SERGEANT AT ARMS AND DOORKEEPER OF THE SENATE

Appropriations, 2000 .....	$66,261,000
Budget estimate, 2001 .....	101,228,000
Committee recommendation .....	71,261,000

The Committee recommends the appropriation of $71,261,000 for expenses of the Sergeant at Arms.

The Sergeant at Arms budget structure reflects six major divisions: Capitol Division, Central Operations Division, Technology Development Services Division, IT Support Services Division, Office Support Division, and the Staff Offices Division. The Capitol Division centralizes all functions related to the maintenance and administration of the Senate wing of the U.S. Capitol Building, and provides mailing, photographic studio, and recording studio services. The Central Operations Division provides printing, mailing and parking services to the Senate. The Technology Development Services Division supports enterprise information technology systems, applications development, Internet/Intranet services, information security, and network engineering. The IT Support Services Division provides desktop computer support, mail system acquisition, maintenance and support, telecommunications, and Web and technology assessment support. The Office Support Division includes desktop computer acquisition and customer support. The Staff Offices Division includes Financial Management, Human Resources, and the Joint Office of Education and Training.

The following table compares the component categories within this account for fiscal year 2001. The Committee has recommended a funding level $5,000,000 above the fiscal year 2000 level. Although this is significantly below the requested level, severe funding constraints leave no other option. Given that the Committee allocation for the Legislative Branch does not cover all mandatory increases for the agencies, a $5,000,000 increase is a generous increase which acknowledges the importance of the mission of the Sergeant at Arms. The Committee has not recommended separate amounts for each activity in order to give the Sergeant at Arms the flexibility needed to meet changing requirements. The Committee requests that the Sergeant at Arms provide to the Committee a spending plan prior to the beginning of the 2001 fiscal year. Any deviation of more than 10 percent cumulatively to or from accounts from the level for each item in the spending plan will require the customary prior approval of the Committee.

In addition, the Sergeant at Arms is requested to consider the production of a short instructional video that may be aired periodically on the Senate cable system. The Sergeant at Arms' experience in running educational programs will help the Architect of the Capitol educate Senate staff on the benefits of a vigorous waste recycling program.

Budget estimate, 2001 <sup>2</sup> .....	273,591,000

The Committee recommends an appropriation for fiscal year 2001 of $253,203,000.

This account funds salaries and benefits of Senators' staffs as well as the office expense allowance for Senators' offices. These funds were formerly carried under several accounts including: "Administrative, clerical and legislative assistance to Senators;" "Agency contributions," under the heading "Salaries, officers and employees;" and "Official office expense allowances." Those separate appropriations were merged into this single account in Public Law 100-137.

The Senators' official personnel and office expense allowance [SOPOEA] is comprised of three components. Two of these are for salaries of personnel in Senators' offices. The allowance for administrative and clerical assistance is based on the population of States, beginning with States with a population of fewer than 5 million people to States with a population of 28 million or more. The table illustrates the allowances per population category and the States which fall into those categories.

The second component of the salaries allowance is for legislative assistance to Senators, as authorized by Public Law 95-94. This allowance provides funding for three positions in each Senator's office at an annual rate of $136,759 for a total of $410,277 per office, or $41,027,700 for all 100 Senators.

The third component of the SOPOEA is for office expenses. Each Senator's office is allocated an amount for office expenses, as displayed in the following table including the Committee on Rules and Administration's reallocations of the official mail. In addition, an amount of $200,000 is provided to cover additional expenses that may be incurred in the event of the death or resignation of a Senator, and to provide for transitional expenses during election years subject to regulations set by the Committee on Rules and Administration with respect to official mail.

It should be noted that the amounts provided for the various components of the SOPOEA are entirely fungible. Amounts provided for salaries may be used for expenses, and vice versa, subject to regulations set by the Committee on Rules and Administration with respect to official mail. It should also be noted that the figures in the following table are preliminary, and that official notification of member budgets is issued by the Financial Clerk of the Senate after final passage of this bill.

The following table illustrates the several components of the SOPOEA.

According to the most recent employment data compiled by the Secretary of the Senate, as of February 29, 2000, there were 4,072 individuals employed in Senators' offices throughout the United States and covered by this appropriation.

In addition to providing funds for compensation of employees within Senators' offices, this appropriation also provides for agency contributions for those employees; that is, the Senate's share, as an employer, of the various employee benefit programs for which Senate employees are eligible. These payments are mandatory, and fluctuate according to the programs in which employees are enrolled, the level of compensation, and the degree of participation. Budget requests for this account prepared by the Financial Clerk must be based on both experience and evaluation of trends. The fiscal year 2001 request for this account anticipates $61,398,000 in agency contribution costs.

The amount recommended by the Committee for the SOPOEA is less than would be required to cover all obligations that could be incurred under the authorized allowances for all Senators. The Committee is able to recommend an appropriation of a lesser amount than potentially necessary because Senators typically do not obligate funds up to the absolute ceiling of their respective allowances. In fact, a number of offices spend less than their total allowances. Evidence of this can be found in the semiannual report of the Secretary of the Senate. At the direction of this Committee in the Fiscal Year 1996 Legislative Branch Appropriations Act, the Secretary's report now includes summary information on each Senator's authorized allowance, expenditures made, and the balance, if any.

In the alternative, the Committee could recommend an appropriation to fully fund the sum total of all the authorized allowances. For fiscal year 2001, that would mean an appropriation of $273,591,000, $20,388,000 more than recommended.

SENATE OFFICIAL MAIL COSTS

Appropriations, 2000 .....	$300,000
Budget estimate, 2001 .....	300,000

For the official mail costs of the Senate, the Committee recommends an appropriation of $300,000, which is the same as the budget request.

ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISIONS

The Committee has included a provision (Sec. 101) which allows for funds to be transferred between the "Salaries" and "General expenses" accounts.

To improve the financial management of the Capitol Police, the Committee has included language (Sec. 102-104) that would establish certifying officers and employees to certify vouchers for payment from Capitol Police appropriations and funds. The certifying officers or employees would be responsible for the existence and correctness of facts cited in the voucher, the legality of the payment, and the correctness of computations. The certifying officers or employees would be liable for the amount of illegal or improper payments resulting from their certifications. Such officers or employees, however, could be relieved of liability by the Comptroller General of the United States under certain conditions, and be entitled to obtain advance decisions from the Comptroller General on any question of law involved in a payment. The section is similar to and patterned after the legislation for certifying officers and employees at the Library of Congress (2 U.S.C. §§ 142b, 142c). Inherent in the requirement of this legislation is that the Capitol Police Board will ensure that there are vouchers or similar records supporting payments made with appropriations and funds, which will be presented to a certifying officer for certification.

ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISION

This authority is currently available to the executive branch, the Library of Congress, and the General Accounting Office.

ARCHITECT OF THE CAPITOL

The Committee has recommended a funding level of $173,246,000 for all activities of the Architect of the Capitol pertaining to direct support of the Congress. Excluded are House items which are traditionally left for consideration by that body. Additional funds are recommended in title II of the bill for the Architect's activities relative to the structural and mechanical care of the Library's buildings and grounds, and the Botanic Garden.

The Committee recognizes that the Architect of the Capitol has had many complaints, formal and informal, made regarding employment practices. Complaints range from unclear and inconsistent sick leave policies, to retaliation by managers for filing grievances. Members of Congress have come to this Committee to express their concern about the situation, because their offices have assumed responsibility for helping the Architect of the Capitol employees, in the absence of clear policies and approachable management. We understand that the Architect has taken steps to clarify policies and provide additional training for managers on various issues. While we commend these efforts, significant problems are still occurring.

The Committee directs, by January 1, 2001, the Architect of the Capitol to create and fill a position of Employee Advocate. The duties of the Employee Advocate shall include:

- educating employees about grievance policies as a supplement to the responsibilities of the Human Resources Management Division (HRMD) of the Architect of the Capitol,
- providing employees with assistance regarding questions or concerns about employment policies and practices as a supplement to the responsibilities of the HRMD,
- providing employees with education about filing complaints through the EEO process, and acting as liaison to employees to the EEO office if requested,
- assuring and maintaining confidentiality of employee concerns and grievances.

The Employee Advocate will submit quarterly reports to the Committee on Rules and Administration, and the Senate Committee on Appropriations which shall include measures taken to fulfill the above duties. No additional funds will be appropriated for this position. The position of Employee Advocate will be funded out of the senior executive salaries of the Architect of the Capitol.

The Committee recommends an appropriation of $5,512,000 for Capitol Grounds for the care and improvements of the grounds surrounding the Capitol, the Senate and House office buildings, and the Capitol Power Plant.

The Committee directs that no new Senate projects or activities other than those listed below be undertaken with funds provided in this or previous appropriations acts without the prior written approval of the Committee, and that the Committee be notified in writing in advance of any new Senate projects or activities to be undertaken with the funds provided for annual maintenance, repairs, alterations, or miscellaneous improvements.

Budget estimate, 2001 .....	66,628,000
Committee recommendation .....	63,974,000

The Committee recommends an appropriation of $63,974,000 for maintenance of the Senate office buildings.

The Committee directs that no new Senate projects or activities other than those listed below be undertaken with funds provided in this or previous appropriations acts without the prior written approval of the Committee, and that the Committee be notified in writing in advance of any new Senate projects or activities to be undertaken with the funds provided for annual maintenance, repairs, alterations, or miscellaneous improvements. All information technology related projects must first be coordinated with the Senate Sergeant at Arms.

The Committee notes that the Senate Waste Recycling Program has room for improvement. A stronger program will improve the environment and generate additional income for the Senate. Currently, waste is removed and sorted by a private company under contract with the General Services Administration. The company pays a fee per ton of waste. Higher fees are paid for less contaminated waste. In order to capitalize on this potential source of revenue, efforts need to be made to improve the Senate's recycling efforts. First, the Architect of the Capitol is directed to fill the position of Recycling Program Manager which has been vacant for approximately a year. Second, the Architect of the Capitol is directed to develop a program with the approval of the Senate Rules Committee to educate staff on how to properly recycle. Given the high turnover in staff on Capitol Hill, it is important that new employees are given every opportunity to learn and participate in recycling. This program should involve making recycling containers readily available in an aesthetically pleasing and practical way. In addition, the Architect should plan to conduct monthly training seminars as part of the Senate Sergeant at Arms monthly Staff

Educations series, and develop short informational segments which may be broadcast by the Senate Recording Studio on the Senate cable system. As an incentive for employee participation, the funds gained from the Senate recycling program shall be used to support the Senate Health and Fitness Facility, and any excess funds shall be returned to the Treasury for deficit reduction or other needs. This incentive is consistent with executive branch agencies who, by Executive Order, may use their recycling funds for employee programs.

The Committee recommends an appropriation of $39,569,000 for the operations of the Capitol Power Plant.

Nearly 81 percent of the recommended amount is for the purchase of electricity from the local private utility, payment to the government of the District of Columbia for the provision of water and sewer services, and the procurement of boiler fuel, as displayed in the following table.

Fiscal year 2001 estimated utility costs

Purchase of electrical energy .....	$22,470,000

Purchase of coal .....	685,000
Purchase of oil .....	920,000
Water and sewer payments .....	4,400,000
Total .....	35,613,000

The balance of this appropriation supports a work force to operate and maintain the Power Plant. The Power Plant provides heat, light, power, and air-conditioning for the Capitol, Senate and House office buildings, and the Library of Congress buildings; heat, light, and power for the Botanic Garden and the Senate and House Garages; light for the Capitol Grounds' street, park, and floodlighting system; steam heat for the Government Printing Office and Washington City Post Office, also known as Postal Square; and steam heat and air-conditioning for the Union Station complex, Folger Shakespeare Library, the Thurgood Marshall Federal Judiciary Building, and the U.S. Supreme Court Building on a reimbursable basis.

With regard to the reimbursements, the Committee recommends reimbursements of $4,400,000.

The Committee recommends an appropriation of $73,297,000.

The Committee notes that the House Committee directs the Clerk of the House and the Secretary of the Senate to evaluate proposals for separate appropriations for the Congressional Printing and Binding of the House and Senate. Keeping with comity between the chambers, it would have been appropriate to request, rather than direct, that the Secretary work with the Clerk to accomplish mutually agreeable objectives. The Senate Committee would never direct the House and expects that this was a technical oversight on the part of the House. At this time, the Committee does not want the Secretary of the Senate to proceed with the House proposal.

The following table compares the component categories within this account for fiscal year 2001. The Committee has not recommended separate amounts for each activity in order to give the GPO the flexibility needed to meet changing requirements.

Budget estimate, 2001 .....	399,918,000

The Committee recommends funding of $384,867,000 for salaries and expenses of the General Accounting Office, which will support an FTE level of 3,275 FTEs. Additionally, $3,000,000 is authorized in offsetting collections derived from rent receipts and reimbursements for conducting financial audits of Government corporations.

ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISIONS

The Committee has included eight new provisions. Section 209 establishes senior level positions to meet critical scientific, technical and professional needs. Section 210 provides for reassignment to senior level positions members of the Senior Executive Service. Section 211 provides for renewable terms for experts and consultants. Sections 212 and 213 provide for voluntary early retirement authority and separation payment. Section 214 provides flexibility regarding a reduction-in-force. Section 215 provides for an annual report, and section 216 provides for a five year assessment. The following is a detailed description of the provisions:

I. Purpose

The General Accounting Office (GAO) has requested these personnel authorities to enable the agency to effectively address human capital challenges in order to more effectively fulfill its mission. GAO explained that it recently completed a thorough evaluation of its workforce needs and resources and found that they do not match up. This arose in part because of the severe downsizing and hiring freezes from 1992-1997. Also, the kinds of skills, knowledge, and performance needed by GAO in its workforce are changing with the impact of information technology, globalization, and other trends in the broader society. Finally, these kinds of imbalances threaten to become worse, because the retirement of the large cohort of aging employees may cause a sudden loss of expertise in a few years.

GAO has said that it is doing what it can administratively to correct these imbalances, e.g., by enhanced entry-level recruitment, active management of promotion decisions, and compilation of an inventory of the agency's human capital needs and resources. The agency is also being restructured to have less hierarchy and fewer field offices. GAO explained, however, that its current law is designed for “downsizing,” not “rightsizing,” and prevents GAO from taking needed management steps.

GAO has thus explained why this new legislative authority is necessary to enable GAO to effectively address the agency’s human capital requirements. This legislation is appropriate for GAO considering its role and responsibilities in the legislative branch and its unique relationship to the Congress, and also taking account of the specific, fact-based demonstration that GAO has made explaining why the requested authority is needed and appropriate.

Jurisdiction over the General Accounting Office and legislation governing its personnel system lies with the Senate Committee on Governmental Affairs. The Chairman and Ranking Member of the Committee on Governmental Affairs support this legislation and do not object to its being included in this bill.

II. Summary of Provisions

The legislation provides narrowly tailored authority, preserving due process protections, in four specific areas: (1) to establish senior-level positions to meet critical scientific, technical or professional needs and to extend to those positions the rights and benefits of Senior Executive Service employees; (2) to offer early retirement (early-outs) on a voluntary basis to a limited number of qualified employees in each fiscal year; (3) to offer separation pay (buyouts) on a voluntary basis to a limited number of qualified employees in each fiscal year for a 5-year period after enactment of the legislation; and (4) to release officers and employees in a reduction in force (RIF) which is carried out for downsizing, realigning, or correcting skill imbalances. Regulations governing this latter provision shall give effect to military preference and may take into account such other factors as skills, knowledge and performance.

In addition, the legislation requires that the Comptroller General report annually to the Congress on the use and effectiveness of the legislation, and provide the Congress with a report in 5 years summarizing the use and effectiveness of the legislation and recommending whether it should be continued or changed.

III. Employee Rights and Protections Under the New Authorities

First, as a general matter, it is essential that the Comptroller General consult with employees concerning plans for implementation of the legislation in advance of issuing proposed orders or regulations for comment. GAO has described the efforts taken by the Office of the Comptroller General to foster two-way communication between the Office of the Comptroller General and all agency officers and employees, including extensive discussions regarding the need for and development of this legislation. Broad consultation with officers and employees should be continued at each stage of the legislation’s implementation. In addition, in developing implementing regulations, GAO is obligated under existing law to afford notice and opportunity for comment, and GAO has said it will follow the best practices of regulatory agencies in regards to summarizing and responding on the public record to significant comments received.

The legislation itself contains a number of provisions and preserves rights and protections under existing laws to assure that employees will not be subject to arbitrary or unreasonable action.

Notably, this legislation in no way affects existing laws that prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, and disability, that forbid prohibited personnel practices, or that require compliance with merit principles. GAO's implementation of the authorities granted by this legislation must continue to be in conformity with those existing laws.

This legislation requires that, to implement the authorities under sections 212, 213, and 214 (early retirement, separation pay, and reductions in force), the agency must issue regulations that provide criteria for, in effect, two levels of decision-making: the decision to use the authorities and the decision regarding which officers or employees shall be subject to actions under the authorities.

GAO has stated that these regulations must set forth clearly defined criteria and require consistent and well documented application of those criteria. Any decisions based upon individual data, such as skills/knowledge and performance, will be based on objective identification and measurement systems. Ratings from the agency's performance appraisal systems will be basis for measuring individual performance, and GAO has stated that an individual's ratings for 3 years will be used. Similarly, skills and knowledge must be ascertained in a well-documented skills inventory. GAO has explained that its staff will fill out such a skills inventory, subject to supervisory review, which will be used in conjunction with the agency's strategic plan to identify any "gaps" or "overages" in workforce skills and knowledge. If GAO finds it necessary to use the RIF authority before a skills inventory is completed, the agency would use existing groups and units.

The legislation allows the authorities under sections 212, 213, and 214 (early retirement, separation pay, and reductions in force) to be exercised only for workforce realignment and other purposes as specified in the legislation. Addressing individual employee performance is not among these specified purposes, and it is only for the specified purposes that the Comptroller General may consider individual performance data among the criteria for offering early retirement or separation pay or for carrying out a reduction in force. For example, GAO may not use these authorities under sections 212, 213, or 214 for the purpose of replacing lower-performing employees with higher-performing employees or to address problems in individual employees' performance. To address performance problems, GAO must continue to use its performance management system under existing law, which affords affected employees particular procedural and substantive rights. Under the new authorities granted by this legislation, performance would be, in effect, a secondary criterion, applicable only after GAO has used a skills inventory to identify gaps and overages in the skills and knowledge resources at the agency (or, as noted above, after GAO has used existing groups and units if a reduction in force is necessary before the skills inventory is completed). Thus, under both this legislation, as under existing law, individuals are not subject to being "targeted," i.e., reductions in force may not be carried out for the purpose of removing a particular individual or individuals.

GAO's Personnel Appeals Board (PAB) will serve as an independent body to review and decide any cases arising out of a reduction in force where individuals feel they have been treated arbitrarily or unreasonably or not in accordance with law or regulations. GAO has stated that this review authority of the PAB is established under existing statute and under provisions of GAO's existing regulations that GAO will retain. If an action under the RIF authority was unlawful, the individual employee shall be restored to the grade or rate of pay to which the employee is entitled, retroactively effective to the date of the improper action.

As to the senior level positions established under section 209 of the legislation, employees appointed to those positions will generally enjoy the same rights and privileges as members of GAO's Senior Executive Service. Furthermore, except as otherwise specified in the legislation, the employees appointed to the new senior level positions will enjoy the rights and protections that apply generally to professional employees at GAO. Any employees transferred under this provision from GAO's SES to a non-executive senior level position will retain their current pay and will have an equivalent pay system to what they had in the SES.

Under section 210, the new early-out authority will be in addition to, and will not detract from, any rights to early retirement established under existing law.

Finally, the legislation requires GAO to report on the implementation of the new authorities both annually and in a 5-year assessment, and GAO has said that these reports will include information about any impact upon employee attitudes and opinions, as measured by employee feedback survey responses. The 5-year assessment will include not only recommendations of the Comptroller General for continuation or change of the authorities granted by this legislation, but also any assessments or recommendations of the GAO Personnel Appeals Board and of any interested GAO employee groups.

IV. Major Provisions

Section 209. Senior Level Positions

This section would authorize the General Accounting Office to establish critical scientific, technical, and professional employee positions which have basic pay levels and many of the other rights and privileges currently applicable to the Senior Executive Service, but which do not require the exercise of managerial or supervisory responsibilities. The current ceiling on the total number of General Accounting Office employees whose basic pay may exceed the rate payable for grade GS-15 of the General Schedule is not increased.

Section 210. Reassignment to Senior Level Positions

This section enables the Comptroller General to convert existing GAO Senior Executive Service employees to the senior level scientific, technical, or professional positions.

Section 211. Experts and Consultants

This section authorizes renewal of the 3-year terms applicable to some experts and consultants employed by the General Accounting Office, and applies the same basic pay ceiling to all senior level experts and consultants.

Section 212. Voluntary Early Retirement

This section authorizes the Comptroller General to offer voluntary early retirement to a limited number of General Accounting Office employees who meet eligibility criteria specified in the legislation. These include the same criteria as those in recently enacted legislation applicable to executive agencies, as well as additional criteria specific to this provision. Offers of voluntary early retirement must only be for the purposes of realigning the agency workforce in order to meet mission needs, correcting skill imbalances, or reducing high-grade, managerial, or supervisory positions. The General Accounting Office will be required to promulgate implementing regulations which provide for offers of early retirement to any individual employee or groups of employees based on skills, knowledge, performance, or other similar factors or combination of such factors determined by the Comptroller General. Offers of voluntary early retirement are limited to no more than 10 percent of the agency work force in a fiscal year.

The annuity provisions for employees affected by this provision are consistent with those in existing federal law.

Section 213. Separation Pay

This section parallels Section 212 and enables the Comptroller General to provide separation pay ("buyouts") up to a maximum of $25,000 to a limited number of employees annually. Repayment and reemployment restrictions are consistent with recent legislation providing separation pay authority to executive agencies. The separation pay may be offered for purposes of realigning the workforce in order to meet mission needs, correcting skill imbalances, or reducing high-grade, managerial, or supervisory positions. Implementing regulations must provide that buyout offers shall be based on skills, knowledge, performance or similar factors. The number of employees to whom separation pay may be provided is limited to 5 percent of the workforce in any fiscal year, and the authority expires 5 years after enactment.

GAO must remit to the Office of Personnel Management for deposit in the Treasury to the credit of the Civil Service Retirement and Disability Fund an amount equal to 45 percent of the final annual basic pay of each employee receiving separation pay who retires under the Civil Service Retirement System or the Federal Employees' Retirement System.

Section 214. Reduction In Force

This section provides that the Comptroller General may conduct a reduction in force for purposes of organizational downsizing, realignment, or correcting skill imbalances. In seeking to achieve such purposes, the Comptroller General is authorized to release officers and employees of the agency using criteria that "shall give effect to military preference and may take into account such other factors as skills, knowledge, and performance in such a manner and to such an extent as the Comptroller General determines necessary and appropriate." Employees must be given 60-days notice prior to release in a reduction in force, except that the advance notice period may be reduced to no less than 30 days if necessary because of circumstances not reasonably foreseeable.

Section 215. Annual Report

This section adds to the current annual reporting requirement for GAO a description of actions taken under the voluntary early retirement, the separation pay, and the reduction in force provisions, including an assessment of the effectiveness and usefulness of those actions in achieving the agency's mission, meeting its performance goals, and fulfilling its strategic plan.

Section 216. Five-Year Assessment

This section requires that, not later than 5 years after the date of enactment, the Comptroller General shall report to the Congress concerning implementation and effectiveness of the legislation, including a summary of the portions of prior annual reports describing and assessing actions pursuant to the legislation, recommendations for continuation or modification of the legislation, and any assessments or recommendations of the General Accounting Office Personnel Appeals Board and interested GAO employee groups.

TITLE III—GENERAL PROVISIONS

In addition to several routine general provisions carried annually in the bill (secs. 301–308), the Committee proposes additional general provisions (secs. 309 and 311), as follows:

Section 301 bans the use of appropriated funds for service and maintenance of private vehicles, except under such regulations as may be promulgated by the House Oversight Committee and the Senate Rules and Administration Committee, respectively.

Section 302 limits the availability for obligation of appropriation to the fiscal year for which it is expressly provided in the bill accompanying this report.

Section 303 provides that any pay rate and title designation for a staff position created in this Act, and not specifically established by the Legislative Pay Act of 1929, is to be made permanent law by this Act. Further, any pay rate and title change for a position provided for in the 1929 Act is to be made permanent law by this act and any changes in the official expenses of Members, officers, and committees, and in the clerk hire of the House and Senate are to be made permanent law by this Act.

Section 304 bans the use of funds for contracts unless such contracts are matters of public record and are available for public inspection.

Section 305 provides that, to the greatest extent practicable, products purchased with funds in this Act should be American-made.

Section 306 appropriates such sums as may be necessary for the payment of settlements and awards pursuant to Public Law 104–1.

Section 307 authorizes legislative branch entities participating in the Legislative Branch Financial Managers Council [LBFMC] to finance the costs of the LBFMC.

Section 308 amends section 316 of Public Law 101–302 to extend for 1 year the availability of funds for the Senate art collection.

Section 309 amends section 3011 of Public Law 106–31 to extend the pilot program for the Russian Leadership Program for 1 year.

Section 310 transfers the Library of Congress and the Government Printing Office uniformed officers, and associated administrative support staff to the United States Capitol Police. The Committee believes that one unified police force would provide for seamless security of the Capitol Hill campus as well as provide efficiencies in the administrative area. The addition of the Library's force of approximately 156 uniformed officers, and the Government Printing Office's force of approximately 55 officers will provide the Capitol Police with resources to meet their desired staffing levels.

On October 1, 2000, individuals employed as Library of Congress or Government Printing Office police shall be transferred to the U.S. Capitol Police. Individuals who choose to apply for employment as a member of the Capitol Police no later than November 15, 2000, and meet the requirements shall be entitled upon the completion of the training requirements to the same compensation and benefits as current U.S. Capitol Police, and shall have the option to buy into the Capitol Police retirement plan, and have past Library of Congress and Government Printing Office service treated as Capitol Police member service. The current age limitation on individuals transferring may be waived in a manner consistent with the waivers issued when the U.S. Capitol Police imposed the age limitations in Public Law 101-428, adopted October 15, 1990. Individuals who choose not to apply, or who do not qualify may continue to perform their current duties, and at their same salaries at their current duty station under the direction of the Capitol Police on an interim basis until September 30, 2001.

The General Accounting Office is directed to conduct a study on the transfer of the Library of Congress and Government Printing Office police to the U.S. Capitol Police, and to report the results thereof to the Senate Appropriations Committee and the U.S. Capitol Police Board no later than July 1, 2000. The study shall include the identification of issues to be addressed prior to any such transfer, to ensure an orderly transition and the protection of the rights of effected employees. In conducting this study, the General Accounting Office shall consult with the appropriate chairmen, or their designees, of the labor committees of the Library of Congress and Government Printing Office, as well as the Chief, or his designee, of the U.S. Capitol Police.

Section 311 provides a procedure for the replacement of a statute provided by a State for display in Statutory Hall in the Capital.

COMPLIANCE WITH PARAGRAPH 7, RULE XVI, OF THE
STANDING RULES OF THE SENATE

Paragraph 7 of rule XVI requires that Committee reports on general appropriations bills identify, with particularity, each Committee amendment to the House bill “which proposes an item of appropriation which is not made to carry out the provisions of an existing law, a treaty stipulation, or an act or resolution previously passed by the Senate during that session.”

The Committee has proposed no amendments which fall under this rule.

COMPLIANCE WITH PARAGRAPH 7(C), RULE XXVI OF THE
STANDING RULES OF THE SENATE

Pursuant to paragraph 7(c) of rule XXVI, the Committee ordered reported en bloc, S. 2603, an original Legislative Branch appropriations bill and S. 2593, an original Department of Defense appropriations bill, both subject to amendment and subject to the section 302 budget allocations, by a recorded vote of 28–0, a quorum being present.
