Senator HARRY REID, who spoke earlier on the floor. I was here with many of my colleagues and listened to his incredible story about his background from Searchlight, NV, to his ascension to the Senate and becoming the Democratic leader.

When I first came to the Senate, Senator HARRY REID asked to meet with me. I thought he was going to talk about my philosophy on different issues or what my interests would be or how I was going to try to move forward on particular bills, but what he really wanted to talk about was my family, what I thought about in life. He was very interested in my family traditions and how that would be impacted by my life in the Senate.

I must tell you, it was very personal. I think many of us have seen many sides of HARRY REID, but one side of him is clear. He treats the Senate as his family, and he treats each one of us as his family.

I wish to express my appreciation for his service in the U.S. Senate and for his public service over so many years. Myrna and I are friends of Landra and HARRY REID. We wish them only the best as he moves forward from his career in the Senate.

It has really been a pleasure to serve with him in the Senate. This is an inextinguishable light. I am going to do my best to honor this Senate.

I yield the floor.

TRIBUTE TO HARRY REID

Mr. CARDIN. Mr. President, I wish to take a moment to express my appreciation to the Democratic leader, Senator HARRY REID, who spoke earlier on the floor.

I was here with many of my colleagues and listened to his incredible story about his background from Searchlight, NV, to his ascension to the Senate and becoming the Democratic leader.

When I first came to the Senate, Senator HARRY REID asked to meet with me. I thought he was going to talk about my philosophy on different issues or what my interests would be or how I was going to try to move forward on particular bills, but what he really wanted to talk about was my family, what I thought about in life. He was very interested in my family traditions and how that would be impacted by my life in the Senate.

I must tell you, it was very personal. I think many of us have seen many sides of HARRY REID, but one side of him is clear. He treats the Senate as his family, and he treats each one of us as his family.

I wish to express my appreciation for his service in the U.S. Senate and for his public service over so many years. Myrna and I are friends of Landra and HARRY REID. We wish them only the best as he moves forward from his career in the Senate.

It has really been a pleasure to serve with him in the Senate. This is an inextinguishable light. I am going to do my best to honor this Senate.

I yield the floor.
WORK BEFORE THE SENATE
Mr. CORNYN. Mr. President, earlier today we moved the Defense authorization bill across the finish line. This legislation authorizes funding for things such as training our troops to counter the ever-evolving threats emanating from around the world. The Defense authorization bill also gives our men and women in uniform the most up-to-date weaponry and the other equipment they need, including advanced aircraft, ships, and ground vehicles.

Fortunately, the bill also authorizes needed improvements in military facilities such as those in Fort Hood, TX, Joint Base San Antonio, Red River Army Depot, and Ellington Field.

Finally, it provides a much needed pay raise for our troops. I am pleased we were able to get our work done to better serve our men and women in uniform.

I hope the President reconsiders his stated intention to veto this legislation. It makes absolutely no sense to me, and it should be an insult to the troops—whom we all claim to support—to deny them the resources and the pay raise that this bill provides for.

We still have more work ahead of us, including the continuing resolution. I know there are Members of this body who say: Well, we want to change that appropriations bill to add some other provisions. But I just came back from meeting with some of the Members of the Texas House delegation. They tell me they are leaving. So even if changes are made, the House is not going to be here and in session to make changes to the continuing resolution.

Our friends across the aisle need to face up to the reality that if they somehow prevent us from passing this legislation, they will be doing so to the detriment of the American people.

TRIBUTES TO DEPARTING SENATORS
Mr. CORNYN. Mr. President, I know it is always difficult to come to the floor and talk about the departure of our good friends and valued colleagues. The word I have heard mentioned the most this week is “bittersweet”—people looking forward to the next chapter of their lives but regretting the fact that good friends and valued colleagues are moving on to the next chapter of their lives. But every other December, we find ourselves bidding farewell to some of our most admired and respected Members. Today I wish to speak briefly about four of them, starting with our friend from New Hampshire, Senator AYOTTE.

KELLY AYOTTE
Mr. President, Senator AYOTTE and I have more in common than may meet the eye, so let me explain. Our home-towns are 2,000 miles away, so it doesn’t happen very often. She served as attorney general of the State of New Hampshire and holds the distinction of being New Hampshire’s first and only female attorney general. She was first appointed to that position by a Republican Governor, and she was later confirmed by the Senate. She has an outstanding job serving the people that she was reappointed to that position by a Democratic Governor.

Everybody who knows KELLY AYOTTE knows that she epitomizes the spirit of bipartisanship and comradery that makes a good public servant a great one. That has been evident in her work she has done here in the U.S. Senate. From the Comprehensive Addiction and Recovery Act to multiple national security issues, Senator AYOTTE has been eager to work with Members on both sides of the aisle when it comes down to doing what is best for the people of her State and for the United States.

Senator AYOTTE and I both come from military families. My dad flew in the Army Air Corps in World War II. And, as many of us know, Joe, her husband, served in the Air Force. Her grandfather also served in the Army Air Corps in World War II, so we find ourselves bidding farewell to some of our most admired and respected Members.

Dan Coats
Mr. President, next I wish to recognize our friend, Senator DAN COATS. Senator Coats is a well-known commodity not just in Hoosier country but across the United States. He has earned the respect of one of our most distinguished statesmen who genuinely doesn’t need an introduction because his sterling reputation precedes him.

We know his impressive resume. After serving the country as a soldier in Vietnam, he decided to continue in public service, so he worked as a congressional staffer for then-Congressman Dan Quayle. When his boss decided to run for the Senate and won, Senator Coats took his boss’s seat in the House of Representatives. And when Senator Quayle became Vice President Quayle, Representative Coats became Senator Coats, following on in his example.

He broke that pattern of following in the footsteps of the former Vice President when he was appointed Ambassador to Germany. In the aftermath of the 9/11 attacks, he was an instrumental diplomat, working with our allies in Europe as we responded, and as the world responded to the worst terror attack on our country in our history.

I know I speak for every Member here when I say that we are grateful Senator Coats came out of retirement and came back to the Senate in 2010. We have come to know that he is a warrior when it comes to wasteful Washington spending, and every week he comes to the floor to talk about his waste of the week. It is a service to all of us, really, to remind us that we have to keep working to overcome the waste of the week. It is also to point out how we can save taxpayers’ dollars and use them more efficiently.

Many folks wouldn’t know that he regularly attends the weekly Prayer Breakfast we have here in the Senate as well, which is a great time for Senators to come together and support one another. It reflects Dan’s commitment to faithfully encourage his colleagues day in and day out.

My colleagues know that Senator Coats is also a big fan of getting things done during votes, and he knows how to work a room. He has been on
