WASHINGTON, TUESDAY, MARCH 29, 2022

No. 55

House of Representatives

The House met at 3 p.m. and was called to order by the Speaker pro tempore (Mr. McEACHIN).

DESIGNATION OF THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore laid before the House the following communication from the Speaker:

WASHINGTON, DC,
March 29, 2022.

I hereby appoint the Honorable A. DONALD McEACHIN to act as Speaker pro tempore on this day.

NANCY PELOSI,

PRAYER

The Chaplain, the Reverend Margaret Grun Kibben, offered the following prayer:

Eternal God, on this 50th anniversary of the Vietnam war, we pray Your divine blessing on those veterans who left hearth and home to respond to the call of our Nation. We give tribute to their faithfulness to the ideals of freedom and democracy, even when the winds of war blew with increasing uncertainty.

We pray for those who, in the ambiguity of conflict, found themselves faced with unimaginable ethical dilemmas and who are now left with indelible moral trauma. Bless those who yet tend to lingering physical and emotional injury. Give each of them peace when the nightmares overwhelm and the echoes of battle resound in their slumber.

May all who returned unwelcome find themselves received into Your warm embrace and upheld by Your loving and everlasting arms.

Grant eternal rest to those comrades whose names are ever memorialized on granite walls and gravestones across the country. May they now know Your peace.

Holy and merciful God, mend the wounds of war, both seen and unseen, individual and corporate, that as we commemorate this anniversary, we would acknowledge the cost of war and honor the value of peace.

In the everlasting strength of Your name we pray.
Amen.

THE JOURNAL

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to section 11(a) of House Resolution 188, the Journal of the last day's proceedings is approved.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentlewoman from New Mexico (Ms. HERRELL) come forward and lead the House in the Pledge of Allegiance.

Ms. HERRELL led the Pledge of Allegiance as follows:

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair will entertain up to 15 requests for 1-minute speeches on each side of the aisle.

HONORING ARMY SPECIALIST ROGER DEARMYER

(Mr. HIGGINS of New York asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. HIGGINS of New York. Mr. Speaker, I rise on National Vietnam War Veterans Day to honor U.S. Army Specialist Roger Dearmyer, a western New York native and Purple Heart recipient who passed in December 2021.

Roger deployed to Vietnam in 1966 with the Fourth Infantry Division of the United States Army. Spending much of his deployment in the jungles of Vietnam, he was injured in action in April 1967.

Roger returned home and served as an Erie County sheriff's deputy for 31 years.

He remained active in the veteran community as a member of the Fourth Infantry Division Association and the Military Order of the Purple Heart Chapter 187.

In 2019, we presented Roger with the medals he earned while serving, including a Purple Heart, a Vietnam Service Medal with a triple Bronze Star attachment, and a Combat Infantryman Badge.

I ask my colleagues to join me in honoring Roger Dearmyer, a man who lived a life of service to his family, his community, and his country.

CONGRATULATING IOWA'S HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL ALL-STATE HONOREES

(Mrs. MILLER-MEEKS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Mrs. MILLER-MEEKS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the achievements of several young ladies from my district.

In early March, the Iowa high school women's basketball State championships were held in Des Moines. These young women took to the court, gave it their all, and made their schools proud. I was thrilled to see several young women recently earned all-State honors from the Des Moines Register.

Kelsey Joens of Iowa City was named to the All-Iowa Elite team. Halle Vice of Pleasant Valley was named to the Class 5A team, and Callie Levin of Solon was named to the Class 4A team. Kaylee Corbin of Louisa-Muscataine and Kelsey Drake of Wilton were named to the Class 2A team.

In addition, Jasmine Barney of Iowa City Liberty, Macy Daufeldt of West Liberty, Journey Houston of Davenport North, Allie Meadows of Central DeWitt, Meena Tate of Iowa City West, and Taylor Veach of Central DeWitt earned honorable mention recognition.

Congratulations to all of these young women on achieving these honors.

Thirty-two years ago today, our daughter, Taylor, burst into our lives. Thank you to Taylor, our Little Miss Sunshine, for all the immeasurable joy she has brought to her father and me.

CONGRESS NEEDS TO FIX SOCIAL SECURITY

(Mr. LARSON of Connecticut asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. LARSON of Connecticut. Mr. Speaker, clearly, the COVID pandemic has struck America extraordinarily hard. Nearly a million Americans have died from COVID-19, but it has been especially hurtful to our elderly. More than 720,000 of the people who have perished were over the age of 65.

This underscores all the more reason why the United States Congress needs to fix Social Security. Congress has not addressed the issue of extending Social Security for more than 50 years. It is long overdue that the United States Congress live up to its responsibility and make sure it enhances the benefits.

A gallon of milk cost 72 cents in 1971. You-all know what it costs today, as well as the price of gas, prescription drugs, and the cost of rent, et cetera. Yet, Social Security has not been enhanced in more than 50 years.

Mr. Speaker, this is exactly why the United States Congress needs to act. I am proud of the proposal of President Biden and the fact that Social Security 2100: A Sacred Trust will be brought to the floor.

HONORING KKOB RADIO ON ITS CENTENNIAL ANNIVERSARY

(Ms. HERRELL asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Ms. HERRELL. Mr. Speaker, today, I rise to honor New Mexico's first radio station, KKOB, which this year celebrates their 100th anniversary in broadcasting.

KKOB was founded in 1922 by Ralph Goddard and has remained in the Land of Enchantment.

KKOB has won four Marconi Awards from the National Association of Broadcasters and, since 2000, has received "Station of the Year" 12 times from the New Mexico Broadcasters Association.

To celebrate their 50th birthday, in 1972, the radio station invited an adventurous bunch of hot air balloon operators to the Coronado Mall parking lot, creating a tradition that has now become known as the Albuquerque International Balloon Fiesta.

KKOB is the leading voice for southwest New Mexico, sharing news, sports, traffic, weather, opinions, and the occasional joke—some good, some bad, some just dad jokes. They have loved our community for over 100 years.

I commend KKOB's dedication to New Mexico, and I look forward to their next century of broadcasting.

MOURNING THE LOSS OF SERGEANT DANIEL MARTINEZ

(Mr. GARCÍA of Illinois asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. GARCÍA of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to mourn the untimely loss of Sergeant Daniel Martinez.

I express my deepest condolences to my friends and neighbors, the Martinez family. There is no greater pain than that of losing a child, and there are no words I can provide to mend your pain. But I want you to know that the entire Southwest Side of the region has your back.

Sergeant Daniel Martinez served his country with pride, forming close bonds with his fellow marines during his 4 years of service.

He will be remembered as a young man with a sense of humor who enjoyed watching movies and television with his siblings and loved to travel.

Daniel will be remembered by his family and our community for his commitment to his country. Above all, he will be remembered for his kindness and devotion to his family and friends.

Rest in peace, Daniel.

THANKING HEIDI GALLEGOS

(Mrs. KIM of California asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mrs. KIM of California. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to thank Brea Chamber of Commerce CEO and President Heidi Gallegos for her dedicated service to our community.

Heidi served in the Los Angeles Police Department for 11 years and on the Board of Trustees for Rowland Unified School District for 12 years. Most recently, she guided the Brea Chamber of Commerce through the Great Recession and the COVID-19 lockdowns. Despite unprecedented economic challenges, Heidi led the chamber to build reserves and remain successful.

She consistently operates with integrity, energy, and compassion and has established a reputation for strong, trusted leadership.

I thank Heidi for all that she has done for our community. I am proud to call her a friend, and I wish her a joyful retirement.

HEALTHCARE WORKER MENTAL HEALTH CRISIS

(Ms. PORTER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. PORTER. Mr. Speaker, our front-line healthcare workers face a mental health crisis. One in five healthcare providers experienced mental health problems during the pandemic. This should concern every American.

On March 30, National Doctors' Day, we recognize that to protect our public health, we must protect the well-being of our health workers.

When doctors and nurses struggle with their mental health, they struggle to care for us. Nearly half of healthcare workers, 47 percent, are considering leaving their roles in the next 3 years. We need their talent, dedication, and expertise.

Congress recently passed a law that will connect doctors and nurses with mental health resources, but we can and must do more.

Healthcare workers helped keep us safe during the pandemic. We have a responsibility to get them the healthcare that they need.

PRESERVE TITLE 42

(Mr. LAMALFA asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. LAMALFA. Mr. Speaker, a few weeks ago, I went to the southern border, and I was shocked and appalled to hear about the humanitarian crisis, the violence, and the drug smuggling firsthand, on-site.

President Biden's and the Democrats' open border policies have allowed a record number of illegal immigrants and illegal drugs to enter our country.

There are staggering numbers of encounters at the border each month, and more illegal immigrants are, unfortunately, slipping past in areas without a fence or enough Border Patrol.

Now, the Biden administration is thinking about repealing one of the more effective methods of deporting illegal immigrants, title 42.

Title 42 is a public health law that authorizes U.S. border agents to promptly send back migrants and illegal immigrants if they pose a health risk to Americans and are from a country with a communicable disease outbreak.

During the height of the COVID crisis, they want to let them in by repealing title 42. It will mean even more illegal immigration into this country and eliminate one of the few tools that the administration has used to expel illegal immigrants.

The audacity of this administration that has tried to force vaccine mandates on Americans, force them to still wear masks on airplanes and at airports, and at the same time allowing unlimited illegal immigration. We must preserve title 42.

RECOGNIZING NATIONAL AREA HEALTH EDUCATION CENTERS WEEK

(Mrs. LEE of Nevada asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mrs. LEE of Nevada. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize this last week of March as National Area Health Education Centers, or AHEC, week.

The AHEC program is vital to this country and for Nevadans because we are facing an unprecedented shortage of healthcare providers. The doctor shortage in southern Nevada is nearing crisis levels, which means longer wait times, fewer choices, and less access to quality healthcare.

The size of Nevada's physician workforce ranks near last in this country. As our community continues to expand, the challenges continue to grow.

To solve this crisis, underserved communities like Las Vegas need to expand the resources we offer so that medical providers can learn and grow their careers right here.

That is exactly what AHECs do. They are part of the solution. The Nation's 300 federally funded AHECs are in nearly every State and in multiple U.S. territories. In the past 5 years, they have trained 2 million healthcare professionals.

Please join me in saluting AHECs as they continue to be committed to prepare, plan, and train for a better healthcare future.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Oregon (Mr. DEFAZIO) and the gentleman from Missouri (Mr. GRAVES) each will control 20 minutes.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. DEFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on H.R. 6865, as amended.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Oregon?

There was no objection.

Mr. DEFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I am proud to call up and speak in support of my bill, H.R. 6865, the Don Young Coast Guard Authorization Act of 2022.

This bipartisan legislation will authorize funding for the United States Coast Guard for fiscal years 2022 and 2023 and address a number of important issues concerning the maritime industry.

I would like to take a moment to express my deepest sympathies to Congressman Don Young’s wife, Anne, the rest of the family, and the people of Alaska.

Don was larger than life. He was the dean of the House. He was affable, cantankerous, and sometimes funny.

You know, I have stories like the Speaker mentioned today about Don and the buck knife in his pocket, but I won’t go into those now. But, anyway, we developed a good friendship.

I feel fortunate that I had time to develop that relationship with him, serving together on both the House Committee on Natural Resources for 26 years and the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure for 36 years.

His service as Chair of the Transportation and Infrastructure Committee had an extraordinary impact. It was capped by the passage of SAFETEA-LU, a surface transportation reauthorization that was named for his beloved late wife.

It was a strong bipartisan bill that provided much-needed investment infrastructure across the country, including my home State of Oregon.

Don believed in bipartisanship. We didn’t always agree, but we would often find a way to compromise, come together for the good of the country, and he always, always stayed true to his values and the people of Alaska.

Given Alaska’s vast coastlines, the Coast Guard plays a particularly important role in the State, and Congressman Young was always there to support the United States Coast Guard.

That is why I am particularly happy to include several provisions important to the Congressman that will have a dramatic impact on the State of Alaska and this bill.

At a committee markup earlier this month, Don said, I have voted on 20 Coast Guard authorization bills in my career. I have served on the Coast Guard subcommittee for 46 years. This is a good bill. It is really needed. And it is really needed. And naming it for Don Young is incredibly appropriate.

I would like to thank my ranking member, SAM GRAVES, and Subcommittee Ranking Member GIBBS for their work. I particularly want to thank the chair of the subcommittee, Congressman CARBAJAL, for this very important and overdue additional investment in the Coast Guard and addressing a number of other issues relating to the maritime industry. This is evidence that bipartisanship can still live in Washington, D.C. today.

It not only authorizes the Coast Guard but also reauthorizes the Federal Maritime Commission which is the center of the supply chain congestion that has plagued this country and the world for over a year.

It incorporates the Ocean Shipping Reform Act of 2021 which will begin to address several unfair shipping practices that have contributed to inflation across every sector of the American economy.

This legislation gives the Federal Maritime Commission the authority to protect exporters, importers, and consumers from unfair practices by expanding their oversight and enforcement capabilities.

The largest three shipping companies in the world made more money in the last year than they made over the last decade. It is not warranted. They are essentially running a cartel, and it is time that we took action.

The Federal Maritime Commission, under this administration, is finally waking up, and they are going to take action against these cartels and the price gouging that is going on on our consumers.

It further amends title 46 to ensure shipping capacity once contracts are signed, increases penalties for retaliation against shippers, and encourages reciprocal trade.

H.R. 6865 increases the Federal Maritime Commission’s annual operating budget by 10 percent over 2021. It will give them the additional resources they need to provide effective oversight and ensure that all foreign carriers abide by fair shipping practices which they are not doing today.

For the Coast Guard, this bill provides more than $12 billion for fiscal year 2022, $13 billion for fiscal year 2023. These authorized funding levels support servicemembers, fund new asset acquisitions, and improve the Coast Guard’s crumbling shoreside infrastructure.

I am particularly pleased with the improved vessel safety measures included in the legislation, and H.R. 6865 takes a leap forward in small passenger vessel safety by mandating common-sense requirements for passenger amphibious vessels and others.

Chairman CARBAJAL recently held a hearing on a horrible tragedy in his district which this will also have an impact in preventing in the future.

Moreover, H.R. 6865 offers meaningful reforms to a culture of sexual abuse within the maritime industry. I am proud to have worked with Members from both sides of the aisle to determine what changes are necessary to begin to address the toxic culture in the industry and create a safe work environment for all mariners.

H.R. 6865 includes language from my other bill, the Safer Seas Act, which will give the Coast Guard more leverage to investigate and remove predators who sexually harass and assault. It also includes important safety measures such as surveillance, master key control systems, and extends the statute of limitations for cases of sexual assault and harassment.

This groundbreaking legislation is just one step towards bringing justice for victims and getting predators out of the industry.

In closing, let me thank once again my Ranking Member SAM GRAVES, Ranking Member GIBBS, and of course, Chair CARBAJAL for all their extraordinary work on this bill.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. GRAVES of Missouri. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 6865, the Don Young Coast Guard Authorization Act of 2022, an important piece of legislation that ensures that the United States Coast Guard has the funding that they need to carry out the service's critical mission and keep our borders safe.

Today it is with both great sadness and great respect that we name this year's Coast Guard Authorization Act after former Transportation and Infrastructure Committee Chairman Don Young.

The passing of the dean of the House was a surprise to all of us and a tremendous loss for this body. Our thoughts are with his wife, Anne; his daughters, Joni and Dawn; and the rest of his family, as well as his current and his former staff.

I had the pleasure of serving as a freshman member of the Transportation Committee when Don began his chairmanship in 2001. And, as always, he brought his typical passion and zeal to the job.

He was always working for Alaska but also constantly helping other Members take care of their constituents.

The chairman, as many still called him, always pointed out that Alaska missed the great infrastructure investment of the earlier centuries that had been made in the lower 48, and he was bound and determined to make sure that he made up for lost time.

There isn't a city or a borough or a town or village in Alaska that can't point to at least one road, airstrip, harbor, dock, visitors center, or health clinic that Don didn't have some role in establishing, building, authorizing, or funding.

Recently, there has been a suggestion to name a volcano in Alaska after Chairman Young, a rugged and enduring part of the Alaskan landscape, always with the potential to erupt at any moment's notice, but always warm at its core. Part of me thinks this would be a very fitting tribute as well.

And as has been noted many times, it was fitting that he passed away on his way home to Alaska, the State that he loved so much.

I will always think of him and smile when I walk by his official—unofficial, I should say, unofficial but uncontested seat here on the House floor. His passing was truly a loss for the House.

In the Transportation Committee, we will always have the almost life-sized portrait watching over us, reminding Members of the importance of the work and the bipartisanship it takes to get it done.

One of Don's priorities throughout his career, and also one of my priorities, was strengthening the Coast Guard. This legislation authorizes the purchase of a 12th National Security Cutter as well as six additional Fast Response Cutters to ensure that our Coast Guard is prepared for its current and future role in securing America.

During our markup of this bill earlier this month, Don remarked in his statement that both his support for this bill, and as the chairman pointed out, he had voted on 20 Coast Guard authorizations in his career, and I am deeply saddened today that he is not going to be able to cast his vote in support of yet one more.

Fittingly, H.R. 6865 also includes a provision offered by the late dean of the House that allows the Coast Guard to keep Russian vessels out of U.S. waters during the ongoing Russian invasion of Ukraine.

With that, Mr. Speaker, I urge support of this important legislation, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. DEFazio. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the chair of the subcommittee, Congressman CARBAJAL.

Mr. CARBAJAL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to express my support for H.R. 6865, this year's Coast Guard Authorization Act, which is named in honor of our departed colleague, Mr. Don Young, who tirelessly advocated for the Coast Guard and maritime issues in his many decades of public service.

With his legacy in mind, I wish to express my thanks for the leadership of Chairman DEFazio, Ranking Member SAM GRAVES, and Subcommittee Ranking Member BOB GIBBS that created this bipartisan agreement.

H.R. 6865 will renew and enhance support for the critical missions of the United States Coast Guard. Every day Coasties work to protect our national security and enforce the laws in the maritime environment.

They maintain our Nation's waterways for the sake of commerce, save lives, and protect the oceans from pollution. These brave servicemembers have time and time again demonstrated their resourcefulness, but they need our support today.

The increased authorizations in today's bill signals our confidence in the excellence of the Coast Guard and starts down the road to providing the resources Coasties need to successfully complete their missions.

H.R. 6865 also tackles current challenges to our Nation's supply chain which have recently caused frustration in not only the transportation industry, but in the average families who are being confronted with shortages and increasing costs for basic household goods.

H.R. 6865 reauthorizes the Federal Maritime Commission, the entity in charge of promoting fairness and competition in ocean shipping.

And it includes the Ocean Shipping Reform Act of 2021 which would provide the Federal Maritime Commission with the authority to directly address international shipping's contribution to the inflation we are experiencing.

As chairman of the Coast Guard and Maritime Transportation Subcommittee, I am proud that this bill also includes my legislation to amend an archaic 171-year-old maritime law that prevented victims and their families from seeking fair recourse against vessel owners who were found to be liable for maritime incidents. This provision was developed in response to the Conception dive boat fire in my district in 2019, which was the largest loss of life in a U.S. marine casualty in decades.

Finally, with this bill, we can make significant strides toward stamping out sexual assault and sexual harassment from the maritime industry. Provisions in H.R. 6865 strengthen transparency surrounding companies' sexual assault and sexual harassment policies, provide protections for mariners, and remove bad actors from the industry. Such criminal behavior and incidents have no place in the maritime industry.

I am proud to have worked with my colleagues on this important legislation, and I look forward to ensuring that it becomes law.

Mr. GRAVES of Missouri. Mr. Speaker, I yield 4 minutes to the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. GIBBS), the ranking member of the Coast Guard and Maritime Transportation Subcommittee.

Mr. GIBBS. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to rise today in support of H.R. 6865, the Don Young Coast Guard Authorization Act of 2022. The bill represents this Congress' commitment to the men and women serving in the Coast Guard and lays the groundwork for maintaining the Service's mission capability in the future.

It also honors our colleague Don Young, who passed away last week, and is lying in state in Statuary Hall today. Our thoughts go out to his family and staff.

The dean of the House, the Congressman for all Alaska, the former chairman of both the Committee on Natural Resources and Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure, the longest serving Republican Member of the House, the former mayor of Fort Yukon: His titles were many, but they failed to fully capture Don's character and endless enthusiasm for the job he loved, representing the people of Alaska in Congress. He did that job for 49 years, and he did it well. His legislative record is as amazing as his personal legacy of the friendships he made over the last five decades. He was always a stalwart Representative for Alaska and will have a lasting legacy.

It is appropriate that we are naming this Congress' Coast Guard Authorization Act for Don. He served on the Subcommittee on Coast Guard and Maritime Transportation since it was established in 1995 and on its predecessor subcommittee for 20 years before that. He was the only licensed tugboat captain in Congress, and the Coast Guard plays many vital roles in the always vast and beautiful, but often stormy and dangerous, waters of his home State.

The Coast Guard is one of the six United States Armed Forces, and they help secure our country's borders. As we watch the Ukraine crisis unfold and recognize the apparent lack of readiness in the Russian military, we should be especially aware of the need to provide our Armed Forces with the resources they need.

This bill includes provisions to strengthen the Coast Guard's ability to keep Russian vessels out of U.S. water, a provision Don Young authored. Both sides of the aisle worked together to craft this legislation, recognizing that port and coastal security, drug interdiction, and maritime safety are important bipartisan issues to our Nation rather than Republican or Democrat issues.

The Coast Guard plays an important and unique role in national security and maritime safety. The Service is a critical component in carrying out drug interdiction efforts, keeping our ports and coasts safe, and conducting icebreaking operations. H.R. 6865 helps the Coast Guard better perform these missions and encourages the use of cutting-edge technology to improve operations, while also addressing ongoing issues like how to bring the Service's crumbling IT infrastructure into the modern era.

Despite the administration's failure to seek appropriate capital funding levels, this bill authorizes over $9 billion for the operations and support account and $3 billion for the procurement, construction, and improvement account for fiscal 2022 and provides a 5 percent increase in FY23. We had hoped that would offset earlier budget shortfalls, but given the rise in inflation, it will be needed just to stay even.

As others have noted, this legislation authorizes the purchase of a twelfth National Security Cutter and six Fast Response Cutters, which are necessary for the Coast Guard's future mission capabilities.

Vital to my district, I am also proud of the commitment made to the Great Lakes in this bill. Working with my colleague, the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. GALLAGHER), the bill includes an authorization of a new dedicated icebreaker on the Lakes to keep commerce moving as much of the year as possible.

Thank you to Chair DEFAZIO, Ranking Member SAM GRAVES, and Subcommittee Chair CARBAJAL for working in a bipartisan fashion to give the Coast Guard the resources it needs to accomplish its missions. I urge support of this bill.

On a side note, my first year as a freshman, I was chairman of the Subcommittee on Water Resources and Environment, and I inadvertently overlooked Don Young in the questioning order. That was not a smart thing for a freshman Member to do. I realized my mistake, and I apologized to him, and we became the best of friends. He also invited all of us to go to his king salmon barbecue here in D.C. I am really going to miss Don Young. He was really an American patriot.

Mr. DEFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from California (Mr. GARAMENDI), a senior member of the committee.

Mr. GARAMENDI. Mr. Speaker, I strongly support the Coast Guard Authorization Act of 2022, and I would like to thank the chairman and the ranking member, also Mr. CARBAJAL and the minority team for putting together a good piece of legislation.

This bipartisan legislation authorizes the U.S. Coast Guard, our fifth national military service branch, for fiscal years 2022 and 2023.

We know the Coast Guard is critically important. We just heard that here. This bill also goes beyond just the Coast Guard. It deals with the Jones Act and something I have worked on for 13 years here, which is Make It In America and how we can do that in our maritime industry.

In this bill, there are policies and proposals that include long overdue language to close some egregious loopholes to the Jones Act that would allow foreign vessels to undercut American-flagged vessels operating in America's offshore environment and the intercontinental shelf. This amendment, H.R. 6728, which is included in this bill, would close that loophole so that those foreign-flagged vessels are held to the very same high standards that American vessels have to hold to in those same offshore waters.

A lot of this comes down to the new offshore wind industry that is flourishing in the northeast and soon will be found in many other parts of this Nation. Do you want those to be American jobs or do you want those to be foreign jobs? The question is pretty simple. This bill, as amended, would make sure that those ships and crews operating offshore would have to meet the same high standards. They would have to be certified that they know what they are doing, that they pass the various background checks as American mariners must.

Now, if you want a wide open thing, then just forget it, but this bill is there to protect American workers in the offshore wind industry, the offshore oil industry, and further beyond that to the general Jones Act fleet.

It is a good bill. There are other things in this bill that are good. I had the great pleasure of working with our former colleague, Don Young, on his Oil Spill Response Enhancement Act. We worked together on that for several years. It is included in this bill, and it would certainly be appropriate that that stay in this bill.

We are going to have always the normal trouble with the Senate. They just seem to not understand all that they should, but this is a great bill. I want to compliment all who worked on it. The minority teams did excellent work. I thank them so very much. I see the coauthor of our amendment, the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. GRAVES), who has done good work on this bill, has taken his position to carry on.

Mr. GRAVES of Missouri. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. GRAVES), the ranking member of the Subcommittee on Aviation.

Mr. GRAVES of Louisiana. Mr. Speaker, first of all, I want to thank Chairman DEFAZIO, Ranking Member SAM GRAVES, Subcommittee Chair CARBAJAL, and Ranking Member GIBBS for their bipartisan efforts on this legislation. I want to thank the gentleman from California (Mr. GARAMENDI), my friend, for working with us to ensure that American mariners are given a level playing field, and I want to thank all Members involved for the efforts to help to bolster the Coast Guard.

Mr. Speaker, the Coast Guard is often described as a Swiss Army knife. You take all the laws that are enforced on terrestrial grounds, and we effectively put all of those on the Coast Guard men and women to be carried out or enforced on America's oceans, on our seas, and our near-shore waters. This is an incredible task. Everything from maritime safety, maritime security, counter drug, alien interdiction and many, many other missions.

We have got to make sure if we are going to ask them to do such a challenging task that we give them the equipment. This bill authorizes the twelfth National Security Cutter. It authorizes six of the Fast Response Cutter, the Sentinel-class vessels that are going to bring better interoperability, better offensive capabilities, faster transit speed, the ability to operate in much more adverse conditions in regard to sea state, many, many other things.

This also includes a provision that Don Young included that prohibits Russian vessels from being in Alaskan waters, and I think that is very important, especially considering what we are going through right now. I think that is absolutely critical.

It also includes a provision that Congressman HUFFMAN and I worked on on a bipartisan basis to ensure that AIS, the automatic identification system, requirements for fishing vessels of certain sizes are being applied to prevent illegal fishing or fishing that is beyond catch limits in our waters, so very, very important legislation being advanced today.

I want to thank everybody for working on it and, most importantly, I want to thank the fact that this bill is being named after Congressman Don Young. This is much deserved. I had the chance to work for him under John Rayfield when he was chair and absolutely very much deserve. I support the legislation.

Mr. DEFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. AUCHINCLOSS), a member of the committee.

Mr. AUCHINCLOSS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the chairman for working with me to meet President Biden's goal of deploying 30 gigawatts of offshore wind energy by 2030 as we transition to a clean energy economy.

While I support funding the Coast Guard, I am deeply concerned that a provision in this bill would prevent us from meeting this imperative. To achieve 30 gigawatts by 2030, the United States will need five to six wind turbine installation vessels. Currently, there are only three in the world. This provision would prevent the use of these vessels and halt the only means we have to install and maintain wind turbines in the short term.

Not only would this put those 30 gigawatts of clean energy out of reach by 2030, it would also threaten thousands of good-paying union jobs in Massachusetts. I share the chairman's goal of staffing offshore wind projects with American workers in the long term.

Indeed, with my colleague, the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. KEATING), I have secured funding to help train those workers, but there will be no jobs and no offshore wind energy if this amendment is passed and the development of offshore wind is stillborn. I ask for a commitment to work in conference to ensure a seamless transition to American workers that does not jeopardize access to wind turbine installation vessels for current and future development of offshore wind projects.

Mr. GRAVES of Missouri. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. ROUZER), the ranking member of the Water Resources and Environment Subcommittee.

Mr. ROUZER. Mr. Speaker, it is so fitting that today we are passing the Coast Guard reauthorization bill, a very good bipartisan piece of legislation, naming it in honor of our dear friend and colleague, Don Young of Alaska, who did so much during his time here for the Coast Guard.

A fixture in the House for 49 years, Don Young took care of the needs of Alaskans like no other could. So it was a natural fit for him to serve as chairman of both the Natural Resources Committee and the Transportation and Infrastructure Committee during his time here. His accomplishments for Alaska and throughout the course of his life are well known and numerous.

He was certainly a throw-back to the old days on Capitol Hill. He fought hard for his constituents, for Alaska, for America. He had the force of a lion, but great compassion. And, boy did he know how to live life to the fullest. He was the perfect public servant for he had two attributes one must have to survive and serve the public well: A tough hide but a tender heart. That is the gentleman from Alaska that I got to know. That is the man who, with his dear wife, Anne, by his side, told me at my birthday party last month that he wanted to get the show on the road, go up to the stage and sing happy birthday. I simply said, "Yes, sir," and what a memorable night he made it.

Sometimes words cannot properly describe a man, for the emotions that stir the heart are so powerful, words cannot possibly reflect them. That is how it feels for me, anyway.

But let it be said many times over: Don Young was a force, a legend in his own time. And America is better and greater because of him.

Let's pass this Coast Guard reauthorization bill in honor of our great friend, Don Young.

Mr. DEFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, may I inquire as to the time remaining.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Oregon has 5½ minutes remaining. The gentleman from Missouri has 8½ minutes remaining.

Mr. DEFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. KEATING).

Mr. KEATING. Mr. Speaker, I associate myself with the remarks of my colleagues regarding our late colleague Don Young, my friend, someone I worked with on fishing issues, ferry issues, air service issues. He will be sorely missed.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 6865, which makes significant investments in the extraordinary work of the United States Coast Guard.

I have deep concerns, though, about one provision in the bill regarding the sole-sourced crewing of foreign vessels needed to construct the first offshore wind projects in our country. This language will prevent existing crews from building already planned offshore wind projects years before the ships can be built and long before American seamen are trained to take on these jobs.

We all support U.S. jobs, but here at home, this industry is at its relative infancy. The requirements in this provision will prevent participation of the existing fleet of vessels needed to begin construction on these projects while no U.S. alternative exists.

This will cost us jobs, jeopardizing more than 3,600 jobs, largely union jobs, from the Vineyard Wind project in my district alone and create years of delays to the building of offshore wind projects with an estimated 20,000 new jobs across the eastern seaboard.

Mr. Speaker, I ask the chairman to work with me to amend this language in conference to ensure that the United States does not falter as we take our first steps into this burgeoning industry, one that will increase our energy independence, create American jobs, and move us away from our reliance on fossil fuels.

Mr. DEFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, certainly, I would assure both this gentleman and Representative AUCHINCLOSS that I will be happy to work with the two of them as the legislation goes to the Senate.

I want to move toward employing qualified American mariners and to have the people who work on these ships meet the same requirements as American mariners.

Flags of convenience have destroyed the U.S. maritime industry. We are going to rebuild it, and we are going to rebuild it with American crews and ships. Dominion Resources is currently building an insertion ship.

I certainly do not want to impede projects in the near term, Vineyard Wind and others that are immediately pending, and we will work to ensure there are no disruptions as we move toward a cleaner energy future.

I would be happy to work with the two gentlemen and others who are concerned.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. GRAVES of Missouri. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Tennessee (Mr. BURCHETT).

Mr. BURCHETT. Mr. Speaker, I stand here not to talk about the bill but to talk about my friend, Don Young.

When I first got up here, I told Don that I was an avid gold panner in Knoxville, Tennessee, yet, in my lifetime, I had never found one flake of gold. He told me if I would come to Alaska, he said: "Timmy, I could put you on some gold." And we talked about our love of the outdoors.

We also talked about our love of traditional country music, Mr. Speaker. Rick Crawford had his little band over here playing one night, and they were playing some good old country music, some Johnny Paycheck, the music that speaks to your heart. Don and I were talking about the current state of country music and just how horrible it was, and if I wanted to listen to rock music, I would turn on a rock station; if I wanted to listen to rap, I would turn on a rap station; but, dadgummit, country music was what we wanted to hear, and these country music people today are not country music people. I would put it in Don's words, but I would probably be called out on an ethics charge, Mr. Speaker, so I will not do that.

I stand here today as a friend of Don Young's and someone who will miss him dearly. I will miss his abrupt, gruff way about himself. My daddy was quite like that, and I grew up in that household, and I understand completely. Don had a rough exterior, but he was a very gentle person, and I will miss him dearly.

Mr. DEFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, I continue to reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. GRAVES of Missouri. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. SCALISE), the Republican whip.

Mr. SCALISE. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Missouri for yielding.

What a great tribute, to be naming this Coast Guard reauthorization bill after Don Young. While we mourn his loss today and pay tribute to Don in Statuary Hall, his family was here, and as you are paying tribute to a great life, the dean of the House who served 49 years in this great Chamber from the 49th State of Alaska, you can't help but think of all the Don Young stories.

Clearly, there is a tie to this bill because Don served on the Coast Guard and Maritime Transportation Subcommittee for his entire tenure that the committee was in existence. Don loved the Coast Guard, loved the relationship they had in Alaska, just trying to get more icebreakers so that we could keep up with Russians continuing to open up their shipping lanes, but our not having the ability to get enough Coast Guard cutters to break ice in Alaska.

Don Young was always a champion for Alaska. He was a great friend. He was somebody who you knew where he stood all the time. And if you stood in his way, he would make it clear that he was going to keep moving forward.

As we look at the seat that Don Young always sat in, in a Chamber of 435 people where there are no reserved seats, everybody knows that is where Don Young sat. When you look over there today, it is a little bit sad, but you can only think of great memories of Don Young when you see the black cloth draped over that seat.

We will always remember Don Young, a man who loved this country, surely loved the Coast Guard, and epitomized what is the great State of Alaska. No better champion they had in Congress than Don Young.

I look forward to passing this bill with overwhelming support.

Mr. DEFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. GRAVES of Missouri. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Arkansas (Mr. CRAWFORD).

Mr. CRAWFORD. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Missouri for yielding.

I rise today to recognize the passing of my friend and colleague, Representative Don Young.

While many accomplished and effective men and women have served here in the House of Representatives over the years, very few have built a legacy like Representative Young.

Over the last almost 12 years, I have had the honor of serving with him on the Transportation and Infrastructure Committee, where he spent untold hours fighting for stronger investment in American infrastructure. The Don Young Coast Guard Authorization Act on the floor today is just one of many examples of this.

Don took his job as dean of the House seriously. He regularly offered advice to colleagues, like his warnings to me to never shave my beard. He was eager to welcome Members and their families to Capitol Hill. My kids loved getting a tour of his office and hearing his wild hunting stories.

Representative Young will be remembered for his boisterous personality and outrageous anecdotes, but above all, he will be remembered for his passion for the people of Alaska.

I am thankful for the time I served with Representative Young, and my prayers are with his family, friends, staff, and constituents.

Today, I encourage my colleagues to honor our friend and support H.R. 6865.

Mr. DEFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. GRAVES of Missouri. Mr. Speaker, may I inquire as to how much time is remaining.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Missouri has 4½ minutes remaining. The gentleman from Oregon has 2½ minutes remaining.

Mr. GRAVES of Missouri. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from California (Mr. CALVERT).

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this legislation.

Don represented Alaska in this House for nearly as long as Alaska has been a State. Don was a ferocious advocate for the people he represented, not the least of whom were Alaska's Native people, who held a special place in his heart.

We are going to miss Don. He was a champion for the North Slope, Alaska's commercial fisheries, and infrastructure, obviously. Don spent his career fighting for his constituents to use Alaska's vast natural resources to bring prosperity to his State.

Don knew what made our country great and how to work across the aisle to deliver for the people of Alaska.

Don was my first committee chairman when I came here 30 years ago, and he quickly found me and said: "I heard you want to be on my committee." I said: "Yes, Mr. Chairman." "Well, do whatever I tell you, and you will be just fine." I think, at some time or another, all of us have lived by those words.

I will miss Don. I will miss his friendship, his humor, and his passion. My thoughts and prayers go out to his wife, Anne, and the family.

Rest in peace, Don.

Mr. DEFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. GRAVES of Missouri. Mr. Speaker, I yield 30 seconds to the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. CHABOT).

Mr. CHABOT. Mr. Speaker, I had the honor to serve 26 years here in the House with Don Young.

There is an expression some of our Texans have about not messing with Texas. Well, with Don Young, you knew not to mess with Alaska.

We butted heads on that several times, but we remained friends. When my family and I went to Alaska some years ago, he told us the places not to miss. It was a family vacation. It was wonderful. We stopped by the State fair there, and we picked up "I'm a Young Man" buttons—this is one today—and "I'm a Young Woman" buttons for my wife and daughter. Periodically, I would wear it here in the House, and he always got a kick out of that.

Now, Don Young is gone, and as they said about Lincoln, he now belongs to the ages. He will be long remembered in this place, and he will certainly be long remembered in Alaska.

May Don rest in peace.

Mr. DEFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. GRAVES of Missouri. Mr. Speaker, I yield 30 seconds to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. MCCAUL).

Mr. MCCAUL. Mr. Speaker, what can you say about Don in 30 seconds? I always saw him as a captain, the tugboat captain, the captain of the ship.

Don was the captain of this ship, this great institution, the House. Don was rough on the exterior like his State, rugged and larger than life, but he had a heart for serving others.

I will never forget going to the White House when we signed the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act into law. ANWR opened up. He did a little jig in front of the White House. I think that may have been one of the days he broke his promise of maybe having a little drink.

But I will say this: I will always cherish my last day in the House sitting right next to him. The very last day, we were here for an hour talking about this great institution, talking about our families, what is important in life. Little did I know that the next day he would be lost.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Ms. MCCOLLUM). The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. GRAVES of Missouri. Madam Speaker, I yield the gentleman an additional 5 seconds.

Mr. MCCAUL. Madam Speaker, let me say in closing, Don planned to serve in Congress until God or the voters decided it was his time. It is no coincidence that God called him home on his 49th year in Congress as a Representative for the 49th State.

May God hold Don in the palms of his hands.

Mr. DEFAZIO. Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. GRAVES of Missouri. Madam Speaker, may I inquire how much time is remaining.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Missouri has 2½ minutes remaining. The gentleman from Oregon has 2½ minutes remaining.

Mr. GRAVES of Missouri. Madam Speaker, I yield 30 seconds to the gentleman from California (Mr. ISSA).

Mr. ISSA. Madam Speaker, Don Young has 50 years of stories, and I will tell you just one in 20 seconds.

Madam Speaker, Don Young, faced with a young Member wanting to affect bypass mail in Alaska, could have dressed me down and told me over his dead body. Instead, he directed me to go to Alaska to see how bypass mail was done in the post office there. He sent me to an Aleutian Island, sent me to a few other appropriate places, and changed my view of why we have bypass mail.

That is the Don Young I will remember.

Mr. DEFAZIO. Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. GRAVES of Missouri. Madam Speaker, I yield 30 seconds to the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. BALDERSON).

Mr. BALDERSON. Madam Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding.

I rise in support of the Don Young Coast Guard Authorization Act, which ensures that the dedicated men and women of the U.S. Coast Guard are adequately trained and equipped to fulfill their critical mission of securing America's coastlines.

It has been an honor for me, as a 3-year Member of Congress, to serve alongside Don Young and always sit behind him and hear him.

Mr. DEFAZIO. Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

□ 1600

Mr. GRAVES of Missouri. Madam Speaker, I yield 30 seconds to the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. VAN DREW).

Mr. VAN DREW. Madam Speaker, I rise in support of the Don Young Coast Guard Authorization Act of 2022.

Congressman Young brought a distinct candor and a character to Congress. This body and our country are better off thanks to his service, and he will be dearly missed. I am proud to note that this legislation authorizes $120 million for the construction of new barracks at the United States Coast Guard Training Center Cape May in New Jersey.

The barracks project will expand opportunities for women to serve in the Coast Guard as well as expand the training center's recruitment capacity by 25 percent. The United States must project strength, and this legislation will ensure that the United States is ready to address the challenges presented by adversaries such as Russia and China.

Mr. DEFAZIO. Madam Speaker, I yield 30 seconds to the gentlewoman from New York (Ms. MALLIOTAKIS).

Ms. MALLIOTAKIS. Madam Speaker, my district is home to Coast Guard Station New York and is the largest Coast Guard station on the East Coast. This legislation authorizes $1.2 million in needed repairs to ensure their mission and day-to-day operations continue. I thank everyone for this bipartisan effort.

Madam Speaker, to say that Don Young was an amazing man would be an understatement. He was one of the first Members I met as a freshman. He advocated to help me to get on the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure. I know how much he loved the Coast Guard. I know how much he loved Alaska. And it is so fitting that we are naming this legislation after him.

Mr. GRAVES of Missouri. Madam Speaker, I yield 30 seconds to the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. GUEST).

Mr. GUEST. Madam Speaker, I rise today in honor of the life and service of the late Congressman Don Young of Alaska, former dean of the United States House of Representatives. It is fitting that this Coast Guard reauthorization, which we are considering today, is named in his memory.

Congressman Young made a lasting impact on this institution and his legacy of service will endure far into the future.

Mr. DEFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. GRAVES of Missouri. Madam Speaker, may I inquire how much time is remaining?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Missouri has 30 seconds remaining.

Mr. GRAVES of Missouri. Madam Speaker, this is obviously a fitting tribute, but we ran out of time. A lot of people wanted to say something about Don, and I apologize that we ran out of time.

Madam Speaker, I close by thanking the chairman of both the committee and the subcommittee and the ranking member, for putting this bill together. It is very much a bipartisan effort. But I particularly want to thank the staffs on both sides of the aisle for the work that they did, and in particular, John Rayfield, who had the opportunity to work with Chairman Young when he was chairman of the committee as well.

Madam Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support this very important piece of legislation, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. DEFAZIO. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Madam Speaker, it was very fitting the tributes that we heard. We all have stories about Don, and I wish we had more time to share, but his many decades of work will stand as a monument to his life, and this bill, in particular, will honor his extraordinary service on the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure. I think it was called Public Works when Don first came to serve here.

Madam Speaker, I urge support for this bill. As I mentioned earlier, we are finally recognizing that the Coast Guard has been under resourced for decades. We are beginning to deal with that problem, their shoreside infrastructure, their assets at sea, and in particular, the extraordinary people who serve in the United States Coast Guard.

Madam Speaker, I am proud to have named the bill for Don. I would urge that this bill be unanimously approved by our colleagues, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. CARSON. Madam Speaker, I rise to speak in support of H.R. 6865, the Don Young Coast Guard Reauthorization Act of 2022.

I'd like to first acknowledge the sudden passing of Don Young, the Dean of the House, and the former Chairman of the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure. I extend my condolences to his wife and family, and also to his staff. I had the pleasure of working with him on the Carson/Young bill, to create the National Center for the Advancement of Aviation, which is a bipartisan and a bicameral bill to improve aviation, which is so important to both of our states, Alaska and Indiana. It's only fitting that today's Coast Guard bill is now named in Congressman Young's memory.

Chairman DEFAZIO, I commend your leadership, and your collaboration on this Coast Guard bill, with Ranking Member GRAVES, Coast Guard Subcommittee Chair CARBAJAL and Ranking Member GIBBS. I am pleased to join our committee colleagues in supporting the Coast Guard Reauthorization Act because it will increase maritime safety and efficiency.

Chairman DEFAZIO, I am especially grateful to you for working with me over several years to develop the language that will finally address the persistent problems with unsafe vessels, and including my Duck Boat Safety Improvement Act in today's Coast Guard Reauthorization.

My Duck Boat Safety requirements, in Title III, Section 305, will finally implement safety regulations for amphibious passenger vessels, particularly those known as Duck Boats. These safety recommendations were made by federal agencies to address repeated problems associated with Duck Boats that have resulted in many injuries and fatalities that may have been prevented.

I became much more aware of these problems when my constituents in Indianapolis, the Coleman family, were involved in a horrible Duck Boat accident on July 19, 2018 in Branson, Missouri. Tia Coleman was one of only two survivors from her family of 11, losing her husband Glenn and her children Reece (nine years old), Evan (seven years old), and Arya (one year old). Tia's 13-year-old nephew, Donovan, was the other surviving family member, losing his mother Angela, his younger brother Maxwell (two years old), his uncles Ervin (76 years old) and Butch (70 years old), and his aunt Belinda (69 years old). Boarding a Duck Boat on Table Rock Lake started out as a fun outing for family members, but it turned into an unspeakable tragedy when the boat capsized and sank. Seventeen of the 31 passengers on board were killed.

The National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB) and U.S. Coast Guard have separately investigated the incident and the last few aspects of the investigation should be completed soon.

But Congress should not wait to act. We know from past incidents that more can and should be done to make these vessels safer. Since 1999, more than 40 people have died in Duck Boats accidents, the vast majority of them from drowning when the vessel sinks. The NTSB in 2002 issued recommendations to improve the safety of these vessels in flooding or sinking situations but little has been done to implement those measures.

Duck Boats are hybrid vehicles that can travel on roadways and waterways, so the safety measures must be updated for both land and waterborne operations.

The Duck Boat Safety Improvement Act will require vessel operators to implement common-sense boating safety measures, including:

- Improving reserve buoyancy and watertight compartmentalization to prevent sinking,

- Requiring more monitoring and adherence to severe weather alerts and warnings,

- Requiring release of road safety seatbelts when Duck Boats become waterborne,

- Requiring stronger crew safety training and certification,

- Removing or reconfigure canopies and window coverings for waterborne operations,

- Requiring personal flotation devices for waterborne operations,

Requiring installation of better bilge pumps and alarms,

Installing underwater LED lights that activate automatically in emergencies, and Complying with other Coast Guard boating safety requirements.

These basic safety requirements will help save lives and prevent future tragedies.

I hope my colleagues will join me in supporting today's bill to make commonsense corrections to the persistent safety problems facing duck boats. If we act today, we can help ensure that no other family has to suffer the kind of tragedy faced by my constituents on Table Rock Lake. I urge the House to support this bill.

Mrs. LURIA. Madam Speaker, I come from a coastal district in Virginia, and the responsibilities and duties of the Coast Guard are integral to our everyday activities.

While I will vote to support the Don Young Coast Guard Authorization Act for all these reasons, I must express my concerns with language that was added to the bill in committee that makes significant modifications to crewing aboard the important and unique vessels that do the work lifting turbines on our growing and important offshore wind farms including a new project in development off the coast of Virginia.

This provision assumes that the United States presently has a sufficient number of vessels and mariners to perform this work. But as a recent report from DoE just states, we need 3–5 of these vessels and hundreds of skilled workers but unfortunately we currently lack them.

The proposed crewing changes—which go into effect immediately—would block the progress Virginia and other states along the Atlantic coast are making to produce clean energy and reduce the negative impacts of climate change.

I'm willing to continue working with the Members of the Transportation and Infrastructure Committee on a reliable crewing scheme that protects our national interests while ensuring that vital energy work can be done. This is not the right time to make this immediate and drastic change in the law.

“(I) the applicable dollar amount under subparagraph (E) (after application of section 414(v)) for the year (or, if lesser, the employee’s compensation (as defined in section 415(c)(3)) for the year), reduced by

(2) AUTHORIZED PARTICIPANT.—The term “authorized participant” means a financial institution that is a member or participant of a clearing agency registered under section 17A(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 that enters into a contractual relationship with an exchange-traded fund pursuant to which the financial institution is permitted to purchase and redeem shares directly from the fund and to sell such shares to third parties, but only if the contractual arrangement or applicable law precludes the financial institution from—

(A) purchasing the shares for its own investment purposes rather than for the exclusive purpose of creating and redeeming such shares on behalf of third parties; and

(3) MARKET MAKER.—The term “market maker” means a financial institution that is a registered broker or dealer under section 15(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 that maintains liquidity for an exchange-traded fund on a national stock exchange by being always ready to buy and sell shares of such fund on the market, but only if the financial institution is contractually or legally precluded from selling or buying such shares to or from persons who are not authorized participants or otherwise described in paragraphs (2) and (3) of Treasury Regulation section 1.817-5(f).

TITLE III—SIMPLIFICATION AND CLARIFICATION OF RETIREMENT PLAN RULES

SEC. 301. RECOVERY OF RETIREMENT PLAN OVERPAYMENTS.

(a) OVERPAYMENTS UNDER ERISA.—Section 206 of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (29 U.S.C. 1056) is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

“(h) SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO BENEFIT OVERPAYMENTS.—

“(1) GENERAL RULE.—In the case of an inadvertent benefit overpayment by any pension plan, the responsible plan fiduciary shall not be considered to have failed to comply with the requirements of this title merely because such fiduciary determines, in the exercise of its fiduciary discretion, not to seek recovery of all or part of such overpayment from—

“(A) any participant or beneficiary,

“(B) any plan sponsor of, or contributing employer to—

“(i) an individual account plan, provided that the amount needed to prevent or restore any impermissible forfeiture from any participant's or beneficiary's account arising in connection with the overpayment is, separately from and independently of the overpayment, allocated to such account pursuant to the nonforfeiture requirements of section 203 (for example, out of the plan's forfeiture account, additional employer contributions, or recoveries from those responsible for the overpayment), or

“(ii) a defined benefit pension plan subject to the funding rules in part 3 of this subtitle B, unless the responsible plan fiduciary determines, in the exercise of its fiduciary discretion, that failure to recover all or part of the overpayment faster than required under such funding rules would materially affect the plan's ability to pay benefits due to other participants and beneficiaries, or

“(C) any fiduciary of the plan, other than a fiduciary (including a plan sponsor or contributing employer acting in a fiduciary capacity) whose breach of its fiduciary duties resulted in such overpayment, provided that if the plan has established prudent procedures to prevent and minimize overpayment of benefits and the relevant plan fiduciaries have followed such procedures, an inadvertent benefit overpayment will not give rise to a breach of fiduciary duty.

“(2) REDUCTION IN FUTURE BENEFIT PAYMENTS AND RECOVERY FROM RESPONSIBLE

PARTY.—Paragraph (1) shall not fail to apply with respect to any inadvertent benefit overpayment merely because, after discovering such overpayment, the responsible plan fiduciary—

“(A) reduces future benefit payments to the correct amount provided for under the terms of the plan, or “(B) seeks recovery from the person or persons responsible for the overpayment.

“(3) EMPLOYER FUNDING OBLIGATIONS.—Nothing in this subsection shall relieve an employer of any obligation imposed on it to make contributions to a plan to meet the minimum funding standards under part 3 of this subtitle B or to prevent or restore an impermissible forfeiture in accordance with section 203.

“(4) RECOUPMENT FROM PARTICIPANTS AND BENEFICIARIES.—If the responsible plan fiduciary, in the exercise of its fiduciary discretion, decides to seek recoupment from a participant or beneficiary of all or part of an inadvertent benefit overpayment made by the plan to such participant or beneficiary, it may do so, subject to the following conditions:

“(A) No interest or other additional amounts (such as collection costs or fees) are sought on overpaid amounts for any period.

“(B) If the plan seeks to recoup past overpayments of a non-decreasing periodic benefit by reducing future benefit payments—

“(i) the reduction ceases after the plan has recovered the full dollar amount of the overpayment,

“(ii) the amount recouped each calendar year does not exceed 10 percent of the full dollar amount of the overpayment, and “(iii) future benefit payments are not reduced to below 90 percent of the periodic amount otherwise payable under the terms of the plan.

Alternatively, if the plan seeks to recoup past overpayments of a non-decreasing periodic benefit through one or more installment payments, the sum of such installment payments in any calendar year does not exceed the sum of the reductions that would be permitted in such year under the preceding sentence.

“(C) If the plan seeks to recoup past overpayments of a benefit other than a non-decreasing periodic benefit, the plan satisfies requirements developed by the Secretary for purposes of this subparagraph.

“(D) Efforts to recoup overpayments are—

“(i) not accompanied by threats of litigation, unless the responsible plan fiduciary reasonably believes it could prevail in a civil action brought in Federal or State court to recoup the overpayments, and “(ii) not made through a collection agency or similar third party, unless the participant or beneficiary ignores or rejects efforts to recoup the overpayment following either a final judgment in Federal or State court or a settlement between the participant or beneficiary and the plan, in either case authorizing such recoupment.

“(E) Recoupment of past overpayments to a participant is not sought from any beneficiary of the participant, including a spouse, surviving spouse, former spouse, or other beneficiary.

“(F) Recoupment may not be sought if the first overpayment occurred more than 3 years before the participant or beneficiary is first notified in writing of the error.

“(G) A participant or beneficiary from whom recoupment is sought is entitled to contest all or part of the recoupment pursuant to the plan's claims procedures.

“(H) In determining the amount of recoupment to seek, the responsible plan fiduciary may take into account the hardship that recoupment likely would impose on the participant or beneficiary.

“(5) EFFECT OF CULPABILITY.—Subparagraphs (A) through (F) of paragraph (4) shall not apply to protect a participant or beneficiary who is culpable. For purposes of this paragraph, a participant or beneficiary is culpable if the individual bears responsibility for the overpayment (such as through misrepresentations or omissions that led to the overpayment), or if the individual knew, or had good reason to know under the circumstances, that the benefit payment or payments were materially in excess of the correct amount. Notwithstanding the preceding sentence, an individual is not culpable merely because the individual believed the benefit payment or payments were or might be in excess of the correct amount, if the individual raised that question with an authorized plan representative and was told the payment or payments were not in excess of the correct amount. With respect to a culpable participant or beneficiary, efforts to recoup overpayments shall not be made through threats of litigation, unless a lawyer for the plan could make the representations required under Rule 11 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure if the litigation were brought in Federal court.”.

(b) OVERPAYMENTS UNDER INTERNAL REVENUE CODE OF 1986.—

(1) QUALIFICATION REQUIREMENTS.—Section 414 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended by this preceding provisions of this Act, is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

“(1) IN GENERAL.—A plan shall not fail to be treated as described in clause (i), (ii), (iii), or (iv) of section 219(g)(5)(A) (and shall not fail to be treated as satisfying the requirements of section 401(a) or 403) merely because—

“(A) the plan fails to obtain payment from any participant, beneficiary, employer, plan sponsor, fiduciary, or other party on account of any inadvertent benefit overpayment made by the plan, or

“(B) the plan sponsor amends the plan to increase past or future benefit payments to affected participants and beneficiaries in order to adjust for prior inadvertent benefit overpayments.

“(2) REDUCTION IN FUTURE BENEFIT PAYMENTS AND RECOVERY FROM RESPONSIBLE PARTY.—Paragraph (1) shall not fail to apply to a plan merely because, after discovering a benefit overpayment, such plan—

“(A) reduces future benefit payments to the correct amount provided for under the terms of the plan, or

“(B) seeks recovery from the person or persons responsible for such overpayment.

“(3) EMPLOYER FUNDING OBLIGATIONS.—Nothing in this subsection shall relieve an employer of any obligation imposed on it to make contributions to a plan to meet the minimum funding standards under sections 412 and 430 or to prevent or restore an impermissible forfeiture in accordance with section 411.

“(4) OBSERVANCE OF BENEFIT LIMITATIONS.—Notwithstanding paragraph (1), a plan to which paragraph (1) applies shall observe any limitations imposed on it by section 401(a)(17) or 415. The plan may enforce such limitations using any method approved by the Secretary of the Treasury for recouping benefits previously paid or allocations previously made in excess of such limitations.

“(5) COORDINATION WITH OTHER QUALIFICATION REQUIREMENTS.—The Secretary of the Treasury may issue regulations or other guidance of general applicability specifying how benefit overpayments and their recoupment or non-recoupment from a participant or beneficiary shall be taken into account for purposes of satisfying any requirement applicable to a plan to which paragraph (1) applies.”.

(2) ROLLOVERS.—Section 402(c) of such Code is amended by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

“(12) In the case of an inadvertent benefit overpayment from a plan to which section 414(bb)(1) applies that is transferred to an eligible retirement plan by or on behalf of a participant or beneficiary—

“(A) the portion of such overpayment with respect to which recoupment is not sought on behalf of the plan shall be treated as having been paid in an eligible rollover distribution if the payment would have been an eligible rollover distribution but for being an overpayment, and

“(B) the portion of such overpayment with respect to which recoupment is sought on behalf of the plan shall be permitted to be returned to such plan and in such case shall be treated as an eligible rollover distribution transferred to such plan by the participant or beneficiary who received such overpayment (and the plans making and receiving such transfer shall be treated as permitting such transfer).

In any case in which recoupment is sought on behalf of the plan but is disputed by the participant or beneficiary who received such overpayment, such dispute shall be subject to the claims procedures of the plan that made such overpayment, such plan shall notify the plan receiving the rollover of such dispute, and the plan receiving the rollover shall retain such overpayment on behalf of the participant or beneficiary (and shall be entitled to treat such overpayment as plan assets) pending the outcome of such procedures.”.

(c) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall apply as of the date of the enactment of this Act.

(d) CERTAIN ACTIONS BEFORE DATE OF ENACTMENT.—Plans, fiduciaries, employers, and plan sponsors are entitled to rely on—

(1) a good faith interpretation of then existing administrative guidance for inadvertent benefit overpayment recoupments and recoveries that commenced before the date of enactment of this Act, and

(2) determinations made before the date of enactment of this Act by the responsible plan fiduciary, in the exercise of its fiduciary discretion, not to seek recoupment or recovery of all or part of an inadvertent benefit overpayment.

In the case of a benefit overpayment that occurred prior to the date of enactment of this Act, any installment payments by the participant or beneficiary to the plan or any reduction in periodic benefit payments to the participant or beneficiary, which were made in recoupment of such overpayment and which commenced prior to such date, may continue after such date. Nothing in this subsection shall relieve a fiduciary from responsibility for an overpayment that resulted from a breach of its fiduciary duties.

(b) REDUCTION IN EXCISE TAX ON FAILURES TO TAKE REQUIRED MINIMUM DISTRIBUTIONS.—Section 4974 of such Code is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

“(e) REDUCTION OF TAX IN CERTAIN CASES.—

“(1) REDUCTION.—In the case of a taxpayer who—

“(A) corrects, during the correction window, a shortfall of distributions from an individual retirement plan which resulted in imposition of a tax under subsection (a), and

“(B) submits a return, during the correction window, reflecting such tax (as modified by this subsection), the first sentence of subsection (a) shall be applied by substituting ‘10 percent’ for ‘25 percent’.

“(2) CORRECTION WINDOW.—For purposes of this subsection, the term ‘correction window’ means the period of time beginning on the date on which the tax under subsection (a) is imposed with respect to a shortfall of distributions from an individual retirement plan, and ending on the earlier of—

“(A) the date on which the Secretary initiates an audit, or otherwise demands payment, with respect to the shortfall of distributions, or

“(B) the last day of the second taxable year that begins after the end of the taxable year in which the tax under subsection (a) is imposed.”.

(1) the blend is reasonably representative of the asset class holdings of the designated investment alternative;

(2) for purposes of determining the blend's returns for 1-, 5-, and 10-calendar-year periods (or for the life of the alternative, if shorter), the blend is modified at least once per year to reflect changes in the asset class holdings of the designated investment alternative;

Revenue Procedure 2021-30 is deemed amended as of the date of the enactment of this Act to provide that the correction period under section 9.02 of such Revenue Procedure (or any successor guidance) for an eligible inadvertent failure, except as otherwise provided under such Code or in regulations prescribed by the Secretary, is indefinite and has no last day, other than with respect to failures identified by the Secretary prior to any self-correction as described in the preceding sentence.

(b) LOAN ERRORS.—In the case of an eligible inadvertent failure relating to a loan from a plan to a participant—

(1) such failure may be self-corrected under subsection (a) according to the rules of section 6.07 of Revenue Procedure 2021-30 (or any successor guidance), including the provisions related to whether a deemed distribution must be reported on Form 1099-R, and

(d) ADDITIONAL SAFE HARBORS.—The Secretary shall expand the EPCRS to provide additional safe harbor means of correcting eligible inadvertent failures described in subsection (a), including safe harbor means of calculating the earnings which must be restored to a plan in cases where plan assets have been depleted by reason of an eligible inadvertent failure.

(2) EXCEPTION.—The term “eligible inadvertent failure” shall not include any failure which is egregious, relates to the diversion or misuse of plan assets, or is directly or indirectly related to an abusive tax avoidance transaction.

(f) APPLICATION OF CERTAIN REQUIREMENTS FOR CORRECTING ERRORS.—This section shall not apply to any failure unless the correction of such failure under this section is made in conformity with the general principles that apply to corrections of such failures under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, including regulations or other guidance issued thereunder and including those principles and corrections set forth in Revenue Procedure 2021-30 (or any successor guidance)."

SEC. 309. ELIMINATE THE "FIRST DAY OF THE MONTH" REQUIREMENT FOR GOVERNMENTAL SECTION 457(b) PLANS.

TITLE VII—BUDGETARY EFFECTS

SEC. 701. DETERMINATION OF BUDGETARY EFFECTS.

The budgetary effects of this Act, for the purpose of complying with the Statutory Pay-As-You-Go Act of 2010, shall be determined by reference to the latest statement titled “Budgetary Effects of PAYGO Legislation” for this Act, submitted for printing in the Congressional Record by the Chairman of the House Budget Committee, provided that such statement has been submitted prior to the vote on passage.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the order of the House today, the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. NEAL) and the gentleman from Texas (Mr. BRADY) each will control 40 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Massachusetts.

Mr. NEAL. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Madam Speaker, H.R. 2954 will help all Americans successfully save for a secure retirement by expanding coverage and increasing retirement savings, simplifying the current retirement system and protecting Americans' retirement accounts.

Retirement security has consistently been one of my top priorities as chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means. Too many workers in this Nation reach retirement age without having the savings they need. In fact—and I hope people will listen to this number—it is estimated that up to 50 percent of the individuals in America who go to work every single day do not have enrollment in a qualified retirement plan. That means those households are at risk of not having enough to maintain their living standards in retirement.

We need to do more to encourage workers to begin planning for retirement earlier and we need to make saving considerably easier.

Last Congress, Mr. BRADY and I worked together on a bipartisan basis to do that by enacting the SECURE Act, one of the most significant retirement bills to become law in well over a decade.

Thanks to the SECURE Act, 4 million more Americans are now able to save for retirement through their employers, and as many as 700,000 new retirement accounts will be formed.

Last year, we built on this progress with the passage into law, my legislation, the Butch Lewis Act. After years of fighting for a solution to the multi-employer pension crisis, the Butch Lewis Act saved multiemployer pension plans from insolvency and secured the financial future of over a million workers and retirees who have played by the rules and made responsible savings decisions. Think of that and couple it with what we are about to do today with the guarantee of Social Security, and we will help to improve the opportunity for members of American families to have a secure retirement.

Madam Speaker, but more work needs to be done. That is why I am pleased the H.R. 2954, the Securing a Strong Retirement Act of 2022, is before us today.

This bipartisan legislation—and by bipartisan, let me thank Mr. BRADY again for his good work on this legislation as well—will expand automatic enrollment in 401(k) plans by requiring 401(k), 403(b), and SIMPLE plans to automatically enroll participants upon becoming eligible, with the ability for employees to opt out of coverage—which I think, by the way, is not the best idea, but we do provide that option. Expansion of automatic enrollment will significantly increase participation in retirement savings plans at work.

H.R. 2954 also enhances the start-up credit, making it easier for small businesses to sponsor a retirement plan. And the legislation increases the required minimum distribution age to 75 and indexes the catch-up contribution limit for individual retirement accounts. These changes will make it easier for American families to prepare for a financially secure retirement.

On a related note, I think it is important to highlight that U.S. defined contribution plans have created a unique reservoir of capital in the innovation economy. Retirement plans are investing in areas such as tech, financial services, digital commerce, and biotech. That means that workers' retirement assets are directly tying middle-class workers to our national innovation economy. That certainly is a win-win for all of us.

Madam Speaker, I am really pleased that Ranking Member BRADY and I were able to come together on a bipartisan basis to develop this important legislation. Once again, it passed the Committee on Ways and Means unanimously. Our efforts have resulted in an excellent product that has broad support from organizations representing diverse interests, including retirees, charitable organizations, financial services providers, police officers, small businesses, and employers. The list of specific supporters is too long to read but we can start with the American Red Cross, AARP, and many others, which we will submit for the RECORD. Hundreds of groups have endorsed this plan.

Let's work together to expand retirement savings in America.

Madam Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support this legislation, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. BRADY. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Madam Speaker, I am pleased to join with my friend, Chairman RICH NEAL, in jointly reintroducing SECURE 2.0, which will help hardworking Americans approach retirement with both confidence and dignity.

For 5 years now, members of the Committee on Ways and Means have worked tirelessly together to ensure Americans have the resources to save for a secure retirement. A lot of hard work and negotiation has gotten us to this point, and I am grateful to Chairman NEAL for his commitment to get this bill across the finish line to the President's desk.

It is important to remember how far we have come in our joint efforts to help Americans better prepare for their long-term financial goals. Following the historic rewrite of our Tax Code with the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act, Republicans moved toward building on this success for years to come.

That happened when the Republicans and Democrats worked together to develop and enact the Setting Every Community Up for Retirement Enhancement Act, known as the SECURE Act, the most significant retirement legislation to become law in over a decade.

We made it easier for Main Street businesses to offer retirement plans to their workers by easing administrative burdens, cutting down on unnecessary and often costly paperwork.

The SECURE Act made significant improvements to our country's retirement system. And today, we will do even more.

A recent AARP survey found that rising prices are taking a big toll on workers, making it difficult to cover everyday expenses or save for the future. In fact, with a 40-year high inflation, nearly a quarter of workers surveyed reported that their financial situation is worse today than it was last year.

A study also found that nearly 40 percent of workers said that they have no emergency savings, with one out of five reporting they have nothing saved for retirement. Nothing.

Both groups peg rising prices of everyday goods as the biggest barrier for planning for their financial future.

Ensuring Americans have the resources they need for a prosperous retirement is a bipartisan priority. And with American families' paychecks falling further behind through rising prices, it has really never been more important for Congress to help workers get back on track with their retirement plans.

With this bill we build on the landmark provisions in the SECURE Act, enabling more workers, especially those with low income and modest income, to begin saving earlier and giving them piece of mind as they plan for the future.

Our bill, SECURE 2.0 improves workers' long-term financial wellbeing by helping more Americans save for retirement at every stage of their life. SECURE 2.0 contains more than 20 provisions sponsored or cosponsored by Republicans and Democrats in standalone legislation.

By providing flexibility, for example, we make it easier for local businesses to tailor retirement plans to best fit the needs of their workers. These reforms help Americans not only save earlier in their careers, but helps families save longer as well.

We expand access to workplace retirement by increasing the incentives for businesses, especially small businesses, to create new plans or join groups of plans while sharing the cost of administration.

To further help small businesses shoulder the burden of creating a new plan, our bill matches employer contributions with the new business tax credit. That can help a small business match up to the first $1,000 in matching contributions for that work.

For those Americans who are further along in their career or already in retirement, this bill raises the amount these workers can contribute to catch up on their retirement savings as they near retirement, doubling it to $10,000 a year. Because we want Americans to save throughout their lifetime, together we increase the age at which retirement plan distributions become mandatory to age 75 over time from 72 today.

These changes are especially important because many workers find themselves making more at the end of their careers and are more open to focusing on retirement. Those already in retirement often worry about the effects of mandatory taxable distributions on their long-term financial plans.

Another recent study by Edward Jones and Morning Consult found 57 percent of Americans who prioritize paying off a student loan are now behind on their schedule on saving for retirement. Our bill allows employers to essentially match their workers' student loan repayments with contributions to the workers' retirement plan.

This means from workers struggling to make ends meet under crushing student debt and rising prices, they are able to tackle both, paying off their debt and getting help in working toward a secure retirement.

Madam Speaker, I want to thank Chairman NEAL and the members of the Ways and Means Committee from both parties for their long-term and diligent efforts. Together, we will ensure more hardworking Americans are confident in their retirement.

Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. NEAL. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from California (Mr. THOMPSON), a real champion of retirement savings.

Mr. THOMPSON of California. Madam Speaker, I thank Chairman NEAL and Ranking Member BRADY for their hard work on this important piece of legislation.

The Securing a Strong Retirement Act of 2021 is bipartisan legislation that gives workers the tools they need to retire with the financial stability they deserve and worked so hard to obtain.

Importantly, this legislation allows individuals to pay down a student loan instead of contributing to a 401(k) plan while still receiving an employer match in their retirement plan.

I have heard from thousands of individuals in my district who are facing an overwhelming amount of student loan debt. These are people who are struggling to start their careers while also trying to pay off their loans. The SECURE Act provides the opportunity to make payments on their student loans now while also investing in their future.

I am proud to support this legislation that we are hearing today, and I thank you for this great bipartisan bill that you have put before us.

Mr. BRADY. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Nebraska (Mr. SMITH), the Republican leader of the Trade Subcommittee.

Mr. SMITH of Nebraska. Madam Speaker, I am glad we are finally considering SECURE 2.0, which will help every American family save. The Savers Credit improvements in this bill will help low-income families start putting aside money for the future, certainly a key to getting out of poverty.

The enhanced credit for small employers offering retirement plans will help more businesses offer plans, an important factor in recruiting and retaining talent.

New tools—like allowing employers to match workers' student loan repayments with retirement contributions—eliminate the need for young workers to choose between paying their debt or saving for retirement.

Provisions like enhanced catch-up contributions and delaying required minimum distributions until age 75 will help older workers have more control as they near retirement. This is a strong package for savers of all ages.

Madam Speaker, I thank the chairman and the ranking member for their efforts to get this to the floor and I certainly urge support.

Mr. NEAL. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. LARSON), a real champion of retirement savings, including all things Social Security.

Mr. LARSON of Connecticut. Madam Speaker, I thank Chairman NEAL and Leader BRADY—what an outstanding example of bipartisan cooperation. But especially as it relates to what has amounted to a financial retirement crisis, this clearly will help aid in the work that has already been done by Chairman NEAL with regard to both the SECURES Act and the Butch Lewis Act, but this even adds more flexibility and also provides an automatic opportunity for people to put money forward.

I went to the Aetna School of Insurance and they said there are three legs on this table: personal savings, pension, and Social Security. This helps address the pension issue as no one can. Again, I want to commend Mr. NEAL and Mr. BRADY for their efforts, and point out that we have another leg on that stool that is called Social Security that Congress hasn't addressed in more than 50 years. I commend the chairman as we go through the process of markup on that as well.

Mr. BRADY. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Arizona (Mr. SCHWEIKERT).

Mr. SCHWEIKERT. Madam Speaker, it is neat to see us actually have something that we are all doing together.

A bit of trivia, at the end of this decade, 22 percent of our population will be 65 or older. Retirement security is—besides just the moral imperative—it is going to be the financial, it is going to be the driver of almost all sovereign debt.

Look, there are a couple dozen provisions in this legislation, and in many ways they look like tinkering, but they come together. If you happen to have a profession where you have a mandatory retirement age that might be 60, 65, the ability to do catch-up—to be a small business and knowing what you can contribute to your 401(k) when you are doing your taxes instead of trying to guess at the end of the year—these things all come together.

We are also going to have to look forward in the coming year and deal with the reality of what did inflation do to the cost of future retirement? The taxation on, really, gain, that isn't purchasing power, but is inflation. This is a terrific first step and it is neat to have us do something together.

Mr. NEAL. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. KIND), another real champion of retirement savings.

Mr. KIND. Madam Speaker, I rise in strong support of Securing a Strong Retirement Act, or SECURE 2.0, as it is being referred to. This falls on the heels of passage of the SECURE Act roughly 2 years ago, to try to make it easier for individuals to save for their retirement security, especially for small businesses to offer retirement savings plans for their employees, which has traditionally been a big black hole when it comes to individual savings.

I am proud that a few of the provisions in this legislation have been based on legislation I have been working on throughout the years with my friend and colleague from Pennsylvania (Mr. KELLY). We offered legislation that would extend the startup tax credit to small employers that joined multiemployer plans.

Again, with Mr. KELLY, this allows 403(b) plans to participate in MEPS, including pooled employer plans, or PEPS, as they are known under the SECURE Act.

Finally, there has been an anomaly in the tax code that we are addressing in part trying to make it easier for S corporations to be able to convert to an ESOP model, or an employee share ownership plan. It is a very good business model, but we are trying to bring that on par with C corporations.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. NEAL. Madam Speaker, I yield an additional 30 seconds to the gentleman.

Mr. KIND. This has been a great bipartisan effort in committee. Again, I thank the chairman and the ranking member for creating the environment not just with today's legislation, but the previous SECURE Act that we passed roughly 2 years ago, and the ongoing work that we will have.

My friend from Arizona is right, with 70 million baby boomers beginning their massive retirement, we have to figure out ways to make it easier for individuals to save for their own retirement and for future generations to participate and get a head start. I believe this legislation accomplishes that.

Mr. BRADY. Madam Speaker, I yield 1½ minutes to the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. LAHOOD).

Mr. LAHOOD. Madam Speaker, I rise today in support of SECURE 2.0. As a member of the Ways and Means Committee, I thank Chairman NEAL and Ranking Member BRADY for their bipartisan work on this legislation that will help workers save for retirement at all stages of their career and protect American futures.

This bill includes two key provisions that I was proud to work on, Retirement Parity for Student Loans Act and the Public Service Retirement Fairness Act.

The Retirement Parity for Student Loans Act allows workers to make student loan payments while receiving employer matching contributions into their retirement plan. This will allow individuals to pay down student loan debt and save for retirement at the same time.

The Public Service Retirement Fairness Act creates parity between the public and private sectors, ensuring public-sector and nonprofit retirement-saving programs have the same access to low-cost investments as private sector retirement plans.

SECURE 2.0 supports workers at all stages to save for retirement, helps small businesses create retirement plan options, and builds on bipartisan success of the SECURE Act passed last Congress.

Madam Speaker, I want to thank my colleagues that worked in a bipartisan effort for their work on this vital legislation, and I urge my colleagues to vote "yes".

Mr. NEAL. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from California (Ms. CHU), another real champion of retirement savings.

Ms. CHU. Madam Speaker, I rise in strong support of H.R. 2954, the Securing a Strong Retirement Act. This bill continues the work the Ways and Means Committee began 2 years ago with the SECURE Act to expand access to retirement savings and enhance retirement readiness for millions of Americans across the country.

I am especially proud of provisions drawn from my bill, the Encouraging Americans to Save Act, that strengthens the Saver's Credit. This credit provides millions of low- and middle-income taxpayers with an incentive to save for retirement each year. But currently it is split into three tiers of 10, 20, or 50 percent.

This legislation not only directs the IRS to promote the credit to more communities, including those with limited English proficiency, but also makes it both simpler and more generous by setting it at 50 percent for all eligible taxpayers.

Madam Speaker, I urge a "yes" vote on this bill.

Mr. BRADY. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Kansas (Mr. ESTES).

Mr. ESTES. Madam Speaker, today I rise in support of SECURE 2.0. Since my time as Kansas State Treasurer and a member of the Ways and Means Committee, increased retirement security for Americans of all ages has been a major policy priority for me.

Building on our great success with the SECURE Act in 2019, SECURE 2.0 includes a number of provisions for new employees and near-retirees, like my bill to improve the required minimum distribution rules, and my bill that would make it easier for employees to save for retirement and pay off their student loans.

Employers who are part of an employee stock ownership plan—like the Kansas workers I have talked to at Inland Truck Parts, Conco, and others—benefit from the bipartisan ESOP provisions in SECURE 2.0.

The bill also ensures public-sector and nonprofit retirement programs have the same access to low-cost retirements, just like for-profit retirement plans.

It allows individuals who have decided to pay down a student loan instead of contributing to a 401(k) to still receive an employee match for their retirement plans.

These commonsense retirement security reforms deserve to be law, and I strongly encourage my colleagues to vote “yes” on SECURE 2.0.

Mr. NEAL. Madam Speaker, I am pleased to yield 1 minute to the gentleman from California (Mr. PANETTA), another real champion of Social Security and retirement.

Mr. PANETTA. Madam Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 2954, the SECURE 2.0.

This bipartisan legislation would make it easier for something that has been getting harder and harder, saving for retirement for workers and working families.

I commend the chairman and the ranking member for their very, very hard work, and I thank them for including two of my bipartisan bills in SECURE 2.0.

My Public Service Retirement Fairness Act ensures that retirement savings programs for nonprofits and the public sector have the same access to low-cost investments as private-sector plans.

This bill would greatly benefit many teachers and nonprofit employees who serve in my district and also have to spend an inordinate amount on housing by providing them access to affordable retirement plans.

My Family Attribution Modernization Act, which I worked on with my good friend, JOEY ARRINGTON, is also included in SECURE 2.0.

This bill would modernize outdated family attribution rules so that women-owned businesses and other small businesses in community property States, like California, have more flexibility and independence.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. NEAL. Madam Speaker, I yield the gentleman an additional 30 seconds.

Mr. PANETTA. Madam Speaker, these bills, along with many, many other provisions in this bipartisan legislation, are commonsense solutions for the futures and the retirements of working families. That is why, Madam Speaker, I urge a “yes” vote for SECURE 2.0.

Mr. BRADY. Madam Speaker, I am proud to yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. KELLY).

Mr. KELLY of Pennsylvania. Madam Speaker, I think we should mark this down, March 29, 2022, the day that the people who were elected and came to represent our folks back home actually got together and did something on the House floor that was good for everybody in America.

We are not firing bullets back and forth at each other. We are saying: Do you know what? Isn't it great, when we work together, what we can get done.

Mr. KIND and I were walking over together, and he said: MIKE, I am really happy this happened because there is a lot in there that we both worked on, and it looks like it is going to put a little more gold in our retirees' pockets when they hit their golden years.

But this is one thing the press will never cover. They will never say: My God, these Republicans and Democrats got together for American workers to make sure that they go into retirement and lay their heads on pillows at night and sleep because they know they have enough to get through the rest of their lives.

What a moment. What a moment.

I have to tell you, I am so proud to be a part of this. I thank Mr. BRADY and Mr. NEAL.

For both sides of the aisle, why don't we use this as an example as we move forward as to what the heck we are supposed to do for the people who sent us here to represent them?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. BRADY. Madam Speaker, I yield an additional 30 seconds to the gentleman.

Mr. KELLY of Pennsylvania. Madam Speaker, I thank Kara Getz, from Chairman NEAL's staff, and Payson Peabody, from Ranking Member BRADY's staff, for working together on this. They get so little credit for all the midnight oil they burn to make sure that we can get legislation done. I thank them so much, not just for me but for all the retirees and future retirees we have in this country.

Mr. NEAL. Madam Speaker, might I inquire of the ranking member how many more speakers he might have.

Mr. BRADY. Madam Speaker, I have a few more.

Mr. NEAL. Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. BRADY. Madam Speaker, I am really proud to yield 1 minute to the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. MURPHY).

Mr. MURPHY of North Carolina. Madam Speaker, I rise today in support of SECURE Act 2.0.

When our military members pledge a commitment to the United States, we promise, in return, to care for them and their families. As the proud Representative of close to 90,000 veterans in North Carolina, I am committed to supporting strong legislation that improves the lives of our veterans and their families.

When servicemembers change base assignments, their spouses often relocate with them, putting their own careers at stake and on hold. The SECURE Act prioritizes military family retirements by providing a tax credit for small employers that make more benefit plans available for military spouses.

Incentivizing job creators to hire and retain military spouses is an important step to strengthening military family retirement savings.

I am proud of the bipartisan effort by the Ways and Means Committee to lead the charge to support our military families, who so often face many uphill challenges in attaining retirement security. We must always fight for those who have given us so much to keep our safety.

Mr. NEAL. Madam Speaker, I continue to reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. BRADY. Madam Speaker, first, I include in the RECORD a number of letters and documents in support of SECURE 2.0.

Among a litany of letters advocating for swift passage, there are four I would like to include. These letters are led by the Employee-owned S Corporations of America, the American Benefits Council, the American Retirement Association, and the Investment Company Institute, all of which were invaluable members in crafting this bipartisan legislation.

EMPLOYEE-OWNED
S CORPORATIONS OF AMERICA,
Washington, DC, March 24, 2022.

Hon. RICHARD NEAL,
Chairman, Committee on Ways & Means,
Washington, DC.

Hon. KEVIN BRADY,
Ranking Member, Committee on Ways & Means,
Washington, DC.

DEAR CHAIRMAN NEAL AND RANKING MEMBER BRADY: Employee-Owned S Corporations of America (“ESCA”) applauds your efforts to advance the bipartisan Securing a Strong Retirement Act. We are particularly supportive of the inclusion of a key provision reflecting themes of legislation introduced by Committee members Ron Kind and Jason Smith to encourage the creation of more private, employee-owned businesses. We thank you for recognizing the value of S corporation ESOPs to worker retirement savings, and for reflecting that recognition in your important legislation.

ESCA is the national voice for employee-owned S corporations, and its exclusive mission is to preserve and promote employee-owned S corporations and the benefits provided to their employee-owners. Most S corporation employee stock ownership plans (“S ESOPs”) are 100-percent owned by their employees. Our S ESOP companies engage in a broad spectrum of business activities ranging from manufacturing to construction to playing critical supporting roles such as retail grocery stores and other essential functions to America's infrastructure.

As you know well, S corporation ESOPs were created 25 years ago with significant bipartisan support from Congress. Today S ESOPs accomplish exactly what Congress intended: they create jobs, generate economic activity, and promote retirement savings.

Both specifically for S ESOP employees and more generally, your bill will increase retirement savings opportunities at a time when more than 30 percent of Americans do not have access to a workplace retirement plan and 20 percent of Americans have no retirement savings at all. By contrast, we note, the vast majority of S ESOP companies offer their workers two retirement plans—typically the ESOP plus a 401(k). This focus on retirement security is a hallmark of employee-owned companies.

A new study conducted by the National Center for Employee Ownership found that, heading into and during the pandemic, employees at S ESOP companies had greater job retention and retirement security, including more than twice the average total retirement savings of Americans who work at non-ESOP companies.

We appreciate you recognizing the value of having more S corporation ESOP companies and look forward to working with you to continue to identify more ways to enable more working Americans to be employee-owners.

Thank you for your leadership.

Sincerely,

STEPHANIE SILVERMAN,

DEAR PAIGE: I am writing on behalf of the American Benefits Council to express our support for bipartisan retirement security legislation that will soon be considered on the floor of the U.S. House of Representatives. This important legislation follows in the tradition of the Setting Every Community Up for Retirement Enhancement (SECURE) Act of 2019.

The forthcoming “SECURE 2.0” bill reflects a thoroughness and thoughtfulness that provides enormous value to the American worker by expanding access to workplace retirement plans and removing barriers to financial well-being. We have recently completed a study of the enormously beneficial impact of the past 25 years of bipartisan retirement legislation:

Millions of Americans are facing short-term challenges that need critical attention. But it is also important to continue our work on enhancing retirement security because of the harmful effect of the pandemic on savings and retirement programs, which were facing challenges even before the pandemic. As we rebuild our economy, part of that effort needs to include even greater attention to the role of retirement programs that have been jeopardized. We look forward to continued progress in the field of retirement security and stand ready to assist in those efforts.

DEAR CHAIRMAN NEAL, RANKING MEMBER BRADY, CHAIRMAN SCOTT, AND RANKING MEMBER FOXX: On behalf of the over 30,000 members of the American Retirement Association (ARA), we hereby express our support for the Securing a Strong Retirement Act of 2022. We commend you for championing this important piece of bipartisan retirement legislation.

The ARA is the coordinating entity for its five underlying affiliate organizations representing the full spectrum of America's private retirement system—the American Society of Enrolled Actuaries (ASEA), the American Society of Pension Professionals and Actuaries (ASPPA), the National Association of Plan Advisors (NAPA), the National Tax-Deferred Savings Association (NTSA), and the Plan Sponsor Council of America (PSCA). The ARA's members include organizations of all sizes and industries across the nation who sponsor and/or support retirement saving plans and are dedicated to expanding on the success of employer-sponsored plans. The ARA and its underlying affiliate organizations are diverse but united in their common dedication to the success of America's private retirement system.

The Securing a Strong Retirement Act of 2022 (SSRA) builds upon the success of the Setting Every Community Up for Retirement Enhancement (SECURE) Act to make it even easier for small businesses to adopt and maintain a workplace-based retirement savings plan. The SSRA further increases the small employer pension plan start-up credit to cover 100 percent of the cost to small employers to implement a 401(k) plan for the first three years. The SSRA creates an additional new credit to encourage small employers to make direct contributions to their 401(k) plan for their employees, offsetting up to $1,000 of these employer contributions for each participating employee.

The SSRA contains several policy items championed by the American Retirement Association. The first item gives employers more time to adopt beneficial discretionary retirement plan amendments up until the due date of the employer's tax return. This new deadline to adopt a beneficial discretionary amendment is consistent with the deadline to adopt a new retirement plan that was provided for in the SECURE Act. This provision gives employers with existing retirement plans the flexibility to make their 401(k) plans more generous to rank and files workers after the end of the year. The second item corrects and modernizes the outdated and unfair family attribution rules to ensure women business owners are not penalized if they happen to have minor children or live in a community property state. A third item would broaden the scope of the SECURE Act's pooled employer plan or open multiple employer plan provisions to allow unrelated public education and other non-profit employers to join a single 403(b) plan.

The SSRA also creates a retirement plan matching program to encourage employees to pay off student loans. The latest version of this program addresses a problem that ARA identified about the impact this new retirement plan design feature could have with the special test that applies to 401(k) plans called the average deferral percentage (ADP) test. Since that problem has been fixed in this bill, small businesses will now not have to worry that this benefit puts their retirement plan testing at risk.

While the SSRA has many good provisions, it is not perfect. The ARA remains concerned about the provision in the bill (Section 314) that would require at least one participant benefit statement be mailed in a paper format given the impact on the environment as well as plan and participant costs. ARA supports the provision that would direct the Department of Labor, Treasury, and the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation to issue a report recommending ways to consolidate, simplify, standardize, and improve the various retirement plan disclosure requirements. The ARA will continue to work with Congress on ways to ensure retirement plan participants are effectively accessing the required disclosures.

But on balance the Securing a Strong Retirement Act of 2022 builds upon the success of the workplace-based retirement system and is yet another example of the extensive history of bipartisan legislating in this critical policy area. The ARA thanks Chairman Neal, Ranking Member Brady, Chairman Scott, and Ranking Member Foxx for your hard work and results to improve and enhance the retirement savings of the American workforce and would urge Congress to enact this bill into law.

Sincerely,

BRIAN H. GRAFF, Esq. APM,

DEAR CHAIRMEN NEAL AND SCOTT AND RANKING MEMBERS BRADY AND FOXX: On behalf of the Investment Company Institute (ICI), I commend your leadership on the bipartisan Securing a Strong Retirement Act of 2022 or SECURE Act 2.0, which would expand access to retirement savings plans and improve Americans' ability to save.

The ICI urges the House of Representatives to pass this landmark bipartisan bill as soon as possible and work with the Senate on a unified package of retirement-savings reforms.

The ICI notes that the bill would:

Allow savers to keep their retirement savings invested longer by increasing the age for required minimum distributions from retirement accounts to 75 from 72;

Ensure that workers get the same “bang for their buck” for their retirement saving efforts over time by indexing individual retirement account (IRA) catch-up contribution limits to inflation;

Broaden the ability of employers of various sizes, across different industries to band together in a new type of multiple-employer retirement plan—called a “pooled employer plan” or “PEP”—created by the original SECURE Act;

Streamline and clarify information retirement savers receive concerning increasingly popular target date funds by allowing use of a single benchmark for the funds that more appropriately tracks its asset allocation;

Allow employer matching contributions based on student loan payments; and Simplify and clarify more than a dozen retirement plan rules.

We hope that the legislation can be further improved by allowing 403(b) plans to invest in collective investment trusts.

We wholeheartedly support these provisions and believe your legislation is vitally important to the country and the financial well-being of millions of Americans. SECURE Act 2.0 would strengthen our nation's retirement-savings system by expanding coverage, further increasing savings opportunities, and streamlining administrative rules. We look forward to seeing its enactment into law.

Sincerely,

ERIC J. PAN,
President & CEO,
Investment Company Institute.

Mr. BRADY. Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. NEAL. Madam Speaker, we are waiting on one more speaker. If Mr. BRADY has anybody else he wants to thank, that would be great.

I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. BRADY. Actually, never make that offer to a sitting Member of Congress.

Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

This has been awfully good work on behalf of the bipartisan Members of Congress on an issue they believe in. But Chairman NEAL and I are both blessed to have incredibly hardworking personnel, a professional team.

Madam Speaker, I thank Payson Peabody and Derek Theurer, from our tax subcommittee team, for the work that they put in, along with Chairman NEAL's folks, to develop this legislation, fine-tune the legislation, make adjustments as it comes to the floor, and, again, put it in the format and with the right designs that we think will do great things for the American people and American workers.

Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

DEAR CHAIRMEN NEAL AND SCOTT AND RANKING MEMBERS BRADY AND FOXX: On behalf of the undersigned nonprofits, including charities and faith-based organizations, we want to express our strong support for the inclusion of the Legacy IRA Act in the bipartisan Securing a Strong Retirement Act (H.R. 2954, section 310). The Legacy IRA Act was originally introduced as H.R. 2909 by Representatives Don Beyer (D-VA-08) and Mike Kelly (R-PA-16).

We appreciate you placing a priority on families in America who are saving for retirement and simplifying the retirement system through the broader Securing a Strong Retirement Act. Specifically, the Legacy IRA provision will encourage more charitable giving by enabling seniors to make tax-free contributions from their traditional IRAs to charities through life-income plans. It is an important piece of broader efforts to increase charitable giving to enable nonprofits to continue to provide critical services in local communities such as health research and patient education, food assistance, domestic violence services, childcare, youth homeless shelters, and cultural and arts programming.

Many of our organizations are dependent on private philanthropy, including gift planning. We believe the Legacy IRA provision simply offers seniors another philanthropic option and would incentivize more giving to help charities while helping middle-income seniors who need a lifetime income.

We strongly support the inclusion of the Legacy IRA Act in the Securing a Strong Retirement Act and urge the House of Representatives to approve this measure. America is stronger when everyone has the opportunity to give, to get involved, and to strengthen their communities.

Hon. RICHARD NEAL,
Chair, Committee on Ways and Means, Washington, DC.

Hon. ROBERT SCOTT,
Chair, House Committee on Education and Labor, Washington, DC.

Hon. KEVIN BRADY,
Ranking Member, Committee on Ways and Means, Washington, DC.

Hon. VIRGINIA FOXX,
Ranking Member, House Committee on Education and Labor, Washington, DC.

DEAR CHAIRMEN NEAL AND SCOTT, RANKING MEMBERS BRADY AND FOXX:

On behalf of our 38 million members and all older Americans nationwide, AARP appreciates your leadership to improve retirement savings opportunities via the Securing a Strong Retirement Act of 2022. While Social Security continues to be the bedrock of retirement income for most American workers and their families, individuals want and need additional retirement income sources. Your bipartisan legislation would make several significant enhancements to current law.

AARP strongly supports the provision in this bill that would provide an annual paper statement of benefits to ensure families know where they stand when saving for retirement. As the U.S. increasingly relies on individual account-based retirement savings, workers and their families must timely understand, monitor, and manage their lifetime savings. Full and meaningful disclosure is critical to individual planning and pension law generally. As such, to be effective, Congress needs to ensure all workers and plan participants will receive and can review important retirement plan documents in the form that most workers and families want. No document is more fundamental than an individual's annual benefit statement. AARP also supports the optional delivery—and retention—of important information electronically.

The Securing a Strong Retirement Act also takes important steps towards improving worker access to retirement plans. Under this bill, more people who work part-time will be able to enroll in their employers' retirement savings plans by allowing them to save after only two (rather than three) years of employment. More than 27 million employees across the country work less than full-time. This provision will be especially helpful to the many older workers who can only find part-time work or need to work part-time due to caregiving responsibilities. In addition, employers with more than ten employees would be required to automatically enroll workers in new retirement savings plans under this bill. This provision will help many employees benefit from automatic savings tools.

For workers who are struggling to save for retirement, the bill expands the current SAVERS tax credit to provide an enhanced matching contribution to millions of additional low- and moderate-income families. The matching contribution is both an incentive for individuals to save for retirement while also providing additional retirement funds.

Additionally, the creation of a national retirement Lost and Found database will help workers locate retirement accounts they may have had with previous employers. This is increasingly important as more and more workers change jobs several times over the course of their careers. The legislation also establishes limitations and safeguards for retirees who may have mistakenly received plan overpayments, including allowing a retirement plan to forego recouping the overpayment. Finally, we urge the retention of the pretax option for catch-up contributions to help the 50+ save for retirement.

We look forward to continuing to work with you to help every American adequately save for retirement in order to be independent as they age.

Sincerely,

BILL SWEENEY,
Senior Vice President,
Government Affairs.

Mr. NEAL. Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. BRADY. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I think one of the things I am most proud of in this legislation began almost 2 years ago. After the passage of the SECURE Act, Chairman NEAL and I sat down on the floor talking about what more we could do to help people save for retirement.

What we both talked about is what everyone knows exists, the savings gap, and what little is being done to address it. This is the gap of how many Americans will spend their lifetime and save virtually nothing. When it is time to retire, their retirement isn't in their hands. It is all owed to government or other help.

We decided we would do the hard work to try to engage millions of Americans. We know who they are. They don't make lots of money. It is low income or moderate income. They usually work for a very small business. They are the toughest to be able to begin getting into that savings environment.

We designed this bill to really focus on those who have not saved in the past and, unless we do something differently, were not going to be saving for the future.

That is why so much of this bill is designed around them. That is why we help small businesses set up plans.

Here is what we know, Madam Speaker. To have a secure retirement, we need to make sure a business offers a plan.

Secondly, we need to make sure that worker is part of that plan.

Thirdly, we need to have those contributions matched.

Fourthly, you need to save more over time as your income increases.

This bill really takes significant steps to make sure small businesses are offering those plans and get help matching those first thousand dollars.

We use the saver's credit, which is pretty unused these days, and muscle it up, make it more available to help those with low income provide those first dollars.

Then, we make the changes so it is easier for small businesses to either start their own plan or pool with others, as we did in the SECURE Act, all of which we think are the elements to close that saver's gap and give Americans who really had no chance to save an opportunity to do that.

That is what, in my view, is the importance of this legislation, why I am proud of the work.

Chairman NEAL and the Republican and Democrat members of our committee worked together beautifully on this bill. I think this is an important one that I urge the Senate to take up and pass as well.

Madam Speaker, I yield the balance of my time to the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. ALLEN), and I ask unanimous consent that he may control the remainder of the time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Texas?

There was no objection.

Mr. NEAL. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Oftentimes in this Chamber, you will hear the phrase "transformative." Sometimes it is hyperbolic, but on this occasion, this is transformative legislation.

We have fundamentally changed the opportunities for retirement for the American family, for millions and millions of people. I want to acknowledge the work of the ranking member on this, Mr. BRADY, because his input has been invaluable in helping to get to this moment.

We are proud of this work. We are helping Americans prepare for a secure retirement. The catch-up provisions alone are startling in this legislation.

Remember, there are a lot of people in America who are trying to simultaneously educate their children and save for retirement. It is a real challenge.

The catch-up provisions here mean that if people wish to work longer or begin to set aside more prescribed dollars for retirement because they couldn't do it during certain years of paying college expenses, we provide that opportunity.

This has been meaningful for Members on both sides. I have heard Members on the Republican side point out their contributions to it, and they are entirely correct.

We, on our side, have also included Mr. DAVIS' legislation that ensures workers with student loans don't miss out on 401(k) matching contributions. Representative MURPHY's legislation to increase the required minimum distribution age to 75 is here as well.

We created a higher catch-up contribution amount for those years just before retirement, a provision particularly important for pilots who have a mandatory retirement age. That was a priority of Representatives Sanchez and Pascrell.

Mr. KIND's bills have been included. His legislation fixing a problem with startup credits and multiple employer plans is here as well.

SECURE 2.0 contains Representative CHU's legislation that would enhance the saver's credit, which was also a priority for Representative SEWELL.

We have included Representative PANNETTA's legislation that provides 403(b) custodial accounts that are permitted to invest in collective investment trusts, as well as his legislation reforming family attribution rules.

We have included Representative SEWELL's legislation to reduce by 1 year the period of service requirement for long-term part-time workers to participate in 401(k) plans. This provision is particularly important for women who tend to work part-time more frequently than men.

Mr. SUOZZI contributed legislation that would direct Treasury to issue regulations addressing a glitch with respect to insurance-dedicated exchange-traded funds.

Mr. BEYER's legislation is included. That was important to the charitable community and would, among other things, index the inflation rate for annual IRA charitable distribution limits.

The bill includes Representative MOORE's legislation that would provide penalty-free withdrawals from retirement plans for individuals in case of domestic abuse.

We have included Representative EVANS' legislation directing the Labor Department to update its disclosure rules to allow better comparisons amongst investments to aid participant decisionmaking.

Finally, we have included Representative PASCRELL's legislation that would allow first responders to exclude service-connected disability pension plans and payments from their gross income after they reach retirement age. That also touches upon Representative HIGGINS' ESOP Fairness Act.

□ 1645

Mr. BRADY noted earlier, and let me reinforce, the exceptional work of the Ways and Means Committee staff on this occasion. As I have said many times before, we are blessed with amongst the brightest, smartest, and hardest working staff members in Congress. Let me thank Mailan Rodgers for her work and Kara Getz, who has been integral to the development of not only this legislation but also the SECURE Act and the Butch Lewis Act, both of which became law.

The SECURE Act was one of the most significant retirement opportunities, and this legislation will become law, I hope, in the near future. Let's not wait another decade to enact the important provisions of this legislation. This bill goes a long way in addressing this country's retirement crisis.

I want to point out something I said earlier. Half the people who get up and go to work every day in America are not in a qualified retirement plan. We need to continue to address that issue.

This is important legislation. I know it will pass. I think the last time this legislation came to the floor, all but four Members of this Chamber voted for this legislation.

I thank Mr. BRADY, again, for his good work and the good work of his staff.

Madam Speaker, I yield the balance of my time to the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. SCOTT), and I ask unanimous consent that he be permitted to control the remainder of the time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Massachusetts?

There was no objection.

Mr. SCOTT of Virginia. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Madam Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 2954, the Securing a Strong Retirement Act of 2022, which incorporates the bipartisan Retirement Improvement and Savings Enhancement Act, or RISE Act, that the Committee on Education and Labor approved by voice vote last fall.

I thank the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. NEAL) for his hard work in incorporating this legislation into SECURE 2.0. Our committee was able to reach a bipartisan agreement on the RISE Act, thanks in large part to the leadership of the chairman and ranking member of our Subcommittee on Health, Employment, Labor, and Pensions, the gentleman from California (Mr. DESAULNIER) and the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. ALLEN). I want to recognize them and thank them for their important contributions to this bill.

American workers deserve a decent wage and the ability to retire with dignity and security. Unfortunately, far too many Americans are working later in their lives and still relying on the next paycheck to cover monthly expenses. This legislation makes meaningful improvements to our retirement system, helping Americans prepare for and achieve the secure retirement that they deserve.

I am particularly pleased that this bill incorporates several key priorities authorized by Committee on Education and Labor members.

For example, it includes legislation sponsored by the gentlewoman from Oregon (Ms. BONAMICI), the chair of the Subcommittee on Civil Rights and Human Services, which creates an online retirement lost-and-found database at the Department of Labor to help workers locate their hard-earned retirement savings as they move from job to job. According to the Government Accountability Office, more than 25 million people who changed jobs between 2004 and 2014 left behind one or more retirement accounts. Establishing this kind of database at the Department of Labor is necessary and long overdue.

The bill includes legislation sponsored by the gentlewoman from North Carolina (Ms. MANNING) that reduces barriers preventing part-time workers from participating in their employer's retirement savings plans. This simple change will benefit many part-time workers, particularly women.

It also includes legislation sponsored by the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. MRVAN) requiring the Department of Labor to review and update guidance from the mid-1990s regarding pension risk transfers.

Importantly, Madam Speaker, this bill offers an opportunity to send a message to workers and retirees across the country that their retirement security is a critical priority for every Member of this House.

Madam Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support the bill, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. ALLEN. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Madam Speaker, I rise today in support of H.R. 2954, which includes the text of the Education and Labor Committee's bipartisan Retirement Improvement and Savings Enhancement Act, the RISE Act, H.R. 5891, a bill that I was proud to cosponsor with the distinguished chairman of the Education and Labor Committee and Ranking Member FOXX.

This bipartisan legislation is a much-needed push toward modernization that our country's retirement system needs. Our economy has evolved and so have the ways Americans plan for retirement.

Neither employers nor employee benefit plans fit into the same cookie-cutter policies they did when the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 was first enacted. The RISE Act and H.R. 2954 include reforms that will benefit America's workforce and job creators.

Worker access to employer-sponsored retirement plans has improved over the last three decades, and participation has grown. Today, more workers are saving and saving more in employer-sponsored plans.

However, there remains room for improvement, as too many Americans still lack access to these benefits. This legislation is a major step toward providing reasonable solutions to solve the problems hindering Americans from being able to save for a secure future.

Building on the SECURE Act of 2019, the RISE Act and H.R. 2954 expand multiple and pooled employer plans, giving charities, educational institutions, and nonprofit organizations the opportunity to offer affordable retirement plans. Expanding pooled employer plans give small businesses access to more affordable plans by allowing them to band together, decreasing the costs and burdens associated with sponsoring a plan and providing more Americans with an opportunity to save.

Allowing small businesses and nonprofits the opportunity to offer competitive retirement plans so they can attract workers is extremely important, as the labor shortage has hit them the hardest.

Additionally, the RISE Act and H.R. 2954 will allow employers to offer small financial incentives to employees for participating in a retirement plan. This will help encourage employees to start preparing for retirement earlier in their careers, which is vital for employee contributions to earn years of compounding benefits for their retirement accounts.

Finally, this bill expands access to retirement savings for part-time workers who otherwise would be limited from participating in the employer plan. Removing barriers to saving ensures more Americans have a secure and self-sufficient retirement. Red tape and unnecessary barriers must not keep employees from building a strong retirement.

The RISE Act and H.R. 2954 also ease the burden of administering retirement accounts by removing unnecessary disclosure requirements. The legislation directs the Department of Labor, Department of the Treasury, and the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation to simplify reporting and disclosure regulations, streamline the collection of contributions to pooled employer plans, and update benchmarking guidelines to accommodate a broader selection of plan investments.

Importantly, retirement professionals themselves are in support of the RISE Act. Organizations like the American Benefits Council, the Insured Retirement Institute, the American Retirement Association, and the SPARK Institute are supportive of this legislation.

Workers and plan sponsors alike can see that the RISE Act will make commonsense reforms and improve the lives and futures of the American worker. The RISE Act offers creative and practical solutions to the problems in our retirement system.

As legislators, we must take action to tackle issues that affect the daily lives of our constituents. As a businessman, I know firsthand the issues that are affecting American workers that can be improved upon.

This legislation will improve the retirement security for millions of Americans. I urge my colleagues to join in support, and I look forward to its passage in the House and for these reforms to be ultimately signed into law.

Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SCOTT of Virginia. Madam Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentlewoman from North Carolina (Ms. MANNING), a distinguished member of the Committee on Education and Labor.

Ms. MANNING. Madam Speaker, I thank Chairman SCOTT for yielding me this time.

Madam Speaker, I rise in strong support of the Securing a Strong Retirement Act.

Today, too many workers face difficulty saving for retirement. Even for those who have access to retirement plans, it can be difficult to grow and protect hard-earned savings.

There are roughly 55 million Americans who lack access to a retirement savings plan at work, with many lacking any retirement savings at all. This is particularly true for women. Approximately 50 percent of women ages 55 to 66 have no personal retirement savings, compared to 47 percent of men, and only 22 percent of women have $100,000 or more in savings, compared to 30 percent of men.

Women are also more likely than men to work in part-time jobs that don't qualify for a retirement plan and are more likely than men to quit work, transfer jobs, or interrupt their careers to care for family members, resulting in lower retirement savings.

This is why I am proud to have my bill, the Improving Part-Time Workers Access to Retirement Act, included in this important legislation. This provision will make it easier for long-term part-time workers to access retirement by shortening the amount of time they are required to work for their employer in order to participate in their 401(k) plan. This will have an important impact on the ability of women and low-wage workers to be able to save for retirement.

As a member of the House Education and Labor Committee and a strong supporter of college affordability, I am also pleased that this legislation will allow borrowers the option to pay down their student loans while still receiving an employer match in their retirement plan. This commonsense approach to retirement savings will help the nearly 46 million Americans facing student loan debt become more financially stable while overcoming the barriers too many in our country face upon graduating, like advancing in their career, buying a home, or starting a family.

SECURE 2.0 will help workers save more longer, improve flexibility and protections for Americans' retirement accounts, and eliminate some of the barriers small businesses face in providing comprehensive retirement options to their employees.

These are bipartisan, commonsense provisions that will better serve workers and employers across our country. I strongly urge my colleagues to vote in favor of this critical legislation.

Mr. ALLEN. Madam Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. WALBERG), my good friend.

Mr. WALBERG. Madam Speaker, I rise in support of the Securing a Strong Retirement Act.

As an entire generation moves closer to retirement, we must ensure our laws are up to date to help Americans achieve their retirement goals.

Last Congress, we passed the SECURE Act, which made significant improvements to our Nation's retirement policies. Today, we are building upon that success to ensure Americans can live their golden years with dignity.

I would like to highlight one provision of this bill, which incorporates a bipartisan policy I have long championed with my colleague, Representative SABLAN. Our provision will reduce the administrative costs for employers sponsoring retirement plans for their employees.

Businesses often cite limited financial resources as a key reason for not offering retirement benefits. The Retirement Plan Modernization Act would ease the administrative burdens on employers, especially small businesses, enabling more small businesses to offer retirement benefits and ensure employees are not needlessly paying higher fees.

I thank both the Committee on Education and Labor and the Committee on Ways and Means for including text from our bill in H.R. 2954.

Madam Speaker, the Securing a Strong Retirement Act will enhance opportunities for Americans to save for retirement. I urge all Members to support it.

□ 1700

Mr. SCOTT of Virginia. Madam Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. MRVAN), a distinguished member of the Committee on Education and Labor.

Mr. MRVAN. Madam Speaker, I thank Chairman SCOTT for allowing me the time.

I rise today in support of H.R. 2954, the Securing a Strong Retirement Act. I am grateful for the bipartisan collaboration to produce this legislation that makes commonsense improvements to our Nation's retirement system.

There are far too many challenges today that prevent workers from having access to secure retirement benefits and information to protect their hard-earned savings.

I also appreciate the inclusion of the provisions of my legislation, the Pension Risk Transfer Accountability Act, which requires the Department of Labor to review existing rules on pension risk transfers.

A promise made should be a promise kept for all workers and retirees.

I encourage all my colleagues to support this legislation to further ensure that workers can retire with dignity, security, and peace of mind.

Mr. ALLEN. Madam Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. KELLER), another good friend.

Mr. KELLER. Madam Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Georgia. I rise in support of the Securing a Strong Retirement Act. As part of the Education and Labor Committee, our goal is to provide employers and employees with opportunities to access a safe, effective, and productive workplace.

We also work on policy that encourages people to save for retirement and provides opportunities for their families. This bill accomplishes both by improving employer-sponsored benefits to help workers make good decisions that will serve them well in the future.

The bill increases access to retirement accounts, lowers the cost of administering programs for small businesses, and provides incentives for workers to voluntarily put money towards savings.

It also requires the Department of Labor to review existing reporting and disclosure requirements, making them easier to comply with and understand, updates the dollar threshold for automatic distributions by plans to participants which was last updated in 1997.

It streamlines the collection of contributions to pooled employer plans and updates benchmarking guidelines to accommodate different investment products. The bill also adds tax incentives for small businesses that offer employee stock ownership plans, a great tool and benefit for employees to have a stake with their employer.

The Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 set a foundation for today's policies, but the measure needs to be updated to reflect the 21st century workforce.

I urge my colleagues to support this important measure and look forward to this legislation becoming law.

Mr. SCOTT of Virginia. Madam Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Oregon (Mr. BLUMENAUER), a distinguished member of the Committee on Ways and Means and chair of its Subcommittee on Trade.

Mr. BLUMENAUER. Madam Speaker, I appreciate the chairman's courtesy for permitting me to speak on this issue and his leadership on an issue that concerns us all.

We are facing a retirement crisis in this country. Too many people do not have adequate resources. The aging population is exploding, and we have seen financial uncertainty in the midst of the COVID crisis, in particular.

I am pleased that we are able to come together as a Congress on a bipartisan basis to advance this legislation.

Recently, we watched people come together dealing with trade relations with Russia, ratcheting up sanctions on a bipartisan basis, and this is another strong signal, I think.

I also appreciate Chairman NEAL for his leadership in spearheading the SECURE 2.0 which takes the Oregon auto-enrollment model to the Federal level and provides new incentives to promote and expand employee stock ownership plans, ESOPs.

I have long supported ESOPs as a successful model that provides a company's workers with retirement savings through their investment in their employee stock. I have been stunned at the stories I have heard about people who have what one would think are unexceptional jobs who, through this mechanism, have been able to retire with significant savings as a result.

Now, by giving employees skin in the game, the ESOP structure produces employees that are more likely to set aside money for retirement. They can retire earlier and worry less about retirement income.

The companies that use this mechanism are fundamentally different. We have seen in times of economic strife, employee ESOP-owned companies are more generous with their employees. They are slower to lay people off, they bring them back, and, in fact, they are more profitable.

It is an encouraging mechanism that I think epitomizes the best of the American ingenuity and the creation of wealth.

This is a structure that works and one that is being expanded by this legislation. By allowing for a deferral of gain on a small amount of the proceeds of sales of employer stock to an ESOP, there will be even more companies incented to sell stock to ESOPs, promoting and expanding this innovative model.

I am honored to support this legislation. I hope that we will be able to promote greater awareness and understanding of this powerful model. This is an important step forward.

Mr. ALLEN. Madam Speaker, I yield 5 minutes to the gentlewoman from North Carolina (Ms. FOXX), our great Republican leader.

Ms. FOXX. Madam Speaker, I thank my colleague from Georgia for yielding me time.

H.R. 2954 includes the text of the RISE Act, a bill that I am proud to lead with Chairman SCOTT of the Education and Labor Committee.

This bill was born out of true bipartisan collaboration, and I am pleased at the progress we have made with our colleagues across the aisle.

Hardworking Americans deserve the opportunity to save for a secure future, yet too many workers aren't putting anything towards their retirement nest egg.

By removing the red tape tying up job creators and providing incentives for workers to save more, this legislation will strengthen and modernize America's retirement system, so our Nation's workers, retirees, and employers are better served.

It truly is a much-needed step in the right direction. Practical solutions like the RISE Act and H.R. 2954 are a win for job creators, workers, and our Nation's economic future.

I urge my colleagues to vote "yes".

Madam Speaker, I would like to inquire if the distinguished chairman of the Education and Labor Committee would be willing to engage in a colloquy with me about the matter of furnishing paper ERISA disclosures to participants and beneficiaries.

I yield to the chairman.

Mr. SCOTT of Virginia. I would be happy to enter into a colloquy with my colleague.

Ms. FOXX. I thank the chairman.

Madam Speaker, the underlying bill includes an imperfect provision requiring retirement plans to provide a paper statement annually.

The bill also directs the Department of Labor to revise its 2002 and 2020 safe harbor regulations to conform with this requirement.

While I support the bill, I have serious concerns about this blunt provision which would undermine DOL's 2002 and 2020 e-delivery safe harbor regulations. Participants in plans have been relying on the 2002 safe harbor regulations for nearly 20 years.

The Committee on Education and Labor has dedicated considerable time to this issue. I do not consider this a settled matter, and I will continue to engage with my House and Senate colleagues to find a workable solution that simplifies and modernizes the disclosure requirements for retirement plans.

Mr. SCOTT of Virginia. Will the gentlewoman yield?

Ms. FOXX. I yield to the gentleman from Virginia.

Mr. SCOTT of Virginia. Madam Speaker, I thank the ranking member for yielding to me and for her comments.

It is my understanding that our staffs will continue their efforts, along with their Senate counterparts, to try to find a path forward on this issue that balances the interests of plan sponsors and the retirement plan participants.

Ms. FOXX. Madam Speaker, reclaiming my time, I thank the chairman for his willingness to continue working on this issue together.

Again, I urge a "yes" vote on the bill.

Mr. SCOTT of Virginia. Madam Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentlewoman from Oregon (Ms. BONAMICI), the chair of the Subcommittee on Civil Rights of the Education and Labor Committee.

Ms. BONAMICI. Madam Speaker, I thank Chairman SCOTT for yielding, and I thank him for his leadership on this and so many important issues in the Education and Labor Committee.

I rise in strong support of the Securing a Strong Retirement Act of 2022 or SECURE 2.0, which makes important and bipartisan improvements that will improve enrollment in and access to retirement savings plans.

As employers have shifted from pension plans to retirement plans such as 401(k)'s, workers have increasingly become responsible for tracking, managing, and consolidating their retirement accounts when they change jobs.

There is no standard way for workers to consolidate their accounts, and many workers actually lose track of their hard-earned investments.

According to a Government Accountability Office report, about 25 million people changed jobs between 2004 and 2014 and left one or more retirement accounts behind. This problem is only expected to grow as young workers transition between jobs at greater rates than previous generations.

The SECURE Act 2.0 includes provisions from my Retirement Savings Lost and Found Act which will help address the challenge of tracking retirement savings. My bill creates a national lost-and-found registry for retirement accounts housed at the Department of Labor.

The lost-and-found registry will provide workers with a centralized way to track their retirement accounts, and it will also help workers claim their hard-earned retirement funds regardless of how often they transition from job to job.

I strongly support the commonsense improvements in the SECURE Act 2.0, including the creation of a retirement savings lost-and-found registry which will help working families retire with dignity.

I urge all of my colleagues to vote in favor of passage of this important legislation.

Mr. ALLEN. Madam Speaker, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Madam Speaker, the goal of every American is to retire with security and dignity. The RISE Act and H.R. 2954 will help workers do just that. This bill will expand the availability of private retirement programs to more Americans.

Neither small businesses, nor non-profits and educational institutions should be prohibited from accessing the benefits offered to larger retirement plans.

Building on the success of the SECURE Act of 2019, this legislation cuts red tape, streamlines reporting and disclosure requirements, and provides American workers retirement.

I thank the chairman and our Republican leader for their commitment to bipartisanship and for defending the committee's important jurisdiction over retirement issues in this bill.

I urge my colleagues to vote in favor of H.R. 2954, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. SCOTT of Virginia. Madam Speaker, I yield myself the balance of the time.

Madam Speaker, as my colleagues have said, the bill makes meaningful and sensible improvements to America's retirement system. It will help workers, retirees, and employers.

I again congratulate my Education and Labor Committee colleagues who have authored provisions in this bill, and I want to recognize and thank the ranking member of the Committee on Education and Labor, Dr. Foxx, and her staff for their partnership and work on this important bill with my staff which includes Kevin McDermott, Richard Miller, Daniel Foster, and Eli Hovland who have worked hard on this bill from start to finish.

Madam Speaker, I urge all Members to support the bill, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. DANNY K. DAVIS of Illinois. Madam Speaker, I strongly support the Securing a Strong Retirement Act because it will strengthen the retirement coverage and savings of millions of Americans. I applaud the many provisions included to expand retirement coverage and savings, such as automatic enrollment in the retirement plans, modernizing the Saver's Credit, creating new incentives to small businesses to offer retirement plans, and increasing charitable donations permitted through an IRA.

I thank Chairman NEAL for including my bill, the Retirement Parity for Student Loans Act, that promotes increased retirement savings through an employer match for employees making student loan payments. By allowing employers to contribute an employer-match into a retirement plan based on an employee's student loan payment, younger workers who currently cannot afford to save for their retirement will begin saving much sooner.

Although over three-quarters of Americans have access to an employment-based retirement savings account, few Americans can make the maximum contribution of $19,500 to their retirement savings. Any contribution to retirement savings is particularly limited for millennials struggling with heavy student loan debt. The average student loan balance for 2019 graduates was $32,731, and only 30 percent of young workers use 401(k) programs to save for retirement. This policy is an important tool for employers to retain their workforce and for workers to improve retirement savings and lower educational debt.

I urge passage of this bill that does so much to expand retirement coverage and savings to improve workers' long-term financial well-being.

Mr. DESAULNIER. Madam Speaker, Americans are living longer than ever before—about 30 years longer, on average, than a century ago. To quote the founder of the Stanford Center on Longevity, “longevity is . . . among the greatest opportunities we have had in human history.”

Those extra years mean more time spent with family and friends and enjoying retirement.

Unfortunately, while life expectancy increases, Americans are falling behind on retirement savings.

More than 4 in 10 American adults have less than $25,000 saved for retirement.

And the coronavirus pandemic has made it worse. According to a recent study, 1 in 5 Americans said they are saving less for retirement due to the pandemic's impact on their finances.

We need to act now to correct course to improve retirement savings.

The Securing a Strong Retirement Act is a comprehensive, bipartisan bill that eliminates many of the hurdles to workers enrolling in and remaining in retirement savings plans.

As a former small business owner and as the current Chair of the Health, Employment, Labor, and Pensions Subcommittee, I have seen firsthand how reforms like the ones in this bill can help people live happier lives into their retirement.

Importantly, this legislation incorporates the RISE Act, which I was proud to co-author with the Chairman of the full Committee Chairman SCOTT, Ranking Member FOXX, and the Ranking member of my HELP Subcommittee Mr. ALLEN. Through that effort, we can:

Help part-time workers join an employers' retirement savings plan;

Incentivize workers to participate in retirement plans with small financial incentives; and

Through the “Retirement Lost and Found” database at the Department of Labor help workers locate their hard-earned retirement savings as they move from job to job.

I am proud to have played a part in this significant and bipartisan effort, and will proudly vote in support of this legislation.

Mr. BEYER. Madam Speaker, I rise today to speak in support of the bipartisan Securing a Strong Retirement Act which includes the Legacy IRA Act. This legislation, led by my colleague MIKE KELLY and I, would encourage charitable giving by American seniors. Donating to charity is a hallmark of American society. We are fortunate to have one of the most generous countries in the world. In spite of, or possibly because of, the upheavals in recent years, we have seen increases in American charitable giving to the highest levels in our history.

We must do all we can to encourage this impulse, particularly among middle-income seniors who wish to continue giving post-retirement. The Legacy IRA Act would enable seniors to make tax-free contributions from their traditional IRAs to charities through life-income plans. This bill is a win-win, for philanthropic seniors who want to continue giving, and for charitable organizations that benefit from donations. I would like to thank Chairman NEAL for his support in including this measure in the SECURE Act and Rep. KELLY for his partnership on this important legislation.

Mr. SUOZZI. Madam Speaker, I rise in support of the Securing a Strong Retirement Act of 2022. Everyone can agree that the American Dream should be achievable for anyone willing to work hard. The American Dream is the ability for families to one day own a home, provide an education for their children, and retire with dignity. The SECURE Act 2.0 does several things to help make retirement security easier for millions of hardworking Americans. I rise today not only in support of the bill, but to advocate for the inclusion of another bipartisan bill, the ABLE Employment Flexibility Act, as SECURE 2.0 progresses through the legislative process.

Along with my colleague Mr. WENSTRUP, I introduced another practical solution that will allow more hardworking Americans the ability to participate in the labor force more fully by providing them access to benefits tailored to their needs. My bill permits employers to make tax-exempt contributions to ABLE (Achieving Better Life Experience) accounts in lieu of making contributions to existing tax-exempt defined contribution retirement plans. An ABLE account is established to pay expenses such as food, education, housing, transportation, employment training and support, and health care expenses of a designated beneficiary who is disabled. In other words, it will allow millions of Americans with disabilities to receive, and their employers the ability to provide, similar tax-preferred benefits as their fellow employees.

The ABLE Employment Flexibility Act would allow ABLE-eligible workers to permit an employer to make contributions to a 529A account in lieu of contributions to the employer's defined contribution plan. The legislation is needed because, under current law, an employer that offers employees with a disability the choice to have employer contributions that would be made to the retirement plan instead contributed to a 529A account would jeopardize the tax-qualified status of the retirement plan.

Many defined contribution plans permit an eligible employee to defer compensation into that defined contribution plan, with the employer sponsoring the plan providing for a matching contribution on such deferrals. The plan may also have nonelective employer contributions that are automatically made. Unfortunately, assets in these plans could adversely impact the availability of means-tested benefits. By eliminating this barrier, employers will be able to provide equitable opportunities to their employees to save for critical services while allowing them to retain critical government support and services.

Through the leadership of Chairman NEAL and Ranking Member BRADY, we are passing SECURE 2.0, a bill with overwhelming support. The bill has support from every stakeholder, from advocates for seniors to the retirement industry, and the practical solutions contained have garnered bipartisan support. Both things the American people are clamoring for in these hyper-partisan times. Like SECURE 2.0, the ABLE Employment Flexibility Act has received support from an array of stakeholders from disability advocates to associations representing the retirement industry.

I want to thank the Chairman, Ranking Member, their staffs, and the Joint Committee on Taxation for their willingness to work with myself and Mr. WENSTRUP to address technical issues with the legislative text of the ABLE Employment Flexibility Act to achieve the underlying policy goal—help more Americans save effectively and efficiently to live and retire in dignity. I look forward to our continued efforts and hope that we can resolve outstanding issues as we advance the SECURE Act 2.0 to the President for his signature.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Madam Speaker, I rise today in strong support of H.R. 2954, the Securing a Strong Retirement Act, also known as SECURE 2.0.

It is a sad reality that today too many hardworking Americans enter retirement without enough savings.

In fact, according to a recent report, only 36 percent of working adults feel their retirement savings are on track to meet their goals and more than one-third of U.S. workers have never even had a retirement account.

It's clear that millions of Americans could face a financial crisis during their retirement years. Congress can help head off this avoidable emergency and give individuals, families, and businesses more tools to boost their retirement nest eggs.

Last year, the House Ways & Means Committee unanimously passed the bipartisan Securing a Strong Retirement Act of 2021, legislation providing new incentives to help improve the retirement financial landscape for Americans across the country.

This bipartisan retirement savings bill seeks to build on the momentum from legislation that passed last Congress.

Specifically, this important new legislation would double the existing tax credit for businesses with 50 or fewer employees that start a company retirement plan, expand-auto-enrollment, push back the withdrawal retirement age, and allow workers to double their catch-up contributions. This bipartisan bill also authorizes new protections for people paying down student loan debts and incentives to America's veterans.

SECURE 2.0 is also completely budget neutral.

Retirement doesn't have to turn into another U.S. financial crisis. With responsible incentives and smart planning, we can give more people the peace of mind they deserve as they grow older. I'm pleased to see Congress put aside partisan games and finally come together to enact SECURE 2.0 and strengthen America's retirement security.

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Madam Speaker, I rise in strong support of H.R. 2954, the Securing a Strong Retirement Act of 2021, which will make various changes with respect to employer-sponsored retirement plans, including providing for the automatic enrollment of employees in certain plans and increasing the age at which participants are required to begin receiving mandatory distributions.

This legislation expands opportunities for Americans to increase their retirement savings, improves workers' long-term financial wellbeing, and builds on the Setting Every Community Up for Retirement Enhancement (SECURE) Act of 2019.

The purpose of this legislation is to expand automatic enrollment, simplify many retirement plan rules, and strengthen small businesses' ability to offer workplace retirement plans.

Among other things, H.R. 2954 would:

Expand automatic enrollment of workers in employer-sponsored retirement saving plans.

Employees would be automatically enrolled in plans such as 401(k)s and 403(b)s unless they opt out.

The initial automatic enrollment amount is at least 3 percent but no more than 10 percent. And then each year that amount is increased by 1 percent until it reaches 10 percent.

The age at which seniors must take required minimum distributions (RMDs) from their retirement savings accounts would be raised from 72 to 73. The bill subsequently would raise the age to 74 starting in 2029 and to 75 starting in 2032.

Reduce the penalty for failure to take RMDs to 25 percent from 50 percent. If this failure is corrected in a timely manner, as defined by the bill, the penalty would be further reduced to 10 percent.

Increase the limits on so-called catch-up contributions for employees ages 62 to 64. In 2021, these workers were allowed to contribute up to $6,500 to their retirement savings plans beyond the otherwise applicable limits. This bill would increase that amount to $10,000 and index it to inflation.

The catch-up contribution limit for individual retirement accounts would be indexed to inflation. Currently, savers ages 50 and up may contribute an additional $1,000 annually to their IRAs, but that limit isn't indexed to inflation.

Allow employers to match a worker's student loan payment by making an equivalent contribution to that worker's retirement savings plan.

This provision is intended to help workers who can't afford to save for retirement because of high student-loan debt, which causes them to miss out on their employers' matching contributions to retirement savings plans.

Today's workplace is more generationally diverse than ever.

Older employees are working longer, and millennials make up roughly a third of the American workforce. This bill helps both older and younger workers.

For younger workers, this can help jump start the saving process earlier by making employer matches available for those who are also paying off student loans.

For older workers nearing retirement, they would have more time to save, due to the increased catch-up contribution limits and delayed required minimum distributions (RMD).

By automatically enrolling every working person in a plan, with the option to opt out, we begin to solve the biggest reasons people don't save for retirement.

According to the U.S. Census Bureau, the three biggest reasons people do not save for retirement are: not having a plan at work (74 percent of non-savers), being self-employed (14 percent) and not being included in a workplace plan (12 percent).

These proposed changes are beneficial to Americans of all ages, helping them reach their savings goals and provide more flexibility upon retirement.

Though there are many paths to retirement, it's critical to be financially prepared, especially as people are living longer.

For these reasons, I ask my colleagues to join me in voting for H.R. 2954 because we need to ensure that every American can benefit from the best retirement plan for them.

REMOVAL OF NAME OF MEMBER
AS COSPONSOR OF H.R. 7010

Mr. CRAWFORD. Madam Speaker, I hereby remove my name as cosponsor of H.R. 7010.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Ms. ROSS). The gentleman's request is accepted.

RECOGNIZING OHIO TUSKEGEE AIRMEN DAY

(Mrs. BEATTY asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mrs. BEATTY. Madam Speaker, today marks the first annual Ohio Tuskegee Airmen Day celebration at the National Veterans Memorial and Museum in my district.

In March 1946, Tuskegee Airmen began to arrive at Lockbourne Army

Airfield, today known as Rickenbacker Air National Guard Base in Columbus. The airmen were under the leadership of Colonel Benjamin O. Davis, the first Black officer to command an Air Force base in the continental United States.

Their achievements during the war paved the way for full integration of the U.S. military, as pilots, navigators, and bombardiers. These brave, distinguished Black men received Purple Hearts, Silver Stars, and Bronze Stars.

They were fighting for our country and for us during a time they were denied access to the right to vote, housing in certain neighborhoods, and separate but not equal educational opportunities.

Please join me in recognizing these heroic Black men.

PROTECTING AND EMPOWERING
THE MODERN WORKER

(Mr. ALLEN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. ALLEN. Madam Speaker, I rise to highlight a bill I recently introduced with my good friend, Senator TIM SCOTT of South Carolina.

The Employee Rights Act of 2022 updates our labor policies to protect and empower the modern worker.

Democrats continue to push their out-of-touch, Big Labor wish list in the PRO Act, which tilts the scale toward nonelected union leaders, tramples employee rights, and preempts State right-to-work laws. Meanwhile, Republicans are focused on the worker of today and the future.

The Employee Rights Act guarantees that employees will have secret ballot union elections, ensures control over the disclosure of their personal information, keeps members' dues from being used for political purposes without their permission, and gives employees more flexibility to withdraw from a union if a majority of the employees agree.

This bill also codifies the common law definition of "employee" to protect gig economy workers and other independent contractors and once and for all clarifies the definition of "joint employer" so that franchisees, entrepreneurs, and anyone seeking flexible work options are not hamstrung into not running their own business.

As a businessman, I have experienced firsthand the consequences of Big Government overregulation, and I am thankful for the support of dozens of proworker and probusiness groups that support the Employee Rights Act of 2022.

TELLING THE AMERICAN COVID-19
STORY

(Ms. JACKSON LEE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Madam Speaker, I rise to applaud two legislative initiatives that passed this week. One in particular was the COVID-19 American History Project Act.

With over almost a million Americans who died from COVID-19, the historic stories, the stories of tragedy and joy of the many hardworking medical professionals, like those in my particular congressional district, like Dr. Peter Hotez, who discovered an unbelievable vaccine that is now being used in developing nations, Dr. Joseph Varon, Dr. Joe Gathe, and many, many others; hospitals far and wide; nurses and medical professionals, who had to take care of people who were lying in hospital hallways; and families who lost one and two and three and four. We must tell the COVID-19 story.

It is an American story. We must tell of the heroes. We must tell of those we lost. We must say thank you.

But one thing we must do, as the chair of the bipartisan COVID-19 Task Force, we must never, never repeat this again. We must be prepared, and we should be ready to save lives. There is nothing wrong with testing and vaccinating.

REMEMBERING JERRY MARSHALL
GILL

(Mr. CARTER of Georgia asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. CARTER of Georgia. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the life of a valued member of the Savannah community, Jerry Marshall Gill.

Jerry was born in Bogalusa, Louisiana, in 1931. He and his family moved to Savannah when he was at the young age of 5.

Once in Savannah, Jerry attended Commercial High School, where he stood out immediately as a gifted basketball player.

From Commercial High, Jerry proceeded to Armstrong Junior College before answering the call to join the United States Marine Corps. Jerry was called to Active Duty in 1950 and served in the Korean war.

Back home, he was a volunteer for the Georgia Affiliates Federal Credit Unions for over 42 years, where he received "Volunteer of the Year," the "Lifetime Achievement Award," and the "Credit Union House Hall of Leaders Award," which is displayed here in D.C. in the D.C. Credit Union House.

After retirement, Jerry worked with the Georgia Affiliates Credit Union for another 12 years.

Jerry's life of service was further demonstrated in his commitment to his fellow veterans. He volunteered with the USO and was a member of the Veterans Council League for many years.

We will all dearly miss Jerry, his wisdom, and his service.

CONGRATULATING SAINT PETER'S
UNIVERSITY BASKETBALL TEAM

(Mr. PAYNE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. PAYNE. Madam Speaker, I rise today to praise a sensational basketball team from my district. Saint Peter's University is a small, exceptional school in Jersey City, New Jersey.

This year, Coach Shaheen Holloway's Peacocks became the first 15th seed to reach the Elite Eight of the men's NCAA basketball tournament.

In the first round, the Peacocks shocked the world when they upset Kentucky, the number 2 seed and college basketball powerhouse. They did it again when they beat Murray State and Purdue to get to the Elite Eight.

I was honored to watch the comeback victory over Purdue in the Sweet Sixteen. I did it as a Congressman and proud parent of two Saint Peter's graduates, my sons, Donald III and Jack.

Saint Peter's University will be remembered as one of the most successful teams in the NCAA tournament history, and I am extremely proud to have it in my district.

PRESIDENT BIDEN'S FOREIGN POLICY BLUNDERS

(Mr. ROSE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. ROSE. Madam Speaker, once again, the President of the United States made a terrible foreign policy blunder when he embarrassingly said that Vladimir Putin cannot remain in power.

Almost immediately, the White House communications team did everything they could to save face and walk back the President's remarks. Thankfully, the Secretary of State issued a statement clarifying the President's comments, saying that the U.S. has no strategy of regime change in Russia.

Unfortunately, it was too little, too late, as Moscow was quick to seize on the President's gaffe to embolden Putin's undeniably false message that Russia is the one under attack.

Mistakes like these directly undermine Ukrainian efforts to protect their sovereignty and stall momentum for peace. President Biden's actions have been misguided from the onset of this war. He has failed to deter Russia, and he was late to give Ukraine the military assistance it so badly needed.

The world expects clear and resolute leadership from the Oval Office. Unfortunately, it doesn't look like there is a chance of that anytime soon.

HONORING OHIO TUSKEGEE AIRMEN DAY

(Mr. CAREY asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. CAREY. Madam Speaker, I rise in honor of Ohio Tuskegee Airmen Day.

Most know the Tuskegee Airmen as the first Black pilots in the military who overcame the headwinds of segregation and racism to achieve unparalleled success during World War II, flying nearly 1,600 missions and destroying over 260 enemy aircraft.

What you may not know is their success continued after the war, both militarily and culturally, in Lockbourne, Ohio.

In 1946, the Tuskegee Airmen arrived at the Lockbourne Army Air Force Base, where they operated the first and only Army Air Force base under the command of Benjamin O. Davis, Jr.

Segregation continued to hinder their opportunities off base, but Lockbourne overcame and was lauded as the best managed base in the Air Force. Their work led President Harry Truman to issue an executive order in 1948 that desegregated the military and mandated equal opportunity and treatment.

I am proud to represent an area of such historical significance and to honor the legacy of the Tuskegee Airmen.

HOPE FOR PEACE IN UKRAINE

(Mr. GROTHMAN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. GROTHMAN. Madam Speaker, I rise to hope for peace in Ukraine.

Estimates vary, but perhaps over 20,000 people have died in this war already.

Recently, both President Biden and Senator GRAHAM have weighed in on what they feel should happen to Vladimir Putin. Obviously, their language could delay the end of the war and heighten tensions at the peace talks.

Have they cleared their comments with the Ukrainian people, who lose more people every day the war goes on?

Both President Biden and Senator GRAHAM got press from these remarks, and some politicians just care about that.

I encourage all Senators and the President of the United States to remember that they are in the big leagues now, and their careless remarks to get a little bit more press can cost Ukrainian and Russian lives.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE SERGEANT AT ARMS

The SPEAKER pro tempore laid before the House the following communication from the Sergeant at Arms of the House of Representatives:

OFFICE OF THE SERGEANT AT ARMS,
Washington, DC, March 28, 2022.

Hon. NANCY PELOSI,
Speaker, House of Representatives,
Washington, DC.

DEAR MADAM SPEAKER: Pursuant to section 3(s) of House Resolution 8, following consultation with the Office of Attending Physician, I write to provide you further notification that the public health emergency due to the novel coronavirus SARS-CoV-2 remains in effect.

Sincerely,

WILLIAM J. WALKER,
Sergeant at Arms.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair announces the extension, pursuant to section 3 of House Resolution 8, and effective March 31, 2022, of the "covered period" designated on January 4, 2021.

PAYING TRIBUTE TO THE HONORABLE DONALD EDWIN YOUNG

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the Speaker's announced policy of January 4, 2021, the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. GRAVES) is recognized for 60 minutes as the designee of the minority leader.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. GRAVES of Louisiana. Madam Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days in which to revise and extend their remarks and submit extraneous materials.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Louisiana?

There was no objection.

Mr. GRAVES of Louisiana. Madam Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Arkansas (Mr. HILL).

□ 1845

Mr. HILL. Madam Speaker, I thank my friend from Louisiana for yielding.

Madam Speaker, I rise today to join my colleagues on this House floor and remember our good friend, the dedicated dean of the House, Congressman Don Young, from the great State of Alaska.

Don had a fire in him. He exuded joy in everything he did. And when he walked into a room, you knew he was there.

Don was passionate in his desire to serve the people of Alaska, and for almost 50 years, he did just that. Don loved this House and chaired two of our key committees, Natural Resources and Transportation.

As a freshman, yes, I, like, so many new members, sat mistakenly in his seat. The big bear growled me away.

Once during a vote series, I voted "no" on a Don Young bill building roads in Alaska and walked out of the Chamber. Three minutes later, the whip team is texting me. Representative ANN WAGNER is texting me: Don Young is screaming your name on the House floor. He wants to know why you voted "no". I went to dinner.

The next morning, I found him and asked if he still needed me. He asked why I was a "no". I told him, and he smiled with that great big smile and asked if I could vote for his Alaskan fishing bill the next week. I said, yes, you bet, Mr. Chairman. You bet.

I would like to extend my condolences to Anne, his children, and all who loved him. Don was a great man who will not be forgotten. May his life of service be an example to us all.

Madam Speaker, I thank my friend from Louisiana.

Mr. GRAVES of Louisiana. Madam Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from California (Mr. HUFFMAN).

Mr. HUFFMAN. Madam Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding.

Madam Speaker, there is so much I would like to say about my friend, Don Young. And some of you are probably wondering how could Don Young, the crusty, old conservative from Alaska be friends with a liberal Democrat from California like JARED HUFFMAN, an environmental radical.

Well, it wasn't because we agreed on Arctic drilling. It wasn't because we agreed on the Endangered Species Act or so many other things. We fought about those things.

In fact, I will always remember our colleague, MIKE LEVIN's, first Natural Resource Committee hearing. Don Young was shaking his fist at me, saying that he wanted to go out in the hall to settle our differences, and MIKE couldn't believe it. And I told him that was nothing. That was tame by Don Young standards. You should have seen him last year.

Don didn't actually wink when he did these things, but he didn't need to because we both knew that the next time I saw him, we would be laughing about it, having a glass of Chardonnay.

Believe it or not, we did find some things to work on. We had a mutual love of fishing and salmon. We found lots of legislation to do together on those subjects.

We both represent a lot of Indian country. We found common cause there. We worked together on national and international wildlife conservation. Now, he wanted to conserve wildlife so he could kill it. I wanted to conserve it so I could admire it generally, but we found common cause, and we did a lot of good work together.

I will always remember that when I met with Don in his office, I would be sure to bring a bottle of Chardonnay from my district because it was Anne's favorite and because in the odd years, when Don was actually drinking, he liked it too.

I am so glad that in addition to getting to serve for almost 10 years with this legend of the House, I got to have a lot of fun with him. I got to play paddle ball in the gym. I got to travel with him and Anne to Europe. I got to go fishing.

In fact, I went to his fishing tournament in Alaska last year. I was the only Democrat there. My reward was Don put me on his boat with Karl Rove, and I spent about 9 hours on the water with Don Young and Karl Rove. That is an experience I will never forget. And it too was an awful lot of fun, just like everything with Don Young.

So with Don Young gone, I have no doubt there are going to be plenty of other people around here that I will find things to fight about with. It is the other part that I will miss, and I think the institution will miss.

Mr. GRAVES of Louisiana. Madam Speaker, I thank my friend from California.

Madam Speaker, I yield 1½ minutes to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. BABIN).

Mr. BABIN. Madam Speaker, I thank my friend and neighbor across the Sabine River for having this special order honoring Representative Young.

We are here to honor the dean of our House, Congressman Don Young. For nearly half a century, Don devoted his life to serving the people of Alaska and our Nation, starting his long career in Congress just 4 years after we landed an astronaut on the surface of the moon. A staggering thought.

"North to the Future" is the motto of our 49th State. It is meant to represent Alaska as the land of promise. Throughout 10 different administrations, multiple wars and conflicts, national tragedies, the invention of the worldwide web, September the 11th, and much more, Don never stopped trying to spread the motto of his home State to the rest of our Nation because he saw America as a land of promise.

He understood the need to learn from our successes and our failures, adapt and push forward boldly, and bold he was. I will miss his fiery personality, his fearlessness, and his unique ability to get bills expedited if he concluded that they were taking too long.

I share Don's fierce love for Alaska and the great outdoors, and I routinely visited his great State to hunt and fish over many years. If you have seen Alaska's breathtaking terrain and wildlife, you will never wonder why Don adored that State so much. He stood by his State through the thick and the thin.

It was an honor to walk with him in these sacred Halls, to serve alongside of him in the Transportation and Infrastructure Committee, to hear the wisdom that he gleaned throughout his many years in Congress, and to call him my friend.

God threw away the mold after he created Don Young. History will remember him fondly, as it very well should. Anne and his children are in my prayers.

Mr. GRAVES of Louisiana. Madam Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Texas (Mr. BABIN).

I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Minnesota (Mr. STAUBER) that served on both the National Resources Committee and the House Transportation Committee with Congressman Young.

Mr. STAUBER. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor the dean of the House and my friend, Congressman Don Young.

The great State of Alaska and the Eighth Congressional District of Minnesota, which I have the honor of representing here in Congress, have many shared similarities and qualities.

These are the values that Don and I shared to fight for our way of life, to promote the responsible use of our abundant natural resources, and to provide for our children and grandchildren infrastructure built to last.

This made working alongside the dean such a pleasure and an honor. We served together on the Natural Resources and Transportation Committees, and I will never forget the countless times he helped me out through the kindness of his heart.

Since first being elected to office in 1973, Don picked up a range of helpful tips, funny stories, and congressional experience that he was never shy about sharing.

His wife, Anne, along with the rest of his family, are in my prayers. Don's legacy of service will never be forgotten, and he will always be remembered as a titan for the people of Alaska and our great Nation. May he rest in peace.

Mr. GRAVES of Louisiana. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from California (Mr. LAMALFA).

Mr. LAMALFA. Madam Speaker, I thank my colleague from Louisiana for leading this tonight. I really appreciate it.

There is so much that could be said about that. I think the really personal things about Don Young are what I would like to reflect around this place.

When I first got here almost 10 years ago, we had kind of a common kinship in that we are both actually from northern California. He was born in a town near Meridian, California, not far from Yuba City, which is my back yard too, part of a rice farming outfit there.

I knew his brother Doug from Woodland, part of Republican politics there. Both these guys are obviously characters.

So, for Don, though, you could tell he was just a pillar, just being around him. Of course, his portrait is on the wall in the committee room and such, his work on transportation, but it is the small things that really make a difference; his warmth, him and his wife Anne, for me and my staff that would be around him at various events going on around the district.

We talk a lot about that chair over there, right. And so I sat in the chair, not because I didn't know, because I did know, and I wanted to see what would happen.

So I am sitting there, and he walks in. I got this thumb on my ear here. He grabbed it, and I said oh, I guess it is time for me to go. Sir, I am just warming the chair up because you are from Alaska. You need the chair warm for you. He bought that, but I got right out of there too.

Now, just recently, I think it was last Wednesday, you know, he was in a wheelchair recently due to issues and such. And so we were heading to the elevator over here. And most of the time you might yield to that and let somebody with that issue going on have the elevator to themselves. Not this group.

Me and about four other guys, we all piled in there with him because we all wanted to be with Don Young, even just for a short elevator ride and see what he was going to say and what kind of things were going to go on.

That is the man we all love and are going to miss terribly and whose sweet wife, Anne, God bless you. It has just been a pleasure knowing and being with you here.

Mr. GRAVES of Louisiana. Madam Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. BOST).

Mr. BOST. Madam Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Louisiana for yielding.

You know, a lot of people are saying a lot of things here about Don tonight as we are talking about his life and his service.

Now, let's put it in perspective. Many of the people in this House, whenever he first came in, many weren't even born. In my case, I was in seventh grade, never knowing that I would meet somebody like Don Young.

When I first came into this great assembly, there was a gruff, noisy person that sat back in that chair that we have talked about all along, yelling about this and talking about that, and I just wondered who he was.

After serving with him on the Transportation and Infrastructure Committee, getting to know him, I realized that that gruff and that noise, let me explain something to you, has a heart that was bigger than the noise ever could be. The kindness that he didn't want to show when you were around him for just a little bit, you understood.

But, also, what is so great is the amount of us that were able to tap into his knowledge of the institution, of the things that he has seen; ten Presidents, nine Speakers, someone said over 2,000 Members that have come through that have served with Don Young.

Anytime someone has been in a position that long, the knowledge that they gain and the way that they can deliver for their district is amazing.

This last week when we found out Don passed—unfortunately, in the world of social media, you put things out, and you put it out as positive as possible. But there was one person that responded in a statement, when I said he was there 50 years, well, that is why we should have term limits.

Really? Don Young had term limits. Every 2 years. He went back to the people of Alaska, and the people of Alaska spoke every 2 years.

Why did they do that? They did that because they had a great Representative that knew and understood and loved the State that he represented.

Now, think about this. He sat in this House when he could have moved on to the Senate. It was the same run. He could have been Governor, but he chose to stay in this House because he believed in this House and the job he was doing for the people of Alaska. He served them well.

I was blessed by the fact that I got to go and participate in the fundraiser that his first wife had put together, and that is a fishing tournament that allows for that money to be given to the native children of Alaska that are in need.

After that, he married Anne. And to Anne and the family, his first love was his family, and we thank them for giving him to us, not only the ones that serve here today but the ones that have served over the past 50 years, and to this Nation that will be forever grateful for a man who stood up, told the truth, and used this institution to make this Nation better.

Mr. GRAVES of Louisiana. Madam Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Alabama (Mr. PALMER).

Mr. PALMER. Madam Speaker, I rise this evening with a heavy but grateful heart, heavy with the grief that comes from losing a friend but very grateful for having such a friend and colleague as Don Young.

Congressman Don Young was truly an iconic figure in the history of the United States House of Representatives. Serving the great State of Alaska for three-quarters of its existence as a State, Don was determined to do all that he could for the people he both served and loved.

One of my favorite memories of Don was at the beginning of my second term in our organizational meeting, and he was in disagreement with our Speaker. He said, "You may be the Speaker, but I am Don Young."

This House will not be the same. There may be Members who will sit in his chair, but there will never be another that can take his place. There was and is only one Don Young. My colleagues and I extend our deepest sympathy to his family and his wife, Anne. We will all miss him.

Mr. GRAVES of Louisiana. Madam Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. GOHMERT).

Mr. GOHMERT. Madam Speaker, Don Young of Alaska was a fixture in this House. He was the kind of fixture that didn't just look pretty, because that wasn't his thing. He added immeasurably to everything else here.

He and I have been on the Natural Resources Committee for years together, ever since I have been here. Since I ticked off Republican leaders over the years, I was not going to end up being the chairman, so I got to sit by him for years. That has been a real pleasure.

He was a practical man and understood the contribution that he was making, and it was truly a massive contribution to this country, to Alaska, to the people of America. You never had to wonder where he stood, and I loved that about him. He didn't pull punches. He told you what he thought, and he didn't require a lot of words to do that.

His laugh was contagious, but so was his love for America. He dedicated his life to making this a better place for all of us. He loved Alaska, he loved Alaskan people, and if someone tried to tell him that, gee, the Tribal folks in Alaska would be better off if you never drilled, he wouldn't have any of it. He would get upset at that point, tell them they didn't know. He had lived with those people, he had been there, he knew.

Don Young was a survivor, and though we bid farewell to his remains today, his spirit will survive as long as there is a Capitol.

Mr. GRAVES of Louisiana. Madam Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. HIGGINS).

Mr. HIGGINS of Louisiana. Madam Speaker, Don Young was my friend. Years ago, before I entered Congress to serve my country at this level, as a police officer I was called upon to address the annual gathering of the Alaskan State Troopers. I will always remember, as our plane entered Alaska, the mountains rose from the Earth, and I had never witnessed such magnificent splendor of the Lord's creation. It was awe inspiring. Frightening even.

A couple of years later I met Don Young, and I understood more both about Alaska and creation and, by extension, I understood more about all children of God.

Don Young, his spirit, his voice echoed through this Chamber, and every day that I sat next to him for over 5 years I recalled the Scripture that came to my mind when I felt and saw those magnificent mountains arising from the Earth. I recalled the Scripture advised us in Micah, said, "Hear ye now the Lord saith; Arise, contend thou before the mountains, and let the hills hear thy voice." This Chamber has echoed the voice of Don Young for five decades, and now he has gone to his reward.

May I say to you, Don, you are the mountain of Alaska, you have been a dear and honored friend. You will be missed, loved, respected, and your memory shall always be honored. I am a better man, having known you. I thank my colleague, the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. GRAVES), for leading this Special Order.

Mr. GRAVES of Louisiana. I thank my friend from Louisiana for his heartfelt message.

Madam Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. BAIRD).

Mr. BAIRD. Madam Speaker, today I rise to pay tribute to my good friend, Representative Don Young.

The House of Representatives has been home to many unique individuals throughout its history, perhaps none more memorable than my colleague and friend, Representative Don Young.

His office walls are adorned with various mounted animals, and a 10-foot grizzly pelt, a homage to his favorite place, Alaska. For 49 years, Representative Young dutifully served his beloved Alaska, fiercely advocating for his home and the constituents he proudly served.

When I first came to Congress, Don was among the first to welcome me and show me the ropes. This Chamber is far quieter without his boisterous laugh. It is dimmer without his smiling face. We will miss this unforgettable giant, and I will miss my friend.

Mr. GRAVES of Louisiana. Madam Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Florida (Mr. MAST).

Mr. MAST. Madam Speaker, dammit, I am going to miss my friend Don Young. My other close friend, Representative HIGGINS and I, we sat next to him pretty much every single day for nearly the last 6 years, and I can tell everybody that for every story that you have heard about bears and bear traps and snowshoeing and dog sledding and Iditarods and eagles and hunting and everything else that you heard about him, there are a dozen stories that you have not heard but you wish you heard. They were that good.

He was resilient. He was a mountain of a man, as you have heard from everybody. He was a fearless friend, and the only thing that he loved more than his country and his State of Alaska was his family and his wife, Anne, and that all encompassed just one of the most incredible men I have ever had the honor of knowing.

My friend, Don Young, we are going to miss you, and may you rest in peace, my friend.

Mr. GRAVES of Louisiana. I thank my friend from Florida.

Madam Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Arkansas (Mr. WESTERMAN), the ranking member of the House Natural Resources Committee.

Mr. WESTERMAN. Madam Speaker, it is my honor to stand in this Chamber tonight and to pay tribute to one of the longest serving and I think one of the most effective Members to ever stand in this Chamber. Don Young was not just the longest-serving Member, he was also a mentor and a friend; and he is someone who will be dearly missed.

Outside of Don's service as a legislator, just sitting and talking with him and hearing the stories of his life, he told me one time about running a 100-mile trap line in the remote part of Alaska, and it was like I was speaking to some character out of a novel or out of an Outdoor Life magazine article. He seemed to have done everything.

It is the stories that I think we are going to remember from Don. He passed very great legislation that had to do with everything from fisheries to the Trans-Alaska Pipeline. He was behind that. But everybody who knew Don will remember the stories. We asked some of Don's former staff members if they could share stories, and I have got many pages, too many to read, just treasures here.

I want to share one story from David Whaley, who was a staff member for Don. He says one of my favorite Don Young stories is about the original Magnuson-Stevens Act, then known as the Fisheries Conservation and Management Act, or FCMA. The legislation extended U.S. jurisdiction over fisheries out to 200 miles. Many people have heard the story about the House passing the bill first and doing all the heavy lifting, and then the Senators getting all the credit. But not many people know that both the State Department and the Department of Defense were opposed to extending our jurisdiction out to 200 miles.

In the old days, if the President was flying to a Member's district, the Member would often be offered a ride on Air Force One back to the district. After both the House and the Senate had passed the FCMA, President Ford was flying somewhere that required a refueling stop in Anchorage, so Congressman Young was offered a ride.

As it happened, the Secretary of State was also on board. After they took off, the President asked Congressman Young into his office on the plane and had the Congressman debate the merits of the legislation with the Secretary of State. Congressman Young then got off the plane in Anchorage not knowing what the President was going to do. As we all know, the President signed the bill, and that is a story of how Don Young out-debated Henry Kissinger.

What a remarkable career, what a remarkable man. I got the privilege on my first trip to Alaska with Don to be on a fishing boat with him for the day, and the only thing I regret is that we didn't have a video camera recording all the stories. Those are things that I will cherish about Don.

But I want to share a personal story that Don shared with me out here on the House floor. A former member from Arkansas named Jay Dickey, who Don thought the world of, was always telling people about his friend Jesus, and after Jay died, Don just caught me on the floor and he said, "I want you to know something. Your predecessor told me about his friend Jesus," and he said, "And I put my trust in him, and some day I am going to go see him." I thought about the Scripture in Romans that says if you confess with your mouth that Jesus is Lord and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you will be saved. That wasn't the conversation I was expecting to have with Don Young that day, but I am glad he had that conversation because I know some day I am going to see Don again. That is the way Don was. He told stories that gave encouragement, he told stories that were reassuring, and that was probably the most reassuring story that Don ever shared with me.

We are going to miss him, but we can learn from his example. I again thank the gentleman from Louisiana for hosting this Special Order.

Mr. GRAVES of Louisiana. Madam Speaker, it is an honor to yield to the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. HOYER), the distinguished majority leader of the House.

Mr. HOYER. Madam Speaker, I thank my friend, the gentleman from Louisiana, GARRET GRAVES, for yielding. I thank him for taking this Special Order for a special person.

Now, I must say I am not going to have any funny stories about Don, although funny stories there are. Nor can I say that I ever fished with Don, because I didn't. Nor did I ever hunt with Don. I didn't. But I served 41 years with Don Young, and I got to know him very well: As a friend, as a Member of this House, as a fellow American; and, yes, incidentally as a Republican and a Democrat because neither Don nor I proceeded in our relationship on the basis of our party affiliation but on the basis of common ideals, common objectives, and common love for this country.

I am honored to join my colleagues in paying tribute to my friend Don Young, who represented the State of Alaska in this House for 49 years.

Don was one of three people who were senior to me in this House. There are two Republicans, Mr. SMITH and Mr. ROGERS, who I think both have the same seniority, so maybe they are co-deans of the House. But I am the senior Democrat in the House, and therefore, I had a long time to work with, to know, and to grow in respect for a crusty curmudgeon who could be as tough as nails but could also be as nice as you would hope a fellow colleague to be.

As a matter of fact, I was here working as—I wasn't an intern because I was getting paid. I was at Georgetown Law School working when Alaska became a State. When Alaska and Hawaii became States, they became States together. The theory was that Alaska would be a Democrat State and Hawaii would be a Republican State. I use that analogy because who knows what we are going to be 10 years from now or 20 years from now, so making decisions on a partisan basis probably is not what we ought to be doing.

But Don loved Alaska, and as the junior Senator from Alaska said today at the memorial service held for Don as he lay in state, an honor few Americans get—less than 50 Americans. Don Young got that honor.

Many, of course, have commented on the sudden and unexpected nature of his passing. Surely, however, death had to take him by surprise because if he had seen death coming, death would not have stood a chance.

Don Young was ferocious. He was ferocious for his constituents, for whom he felt a sacred responsibility and delivered so much over his 25 terms in office. He said, "I will defend my State to the dying breath," and that he did.

When he was taken from us, Don was on his way home from legislative session, headed back to meet with his constituents and make sure they knew how he was fighting for them in Washington.

Don was ferocious, but he also was gentle. Those who got to know him saw that behind that often-prickly facade was a tender and warm-hearted man who cared about his country and cared about his colleagues. He cared most of all about his family.

The love he felt for his family, for his constituents, and for the institution was as enormous as the State he represented.

I particularly was close to Don and fond of Don because he loved this institution. I love this institution. It is one of the unique institutions of the world where the only way you can get here is for your neighbors to choose you. Nobody can appoint you. No Governor can appoint you. No President can appoint you. No majority here can appoint you. You come here because your neighbors respect you. And Don's neighbors 25 times over almost 50 years got the opportunity to say: DON YOUNG, we trust you, and we want you to go to Washington to represent us.

There is only one Member of Congress from Alaska. They have two Senators but only one Representative. What an honor for all of us to be selected by our neighbors to represent and articulate their voice in the Halls of this Congress.

I respected Don, and he respected me. On many occasions, we stood and worked together on behalf of this institution and on behalf of the Members of this institution.

Don had a passion, as we all know, for decorum, known for tapping his cane and urging whoever sat in the chair to call the vote. "Regular order" would come from the seat at the back of the Chamber because he felt that the Chair was not bringing the vote to a close soon enough. And he was right. It didn't mean that the Chair closed the vote because we were waiting for other people to come because they were late—but never Don Young. When the bell rang, Don Young answered the call. He never sat in the corner. He was always ready for the fight. He was always ready for the challenge.

When votes were called, we weren't always on the same side. That is what is written here. We were very rarely on the same side, but we were always on the same side when it came to Members, this institution, and the American people.

In fact, just because we were on opposite sides, it did not mean that we were on opposite sides from a personal standpoint. I hope all of us could learn that lesson. We are all chosen by our neighbors, as I said, to be here. For that reason alone, we ought to respect one another.

I don't mean that everybody does things that ought to be respected all the time; they don't. But it is important to understand, particularly now as Putin is testing whether democracies can work. Xi, the leader of China, and Putin wrote a 5,000-page paper just about 6 weeks ago. Their premise was democracies cannot succeed because they cannot come together, and they cannot make decisions in a timely fashion.

Don Young was somebody you could go to in a very collegial fashion, and if you disagreed, you disagreed with honor on each side. But if you agreed, you joined hands to accomplish the objectives of that agreement.

I always knew that Don believed he was doing the best he could for those he served, and he spoke and voted with his convictions. Whenever, as I have just said, we found common ground and common cause, it was a pleasure working with him and knowing that I had alongside me someone so fiercely devoted to getting a job done on behalf of his people and on behalf of our country.

It says here that now Don is at rest. The good Lord is saying, if that is rest, I am in real trouble because that guy is not stopping. He is still punching. He is still fighting. He is still yelling out "regular order."

We are better for having known him and served with him.

I join in offering his wife, Anne—who I hugged and gave a kiss to earlier today. I said how much I grieved his loss and shared her love for this extraordinary man. His daughters will miss him. Their families will miss him. We will miss him. And this institution will miss him.

Mr. GRAVES of Louisiana. Madam Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Maryland for his remarks.

Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Madam Speaker, Don Young served in this Chamber for nearly five decades, for nearly 50 years. Prior to that, he was a teacher, a trapper, a gold miner, a boat captain, a legislator—an incredible background for somebody to serve in this Chamber, such a diverse background and diverse experiences.

I was in a meeting with him last year at the White House, and he stood up and said to President Biden: I need a picture with you. I have had a picture with nine other Presidents, and I need one with you.

I mean, just think about that, with nine other Presidents that he worked with, that he served with. The history there is unbelievable.

Everybody in this Chamber has a Don Young story. Everybody has an interaction that is incredibly memorable.

One of them that I won't forget is when we were at the White House and a bill was being signed into law that opened up the energy production in Alaska in an area—I think he told me he had been working on this for 30 years. He was so excited about it, and he turned around, looks back, and says: What I lack in intelligence, I make up for in perseverance.

Thirty years to get something done, but he wasn't going to stop.

There are so many stories about Don Young and that famous knife. That knife has been pulled out and involved in so many stories across that 50 years. I will bet that everybody in this Chamber has a story about that knife.

I believe there have been over 2,170 Members of the House who served with Don Young, and I think that all of them have a story of the knife.

I was standing in the back of the Cannon Caucus Room during a Conference meeting where there was a heated discussion about changes in indirect spending, and Don Young took it to the back of the room with the then-Speaker of the House, John Boehner. Don is right up in Speaker Boehner's face. I think that this is covered in Speaker Boehner's book. He got right up in his face, and he is yelling at him. Don takes that knife out—and to be clear, it was not open—but he had that knife right at the Speaker's neck. The Speaker's security detail starts walking in, and Boehner looks at them, and he is like, no, he is harmless.

There are so many stories, and they are all true—so many more. But I also want to say that while many people view this and believe this is the Don Young, the Don Young with the scowl that is portrayed in the media, I think this is the Don Young that so many of us actually know.

Don Young would swear. He would scream. He would yell. He would have his growls and his scowl. But this is the Don Young that we knew. He was a grizzly bear on the outside, but Don Young was a teddy bear on the inside.

I have been subjected to the yelling and the screaming and cursing and everything else, and I finally realized after years that I could just go to him and say, "Don, shut up," and he would just make that face and start chuckling, the biggest teddy bear of a man.

There is a lot more to Don Young.

This is Don Young and Congressman George Miller, who was the ranking member of the House Natural Resources Committee. This was in the late nineties.

Don Young actually enacted 123 pieces of legislation, one of the most successful legislators to ever serve in this body.

This picture was taken after years of negotiation among these folks. This is Congressman Chris John of Louisiana, as well as the famous Congressman John Dingell of Michigan and Congressman Billy Tauzin of Louisiana. This was landmark conservation legislation that these guys worked on.

Don recognized the art of the deal. He recognized when you could actually get something done working together with other people. I will say it again, with 123 bills signed into law, Don was an amazing legislator.

He was also tough as nails. Something that people don't know, and I will go ahead and violate his HIPAA privacy here: Don Young was scheduled to have back surgery this week. He goes to the doctor, "I have been having back pain," and folks will remember him walking around with a cane. He goes and gets a back X-ray and an MRI. He had a broken back. He had a broken back and was walking around, continuing to do his job fighting for the people of Alaska with a broken back. Don, I will say it again, was tough as nails.

Madam Speaker, to the citizens of Alaska, I would like to tell you that Don Young absolutely bled for your State. He fought for it; he defended it; and he bled for the State of Alaska. I will tell you that I know this because I worked for him. I had the honor of working for Chairman Young on the Transportation Committee, and it was always Alaska first.

There is a huge alumni class of hundreds and hundreds of people. I would tease Don all the time that I was the only person that was able to overcome the stigma of Don Young and make something of myself. I said that in jest, I want to be clear to the hundreds of Don Young alumni who are out there that is a phenomenal group of people.

Some people advocate for term limits in this body, and I agree. I think that term limits should happen. I think that some people when they are here for 2 weeks it is pretty clear that they should be term-limited.

But I will also tell you that Don Young, after nearly five decades fighting for the State of Alaska, he shouldn't have been subjected to term limits. He fought for that State every single day.

On the Wednesday before his death, he and I stood right over on the side of this Chamber, he was in his wheelchair, and we had a conversation. He was talking about the House versus the Senate. He was talking about how in the Senate, his senators had to work together and figure it out.

He talked about how, for Alaska, he was the people's voice. He was the only one. He was the people's voice. There was no delegation to fight with or negotiate with. It was Don—a State that is nearly one-fifth the size of the Continental United States; three times the State of Texas. Take that, Texas.

Many people believe that the fact that Alaska has one Member of Congress is because of a pesky little thing called the Census, or counting population, or the Constitution.

Madam Speaker, I submit to this body that the reason the State of Alaska has just one Member is because all you needed was Don Young.

Madam Speaker, I yield such time as she may consume to the distinguished gentlewoman from the State of California (Ms. PELOSI), the Speaker of the House.

Ms. PELOSI. Madam Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding.

Madam Speaker, I thank Congressman GRAVES for arranging this special tribute to a devoted patriot, a serious legislator, and endearing colleague and friend, the dean of the House, Congressman Don Young. I thank Mr. GRAVES for his leadership in putting this together. I am pleased to join our distinguished Democratic leader, Mr. HOYER, who is still here on the floor now for this.

Madam Speaker, this morning, Congress had the sad and official honor of welcoming Congressman Young back to the Capitol to lie in state in Statuary Hall. As Speaker, it was my solemn privilege to join in paying tribute to this legendary leader, as his historic public service brought luster to the Congress and to the country.

It was always clear that Don was passionate about his position and his patriotism, and about working in this institution to make a difference.

As an Army veteran, he was a force for ensuring our servicemembers, veterans, and military families got the care they earned;

As a former teacher and passionate advocate for quality education for all of our Nation's children; and

As a champion for Alaska—as Congressman GRAVES pointed out, and Mr. HOYER as well—he was relentless in delivering investments to his beloved home State, especially lifting up Native communities in honor of his late wife, Lu.

When Don became dean in December 2017, he said right here on the House floor: I love this body. I believe in this body. My heart is in the House.

He loved the House and the House loved him. Indeed, Don Young was an institution in the House of Representatives. As was said this morning, 49 years for the 49th State, The Last Frontier, which he loved; Alaska.

While a committed conservative, he was more than willing to work across party lines if it meant delivering for his beloved home State of Alaska. And as dean, he cherished the duty to bring Members together and to defend the dignity and integrity of this institution.

I, myself, was personally honored to be sworn in as Speaker two times by the distinguished dean, Don Young, in 2019 and 2021.

As dean, he cherished his duty to bring Members together, as I said. Despite political differences, many of us on the other side of the aisle enjoyed close personal friendships with him built on our shared reverence and respect for this institution.

His salmon dinners were legendary. His personality was similarly legendary.

While we are devastated by the loss of our dear friend and colleague, each of us has a duty to honor his unending love for the House and the towering legacy he leaves behind.

Again, I call to attention the fact that George Miller, who served with him wrote—it is online in The Hill—an article he wrote with John Lawrence as opinion contributors. But George Miller and Don Young were back and forth, chair and ranking member, on the Interior Committee and the Committee on Natural Resources. You have to read it because any one sentence taken out of context, you might not appreciate, but let me just read what he said at the end: "Saying you miss Don Young doesn't mean he was right all the time or that he was invariably wrong; it means the House is diminished by his loss. He was a great Congressman and a great friend; Alaska was fortunate to have him."

May it be a comfort to his beloved wife, Anne, his dear children, Dawn and Joni, and his 20-some darling grandchildren that so many in the Congress and the country mourn their loss.

Madam Speaker, I include in the RECORD the statement of George Miller and John A. Lawrence.

DON YOUNG: A CONSERVATIVE WHO BELIEVED IN THE HOUSE

(By George Miller and John A. Lawrence)

Don Young, the Alaska congressman who died on March 18 at 88 and who is lying in state today, was a hard-nosed, in-your-face, unapologetic, old-line conservative. An ardent hunter and gun advocate, the walls of his legendary Rayburn building office looked like the workplace of an over-active taxidermist: covered in heads, hides and horns of the creatures that had the misfortune to cross paths with this former teacher, trapper and river boat captain. A descendent of the early conservationist movement that preserved open lands and wildlife so he could drill and graze on the former and shoot the latter, he had no patience with public land purists who demanded minimal human intrusions on the natural ecosystem. It is fair to say he was much more Safari Club than Sierra Club.

Don was not a subtle personality, as many discovered throughout his career. If he was unhappy with your criticisms or bored with your speechifying, he might pull out his hunting knife and hold it to your throat or jam it into the dais next to you at a hearing. The chief proponent of logging old forests and drilling the fragile coast, he was a hero to his Alaska constituents who sent him to Congress longer than any other sitting member, but a desecrating exploiter of the public's resources to environmentalists, especially those in the other 49 states.

But if Don was a throwback to an earlier age of gruff, sharp-elbow politics, he also retained that era's deep love for the House in which he spent the bulk of his life, where he chaired two committees and served as Dean—and where it was not considered an act of treachery or political suicide to reach across the aisle.

There is often a tendency when someone dies to sand off the hard edges and portray the recently departed as something of a saint. Don would be the first to acknowledge he was no saint, and he'd be furious with anyone who tried to sand off his rough edges. He would bellow like a wounded grizzly when he made concessions on the Tongass forest or the Alaska Lands law, but once the deal was struck in the negotiations, he would go out on the floor and defend the work product of his committee.

Even so, Don remained a pariah to most national environmental activists for promoting projects like the Trans-Alaska pipeline or drilling in the Arctic Wilderness (both issues on which we strongly disagreed with him), and many of his own colleagues were angry with him for pushing through the $400-million Gravina Island "bridge to nowhere" that became a paradigm of congressional pork and provoked Congress to ban earmarks. But the people who worked on those projects and would have driven on that bridge (it was cancelled in 2005) were Don Young's constituents, and he was doing what congresspeople have done since time immemorial: taking care of the district. And it's worth noting that the House, after a decade of prohibition, has resurrected—with greater transparency—earmarks as a crucial way of securing the votes to pass legislation.

Because he was very much his own man and did not suffer fools (or anyone else, for that matter) lightly, Don was skeptical of the new breed of hyper-partisans who emerged halfway through his long tenure in the House. Back in 1994, he was one of just a handful of Republicans who refused to embrace Newt Gingrich's "Contract With America," a collection of half-baked, rhetorical broadsides against the Democratic majority under which he had always served. Asked why he declined to embrace the campaign document, he matter-of-factly declared, “Because it’s a crock of shit.”

Later in the decade, Don unexpectedly joined with leading environmentalists to support the Conservation and Reinvestment Act (CARA) that offered up vast lands for both hunting and backpacking but also included greater protections for landowners and restrained federal land acquisitions. Down at the White House, plying the bill’s key sponsors with Diet Cokes as they happily missed floor votes, Bill Clinton professed his commitment to the bill to a delegation that included Republicans like Young who had just voted to impeach him. When Young left the West Wing after a couple of hours, he marveled, “No president has spent that much time with me since Nixon” three decades earlier.

Don helped build a stunning bipartisan coalition for CARA that passed the House with over 300 votes but stalled in the Senate. When asked why he could not get the bill past the upper house, he blamed “those crazy, god-damned right-wing bastards.” When he was reminded “Don, you’re a crazy right-wing bastard, you know,” he answered, “That’s true, but I know how to cut a deal.”

The House Don Young leaves behind is one where knowing how to cut a bipartisan deal is a much more difficult challenge than in his glory days, wielding the gavel at the Resources and Transportation committees. His departure marks one more loss of the kind of people who were willing to take tough stands and live with the fallout, good or bad, because it was vastly better than gridlock and cheap shot sniping.

Saying you’ll miss Don Young doesn’t mean he was right all the time or that he was invariably wrong; it means the House is diminished by his loss. He was a great congressman and a great friend; Alaska was fortunate to have him.

Ms. PELOSI, Madam Speaker, frequently we will say at a service, “I mourn with you.” We are all mourning in the House with Anne, Dawn, and Joni because we have all lost a dear, dear friend, and we are praying for them at this sad time. He was a blessing to our country. May Congressman Don Young forever rest in peace.

When I asked George Miller this morning, what word would you use to describe Don Young. He said: He was amazing. He shouted over the phone: He was amazing.

And how appropriate that the family had suggested “Amazing Grace” as the song to be sung at his service earlier today as he laid in state in Statuary Hall.

Yes, Don Young. Amazing. “Amazing Grace.”

Mr. GRAVES of Louisiana. Madam Speaker, I want to give tribute to Don’s wife Anne and to his daughters, Joni and Dawn, his sister, but his family goes well beyond that. I have a number of statements from former alumni of the Don Young staffer world that submitted statements.

Madam Speaker, I include in the RECORD several statements written by former staffers of Congressman Don Young: Michael Henry, Pamela Day, C.J. Zane, Sherrie Slick, Duncan Smith, Zack Brown, Jerry Hood, Jim Coon, Sophia Varnasidis, Lisa Pittman, Colin Chapman, Holly Lyons, David Schaffer, Jason Suslavich.

HOUSE COMMITTEE ON TRANSPORTATION AND INFRASTRUCTURE

(January 2000–November 2002)

Since the world lost the Dean of the House of Representatives, Congressman for all Alaska, husband to Anne, father to Joni and Dawn, friend and mentor, Don Young, I have been asked several times to share a story or memory. How do you sum up a person so impactful to your life, such a big personality and titan legislator? I have been frozen, unable to share much to encapsulate the man so important to so many, including my family.

What keeps returning to my mind is the dichotomy of Don Young. He was both gruff and held as large a heart as anyone I have ever met. He was strategic in what he did and said and will be remembered for what appeared as gaffs. He lived without bias and will be remembered for straight forward opinions. And he lived every day on his own terms and was one of the most selfless people I have ever met. Which is why no one version of Don Young could ever sum the totality of his complex personality.

While our society is unlikely to allow another trapper turned tugboat captain turn into a prolific legislator, we should cherish the brash honesty that accompanied his sincere caring and steadfast loyalty. While like all of us, I’m sure he would choose to handle many situations differently with the benefit of hindsight, I’m not sure he held any regrets. And for those who disliked, Don Young for the caricature he was made into, I will say it is that emotion which has fueled the love the rest of us hold for the Dean of the North. Nobody likes to be disliked, but that energy became part of his lore and so many fiercely loyal to him.

One thing that wasn’t complicated about Don Young was his proficiency as a legislator. The numbers simply do not lie. And, with his passing, we owe him the reflection of what he truly was—one of the greatest legislators our country will ever know. Don Young was the original sponsor of 123 bills signed into Law by 10 Presidents—8 more bills signed into law than the “Lion of the Senate”, Ted Kennedy advanced during his similar time in the Congress. And while that statistic makes clear his importance to the legislative branch of government, it was one I don’t recall him ever boasting about.

Don Young was far prouder of his service to the people’s body, the House of Representatives. Which spanned nearly 50 years. He routinely spoke about the 10 Presidents he worked with and the 2,178 Members of the House of Representatives he served with. It was the people and the relationships that mattered to him, not how many votes he made (or missed), getting the better of an opponent at a hearing or the deference that was paid to him everywhere he went. He appreciated a good deal and a real connection to the people involved. He loved his colleagues and everyone he met with. These were the people, as he liked to reflect, who taught him something new every day. And that’s what kept him in Congress for so long—new issues that accompany each Congress and the recalibration that comes with an ever-evolving body.

As I try to bring a story to close my reflection on Congressman Don Young, my Chairman on two full Committees, House Committee on Resources and Transportation and Infrastructure, I am drawn to the fact that one of the greatest negotiations of his career occurred during the time I worked for him. It was a negotiation that had him to working, and often arguing, with Republicans as forcefully as Democrats. And ably navigating the Senate as well as a formidable President Bill Clinton. At one point, his dutiful staffer (me) added in a relatively junior Congressman Richard Pombo (R-CA) to a high-level negotiation. Some of us were concerned that Chairman Young needed a conservative backstop so as not to give too much to the Democrats as we pursued a deal. The result was his getting his way with all the various factions and the crafting the most significant conservation legislation of the time. Unfortunately, this bill was not one of the 123 Don Young sponsored that became law, but nonetheless, one of his greatest legislative achievements. Even though the Conservation and Reinvestment Act (CARA) was controversial on the left and right, he won a vote of 315 in the House. That is legislating and that is what Don Young did best.

The speed in how fast legislators are forgotten is off putting, but Don Young’s legacy is secure. He was the best boss hundreds of staff could have dreamed to have. He empowered us to be creative. He was mostly supportive, even after a blunder. He always took the time to help us get better and never begrudged any the opportunity to grow outside his office with a career move. He spent every day with a servant’s heart. He worked to make the institution of Congress better and came to work each day seeking opportunities for Alaskans. We are all a less with his loss.

PAMELA DAY

TEAM DY

(2003–2020)

CHIEF OF STAFF

When I was hired by Congressman Don Young back in 2003, I had no idea that I would call him “Boss” for the next 17 years. I also didn’t know that when you joined “Team DY,” you instantly inherited dozens, if not hundreds, of new family members. Because when you worked for Congressman Young, you were indeed treated like family, and even after you left the office and moved on to your next job opportunity, you never truly left. The Don Young alumni network is vast and full of great people who have gone on to do impressive things, but we all know that we owe a tremendous debt of gratitude to Congressman Young for taking a chance on us and giving us the opportunity of our lives to do something important—work with him and represent Alaskans.

I was his only female Chief of Staff and the longest to serve in that position, 12 years. When I would tell people who didn’t know him that I was his Chief, they would look at me and wonder how I could stay in that position for so long. It was a tough job, but the truth is, he was a great boss. He was loyal to a fault. He trusted staff to do the jobs they were hired to do. He believed that he always had the best staff on the Hill and was always gracious when one of us would tell him it was time to move on. He never held anyone back and was genuinely happy for staffers who left because he knew that we would always be there for him. And in the days since his passing, that is exactly what has happened. We’ve all been there for each other. Once a DY staffer, always a DY staffer.

The Congressman had wonderful press staff over the years, but he was his own best public relations department. There has been much written about his gruff exterior and, at times, cantankerous demeanor, but if you actually had the chance to meet him in person then you know that wasn’t who he truly was. I can't count the number of times constituents who had never met him came to DC for a meeting, nervous about sitting across from this giant personality and asking for his help. If you were an Alaskan in DC, you met with him; he always made time for them. They would be taken aback when he jovially swung open his door and bellowed, "Who do we have here?" followed by a big smile, handshake, and photo opportunity in front of the giant Alaska map. During meetings, he would share stories, compare notes about who was related to who and if he knew their relatives (most times he did), and then turn the floor over to them to make their presentation. He loved learning something new every day. He listened intently and asked thoughtful questions before signing copies of that picture that was taken just moments before and thanking them for coming in to see him. But my favorite memory of working for him is what would happen after the meeting. Almost inevitably, as they left the office and headed down the hall, someone would say, "wow—he's so different in real life!"

Alaskans will vote to send someone new to Washington to represent them, but no one will ever replace Congressman Young. He was one of a kind in every way possible.

I want Alaskans to know that he loved Alaska. He loved fighting for Alaska. And he never forgot what a truly awesome gift and responsibility it was to be the Congressman for All Alaska.

C.J. ZANE

DY CHIEF OF STAFF

(1980–1992)

FORMER STATE STAFFER

Many people who know and love Don Young know that he was obsessively "on time" for meetings and following the "schedule" whether in DC or traveling around Alaska. I was once traveling in Alaska with Mr. Young and his wife Lu as we did a series of stops in remote communities via small aircraft (flown by long-time Young friend Paul Hagland), which is the way a lot of Alaskans get from place to place. We were on a tight schedule and Don was getting really impatient because Lu and I were not plane-side ready to go. We were each using the restroom in a small building near the runway. When we emerged and approached the plane Don growled about our being late. Lu said forcefully (as she could do), "Damn it Young, you just relax, we Have To Have Time To Take Care Of Our Bodily Functions!!" Needless to say, Mr. Young knew when he was bested in an argument and needless to say the rest of community visits went well and we're more or less on time, but everyone had time to go to the bathroom and there were no "accidents" on the plane. Even Don's vaunted punctuality had to yield to the reality of the situation and to the strength of his beloved wife Lu.

SHERRIE SLICK

SPECIAL STAFF ASSISTANT, KETCHIKAN, ALASKA
CONGRESSIONAL OFFICE (25 YEARS)

SENATORS STEVENS, FRANK MURKOWSKI, LISA
MURKOWSKI, AND CONGRESSMAN YOUNG

C.J. Zane and Congressman Don Young interviewed me and with the support of Senator Ted Stevens and Senator Frank Murkowski, hired me in 1987 to work in the Ketchikan Congressional Office. Subsequently working for Senator Lisa Murkowski. I retired after 25 years of service to the delegation. Congressional Record Volume 158 (2012) Part 7.

I have forgotten exactly what bill Congressman Young was addressing in Congress which had to do with the fishing in Alaska, but as he encouraged his vote, it was being televised and I had it on TV in the office. All of a sudden Congressman Young pounded loudly with his palm on the podium and raised his voice with some strong language to emphasize the importance of support for this bill which would support our fishing industry and the economy of Alaska.

Immediately my 2 phone lines began to light up in the office. Calls from people who had been watching the proceedings:

The first call I caught was an elderly lady. In a very soft and polite voice she asked me to thank Mr. Young for his work for Alaska but please convey to the Congressman her wishes that he return his manner of little more decorum in his passion introducing his bills. The second call was from a gruff, deep, loud voice: "I just watched Congressman Young fighting for fishermen and the industry . . . thank him and tell him to continue to give them 'hell' and keep up his passion in the good fight for the people and success Alaska."

Illustrating that Congressman Don Young could be could brash and boisterous or gentle and kind . . . but he was recognized as always being a strong, dependable ambassador for Alaska.

DUNCAN SMITH

TEAM DY

(10 years)

I was one of the few lawyers Congressman Young ever hired. I was his committee counsel on the Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee when he was Ranking Member on the Coast Guard Subcommittee. We had a good laugh when he received a Doctor of Laws degree from the University of Alaska. It was my pleasure to serve with him. May he rest in peace.

ZACK BROWN

DY COMMUNICATIONS DIRECTOR

(2019–2022)

In the days since his passing, we have rightfully celebrated Congressman Young's incredible accomplishments and recalled his larger-than-life personality. Specifically, much has been said about the gruff demeanor he was known for in the press. I came on to run Congressman Young's press operations over three years ago. Back then, all I knew about the Congressman was his reputation for being cantankerous and eccentric. Admittedly, he himself was responsible for some parts of this reputation, but the full picture has never been understood.

Here is the truth: Don Young did indeed run hot, but not because of anger or meanness. No, Don Young ran hot because of his warmth, generosity, love of his staff, and relentless passion for Alaska. "Team DY" was and always will be a family, no matter what era of his career we served in. Growing up, I never knew my grandfathers. It is appropriate then that at the helm of this family was Congressman Young—a man of great maturity, wisdom, and grit who always had your back. Through him, I learned how to take on life with his independent spirit and unyielding authenticity. Team DY laughed, celebrated, and stood together on behalf of Alaska. Congressman Young was with us every step of the way, working just as hard as we did. The frequent downtime in between votes, meetings, and travels across the state gave us treasured time with the boss we loved. Over the years, this bond between the Congressman and his staff only grew stronger, and his loyalty to us underscored just how much our team meant to him.

Like so many others, the Congressman took a chance on me and changed my life. He empowered me to always improve myself and be there for those around me. He truly meant the world to me, and I will never let anyone forget the work he did for those around him. I was with him at the end, and it has been difficult to process everything that happened. In the hours and days after he passed, I felt enormous grief and anger over my chance presence on-site as he left this earth. But as I have had time to reflect, I now see this as a blessing. The Congressman always trusted us to do the jobs we were hired to do. On his final day on this earth, it was a tremendous honor to support this incredible man at the end of his life, and to put the skills he taught me to use by being there for Anne and getting him back to the institution he loved. That was my final assignment from the Congressman, and I hope I made him proud. I'll miss this irreplaceable man dearly. I take comfort knowing that his indomitable spirit and unrelenting optimism will always be my North Star.

JERRY HOOD

DIRECTOR OF STATE AFFAIRS

(2006–2009)

Our friendship spanned more than four decades. He was truly a legend in his own time. He accomplished much. You can travel the entire State of Alaska and everywhere you look you will see his accomplishments. Don's fingerprints are in every nook and cranny of the state. He loved Alaska but I will let others tell you of all he did, and there is much to tell.

If I could describe Don Young in one word it would be: LOYAL. Yes, LOYAL in all caps. He was LOYAL to a fault. Once he gave you his loyalty it was forever. He never gave up on you even though you may have let him down. And sometimes that loyalty didn't serve him well. However, Don Young didn't expect loyalty in return for his. You see, that's the kind of guy he was. He was LOYAL to his state. He was LOYAL to Alaskans, he was LOYAL to his friends and he was LOYAL to his family. I can assure you that every decision he ever made was first and foremost made in the best interests of Alaska and its citizens. Alaska is a much better place because of Congressman Don Young.

He spoke his mind. He told you what he thought. He never broke with his values. He was true to himself from the first day he took the oath until the day he died. Some say that Washington changed Don but I can tell you that up until Friday, March 18th, he was the same man as the guy I first met in 1976. There aren't many politicians over the course of history you can say that about. But then, he was one of a kind.

He went out the way he wanted. In the saddle.

My fondest memories of Don were the times when we were able to steal an hour or two fishing on the Naknek River. Just the two of us. Our favorite cigars, fishing poles in hand and for a few moments in time—just relaxing. We were fishing. We certainly weren't catching. But we didn't care. Farewell my old friend. I will miss you terribly.

JIM COON

STAFF DIRECTOR, AVIATION SUBCOMMITTEE,
TRANSPORTATION AND INFRASTRUCTURE COM-MITTEE

(2004–2012)

A former Transportation & Infrastructure Aviation Subcommittee Staff Director under Chairman Young, I recall several mornings when he would call me from his office. I knew he had someone with him because he always had you on the speaker phone—and when he did this he almost always had constituents from Alaska with him.

He would call and start out very nice, how's your morning, did you get your beauty sleep, etc., and then on the turn of a dime in his most powerful and loud voice he would say—"that bill you are working on for me, I don't want to see the word in that bill, not on time, do you hear me!!! And if I see it, there will be hell to pay. Have a nice day!" It was poetic.

SOPHIA A. VARNASIDIS RESOURCES COMMITTEE STAFF
(2004-2017)

I had stopped by Rep. Young's office to DY's Chief of Staff, Pamela Day, as I would often do at the end of the work day early in 2009. Rep. Doc Hastings had just taken over as Ranking Member of the House Natural Resources Committee, which DY held the previous Congress. DY came into Pam's office, sat down next to me and said "how you doing" young lady? They taking care of you over there?" To which I answered, "yes, of course" and thanked him for asking. He then chatted with us for a bit, and left for the evening.

I still makes me tear-up thinking about the kindness he showed me in that moment. He lost his Ranking Membership, and yet was concerned his staff that was held over under new leadership were taken care of. I went through 4 changes of leadership in my 13 years at Natural Resources, but DY was singular in his love for his staff. Invited us over to his home for Kentucky Derby viewing, threw the biggest Christmas parties, and stayed to hold court and tell stories in his office for hours. His personality was bigger than life, but so was his heart. The media loved to cover him in his more animated moments, but his real friends and those who worked for him knew him to be fiercely loyal, and a caring and kind soul. The true King in the North. May his memory be eternal.

LISA PITTMAN
DEPUTY CHIEF COUNSEL, COMMITTEE ON RESOURCES
(1995-2001)
CHIEF COUNSEL

DY's first wife, Mrs. Lu Young, attended the first Committee on Resources markup chaired by DY and sat in the back row. Halfway through, she sent a note up to the Chairman. We were a little nervous about what she might say. Mrs. Young may have been petite, but she was fierce and thoroughly had the big gruff Don Young wrapped around her little finger. The note, which he opened in front of me (I sat to his immediate left during markups) said "Smile more." And he did.

Don Young was also instrumental in the House rules change that allowed certain votes to be postponed and then voted in series in committee. Like many other non-exclusive committees, the Committee on Resources' members served on multiple committees and given scheduling demands often had to be in two places at once. Maintaining quorums and vote margins was increasing difficult. DY successfully argued to the Parliamentarian, House leadership and the Rules Committee that if the Speaker could allow such action on the Floor, the practice should be allowed in committee. As one of the most active committees in the House, the Committee on Resources certainly took advantage of the rule to produce more substantive bills for the floor than just about any other committee. And staff had fewer heart attacks.

Finally, DY taught me to always bring at least three copies of any remarks/talking points staff had prepared for him to the House Floor. I'd usually hand him one when he first reached the chamber and settled back in the unofficial Don Young seat on the aisle in the last row of the right rear of the chamber. Somehow he inevitably managed to misplace it before our bill was called up (no doubt distracted by the many Members who stopped by to talk to him). He'd often signal me to give me another copy before we began. I keep the third in the front of my Floor notebook for when he ambled down the aisle to take his place at the manager's table, sometimes with the talking points out of order or missing a page. It didn't really matter much anyway—he rarely followed the script and often spoke more eloquently from the heart than any words typed out by staff.

COLIN CHAPMAN

A story from my tenure as Chief of Staff, 1997-2002 on the mischievous side of Chairman Young: In the late nineties and early 2000's, the Alaska delegation was at one of its highest points as far as seniority and power was concerned. The House and the Senate were controlled by the Republicans. All three members of the delegation, Rep. Young, Sen. Stevens, and Sen. Frank Murkowski, had 20 or more years of seniority. They were each Chairman of powerful committees. They were each, in their own right, a powerful Member of Congress that liked to control legislation and have things done THEIR WAY! And they each had the strong, sometimes combustible, personality you might expect of a Senior Member of Congress with Alaskan heritage.

In public, the Alaska delegation created and performed as a united front. But the delegation meetings—That was a different story . . . In the late 90's, the delegation was working on opening Arctic National Wildlife Refuge (ANWR), an ongoing battle that replayed Congress after Congress. I remember one delegation meeting where ANWR was the primary discussion topic. The delegation was trying to decide how to best move the legislation, and as always, the Senate side strategy was the sticking point. Sen. Murkowski wanted to move the legislation via the committee of jurisdiction, Energy & Natural Resources, which he just happened to Chair. Sen Stevens wanted to move it via an Appropriations and Reconciliation process, a route that he controlled as Chairman of Appropriations. Don Young's position was for the Senate to pull their heads out of the . . . sand, pass the bill in whichever way they could, and he would get it done on the House side.

At one particular meeting, held on Sen Stevens' turf in his Capitol hideaway office, Chairman Young and Chairman Murkowski were present at the appointed time with their Chiefs of Staff. Stevens was late. After about 15 minutes of waiting, the Junior Senator was getting antsy. He had explained his plan for the ENR Committee while waiting and why his committee was the best option. After about 20 minutes of waiting, Sen. Stevens waltzed into the room. Effusively apologizing for being late and launching into his plan of why the Appropriation route was so much better than the ENR route. Having just listened to the 15 minute ENR pitch, Chairman Young knew that nothing would get accomplished at this meeting because the Senate delegation's path forward was still unclear.

Mr. Young, who was standing in between the two Senators, popped off a comment about how the one Senator thought the other Senator didn't have a clue what he was talking about. This launched the two Senators into a heated personal argument. DY looked at me, chuckled, and said, "Let's go Colin, my work here is done . . ." As we left, DY was still chuckling to himself and commented about how much fun it was to light the fuse and walk out of the room.

As always, the delegation circled the wagons and pushed forward with a united front.

The ANWR fight wasn't successful that year, but Chairman Young did eventually see it through!

HOLLY WOODRUFF LYONS

My favorite memory of Chairman Young was during my first year-and-a-half as a Committee staffer. I have to admit I was initially a bit intimidated by Chairman Young. However, that all changed in 2003. In October of that year, a toy gun was brought to the House Offices by a staffer as part of a Halloween costume. It set off a security scare and the Capitol was locked down for several hours as the police looked for the "gun".

I happened to be on the Floor with a few other T&I Members and staff as we had a bill on the schedule. Chairman Young was with us. There was quite a bit of confusion that day and things were already tense in the post-9/11 world. I will never forget how Chairman Young chose to come over and sit with his staff. He spent the time entertaining us while providing a calm, steady and unflappable example. He regaled us with one story after another of his time on the Hill. These stories, as you can imagine, were both funny and amazing, but I will not repeat them here. He also shared with us his knowledge of the House Floor by pointing out things in the Chamber and sharing interesting historical facts. He literally had a captive audience, but we did not feel like hostages. After that day, I was no longer intimidated by the Chairman. He always commanded respect, but I had seen his fun and friendly side. (The soft side of the grizzly bear, so to speak.)

DAVID SCHAFER
COMMITTEE STAFF
(1984-2004)

A passage from the book "After: How America Confronted the September 12 Era" by Steven Brill, which illustrates Chairman Young's no-nonsense approach to his position as Transportation and Infrastructure Committee Chair, in the wake of 9/11:

"But he (Staff Director Schaffer) was also a stickler for legislative procedure, which means hearings and debate, and more hearings and more debate, and drafts and redrafts before anything important is allowed to pass. So he was shocked on Monday when is boss, Congressman Don Young, the burly Alaska Republican who chaired the Transportation Committee, told him that they had to pass a bill within a day or two. When he protested that something this important and unprecedented, not to mention expensive, never moved that fast, Young thundered, 'We're at war, we have to do this now.'"

JASON SUSLAVICH
DY-CONGRESSIONAL OFFICE STAFF
(2008-2015)

While Don Young focused on transportation and resource development, he was also a diehard champion of missile defense. In fact, what many do not know the leading role that Don played in locating our homeland missile defenses in Alaska. In 1995, the Clinton Administration adopted a national intelligence estimate (NIE) which made one very startling conclusion—namely that U.S. homeland would not face the threat of a missile attack until at least 2010. Absurdly, the NIE arrived at this conclusion by excluding threats to Alaska and Hawaii, as if only the contiguous forty-eight states needed protection.

Learning of this critical policy failure, Don jumped into action and introduced the "The All-American Resolution." This important legislation expressed Congress' view that "any missile defense system deployed to protect the United States against the threat of ballistic missile attack should include protection for Alaska, Hawaii, the territories and the commonwealths of the United States on the same basis as the contiguous States." Language from this resolution was soon adopted into National Defense Authorization (NDAA) for Fiscal Year 1999 and enacted into law. This language helped to set the stage for the U.S. to withdraw from the 1972 Anti-Ballistic Missile (ABM) Treaty, thereby allowing us to build our nation's first homeland missile defense system at Fort Greely, Alaska—a location which would protect ALL fifty states.

From that point on, Don continued to strongly support missile defense. He fought for defense budgets that were driven by strategy, not defense strategies that were driven budgets. For decades, he ensured critical military construction for our missile defense systems—located at Fort Greely, Clear Air Force Station, and Eareckson Air Station—expeditiously passed the House and were fully funded.

Then in 2017, amidst a resurgent North Korean threat, Don Young again championed our cause. He—along with Senator Dan Sullivan (the bill's original author)—sponsored the "Advancing America's Missile Defense Act of 2017" and led the charge to include it into the House's FY 2018 NDAA. Critically, this bill authorized an increase to our nation's Ground-based Interceptor capacity by 50% and it laid the groundwork for the construction of a new missile field at Fort Greely—Missile Field 4—to house that added capacity. During the debate on his amendment, the Congressman stated,

"I believe this reckless and calculated behavior by the North Korean regime speaks volumes to the importance of the strategically placed U.S. missile defense capabilities, including the Ground-based interceptors at Fort Greely, AK and other elements of the nation's ballistic missile defense system. These forces guard this nation and are the first responders against weapons of mass destruction."

He was right then and his words ring even more true today.

Mr. GRAVES of Louisiana. Madam Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. JOHNSON of Texas. Madam Speaker, today is a solemn day.

Today, in the National Statuary Hall of the U.S. Capitol, we paid tribute to the Dean of the House of Representatives, the late Congressman Don Young. And how fitting is it for Congressman Young to lie in state in National Statuary Hall. Much like this hall, Don Young is an icon—a pillar—in the history of the House of Representatives.

Longevity as an elected official isn't a given—it has to be earned. And for 49 straight years, Don Young earned the honor of representing Alaska in Congress, which he considered the privilege of a lifetime. Congressman Young loved Alaska, and Alaska loved him. By the end of his tenure, not only was he the longest-serving politician in Alaska's history, but also the longest-serving Republican Member of the House of Representatives in U.S. history.

Now, you may not think that a nurse from Texas and a frontiersman from Alaska would have a lot in common. And for the most part, you'd be right. But that never stopped us from working together when it meant the betterment of our constituents. We partnered on legislation that provided Pell Grants to Gold Star Families. We led an annual letter advocating for increased funding for the Innovative Approaches to Literacy (IAL) program. We spent long days and late nights together in the Transportation & Infrastructure Committee hearings. The list goes on and on.

We also had the opportunity to travel the world together on CODELs. He sponsored valuable and worthwhile trips that I never hesitated to sign up for. And the farther away we got from Washington, the closer we became.

My thoughts and prayers are with his beloved wife, Anne, with whom I had the pleasure of getting to know over the years, as well as his children, grandchildren, and all those who loved him. He will be dearly missed.

Mr. NEHLS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor the Congressman for all of Alaska, the 45th Dean of the House, and my mentor and friend—Representative Don Young.

Don was a soldier, a riverboat captain, and a teacher—but his true calling was serving and representing the good people of Alaska.

Throughout his 49 years in Congress, he was an icon and mentor to countless Members. When I first arrived here, Don was one of the first Members I met. In the short time I had with him, he taught me so much about the House and about being a true servant.

Don's love of his family and the people of Alaska was rivaled only by his love of the land itself. He took countless members and staff to his beloved state to show them the pristine natural wonder of his state.

This summer he was going to take me on a working trip to Alaska—and one of my great regrets in this body will forever be never getting to go with him.

Rest in peace, my friend.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mrs. FLETCHER. Madam Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days in which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on H.R. 2954.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentlewoman from Texas?

There was no objection.

WOMEN OF THE REPRODUCTIVE RIGHTS MOVEMENT

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the Speaker's announced policy of January 4, 2021, the gentlewoman from Texas (Mrs. FLETCHER) is recognized for 60 minutes as the designee of the majority leader.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mrs. FLETCHER. Madam Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to give all members 5 legislative days to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on the subject of my Special Order.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentlewoman from Texas?

There was no objection.

Mrs. FLETCHER. Madam Speaker, this night, and this Women's History Month, together with my colleagues in the Pro-Choice Caucus, I rise in support of the women of the reproductive rights movement. Women who stood up, spoke out, and reached out to protect the rights of women in this country to determine whether and when to become parents. Of course, this work required and requires to this day, a broad, bold coalition of people, people whose work has necessitated tremendous sacrifice and has resulted in tremendous progress.

Some of them were denied access to contraception, abortion care, and healthcare, and agreed to become the face of legal challenges. Some of them were strategists who shaped the arguments that became the fabric of legal protections for reproductive rights.

Some of them were healthcare providers who saw the tragic consequences of the denial of those rights. As a lawyer, I have known some of their names through the landmark cases that bear them—Griswold v. Connecticut, Roe v. Wade, and more.

Tonight, we celebrate them, we celebrate their courage, their commitment, and their purpose in articulating, advocating, and ensuring the rights to equality, privacy, and dignity that their work represents.

Before yielding to my colleagues who are here this evening in person and in spirit, I will start with one of them who holds a special place in this work and in my own life. As a woman from Texas, it has always been a source of great pride that some fearless Texas women have been leaders in this fight.

In the late 1960s, a group of Texas women came together to challenge our State's ban on abortion. They found as their lawyer and lifelong advocate, a young woman named Sarah Weddington, who is pictured here behind me. A recent law school graduate, Sarah Weddington was working for the University of Texas at that time. Perhaps not surprisingly, although she had good grades and a law degree, she had a hard time finding a job in a law firm. But she was working to help people solve their problems in Austin, and this group knew she would be a good advocate.

I heard her tell the story once that when the group came to see her, they told her that they thought the best way to deal with the law was to challenge the law itself. She said that she had a law degree, but she really hadn't practiced in Federal court before. She wasn't a courtroom lawyer, and she hadn't handled a case like this one. So she told them she thought they should get someone with more experience.

She recalled to us they asked her, Well, what would you charge us to do this lawsuit?

And she said, Oh, I will do it for free.

And they said, You are our lawyer.

And that is how she got the case.

Sarah called her law school classmate, Linda Coffee, and they agreed to work on the case together. Many UT law students and professors helped Sarah and Linda with the case. They heard from women, of course, and from doctors who treated women who had had complications from illegal abortions and women who had died from illegal abortions.

Through their work, the strategizing, the organizing, the lawyering, these trailblazing Texas women brought us the framework to protect the health, privacy, dignity, equality, and freedom of women and families across this country in the case of Roe v. Wade. And 26-year-old Sarah Weddington and this team of Texas women took that case all the way to the United States Supreme Court.

On January 22, 1973, the Court ruled in one of the most consequential decisions in American history, the Texas State law banning abortions, except to save a woman's life, was unconstitutional.

Sarah carried this fight with her for the rest of her life. She was elected to the Texas legislature. She served in the Carter administration where she helped get more women on the Federal bench. She worked for many years as a lecturer and professor teaching at schools, including the University of Texas.

This year, 2022, was the first one that we marked the anniversary of Roe without Sarah Weddington. She left a legacy for us through her life's work, the rights and protections for the health, privacy, dignity, equality, and freedom of women and families enshrined in that decision that has shaped our country and our opportunities as women for the last 50 years.

She was part of a generation of trailblazing Texas women who made it their life's work to make our world one of equality, opportunity, and possibility for women. It is fitting to remember, honor, and celebrate her tonight.

Madam Speaker, several of my colleagues are here to remember and honor other women pioneers, trailblazers, and heroes of the reproductive rights movement.

Madam Speaker, I yield to the gentlewoman from Michigan (Ms. STEVENS).

Ms. STEVENS. Madam Speaker, I thank my colleague from Texas (Mrs. FLETCHER), who has been someone I have deeply admired as part of the women's movement, as part of the women's choice movement, and who has made herself a leader in this body and a leader in Texas, and for bringing us all here tonight as part of Women's History Month.

Madam Speaker, I am rising alongside my pro-choice colleagues in honoring the women of the reproductive health, rights, and justice movement. Women, like my own mother, who remember being young and without choice—without choice over their bodily autonomy. Women like my own mother who marched for women's rights, who remember when Roe v. Wade came down.

Madam Speaker, I am here today to rise for the brave providers, the fierce advocates, the trailblazing women of color who established the principles and coined the terms, and all those who believe in a society where women are entitled to make personal decisions about their bodies, work, families, and futures.

For those who agreed to become the face of legal challenges to abortion access, the litigators who helped shape the arguments that became the legal fabric of protections for reproductive rights, and the women who have served as the jurists and the justices who wrote landmark defenses of these rights. We must protect their progress from destructive efforts in the States to overturn precedent that has saved countless lives and determined countless futures.

Rights are under attack. For nearly 6 months now, patients in Texas have been denied a constitutional right to an abortion due to a statewide law designed to restrict, shame, and penalize those who dare to terminate a pregnancy that they do not wish to carry to term.

Just last week, Idaho became the first State to copy Texas' model. We stand here in this Chamber across the street from another body of governance, our courts, the Supreme Court that might overrule Roe v. Wade. If it is overturned by the United States Supreme Court, my home State of Michigan would automatically join that list.

In fact, if Roe fails, if Roe escapes us, half the States in this Union will ban abortion entirely, leaving even more people across large swaths of the Midwest and South without access to care. This is not just an issue of bodily autonomy, my friends, it is an economic issue.

The U.S. is the only industrialized Nation without Federal paid leave policy, the emergence of COVID-19 has shown us the consequences of that foundational failure. Who are we to become? What Nation are we that will not stand up for its people's rights and the success of their families?

We all know that women have been disproportionately impacted by this pandemic, being forced to leave the workforce at record rates. When childcare and abortion services are both out of reach, a parent's financial future and ability to participate in our economy is severely jeopardized.

Let us not forget that the individual's most harmed by abortion restrictions are those who already face barriers to accessing healthcare, including women, people of color, members of the LGBTQ community, immigrants, young people, those living in rural communities, and people with disabilities. This is a wake-up moment in this Nation. We are here not just for history, but for our future.

When I was elected to Congress, on behalf of Michigan's 11th District, becoming the first woman ever to represent Michigan's 11th District. Sure, let's be proud then as we are now for the unprecedented number of women who are serving in this body. Those who are unequivocally claiming that we have the right to choose. Abortion is healthcare. Hear us say that in the Chamber and on this floor. All women must be able to make the decision that is best for them, their family, and their body.

Congress has a responsibility to stand with people in communities fighting for racial, economic, and reproductive justice, and we must commit to protecting the right of every person to make their own decisions about their bodies, free from discrimination and political interference.

It is with immense gratitude and reverence that I join my colleagues in honoring the women who have made it possible for so many of us to stand here today—to be here today. During Women's History Month, let us all recommit to supporting the activism, the organizing, the efforts all around this country, those who are watching and who are counting on us.

Madam Speaker, we will vote today, we will vote tomorrow, and we will continue to do the work of the people.

Mrs. FLETCHER. Madam Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. VEASEY).

Mr. VEASEY. Madam Speaker, I want to thank my friend from Houston (Mrs. FLETCHER) for putting this together because this is hugely important as we wind down Women's History Month.

I think about my first term here in Congress, and previous to serving in Congress I was in the State legislature. The Republicans in the Texas State legislature were always trying to tear down women's reproductive rights. It seemed like there was just an endless supply of bills that they had aimed at stripping away freedom from women across our State.

I was giving a speech out on the triangle and momentarily thought that I was back in Austin and accidentally referred to myself as State Representative MARC VEASEY, just because when you think about D.C. and the various States that are here, you think about people being able to celebrate those sorts of freedoms.

We are fighting that battle not just in Austin but in D.C. and other States around the country. But today we are here to focus on Texas. Again, I just want to thank LIZZIE FLETCHER and the other women that are a part of the Texas delegation.

Madam Speaker, I also want to thank the female State representatives in the State of Texas that really have just fought fearlessly on this issue for so long now. This past regular legislative session so many of the women in the north Texas delegation, where I am from, were very poignant in making so many points about how S.B. 8, a sweeping anti-abortion law, was going to disproportionately impact low-income and women of color and minority communities.

Imagine just barely being able to get by; you may be on SNAP; you may be a single mother; you may find yourself trapped in a low-income job and trying to accumulate enough money to be able to travel across State lines. You could have these services and get them done safely. It is sad to see us go back in time to where women were not able to have these services done safely. That is something that we have to continue to fight against, and that is why—whatever it takes—we need to make sure that this bill one day is reversed.

Passing the Women's Health Protection Act would codify Roe v. Wade and ensure that people can have the freedom to make personal decisions. I think that is something that everybody—regardless if you are Democrat, Republican or Independent, whatever you may happen to be—you ought to have the choice to make personal decisions. It used to be something that Republicans used to value, and it is sad to see them backslide so much in this area.

We need to make sure that we protect equal access to abortion care everywhere because it is essential to social and economic participation, reproductive autonomy, and the right for people to determine their own lives.

One of the things that really doesn't get talked a lot about on this issue is just really the number of Republicans that are against any sort of birth control. I see them, they come to my town hall meetings. They don't like to talk about it because they know that most people overwhelmingly, Democrats and Republicans, are for birth control. You hear them, they come and they say, no, no, no, birth control is wrong.

We had a lawsuit filed in Fort Worth in Federal Court to try to stop people from being able to get birth control. People need to understand that this is a larger battle. Right now it is abortion access, but believe me, Republicans have their sights set on people not being able to have basic birth control, just basic contraceptions, and they are trying to make that harder and harder for people to get a hold of. It is a slippery slope.

Madam Speaker, I want to thank my colleague from Houston, LIZZIE FLETCHER, for leading this hour because it is hugely important.

Mrs. FLETCHER. Madam Speaker, I thank Mr. VEASEY and I join him in his remarks that we are so grateful to our State legislators and the Members of our Texas delegation as we face these challenges at home.

Madam Speaker, I yield to the gentlewoman from North Carolina (Ms. MANNING).

Ms. MANNING. Madam Speaker, I thank Representative FLETCHER for holding this very important session.

Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the healthcare providers who have dedicated their lives working to ensure equitable access to reproductive healthcare.

Today I am honored to highlight the work and courage of Susan Hill of North Carolina, the former president of the National Women's Health Organization in North Carolina, and a fierce advocate for abortion access and reproductive rights.

Susan opened clinics across the country to ensure that women could access the healthcare they need, including abortion care, with dignity and safety. She focused her work on providing reproductive health services in the Southeast, despite onerous restrictions, so that pregnant women could make the best healthcare decisions for themselves and their families no matter where they lived.

In fact, Susan Hill founded Jackson Women's Health Organization, which is now the last remaining health center providing abortions in Mississippi. This very clinic is at the center of the case directly challenging Roe v. Wade that is currently before the Supreme Court.

If the Court decides to uphold Mississippi's abortion ban and gut Roe, it will be overturning nearly 50 years of judicial precedent and undermining women's fundamental right to make their own personal decisions about their bodies, their families, their futures.

□ 2000

Susan Hill never wavered in her commitment to protecting patients' autonomy and safety, even as anti-abortion protestors used arson, fire bombing, and countless acts of vandalism to intimidate her into closing down her clinics.

Today, the stakes for reproductive freedom are more dire than ever before. Extreme abortion bans and medically unnecessary restrictions are sweeping our country and posing an enormous threat to women's health and constitutional rights. Decimating abortion access diminishes our equality under the law.

The consequences of these egregious attacks most acutely impact communities of color and underserved communities which already face barriers to healthcare.

Healthcare cannot just be for the few, as the legacy of Susan Hill reminds us. All people deserve access to the reproductive care they need, free from political interference, discrimination, and harassment.

Years ago, I spoke on a panel about abortion rights with a physician who had done his residency in Philadelphia before the passage of Roe v. Wade. He told us about his experience working in the emergency room, trying to save desperate women who were near death from botched back-alley abortions, women who suffered irreparable damage, women who didn't make it.

And he told us that history has shown there will always be abortions. The only question is whether abortions will be safe and whether they will be available to those who are faced with terribly difficult choices.

We must ensure that all people have the right to control their own reproductive decisions, and have the right to the reproductive healthcare they need.

I am proud to recognize a fellow North Carolinian, Susan Hill, and to share her commitment to ensuring that abortion rights are protected, and comprehensive reproductive healthcare is accessible to all who need it.

Mrs. FLETCHER. Madam Speaker, I thank Representative MANNING for the important points that she made, talking about the importance of access to safe abortions.

Even today, the World Health Organization estimates that 47,000 women die from unsafe abortions each year. That is 13 percent of maternal deaths worldwide.

Madam Speaker, at this time, I yield to the gentlewoman from New Hampshire (Ms. KUSTER).

Ms. KUSTER. Madam Speaker, as an adoption attorney for 25 years, I worked with more than 300 birth mothers making the most personal, private decisions of their entire lives. They consulted their families, their loved ones, their doctors, but not one of these birth mothers looked to the government to make this choice for them.

On January 1 of this year, sweeping abortion restrictions took effect in my home State of New Hampshire; in fact, the first abortion ban ever to pass the New Hampshire legislature and to be signed into law by our Governor, Chris Sununu, making it illegal to terminate a pregnancy after 24 weeks, with no exceptions; no exceptions for rape, for incest, or for fatal fetal anomaly; and requiring every person seeking an abortion to undergo an invasive ultrasound.

This new law places a felony penalty and fine of up to $100,000 for doctors who violate the law, making New Hampshire a less desirable place for doctors to work, and for patients to seek care.

Granite State women and families are already feeling the impact of this harmful, regressive abortion ban.

Earlier this year, a constituent of mine, the daughter of a dear friend, reached out to tell me her story and how this law is impacting families like hers across New Hampshire.

Madam Speaker, 38-year-old Lisa, has a beautiful 1-year-old daughter at home and she is now pregnant with twins. Twenty-one weeks into her pregnancy, her doctors told her what no parent wants to hear: One of her twins had no chance of surviving outside the womb, and that twin was threatening the life of her other healthy twin.

Because of New Hampshire's abortion ban that makes no exceptions for late-term complications, fetal viability, or even maternal well-being, Lisa and her husband have had to travel out of state to get a second opinion on their options.

After traveling four States away for a specialist consultation, they learned that an abortion had the potential to save the healthy twin's life, and even the life of the mother. But in the time that it took to get this second opinion and to weigh her options, Lisa was past the 24-week threshold in New Hampshire, and she will be unable to get this treatment, even if it becomes medically necessary.

If Lisa chooses to deliver her healthy twin in New Hampshire, she runs the risk of losing both babies, and even her own life, as her doctors would not be allowed to perform an abortion, even to save her healthy twin's life or her own life.

Lisa and her family are already facing an impossible circumstance, which is being made even more excruciating by the New Hampshire extreme abortion ban.

Safe access to reproductive and preventative healthcare, including abortion, is essential to the health and well-being of women and their families in New Hampshire and throughout this country. Restrictions on access to reproductive care ignore the complexities of maternal health and threaten the life of countless mothers and their children.

New Hampshire's new abortion ban, and those like it across the country, are harming families, and putting politics above health and science. This I know: New Hampshire voters believe in less government interference in people's personal and private lives.

I want to thank Lisa for sharing her story, and for shedding light on the tragic impact that this abortion ban is having on mothers and grandmothers and husbands and families like her across the Granite State and throughout this country.

Madam Speaker, I thank the representative from Texas for this opportunity.

Mrs. FLETCHER. Madam Speaker, I thank Representative KUSTER for her leadership and for her impactful story here tonight, one of the many women of this reproductive rights movement.

Madam Speaker, I yield to the gentlewoman from Florida (Ms. LOIS FRANKEL).

Ms. LOIS FRANKEL of Florida. My, my, my, Madam Speaker. Here we go again.

I thank my friend from Texas for yielding. I keep saying that I think Texas and Florida, we are in the race, the race for the worst. I don't know who is winning that one.

But like the gentlewoman, those of us in Florida, we have been stuck in an unfortunate situation, battling with a State government that is actively harming the people they are supposed to protect and it is especially true when it comes to abortion care.

They call us the so-called Freedom State. We are the Freedom State, which means that the Republican legislature and the Governor believe they have the freedom to deny people the freedom to make one of life's most personal decisions, and that is whether to bring a child into the world.

Madam Speaker, I remember the days before Roe v. Wade, and I was 15 years old, and I—literally, one of my friends was missing for a day, so I went looking for her and I found her in a bed covered with blood. And what had happened is she had had a back-alley abortion, nearly died. We got her to the hospital in time, but how I wish she could have gone and gotten proper care. That is just an example.

Here's the thing. You can have all the laws you want to outlaw abortion. You are not going to stop abortion. All these laws do are try to stop illegal abortion, and they unfairly burden the people with the least amount of money, because if you are wealthy you find a place where you can get a safe abortion.

But I want to say, I really come to this as a mother, and as a grandmother. Those who know me know that I—and my grandchildren call me Lolo. I come to this as a Lolo. Really, it is the best part of my life. What a blessing my son is to me and my two grandchildren.

But I also know the responsibility. I know the responsibility, which really brings us to why we are here today because, whether or not to bring a child into the world, as I mentioned, I think is one of the most important personal decisions that a person makes.

They shouldn't have to call their Congressperson, their Governor, their State legislature.

So tonight, I want to thank the gentlewoman because we are recognizing those people that we know in our community who have really been advocates or providers for the healthcare that people deserve and need.

So I am going to recognize two courageous leaders from my home State of Florida, champions for women's access to full healthcare, not just abortions, which should be part, but all kinds of care. And they are Lillian Tomayo and Mona Reis.

And like the gentlewoman's advocates that she talked about tonight, they are fighting against, they have been fighting against an unending tide of terrible State laws that try to undermine reproductive freedom.

And once again, once again, this time we are following Texas, we are on the cusp of enacting a dangerous restrictive abortion ban, which is a ban on abortion after 15 weeks that is now awaiting our Governor's certain signature.

But for decades, Lillian and Mona, in their own capacities, have fought hard for reproductive freedom in our State. For more than 20 years, Lillian has been advocate for women, teens, the LGBTQ community as president and CEO of Planned Parenthood of South, East, and North Florida.

And Mona Reis is the founder of the Presidential Women's Center in Palm Beach County. She ran that for about 40 years, and she faced threats, arson.

There was a period of time, even today, abortion providers are under danger. Some have even been murdered.

But both have persisted. They have persisted to make sure our underserved communities have access to the healthcare that they need. And they have been essential in providing access to reproductive care, and the freedom that people deserve in our State.

Each are going on a new journey, but they leave a legacy of unrelentless pursuit of reproductive freedom. I say thank you to Mona and to Lillian.

Mrs. FLETCHER. Madam Speaker, I thank Representative FRANKEL for sharing her stories from Florida.

At this time, it is a pleasure to yield to the gentleman from the great State of Texas (Mr. GREEN).

□ 2015

Mr. GREEN of Texas. Madam Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding the time.

Madam Speaker, and still I rise. I rise tonight to take a stand on behalf of the pro-choice movement and women who have had to make the choice, women who have had to make this tough decision, this choice.

Let's get the record straight. Henceforth and forevermore, let it be known that you are either pro-choice or you are anti-choice.

It is easy to be anti-choice when you don't have to make the choice. It is easy to be anti-choice when it is not your wife who was raped. It is easy to be anti-choice when it is not your daughter who has had the incestuous relationship, without her permission, I always say. But even with her permission, it is wrong.

It is easy to make the choice when it is not your child or your wife. You can be anti-choice then. But I only wonder how many persons who have been anti-choice, when confronted with having to make this choice, became pro-choice. We will never know. You can be anti-choice before the public and then pro-choice when it serves your purpose.

I sincerely believe, Madam Speaker and Mrs. FLETCHER, that the long arm of the law has no place in a woman's womb. This is not where the law belongs. This is the property of a woman, and she should make these decisions herself with those who she has trust in, those who care for her, those who she believes will help her to come to the right conclusions.

I stand for those who are pro-choice. For those who are anti-choice, I say: Thank God you have not had to make the choice.

Mrs. FLETCHER. Madam Speaker, I thank Representative GREEN.

Madam Speaker, I have worked closely with my colleagues in the Pro-Choice Caucus to identify stories that need to be told during this Special Order hour this evening. I am grateful to my colleagues who have taken to the floor this evening to share with us the stories of their constituents, to share with us the stories of those who they know have been fighters for reproductive rights, for reproductive justice, for choice.

One of our Pro-Choice Caucus leaders could not be with us tonight but has submitted a statement for the record that I would like to read now. From Representative JUDY CHU:

"I rise today to honor the women of the abortion rights movement who have come before us. I remember what it was like before the days of Roe. So today, I am helping to remember and honor those who gave their lives, who put their own bodies in harm's way so that we might have the ability to decide what to do with ours.

"Women like Pam, who lives in my district in Pasadena, California—Pam is in her seventies, retired, and spends her time volunteering in her community. But Pam told me about a time when she was 22 years old. It was 1969, and even though she and her partner had been using birth control, Pam found out she was pregnant.

"This happened in the days before Roe v. Wade, which meant that her options were limited. That is how Pam found herself standing on the curb of an airport in Mexico City, waiting for someone to pick her up. Finally, a large black car came up and rolled down the window. 'Are you Pam?' the driver asked. 'Yes,' she replied, and got in the car, forced to trust and hope for the best. Thankfully, Pam wasn't hurt during this experience, but she told me she has never forgotten the fear and uncertainty of putting her life in the hands of a stranger who could have hurt her and abused her, especially when we know that this is a procedure that is safe and can be done in a doctor's office, not someplace unknown and unsafe.

"That is why, now, Pam is determined to ensure that no one ever feels as scared and alone as she did that day. Pam volunteers at the Planned Parenthood Pasadena and San Gabriel Valley, serving as a support system to women who need a hand to hold or a shoulder to lean on. Pam is an abortion advocate in her community because she believes, like I do, that everyone, no matter where they grew up, what language they speak, or how much money they make, deserves to have a say in what happens to their bodies.

"I rise today, as part of Women's History Month, to honor Pam and so many others like her who were forced to make history so that others could have the choices that they were denied. The fight for reproductive rights would not be where it is today without advocates like Pam who stand up, time and time again, and demand that women have the right to decide."

Madam Speaker, this evening, the Pro-Choice Caucus and I also want to recognize the women who launched and built the groundbreaking reproductive justice movement. While women of color have long fought for these principles, "reproductive justice" as a term was coined in 1994 when a group of Black women gathered in Chicago ahead of the International Conference on Population and Development in Cairo.

Loretta Ross is one of a number of women who built the reproductive justice movement. She was part of the 1994 meeting and went on to co-found the organization SisterSong, which defines "reproductive justice" as the human right to maintain personal bodily autonomy; to have children, not have children; and to parent the children we have in safe and sustainable communities.

A scholar who teaches both at Smith College and who has published extensively on reproductive justice, she recently testified at the House Committee on Oversight and Government Reform in this legislative session.

Dorothy Roberts is another pioneer of the reproductive justice movement. From Pennsylvania, she is also considered one of the leaders.

There have been many leaders in our government and in our communities who we celebrate tonight. We, in the Pro-Choice Caucus, have identified a few women who we want to highlight this evening.

I will start with some of the lawmakers and legislators who helped pave the way, including Shirley Chisholm, the first Black woman elected to Congress in 1968. She was also the first Black woman to run for President. Throughout her trailblazing career, she was a strong supporter of reproductive rights.

In 1969, she was named honorary president of the National Abortion Rights Action League, NARAL. In 1970, she supported legalized abortion in her home State of New York. In 1970, she described abortion as an issue of economic and racial justice.

Louise Slaughter, a longtime Member from New York and chairwoman of the Rules Committee, during her long tenure in Congress, served as a founder and co-chair of the Pro-Choice Caucus.

In addition to championing legislation to protect and expand access to abortion and contraception, Representative Slaughter condemned efforts to expand the so-called conscience protections at the expense of healthcare access and was an early leader on marriage equality.

First elected in 1972, Pat Schroeder was one of only 14 women in the House at the time of the January 1973 Roe v. Wade decision. When a male colleague asked her how she could be a mother of two small children and a Member of Congress at the same time, she famously replied: "I have a brain and a uterus, and I use both."

Other figures who are large in the women's reproductive rights movement, of course, must include Ellen Malcolm, who, in 1985, led a group of friends in creating an organization dedicated to electing pro-choice Democratic women, giving them the credibility and resources that they needed through her organization, EMILY's List.

We began this evening talking about Sarah Weddington, and there are many lawyers and judges who have been a part of this movement at some time in their careers, including, famously, of course, Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg, Kathryn Kolbert, Priscilla Smith, and Linda Coffee.

Of course, we heard from several people tonight, several of our Members, about the work done in their local communities at Planned Parenthood health centers across the country. As we touch on some of these important women leaders in our community and our country, we certainly recognize the leadership that we have seen at Planned Parenthood health centers, including Faye Wattleton, who was the first Black woman to serve as the president of the Planned Parenthood Federation of America, as well as the youngest; Cecile Richards, who was president of the Planned Parenthood Federation of America and the Planned Parenthood Action Fund, and she is the daughter of the late Texas Governor, another champion for reproductive rights, women's rights, and women's equality, Ann Richards.

Alexis McGill Johnson, the current president and CEO of the Planned Parenthood Federation of America and the Planned Parenthood Action Fund, is in charge of and oversees Planned Parenthood's vital health services to 2.4 million people each year through more than 600 health centers across the country. She is a champion for social and racial justice, a respected political and cultural organizer, and a tireless advocate for reproductive freedom.

The National Abortion Rights Action League, which I mentioned earlier, has always had an incredible role to play in the fight for reproductive rights. Its leaders—Karen Mulhauser, Nanette Falkenberg, Kate Michelman, Nancy Keenan, Ilyse Hogue, and, today, Mini Timmaraju—have left an incredible mark.

The Guttmacher Institute and its current leadership under Dr. Herminia Palacio—the Guttmacher Institute's mission is to advance sexual and reproductive health and rights in the United States and across the globe.

There are so many people, so many women, who have come together around these issues, who have come together to protect the health, the equality, the autonomy, and the dignity of women across this country. Whether named or not this evening on the floor, those are the people who we celebrate tonight.

Madam Speaker, we began this hour with a celebration of trailblazing, fearless women from my home State of Texas. I am so grateful to my colleagues from Texas who joined me this evening and to my colleagues from across the country who spoke out tonight.

Today in Texas, and across the country, reproductive rights are under attack. The passage of the draconian Senate Bill 8 in Texas, which Representative STEVENS discussed, which Representative VEASEY discussed, has created a healthcare crisis for women and healthcare providers across our State. Sadly, but not surprisingly, other States are quickly following suit.

As we have seen, and as we have heard from some of our colleagues this evening, it is not merely abortion. Advocates with cases pending before the United States Supreme Court today, including Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health Organization, are arguing that the protections recognized in Roe v. Wade and Griswold v. Connecticut, which gave married couples the right to use birth control, that those principles should be rejected.

This is alarming. This is terrifying. This is not what the majority of Americans want. It is not what people have fought so hard for so long to achieve.

That is why it is so important that this evening we remember and honor the work that people have done to ensure reproductive rights, reproductive health, and reproductive justice. It is also important that we recommit ourselves to continuing that work.

As my colleagues noted, in September, thanks to the leadership of Representative JUDY CHU and the Pro-Choice Caucus, the House passed the Women's Health Protection Act to protect the right to access abortion care against restrictions and bans in every State in our Union.

Passing this legislation is a critical step toward creating a world where every person, whoever they are, wherever they live, whatever their circumstances, is free to make the best healthcare and personal decisions for themselves, their families, and their futures.

We must continue to defend and protect the fundamental rights essential to our autonomy, our dignity, and our equality that are represented in the case of Roe v. Wade and the Women's Health Protection Act.

In times like these, it is important to me to remember, and it is important for all of us to remember, that Texas gave us S.B. 8, but it also gave us Sarah Weddington, Loretta Ross, Cecile Richards, and so many other people who we talked about this evening and who we know have been champions for women's health, women's reproductive rights, and reproductive justice.

Mrs. FLETCHER. Like women across the country, from New Hampshire to North Carolina to Florida to Michigan to California, all of whom spoke this evening, Texas women have fought and will continue to fight for the right to safe, legal, accessible abortion care, to reproductive healthcare, and to reproductive justice. I am proud to be one of them.

Madam Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.
