partnering with us and structuring this motion to instruct conferees. I want to express appreciation to the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. SENSENBRNNER) for his constructive comments and for his support of the motion to instruct.

The motion to instruct promotes accountability. It assures that we remain in a strong position in our oversight function. Recent history clearly shows that in the absence of a near-term sunset we will not get answers to our questions about how controversial law enforcement powers are being used. In the absence of a near-term sunset, we cannot ensure that civil liberties are being protected.

This is not a matter about what the Department of Justice has done in the past, and I differ with the gentleman from Wisconsin on this matter. This is all about what the Department of Justice may do in the future. And having near-term sunsets will ensure that we can perform oversight over that performance.

Sunsets do not prevent law enforcement from using the broad powers the PATRIOT Act confers, but sunsets promote accountability. They ensure we get the information necessary to conduct oversight and to make decisions about whether powers that are subject to abuse should be contended.

Adopt this motion, let us adopt the Senate's 4-year sunsets and, in doing so, further the cause of protecting Americans' civil liberties. Mr. Speaker, I urge approval of the motion to instruct.

Mr. JONES of North Carolina. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this motion to instruct.

The American people want us to protect them from the terrorists—but the American people also want us to protect their liberties and constitutional rights from an overreaching government.

Our system of government is made up of checks and balances and this motion to instruct only expands these checks and balances.

A review every 4 years is the right action to assure American citizens that their civil liberties are protected.

Let me close with a quote attributed to Patrick Henry:

The Constitution is not an instrument for the government to restrain the people, it is an instrument for the people to restrain the government—lest it come to dominate our lives and interests.

I ask that we restore the Senate's Sunsets in the Conference Report.

Mr. BOUCHER. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the previous question is ordered on the motion to instruct.

There was no objection.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the Chair appoints the following conferees:

Provided that Mr. SCOTT of Virginia is appointed in lieu of Mr. NADLER for consideration of sections 105, 109, 111–114, 120, 121, 124, 131, and title II of the House bill, and modifications committed to conference: Mr. HOEKSTRA, Mrs. WILSON of New Mexico, and Ms. HARMS.

From the Committee on Energy and Commerce, for consideration of sections 124 and 231 of the House bill, and modifications committed to conference: Messrs. NORWOOD, SHADEEGE, and DINGELL.

From the Committee on Financial Services, for consideration of section 117 of the House bill, and modifications committed to conference: Messrs. OXLEY, BACHUS, and FRANK of Massachusetts.

There was no objection.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. SENSENBRNNER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on H.R. 1751.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Wisconsin?

There was no objection.

SECURE ACCESS TO JUSTICE AND COURT PROTECTION ACT OF 2005

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mrs. CAPITO). Pursuant to House Resolution 540 and rule XVIII, the Chair declares the House in the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union for the consideration of the bill, H.R. 1751.

□ 1610

IN THE COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

Accordingly, the House resolved into the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union for the consideration of the bill (H.R. 1751) to amend title 18, United States Code, to protect judges, prosecutors, witnesses, victims, and their family members, and for other purposes, with Mr. SIMPSON in the chair.

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The CHAIRMAN. Pursuant to the rule, the bill is considered read the first time.

The gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. SENSENBRNNER) and the gentlewoman from Texas (Ms. JACKSON-LEE) each will control 30 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. SENSENBRNNER). Mr. SENSENBRNNER. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, I rise in support of H.R. 1751, the Secure Access to Justice and Court Protection Act of 2005.

Violent attacks and intimidation against courthouse personnel and law enforcement officers present a threat to the integrity of the justice system that Congress has a duty to confront. The murder of family members of United States District Judge Joan Lefkow, the brutal slayings of Judge Richard Barnes, his deputy sheriff, and a Federal officer in Atlanta, and the cold-blooded shoot- ings outside the Tyler, Texas, courthouse all underscore the need to provide better protection for judges, courthouse personnel, witnesses, law enforcement and their family members.

This bill is an important bipartisan measure introduced by the gentleman from Texas (Mr. GOHMER) and the gentleman from New York (Mr. WELDER). It will help address the problem of violence in and around our Nation's courthouses.

Statistics show that aggravated assaults against police officers are a serious national problem. According to the Bureau of Justice Statistics, 52 law enforcement officers were killed in the United States in 2002 and 56 were killed in 2001. From 1994 through 2003 a total of 616 law enforcement officers were feloniously killed in the line of duty. Approximately 100 of these officers were murdered after being entrapped or ambushed by their killers. These attacks are simply unacceptable.

The lives of judicial personnel are also at great risk. According to the Administrative Office of the United States Courts, Federal judges receive nearly 700 threats a year and several Federal judges require security personnel to protect them and their families from terrorist associates, violent gangs, drug organizations and disgruntled litigants. The intimidation of judges directly assaults the impartial administration of justice our Constitution demands.

Court witnesses are also at risk. Threats and intimidation toward witnesses continue to grow, particularly at the State and local level. In 1996, a witness intimidation study by the Justice Department included that witness intimidation is a pervasive and insidious problem. No part of the country is spared and no witness can feel entirely free or safe.

Prosecutors interviewed in this study estimated that witness intimidation... occurs in 75 to 100 percent of the violent crimes committed in some gang-dominated neighborhoods.

This bill passed the Committee on the Judiciary by an overwhelming vote of 26-5. The legislation enhances criminal penalties for assaults and the killing of Federal, State, and local judges, witnesses, law enforcement officers, courthouse personnel and their family members.

It provides grants to State and local courts to improve security services and improves the ability of the United States Marshals to protect the Federal judiciary.

The bill also prohibits public disclosure, on the Internet and other public sources, of personal information about judges, law enforcement, victims and witnesses to protect Federal judges and prosecutors from organized efforts to harass and intimidate them through false filings of liens and other encumbrances against their property and improves coordination between the marshals and the Federal judges.

The bill also contains vital security measures for handling dangerous trials against terrorists, drug organizations, and other organized crime figures.

Finally, the bill incorporates key provisions of the Peace Officer Justice Act, introduced by the gentleman from California (Mr. Dreier), to bring justice to those who murder law enforcement personnel and flee to foreign nations to escape prosecution and justice in this country.

The bill is supported by those on the front lines of our criminal justice system and is backed by the Conference of Chief Justices and the Conference of State Court Administrators; the Federal Bar Association; the Federal Criminal Investigators Association; the International Association of Chiefs of Police; the National Association of Assistant U.S. Attorneys; the International Union of Police Associations AFL-CIO; the Major County Sheriffs’ Association; the National Troopers Coalition; the International Association of Campus Law Enforcement Administrators; and the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees.

Witnesses, judges, and court personnel speak in a clear and unanimous voice, we have a duty to listen and to act to give their members the tools and resources necessary for their protection.

Mr. Chairman, Congress has an obligation to ensure that America’s courts and the brave men and women of law enforcement render justice without fear of assault or retaliation. Judges, witnesses, courthouse personnel, and law enforcement officers must operate without fear in order to administer the law without bias.

I urge my colleagues to strengthen the integrity of America’s justice system and the security of court and law enforcement personnel by supporting this vital and bipartisan legislation.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I might consume.

It is, I think, a very clear statement to make that we have faced extensive violence in our courts in recent times. The problems and threats against judges, court officials, employees, witnesses, and victims is not a new one, but one that is growing rapidly.

Recent events, including the killing of a Fulton County judge and other court personnel in Atlanta, the murders of United States district judge Joan Lefkow’s family members outside Chicago, Illinois, and the murders immediately outside the Tyler, Texas, courthouse, have underscored the increasing significance of the problem.

According to the Administrative Office of United States Courts, there are almost 700 threats a year made against Federal judges; and in numerous cases, Federal judges security details assigned to them for fear of attack by members of violent gangs, drug organizations and disgruntled litigants.

With such tragic incidents, Mr. Chairman, we are in collaboration, if you will, on H.R. 1751, at least the premise, the Secure Access to Justice and Court Protection Act of 2005.

I commend the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. Gohmert), the ranking member, and the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. Sensenbrenner), the chairman, for their collaborative efforts, and the gentleman from Texas (Mr. Goode), my colleague, a former judge, and I guess one would say once a judge always a judge, who has taken the leadership on this issue.

None of us would step away from the purpose and the necessity of this legislation. In fact, I am very gratified to know that the House leadership has had the vision that will allow State courts to establish a threat assessment database similar to that of the U.S. Marshals where they will be able to determine the threat status or situation against a respective court, and then, of course, to hopefully have an amendment that would pass that would provide grants to the highest State courts to be able to disseminate those monies to create that database and that threat assessment database.

In addition, I think that this hard work and commitment of Democratic members on the committee have also now provided for offers of grants to State courts so they can make meaningful enhancements to court safety and security.

It provides the U.S. Marshal Service with an additional $100 million over the course of the next 5 years to increase ongoing investigations and expand the protective services it currently offers to members of the judiciary.

It authorizes the Attorney General to conduct or their danger to society.

With respect to the seriousness of their intended effect. Far from fostering certainty in punishment, mandatory minimum sentences create the opposite of proportionality and destroy honesty in sentencing by encouraging charge and fact plea bargains.

In fact, in a recent letter to members of the Crime Subcommittee regarding the Gang Deterrence and Community Protection Act of 2005, the conference noted that mandatory minimum sentences create the opposite of their intended effect. Far from fostering certainty in punishment, mandatory minimums result in unwarranted sentencing disparity, and mandatory minimums treat dissimilar offenders in a similar manner, although those offenders can be quite different with respect to the seriousness of their conduct or their danger to society.

So I would suggest that we are united around the necessity of this legislation. We must protect our courts and those officials. I might add that I hope... that we will have further discussion about lawyers who are engaged in the practice of law in cases where they come under particular threats, whether it is in particular the prosecutor who is covered by this or defense lawyers and other lawyers who engage in cases which are threats against their lives. We might consider hearings that would discuss that propensity.

I might also say that the inconsistent and arbitrary nature of mandatory minimum sentences is made readily apparent by a quick analysis of section 2 of the bill. Section 2 establishes a 1-year mandatory minimum with 10-year maximum criminal penalty for assaulting the immediate family member of a law enforcement officer or judge, if the assault results in bodily injury. However, just a few lines later in the same section, an identical criminal penalty is established for a simple threat.

So, Mr. Chairman, I think it is important that as we support this legislation that we also take note of some of the inconsistencies that might warrant consideration as this bill makes its way through the House, through the Senate and, of course, conference.

On the death penalty, let me suggest these few thoughts. In creating a new death-penalty-eligible offense for anyone convicted of killing a federally funded public safety officer, there is no disagreement in the value of our public safety officer. It is just whether or not in addition to such an offense of death penalty, whether or not a substitute of life imprisonment without parole could have equally been used. Expansion of the use of the Federal death penalty in the current environment seems to warrant consideration.

The public is clearly rethinking the appropriateness of the death penalty in general due to the evidence that it is ineffective in deterring crime and is especially discriminatory and is more often than not found to be erroneously applied.

I know that for a fact in a recent case we had in Texas, Frances Newton, a young woman accused of killing her children and her husband, a horrific and heinous crime, certainly one would suggest that she warrants the ultimate penalty. However, unfortunately, in petitioning to get a new trial on the basis of real definitive new evidence, the court could not consider such and, of course, Frances Newton has gone to her death. I believe that she has gone to her death with raising the question of whether or not she was, in fact, innocent.

In a 23-year comprehensive study of death penalties, 68 percent were found to be erroneously applied. So it is not surprising that 119 people sentenced to death for murder over the past 12 years have been completely exonerated of those crimes.

This is a good bill. It would have been even better if we had considered life without parole and considered the viability or the necessity of creating a new eligibility for the death penalty. I would ask my colleagues to consider this legislation.

Let me begin by saying that I strongly support the need for the proper guidelines and court officials from threats and violence. Despite this fact, I do have major concerns with this bill. For example, H.R. 1751 proposes to add 16 new mandatory minimum sentences to the current criminal code. Mandatory minimum penalties under the general guideline have, extensively and the vast majority of available research clearly indicates that they do not work. Among other things, they have been shown to distort the sentencing process, to discriminate against minorities in their application, and to waste valuable taxpayer money.

The Judicial Conference of the United States, which sees the impact of mandatory minimum sentences on individual cases as well as on the criminal justice system as a whole, has expressed its deep opposition to mandatory minimum sentencing over a dozen times to Congress, noting that these sentences “severely distort and damage the Federal sentencing system . . . undermine the Sentencing Guidelines regimens.”

In fact, in a recent letter to Members of the Crime Subcommittee regarding H.R. 1279, the “Gang Deterrence and Community Protection Act of 2005,” the Conference noted the mandatory minimum sentences create “the opposite of their intended effect.”

Far from fostering certainty in punishment, mandatory minimums result in unwarranted sentencing disparity. Mandatory minimums treat dissimilar offenders in a similar manner, and “destroys hope in sentencers by encouraging charge and fact plea bargains.”

In a 23-year comprehensive study of death penalties, 68 percent were found to be erroneously applied. So it is not surprising that 119 people sentenced to death for murder over the past 12 years have been completely exonerated of those crimes. Moreover, the same study found that death row inmates represent a quarter of 1 percent of the prison population but 22 percent of the exonerated.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

SEN. BERNSTEIN. Mr. Chairman, I yield 6 minutes to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. Gohmert), the author of the bill.

Mr. GOHMERT. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman very much. I do appreciate the time. I appreciate all the assistance in this bill. The chairman has been wonderful in helping with this and making this a reality.

Mr. Chairman, I rise today in strong support of H.R. 1751, the Secure Access to Justice, Protection Act of 2005. This bill prevents, protects, and punishes. It prevents future attacks, it protects the entire courthouse family, and it punishes those who threaten the safety and security of our Nation’s courthouses. The time has come to restore some sanity and security, and it is the responsibility of the government to assure our citizens have a safe courtroom.

This legislation will work to prevent future attacks in our Nation’s courthouses as what happened at my former courthouse in east Texas. That tragic day in February, we lost a brave man, Mark Wilson, who stepped up to save the life of one of our citizens at the courthouse and was killed the same day. Also, Deputy Sherman Dollison was badly injured while he attempted to protect those at the courthouse. With passage of the Secure Access to Justice, Protection Act, we are taking an important step toward prevention of similar events happening again.

This bill has garnered a lot of support across the country since its introduction in April, and I want to take a moment to thank some of those who have supported H.R. 1751.

First of all, I thank Judge Cynthia Kent, who hails from the Rose City of Tyler, Texas. Judge Kent is a talented judge and a good friend. She testified before the Crime, Terrorism and Homeland Security Subcommittee about the tragic events that took place right outside the courtroom she presides over. She knows about threats against her and her family. Her input and support have been extremely helpful in developing this legislation.

Judge Jane Roth, former chairwoman of the Judicial Conference Committee on Security and Protection, was testifed and was very helpful; Honorable Paul McNulty, who was then the U.S. Attorney for the Eastern District of Virginia; and also Honorable John Clark, who at that time was a U.S. Marshal for the Eastern District of Virginia.

I would also like to thank Judge Joan LeFkow for her testimony before the Senate supporting the court security legislation. I have spoken with her personally and again just in the last hour, and she is most gracious and also grateful for the overall bill. She had also mentioned previously when I talked with her a concern about provisions regarding fees of habeas corpus procedure. That has been pulled from the bill itself. It is not part of the overall bill today. We also know that her elderly mother and husband were tragically murdered by a disgruntled gentleman who was upset by a ruling she had made in a case.

This bill requires consultation and coordination of U.S. courts between U.S. Marshals and the courts themselves. It will open the lines of communication between the marshals and the courts and, therefore, help with the prevention, protection, and penalties in this bill.

Those of us who have had threats against us as judges, but particularly against our families, understand all too well the importance of this bill.

I would also like to thank Chairman SENSENBEINER for shepherding this legislation through his committee, through the rules and here to the floor. It is an honor to serve with him on the Judiciary Committee that he chairs, and I thank the chairman for that continued support.

This legislation will protect immediate family members of federally funded public safety officers and judges at all levels. It also provides enhanced penalties where the victims are U.S. judges, Federal law enforcement officers, federally funded public safety officers, and includes now a provision to protect National Guard troops when they are acting as public safety officers.

It increases the maximum punishment for crimes against victims, witnesses, jurors and informants.

This bill adds a new Federal crime prohibiting recording a fictitious lien by covering officers and employees of the United States, including the Federal judiciary and its employees. It provides a 30-year mandatory minimum to life in prison, or the death penalty for killing a federally funded public safety officer. Of course, for the defendant to get the death penalty, a death must have resulted from their action. The bill includes killing members of the National Guard, as I mentioned, and gives them added protection.

There has been some mention by the gentlewoman from Texas regarding mandates, and I have also noted that we removed a number of mandatory minimums in this bill for things like simple assault and threats. So the court has that consideration. But when it comes to seriously threatening, killing, kidnapping, conspiring to do, as well as through their everyday experience, those issues clearly will not be deterred by adding more such mandates.

Mr. Chairman, I want to thank the Rules Committee chairman, the gentleman from California (Mr. DREIER). His bill was added to this, the David March provision, making a new Federal criminal offense for flight to avoid prosecution for killing a peace officer. This will require sentences which violate common sense.

This notion that Congress has to dictate to state their opposition to mandatory minimum sentences already on the books and applicable to them for those kinds of crimes, so they certainly will not be deterred by adding more such mandates.

Mr. Chairman, I yield myself 1 minute.

Let me simply say that I think we will continue to have discussions as relates to mandatory minimums. I think this bill has great purpose; I think it is important, however, for us to raise those issues.

I will conclude by saying that we have a long way to go in the criminal justice system, and I hope that we will also bring to the floor of this House this whole issue of early release for those who are languishing in prisons. I hope the Good Time Early Release bill for nonviolent prisoners in our Federal prisons who are over 40 years old will have an opportunity for full debate, because they all go hand-in-hand.

Mr. Chairman, can you advise how much time remains?

The CHAIRMAN. The gentleman from Virginia. Mr. Chairman, can you advise how much time remains?

Mr. Scott of Virginia. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, I rise in opposition to H.R. 1761. With several sensational incidents involving the murders of judges, family members of judges, court personnel, witnesses and other victims, we have seen the consequences of insufficient security for our court operations and personnel associated with the courts.

Mr. Chairman, I want to acknowledge and thank Chairman SENSENBEINER for making significant improvements in this bill since our initial consideration of the bill in subcommittee, by removing a number of the superfluous mandatory minimum sentences and death penalties from the bill. However, all such provisions were not removed.

The notion that Congress has to dictate on how to sentence those who harm or threaten judges and their families and others associated with court activities, or that Congress has to replace the States in prosecution of murders of State judges and other State officials is absurd. The kinds of people we are talking about clearly are not the kinds of people we should be spending tax dollars on.

Mr. Chairman, I rise in opposition to mandatory minimums, and it should be seen that the defendant to get the death penalty, a death must have resulted from their action. The bill includes killing members of the National Guard, as I mentioned, and gives them added protection.

Congressional Record — House H10093
November 9, 2005

The courts have not requested mandatory minimums or death penalties because they do not think that the court. Nevertheless, here we go again with more mandatory minimums and more death penalties. In fact, Mr. Chairman, the Federal courts have consistently and loudly expressed their strong opposition to mandatory minimum sentences.

Through rigorous study and analysis, as well as through their everyday experiences in sentencing major players and bit players in crime, the courts found mandatory minimums to be less effective than regular sentencing. They have found them to be racially discriminatory in their application. They have found mandatory minimums to waste money compared to traditional sentences, and they have found mandatory minimums to be a violation of common sense.

The Judicial Conference has written us often to express their opposition to mandatory minimum sentencing and the words written as been added to this bill to state their opposition to mandatory minimum sentences as a violation of the systemic sentencing scheme designed to “reduce unwarranted disparity and to provide proportionality and fairness in punishment.” That idea is violated with mandatory minimums.

The Judicial Conference and everyone concerned supports the grant programs in the bill aimed at strengthening court security and personnel and providing security for persons associated with courts and judges mandatory minimums and the extension of the death penalties, this bill would be one that we could all support.
Unfortunately, Mr. Chairman, because of the mandatory minimums and death penalty it is not one we can all support.

JUDICIAL CONFERENCE OF THE UNITED STATES, Washington, DC, November 8, 2005.

Hon. John Conyers, Jr., Ranking Democrat, Committee on the Judiciary, House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

Dear Representative Conyers: On behalf of the executive branch of the United States, the policy-making body of the federal judiciary, I am writing to convey its views regarding several of the provisions contained in H.R. 1751, the “Secure Access to Justice and Court Protection Act of 2005.”

Much of the impetus for portions of this bill arose from the tragic circumstances surrounding the attempted murder of Judge Joan Lefkow of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois. Although Judge Lefkow survived the attack, her mother and husband were shot and killed by the assailant, a disgruntled litigant.

The current bill contains several provisions that are of particular interest to the federal courts. Section 13 of the bill requires the Administrative Office of the United States Courts to consult with the Judicial Conference of the United States, the policy-making body of the federal judiciary. I am writing to convey its views regarding several of the provisions contained in H.R. 1751, the “Secure Access to Justice and Court Protection Act of 2005.”

We are particularly concerned about a provision in the amendment that would completely remove federal court jurisdiction for all sentencing phase claims, not just those found harmless by the state courts. Under this proposal, unless the claim goes to the validity of the conviction itself, it is not cognizable in the federal courts.

If such a profound change in law were enacted, there would no longer be a federal forum for claims of ineffective assistance of counsel at the sentencing phase. As a result, no matter how inadequate the representation (e.g., the sleeping lawyer case), the court would be without jurisdiction. Claims of prosecutorial misconduct relating to the penalty phase would not be cognizable. For example, if the prosecution suppressed evidence that would have triggered an appropriate plea, that would also not be cognizable. At a resentencing proceeding ordered by a state court on direct appeal, a prosecutor could commit a flagrant violation of Batson v. Kentucky by striking all African-Americans from the jury, and a federal court would be powerless to do anything about it. In short, no matter how unreasonable the state court decision was, there would be no federal jurisdiction for sentencing phase issues. The House should not act on such far-reaching changes in the law that lack a bipartisan consensus.

I urge the House to reject the proposal contained in H.R. 1751, the “Secure Access to Justice and Court Protection Act of 2005.”

Sincerely,

Robert D. Evans,

AMERICAN BAR ASSOCIATION, GOVERNMENTAL AFFAIRS OFFICE, Washington, DC, November 8, 2005.

Hon. Bobby Scott,

Chairman, Committee on the Judiciary, House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

Dear Representative Scott: We understand that during consideration by the House of Representatives of H.R. 1751, the “Secure Access to Justice and Court Protection Act of 2005,” an amendment will be offered by Representative Jeff Flake (R-AZ) to propose significant changes in the federal habeas corpus law.

The American Bar Association (ABA) has long supported the amendment. The ABA strongly opposes this amendment and urges House members to reject it.

The ABA views this proposal as a number of technical changes in a complicated area of law without the benefit of hearings or any previous consideration by the House Judiciary Committee. It is inconsistent with other pending House and Senate legislation and its enactment would create more confusion and chaos in a complex area of law.

We are particularly concerned about a provision in the amendment that would completely remove federal court jurisdiction for all sentencing phase claims, not just those found harmless by the state courts. Under this proposal, unless the claim goes to the validity of the conviction itself, it is not cognizable in the federal courts.

If such a profound change in law were enacted, there would no longer be a federal forum for claims of ineffective assistance of counsel at the sentencing phase. As a result, no matter how inadequate the representation (e.g., the sleeping lawyer case), the court would be without jurisdiction. Claims of prosecutorial misconduct relating to the penalty phase would not be cognizable. For example, if the prosecution suppressed evidence that would have triggered an appropriate plea, that would also not be cognizable. At a resentencing proceeding ordered by a state court on direct appeal, a prosecutor could commit a flagrant violation of Batson v. Kentucky by striking all African-Americans from the jury, and a federal court would be powerless to do anything about it. In short, no matter how unreasonable the state court decision was, there would be no federal jurisdiction for sentencing phase issues. The House should not act on such far-reaching changes in the law that lack a bipartisan consensus.

I urge the House to reject the proposal contained in H.R. 1751, the “Secure Access to Justice and Court Protection Act of 2005.”

Sincerely,

Leonidas Ralph Mecham,

Secretary,
Even with these valuable improvements, however, the bill still suffers from two fatal flaws. Specifically, its inclusion of 16 new mandatory minimum sentences and its establishment of one new death penalty eligible offense.

Mandatory minimums have been studied extensively and have been proven to be ineffective in preventing crime. They also have been proven to distort the sentencing process, and waste valuable taxpayer money.

With more than 2.1 million Americans currently in jail or prison—roughly quadruple the number of individuals incarcerated in 1985—it's hard to see how anyone can continue with such a deeply flawed strategy.

Today, this country incarcerates its citizens at a rate 14 times that of Japan, 8 times the rate of France and 6 times the rate of Canada.

We spend an estimated $40 billion a year to imprison criminal offenders, we choose to build prisons over schools and we fail to provide inmates released from prison with the needed court tools and assistance for a successful re-entry into society.

Thanks to mandatory minimum sentences, almost 10 percent of all inmates in state and federal prisons are serving life sentences, an increase of 83 percent from 1992. In two states alone, New York and California, almost 20 percent of inmates are serving life sentences.

We’ve also noted the numerous problems that exist with regard to the death penalty. Namely, that all of the available evidence clearly demonstrates that the current system is flawed, defendants rarely receive adequate legal representation and that its application is racially discriminatory.

There are now over 100 Americans that have been sentenced to death, only later to be exonerated. Proving that many of the people convicted and sentenced to death are actually innocent.

In the end, the few grants that this bill purports to offer in the area of witness protection and court security can't make up for its two fatal flaws.

I urge my colleagues to oppose this measure.

Mr. SCOTT of Georgia. Mr. Chairman, the entire country witnessed what happened in my district, in the Fulton County Courthouse, on the morning of March 11, 2005.

On that day, Brian Nichols, was to appear in a retial for charges of rape and false imprisonment. As he was escorted from his holding cell to change into civilian clothes for the proceeding, he overpowered the female sheriff's deputy overseeing his transfer, stole her gun, and shot her in the face. Mr. Nichols then proceeded to run through the courthouse complex, unimpeded, steal another firearm and shoot four people, including police, security, and court personnel. He then killed the police chief and a deputy judge, Michael Lefkow and Donna Humphrey, the husband and mother of U.S. District Judge Joan Hale, who had been convicted of soliciting violence against a judicial figure in the Atlanta area.

Mr. Nichols managed to escape the courthouse and evade police for more than two days during which time he used the fire arms that he stole in the courthouse, injuring several more people, stole multiple vehicles and held one woman hostage before he was finally apprehended.

Mr. Speaker, this episode highlights the merits of this bill not just because of the security failure that allowed it to happen. This much is self-evident.

In the aftermath of the security failures at the Fulton County Courthouse, the entire Atlanta metropolitan area, an area of more than 4 million people, was on edge. Schools were put on lock down in several counties. If we had proper security measures in place on that fateful Friday morning, we could have avoided the hysteria and disruptions of normal life that followed.

My constituents, the residents of the Atlanta area, and the law-abiding citizens of this great nation deserve the right to go about their daily lives knowing that our court rooms are secure. Therefore, I urge the passing of this bill.

Mr. KIRK. Mr. Chairman, I rise in support of H.R. 1751 and in support of the dedicated优雅一中。

SEC. 22. MEDIA COVERAGE OF COURT PROCEEDINGS.

(a) FINDING.—The Congress makes the following findings:

(1) The right of the people of the United States to freedom of speech, as specifically protected by the first amendment to the Constitution, cannot be meaningfully exercised without the ability of the public to obtain facts and information about the Government upon which to base their judgments regarding important issues and events. As the United States Supreme Court articulated in Craig v. Harney, 331 U.S. 367 (1947), whatever other benefits the courtroom proceedings would enhance significantly the access of the people to the Federal judiciary.

(2) The right of the people of the United States to a fair press, with the ability to report on all aspects of the conduct of the business of government, as protected by the first amendment to the Constitution, cannot be meaningfully exercised without the availability to the public of information about how the affairs of government are being conducted. As the Supreme Court noted in Richmond Newspapers, Inc. v. Commonwealth of Virginia (1980), “People in an open society do not demand infallibility from their institutions, but it is difficult for them to accept what they are prohibited from observing.”

(3) The right of the people of the United States to petition the Government to redress grievances, particularly as it relates to the manner in which the Government exercises its legislative, executive, and judicial powers, as protected by the first amendment to the Constitution, cannot be meaningfully exercised without the availability to the public of information about how the Government is being conducted. As used in this section, the term “public” includes not only the official proceedings of the Government but the contemporary and contemporaneous review in the forum of public opinion is an effective restraint on possible abuse of judicial power.”

(b) AUTHORITY OF PRESIDING JUDGE TO ALLOW MEDIA COVERAGE OF COURT PROCEEDINGS.

(1) AUTHORITY OF APPELLATE COURTS.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the presiding judge of an appellate court of the United States, in his or her discretion, may permit the photographing, electronic recording, broadcasting, or televising to the public of court proceedings over which that judge presides.

(ii) The presiding judge in a trial proceeding shall inform—

(A) each witness who is not a party that the witness has a right to request that his or her image be obscured during the witness’ testimony; and

(1) PRESIDING JUDGE.—The term “presiding judge” means the judge presiding over the court proceeding concerned. (b) DATABASE.—For purposes of subsection (a), a threat assessment database is a database through which a State can—

In the matter proposed to be inserted by section 2 as a subsection (b)(2)(E) of section 115 of title 18, United States Code, strike “5 years” and insert “not more than 10 years”.

In the matter proposed to be inserted by section 3(b) as a subsection (c)(1)(B) of section 111 of title 18, United States Code, strike “not less” and all that follows through “20 years” and insert “not more than 20 years”.

In the matter proposed to be inserted by section 3(b) as a subsection (c)(2) of section 111 of title 18, United States Code, strike “not less” and all that follows through “30 years” and insert “not more than 40 years”.

In the matter proposed to be inserted by section 20(a) as a section 1075 of title 18, United States Code, strike “5 years” and insert “not more than 10 years”.

In the matter proposed to be inserted by section 21(a) as a subsection (b) of section 1114 of title 18, United States Code, strike “and imprisonment” and all that follows through “or for life” and insert “or imprisonment for any term of years, or for life, or both”.

Mr. Chairman, this amendment eliminates the mandatory minimum sentences in the bill and replaces them with increases in maximum sentences. for which a defendant can be sentenced. This is not a soft-on-crime amendment but a sensible-on-crime amendment. In each instance in which it eliminates a mandatory minimum sentence, it raises the maximum term to which an offender can be sentenced, except in situations where they can already get life.

With the higher maximums, offenders who deserve it can be sentenced to even greater sentences than the bill allows. But those who aregit players in an offense or those who do not deserve much time as ringleaders, do not have to be sentenced to that time anyway. What sense does it make to sentence an offender to more time than anyone believes they deserve? That is an inevitable result of mandatory minimum sentencing.

The notion that we have to have mandatory minimum sentences to force judges to sentence those who kill, injure or threaten judges or their families is associated with the courts is obviously absurd. Judges have not asked for mandatory minimum sentences as a protection for themselves and their families. Indeed, they have asked for just the opposite.

Having the experience of sentencing people on an ongoing basis, judges see the differences in activities, roles, backgrounds of the offenders of crime. They know it makes no sense to sentence just on the basis of the name of the defendant, or those who kill, injure or threaten judges or their families. Judges have not asked for mandatory minimum sentences as a protection for themselves and their families. Indeed, they have asked for just the opposite.

To ensure a systemic approach in sentencing like offenders in a similar manner, Congress has created the Sentencing Commission and the sentencing guideline system. By increasing the maximums, we signal to the Sentencing Commission to consider increasing the guideline minimums, which they characteristically do when we make such suggestions. The sentencing statistics do not establish that the courts have not followed the guidelines, especially when you take into account that most of the deviations result from government motions, or acquittals. In sentences, as line-sanctioned departures. Sentencing is not an exact science and should not be held to rigid statistical measurements.

Some have suggested that mandatory minimum sentencing is necessary because of recent Supreme Court decisions that prevent sentencing increases based on factors not established at the trial. Yet, their positions on mandatory minimum sentences appear to be no different before those cases were decided.

Mandatory minimums have been studied and have been found to disrupt an orderly sentencing scheme, to be discriminatory against minorities, to waste the taxpayers' money when compared to traditional sentencing where individual roles and culpability can be taken into account. If we do not trust judges to sentence offenders sufficiently based on factors other than what is mandatory where we should be able to trust judges is in the case where the charge is murder, injury, or threats to judges.

Certainly, Mr. Chairman, mandatory minimums are not indicated in this case, so I urge my colleagues to support this amendment and remove the mandatory minimums from the bill.

Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. SENSENBRUNNER. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, I rise in opposition to the Scott amendment. It strips all of the mandatory minimum penalties out of the bill.

The amendment seeks to strip the core provisions of the bill. Let me remind everyone of the nature of the problem we face today. More than 57,000 law enforcement officers were assaulted in 2003, or in every 10 officers serving in the United States. The numbers have been increasing since 1999, even as every other crime has decreased or held steady.

The Executive Director of the Fraternal Order of Police noted recently "There is less respect for authority in general, and police specifically. The predisposition of criminals to use firearms is probably at the highest point of our history.''

The secure access proposal addresses this problem by sending a message of deterrence. The existing penalty for assaulting a law enforcement officer is 8 years, 15 if with a weapon. Under current criminal law, a false statement made to an FBI agent in a terrorism investigation carries the same penalty as a violent assault of a police officer.

Federal, State, and local judges have suffered from rising threats, and deadly attacks have been directed against judges as well as courthouse participants.

According to the Administrative Office of United States Courts, there are almost 700 threats made a year against Federal judges, and in numerous cases Federal judges have had security details assigned to them for fear of attack by members of terrorist organizations, violent gangs, and disgruntled litigants.

H.R. 1751 provides a reasonable penalty structure for assaults against judges, prosecutors and public safety officers, as well as members of their families. The bill adopts a penalty structure requiring 1 to 10 years for an assault that results in bodily injury, such as a bruise, fracture, or disfigurement, pain or illness; 3 to 12 years for substantial bodily injury, temporary but substantial disfigurement, temporary but substantial loss or impairment; and 10 to 30 years for serious bodily injury, substantial risk of death, extreme physical pain, profoundly disfigured, or protracted loss or impairment of the function of a bodily member, organ or mental faculty.

These penalties roughly correspond to existing guideline ranges and simply ensure that Federal judges impose the required penalty, but can exercise discretion to a higher penalty if warranted.

Law enforcement officers deserve our fullest protection, brazen criminals show less and less regard for the police and the hard work that they do. Our message is simple: If you attack a police officer or kill a police officer, you will be going to jail for a long time.

As revised, the mandatory minimums are commensurate with existing Federal sentencing guidelines, but in the absence of a mandatory minimum guideline system, there is too much at risk to leave the sentencing to judges who have already demonstrated their willingness to depart from the guidelines when presented with a case.

Mandatory minimum penalties are effective for ensuring consistency in sentencing. Since the Supreme Court's decision in United States v. Booker, judges now have virtually unlimited discretion to ignore the Federal sentencing guidelines and impose whatever sentence they like, all to the detriment of public safety and fairness and sentencing through consistent and punishment sentencing. Our judges are now completely unaccountable.

Congress has a duty to set sentencing policies for Federal crimes and to make sure that judges impose such sentences. Unfortunately, that has not been the experience since the time the Court at the main entrance when they walk in. For these reasons, I urge my colleagues to oppose the amendment.

Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

The CHAIRMAN. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. SCOTT).
The amendment was rejected.

AMENDMENT NO. 3 OFFERED BY MR. SCOTT OF VIRGINIA

Mr. SCOTT of Virginia. Mr. Chairman, I offer an amendment.

The CHAIRMAN. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Amendment No. 3 printed in House Report 109-297 offered by Mr. Scott of Virginia:

In the matter proposed to be inserted by section 4(a) of title 18, United States Code, strike “shall be punished” and all that follows through “death” and insert “shall be fined under this title or imprisoned for any term of years or for life, or both”.

The CHAIRMAN. Pursuant to House Resolution 540, the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. Scott) and the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. SENSENBRENNER) each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Virginia.

Mr. SCOTT of Virginia. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, this amendment would eliminate the expansion of the Federal death penalty jurisdiction on the basis of the conviction of the salary of a State or local official being covered with Federal funds. That means they could be eligible for a Federal death penalty. The notion that the Federal Government has to replace the States and localities in murder prosecutions against those who would murder a State judge or others associated with a judge or courts is absurd.

States have shown themselves quite capable of prosecuting murder cases and in obtaining death penalties where applicable. They have done far more of it, frankly, than the Federal Government, so there is no indication that this raw extension of Federal power is necessary or even desired. If a State has chosen to represent the will of its citizens by not authorizing a death penalty, why should Congress step in and impose it in spite of the State’s public policy choice?

The States certainly have not asked that we add a Federal death penalty to apply to the murder of federally funded State or local officials. And there is no evidence that the kind of people who would kill or plot to kill a State court judge or other officials may be deterred by a Federal death penalty.

The public is clearly rethinking the appropriateness of the death penalty, in general, due to the evidence that it is ineffective in deterring crime, that it is racially discriminatory, and found more often than not to be erroneously applied.

A 23-year comprehensive study of the death penalty found that the death penalty had been erroneously applied 68 percent of the time. So it is not surprising that over 120 people sentenced to death over the last 10 years have been found to be not guilty. This has been completely exonerated of the crimes for which they were convicted or otherwise found to be not guilty.

Nor is it surprising that with such a sorry record of death penalty administration, that several States have abolished the death penalty or placed moratoriums on the applications of their death penalty while studies are being conducted, and why some, while they haven’t in the books, have not applied it in many years.

In recognition of the problems States and localities were having with administering the death penalty, Congress adopted the Innocence Protection Act just a few years ago providing funds to State and local entities to help ensure that there is competent counsel at all parts of the trial.

Mr. Chairman, during committee deliberations of the death penalty, we heard references to econometric research of economist Joanna M. Shepard. I want to point out, more recently, she has done further analysis in elaboration of her research and found, in terms of deterring murders, executions deter murders, States, have no effect on murders in eight States, and increased murders in 13 States.

Mr. Chairman, despite the fact that the death penalty is arbitrarily applied, it is discriminatory and we make mistakes. I would hope that we would delete the death penalty from this bill by adopting the amendment.

Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I rise in opposition to the Scott amendment which eliminates the death penalty for the killing of a federally funded public safety officer, such as a judge, police officer, firefighter, prosecutor, or a family member of a public safety officer.

According to the Bureau of Justice Statistics, 52 law enforcement officers were feloniously killed in the United States in 2003. Law enforcement officers were killed in the previous year.

In the 10-year period from 1994 through 2003, a total of 616 law enforcement officers were feloniously killed in the line of duty in the United States, 100 of whom were killed in ambush situations, entrapment or premeditated situations. If not for the advent of bulletproof vests, an additional 400 officers would have been killed over the last decade, except for the fact that they were wearing protective armor.

Of those responsible for killing police officers between 1994 and 2003, 521 had a prior arrest for assaulting a police officer or resisting arrest, 264 for a crime of violence, 290 for a weapons violation, and 23 for murder.

Recent events include the killing of an individual with a grenade in the Seattle Federal courthouse; the killing of Judge Roland Barnes, his deputy sheriff and a Federal agent in Atlanta; the murders of Federal Judge LeKew’s husband and mother; and the murders immediately outside the Tyler, Texas, courthouse.

These recent attacks follow on the heels of the 1998 bombing of Circuit Judge Robert Vance in the 11th Circuit; the 1998 shooting of Judge Daronoco; and the 1979 shooting of Judge Wood outside his San Antonio home.

According to the Administrative Office, there are almost 700 threats a year made against Federal judges, and security detail have had to be assigned to those Federal judges because of the threats of attacks.

The Secure Access bill authorizes, but does not require prosecution of federally funded State and local judges and first responders if there is a threat on an assault against them.

First, jurisdiction only exists when it involves Federal funding and protection of Federal investment.

Second, under current Federal law, the Department of Justice pays survivors of families of first responders who are killed in the line of duty. The Federal interest in minimizing these assaults and murders is obvious and cost-saving.

The intent underlying this provision is to authorize Federal prosecution after State and local prosecutors and Federal prosecutors determine where such prosecution would best be brought. Some States do not have a death penalty and Federal prosecution of a cop killer may be warranted. Federal prosecution may be advantageous over State or local prosecutions for a variety of reasons, such as laws relating to evidence, statute of limitations, or other reasons.

The provisions do not require Federal prosecution, but only add another tool in the arsenal to protect law enforcement officers, judges, and other courthouse personnel.

The need for a swift and effective death penalty is significant in the case of violent offenders who assault and kill law enforcement officers, judges and witnesses. Several scientifically valid statistical studies that examine a period of years and control for national trends consistently show that the capital punishment is a substantial deterrent and saves lives. Recent estimates show that each execution deters 18 murders.

I urge a “no” vote on the amendment.

Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

The CHAIRMAN. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentlemen from Virginia (Mr. Scott).

The question was taken; and the Chairman announced that the noes appeared to have it.

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Mr. Chairman, I demand a recorded vote.

The CHAIRMAN, pursuant to clause 6 of rule XVIII, further proceedings on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. Scott) will be postponed.

AMENDMENT NO. 4 OFFERED BY MR. CUellar MR. CUELLAR. Mr. Chairman, I offer an amendment.

The CHAIRMAN. The Clerk will designate the amendment.
The text of the amendment is as follows:

Amendment No. 4 printed in House Report 109-279 offered by Mr. CUELLAR:
Section 11(c) is amended—
(1) by striking “and” at the end of paragraph (2);
(2) by striking the period at the end of paragraph (3) and inserting “; and”;
and
(3) inserting after paragraph (3) the following:
(4) shares an international border and faces a demonstrable threat from cross border crime and violence.

The CHAIRMAN. Pursuant to House Resolution 540, the gentleman from Texas (Mr. CUELLAR) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Texas.

Mr. CUELLAR. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, my amendment is an amendment that adds a category of preferential consideration for witness protection grants for jurisdictions that share an international border and face a threat from cross-border crime.

Basically, this would allow the border prosecutors an opportunity to protect the witness that sometimes fears that they might get a threat from international cross-border threats. I believe this amendment is acceptable to Chairman SENSENBRENNER.

Mr. Chairman, Chairman SENSENBRENNER and Ranking Member CONVERS, Congressman SCOTT, thank you for this opportunity to offer my amendment to H.R. 1751, the Secure Access to Justice and Court Protection Act of 2005.

Crime and violence along the U.S.-Mexico border presents unique challenges to the law enforcement community. Border crimes can be especially difficult to prosecute: a witness to a crime along the border may be hesitant to testify if he or she fears it is related to criminal activity across the border in another country.

The CueLLar amendment is simple, it adds a category of preferential consideration for witness protection grants for jurisdictions that share an international border and face a demonstrable threat from cross-border crime.

This category will benefit such jurisdictions that choose to apply for witness protection grants.

We must provide prosecutors every means possible to adjudicate crimes along the border, and giving them preferential consideration for witness protection grants will help that goal.

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. CUELLAR. I yield to the gentleman from Wisconsin.

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Mr. Chairman, the amendment is a very good amendment. It is not acceptable, but it is something that I enthusiastically support.

Mr. CUELLAR. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman.

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. CUELLAR. I yield to the gentlewoman from Texas.

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman for his very wise amendment. He comes from a region that has suffered an enormous amount of border violence.

But his local officials, in working with the gentleman, has brought this to the Nation’s attention.

This amendment will protect witnesses who I think are the crux of solving some of the worst crimes. I have supported amendments such as this, which include language in legislation that I have which deals with rewarding informants in order to get them to tell the facts that would allow Federal marshals, for instance, to go after brutality and those who are perpetrating violence. This is a wise amendment, and I am happy to support it.

Mr. CUELLAR. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentlewoman for the work she has done.

Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

The CHAIRMAN. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Texas (Mr. CUELLAR).

The amendment was agreed to.

AMENDMENT NO. 5 OFFERED BY MS. JACKSON-LEE OF TEXAS

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. Mr. Chairman, I offer an amendment.

The CHAIRMAN. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Amendment No. 5 printed in House Report 109-279 offered by Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas:

In section 25, strike subsection (a) and insert the following:

“(a) IN GENERAL.—The Attorney General, through the Office of Justice Programs, shall make grants under this section to the highest State courts in States participating in the program, for the purpose of enabling such courts to establish and maintain a threat assessment database described in subsection (b).”.

The CHAIRMAN. Pursuant to House Resolution 540, the gentlewoman from Texas (Ms. JACKSON-LEE) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from Texas.

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I want to thank the ranking member and the chairman of the full committee and the chairman and the ranking member of the subcommittee to allow the amendment that I secured that has to do with providing courts the opportunity to establish a threat assessment database similar to that of U.S. Marshals.

I respectfully request that my amendment be made in order.

Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

The CHAIRMAN. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentlewoman from Texas (Ms. JACKSON-LEE).

The amendment was agreed to.

AMENDMENT NO. 6 OFFERED BY MR. FILNER

Mr. FILNER, Mr. Chairman, I offer an amendment.

The CHAIRMAN. The Clerk will designate the amendment.
The text of the amendment is as follows:

Amendment No. 6 in printed in House Report 109-279 offered by Mr. FILNER.

Section 26(d)(3) is amended:

(1) by redesignating subparagraphs “(D)” and “(E)” as subparagraphs “(E)” and “(F),” respectively; and

(2) by inserting after subparagraph (C) the following:

“(D) support for young witnesses who are trying to leave a criminal gang and information to prevent initial gang recruitment.”

The CHAIRMAN. Pursuant to House Resolution 540, the gentleman from California (Mr. FILNER) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from California.

Mr. FILNER. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I thank Chairman Sensenbrenner and the Rules Committee for allowing this amendment to proceed. There is a very good section of the bill talking about grants for young witness assistance, and I think when we talk about that, as the bill does, very importantly, we also must explicitly talk about gangs because we know that youth witness intimidation generally comes at the hands of criminal gangs. So my amendment adds language to this section that provides for this bill to allow the use of witness protection grants by youths who are trying to leave a criminal gang or to prevent initial gang recruitment.

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. FILNER. I yield to the gentleman from Wisconsin.

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Mr. Chairman, I am happy to support this amendment. I think it plugs a hole in the original bill, and we certainly want to do whatever we can to prevent people from going into gangs and from being threatened if they are witnesses and are sworn to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth in criminal trials involving gang members.

Mr. FILNER. Mr. Chairman, I thank the chairman for his support.

Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentlewoman from California (Ms. WATSON).

Ms. WATSON. Mr. Chairman, I am here to support the gentleman from California (Mr. FILNER) and his amendment to H.R. 1751. I would like to thank the Chair for accepting that amendment.

What he is trying to do is to help that young person extricate him or herself and let the courts and law enforcement know aspects of gang crime that are key in convicting our most dangerous criminals on the streets.

In my district I think we have exported gang activities around the country and maybe even around the world, South Central Los Angeles. So as a result, I started a series of youth violence summits with intervention specialists, educators, counselors, and the youth themselves. And one clear message that has resonated amongst all of them is the dire need to promise our youth that if they are involved in gang activity and remove themselves, they will not be harmed or killed by the very gang that they wisely ostracize themselves from.

So this amendment clearly provides much-needed witness protection for our youth who are fearful of leaving a gang and who will come forward to testify about the inner workings of these gangs.

So I thank the gentleman very much for recognizing that we need to have options for the young people that are trying to be responsible in the process. And we are going to come back next year with a comprehensive bill because we have been studying this issue, working with it for the last 20 years; and I thank Mr. FILNER and Mr. SENSENBRENNER so much for recognizing the need to have these programs.

Mr. FILNER. If I may conclude, Mr. Chairman, according to the past president of the National District Attorney Association, Robert P. McCullough, he said that “prosecutors across the country believe that the issue of witness intimidation is the single biggest hurdle facing any successful gang prosecution.” So I appreciate the chairman’s acceptance of this amendment. I look forward to these grants helping our young people avoid gangs or at least avoid intimidation.

I believe when you talk about witness assistance programs for children, which this bill does, you have to talk about gangs because as many know, gang intimidation generally comes at the hand of criminal gangs.

My amendment adds language to the witness protection grants provided in this bill to allow their use by youths who are trying to leave a criminal gang or to prevent initial gang recruitment.

Unfortunately, my district like many others across the country has a problem with gangs, which is why I introduced this amendment.

In San Diego, police department records count nearly 840,000 active gang members on the street. Most are young—pre-teens to mid-20s. During the first six months of this year, gang violence resulted in eight homicides in San Diego, nearly a third of the total of 23.

However, don’t let these statistics mislead you, gang violence is not limited to California and or big urban areas—that might have been true a while ago but it is no longer the case today. While big cities still have the majority of gangs their tentacles reach out from the cities into every aspect of our society. For example, Mara Salvatrucha, as you know, known as MS-13, Salva grown from a gang that once numbered a few thousand and was involved in street violence and turf battles in Southern California into a gang that operates in at least 33 states, with an international membership in the hundreds of thousands.

Three thousand jurisdictions across the U.S. are estimated to have had gang activity in 2001. In 2002, 32% of cities with a population of 25 to 50 thousand reported a gang-related homicide. Furthermore, it is estimated that there are 840,000 active gang members in the U.S. operating in every state of the Union.

These gangs are effective because they bind their members to loyalty and create fear throughout the community in which they operate. This fear, most noticeable in children, prevents residents from cooperating with law enforcement officials and testifying against gang members. My amendment, while not a panacea for the gang problem, is a step in the right direction. It provides support to prevent initial gang recruitment of young witnesses who are trying to leave criminal gangs. Passage of my amendment will decrease youth witness intimidation by gangs and as a result lead to improved prosecution of gang members.

Finally, as a matter of clarification, my amendment does not “require” states to provide such criminal gang witness assistance to be eligible for young adult witness assistance grants.

Mr. Chair, I yield back the balance of my time.

The CHAIRMAN. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from California (Mr. FILNER), Mr. SENSENBRENNER.

The amendment was agreed to.

Amendment No. 7 offered by Mr. WEINER.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. Chairman, I offer an amendment.

and

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD — HOUSE H10103 November 9, 2005
The CHAIRMAN. Pursuant to House Resolution 540, the gentleman from New York (Mr. WEINER) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from New York.

MR. WEINER. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

This is a technical amendment that fixes an oversight in the bill that left out four programs that would be helpful for courts, court officers, and court security personnel to take advantage of: the Bulletproof Vest Partnership Grant program; the Byrne Memorial State and Local Law Enforcement Assistance Discretionary Grant program; the Assistance for Children’s Justice Act, CJA, grants; and State Justice Statistics program for Statistical Analysis Centers.

These four grant programs, I think, the authors of the bill, Mr. GOHMER, myself and members of the committee, had intended to be available to courts as a whole bill, and this amendment would include those.

Mr. SENSENBERGREN. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

MR. WEINER. I yield to the gentleman from Wisconsin.

Mr. SENSENBERGREN. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman for yielding to me.

The gentleman from New York is absolutely correct in that there was an oversight in that State and local courts would not be eligible for the four grant programs that the gentleman outlined in his remarks. This amendment corrects the oversight, and I am happy to support it and hope that the committee adopts it.

Mr. SENSENBERGREN. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

For the balance my time here, I do want to point out one other provision that has gone largely unnoticed, but is a very important part of this bill.

I have beside me, and it is difficult to read from afar and, frankly, it is difficult to even read from up close, a Web site that distributes the personal information about judges, police officers, elected officials, and the like. This Web site, and we have obviously obscured the URL, goes so far as to talk about the comings and goings of undercover officers in New York City. It provides sensitive details of about 79 different courts, the kinds of arms and shall, with respect to justices, judges, bankruptcy judges, and magistrate judges, be prescribed after consultation with the Judicial Conference of the United States.

Mr. KING of Iowa. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

First, Mr. Chairman, I want to thank Chairman SENSENBERGREN and Mr. GOHMER for bringing this underlying bill to the floor, H.R. 1751.

My amendment specifically addresses the problem of violence in and around Federal courthouses. The amendment authorizes any Federal judge, magistrate, United States Attorney, or any other officer of the Department of Justice whose duties include representing the United States in a court of law, may carry firearms, subject to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe. Such regulations shall provide for training and regular certification in the use of firearms and shall, with respect to justices, judges, bankruptcy judges, and magistrate judges, be prescribed after consultation with the Judicial Conference of the United States.

Mr. KING of Iowa. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

The CHAIRMAN. Pursuant to House Resolution 540, the gentleman from Iowa (Mr. KING) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Iowa.

Mr. KING of Iowa. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

The amendment was agreed to.

AMENDMENT NO. 8 OFFERED BY MR. KING OF IOWA

Mr. KING of Iowa. Mr. Chairman, I offer an amendment.

The CHAIRMAN. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Amendment No. 8 printed in House Report 109-279 offered by Mr. King of Iowa:

At the end of the bill, add the following:

SEC. 3054. Authority of Federal judges and prosecutors to carry firearms

“Any justice of the United States or judge of the United States (as defined in section 451 of title 28), any judge of a court created under article I of the United States Constitution, any bankruptcy judge, any magistrate judge, any United States attorney, and any other officer or employee of the Department of Justice whose duties include representing the United States in a court of law, may carry firearms, subject to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe. Such regulations shall provide for training and regular certification in the use of firearms and shall, with respect to justices, judges, bankruptcy judges, and magistrate judges, be prescribed after consultation with the Judicial Conference of the United States.”
murder of family members of U.S. District Judge Joan Lefkow; the slaying of Judge Rowland Barnes, his court reporter, deputy sheriff, and a Federal officer in Atlanta; the cold-blooded shootings outside the Tyler, Texas courthouse, among others. These situations underscore the importance of security for judges and prosecutors.

There is a significant need to allow judges and U.S. Attorneys to carry firearms because threats and dangerous assaults upon them are steadily increasing. By virtue of their positions, United States judges and prosecutors are high-profile targets. They and their families have often been victims of violent crimes, murder, and threats to their personal safety.

United States judges, justices, and U.S. Attorneys bravely serve the people of the United States of America. They prosecute our most serious, sophisticated, and violent offenders. These offenders range from international terrorists to armed career criminals.

Protecting the courthouse is important, Mr. Chairman, but the courthouse is just a building. This amendment is designed to provide meaningful protection from the courthouse to the homes in the areas where the judges and prosecutors live.

Our Nation relies and depends upon the sound and unintimidated judgment of these dedicated public servants. We owe them every reasonable tool to protect themselves and their families. This includes the right to carry an effective personal security tool.

Mr. Chairman, I urge a “yes” vote on this amendment.

Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. SCOTT of Virginia. Mr. Chairman, I ask unanimous consent to claim the time in opposition, although I am not opposed.

The CHAIRMAN. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Virginia?

There was no objection.

Mr. SCOTT of Virginia. Mr. Chairman, I wonder if the gentleman from Iowa would respond to a couple of questions. I would ask the gentleman whether or not this applies to Federal officials only; we are not imposing this requirement upon the Federal Government in a court of law, the voice of the Federal Government in a court of law.

Mr. SCOTT of Virginia. Mr. Chairman, claiming my time, also, did the Federal officials ask for this new power?

I yield to the gentleman.

Mr. KING of Iowa. Mr. Chairman, on that specific question, I cannot answer “yes” or “no” to. I am working with a piece of language I believe in, and I have not looked a Federal official in the eye that specifically asked me.

Mr. SCOTT of Virginia. Mr. Chairman, reclaming my time, it is my understanding that this was in fact their request, in fact, their number one request. Does the gentleman have any evidence or know anything contrary to that?

Mr. KING of Iowa. I have been informed that, yes, we have Federal officials who have asked for this legislation. I would point out that it is not mandatory that they accept carrying a firearm; it is their option that they exercise under the regulation provided by the Attorney General.

Mr. SCOTT of Virginia. Reclaiming my time, I would finally ask, is this the right to carry, subject to training and regulation prescribed by the Attorney General?

Mr. SCOTT of Virginia. Mr. Chairman, I urge a vote on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Iowa (Mr. KING).

The CHAIRMAN. Is there objection to the vote on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Iowa (Mr. KING). There was no objection.

The amendment was agreed to.

AMENDMENT NO. 3 OFFERED BY SCOTT OF VIRGINIA

The CHAIRMAN. The pending business is the demand for a recorded vote on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. SCOTT) on which further proceedings were postponed and on which the noes prevailed by voice vote.

The Clerk will redesignate the amendment.

The Clerk redesignated the amendment.

AYE 97
The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the rule, the previous question is ordered.

Is a separate vote demanded on any amendment to the committee amendment in the nature of a substitute adopted by the Committee of the Whole? If not, the question is on the amendment.

The amendment was agreed to.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the engrossment and third reading of the bill.

The bill was ordered to be engrossed and read a third time, and was read the third time.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT OFFERED BY MR. HIGGINS

Mr. HIGGINS. Yes, in its current form, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Clerk will report the motion to recommit.

The Clerk read as follows:

Mr. HIGGINS moves to recommit the bill to the Committee on the Judiciary with instructions to report the same back to this House forthwith with the following amendment:

Insert at the appropriate place the following:

SEC. 8. PROHIBITION OF PROFITEERING AND THE FRAUD OF MILITARY ACTIONS AND DISASTER RELIEF.

(a) In General.—Chapter 63 of title 18, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new item:

"1351. Profiteering and fraud in connection with military actions and disaster relief.

'(a) Prohibition.—Whoever, directly or indirectly, in any matter involving a contract with the Federal Government or the provision of goods or services to or on behalf of the Federal Government, in connection with military action, or relief or reconstruction activities in Iraq or Afghanistan or any other foreign country, or relief or reconstruction efforts provided in response to a major disaster or emergency under section 401 of the Disaster Relief Act of 1974, or an emergency declaration under section 501 of the Disaster Relief Act of 1974, knowingly and willfully—

'(1) executes or attempts to execute a scheme or artifice to defraud the United States;

'(2) falsifies, conceals, or covers up by any trick, scheme, or device a material fact;

'(3) makes any materially false, fictitious, or fraudulent statements or representations, or uses or employs any materially false writing or document knowing the same to contain any materially false, fictitious, or fraudulent statement or entry; or

'(4) materially overvalues any good or service with the specific intent to excessively profit from the federal disaster or emergency.

shall be fined under subsection (b), imprisoned not more than 30 years, or both.

'(b) FINE.—A person convicted of an offense under subsection (a) may be fined the greater of—

'(1) $1,000,000; or

'(2) twice the gross profits or other proceeds from the offense, not more than 3 times the gross profits or other proceeds from the offense.

(c) Clerical Amendment.—The table of sections at the beginning of chapter 63 of title 18, United States Code, is amended by adding the following new item:

"8. Prohibition of profiteering and fraud in connection with military actions and disaster relief."
Mr. SENSENBERNRENER. Mr. Speaker, this motion is offered by a Member who stated to the Speaker that he is opposed to this bill. He is opposed to providing additional security to judges, to prosecutors, to witnesses, to victims and their family members. He is opposed to his being worked on significantly on a bipartisan basis. And he has stated that he is opposed to doing something where there is a crying need, given the threats and the murders in courthouses all around the country, not just in Federal courthouses but State and local courthouses as well.

Now, what does he propose to do in the motion to recommit? He proposes to add additional criminal penalties for things that are already criminal. And all that does is to confuse juries, to confuse prosecutors, to confuse people who are attempting to do business with the government.

Profiteering in an illegal manner is already criminal under the United States Code. We do not need to confuse the issue with an additional statute. And we do not need to defeat this bill by this motion that has been offered by several proclaimed opponents of this bill.

☑ 1800

The bill is a good one. In order to get it passed and signed into law to protect the judicial branch and those who do business and work for it, vote this silly motion down and pass the bill as has been worked out on a bipartisan basis.

Mr. FARR. Mr. Speaker, I urge all the Members present here to support the motion to instruct conferees on the PACT Act and Terrorism Prevention Reauthorization bill.

This Motion to Instruct would take the most contentious provisions of this bill and sunset them in 4 years. These provisions include section 215, which allows officials to order the wiretap orders without definition of who and where the tap will go, and the “Lone Wolf” provision which allows the government to surveil so-called agents of a foreign power who act alone.

Egregious law that robs the civil liberties of law abiding Americans should be reviewed sooner than later, therefore I strongly support these sunset provisions proposed in this motion to instruct.

My constituents agree that the American people should not have to compromise their civil liberties in order to combat extremism. The local governments of Pacific Grove, Salinas, Santa Cruz, and Watsonville, CA have all passed resolutions expressing their concerns with the anti-privacy and anti-liberty nature of the PACT Act.

I also would like to note my disappointment that the fiscal year 2006 State-Science-Jus-Commerce Appropriations bill included one of the most invasive provisions of the PACT Act that permits sweeping searches and seizures of library and bookstore patron records, despite this body’s condemnation of the provision earlier this year.

Voices in the Congress echo voices of people across America.

I urge a “yea” vote on the motion to instruct.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. TERRY). Without objection, the previous question is ordered on the motion to recommit.

There was no objection. The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion to recommit. The question was taken; and the Speaker pro tempore announced that the noes appeared to have it.

RECORDED VOTE

Mr. HIGGINS. Mr. Speaker, I demand a recorded vote.

A recorded vote was ordered. The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 9 of rule XX, the Chair will reduce to 5 minutes the minimum time for any electronic vote on the question of passage.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—ayes 201, noes 221, not voting, 11, as follows:
