BACKGROUND

PURPOSE OF THE BILL

This bill makes appropriations for the military functions of the Department of Defense for the period October 1, 2010, through September 30, 2011. Functional areas include the pay, allowances, and support of military personnel, operation and maintenance of the forces, procurement of equipment and systems, and research, development, test and evaluation. Appropriations for foreign military assistance, military construction, family housing, nuclear weapons programs, and civil defense are provided in other bills.

HEARINGS

The Appropriations Subcommittee on Defense began hearings on March 3, 2010, and concluded them on June 23, 2010, after 10 separate sessions. The subcommittee heard testimony from representatives of the Department of Defense, other Federal agencies, representatives of organizations, and the public.

SUMMARY OF THE BILL

The Committee recommendation of $669,871,730,000 includes funding to develop, maintain, and equip the military forces of the United States in nonemergency appropriations.

The fiscal year 2011 budget request for activities funded in the Department of Defense Appropriations bill totals $678,225,185,000 in new budget authority including $157,935,277,000 in contingency funding and $292,000,000 in mandatory spending.

In fiscal year 2010, the Congress appropriated $658,706,425,000 for activities funded in this bill. This amount includes $497,672,285,000 in nonemergency appropriations and $161,034,140,000 in emergency supplemental appropriations.

The Committee recommendation in this bill is $11,165,305,000 above the amount provided in fiscal year 2010 and $8,098,994,000 below the amount requested for fiscal year 2011. In addition, the Committee recommends a transfer of $254,461,000 to the Department of Homeland Security [DHS] for requested Coast Guard activities more appropriately funded by DHS.

RESTORING BUDGET DISCIPLINE

The Committee's recommendation includes more than $16,000,000,000 in reductions from programs recommended by the administration. As noted above, the funding included in the bill is $8,100,000,000 below the request, more than $8,000,000,000 in program additions is recommended in lieu of items which were not adequately justified by the administration. By identifying areas in the budget where funding is not needed, the Committee is able to partially address the Army's $1,000,000,000 shortfall in base operations funding and include $900,000,000 for military personnel shortfalls. The savings also allow the Committee to provide an additional $500,000,000 to fund equipment for our National Guard and Reserve forces. Additional funds are recommended to replace combat rescue helicopters for the Air Force, and modernize the Army's Apache, Chinook, and Black Hawk helicopters. More than $446,000,000 is provided to make Stryker vehicles less vulnerable to improvised explosive devices [IED], and $230,000,000 is included to address the shortfalls in standard missiles for the ship-based Aegis missile defense program. While the Committee is pleased it is able to fund these shortfalls all of which are clearly in the national interest, and notes that even these changes in total represent only about 2.3 percent of the Defense budget request, it is disturbed that such large sums of inadequately justified funding were included in the administration's request.

It is a constant of the Defense budget process that some funds are not needed based on changed circumstances. To a great extent, the military departments shaped their requests for fiscal year 2011 more than a year ago. In the intervening period much has changed. Many programs have been delayed lessening the need for funding in the coming year. Others have been terminated. In addition, several programs included in the request simply do not present sufficient justification to warrant funding.

Unfortunately, the Committee must also note that in recent years discipline in Defense budgeting has been lacking. Basic budget principles such as eliminating one-time cost increases from funding baselines are not followed despite repeated criticism from this and other Committees. Additionally, substantial amounts are transferred among programs, most particularly in appropriations funding operation and maintenance programs raising doubts about the stated justification for funds.

Appropriations for activities such as the Joint IED Defeat Organization [JIEDDO] are being used to cover unrequested and unjustified items which either are of interest to senior leaders or make up for shortfalls in amounts requested by the services. The mission of JIEDDO is too critical for the program to serve as a blank check book for projects which might not be able to warrant funding on their own merits. So too, the Committee notes that the Commanders Emergency Response Program has become a means for senior leaders to circumvent proper budgeting for large-scale developmental programs better funded through Military Construction, the Department of State, or the Agency for International Development. The Committee is proposing substantial adjustments to address these concerns and reshape these valuable programs. This is discussed in more detail elsewhere in this report.

With the Nation at war, the Congress has generally supported Defense Department leadership's funding requests to guarantee that the men and women who volunteer to serve this Nation in harm's way are provided everything they need to accomplish their mission. Today, however, the economic situation facing the Nation is also a matter of national security and requires the Defense Department, like all Government agencies, to improve its stewardship of its resources.

The Secretary of Defense should be applauded for trying to gain greater control over runaway costs, schedule delays, and requirements creep. However, the Committee remains frustrated by the lack of proper control in the Defense budget process as exemplified by the examples listed below. The Navy should be commended for reshaping its Littoral Combat Ship program to down select to one contractor with the goal of reducing costs. However, the ensuing delay in this program has led to a schedule in which the winning contractor will not be able to begin constructing the second of two LCS ships requested in fiscal year 2011. Nonetheless, neither the Navy nor the Defense Department has suggested reducing the budget request even though more than $600,000,000 will not be required this fiscal year.

Most disturbing perhaps is the Joint Strike Fighter [JSF]. For the last 3 years in conference, this Committee has insisted on fully funding the JSF in conjunction with providing funds to develop a second engine for the program. This approach was in accord with the stated position of the administration that it would not object to Congress supporting the second engine if its funding did not come at the expense of the overall JSF program. While the second engine program has continued its development on track, with the program being awarded 17 straight performance awards in the past 8 years with an average approval rating of 93.5 percent, the JSF has seen cost increases and significant delays. In fact at the end of June 2010, 9 months after the start of the fiscal year, the program maintained unobligated balances of $6,500,000,000. This amount for 1 year's production funding of this program is more than the budgets of many entire Federal agencies.

Despite the nearly unwavering congressional support of the JSF program, the delivery of the first two production aircraft has slipped by an additional year, and the cost of the program has continued to increase. It is clear that the aircraft sought for fiscal year 2011 will not begin production until at the earliest the end of the coming fiscal year. The importance of the JSF program and the urgent need to replace aging fighters is the sole reason why the Committee is only scaling back production and not recommending eliminating all funding for this program for fiscal year 2011. The incongruence of the insistence on canceling the second engine program which has been a near model program and which most analysts expect would curtail long-term costs of the entire JSF program with equal insistence on the need to fully fund the JSF program is hard to rationalize.

Each of these issues is discussed elsewhere in this report. However, what is not restated is the over arching requirement for the Defense Department to regain control over its budget. The Committee believes our defense leaders are well intentioned, hard working, and professional, but have become complacent as record budgets have lessened the need for fiscal discipline. Budget principles have been circumvented or ignored in the interest of funding the Nation's wars. While the Committee will continue to recommend reallocating unneeded funds to meet critical unfunded needs, it believes greater efficiencies would accrue from more disciplined budget preparation within the Defense Department.

CLASSIFIED PROGRAM ADJUSTMENTS

The Committee recommends adjustments to certain classified programs, as explained in the classified annex to the Committee's report.

COMMITTEE INITIATIVES

In addition to items of interest to specific members, the Committee recommends funds for several initiatives which were not included in response to a request from a specific member. The items in this category are for programs, projects, or activities which the Committee believes are of inherent value for national defense. In several cases funds are restored for programs which were included in previous plans for the Defense Department and many others are for programs which the Committee believes are necessary to improve defense even though they have not been included under the request formulated by the administration. The initiatives in this category include increases for training ranges, alternative energy, corrosion control, and environmental remediation. Most projects include funding in several programs and across all services.

New Start Programs, Projects, and Activities.—The Department is required to identify funding for new starts in its annual budget submission to comply with the guidelines detailed in the Financial Management Regulations [FMR]. Additionally, should it be necessary in the interest of national security, the Department may request congressional approval for new start programs, projects and activities in the year of execution via prior approval reprogramming or after prior written notification. It has come to the Committee's attention that several new start activities were initiated by the services without following either of the two procedures detailed above. The new programs include "Imminent Fury" and at least two missile-related projects. This practice reflects poor program management and a disregard of financial management regulations. Further, it undermines congressional oversight. The Committee directs the Department to adhere to established procedures for funding new starts with prior congressional approval. Should the Department continue to bypass established guidelines, the Committee is prepared to address the issue in future legislation.

Stryker.—The Stryker family of wheeled vehicles is proving capable of providing the firepower and mobility for today's conflicts. Reports from the field about the vehicle's vulnerability to improvised explosive devices prompted a search for solutions. The "double-V hull" appears to offer significantly improved protection for Stryker teams. The Army has moved out quickly on engineering and design work for this upgrade, expediting testing and ordering long-lead materials. If testing continues to show positive results, the Army is ready to begin modifying vehicles for the next deploying units. The Committee supports the Stryker upgrade program and provides an additional $128,400,000 in the Research, Development, Test and Evaluation, Army appropriation to fund the required testing identified by the Army. An additional $318,000,000 is provided in title IX, Procurement of Weapons and Tracked Combat Vehicles, Army account, to procure modification kits and vehicles to ensure that Strykers have the survivability edge needed for forces in theater.

TITLE I
MILITARY PERSONNEL

Funds appropriated under this title provide the resources required for basic pay, retired pay accrual, employers' contribution for Social Security taxes, basic allowance for subsistence, basic allowance for housing, special and incentive pays, permanent change of station travel, and other personnel costs for uniformed members of the Armed Forces.

The President's fiscal year 2011 budget requests a total of $127,668,630,000 for military personnel appropriations. This request funds an Active component end strength of 1,432,400 and a Reserve component end strength of 846,200.

SUMMARY OF COMMITTEE ACTION

The Committee recommends military personnel appropriations totaling $127,153,296,000 for fiscal year 2011. This is $515,334,000 below the budget estimate.

MILITARY PERSONNEL OVERVIEW

The Department of Defense budget requests $127,668,630,000 for the military personnel pay accounts for fiscal year 2011; an increase of $3,497,783,000 or 13 percent over the current enacted amount of $124,170,847,000 excluding supplemental appropriations.

Bonuses.—The Committee believes the request for bonuses and recruiter mandays for the Army, Navy, Air Force, and both National Guard components is overstated. In the fiscal year 2011 budget, these components requested an increase in bonus and recruiter funding, despite the fact that they have achieved their overall recruiting and retention goals and are above budgeted end strength levels for fiscal year 2010. For this reason, the Committee reduces funding for initial bonuses and recruiter mandays to keep the services at fiscal year 2010 levels.

Improved Budget Processes.—The Committee is concerned that the Reserve components continually realign significant amounts of funding between program lines during the year of execution. Several of the Reserve components, most notably the Army Reserve and Air National Guard, consistently do not request funds in the budget lines where they plan to spend it. For this reason, they are unable to justify the budget request as submitted to Congress. The Committee urges the Reserve components to improve their budgeting practices.

Budgeted End Strength Levels.—Based upon current manpower trends, several military components are predicting that in fiscal year 2011, their end strength levels will vary significantly from budgeted levels. The Committee has adjusted the military personnel accounts based upon the services' input and a Government Accountability Office [GAO] analysis of projected fiscal year 2011 end strength levels. The Committee recommends a reduction to the Air Force Reserve due to a lower than budgeted end strength level, and reduces the Air National Guard request due to a less expensive personnel mix than budgeted.

The Committee also recommends providing an additional $912,445,000 for the Navy, Marine Corps, Air Force, and Marine Corps Reserve to address predicted funding shortfalls due to higher than budgeted end strength and mobilization levels. The Committee includes this funding in title IX of this bill.

Unobligated Balances.—A GAO analysis indicates that the services continue to underexecute their military personnel accounts, maintaining significant unobligated balances each year. For this reason, the Committee has determined that several active duty and Reserve components' fiscal year 2011 military personnel budget requests are overstated and can be reduced. Therefore, the Committee recommends a total reduction of $224,000,000 to the military personnel accounts.

OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE OVERVIEW

Operation and Maintenance Budget Justification.—The Department of Defense Financial Management Regulations [DOD FMR]

define requirements for budget justification materials. For the operation and maintenance appropriations, the main budget documents are the OP-5 and OP-32 exhibits. The OP-5 provides essential information for justification of the President’s Budget. The “Reconciliation of Increases and Decreases” should identify what changes are occurring and provide programmatic reasons for the changes and explain why they are necessary. The FMR specifically directs the services to do the following with regard to narrative justification on the OP-5: “Itemize and justify the major program changes in each year (provide the baseline in dollars to which the increase or decrease applies). Such justification should clearly explain programmatic changes in resource levels including why increases are required or decreases occur. Additionally, the narrative justification should relate cost to force structure changes, performance criteria, workload and manpower data, as well as identify the impact if requested changes are not funded.”

The fiscal year 2011 O&M OP-5 exhibits lacked some of the details required by the above guidance. Therefore, the Committee directs the following for future O&M budget submissions:

- The Army to include baselines in all budget justification materials;
- All services to include baseline and civilian personnel changes (if applicable) in the stub entries of programmatic changes for example—

“Increase for a certain initiative. (Baseline $XXX,XXX; +7 W/Y, +2 E/S).”

Military Intelligence Program [MIP] Justification Materials for Operation and Maintenance.—The justification materials provide funding profiles as well as line numbers for MIP programs for the procurement and research and development appropriations. Although funding profiles are broken down in the operation and maintenance programs, line items are not provided. The services are directed to include line item [SAG] information for each operation and maintenance MIP program just as it is provided for procurement and research and development programs.

Naval Shipyard Apprentice Program.—The Committee directs that during fiscal year 2011 the Navy shall induct classes of no fewer than 100 apprentices, respectively, at each of the naval shipyards. The Committee further directs the Navy to include the costs of the fiscal year 2012 class of apprentices in its budget request.

U.S. Coast Guard.—The Committee is aware that Department of Defense [DOD] regulations currently restrict DOD mission appropriated funded activities from offering reimbursable rates to non-DOD agencies. This restriction forces the Navy to charge the U.S.

Coast Guard fully burdened rates for drydocking services at Navy shipyards rather than reimbursable rates. Therefore, the Committee directs that funds appropriated under Operation and Maintenance, Navy may be used to pay overhead costs incurred by a Naval Shipyard when drydocking U.S. Coast Guard ships.

Oil Refineries.—When making public contract announcements regarding the refining of fuel by U.S. companies, the U.S. Department of Defense should not provide the name of the country for which the fuel is being refined or the location of the facility that will refine the fuel.

STARBASE.—The Committee recognizes the success of the Department of Defense STARBASE Program as an effective outreach initiative that has reached more than 545,000 youths at 60 locations in 34 States operated by either active, Guard, or Reserve commands. The Committee believes that the STARBASE Program has been a productive investment in the future of our youth and will help build and enlarge the talent pool of potential workers needed to support the Department of Defense workforce. Therefore, the Committee recommends $10,000,000 above the budget request for the STARBASE Program. The Committee also encourages the Secretary of Defense to continue increasing funding for this program in future budget requests and to design an evaluation that would increase the level of rigor currently used in assessing the program and reported to Congress in its annual report.

Authority To Support Building the Capacity of the Yemen Ministry of Interior Counterterrorism Forces.—The Committee is aware that S. 3454, the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2011, as reported provides the Department of Defense with the authority to use up to $75,000,000 from funds available for operation and maintenance to enhance the ability of the Yemen Ministry of Interior Counterterrorism forces to conduct counterterrorism operations against al Qaeda in the Arabian Peninsula and its affiliates. If this or similar authority is enacted, the Committee directs the Department of Defense to notify the congressional defense committees on the plan for executing such a program, the type of assistance to be provided, the execution schedule for such assistance, and the source of funds used to resource this assistance.

167th Airlift Wing.—The Committee is aware that approximately $280,000,000 in Federal funds has recently been invested in new runways and hangars for the 167th Airlift Wing to support C-5A aircraft which are scheduled for eventual retirement. The Committee urges the Secretary of the Air Force to develop an aircraft stationing plan to ensure the continued long-term sustainability of the 167th Airlift Wing to maximize the return on Federal investment.

932nd Airlift Wing.—The 932nd Airlift Wing, collocated with U.S. Transportation Command at Scott Air Force Base, Illinois, is strategically positioned in the center of the Continental United States. It provides worldwide, safe, and reliable airlift and maintains aircraft for special assignment missions, including worldwide medical services for the warfighter. The Committee urges the Secretary of the Air Force to work with the Committee to maintain the full capabilities of the aircraft currently allocated to the 932nd Airlift Wing during the conversion to new aircraft, while working to ensure the unit's long-term stability.

COMMITTEE RECOMMENDATIONS

Based on a thorough review of the Department's budget request, the Committee has recommended funding adjustments, displayed in tables for each appropriation account.

The Committee recognizes the critical importance of equipment modernization and supports the Department's initiatives to reset equipment returning from theater and procure new items providing improved performance and survivability. These are key investments necessary to maintain overall force readiness. The recommended procurement funding provides sufficient resources to meet these critical tasks. As in previous years, the Committee provides funding increases to support the continued upgrade of National Guard and Reserve equipment, congressional priorities, and correct shortfalls in the budget estimate.

The Committee directs that the funding increases outlined in these tables shall be provided only for the specific purposes indicated in the table.

F-35 Joint Strike Fighter [JSF].—The Committee supports the F-35 aircraft program and believes that it is an important capability for the Department of Defense and many partner nations. The fiscal year 2011 budget requests $7,686,100,000 for 42 low-rate initial production aircraft. The 42 aircraft in Lot 5 are: 22 Conventional Take Off and Landing [CTOL] aircraft for the Air Force; 13 Short Take Off and Vertical Landing [STOVL] aircraft for the Marine Corps; and 7 Carrier Variant [CV] aircraft for the Navy. The budget also requests $763,200,000 in advance procurement funding for Lot 6, which will include 45 aircraft for the United States and 8 for partner nations.

Realizing that JSF development was taking longer and costing more than planned, the Department of Defense undertook a comprehensive program review last fall. This in-depth evaluation led to the program being restructured in February 2010. The revised plan extends the development phase by 13 months, adds a CV aircraft to the test program, and moves the full rate production decision to fiscal year 2016. The Government-contractor relationship has changed and the production contract for Lot 4 will be a fixed price incentive fee rather than a cost-plus contract vehicle. An Independent Manufacturing Review Team [IMRT], created to evaluate manufacturing, discovered a number of production process weaknesses. The program office and contractor team are working through the IMRT's recommendations to help achieve and sustain production ramp-up. The Committee believes that the Department has moved in the right direction to bring more realistic schedules and costs into focus.

Concerns about progress in the test program and the maturation of the manufacturing process persist. In his June 2010 letter accompanying the Nunn-McCurdy certification documentation, the Under Secretary of Defense (Acquisition, Technology and Logistics) stated that the test program continues to encounter difficulties and has fallen behind the level of performance projected just a few months ago. These challenges to the test program are of particular note for testing of the F-35B STOVL aircraft, which has been set back by late delivery of aircraft to Government test and failures to meet the number of planned test flights.

A recent "quick look" by the IMRT found significant improvements in risk management plans, change management and global supply but that additional progress was needed in a number of manufacturing areas. Parts shortages, change management processes and first article inspections are the key areas where further steps forward are needed. The Committee is aware that production has not moved as quickly as previously planned and has not kept pace with scheduled ramp rate increases. With Lot 5, the Department will buy its 100th aircraft—yet none of the production aircraft ordered to date have been delivered. The first delivery from Lot 1 (fiscal year 2007) was scheduled for delivery in September 2009; it now appears that it will deliver in December 2010.

The Committee recommends a reduction of 10 aircraft from the fiscal year 2011 (Lot 5) procurement (6 Air Force CTOL, 3 Marine Corps STOVL, and 1 Navy CV). This adjustment reduces the concurrency of development and production, provides time to mature manufacturing processes and institute supply chain improvements, and stabilizes production at the fiscal year 2010 rate for 1 year. The Advance Procurement request is fully funded to sustain the supplier base and implement manufacturing improvements. The budget adjustments are a decrease of $770,000,000 in Aircraft Procurement, Navy and a decrease of $730,200,000 in Aircraft Procurement, Air Force.

Kiowa Warrior.—Due to the termination of the Armed Reconnaissance helicopter in 2008, the Army has initiated a plan to address losses of the Kiowa Warrior helicopter by rehabilitating OH-58A airframes into a modernized, zero-hour OH-58D configuration. The Committee has supported initiation of this effort with $70,200,000 of Overseas Deployments and Other Activities funds in fiscal year 2010, and an additional $142,500,000 has been requested in fiscal year 2011. The initial six helicopters have recently begun modification and are scheduled to deliver in mid-2012, but the Committee remains concerned about risk in the early stages of this program. Therefore, the recommendation reduces the Overseas

Deployments and Other Activities request by $67,800,000, a reduction from 15 to 6 aircraft, pending greater maturity in the program.

In addition, the baseline budget request included $62,100,000 for long-lead items for the Kiowa Warrior Cockpit and Sensor Upgrade Program. The Army has informed the Committee that these funds are now premature, and the recommendation includes this reduction, but provides an additional $25,000,000 in Overseas Deployments and Other Activities funding for additional fielded fleet upgrade and weight reduction initiatives. These funds are intended to be used for current funding requirements, such as improved gun systems, weapons pylons, digital engine controls, and common missile warning systems. The Committee finds that an Army proposal to produce new cabins for Kiowa Warrior replacement aircraft is premature due to reasons already stated.

M4 Carbine Modifications.—The Committee notes that industry can offer a wide array of commercially available upgrades to improve M4 carbine reliability, lethality, and accuracy and is concerned that Army efforts to procure upgrades have not drawn fully on industry's capabilities. Therefore, the Committee directs the Army to ensure that full and open competition maximizing the participation of industry is used in finding vendors for M4 carbine upgrades.

Standard Missile Service Life Extension Program.—The Committee believes that the Service Life Extension Program for the family of Standard Missiles has been beneficial and cost effective for the standard missile program. The Committee encourages the Navy to continue the program and examine ways to incorporate a regain program for the Mk-72 and the Mk-104 for SM-6 during fiscal year 2011.

[In thousands of dollars]

Line	Item	2011 budget estimate	Committee recommendation	Change from budget estimate
12	LITTORAL COMBAT SHIP	1,230,984	615,492	- 615,492
	Reduce one ship	- 615,492	- 615,492

Littoral Combat Ship [LCS].—The fiscal year 2011 budget request included $1,230,984,000 for the construction of two LCS ships and $278,351,000 in advance procurement funding for future ships. The Committee supports the revised acquisition strategy for the LCS program and the decision to down-select to one variant in fiscal year 2010. The Committee, however, is concerned with the very aggressive construction schedule proposed in the budget request. Based on the historical poor cost and schedule performance of the program, including the current delay in the down-select decision, the Committee is concerned that the proposed ramp up to construct four ships in fiscal year 2011 is too aggressive and may be unexecutable. Therefore, the Committee recommends re-phasing the LCS construction schedule by reducing the budget request by $615,492,000 and one ship in fiscal year 2011. The Committee directs the Navy to add one LCS back into the program during the Future Years Defense Plan.

Theater High Altitude Area Defense [THAAD].—The Committee strongly supports the THAAD program, continues to be impressed with the success of the testing program, and commends the Missile Defense Agency [MDA] for supporting additional THAAD batteries. However, the Committee is aware that due to several issues, in particular the Laser Initiated Ordnance System [LIOS] and micro-cracks in the Heat Shield, THAAD production is about 1 year behind schedule. The Committee commends MDA and the Office of the Secretary of Defense for delaying the production decision until the missile has been thoroughly evaluated. Due to the production delay, the Committee recommends a reduction of $425,000,000 in fiscal year 2011 and directs MDA to keep the congressional defense committees informed on the progress of THAAD production and any schedule changes for outfitting the Army's THAAD batteries as a result of the production delay.

Standard Missile-3 [SM-3] Block IA.—The Committee believes that MDA prematurely stopped production of the SM-3 Block IA missile in favor of moving to production of the SM-3 Block IB interceptor before conducting any flight tests. Since MDA made the decision to end production of the SM-3 Block IA missile, the SM-3 Block IB missile has had several technical and developmental problems that continue to delay the first intercept test of the upgraded missile. The SM-3 Block IB cannot enter into production until it has completed additional testing, including the first intercept. In order to sustain production until the SM-3 Block IB is ready for procurement, and to help meet the increasing demand for SM-3 missiles from Combatant Commanders around the globe, the Committee recommends $120,900,000 for an additional 13 missiles in the fiscal year 2011 base budget and $111,600,000 for an additional 12 SM-3 Block IA missiles in the overseas contingencies request reflected in title IX of this act.

Furthermore, the Committee directs MDA to use the $94,080,000 in the fiscal year 2011 budget that was designated to begin procurement of the SM-3 Block IB missile for either additional SM-3 Block IA missiles or Block IB missiles if they are adequately tested and a review is done to assess the quality of the missile prior to production, similar to the THAAD reviews described above.

NATIONAL GUARD AND RESERVE EQUIPMENT

Appropriations, 2010
Budget estimate, 2011
Committee recommendation	$500,000,000

The Committee recommends an appropriation of $500,000,000. This is $500,000,000 above the budget estimate.

The appropriation includes direction for each Reserve and National Guard component commander to submit to the congressional defense committees a detailed assessment of that component's modernization priorities, not later than 30 days after enactment of this act.

The following table summarizes the budget estimate for this appropriation, the Committee recommendation, and the Committee recommended adjustments to the budget estimate:

Unobligated Balances.—Since 1981, the Committee has provided support to the Reserve components by addressing equipment shortfalls through the National Guard and Reserve Equipment Account [NGREA]. The Committee understands how vital NGREA funding has been for filling the substantial backlog of equipment needs.

However, the Committee is concerned that several of the Reserve components, including the Air Force Reserve, Air National Guard, Army Reserve and the Army National Guard, have a sizable amount of unobligated funds from past fiscal years. For example, as of June 30, 2010, the Army Guard had $1,636,637,000 in unobligated funds with $475,230,000 of these funds set to expire September 30, 2010. The Committee is concerned that the Reserve components may not be able to obligate this sizable amount of funding in a fiscally responsible manner before the funds expire. In addition, it is disconcerting that the delivery of much needed equipment is delayed up to 2 to 3 years, not because of a lack of funding, but due to a failure to put the equipment on contract in a timely manner. The Guard and Reserve components should understand that the current practice of leaving nearly one-third of all funding to be obligated in the final quarter of the life of the appropriation is unacceptable and must be improved.

The Committee directs the Office of the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition, Technology, and Logistics, in coordination with the Reserve Chiefs, to examine how these accounts are managed in an effort to bring the program in line with Department of Defense standards for obligated and expended balances; and to provide a report to the congressional defense committees by March 1, 2011 detailing steps that can be taken to improve procurement practices for each Reserve component.

High-priority Items.—The Committee directs that the National Guard and Reserve Equipment Account shall be executed by the heads of the Guard and Reserve components with priority consideration given to the following items:

Abrams Virtual Ops Trainers; ARC 210 Radios for ANG A-10s; Bradley Modification; Bradley Virtual Ops Trainers; Combined Arms Virtual Trainers; Civil Support Communications Systems for ARNG helicopters; Enhanced Communications Equipment; F-15 AESA Radar; F-16 Block 42 Engine Upgrades; F-16 Center Pedestal Display; Hydraulic Excavators; Joint Threat Emitters; LAIRCOM for KC-135s; Laser Shot Tactical Weapons Simulators; Light Tactical Trailers; LITENING 4th Generation Upgrade Kits; Mine Resistant Ambush Protected Vehicle Virtual Trainers; NP2000 Propeller Systems; Small Unmanned Ground Vehicles; Tabletop Trainers; Thermal Imaging Systems; U.S. Army Operator Driving Simulators; Virtual Convoy Operations Trainers; Virtual Door Gunner Trainers; and Wideband Imagery Dissemination System.

TITLE IV

RESEARCH, DEVELOPMENT, TEST AND EVALUATION

Funds appropriated under this title provide the resources required to conduct a program of research, development, test and evaluation, including research in basic science, applied research, advanced technology development, demonstration and validation, engineering and manufacturing development, and operational systems development.

The President's fiscal year 2011 budget requests a total of $76,130,700,000 for research, development, test and evaluation appropriations.

SUMMARY OF COMMITTEE ACTION

The Committee recommends research, development, test and evaluation appropriations totaling $76,193,695,000 for fiscal year 2011. This is $62,995,000 above the budget estimate.

Committee recommended research, development, test and evaluation appropriations for fiscal year 2011 are summarized below:

COMMITTEE RECOMMENDATIONS

The Committee has displayed recommended adjustments in tables presented under each appropriation account.

These adjustments reflect the following Committee actions: elimination of funds requested for programs which are lower priority, duplicative, or not supported by firm requirements in out-year development or procurement appropriations; deletion of excess funds based on program delays or slow execution; addition of funds to reflect congressional priorities and to rectify shortfalls in the budget estimate; and implementation of recommendations in S. 3454, the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2011 as reported.

The Committee directs that the funding increases outlined in these tables shall be provided only for the specific purposes indicated in the table.

RESEARCH, DEVELOPMENT, TEST AND EVALUATION OVERVIEW

Joint Light Tactical Vehicle.—The budget request includes a total of $84,687,000 for development of the Joint Light Tactical Vehicle. In previous years, the Committee has stated its concern about the slow rate at which the program has expended the funds that have been appropriated to it. While some improvements have been made in this regard, the rate of obligation and expenditure remains an ongoing concern.

The Joint Light Tactical Vehicle is scheduled to award two competitive engineering and manufacturing development contracts in September 2011. The Committee believes funding for these contracts is more appropriately considered in the fiscal year 2012 budget request. Therefore, the recommendation includes a decrease of $16,302,000 in the Marine Corps request and a decrease of $15,175,000 in the Army request, which continues to provide the resources needed to complete the on-going technology development efforts.

Joint Strike Fighter.—The budget request includes $2,477,041,000 number for development and test of the F-35 Joint Strike Fighter. As a result of the schedule delays and cost increases in the program, the Department of Defense has conducted exhaustive reviews of the program, culminating in a restructuring of the program in February 2010 and a Nunn-McCurdy certification in June 2010. The Committee is encouraged by the addition of aircraft into the flight test program, the revisions to the test schedule, and new fee structures to incentivize contractor performance.

However, the Committee is circumspect on the ability of the Department to complete the revised test program on schedule. Just months after the program restructure, the Under Secretary of Defense (Acquisition, Technology, and Logistics) notified the congressional defense committees on June 1, 2010, that the “JSF test program continues to encounter difficulties and has fallen behind the level of performance projected” by the Joint Estimating Team II.

Between February and June of this year, for example, the estimated ferry date—the time at which an aircraft becomes available for Government testing—has been delayed for 8 out of 14 test aircraft by as much as 2 months. In addition, the Marine Corps’ short take-off and landing variant has not met the scheduled ramp-up of flight testing due to maintenance and other issues. Due to the under-execution of test flights, the Committee recommends a reduction of $50,000,000 to the Research, Development, Test and Evaluation, Navy account.

The Department has also requested a total of $115,724,000 for development of Block 4 software. This software is intended to have enhancements beyond the Block 3 build, which will be installed on all operational aircraft after completion of the developmental test program in fiscal year 2014. In light of the considerable risk remaining in the test schedule, the Committee recommendation defers all funds requested for initiating development of Block 4 software.

Research, Development, Test and Evaluation, Army [RDT&E, A] Justification Materials.—The fiscal year 2011 budget justification materials for RDT&E, Army, Budget Activities 4–7 were incomplete and contained numerous errors, e.g. by displaying funding requests in incorrect lines, misaligning funding requests and the associated narratives, failing to provide explanations for funding increases, providing incomplete schedules, omitting contract award information, and in some instances not providing the appropriate r-forms. The Committee notes that budget justification materials are critical to conducting oversight and expects these issues to be remedied in future budget submissions.

Minerva.—The budget request includes $21,600,000 for Minerva, an increase of $9,100,000 over the amount appropriated in fiscal year 2010, to expand the Department's understanding of social, cultural and behavioral forces that shape various regions of the world. The Committee notes that this request includes $5,000,000 which is twice the amount appropriated in fiscal year 2010, to expand Minerva chairs at Defense education institutions. The Committee believes that this new component of the Minerva program has the potential to build significant in-house expertise in the social sciences that directly impacts the Warfighter, and fully supports this increase. However, the Committee remains concerned about funding long-term academic research projects and does not support transferring funds to non-Department of Defense agencies.

At request of the Department, the Committee transfers $3,300,000 from project V72 to project D55 for appropriate execution by the Army.

Emerging Chemical Agent Threat.—The Committee is aware of an urgent unfunded requirement to address an emerging chemical agent threat, as identified by the Department of Agriculture. The Committee understands that the Department of Agriculture has established an Interagency Agreement with the Army and has initiated work to address this threat with available funds in fiscal year 2010. The Committee provides $7,000,000, the unfunded amount for fiscal year 2011, to continue this work. The Committee understands that the Department of Agriculture will fully budget for this requirement in fiscal year 2012.

Ground Soldier System [GSS].—The fiscal year 2011 budget request includes $36,100,000 in Research, Development, Test and Evaluation, Army for the Ground Soldier System. The Army had originally assumed that the program would complete the technology development [TD] phase halfway through fiscal year 2011 and transition directly to procurement. However, the Committee understands that the Army is changing the acquisition strategy and now plans to enter an engineering and manufacturing development [EMD] phase following completion of TD. Therefore, the Committee transfers funds requested prematurely for procurement to Research and Development, Army to fund the EMD phase in fiscal year 2011.

Electronic Warfare Development.—This program element includes no less than three separate research and development programs within one project code, L20, to include Common Infrared Countermeasures [CIRCM], Hostile Fire Detection System [HFDS] and Common Missile Warning System [CMWS], as well as associated Quick Reaction Capabilities [QRC]. To better distinguish funding requirements associated with each effort, the Committee directs the Army to establish separate project codes for each of these programs in future budget submissions.

Paladin Integrated Management [PIM].—Following submission of the budget request, the Army restructured the Paladin PIM program, delaying Milestone C by at least 2 years. The Committee understands that a revised program cost estimate has not yet been completed, but recognizes the need for additional research and development funding in fiscal year 2011. The Committee has provided $30,000,000 above the research and development budget request for PIM, consistent with S. 3454, the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2011, as reported.

Ground Combat Vehicle [GCV].—The fiscal year 2011 budget request includes $934,366,000 for the GCV, intended to replace roughly one-half of the Bradley Fighting Vehicle fleet. The total estimated development cost was $7,609,400,000 and the procurement of 1,450 vehicles was estimated to be $32,540,200,000, for a program acquisition cost of $23,200,000 per vehicle. Subsequent to the budget submission, the Army revised the GCV requirements and acquisition strategy, resulting in a 6-month contract award delay. As a result, the fiscal year 2011 funding requirement is lower than the budget request. The Committee provides $462,100,000, as requested by the Army, to fully fund the revised program.

The Committee commends the Army for addressing major concerns surrounding the GCV, to include affordability and requirements creep. However, the Committee remains concerned about the program's overall affordability as well as the advisability of initiating a major combat vehicle program that will impact only a marginal portion of the Army's force structure while the Army's overall combat vehicle modernization plans remain in flux. The Committee notes that of the $378,300,000 provided by Congress for the modernization of combat vehicles since fiscal year 2008, the Army has set over $200,000,000 aside for other priorities, and has additionally failed to provide any justification for its fiscal year 2011 combat vehicle modernization budget request, thereby delaying significant improvements to a majority of its combat vehicle fleet. The Committee expects the Army to address these issues in the fiscal year 2012 budget submission.

Unfunded Requirements for Army Test Ranges and Facilities.— The Army has identified unfunded requirements of $17,700,000 for instrumentation across the Department of Defense Major Range Test Facilities, and $22,900,000 to repair and upgrade infrastructure at Aberdeen Proving Grounds that has been significantly degraded, in part due to increased testing associated with the Mine Resistant Ambush Protected Vehicle program. The Committee has fully funded those requirements.

Airborne Maritime Fixed Radio.—The budget request includes $407,334,000 for continued development of the Airborne Maritime Fixed [AMF] Joint Tactical Radio System, which includes a substantial increase for “requirements planning and risk reduction.” Although there have been some changes to the program schedule, neither the Government nor the contractor has identified specific deficiencies which would indicate a need for an additional $80,000,000 in fiscal year 2011. The Committee notes that the independent cost estimate performed for the initiation of the AMF program indicated that development of the radio could take additional time beyond initial program office estimates. This would seem to indicate that any additional funds for the program would be required after fiscal year 2011. Consequently, the recommendation reduces the AMF program by $80,000,000 due to lack of justification.

Small Diameter Bomb.—The budget request includes $44,091,000 for Navy costs relating to the Small Diameter Bomb II development project. These funds are primarily intended to integrate the weapons on the Navy and Marine Corps F-35 Joint Strike Fighter. The Committee is perplexed at the decision to defer Small Diameter Bomb integration on the existing F/A-18 aircraft to the indefinite future, especially in light of the Air Force strategy to equip the F-15 with the weapon prior to the F-35. The recommendation includes a reduction of $17,100,000 because of delays in the F-35 program, and supports the use of remaining funds for other necessary activities, such as bomb rack development, ship suitability efforts, studies and analysis, and other miscellaneous costs.

Expeditionary Fighting Vehicle.—The budget request includes $242,765,000 for development of the Expeditionary Fighting Vehicle. In 2006, the initial prototypes of the vehicle demonstrated unacceptable reliability, which resulted in a restructuring of the program and the addition of seven new prototype vehicles. The Marine Corps is currently receiving the new prototypes, and reliability growth testing is scheduled to proceed through the remainder of 2010.

After the investment of nearly $2,900,000,000 in research and development funds over more than two decades, the Committee believes that further investment in the Expeditionary Fighting Vehicle is not warranted if improved performance of the new prototypes cannot be demonstrated. The Committee further notes that if the program is successful in demonstrating improved performance, the program would likely continue to face challenges in the areas of cost, schedule, weight, and other factors.

The recommendation provides $38,765,000 for the Expeditionary Fighting Vehicle, an amount sufficient to carry the program through vehicle acceptance and reliability growth testing. The recommendation also provides $183,500,000 for estimated termination costs should the program be cancelled. The Committee directs the Secretary of the Navy to provide regular updates to the congressional defense committees during the course of reliability growth testing in order to inform further deliberations on the program.

National Polar-Orbiting Operational Environmental Satellite System [NPOESS] and Defense Weather Satellite System [DWSS].— The Committee is concerned over the staggering cost estimates associated with the cancellation of the NPOESS tri-agency program and the follow-on systems that will be developed by the Department of Defense [DOD] and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration [NOAA] respectively. The Nation has already invested $5,038,000,000 in the NPOESS program. The current NOAA plan will invest an additional $9,403,000,000 to complete its program. The most recent DOD cost estimates for the DWSS program are close to $6,000,000,000. Therefore, if nothing changes, the current price tag for these satellites is more than $20,000,000,000.

While the Committee understands the importance of these satellites and their mission, the Committee believes that there must be a more cost-effective way for the DOD to utilize NOAA's significant investment. It is premature at this time for DOD to set up a large program office and begin to build DWSS. Fortunately, DOD currently has two remaining Defense Meteorological Satellites in storage, which provides the Air Force more time to coordinate with NOAA on a follow-on program. The Committee understands, however, that there are unique sensors for DOD's weather satellites that should continue to be developed and provides $50,000,000 only for the DOD-specific sensor development.

Combat Search and Rescue [CSAR] HH-60 Recapitalization.— The Committee provides no funding for the CSAR HH-60 recapitalization program. The Air Force needs to replace these helicopters, but not at excess cost to the taxpayer. The Committee is concerned that the Air Force spent well over $200,000,000 on the CSAR-X program—the predecessor to the recapitalization program—and it was subsequently terminated with nothing to show for that investment. The Committee is concerned that the Air Force's current plan could produce similar results. The Air Force currently has over $150,000,000 programmed for the CSAR HH-60 recapitalization program over the next 5 years, but does not plan to present its long-term recapitalization program to the Congress until the fiscal year 2012 budget submission.

At the same time, however, the Air Force is growing its current HH-60 Pave Hawk fleet and replacing damaged or destroyed aircraft with the Operational Loss Replacement program [HH-60 OLR]. The Air Force is procuring UH-60M helicopters off of an existing Army contract and making modifications for its CSAR mission. The Committee believes that the most cost effective approach is to continue the Operational Loss Replacement program until a more well-defined, affordable approach to recapitalization is presented to the Congress. To support the Operational Loss Replacement effort, the Committee includes $303,400,000 above the budget request for 10 HH-60Ms in the Aircraft Procurement, Air Force Account under title IX of this act.

Common Vertical Lift Support Platform [CVLSP].—The Air Force requested that the Committee transfer funding from the Aircraft Procurement, Air Force Account to the Research, Development, Test and Evaluation, Air Force Account for the CVLSP program. The Committee denies the request and provides no funds in research and development for the CVLSP program. The Committee is concerned that, like the CSAR HH-60 Recapitalization program, this program will take longer and cost more than is reasonable. The Committee has already provided $7,900,000 to stand up a program office and develop documentation to support a competition. The Air Force requested another $6,400,000 to continue to support planning and the program office in fiscal year 2011. A contract award is not anticipated until mid-fiscal year 2012 for two test aircraft in the Research and Development Account. These costs appear excessive given that this program is intended to replace legacy UH-1N platforms with a helicopter with similar capability and capacity. According to the most recent plan, the Air Force will spend over $73,000,000 in research and development on a program that should be able to go directly to procurement today. The Committee supports the Air Force's efforts to replace the aging UH-1Ns but does not support excess spending in research and development for the replacement program.

F-22 Modernization Program.—The Committee is concerned over the mounting costs of the F-22 modernization program. In the fiscal year 2011 budget request alone, there is $1,272,200,000 in the Aircraft Procurement, Air Force and Research, Development, Test and Evaluation, Air Force accounts for F-22 modernization. The Committee understands that the F-22 modernization program will cost over $11,000,000,000 to complete, which is an alarming price tag to modernize the most advanced fighter aircraft in the world. To rein in spending on the F-22 modernization program, the Committee has recommended several reductions and expects the Office of the Secretary of Defense to closely examine the modernization program in the fiscal year 2012 budget submission.

First, the Committee recommends $101,000,000 to update F-22 laboratory infrastructure, which is a $50,000,000 reduction to the budget request. There are 20 laboratories across the country that support the F-22 program. To date, over $400,000,000 has been spent to upgrade these laboratories and the Air Force plans to spend another $583,500,000 from fiscal year 2011 through fiscal year 2015 on laboratory infrastructure. The Committee has reduced funding for this program in the past as excessive, but the Air Force has not changed its plans to spend nearly $1,000,000,000 on the upgrade initiatives.

Second, the Committee recommends a $100,000,000 reduction to the Research, Development, Test and Evaluation, Air Force F-22 modernization program. As noted above, the cost of modernizing the world's most advanced fighter aircraft is unjustifiable given that production is just beginning to wind down and the aircraft are still being fielded. The Committee directs the Government Accountability Office to provide the congressional defense committees with a report that examines the history of the modernization programs of other fighter aircraft, such as the F-15, F-16, F-117, and F-18. The report shall include a review of the funding and capability enhancements in the F-22 modernization program in comparison to other fighter aircraft programs at the same stage of their development and fielding. In addition, the report shall examine the F-22 data link efforts as described further in the paragraph below.

Third, the Committee provides no funding for the F-22 Multifunction Advance Data Link [MADL] program. In August 2008, the Joint Requirements Oversight Council [JROC] approved MADL as the waveform for all low observable platforms. In November 2009, the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition, Technology and Logistics [USD [AT&L]] directed that the Joint Strike Fighter Joint Program Office would develop the MADL waveform and the message standards, and the Air Force would develop an implementation plan for those waveforms. However, since that direction from the JROC and USD [AT&L], the Air Force plans to spend in excess of $1,000,000,000 on MADL for the F-22. This significant amount of funding to incorporate the F-35 waveform into the F-22 is hard to comprehend given that the F-35 program is funding the majority of the development effort. The Committee directs the USD [AT&L] to examine the MADL program and provide the Committee with a more sustainable plan for the F-22 data link.

Finally, the Committee recommends a reduction of $15,100,000 for integration of AIM-120D on the F-22. The request is premature given that there is at least a 10-month schedule delay in the AIM-120D operational test program, the Air Force slowed down the F-22 modernization program from fiscal year 2010 to the fiscal year 2011 budget request, which pushed out the AIM-120D integration onto F-22, and the Committee's recommendation to re-scope the modernization program in future year planning. The Committee understands that AIM-120D integration onto the F-22 is still a requirement and that it will need to be done in accordance with the new schedule for AIM-120D and the re-phased F-22 modernization program.

Wide Area Airborne Surveillance [WAAS] Program of Record.—In accordance with Senate report 111-201 accompanying S. 3454, the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2011, as reported, the Committee eliminates funding for the WAAS program of record.

Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency [DARPA].—The fiscal year 2011 budget request for DARPA is $3,103,271,000, an increase of $112,000,000 over the fiscal year 2010 appropriated amount. The Committee recognizes the many changes being implemented at DARPA, and recommends the full $287,600,000 requested for fiscal year 2011 new starts, which is roughly twice the approved amount for new starts in fiscal year 2010. The Committee also recommends full funding of $226,900,000 to continue new starts that were initiated during fiscal year 2010. Further, the Committee fully funds the Agency's top priorities, such as Global Integrated Intelligence, Surveillance and Reconnaissance programs, and transfers $40,000,000 to DARPA from the Joint Improvised Explosive Device Defeat Organization [JIEDDO] to accelerate efforts in the area of wide area surveillance development for theater operations.

The Committee recommends adjustments to programs that have been restructured or descoped, are experiencing delays or lack transition partners. In addition, program elements with excessive growth that is not sustained in DARPA's outyear program are reduced without prejudice against specific projects. Therefore, the Director, DARPA is directed to provide to the congressional defense committees, not later than 60 days after enactment of this act, a report detailing by program element and project the application of undistributed reductions. The Committee recommends no rescission of prior year funds.

DARPA Classified Budget Justification Materials.—The Committee notes that despite previously voiced concerns, budget documentation in support of DARPA's classified programs remains insufficient. This is of significant concern to the Committee, particularly given the projected outyear increases in DARPA's classified portfolio. Therefore, the Committee recommends a reduction to these programs in fiscal year 2011.

Corrosion Prevention and Control.—The Committee remains concerned that the Department continues to underfund its corrosion mitigation and prevention requirements. Corrosion reduces mission readiness by limiting asset availability and also impacts safety. The Committee believes the Department needs to invest more in corrosion prevention and mitigation projects in order to better control future year maintenance costs of weapon systems and infrastructure. The fiscal year 2011 budget request for the Department of Defense Corrosion Prevention and Control Program is $12,306,000, which is below both the fiscal year 2010 budget request of $13,100,000 and the appropriated amount of $27,700,000. The budget request is also significantly below the Department's stated requirement of $47,000,000, as outlined in the Department's annual report to Congress of February 17, 2010. Therefore, the Committee recommends $34,700,000 above the budget request to fully fund the fiscal year 2011 Corrosion Prevention and Control program stated requirement and urges the Department to fully fund the requirement in future budget requests.

Developmental Testing and Systems Engineering.—The budget request includes $48,500,000 for Developmental Testing and Systems Engineering, reflecting increased requirements created by the Weapons Systems Acquisition Reform Act, 2009. The Committee understands that the Department has identified an additional $18,000,000 unfunded fiscal year 2011 requirement for these efforts. The Committee recommendation provides these funds above the budget request to allow for full implementation of the Weapons Systems Acquisition Reform Act, 2009. However, the Committee is concerned that staffing plans for these offices rely heavily on contractor personnel—roughly 80 percent for Systems Engineering and 66 percent for Developmental Testing. The Committee finds this incongruent with Department of Defense goals to in-source contractor services. When announced, the Department’s in-sourcing initiative cited the over-reliance on contractors as a reason for poor oversight, particularly with respect to the Department’s acquisition programs that have suffered due to the lack of sufficiently trained and qualified in-house personnel. Therefore, the Committee encourages the Director, Defense Research and Engineering to review the staffing plans for these respective offices. While the Committee recognizes a potential short-term need to rely on contractors to meet immediate, near-term requirements, the Committee directs that none of the additional funds provided be applied towards quasi government organizations.

Prompt Global Strike [PGS].—The budget request includes $239,861,000 to continue development of a Prompt Global Strike capability by experimenting with both winged and conic vehicles. The Committee understands that due to recent test events, the program is currently under review and will likely be restructured in fiscal year 2011, impacting flight tests and program milestones. The Committee recommends full funding of the fiscal year 2011 request, but directs that not more than $189,000,000 may be obligated until the Department of Defense provides the congressional defense committees the details of the restructured program, to include scheduled development efforts and flight tests for each technology under consideration, solutions being considered for weaponization, and the associated costs to complete the development program for each technology being explored. The Committee further directs that beginning with the fiscal year 2012 budget submission, separate project codes for Hypersonic Test Vehicle-2 [HTV-2], Conventional Strike Missile [CSM] and Advanced Hypersonic Weapon [AHW] efforts shall be established within this program element, to include associated test and telemetry requirements.

High-performance Computing Modernization Program.—The Department of Defense operates six supercomputing resource centers that provide the Department’s scientists and engineers with the resources necessary to solve the most demanding computational problems, to include modeling and simulation of weapon systems. A recent Defense Department study estimates the return on investment from high-performance computing to be above 600 percent. However, the Committee understands that the Department is considering a reorganization of the current high-performance computing infrastructure and notes that no details were submitted with the budget request in support of any such plans. Therefore, the Committee includes a general provision prohibiting the use of funds for the consolidation or realignment of any Department of Defense Supercomputing Resource Centers.

MISSILE DEFENSE AGENCY

Realignment of Funding Between Program Elements.—Several of the Missile Defense Agency [MDA] program elements contain funds that are managed within another program element, making it difficult for Congress to conduct the necessary oversight. For instance, the Ballistic Missile Defense [BMD] Test and Target line requests funding that is managed by the Test program, the Targets program, the BMD Enabling program, and the BMD Command and Control, Battle Management and Communication program; not one element has direct oversight of the $1,113,425,000 requested in that program element. Therefore, the Committee recommends several transfers to better align funding to the actual programs that execute those dollars.

Justification Materials.—The Committee has raised concerns annually over the quality of the justification materials provided to Congress from the Missile Defense Agency [MDA]. While the Congress received three volumes of fiscal year 2011 justification material, totaling 2,188 pages, from MDA, it finds the quality lacking.

First, the books are excessively redundant. The entire MDA budget request, by program element, is repeated every few pages. The Committee believes the entire budget request should be printed at the beginning of each volume and that the “Other Program Funding Summary” exhibit should be limited to only those funding amounts included in other program elements that directly relate to the underlying program element.

Second, the presentation of information makes it difficult to track annual funding changes. In the exhibit titled “Accomplishments/Planned Program,” some of the programs have information on the prior fiscal years together, but information on the budget request year is found elsewhere and with different descriptions. Information on other program elements is interspersed throughout the budget justification, making it nearly impossible to examine equivalent activities over a 3-year fiscal period.

Third, the schedules provided do not present adequate detail. Each schedule should display clear timelines for design and development, integration and test, pre-production activities, and production and fielding. The schedules should also indicate the month and year for key events such as acquisition milestones, other decisions and contract awards. Finally, the budget does not clearly indicate the quantities of missiles that will be procured in each fiscal year along with their expected delivery dates. This information is basic to understanding the budget and schedule of implementation for MDA programs.

Since the justification materials have not improved after several years of congressional direction, the Committee directs MDA to include the budget exhibits identified in paragraphs (1) and (2) in the Department of Defense Financial Management Regulation with the congressional justification materials. For procurement programs requesting more than $20,000,000 in any fiscal year, submit the P-1, Procurement Program; P-5, Cost Analysis; P-5a, Procurement History and Planning; P-21, Production Schedule; and P-40, Budget Item Justification. For research, development, test and evaluation projects requesting more than $10,000,000 in any fiscal year, provide the R-1, RDT&E Program; R-2, RDT&E Budget Item Justification; R-3, RDT&E Project Cost Analysis; and R-4, RDT&E Program Schedule Profile. The Committee expects this format to be used in the submission of the fiscal year 2012 President's Budget request to Congress.

In addition to the changes directed for the justification materials, the Committee also is not receiving adequate detailed information from MDA on requests for information in a timely manner or on changes to programs during the year of execution. This information is critical to informing the Congress on MDA's annual budget request, and the Committee urges MDA to find a more transparent and efficient means of delivering information to the congressional defense committees.

Standard Missile-3 [SM-3] Block IIB Missile.—The Aegis Ballistic Missile Defense [BMD] program office together with the Navy have been developing the standard missile series of weapons for nearly half a century and have a proven record of success. The SM-3 Block IIB missile is likely the most significant upgrade to the family of standard missiles. It will play a significant role in MDA's Phased Adaptive Approach program. The Committee is concerned that MDA plans to manage and develop the SM-3 Block IIB missile under the BMD Technology program instead of the Aegis BMD program. The Committee believes that this approach will introduce unnecessary risk in the SM-3 Block IIB development. Therefore, the Committee transfers all funding for the SM-3 Block IIB missile from the BMD Technology program element to the Aegis BMD program element and directs that this program be managed under the Aegis program office.

Directed Energy Research.—The Committee recommends a reduction of $15,000,000 for directed energy research. The Committee was informed that the Director of Defense Research and Engineering and the High Energy Laser Joint Technology Office would provide a report to Congress in June 2010 with a plan regarding the directed energy projects that would be funded in this program element in fiscal year 2011. After several requests for the information, the Committee still does not have any detail on how these funds will be spent and therefore denies the funding request. This reduction should not come out of sustainment funding for the Airborne Laser Test Bed program.

The Committee recommends an appropriation of $1,434,536,000. This is equal to the budget estimate.

The Committee understands the Navy and the Defense Commissary Agency [DeCA] intend to close the commissary at Topsham, Maine in March 2011, even though a significant number of active duty servicemembers will remain in the area to support ship conversion and repair work. The Committee also understands that DeCA has budgeted sufficient funding to continue operations at the Topsham commissary through the end of fiscal year 2011. Therefore, the Committee directs that the Secretary of Navy and the Director, DeCA shall provide for the continued operation of the commissary at Topsham, Maine through September 30, 2011. The Committee expects that the commissary will close as planned at the end of fiscal year 2011 unless the Secretary or the Director, DeCA determines it should remain open.

Appropriations, 2010	$1,672,758,000
Budget estimate, 2011	934,866,000
Committee recommendation	1,037,866,000

The Committee recommends an appropriation of $1,037,866,000. This is $103,000,000 above the budget estimate.

Mobile Landing Platform [MLP].—The fiscal year 2011 budget request included $380,000,000 in the National Defense Sealift Fund for the acquisition of the first mobile landing platform. The Committee recommends $480,000,000, an addition $100,000,000 to the budget request, for advance procurement and advance construction activities for the MLP program.

Texas Maritime Academy Training Vessel Conversion.—The Committee has included $3,000,000 for Texas Maritime Academy Training Vessel Conversion.

DEFENSE HEALTH PROGRAM

Appropriations, 2010	$29,243,428,000
Budget estimate, 2011	30,935,111,000
Committee recommendation	31,530,598,000

The Committee recommends an appropriation of $31,530,598,000. This is $595,487,000 above the budget estimate.

Defense Health Program Reprogramming Procedures.—The Committee remains concerned regarding the transfer of funds from Direct (or In-house) Care to pay for contractor-provided medical care. To limit such transfers and continue oversight within the Defense Health Program operation and maintenance account, the Committee includes bill language which caps the funds available for Private Sector Care under the TRICARE program subject to prior approval reprogramming procedures. The bill language and accompanying report language included by the Committee should not be interpreted by the Department as limiting the amount of funds that may be transferred to the Direct Care System from other budget activities within the Defense Health Program. In addition, the Committee continues to designate the funding for the Direct Care System as a special interest item. Any transfer of funds from the Direct (or In-house) Care budget activity into the Private Sector Care budget activity or any other budget activity will require the Department of Defense to follow prior approval reprogramming procedures.

Carryover.—For fiscal year 2011, the Committee is recommending 1 percent carryover authority for the Defense Health Program. The Committee directs the Assistant Secretary of Defense (Health Affairs) to submit a detailed spending plan for any fiscal year 2010 designated carryover funds to the congressional defense committees not fewer than 15 days prior to executing the carryover funds.

TOTAL	30,935,111	31,530,598	+ 595,487

Peer Reviewed Medical Research Program.—The Committee has provided $50,000,000 for a Peer Reviewed Medical Research Program. The Committee directs the Secretary of Defense, in conjunction with the Service Surgeons General, to select medical research projects of clear scientific merit and direct relevance to military health. Research areas considered under this funding are restricted to: amyotrophic lateral sclerosis, autism, blood cancer, chronic fatigue syndrome, chronic migraine and post-traumatic headache, dental research, drug abuse, epidermolysis bullosa, epilepsy, fragile x syndrome, inflammatory bowel disease, interstitial cystitis, kidney cancer, lupus, melanoma, mesothelioma, multiple sclerosis, neuroblastoma, neurofibromatosis, osteoporosis and related bone disease, Paget's disease, pancreatitis, Parkinson's, pediatric cancer, pheochromocytoma, polycystic kidney disease, post-traumatic osteoarthritis, scleroderma, social work research, tinnitus, tuberculous scler-rosis complex, and vision research. The Committee emphasizes that the additional funding provided under the Peer Reviewed Medical Research Program shall be devoted only to the purposes listed above.

Credentialing and Licensing of Healthcare Providers.—The Committee believes that providing the highest quality of healthcare for our service members, retirees and their families, and veterans must always remain a top priority for both the Department of Defense [DOD] and the Department of Veterans Affairs [VA]. It is essential that systems established to ensure quality care, including the credentialing and licensing of healthcare providers, are responsive to the evolution of new healthcare delivery models. Such new models include the establishment of joint service medical facilities, DOD and VA healthcare facilities, and the delivery of health services via telecommunications technologies.

The Committee directs the Assistant Secretary of Defense (Health Affairs), in coordination with the Under Secretary for Health of the Veterans Health Administration, to report to the congressional defense committees and the House and Senate Military Construction, Veterans Affairs, and Related Agencies Appropriations Subcommittees on the current processes for licensing and credentialing of providers serving in joint service facilities, and joint DOD and VA facilities, including but not limited to the DOD and VA Medical Facility Demonstration Project at Great Lakes, Illinois. The report shall include ways in which those processes can be improved, including proposals for any necessary legislative changes. In addition, this report shall also describe the rapidly evolving programs in both Departments involving telehealth services, and the current policies and procedures governing the quality of clinical practice and clinical providers utilizing telehealth technologies, both within the DOD and VA systems, and, as appropriate, those utilizing non-DOD or VA providers. The Committee directs that the report contain an analysis of the specific challenges involving credentialing of providers at joint service facilities, joint DOD and VA facilities, and at individual DOD and VA facilities utilizing telehealth within and among States, and what effect, if any, those challenges present to the continuity of high-quality healthcare, both among and within DOD and VA systems. The Committee directs that the report be provided to the Committees by March 4, 2011.

Treatment of Autism Spectrum Disorders in Rural Areas.—The Committee is aware of the Department of Defense's continuing challenge in providing high-quality care to servicemember's dependents with autism spectrum disorders, particularly members of the reserve components who do not live in an area where they can readily receive such care. The Committee urges TRICARE Management Activity to work with university-based autism research centers that have experience serving rural areas as it develops best practices in providing care for the dependents of servicemembers.

Medical Centers of Excellence.—The fiscal year 2009 Defense Supplemental Appropriations Act (Public Law 111-32) was enacted on June 26, 2009. Language was included in this act directing the Secretary of Defense to provide a strategic plan for locating, staffing, and resourcing the various medical centers of excellence that have been established in the past few years. This report was to be coordinated with all military services and the Secretary of Veterans Affairs. Criteria for the establishment and long-term sustainment of these centers were also to be included within this report.

This mandate was due to Congress on August 31, 2009; however, the Committee has still not received this report. Since the passage of the fiscal year 2009 Defense Appropriations Supplemental, the Department has continued planning, resourcing, and establishing these centers of excellence but without having delivered the required plan. The intent behind this reporting requirement was to direct the Department to address these centers collectively and not individually; and investigate where duplication of effort can be avoided, shared resources can be achieved, and proper management and oversight can be implemented. These centers were established by Congress to provide the highest level of care for wounded service members, and as such, the Committee believes it is vital to fully understand how these centers will be resourced and managed. The Committee is extremely disappointed that the Department has not delivered this required document that could set the stage for the success of these centers. The Committee directs the Department to deliver this report as soon as possible.

Electronic Health Record Systems Modernization.—The Committee continues to monitor the Department of Defense and the Department of Veterans Affairs efforts to jointly modernize their electronic health record systems. The Committee believes this should be performed in a manner that cost-effectively supports the Departments' mutual healthcare business needs. The Committee is encouraged that the Departments recognize that they share many electronic health record system requirements; however, there remains concern that the Departments have not explicitly indicated how they intend to efficiently and effectively meet these common requirements. In particular, the Department of Veterans Affairs and the Department of Defense Joint Executive Council Joint Strategic Plan for fiscal years 2010–2012, which is intended to describe the joint coordination and sharing efforts between the two Departments, does not mention the Departments' electronic health record system modernization efforts, or describe what their approach to meeting their common requirements will be. In the absence of a strategic plan that discusses and guides their efforts, the Departments are pursuing separate and distinct modernizations that may result in development, implementation, and operation of independent electronic health record systems. Accordingly, the Committee directs the Secretary of Defense, in coordination with the Secretary of Veterans Affairs, to revise the Joint Executive Council's strategic plan to explicitly discuss the Departments' electronic health record system modernization efforts and how those efforts will cost effectively address the Departments' needs in the 10 areas in which they have identified common requirements. The Committee directs the Secretary of Defense, in coordination with the Secretary of Veterans Affairs, to report back to the Committees on Appropriations on a timeline for making these changes no later than 90 days after enactment of this act.

Complementary and Alternative Medicine.—No later than 180 days from the enactment of this act, the Secretary of Defense shall submit a report to the congressional defense committees on the use of complementary alternative medicine therapies, integrative health, and wellness treatments within Military Health System and medical operational units to include deployed medical facilities. The report shall include (1) research and grant programs on complementary alternative medicine, integrative medicine, and wellness treatment; (2) specific treatments and therapies being utilized or researched for the treatment of post-traumatic stress disorder and traumatic brain injury; (3) treatment services or therapies under complementary alternative therapies covered by TRICARE; and (4) military treatment facilities where treatment and/or DOD research of complementary alternative therapies are being utilized and reason for utilization.

Blood and IV Fluid Infusion Warmers.—The deployment of lightweight, portable blood and IV fluid infusion warmers can provide an important tool to improve patient outcomes in expeditionary medical environments. Therefore, the Committee encourages the Army to develop next generation blood and IV fluid infusion warmer technology that is easily integrated with existing medical systems, capable of utilizing multiple power sources (to include fuel cells), and come in a reduced weight and size form for forward combat operations.

Pine Bluff Arsenal.—The Committee recognizes the significant taxpayer investment that has been required to construct the chemical demilitarization facilities at the Pine Bluff Arsenal in Jefferson County, Arkansas and, therefore, encourages the reuse of the chemical demilitarization support facilities for military related missions after the completion of chemical demilitarization activities. This may require the restoration or preservation of utility and other infrastructure of the main demilitarization building and nearby structures.

OVERVIEW

COMMITTEE RECOMMENDATION

The Committee recommends $157,680,557,000 of additional appropriations for Overseas Deployments and Other Activities in fiscal year 2011. This funding will ensure that resources, equipment, and supplies are available for our servicemembers without interruption, and will enable the Department to avoid absorbing operational costs from within baseline programs that are critical to future readiness and home-station activities.

REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

The Committee directs the Secretary of Defense to provide a report to the congressional defense committees within 30 days after the date of enactment of this legislation on the allocation of the funds within the accounts listed in this title. The Secretary shall submit updated reports 30 days after the end of each fiscal quarter until funds listed in this title are no longer available for obligation. The Committee further directs that these reports shall include: a detailed accounting of obligations and expenditures of appropriations provided in this title by program and subactivity group for the continuation of military operations in Iraq and Afghanistan; and a listing of equipment procured using funds provided in this title.

Additionally, the Committee directs that the Department continue to report incremental contingency operations costs for Operations Iraqi Freedom and Operation Enduring Freedom on a monthly basis in the Cost of War Execution report as required by Department of Defense Financial Management Regulation, chapter 23, volume 12. The Committee further directs the Department to continue to provide the Cost of War reports to the congressional defense committees that include the following information by appropriation: funding appropriated, funding allocated, monthly obligations, monthly disbursements, cumulative fiscal year obligations, and cumulative fiscal year disbursements.

The Committee expects that in order to meet unanticipated requirements, the Department of Defense may need to transfer funds within these appropriations accounts for purposes other than those specified in this report. The Committee directs the Department of Defense to follow normal prior approval reprogramming procedures should it be necessary to transfer funding between different appropriations accounts in this title.

PROGRESS IN AFGHANISTAN

Corruption in Afghanistan.—Corruption in Afghanistan continues to undermine the legitimacy of the Afghan Government and derails support for the country and its people. The Committee recognizes that efforts are being made to combat corruption, and the establishment of Task Force 2010 is a positive step in this campaign. The Committee believes that all efforts to curtail corruption and lessons learned should be shared on an ongoing basis throughout the United States Government so that reforms or improvements in processes can be implemented immediately rather than after completion of audits or reports. The Committee directs the Department of Defense, in coordination with the Department of State and the U.S. Agency for International Development, to develop a strategy that will enable the free exchange of this information and a regular reporting requirement to the Congress on progress and results that have been made in curbing corruption. The Committee directs such a strategy to be submitted to the Congress by November 30, 2010.

Stability in Afghanistan.—Security and economic stability in Afghanistan are necessary in order to prevent the country from becoming a safe haven for al Qaeda again. The United States and its coalition partners have been working with Afghanistan to further security efforts and build a reputable and capable Afghan security force for several years and have provided over $25,000,000,000 to date for this effort with another $11,600,000,000 included in this bill. Substantial progress has been made so far, but the Afghan security force is still several years away from being capable of operating independently. The Committee is also aware of several billion dollars worth of reconstruction projects, ranging from road construction, electricity generation, and rail service that are pivotal to economic growth and stability in Afghanistan. While it is presently inconceivable for Afghanistan to finance these projects on its own, that must evolve. Afghanistan not only needs to recognize the value in supporting these projects, but also find a way to sustain ongoing efforts and pay for the future requirements.

Since the beginning of Operation Enduring Freedom, the United States, its allies, and most of the world have viewed Afghanistan as incapable of sustaining its own livelihood without donations from foreign nations. While that will certainly be the case for several years to come, there is reason to hope that with potential mineral wealth in Afghanistan that can change.

If the Government of Afghanistan can reap the benefits of its own natural resources and use it to provide security and stability for its people, it will significantly diminish the power of al Qaeda and the Taliban. Recognizing this potential, it is imperative that the United States and our coalition partners work with the Government of Afghanistan to help it realize this potential and safeguard these assets for the Afghan people.

The Committee believes that one viable option for Afghanistan to benefit from this wealth is to create an Afghan Government mining company, similar to Iraq oil, or Saudi Arabia's Aramco, or copy Botswana who is using revenue from diamond mining to build roads, power lines, and schools. The United States is already helping build the capacity of the Afghanistan Ministry of Mines, to root out potential corruption, and pave the way forward so it is capable of this task. The Government of Afghanistan should be encouraged to take on this initiative. The Committee is well aware of the numerous challenges in this approach, but believes this is one of the only ways to bring stability to Afghanistan. Therefore, the Committee directs the national security team, including but not limited to the Department of Defense, the Department of State, U.S. Agency for International Development, the Special Representative for Afghanistan and Pakistan, and the National Security Council, to develop an interagency and international strategy for the Afghan Government's development of the Afghanistan national agencies and companies to govern the mining of these natural resources, the collection of the associated revenue, and the creation of the necessary infrastructure to enable the extraction and transportation of these resources. The Committee further directs the Department of Defense, in coordination with the national security team, to report to the Congress within 90 days of enactment of this act with a plan to achieve this goal in Afghanistan.

MILITARY PERSONNEL

The Committee recommends a total of $16,040,299,000 for pay, allowances, and other personnel costs for Active, Reserve, and Guard troops activated for duty in Iraq, Afghanistan, and other contingency operations. This recommendation includes funding for subsistence, permanent change of station travel, and special pays including imminent danger pay, family separation allowance, and hardship duty pay.

Commanders Emergency Response Program.—The Committee recommends $900,000,000 for the Commanders Emergency Response Program [CERP] in fiscal year 2011, the amount recommended in the National Defense Authorization Act as reported in the Senate. Included in this amount is $800,000,000 for CERP in Afghanistan and $100,000,000 for CERP in Iraq.

The Committee directs the Army to submit monthly commitment, obligation, and expenditure data for CERP in Iraq and Afghanistan to the congressional defense committees no later than 30 days after each month.

CERP Projects.—The Committee includes new language in the Commander’s Emergency Response Program [CERP] general provision that requires all projects executed under this authority shall be small scale, and shall not exceed $20,000,000 in cost (including any ancillary or related elements in connection with such project). The Committee believes it is necessary to alter current authorities because this program has been used and is being considered as a means to pay for large-scale reconstruction projects and other Department of Defense efforts that are outside the scope of the purpose of CERP. The proper role of the CERP program is to enable commanders in the field to respond to urgent, small scale, humanitarian relief projects that provide an immediate benefit to the local population and the coalition troops serving in the area. The program was not designed to fund large-scale reconstruction projects that are the responsibility of the Department of State and the U.S. Agency for International Development. This provision also prohibits spending funds on projects that are identified separately but are clearly related to other projects and collectively exceed the $20,000,000 threshold.

OVERSEAS CONTINGENCY OPERATIONS TRANSFER FUND

Appropriations, 2010	$5,000,000,000
Budget estimate, 2011	1,551,781,000
Committee recommendation

The Committee recommends no appropriation for the Overseas Contingency Operations Transfer Fund [OCOTF]. The recommendation is $1,551,781,000 below the request. The request for the OCOTF included $300,000,000 to respond to Joint Urgent Operational Needs [JUONS] under the direction of the Joint Rapid Acquisition Cell [JRAC]. The Committee continues to believe that the Department of Defense and the services have sufficient flexibilities and authorities to respond to JUONS and urges the Department to work through any internal challenges that prevent immediate action. The request also included $350,000,000 for detainee operations at Naval Station Guantanamo Bay. Of the amount requested, $80,000,000 has been transferred to Operation and Maintenance, Army and $25,000,000 has been transferred to Operation and Maintenance, Navy for continuing operations at Guantanamo Bay. And finally, $901,781,000 was requested by the Department to provide flexibility to transfer funds to appropriations incurring unexpected, unplanned costs during the year of execution. However, the Committee believes that supplemental funding provides sufficient flexibility to meet contingency requirements.

Oversight of Afghanistan Security Forces Fund [ASFF] and Contracts.—The Committee wants to ensure that the Department of Defense provides the appropriate oversight of the billions of dollars appropriated for the ASFF. The Committee is aware that NATO Training Mission-Afghanistan/Combined Security Transition Command-Afghanistan [NTM-A/CSTC-A] officials are making efforts to improve its oversight but more is needed. The Committee notes that the requirements and contracting for ASFF are equal to or exceed that of most major Defense acquisition programs but without the personnel stability and embedded program structure of such major programs. Therefore, to help ensure that the Department of Defense provides the appropriate oversight of the billions of dollars appropriated for the ASFF, the Committee directs the Secretary of Defense to establish an ASFF Executive Steering Council to oversee the planning, contracting, and execution of the ASFF. Not later than 90 days after the enactment of this act, the Secretary shall submit to the congressional defense committees a charter that establishes the ASFF Executive Steering Council and its roles and responsibilities.

At a minimum, the Council members shall include representatives from the Under Secretary of Defense (Comptroller); Under Secretary of Defense (Acquisition, Technology, and Logistics); the senior contracting executives for the Army, Navy, Air Force, and Defense Logistics Agency; Commander, Central Command; Commander, NTM-A/CSTC-A; Director, Defense Security Cooperation Agency; Director, Defense Contract Audit Agency [DCAA]; and with the DOD Inspector General and Special Inspector General for Afghanistan Reconstruction as observers. The Council should establish working groups as appropriate to carry out the functions. The Council shall meet on a monthly basis, at a minimum.

The Council shall ensure the following actions occur:

- An appropriate acquisition strategy is developed and managed for the ASF funds.
- Mission plans and goals are translated into well-written contract requirements.
- Comprehensive acquisition plans are written for every contract to fulfill the commander’s needs in a timely manner.
- Emphasis is placed on reducing the standard percentage for administrative fees charged for every case, contract, or transaction.
- Adequate numbers of trained Contractor Oversight Representatives and subject matter experts are assigned in CONUS and Afghanistan to provide the necessary oversight for all service and equipment contracts.
- Pre-award and post-award peer reviews occur for contracts based on dollar value thresholds and risk. Results of peer reviews are shared with all contracting organizations executing ASF funds.
- ASF-funded contracts require that the contracting officer have visibility over all tiers of subcontractors.
- The DCAA and Defense Contract Management Agency are assigned to perform pre-award and post-award contract reviews for all significant dollar value threshold ASF-funded contracts.
- Adequate numbers of trained financial management personnel are assigned in CONUS and Afghanistan to appropriately manage funds, process accounting transactions, and review contractor bills.
- A continual awareness and education campaign is established for DOD personnel and contractors working with ASF-funded contracts that promotes good fiduciary management and emphasizes the importance of sound and transparent management.
- Contractors are encouraged to identify ways to reduce costs on contracts.
- Appropriate goals and metrics that measure results and true performance and not just deliverables are established for ASF funds and contracts.

In addition to the responsibilities outlined above, the Steering Council should evaluate the use of Afghanistan nationals to perform contracting, accounting and payroll functions that are currently being performed by DOD and contract personnel. The Committee believes that such a training initiative could reduce the Department’s reliance on contractors in theater, reduce costs, and improve Afghanistan’s capacity to govern.

PROCUREMENT

The Committee recommends $23,061,155,000 for the procurement accounts. The Overseas Deployments and Other Activities funding supports our forces engaged in Operation Enduring Freedom and Operation Iraqi Freedom. The Committee has provided funding to replace combat losses and equipment left behind in theater, augment and upgrade equipment for deploying units, sustain munitions and other war consumables, and reset the units returning home to an equipment-ready status. Funding adjustments have been made in instances where the requirement was poorly defined, funding was requested ahead of need or program execution has been delayed.

Intelligence, Surveillance, and Reconnaissance.—The fiscal year 2011 Overseas Deployments and Other Activities budget request contains $2,776,000,000 for Intelligence, Surveillance, and Reconnaissance [ISR] capabilities, including $85,600,000 for the lease of additional ISR aircraft for Special Operations Forces [SOF]. The Committee has enthusiastically supported the substantial increase in ISR capabilities over the past 2 years, having provided more than $5,100,000,000 through appropriations or reprogramming requests to fund high-priority ISR initiatives identified by the Secretary of Defense's ISR task force. These efforts have increased the number of simultaneous, 24-hour ISR combat air patrols in the Central Command region from less than 20 in 2007, to 43 by the end of this calendar year, to an expected 50 by the end of 2011.

The Committee questions the strategy of leasing additional manned ISR aircraft at a substantial cost premium compared to purchasing similar capability, especially in light of the rapidly increasing pool of general purpose forces' ISR assets which can be tasked to support priority missions. The Committee therefore defers funding for additional SOF-leased manned ISR assets pending a review of the acquisition strategy.

Joint Improvised Explosive Device Defeat Organization.—The Joint Improvised Explosive Device Defeat Organization [JIEDDO] continues to play a critically vital mission in protecting our troops from improvised explosive devices. The Committee recommends funding JIEDDO in title IX. The Committee continues to believe that these requirements are war-related and should be funded through the supplemental process.

The Committee directs the Joint Improvised Explosive Device Defeat Organization [JIEDDO] to submit to the congressional defense committees monthly commitment, obligation, and expended data by line of operation and by year of appropriation. Further, the Committee directs JIEDDO to submit to the congressional defense committees, monthly reports of obligation data on a project by project basis by line of operation. The Committee also continues to direct JIEDDO to follow standard reprogramming procedures when transferring a cumulative amount of $20,000,000 or more between lines of operation.

Joint Improvised Explosive Device Defeat Fund.—The Committee believes the Joint Improvised Explosive Device Defeat Organization [JIEDDO] and the Department of Defense must refocus the specific mission of defeating improvised explosive devices [IED’s]. Since the submission of the President’s budget request for fiscal year 2011, JIEDDO has undertaken a lengthy review of all ongoing and prospective programs. JIEDDO has recommended numerous programmatic changes and has revised its funding requirements for fiscal year 2011. Many of these changes are reflected in the Committee’s recommendation.

The Committee believes that JIEDDO funds should be used for programs clearly centered on defeating IEDs and should not augment programs that are ongoing with a service or agency, unless any additional investment is limited to delivering a specific IED-related capability that is in addition to the requirements of the ongoing program. As such, the recommendation transfers programs where JIEDDO funding would only increase an ongoing program of a service or agency. In addition, the Committee believes that certain programs fall outside the IED-specific focus and recommends cancelling or transferring several programs that JIEDDO’s Transition Working Group is currently reviewing. The Committee directs the Secretary of Defense to make appropriate out-year adjustments to sustain these transferred programs. The Committee also believes that JIEDDO should not undertake medical related programs or activities. The Department of Defense has several offices responsible for medical research, and if JIEDDO determines a gap exists, then JIEDDO should coordinate with the relevant office to establish the appropriate path forward.

DISCLOSURE OF CONGRESSIONALLY DIRECTED SPENDING ITEMS

The Constitution vests in the Congress the power of the purse. The Committee believes strongly that Congress should make the decisions on how to allocate the people's money.

As defined in Rule XLIV of the Standing Rules of the Senate, the term "congressional directed spending item" means a provision or report language included primarily at the request of a Senator, providing, authorizing, or recommending a specific amount of discretionary budget authority, credit authority, or other spending authority for a contract, loan, loan guarantee, grant, loan authority, or other expenditure with or to an entity, or targeted to a specific State, locality or congressional district, other than through a statutory or administrative, formula-driven, or competitive award process.

For each item, a Member is required to provide a certification that neither the Member nor the Senator's immediate family has a pecuniary interest in such congressionally directed spending item. Such certifications are available to the public on the website of the Senate Committee on Appropriations (www.appropriations.senate.gov/senators.cfm).

Following is a list of congressionally directed spending items included in the Senate recommendation discussed in this report, along with the name of each Senator who submitted a request to the Committee of jurisdiction for each item so identified. Neither the Committee recommendation nor this report contains any limited tax benefits or limited tariff benefits as defined in rule XLIV. Additional information on potential recipients is available on the Committee website.
