said during the outset of my remarks, Mr. President, that I would offer my colleagues a detailed assessment of the November 17 hearing that the Judiciary Committee held on this bill. I would like to focus a few remarks on that at the outset of this November 17 hearing. My colleague, Senator KENNEDY, described H.R. 1833 as “extremist legislation at its worst.” I found that somewhat puzzling that Senator KENNEDY would say this because his own son, Congressman PATRICK KENNEDY of Rhode Island, voted for the bill in the House, in the exact form that it is here before us in the Senate.

So I assume from that that he means his son is an extremist, and he may very well feel that way. I do not know. We already mentioned Mr. GEPHARDT and Mr. BONIOR. I guess they are extremists.

Mr. President, Senator KENNEDY got it wrong, with all due respect to my colleague. The real extremists are those who believe that partial-birth abortions should be legal through all 9 months of pregnancy. We are talking about in the latter months of pregnancy, the latter days in some cases. Those are the extremists; they think it is legal for Haskell to use this method to kill a little Down's syndrome baby. They are the extremists. That is who the extremists are.

Frankly, I initially opposed sending the bill to the committee for a hearing because I did not think it was necessary. But I am glad we had a hearing. As you know, I agreed to have it and allowed the vote to go that way, did not object, because I think that hearing transcript, which the distinguished Senator from Ohio had the opportunity to be a part of, is now available, and I invite my colleagues to review it in detail. Before you vote, read it. It demonstrates just how bankrupt the arguments are on this issue.

When this bill first came to the Senate floor on November 7 and 8, we heard the opposition floor manager, Senator BOXER, repeatedly assert that partial-birth abortions are emergency operations. Senator BOXER said it again today, undertaken to save women's lives. During the November 7 floor debate on this bill, for example, Senator BOXER referred to partial-birth abortion as “an emergency medical procedure that must be performed on certain pregnant women lest families lose that mother forever.”

You heard it again today. During her appearance on “Nightline” with me on November 7, she claimed that partial-birth abortions are emergency medical procedures and asserted that H.R. 1833 would “outlaw an emergency medical procedure.”

The next day, on November 8, Senator BOXER helped lead the charge on the Senate floor for a hearing on H.R. 1833. And when the Senate agreed to refer the bill to the Judiciary Committee for the hearing, it was incumbent upon Senator BOXER and allies on the committee to produce testimony to support her repeated assertions that a partial-birth abortion is an emergency medical procedure.

Well, they had plenty of time to prove it, but they failed to do so. You were there, Mr. President. The lead witness that the opponents of this bill presented was Dr. Nancy Campbell, who is the Medical Director for Planned Parenthood here in Washington. Far from claiming that any partial-birth abortions are undertaken as emergency procedures to save the lives of women, Dr. Campbell asserted that the vast majority of these procedures are done because of severe fetal malformations. So Dr. Campbell's testimony failed to support Senator BOXER's claims. A partial-birth abortion that is undertaken to destroy a baby because the baby has a disability is not necessarily an emergency abortion done to save the life of a mother. So it is not true what is being said here.

At some point in the debate, perhaps tomorrow when we go back to this debate—as the Chair knows, we are going to break at 7:30 and recess the Senate until tomorrow, but at the appropriate time I am going to read into the RECORD comments in a large number of letters from ob-gyn's who take a very interesting view of this bill. They support the bill, and they say the process of partial-birth abortions is simply not necessary to save the life of a mother.

In fact, regarding Dr. Campbell's assertion that the vast majority of partial-birth abortions are done because of severe fetal malformations, that is also unsupportable. Campbell cited no academic studies, no medical journal articles, no government or private statistics, nothing—nothing. Just stated it, no support. In fact, her statement to that effect appears only in the transcript of her oral argument, not in her written statement.

So as I pointed out earlier, the only reliable testimony that we have on this point comes from the only living doctor who is willing to admit publicly that he does these, Dr. Martin Haskell. Haskell told the American Medical Association News that 80 percent of the partial-birth abortions he does are purely for elective reasons. It is entirely reliable because he does them. The man knows what he is talking about. Give him credit for admitting it. He is telling the truth. He is not trying to hide it.

Campbell's assertion, on the other hand, is completely unreliable because she does not do partial-birth abortions and cited no other evidence to support her completely unsupported claim. It is interesting that they had Dr. Campbell testify and she does not do partial-birth abortions and the guy who does do it, Haskell, he does not testify. He cannot be here.

The only other medical witness on the other side was Dr. Courtland Robinson, who is a medical professor at Johns Hopkins, and during his testimony Robinson managed to contradict both Senator BOXER's claim that partial-birth abortions are done for emergency reasons to save women's lives and Dr. Campbell's assertion that the vast majority of them are done because of severe fetal abnormalities. On the other hand, though, Robinson's testimony supports Dr. Haskell's statement to the AMA News that the overwhelming majority, 80 percent of these abortions are done for purely elective reasons.

We have all heard the debate on abortion, about whether or not a woman has the right to choose in the first month, second month, third month. That is a debate that we have had on the Senate floor, and everyone knows where I come from on it. That is not the debate we are having on the Senate floor right now. We are having a debate on the Senate floor now as to whether or not we approve of this procedure that I have earlier described of allowing a child to be brought out through the birth canal with the exception of the head and killed with scissors and a catheter with no anesthetic. And as I said then, would you kill a pet, would you euthanize your pet in that way? Yet we do it to children.

During his oral testimony before the committee, Robinson said that “women present to us for later abortions for a number of reasons. I am a doctor,” Robinson continued, “and it is not my place to judge my patient's reasons for ending a pregnancy or to punish her because circumstances prevented her from obtaining an abortion earlier. It is my place to treat my patient, a woman with a pregnancy she feels she cannot continue.

But bear in mind the timeframe we are talking about—5th through 9th month. I again give the doctor credit for his candor. In seeking to justify the use of the brutal and shockingly inhumane partial-birth procedure, Robinson did claim, as Senator BOXER does, that these are emergency medical procedures.

Neither did Robinson assert, as did Campbell, that the vast majority of such abortions are undertaken because of severe fetal malformations. No. Dr. Robinson told the truth. He corroborated what Dr. Haskell said—80 percent of the partial-birth abortions are purely elective.

So, in conclusion on that point, there are only two witnesses, medical witnesses, that the supporters of partial-birth abortions offered at the 17th of November Judiciary hearing—Campbell and Robinson. Neither one had ever performed a partial-birth abortion, and they flatly contradicted each other about why partial-birth abortions are performed, Campbell claiming the vast majority are because of severe fetal abnormalities, and Robinson said they are done for elective reasons—in other words, on demand. No consistency whatsoever.

Now, the next two witnesses that the supporters of partial-birth abortion presented—and this is the interesting part—were two women who had late-term abortions. Interestingly enough, however—and this was not brought out by the Senator from California—neither one of them had a partial-birth abortion. The Senator from Ohio pointed it out when he was speaking, that neither one of the women had a partial-birth abortion.

The stories they told before the committee were very compelling and very emotional, and I respect that. I understand it. But they were not partial-birth abortions. The first woman was Miss Coreen Costello of Agoura, CA. She explained to the committee that she sought a late-term abortion because her baby had severe deformities and was not expected to survive. She then described her abortion, and what she described was not a partial-birth abortion. It was not a partial-birth abortion.

She said her baby died in the womb before any part of her was removed. She said the baby was not stabbed in the head with scissors. Third, Miss Costello said no part of her brain was missing. Of course not. It was not a partial-birth abortion. The baby died in the womb. That is different.

Clearly, what Ms. Costello described is something else. I do not intend, Mr. President, to make light of the agony that Ms. Costello's anguish caused her over her baby's condition and her abortion. The only thing I want to point out is that this debate is about partial-birth abortions. They could not find anybody to testify who had a partial-birth abortion because the life of the mother was threatened. They could not find anybody to do it. That is my point. That is why we are here, to stop a brutal practice.

To be honest, Ms. Costello's testimony, although very emotional and very personal, is not relevant to the debate we are having today.

The second and last witness who had received a late-term abortion to support partial-birth abortions presented at the November 17 hearing was Viki Wilson. The Senator from Ohio mentioned her.

Ms. Wilson, like Ms. Costello, told the committee about her child's condition and why she had decided to have a late-term abortion. Like Ms. Costello, Ms. Wilson proceeded to describe an abortion that very clearly was not a partial-birth abortion.

She said her little girl died inside the womb. "My daughter died with dignity inside my womb," Ms. Wilson testified. "She was not stabbed in the back of the head with scissors, no one dragged her out half alive and killed her. We never would have allowed that."

That is interesting, she never would have allowed that, but we are allowing it here. It is going on. Maybe she would not, and I give Ms. Wilson credit for saying she would not allow it, but others do and it is happening. One thousand Dr. Haskell performed. The estimates are one or two a day.

So not only did Ms. Wilson, like Ms. Costello, not have a partial-birth abortion, she also told the committee she never would have consented to it. Very interesting. Their witness.

In summary, Mr. President, the supporters of partial-birth abortions were not able to produce at the November 17 hearing a single doctor who had ever performed a partial-birth abortion. The only doctor who has publicly confessed to performing them refused to appear, and all they did produce was two doctors who had never done partial-birth abortions, but nonetheless speculated, and in the process contradicted one another about why partial-birth abortions are done.

In short, the supporters of partial-birth abortion produced not a single doctor who cast any doubt whatsoever on the one who has done them, Dr. Haskell. In his own unrefuted statement to the AMA News, 80 percent of partial-birth abortions he does are purely elective. Nobody refuted it.

The supporters of partial-birth abortion were not able to produce as a witness a single woman who had ever undergone a partial-birth abortion. Of course, they are out there, but they did not produce any.

Senator BOXER says that partial-birth abortions are an emergency, and yet she could not find anybody to say that. Other supporters of partial-birth abortions talk about how the procedure is done to eliminate children with severe abnormalities, yet they could not produce a witness who had a partial-birth abortion for that reason.

There you have it, the supporters of partial-birth abortion demanded a hearing to tell their side of the story, and what did they produce? Two doctors who had not done any and two women who had not had any. There is their hearing. They fought hard for it. They wanted it. They got it.

The last witness produced by the supporters of partial-birth abortion at the hearing was a constitutional law professor by the name of Louis Michael Seidman of Georgetown University Law Center. Frankly, as a Catholic myself, I am a little surprised that a Catholic university has on its payroll such a highly partisan, indeed enthusiastic, supporter of abortion on demand through all 9 months of pregnancy for any reason. But to each his own.

Predictably, given Professor Seidman's undisguised enthusiasm for a right to an abortion, that is, Roe versus Wade, it is not surprising he confidently predicted that the Court would strike H.R. 1833 if it were to be enacted.

The other constitutional law expert on the panel was Dr. Kmiec, who served as Assistant Attorney General of the United States at the Justice Department under President Reagan and who now is a professor of law at Notre Dame. He strongly disagreed with Professor Seidman, and I believe Professor Kmiec made, by far, the better case.

Much to my disappointment, though, the Supreme Court in 1992, by a vote of 5 to 4 in the case of Planned Parenthood versus Casey, reaffirmed the basic holding of Roe versus Wade. But the Court did not address in that case, which involved a Pennsylvania State law, a congressional statute like H.R. 1833 that aims to protect babies who have emerged into the birth canal from being brutally killed. Kmiec has no doubt this will be held constitutional if this law passes.

A born child is a constitutional person. Why is a little baby whose whole body beneath her head has already entered the birth canal and entered outside the birth canal be less of a person than one whose head remains inside the birth canal? Can someone please answer that question for me? Why is it any less a person? Three inches, three seconds; three inches, three seconds. If you do not stop the baby from being born, in 3 seconds it is out; it is a living child, 3 inches or 4. What is the difference? If somebody can tell me what the difference is, I sure would like to hear it.

Where in the Constitution does it say that the Congress is powerless to protect such a child from Dr. Haskell's scissors and catheter? Where in the Constitution, where in the Constitution does it say that?

The God-given right to life, of which Thomas Jefferson wrote in the magnificent Declaration of Independence, protects the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness of each and every child who falls victim to Haskell's scissors and his suction catheter, and our great Constitution which guarantees the right of each and every person to equal protection under the law protects these defenseless, partially born babies from being attacked by Dr. Haskell and other abortionists like him. The American people know it, and the people sitting in this Chamber now, members of the staff, they know it, my colleagues know it—we all know it. You ought to witness one of these things if you have any doubts. See if you can come away like Nurse Shafer and not be affected.

I am going to have a lot more to say on this tomorrow, but I know we have a gentleman's agreement to get this place closed down, because we do not have anybody else to relieve the Chair.

At this point, I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The assistant legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. DEWINE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. SMITH). Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. DEWINE. Mr. President, I would like to take this opportunity to, very briefly, respond to the comments my colleague from California made a few moments ago. I will try to be brief because I realize that we will be debating this bill on other days.

My colleague from California placed in the RECORD a letter, which I might point out had already been placed in the RECORD in the previous days of debate. That was a letter from Nurse Shafer's supervisor. That letter calls into question some of the things that Nurse Shafer said, or in the words of my colleague from California, the supervisor doubts the veracity of the nurse.

Mr. President, let me again talk about the testimony that we heard in the Judiciary Committee that refutes the attacks on Nurse Shafer and that refutes this specific letter by the purported supervisor of Nurse Shafer. First, the issue of how far along, how many weeks along Dr. Haskell would continue to do abortions. Let me quote from the letter. "Dr. Haskell does not perform abortions past 24 weeks of pregnancy."

Wrong. Dr. Haskell does. Dr. Haskell says so himself. We have already put that into the RECORD in Dr. Haskell's own words.

Second, "Dr. Haskell does not use ultrasound." Wrong. The record clearly shows he does. How do we know that? Because he says he does.

Third, "At no point is there any fetal movement or response that would indicate awareness, pain, or struggle." Wrong. The testimony that we heard would indicate contrary to that.

So I do not think we should spend this entire debate talking about the veracity of Nurse Shafer. But, again, I would go back to what I said an hour ago and, that is, if anyone doubts her veracity, take the facts, compare them with what Dr. Haskell says, the man who performs the abortions. What you will find is that Nurse Shafer's description fits identically with what Dr. Haskell says he does himself.

So this is a red herring. This is a side issue. This is the old tactic that is always used in court or in a debate: When you do not have the facts, talk about something else. Attack somebody whose testimony you do not like. Let us continue, if we can, to try to focus on what this debate is all about. I will come back to that in a moment. Senator BOXER has quoted Ms. Costello and Ms. Wilson, who gave very compelling testimony. Yes, it was. I thought that in my previous statement I stated that.

Quite frankly, Mr. President, I do not see how anyone could have listened to their testimony and not have teared up. I did. Nobody who is a parent and nobody who has lost a child could listen to that and not become emotional. The hearts of everybody in that room went out to those two women. But let me again say, Mr. President, that their testimony was not relevant. Let us confine ourselves to the terms of this debate and to the terms of this bill. No matter how compelling or how emotional their testimony was, or how much our hearts go out to them, it does not alter the simple fact that this bill does not apply to their situations. And so, again, the opponents of this bill want to talk about everything in the world but the bill.

With all due respect, I believe that the attack on this bill that we have heard this afternoon, 90 percent—and that is a conservative estimate—of what was said in opposition to this bill is totally irrelevant. You may believe it, disbelieve it, agree with it, disagree with it, but it is irrelevant. This bill, I submit, Mr. President, has nothing to do with nursing home standards. It has nothing to do with the EPA. It has nothing to do with the environment. We can and will argue these issues on this floor. But let us, please, try to keep this debate to what the issues are in front of us.

Maybe on a note of personal privilege, if I could, Mr. President, my friend from California talks about the "joy of giving birth." She used that phrase four or five times. I guess she was inferring that those of us who favor this bill use this term to in some way denigrate women and say that it is just an easy thing. Well, let me tell you, Mr. President, and let me assure my colleague from California, as the father of eight—but much more importantly, as the husband of the mother of eight, you are never going to catch this U.S. Senator in any way denigrating or in any way making light of birth. You are not going to find me minimizing the pain or the great accomplishment of the mother or the seriousness of the delivery.

Again, Mr. President, let us try to stay on the debate and try to stay on what is relevant. The opponents of this bill talk about protecting the life of the mother. I would, again, call to my colleagues' attention the affirmative defense that was in this bill when it was passed in the House. When many pro-choice Members of the House voted for this bill, that affirmative defense was in there. I also, though, refer my colleagues in the Senate to the evidence that came at the hearing. Again, this is the hearing that the opponents of this bill wanted. It was a good hearing, and we learned things. The evidence at the hearing clearly showed that this is a procedure that you would not use—that a doctor would not use to save the life of a mother. I point out that the testimony clearly showed that this procedure takes 3 days, from the time the woman comes in and you begin to treat the woman until the actual final act takes place. The testimony at the hearing was very clear. If the life of the mother was at stake, a doctor would not do this method, would not do this 3-day procedure. This procedure is not the "standard of care" in these cases.

So, again, we can talk about saving the life of the mother. But I maintain that it is outside the scope of this debate. We have the affirmative defense built into the law, built into this proposed law, and you also have testimony—medical testimony—that this is not the procedure you would use anyway.

Dr. Pamela Smith of Chicago's Mt. Sinai Medical Center testified that medical texts prescribe at least three other techniques, but not this one. I will not take the time of the Senate to go into all the medical details, but the testimony is clearly there.

I also point out that no one at the hearing—no one at the hearing—disputed Dr. Smith's testimony. That is the state of the record. We simply do not do this procedure. Again, confine ourselves to this debate.

Mr. President, the debate will go on. We will hear again from both sides, but we should try to narrow it and talk about what is at stake. It is not a question of, do we do away with Roe versus Wade? It is not a question about Republicans or Democrats or conservatives or liberals, or trends, or Republican Congresses or Democrat Congresses. It is about a very, very, very limited number of abortions that are performed each year. But they are performed. They are, I maintain, wrong.

I think the evidence is abundantly clear. My colleague who is in the chair and who has shown the pictures and who has talked about it in graphic detail has described exactly what this procedure consists of. So it is a public policy debate, of very limited scope, but of an important area. We define in this debate, as we do in many debates, what kind of a people we are.

To my friends who are pro-choice—and, again, I say being pro-choice, being for Roe versus Wade, is not inconsistent for being with this bill; in fact, you can be consistent and do that—I say to them and I say to my friend from California and others who oppose this bill, is there not some limit, some limit, to what a civilized society will tolerate, to what a good and decent people will allow?

I think, Mr. President, in this bill we are saying, yes, there is a limit, however narrow that may be drawn, but there is a limit. So in this bill, in this public debate, as in many debates, we define and redefine and redefine what kind of a people we are and what we hold dear.

(c) REFERENCES TO TITLE XIV OF THE PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICE ACT.—Except as otherwise expressly provided, whenever in this Act an amendment or repeal is expressed in terms of an amendment to, or repeal of, a section or other provision, the reference shall be considered to be made to a section or other provision of title XIV of the Public Health Service Act (commonly known as the "Safe Drinking Water Act") (42 U.S.C. 300f et seq.).

SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

Congress finds that—

(1) safe drinking water is essential to the protection of public health;

(2) because the requirements of title XIV of the Public Health Service Act (commonly known as the "Safe Drinking Water Act") (42 U.S.C. 300f et seq.) now exceed the financial and technical capacity of some public water systems, especially many small public water systems, the Federal Government needs to provide assistance to communities to help the communities meet Federal drinking water requirements;

(3) the Federal Government commits to take steps to foster and maintain a genuine partnership with the States in the administration and implementation of the Safe Drinking Water Act;

(4) States play a central role in the implementation of safe drinking water programs, and States need increased financial resources and appropriate flexibility to ensure the prompt and effective development and implementation of drinking water programs;

(5) the existing process for the assessment and regulation of additional drinking water contaminants needs to be revised and improved to ensure that there is a sound scientific basis for drinking water regulations and that the standards established address the health risks posed by contaminants;

(6) procedures for assessing the health effects of contaminants and establishing drinking water standards should be revised to provide greater opportunity for public education and participation;

(7) in setting priorities with respect to the health risks from drinking water to be addressed and in selecting the appropriate level of regulation for contaminants in drinking water, risk assessment and benefit-cost analysis are important and useful tools for improving the efficiency and effectiveness of drinking water regulations to protect human health;

(8) more effective protection of public health requires—

(A) a Federal commitment to set priorities that will allow scarce Federal, State, and local resources to be targeted toward the drinking water problems of greatest public health concern; and

(B) maximizing the value of the different and complementary strengths and responsibilities of the Federal and State governments in those States that have primary enforcement responsibility for the Safe Drinking Water Act; and

(9) compliance with the requirements of the Safe Drinking Water Act continues to be a concern at public water systems experiencing technical and financial limitations, and Federal, State, and local governments need more resources and more effective authority to attain the objectives of the Safe Drinking Water Act.

SEC. 3. STATE REVOLVING LOAN FUNDS.

The title (42 U.S.C. 300f et seq.) is amended by adding at the end the following:

"GENERAL AUTHORITY

"SEC. 1471. (a) CAPITALIZATION GRANT AGREEMENTS.—The Administrator shall offer to enter into an agreement with each State to make capitalization grants to the State pursuant to section 1472 (referred to in this part as 'capitalization grants') to establish a drinking water treatment State revolving loan fund (referred to in this part as a 'State loan fund').

"(8) the State has adopted policies and procedures to ensure that loan recipients are reasonably likely to be able to repay a loan.

"(c) ADMINISTRATION OF STATE LOAN FUNDS.—

"(1) IN GENERAL.—The authority to establish assistance priorities for financial assistance provided with amounts deposited into the State loan fund shall reside in the State agency that has primary responsibility for the administration of the State program under section 1413, after consultation with other appropriate State agencies (as determined by the State): Provided further, That in nonprimacy States, the Governor shall determine which State agency will have the authority to establish assistance priorities for financial assistance provided with amounts deposited into the State loan fund.

"(2) FINANCIAL ADMINISTRATION.—A State may combine the financial administration of the State loan fund pursuant to this part with the financial administration of a State water pollution control revolving fund established by the State pursuant to title VI of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act (33 U.S.C. 1381 et seq.), or other State revolving funds providing financing for similar purposes, if the Administrator determines that the grants to be provided to the State under this part, and the loan repayments and interest deposited into the State loan fund pursuant to this part, will be separately accounted for and used solely for the purposes of and in compliance with the requirements of this part.

"(3) TRANSFER OF FUNDS.—

"(A) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a Governor of a State may—

"(i) reserve up to 50 percent of a capitalization grant made pursuant to section 1472 and add the funds reserved to any funds provided to the State pursuant to section 601 of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act (33 U.S.C. 1381); and

"(ii) reserve in any year a dollar amount up to the dollar amount that may be reserved under clause (i) for that year from capitalization grants made pursuant to section 601 of such Act (33 U.S.C. 1381) and add the reserved funds to any funds provided to the State pursuant to section 1472.

“(B) STATE MATCH.—Funds reserved pursuant to this paragraph shall not be considered to be a State match of a capitalization grant required pursuant to this title or the Federal Water Pollution Control Act (33 U.S.C. 1251 et seq.).

“(4) EXTENDED PERIOD.—Notwithstanding subsection (b)(5), a State shall not be required to deposit a State matching amount into the fund prior to the date on which each payment is made for payments from funds appropriated for fiscal years 1994, 1995, and 1996, if the matching amounts for the payments are deposited into the State fund prior to September 30, 1998.

“(3) NEEDS ASSESSMENT.—The Administrator, in consultation with the Director of the Indian Health Service and Indian Tribes, shall, in accordance with a schedule that is consistent with the needs surveys conducted pursuant to section 1475(c), prepare surveys and assess the needs of drinking water treatment facilities to serve Indian Tribes, including an evaluation of the public water systems that pose the most significant threats to public health.

“(d) TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE FOR SMALL SYSTEMS.—

“(1) DEFINITIONS.—In this subsection:

“(A) SMALL SYSTEM.—The term ‘small system’ means a public water system that serves a population of 10,000 or fewer.

“(B) TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE.—The term ‘technical assistance’ means assistance provided by a State to a small system, including assistance to potential loan recipients and assistance for planning and design, development and implementation of a source water quality protection partnership program, alternative supplies of drinking water, restructuring or consolidation of a small system, and treatment to comply with a national primary drinking water regulation.

“(2) RESERVATION OF FUNDS.—To provide technical assistance pursuant to this subsection, each State may reserve from capitalization grants received in any year an amount that does not exceed the greater of—

The amount of any allotment that is not obligated by a State by the last day of the period of availability established by paragraph (1) shall be immediately reallocated by the Administrator on the basis of the same ratio as is applicable to sums allotted under subsection (b), except that the Administrator may reserve and allocate 10 percent of the remaining amount for financial assistance to Indian Tribes in addition to the amount allotted under subsection (c). None of the funds reallocated by the Administrator shall be reallocated to any State that has not obligated all sums allotted to the State pursuant to this section during the period in which the sums were available for obligation.

“(3) ALLOTMENT OF WITHHELD FUNDS.—All funds withheld by the Administrator pursuant to subsection (g) and section 1442(e)(3) shall be allotted by the Administrator on the basis of the same ratio as is applicable to funds allotted under subsection (b). “(f) DIRECT GRANTS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator is authorized to make grants for the improvement of public water systems of Indian Tribes, the District of Columbia, the United States Virgin Islands, the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, American Samoa, and Guam and, if funds are appropriated to carry out this part for fiscal year 1995, the Republic of Palau.

“(2) ALASKA NATIVE VILLAGES.—In the case of a grant for a project under this subsection in an Alaska Native village, the Administrator is also authorized to make grants to the State of Alaska for the benefit of Native villages. An amount not to exceed 4 percent of the grant amount may be used by the State of Alaska for project management.

“(g) NEW SYSTEM CAPACITY.—Beginning in fiscal year 1999, the Administrator shall withhold the percentage prescribed in the following sentence of each capitalization grant made pursuant to this section to a State unless the State has met the requirements of section 1418(a). The percentage withheld shall be 5 percent for fiscal year 1999, 10 percent for fiscal year 2000, and 15 percent for each subsequent fiscal year.

“ELIGIBLE ASSISTANCE

“SEC. 1473. (a) IN GENERAL.—The amounts deposited into a State loan fund, including any amounts equal to the amounts of loan repayments and interest earned on the amounts deposited, may be used by the State to carry out projects that are consistent with this section.

“(b) PROJECTS ELIGIBLE FOR ASSISTANCE.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The amounts deposited into a State loan fund shall be used only for providing financial assistance for capital expenditures and associated costs (but excluding the cost of land acquisition unless the cost is incurred to acquire land for the construction of a treatment facility or for a consolidation project) for—

“(B) a project that will facilitate the consolidation of public water systems or the use of an alternative source of water supply;

“(i) terminates not later than the date that is 30 years after the date of project completion; and

“(ii) does not exceed the expected design life of the project;

“(C) the recipient of each loan will establish a dedicated source of revenue (or, in the case of a privately-owned system, demonstrate that there is adequate security) for the repayment of the loan; and

“(D) the State loan fund will be credited with all payments of principal and interest on each loan;

“(2) to buy or refinance the debt obligation of a municipality or an intermunicipal or interstate agency within the State at an interest rate that is less than or equal to the market interest rate in any case in which a debt obligation is incurred after October 14, 1993, or to refinance a debt obligation for a project constructed to comply with a regulation established pursuant to an amendment to this title made by the Safe Drinking Water Act Amendments of 1986 (Public Law 99-339; 100 Stat. 642);

“(3) to guarantee, or purchase insurance for, a local obligation (all of the proceeds of which finance a project eligible for assistance under subsection (b)) if the guarantee or purchase would improve credit market access or reduce the interest rate applicable to the obligation;

“(4) as a source of revenue or security for the payment of principal and interest on revenue or general obligation bonds issued by the State if the proceeds of the sale of the bonds will be deposited into the State loan fund; and

“(5) to earn interest on the amounts deposited into the State loan fund.

“(e) ASSISTANCE FOR DISADVANTAGED COMMUNITIES.—

“(1) DEFINITION OF DISADVANTAGED COMMUNITY.—In this subsection, the term ‘disadvantaged community’ means the service area of a public water system that meets affordability criteria established after public review and comment by the State in which the public water system is located. The Administrator may publish information to assist States in establishing affordability criteria.

“(2) LOAN SUBSIDY.—Notwithstanding subsection (d), in any case in which the State makes a loan pursuant to subsection (d) to a disadvantaged community or to a community that the State expects to become a disadvantaged community as the result of a proposed project, the State may provide additional subsidization (including forgiveness of principal).

“(3) TOTAL AMOUNT OF SUBSIDIES.—For each fiscal year, the total amount of loan subsidies made by a State pursuant to paragraph (2) may not exceed 30 percent of the amount of the capitalization grant received by the State for the year.

“(f) SOURCE WATER QUALITY PROTECTION AND CAPACITY DEVELOPMENT.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding subsection (b)(1), a State may—

“(A) provide assistance, only in the form of a loan, to—

“(i) any public water system described in subsection (c) to acquire land or a conservation easement from a willing seller or grantor, if the purpose of the acquisition is to protect the source water of the system from contamination; or

“(ii) any community water system described in subsection (c) to provide funding in accordance with section 1419(d)(1)(C)(i);

“(2) LIMITATION.—For each fiscal year, the total amount of assistance provided and expenditures made by a State under this subsection may not exceed 15 percent of the amount of the capitalization grant received by the State for that year and may not exceed 10 percent of that amount for any one of the following activities:

“(2) STATE PROGRAM MANAGEMENT ASSISTANCE.—

“(iii) assist systems most in need on a per household basis according to State affordability criteria.

“(B) LIST OF PROJECTS.—Each State shall, after notice and opportunity for public comment, publish and periodically update a list of projects in the State that are eligible for assistance under this part, including the priority assigned to each project and, to the extent known, the expected funding schedule for each project.

“STATE LOAN FUND MANAGEMENT

“SEC. 1475. (a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 1 year after the date of enactment of this part, and annually thereafter, the Administrator shall conduct such reviews and audits as the Administrator considers appropriate, or require each State to have the reviews and audits independently conducted, in accordance with the single audit requirements of chapter 75 of title 31, United States Code.

“(b) STATE REPORTS.—Not later than 2 years after the date of enactment of this part, and every 2 years thereafter, each State that administers a State loan fund shall publish and submit to the Administrator a report on the activities of the State under this part, including the findings of the most recent audit of the State loan fund.

“(c) DRINKING WATER NEEDS SURVEY AND ASSESSMENT.—Not later than 1 year after the date of enactment of this part, and every 4 years thereafter, the Administrator shall submit to Congress a survey and assessment of the needs for facilities in each State eligible for assistance under this part (including, in the case of the State of Alaska, the needs of Native villages (as defined in section 3(c) of the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act (43 U.S.C. 1602 (c))). The survey and assessment conducted pursuant to this subsection shall—

“(1) identify, by State, the needs for projects or facilities owned or controlled by community water systems eligible for assistance under this part on the date of the assessment (other than refinancing for a project pursuant to section 1473(d)(2));

“(2) estimate the needs for eligible facilities over the 20-year period following the date of the assessment;

“(3) identify, by size category, the population served by public water systems with needs identified pursuant to paragraph (1); and

“(4) include such other information as the Administrator determines to be appropriate.

“(d) EVALUATION.—The Administrator shall conduct an evaluation of the effectiveness of the State loan funds through fiscal year 1999. The evaluation shall be submitted to Congress at the same time as the President submits to Congress, pursuant to section 1108 of title 31, United States Code, an appropriations request for fiscal year 2001 relating to the budget of the Environmental Protection Agency.

“ENFORCEMENT

“SEC. 1476. The failure or inability of any public water system to receive funds under this part or any other loan or grant program, or any delay in obtaining the funds, shall not alter the obligation of the system to comply in a timely manner with all applicable drinking water standards and requirements of this title.

“REGULATIONS AND GUIDANCE

“SEC. 1477. The Administrator shall publish such guidance and promulgate such regulations as are necessary to carry out this part, including guidance and regulations to ensure that—

“(1) each State commits and expends funds from the State loan fund in accordance with the requirements of this part and applicable Federal and State laws; and

“(2) the States and eligible public water systems that receive funds under this part use accounting procedures that conform to generally accepted accounting principles, auditing procedures that conform to chapter 75 of title 31, United States Code (commonly known as the ‘Single Audit Act of 1984’), and such fiscal procedures as the Administrator may prescribe.

“AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS

“SEC. 1478. (a) GENERAL AUTHORIZATION.—There are authorized to be appropriated to the Environmental Protection Agency to carry out this part $600,000,000 for fiscal year 1994 and $1,000,000,000 for each of fiscal years 1995 through 2003.

“(b) HEALTH EFFECTS RESEARCH.—From funds appropriated pursuant to this section for each fiscal year, the Administrator shall reserve $10,000,000 for health effects research on drinking water contaminants authorized by section 1442. In allocating funds made available under this subsection, the Administrator shall give priority to research concerning the health effects of cryptosporidium, disinfection byproducts, and arsenic, and the implementation of a research plan for subpopulations at greater risk of adverse effects pursuant to section 1442(1).

“(c) MONITORING FOR UNREGULATED CONTAMINANTS.—From funds appropriated pursuant to this section for each fiscal year beginning with fiscal year 1997, the Administrator shall reserve $2,000,000 to pay the costs of monitoring for unregulated contaminants under section 1445(a)(2)(D).

“(d) SMALL SYSTEM TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—Subject to paragraph (2), from funds appropriated pursuant to this section for each fiscal year for which the appropriation made pursuant to subsection (a) exceeds $800,000,000, the Administrator shall reserve to carry out section 1442(g) an amount that is equal to any amount by which the amount made available to carry out section 1442(g) is less than the amount referred to in the third sentence of section 1442(g).

“(2) MAXIMUM AMOUNT.—For each fiscal year, the amount reserved under paragraph (1) shall be not greater than an amount equal to the lesser of—

“(A) 2 percent of the funds appropriated pursuant to this section for the fiscal year; or “(B) $10,000,000.’.

SEC. 4. SELECTION OF CONTAMINANTS; SCHEDULE.

(a) STANDARDS.—Section 1412(b) (42 U.S.C. 300g-1(b)) is amended by striking “(b)(1)” and all that follows through the end of paragraph (3) and inserting the following:

“(b) STANDARDS.—

“(1) IDENTIFICATION OF CONTAMINANTS FOR LISTING.—

“(A) GENERAL AUTHORITY.—The Administrator shall publish a maximum contaminant level goal and promulgate a national primary drinking water regulation for each contaminant (other than a contaminant referred to in paragraph (2) for which a national primary drinking water regulation has been promulgated as of the date of enactment of the Safe Drinking Water Act Amendments of 1995) if the Administrator determines, based on adequate data and appropriate peer-reviewed scientific information and an assessment of health risks, conducted in accordance with sound and objective scientific practices, that—

“(i) the contaminant may have an adverse effect on the health of persons; and “(ii) the contaminant is known to occur or there is a substantial likelihood that the contaminant will occur in public water systems with a frequency and at levels of public health concern.

“(B) SELECTION AND LISTING OF CONTAMINANTS FOR CONSIDERATION.—

“(i) IN GENERAL.—Not later than July 1, 1997, the Administrator (after consultation with the Secretary of Health and Human Services) shall publish and periodically, but not less often than every 5 years, update a list of contaminants that are known or anticipated to occur in drinking water provided by public water systems and that may warrant regulation under this title.

“(ii) RESEARCH AND STUDY PLAN.—At such time as a list is published under clause (i), the Administrator shall describe available and needed information and research with respect to—

“(I) the health effects of the contaminants;

“(II) the occurrence of the contaminants in drinking water; and “(III) treatment techniques and other means that may be feasible to control the contaminants.

“(iii) COMMENT.—The Administrator shall seek comment on each list and any research plan that is published from officials of State and local governments, operators of public water systems, the scientific community, and the general public.

“(C) DETERMINATION.—

“(i) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in clause (ii), not later than July 1, 2001, and every 5 years thereafter, the Administrator shall take one of the following actions for not fewer than 5 contaminants:

“(I) Publish a determination that information available to the Administrator does not warrant the issuance of a national primary drinking water regulation.

“(II) Publish a determination that a national primary drinking water regulation is warranted based on information available to the Administrator, and proceed to propose a maximum contaminant level goal and national primary drinking water regulation not later than 2 years after the date of publication of the determination.

“(III) Propose a maximum contaminant level goal and national primary drinking water regulation.

“(ii) INSUFFICIENT INFORMATION.—If the Administrator determines that available information is insufficient to make a determination for a contaminant under clause (i), the Administrator may publish a determination to continue to study the contaminant. Not later than 5 years after the Administrator determines that further study is necessary for a contaminant pursuant to this clause, the Administrator shall make a determination under clause (i).

“(iii) ASSESSMENT.—The determinations under clause (i) shall be based on an assessment of—

“(I) the available scientific knowledge that is consistent with the requirements of paragraph (3)(A) and useful in determining the nature and extent of adverse effects on the health of persons that may occur due to the presence of the contaminant in drinking water;

“(II) information on the occurrence of the contaminant in drinking water; and “(III) the treatment technologies, treatment techniques, or other means that may be feasible in reducing the contaminant in drinking water provided by public water systems.

“(iv) PRIORITIES.—In making determinations under this subparagraph, the Administrator shall give priority to those contaminants not currently regulated that are associated with the most serious adverse health effects and that present the greatest potential risk to the health of persons due to the presence of the contaminant in drinking water provided by public water systems.

“(v) REVIEW.—Each document setting forth the determination for a contaminant under clause (i) shall be available for public comment at such time as the determination is published.

“(vi) JUDICIAL REVIEW.—Determinations made by the Administrator pursuant to clause (i)(I) shall be considered final agency actions for the purposes of section 1448. No determination under clause (i)(I) shall be set aside by a court pursuant to a review authorized under that section, unless the court finds that the determination is arbitrary and capricious.

“(D) URGENT THREATS TO PUBLIC HEALTH.—The Administrator may promulgate an interim national primary drinking water regulation for a contaminant without listing the contaminant under subparagraph (B) or publishing a determination for the contaminant under subparagraph (C) to address an urgent threat to public health as determined by the Administrator after consultation with and written response to any comments provided by the Secretary of Health and Human Services, acting through the director of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention or the director of the National Institutes of Health. A determination for any contaminant in accordance with subparagraph (C) subject to an interim regulation under this subparagraph shall be issued not later than 3 years after the date on which the regulation is promulgated and the regulation shall be repromulgated, or revised if appropriate, not later than 5 years after that date.

“(E) MONITORING DATA AND OTHER INFORMATION.—The Administrator may require, in accordance with section 1445(a)(2), the submission of monitoring data and other information necessary for the development of studies, research plans, or national primary drinking water regulations.

“(2) SCHEDULES AND DEADLINES.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—In the case of the contaminants listed in the Advance Notice of Proposed Rulemaking published in volume 47, Federal Register, page 9352, and in volume 48, Federal Register, page 45502, the Administrator shall publish maximum contaminant level goals and promulgate national primary drinking water regulations—

“(i) not later than 1 year after June 19, 1986, for not fewer than 9 of the listed contaminants;

“(ii) not later than 2 years after June 19, 1986, for not fewer than 40 of the listed contaminants; and “(iii) not later than 3 years after June 19, 1986, for the remainder of the listed contaminants.

“(B) SUBSTITUTION OF CONTAMINANTS.—If the Administrator identifies a drinking water contaminant the regulation of which, in the judgment of the Administrator, is more likely to be protective of public health (taking into account the schedule for regulation under subparagraph (A)) than a contaminant referred to in subparagraph (A), the Administrator may publish a maximum contaminant level goal and promulgate a national primary drinking water regulation for the identified contaminant in lieu of regulating the contaminant referred to in subparagraph (A). Substitutions may be made for not more than 7 contaminants referred to in subparagraph (A). Regulation of a contaminant identified under this subparagraph shall be in accordance with the schedule applicable to the contaminant for which the substitution is made.

“(C) DISINFECTANTS AND DISINFECTION BY-PRODUCTS.—

“(i) INFORMATION COLLECTION RULE.—

“(I) IN GENERAL.—Not later than December 31, 1995, the Administrator shall, after notice and opportunity for public comment, promulgate an information collection rule to obtain information that will facilitate further revisions to the national primary drinking water regulation for disinfectants and disinfection byproducts, including information on microbial contaminants such as cryptosporidium.

“(II) EXTENSION.—The Administrator may extend the deadline under subclause (I) for up to 180 days if the Administrator determines that progress toward approval of an appropriate analytical method to screen for cryptosporidium is sufficiently advanced and approval is likely to be completed within the additional time period.

“(ii) ADDITIONAL DEADLINES.—The time intervals between promulgation of a final information collection rule, an Interim Enhanced Surface Water Treatment Rule, a Final Enhanced Surface Water Treatment Rule, a Stage I Disinfectants and Disinfection Byproducts Rule, and a Stage II Disinfectants and Disinfection Byproducts Rule shall be in accordance with the schedule published in volume 59, Federal Register, page 6361 (February 10, 1994), in table III.13 of the proposed Information Collection Rule. If a delay occurs with respect to the promulgation of any rule in the timetable established by this subparagraph, all subsequent rules shall be completed as expeditiously as practicable subject to agreement by all the parties to the negotiated rulemaking, but no later than a revised date that reflects the interval or intervals for the rules in the timetable.

“(D) PRIOR REQUIREMENTS.—The requirements of subparagraphs (C) and (D) of section 1412(b)(3) (as in effect before the amendment made by section 4(a) of the Safe Drinking Water Act Amendments of 1995), and any obligation to promulgate regulations pursuant to such subparagraphs not promulgated as of the date of enactment of the Safe Drinking Water Act Amendments of 1995, are superseded by this paragraph and paragraph (1).”

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—

(1) Section 1412(a)(3) (42 U.S.C. 300g-1(a)(3)) is amended by striking “paragraph (1), (2), or (3) of subsection (b)” each place it appears and inserting “paragraph (1) or (2) of subsection (b)”.

(2) Section 1415(d) (42 U.S.C. 300g-4(d)) is amended by striking “section 1412(b)(3)” and inserting “section 1412(b)(7)(A)”.

SEC. 5. RISK ASSESSMENT, MANAGEMENT, AND COMMUNICATION.

Section 1412(b) (42 U.S.C. 300g-1(b)) (as amended by section 4) is further amended by inserting after paragraph (2) the following:

“(3) RISK ASSESSMENT, MANAGEMENT AND COMMUNICATION.—

“(A) USE OF SCIENCE IN DECISIONMAKING.—In carrying out this section, and, to the degree that an Agency action is based on science in carrying out this title, the Administrator shall use—

“(i) the best available, peer-reviewed science and supporting studies conducted in accordance with sound and objective scientific practices; and

“(ii) data collected by accepted methods or best available methods (if the reliability of the method and the nature of the decision justifies use of the data).

“(B) PUBLIC INFORMATION.—In carrying out this section, the Administrator shall ensure that the presentation of information on public health effects is comprehensive, informative and understandable. The Administrator shall, in a document made available to the public in support of a regulation promulgated under this section, specify, to the extent practicable—

“(i) each population addressed by any estimate of public health effects;

“(ii) the expected risk or central estimate of risk for the specific populations;

“(iii) each appropriate upper-bound or lower-bound estimate of risk;

“(iv) each uncertainty identified in the process of the assessment of public health effects and research that would assist in resolving the uncertainty; and

“(v) peer-reviewed studies known to the Administrator that support, are directly relevant to, or fail to support any estimate of public health effects and the methodology used to reconcile inconsistencies in the scientific data.

“(C) HEALTH RISK REDUCTION AND COST ANALYSIS.—

“(i) MAXIMUM CONTAMINANT LEVELS.—Not later than 90 days prior to proposing any national primary drinking water regulation that includes a maximum contaminant level, the Administrator shall, with respect to a maximum contaminant level that would be considered in accordance with paragraph (4) in a proposed regulation and each alternative maximum contaminant level that would be considered in a proposed regulation pursuant to paragraph (5) or (6)(A), publish, seek public comment on, and use for the purposes of paragraphs (4), (5), and (6) an analysis of—

“(I) the health risk reduction benefits (including non-quantifiable health benefits identified and described by the Administrator, except that such benefits shall not be used by the Administrator for purposes of determining whether a maximum contaminant level is or is not justified unless there is a factual basis in the rulemaking record to conclude that such benefits are likely to occur) expected as the result of treatment to comply with each level;

“(II) the health risk reduction benefits (including non-quantifiable health benefits identified and described by the Administrator, except that such benefits shall not be used by the Administrator for purposes of determining whether a maximum contaminant level is or is not justified unless there is a factual basis in the rulemaking record to conclude that such benefits are likely to occur) expected from reductions in co-occurring contaminants that may be attributed solely to compliance with the maximum contaminant level, excluding benefits resulting from compliance with other proposed or promulgated regulations;

“(III) the costs (including non-quantifiable costs identified and described by the Administrator, except that such costs shall not be used by the Administrator for purposes of determining whether a maximum contaminant level is or is not justified unless there is a factual basis in the rulemaking record to conclude that such costs are likely to occur) expected solely as a result of compliance with the maximum contaminant level, including monitoring, treatment, and other costs and excluding costs resulting from compliance with other proposed or promulgated regulations;

“(IV) the incremental costs and benefits associated with each alternative maximum contaminant level considered;

“(V) the effects of the contaminant on the general population and on groups within the general population such as infants, children, pregnant women, the elderly, individuals with a history of serious illness, or other subpopulations that are identified as likely to be at greater risk of adverse health effects due to exposure to contaminants in drinking water than the general population;

“(VI) any increased health risk that may occur as the result of compliance, including risks associated with co-occurring contaminants; and “(VII) other relevant factors, including the quality and extent of the information, the uncertainties in the analysis supporting subclauses (I) through (VI), and factors with respect to the degree and nature of the risk.

“(ii) TREATMENT TECHNIQUES.—Not later than 90 days prior to proposing a national primary drinking water regulation that includes a treatment technique in accordance with paragraph (7)(A), the Administrator shall publish and seek public comment on an analysis of the health risk reduction benefits and costs likely to be experienced as the result of compliance with the treatment technique and alternative treatment techniques that would be considered in a proposed regulation, taking into account, as appropriate, the factors described in clause (i).

“(iii) APPROACHES TO MEASURE AND VALUE BENEFITS.—The Administrator may identify valid approaches for the measurement and valuation of benefits under this subparagraph, including approaches to identify consumer willingness to pay for reductions in health risks from drinking water contaminants.

“(iv) FORM OF NOTICE.—Whenever a national primary drinking water regulation is expected to result in compliance costs greater than $75,000,000 per year, the Administrator shall provide the notice required by clause (i) or (ii) through an advanced notice of proposed rulemaking.

“(v) AUTHORIZATION.—There are authorized to be appropriated to the Administrator, acting through the Office of Ground Water and Drinking Water, to conduct studies, assessments, and analyses in support of regulations or the development of methods, $35,000,000 for each of fiscal years 1996 through 2003.”

SEC. 6. STANDARD-SETTING; REVIEW OF STANDARDS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 1412(b) (42 U.S.C. 300g-1(b)) is amended—

(1) in paragraph (4)—

(A) by striking “(4) Each” and inserting the following:

“(A) MAXIMUM CONTAMINANT LEVEL GOALS.—Each”;

(B) in subparagraph (A) (as so designated), by inserting after the first sentence the following: “The maximum contaminant level goal for contaminants that are known or likely to cause cancer in humans may be set at a level other than zero, if the Administrator determines, based on the best available, peer-reviewed science, that there is a threshold level below which there is unlikely to be any increase in cancer risk and the Administrator sets the maximum contaminant level goal at that level with an adequate margin of safety.”;

(C) in the last sentence—

(i) by striking “Each national” and inserting the following:

“(B) MAXIMUM CONTAMINANT LEVELS.—Except as provided in paragraphs (5) and (6), each national”;

(ii) by striking “maximum level” and inserting “maximum contaminant level”;

(D) by adding at the end the following:

“(C) DETERMINATION.—At the time the Administrator proposes a national primary drinking water regulation under this paragraph, the Administrator shall publish a determination as to whether the benefits of the maximum contaminant level justify, or do not justify, the costs based on the analysis conducted under paragraph (3)(C).”;

(2) by striking “(5) For the” and inserting the following:

“(D) DEFINITION OF FEASIBLE.—For the”;

(3) in the second sentence of paragraph (4)(D) (as so designated), by striking “paragraph (4)” and inserting “this paragraph”;

(4) by striking “(6) Each national” and inserting the following:

“(E) FEASIBLE TECHNOLOGIES.—Each national”;

(5) in paragraph (4)(E) (as so designated), by striking “this paragraph” and inserting “this subsection”;

(6) by inserting after paragraph (4) (as so amended) the following:

“(5) ADDITIONAL HEALTH RISK CONSIDERATIONS.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding paragraph (4), the Administrator may establish a maximum contaminant level for a contaminant at a level other than the feasible level, if the technology, treatment techniques, and other means used to determine the feasible level would result in an increase in the health risk from drinking water by—

“(i) increasing the concentration of other contaminants in drinking water; or

“(ii) interfering with the efficacy of drinking water treatment techniques or processes that are used to comply with other national primary drinking water regulations.

“(B) ESTABLISHMENT OF LEVEL.—If the Administrator establishes a maximum contaminant level or levels or requires the use of treatment techniques for any contaminant or contaminants pursuant to the authority of this paragraph—

“(i) the level or levels or treatment techniques shall minimize the overall risk of adverse health effects by balancing the risk from the contaminant and the risk from other contaminants the concentrations of which may be affected by the use of a treatment technique or process that would be employed to attain the maximum contaminant level or levels; and “(ii) the combination of technology, treatment techniques, or other means required to meet the level or levels shall not be more stringent than is feasible (as defined in paragraph (4)(D)).

“(6) ADDITIONAL HEALTH RISK REDUCTION AND COST CONSIDERATIONS.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding paragraph (4), if the Administrator determines based on an analysis conducted under paragraph (3)(C) that the benefits of a maximum contaminant level promulgated in accordance with paragraph (4) would not justify the costs of complying with the level, the Administrator may, after notice and opportunity for public comment, promulgate a maximum contaminant level for the con-taminant that maximizes health risk reduction benefits at a cost that is justified by the benefits.

“(B) EXCEPTION.—The Administrator shall not use the authority of this paragraph to promulgate a maximum contaminant level for a contaminant, if the benefits of compliance with a national primary drinking water regulation for the contaminant that would be promulgated in accordance with paragraph (4) experienced by—

“(i) persons served by large public water systems; and

“(ii) persons served by such other systems as are unlikely, based on information provided by the States, to receive a variance under section 1415(e); would justify the costs to the systems of complying with the regulation. This subparagraph shall not apply if the contaminant is found almost exclusively in small systems (as defined in section 1415(e)).

“(C) DISINFECTANTS AND DISINFECTION BY-PRODUCTS.—The Administrator may not use the authority of this paragraph to establish a maximum contaminant level in a Stage I or Stage II national primary drinking water regulation for contaminants that are disinfectants or disinfection byproducts (as described in paragraph (2)), or to establish a maximum contaminant level or treatment technique requirement for the control of cryptosporidium. The authority of this paragraph may be used to establish regulations for the use of disinfection by systems relying on ground water sources as required by paragraph (8).

“(D) JUDICIAL REVIEW.—A determination by the Administrator that the benefits of a maximum contaminant level or treatment requirement justify or do not justify the costs of complying with the level shall be reviewed by the court pursuant to section 1448 only as part of a review of a final national primary drinking water regulation that has been promulgated based on the determination and shall not be set aside by the court under that section, unless the court finds that the determination is arbitrary and capricious.”.

(b) DISINFECTANTS AND DISINFECTION BY-PRODUCTS.—The Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency may use the authority of section 1412(b)(5) of the Public Health Service Act (as amended by subsection (a)) to promulgate the Stage I rulemaking for disinfectants and disinfection byproducts as proposed in volume 59, Federal Register, page 38668 (July 29, 1994). Unless new information warrants a modification of the proposal as provided for in the “Disinfection and Disinfection Byproducts Negotiated Rulemaking Committee Agreement”, nothing in such section shall be construed to require the Administrator to modify the provisions of the rulemaking as proposed.

(c) REVIEW OF STANDARDS.—Section 1412(b) (42 U.S.C. 300g-1(b)) is amended by striking paragraph (9) and inserting the following:

“(9) REVIEW AND REVISION.—The Administrator shall, not less often than every 6 years, review and revise, as appropriate, each national primary drinking water regulation promulgated under this title. Any revision of a national primary drinking water regulation shall be promulgated in accordance with this section, except that each revision shall maintain or provide for greater protection of the health of persons.”.

SEC. 7. ARSENIC.

Section 1412(b) (42 U.S.C. 300g-1(b)) is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(12) ARSENIC.—

“(A) SCHEDULE AND STANDARD.—Notwithstanding paragraph (2), the Administrator shall promulgate a national primary drinking water regulation for arsenic in accordance with the schedule established by this paragraph and pursuant to this subsection.

“(B) RESEARCH PLAN.—Not later than 180 days after the date of enactment of this paragraph, the Administrator shall develop a comprehensive plan for research in support of drinking water rulemaking to reduce the uncertainty in assessing health risks associated with exposure to low levels of arsenic. The Administrator shall consult with the Science Advisory Board established by section 8 of the Environmental Research, Development, and Demonstration Act of 1978 (42 U.S.C. 4365), other Federal agencies, and interested public and private entities.

“(C) RESEARCH PROJECTS.—The Administrator shall carry out the research plan, taking care to avoid duplication of other research in progress. The Administrator may enter into cooperative research agreements with other Federal agencies, State and local governments, and other interested public and private entities to carry out the research plan.

“(D) ASSESSMENT.—Not later than 3½ years after the date of enactment of this paragraph, the Administrator shall review the progress of the research to determine whether the health risks associated with exposure to low levels of arsenic are sufficiently well understood to proceed with a national primary drinking water regulation. The Administrator shall consult with the Science Advisory Board, other Federal agencies, and other interested public and private entities as part of the review.

“(E) PROPOSED REGULATION.—The Administrator shall propose a national primary drinking water regulation for arsenic not later than January 1, 2000.

“(F) FINAL REGULATION.—Not later than January 1, 2001, after notice and opportunity for public comment, the Administrator shall promulgate a national primary drinking water regulation for arsenic.”.

SEC. 8. RADON.

Section 1412(b) (42 U.S.C. 300g-1(b)) (as amended by section 7) is further amended by adding at the end the following:

“(13) RADON IN DRINKING WATER.—

“(A) REGULATION.—Notwithstanding paragraph (2), not later than 180 days after the date of enactment of this paragraph, the Administrator shall promulgate a national primary drinking water regulation for radon.

“(B) MAXIMUM CONTAMINANT LEVEL.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the regulation shall provide for a maximum contaminant level for radon of 3,000 picocuries per liter.

“(C) REVISION.—

“(i) IN GENERAL.—Subject to clause (ii), a revision to the regulation promulgated under subparagraph (A) may be made pursuant to this subsection. The revision may include a maximum contaminant level less stringent than 3,000 picocuries per liter as provided in paragraphs (4) and (9) or a maximum contaminant level more stringent than 3,000 picocuries per liter as provided in clause (ii).

“(ii) MAXIMUM CONTAMINANT LEVEL.—

“(I) CRITERIA FOR REVISION.—The Administrator shall not revise the maximum contaminant level for radon to a more stringent level than the level established under subparagraph (B) unless—

“(aa) the revision is made to reflect consideration of risks from the ingestion of radon in drinking water and episodic uses of drinking water;

“(bb) the revision is supported by peer-reviewed scientific studies conducted in accordance with sound and objective scientific practices; and

“(cc) based on the studies, the National Academy of Sciences and the Science Advisory Board, established by section 8 of the Environmental Research, Development, and Demonstration Act of 1978 (42 U.S.C. 4365), consider a revision of the maximum contaminant level to be appropriate.

“(II) AMOUNT OF REVISION.—If the Administrator determines to revise the maximum contaminant level for radon in accordance with subclause (I), the maximum contaminant level shall be revised to a level that is no more stringent than is necessary to reduce risks to human health from radon in drinking water to a level that is equivalent to risks to human health from radon in outdoor air based on the national average concentration of radon in outdoor air.”

SEC. 9. SULFATE.

“(14) SULFATE.—

“(A) ADDITIONAL RESEARCH.—Prior to promulgating a national primary drinking water regulation for sulfate the Administrator and the Director of the Centers for Disease Control shall jointly conduct additional research to establish a reliable dose-response relationship for the adverse health effects that may result from exposure to sulfate in drinking water, including the health effects that may be experienced by groups within the general population (including infants and travelers) that are potentially at greater risk of adverse health effects as the result of such exposure. The research shall be conducted in consultation with interested States, shall be based on the best available, peer-reviewed science and supporting studies conducted in accordance with sound and objective scientific practices and shall be completed not later than 30 months after the date of enactment of this paragraph.

“(B) PROPOSED AND FINAL RULE.—Prior to promulgating a national primary drinking water regulation for sulfate and after consultation with interested States, the Administrator shall publish a notice of proposed rulemaking that shall supersede the proposal published in December, 1994. For purposes of the proposed and final rule, the Administrator may specify in the regulation requirements for public notification and options for the provision of alternative water supplies to populations at risk as a means of complying with the regulation in lieu of a best available treatment technology or other means. The Administrator shall, pursuant to the authorities of this subsection and after notice and opportunity for public comment, promulgate a final national primary drinking water regulation for sulfate not later than 48 months after the date of enactment of this paragraph.

“(C) EFFECT ON OTHER LAWS.—

“(i) FEDERAL LAWS.—Notwithstanding part C, section 311 of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act (33 U.S.C. 1321), subtitle C or D of the Solid Waste Disposal Act (42 U.S.C. 6921 et seq.), or section 107 or 121(d) of the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act of 1980 (42 U.S.C. 9607 and 9621(d)), no national primary drinking water regulation for sulfate shall be—

“(I) used as a standard for determining compliance with any provision of any law other than this subsection;

“(II) used as a standard for determining appropriate cleanup levels or whether cleanup should be undertaken with respect to any facility or site;

“(III) considered to be an applicable or relevant and appropriate requirement for any such cleanup; or unless the Administrator, by rule and after notice and opportunity for public comment, determines that the regulation is appropriate for a use described in subclause (I), (II), (III), or (IV).

“(IV) used for the purpose of defining injury to a natural resource;

“(ii) STATE LAWS.—This subparagraph shall not affect any requirement of State law, including the applicability of any State standard similar to the regulation published under this paragraph as a standard for any cleanup action, compliance action, or natural resource damage action taken pursuant to such a law.”

SEC. 10. FILTRATION AND DISINFECTION.

(a) FILTRATION CRITERIA.—Section 1412(b)(7)(C)(i) is amended by adding at the end thereof the following: “Not later than 18 months after the date of enactment of the Safe Drinking Water Act Amendments of 1995, the Administrator shall amend the criteria issued under this clause to provide that a State exercising primary enforcement responsibility for public water systems may, on a case-by-case basis, establish treatment requirements as an alternative to filtration in the case of systems having uninhabited, undeveloped watersheds in consolidated ownership, and having control over access to, and activities in, those watersheds, if the State determines (and the Administrator concurs) that the quality of the source water and the alternative treatment requirements established by the State ensure significantly greater removal efficiencies of pathogenic organisms for which national primary drinking water regulations have been promulgated or that are of public health concern than would be achieved by the combination of filtration and chlorine disinfection (in compliance with this paragraph and paragraph (8)).”

(b) FILTRATION TECHNOLOGY FOR SMALL SYSTEMS.—Section 1412(b)(7)(C) (42 U.S.C. 300g-1(b)(7)(C)) is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(v) FILTRATION TECHNOLOGY FOR SMALL SYSTEMS.—At the same time as the Administrator proposes an Interim Enhanced Surface Water Treatment Rule pursuant to paragraph (2)(C)(ii), the Administrator shall propose a regulation that describes treatment techniques that meet the requirements for filtration pursuant to this subparagraph and are feasible for community water systems serving a population of 3,300 or fewer and noncommunity water systems.”

(c) GROUND WATER DISINFECTION.—The first sentence of section 1412(b)(8) (42 U.S.C. 300g-1(b)(8)) is amended—

(1) by striking “Not later than 36 months after the enactment of the Safe Drinking Water Act Amendments of 1986, the Administrator shall propose and promulgate” and inserting “At any time after the end of the 3-year period that begins on the date of enactment of the Safe Drinking Water Act Amendments of 1995 but not later than the date on which the Administrator promulgates a Stage II rulemaking for disinfectants and disinfection byproducts (as described in paragraph (2)), the Administrator shall also promulgate”; and

(2) by striking the period at the end and inserting the following: “, including surface water systems and, as necessary, ground water systems. After consultation with the States, the Administrator shall (as part of the regulations) promulgate criteria that the Administrator, or a State that has primary enforcement responsibility under section 1413, shall apply to determine whether disinfection shall be required as a treatment technique for any public water system served by ground water.”

SEC. 11. EFFECTIVE DATE FOR REGULATIONS.

“(10) EFFECTIVE DATE.—A national primary drinking water regulation promulgated under this section shall take effect on the date that is 3 years after the date on which the regulation is promulgated unless the Administrator determines that an earlier date is practicable, except that the Administrator, or a State in the case of an individual system, may allow up to 2 additional years to comply with a maximum contaminant level or treatment technique if the Administrator or State determines that additional time is necessary for capital improvements.”

“(15) SYSTEM TREATMENT TECHNOLOGIES.—

“(A) GUIDANCE OR REGULATIONS.—

“(i) IN GENERAL.—At the same time as the Administrator promulgates a national primary drinking water regulation pursuant to this section, the Administrator shall issue guidance or regulations describing all treatment technologies for the contaminant that is the subject of the regulation that are feasible with the use of best technology, treatment techniques, or other means that the Administrator finds, after examination for efficacy under field conditions and not solely under laboratory conditions, are available taking cost into consideration for public water systems serving—

“(I) a population of 10,000 or fewer but more than 3,300;

“(II) a population of 3,300 or fewer but more than 500; and

“(III) a population of 500 or fewer but more than 25.

“(ii) CONTENTS.—The guidance or regulations shall identify the effectiveness of the technology, the cost of the technology, and other factors related to the use of the technology, including requirements for the quality of source water to ensure adequate protection of human health, considering removal efficiencies of the technology, and installation and operation and maintenance requirements for the technology.

“(iii) LIMITATION.—The Administrator shall not issue guidance or regulations for a technology under this paragraph unless the technology adequately protects human health, considering the expected useful life of the technology and the source waters available to systems for which the technology is considered to be feasible.

“(B) REGULATIONS AND GUIDANCE.—Not later than 2 years after the date of enactment of this paragraph and after consultation with the States, the Administrator shall issue guidance or regulations under subparagraph (A) for each national primary drinking water regulation promulgated prior to the date of enactment of this paragraph for which a variance may be granted under section 1415(e). The Administrator may, at any time after a national primary drinking water regulation has been promulgated, issue guidance or regulations describing additional or new or innovative treatment technologies that meet the requirements of subparagraph (A) for public water systems described in subparagraph (A)(i) that are subject to the regulation.

“(C) NO SPECIFIED TECHNOLOGY.—A description under subparagraph (A) of the best technology or other means available shall not be considered to require or authorize that the specified technology or other means be used for the purpose of meeting the requirements of any national primary drinking water regulation.”

"(ii) a population of 3,300 or fewer but more than 500; and

"(iii) a population of 500 or fewer but more than 25; and that achieves compliance with the maximum contaminant level or treatment technique, including packaged or modular systems and point-of-entry or point-of-use treatment units that are owned, controlled and maintained by the public water system or by a person under contract with the public water system to ensure proper operation and maintenance and compliance with the maximum contaminant level and equipped with mechanical warnings to ensure that customers are automatically notified of operational problems. The Administrator shall not include in the list any point-of-use treatment technology, treatment technique, or other means to achieve compliance with a maximum contaminant level or treatment technique requirement for a microbial contaminant (or an indicator of a microbial contaminant). If the American National Standards Institute has issued product standards applicable to a specific type of point-of-entry or point-of-use treatment device, individual units of that type shall not be accepted for compliance with a maximum contaminant level or treatment technique requirement unless they are independently certified in accordance with such standards."

(C) AVAILABILITY OF INFORMATION ON SMALL SYSTEM TECHNOLOGIES.—Section 1445 (42 U.S.C. 300j-4) is amended by adding at the end the following:

"(g) AVAILABILITY OF INFORMATION ON SMALL SYSTEM TECHNOLOGIES.—For purposes of paragraphs (4)(E) and (15) of section 1412(b), the Administrator may request information on the characteristics of commercially available treatment systems and technologies, including the effectiveness and performance of the systems and technologies under various operating conditions. The Administrator may specify the form, content, and date by which information shall be submitted by manufacturers, States, and other interested persons for the purpose of considering the systems and technologies in the development of regulations or guidance under paragraph (4)(E) or (15) of section 1412(b)."

"(6) CONSORTIA OF STATES.—At least 2 of the grants under this subsection shall be made to consortia of States with low population densities. In this paragraph, the term 'consortium of States with low population densities' means a consortium of States, each State of which has an average population density of less than 12.3 persons per square mile, based on data for 1993 from the Bureau of the Census.

"(7) ADDITIONAL CONSIDERATIONS.—At least one center established under this subsection shall focus primarily on the development and evaluation of new technologies and new combinations of existing technologies that are likely to provide more reliable or lower cost options for providing safe drinking water. This center shall be located in a geographic region of the country with a high density of small systems, at a university with an established record of developing and piloting small treatment technologies in cooperation with industry, States, communities, and water system associations.

"(e) SMALL SYSTEM VARIANCES.—

"(1) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator (or a State with primary enforcement responsibility for public water systems under section 1413) may grant to a public water system serving a population of 10,000 or fewer (referred to in this subsection as a 'small system') a variance under this subsection for compliance with a requirement specifying a maximum contaminant level or treatment technique contained in a national primary drinking water regulation, if the variance meets each requirement of this subsection.

"(2) AVAILABILITY OF VARIANCES.—A small system may receive a variance under this subsection if the system installs, operates, and maintains, in accordance with guidance or regulations issued by the Administrator, treatment technology that is feasible for small systems as determined by the Administrator pursuant to section 1412(b)(15).

"(3) CONDITIONS FOR GRANTING VARIANCES.—A variance under this subsection shall be available only to a system—

"(A) that cannot afford to comply, in accordance with affordability criteria established by the Administrator (or the State in the case of a State that has primary enforcement responsibility under section 1413), with a national primary drinking water regulation, including compliance through—

"(i) treatment;

"(ii) alternative source of water supply; or

“(iii) restructuring or consolidation (unless the Administrator (or the State in the case of a State that has primary enforcement responsibility under section 1413) makes a written determination that restructuring or consolidation is not feasible or appropriate based on other specified public policy considerations); and

“(B) for which the Administrator (or the State in the case of a State that has primary enforcement responsibility under section 1413) determines that the terms of the variance ensure adequate protection of human health, considering the quality of the source water for the system and the removal efficiencies and expected useful life of the treatment technology required by the variance.

“(4) APPLICATIONS.—An application for a variance for a national primary drinking water regulation under this subsection shall be submitted to the Administrator (or the State in the case of a State that has primary enforcement responsibility under section 1413) not later than the date that is the later of—

“(A) 3 years after the date of enactment of this subsection; or “(B) 1 year after the compliance date of the national primary drinking water regulation as established under section 1412(b)(10) for which a variance is requested.

“(5) VARIANCE REVIEW AND DECISION.—

“(B) PENALTY MORATORIUM.—Each public water system that submits a timely application for a variance under this subsection shall not be subject to a penalty in an enforcement action under section 1414 for a violation of a maximum contaminant level or treatment technique in the national primary drinking water regulation with respect to which the variance application was submitted prior to the date of a decision to grant or deny the variance.

“(6) COMPLIANCE SCHEDULES.—

“(A) VARIANCES.—A variance granted under this subsection shall require compliance with the conditions of the variance not later than 3 years after the date on which the variance is granted, except that the Administrator (or the State in the case of a State that has primary enforcement responsibility under section 1413) may allow up to 2 additional years to comply with a treatment technique, secure an alternative source of water, or restructure if the Administrator (or the State) determines that additional time is necessary for capital improvements, or to allow for financial assistance provided pursuant to part G or any other Federal or State program.

“(B) DENIED APPLICATIONS.—If the Administrator (or the State in the case of a State that has primary enforcement responsibility under section 1413) denies a variance application under this subsection, the public water system shall come into compliance with the requirements of the national primary drinking water regulation for which the variance was requested not later than 4 years after the date on which the national primary drinking water regulation was promulgated.

“(7) DURATION OF VARIANCES.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator (or the State in the case of a State that has primary enforcement responsibility under section 1413) shall review each variance granted under this subsection not less often than every 5 years after the compliance date established in the variance to determine whether the system remains eligible for the variance and is conforming to each condition of the variance.

“(B) REVOCATION OF VARIANCES.—The Administrator (or the State in the case of a State that has primary enforcement responsibility under section 1413) shall revoke a variance in effect under this subsection if the Administrator (or the State) determines that—

“(i) the system is no longer eligible for a variance;

“(ii) the system has failed to comply with any term or condition of the variance, other than a reporting or monitoring requirement, unless the failure is caused by circumstances outside the control of the system; or

“(iii) the terms of the variance do not ensure adequate protection of human health, considering the quality of source water available to the system and the removal efficiencies and expected useful life of the treatment technology required by the variance.

“(8) INELIGIBILITY FOR VARIANCES.—A variance shall not be available under this subsection for—

“(A) any maximum contaminant level or treatment technique for a contaminant with respect to which a national primary drinking water regulation was promulgated prior to January 1, 1986; or

The affordability criteria shall be reviewed by the States not less often than every 5 years to determine if changes are needed to the criteria.

“(10) REVIEW BY THE ADMINISTRATOR.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator shall periodically review the program of each State that has primary enforcement responsibility for public water systems under section 1413 with respect to variances to determine whether the variances granted by the State comply with the requirements of this subsection. With respect to affordability, the determination of the Administrator shall be limited to whether the variances granted by the State comply with the affordability criteria developed by the State.

“(B) NOTICE AND PUBLICATION.—If the Administrator determines that variances granted by a State are not in compliance with affordability criteria developed by the State and the requirements of this subsection, the Administrator shall notify the State in writing of the deficiencies and make public the determination.

“(C) OBJECTIONS TO VARIANCES.—

“(i) BY THE ADMINISTRATOR.—The Administrator may review and object to any variance proposed to be granted by a State, if the objection is communicated to the State not later than 90 days after the State proposes to grant the variance. If the Administrator objects to the granting of a variance, the Administrator shall notify the State in writing of each basis for the objection and propose a modification to the variance to resolve the concerns of the Administrator. The State shall make the recommended modification or respond in writing to each objection. If the State issues the variance without resolving the concerns of the Administrator, the Administrator may overturn the State decision to grant the variance if the Administrator determines that the State decision does not comply with this subsection.

“(ii) PETITION BY CONSUMERS.—Not later than 30 days after a State with primary enforcement responsibility for public water systems under section 1413 proposes to grant a variance for a public water system, any person served by the system may petition the Administrator to object to the granting of a variance. The Administrator shall respond to the petition not later than 60 days after the receipt of the petition. The State shall not grant the variance during the 60-day period. The petition shall be based on comments made by the petitioner during public review of the variance by the State.”.

“(F) specify the technical, financial, or other assistance that the voluntary local partnership requests of the State to develop the partnership or to implement recommendations of the partnership.

“(e) APPROVAL OR DISAPPROVAL OF PETITIONS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—After providing notice and an opportunity for public comment on a petition submitted under subsection (d), the State shall approve or disapprove the petition, in whole or in part, not later than 120 days after the date of submission of the petition.

“(2) APPROVAL.—The State may approve a petition if the petition meets the requirements established under subsection (d). The notice of approval shall, at a minimum, include—

“(A) an identification of technical, financial, or other assistance that the State will provide to assist in addressing the drinking water contaminants that may be addressed by a petition based on—

“(i) the relative priority of the public health concern identified in the petition with respect to the other water quality needs identified by the State;

“(ii) any necessary coordination that the State will perform of the program established under this section with programs implemented or planned by other States under this section; and

“(iii) funds available (including funds available from a State revolving loan fund established under title VI of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act (33 U.S.C. 1381 et seq.) or part G and the appropriate distribution of the funds to assist in implementing the recommendations of the partnership;

“(3) DISAPPROVAL.—If the State disapproves a petition submitted under subsection (d), the State shall notify the entity submitting the petition in writing of the reasons for disapproval. A petition may be resubmitted at any time if—

“(A) new information becomes available;

“(B) conditions affecting the source water that is the subject of the petition change; or

“(C) modifications are made in the type of assistance being requested.

“(f) ELIGIBILITY FOR WATER QUALITY PROTECTION ASSISTANCE.—A sole source aquifer plan developed under section 1427, a wellhead protection plan developed under section 1428, and a source water quality protection measure assisted in response to a petition submitted under subsection (d) shall be eligible for assistance under the Federal Water Pollution Control Act (33 U.S.C. 1251 et seq.), including assistance provided under section 319 and title VI of such Act (33 U.S.C. 1329 and 1381 et seq.), if the project, measure, or practice would be eligible for assistance under such Act. In the case of funds made available under such section 319 to assist a source water quality protection measure in response to a petition submitted under subsection (d), the funds may be used only for a measure that addresses nonpoint source pollution.

“(g) GRANTS TO SUPPORT STATE PROGRAMS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator may make a grant to each State that establishes a program under this section that is approved under paragraph (2). The amount of each grant shall not exceed 50 percent of the cost of administering the program for the year in which the grant is available.

“(2) APPROVAL.—In order to receive grant assistance under this subsection, a State shall submit to the Administrator for approval a plan for a source water quality protection partnership program that is consistent with the guidance published under paragraph (3). The Administrator shall approve the plan if the plan is consistent with the guidance published under paragraph (3).

“(3) GUIDANCE.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 1 year after the date of enactment of this section, the Administrator, in consultation with the States, shall publish guidance to assist—

“(i) States in the development of a source water quality protection partnership program; and “(ii) municipal or local governments or political subdivisions of the governments and community water systems in the development of source water quality protection partnerships and in the assessment of source water quality.

“(B) CONTENTS OF THE GUIDANCE.—The guidance shall, at a minimum—

“(i) recommend procedures for the approval or disapproval by a State of a petition submitted under subsection (d);

“(4) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There are authorized to be appropriated to carry out this subsection such sums as are necessary for fiscal years 1995 through 2003. Each State with a plan for a program approved under paragraph (2) shall receive an equitable portion of the funds available for any fiscal year.

“(h) STATUTORY CONSTRUCTION.—Nothing in this section—

“(1)(A) creates or conveys new authority to a State, political subdivision of a State, or community water system for any new regulatory measure; or

“(B) limits any authority of a State, political subdivision, or community water system; or

“(2) precludes a community water system, municipal or local government, or political subdivision of a government from locally developing and carrying out a voluntary, incentive-based, source water quality protection partnership to address the origins of drinking water contaminants of public health concern.”

SEC. 18. STATE PRIMACY; STATE FUNDING.

(a) STATE PRIMARY ENFORCEMENT RESPONSIBILITY.—Section 1413 (42 U.S.C. 300g-2) is amended—

(1) in subsection (a), by striking paragraph (1) and inserting the following:

“(1) has adopted drinking water regulations that are no less stringent than the national primary drinking water regulations promulgated by the Administrator under section 1412 not later than 2 years after the date on which the regulations are promulgated by the Administrator except that the Administrator may provide for an extension of not more than 2 years if, after submission and review of appropriate, adequate documentation from the State, the Administrator determines that the extension is necessary and justified;”;

(2) by adding at the end the following:

“(c) INTERIM PRIMARY ENFORCEMENT AUTHORITY.—A State that has primary enforcement authority under this section with respect to each existing national primary drinking water regulation shall be considered to have primary enforcement authority with respect to each new or revised national primary drinking water regulation during the period beginning on the effective date of a regulation adopted and submitted by the State with respect to the new or revised national primary drinking water regulation in accordance with subsection (b)(1) and ending at such time as the Administrator makes a determination under subsection (b)(2) with respect to the regulation.”

(b) PUBLIC WATER SYSTEM SUPERVISION PROGRAM.—Section 1443(a) (42 U.S.C. 300j-2(a)) is amended—

(1) in paragraph (3)—

(A) by striking “(3) A grant” and inserting the following:

“(3) AMOUNT OF GRANT.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—A grant”; and

(B) by adding at the end the following:

“(B) DETERMINATION OF COSTS.—To determine the costs of a grant recipient pursuant to this paragraph, the Administrator shall, in cooperation with the States and not later than 180 days after the date of enactment of this subparagraph, establish a resource model for the public water system supervision program and review and revise the model as necessary.

“(C) STATE COST ADJUSTMENTS.—The Administrator shall revise cost estimates used in the resource model for any particular State to reflect costs more likely to be experienced in that State, if—

“(i) the State requests the modification; and

“(ii) the revised estimates ensure full and effective administration of the public water system supervision program in the State and the revised estimates do not overstate the resources needed to administer the program.”;

(2) in paragraph (7), by adding at the end a period and the following:

“For the purpose of making grants under paragraph (1), there are authorized to be appropriated such sums as are necessary for each of fiscal years 1992 and 1993 and $100,000,000 for each of fiscal years 1994 through 2003.”; and

(3) by adding at the end the following:

“(8) RESERVATION OF FUNDS BY THE ADMINISTRATOR.—If the Administrator assumes the primary enforcement responsibility of a State public water system supervision program, the Administrator may reserve from funds made available pursuant to this subsection, an amount equal to the amount that would otherwise have been provided to the State pursuant to this subsection. The Administrator shall use the funds reserved pursuant to this paragraph to ensure the full and effective administration of a public water system supervision program in the State.

“(9) STATE LOAN FUNDS.—

“(A) RESERVATION OF FUNDS.—For any fiscal year for which the amount made available to the Administrator by appropriations to carry out this subsection is less than the amount that the Administrator determines is necessary to supplement funds made available pursuant to paragraph (8) to ensure the full and effective administration of a public water system supervision program in a State (based on the resource model developed under paragraph (3)(B)), the Administrator may reserve from the funds made available to the State under section 1472 an amount that is equal to the amount of the shortfall.

“(B) DUTY OF ADMINISTRATOR.—If the Administrator reserves funds from the allocation of a State under subparagraph (A), the Administrator shall carry out in the State—

“(i) each of the activities that would be required of the State if the State had primary enforcement authority under section 1413; and

“(ii) each of the activities required of the State by this title, other than part C, but not made a condition of the authority.”.

SEC. 19. MONITORING AND INFORMATION GATHERING.

(a) REGULATED CONTAMINANTS.—

(1) REVIEW OF EXISTING REQUIREMENTS.—Section 1445(a)(1) (42 U.S.C. 300j-4(a)(1)) is amended—

(A) by designating the first and second sentences as subparagraphs (A) and (B), respectively; and

(B) by adding at the end the following:

“(C) REVIEW.—The Administrator shall not later than 2 years after the date of enactment of this subparagraph, after consultation with public health experts, representatives of the general public, and officials of State and local governments, review the monitoring requirements for not fewer than 12 contaminants identified by the Administrator, and promulgate any necessary modifications.”.

(2) ALTERNATIVE MONITORING PROGRAMS.—Section 1445(a)(1) (42 U.S.C. 300j-4(a)(1)) (as amended by paragraph (1)(B)) is further amended by adding at the end the following:

“(D) STATE-ESTABLISHED REQUIREMENTS.—

“(i) IN GENERAL.—Each State with primary enforcement responsibility under section 1413 may, by rule, establish alternative monitoring requirements for any national primary drinking water regulation, other than a regulation applicable to a microbial contaminant (or an indicator of a microbial contaminant). The alternative monitoring requirements established by a State under this clause may not take effect for any national primary drinking water regulation until after completion of at least 1 full cycle of monitoring in the State satisfying the requirements of paragraphs (1) and (2) of section 1413(a). The alternative monitoring requirements may be applicable to public water systems or classes of public water systems identified by the State, in lieu of the monitoring requirements that would otherwise be applicable under the regulation, if the alternative monitoring requirements—

“(I) are based on use of the best available science conducted in accordance with sound and objective scientific practices and data collected by accepted methods;

“(II) are based on the potential for the contaminant to occur in the source water based on use patterns and other relevant characteristics of the contaminant or the systems subject to the requirements;

“(III) in the case of a public water system or class of public water systems in which a contaminant has been detected at quantifiable levels that are not reliably and consistently below the maximum contaminant level, include monitoring frequencies that are not less frequent than the frequencies required in the national primary drinking water regulation for the contaminant for a period of 5 years after the detection; and “(IV) in the case of each contaminant formed in the distribution system, are not applicable to public water systems for which treatment is necessary to comply with the national primary drinking water regulation.

“(ii) COMPLIANCE AND ENFORCEMENT.—The alternative monitoring requirements established by the State shall be adequate to ensure compliance with, and enforcement of, each national primary drinking water regulation. The State may review and update the alternative monitoring requirements as necessary.

“(iii) APPLICATION OF SECTION 1413.—

“(I) IN GENERAL.—Each State establishing alternative monitoring requirements under this subparagraph shall submit the rule to the Administrator as provided in section 1413(b)(1). Any requirements for a State to provide information supporting a submission shall be defined only in consultation with the States, and shall address only such information as is necessary to make a decision to approve or disapprove an alternative monitoring rule in accordance with the following sentence. The Administrator shall approve an alternative monitoring rule submitted under this clause for the purposes of section 1413, unless the Administrator determines in writing that the State rule for alternative monitoring does not ensure compliance with, and enforcement of, the national primary drinking water regulation for the contaminant or contaminants to which the rule applies.

“(II) EXCEPTIONS.—The requirements of section 1413(a)(1) that a rule be no less stringent than the national primary drinking water regulation for the contaminant or contaminants to which the rule applies shall not apply to the decision of the Administrator to approve or disapprove a rule submitted under this clause. Notwithstanding the requirements of section 1413(b)(2), the Administrator shall approve or disapprove a rule submitted under this clause within 180 days of submission. In the absence of a determination to disapprove a rule made by the Administrator within 180 days, the rule shall be deemed to be approved under section 1413(b)(2).

“(III) ADDITIONAL CONSIDERATIONS.—A State shall be considered to have primary enforcement authority with regard to an alternative monitoring rule, and the rule shall be effective, on a date (determined by the State) any time on or after submission of the rule, consistent with section 1413(c). A decision by the Administrator to disapprove an alternative monitoring rule under section 1413 or to withdraw the authority of the State to carry out the rule under clause (iv) may not be the basis for withdrawing primary enforcement responsibility for a national primary drinking water regulation or regulations from the State under section 1413.

“(iv) OVERSIGHT BY THE ADMINISTRATOR.—The Administrator shall review, not less often than every 5 years, any alternative monitoring requirements established by a State under clause (i) to determine whether the requirements are adequate to ensure compliance with, and enforcement of, national primary drinking water regulations. If the Administrator determines that the alternative monitoring requirements of a State are inadequate with respect to a contaminant, and after providing the State with an opportunity to respond to the determination of the Administrator and to correct any inadequacies, the Administrator may withdraw the authority of the State to carry out the alternative monitoring requirements with respect to the contaminant. If the Administrator withdraws the authority, the monitoring requirements contained in the national primary drinking water regulation for the contaminant shall apply to public water systems in the State.

“(v) NONPRIMACY STATES.—The Governor of any State that does not have primary enforcement responsibility under section 1413 on the date of enactment of this clause may submit to the Administrator a request that the Administrator modify the monitoring requirements established by the Administrator and applicable to public water systems in that State. After consultation with the Governor, the Administrator shall modify the requirements for public water systems in that State if the request of the Governor is in accordance with each of the requirements of this subparagraph that apply to alternative monitoring requirements established by States that have primary enforcement responsibility. A decision by the Administrator to approve a request under this clause shall be for a period of 3 years and may subsequently be extended for periods of 5 years.

“(vi) GUIDANCE.—The Administrator shall issue guidance in consultation with the States that States may use to develop State-established requirements pursuant to this subparagraph and subparagraph (E). The guidance shall identify options for alternative monitoring designs that meet the criteria identified in clause (i) and the requirements of clause (ii).”

(3) SMALL SYSTEM MONITORING.—Section 1445(a)(1) (42 U.S.C. 300j-4(a)(1)) (as amended by paragraph (2)) is further amended by adding at the end the following:

“(E) SMALL SYSTEM MONITORING.—The Administrator or a State that has primary enforcement responsibility under section 1413 may modify the monitoring requirements for any contaminant, other than a microbial contaminant or an indicator of a microbial contaminant, a contaminant regulated on the basis of an acute health effect, or a contaminant formed in the treatment process or in the distribution system, to provide that any public water system that serves a population of 10,000 or fewer shall not be required to conduct additional quarterly monitoring during any 3-year period for a specific contaminant if monitoring conducted at the beginning of the period for the contaminant fails to detect the presence of the contaminant in the water supplied by the public water system, and the Administrator or the State determines that the contaminant is unlikely to be detected by further monitoring in the period.”

(b) UNREGULATED CONTAMINANTS.—Section 1445(a) (42 U.S.C. 300j-4(a)) is amended by striking paragraphs (2) through (8) and inserting the following:

“(2) MONITORING PROGRAM FOR UNREGULATED CONTAMINANTS.—

“(A) ESTABLISHMENT.—The Administrator shall promulgate regulations establishing the criteria for a monitoring program for unregulated contaminants. The regulations shall require monitoring of drinking water supplied by public water systems and shall vary the frequency and schedule for monitoring requirements for systems based on the number of persons served by the system, the source of supply, and the contaminants likely to be found.

“(B) MONITORING PROGRAM FOR CERTAIN UNREGULATED CONTAMINANTS.—

“(i) INITIAL LIST.—Not later than 3 years after the date of enactment of the Safe Drinking Water Amendments of 1995 and every 5 years thereafter, the Administrator shall issue a list pursuant to subparagraph (A) of not more than 20 unregulated contaminants to be monitored by public water systems and to be included in the national drinking water occurrence data base maintained pursuant to paragraph (3).

“(ii) GOVERNORS’ PETITION.—The Administrator shall include among the list of contaminants for which monitoring is required under this paragraph each contaminant recommended in a petition signed by the Governor of each of 7 or more States, unless the Administrator determines that the action would prevent the listing of other contaminants of a higher public health concern.

“(C) MONITORING BY LARGE SYSTEMS.—A public water system that serves a population of more than 10,000 shall conduct monitoring for all contaminants listed under subparagraph (B).

“(D) MONITORING PLAN FOR SMALL AND MEDIUM SYSTEMS.—

“(i) IN GENERAL.—Based on the regulations promulgated by the Administrator, each State shall develop a representative monitoring plan to assess the occurrence of unregulated contaminants in public water systems that serve a population of 10,000 or fewer. The plan shall require monitoring for systems representative of different sizes, types, and geographic locations in the State.

“(ii) GRANTS FOR SMALL SYSTEM COSTS.—From funds reserved under section 1478(c), the Administrator shall pay the reasonable cost of such testing and laboratory analysis as are necessary to carry out monitoring under the plan.

“(E) MONITORING RESULTS.—Each public water system that conducts monitoring of unregulated contaminants pursuant to this paragraph shall provide the results of the monitoring to the primary enforcement authority for the system.

“(F) WAIVER OF MONITORING REQUIREMENT.—The Administrator shall waive the requirement for monitoring for a contaminant under this paragraph in a State, if the State demonstrates that the criteria for listing the contaminant do not apply in that State.

“(G) ANALYTICAL METHODS.—The State may use screening methods approved by the Administrator under subsection (h) in lieu of monitoring for particular contaminants under this paragraph.

“(H) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There are authorized to be appropriated to carry out this paragraph $10,000,000 for each of fiscal years 1995 through 2003.”

(c) NATIONAL DRINKING WATER OCCURRENCE DATABASE.—Section 1445(a) (42 U.S.C. 300j-4(a)) (as amended by subsection (b)) is further amended by adding at the end the following:

“(3) NATIONAL DRINKING WATER OCCURRENCE DATABASE.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 3 years after the date of enactment of the Safe Drinking Water Act Amendments of 1995, the Administrator shall assemble and maintain a national drinking water occurrence data base, using information on the occurrence of both regulated and unregulated contaminants in public water systems obtained under paragraph (2) and reliable information from other public and private sources.

“(B) USE.—The data shall be used by the Administrator in making determinations under section 1412(b)(1) with respect to the occurrence of a contaminant in drinking water at a level of public health concern.

“(C) PUBLIC RECOMMENDATIONS.—The Administrator shall periodically solicit recommendations from the appropriate officials of the National Academy of Sciences and the States, and any person may submit recommendations to the Administrator, with respect to contaminants that should be included in the national drinking water occurrence data base, including recommendations with respect to additional unregulated contaminants that should be listed under paragraph (2). Any recommendation submitted under this clause shall be accompanied by reasonable documentation that—

“(i) the contaminant occurs or is likely to occur in drinking water; and “(ii) the contaminant poses a risk to public health.

“(D) PUBLIC AVAILABILITY.—The information from the data base shall be available to the public in readily accessible form.

“(E) REGULATED CONTAMINANTS.—With respect to each contaminant for which a national primary drinking water regulation has been established, the data base shall include information on the detection of the contaminant at a quantifiable level in public water systems (including detection of the contaminant at levels not constituting a violation of the maximum contaminant level for the contaminant).

“(F) UNREGULATED CONTAMINANTS.—With respect to contaminants for which a national primary drinking water regulation has not been established, the data base shall include—

“(i) monitoring information collected by public water systems that serve a population of more than 10,000, as required by the Administrator under paragraph (2);

“(ii) monitoring information collected by the States from a representative sampling of public water systems that serve a population of 10,000 or fewer; and

“(iii) other reliable and appropriate monitoring information on the occurrence of the contaminants in public water systems that is available to the Administrator.”.

(d) INFORMATION.—

(1) MONITORING AND TESTING AUTHORITY.—Subparagraph (A) of section 1445(a)(1) (42 U.S.C. 300j-4(a)(1)) (as designated by subsection (a)(1)(A)) is amended—

(A) by inserting “by accepted methods” after “conduct such monitoring”; and

(B) by striking “such information as the Administrator may reasonably require” and all that follows through the period at the end and inserting the following: “such information as the Administrator may reasonably require—

“(i) to assist the Administrator in establishing regulations under this title or to assist the Administrator in determining, on a case-by-case basis, whether the person has acted or is acting in compliance with this title; and

“(ii) by regulation to assist the Administrator in determining compliance with national primary drinking water regulations promulgated under section 1412 or in administering any program of financial assistance under this title.

If the Administrator is requiring monitoring for purposes of testing new or alternative methods, the Administrator may require the use of other than accepted methods. Information requirements imposed by the Administrator pursuant to the authority of this subparagraph that require monitoring, the establishment or maintenance of records or reporting, by a substantial number of public water systems (determined in the sole discretion of the Administrator), shall be established by regulation as provided in clause (ii).”.

(2) SCREENING METHODS.—Section 1445 (42 U.S.C. 300j-4) (as amended by section 12(c)) is further amended by adding at the end the following:

“(h) SCREENING METHODS.—The Administrator shall review new analytical methods to screen for regulated contaminants and may approve such methods as are more accurate or cost-effective than established reference methods for use in compliance monitoring.”.

SEC. 20. PUBLIC NOTIFICATION.

Section 1414 (42 U.S.C. 300g-3) is amended by striking subsection (c) and inserting the following:

“(c) NOTICE TO PERSONS SERVED.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—Each owner or operator of a public water system shall give notice to the persons served by the system—

“(A) of any failure on the part of the public water system to—

“(i) comply with an applicable maximum contaminant level or treatment technique requirement of, or a testing procedure prescribed by, a national primary drinking water regulation; or

“(ii) perform monitoring required by section 1445(a);

“(B) if the public water system is subject to a variance granted under section 1415(a)(1)(A), 1415(a)(2), or 1415(e) for an inability to meet a maximum contaminant level requirement or is subject to an exemption granted under section 1416, of—

“(i) the existence of the variance or exemption; and

“(ii) any failure to comply with the requirements of any schedule prescribed pursuant to the variance or exemption; and

“(C) of the concentration level of any unregulated contaminant for which the Administrator has required public notice pursuant to paragraph (2)(E).

(2) FORM, MANNER, AND FREQUENCY OF NOTICE.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator shall, by regulation, and after consultation with the States, prescribe the manner, frequency, form, and content for giving notice under this subsection. The regulations shall—

“(i) provide for different frequencies of notice based on the differences between violations that are intermittent or infrequent and violations that are continuous or frequent; and “(ii) take into account the seriousness of any potential adverse health effects that may be involved.

“(B) STATE REQUIREMENTS.—

“(i) IN GENERAL.—A State may, by rule, establish alternative notification requirements—

“(I) with respect to the form and content of notice given under and in a manner in accordance with subparagraph (C); and “(II) with respect to the form and content of notice given under subparagraph (D).

“(ii) CONTENTS.—The alternative requirements shall provide the same type and amount of information as required pursuant to this subsection and regulations issued under subparagraph (A).

“(iii) RELATIONSHIP TO SECTION 1413.—Nothing in this subparagraph shall be construed or applied to modify the requirements of section 1413.

“(C) VIOLATIONS WITH POTENTIAL TO HAVE SERIOUS ADVERSE EFFECTS ON HUMAN HEALTH.—Regulations issued under subparagraph (A) shall specify notification procedures for each violation by a public water system that has the potential to have serious adverse effects on human health as a result of short-term exposure. Each notice of violation provided under this subparagraph shall—

“(i) be distributed as soon as practicable after the occurrence of the violation, but not later than 24 hours after the occurrence of the violation;

“(ii) provide a clear and readily understandable explanation of—

“(I) the violation;

“(II) the potential adverse effects on human health;

“(III) the steps that the public water system is taking to correct the violation; and

“(IV) the necessity of seeking alternative water supplies until the violation is corrected;

“(iii) be provided to the Administrator or the head of the State agency that has primary enforcement responsibility under section 1413 as soon as practicable, but not later than 24 hours after the occurrence of the violation; and

“(iv) as required by the State agency in general regulations of the State agency, or on a case-by-case basis after the consultation referred to in clause (iii), considering the health risks involved—

“(I) be provided to appropriate broadcast media;

“(II) be prominently published in a newspaper of general circulation serving the area not later than 1 day after distribution of a notice pursuant to clause (i) or the date of publication of the next issue of the newspaper; or “(III) be provided by posting or door-to-door notification in lieu of notification by means of broadcast media or newspaper.

“(D) WRITTEN NOTICE.—

“(i) IN GENERAL.—Regulations issued under subparagraph (A) shall specify notification procedures for violations other than the violations covered by subparagraph (C). The procedures shall specify that a public water system shall provide written notice to each person served by the system by notice—

“(I) in the first bill (if any) prepared after the date of occurrence of the violation;

“(II) in an annual report issued not later than 1 year after the date of occurrence of the violation; or “(III) by mail or direct delivery as soon as practicable, but not later than 1 year after the date of occurrence of the violation.

“(ii) FORM AND MANNER OF NOTICE.—The Administrator shall prescribe the form and manner of the notice to provide a clear and readily understandable explanation of—

“(I) the violation;

“(II) any potential adverse health effects; and

“(III) the steps that the system is taking to seek alternative water supplies, if any, until the violation is corrected.

“(E) UNREGULATED CONTAMINANTS.—The Administrator may require the owner or operator of a public water system to give notice to the persons served by the system of the concentration levels of an unregulated contaminant required to be monitored under section 1445(a).

“(3) REPORTS.—

“(A) ANNUAL REPORT BY STATE.—

“(i) IN GENERAL.—Not later than January 1, 1997, and annually thereafter, each State that has primary enforcement responsibility under section 1413 shall prepare, make readily available to the public, and submit to the Administrator an annual report on violations of national primary drinking water regulations by public water systems in the State, including violations with respect to—

“(I) maximum contaminant levels;

“(II) treatment requirements;

“(III) variances and exemptions; and “(IV) monitoring requirements determined to be significant by the Administrator after consultation with the States.

submitted by States pursuant to subparagraph (A) and notices submitted by public water systems serving Indian Tribes provided to the Administrator pursuant to subparagraph (C) or (D) of paragraph (2) and making recommendations concerning the resources needed to improve compliance with this title. The report shall include information about public water system compliance on Indian reservations and about enforcement activities undertaken and financial assistance provided by the Administrator on Indian reservations, and shall make specific recommendations concerning the resources needed to improve compliance with this title on Indian reservations."

SEC. 21. ENFORCEMENT; JUDICIAL REVIEW.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 1414 (42 U.S.C. 300g-3) is amended—

- (1) in subsection (a)—
- (A) in paragraph (1)—
- (i) in subparagraph (A)—

(I) in clause (i), by striking "any national primary drinking water regulation in effect under section 1412" and inserting "any applicable requirement"; and

(II) by striking "with such regulation or requirement" and inserting "with the requirement"; and

(ii) in subparagraph (B), by striking "regulation or" and inserting "applicable"; and

(B) by striking paragraph (2) and inserting the following:

"(2) ENFORCEMENT IN NONPRIMACY STATES.—

"(A) IN GENERAL.—If, on the basis of information available to the Administrator, the Administrator finds, with respect to a period in which a State does not have primary enforcement responsibility for public water systems, that a public water system in the State—

Sickle cell disease is a painful, life-threatening, genetic disease. Approximately 1 of every 12 African-Americans is born with the sickle cell genetic trait, and about 1 in every 600 is afflicted with sickle cell disease. Sickle cell conditions are also found, although less frequently, in other United States populations, including those of Puerto Rican, Cuban, and southern Italian ancestry. The disease has also recently been found in some Caucasians.

Sickle cell disease is based in the circulatory system and is a painful and disabling disorder for which there is currently no cure. In a healthy body, red blood cells contain the substance hemoglobin which carries oxygen from the lungs to various organs and tissues. This role of hemoglobin is essential to life because all body components require oxygen to live and carry out their functions. Diseased bodies have an abnormal type of hemoglobin which interrupts the flow of oxygen to these vital organs.

Red blood cells that contain normal hemoglobin remain round when they release oxygen. Cells with abnormal or sickle hemoglobin, upon releasing oxygen, become distorted into the shape of a sickle causing a chronic and painful anemia. Distorted, or sickled cells cannot traverse capillaries, further limiting oxygen supply to the body's tissues.

Mr. President, the minority population in the State of Louisiana is about 1.29 million people. Of this number roughly 3,250 people are suspected of having the disease, and of this number, 25 percent will have the most acute and serious form, which is often fatal. Alarming, about 130,000 Louisianians carry the genetic trait for this illness.

Mr. President, despite the fact that the cause of the sickle cell disease has been known for many years, progress has not been made in finding suitable treatment. Currently, the most common treatment for the illness is pain relief medication, treating only the immediate symptoms. Treating only the symptoms results in tissue damage, often to major organs, with each successive episode of oxygen deprivation. Consequently, many of those afflicted with severe forms of the disease often do not even live to see adulthood.

Concerned with finding a cure for a disease that has such a devastating effect on the Nation's minority populations, Southern University in Baton Rouge, LA, the largest predominately African-American university in the United States, has committed itself to the creation of a center for sickle cell disease research.

With a single purpose, this center will conduct multidisciplinary research to lead to the discovery of a cure for sickle cell disease. The center will conduct basic biomedical research to determine the types of drugs that can prevent, inhibit, or reverse the sickling process, along with clinical research and joint studies to conduct clinical trials on antisickling agents. In addition, the center will work with other institutions to promote and enhance scholarship and teaching knowledge in order to disseminate newly gained knowledge on the disease.

Mr. President, it is important to note that the Louisiana State Legislature in recognition of the importance of such a center, and even in these exceedingly hard economic times, has committed $7 million to this project. To complete the center, and to be able to provide this valuable public health research, Southern University needs Federal assistance. To provide this assistance, I offer a bill to authorize the Secretary of Health and Human Services to award a grant for the creation of this center. This legislation will direct the Secretary to provide a grant to the Louisiana Department of Health and Hospitals for the establishment and construction of the National Center for Sickle Cell Disease Research at Southern University in Baton Rouge.

Mr. President, sickle cell disease is a vital public health problem which this bill would assist in overcoming. Such funding can only aid in the development of this Nation. I urge my colleagues to support this important legislation.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the text of the bill be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the bill was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

S. 1442

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. FINDINGS AND PURPOSE.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that:

(1) Sickle Cell Disease is a serious illness that disproportionately affects African-Americans.

(2) Approximately 1 out of every 12 African-Americans is born with the sickle cell trait, and about 1 out of every 600 is afflicted with Sickle Cell Disease.

(3) Sickle Cell conditions also occur in other United States populations, primarily those of Puerto Rican, Cuban, southern Italian ancestry and more recently sickle cell has been found in some Caucasian individuals.

(4) Sickle Cell Disease is a painful and disabling disorder which can lead to untimely death and is caused by inadequate transportation of oxygen due to an abnormal type of hemoglobin molecule in the red blood cells.

(5) Sickle Cell Disease is an inherited disease which can be transmitted to offspring, particularly if both parents carry the genetic trait.

(6) The sickle cell trait carriers show no sign of the disease, but statistically, 1 in 4 of their children will be afflicted with the disease.

(7) There is no national research center devoted to Sickle Cell Disease in the United States.

(8) There is no known cure for Sickle Cell Disease at this time and there is a need for prioritized and specialized research to find such a cure for this severely disabling disease.

(9) Louisiana's minority population is 1,299,281.

(10) Of this number, a suspected 3,248 individuals will have the disease and of those individuals, 25 percent (812 individuals) will have the most acute and serious stage of Sickle Cell Disease, a stage that is usually fatal.

(11) Some 129,928 individuals in Louisiana will carry the sickle cell trait.

(12) Southern University, located in Baton Rouge, Louisiana is the largest predominately African-American university in the United States.

(13) Approximately 16,700 students attend this 112 year old school and Southern graduates are located throughout the United States and the world.

(14) The State of Louisiana through the Louisiana Legislature and Southern University, has shown great leadership and committed significant financial and personnel resources towards the development of a National Center for Sickle Cell Disease Research.

(15) Because Southern University has committed its resources and personnel to seeing this project through to its ultimate goal, finding a cure for Sickle Cell Disease, and because of Southern University's large minority population it is appropriate to locate the National Center for Sickle Cell Disease Research at Southern University in Baton Rouge.

(b) PURPOSE.—It is the purpose of this Act to establish a National Center for Sickle Cell Disease at Southern University in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, that will have the following objectives—

(1) to conduct biomedical research and clinical investigations designed to find a cure for Sickle Cell Disease;

(2) to conduct a wide variety of human behavioral studies designed to provide new knowledge about such issues as the effectiveness of various counseling and education methods, and techniques to improve coping skills on the part of patients and their families;

(3) to establish collaborative arrangements and joint research programs and projects with other Louisiana institutions of higher education, such as Louisiana State University Medical Centers at New Orleans and Shreveport and Tulane University Medical Center to conduct clinical trials on anti-sickling agents;

(4) to provide expanded opportunities for faculty members at the institutions described in paragraph (3) to publish in the three broad areas of basic biomedical research, psychosocial research and clinical research;

(5) to become a laboratory for training both graduate and undergraduate students in research methods and techniques concerning Sickle Cell Disease; and

(6) to develop, promote and implement joint research projects with other public and private higher education institutions including teaching hospitals on Sickle Cell Disease.

SEC. 2. NATIONAL CENTER FOR SICKLE CELL DISEASE RESEARCH.

(a) GRANT.—The Secretary of Health and Human Services shall award a grant to the Louisiana Department of Health and Hospitals for the establishment and construction of the National Center for Sickle Cell Disease Research at Southern University in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, and for related facilities and equipment at such Center. Prior to the awarding of such grant, the State of Louisiana shall certify to the Secretary—

(1) that the State of Louisiana has provided not less than $7,000,000 to support and operate such Center; and

(2) that the State of Louisiana has developed a plan to provide funds for the continued operation and support of such center.

(b) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There is authorized to be appropriated $21,000,000 to carry out the purposes of this Act. ●

By Mr. SIMON (for himself and Ms. MOSELEY-BRAUN):

S. 1443. A bill to designate the United States Post Office building located at 102 South McLean, Lincoln, IL, as the "Edward Madigan Post Office Building," and for other purposes; to the Committee on Governmental Affairs.

THE EDWARD MADIGAN POST OFFICE BUILDING DESIGNATION ACT OF 1995

● Mr. SIMON. Mr. President, I am pleased to introduce, along with Senator MOSELEY-BRAUN, a bill to designate the post office of Lincoln, IL, as the Edward Madigan Post Office Building.

I served with Ed Madigan in the Illinois Legislature, where we worked on a variety of things together, and then I served with him in the House here in Washington.

He was one of those people who had common sense and a graciousness about him that was infectious.

He knew how to disagree without creating hostility. He was a remarkable person.

When we had a vacancy in the office of Secretary of Agriculture, I called him and said I wanted to call President Bush's chief of staff in Ed Madigan's behalf unless he had an objection. He had none, and I was pleased to call John Sununu and tell him that if they wanted someone who could get along with Democrats and Republicans and still do a very good job, they could not do better than Ed Madigan.

I am sure a great many people with much more influence than PAUL SIMON conveyed the same message.

It was typical of Ed Madigan that I called him, rather than the other way around.

He was a great public servant, but even more important than that, he was just a genuinely fine human being.

I am pleased to introduce this legislation. My only regret is that Ed Madigan is not around to see this building designated for him. He was proud of his hometown of Lincoln, and I know the people in Lincoln are proud of him.

TRIBUTE TO MAURICE ROSENBERG

• Mr. HEFLIN. Mr. President, Maurice Rosenberg, who passed away late last summer, was a well-known advocate for judicial reform on the State and Federal levels of government. He was a professor at Columbia University's School of Law. I had the great pleasure of working with him extensively over the years on the issues of court reform and judicial administration. He had a keen legal mind that led him to contribute enormously to our system of jurisprudence.

During his 39-year tenure as a professor at Columbia, Dr. Rosenberg wrote and lectured extensively on the legal system, particularly on issues of procedure and access to the courts. He had an intense dislike for the staggering increase in cases which clog the courts and proposed measures to help ease the burden. One of his recommendations was to replace juries in small-claims cases with arbitrators. During a 1977 interview, he questioned the effect on society as a whole of people being so quick to sue each other in court.

Between 1971 and 1975, Dr. Rosenberg headed the Advisory Council on Appellate Justice and was later on the Council on the Role of the Courts. In 1979, President Carter appointed him Assistant Attorney General in charge of the Office for Improvements in the Administration of Justice. Previously, he had served on the mayor's committee on the judiciary in New York City. In 1980, he was appointed by Chief Justice Warren Burger to the Federal Advisory Committee on Rules of Civil Procedure, on which he served until 1987. A graduate of Syracuse University, he received his law degree from Columbia.

Dr. Rosenberg was an outstanding court scholar, professor, and lawyer who early on foresaw what is now called the litigation explosion. He acknowledged that part of the increase in litigation and in the law's complexity was due to greater public awareness of rights and a willingness to try them out in court. He once said, “That is certainly preferable to having them tested in the streets.” But he also felt that law schools should do more to sensitize students to possibilities other than simply adopting an adversarial frame of mind.

Maurice Rosenberg will long be remembered as one of this century's legal giants. His contributions to the field of jurisprudence will be lasting and will guide scholarly thought for decades to come. I extend my sincerest condolences to his family in the wake of their tremendous loss.●

(At the request of Mr. DASCHLE, the following statement was ordered to be printed in the RECORD.)

CANADIAN FOOTBALL LEAGUE CHAMPION BALTIMORE STALLIONS

Ms. MIKULSKI. Mr. President, my hometown of Baltimore has always been a great sports city. We have a tradition of excellence in baseball with the Orioles, and last summer we celebrated the magical endurance streak of Cal Ripken, Jr.

I am proud to say that a new chapter in our tradition of sports excellence was written on November 19, 1995. The Baltimore Stallions defeated the Calgary Stampeders for the Canadian Football League's championship, the Grey Cup. The Grey Cup is the ultimate achievement in the CFL, and it will now reside in the United States for the first time in the 106-year history of the league.

To win the Grey Cup, a team must combine tremendous athletic ability with leadership, and come together as a team. Last year the Stallions gave the fans their best effort, but came up short for the CFL championship. This year was going to be different. The Stallions came back with renewed intensity and desire. Their goal was to bring the Grey Cup to Baltimore, and they worked until their dream became a reality.

The Stallions' victory gives Baltimore three championships in three professional football leagues. The Stallions join the National Football League's Colts and the U.S. Football League's Stars as Baltimore champions.

I want to extend my congratulations to the owner of the Stallions, Jim Speros, and his dedicated players and coaches. They truly deserve this championship, and they have made Baltimore proud.●

IRONY ABOUND AS RETIRED OHIO SENATOR BEMOANS BROWNS' FATE

● Mr. SIMON. Mr. President, there is no one with whom I have served in my years in Congress for whom I have greater respect than Senator Howard Metzenbaum, our former colleague from Ohio.

One of the few issues where we differed was on the antitrust exemption for professional baseball.

The recent moves of professional football teams, particularly the movement of the Cleveland Browns to Baltimore, suggests that the antitrust exemption for baseball may be a very good thing for professional sports, as well as the communities involved.

Recently, a veteran sports writer for the Chicago Tribune, Jerome Holtzman, had a column about movement of the Browns and its relationship to antitrust baseball. I ask that this be printed in the RECORD. In fairness, I should add that the Chicago Tribune owns the Chicago Cubs, but I have no reason to believe that Jerome Holtzman is not writing from conviction.

The column follows:

[From the Chicago Tribune, Nov. 21, 1995]

IRONY ABOUND AS RETIRED OHIO SENATOR
BEMOANS BROWNS' FATE
(By Jerome Holtzman)

Put in a call Howard Metzenbaum, the recently retired Democratic senator from Ohio, and had only one simple question.

After years of attempting to rid baseball of its antitrust exemption, what were his thoughts about his beloved Cleveland Browns moving to Baltimore?

"It's horrible," Metzenbaum said from his office in Pompano Beach, Fla. "It's a travesty. No community was more supportive of its team than the fans in Cleveland. I was back in Cleveland for one day and the feeling of outrage is unbelievable. And I've lived in Cleveland all my life—78 years."

Certainly, he understood the Browns are able to pick up and hotfoot it to Baltimore because the National Football League does not have an antitrust exemption.

"That argument can be made," he conceded.

Yet, as the chairman of the Antitrust Committee of the Senate Judiciary Committee, he helped introduce legislation that sought to repeal baseball's exemption.

Doesn't he see the irony?

He is losing his hometown football team and if baseball didn't have antitrust protection, Cleveland also would have lost its baseball team. The Indians would have flown the coop years ago.

"I can't argue that," he replied. "They could have been moved."

He launched into a meaningless panegyric about the difference in ownership today compared with years ago:

"There are not the same kind of owners that were in the field yesteryear. Now, you're talking about multimillionaires who have a plaything. Before, it wasn't a question of making money. It was the pride of having a team in your community. Much of that doesn't exist anymore."

It certainly seems that way. But the senator is naive. If he had read up on baseball history he would discover most owners have been motivated by money, beginning with the 1869 Cincinnati Red Stockings, baseball's first professional team. To increase attendance, the owner encouraged the players to open with a song:

"We are a band of baseball players
From Cincinnati City;
We come to toss the ball around
And sing to you our ditty;
And if you listen to the song
We are about to sing,
We'll tell you all about baseball
And make the welkin ring.
The ladies want to know
Who are those gallant men in Stocking red, they'd like to know."

The only owner in my time who appeared mostly to be a gentleman sportsman was the late Philip K. Wrigley, the longtime caretaker of the Cubs. He didn't need the money because the gum business kept him and his family in viddles.

Metzenbaum was asked if, in his opinion, anything could be done to prevent the Browns from moving to Baltimore?

"The league won't do much," he acknowledged. "If push comes to shove they'll probably be able to move the team."

But if professional football had the exemption, the carpetbaggers couldn't move their franchises at will. They couldn't transplant without the approval of a majority of their fellow owners. And so the owners jump around like flies, forever devouring the sweetest fruit, a movable feast.

In the last 13 years, the Oakland Raiders have navigated a round trip—to Los Angeles and back to Oakland. The Los Angeles Rams are now in St. Louis. The Baltimore Colts are in Indianapolis. The Phoenix Cardinals were previously based in St. Louis. The Houston Oilers are enroute to Nashville. And the shameless Mike McCaskey, president of our Bears, is threatening to relocate to Gary.

I can't resist mentioning all the baseball bashing since the players' 1994 strike that forced cancellation of the World Series. But which is preferable? A temporary baseball shutdown, with replacements on the field, or no team at all?

Because of its exemption, the baseball map is unchanged since 1972 when the Washington Senators were allowed to move to Texas. In the 23 years since, the San Francisco Giants were denied a ticket to St. Petersburg, Fla. Minnesota's jump to Tampa was aborted, as was the White Sox to Denver, Oakland to Denver and Seattle to St. Petersburg.

The Pittsburgh Pirates and Cleveland Indians, when both were in poverty—the Pirates have yet to escape from the poor-house—repeatedly have sought greener fields. But they were ordered to stay put and could be sold only to local ownership groups. The Houston Astros now are threatening to move to somewhere in Virginia. Will they get permission? I doubt it.

"Fortunately, because of the events of the last four months everyone seems to better appreciate our position," said acting commissioner Bud Selig. "In all the times I have testified in Washington, and especially before Sen. Metzenbaum, I emphasized the exemption has been good for our fans. It has enabled us to stabilize our franchises."

I mentioned that I was planning to speak to Metzenbaum, formerly baseball's No. 1 congressional nemesis.

"Oh," said Selig, "send him my best regards. And be sure to tell him that in the 26 years I've been in baseball the Indians tried to move out of Cleveland at least four times."●

TRIBUTE TO CHARLES GOMILLION

● Mr. HEFLIN. Mr. President, Charles Goode Gomillion, who passed away on October 4 at the age of 95, will go down in history as the leader of the struggle to bring political power to the black majority of citizens in Tuskegee, AL. The case Gomillion versus Lightfoot ultimately yielded a landmark U.S. Supreme Court decision on the issue of re-districting. The decision in the case is also recognized by legal scholars as a major step forward in the dual causes of civil and voting rights.

Charles Gomillion will long be remembered as a pioneer who took a firm stand on principle and by so doing paved the way for major advances in the cause of equality. His legacy is that of social progress; his political moderation and temperament present an outstanding example of how to work within the constitutional system to effect positive change. I extend my condolences to his family.

I ask that a New York Times article on the landmark remapping case be printed in the RECORD.

The article follows:

[From the New York Times]

CHARLES GOMILLION, 95, FIGURE IN LANDMARK
REMAP CASE, DIES

(By Robert McG. Thomas, Jr.)

Charles G. Gomillion, who led the fight that brought political power to the black majority in Tuskegee, Ala., with the assistance of a landmark Supreme Court case that bears his name, died on Oct. 4 at a hospital in Montgomery, Ala. He was 95 and until his recent return to Tuskegee had lived the last 25 years in Washington and Roebing, N.J.

Mr. Gomillion, a native of Edgefield, S.C., had a long and distinguished career as a sociology professor and dean at Tuskegee University, but it was his role as a civic leader that made Charles Goode Gomillion a footnote to constitutional legal history in 1960.

As the president of the Tuskegee Civic Association, an organization he had helped found in 1941, he was the lead plaintiff in a suit that successfully challenged a blatant act of gerrymandering designed to exclude all but a handful of black voters from municipal elections.

Alarmed by a voter registration drive led by Mr. Gomillion's organization, the Alabama Legislature redrew the town's boundaries in 1957, leaving Tuskegee University and all but a handful of black families outside the city limits.

What had been a perfect square was now a 28-sided figure that some likened to a snake and others to a sea dragon. Whatever the trope, the lines had been so skillfully drawn that although as many as 12 black voters remained inside a city that once had 5,400 black residents, not a single one of the city's 1,310 white residents had been excluded.

Mr. Gomillion and 11 other association members filed Federal suit seeking to bar Mayor Philip M. Lightfoot and other city officials from enforcing the state statute on the ground that it was a transparent effort to circumvent the 15th Amendment's voting guarantees. Two lower courts, citing a 1946 Supreme Court opinion by Justice Felix Frankfurter, ruled that such state action was beyond judicial review.

When the case, Gomillion v. Lightfoot, came before the Supreme Court in 1960, Justice Frankfurter, describing the new configuration as "an uncouth 28-sided figure," found otherwise and so did all eight of his colleagues.

Deftly distinguishing Gomillion, from the 1946 case, which involved Congressional districts of unequal population in Illinois, Justice Frankfurter said the Tuskegee case involved "affirmative action" by legislature that "singled out a readily isolated segment of a racial minority for special discriminatory treatment."

He and seven other justices said that a statute that had the effect of disenfranchising black voters would be a violation of the 15th Amendment. Justice Charles E. Whittaker, suggesting that there would be no disenfranchisement since the excluded former Tuskegee residents could vote in county elections said it would instead be a violation of the 14th Amendment.

The case was sent back to District Court and the next year Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. declared the statute was indeed unconstitutional.

The former city limits were restored and within years the black majority has taken over both the city and county governments, much to the consternation of Mr. Comillion, who served for a while on the school board.

A soft-spoken moderate who had worked quietly to enlist the support of liberal-minded white allies in Tuskegee, he was dismayed when a plan to integrate local schools was sabotaged by Gov. George C. Wallace. The Governor ordered the schools closed, creating such rancor that white residents created a private school, black radicals swept Mr. Gomillion and other moderates aside and in turn white families fled. Today, only a handful of white families remain in Tuskegee.

As his dream of a truly integrated community, with black and white leaders working together for the common good, died, Mr. Gomillion, who retired from Tuskegee in 1970, left, too.

Although his moderate approach was rejected by a majority of the black voters, at least one of the former radicals now regrets it.

"The man was right," Otis Pinkard said yesterday, recalling that he had once led the faction that opposed the Gomillion approach, "We should not have run all the white families out of town."

Mr. Gomillion is survived by a daughter, Gwendolyn Chaires of Roebing; three grandchildren; three great-grandchildren, and one great-great-grandchild.●

ON THE RETIREMENT OF LAUREN F. OTIS

● Mr. MOYNIHAN. Mr. President, I rise today to wish great congratulations to Lauren F. Otis, who retired Thursday, November 30, 1995, after 28 years of dedicated service to the city of New York's department of city planning.

Mr. Otis has been with the department of city planning since 1967, the last 11 as chief urban designer. In this capacity, he has acted as a consultant to the chairman and the city planning commission on a variety of urban matters while developing comprehensive studies of the five boroughs of New York City as an overall framework for individual projects. Prior to becoming the chief urban designer, Mr. Otis was a key member of a team of architectural professionals who developed new zoning and regulatory approaches for the development of Midtown Manhattan and the Wall Street area. Some of his individual urban design highlights include Times Square, the Citicorp Center and the Sliver Building zoning amendment.

A graduate of Harvard College and Harvard University School of Design, Mr. Otis served in the U.S. Navy Civil Engineer Corps from 1955-58 before moving to architectural design, working as a staff architect for I.M. Pei & Partners before joining the city of New York.

In addition to Mr. Otis' work in the department of city planning, his patronage of New York City's cultural spirit as mayor's representative to the New York City Art Commission between 1982 and 1992, the last 7 years as vice president, and as a representative to the New York City Historic Properties Fund deserves recognition.

Mr. President, I hope my colleagues will join me in wishing him the best of luck in his much deserved retirement.●

SOCIAL SECURITY DISABILITY WAITING PERIOD

● Ms. MIKULSKI. Mr. President, I rise today to make my colleagues aware of a very unfortunate situation involving Social Security disability benefits.

In our law, there is a 6-month waiting period before a Social Security disability applicant can receive payments. If a person is diagnosed with a deadly disease, and is eligible to receive Social Security disability, that person must wait 6 months before the payments arrive. This waiting period often comes at a time in a person's life when treatment must begin immediately. Many of these people simply cannot afford to wait. Far too often, the results of this forced waiting period are financial devastation for families.

One of my Maryland constituents, Mitchell Berman, was stricken by a terrible illness which required full-time care in a nursing home. Mr. Berman and his wife, Marjorie, were forced to sell nearly everything they owned to cover the health care costs. By the time Mr. Berman's payments began to arrive, it was too late; they had spent much of their life's savings. Mr. Berman's disease was not curable, and I am very sorry to say that he has died.

To honor the memory of her husband, Marjorie Berman has started her own crusade to make lawmakers and families aware of the financial effect the waiting period can have. I salute Marjorie Berman for her courage and her steadfast devotion to her husband.

Earlier this year, I encouraged the Senate Finance Committee to explore this issue. In today's political climate, I know that funding for many programs is being cut back and eligibility for some programs is being tightened.

But I encourage my colleagues to take a close look at this issue and ask if the Social Security disability waiting period is serving a useful Government purpose and responding to the needs of people. I also ask my colleagues to listen to the stories of their own constituents who have been affected by this waiting period and have not been able to get the help when they need it. I think my colleagues will find that the waiting period does not serve the needs of people.●

THE PROS KNOW WHY PRISON FAILS

● Mr. SIMON. Mr. President, I would like to draw my colleagues' attention to an op-ed written by Coleman McCarthy in the September 9, 1995, Washington Post.

In discussing prison policies, Mr. McCarthy draws an important distinction between professional and amateur opinions. No matter how we like to flatter ourselves, Members of Congress are amateurs when it comes to understanding what works to reduce crime. The professionals are the people who work in prisons and the criminal justice system every day. Unfortunately, it is the amateurs who get to set policy, and, according to the professionals, we are doing a lousy job.

One year ago, I sponsored a survey of prison wardens asking for their views on our criminal justice and prison policies. Eight-five percent of the wardens said that most politicians are not offering effective solutions to crime. Instead of building more prisons and passing mandatory minimum sentencing laws, the wardens overwhelmingly favored providing vocational—92 percent—and literacy—93 percent—training to prisoners, and 89 percent support drug treatment programs in prisons. Congress has been quick to defund these programs, and pour scarce resources into prison construction, in the rush to be tough on crime.

The reality is that most prisoners will at some point be released, and our goal should be to ensure that those released from prison do not return to a criminal lifestyle. The Huron House in Michigan, a community-based alternative sentencing program which Mr. McCarthy refers to in his piece, costs less and is more effective at reducing recidivism than prisons.

In setting prison policies, we need to be more focused on what works. The best way to find out is to consult the professionals.

I ask that the full text of the op-ed be printed in the RECORD.

The material follows:

THE PROS KNOW WHY PRISONS FAIL

(By Coleman McCarthy)

PORT HURON, MICH.—Robert Diehl, who works with prisoners, believes it's time to get tough on crime. How? To begin with, not by longer sentences, not by building more prisons and not by agreeing with California Gov. Pete Wilson, who announced his presidential candidacy with the preachment that he'll "appoint judges who know that it's better to have thugs overcrowding our jails than overcrowding your neighborhood."

Diehl's philosophy of toughness involves the arduous and complex work of rescuing people with messed-up lives. He is the director of Huron House, a nonprofit, community-based alternative sentencing program for felony offenders. The three-story, 30-bed facility—located on a residential street in this small lakeshore community 60 miles north of Detroit—provides intensive 24-hour supervision and comprehensive services ranging from job training and job placement to mental health and drug counseling.

It isn't blind faith, much less addled thinking, that keeps Diehl going. In the 15 years he's been with Huron House, which opened in 1979, fewer than one in five men and women in the program has committed a new crime. The recidivism rate for the imprisoned is two out of three. It's $50 a day to cage a person in a Michigan prison, as against $35 a day to supervise a resident at Huron House.

In his office last week, Diehl, 53, described the futility of the current panic-button solutions to crime mouthed by one Pete Wilson or another: "Michigan has been trying to build its way out of the crime problem for the past 12 years. We now have three times as many people in our prisons as 12 years ago. It doesn't work. There's been no reduction of crime, and there's no more perception of safety among our citizens. And prisoners' lives are not being changed for the better."

The public faces a choice: Does it want to follow the counsel of such corrections officials as Diehl or place its trust in politicians who advocate spending money on chain gangs, boot camps, three strikes, death rows, mandatory sentencing—and investing less or no money in inmate education or job programs.

The choice was rarely more stark than a few weeks ago, when two groups met—one in Cincinnati, the other in Washington—to offer prescriptions for fighting crime. One group was the professionals, the other amateurs.

The pros were people who run the nation's prisons and jails and who belong to the 20,000-member American Correctional Association (ACA). The amateurs were such members of the Senate as Texas Republican Kay Bailey Hutchison, testifying before a Senate Judiciary Committee hearing on prison reform.

At the ACA conference in Cincinnati, those who toil behind the walls told of the frustration of doing politicians' dirty work and knowing all the time that longer sentences and meaner bastilles are counter-productive.

They listened to corrections officials who detailed the facts on how recidivism is reduced through community programs like Huron House and how the payoffs for public safety are in combinations of education, employment, drug treatment and punishment—not punishment alone.

Few people are wearier of quick-fix politicians than corrections professionals. Bobbie L. Huskey, the ACA president, states categorically that an "overwhelming consensus" exists among wardens that "incarceration, in and of itself, does little to reduce crime or have a positive impact on recidivism." Huskey cites a poll conducted by the Senate Judiciary subcommittee on the Constitution in which 85 percent of the wardens surveyed said that most politicians are not offering effective solutions to crime. Ninety-three percent favor literacy and other educational programs, 92 percent vocational training and 89 percent are for drug treatment.

While the professionals who know struggle on, the amateurs who don't keep popping off. At the Judiciary Committee hearings in late July, Sen. Hutchison accused federal courts of creating "comfort and convenience" for criminals in prisons. That was news to the wardens.

In addition to criminal recidivists, it appears that we now have politician recidivists: the Wilsons and Hutchisons who lapse, relapse and relapse again into deadend thinking. Maybe they need a brief stretch at Huron House. ●

LEGALIZED GAMBLING

● Mr. LUGAR. Mr. President, I would like to take this opportunity to inform my Senate colleagues on the progress of important legislation moving through Congress that addresses the issue of legalized gambling in America.

Legalized gambling today is proliferating at breathtaking speed, touching the lives of millions of Americans. Communities across the country are considering casinos, riverboat gambling, pari-mutuel racing, off-track betting, and other forms of wagering.

Whereas only 2 States offered casino gambling in 1988, today 23 States have authorized casinos to operate. Overall, 48 States now permit some form of legalized gambling.

A steady stream of news accounts have chronicled the recent growth and expansion of gambling activities in America. Many of these stories describe the enormous profits generated almost overnight by gambling enterprises. Questions are being asked about decisions by State and local leaders to legalize gambling. People are concerned not only about the economic costs of these decisions, but of the human costs as well.

The Wall Street Journal, recently reported that some New Orleans public officials, retailers, and citizens are having second thoughts about the economic impacts of bringing riverboats, casinos, and video poker machines to Louisiana. The New York Times related the personal experiences of local residents in cities and towns across America who visit a casino instead of a restaurant or ballpark, who spend their grocery money on a nearby instant-play video lottery game, or who exhaust their personal or family savings at the casino tables.

In the face of this explosive growth, I joined Senator SIMON last April in support of legislation to establish a national commission to conduct an 18-month study on the effects of gambling. This measure, S. 704, would provide State and local governments with an objective, authoritative resource to use as a basis for making informed choices about gambling. S. 704 does not propose to further regulate gambling activities or to increase taxation of gambling revenues. The bill has been endorsed by the President and enjoys bipartisan support in the Senate with a total of 11 cosponsors, including Senators GORTON, KYL, LIEBERMAN, GRASSLEY, WARNER, FEINSTEIN, HATFIELD, KASSEBAUM, HATCH, and COATS.

The Governmental Affairs Committee on November 2 conducted a hearing on S. 704. Senator SIMON and I testified before the committee along with several other Members of Congress and outside experts concerned about this important issue. I am hopeful the committee will approve this important legislation before the conclusion of this session.

Companion legislation was introduced in the House of Representatives by Congressman WOLF of Virginia. The House Judiciary Committee held hearings on Representative WOLF's bill, H.R. 497, and approved the measure by voice vote on November 8. Prospects are good for passage by the full House during the 104th Congress.

The Washington Post, in a September 22, 1995, endorsement of the gambling study commission proposal, stated that,

Those pushing casinos into communities make large claims about their economic benefits, but the jobs and investment casinos create are rarely stacked up against the jobs lost and the investment and spending forgone in other parts of a local economy. The commission's study could be of great use to communities pondering whether to wager their futures on roulette, slot machines and blackjack.

As evidence of the desirability for a comprehensive study of the gambling issue, I ask that the following Chicago Tribune article from November 29, 1995, be printed in the RECORD.

The article follows:

RISKY BUSINESS: CAN GAMING WIN IN CITIES?—CHICAGO MAY GET TIP FROM NEW ORLEANS

(By Ken Armstrong)

The way casinos have flopped in New Orleans may drive other cities to flip in their views toward gambling, but Chicago still looks like a viable gambling market, according to financial analysts.

As the country's first major city to introduce large-scale gaming, New Orleans was to be a model demonstration of casinos creating tax dollars and jobs. What transpired instead were budget shortfalls, unrealized promises and the threat of municipal layoffs.

"I think there were many municipalities watching this project as an experiment in urban gaming," said Jason Ader, a gaming analyst with Bear Stearns & Co. in New York. "And the fact that it has effectively failed casts a dark cloud over other urban markets considering gaming as an economic engine."

Harrah's Jazz Co. shut its temporary casino in New Orleans last week and declared bankruptcy. Harrah's Jazz also suspended construction on its permanent casino, which was slated to open in New Orleans next summer.

No longer able to count on lease and tax payments from the casino, New Orleans faces a budget shortfall and has postponed the sale of $15.8 million in general obligation bonds. Mayor Marc Morial said he may have to lay off as many as 1,000 city employees.

Gaming opponents have latched on to the debacle, using it to argue that other cities pursuing casinos would be wise to give up the chase.

Tom Grey, a Galena, Ill., minister spearheading the anti-gambling movement nationwide, said there's reason to believe that what happened in New Orleans would be replayed in Chicago, where Mayor Richard Daley has pushed hard for casinos.

But several financial analysts who specialize in gaming say it isn't necessarily so.

"Everybody in the industry knows Chicago and New York would be layoffs if they had casinos there," said Steve Schneider, an analyst with Stifel Nicolaus & Co. in St. Louis.

He estimated that casinos in Chicago could generate $800 million to $1 billion in gross profits without cutting heavily into the revenues of nearby riverboat casinos.

Daley spokesman Jim Williams said the mayor still views casinos as a good way to attract convention-goers and increase tax revenue for the city and state.

But he added: "The mayor has never seen gaming as a panacea. He's been steadfast in his belief that it should never be seen as a primary source of income."

What happened in New Orleans would more likely give pause to marginal markets for gaming such as Milwaukee or Cleveland, Schneider said. The poor performance of the New Orleans casinos also will make it more difficult for gaming companies to secure project financing for future developments, he said.

Brian Ford, director of gaming industry services at Ernst & Young in Philadelphia, said New Orleans hardly proves that casinos can't flourish.

With video-poker machines in truckstops, casinos on riverboats and what would have been one of the world's largest land-based casinos, Louisiana tried to do too much with too small a population base, Ford said.

The shutdown of Harrah's Jazz was New Orleans' second losing hand.

Another project with two riverboat casinos—the $223 million River City complex—closed in June after opening just nine weeks before. Analysts blamed its failure, like that of Harrah's temporary casino, largely on its location.

The riverboat complex was built in an industrial area where its neighbor is Glazer Steel & Aluminum—hardly a tourist draw. A thousand feet of head-high weeds, tractor trailers, piles of gravel and an abandoned Chevette with smashed-in windows separate the complex from the edge of the city's downtown area.

David Anders, a gaming analyst with Raymond James & Associates in St. Petersburg, Fla., said New Orleans shows that while state and municipal governments should rightfully profit from a casino, they shouldn't make the casino's financial burden so great it can't survive.

Harrah's Jazz paid $125 million up front as a franchise fee for the state's only land-based casino and promised payments of at least $100 million a year to the state, regardless of financial performance.

The company's principal partner is Memphis-based Harrah's Entertainment Inc., which grew from a bingo parlor in Reno during the Depression to an industry giant with casinos in all of the country's major gaming markets.

Ralph Berry, a Harrah's Entertainment spokesman, said Harrah's Jazz still wants to open the permanent casino and will try to renegotiate the casino agreement with the state, city and lenders. Critics have accused Harrah's Jazz of using the bankruptcy filing as leverage for more attractive terms. ●

NATIONAL VETERANS DAY AND ADDRESS BY ADM. LEIGHTON W. SMITH, JR.

Mr. HEFLIN. Mr. President, Birmingham, AL has always conducted outstanding Veterans Day events. Each year, the ceremonies commence on the night of November 10, the day before Veterans Day, when a banquet is held to remember our veterans and to formally honor the National Veterans Award recipients.

This year, National Veterans Day in Birmingham sponsors, which include 16 of the national veterans organizations, decided to present the award to 5 World War II Congressional Medal of Honor winners. They were Adm. Eugene Fluckey of the U.S. Navy; Capt. Maurice Britt, U.S. Army; and PFC Jack Lucas, U.S. Marine Corps. There were two members honored from the Air Force, which during World War II was still the old Army Air Corps. They were Col. William T. Lawley and M.Sgt. Henry Eugene Erwin, both Alabama natives. There are a total of five surviving World War II veterans who served in the Army Air Corps and who are Congressional Medal of Honor winners, and we are proud that two of them hail from Alabama. Douglas Albert Monroe, signalman first class in the U.S. Coast Guard was honored posthumously.

On Veterans Day itself, Birmingham hosts the World Peace Luncheon, which this year featured Adm. Leighton W. Smith, Jr., of the U.S. Navy as its distinguished guest speaker. Born in Mobile, Admiral Smith is the commander, U.S. Naval Forces in Europe and commander in chief, Allied Forces in Southern Europe. He was appointed to these posts in April 1994.

He was promoted to vice admiral in June 1991, and served for 2½ years as deputy chief of naval operations for plans, policy, and operations. He was a major contributor to Navy staff reorganization and the development of From the Sea, the Navy's strategy for the 21st century.

I ask that a copy of Admiral Leighton's outstanding address delivered at the World Peace Luncheon be printed in the RECORD.

The material follows:

ADDRESS BY ADM. LEIGHTON W. SMITH, USN, COMMANDER IN CHIEF ALLIED FORCES SOUTHERN EUROPE, COMMANDER IN CHIEF U.S. NAVAL FORCES EUROPE

Senator, Congressman, distinguished veterans, those of you who have worked so hard to put on this celebration, good morning.

No one knows better than I the value of and the sacrifices made by those we left behind.

I am distinctly honored to add my thoughts to those of the many distinguished speakers who have appeared here in previous years.

I doubt I can adequately express my gratitude for having been invited to join fellow Alabamians to pay tribute to our veterans—both those that have joined us here today and those who have gone before us.

It is absolutely right that we pause to reflect on what this day means—what it signifies—what it cost—and why, as Senator Heflin said last night, "The Strength of our Nation Must Never Be Allowed to Atrophy".

Few gathered here today can recall the first Armistice Day or the terribleness of the war it commemorated. Time has distanced us from the horror of that conflict.

It was the war to end all wars—but history reminds us that it really wasn't.

Other wars, conflicts and crises have followed, all evidencing the common denominators of destruction and death, but also individuals whose commitment, courage and personal sacrifices have continued to inspire us all.

Senator John Kerry, in speaking at the retirement of our Navy's Vietnam era swift boats, said:

"We were all bound together in the great and noble effort of giving ourselves to something bigger than each and every one of us individually, and doing so at risk of life and limb. Let no one ever doubt the quality and nobility of that commitment."

Those words could have been spoken about our veterans who served in the trenches of France, at Pearl Harbor and Bataan, at Midway, Normandy and Iwo Jima.

They would have been true at Inchon and the Frozen Chosin, in the jungles and skies of Vietnam, the deserts of Kuwait and Iraq and in other unnamed places where ordinary people do extraordinary things and in so doing, honor their country while preserving the ideals and values for which it stands.

Last year I attended commemorative ceremonies at Normandy.

As I sat waiting for the program to begin, I spotted an usher, a young soldier no more than 18 years old, my he looked so young.

It suddenly dawned on me that this boy was the very same age as many of the men who, 50 years ago, had crawled across those bloody beaches and clawed their way up those terrible cliffs, each staring death square in the face.

Some survived, all were heroes, but tragically so many were mown down in the springtime of their youth, their lives ended before they had really begun.

I was awed. What tragedy; what tragedy to rob a nation of its youth, to take a son or daughter from a father, mother, a sister or brother, a husband or wife. What tragedy to deny one so young the joys and excitement of life; the warmth of love, the thrill of watching one's children grow.

But then I thought, what if they had not?

Somehow seeing that young soldier made all those grave markers in that cemetery even more real, more alive. It literally slammed home in me the utter cruelty of war, the awfulness of what man can do to man, and equally as important, the enormous gift that all of those who experienced the terrible of that war gave to us.

I am told that somewhere in Burma there is a marker inscribed with the message: "We gave our todays so you could enjoy your tomorrows."

Those of us gathered here today, and in other places around our country, honor the veterans whose legacy of honor, courage and commitment should not, and shall not, ever be forgotten.

Let me tell you that the actions of the young men and women of your Armed Forces tell me that they are, as Colin Powell said in an address here a few years back: "worthy successors to what you their predecessors have passed on to them."

You may all have heard of Capt. Scott O'Grady. He was shot down over Bosnia on 2 June.

On the night of 7 June his squadron mate went on a "fishing expedition" to try to contact Scott.

At 0200 he got contact with Scott O'Grady. I immediately called the amphibious commander, Jerry Schill and the Marine commander Marty Berndt. Both were on the U.S.S. Kearsarge in the Adriatic.

I told them to close the coast/call away your tactical recovery of aircrew and personnel team.

Didn't ask if—just when.

We discussed risks and the possibility of a trap being set.

I told Colonel Berndt you're in charge, look around, if you don't like what you see, come out.

These were educated risks, and we were operating on the edge of the envelope.

Four hours and thirty seven minutes—I got a call, one word—"pickup".

Not many understand all that occurred.

We had 60 fixed wing aircraft, special operations backup rescue, Marines backup to that.

Went next day to visit, Aviano, Vicenza, U.S.S. Kearsarge:

There were no complaints, in spite of the mission being early morning, complex, risky. They thanked me for letting them go.

Says a lot about courage, honor, commitment.

The same characteristics were demonstrated in attempts to locate and rescue the French pilots shot down 30 August.

Plan was developed to recce area of shootdown.

At 0130 I got a call from Mike Ryan.

Same coordination and complexity as the O'Grady rescue.

We tried three successive nights.

All three attempts experienced bad weather, all were shot at.

That this rescue was not consummated in no way detracts from the courage and commitment of those who tried.

These are wonderful stories, and I relive the excitement of those moments each time I tell them.

But the important thing here is that these are real stories about real people who demonstrate, every single time they are asked, the legacy of their predecessors and the strength of our great nation.

There are, in fact, two kinds of strengths. One is capability, and one is character.

Capability is the mechanics, it is the equipment. The machines, the steel, the weapons, the computers, the number of battalions that can be fielded, capability is what we think of when we think of the force.

Character, on the other hand, comes from the commitment of the people. It is the moral fabric that binds a nation together, that gives it purpose and defines its identity.

Yet as different as capability and character seem, it is their combination that makes a nation strong, that empowers it to greatness, that enables it to lead.

I would argue that a nation's strength and greatness is not fully tested until severely stressed, ours has, and we have never been found wanting.

Our veterans defined our strength for us and the memory of what they did gives us strength today.

Joseph Conrad said:

"And now the old ships and their men are gone; the new ships and men have taken their watch on the stern and impatient sea which offers no opportunities but to those who know how to grasp them with a ready hand and an undaunted heart."

While we thank God for what the old ships and men gave us.

I offer to you, our honored veterans that your worthy successors, the veterans of tomorrow, possess ready hands and undaunted hearts.

They have learned well from your deeds.

We owe you, we owe you a lot. We owe you our thanks, our admiration, and our respect, and we owe you the promise that we shall never allow to be forgotten the deeds performed, nor what you preserved for us.

Your legacy of courage, honor and commitment has been received and will be passed on to future generations.

This has been a singular honor for me and I am grateful to you all for allowing me to join you on this very special occasion.●

CONFERENCE REPORT ON H.R. 1977

● Mr. MACK. I would like to engage in a colloquy with my colleague from Kentucky, Senator McCONNELL. Activities funded under the Department of Energy's Codes and Standards Program are primarily concentrated in two sub-programs known as Lighting and Appliances and Building Standards and Guidelines. However, as is clear in the Department of Energy's budget, its activities within these two programs extend to areas outside of that which might be assumed under their titles. This would include setting standards for commercial equipment electric motors, as well as the advocacy of minimum energy codes for residential buildings. Therefore, it was my understanding that the intent of the amendment to H.R. 1977 that placed a 1-year time-out on Department of Energy's use of funds to propose, issue, or prescribe any new or amended standard would extend to Department of Energy's activities in advocating changes to minimum codes for residential energy use.

Mr. McCONNELL. My colleague is correct. While not specifically spelled out in the statutory language of H.R. 1977, it was my intent that this 1-year time-out extended to the entire program as it related to the establishment of minimum standards and codes. I had hoped that this clarification would be made in the conference report, but since there is no report language addressing this issue, I feel it necessary to clarify it here for the record. Indeed, product manufacturers have raised concerns over the methodology and assumptions in Department of Energy's current cost benefit analysis. Similarly, builders have raised concerns over the minimum mandatory standards found in codes enacted by local municipalities or States that use the voluntary products of code and standard organizations over which Department of Energy has significant influence. Builders have told me that these standards are often not responsive to technological innovation, customer needs, or economic consideration of affordability or payback. Therefore, just as there needs to be a time out to review standards-setting activities conducted by the Department of Energy, the same review should apply to its activities relating to residential building codes.

Mr. MACK. I appreciate this clarification. Indeed, considering that the House language eliminated funding for the entire Codes and Standards program, the intent is clear that the House aimed to institute this 1-year time out on Department of Energy's activities in the standards arena as well as in standards which are part of the codes as well as the standards arena. I think it is important that, since the House agreed to recede to Senate language on this issue, which restored the funds cut by the House, that the Senate ensure that the spirit of the House language be carried out.

Mr. McCONNELL. I would also point out that as means of reaching agreement on Senate language, I was asked to include a caveat stating that the Federal Government was not precluded from promulgating rules concerning energy efficiency standards for the construction of new federally owned commercial and residential buildings. By expressly carving out federally owned buildings, this would indicate further that standards and codes for all other buildings, and thereby privately owned structures, would be covered. It should also be clear that it is not the intent of this language to prevent promulgation of the national Home Energy Rating System voluntary guidelines.●

EXTENSIONS OF REMARKS

CONFERENCE REPORT ON H.R. 2099,
DEPARTMENTS OF VETERANS AFFAIRS AND HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT, AND INDEPENDENT AGENCIES APPRO-PRIATIONS ACT, 1996

HON. FRED HEINEMAN

OF NORTH CAROLINA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, December 4, 1995

Mr. HEINEMAN, Mr. Speaker, earlier I engaged in a colloquy with my good friend, Chairman JERRY LEWIS of California regarding the prospects of building a new facility for the Environmental Protection Agency [EPA] at the Research Triangle Park [RTP], North Carolina. Once again, I would like to thank Chairman LEWIS for his expression of support for this facility, and I would like to submit for the RECORD the following letter from EPA Administrator Carol M. Browner indicating that a proposed new RTP facility for the EPA would save the taxpayers millions of dollars and provide the most realistic, cost-effective option for meeting the EPA's research needs. I commend this letter to the attention of my colleagues.

UNITED STATES ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY,
Washington, DC, December 1, 1995.

Hon. FRED HEINEMAN,
House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

DEAR CONGRESSMAN HEINEMAN: I am writing to express my appreciation for your continued support for a new Environmental Protection Agency building in Research Triangle Park, N.C. As you know, construction of the new laboratory building will consolidate Agency functions now scattered in seven outdated, leased facilities spread across a 15-mile arc in the RTP area. The facility remains the Agency's top laboratory construction project.

As you noted in your November 29 colloquy on the House floor with House Appropriations VA-HUD Subcommittee Chairman Jerry Lewis, building a new facility is the most realistic, cost-effective option for the Agency. The Agency continues to maintain that new construction will bring the most savings to the taxpayers and deliver the best science to the American public and environmental policy makers. All independent cost studies solicited by the Administration have supported construction on Federally-owned land over any leased facility option; the most recent concluded that direct Federal construction would save the government $154 million over 30 years.

It would seem irresponsible to continue to throw away millions of dollars in rent for substandard leased facilities when we can construct a consolidated state-of-the-art lab on Federally-owned land that will meet EPA's research needs and save taxpayers millions of dollars each year.

Again, thank you for your support of this important project.

Sincerely,

CAROL M. BROWNER, Administrator.

TAIWAN DESERVES A U.N. SEAT

HON. GERALD B.H. SOLOMON

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, December 4, 1995

Mr. SOLOMON. Mr. Speaker, A.M. Rosenthal has written a superb article on the silly situation that now exists in which the United Nations recognizes North Korea but not Taiwan. I have introduced bipartisan legislation, House Concurrent Resolution 63, to express the sense of congress that this outrage ought to be reversed. I ask for cosponsors of the legislation and insert the Rosenthal article for the RECORD.

THE BLOCKADES OF TAIWAN

(By A.M. Rosenthal)

TAIPEI, TAIWAN.—They come almost every day now—the military threats to this island country from Communist Government in Beijing.

Chinese Army commanders order repeated amphibious landings at the mainland coast nearest the island—the precise kind of operation that would be needed to invade Taiwan—and “tests” of missiles in the straits dividing China and the island. In recent days there has been a series of leaked reports that Beijing is considering a naval blockade of Taiwan.

Nobody knows whether the threats are meant only to frighten all Taiwanese into abandoning any thought of independence, however distant, or whether Beijing is readying its people and the world for an attack. If it does take place it is likely to be in the spring of 1996 before or after Taiwan holds its first direct presidential election.

But the evidence is that the military command is beginning to operate and plan independently of the civilian leadership in the Politburo.

This much seems clear from here: The West is operating on the assumption that if it says and does nothing, why, any dangers will vanish in a merciful blip.

The studious silence arises from the fundamental China policy of the West: Rock no Chinese boat lest Beijing throw easy Western access to the Chinese market overboard.

The West manages to maintain its silence because a Chinese blockade of Taiwan already exists: the political and diplomatic blockade created by Beijing after it took over the China seat in the U.N. in 1971.

The government of Taiwan was not only ousted from the U.N. but from the international community. Taiwan, one of the largest trading nations in the world, has been cut off from normal diplomatic and political relations with almost the whole world.

The U.S. maintains an “institute” in Taipei headed by a “director.” But no flag is flown outdoors to save Beijing a fit. In Washington, representatives of Taiwan cannot sully the State department or White House by their presence. So far, separate drinking fountains for Taiwanese representatives have not been set up.

Taiwan is not only barred from the U.N. but from all its many specialized agencies, including those supposed to deal with such universal subjects as health and agriculture—say, AIDS or starvation.

The blockade is so obsessively enforced that it even excludes aid to refugees. Last year the U.N. appealed for funds for Rwandan refugees, among the most suffering of God's human creatures. Taiwan offered $2 million; refused. The Taiwanese did manage to get their gift accepted—by channeling it through an American committee for Unicef.

Correspondents from Taiwan are not permitted to enter the U.N. As a former reporter at the U.N., in its early days, I have thought of slipping my pass to a correspondent from Taiwan, to annoy U.N. authorities, but I decided it wouldn't work.

Before Beijing commanded the U.N., correspondents from nonmember peoples were allowed in. I learned more about North Africa and Indonesia from independence-movement reporters than I ever did from the colonial French or Dutch.

North Korea and South Korea are members and so were East and West Germany. The Palestine Liberation Organization was given representation at the General Assembly with only a vote lacking.

But when China decided that any dreams of independence, sovereignty or even dignity that Taiwan might harbor were too dangerous to tolerate, this special apartheid was created for the island. The U.S. and most other U.N. members meekly kissed Beijing's iron slipper.

That means Taiwan cannot use the U.N. or any normal diplomatic channel to raise an alarm that had to be officially heard about the open military threats from Beijing. If any other country had threatened another so blatantly the case would immediately have been on the U.N. agenda.

Nor of course most U.N. members, including the U.S., would be paralyzed with economic terror at the very idea of proposing that Taiwan as well as China be represented at the U.N. But perhaps Washington, London, Paris and Tokyo will dredge up enough courage to increase their own diplomatic contacts with Taiwan as a warning to China. Perhaps.

Until now the Chinese diplomatic blockade and Western submission to it have been merely disgusting. Now they are getting dangerous.

HON. NANCY PELOSI

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, November 29, 1995

The House in Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union had under consideration the bill (H.R. 2564) to provide for the disclosure of lobbying activities to influence the Federal Government, and for other purposes:

Ms. PELOSI. Mr. Chairman, I rise today to urge my colleagues to support this legislation. It is a bill worth passing and one which should be enacted without further delay.

If passed by the House without amendment, the bill would be cleared for the President's signature. If amended however, the legislation must be returned to the Senate for further consideration. This delay will effectively kill lobby reform legislation for the rest of the 104th Congress.

• This “bullet” symbol identifies statements or insertions which are not spoken by a Member of the Senate on the floor.

Matter set in this typeface indicates words inserted or appended, rather than spoken, by a Member of the House on the floor.

This bill expands the registration requirements for lobbyists and requires more disclosure regarding lobbying activities. Specifically, the bill requires those who lobby congressional staff, senior executive branch officials, and Members of Congress to register as lobbyists.

In addition, lobbyists must identify their clients, the general issues on which they lobby, and how much they are paid for their efforts.

While we must ensure that the constitutional right of the people to petition their government is protected, we must also make certain that paid lobbying activities are adequately disclosed. This bill protects both of these principles and deserves our support.

I urge all of my colleagues to support H.R. 2564 without amendment and pass these much-needed lobbying reforms.

TRIBUTE TO ROBERT L. METTLER

HON. HENRY A. WAXMAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, December 4, 1995

Mr. WAXMAN. Mr. Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me in saluting Robert L. Mettler of Los Angeles for his philanthropic and civic contributions and for his signal achievements in retail merchandising.

Robert Mettler has found the time, energy, and commitment to sustain a deep involvement in numerous community projects in spite of the demands of three decades of leadership in business. He has been especially committed to the Shelter Workshop Program for the Mentally Retarded, a trailblazing organization headed by Eunice and R. Sargent Shriver. During his residency in Texas, he was a leader of the State of Texas Special Olympics and the United Way of Dallas.

In addition to this work, Robert Mettler serves as chairman of the council of trustees of the National Jewish Center for Immunology and Respiratory Medicine in Denver, CO. He also serves on the leadership panel of Brandeis University in Waltham, MA.

Robert Mettler is one of the best known and most respected leaders in fashion and apparel. On Tuesday, December 12, 1995, Mr. Mettler's friends and admirers will pay tribute to him at a banquet in his honor sponsored by the Fashion Industries Division of the United Jewish Fund.

I ask my colleagues to join me in congratulating Mr. Mettler for the great achievements that have earned him this honor. I wish him many more years of good health and an ongoing active commitment to his philanthropic activities.

CONFERENCE REPORT ON H.R. 2491,
SEVEN-YEAR BALANCED BUDGET
RECONCILIATION ACT OF 1995

SPEECH OF

HON. STEVE GUNDERSON

OF WISCONSIN

Friday, November 17, 1995

Mr. GUNDERSON. Mr. Speaker, today as the House considers the conference report on the Seven-Year Balanced Budget Act of 1995, we move one step closer to a goal I have supported for a long while. The first bill I cosponsored as a freshman Representative in 1981 amended the U.S. Constitution to require a balanced Federal budget. At that time, I firmly believed it was time to get our fiscal house in order, when the deficit was $79 billion and the national debt stood at $994 billion.

Fifteen years later, the deficit has grown to $206 billion—nearly three times of what it was in 1981. The national debt has jumped to $4.9 trillion or nearly five times the 1981 level. Further, in fiscal year 1995, we spent $234 billion on interest on the national debt alone. That's 17 percent of the Federal budget. It also represents more than we spent on education, job training, child nutrition and public works projects combined.

Unless we balance the budget, interest on the debt will continue to eat into spending on other worthwhile Federal programs. Just look at how interest on the debt dwarfs our spending on certain vital human resources programs: In fiscal year 1995, we spent 66 times more on interest on the national debt than we did on the Head Start Program. We spent 32 times more on interest on the national debt than we did on the title I program which benefits disadvantaged grade-school kids. We spent 149 times more on interest on the national debt than we spent on all elementary and secondary school improvement programs. We spent 158 times more on interest on the national debt than we did on Federal aid to vocational education, 180 times more than on the JOBS program to get people off welfare, and 212 times more than on Jobs Corps. Clearly this is a distorted sense of priorities.

If we continue our spending priorities for the next 7 years, the deficit would balloon from $210 billion in fiscal year 1996 to $349 billion. That's a 66-percent increase. The national debt would increase by $1.7 trillion during that same period.

Just as increased debt interest threatens programs, the lack of balance between our coveted entitlement programs and discretionary programs is alarming. Entitlement programs such as Social Security, Medicare, and Medicaid make up 64 percent of the Federal budget. Discretionary programs, such as defense, education, and job training make up only 36 percent. This disparity is growing and without significant changes in spending priorities, by 2012 entitlement spending will consume the entire budget.

THE SEVEN-YEAR BALANCED BUDGET ACT OF 1995

I believe that we have made the right choices to put this country on a path toward a balanced budget. Back in June, the House approved the budget blueprint that laid the foundation for this change. Today, we actually implement the changes necessary to slow the rate of Federal spending over the next 7 years.

Over the next 7 years we will reduce spending growth and reduce the Federal deficit by a total of $1.2 trillion. But it is important to note that slowing the rate of growth in spending is not a cut. The numbers amply demonstrate this assertion.

Over the last 7 years, between 1989 and 1995, we spent a total of $9.5 trillion. Over the next 7 years, while balancing the budget, we will spend $13.3 trillion. That's $2.6 trillion more than in the past 7 years. If we do nothing, we would spend $13.3 trillion over 7 years. We are not cutting the budget, but are finally putting our own house in order within a reasonable timeframe.

A comparison between spending levels in fiscal year 1995 and levels in fiscal year 2002 shows the effect of imposing fiscal discipline. Under current assumptions, spending would increase by $600 billion or 40 percent. Under the assumption of a balanced budget, spending would increase by $358 billion or 24 percent. Only in Washington would a $358 billion increase be called a cut.

A LOOK AT KEY AREAS FOR THE THIRD DISTRICT

A quick review of the provisions of the Seven-Year Balanced Budget Act reveals challenging but acceptable changes in Medicare, student loan funding, and tax policy. It also reveals a glaring deficiency—the failure to reform Federal dairy programs.

MEDICARE

The Medicare Program has continued to grow exceedingly fast in recent years. The Medicare trustees reported earlier this year that without strengthening the system, Medicare will go broke by 2002. I believe that the budget package maintains the vital commitment to health care for seniors while ensuring that the program will be around far into the future.

Under the budget package, average per beneficiary spending would increase from $4,800 to $6,700 over the next 7 years, or a $1,900 increase per retiree. Most importantly, premiums would remain at 31.5 percent of part B costs. Just as they have since the program was started, premiums would increase slightly every year.

STUDENT LOAN REFORM

The student loan program has provided essential opportunities to those who wish to further their education. But in order to preserve those opportunities far into the future, the House and Senate agreed to reduce the costs of the student loan program by $4.9 billion over 7 years.

Perhaps what is most important about the House-Senate agreement is that it does not increase costs to students or parents. The plan does not eliminate the in-school interest subsidy for undergraduate or graduate students. It does not eliminate the 6-month grace period for students leaving school to begin repaying their loan. It does not modify eligibility or access to student loans, nor does it increase the origination loan fee paid for by students.

Now, let's look at what the plan would do. The budget package would cap the administration's direct student loan program at its current 10 percent level of the student loan volume. As many know, I do not believe the Government should become banker to students. At a time when Congress is trying to refocus the role of the Federal Government toward functions that it does well, the direct loan program heads in the wrong direction.

The budget package would also gain savings banks, secondary markets and guaranty agencies by lowering reimbursement fees for defaulted loans and other technical changes. Finally, the package would limit certain administrative expenses borne by the Department of Education. I am confident that the budget package does the most to help the budget at the least cost to students, parents and schools.

PRO-GROWTH TAX POLICY

The budget package agreement between the House and Senate provides for $245 billion in tax cuts over 7 years, just 2 percent of the Federal budget. Like many of us, I was genuinely leery of providing tax cuts at the very time we are trying to balance the budget. However, as we are limiting the growth in Federal programs, we still need to promote economic growth in the private sector. The tax package accomplishes this in a reasonable fashion.

The conference agreement would impose a 50 percent capital gains tax cut for individuals and a 25 percent reduction for corporations retroactive to January 1, 1995. There is a misperception that a capital gains tax is important only to rich people, but actually most capital gains deductions are taken by middle class families. In 1993, the last year for which we have data, 60 percent of the tax returns claiming capital gains had adjusted gross incomes below $50,000, and 77 percent had adjusted gross incomes of below $75,000.

Many in western Wisconsin will benefit from the reduction in the capital gains taxes. Most important among these is the retiring farmer that wants to sell his farm and rely on the proceeds for retirement income. At the present time, he must pay a 38 percent tax. Homeowners and small businesses—the businesses that create the most jobs—will also benefit from this middle-class initiative.

The package before us will also benefit western Wisconsin because it includes expanded individual retirement account to spur savings. People would be able to contribute taxable amounts to the account, and then after 5 years would be able to withdraw money tax-free for certain purchases, including first-time home, long-term care expenses, post-secondary education needs, and retirement income. This account is pro-savings, pro-investment and pro-growth.

The package also includes a tax credit of $500 per child under 18 years for all individuals with income below $75,000 a year and all people filing joint returns with incomes below $110,000. Although uneasy with the House-passed version which allowed tax cuts for families with incomes of up to $200,000, I find the reduced income limit is much more acceptable.

REFORM OF FEDERAL DAIRY PROGRAM

What is most troubling about the package brought to us today is that it is devoid of any reform whatsoever in Federal dairy programs. The Congressional Budget Office has consistently estimated that artificial incentives to produce fluid milk in Federal milk marketing orders, the so-called class I differentials, cost taxpayers over $100 million in additional spending on the dairy price support program and the Dairy Export Incentive Program [DEIP] annually.

Obviously, class I differentials which are set by statute without regard to class I utilization also increase the cost of milk in grocery stores to consumers and the cost of the Federal WIC and special milk programs by millions of dollars annually. Their only purpose today is to provide additional revenue to dairy producers in a couple of areas of the country at the expense of producers in other areas as well as taxpayers and consumers around the country.

Simply stated, there is no single Federal program more in need of substantial reform than Federal milk marketing orders. Even the most ardent advocates of the order system acknowledge that fact. That's why our country and our constituents cannot afford to let a small minority of Members forestall these reforms when the time comes to put a second balanced budget package together.

In sum, today we are one step closer to our central goal of balancing the budget. A balanced budget will ensure sustained growth for the future, more opportunity for education, job growth and a better competitive position in the world market. I look forward to the day when we can say that we took the high road toward fiscal responsibility and put our national fiscal house in order.

SENATE COMMITTEE MEETINGS

Title IV of Senate Resolution 4, agreed to by the Senate on February 4, 1977, calls for establishment of a system for a computerized schedule of all meetings and hearings of Senate committees, subcommittees, joint committees, and committees of conference.
