DECEMBER 5, 2001.—Committed to the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union and ordered to be printed

Mr. HANSEN, from the Committee on Resources, submitted the following

R E P O R T

[To accompany H.R. 1963]

[Including cost estimate of the Congressional Budget Office]

The Committee on Resources, to whom was referred the bill (H.R. 1963) to amend the National Trails System Act to designate the route taken by American soldier and frontiersman George Rogers Clark and his men during the Revolutionary War to capture the British forts at Kaskaskia and Cahokia, Illinois, and Vincennes, Indiana, for study for potential addition to the National Trails System, having considered the same, report favorably thereon without amendment and recommend that the bill do pass.

PURPOSE OF THE BILL

The purpose of H.R. 1963 is to amend the National Trails System Act to designate the route taken by American soldier and frontiersman George Rogers Clark and his men during the Revolutionary War to capture the British forts at Kaskaskia and Cahokia, Illinois, and Vincennes, Indiana, for study for potential addition to the National Trails System.

BACKGROUND AND NEED FOR LEGISLATION

During the American Revolutionary War, American Colonel George Rogers Clark (1752–1819), elder brother of William Clark of the Lewis and Clark Corps of Discovery, led his men 180 miles from Kaskaskia, Illinois, to Vincennes, Indiana, through frozen prairies and flooded river valleys over the course of 18 days in 1779 to capture British Lt. Governor Henry Hamilton. It was during this time that the English Army was encouraging Native Americans in the area to attack settlers. Clark successfully stopped the raids when he overthrew Fort Sackville (near Vincennes, Indiana). As a result of his heroic military activities, the British ceded what is now Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, and the Eastern portion of Minnesota to the United States.

This legislation would allow the National Park Service to study all the routes taken by the Clark mission from Ft. Pitt, down the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers, to and including all land routes from Kaskaskia and Cahokia, Illinois, to Vincennes, Indiana, in determining those primary routes taken by Colonel Clarke which proved instrumental to his mission and victory at Vincennes, and which would merit designation as a part of the National Trails System.

COMPLIANCE WITH HOUSE RULE XIII

1. Cost of Legislation.—Clause 3(d)(2) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives requires an estimate and a comparison by the Committee of the costs which would be incurred in carrying out this bill. However, clause 3(d)(3)(B) of that rule provides that this requirement does not apply when the Committee has included in its report a timely submitted cost estimate of the bill prepared by the Director of the Congressional Budget Office under section 402 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974.

2. Congressional Budget Act.—As required by clause 3(c)(2) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives and section 308(a) of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, this bill does not contain any new budget authority, spending authority, credit authority, or an increase or decrease in revenues or tax expenditures.
3. General Performance Goals and Objectives.—This bill does not authorize funding and therefore, clause 3(c)(4) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives does not apply.

4. Congressional Budget Office Cost Estimate.—Under clause 3(c)(3) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives and section 403 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, the Committee has received the following cost estimate for this bill from the Director of the Congressional Budget Office:

U.S. CONGRESS,

Enclosure.

H.R. 1963—A bill to amend the National Trails System Act to designate the route taken by American soldier and frontiersman George Rogers Clark and his men during the Revolutionary War to capture the British forts at Kaskaskia and Cahokia, Illinois, and Vincennes, Indiana, for study for potential addition to the National Trails System.

H.R. 1963 would amend the National Trails System Act to add the George Rogers Clark Northwest Campaign Trail in Indiana and Illinois to the list of routes to be studied for possible inclusion in the National Trails System.

Based on information provided by the National Park Service and assuming appropriation of the necessary amount, CBO estimates that it would cost the federal government between $250,000 and $400,000 over the next two or three years to conduct the required study and report to the Congress on its findings. H.R. 1963 would not affect direct spending or receipts; therefore, pay-as-you-go procedures would not apply. The bill contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act and would impose no costs on state, local, or tribal governments.

The CBO staff contact for this estimate is Deborah Reis. The estimate was approved by Peter H. Fontaine, Deputy Assistant Director for Budget Analysis.
COMPLIANCE WITH PUBLIC LAW 104–4
This bill contains no unfunded mandates.

PREEMPTION OF STATE, LOCAL OR TRIBAL LAW
This bill is not intended to preempt any State, local or tribal law.
