I. PURPOSE AND SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION

The Foundation for the National Institutes of Health Improvement Act (S. 314) makes a number of technical corrections and improvements to section 499 of the PHSA, which established the Foundation for the National Institutes of Health (the Foundation). Most significantly, these corrections clarify membership in the Foundation's board of directors and ensure that the Foundation receives funds from the National Institutes of Health (NIH) to support the Foundation's administrative and operating expenses.

II. COMMITTEE ACTION

On February 5, 2003, Senator Kennedy, for himself and Senator Gregg, Senator Frist, and Senator Bingaman, introduced S. 314, to amend section 499 of the PHSA to improve the Foundation for the National Institutes of Health. On February 12, 2003, the Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions held an executive session to consider S. 314. The committee approved S. 314 by unanimous voice vote.

III. BACKGROUND AND NEED FOR LEGISLATION

The Foundation is a private, not-for-profit foundation established by Congress to raise private funds to support the work of the NIH. Authorized in 1990 by section 499 of the PHSA and incorporated as a nonprofit organization in Maryland 7 years ago, the Foundation has raised $13 in private funds for every $1 it has received from the NIH to support the work of the NIH.

By fall of 2002, the Foundation was managing 20 programs with multiyear revenue and funding goals of over $45 million. On January 26, 2003, the Gates Foundation announced a gift to the NIH through the Foundation of $200 million over the next 10 years to support research on global health priorities. In the Best Pharmaceuticals for Children Act (BPCA) (Pub. Law 107-109), Congress charged the Foundation with collecting private funds to study drugs in children. The Foundation's role with the NIH is expected to grow in the coming years.

One current project is the construction of the Edmond J. Safra Family Lodge on the NIH campus. Families of patients receiving in-patient cancer treatment at the NIH Clinical Center will have the Lodge as a place to stay, at no cost to them. The project is funded completely by private funds donated through the Foundation, with services and land donated by the NIH. In addition, the Foundation currently has partnerships with the NIH that include helping develop new cancer treatments; identifying biomarkers for osteoarthritis; and highlighting the great promise of genomics. Through a public-private partnership, the Foundation helped accelerate the sequencing of the mouse genome.

The Foundation's own operating costs include the cost of raising private funds to support the work of the NIH and the cost of administering and managing the use of those private funds. The operating costs for the Foundation are expected to climb from $860,000 in 2002 to $2.2 million in 2003. The Gates Foundation is being asked to provide $1.2 million in funding to cover the majority of the costs associated with staff and office space to administer the new program on global health priorities. The Foundation will also expand its staffing for media relations and communications functions, as well as staffing for its public-private partnerships.

In the past, the Foundation has been provided $500,000 through the NIH appropriation to help defray its operating and administrative costs. The legislation will correct the current need for a yearly line appropriation of $500,000 for the Foundation in the NIH appropriation bill, and will allow the Foundation to continue its effective support for the work and the mission of the NIH. The legislation is not intended to limit the ability of the NIH to support the work of the Foundation beyond the $500,000 baseline if, in the judgment of the NIH Director, an occasion were to arise that would warrant it.

In addition, when Congress charged the Foundation with collecting private funds to study drugs in children in the BPCA, it added the Commissioner of Food and Drugs as an ex officio member of the board of the Foundation. This addition failed to take into account the fact that, under section 499(d)(1)(D)(ii) of the PHS Act, the terms of service of the original ex officio members of the board (the chair and ranking minority member of the Subcommittee on Health and the Environment of the House Energy and Commerce Committee, the chair and ranking minority member of the Senate Committee on Labor and Human Resources, and the Director of NIH) terminated on appointment of the initial board. The legislation maintains the policy that the terms of service of the congressional members of the board terminate upon initial appointment of the board, but clarifies that the NIH Director and the FDA Commissioner remain as ex officio members of the board.

IV. COST ESTIMATE

U.S. CONGRESS,
CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE,
Washington, DC, March 24, 2003.

Hon. JUDD GREGG,
Chairman, Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions, U.S. Senate, Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. CHAIRMAN: The Congressional Budget Office has prepared the enclosed cost estimate for S. 314, the Foundation for the National Institutes of Health Improvement Act.

If you wish further details on this estimate, we will be pleased to provide them. The CBO staff contact is Christopher Topoleski.
Sincerely,

DOUGLAS HOLTZ-EAKIN,
Director.

Enclosure.

S. 314—Foundation for the National Institutes of Health Improvement Act

S. 314 would modify the Public Health Service Act to change the law that governs the Foundation for the National Institutes of Health (NIH), a private, not-for-profit entity that raises private funds to support the work of NIH. It would specify that the Director of the National Institutes of Health and the Commissioner of the Food and Drug Administration remain as ex officio members of the board, make provisions for the continued operation of the board when vacancies occur, and correct an incorrect cross reference in the statute. The bill also would require that $500,000 of the appropriations for NIH be transferred to the foundation. Such annual payments are authorized under current law but are not required.

CBO estimates that implementing S. 314 would have no significant budgetary effect. Enacting the bill would not affect receipts or direct spending.

S. 314 contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act and would impose no costs on state, local, or tribal governments.

The CBO staff contact is Christopher Topoleski. This estimate was approved by Peter H. Fontaine, Deputy Assistant Director for Budget Analysis.

V. APPLICATION OF LAW TO THE LEGISLATIVE BRANCH

S. 314 amends section 499 of the PHSA to make improvements to the functioning of the Foundation for the National Institutes of Health, a nonprofit corporation in the State of Maryland that supports the work of the NIH. As such, it has no application to the legislative branch.

VI. REGULATORY IMPACT STATEMENT

The legislation amends section 499 of the PHSA to make improvements to the functioning of the Foundation for the National Institutes of Health. It includes a requirement that the Director of the NIH transfer $500,000 of the NIH's appropriated funds to the Foundation to support its costs in supporting the work of the NIH. Accordingly, S. 314 is not expected to increase costs to government or to the private sector.

VII. SECTION-BY-SECTION ANALYSIS

Sec. 1. Short title

Designates the short title and reference as the "Foundation for the National Institutes of Health Improvement Act."

Paragraph (1)(C) makes a conforming amendment.

Paragraph (2)(A) corrects an erroneous cross reference in section 499 of the PHSA.
