

EXTENSIONS OF REMARKS

TRIBUTE TO MR. JAMES LEE
ADAMS, JR.

HON. SANFORD D. BISHOP, JR.

OF GEORGIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 3, 2025

Mr. BISHOP. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor and remember a loving husband, dedicated father, trailblazing agricultural icon, dedicated community servant, dedicated man of God and dear friend of longstanding, Mr. James Lee Adams, Jr. Sadly, James Lee passed away on October 1, 2025. He leaves behind a legacy of service and commitment that will serve as an example for generations yet to come. His life will be remembered at a home-going service at the Camilla United Methodist Church in Camilla, Georgia on October 3, 2025, at 11:00 am.

Born on January 2, 1943, in Camilla, Georgia to the union of James Lee Adams, Sr. and Ruth Borland Adams, James Lee was a proud 1965 graduate of Georgia Tech where he earned a B.S. in Management. In 1966 he earned his master's degree in Business Administration from Auburn University where he also taught undergraduate courses in Economics and Statistics. His professional career began at Lockheed Aircraft Corporation where he served in various capacities in administration.

James returned to his roots in Camilla, where he joined his father in their farming operation. He embraced an array of advancements in agricultural technology, becoming a leader in precision agriculture and sustainable farming. His ingenuity set many records, including being the first in Georgia to achieve remarkable yields in corn and wheat. His influence reached far beyond our local community as he served in several national leadership roles, including as President of the American Soybean Association.

Throughout his illustrious career, James Lee received numerous accolades, including being named one of the 100 most influential people in agriculture in the 20th century by Alpha Zeta and in 1992 the "Man of the Year in Service to Southeastern Agriculture" award from Progressive Farmer magazine. He was a true advocate for farmers, contributing significantly to policy and agricultural reforms at both the state and national levels. He assisted in writing several farm bills, including conservation, crop insurance and general commodity titles. He was twice selected as Farmer of the Year for Georgia, in 1992 and 2000. In 2000, he was also selected as the Lancaster/Sunbelt Expo Southeastern Farmer of the Year—the first Georgia farmer to be honored with this award.

It has been said that "Service is the rent that we pay for the space that we occupy here on his earth." James Lee Adams paid his rent, and he paid it well. He was beloved not just for his accomplishments in agriculture but for his unwavering commitment to service. He was actively involved in local organizations, to include serving as President of the Camilla Rotary Club and twice leading the Chamber of Commerce. For more than 50 years, James Lee taught Sunday School and served as Chairman of the Deacons at First Baptist Church and Chairman of the Board at Camilla United Methodist Church, exemplifying his deep faith and service to God.

His contributions to education, agriculture, and community service were immeasurable. He was a firm believer in the power of education and community engagement, taking an active role in founding Westwood Schools and serving on numerous other boards and committees.

James Lee was united in marriage, first to Sue Martin, and their marriage lasted for 52 years. Together they had three beautiful daughters. James Lee found love again in his subsequent marriage to Barbara Ford Latham where he received Barbara's children into his life, accepting them as his own.

On a personal note, I have known James Lee Adams since 1992 during my first run for Congress. He became my dear friend and supporter. In public life it is hard to find friends, and it is even harder to keep them. I can truly say that when I met James Lee Adams, I found a friend and I was blessed to keep him as my friend. He never told me what I wanted to hear but always told me what he felt I needed to hear. I will be forever grateful for the fidelity of his friendship and the timbre of his character.

Mr. Speaker, I ask my colleagues in the House of Representatives to join my wife, Vivian and me, along with the more than 765,000 people of Georgia's 2nd Congressional District in honoring the life and legacy of Mr. James Lee Adams, Jr. and in extending our deepest condolences to his family, friends, and all who mourn his loss. Moreover, we pray that they all will be consoled and comforted by an abiding faith and the Holy Spirit in the days, weeks and months ahead.

Mr. GARAMENDI. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the life and legacy of H. E. Christian "Chris" Peeples, a dedicated public servant and tireless advocate for public transit whose decades of service improved the lives of countless residents in the East Bay and beyond.

He went on to earn the trust of voters time and again, being elected in 1998 and re-elected in 2000, 2004, 2008, 2012, 2016, and 2020. His commitment extended beyond the Bay Area, as he actively participated in the Transportation Research Board of the National Academies and the American Public Transportation Association, where he elevated local priorities to national and international conversations.

Director Peeples was especially devoted to advancing clean transportation and was a strong proponent of AC Transit's groundbreaking zero-emission fuel cell bus program. He spoke at and moderated panels across the country and abroad, promoting hydrogen and zero-emission transit as solutions to climate change and air pollution.

Chris was also a pillar of civic life, serving on the Oakland Ethics Commission and numerous community and political bodies. A graduate of Crown College, University of California at Santa Cruz, and Hastings College of the Law, he combined his intellectual rigor with a passion for equity and sustainability.

Christian Peeples leaves behind a legacy of advocacy, innovation, and public service that will endure for generations. I ask my colleagues to join me in honoring his extraordinary life and in extending our deepest condolences to his family, friends, colleagues, and the community he served so faithfully.

HONORING THE 120TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE SAINT GEORGE
GREEK ORTHODOX CHURCH

HON. CHRIS PAPPAS

OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 3, 2025

Mr. PAPPAS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the 120th anniversary of the founding of Saint George Greek Orthodox Church.

For over a century, St. George has been at the heart of New Hampshire's Greek Orthodox community and has served as a spiritual and cultural hub for generations of New Hampshire families. St. George has witnessed every season of life for its parishioners and has remained a constant presence for generations.

My own family has been part of this community and this parish for years. I am grateful for those who have taught me so much about my Greek heritage and culture. These are lessons that I carry with me each and every day.

Consecrated as a cathedral in 1970, St. George took on a new role within the Greek Orthodox faith, and it continues to serve as a vital connection to the larger Orthodox community. In addition to serving the spiritual needs of parishioners, St. George has been dedicated to enriching the lives of so many in the Greater Manchester area through youth programs, community events, Sunday and Greek School, basketball, and more.

For much of its history, St. George has opened its doors for festivals like Glendi and welcomed thousands of visitors of all faiths and backgrounds to enjoy authentic Greek food, culture, and history. The Anagenesis Ladies Society also remains devoted to taking on religious, cultural, and humanitarian efforts that are at the heart of the Church.

On behalf of the constituents of New Hampshire's First Congressional District, I congratulate the Saint George Greek Orthodox Church on achieving this incredible milestone. I thank them for the work done by so many to make Manchester and New Hampshire a better place.

HONORING THE CITY OF
GONZALES BICENTENNIAL CELEBRATION

HON. MICHAEL CLOUD

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 3, 2025

Mr. CLOUD. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the historic City of Gonzales, Texas, as it celebrates 200 years since its founding in 1825. Named by James Kerr after Governor Rafael Gonzales of Coahuila and Texas, this settlement was briefly abandoned and later rediscovered in 1832 by Byrd Lockhart and has grown into a cornerstone of Texas' enduring history.

Gonzales is renowned as the birthplace of the Texas Revolution, where the defiant "Come and Take It" rally cry first echoed. When Mexican soldiers were sent to retrieve a cannon from the small settlement, a small cohort of men successfully resisted in what is now called the Battle of Gonzales. This heroic stand showcased the unyielding courage and determination of its people—qualities that continue to define the city today. It was this cannon that fired the first shot for Texas' Independence, and today, because of it, the city stands as one of the oldest settlements across the entire state.

Just years later, when William Travis sent out a plea for reinforcements at the Alamo, 32 men from Gonzales were the only ones to answer the call. All of these men lost their lives and today are honored as the "Immortal 32" for their heroism in fighting for freedom and to overthrow an oppressive government.

After the Texas Revolution, Gonzales would rebuild and later become an agricultural hub, reflecting the sacrifices and hardships of Texans on the frontier. Thanks to cattle ranching and this agricultural production, Gonzales helped spur the growth of the larger Texas economy.

The story of Gonzales is one of courage and resilience in the face of hardship and toil. Today, the town continues to embrace its rich history and maintains the Texas spirit through its museums, historical sites, and traditional celebrations. As we mark this historic milestone, I congratulate the city of Gonzales on its bicentennial and honor the enduring legacy of resilience and strength that it represents. Representing this city and its people in Congress is a great honor and privilege.

Mr. CASTRO of Texas. Mr. Speaker, today I rise in celebration of the 70th wedding anniversary of Dennis and Irene Koudelka.

Mr. and Mrs. Koudelka exchanged their vows on July 30, 1955, at St. Gerard Catholic Church in San Antonio, Texas. The couple exchanged their vows after Mr. Koudelka returned from the Korean war, where his heroic actions awarded him a Bronze Star at the Battle of Pork Chop Hill. Mr. Koudelka served our Nation in the United States Army for eight years, where he was Active Duty from 1952 to 1954 and a reservist from 1954 to 1960.

Mr. and Mrs. Koudelka have two children, Mrs. Debbie Hannasch and Mr. Steve Koudelka. They are the grandparents to Mrs. Amanda Pawkett and the great grandparents to Reed and Rylie Pawkett.

Mr. and Mrs. Koudelka dedicated themselves to serving the community. At St. Luke's Catholic Church, Dennis coached football and flag football for the parish's Catholic Youth Organization teams. Irene served as the church's area chairwoman. She also served as the Hillcrest neighborhood chairwoman, in addition to being her daughter's Girl Scout Brownie leader.

Seventy years after they exchanged their vows, they are still creating memories with their family, friends and loved ones. Mr. Speaker, I am honored to recognize Dennis and Irene Koudelka's 70 years of marriage—their love story is one of admiration, respect, hope and joy.

HONORING STEVE SPREITZER

HON. RASHIDA TLAIB

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 3, 2025

Ms. TLAIB. Mr. Speaker, today, the 12th Congressional District honors Steve Spreitzer for his decades of bringing our communities together. His love for interfaith work shined through with his work at the Michigan Roundtable for Just Communities. For over forty years, Steve has dedicated his life's work to advancing racial equity, building bridges across equity divides, and uplifting the voices of those too often left out of the decision-making that directly affects them. His steady and compassionate leadership guided the Roundtable through times of challenge and transformation, leaving a legacy that continues to inspire us all.

Under his leadership, the Michigan Roundtable has become a hub for justice, dialogue, and action, forming coalitions, strengthening partnerships, and creating programs that brought communities together to confront systemic racism and discrimination. His vision has paved the way for a new generation of leaders who will continue this vital work.

On behalf of Michigan's 12th District, I thank Steve for his extraordinary service. His impact will echo through our communities for years to come and inspire all who fight for justice, equity, and workers' rights. We wish him well in his retirement.

RECOGNIZING 30 YEARS OF ART

HON. DONALD S. BEYER, JR.

OF VIRGINIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 3, 2025

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the 30th anniversary of Art on the Avenue, an annual celebration held each fall in the Del Ray neighborhood of Alexandria, Virginia. In commemorating this milestone anniversary, I encourage my colleagues to join me in celebrating Art on the Avenue and the profound contributions it has made to the cultural life and community spirit of Northern Virginia and the entire Commonwealth.

INTRODUCTION OF A BILL TO PROVIDE FOR INTERIM APPROPRIATIONS FOR THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA COURTS AND RELATED AGENCIES WITH RESPECT TO ANY FISCAL YEAR FOR WHICH APPROPRIATIONS ARE NOT OTHERWISE PROVIDED FOR SUCH COURTS AND AGENCIES

HON. ELEANOR HOLMES NORTON

OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 3, 2025

Ms. NORTON. Mr. Speaker, this week, I introduced a bill that would exempt from Federal Government shutdowns the Federal and independent agencies that are exclusively or primarily federally funded but have jurisdiction over local District of Columbia civil and criminal justice matters. This bill is modeled on a provision I have gotten enacted each year since the 2013 Federal Government shutdown to exempt the D.C. government from Federal Government shutdowns.

This bill would exempt the following agencies from Federal Government shutdowns: the Court Services and Offender Supervision Agency for D.C., the D.C. Courts, the D.C. Public Defender Service, the D.C. Commission on Judicial Disabilities and Tenure, the D.C. Judicial Nomination Commission and the D.C. Criminal Justice Coordinating Council. With one exception, these agencies are not under D.C.'s control. These agencies provide critical local services to D.C., including law enforcement, and should continue to function as usual during a Federal Government shutdown.

I urge my colleagues to support this bill.

HONORING THE LIFE OF JEFFREY "JT THE GREAT" THOMAS

HON. RASHIDA TLAIB

OF MICHIGAN
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 3, 2025

Ms. TLAIB. Mr. Speaker, today, the 12th Congressional District honors the life and legacy of Jeffrey "JT the Great" Thomas, a beloved Detroit, entrepreneur, and family man whose impact reached far beyond his community. Mr. Thomas co-founded Sweet Potato Sensations, transforming a dream that began with cookies sold from the trunk of his car into a Detroit staple, a family table where neighbors could feel at home.

Beyond business, Mr. Thomas' life was full of laughter, competition, and love. From golf outings with his daughters, basement parties, cook-offs, and spirited games of Bid Whist, he poured joy into every moment. A man of faith, he embraced his role as a teacher and scholar.

Above all, Mr. Thomas took great pride in his family, nearly 49 years of marriage to Cassandra and their daughters, Charisse "Reese Pooh" and Jennifer "Jenny Loops." His legacy of love, family, hustle, and faith will inspire our community for generations.

APPRECIATING THE PRESENCE AND CONTRIBUTIONS OF HIS ALL-HOLINESS ECUMENICAL PATRIARCH BARTHOLOMEW

HON. HALEY M. STEVENS

OF MICHIGAN
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Friday, October 3, 2025

Ms. STEVENS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to express my gratitude towards His All-Holiness Ecumenical Patriarch Bartholomew, the Archbishop of Constantinople and spiritual leader of Orthodox Christianity worldwide, for his time spent in our Nation's Capital last week. On behalf of the strong Eastern Orthodox community I represent in Michigan's 11th Congressional District, I enthusiastically congratulate His All-Holiness on receiving the 2025 Templeton Award.

This award underscores his ground-breaking environmental advocacy and unique ability to merge both scientific and spiritual discourses. His All-Holiness has exemplified a sense of responsibility towards coming generations: to preserve, protect, and promote the health of the planet on which we are honored to live.

Beyond his environmental advocacy, His All-Holiness has been an unwavering pillar in support of intersectionality, working to foster relations between devotees of Catholic, Jewish, and Muslim faiths. He has been relentless in his pursuit to prevent violence on the basis of religion, to ensure the humane treatment of all, and to join hands across the world in seeking peace and justice.

In Oakland County, we are blessed with a thriving Orthodox Christian community. As their Representative in Congress, I am thrilled His All-Holiness joined us in Washington, D.C., last week. His visit reminds us to be constantly kind and collaborative, one that is much needed during this time.

Please join me in thanking His All-Holiness for his visit and congratulating him on this well-deserved award.

TRIBUTE TO JOHN D. LAVELLE

HON. BEN CLINE

OF VIRGINIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Friday, October 3, 2025

Mr. CLINE. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the late General John D. Lavelle who was born on this day in 1916.

Jack Lavelle was one of the early investors in Bryce Resort in Basye, Virginia. He worked hard to keep Bryce solvent in those days, and contributed to turning it into the member-owned resort it is today. Jack served in the Air Force all over the world, but thought the Shenandoah Valley was the most beautiful place he'd been to.

On the eve of war in 1939 he enlisted as an aviation cadet in the Army Air Corps and received pilot training at Randolph and Kelly Fields, Texas. He received his pilot wings and a commission as a second lieutenant in June 1940.

During World War II he saw combat in the European theater of operations, where he served with the 412th Fighter Squadron. Following the war, he was assigned to Wright Field, where he was one of the two Air Corps officers who negotiated with all seven Army Technical Services and wrote the agreements for the division of assets and the operating procedures to be affected during the buildup of the Air Force.

As a career airman with a 32-year reputation as being a smart, hardworking leader, he was promoted to four star general and assigned Commander of the Seventh Air Force in Vietnam on August 1, 1971. In April 1972, General Lavelle was removed from command as a result of allegations that he ordered unauthorized bombing missions into North Vietnam, and that he authorized the falsification of reports to conceal the missions. General Lavelle was retired in the grade of major general, two grades lower than the last grade he served on Active Duty. General Lavelle always maintained his innocence until his death on July 10, 1979. On this day of that year, his widow Mary Josephine McEllin Lavelle dedicated a flagpole with base and flag, and a plaque in his honor at Bryce, which is still there today.

In 2007, newly released and declassified information disclosed that General Lavelle was authorized by President Richard Nixon to conduct the bombing missions. In light of the new information, his widow made a request to the Air Force Board for Correction of Military Records for the restoration of his grade to general, his last grade while on Active Duty.

On August 4, 2010, President Barack Obama nominated General Lavelle posthumously for promotion back to the grade of general on the Air Force retired list based on the information that he had been authorized by President Richard Nixon to conduct the bombing missions. Further, the Air Force Board for Correction of Military Records found no evidence that General Lavelle caused, either directly or indirectly, the alleged falsification of records, or that he was even aware of their existence. Unfortunately, the Senate Armed Services Committee returned the nomination, and still to this day will not allow the full restoration of his grade to general.

Jack Lavelle served the country outstandingly over his entire career. He and his wife "Jo" were heartbroken when he was removed from command and forced out of the Air Force that they had grown up with and were so proud of. But they found some solace in retirement in the beauty and peace of Virginia's Shenandoah Valley. General USAF (Ret.) Jack Lavelle is recognized by me today as an honorable and patriotic American and we remember him today as such on the anniversary of his birthday, September 9, 1916.

HONORING MS. MARTHA G. SCOTT
STREET RENAMING

HON. RASHIDA TLAIB

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Ms. TLAIB. Mr. Speaker, the 12th Congressional District is proud to honor Wayne County Commissioner Martha G. Scott with the re-naming of "Rhode Island Street" in her hometown, Highland Park, to "Martha G. Scott Boulevard," a truly well-earned recognition.

Ms. Scott has dedicated more than half a century to public service in multiple capacities, including functioning as the first woman mayor of the city, the first Black mayor in Michigan, and as a member of the Michigan legislature, where she has championed causes such as preserving the Davison Freeway and pursuing insurance reform, among other issues.

The 12th Congressional District honors Wayne County Commissioner Martha G. Scott for her distinguished service, and with great pride, we are proud to celebrate her remarkable legacy as former Mayor of Highland Park, Michigan State Representative, Senator, and as the current Wayne County Commissioner for District 3. I thank her for being a true advocate for the people and the light in many of our lives.

REMEMBERING MIGUEL ÁNGEL
GARCÍA-HERNÁNDEZ

HON. MARC A. VEASEY

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 3, 2025

Mr. VEASEY. Mr. Speaker, I am deeply heartbroken over the loss of Miguel Ángel García-Hernández, who succumbed to his injuries following the horrific shooting at the Dallas ICE facility. Miguel was a husband, a father, and a hardworking man whose greatest joy was providing for and being present with his family. His death is an immeasurable tragedy that has left a lasting void for those who loved him most.

My prayers and deepest condolences are with Miguel's wife, Stephany Gauffeny, their four children, and the baby they were expecting, as they face this devastating loss. To lose a loved one under such violent circumstances is a burden no family should ever bear. His loved ones should know that they are not alone in their grief—our community mourns alongside them, and we extend every measure of compassion and support possible.

We will always remember Miguel Ángel García-Hernández as a hardworking father, husband, neighbor, and colleague. Today, we stand in solidarity with the Mexican community as we grieve this loss together, and we hold on to the hope that his memory will strengthen our resolve to bring an end to the epidemic of gun violence in our country.

Mr. FONG. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the life and legacy of Walter Grainger, a lifelong resident of Bakersfield, California, who passed away on Sunday, September 14, 2025, at the age of 99.

In May 1944, just weeks after graduating from Kern County Union High School, later renamed Bakersfield High School, Walter enlisted in the United States Navy, where he served honorably during World War II. He and his four brothers together wore our Nation's uniform in defense of freedom.

After the conclusion of his military service, Walter dedicated his life to education and community. He taught at Bakersfield High School, Shafter High School, and North High School, where he chaired the Industrial Arts Department, before later working as a safety consultant for the school district. Beyond the classroom, Walter was a devoted husband, father, grandfather, great-grandfather, and faithful member of First United Methodist Church.

Even in his nineties, Walter continued to serve. He was instrumental in the design and construction of the Kern County World War II Veterans Memorial at Jastro Park. His vision and leadership helped shape one of the most beautiful veterans memorials in the West. Today, that memorial stands as a lasting tribute to all who served, including Walter and his brothers, whose names are engraved in granite for generations to see.

Walter was a deeply respected member of the community, and when he spoke, people listened. He lived his life with humility, service, and quiet strength. His legacy is found not only in the memorial he helped build, but in the family he loved, the students he taught, and the community he served.

Mr. Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me in honoring the remarkable life of Walter Grainger. May his memory serve as an inspiration to all of us, and may his family take comfort in knowing the profound and enduring impact he had on Bakersfield, Kern County, and our Nation.

RECOGNIZING INTERNATIONAL
PLASMA AWARENESS WEEK 2025

HON. DORIS O. MATSUI

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 3, 2025

Ms. MATSUI. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to celebrate International Plasma Awareness Week, an annual campaign dedicated to raising awareness about the importance of source plasma collection, recognizing the valued contributions of donors, and increasing understanding about plasma protein therapies and the rare diseases they treat.

As co-chair of the Congressional Rare Disease Caucus and a member of the Congressional Plasma Caucus, this annual event, celebrated from October 6 to 10 this year, is close to my heart.

For many people with rare diseases, plasma-derived therapies mean the difference between life and death, or between a life of diminished health and physical limitations and one filled with hope and possibility.

For example, Guillain-Barré syndrome is a rare but serious neurological disorder that can lead to rapid muscle weakness and, in severe cases, paralysis. A related condition, Chronic Inflammatory Demyelinating Polyneuropathy (CIDP), is characterized by ongoing nerve inflammation that can significantly impair mobility and quality of life. For both these conditions, immunoglobulins reduce inflammation, regulate the immune system, and help patients regain function. Most patients with CIDP require life-long treatment to manage their symptoms.

In the case of primary immunodeficiencies, hemophilia, alpha-1 antitrypsin deficiency, and other conditions, the body does not make important proteins, or those proteins are functionally damaged. These patients also rely on plasma-derived medicine to replace their programs and restore their health. In most cases, plasma-derived therapies are the only available treatment for these conditions. That is why it's so important that we raise awareness of the importance of plasma-derived therapies this week, and work to improve access to these unique biologic products.

I'm committed to working to ensure that every individual, regardless of how rare their disease may be, has access to the therapies they need to lead healthier, fuller lives.

HONORING THE CITIZENS FOR EAST SHORE PARKS 40TH ANNI- VERSARY

HON. JOHN GARAMENDI

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 3, 2025

Mr. GARAMENDI. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the 40th anniversary of Citizens for East Shore Parks (CESP), an extraordinary community organization founded in 1985 to protect open space and wildlife habitat and to provide recreational opportunities along the eastern shore of the San Francisco Bay.

Through their tireless advocacy and partnership with community allies, CESP was instrumental in the creation of McLaughlin Eastshore State Park, which preserves and protects 8.5 miles of shoreline habitat and open space from the Bay Bridge to Richmond. This remarkable park provides Bay Area residents access to natural beauty and recreational opportunities in one of the Nation's most urbanized regions.

Over four decades, CESP has helped transform the East Bay shoreline from neglected dumping grounds into a connected landscape of parks, trails, and ecological preserves. Their efforts have supported the creation and protection of McLaughlin Eastshore State Park, Point Molate Park, Tom Bates Regional Sports Complex, the Bay Trail connection at Golden Gate Fields, and the Albany Bulb.

Today, CESP continues to lead with vision and purpose, working toward incorporating the Golden Gate Fields property into McLaughlin Eastshore State Park and ultimately restoring the site to wetlands and marshes that will provide a resilient shoreline in the face of sea level rise. In this effort, CESP is committed to collaborating with Native American communities to restore these historically vital landscapes.

CESP's long-term vision is bold and inspiring: a connected, accessible shoreline of open space and parkland stretching from the Carquinez Strait to San Jose. Their work has created a legacy of preservation, environmental stewardship, and public access that will benefit generations to come.

On behalf of the constituents of California's 8th Congressional District, I commend Citizens for East Shore Parks for their outstanding contributions to our region and our environment, and I congratulate them on 40 years of remarkable achievement.

HONORING MABLE EMMA JEAN WRIGHT

HON. RASHIDA TLAIB

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 3, 2025

Ms. TLAIB. Mr. Speaker, the 12th Congressional District is proud to celebrate the 100th birthday of Ms. Mable Emma Jean Wright, who was born October 3, 1925. We extend our warmest wishes for this joyful celebration and offer heartfelt congratulations on reaching a remarkable milestone.

As a devoted mother of four, grandmother to seven, and great-grandmother to three, Ms. Wright has been a pillar of her family and community. For thirty-five years, she was an employee of the DMC Harper University Hospital, as well as the oldest and one of the most cherished members of "I AM" Temple Detroit for nearly forty-three years. Her service to the church has been immeasurable. With deep love and admiration, she is affectionately known as "Mother Wright" by fellow church members and friends alike.

The 12th Congressional District honors Ms. Wright's blessing of longevity, her legacy of faith and service, and with great pride, we celebrate 100 remarkable years of her life. I thank her for being a light in many individuals' lives and wish her a wonderful birthday.

COMMEMORATING THE WEEK OF SEPTEMBER 30, 2025, AS NA- TIONAL ORANGE SHIRT WEEK

HON. SHARICE DAVIDS

OF KANSAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 3, 2025

Ms. DAVIDS of Kansas. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to commemorate the week of September 30, 2025, as National Orange Shirt Week. Also known as National Week of Remembrance, this designation aims to honor those who were forced to attend Indian boarding schools.

From 1819 through the 1960's, thousands of Indigenous children were forcibly removed from their traditional homelands to attend U.S. boarding schools. At these schools, countless children were stripped of their cultural identities, often through physical, sexual, psychological, industrial, and spiritual abuse and neglect, all with the goal of assimilation into non-Native culture.

This issue is personal to me. My grandparents, Ruth Stacy and Lawrence Little George, both survived Indian Boarding Schools. I would not be here today if not for the resilience of my ancestors and those who came before me. Tragically, many other children of these schools never got to return to their families or their communities.

Hearing the experiences of Indian boarding school victims and survivors serves to not only honor the Native spirit, but also to ensure that these types of injustices can never repeat themselves. It is for these reasons that I heartily support National Orange Shirt Week.

REMEMBERING NORLAN GUZMAN-FUENTES

HON. MARC A. VEASEY

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 3, 2025

Mr. VEASEY. Mr. Speaker, I am profoundly saddened by the heartbreaking loss of Norlan Guzman-Fuentes, whose life was tragically taken in the recent attack at the Dallas ICE facility. His death is a sobering reminder of the human toll that violence leaves behind and the fragility of life when communities are confronted with such senseless acts.

Their grief is immeasurable, and they deserve the comfort, compassion, and solidarity of their community as they endure this painful loss. Every life lost diminishes us all, and we honor Norlan's memory by recommitting ourselves to building a safer, more compassionate future where gun violence must end. May his family be surrounded by support and healing in the difficult days ahead.
