R E P O R T

[To accompany S. 1689]

The Committee on Energy and Natural Resources, to which was referred the bill (S. 1689) to designate certain land as components of the National Wilderness Preservation System and the National Landscape Conservation System in the State of New Mexico, and for other purposes, having considered the same, reports favorably thereon with an amendment and recommends that the bill, as amended, do pass.

SEC. 8. AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.

There are authorized to be appropriated such sums as are necessary to carry out this Act.

PURPOSE OF THE MEASURE

The purpose of S. 1689 is to establish the 84,950-acre Organ Mountains National Conservation Area, the 75,550-acre Desert Peaks National Conservation Area, and to designate approximately 241,400 acres of public land in the State of New Mexico administered by the Bureau of Land Management as wilderness.

BACKGROUND AND NEED

S. 1689 would establish the 84,950-acre Organ Mountains National Conservation Area, the 75,550-acre Desert Peaks National Conservation Area, and designate as wilderness approximately 241,400 acres of public land managed by the Bureau of Land Management (BLM) in Doña Ana County in southern New Mexico, including the 27,650-acre Aden Lava Flow, 13,900-acre Broad Canyon, 16,950-acre Cinder Cone, 19,400-acre Organ Mountains, 125,850-acre Potrillo Mountains, 16,950-acre Robledo Mountains, 11,100-acre Sierra de las Uvas, and 9,600-acre Whitethorn wilderness areas.

The wilderness and conservation areas would provide protection for large expanses of the Chihuahuan Desert ecosystem, including mountain ranges and grasslands, mesas and canyons, and lava flows and extinct volcanic cinder cones. The majority of the proposed wilderness areas are currently managed by the BLM as Wilderness Study Areas, and the majority of the Organ Mountains National Conservation Area is currently managed as an Area of Critical Environmental Concern.

The region provides important wildlife habitat for both game and sensitive species, and contains a number of archeological and historical sites, including petroglyphs, throughout the area. The proposed-Desert Peaks National Conservation Area lies adjacent to the Prehistoric Trackways National Monument and may contain similar archeological resources as the National Monument. The areas designated under S. 1689 are used by the public for hunting, hiking, and other recreational activities as well as for grazing purposes. The surrounding communities also rely on the public lands for their importance as watersheds and aquifer recharge zones.

LEGISLATIVE HISTORY

S. 1689 was introduced on September 17, 2009 by Senators Bingaman and Udall of New Mexico. On October 8, 2009, the Subcommittee on Public Lands and Forests held a legislative hearing on the bill (S. Hrg. 111–285). On February 15, 2010, the Committee on Energy and Natural Resources held a field hearing on S. 1689 in Las Cruces, New Mexico (S. Hrg. 111–384). At its business meeting on July 21, 2010, the Committee on Energy and Natural Resources ordered S. 1689 favorably reported with an amendment in the nature of a substitute.

COMMITTEE RECOMMENDATION

The Senate Committee on Energy and Natural Resources, in an open business session on July 21, 2010, by voice vote of a quorum present, recommends that the Senate pass S. 1689, if amended as described herein.

COMMITTEE AMENDMENT

During the consideration of S. 1689, the Committee adopted an amendment in the nature of a substitute. The amendment updates map references in the bill to reflect the boundary adjustments to avoid power lines and some roads near the edges of some of the proposed wilderness areas. Additionally, it updates other changes made to the designated areas, including the establishment of a Restricted Use Area south of the Potrillo Mountains Wilderness near the U.S.-Mexico border. It also clarifies the permitted uses in the Robledo Mountains Potential Wilderness Area, and authorizes the permitting of a long-standing running event in the vicinity of the Organ Mountains Wilderness.

The amendment also details the authorities of the Department of Homeland Security with respect to the designations established by the bill, allows for the location of oil and gas pipelines through a specified area, south of the Organ Mountains National Conservation Area, and makes several other technical and conforming amendments. The amendment is explained in detail in the section-by-section analysis below.

SECTION-BY-SECTION ANALYSIS

Section 1 provides the short title, the “Organ Mountains-Desert Peaks Wilderness Act”.

Section 2 defines key terms used in the bill.

Section 3(a) designates public land managed by the Bureau of Land Management in Doña Ana County as the 27,650-acre Aden Lava Flow Wilderness, 13,900-acre Broad Canyon Wilderness, 16,950-acre Cinder Cone Wilderness, 19,400-acre Organ Mountains Wilderness, 125,850-acre Potrillo Mountains Wilderness, 16,950-acre Robledo Mountains Wilderness, 11,100-acre Sierra de las Uvas Wilderness, and 9,600-acre Whitethorn Wilderness.

Subsection (b) states that the wilderness areas shall be administered in accordance with the Wilderness Act (16 U.S.C. 1131 et seq.).

Subsection (c) states that any land that is acquired within the boundary of the wilderness areas shall become part of the wilderness area in which the land is located and managed accordingly.

Subsection (d) provides for the administration of livestock grazing in the wilderness areas where established before the date of enactment of the Act, in accordance with section 4(d)(4) of the Wilder-

Subsection (e) clarifies that nothing in the section restricts or precludes military overflights, the designation of special air-space, or military flight training routes over the wilderness areas.

Subsection (f) states that the designation of the wilderness areas shall not create a protective perimeter or buffer zone around the area or limit authorized land uses or activities outside the wilderness areas.

Subsection (g) authorizes the Secretary of the Interior (Secretary) to continue to permit the competitive running event organized by the Mesilla Valley Track Club and continuously permitted since 1970 in the vicinity of the Organ Mountains Wilderness.

Subsection (h)(1) designates approximately 100 acres of public land in the Robledo Mountains as the Robledo Mountains Potential Wilderness Area. Paragraph (2) states that only those uses permitted at the time of designation shall be permitted within the potential wilderness area. Paragraph (3) provides for the incorporation of the potential wilderness area into the Robledo Mountains Wilderness area at the time the Secretary determines that the non-conforming uses within the potential wilderness area have ceased and the conditions in the area are compatible with the Wilderness Act.

Subsection (i) releases from Wilderness Study Area status land within Doña Ana County that is not designated as wilderness by this Act. Approximately 30,000 acres of public land in the county will be released from Wilderness Study Area status, to be managed in accordance with the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 (43 U.S.C. 1701 et seq.) and other applicable laws.

Section 4(a) establishes the 84,950-acre Organ Mountains National Conservation Area and 75,550-acre Desert Peaks National Conservation Area (Conservation Areas) on public land within Doña Ana County managed by the Bureau of Land Management.

Subsection (b) describes the purposes for which the Conservation Areas are established, which are to conserve, protect, and enhance the areas' cultural, archaeological, natural, geological, historical, ecological, watershed, wildlife, educational, recreational, and scenic resources.

Subsection (c)(1) directs the Secretary to administer the Conservation Areas in a manner that protects their resources and in accordance with the laws and regulations applicable to public land, this Act, and other applicable laws. Paragraph (2) directs the Secretary to allow only such uses that further the purposes of the Conservation Area and provides the Secretary with direction with regard to the management of motorized vehicles, grazing, and utility right-of-way upgrades.

Subsection (d) requires the Secretary to develop a management plan for the Conservation Areas within three years after the date of enactment of the Act. The subsection further requires the Secretary to develop the management plan in consultation with state and local governments, tribal governments, and the public, and to consider the recommendation of Indian tribes and pueblos with respect to access to and protection of religious and cultural sites within the Conservation Areas.
Subsection (e) states that any land that is acquired within the boundary of either Conservation Area shall become part of the respective Conservation Area and managed accordingly.

Subsection (f) transfers administrative jurisdiction over approximately 2,050 acres of land currently part of Fort Bliss Military Reservation from the Secretary of Defense to the Secretary and incorporates the land into the Organ Mountains National Conservation Area to be managed in accordance with this Act and other applicable laws.

Section 5(a) directs the Secretary to develop a map and legal description of the Conservation Areas and wilderness areas and to make it available to the public as soon as practicable after the date of enactment of this Act.

Subsection (b) states that the Conservation Areas and wilderness areas shall be administered as components of the National Landscape Conservation System.

Subsection (c) clarifies that nothing in the Act affects the State of New Mexico’s jurisdiction with respect to fish and wildlife, except that the Secretary may establish areas where hunting is not allowed for reasons of public safety, administration, or public use and enjoyment.

Subsection (d)(1) withdraws, subject to valid existing rights, the Conservation Areas and wilderness areas from: Entry, appropriation, or disposal under the public land laws; location, entry, and patent under the mining laws; and operation of the mineral leasing, mineral materials, and geothermal leasing laws. Paragraph (2) states that the approximately 1,300 acres of public land depicted on the map as “Parcel A” is withdrawn according to paragraph (1) except that it is not withdrawn from disposal under the Act of June 14, 1926, commonly known as the “Recreation and Public Purposes Act” (43 U.S.C. 869 et seq.). Paragraph (3) states that the approximately 6,500 acres of public land depicted on the map as “Parcel B” is withdrawn according to paragraph (1) except that it is not withdrawn for purposes of the issuance of oil and gas pipeline rights-of-way.

Section 6 adjusts the boundary of the Prehistoric Trackways National Monument located in Doña Ana County by incorporating an additional 470 acres of public land into the existing Monument boundary.

Section 7(a) clarifies that nothing in the Act: Prevents the Department of Homeland Security from undertaking law enforcement and border security activities within the wilderness areas while in pursuit of a suspect, in accordance with section 4(c) of the Wilderness Act (16 U.S.C. 1133(c)), including the use of motorized vehicles; affects the 2006 Memorandum of Understanding among the Department of Homeland Security, the Department of the Interior, and the Department of Agriculture regarding cooperative national security and counterterrorism efforts on Federal land along the borders of the United States; or prevents the Secretary of Homeland Security from conducting any low-level overflights over the wilderness areas designated by this Act.

Subsection (b)(1) states that the public land depicted on the map as “Restricted Use Area” is withdrawn in accordance with section 5(d)(1). Paragraph (2) directs the Secretary to administer the area in a manner that, to the maximum extent practicable, protects the wilderness character of the area. Paragraph (3) prohibits the use of motorized equipment and mechanical transport within the area except for administration of the area, including the conduct of law enforcement and border security activities and grazing uses by authorized permittees. Paragraph (4) clarifies that the Secretary is not precluded from allowing the installation and maintenance of communication or surveillance infrastructure necessary for law enforcement or border security activities within the Restricted Use Area.

Subsection (c) excludes the route depicted on the map as “Restricted—Administrative Access” from the Potrillo Mountains Wilderness and closes the route to public access but provides that it shall remain available for administrative and law enforcement uses, including border security activities.

Section 8 authorizes the appropriation of such sums as are necessary to implement the Act.

COST AND BUDGETARY CONSIDERATIONS

The following estimate of costs of this measure has been provided by the Congressional Budget Office.

S. 1689—Organ Mountains-Desert Peaks Wilderness Act

S. 1689 would change the legal status of about 250,000 acres of federal land in New Mexico. The bill would establish two National Conservation Areas (NCAs) and eight new wilderness areas totaling about 240,000 acres. The legislation also would withdraw about 8,000 acres of Bureau of Land Management (BLM) land from most disposal, mining or mineral leasing activities; transfer 2,000 acres of land from the Department of Defense to BLM for inclusion in one of the NCAs established under the bill; and expand the Prehistoric Trackways National Monument to include an additional 470 acres of BLM land. Finally, the bill would release about 16,000 acres of land from its current status as a wilderness study area. Because the lands affected by the legislation are already managed by the federal government, CBO estimates that any increase in federal costs to manage those lands would not exceed $500,000 in any year.

S. 1689 could reduce offsetting receipts because it would no longer allow certain lands to be disposed of or leased. Therefore pay-as-you-go procedures apply to the legislation. However, based on information from BLM, CBO estimates that any reduction in offsetting receipts would be negligible over the 2010–2020 period.

S. 1689 contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act and would impose no costs on state, local, or tribal governments.

The CBO staff contact for this estimate is Jeff LaFave. The estimate was approved by Theresa Gullo, Deputy Assistant Director for Budget Analysis.

REGULATORY IMPACT EVALUATION

In compliance with paragraph 11(b) of rule XXVI of the Standing Rules of the Senate, the Committee makes the following evaluation of the regulatory impact which would be incurred in carrying out S. 1689. The bill is not a regulatory measure in the sense of imposing Government-established standards or significant economic responsibilities on private individuals and businesses. No personal information would be collected in administering the program. Therefore, there would be no impact on personal privacy. Little, if any, additional paperwork would result from the enactment of S. 1689.

EXECUTIVE COMMUNICATIONS

The views of the administration were included in testimony received by the Committee at a hearing on S. 1689, on October 8, 2009.

STATEMENT OF MARCILYNN A. BURKE, DEPUTY DIRECTOR, BUREAU OF LAND MANAGEMENT, DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

Thank you for inviting the Department of the Interior to testify on S. 1689, the Organ Mountains-Desert Peaks Wilderness Act. The Administration supports S. 1689, which designates two new National Conservation Areas (NCAs) and eight new wilderness areas in Doña Ana County, New Mexico. We welcome this opportunity to enhance protection for some of America’s treasured landscapes.

BACKGROUND

Doña Ana County is many things—the county with the second highest population in New Mexico; home to Las Cruces, one of the fastest growing cities in the country; and a land of amazing beauty. Towering mountain ranges, dramatic deserts, and fertile valleys characterize this corner of the Land of Enchantment. The Organ Mountains, east of the city of Las Cruces, dominate the landscape. Characterized by steep, angular, barren rock outcroppings, the Organ Mountains rise to nearly 9,000 feet in elevation and extend for 20 miles, running generally north and south. This high-desert landscape within the Chihuahua Desert contains a multitude of biological zones—mixed desert shrubs and grasslands in the lowlands ascending to pinon and juniper woodlands, and finally to ponderosa pines at the highest elevations. Consequently, the area is home to a high diversity of animal life, including peregrine falcons and other raptors, as well as mountain lions and other mammals. Abundant prehistoric cultural sites, dating back 8,000 years, dot the landscape. The Organ Mountains are a popular recreation area, with multiple hiking trails, a popular campground, and opportunities for hunting, mountain biking, and other dispersed recreation.

On the west side of Las Cruces are the mountain ranges and peaks of the Robledo Mountains and Sierra de las Uvas, which make up the Desert Peaks area. These desert landscapes are characterized by numerous mesas and buttes interspersed with deep canyons and arroyos. Mule deer, mountain lions, and golden eagles and other raptors are attracted to this varied landscape. Prehistoric cultural sites of the classic Mimbres and El Paso phases are sprinkled throughout this region along with historic sites associated with more recent settlements. This area is also home to the unusual Night-blooming Cereus—seeing the one-night-a-year bloom in its natural surroundings is a rare delight. Finally, the area provides varied disbursted recreational opportunities.

To the southwest of Las Cruces, near the Mexican border, is the Potrillo Mountains Complex. The geologic genesis of these mountains is different from that of the Organ Mountains and Desert Peaks area. Cinder cones, volcanic craters, basalt lava flows, and talus slopes characterize this corner of Doña Ana County. These lands are famous for their abundant wildlife, and contain significant fossil resources. A well-preserved giant ground sloth skeleton, now housed at Yale University, was discovered in this area. The sheer breadth of these lands and their open, expansive vistas offer remarkable opportunities for solitude.

Senator Bingaman and a wide range of local governments, communities, user groups, conservationists, and Federal agencies have worked collaboratively to develop this consensus proposal to protect all of these special areas.

S. 1689

S. 1689 proposes to designate two new NCAs and eight wilderness areas in Doña Ana County, New Mexico, which would be included in BLM’s National Landscape Conservation System. The legislation also releases over 16,000 acres from wilderness study area (WSA) status, transfers land from the Department of the Defense (DOD) to the BLM for inclusion within an NCA, and withdraws certain additional lands from disposal, mining, and mineral leasing.

Section 3 of S. 1689 designates eight wilderness areas totaling approximately 259,000 acres. The BLM supports the proposed wilderness designations in S. 1689. We would like the opportunity to work with the Chairman on minor boundary modifications for manageability, as well as modifications to some minor technical provisions.

These new wilderness designations are in three distinct areas of the county. First, within the proposed Organ Mountains NCA, 19,400 acres would be designated as the Organ Mountains Wilderness.

The second area is within the Desert Peaks National Conservation Area proposed in this legislation. The bill proposes three designations in this area: Broad Canyon Wilderness (13,900 acres); Robledo Mountains Wilderness (17,000 acres); and Sierra de las Uvas Wilderness (11,100 acres). These three areas are within the 33,600-acre Desert Peaks NCA. Within the Robledo Mountains Wilderness, a small corridor of approximately 100 acres has been designated as “potential wilderness” by section 3(g) of S. 1689. The lands included in this potential wilderness contain a communications right-of-way, and it is our understanding that it is the intention of the Chairman to allow the continued use of this site by the current lesses. However, in the event that the communications right-of-way is relinquished, these lands would be reclaimed and become part of the wilderness area. We support this provision.

Finally, the Potrillo Mountains complex in the southwest corner of Doña Ana County includes: Aden Lava Flow Wilderness (27,650 acres); Cinder Cone Wilderness (16,950 acres); Potrillo Mountains Wilderness (143,450 acres); and Whitethorn Wilderness (9,600 acres). Both the Potrillo Mountains Wilderness and Whitethorn Wilderness extend into adjacent Luna County. The legislation releases a substantial swath of land along the border with Mexico that is currently designated as WSA from WSA restrictions. The release contemplated by the legislation would allow greater flexibility for law enforcement along the border. We support this WSA release.

Two National Conservation Areas are established by section 4 of the legislation—the Organ Mountains NCA and the Desert Peaks NCA. As noted above, both of these NCAs include proposed designated wilderness within their boundaries. Each of the NCAs designated by Congress and managed by the BLM is unique. However, all NCA designations have certain critical elements in common, including withdrawal from the public land, mining, and mineral leasing laws; off-highway vehicle use limitations; and language that charges the Secretary of the Interior with allowing only those uses that further the purposes for which the NCA is established. Furthermore, NCA designations should not diminish the protections that currently apply to the lands. Section 4 of the bill honors these principles, and the BLM supports the designation of both of these NCAs.

Much of the lands proposed for both wilderness and NCA designations have been historically grazed by domestic livestock, and grazing continues today. Many of BLM’s existing wilderness areas and NCAs throughout the West are host to livestock grazing, which is compatible with these designations. This use will continue within the NCAs and wilderness areas designated by S. 1689.

Section 4(f) of the bill transfers administrative jurisdiction of 2,050 acres from DOD to the BLM. These lands, currently part of the Army’s Fort Bliss, would be incorporated into the Organ Mountains NCA. The lands to be transferred include the dramatic and scenic Fillmore Canyon as well as the western slopes of Organ Peak and Ice Canyon. We would welcome these lands into BLM’s National System of Public Lands, and we would like to work with the Committee and DOD to ensure that the transfer is conducted consistent with other DOD land transfers to BLM.

Section 6 of S. 1689 concerns the recently established Prehistoric Trackways National Monument, just southeast of the proposed Desert Peaks NCA, the monument was established in Title II, Subtitle B of the Omnibus Public Land Act (Public Law 111–11) signed by the President on March 30 of this year. Section 6 of S. 1689 addresses recent additional discoveries of 280 million-year old reptile, insect, and plant fossils on adjacent BLM-managed lands by adding 170 acres to the Monument. The BLM supports this expansion of the Monument.

Section 5(d) of the legislation provides for the withdrawal of two parcels of BLM-managed lands from the land, mining, and mineral leasing laws. The parcel designated as “Parcel A” is approximately 1,300 acres of BLM-managed lands on the eastern outskirts of Las Cruces. This parcel is a popular hiking and mountain biking site, and provides easy access to the peak of the Tortugas Mountains. From here, visitors can take in spectacular views of Las Cruces and the Rio Grande Valley.

We understand that Chairman Bingaman’s goal is to ensure that these lands are preserved for continued recreational use by Las Cruces residents. The legislation provides for a possible lease of these lands to governmental or nonprofit agency under the Recreation and Public Purposes Act. The larger, 6,300 acre parcel, designated as “Parcel B,” lies on the southern end of the proposed Organ Mountains NCA. It is our understanding that Chairman Bingaman considered adding this parcel to the NCA because of important resource values. However, a multitude of current uses make inclusion of this parcel in the NCA inconsistent with the purposes established for the NCA. Therefore, the limited withdrawal of the parcel will better serve to protect the resources within this area without negatively affecting the current uses of the area. The BLM supports the withdrawal of both of these parcels.

Finally, the BLM, along with many partners, has undertaken restoration efforts on more than one million acres of degraded landscapes in New Mexico, with the goal of returning grasslands, woodlands, and riparian areas to their original healthy conditions. We would like to work with the Chairman to develop language to support the BLM in implementing appropriate land restoration activities that will benefit watershed and wildlife health within these designated areas.

CONCLUSION

Thank you for the opportunity to testify in support of S. 1689. Both the BLM and the Department welcome opportunities to engage in important discussions such as this that advance the protection of treasured American landscapes. Passage of this legislation will ensure that generations of New Mexicans and all Americans will be able to witness a golden eagle soar over the Sierra de las Uvas, hike the landmark Organ Mountains, or hunt in the volcanic outcroppings of the Portrillo Mountains.
