PROCEEDINGS AND DEBATES OF THE 117th CONGRESS, FIRST SESSION

Vol. 167

WASHINGTON, SUNDAY, JANUARY 3, 2021

No. 1

House of Representatives

This being the day fixed by the 20th Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, for the meeting of the 117th Congress of the United States, the Representatives-elect met in their Hall, and at noon were called to order by the Clerk of the House of Representatives, Hon. Cheryl L. Johnson.

Reverend Emanuel Cleaver, II, St. James United Methodist Church, Kansas City, Missouri, offered the following prayer:

Eternal God, noiselessly we bow before Your throne of grace as we leave behind the politically and socially clamorous year of 2020. We gather, now, in this consequential Chamber to inaugurate another chapter in our roller coaster representative government. The Members of this august body acknowledge Your sacred supremacy and, therefore, confess that without Your favor and forbearance, we enter this new year relying, dangerously, on our own fallible nature.

God, at a moment when many believe that the bright light of democracy is beginning to dim, empower us with an extra dose of commitment to its principles. May we, of the 117th Congress, refuel the lamp of liberty so brimful that generations unborn will witness its undying flame. And may we model community healing, control our tribal tendencies and quicken our spirit that we may feel Thy priestly presence even in moments of heightened disagreement. May we so feel Your presence that our service here may not be soiled by any utterances or acts unworthy of this high office. Insert in our spirit a light so bright that we can see ourselves and our politics as we really are—soiled by selfishness, perverted by prejudice and inveigled by ideology.

Now, may the God who created the world and everything in it bless us and keep us. May the Lord make His face to shine upon us and be gracious unto us. May the Lord lift up the light of His countenance upon us and give us peace—peace in our families, peace across this land and dare I ask, O Lord, peace even in this Chamber, now and evermore. We ask it in the name of the monotheistic God and Brahma and God known by many names by many different faiths.

Amen, and a woman.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

The CLERK. The Representatives-elect and their guests will please remain standing and join in the Pledge of Allegiance.

The Clerk led the Pledge of Allegiance as follows:

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

The CLERK. As directed by law, the Clerk of the House has prepared the official roll of the Representatives-elect.

Certificates of election covering 434 seats in the One Hundred Seventeenth Congress have been received by the Clerk of the House. The Clerk has not received a certificate of election from the 22nd District of the State of New York. The names of those persons whose credentials show that they were regularly elected as Representatives in accord with the laws of their respective States or of the United States will be called.

The Representatives-elect will record their presence by electronic device and their names will be reported in alphabetical order by State, beginning with the State of Alabama, to determine whether a quorum is present.

Representatives-elect will record their presence by electronic device.

Representatives-elect who have not obtained their voting ID cards may do so now in Statuary Hall.

The call was taken by electronic device, and the following Representatives-elect responded to their names:

AFTER RECESS

The recess having expired, the House was called to order by the Clerk of the House at 1 o'clock and 59 minutes p.m.

ELECTION OF SPEAKER

The CLERK. Pursuant to law and precedent, the next order of business is the election of the Speaker of the House of Representatives for the 117th Congress.

Nominations are now in order.

The Clerk recognizes the gentleman from New York (Mr. JEFFRIES).

Mr. JEFFRIES. Madam Clerk, I rise today at the direction of the House Democratic Caucus, by the vote of that Caucus, to place the name of the Honorable NANCY PELOSI, Representative-elect from the great State of California, by way of Charm City, into nomination for election to the position of Speaker of the United States House of Representatives.

NANCY PELOSI believes in the power of American exceptionalism.

NANCY PELOSI believes in the goodness of the American people.

NANCY PELOSI believes that our diversity is our strength and that our unity is our power.

NANCY PELOSI believes that the House is fundamentally the institution best equipped to reflect the hopes, the dreams, and the aspirations of everyday Americans.

NANCY PELOSI believes that our sacred mission is to continue America's long, necessary, and majestic march toward a more perfect Union.

The Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., once observed that the true measure of a leader is not how one fares in moments of comfort or convenience, but how one fares in moments of challenge and controversy. NANCY PELOSI has passed that test with flying colors over and over and over again.

As a result of her tremendous leadership, during a moment of great turbulence, House Democrats ended the longest government shutdown in American history; addressed the humanitarian crisis at the border; negotiated a historic trade agreement that protected good-paying American jobs; held the President accountable because no one is above the law; passed progressive legislation to transform policing in America as part of our effort to deal with systemic racism; ended the egregious practice of surprise billing because healthcare is a right, not simply a privilege; and confronted the once-in-a-century COVID-19 pandemic with a comprehensive, passionate, and continuing congressional response that, at the end of the day, will crush the virus and supercharge our economy.

That is the NANCY PELOSI track record.

NANCY PELOSI is a champion of the children, a defender of the disenfranchised, a voice for the voiceless, a fabulous facilitator, a notorious negotiator, and a legendary legislator for such a time as this.

This is a moment of great challenge here in America, filled with trials and tribulations and a lot of pain and suffering and death. But America is a resilient Nation. House Democrats are a resilient Caucus. NANCY PELOSI is a resilient leader.

Brighter days are ahead in the United States of America. This is a day of great renewal in the House of Representatives. This is a day when House Democrats will begin our work with the next President of the United States of America, Joe Biden, and his partner, KAMALA HARRIS, so we can build back better for the people. This is a day when, once again, NANCY D'ALE SANDRO PELOSI will become the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives.

Madam Clerk, I proudly place her name into nomination, and when it is all said and done, history will record that today was a good day.

God bless NANCY PELOSI. God bless the Congress. God bless the United States of America.

The CLERK. The Clerk now recognizes the gentlewoman from Wyoming (Ms. CHENEY).

Ms. CHENEY. Madam Clerk, first of all, let me thank my colleague from New York (Mr. JEFFRIES).

Madam Clerk, I also start by asking all of our colleagues to remember in their thoughts and prayers the family of Luke Letlow, Congressman-elect from Louisiana, who died tragically last week.

We also want to remember our friend and colleague JAMIE RASKIN and pray for his family as they deal with the devastating loss of their son.

We engage in heated exchanges in this body, as we should, but it is well for us always to remember that we are all God's children. Our hearts break when our colleagues and friends are suffering. I am reminded of the words of the 19th century religious scholar who said: I expect to pass through this world but once. If, therefore, there can be any kindness I can show or any good thing I can do my fellow being, let me do it now. Let me not defer nor neglect it, for I shall not pass this way again.

Fine words to guide us as we embark on this Congress.

Madam Clerk, the nominating ceremony looks very different today in this Chamber. Our masks and our distancing requirements are reminders of this pandemic threat that we face and that we must defeat together, but the Congress is also different because of something we all take great pride in.

This body now has more women Members than at any time in our history. Our new Republican women are here to work. They are here to get things done. As we like to say in Wyoming, it is time to cowgirl up.

There is no one in this body more responsible for our tremendous new class of Members, our men and women, than our leader, KEVIN McCARTHY. Through his tireless work and his efforts to date, we have made historic gains, and we are not done yet.

These gains would not have happened without Leader McCARTHY's unmatched work ethic, his strategic and tactical skill, and his commitment to our candidates. Nor would they have happened without KEVIN's steadfast commitment to defending our freedom, standing up for our Constitution, and remembering that the work we do in this Chamber affects American families and workers all across this Nation.

Madam Clerk, it is my high honor today to have the great privilege to nominate the gentleman from California (Mr. McCARTHY) to lead us in our work as Speaker of the United States House of Representatives.

Leader McCARTHY is a grandson of a cattle rancher, the son of a firefighter. He grew up in a working-class family. He started and ran his own business, Kevin O's in Bakersfield. He paid his way through college. And he knows firsthand that our small businesses are the backbone of our economy and that government is more often the problem than the solution.

No one has been a greater champion of ensuring that our government is limited, defending the rights of the States and the people in those States, and resisting the urge of some of our colleagues to steal power from the people and give it to the government.

Leader McCARTHY will always look for ways to work across the aisle. More times than I can count over the last 2 years, he has led us in putting forward proposals, like the Commitment to America, that encapsulate good policy and should be bipartisan. He will continue to do this, but he will never compromise our fundamental rights and freedoms.

Last year, as the threat from the Chinese Communist Party grew and spread, Leader McCARTHY established the China Task Force and urged Democrats to join us in confronting a grave threat that requires bipartisan solutions. They refused. Nonetheless, the task force he directed published legislative recommendations, two-thirds of which are bipartisan.

Leader McCARTHY ensured that we were united as we successfully fought the unconstitutional and partisan impeachment effort launched by our Democrat colleagues, and he guided us through the unprecedented challenges of operating in and responding to the global COVID pandemic.

For a real guide as to how things will operate once Leader McCARTHY is Speaker McCARTHY, look to the historic productivity we saw the last time Republicans were in charge in the 115th Congress. Leader McCARTHY led us in repealing regulations, cutting taxes, supporting our veterans, combatting opioid addiction and human trafficking, securing our borders, growing our economy, and defending our Nation.

Leader McCARTHY made sure that we passed on time and at a sufficient level, for the first time in more than a decade, defense appropriations to ensure that we fulfilled our most sacred constitutional duty. As Speaker, that is the kind of record he will deliver on again.

Madam Clerk, as Republicans, we know that the United States Constitution is our sword and our shield. We know that our rights do not come from government; they come from God. We know that those rights are protected by the exquisite structure designed by our Founding Fathers.

Madam Clerk, over here on this side of the aisle, we are going to continue to call them Founding Fathers, despite the new House rules package. We know that the man to lead us as we confront the important work ahead is our Republican leader, KEVIN McCARTHY.

Madam Clerk, because he will lead us in fighting for all the people of this great Nation; because he will continue to stand against socialism and will continue to stand against the expansion of government power that strips power from the people and gives it to the government; because he knows that the most important words of our founding document are the first 3 words, “We the people,” as chair of the House Republican Conference, I am honored and directed by the vote of that Conference to present for election to the Office of the Speaker of the House of Representatives for the 117th Congress the name of the Honorable KEVIN McCARTHY, Representative-elect from the State of California.

The CLERK. The names of the Honorable NANCY PELOSI, a Representative-elect from the State of California, and the Honorable KEVIN McCARTHY, a Representative-elect from the State of California, have been placed in nomination.

Are there further nominations?

There being no further nominations, the Clerk appoints the following tellers:

The gentlewoman from Ohio (Ms. KAPTUR);

The gentleman from Illinois (Mr. RODNEY DAVIS);

The gentlewoman from California (Ms. LOFGREN); and

The gentlewoman from North Carolina (Ms. FOXX).

The tellers will come forward and take their seats at the desk in front of the Speaker’s rostrum.

The roll will now be called, and those responding to their names will indicate by surname the nominee of their choosing.

The Reading Clerk will now call the roll.

The tellers having taken their places, the House proceeded to vote for the Speaker.

The following is the result of the vote:

AFTER RECESS

The recess having expired, the House was called to order by the Clerk at 5 o'clock and 18 minutes p.m.

SWARING IN OF SPEAKER

The Sergeant at Arms announced the Speaker-elect of the House of Representatives of the 117th Congress, who was escorted to the chair by the Committee of Escort.

Mr. McCARTHY. Colleagues, friends, and fellow Americans, it is my honor to welcome you to the first day of the 117th Congress. We are here with the support of our families and the faith of our neighbors to be their voice in Washington.

Since Congress first sat in this room, Americans have always found a way to ensure that their needs were top of the mind. In fact, when Abraham Lincoln served here, Members of Congress only had small desks on the House floor to store their work. One of those desks now sits in the Cannon Office Building tunnel. As Members traveled back and forth to the Nation's Capital, they were compelled to carry all of their work with them. There were no filing cabinets and no servers in the cloud or offices. Their desk was their office. Members rarely went anywhere without physically bringing their constituents' concerns with them.

These small desks are a timeless reminder to every American that the House is made to represent you, the people; and that is a responsibility I welcome and embrace every day. Today, however, it is easier than ever to neglect or ignore this responsibility. From social media to special interest groups, to the culture police, there are endless temptations to distract from why we are here and who is truly important.

Sadly, the last Congress suffered from this neglect. In this Chamber 2 years ago, the Speaker spoke of a new dawn for the middle class. But for the next 2 years, the majority was consumed with everything else. During some of the most challenging times for our country, I felt Congress was on the sidelines.

When the need for more pandemic relief was obvious, did we deliver in a timely manner the lifeline America needed?

Or did we say nothing was better than something until politics dictated our actions?

When unrest filled into the cities and communities across the country, did we deliver safety that Americans wanted?

Or did we let calls to defund the police intimidate us from protecting life, liberty, and property?

When Americans relied on essential workers to keep our country moving, did we serve the people's House in a way Americans deserved?

Or did we shrink and reward Members who stayed home, skipped work, and still got paid?

The unfortunate answers to these questions underscore why the last Congress was the least productive Congress in 50 years.

It has been said that a house divided cannot stand. If there are any lessons that Americans have learned in the last 2 years, it is this: a House distracted cannot govern.

I wish I could say that the majority in Congress is committed to changing for the common good and focusing on what really matters, but I am concerned that the early actions are pointing in the wrong direction.

Tomorrow, this majority of the new 117th Congress plans to adopt new rules that would silence our constituents' voices in Congress. Those rules throw away more than 100 years of representation in our Nation's Capitol and effectively kill the key opportunity to amend legislation.

Worse, they would penalize any Member who shares news or views that maybe their allies in the media deem fake. They actually make it an ethics violation, which is usually reserved for such unbecoming conduct as bribery or corruption. Under these rules, all Members are equal, but some are more equal than others. For our constituents, it means freedom of speech is silenced, good ideas are stifled, and dissent is punished.

Why would an American political party use this as your first action in Congress?

Perhaps they feel an urgency to protect their political careers. Given the message that the American people sent to Washington, the grip is slim and the majority is slimmer. Two months ago to this very day, the American people said, Enough. Enough with politicians who dictate what you can say, where you can eat, or whether you can go to church; enough with politicians who ignore the stay-at-home lockdowns they impose on the rest of us; and enough with arrogance and hypocrisy.

Americans are fed up with it, and we Republicans are too. As the party of Lincoln, Republicans understand what it means to carry our constituents' concerns with us at all times. We are a growing, working class coalition of proud Americans who are more energetic, united, and confident than ever before. We believe in the exceptionalism of this Nation and are not afraid to say it. We have listened to our constituents. We heard how things needed to change, and we made a commitment to America to restore our way of life, rebuild the economy, and renew the American Dream.

That is what we campaigned on. That is what we offered in every district. And if the voices of the people matter, that is how we plan to govern.

The response from the American people to our commitment was resounding. Even though we were outspent in district by district, no Republican incumbent was defeated—none. All across this country, voters endorsed common sense, not conflict. It was a referendum against a radical agenda to defund the police and punish hard work. It was a wake-up call.

The question I ask of this Congress is: Were we listening?

As we enter the new Congress, I ask every Member to step out of your office, go to the Cannon Office Building tunnel, look at that small desk, and ask yourself: What is in your desk?

Here is what is in mine: As the son of a fireman, I know how our police officers and first responders put everything on the line to keep us safe. I will never, never, never vote to defund them.

Can we make that same commitment to America?

As a former small business owner, I understand how tough things can be even in the best of times. As we battle the coronavirus, our small businesses are battling lockdowns that are destroying livelihoods and making it impossible to beat the odds. So I will not like their taxes.

Can we make that same commitment to America?

As a fourth-generation Central Valley Member from California, I represent farmers and oil field workers who rise at the dawn to go to work; who pray to God; and who raise the next generation of good, decent citizens. I will respect their individuality and their freedom, and I will not forget them.

Can we keep that commitment to America?

No more misplaced priorities. The American people deserve better. America is worth fighting for. Americans' rights are worth fighting for. Their dreams are worth fighting for; their voices are worth fighting for; and, most importantly, their voices are worth being heard on this floor.

During the darkest days of the Civil War, when this Nation was literally burning with division, Abraham Lincoln advised us to strive "to maintain the government and institutions of our fathers, to enjoy them ourselves, and to transmit them to our children and our children's children forever."

He was right then and he is right now. For the sake of the many generations to come, we need to succeed now.

With that, I want to congratulate the Speaker.

Madam Speaker, as I hand you this gavel, I just ask that you keep in mind that all the people in America will have a voice on this floor.

□ 1730

Ms. PELOSI. Members of Congress, families, friends, welcome all.

As Speaker of the House, it is my great honor to preside over this sacred ritual of renewal as we gather under the dome of this temple of democracy to begin the 117th Congress.

Thank you, Leader McCARTHY. Congratulations on your election as leader. I look forward to working with you to meet the needs of the American people during this great moment of challenge.

As the leader knows, usually on this day, the day of our swearing-in, there is a bipartisan church service that we all attend, and we pray together for America. Until that is possible again, let us all pray personally, pray that there be peace on Earth, and let it begin with us. That is our recurring theme. And our prayers, as we all know, are very needed now.

As we are sworn in today, we accept a responsibility as daunting and demanding as any previous generation of leadership has ever faced. We begin this new Congress during a time of extraordinary difficulty.

Each of our communities has been drastically affected by the pandemic and its economic crisis: 350,000 tragic deaths, which we sadly carry in our hearts; over 20 million infections; millions without jobs—a toll beyond comprehension.

To our new Members—and we will be welcoming them soon to swear them in—welcome and congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. As our Founders intended, our democracy will be reinvigorated by the vibrancy and dynamism of the communities that you represent.

To our returning Members, congratulations to you and your families upon your reelection.

As we open the new Congress, we grieve the passing of Congressman-elect Luke Letlow. We send our deepest sympathy to his wife, Julia, and their children, and we are praying for them at this sad time. We carry this symbol of Louisiana, in a bipartisan way, in his honor.

Our Congress also suffered another sad loss this week with the passing of Jamie and Sarah Raskin's son, Tommy. Our hearts are broken for them, and I hope it is a comfort to them that so many mourn their loss.

Each of us comes to this Chamber, of course, strengthened by our constituents but with the love of our families. Thank you to the families of our Members for sharing your loved ones with the Congress and with the country. It is a sacrifice, we know.

Personally, I want to thank my husband, Paul; our five children, Nancy, Corinne, Christine, Jacqueline, Paul, and Alexandra; our nine grandchildren; and my D'Alesandro family from Baltimore, Maryland. With me in spirit are my mother and father and my brother, Tommy. My parents taught us through their example that public service is a noble calling and that we all have a responsibility to help others. Italian American, proud of our Italian heritage, fiercely patriotic Americans, devoutly Catholic, and staunchly Democratic, we saw that as connected.

In that spirit, I thank my constituents in San Francisco, California, who have entrusted me to represent them in the spirit of Saint Francis, the patron saint of our city, whose anthem, the "Song of Saint Francis," is the anthem of our city: "Lord, make me a channel of thy peace."

I thank my Democratic colleagues in the Congress for the confidence you have placed in me in electing me Speaker. I will endeavor to meet the moment with courage, unity, and grace.

I especially thank our distinguished chair of the Caucus, Mr. JEFFRIES, Chairman JEFFRIES, for his very generous nomination.

Thank you, Mr. JEFFRIES.

It gives me great pride to serve as Speaker of the most diverse House of Representatives in the history of our country with a record-shattering 122 women—122 women, you can applaud that—100 years after women won the right to vote.

Now, let us take a moment to give thanks to our courageous servicemembers in uniform, and our veterans and their families and caregivers, whose service makes us the land of the free and the home of the brave. Our promise to them is that Congress will continue to work in a bipartisan way to build a future worthy of their sacrifice.

As we look forward to the new Congress, let us take a moment to remember three champions of democracy we lost during the 116th Congress, each honored by a lying-in-state ceremony in the United States Capitol.

In the fall of last year, we said goodbye to Mr. Chairman, Elijah Cummings, our North Star, who said: When we are dancing with the angels, the question will be asked: What did you do to be sure we kept our democracy intact?

He is dancing with the angels now.

This past spring, we said good-bye to our beloved colleague John Lewis, the conscience of the Congress, who would say, when you see something that is not right, not fair, not just, you must speak up, and he would remind us to make good trouble.

In the fall, we memorialized Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg, one of the most brilliant legal minds in our history and a champion for equality, who once said right here in the Capitol—some of you were there, perhaps, in the Statuary Hall—she once said, right here in the Capitol, about women: Once the door is open, there is no stopping us.

Each of their memories is a source of strength and inspiration to us as we approach the challenges ahead. Scripture tells us that to everything there is a time, a season: a time for every purpose under the heavens; a time to build, a time to sow, a time to heal. Now is certainly a time for our Nation to heal.

Our most urgent priority will continue to be defeating the coronavirus, and defeat it, we will. Defeat it, we will.

Two weeks ago, we passed an emergency relief package to crush the virus and put money in the pockets of workers and families, which is now the law, but we must do more to recognize our heroes. Let us thank our heroes: our healthcare workers; our first responders; our police and fire, who we have denied support by denying help to State and local government; our transportation, sanitation, food, and social workers; and our teachers, our teachers, our teachers. They make our lives possible at the State and local level and will facilitate the distribution of the vaccine in a fair and equitable manner. We owe them more.

Many of our essential workers are from communities of color and low wealth, which have been devastatingly and disproportionately affected by the coronavirus. They have been there for us; we must be there for them.

With President-elect Biden and Vice President-elect HARRIS, who were elected 2 months ago from today, the House will continue our work to save lives and livelihoods, to build back better in a way that advances justice in America.

Indeed, the pandemic has pulled back the curtain and shown even worsened disparities in our economy and our society. We must pursue justice: economic justice, justice in health, racial justice, environmental and climate justice—the list goes on.

Every morning in this Chamber, we take the pledge: One nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

"Liberty and justice for all." Every day, this Congress must live up to that pledge.

To advance justice, I am establishing the bipartisan Select Committee on Economic Disparity and Fairness in Growth to combat the disparities of income and wealth that undermine faith in America's promise for a better future for our children. Working with the committees of jurisdiction, the select committee will recommend proposals that power fair economic growth to make our economy work for everyone.

In all that we do, let us be For the People, recognizing the beautiful diversity of America so that no one is left out and no one is left behind. We do so guided by the vision of our Founders, the sacrifice of our military and their families, and the aspirations that we all have for the children.

To do so, we need God's blessing. May God bless all of us. God bless all of you. God bless our men and women in uniform, our servicemembers and their families, our veterans. And may God bless America.

Thank you all very much. It is my honor.

As Speaker, I am now ready to take the oath of office. I usually do so surrounded by children, but, of course, COVID has prevented that. But they are our purpose—for the children.

I ask the dean of the House of Representatives, the Honorable DON YOUNG from Alaska, to administer the oath of office.

Mr. YOUNG. Madam Speaker, before I issue the oath, I would like to take privilege on the floor as the dean.

I have been in this House longer than anybody else. I have served with you longer than anybody else has served with you. I love this institution. I will be honest: I do not like what I see. It is time we hold hands and talk to one another.

Madam Speaker, I say this with all sincerity: You will be the Speaker of the House, not of a party.

And that may hurt some of you. The job of our Nation is for the House of Representatives to govern this Nation. It was never meant to be the executive branch. It was never meant to be the judicial branch. It is this House that raises the money and dedicates how it shall be spent. And we are representing the people, as we were elected.

□ 1745

And I say this with all sincerity, Madam Speaker, that when you do have a problem or there is something so contentious, let's sit down and have a drink and solve those problems for the good of this Nation, for this institution, and, as you said, for the future children of this great Nation. We can do it as a body. As the dean to the new Speaker, I ask you to try to attempt to do that. With our leader, we can do it together.

If the gentlewoman from California will please raise her right hand.

Mr. YOUNG then administered the oath of office to Ms. PELOSI of California, as follows:

Do you solemnly swear that you will support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that you will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that you take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion; and that you will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which you are about to enter, so help you God.

(Applause, the Members rising.)

Mr. YOUNG. Madam Speaker, congratulations.

The SPEAKER. I thank the dean.

SWEARING IN OF DEAN

The SPEAKER. I am honored to be sworn in by the dean, the gentleman from Alaska (Mr. YOUNG), my friend of many years. Thank you for your guidance. And, again, I don't drink, but I am happy to have ice cream with anybody anytime.

The Chair will now swear in the gentleman from Alaska (Mr. YOUNG).

The Speaker administered the oath of office to Mr. YOUNG as follows:

Do you solemnly swear or affirm that you will support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that you will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that you take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion; and that you will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which you are about to enter, so help you God.

The SPEAKER. Congratulations. You are now a Member of the 117th Congress.

MOMENT OF SILENCE IN REMEMBRANCE OF THE LATE HONORABLE LUKE LETLOW

The SPEAKER. The Chair would ask all Members-elect and staff present in the Chamber, as well as those throughout the Capitol, to rise for a moment of silence in remembrance of the late Honorable Luke Letlow, the Member-elect from the Fifth District of Louisiana.

CHALLENGING SEATING OF MEMBERS-ELECT

Mr. ROY. Madam Speaker, on my responsibility as a Member-elect, I challenge the seating of Members-elect from the States of Arizona, Georgia, Michigan, Nevada, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin.

The SPEAKER. Under the precedents, the Chair will ask the Members-elect of those States' delegations to refrain from taking the oath with the other Members-elect.

AUTHORIZING AND DIRECTING THE SPEAKER TO ADMINISTER THE OATH OF OFFICE

Mr. HOYER. Madam Speaker, I send to the desk a privileged resolution and ask for its immediate consideration in the House.

The Clerk read the resolution, as follows:

H. RES. 1

Resolved, That the Speaker is hereby authorized and directed to administer the oath of office to all Representatives-elect.

Mr. HOYER. Madam Speaker, I urge adoption of the resolution, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the previous question is ordered on the resolution.

There was no objection.

The SPEAKER. The question is on the adoption of the resolution.

The question was taken; and the Speaker announced that the ayes appeared to have it.

Mr. ROY. Madam Speaker, on that I demand the yeas and nays.

The SPEAKER. The yeas and nays are ordered. Members-elect will record their votes by electronic device.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—yeas 371, nays 2, not voting 59, as follows:

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER (during the vote). As we have seen, all Members have not voted; but I hope, in the next few moments, they will have voted, Members-elect.

Before we settle, though, I want to make an announcement.

When we swear in the freshmen, the first-time Members-elect, anyone else who is in the room may raise his or her hand and take the oath of office as well. And then, after that, I want to note that, with the new Members-elect, you all have to walk down the aisle there to sign the oath card.

Once again, before I close the vote—and it is clear that some more Members-elect need to vote—to new Members-elect, head over here sooner so that it can end sooner.

When we swear in the Members-elect, the new, first-time Members-elect who will be here, when we swear them in, anyone else who is in the room may raise his or her hand and take the oath as well.

However, then when you leave here, whether you do it now—I mean, after you have been sworn in or you are doing it in the series, you must leave through this door and go sign the oath card. After you get sworn in, you must leave and go sign the card that you have been sworn in, out that door. So that will save you some time, if you wish.

We still have a number of Members-elect who have not voted yet, so we cannot do the swearing in until that happens. But to our new Members-elect, observe that it is important to vote early, because we don't usually keep it open this long.

□ 1834

Messrs. PALAZZO and REED changed their vote from “nay” to “yea.”

So the resolution was agreed to.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

Stated for:

Mr. SCHIFF. Madam Speaker, the vote was gaveled down before my group (5) was called to the floor. Had I been present, I would have voted “yea” on rollcall No. 3.

Mr. SOTO. Madam Speaker, the vote was gaveled down before my group 6 was ever called. Had I been present, I would have voted “yea” on rollcall No. 3.

Ms. UNDERWOOD. Madam Speaker, I was detained and missed rollcall Vote No. 3. Had I been present, I would have voted “yea” on rollcall No. 3.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. Will the new Members-elect come forward to be sworn in.

As was said, due to the ongoing pandemic, the Chair will swear in remaining Members-elect in groups. The Chair will now swear in the group of first-term Members-elect present in the Chamber.

And as I announced, all Members-elect who are in the Chamber who wish to raise their hand and take the oath are welcome to do so.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair would like to make a statement concerning the introduction and reference of bills.

Since the rules of the 117th Congress have not yet been adopted, the rights of Members to introduce bills, and the authority of the Speaker to refer them, is delayed. The Chair will state that submitted bills will be held until adoption of the rules, at which time they will be referred as expeditiously as possible to the appropriate committee. As we begin this 117th Congress, provide our incoming Senators with Your wisdom and direction. Lord, use them to transform dark yesterdays into bright tomorrows.

RECOGNITION OF THE MAJORITY LEADER

The VICE PRESIDENT. The majority leader is recognized.

WELCOMING MEMBERS OF THE SENATE

Mr. MCCONNELL. Mr. President, very briefly, I simply want to welcome all Senators on this first day of the 117th Congress.

Today, six new Members are joining our ranks for the first time. Senators HAGERTY from Tennessee, HICKENLOOPER from Colorado, LUJÁN of New Mexico, LUMMIS of Wyoming, MARSHALL of Kansas, and TUBERVILLE of Alabama have been elected to serve the people of their home States, and, of course, Senator KELLY of Arizona was sworn in a few weeks ago. We congratulate all of our new colleagues, as well as their families, and look forward to the ways in which their unique experiences, their ideas, and their priorities will enrich this institution and strengthen our shared work for the Nation.

To say the 117th Congress convenes at a challenging time would indeed be an understatement. From political division to a deadly pandemic, to adversaries around the world, the hurdles before us are many, and they are serious. But there is also plenty of reason for hope. An optimistic, forward-looking, can-do spirit has been one of our country's most distinctive calling cards since our very earliest days. And with safe and effective vaccines rolling out across our Nation every day, I would say 2021 looks bright already.

We gavel in today like 116 prior Senates have gaveled in before us, with plenty of disagreements and policy differences among our ranks but all—all—swearing the same oath to support and defend the same Constitution, all loving the same country, and all of us committed to do all we can to leave behind an even stronger nation than the one we have been blessed to inherit.

So I look forward to the Senate's work these next 2 years. Let's make the American people proud.
