PURPOSE AND SUMMARY

H.R. 2685 would reauthorize the Secure Our Schools grant program, which is currently authorized through fiscal year 2003. H.R. 2685 would extend the authorization through 2008. The Secure Our Schools program provides matching grants to State and local governments to help cover the cost of security measures such as the placement and use of metal detectors, locks, lighting, and other deterrent measures; security assessments; security training for students and personnel; coordination with local law enforcement; and other measures that could significantly increase a school’s security.

BACKGROUND AND NEED FOR THE LEGISLATION

The Secure Our Schools program gives grant recipients the opportunity to purchase school safety equipment and to establish programs to enhance school safety efforts. The program addresses a variety of existing and emerging school security problems through responses that range from traditional to innovative and that rely on both new technology and the experience of school administrators and law enforcement professionals.

The program is run through the Community Oriented Policing Services Office. The COPS Office expanded its range of programs in fiscal year 2002 to include Secure Our Schools. Secure Our Schools distributed $5 million to help 68 schools in high-risk areas respond to growing safety concerns. Grantees are required to contribute a local match of 50 percent towards the total cost of the approved grant project.

The Committee notes that it is currently working on a broader reform of COPS Office programs to be included in the Department of Justice Authorization bill, H.R. 3036. The Secure Our Schools program may be included within that broader reform.

HEARINGS

No hearings were held on H.R. 2685 in the Committee on the Ju-

Hon. F. JAMES SENSENBRENNER, JR.,
Chairman, Committee on the Judiciary,
House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. CHAIRMAN: The Congressional Budget Office has prepared the enclosed cost estimate for H.R. 2685, a bill to amend the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 to reauthorize the Matching Grant Program for School Security.

If you wish further details on this estimate, we will be pleased to provide them. The CBO staff contact is Mark Grabowicz.

H.R. 2685—A bill to amend the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 to reauthorize the Matching Grant Program for School Security

Summary: H.R. 2685 would authorize the appropriation of $30 million for each of fiscal years 2004 through 2008 for the Department of Justice to make grants to state and local governments to improve school security. CBO estimates that implementing the bill would cost $113 million over the 2004–2008 period, subject to appropriation of the authorized amounts. Enacting H.R. 2685 would not affect direct spending or revenues.

H.R. 2685 contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act (UMRA) and would benefit state, local, and tribal governments.

Estimated cost to the Federal Government: The estimated budgetary impact of H.R. 2685 is shown in the following table. CBO assumes that the amounts authorized by the bill will be appropriated near the start of each fiscal year and that outlays will follow the historical rate of spending for similar programs. The costs of this legislation fall within budget function 750 (administration of justice).

Intergovernmental and private-sector impact: H.R. 2685 contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in UMRA. The bill would extend a matching grant program for state, local, and tribal governments to provide improved security at schools and on school grounds. Any costs to those governments would be incurred voluntarily as conditions of federal aid.

Estimate approved by: Peter H. Fontaine, Deputy Assistant Director for Budget Analysis.

PERFORMANCE GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

H.R. 2685 reauthorizes funding for the Secure Our Schools grant program. This program makes matching grants to States and local governments to cover the cost of school security mechanisms and the Committee expects that the grants will be used to make schools safer.

CONSTITUTIONAL AUTHORITY STATEMENT

Pursuant to clause 3(d)(1) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Committee finds the authority for this legislation in article I, section 8 of the Constitution.

SECTION-BY-SECTION ANALYSIS AND DISCUSSION

SECTION 1. REAUTHORIZATION OF MATCHING GRANT PROGRAM FOR SCHOOL SECURITY.

Chairman SENSENBRENNER. We do need to move along. Are there amendments?

Without objection, the staff is directed to make any technical and conforming changes, and all members will be given 2 days as provided by the rules in which to submit additional, dissenting, supplemental, or minority views.

STATEMENT OF JOHN CONYERS, JR.

I am a strong supporter of the bill before us today, legislation that amends the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Street Act of 1968 to reauthorize the “Matching Grant Program for School Security.”

The level of gun (and other acts of random) violence occurring at our schools is increasing at an astonishing rate.

—March 24, 1998, four girls and a teacher were shot to death and 10 other wounded in Jonesboro, Arkansas, when two teenage boys, ages 11 and 13, opened fire from the woods.

—December 1, 1997, three students were killed and five others wounded in West Paducah, Kentucky by a 14 year old student at Heath High School.

—And we all remember the tragic events that occurred on April 20, 1999 in Littleton, Colorado. On that day, two young men wearing long, black trench coats opened fire in a suburban high school, injuring 20 students, killing as many as 15.

H.R. 2685 seeks to address this problem. It reauthorizes a voluntary matching grant program for school security. Fifty percent of the costs of providing increased security is covered by the federal government, while the other fifty percent is paid for by the participating state, locality, or Indian tribe.

The bill specifically directs the Attorney General to make grants ($30 million for each of the fiscal years 2004–2008) to states, units of local government, and Indian tribes for school security. The grants will be distributed directly to these entities. The grants may be used for the following purposes:

• placement and use of metal detectors, locks, lighting, and other deterrent measures;
• security assessments;
• security training of personnel and students;
• coordination with local law enforcement;
• any other measure that the Director determines may provide a significant improvement in security.

Last year, the “Secure Our Schools” program distributed $5 million in grants that helped 68 schools in 27 states purchase and implement school security measures. These measures included the installation of new metal detectors and security cameras, training personnel in security issues, and working with local law enforcement on coordinated efforts designed to keep schools safe and secure.

While we haven’t met with much success in our past efforts to keep guns out of the hands of dangerous individuals, hopefully the steps we are taking today will prevent innocent children from becoming future victims. I strongly urge my colleagues to support this commonsense proposal.

STATEMENT OF HOWARD COBLE

In the past decade we have been terrified by images on the news of violence in our schools. We have witnessed school shootings across this country from Littleton, CO to Paducah, KY, and now just a few days ago, another attempt, in Denver, CO. It seems no school system and no city is immune to violence in its schools. Despite recent declines in the victimization rates at school, students age 12 through 18 were victims of about 700,000 violent crimes and 1.2 million crimes of theft at school in the year 2000. Violence, theft, bullying, drugs, and firearms remain problems in many schools throughout the country indicating that more remains to be done to make our schools safer.

H.R. 2685, as introduced, would reauthorize the Secure Our Schools grant program from 2003 until 2008. The Secure Our Schools program provides grants to help cover the cost of security measures such as the placement and use of metal detectors, locks, lighting, and other deterrent measures; security assessments; security training for students and personnel; coordination with local law enforcement; and other measures that could significantly increase the school's security.

This legislation and the program it reauthorizes cannot solve the problem of school violence; however, it is one additional measure we can give to the schools to help prevent violence and keep the focus in the schools on learning. The Secure Our Schools (SOS) program gives grant recipients the opportunity to establish and enhance school safety equipment and programs to continue to enhance school safety efforts within their communities. The program addresses a variety of existing and emerging problems relating to school security, through responses that range from traditional to innovative, and rely on new technology and the experience of school administrators and law enforcement professionals.

In fiscal year 2002, the program distributed $5 million to help 68 schools in high risk areas respond to growing safety concerns. Grantees are required to contribute a local match of 50 percent towards the total cost of the approved grant project. The program is run through the Community Oriented Policing System, which expanded its range of programs in fiscal year 2002 to include Secure Our Schools. Although I fully support the markup of this legislation today and the reauthorization of this program, I am also aware that the COPS program is under discussion as one of the items we may include in the DOJ reauthorization bill and this program could be included in that vehicle as well.

I thank my colleagues and urge your support of this legislation.

STATEMENT OF ROBERT C. "BOBBY" SCOTT

Thank you, Mr. Chairman for holding this markup on H.R. 2685. In the 106th Congress, in the wake of the Columbine and other school violence incidents, we passed the "Secure Our Schools Act", to provide a 50% matching grant program to States, units of local government, and Indian tribes to help pay for improved school security, including the placement and use of metal detectors and other deterrent measures in schools and on school grounds. The bill was sponsored by Congressman Steve Rothman of New Jersey, then a member of this Committee, along with then Chairman Hyde, Ranking Members Conyers, myself and 7 other members of this Committee. The program has proven to be very useful helping to provide for safer schools.

The authorization for the program ends this year. The need for security in our schools continues, including the need to upgrade existing equipment to obtain more effective units. H.R. 2685 continues the program and extends its authorization to 2008. I urge my colleagues to support the bill.

STATEMENT OF SHEILA JACKSON-LEE

Mr. Chairman and Mr. Ranking Member, thank you, once again, for your efforts to coordinate this markup hearing on the bills that we have before the Committee. I was an original co-sponsor of this bill, and I therefore support this bill, H.R. 2685, to reauthorize the Marching Grant Program for School Security, which would otherwise expire at the end of Fiscal Year 2003. Reauthorizing this grant program to the end of Fiscal Year 2008 is both reasonable and necessary for the pressing needs of our high-risk schools.

Under the "Secure Our Schools Act," or the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 codified as 42 U.S.C. §3789d, municipalities can apply for funds to install metal detectors, locks, improved lighting, and other deterrent measures that will help keep students safe. Additionally, resources can be used for school security assessments, security training of personnel and students, and for improved coordination with local law enforcement officials. The "Secure Our Schools Act" is a voluntary, matching grant program that calls for the federal government to pay for 50 percent of the security measures, with the state or local government covering the remainder of the cost.

The Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 is noteworthy as the first federal program designed specifically as a block grant. It was passed during the Johnson Administration to address concerns over rising crime rates and an abundance of civil disturbances. It also reflected President Johnson's policy beliefs that the federal government should do more to assist state and local law enforcement agencies. Funds were allocated to states on a per capita formula to be used in any purpose associated with reducing crime.

The reauthorization of this bill to continue funding of the Secure Our Schools grant program will provide benefits that will potentially alleviate problems in Houston, Texas as well. In my Congressional District, the Houston Independent School District (HISD) is the largest school district in Texas, made up of two contiguous school feeder patterns and serving 212,000 students. The HISD includes students from 90 countries, of whom 53% are Hispanic, 34% are African American, 11% are Caucasian, and 2% are Asian Americans. There are 59,000 limited-English-proficient students, a population larger than 90% of all school districts in the nation. Unfortunately, the school district is burdened by poverty, juvenile crime, violent behavior, delinquency, truancy, alcohol and drug use, and other adverse social conditions. Student involvement with alcohol and drugs is over-represented at every grade level. Even at the elementary school level, rates of marijuana use doubled from 2% in 1996 to 4% in 1998. The school district also has high rates of school violence and victimization, suspensions, drop-out, truancy, and expulsions. Therefore, it is vital that the high-risk schools in Houston’s HISD have access to the aid provided by the “Secure Our Schools” grant program, or H.R. 2685.

Mr. Chairman and Mr. Ranking Member, thank you for this opportunity.

The business for which this markup has been called having been completed, the committee stands adjourned.

[Whereupon, at 12:32 p.m., the committee was adjourned.]
