The House met at 10 a.m. and was called to order by the Speaker.

PRAYER
Dr. Tony Foster, Restoration Worship Center, Greenwood, South Carolina, offered the following prayer:

Our gracious Heavenly Father, thank You for this great Nation that we have the honor to call home. Thank You for the blessings of this Nation for 247 years. The Bible declares: Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord.

Forgive us Lord, as a nation, that we have not always lived up to Your word or Your ways. But nevertheless, the Bible declares in 2 Chronicles 7:14: “If My people, who are called by My name, would humble themselves and pray, and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways, then will I hear from Heaven, and forgive their sins, and heal the land.”

Only You our God, through the power of Your spirit, can heal our land.

I pray for our leaders today in the U.S. House of Representatives, that we would become again one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE
The SPEAKER. Will the gentlewoman from Pennsylvania (Ms. DEAN) come forward and lead the House in the Pledge of Allegiance.

Ms. DEAN of Pennsylvania led the Pledge of Allegiance as follows:

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

WELCOMING GUEST CHAPLAIN DR. TONY FOSTER
The SPEAKER. Without objection, the gentleman from South Carolina (Mr. DUNCAN) is recognized for 1 minute.

There was no objection.

Mr. DUNCAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to welcome today’s guest chaplain, Reverend Dr. Tony Foster of Restoration Worship Center in Greenwood, South Carolina.

Dr. Foster, a personal friend of mine, has faithfully served in Christian ministry for more than 29 years. In that time, he has preached the gospel in the United States and around the world, ministering in the United Kingdom, Canada, India, and other countries.

Pastor Foster is cofounder and co-pastor of Restoration Worship Center, which began in 2008 with just 25 members and the goal of being a place for the community to worship God while growing in their faith.

He is partnered in ministry by his wife, Joanie, who is watching from the gallery today. Pastor Tony and Joanie also have two sons, James and Trey.

His ministry seeks to equip Christians to stand for righteousness in the nations of the world.

Outside of the pulpit, Pastor Tony lives out his faith and his commitment to helping troubled youth become all God wants them to be by serving on the South Carolina Juvenile Parole Board. Dr. Foster also serves on the board of directors for the Charter Institute at Erskine, as well as president of Restoration Bible College. Most recently, he took another step to serve the community by being sworn in as a magistrate judge in Greenwood County, South Carolina.

I am proud to have Pastor Tony Foster here as the guest chaplain of the people’s House. I am grateful for his service to God and our country and especially the youth of South Carolina.

I pray that God continues to bless him and his family, the State of South Carolina, and the United States of America.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER
The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. NUNN of Iowa). The Chair will entertain up to five further requests for 1-minute speeches on each side of the aisle.

GOP OVERSIGHT STATS
(Mr. ROSE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the 118th Congress for restoring the oversight function of the House.

Since winning the majority, House Republicans have held 565 oversight hearings, compelled Biden officials to testify 561 times, sent 862 letters to the administration, and issued 45 subpoenas, and we are just getting started.

Our Founders never intended for a President to be able to bypass Congress through executive action, like forgiving more than $400 billion in loan debt with the stroke of a pen.

They never intended for a Federal agency to be able to circumvent the people’s Representatives and use their regulatory authority to advance so-called progressive ideas. The judicial branch is doing its part to curb the rogue—often unconstitutional—actions of this President, but the American people can count on this half of the legislative branch to conduct its critical oversight function, just as our Founders intended.

RECOGNIZING SUSAN RENNINGER
(Ms. DEAN of Pennsylvania asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. DEAN of Pennsylvania. Mr. Speaker, today, I want to lift the story of McClure, Pennsylvania, native Susan Renninger, or as her family calls her, Sue.

Sue is a loving mother and grandmother. She was diagnosed with lung cancer 6 years ago, yet she refused to let that hold her back. In the face of three rounds of chemo, eight rounds of radiation, Sue, an avid traveler, completed a remarkable feat seeing all 50 States, and she did not do it alone.

Sue’s children, Heather and Eric; and her stepchildren, Kelly, Paula, and Karla, often joined her, filling this difficult time with adventure, memories, and an abundance of love.

Now, her 9-year-old granddaughter wants to do the same.

We as lawmakers have so much to learn from Sue: her resilience, her perseverance, her fight. We have an obligation to fight for the millions of Americans waging the battle with this devastating disease.

Now, in the midst of this budget season, there is no better time to dedicate funds to beat cancer once and for all. That is why I am advocating for more than $140 million in research to end cancer.

Let’s support research. Let’s support screenings early and often. Let’s win this fight for Sue and everyone in all 50 States.

IN REMEMBRANCE OF DEB SLATTEN
(Mr. STAUBER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. STAUBER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in remembrance of Deb Slatten who tragically passed away recently.

Deb served honorably for both the Carlton County Sheriff’s Office and St. Louis County Sheriff’s Office for 36 years, eventually retiring as a sergeant. She was the first female sheriff’s deputy on patrol in Duluth and the department’s first female sergeant in Duluth.

Following her retirement, she continued to selflessly give her time and talents to our community as a member of the St. Louis County Sheriff’s Volunteer Rescue Squad. This squad is one of the very best in the Nation because of Deb and others’ commitment to our region.

Please take a moment to reflect on how precious life is and how critical these local heroes are to our communities.

Rest in peace, faithful servant.

KEEP OUR WORKERS SAFE
(Ms. GARCIA of Texas asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. GARCIA of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to sound the alarm about the extreme heat in Texas that is putting people’s lives in danger.

Workers in agriculture, construction, mail delivery, and landscaping are in danger and at risk for heat-related injuries or even death every day.

Many workers in my district are working outside at a heat index that is well above 108 for breaks for workers every 4 hours.

This bill puts people over profits, it puts people over politics, and will literally save lives. We need to act to keep our workers safe, and we must act now.

PAYING TRIBUTE TO WAYNE PARKER
(Mr. CURTIS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. CURTIS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to a good friend and dedicated public servant. Last week, Wayne Parker, Provo City’s chief administrative officer for two decades, announced his retirement.

Having served with Mr. Parker for 8 years, I know firsthand how impossible it is to fully grasp the positive impact of Wayne Parker on Provo City. His touch for good can be found in everything we like about Provo.

For many years he has worked without fanfare or attention. Those of us that know his work best know that everything from our vibrant economy to our fun downtown and so much more have been blessed by Wayne’s hard work and dedication to Provo City.

Because of his great leadership skills, Wayne was awarded the 2020 Award for Career Excellence from the International City/County Management Association. This award was a recognition of Wayne’s impact on the quality of life in Provo.

I hope that his retirement brings joy and happiness. Those of us that call Provo home will never forget all he has done for us as a city. I know I will never forget all he has done for me.

CELEBRATING JACKIE ROWE ADAMS’ 75TH BIRTHDAY
(Mr. ESPAILLAT asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. ESPAILLAT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to celebrate the birthday of Jackie Rowe Adams.

This week, our communities, northern Manhattan and Harlem, celebrate Jackie, who is a powerhouse in northern Manhattan and Harlem.

Jackie is not only a union leader but Jackie is also a community advocate. After tragically losing two of her sons to gun violence, Jackie cofounded Harlem Mothers S.A.V.E., an organization dedicated to ending gun violence in our community, for which Jackie has worked tirelessly. Jackie continues to be a force of change for our community, particularly advocating for young people.

Let me tell you something, Mr. Speaker, her voice is the window to her soul. She has a tremendous soprano voice, and everybody enjoys her singing in the community.

We wish Jackie a happy birthday, and we look forward to hearing her singing in the community.

FIGHT TO PASS THE NDAA
(Mr. COLLINS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. COLLINS. Mr. Speaker, we worked a little late last night. We voted to get rid of this leftwing socialist woke agenda that has not only been crammed down the throats of the American people but crammed down the throats of our military.

That is right. We got rid of DEI and CRT. It is gone. Now we can get back to protecting the citizens of this country. We also are protecting the citizens of the unborn. We got rid of abortions that are paid for by taxpayers in our military.

We did one more thing, Mr. Speaker. We gave those serving a needed pay raise and increased their lethality so that they can stay ahead of China.

Mr. Speaker, we got rid of DEI and CRT. It is gone. Now we can get back to protecting the citizens of this country. We also are protecting the citizens of the unborn. We got rid of abortions that are paid for by taxpayers in our military.

We did one more thing, Mr. Speaker. We gave those serving a needed pay raise and increased their lethality so that they can stay ahead of China.

Mr. Speaker, we got rid of DEI and CRT. It is gone. Now we can get back to protecting the citizens of this country. We also are protecting the citizens of the unborn. We got rid of abortions that are paid for by taxpayers in our military.

Mr. Speaker, I urge the Senate to pass the NDAA today. Hold the line, negotiate, and fight for this bill when it comes back from the Senate.

GUN VIOLENCE EPIDEMIC IN AMERICA
(Ms. ROSS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. ROSS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to discuss the epidemic of gun violence in America, which continues to inflict bloodshed and heartbreak on our communities.

Last week, Americans were supposed to be celebrating the Fourth of July, but big cities and small towns across the country were once again devastated by senseless gun violence.

In October, my own Raleigh community joined the long line of American communities forever changed by a mass shooting. We should not have to live this way.

While we took a momentous step forward last summer by passing bipartisan, commonsense reform, we must do more. I am proud that the Raleigh Police Department is leading the charge through education, awareness, and prevention.

June was Gun Violence Awareness Month, but the call for action shouldn’t end then. Today and every day, we must work together to end gun violence once and for all.

NATIONAL DEFENSE AUTHORIZATION ACT FOR FISCAL YEAR 2024

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 583 and rule XVIII, the Chair declares the House in the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for the further consideration of the bill, H.R. 2670.

Will the gentleman from Minnesota (Mr. STABER) kindly take the chair.

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The Acting CHAIR. When the Committee of the Whole rose on Thursday, July 13, 2023, amendment No. 62, printed in House Report 118-142 offered by the gentleman from Missouri (Mr. BURLISON), had been disposed of.

AMENDMENT NO. 61 OFFERED BY MR. BANKS

The Acting CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 63 printed in House Report 118-142.

Mr. BANKS. Mr. Chair, I have an amendment at the desk.

The Acting CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

At the end of subtitle G of title V, insert the following:

SEC. 5. PROHIBITION ON USE OF QUOTAS BASED ON RACE OR ETHNICITY IN SERVICE ACADEMY ADMISSIONS.

None of the funds appropriated by this Act or otherwise made available for the military service academies for fiscal year 2024 may be used to discriminate or to use quotas in admissions on the basis of race or ethnicity.

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 583, the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. BANKS) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Indiana.

Mr. BANKS, Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chair, this amendment would prohibit the use of funds to discriminate on the basis of race and ethnicity in admissions to the military service academies.

Currently, all of the military service academies use race and ethnicity as selection criteria for admissions. Not only is this a violation of the Constitution, as recently affirmed by the U.S. Supreme Court, but it is a violation of the military’s longstanding meritocratic principles.

The military service academies are elite universities that train and educate the future leaders of our armed services. We want and need the brightest, the most fit cadets and midshipmen, regardless of their skin color and ethnicity. To consider immutable characteristics like race and ethnicity is blatantly discriminatory.

For our national security, we must uphold the ideals of our country and put hard work, dedication, and service above all.

Mr. Chair, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. STRICKLAND. Mr. Chairman, I rise in opposition to the amendment.

The Acting CHAIR. The gentlewoman from Washington is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. STRICKLAND. Mr. Chair, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chair, Mr. BANKS’ amendment to prohibit our Nation’s service academies from promoting diverse experiences and backgrounds as part of its missions policy will do nothing but weaken our military.

The Supreme Court recently recognized in its decision to leave service academies out of its ruling on affirmatively active that our academies are not laboratories for ideological gerrymandering. They are institutions that are foundational to our national security.

Our service academies are responsible for creating a higher education but also for training our Nation’s men and women to serve as global leaders. Many graduates will serve in the highest levels of our military and government, where success depends on maintaining an open mind, building diverse coalitions, and drawing on broad experiences. They will lead as part of a military that has never been more diverse, more capable, or more lethal.

Soon, nearly half of our servicemembers will be people of color, but only a fraction serve as officers and even a smaller fraction as senior leaders.

We learned bitter and painful lessons in World War II, Korea, and Vietnam, when leaders neither understood nor looked like the formations they led.

It is 2023, not 1952. If my colleagues across the aisle knew more about the painful history of this country, perhaps last night one of them would not have referred to Black servicemembers as colored people.

Let’s not move our country backward. I oppose this amendment, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. BANKS. Mr. Chair, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. GROTHMAN).

Mr. GROTHMAN. Mr. Chair, I thank the gentleman from Indiana for introducing this amendment.

I think it is a commonsense amendment. Right now, there are all sorts of rumors out there that when people are admitted to the service academies— who, after all, are going to wind up running our military, the one part of our government that cannot fail—preferences are being given and they are not always taking the best people that they can.

I want to point out something that is a little bit offensive about this whole diversity thing. Diversity for people like the Democratic Party, sadly, is so determined by your genetics or your DNA or where your ancestors were 200 years ago.

I will give you an example to show the foolishness of it and that the real goal here, I think, is to divide Americans.

If I am one-quarter Peruvian, I can identify as Hispanic. I can identify as Hispanic despite the fact I have never spoken a word of Spanish and never been south of the border in my life. The people who just want to divide America would say that I have a unique perspective growing up in a Milwaukee suburb, despite the fact that I am one-quarter from a different part of the world.

This is preposterous on its face, and it will inevitably lead to division as we are educating our military that they should look at people by where their ancestors came from, not as individuals.

This true racism, which is what it absolutely is because that is how they determine which soldier you fit into, has to be ripped away from our society and the military, in particular.

The idea that we have different viewpoints because of where our ancestors came from despite the fact that we have not been there and know nothing of them is preposterous.

Like I said, in addition to the divisiveness, you are going to wind up with people who are not necessarily the best people to lead our military. Anybody familiar with military history knows the important decisions that have to be made during wartime. We want those decisions made by the brightest people we have, not by people who have been picked based upon where their DNA went 200 years ago.

Ms. STRICKLAND. Mr. Chair, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. KIM), the ranking member of the Military Personnel Subcommittee.

Mr. KIM of New Jersey. Mr. Chair, I want to respond to what was just said. It is absolutely important that we set aside the color. Diversity does not mean we are talking about people who are less qualified. We are not talking about reducing standards. We are talking about recognizing one part of the decision as one part of many.

The question where it is the overriding factor. I agree with what Chairman BANKS said, which is that we want the best and brightest, but what we recognize when it comes to our service academies, in particular, is that this is a situation where we are trying to also build a force.

This is not just about an individual. Yes, we want the best and brightest, but we also want the most cohesive and effective fighting force for our country.

We recognize we are building an entity where our servicemembers are part of something bigger than all of them.

The Acting CHAIR. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Ms. STRICKLAND. Mr. Chair, I yield an additional 30 seconds to the gentlemen from New Jersey.

Mr. KIM of New Jersey. I think about this brief that was put forward to the Supreme Court that was written by former military officials that said: "The importance of maintaining a diverse, highly qualified officer corps has been beyond legitimate dispute for decades. History has shown that placing a diverse set of forces under the command of homogenous leadership is a recipe for internal resentment, discord, and violence."

This is written by former military leaders who are advising us to make sure that we let the military be able to control and be able to have the tools they need to build a force that our country needs.

Mr. BANKS. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1½ minutes to the gentleman from Florida (Mr. MAST), a real American hero.

Mr. MAST. Mr. Chair, I am amazed at the bigoted comments I am hearing from the other side right now, literally stating that units need to look a certain way. There have to be people of certain colors in these units. It is purely idiotic. It is dangerous.

War is not a game. It is always dangerous. It is very often deadly. I damn well don't want to see it where my life is at stake.

I just pose this quick question. I don't know how much time I have remaining, but I will bet you all over there can't tell me what my background is. Am I part Black? Part Brown? Part White? What am I? I yield the floor to you, Mr. Chair, if you want to answer that. What am I?

The Acting CHAIR. Members are reminded to direct their remarks to the Chair.

Mr. MAST. Mr. Chair, I will bet they can't tell me. I have service because you don't know what I am. You don't know that I am half Mexican. You can't look at me and see that, but you believe that units should be made up of something that you can't see and that you can't ask about. It is idiotic policy and dangerous for our servicemembers, and they deserve better from the other side.

The Acting CHAIR. The Chair would again remind Members to direct their remarks to the Chair.

Ms. STRICKLAND. Mr. Chair, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from New York (Mr. RYAN), vice ranking member of the House Armed Services Committee.

Mr. RYAN. Mr. Chair, I thank my colleague for his service.

Mr. Chair, I rise as a proud graduate of the United States Military Academy at West Point and a representative of the academy today. Whether my colleagues want to recognize it or not, particularly those far right, we have an increasingly growing diverse force.

As Mr. KIM said, unit cohesion, we can all agree, is essential and critical, both in the heat of battle and in training and preparation. This amendment would unequivocally, as you heard from retired military officers across the world, weaken unit cohesion. Even the considerably—to be generous—conservative Supreme Court has recognized the benefits of these service academies. Make no mistake, diversity translates into capability and lethality.

Ms. STRICKLAND. Mr. Chair, I demand a recorded vote.

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to clause 6 of rule XVIII, further proceedings on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Indiana will be postponed.

Ms. STRICKLAND. Mr. Chair, I yield myself the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. Mr. Chair, today's military leaders are unequivocal in their support of diversity and leadership. Joint Chiefs Chairman Milley considers it fundamental. Army Chief McConville calls it a crucial competitive advantage. Then-Air Force Chief CQ Brown called diversity an imperative. Marine Corps Commandant Berger said the core of America's strength lies in its diversity.

The American people expect and demand that our academies are given every tool and advantage to train leaders capable of fighting and winning our Nation's wars. Make no mistake, diversity is not a synonym with less qualified. We want the best. We want the brightest, the best. We need the most diverse.

This amendment attempts to weaken a concept foundational to our current and future military supremacy, that diversity translates into capability and lethality.

Mr. Chair, I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. BANKS). The question was taken; and the Acting Chair announced that the ayes had it.

Ms. STRICKLAND. Mr. Chair, I demand the vote.

The Acting CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

At the end of subtitle E of title X, insert the following:

SEC. 10. PROHIBITION ON USE OF FUNDS TO IMPLEMENT CERTAIN EXECUTIVE ORDERS.

None of the funds authorized to be appropriated by this Act or otherwise made available for the Department of Defense for fiscal year 2024 may be used to implement any of the following executive orders:

(1) Executive Order 13990, relating to Protecting Public Health and the Environment and Restoring Science To Tackle the Climate Crisis.

(2) Executive Order 14008, relating to Tackling the Climate Crisis at Home and Abroad.

(3) Section 6 of Executive Order 14013, relating to Rebuilding and Enhancing Programs To Resettle Refugees and Planning for the Impact of Climate Change on Migration.

(4) Executive Order 14030, relating to Climate-Related Financial Risk.
Mr. ROY. Mr. Chair, we have spent the better part of the last several days making clear to the American people that this side of the aisle wants to see a Department of Defense that is focused on its core mission, defending the United States of America, rather than divvying us up by race and dividing us and separating us.

I rise today to ensure that the Department of Defense is focused on its core mission rather than pursuing the political agenda of climate change to the detriment of the national security of the United States.

In 2021, Department of Defense spokespeople refused to say that China is a bigger national security threat to the United States than climate change. He called them equally important and said it doesn’t do any good to make a relative assessment of national security threats.

Secretary of Defense Lloyd Austin has said climate change is an existential threat to our Nation’s security.

Next week, Secretary of State John Kerry literally travels to China to discuss climate change, not China’s increased aggression against Taiwan, not its expansion in the Pacific, not its oppression of its people, not the fact that they produce two new coal-fired plants per week on top of the 1,100 they have while they are subsidizing nuclear energy because that fits within their politics.

If I ask nothing else, could we please just have a rational discussion that understands that this is a legitimate policy issue? It isn’t just a political debate. It is the fate of the planet and how we manage energy policy, both of which—I am going to take a real bold step here—actually impact national security. I believe that they do, and I believe that anybody would agree with that statement.

Please, defeat this amendment.

Mr. Chair, I reserve the balance of my time.
Georgia isn't even off the ground because of Federal regulation and interference. The fact is, we are subsidizing and promoting unreliable wind and solar while subsidizing the hell out of electric vehicles, and my colleagues on the other side want us to make ourselves reliable on China for their minerals and what they produce.

It is absolutely astonishing that we would turn over our national defense capability to China at this point in time to pursue this radical agenda.

Mr. Chair, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. SMITH of Washington. Mr. Chair, I would just note that we actually are making investments in nuclear power. It is expensive and difficult to develop, but the investments are being made. That is part of the agenda.

Mr. Chair, I yield the balance of my time to the gentleman from California (Mr. GARAMENDI).

Mr. GARAMENDI. Mr. Chair, I am actually quite amazed that we are allowing a political ideology to get in the way of reality and facts. The fact of the matter is that the U.S. military, more than a decade ago, noticed that the climate was changing and they needed to address it. Also, the fact is that the largest solar and wind energy systems in the Nation are in Texas, and Texas is dependent upon those for their power when a heat wave arrives.

Let’s be smart here. Let’s not let ideology and the fact that we want to get into a fight over climate change get in the way of good public policy. It is absolutely essential that the military build for the future, that they build for resiliency.

The Acting CHAIR. The time of the gentleman has expired.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Texas (Mr. Roy).

The question was taken; and the Acting Chair announced that the ayes appeared to have it.

Mr. SMITH of Washington. Mr. Chair, I demand a recorded vote.

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to clause 6 of rule XVIII, further proceedings on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Texas will be postponed.

The Acting Chair understands that amendment No. 65 will not be offered.

AMENDMENT NO. 65 OFFERED BY MR. DAVIDSON

The Acting CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 66 printed in House Report 118-142.

Mr. DAVIDSON. Mr. Chair, I have an amendment at the desk.

The Acting Chair announces that the Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

At the end of subtitle D of title XVI, insert the following:

SEC. 16. EXCLUSIVE MEANS FOR THE SECRETARY OF DEFENSE TO ACQUIRE LOCATION INFORMATION, WEB BROWSING HISTORY, INTERNET SEARCH HISTORY, AND FOURTH AMENDMENT-PROTECTED INFORMATION.

(a) EXCLUSIVE MEANS.—

(1) FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE PURPOSES.—Title I and sections 303, 304, 703, 704, and 705 of the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act of 1978 (50 U.S.C. 1801 et seq., 1823, 1824, 1881b, 1881c, 1881d, 1882a, 1886, 1881f, 1881g, 1881h, 1881i, 1881j, 1881k, 1881l, 1881m, 1881n) by which the Secretary of Defense acquires location information, web browsing history, Internet search history, and Fourth Amendment-protected information of United States persons or persons inside the United States for foreign intelligence purposes.

(2) LAW ENFORCEMENT PURPOSES.—A warrant obtained by demonstrating probable cause shall be the exclusive means by which the Secretary of Defense acquires location information, web browsing history, Internet search history, and Fourth Amendment-protected information of United States persons or persons inside the United States for law enforcement purposes.

(b) EXCEPTION.—Notwithstanding subsection (b), the Secretary of Defense may acquire the types of information specified in subsection (b) in exchange for something of value if—

(1) the information is aggregated or anonymized in such a way that it cannot reasonably be de-anonymized or otherwise linked to any individual or specific group of individuals; and

(2) the Secretary does not disclose the information to any Federal, State, or local law enforcement agency or to any other element of the intelligence community, or any official of such an agency or element.

(d) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(3) The term “Fourth Amendment-protected information” means information the compelled production of which would require a warrant, court order, or subpoena under law, the Secretary may not obtain that information from a third party in exchange for something of value without obtaining the warrant, court order, or subpoena that would be required for such interception, compelled production, or physical search or seizure.

(4) The term “Fourth Amendment” means the amendments to the Constitution of the United States of America.

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 583, the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. DAVIDSON) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Ohio.

Mr. DAVIDSON. Mr. Chair, the amendment I have offered would prevent the Department of Defense from purchasing data that would otherwise require a warrant, court order, or subpoena. The amendment would also end unauthorized surveillance practices.

The current government is currently circumventing the Fourth Amendment by purchasing location data, internet browsing data, and other sensitive information. The so-called data broker loophole is a severe threat to the right to privacy in the United States.

Freedom surrendered is rarely reclaimed, but we must defend our Fourth Amendment.

Government surveillance programs are routinely misused and targeted at the American people while the PSCI, in fact, admits it conducted 278,000 improper searches of American citizens in 2020 alone. If the government can buy its way around the Fourth Amendment, there will be few meaningful limits on government surveillance.

We need to pass this amendment. It at least stops the Department of Defense from doing that inside the United States of America.

Mr. Chair, I reserve balance of my time.

Mr. ROGERS of Alabama. Mr. Chair, I claim the time in opposition to the amendment, although I am not opposed to the amendment.

The Acting CHAIR. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Alabama?

There was no objection.

The Acting CHAIR. The gentleman is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. ROGERS of Alabama. Mr. Chair, I thank the gentleman for offering the amendment.

Ubiquitous commercial data collection and bulk data sales represent a privacy concern for all Americans. Companies and governments alike have access to once unimaginable amounts of user data through commercial channels. This development and the Fourth Amendment questions that come with it deserve full consideration.

I look forward to working with the gentleman on this amendment to ensure that these issues are addressed in a manner that does not unduly burden the Department of Defense relative to the rest of the Federal Government while ensuring its operational needs are met.

I think Congress will spend a substantial amount of time on the privacy concerns addressed by this amendment in the coming months, and I welcome that discussion.

Mr. Chair, I yield back the balance of my time.
This amendment is an important first step, and I ask all of our colleagues to unite and make it a fully bipartisan level of support.

Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. JACOBS, Mr. Chair, I want to thank the Gentleman from Ohio for your partnership on this amendment.

My team and I have loved working with you and your team on this issue and appreciate your commitment to making this a bipartisan effort.

Right now, an existing data broker loophole allows our government to make an end-run around our 4th amendment rights to access our personal information without a warrant, court order, or subpoena.

How? Because they’re buying it.

Cash doesn’t hold the same legitimacy and authority as a warrant—but right now, it’s treated like it does.

This is wrong.

I’m sure that many of my colleagues don’t want the Department of Defense to see what they’re looking at online. But there’s nothing right now to prevent that.

Our search and browsing history, location data, health information—all of this should be off-limits unless a court order says otherwise.

And that’s why I’m so proud to lead this bipartisan effort to prevent the Department of Defense from purchasing data that would otherwise require a warrant, court order, or subpoena.

Our amendment would rein in unauthorized surveillance practices and take a big step forward to protect Americans’ privacy.

I urge my colleagues to support it.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. DAVIDSON).

The amendment was agreed to.

Mr. ROGERS of Alabama. Mr. Chair, I rise to speak on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. DAVIDSON). The Chair understands that amendment No. 67 will not be offered.

AMENDMENT NO. 2 OFFERED BY MR. GREEN OF TENNESSEE

At the appropriate place in subtitle E of title XII, insert the following:

SEC. 1257. LIMITATION ON USE OF FUNDS FOR PRODUCTION OF FILMS AND PROHIBITION ON USE OF SUCH FUNDS FOR FILMS SUBJECT TO CONDITIONS ON CONTENT OR ALTERED FOR SCREENING IN THE PEOPLE’S REPUBLIC OF CHINA OR AT THE REQUEST OF THE CHINESE COMMUNIST PARTY.

(a) LIMITATION ON USE OF FUNDS.—The Secretary of Defense may only authorize the provision of technical support or access to an asset controlled by or related to the Department of Defense to enter into a contract relating to the production or funding of a film by a United States company if the United States company conditioned the provision of receiving the support or access—

(1) provides to the Secretary a list of all films produced or funded by that company the content of which was submitted, during the shorter of the preceding 10-year period or the period beginning on the date of the enactment of this Act, to an official of the Government of the People’s Republic of China (PRC) or the Chinese Communist Party (CCP) for evaluation with respect to screening the film in the PRC;

(2) includes, with respect to each such film—

(A) the title of the film; and

(B) the date on which such submission occurred;

(3) enters into a written agreement with the Secretary of Defense not to alter the content of the film in response to, or in anticipation of, a request by an official of the Government of the PRC or the CCP; and

(4) submits such agreement to the Secretary.

(b) PROHIBITION WITH RESPECT TO FILMS SUBJECT TO CONDITIONS ON CONTENT OR ALTERED FOR SCREENING IN CHINA.—Notwithstanding subsection (a), the President may not authorize the provision of technical support or access to any asset controlled by the Federal Government for, or authorize the head of a Federal agency to enter into any contract relating to, the production or funding of a film by a United States company if—

(1) the film is co-produced by an entity located in the PRC that is subject to conditions on content imposed by an official of the Government of the PRC or the CCP; or

(2) with respect to the most recent report submitted under subsection (c), the United States company listed in the report pursuant to subparagraph (C) or (D) of paragraph (2) of that subsection.

(c) REPORT TO CONGRESS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, and annually thereafter, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to the appropriate committees of Congress a report on films disclosed under subsection (a) that are associated with a United States company that has received technical support or access to an asset controlled by the Department of Defense for, or has entered into a contract with the Federal Government relating to, the production or funding of a film.

(2) ELEMENTS.—A report required by paragraph (1) shall include the following:

(A) A description of each film listed pursuant to the requirement under subsection (a)(1), the content of which was submitted, during the shorter of the preceding 10-year period or the period beginning on the date of the enactment of this Act, by a United States company described pursuant to subparagraph (A), and the corresponding title of the film;

(B) A description of each film listed pursuant to the requirement under subsection (a)(2) not to alter the content of the film in response to, or in anticipation of, a request by an official of the Government of the PRC or the CCP, for evaluation with respect to screening the film in the PRC;

(C) The title of any film described pursuant to subsection (a)(1), the content of which was submitted, during the shorter of the preceding 10-year period or the period beginning on the date of the enactment of this Act, including—

(i) the United States company that entered into the agreement; and

(ii) the title of any film described pursuant to subparagraph (A), and the corresponding United States company described pursuant to clause (i) of that subparagraph;

(D) The title of any film that is described in both subparagraphs (A) and (B), and the corresponding one or more United States companies described in clause (i) of each such subparagraph—

(i) that was submitted to an official of the Government of the PRC or the CCP during the preceding 10-year period; and

(ii) for which the Secretary assesses that the content was altered in response to, or in anticipation of, a request by an official of the Government of the PRC or the CCP.

(d) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(1) APPROPRIATE COMMITTEES OF CONGRESS.—The term “appropriate committees of Congress” means—

(A) the Committee on Foreign Relations and the Committee on Armed Services of the Senate; and

(B) the Committee on Foreign Affairs and the Committee on Armed Services of the House of Representatives.

SEC. 1308. MODIFICATION OF INITIATIVE TO SUPPORT PROTECTION OF NATIONAL SECURITY ACADEMIC RESEARCHERS FROM UNDUE INFLUENCE AND OTHER SECURITY THREATS.

(1) in subclause (i), by striking “or” at the end; and

(2) by adding at the end of the following:

“(III) to provide documented support to a defense or an intelligence agency of the applicable country; or”;

(b) PROHIBITION ON AVAILABILITY OF FUNDS.—

(1) In general.—None of the funds authorized to be appropriated by this Act or otherwise made available for fiscal year 2024 or any subsequent fiscal year for the Department of Defense for research, development, test, and evaluation may be provided to an entity that maintains a contract between the entity and an academic institution of the People's Republic of China, the Russian Federation, or any country that—
(A) is identified on the list developed under section 1286(c)(8)(A) of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2010 (as amended by subsection (a)); and
(B) is included on such list because the institution maintains a contract with the Department of Defense, an institution of higher education shall—
(1) submit the certification under paragraph (1) on an annual basis during each year in which the institution receives funds from the Department of Defense; and
(2) submit the certification under paragraph (2) on an annual basis during each year in which a contract is in effect between the institution and the Department.

SEC. 2. LIMITATION ON AVAILABILITY OF FUNDS FOR FUNDAMENTAL RESEARCH COOPERATION WITH CERTAIN INSTITUTIONS.

(a) LIMITATION.—Except as provided in subsections (b) and (c), any funds authorized to be appropriated by this Act or otherwise made available for any fiscal year for the Department of Defense may be provided directly or indirectly to an institution of higher education for conducting fundamental research in collaboration with any of the following:

(1) An entity of concern.
(2) An academic institution of a military, law enforcement, intelligence, or security agency of the People’s Republic of China, including any institution specified in subsection (e) or identified on the list published under subsection (g)(1), or any individual or entity acting for or on behalf of such an institution.
(3) Any component of the defense laboratory system in the People’s Republic of China.

(b) WAIVER.—The Secretary of Defense may waive the limitation under subsection (a), on a case-by-case basis, if the Secretary determines that such a waiver is in the national security interest of the United States.

(c) CERTIFICATIONS OF COMPLIANCE.—

(1) FUNDING CERTIFICATION.—As a condition of receiving funds from the Department of Defense, an institution of higher education shall certify to the Secretary of Defense that the principal investigator of the project of the institution that is applying for funding from the Department of Defense—
(A) is not conducting fundamental research in collaboration with an entity described in subsection (a) as of the date of the certification; and
(B) will not conduct fundamental research in collaboration with such an entity during the period for which such funding is received.

(2) CONTRACT CERTIFICATION.—As a condition of maintaining a contract with the Department of Defense, an institution of higher education shall—
(A) using publicly available information, perform due diligence on any academic institution collaborating or attempting to collaborate with, or intends to collaborate with, the contract; and
(B) certify to the Secretary of Defense that the principal investigator of the project of the institution to which the contract pertains—
(i) has not conducted fundamental research in collaboration with an entity described in subsection (a) at any time during the period in which such contract was in effect, up to and including the date of the certification; and
(ii) will not conduct fundamental research in collaboration with such an entity during any period in which such contract is in effect.

(3) FREQUENCY.—An institution of higher education shall—
(A) submit the certification under paragraph (1) on an annual basis during each year in which the institution receives funds from the Department of Defense; and
(B) submit the certification under paragraph (2) on an annual basis during each year in which a contract is in effect between the institution and the Department.

(d) REPORT.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—On an annual basis, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to the appropriate congressional committees a report on the compliance of the Department of Defense and institutions of higher education with the requirements of this section. Each report shall include, for each waiver issued under subsection (b) in the period covered by the report—
(A) a justification for the waiver; and
(B) a description of the type and extent of any collaboration between an institution of higher education and an entity described in subsection (a) allowed pursuant to the waiver, including identification of the institution and entities involved, the type of technology involved, the duration of the collaboration, and terms and conditions on intellectual property assignment, as applicable, under the collaboration agreement.

(2) FORM; PUBLIC AVAILABILITY.—Each report under paragraph (1) shall be submitted in unclassified form and shall be made available on a publicly accessible website of the Department of Defense.

(e) CHINESE ACADEMIC INSTITUTIONS SPECIFIED.—The Secretary of Defense, in consultation with the Director of National Intelligence, shall—

(1) publish an updated list of academic institutions of the People’s Republic of China for purposes of subsection (a)(2) which shall include, at a minimum, each institution specified in subsection (e)(1) if still in operation or any successor to such an institution; and
(2) publish an updated list of entities that comprise the defense laboratory system of the People’s Republic of China for purposes of subsection (a)(3) which shall include, at a minimum, each laboratory identified by the China Aerospace Studies Institute (or successor organization) of the Department of Air Force on the publicly available list titled “Academic and Research Institutions of the People’s Republic of China, the Communist Party of China, including the CCP People’s Liberation Army and the People’s Armed Police”.

(f) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The limitation under subsection (a) shall apply with respect to the first fiscal year that begins after the date that is one year after the date of the enactment of this Act and continuing until the date of the enactment of any subsequent fiscal year.

(g) ANNUAL UPDATES.—Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, and not less frequently than annually thereafter, the Secretary of Defense, in consultation with the Director of National Intelligence, shall—

(1) publish an updated list of academic institutions of the People’s Republic of China for purposes of subsection (a)(2) which shall include, at a minimum, each institution specified in subsection (e)(1) if still in operation or any successor to such an institution; and
(2) publish an updated list of entities that comprise the defense laboratory system of the People’s Republic of China for purposes of subsection (a)(3) which shall include, at a minimum, each laboratory identified by the China Aerospace Studies Institute (or successor organization) of the Department of Air Force on the publicly available list titled “Academic and Research Institutions of the People’s Republic of China, the Communist Party of China, including the CCP People’s Liberation Army and the People’s Armed Police”.

(h) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The limitation under subsection (a) shall apply with respect to the first fiscal year that begins after the date that is one year after the date of the enactment of this Act and to any subsequent fiscal year.

(i) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

AMENDMENT NO. 6 OFFERED BY MRS. ROBERT OF COLORADO

In subtitle D of title XXVIII, add at the end the following:

SEC. 28. CLOSURE AND DISPOSAL OF THE Pueblo Chemical Depot, Pueblo County, Colorado.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of the Army shall close Pueblo Chemical Depot in Pueblo County, Colorado (in this section referred to as the “Depot”) not later than one year after the completion of the chemical demilitarization mission in such location in accordance with the Chemical Weapons Convention Treaty.

(b) PROCEDURES.—The Secretary of the Army shall carry out the closure and subsequent related property management and disposal of the Depot, including the land, buildings, structures, infrastructure, and associated equipment, installed equipment, material, and personal property that comprise the Chemical Agent-Destruction Pilot Plant, in accordance with the procedures and authorities for the closure, management, and disposal of property under the appropriate base closure laws (as defined in section 101 of title 10, United States Code).

(c) OFFICE OF LOCAL DEFENSE COMMUNITY COOPERATION ACTIVITIES.—The Office of Local Defense Community Cooperation of the Department of Defense may make grants and supplement other Federal funds pursuant to section 2391 of title 10, United States Code, to support closure and reuse activities of the Depot.

(d) TREATMENT OF EXISTING PERMITS.—Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the removal or demolition by the Secretary of Defense of Chemical Weapons Alternatives of the Department of the Army of existing buildings, structures, infrastructure, and associated equipment, installed equipment, material, and personal property of the Chemical Agent-Destruction Pilot Plant at the Depot in accordance with the existing Hazardous Waste Permit Number CO-20-92-01 under the Solid Waste Disposal Act (42 U.S.C. 6901 et seq.) (commonly known as the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act of 1976) issued by the State of Colorado or a associated or follow-on permits under such Act.

(e) HOMELESS USE.—Given the nature of activities undertaken at the Chemical Agent-Destruction Pilot Plant, the Depot, such land, buildings, structures, infrastructure, and associated equipment, installed equipment, material, and personal property comprising the Chemical Agent-Destruction Pilot Plant is deemed unsuitable use to assist the homeless, and in carrying out any closure, management, or disposal of property under this section, need not be screened for use to assist the homeless pursuant to section 205(b) of the Defense Base Closure and Realignment Act of 1988 (as a part of title XXIX of Public Law 101-510; 10 U.S.C. 2601 note).

AMENDMENT NO. 70 OFFERED BY MR. CLOUD OF COLORADO AT the end of title III, add the following:

SEC. 28. SURVEY OF CERTAIN COUNTIES FOR PLACEMENT OF FACILITIES.

(a) SURVEY REQUIRED.—Not later than one year after the date on which the governor receives the notice of presumed placement of operational, training, and other facilities undertaken at the Chemical Agent-Destruction Pilot Plant at the Depot in accordance with the Chemical Weapons Convention Treaty, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to the Committees on Armed Services, the Committee on Foreign Relations, and the Select Committee on Intelligence of the Senate and the House of Representatives, and the Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence of the House of Representatives, the results of a survey of the counties described in subsection (b) to assess potential placement of operational, training, or other facilities for use by the military departments in such counties.

(b) COUNTIES DESCRIBED.—The counties described in this subsection are located in the State of North Carolina and are as follows:

1. Buncombe County.
2. Cherokee County.
3. Clay County.
4. Graham County.
5. Haywood County.
6. Henderson County.
7. Jackson County.
8. Macon County.
9. Madison County.
10. McDowell County.
11. Polk County.
12. Rutherford County.
13. Swain County.
14. Transylvania County.
15. Yancey County.

(c) SURVEY REQUIREMENTS.—The survey required under subsection (a) shall include the following:

(1) An assessment of the mountainous and varied terrains in the area described in subsection (b) and the feasibility of programs that use this geography, including programs for basic survival skills, dam and reservoir exercises, whitewater rafting exercises, thick vegetation exercises, air drop exercises, and mountainous warfare exercises.

(2) An evaluation of defense assets located in the State of North Carolina and the lack of defense assets in the area described in subsection (b).

(d) SURVEY CONSIDERATIONS.—The survey shall assess the feasibility of the placement of operational, training, and other facilities in the area described in subsection (b).

AMENDMENT NO. 72 OFFERED BY MR. LAWLER OF NEW YORK At the end of subtitle A of title XIII, insert the following new section:

SEC. 13. SENSE OF CONGRESS ON DEFENSE INTELLIGENCE SHARING BETWEEN THE REPUBLIC OF KOREA, JAPAN, AND TAIWAN.

It is the sense of Congress that defense intelligence sharing between the United States and the Republic of Korea, Japan, and Taiwan, is crucial for identifying and countering the threats to national security of the People’s Republic of China and the Democratic People’s Republic of Korea, that threaten the interests of the United States, our allies and partners in the Indo-Pacific region.

AMENDMENT NO. 73 OFFERED BY MR. GALLAGHER OF WISCONSIN At the end of subtitle E of title XII, add the following new section:

SEC. 12. LIMITATION ON AVAILABILITY OF FUNDS PENDING PLAN REGARDING DELIVERY OF HARPOON MISSILES AND OTHER COASTAL DEFENSE CAPABILITIES TO SECURITY PARTNERS.

(a) LIMITATION.—Of the funds authorized to be appropriated by this Act or otherwise made available for fiscal year 2024, and available for the Office of the Secretary of Defense for the travel of personnel, not more than 90 percent may be obligated or expended until the date on which the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment submits to the congressional defense committees the plan required under subsection (b).

(b) PLAN REQUIRED.—

AMENDMENT NO. 71 OFFERED BY MR. TONY GONZALES OF TEXAS

At the appropriate place in title XI, insert the following:

SEC. 11. NATIONAL DIGITAL RESERVE CORPS.

(a) In General.—Subpart I of part III of section 5, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new chapter:

"CHAPTER 104—NATIONAL DIGITAL RESERVE CORPS"

"10401. Definitions.
10402. Establishment.
10403. Organization.
10404. Assemblies.
10405. Reservist continuing education.
10406. Congressional reports.
10407. Construction.

§10401. Definitions

"In this chapter:

"(1) ACTIVE RESERVIST.—The term ‘active reservist’ means a reservist holding a position to which such reservist has been appointed under section 10402(a).

"(2) ADMINISTRATOR.—The term ‘Administrator’ means the Administrator of the General Services Administration.

"(3) COVERED EXECUTIVE AGENCY.—The term ‘covered Executive agency’ means an Executive agency as defined in section 105, except that such term includes the United States Postal Service, the Postal Regulatory Commission, and the Executive Office of the President.

"(4) PROGRAM.—The term ‘Program’ means the program established under section 10402(a).

"(5) RESERVIST.—The term ‘reservist’ means an individual who is a member of the National Digital Reserve Corps.

§10402. Establishment

"(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—There is established in the General Services Administration a pro-am to establish, recruit, manage, and serve as a reservist for a 3-year period, during which such individual shall serve not less than 30 days per year as an active reservist; and

"(ii) set forth all other the rights and obligations of the individual and the General Services Administration.

"(2) COMPENSATION.—The Administrator shall determine the appropriate compensation for service as a reservist, except that the annual pay for such service shall not exceed $10,000.

"(3) EMPLOYMENT PROTECTIONS.—The Secretary of Labor shall prescribe such regulations as necessary to ensure the reemployment, continuation of benefits, and non-discrimination of active reservists, and such reservists, provided that such regulations shall include, at a minimum, those rights and oblignations set forth under chapter 43 of title 38.

"(4) PENALTIES.—

"(a) IN GENERAL.—A reservist that fails to accept an appointment under section (c)(2) or fails to carry out the duties assigned to a reservist under such an appointment shall, after notice and an opportunity to be heard, be fined an amount equal to the sum of:

"(i) an amount equal to the amounts, if any, paid under section 1065 with respect to such reservist; and

"(ii) the difference between the amount of compensation such reservist would have remained a special Government employee (as such term is defined in section 202(a) of title 18), “(D) CONFLICT OF INTEREST.—Individuals appointed under this section shall not, as an active reservist, have access to proprietary or confidential information that is of commercial value to a private entity or individual employing such appointee.

“(E) ADDITIONAL EMPLOYERS.—Individuals appointed under this paragraph shall be in addition to those of the National Guard and Reserve components of the United States Armed Forces who have not previously received a congressional report on the extent to which China has benefitted from United States taxpayer-funded research.

“§ 10404. Assignments—

“(a) General.—The Administrator may assign active reservists to address the digital and cybersecurity needs of covered Executive agencies, including cybersecurity services, digital education and training, and cybersecurity needs of which such individual is assigned to address under subsection (a), provide each reservist assigned to a digital or cybersecurity need of such covered Executive agency under subsection (a) with any special expertise, resources, supplies, or equipment required to address such digital or cybersecurity need.

“(b) Assignment—specific access, resources, supplies, or equipment.—The head of a covered Executive agency shall, to the extent practicable, provide each reservist assigned to a digital or cybersecurity need of such covered Executive agency under subsection (a) with any special expertise, resources, supplies, or equipment required to address such digital or cybersecurity need.

“(c) DURATION.—An assignment of an individual under subsection (a) shall terminate on the earlier of—

“(1) the date determined by the Administrator;

“(2) the date on which the Administrator receives notification of the decision of the head of the covered Executive agency, the digital or cybersecurity needs of which such individual is assigned to address under subsection (a), that such assignment should terminate; or

“(3) the date on which the assigned individual ceases to be an active reservist.

“§ 10405. Reservist continuing education—

“(a) General.—Subject to the availability of appropriations, the Administrator may pay for reservists to acquire training in their digitals sector capabilities.

“(b) Assignment-specific access, resources, supplies, or equipment.—The Administrator shall establish a process for reservists to apply for the payment of reasonable expenses related to the training or continuing education described in subsection (a).

“(c) Report.—Not later than one year after the date of the enactment of this section, and annually thereafter, the Administrator shall submit to Congress a report on the expenditures under this subsection.

“§ 10406. Congressional reports—

“Not later than two years after the date of the enactment of this section, and annually thereafter, the Administrator shall submit to Congress a report on the implementation of this Act, including a list of employees funded by the United States taxpayer-funded research.

“(a) In general.—The report shall describe—

“(1) funded by a grant from the Federal Government; and

“(2) a list of awards funded by the United States taxpayer-funded research.

“(b) Contents of report.—The report under subsection (a) shall include the following:

“(1) the number of recipients;

“(2) the number of funded Executive agencies that have submitted requests for support from the National Digital Reserve Corps;

“(3) the nature and status of such requests; and

“(4) with respect to each such request to which active reservists have been assigned and for which work by the National Digital Reserve Corps is completed, an evaluation of such work and the results of such work by—

“(A) the covered Executive agency that submitted the request; and “(B) the reservists assigned to such request.

“(C) the reservists assigned to address the digital or cybersecurity needs of which such individual is assigned to address under subsection (a), providing each reservist assigned to a digital or cybersecurity need of such covered Executive agency under subsection (a) with any special expertise, resources, supplies, or equipment required to address such digital or cybersecurity need.

“(D) CONFLICT OF INTEREST.—Individuals appointed under this section shall not, as an active reservist, have access to proprietary or confidential information that is of commercial value to a private entity or individual employing such appointee.

“(E) ADDITIONAL EMPLOYERS.—Individuals appointed under this paragraph shall be in addition to those of the National Guard and Reserve components of the United States Armed Forces who have not previously received a congressional report on the extent to which China has benefitted from United States taxpayer-funded research.

“§ 10405. Reservist continuing education—

“(a) General.—Subject to the availability of appropriations, the Administrator may pay for reservists to acquire training in their digitals sector capabilities.

“(b) Assignment-specific access, resources, supplies, or equipment.—The head of a covered Executive agency shall, to the extent practicable, provide each reservist assigned to a digital or cybersecurity need of such covered Executive agency under subsection (a) with any special expertise, resources, supplies, or equipment required to address such digital or cybersecurity need.

“(c) DURATION.—An assignment of an individual under subsection (a) shall terminate on the earlier of—

“(1) the date determined by the Administrator;

“(2) the date on which the Administrator receives notification of the decision of the head of the covered Executive agency, the digital or cybersecurity needs of which such individual is assigned to address under subsection (a), that such assignment should terminate; or

“§ 10406. Congressional reports—

“Not later than two years after the date of the enactment of this section, and annually thereafter, the Administrator shall submit to Congress a report on the implementation of this Act, including a list of employees funded by the United States taxpayer-funded research.

“(a) In general.—The report shall describe—

“(1) funded by a grant from the Federal Government; and

“(2) a list of awards funded by the United States taxpayer-funded research.

Notwithstanding section 2409 of title 38, United States Code, the memory of Congressman Don Young shall be honored with a memorial marker or niche cover and ceremony in Arlington National Cemetery, Virginia.

amendment no. 78 offered by mr. peterson of california

At the appropriate place in title XVIII, insert the following:

(1) the Committee on Armed Services and the Committee on Foreign Affairs of the House of Representatives.

(2) the Committee on Armed Services and the Committee on Foreign Affairs of the House of Representatives.

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 583, the gentleman from Alabama (Mr. ROGERS) and the gentleman from Iowa (Mr. NUNN) each will control 15 minutes.

The Acting CHAIR. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. ROGERS. Mr. Chairman, I yield an additional 30 seconds to the gentleman from Iowa.

Mr. NUNN of Iowa. Mr. Chairman, as a nearly 20-year combat veteran and head of counterintelligence for cybersecurity, I know firsthand the millions of threats that are leveraged against our country on a daily basis.

As we look to strengthen our security with this bill offered by the chair and the amendments going forward, I thank those who have worked so diligently on our joint effort to create a National Digital Reserve Corps to buttress our country against this threat.

Additionally, I will speak about another win for our military, military parents. As both an Air Force officer, Reservist, and National Guard member, we have worked on bipartisan legislation, the Reserve Component Parental Leave Parity Act, that I helped lead with Representative Jeff Jackson from North Carolina.

Our servicemen and -women deserve time with their new children, and this policy will expand parental leave for drilling Reserve and National Guard members to match the leave policies of their Active-Duty members.

The Acting CHAIR. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. ROGERS. Mr. Chairman, I yield an additional 30 seconds to the gentleman from Iowa.

Mr. NUNN of Iowa. Mr. Chairman, this is a big, bipartisan win to improve the lives of our members who are serving, including myself as a parent of foster children.

Unfortunately, as a result of a backroom deal, we were not able to serve those who needed help from suicide prevention. In my home State of Iowa, we have almost four times the number of individuals who take their life after coming back from combat.

We will not stop fighting for this, and what we can’t include in this amendment we will move forward with the chairman to make sure we are able to protect those who have served overseas and take their own life when coming back.

Mr. SMITH of Washington. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Arizona (Mr. STANTON).

Mr. SMITH of Washington. Mr. Chairman, moving the National Defense Authorization Act forward has almost always been a bipartisan effort. This very bill, as originally drafted, passed out of committee with near unanimous votes from both Democrats and Republicans, 59-1.

That is why it is unconscionable that extremist politicians are willing to jeopardize our military readiness and our national security to push their unpopular partisan agenda.

In the dead of night, extreme lawmakers tucked on divisive, dangerous amendments, including one that would prevent servicewomen from accessing critical abortion care.

More than 400,000 women serve in Active Duty and in the Reserves. At great personal sacrifice, these servicewomen have sworn an oath to defend the United States and to live, train, and work at assigned duty stations often far from home.

Almost immediately after Roe was overturned last summer, States around the country began enacting draconian abortion bans and restrictions. Today, nearly half of the servicewomen no longer have access to abortion care, and many live hundreds of miles from the nearest provider.

Access to abortion should not depend on where someone lives or where they are stationed.

Defense Secretary Lloyd Austin rightly noted that the Dobbs decision would “interfere with the U.S. military’s ability to recruit, retain, and maintain the readiness of a highly qualified force,” and announced earlier this year that the DOD would cover travel and lodging expenses for servicewomen and military family members forced to travel for healthcare.

My colleagues on the other side of the aisle would see that this policy is overturned.

Mr. Chairman, I have voted for the NDAA every year that I have served in Congress, but I cannot in good conscience vote for this legislation in its current form. We must provide for our national defense.

This bill will egregiously harm nearly one-fifth of this country’s fighting force. I will not turn my back on our servicewomen and military families.

Mr. ROGERS of Alabama. Mr. Chairman, I rise in support of this strong NDAA. It prioritizes the true mission of our U.S. military, and that is to deter and to win wars. That is it. It is pretty simple.

More specifically, it prioritizes America’s greatest national security asset, our brave men and women in uniform who serve on a daily basis. I thank Chairman ROGERS for his support of my amendment within this enactment that will secure the highest pay raise in history for nearly 1 million of our junior enlisted troops, paid for by the appropriations bill.

This takes the starting salary for an E-1 in the military from about $22,000 a year to $31,200 a year. It gets them above the poverty line and off of food stamps. These brave men and women are willing to make the ultimate sacrifice in defense of our freedom, and it is unacceptable that they were making less than fast-food workers.

Mr. Chair, I couldn’t be more proud of this historic victory, and I couldn’t be more eager to continue fighting for those who fight so hard to give us our security blanket.

Mr. SMITH of Washington. Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. ROGERS of Alabama. Mr. Chair, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. VAN ORDEN), an outstanding freshman.

Mr. VAN ORDEN. Mr. Chairman, today I rise in opposition of amendment No. 3 in the en bloc.

I have tremendous respect for Chairman Green and Rogers, and I also view the Chinese Communist Party as a threat to world peace.

I believe the unintended consequences of this amendment will have a greater negative financial impact on our junior enlisted servicemen who shop at our base exchanges than on the Chinese Communist Party.

Our junior enlisted currently struggle financially, and implementation of this amendment will unintentionally raise the cost of everyday goods and further exacerbate this strain.

Mr. Chair, for this reason alone, I urge my colleagues to oppose this amendment.

Mr. SMITH of Washington. Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. ROGERS of Alabama. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. JACKSON), my friend.

Mr. JACKSON of Texas. Mr. Chairman, I will start by saying that despite the objections of many of the folks on the other side of the aisle regarding the objections of many of the folks on the other side of the aisle regarding this amendment included in the en bloc, which will require a study to identify potential vulnerabilities in U.S. military systems and infrastructure that could be exploited by adversarial AI applications used by China, Russia, and other adversaries.

Mr. Chair, I thank the chairman for his leadership in this House and for supporting a number of amendments that were included and adopted yesterday.

These amendments will support military families and their children with intellectual and developmental disabilities, ensure the DOD guarantees full access and coverage to life-saving opioid overdose reversal drugs, and requires our Nation’s biodefense strategy, along with helping the Army meet its goals to modernize aircraft and more.

Mr. Chair, I extend my appreciation.

Mr. SMITH of Washington. Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. ROGERS of Alabama. Mr. Chair, we have no further speakers if the gentleman would like to close, and I re-serve the balance of my time.

Mr. SMITH of Washington. Mr. Chair, I yield myself 2 minutes.

Mr. Chair, I will have remarks in a moment while, regrettably, I am not supporting this particular bill. That doesn’t change how much respect I have for the process and for all the people who participated in that process. I want to make sure we understand that.

One of the things I always say, I believe more than I believe in my own opinion, which means that the process is important and the way we put that process together and that we move through it.

In particular, I definitely thank the staff, certainly our staff on the House Armed Services Committee that has done an outstanding job, the Rules Committee staff, as well, but also the floor staff and the parliamentarians and the folks who have to put the amendments together and put the legislation together.

Throughout this process from the very start, when the original bill was introduced, to all of the amendments, we have to run through these numbers, it is in the thousands, basically, of amendments and ideas that are submitted.

From the moment we put together the initial bill, we amend it in committee, they deal with Rules, they amend it in the floor—they are talking literally thousands of different pieces of legislation and ideas that have to be brought together. Members don’t do any of that.

We spout out ideas, and a whole bunch of staff work really hard to get that done. I thank them very, very much for all of that work to make this process go forward.

Mr. Chair, it is a good, robust bipartisan approach. We have the amendments we have the debates, and we resolve it. One thing I will make clear, I am not thrilled with the outcome of the Rules Committee, but that is the nature of being in the minority.

When you are in the majority, the Rules Committee does what the Rules Committee does, and the minority complains about it. That is the way this place works. That is fine. I might have done it differently in terms of trying to figure out how to pass the bill.

At the end of the day, I don’t have any process objection here. The amendments were put on the floor, and they passed. I am not concerned about that. I am concerned about the outcome, and I will explain that later.

Mr. Chair, I will take a moment to really make it clear how much I thank all the people who put this process together, in particular, I thank Chairman Rogers for his work.

The Acting CHAIR. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. SMITH of Washington. Mr. Chair, I yield myself an additional 30 seconds.

Mr. Chair, it is not as easy as it looks. Let me just sum that up. There are a whole lot of things you have to manage, including the minority part. Chairman Rogers did an outstanding job of doing that in his first year as chair, and I appreciate that and I respect that. I thank everybody for the process they put together.

Mr. Chair, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. ROGERS of Alabama. Mr. Chair, I am prepared to close, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SMITH of Washington. Mr. Chair, I yield 3 minutes to the gentlewoman from Pennsylvania (Ms. HOULAHAN), who is a member of the committee.

Ms. HOULAHAN. Mr. Chair, later today, I will offer the motion to recommit on this bill.

I stand with my colleagues who have stood shoulder to shoulder in support of our brave servicemembers in an effort to put together this bill for the last nearly 1 year. I stand with the spirit of those who are currently serving in uniform who are sick and tired of this legislative body politicizing their lives, their livelihoods, and their bodily autonomy.

I rise today in honor of my grandfather and my father, who served full, distinguished careers in the military, and my mom and my grandmother, who served as military spouses, each for over 30 years.

I rise today as someone who was born and raised on a military base and moved across this Nation and to other countries. I rise as someone who raised my own hand and my own child when the time came. I rise for my cousins who serve today.

I don't need my colleagues to tell me what it is like to be a mom in uniform because I lived that experience, or a child in the military. I lived that, too.

Here we stand. Half of all servicemembers and military families who are willing to risk their lives for our freedoms, yet we are not willing to protect theirs.

What I have seen on the floor over the past 2 days is that we really sadden me. Targeting LGBTQ families like my own, targeting libraries, targeting the reproductive freedoms of servicewomen and military families stationed in States that do not respect their own bodily autonomy.

Chair, we even saw a colleague refer to our Black servicemembers as "colored people."

To my colleagues on the other side of the aisle, let me make a few things clear. We agree there are threats around us, China, and a like. But I should be spending our time and efforts on. We agree the historic recruitment challenges we face are a risk to our national security. We agree the brave men and women who serve in uniform should not be political pawns.

So why did this Republican-led body decide to take a historically bipartisan piece of legislation from the House Armed Services Committee hostage by adding scores of extreme GOP culture war priorities to it, including, least of all, a clear-as-day backdoor policy to a national abortion ban?

Chair, I want the American people to know that Democrats support our men and women in uniform. We proudly voted forward by 28-1 a bipartisan piece of legislation to increase their pay, to improve their housing, and to expand their access to childcare.

However, the GOP is putting that bipartisan progress in jeopardy, and the toughtest part is that they know it. I have a great deal of respect for the handful of my colleagues who recognize the extreme turn that this legislation has taken, and I thank them.

So, I look at them again, and I look to them again. We must do what is right by our servicemembers. Put the political gamesmanship aside and return this extreme bill back to committee where it can return it to its bipartisan nature.

I will veto the bill across the aisle to ensure that we give the President, our Nation, and, in fact, our globe a bill that truly provides for the collective defense of our American values.

It really saddens me to say that this bill does not do that. This bill will hurt our recruiting and retention.

The Acting Chair. The time of the gentlewoman has expired.

Mr. SMITH of Washington. Mr. Chair, I yield an additional 30 seconds to the gentleman from Pennsylvania.

Mrs. HOULAHAN. It makes it extremely difficult for a proud veteran like myself and so many others to look at future leaders of America and say that, yes, this military is a home for you.

I took the uniform nearly 30 years ago, and it is a travesty that servicewomen today will have less freedoms than I did.

Mr. Chair, I urge my colleagues on both sides of the aisle to support this MTR and send this extreme bill back to committee where we can truly deliver for those in uniform.

Mr. ROGERS of Alabama. Mr. Chair, I continue to reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SMITH of Washington. Mr. Chair, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Mr. Chair, I thank the gentlewoman from Pennsylvania, who summed it up reasonably well, but I really want to make sure people understand why we are opposed to this bill.

We are opposed to this bill because it is our firm belief that this will undermine our ability to meet the national security objectives of this country. I want to explain why. We can start with the issue of access to reproductive healthcare for women.

Because of the Dobbs decision, there are many States now across this country where you cannot get access to that care. I think faced with that and having a large number of women and family members of servicemembers in those States, set up a situation to allow those women to get access to that reproductive care. This bill takes that away.

Mr. Chair, if you are a woman concerned about your ability to get an abortion, first of all, or concerned about if you are a servicemember who has a family member who might be concerned about that, you are going to be less likely to join the military.

I really do want to emphasize one point that came up during this. I understand a lot of people oppose abortion. They want to ban it outright, and that is why they feel this way. However, do understand the negative impact that that will have on a lot of women's willingness to join the military.

It goes beyond abortion, as we have sadly seen. The worst case of this is a woman who/miscarried midway through her pregnancy cannot get treated for that. There was one particular case that was cited during the debate of a woman who wound up in the hospital fighting for her life because of an infection because she could not get that care.

If you are a woman, Mr. Chair, or if you are a man who is considering, "What about my spouse, and what about my children?" then you will be less likely to join the military knowing that you have that challenge. So, we are going to have fewer qualified people willing to join the military because of what was passed. That will not make our military stronger.

We have said, and the debate seems to imply, that trans people don't exist so they are not welcome in the military either. Now, I am not a doctor and, therefore, don't want to presume what treatment someone should have who is in a transgender situation, but what this bill says is: Nope, we are not even going to consider it.

Again, Mr. Chair, if you are a trans person, you are going to be less likely to join the military, or, Mr. Chair, if you are someone who thinks, "What if I have a child who is a trans person?" The military is not going to accept them. So, now, Mr. Chair, you can take that people off the table. They are not going to join the military either.

Then, we have the most difficult aspect of this, and that is the diversity, equity, and inclusion piece. This is a very widely misunderstood thing, and I tried to explain it throughout the debate.

Believe it or not, we have a history of discrimination in this country. We have a history of bigotry. You can go through slavery, Jim Crow, the Ku Klux Klan, and a whole bunch of different things, Mr. Chair. We also have a history of incredible discrimination against women.

I cited this before, but as it came out during debate, women who join the military because of what this bill does.

Nope, we are not even going to consider it.

I have a child who is a trans person." I wonder, if you are a person of color, whether you are going to get a fair shake in the military.

Now, I will admit there are a lot of people who, even faced with those odds, even knowing that they are going to have to work twice as hard and face that discrimination, will join, but some will not. So, again, there is another group of people who we have now taken off the table.

I want to take a special moment to recognize, on that last point, the willingness of people to join the military even if they are facing discrimination.

Where I live in the Seattle-Bellevue area, we have a lot of Nisei veterans and family of Nisei veterans, and it is a particularly compelling story. These are Japanese Americans who fought and died, in many cases, for our country during World War II while their family members were unfairly incarcerated back home.

I know that there are people who will step up and take on that challenge anyway, but there will be fewer of them.

Basically, Mr. Chair, you have this huge group of people who are going to be less likely to join the military because of what this bill does.

I will slightly paraphrase a line from "A Few Good Men." Basically, all this bill really is on the table. All the people who should be allowed not just to serve but to serve with an equal chance of advancement. Whether you
Mr. ROGERS of Alabama, Mr. Chairman, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Mr. Chair, I thank our bipartisan HASC staff for their tremendous work. As I talked about yesterday, our committee staff has worked for months to develop a very bipartisan fashion to get us where we are today.

I also thank everyone from the Office of the Legislative Counsel, the Congressional Budget Office, the Parliamentarian’s Office, the Clerk, the floor staff, the Rules Committee, and the leadership on both sides of the aisle.

I especially thank my friend, Ranking Member SMITH, for his hard work and assistance. As a longtime former chairman of this committee, he gets the ebbs and flows of this process and has been a very helpful partner in helping me lead this committee.

Mr. Chairman, this is a good bill.

I will address this to my Conference: There is absolutely no reason why any Republican should vote against this bill. It will enhance the congressional oversight of the DOD. It will improve the quality of life for our servicemembers and their families. It will help build the ready, capable, and lethal fighting force we need to deter the Chinese Communist Party and other adversaries.

Mr. Chair, I urge all Members to support this bill. I yield back the balance of my time.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE ACTING CHAIR

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendments en bloc offered by the gentleman from Alabama (Mr. ROGERS).

The en bloc amendments were agreed to.

PREVENTATIVE CANCER SCREENINGS SAVE LIVES

Mr. PAYNE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.

Mr. PAYNE. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to discuss the importance of preventive cancer care, especially colorectal cancer.

Colorectal cancer is one of the deadliest cancers but has one of the highest survival rates if detected and treated early. Too many Americans put off routine screenings and colonoscopies because they worry about coverage.

Now, UnitedHealthcare has made the disasymmetric decision to require patients to get prior authorization before they get colonoscopies. Their new policy comes at a time when colorectal cancer rates are rising nationwide, particularly in young Americans.

This policy encourages more Americans not to get screenings and colonoscopies, and it will cause curable cancer issues to become life-threatening.

I lost my father, Congressman Donald Payne Sr., to colorectal cancer in 2012. I do not want other families to lose their fathers and loved ones from a lack of preventive cancer care.
WASHINGTON HAS A SPENDING PROBLEM

(Mr. MORAN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker. Washington has a spending problem. I know it, you know it, and more importantly, the American people know it.

Our addiction to unaccountable spending has resulted in our Nation accumulating more than $22 trillion in debt, leading to crippling inflation and a financial burden that future generations will struggle to overcome.

That is why I have introduced the principles-based balanced budget amendment, which would require annual spending and revenue to balance and affirm the principle of fiscal responsibility through constitutional mandate.

If ratified, this constitutional amendment would require Congress to balance the budget within 10 years while still allowing Congress to determine the mechanisms of how to achieve that balance through statute.

Under the Constitution, Congress holds both the power of the purse and the responsibility of the purse. Let us fulfill that responsibility with a strict, strong amendment, which would require an

TIRED OF MOURNING THE NEEDLESS DEATH OF ANOTHER CHILD

(Mrs. WATSON COLEMAN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mrs. WATSON COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today, yet I am tired.

I am tired of marching down here to demand for the lives of others, has vanished.

Finally, I am tired of my colleagues across the aisle. When presented with an opportunity to do something about these tragedies, they do nothing.

I am disgusted that so few have signed on to any mental health legislation. My bill to invest in mental health resources for our young people passed this body just 2 years ago in a bipartisan fashion, but now, Republicans’ sense of bipartisanship, and even caring for the lives of others, has vanished.

Mr. Speaker, I must confess I am tired of marching down here to demand something that should have been given to those children from the very beginning—their sense of safety.

I may be tired, but I will not stop.

HONORING THE LIFE OF CHARLES T. CARMICAL, SR.

(Mr. CARTER of Georgia asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. CARTER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the life of a fellow Georgian, Charles T. Carmical, Sr.

An avid basketball player, Charles was the Georgia Player of the Year in high school before being recruited by South Georgia College to play basketball with them.

He continued his love of the sport through adulthood, playing for the Golden Boys and winning the Georgia State title 12 times.

As the owner and operator of Dalton Auction Furniture Company, Charles loved working with people and connecting them to treasures. He was a Scoutmaster in the Boy Scouts, where he mentored hundreds of young minds and supported 31 Scouts in reaching Eagle Scout status.

In his personal life, Charles was also an active teacher in his church, where he served as a elder, deacon, and member for over five decades.

His friends and family described him as a gentle giant with endless patience and a true family man, always there for those who needed him most. He will be missed dearly.

HONORING THE LIFE OF WILSON FERGUSON, SR.

(Mr. MORAN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, Wilson Ferguson, Sr., went to heaven on July 5.

He was a man of many talents. He was an avid basketball player, playing for the University of Florida. He also mentored hundreds of young minds and supported 31 Scouts in reaching Eagle Scout status.

In his personal life, Wilson was a loving husband, father, and grandfather. He was a true family man, always there for those who needed him most. He will be missed dearly.

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD — HOUSE

TUESDAY’S CHILDREN

(Mr. THOMPSON of Pennsylvania asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to celebrate the exceptional achievement of Dance City, a local dance team based in north Minneapolis, for their remarkable victory at Starpower National Talent Competition.

The dedication, talent, and hard work demonstrated by the members of Dance City have propelled them to extraordinary success on the national stage, winning them first place in hip-hop, and first overall.

Faced with competition from over 100 teams around the country, the Dance City girls rallied to the challenge and emerged with their well-deserved victory.

The director and coach of Dance City, Sierra Burnaugh, created her studio to serve young Black girls in the Minneapolis community. May their success continue to illuminate the path for future generations of dancers. I could not be happier to have Minneapolis represented by these bright young women.

PRESIDENT BIDEN TO FORGIVE $39 BILLION IN STUDENT LOANS

(Mrs. MCCLAIN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Mrs. MCCLAIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to request that the President forgive $39 billion in student loans.
majority of Americans who actually pay their bills, the majority of Americans who actually believe that if they have a right, they actually have a responsibility.

Unfortunately, President Biden just announced that this stroke of his pen will go $39 billion in student loans, this morning.

Now, let me be clear. This is in direct violation of the Supreme Court’s decision just 2 weeks ago that blocked his student loan forgiveness plan. I guess the White House has no respect for the constitutional authority of the Supreme Court.

Apparent, he has no respect for hardworking taxpayers that are going to foot this bill. Education isn’t free. Someone pays for it. Last I checked, the teachers don’t work for free. It is you, the taxpayer, who actually paid your student loans, who is now going to pay for somebody that doesn’t want to pay their student loans. Every American who has paid off their student loans now gets the opportunity to pay somebody else’s.

What comes next, Mr. President? Are you going to forgive mortgages and credit card bills? Where does this forgiveness end?

Rest assured, come hell or high water, I will fight this till the end.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Members are reminded to direct their remarks to the Chair.

HONORING ALBERT VANN

(Ms. CLARKE of New York asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. CLARKE of New York. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the life and legacy of a New York City icon, the honorable Albert Vann.

After four decades of service as a progressive New York State and New York City legislator, Councilmember Albert Vann passed away 1 year ago today.

His contributions have enshrined him as a multigenerational champion of equity and justice for those needing it most.

He understood the importance of progress and the fight for justice. He understood what it meant to challenge the White-male-dominated political machine of his day. He understood where real power comes from. It comes from the beloved community.

This led him to becoming the first president of the African American Teachers Association, the first Black teachers’ union in New York State.

He was a friend, a colleague, a mentor, but most importantly, he set the standard for what it means to serve your community.

To those who are underprivileged, overlooked, left out, or marginalized, it is with great honor that I stand as a direct beneficiary of a great man, Councilmember Albert Vann, a true trailblazer in New York State politics.

THE ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF THE NDAA

(Mr. MEUSER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. MEUSER. Mr. Speaker, the National Defense Authorization Act is our nation’s national security of the United States, as is border security and energy dominance. I am very pleased we are making strides into these areas with the passage of the NDAA and continue to strengthen and have a dominant military.

This NDAA includes significant resources to counter China in the Indo-Pacific, requires the DOD to identify and mitigate land purchases near military installations, and makes certain the United States continues to have the world’s superior fighting force.

This legislation also funds the National Guard’s border security deployment mission and rejects the Biden administration’s plan to shrink our U.S. Navy.

This bill includes language to require allies to provide proportional levels of funding for the Ukraine conflict, alleviating the burden on U.S. taxpayers, yet fortifying the Ukraine freedom fighters.

Importantly, it supports our service members with a 5.2 percent pay increase, the largest raise in 20 years. This NDAA strengthens the national security of the United States as well as the world, and I am pleased to have supported it.

WHY I VOTED NO ON THE NDAA

(Mr. NICKEL asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. NICKEL. Mr. Speaker, America’s national defense has historically been a source of bipartisan agreement, not a battleground for divisive, extreme partisan politics.

Unfortunately, House Republicans chose to use the NDAA to advance controversial and harmful amendments rather than work in a bipartisan way to bolster our national defense, strengthen our national security interests, and protect our servicemembers.

Through the amendment process, House Republicans inserted extreme anti- and anti-DEI amendments that infringe upon the rights of individuals, notably those who serve in our armed forces and their families, threaten their liberties, and undermine their principles of freedom and autonomy that they work every day to defend.

With these poison pills, I could not vote to advance this year’s NDAA, as amended.

I will work tirelessly with my Senate counterparts and reasonable Republicans to ensure that damaging anti-abortion, anti-LGBTQ, and anti-DEI amendments are not included in the final text of this legislation.

ONE-YEAR ANNIVERSARY OF THE 988 HOTLINE

(Mrs. KIM of California asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Mrs. KIM of California. Mr. Speaker, July 16 marks one year of the 988 hotline. This nation is available 24/7 to provide confidential support to Americans facing mental health, substance use, and suicide crises.

Nearly 5 million Americans have called 988 in the last year to talk to someone about an issue they face. As we celebrate this progress, we acknowledge there is more to be done. A recent poll by the National Alliance on Mental Illness found that only 17 percent of Americans are aware of 988. That means more than four in every five Americans are unaware of this resource at our fingertips.

No one should feel alone. Whether it is strangers, friends, and foes alike, we never know what someone is going through.

I am proud to support the 988 hotline that can be a lifeline for those struggling. I will also do my part to promote kinder communities in California’s 40th district and across the Nation.

A TROUBLING AMENDMENT TO THE NDAA

(Ms. SÁNCHEZ asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. SÁNCHEZ. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to point out just one of the very troubling and extreme amendments in the NDAA, specifically Mr. GREEN’s amendment which would effectively cut all Federal Government support to filmmakers who distribute films in China.

The amendment takes a page right out of 1950s McCarthyism, and it will devastate the film industry. It requires the DOD to create a blacklist of studios that often, by necessity, have made changes to films in anticipation of distribution in China.

It would decide, without any evidence necessary, to withhold assistance for filmmakers who edit sexual or violent scenes to make films more appropriate for children. Further, it would eliminate that American filmmakers can no longer film on U.S. public lands or access resources paid for by American taxpayers.

Filmmaking is a First Amendment right, and this amendment attacks that right by allowing the DOD to censor content and editorial viewpoints of American films. The Green amendment could also push film production overseas.

In my home State of California, this amendment would wipe out an industry that brings in $226 billion alone in jobs and economic activities.

Sadly, this amendment is just one of many dangerous and extreme MAGA amendments attached to what has been a historically bipartisan bill. This amendment would hurt American industries and workers, and it does not belong in the NDAA.

PREVENTING RADICAL GREEN NEW DEAL POLICIES IN THE NDAA

(Mr. LANGWORTHY asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. LANGWORTHY. Mr. Speaker, we have had a lot of debate on this year's NDAA. Our goal is simple: To strengthen and modernize our military so they can be prepared to meet any national security challenge that this great Nation might face.

Our House majority authored and passed a strong NDAA that prevents the radical Green New Deal policies from weakening our fighting forces. It blocks burdensome requirements on defense contractors, allowing them to focus on delivering critical capabilities to our military.

This legislation also ensures that military ranges in the Gulf of Mexico remain open for necessary training programs, ensuring our troops' readiness. Additionally, it cuts funding for questionable combat vehicle electrification research programs and prohibits funds for DOD advisory committees dealing with environmental justice.

I am proud that we put forward a bill that focuses on the right priorities, safeguarding our national security and guaranteeing the continued defense of our great Nation instead of woke politics.

REMEMBERING DETECTIVE DELBERTH PHIPPS, JR.

(Ms. PLASKETT asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. PLASKETT. Mr. Speaker, I stand here today on behalf of slain Virginia Islands Detective Delberth Phipps, Jr., Detective Phipps was killed in the line of duty on July 4, 2023. He and his fellow officers rushed to the scene of an active shooting where a gunman, armed with an AR-15 rifle and bullet-proof vest, opened fire. He gave his life in service to his community.

My prayers and deepest condolences go to his family, his son, Demel Phipps, along with his loved ones and fellow Virginia Islands Police Department officers.

According to the Giffords Law Center to Prevent Gun Violence, arms trafficking is a major factor as to why the U.S. Virgin Islands, my home, has had a homicide rate nine times higher than on the mainland. The Virgin Islands does not manufacture guns, yet we have one of the highest per capita murder rates in the world.

It is no secret that with open land, there is drug trafficking through our corridor. The weapons that continue to flood our shores are a byproduct of the lax, if not nonexistent, gun laws throughout the continental U.S., particularly Florida.

The daughter of multiple generations of law enforcement officers, I understand the commitment of not just officers but their families to protect and serve.

I stand with Officer Phipps and all of the Virgin Islands Police Department. You have my commitment to fight for you all.

CELEBRATING NATIONAL FOREST WEEK

(Mr. LAMALFA asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. LAMALFA. Mr. Speaker, this is National Forest Week across this country. I encourage everybody to partake and enjoy your national forests. Our Nation indeed was blessed by God with something truly inspiring natural beauty. It is our job to preserve it and utilize it for future generations.

Unfortunately, many of our national forests are under threat from not the usual climate change nonsense but actually wildfire caused by overcrowded forests, too many trees.

We haven’t been tending to the forests for 50 years. The Federal Government has refused to properly thin and manage our forests, largely because of the lack of funding or, in a lot of cases, frivolous lawsuits—preventing the work that needs to be done—by extreme environmental groups.

They are now overgrown, overcrowded tinderboxes. All it takes is one lightning strike, a cigarette butt, or a spark from a flat tire going down a rural highway. Once they catch fire, they become infernos, such as the million-acre fire I had in my district a couple years ago called the Dixie fire.

A healthy forest has about 40 to 70 adult trees per acre. We have a situation where we have 500 or more trees per acre, a recipe for disaster. We need to do better and manage our forests.

CELEBRATING FRANCISCO SANDOVAL

(Mr. CORREA asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. CORREA. Mr. Speaker, today I rise to celebrate the service of Francisco Sandoval, a Fullerton educator honored as one of Orange County’s Teachers of the Year.

Francisco began teaching at the Orangethorpe Elementary School over 10 years ago, where his students have ranged from kindergarten through sixth grade. He teaches with the belief that each and every student has their own set of strengths and the ability to succeed.

For Francisco, he is both an educator and caregiver for each and every one of his students. He begins every day by checking with his students on a one-to-one basis to ensure that they are doing well both in school and at home.

Mr. Speaker, I thank Francisco for the love he’s shown for each and every one of our students and for our community as a whole. We congratulate Francisco on being named as one of Orange County’s Teachers of the Year.

NDAV REMARKS

(Mr. CALVERT asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I thank Chairman MIKE ROGERS for his leadership and for including language to improve the safety of U.S. servicemen in the NDAA.

My provision would establish new Joint Safety Council requirements for each military branch to develop a plan to identify corrective and preventative actions following major accidents and mishaps.

Earlier this year, I introduced the Military Equipment Quality and Safety Reform Act, or MEZr Act, which includes a similar mandate.

My effort to improve safety and transparency in the wake of major accidents is motivated by the tragic loss of my constituent and P-32 pilot First Lieutenant David Schmitz, whose call sign was MEZr.

Just over 3 years ago, Lieutenant Schmitz was killed during a training exercise when his ejection seat malfunctioned while he attempted a nighttime landing.

Mr. Speaker, I thank Chairman Rogers for including this language in the bill and working to protect our men and women in uniform.

HONORING NEWARK FIREFIGHTERS AUGUSTO “AUGIE” ACABOU AND WAYNE BROOKS, JR.

(Mr. MENENDEZ asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. MENENDEZ. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor two Newark firefighters who last week made the ultimate sacrifice in the line of duty.

Firefighters Augusto “Augie” Acabou and Wayne Brooks, Jr., were some of the first responders to an incredibly devastating fire at the Purt of Newark in New Jersey.

With the instinct that only the men and women who proudly serve in fire departments across the country have, they went straight to the heart of the battle encountering a scene unlike any they have ever experienced in their careers, but they never hesitated.

They put it all on the line, and they made the ultimate sacrifice. They leave behind their families. They leave behind their friends. They leave behind their brothers and sisters in the Newark Fire Department.

We must carry Augie and Wayne with us, carry on their legacies, carry on their memories, and that is what we will do. On behalf of every resident made safer by people like Augie and Wayne, we extend our deepest condolences to their family, friends, and fellow firefighters.

We commit ourselves to protecting our firefighters and ensuring they have everything needed to safely return home to their families. Today, we mourn the loss of these two incredible individuals.

EQUINOR IS NOT WELCOME

(Mr. D’ESPOSITO asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. D’ESPOSITO. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in solidarity with thousands of my neighbors in New York’s Fourth Congressional District who are united in opposition to a proposed large-scale offshore energy project that, if completed, would drastically alter the landscape of several Nassau County communities.

The development being advanced by the Norwegian energy company, Equinor, would see nearly 150 massive offshore wind turbines constructed within view of land off the coast of Long Beach in my congressional district.

This project would include a landing site in the city of Long Beach where high-voltage cables would make landfall from the turbines and wind through residential areas to connect with a substation in my hometown, the village of Island Park.

Residents of these communities could play host to an environmental disaster. New York officials are keen to see this project progress, even in the face of local concern. In fact, Governor Hochul even went so far as to enlist the assistance of Brooklyn lawmakers to ram through State legislation to support the project, even as local neighbors raised concerns.

My neighbors rightfully have questions related to the impacts. I will stand with my neighbors and fight for the hardworking south shore communities. We will stand tall in the face of this hostile takeover by Equinor.

Mr. Speaker, Equinor is not welcome in our south shore communities.

HONORING ROBB LALLY

(Mr. VARGAS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. VARGAS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in recognition of the life of Mr. Robb Lally, a dedicated public servant and volunteer for more than 35 years. Robb Lally entered the seminary at a young age, and as a deacon, served in a Catholic parish and later for the Salvation Army.

In 1988, Robb Lally headed to San Diego to work with the Alpha Project, a nonprofit human services organization that serves over 4,000 men, women, and children daily. Robb carried out Alpha Project’s mission to empower individuals, families, and communities by providing work, recovery, and support services to people who are motivated to change their lives and achieve self-sufficiency.

Mr. Speaker, Robb’s life and legacy were honored at a celebration of life in San Diego, California.

On behalf of the residents of California’s 52nd Congressional District, I will express my deepest condolences to the family of Mr. Robb Lally. His legacy is felt and his presence will be greatly missed. He was a great man.

WORSENING IMPACTS OF EXTREME WEATHER

(Ms. STEVENS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. STEVENS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in recognition of our collective experience of seeing in real time the impacts of climate change unfold. This past month we have seen temperatures rise and air quality worsen. The smoke from the recent Canadian wildfires led Michigan to issue their first-ever statewide air quality advisory. Instead of being outside enjoying the Great Lakes, my constituents were filling up emergency rooms in Beaumont of Farmington Hills, struggling to breathe.

These impacts are not just hitting us locally in Michigan. July 3 and 4 saw some of the highest global average temperatures in recorded human history. This is why last year I worked so hard with my Democratic colleagues to pass the Inflation Reduction Act. The IRA is the single largest investment in combating climate change. We are already starting to see the benefits coming from these Federal actions. Michigan’s clean energy jobs grew by 3.8 percent in 2022 alone.

Mr. Speaker, we can turn this challenge into an opportunity, our 21st century moon shot: create jobs, renovate, address, and be resilient.

SPEAKING OF LABOR STRIKES

(Mr. CASAR asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. CASAR. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the 110th anniversary of the Alamo Iron Works strike in San Antonio, Texas. Back then, those organizers were fighting for better wages and working conditions, like workers are today. They started a tradition of labor strikes in the summer in the city of San Antonio.

Mr. Speaker, 20 years later in 1933, the Finck Cigar strike began when 400 young Mexican-American women went on strike for better working conditions and won.

I had the chance to walk out with them. They were the first women to go out on strike in the city of San Antonio during the depression. Mr. Speaker, 20 years later in 1936, garment workers at the Dorothy Frocks Company in San Antonio began striking for higher wages. They went to jail that August of 1936, and still won.

The next summer, in 1937, 80 workers at the San Antonio Laundry Company walked off the job. They demanded a 9-hour workday instead of 14 hours and won.

Remember, when rightwing extremists pass antiworker bills, they are arguing that their bills are trying to take us to the good old days of Texas past. We know the truth: The history of San Antonio and the history of Texas is a history of workers organizing and winning.

SPOTLIGHTING LIEUTENANT COLONEL JAMES BOND

(Mr. DAVIS of North Carolina asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to spotlight James James Bond, a native of Halifax County and the first African-American from the North Carolina Army National Guard Aviation Branch to become a lieutenant colonel.
Mr. GREEN is recognized for 60 minutes.

The Speaker’s announced policy of January 9, 2023, the gentleman from Texas (Mr. GREEN) is recognized for 60 minutes as the designee of the minority leader.

Mr. GREEN of Texas. And still I rise, Mr. Speaker.

I rise as a scion of the enslaved African Americans who were sacrificed to make America great, sacrificed for some 200-plus years, 240-plus years, to make America great.

I rise because I understand that as a scion and as a descendant, I have a duty, responsibility, and an obligation to those enslaved people. I think my colleague, John Lewis, put it best, to just have a responsibility to “get in good trouble.” “Good trouble” was his term. I added the verbiage.

We have this duty and responsibility to get into good trouble, to do that which is appropriate to honor the enslaved people who are the foundational mothers and fathers, the economic foundational mothers and fathers, of this country. The foundation upon which this economy resides to this day was put in place with sacrificed lives, millions of sacrificed lives, millions, literally, over centuries, literally, to make America the great country it is.

Unfortunately, America—the country I love, the country where I sing the national anthem, salute the flag, and say the Pledge of Allegiance, I stand for the national anthem. The country I love has not shown respect for the people who gave it its economic foundation.

As a matter of fact, we have shown disrespect for them, disrespect. They have not been honored. They have been pushed aside and left behind. As a matter of fact, there has been an effort to cause people to literally be ashamed of talking about these foundational mothers and fathers.

I mean, we have been the enslavers, and we revile the enslaved who were sacrificed, whose lives were sacrificed, many of whom were born into slavery, lived their lives as slaves, and died as slaves. We don’t honor them appropriately.

Some of that is changing because of what the Honorable John Lewis called to our attention about good trouble. Some of that is changing because, last year, this Congress passed legislation for Slavery Remembrance Day. We did so on July 27 of last year.

Mr. Speaker, Slavery Remembrance Day was a historic and monumental accomplishment for Congress, but you didn’t read about it in the newspapers. You didn’t see it on television. You didn’t hear anything about it on radio. It wasn’t cellular media.

This country does not respect the enslaved people, the country I love, the country where I salute the flag, say the Pledge of Allegiance, and stand for the national anthem.

None of that was broadcast because there is a desire among many to have those who are the scions, the descendants, forget slavery, to forgive and forget. It is obvious that the scions have forgiven.

Yes, we forgive, but God gave us memory for a reason. We don’t forget. We don’t forget Pearl Harbor, and we have a Pearl Harbor Remembrance Day.

We don’t forget 9/11, and we have a 9/11 Remembrance Day. We are not going to forget and should never forget the Holocaust, and we have a Holocaust Remembrance Day.

We don’t forgive and forget. We should forgive and remember. Forgive and remember. We did for 9/11 and the bombing of Pearl Harbor on December 7. That is what we do for the Holocaust. We remember, and we should.

I stand here a scion, a proud person who commemorates Slavery Remembrance Day. It is not a day for celebration. It is a day for commemoration. As we are approaching the next Slavery Remembrance Day, I thought it would be appropriate to do several things.

The first is to acknowledge Mr. STENY HOYER. Mr. STENY HOYER gave me his word, and he kept his word. He gave me his word. He indicated that we would pass Slavery Remembrance Day legislation in this House, and we did. We did it, as I indicated, on July 27, 2022.

I am eternally grateful to Mr. HOYER for what he committed to do, for what he followed through on, and, in fact, what he did. So, I thank Mr. HOYER. I will forever appreciate him for this and many other things that he did as the majority leader. I respect greatly the many things that he has done, but I don’t respect any of them more than what he did to help us inculcate Slavery Remembrance Day into the national fiber and fabric of this country. I greatly appreciate it, and I will be thanking the gentleman not only today in Austin, Texas, but on August 19, when we will have our second annual Slavery Remembrance Day event.

The second event will be on August 19 in Houston, Texas. Our speaker will be the Honorable Bishop Barber, who is well known for his oratory and his intellect. He is a preacher par excellence, a pulpiteer par excellence, and a person who, without question, is making a difference in the lives of poor people. He is engaged in a campaign to help poor people.

It is August 19 in Houston, Texas. It will be open to the public, I might add, the first 1,000 people. Last year, we had 1,000 people in attendance. We expect to have another commemoration ceremony.

We expect to continue with the Slavery Remembrance Day event not only in Houston but across the length and breadth of this country. We have other scions who understand that they are bringing the gifts our ancestors gave, that they are the dream and hope of the slaves. Some of them will pick this up, and they, too, will have Slavery Remembrance Day events.

The actual day for Slavery Remembrance Day to have the most commemoration is going to be August 20 because it was on August 20, 1619, that the ship White Lion docked at a place called Point Comfort near what we now call Norfolk, Virginia. When the White Lion docked, it had 20 or so—I am not sure of the exact number—persons of African ancestry who were traded for goods. They became the first Africans to become enslaved in the Colonies.

I understand that there are other circumstances that predate August 20, 1619, but this happened with the Colonies, and it was the Colonies that, in a sense, they probably would say it, but it is true—popularized slavery. They popularized it, legitimized it, made it comfortable, made it acceptable, made it part of the vernacular, and made it a part of everyday life. It was the American Colonies that gave us slavery as an institution in this country for hundreds of years.

On August 20, we will be commemorating Slavery Remembrance Day. We have a breakfast and ceremony on the 19th, but on the 20th, we will take it to houses of worship. In these places of worship, we will have commemoration ceremonies.

Last year, we were at Bishop Dixon’s Community of Faith Church to be called the cathedral now, the Cathedral of Faith in Houston, Texas. We will have another commemoration ceremony there.

We will have commemoration ceremonies in other churches. I want to thank the members of my colleagues and the breadth of the country. We will get there. It is not going to be easy, but we will do it.
This is what you do, Mr. Speaker. This is, for many people, trouble, but it is the kind of good trouble that John Lewis called to our attention. It is good trouble.

I remember how he and I were in good trouble. We were arrested multiple times together, and we literally were in jail together. I respect and will always allow his spirit to manifest itself such that it can be a guiding light and force in the lives of people and hopefully will continue to be one in my life, the desire to be in good trouble.

I have followed through on this good trouble mission, and I have had the opportunity to make good trouble in honor of the Honorable John Lewis as it relates to voting rights. This is a part of the process of honoring the enslaved people, as a matter of fact, this good trouble. Honoring them by getting in good trouble to advance the rights of all people, which would include voting rights, for example—is an act of good trouble not just for my contemporaries and for the people who will benefit from it now but to show that we respect that the ancestors suffered and never had the right to vote.

They suffered, so someone such as an Al Green who makes it to Congress, they would expect that he would try to make a difference and get and acquire the rights for others that they never had.

Mr. Speaker, I am honored to tell you that I was before the Supreme Court a few years back. I was before the Supreme Court, and I have the proof of it here. This is the citation that I received on August 9, 2021. August is a significant month, you see, Mr. Speaker, in my life.

We were arrested there, and I made a commitment after we were arrested—not put in jail; it wasn't that type of arrest. When I was arrested, they placed this band on us, and this was something to indicate that we have been arrested and had to post bail. I paid a fine, and I did not go to a place of incarceration.

My commitment was to wear this band. This is the same band that was placed on me on August 9, 2021. It is the same band. I committed to myself to wear this until we passed the Voting Rights Act here in Congress, and I have had many tell me that I may be wearing it long after I have been wearing it now for some years, you see, Mr. Speaker, but I don't think that I can wear it too long because the right to wear it too long because the right to wear it a long time. I have been wearing it a little bit earlier.

The legislative agenda will include awarding a Congressional Gold Medal to the enslaved. We have in 1956, here in this Congress, accorded a Congressional Gold Medal; 1956, a Congressional Gold Medal, to Confederate soldiers. Confederate soldiers, for edification purposes, are the people who fought to maintain slavery.

The Congress of the United States awarded a Congressional Gold Medal to the enslaved, not to the people who are the foundational mothers and fathers of this country, the people who suffered and who were sacrificed, their lives sacrificed so that we would have this opportunity to stand in the well of the House and say America is a great country. It is. But it is great for a reason. The reason is sacrificed lives, millions of them.

If we in this Congress can accord a Congressional Gold Medal to Confederate soldiers, surely we can accord a Congressional Gold Medal to the enslaved people whose lives were sacrificed to lay the economic foundation upon which this Nation resides today.

A Congressional Gold Medal is a part of the conscience agenda. You will note we have that at the top of this display; conscience agenda. This is our moral imperative. This is our moral imperative, this conscious agenda; our moral imperative.

That means it is something that we have to do because it is not only the right thing to do; this is the righteous thing to do. This is a righteous movement. This is righteous legislation.

This is not your typical legislation. This is legislation that addresses a similar moment in time that changed the rest of time in this country, and that moment in time was August 20, 1619.

It changed the history of this country forever. It is the way for a good many people, I might add, people of color.

This is a part of it, awarding a Congressional Gold Medal. We have legislation that we have filed in the House of Representatives to accord a Congressional Gold Medal to the enslaved people.

The next piece of legislation on the conscience agenda, that inner thing within us all that says this is the right thing to do, that we should respond to. This is the response. This is the response from a scion of the African people who were enslaved and sacrificed to make America great.

The next item on the agenda for those who may not be aware—many are; the message is getting out—is the removal of Richard Russell's name from the Russell Senate Office Building.

Fardon me while I pick up my poster on this issue. This is a poster that displays, depicts the Russell Senate Office Building; a building paid for with tax dollars.

Not only is it paid for with tax dollars, it is maintained as the same with tax dollars, the Russell Senate Office Building.

Richard Russell was a bigot. I am speaking truth. Richard Russell was a that, that, and that 1956, a Congressional Gold Medal; 1956, a Congressional Gold Medal; 1956, a Congressional Gold Medal; 1956, a Congressional Gold Medal; 1956, a Congressional Gold Medal; 1956, a Congressional Gold Medal; 1956, a Congressional Gold Medal; 1956, a Congressional Gold Medal; 1956, a Congressional Gold Medal; 1956, a Congressional Gold Medal; 1956, a Congressional Gold Medal.

Richard Russell fought antilynching legislation. Richard Russell fought civil rights legislation. Richard Russell has earned a place in infamy, and his name should not be associated with the Russell Senate Office Building. It should not. His name should be immediately removed from the building.

The building itself is a symbol of national shame. I don't go in the Richard Russell Office Building. I am a one-person protest. I don't go. I respect myself enough not to go into this building.

I guarantee you; if this building were symbolic of some other things associated with Anglo Americans, they wouldn't go in it. They respect themselves enough not to disrespect themselves by going into a building that was antithetical to their best interests, that the name of a person who was antithetical to their best interests.

That is what they do.

I am not doing anything that my Anglo-American friends wouldn't do if the shoe were on the other foot, to borrow a phrase.

Unfortunately, the Senate has not found it within its wisdom to change the name. I have heard that the reason the name has not been changed is because they can't agree on another name. There have been efforts to try to do it, but they couldn't agree on a name.

I have a solution. There is a way to resolve this question of the name immediately. Let it revert to the name that it had prior to becoming the Russell Senate Office Building.

That name was the Old Senate Office Building. Let it revert to the Old Senate Office Building. Let it do the same time as needed to select the new name.

I have no name that I am recommending. I am not doing this to give it a name. I am doing this to have this name removed. I am doing this because this is good trouble. This is the kind of trouble that the ancestors expect a scion to engage in. This is the good trouble, the kind of trouble that John Lewis engaged in when he crossed the Edmund Pettus Bridge on Bloody Sunday. This is good trouble. I don’t mind getting into good trouble.

It is good trouble to say that the Senate ought to be ashamed for allowing this to persist, knowing that it is an affront to African Americans.

They know it, but we are not that important. Our vote is, but we are not that important. They don’t have to respond to us immediately. Take their time.

It is a very difficult circumstance to negotiate when people who are not directly impacted by something that is an affront to others, when they have the authority to set the timeline, when they can determine when it is best to do that which is going to benefit people who are finding a circumstance unpleasant and unacceptable. They don’t have to rush. It doesn’t impact them; many of them. It does impact one or two people, they are in the sense that they are descendants.

I am a proud descendant. I am not ashamed to say that the Senate ought to be ashamed for what it is doing in allowing this to continue.

It is also strange in this country where we get exposure for everything that is under the Sun, that this would get the kind of attention it merits.

The press knows, they do, but they are not taking any action. Sometimes the press has to do more. The press has to maintain the status quo. I have no idea as to why, but that is what is happening as a result of the inaction.

The status quo is being maintained, and we need not kid ourselves. If this received the media attention that it richly deserves and will not receive, apparently, this would change. It would. The name would come off of the building. The Senate has shame on its face for allowing this to persist.

The other agenda. Another aspect of this agenda is the enacting of the securities and exchange atonement.

Let me explain. I was afforded the preeminent privilege of being the chairperson of the Subcommittee on Oversight and Investigations for the full committee of Financial Services, and as such, we held hearings.

We held a hearing, and we had some of the top banks in this country present. We made inquiries about their association with slavery by and through their predecessor institutions. Well, confessions were made. Predecessor institutions are big banks. Before they became as big as they are now, they engaged with slavery. Banks were lending money so that people could buy human beings and shackles and chain them into slavery.

Banks would repossess their property. They were chattel by definition at the time, human beings as chattel. These are the foundational mothers and fathers of this country in chains. They were repossessed.

They were repossessed. If the person who received the loan to purchase the slaves didn’t make his payments time-ly, the slaves were repossessed, just as you would repossess an automobile or a car, some piece of property, an inanimate object. They were repossessed.

These are the captains of industry. These are the people who make millions of dollars. One question was posed to them: Have you done enough to atone? Not in those exact words. They all gave an indication that they could do more.

Then the question was asked, well, can you give us a plan for doing that something more? Not one had a plan or was prepared to say they would even present a plan.

The insurance companies, big insurance companies get their start, some of them, dealing in slavery. That wasn’t the only thing, but it was a part of their portfolio at the time.

These big companies insured the slaves. When a slave died, then there was a demand of funds, just as you would insure a cow and some other animal; human beings treated with less respect than you would give a cow, in many cases.

The enslaved people, the foundational mothers and fathers, the economic foundational mothers and fathers who laid the foundation such that I can stand here and say America is a great country; great because of their lives that were sacrificed.

I say it sincerely. America is a great country. But we have to add: because of the ancestors who were enslaved for centuries so that America could have the free labor to help it become the economic powerhouse it is today. We need to have a means by which we can find out just to what extent all of these companies, major companies, engaged in some way with slavery, and there should be atonement.

We didn’t demand funds, they atone in some specific way. The specificities we allowed them to negotiate within themselves, but so far, we have not had any action that I am aware of.

To do something along the lines of just a few handouts here and a few handouts there, and receiving applause while you are getting your millions and millions of dollars as a salary, that is not enough. That is not enough. I can call some names of people who think that they have done great things while receiving those big salaries and done very little to atone for what their predecessors have done.

“Securities and Exchange Commission”—securities and exchange atonement, more appropriately stated.

Finally, on this agenda, which we will talk about on August 19 in Houston, Texas. We will also be talking about what we did yesterday, we will talk about all of these and one additional—this is the good trouble that you get into when you are a scion and you respect yourself—establishing the department of reconciliation, establishing the department of reconciliation, establishing the department of reconciliation.

It is intuitively obvious to even the most casual observer that we have not atoned. We have not. Not only is atonement less than appreciated, but we are finding now that, in my opinion, we are backsliding in the House of Representatives—backsliding, moving back, moving backward in the House of Representatives.

We are very close in this House to having racism legitimized as a talking point or the verbiage associated with racism legitimized as a talking point.

Case in point, yesterday, a Member of the House of Representatives came to this floor and uttered what I consider a racial slur on the floor of the House. There was an appeal to take down the words, to have them stricken, right here on the floor of the House of Representatives.

We are becoming more comfortable in this country with racism, homophobia, Islamophobia, nativism, sexism, all of these invidious “isms.” We are becoming more comfortable with them.

There are people who are very comfortable with them who are Members of the Congress of the United States of America. We had a President who was very comfortable with these invidious phobias and “isms.” That, my friends, is the foundation of what we are seeing and suffering to this very day.

The behavior of the person at the top will set the tone and tenor for persons up and down the line. We are suffering because of the behavior of someone that we elected to public office. We in this country are moving in the wrong direction when it comes to the progress that we should be making in terms of relationship building and living together in harmony.

A lot of the legislation in the NDAA evidences exactly what I am saying. By the way, I voted against it.

This department of reconciliation is needed. It is needed because, for too long, we have ignored the gap between the races in this country, and there is a chasm. We have ignored it. Rather than span the chasm, build a bridge such that we can all enjoy liberty and justice for all, we ignored it. We have somehow hoped that it would just go away, that if we could just let time pass, it would go away.

However, the passage of time in and of itself does not cause pain, hurt, and sorrow to evaporate. It is what you do with your time, and how you used our time wisely, as evidenced by the fact that we had all this celebration of those who were the enslavers and literally ignoring those who were enslaved—vilified the enslaved. We need a department of reconciliation.

This department would be—something just came to mind. Let’s pause on the department of reconciliation and what it would be because I have another thought.

I really think that I need to amend the agenda. In honor of the Honorable John Lewis, I need to call this the “good trouble” because for a lot of people, this is trouble, see? They can’t stomach what we have here, the good trouble conscience agenda. I am going to do that, the good trouble conscience agenda, because I understand the trouble that this creates in the lives of people who want to forget and go on.

However, let’s not do that when it comes to 9/11, Pearl Harbor, or the Holocaust. We have to remember those things, and we should. But when it comes to slavery, let’s just forget that.
Let’s not talk about it. Forgive and forget. As I said earlier, and still I rise, I would like to talk about certain things that I believe are important.

As I was saying, back to our regularly scheduled program, establishing a department of reconciliation, here is what this department would do, what it would allow us to do: To have a secretary of reconciliation, just as we have a Secretary of Commerce, just as we have a Secretary of Education, just as we have a Secretary of Labor, a secretary whose job it would be to wake up every morning with conciliation, reconciliation, on his or her mind.

That secretary would have undersecretaries, just as we have Undersecretaries in the Department of Labor, Department of Education, Department of Reconciliation, undersecretaries who would have various aspects of reconcilition to deal with.

Reconciliation would be broader than the enslaved people. Reconciliation would also include others with whom we have not reconciled.

We need to reconcile. We have not reconciled. It is bigger than the enslaved people, the foundational mothers and fathers, the economic foundational mothers and fathers who have made America great. It is bigger than this. There are others. This is what the department of reconciliation would be charged with helping us resolve.

It is not going to be resolved over a year or two or the term of one President. It is not going to be resolved in a few years, one decade. It is not. It is going to take time. Just as we are com-mitt ed to labor issues with a Department and a Secretary who report directly to the President, we could be committed to reconciliation with a department and a secretary that reports directly to the President.

The Department of Labor is not going to do labor issues are going to be available to be addressed, and this department will address these issues. The same with education and commerce. We have these departments.

When we have specific needs, we develop specific solutions. The needs of labor are addressed through the Department of Labor. The need to rec-onciliate should be addressed through a department of reconciliation. We need a department of reconciliation to address the needs of this country so that we can live in harmony and better understand each other.

An example of something that we need to better understand: In this country, Fort Bragg existed for many years. Bragg was the name of a Confederate officer—a Confederate officer, Bragg. We changed it to Fort Liberty.
I thought that was something that we should celebrate and appreciate, but now there is a movement afoot. At least running for President has connoted that, should he become President, the name will revert back to Fort Bragg.

This is what we are experiencing across the length and breadth of the country, a rolling back. Remember, I said that we are moving in the wrong direction. We are experiencing a rolling back of gains that were fought for, won, and earned, many of them with the blood, sweat, tears, and lives of people.
There is a good possibility that if a certain person becomes President, the name of Fort Bragg will be reinstated on what we now call Fort Liberty.

We are moving in the wrong direction, but we are going to persist with the conscience agenda. We are going to give people the opportunity to do the righteous thing. It would be within them to make a decision as to whether the righteous thing is the appropriate to thing to do. There is nothing about this agenda that is not right. Slavery Remembrance Day—we have Pearl Harbor Remembrance Day, 9/11 remembrance, Holocaust remembrance.

Nothing in the world like the Holocaust, a horrific event. Slavery remembrance, not world like it. Slavery was a efficient event, a crime against humanity, in fact. That is a righteous agenda item, a good trouble agenda item.

A Congressional Gold Medal is righteous. If we can do it for Confederate soldiers in 1956, we can do it for the enslaved people today if we choose to.
That is a part of our righteous agenda.

Removing Richard Russell’s name—a person who fought civil rights, fought civil rights laws, coauthored the “Southern Manifesto”—that is a righteous thing to do. Not just the right thing. Senate, who ought to be ashamed, who won’t do the righteous thing. That is the righteous thing to do. Senate leadership who won’t do the righteous thing.

Enacting the securities and exchange atone ment. We need to know about the affiliation association of these megacorporations with the institution of slavery, and there needs to be some atonement. The universe is constructed such that atonement is a part of the process of making wrong right, right-wrongs. We need atonement.

Of course, to do all of this, much of it, all of this could be issues taken up under a department of reconciliation.
As I indicated earlier, and still I rise, I am truly a scion of the enslaved people who were sacrificed to make America great.

I am a good troublemaker in the spirit of John Lewis and many others. I want to be a good troublemaker. I will continue to be a good troublemaker.

And still I rise, bringing the gifts my ancestors gave. I am the dream—to paraphrase Maya Angelou, I am the balance of my dream.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

ISSUES OF THE DAY
The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr.
KILEY). Under the Speaker’s announced policy of January 9, 2023, the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr.
GROTHMAN) is recognized for 60 minutes as the designee of the minority leader. Mr. GROTHMAN. Mr. Speaker, I won’t keep you here for 60 minutes.

There are a couple of issues I think
I have dominated discussion here
the last couple of weeks, or should have dominated the discussion, that I think deserve a little bit of attention today.

I am going to address, one more time, our crisis at the southern border. I am a little bit afraid that, as the weeks and months roll on, people are being accustomed to what is going on at the southern border. But as with every tragedy that happens in our society, if a tragedy happens every week or every month, we ought to talk about it every month.

Now, recently, the Biden administration changed the way we allow people from certain countries, Cuba, Haiti, one of the Central American countries, to be able to come in here. But we have to look and see how many people are crossing the southern border and, if we look, including people coming across in the new administrative fashion, every month we continue to hit all-time records of people coming into the United States.

The most recent month available is May. We are still waiting for the June numbers. There we have a total of 227,000 people crossing our southern border. If we compare that to last May, it was 142,000; and if we compare it to the first May under President Biden, it was 74,000.

So things are going up dramatically, but it seems as though the press is not as appropriately concerned as they should be. In other words, we are suc-ceding in getting them bored; the greater the concern should be I think deserve a little bit of attention
today.

There are a couple of issues I think I have dominated discussion here
the last couple of weeks, or should have dominated the discussion, that I think deserve a little bit of attention
today.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.
uncles, are not. This should be a cause of great concern here in this Chamber.

When children were left to spend a week or 2 weeks apart from their parents, that was considered a major concern and something we all had to bring up.

But no, I believe that there is a new committee formed, and one of the things we will have to look at is what we can do to make sure that people who are working at too young an age, and they were an American citizen, and this was something that should change if the administration was all concerned about these parents.

Nobody can tell me if a child was working illegally, working too late, working at too young an age, and they were an American citizen, and this was something that should change if the administration was all concerned about these parents.

We always refer to human trafficking. We should—frequently, I think the phrase "human trafficking" is used to kind of nicen up what is really going on, and that is prostitution.

In any event, I call on the press corps to report on the new migrants coming in in numbers and somehow in the next couple of weeks, we should get new numbers in June. Last year, in June, we had 140,000 people cross across the southern border, and I hope the press corps takes a little bit of notice as to whether one more time we hit a record for the month.

Right now we have numbers for the first 9 months of this fiscal year. Every one of the 9 months has hit a high in the number of people coming here, at least in recent history. We will find out within a couple of weeks whether we are on the tenth month in a row of record number of people coming in.

The next issue that I would like to address—it was touched upon this week in some of the diversity talk—is that with regard to the transgender issue. It is an issue I never thought we would discuss here in Washington. It is an issue I don’t think that even crossed people’s minds a few years ago.

There are a variety of topics that people bring up here. Do transgenders get to use a girls’ locker room if they are in sports?

Do transgenders get to play on women’s sports?

But I think the most important issue, and it is one that should be more obvious, is what is society doing to reduce this problem?

What they found out in Europe is that over time, the number of transgenders go up. If we didn’t have this obvious increase in number of people, we wouldn’t have anywhere near the problem we have.

Now, why is it going up? I think the more you read, one of the reasons it is going up is this subgroup of our population is kind of held up as heroes.

I would suggest that some people interested in this topic read an article by a woman by the name of Heather Mac Donald in which she discusses the transgender situation and the fact that all of the coverage in the press and all of the favorable comments from American politicians, particularly our President of the United States, refers to people who question the proliferation of the transgender movement, he says they are motivated by hate and fear.

I don’t know anybody who is hating anybody. I do think there are people who feel sorry for these people.

But obviously, the number is increasing the more politicians and the news media pays attention to this subgroup and makes them out to be some sort of heroes. Of course, all young people like attention.

It gives people a sense of belonging, a sense that they are part of a cause. And, of course, young people like to be part of a rebellion of some nature.

But the people who are being hurt by this more than anybody are, of course, the people who would not have gone down this path but are going down this path and it is brought to people’s attention more and more. This is a group that was nowhere near as common in this country in the past and, quite frankly, I do not believe this is common in other nonwesternized countries.

That is because in these nonwesternized countries is it not discussed as something that we ought to do. Now, I recently met with a young lady who was convinced that the reason she was unhappy is because she really should have been a boy. She now credits it entirely to looking on the internet where they told her if she was unhappy—and many, many young people are unhappy. They told her the reason she was unhappy is perhaps she should be a boy.

So they took this young lady and, at the age of 12 or 13, they gave her powerful puberty blockers. They gave her testosterone, and eventually they removed her breasts. She, of course, came to regret it.

I don’t know what sort of doctor would look at a 15-year-old, knowing very well that people’s opinions and idea of the world change so dramatically between 15 and 20 and 25 and 30, and decided to do something as irrevocable as remove this young gal’s breasts. But this is happening all the time in this country.

This gal was from another State, but I know of two hospitals in Wisconsin who would make this dramatic change to somebody. They wouldn’t—I don’t know why. Money. I can’t imagine why they wouldn’t say, why don’t you come back when you are 23 or 24 and we will talk to you then. That wouldn’t be a good idea then—but to a 15-year-old?

Again, the reason she did it is because she got a lot of affirmation on the internet, people encouraging her. People telling her she is a hero, people telling her that she should be so proud of herself if she was going down this route.

I think it would be good if we would start in this chamber, among politicians here—and, hopefully, even the President—and stop encouraging people that this is an option.

By the way, if people have these surgeries, they have to continue to take medications costing a great deal every month. If it were really true that this gal should have been a boy, she wouldn’t have to continue to take medications even after she had the surgeries; however, she would have to take these medications for the rest of her life.

I hope, in the future, people in this Chamber are a little bit more measured in their words before they imply to people that they are some sort of special heroes by getting their sex changed.

So, in any event, these are two topics that I will say the other side has not been brought up to the degree in which it should be by the mainstream media and not brought up enough by my colleagues.

So I hope when we return from our break over the weekend that these issues are brought up a little bit more in the future.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. GROTHMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House do now adjourn.

The motion was agreed to; accordingly (at 12 o’clock and 45 minutes p.m.), under its previous order, the House adjourned until Monday, July 17, 2023, at noon for morning-hour debate.

ADJOURNMENT UNTIL TUESDAY, JULY 18, 2023, AT 3 P.M.

The Acting President pro tempore. Under the previous order, the Senate stands adjourned until 3 p.m. on Tuesday, July 18, 2023. Thereupon, the Senate, at 9:30 and 36 seconds a.m., adjourned until Tuesday, July 18, 2023, at 3 p.m.
Mr. Harris, Harris Farms has become a staple in California's agricultural industry. Under Mr. Harris' leadership, the family operation has grown to span over 17,000 acres and produces a wide variety of crops annually—including lettuce, onions, garlic, almonds, pistachios, wine grapes, cotton, and citrus. Perhaps the most well-known undertaking by Mr. Harris throughout the Central Valley is Harris Ranch Beef Company, California's largest fed cattle processor that produces nearly 200 million pounds of beef a year.

In addition to its impressive ranch and farming operations, Harris Farms has also become a popular destination for travelers and locals alike with its restaurant, butcher shop, and hotel. Mr. Harris is also an accomplished horse breeder. Harris Farms Horse Division has produced numerous champions including Eclipse Award Horses of the Year California Chrome and Tiznow. Harris Farms has raised and campaigned 100s of top racehorses over the last 60 years. Mr. Harris has played at a most active role in the California and national racing scene, serving multiple terms as the Chairman of the California Thoroughbred Breeders Association, Chairman of the Bay Meadows Racing Association, as well as being on the California Horse Racing Board for multiple terms, being appointed by both Republican and Democratic Governors, and serving as board chair for several terms.

He is also a member of The Jockey Club and has served as a steward there. Mr. Harris represents the very best of the Central Valley. He has grown a small family operation into one of the largest farms not only in California but the nation—all while providing high-quality food products, creating thousands of jobs, and building a welcoming community center for Valley residents. Mr. Harris is also deeply dedicated to his philanthropic work, having supported critical organizations like the Boys and Girls Club, Boy Scouts of America, and Community Medical Centers for decades. His contributions to our community will have a lasting impact for generations to come.

Mr. Speaker, I ask all my colleagues in the House of Representatives to join me in recognizing the tremendous contributions of Mr. John Harris to our Central Valley community and wishing him a happy 80th birthday.

Mr. Edwards. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor Wesley (Bob) Bessell for being awarded the Congressional Gold Medal in recognition of his service and bravery in the U.S. Merchant Marines during World War II.

Bob began his maritime career at the age of 15, as a member of the crew of the Corsair, an impressive private yacht owned by the J.P. Morgan family. Shortly afterward, he enlisted in the U.S. Coast Guard, and it was during his training that America entered World War II. Upon the completion of his training, Bob joined the U.S. Merchant Marines as an Able-Bodied Seaman.

He served as a merchant mariner for more than 2½ years, which included a deployment on the SS West Hardaway when it was sunk by a torpedo from a German U-boat in 1942. After the U-boat attack, Bob and his fellow sailors took refuge in the small town of Porlamar on Isla de Margarita in Venezuela. The island’s inhabitants, though facing their own challenges, extended a warm welcome to the stranded crew, offering them shelter, sustenance and a renewed sense of hope. Bob forged bonds of friendship with the local community, transcending language barriers and cultural differences, and he recalls walking around the island like a rockstar, always surrounded by 10 or 20 smiling faces.

In 1943, Bob completed Officer Candidate School and rose to the rank of a lieutenant commander. It was in the same year, on a mission to deliver documents in Liverpool, England, that Bob met Susan, the British love of his life. Today, when Bob and Susan are together, she is the last thing he thinks about. He has no idea where she is now.
HONORING THE LIFE AND LEGACY OF NORMA VALLES

HON. MARC A. VEASEY OF TEXAS
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Friday, July 14, 2023

Mr. VEASEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to commemorate and honor the life of Ms. Norma Valles, a vocalist, businesswoman, advocate, and loving wife and mother from North Texas.

Norma Valles was born in 1969 in Dallas, Texas, and graduated from Grand Prairie High School in 1987, to then go on to pursue a career as an influential pianist. She often worked with her husband Alfonso in 1989 and had 3 amazing children. Her family was the center of her life—she was an amazing mother that did whatever she could to be there for her children and husband at every moment of their lives.

Aside from being an amazing mother and wife, Valles was also an accomplished vocalist. Known as the “The Queen of Mariachi Music,” she captured the attention of countless North Texas Fans, from singing National Anthem at a Mavericks game to singing at local weddings. Her amazing voice led her to showcase her skills in various productions. She was cast in leading roles in “The King and I,” as well as in independent productions like “Fiestas de Mi Tierra” and Spanish TV series “Yo Soy el Hijo del Michoacano.” Her vocal skills also landed her numerous opportunities to record voice-overs and jingles for TV and Radio. She additionally hosted Channel 44’s “Happy Sunday’s Variety Show” and “Salud Para Usted y Su Familia.”

Valles gave back to the community in numerous other ways. Norma’s vocals left such a deep impact that David Albert wanted to become her mentor. From that day on, they were a team that just kept on giving. David brought her into the studio, and they went on to record nine albums plus Si Se Puede CDS to help the Spanish community to learn English. He asked her to manage Casita Tex-Mex Bar & Grill, which she later became the owner of and still stands today. Casita Tex-Mex Bar & Grill had a love for veterans—from welcoming the troops at DFW to now honoring veterans every First Tuesday of the month at Casita Tex-Mex. Valles also had worked at the Oak Cliff Chamber of Commerce and spent her life involved in various organizations, ranging from the Irving Hispanic Chamber, H100, North Dallas of Commerce, HWNT, Dallas St. Patrick’s Day parade, Dia De Los Muertos and so many more. She also remodeled and fixed up home across North Texas, later starting her own business and becoming General Contractor for her business NV Contractors. Valles will be forever missed by loved ones. She blessed the lives of many and will continue to bless us with her music and businesses.

HONORING THE REVEREND DR. GREGORY A. SUTTON

HON. SANFORD D. BISHOP, JR.
OF GEORGIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Friday, July 14, 2023

Mr. BISHOP of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize an outstanding mentor, dedicated servant leader, faithful servant of God and dear friend of longstanding, the Reverend Dr. Gregory A. Sutton. Dr. Sutton will be honored for his 53 years of faithful service at Jackson Memorial Baptist Church in Atlanta, Georgia, on Sunday, July 16, 2023, at 10:30 a.m.

Dr. Sutton was born in Atlanta, Georgia. He was raised among great educators, philosophers, and theologians. Dr. Sutton was always concerned about the welfare of others and used his voice to speak on pressing issues of the day. He began to preach the Gospel at the young age of 16. This would lay the blueprint for his ministry and his destiny—the boy, the preacher, the man, and the visionary.

Dr. Sutton began preaching the Gospel while he was still in high school and accepted the calling to preach a growing church called Jackson Memorial at the age of 18, where he has pastored for 53 years. Through his leadership, the church has continued to expand its Christ to include those that are in. Dr. Sutton has seen the expansion of the church’s membership to over 6,000 members and he has overseen the construction of 2 new edifices for the church. Dr. Sutton’s ministry is indeed a global ministry and reaches people where they are across the world.

The scripture tells us in Proverbs, “that the people perish where there is no vision.” Dr. Sutton is indeed a visionary and has used his ministry to reach people beyond the church walls. He has dedicated himself to the awareness, protection, and spiritual development of youth. Dr. Sutton was the originator of the phrase, “Stop the Violence, Save the Youth.” Cementing his commitment to young people and their spiritual futures, Pastor Sutton was the first pastor in the Atlanta area to open his church for prayer for students before school. He also reaches out and incorporates the needs of his elderly parishioners in his ministry. Dr. Sutton has a complete ministry that attempts to reach many different groups for Christ to include those that are in. He is a devoted family man, the homebound, the homeless, the low income and the disenfranchised. He uses his Weekly Television Broadcast, “Now is the Time,” to reach those who would not otherwise be reachable.

George Washington Carver once said that “How far you go in life depends on your being tender with the young; compassionate with the aged; sympathetic with the striving and tolerant of the weak and the strong, because someday in your life you will have been all of these.” Dr. Sutton is acutely aware that for the Kingdom of God to be manifested in this world, it is imperative that people from all walks of life be brought into the fold and be made to feel that they matter and that Jesus Loves them. Dr. Sutton’s ministry is truly a Matthew 25 type of ministry.

Even amid his various ministerial duties, Dr. Sutton finds time to serve his community at large. It has been said that “Service is the rent that we pay for the space that we occupy here on this earth.” Dr. Sutton has paid his rent and he has paid it well. He serves on the board of directors of many social and civic organizations to include the Board of Ministers of Morehouse College.

Reverend Dr. Gregory Sutton has achieved much in life, but none of it would have been possible without the grace of God and the love and support of this wife, First Lady Gail Sutton; his children, Theresa, Tony, Keisha, and...
LaQuay; his 3 grandchildren and other family members.

Mr. SCOTT of Virginia. Mr. Speaker, I ask my colleagues in the House of Representatives to join my wife, Vivian, and I; along with the more than 765,000 people of Georgia's Second Congressional District, to honor and commend the Reverend Dr. Gregory A. Sutton for 53 years of dedicated service to his God, Jackson Memorial Baptist Church and humankind. Moreover, we pray God's continued blessings upon him, his ministry, and his family in the weeks, months, and years ahead.

HONORING THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF BLACKS IN CRIMINAL JUSTICE'S 50TH ANNIVERSARY

HON. ROBERT C. "BOBBY" SCOTT OF VIRGINIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Friday, July 14, 2023

Mr. SCOTT of Virginia. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor and recognize the National Association of Blacks in Criminal Justice (NABCJ) on their 50th Anniversary.

The mission of the National Association of Blacks in Criminal Justice is to act upon the needs, concerns, and contributions of African Americans and other people of color as they relate to the administration of equal justice. This milestone of NABCJ advancing justice for 50 years signifies decades of positive change and a commitment to criminal justice as a fundamental aspect of our democracy.

At the heart of NABCJ is its dedicated members, who consist of criminal justice professionals including those in law enforcement, corrections, courts, social services, academia as well as religious and community leaders. They work diligently to research relevant legislation and focus attention on improving law enforcement and our criminal justice system through evidence-based policies. Their strong commitment to respect the dignity of all humans contributes to the NABCJ's rich history of excellence and integrity.

The 400 Years African American History Commission, created by Congress in 2014, has been heavily engaged with NABCJ through 11 student chapters of the organization at Historically Black Colleges and Universities. Additionally, the National Alliance of Faith and Justice, first formed as a committee of the NABCJ, was founded and has successfully grown over the last 20 years. The establishment of these relationships have helped pave the way for African Americans and other people of color to receive equal justice under the law.

The National Association of Blacks in Criminal Justice has a long history of promoting evidence-based strategies that more effectively address crime and keeping America's communities safe. I was grateful for NABCJ's support of my Youth Prison Reduction through Mentoring, Intervention, Support and Education (Youth PROMISE) Act, which I first introduced in 2007 to help communities develop and implement evidence-based strategies to reduce youth violence and delinquency. Provisions of the Youth PROMISE Act were ultimately enacted in the Juvenile Justice Reform Act of 2018, and it would not have been possible without the work and support of organizations like NABCJ.

Mr. Speaker, NABCJ embodies what it means to fight for "liberty and justice for all." It is my pleasure to congratulate the National Association of Blacks in Criminal Justice on the many hard-fought battles won since its inception 50 years ago and wish the organization many more years of success.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

HON. RUBEN GALLEGRO OF ARIZONA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Friday, July 14, 2023

Mr. GALLEGRO. Mr. Speaker, today I missed a vote on final passage of H.R. 2670—National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA) for Fiscal Year 2024 because of the birth of my child. Had I been present on the House Floor, I would have voted NO. As a combat veteran and a senior member of the Armed Services Committee, helping to develop the NDAA is one of the most important parts of my job. This year, however, I would not have been able to vote for this bill in good faith.

While I voted in favor of reporting H.R. 2670 out of the House Armed Services Committee, Speaker MCCARTHY allowed the most radical members of his party to hijack what was a bipartisan effort to protect our Nation and support our troops. Instead, House Republicans passed amendments that do the opposite, including provisions that restrict access to sexual and reproductive healthcare, discriminate against the LGBTQ+ community, and eliminate efforts to ensure that Americans from all communities that want to serve know they will be supported and succeed.

Although there were dozens of amendments that I would have opposed, I want to highlight 5 in particular where I would have cast the following individual votes:

No on Jackson Amendment No. 377, which seeks to reverse the Defense Department's policy that safeguards access to abortion and other reproductive health care.

No on Rosendale Amendment No. 194, which seeks to prohibit coverage of gender-affirming care through TRICABE.

No on Norman Amendment No. 30, which seeks to prohibit gender-affirming care for dependents through the Exceptional Family Member Program.

No on Norman Amendment No. 1464, which seeks to ban the pride flag from Defense Department facilities.

No on Boebert Amendment No. 1386, which seeks to have books about "radical gender ideology." Instead of passing the bipartisan annual defense bill that I supported in Committee, Speaker MCCARTHY chose partisan politics over national security. I look forward to working with my colleagues in the House and Senate to address these harmful provisions through the Conference process.
