HIGHLIGHTS OF THE BILL

The Committee recommends $3,481,620,499 in discretionary resources for operations of the Legislative Branch of government (excluding Senate items). The fiscal year 2017 recommendation is $73,000,000 above the current fiscal year level and is a decrease of $152,472,652 below the budget request.

Conforming to longstanding practice under which each body of Congress determines its own housekeeping requirements and the other concurs without intervention, funds for the Senate are not included in the bill as reported to the House. The budget request for the Senate for fiscal year 2017 including those under the Architect of the Capitol totals $1,024,092,420.

This bill reflects a continued acknowledgment that the Legislative Branch must set itself as an example for fiscal restraint while continuing to serve the Nation. This bill will require strict fiscal discipline on the part of all Congressional offices and all agency heads in the Legislative Branch.

LEGISLATIVE BRANCH-WIDE MATTERS

Staffing Data in Budget Documents: Legislative branch FTE data is not consistently reported across the Legislative Branch agencies when submitting their budget justifications. The Committee directs the legislative branch agencies to include data on FTE levels that would actually be supported by the associated request or enacted funding levels. The Committee further directs the Legislative Branch Financial Managers Council to coordinate on a plan for aligning FTE levels with the Legislative branch agencies for consistency in reporting.

Zero Base Budgeting: The Committee continues to direct all agencies of the Legislative Branch to develop budget requests from a zero base. The Committee believes that this valuable budgeting process has given agencies the opportunity to take a fresh look at all areas of their operations and make funding reductions and alignments within the current budget base. The Committee believes that there are continued opportunities to realize meaningful savings by carefully reviewing each agency's budget requirements from a zero base.

Committee Requests, Furloughs and Performance Based Merit Increases: The Committee directs that adherence to the language carried in House Reports 112–148, 112–511 and 113–417 pertaining to Committee Requests and Furloughs to be continued unless otherwise so directed. Performance Based Merit Increases are not to exceed the maximum allowable for agencies with a certified SES performance appraisal system.

The following table summarizes the funding allocation provided to each component of the account:

Office of the Clerk	$26,268,000
Office of the Sergeant-At-Arms	15,505,000

Parking for Pregnant Women: The Committee recognizes the value of and supports parking accommodations for Members and Staff during pregnancy. The Committee supports efforts by the Office of the Sergeant at Arms, in conjunction with the Committee on House Administration to provide accommodating temporary parking for Members and Staff during their pregnancy.

Garage Security Implementation Plan: The Committee commends the Sergeant at Arms of the House of Representatives and the Capitol Police for their work to secure the Capitol Complex. The Committee notes that a plan to install magnetometers at the entrances to the House office buildings leading from the garages is a significant step forward in closing one of the last gaps in internal building security. Having said that, it is clear that the garage magnetometer program as presented will not be operational in all of the House office buildings, making it less effective than a program in which all three buildings could be secured simultaneously. Nonetheless, comprehensive garage security should move forward and the Committee expects the Sergeant at Arms and the Capitol Police to implement those security efforts after providing a plan that will outline how the program will be implemented in all garages. Furthermore the Committee encourages the Sergeant at Arms and the Capitol Police to hold additional briefings to re-introduce and reorient offices to the details of the plan required above, including providing information to new Members who will join the 115th Congress.

Office of the Chief Administrative Officer 117,165,000

Continuity of Operations: The Committee continues to be concerned about internal risks due to the complexities of the House of Representative's network and application infrastructures. The Committee encourages the House to adopt solutions based on existing IT infrastructures and security controls that isolate and segment sensitive application information and maintains architecturally sound and secured separation among networks. The Committee also encourages the House to look at existing commercial solutions that provides resiliency, automation and ensures the continuity of operations for the House of Representatives' systems.

Food Service: In August of 2015 Sodexo Government Services began operating House food services, which includes eateries, vending services, and the in-house catering operation through the subcontractor Capitol Host. Sodexo is taking over House food service operations after 7 years of Restaurant Associates' management. The Committee recognizes and understands the many challenges of delivering affordable high quality food options to the House community. The Committee also believes it is important to obtain input from food service patrons. The Chief Administrative Officer is directed to have food service vendors establish a point of contact for Members, staff and visitors to easily contact when they have issues with the food service, recommendations or suggestions on cafeteria or dining room operations. As part of establishing a point of contact and mechanisms to contact them, follow up procedures should be a part of the plan.

Donating Computer Equipment: The Committee is aware of several Member's desire to review the regulations that outline the eligibility of, and process by which, House equipment can be donated to local and State governments as well as 501(c)(3) charities. The Committee believes this is a worthwhile review and that the Committee on House Administration is the proper committee of jurisdiction to address any specific regulation changes.

It has responsibility to (1) investigate the operation and effects of internal revenue taxes and the administration of such taxes; (2) investigate measures and methods for the simplification of such taxes; (3) make reports to the House Committee on Ways and Means and the Senate Committee on Finance (or to the House and the Senate) on the results of such investigations and studies and to make recommendations; and (4) review any proposed refund or credit of income or estate and gift taxes or certain other taxes set forth in Code section 6405 in excess of $2,000,000 ($5,000,000 in the case of a C corporation). The Committee withholds $7,000,000 pending approval of an obligation plan.

Firing Range: The Committee understands the newly opened firing range for the Capitol Police was closed due to safety concerns after complaints by officers of unsafe conditions. The Committee is aware that the Architect of the Capitol is working with USCP and the contractor to determine the cause or causes of the identified problems. However, the Committee expects a full accounting of how such an error could happen. As AOC and USCP work to reopen the firing range, both agencies shall report any additional costs to taxpayers that may be incurred due to this incident 45 days after reopening.

Based on the rise in terrorist events and the tactics displayed by the assailants, USCP reviewed its operational and tactical posture, they believe that additional screening must be used. In addition, by including $17,000,000 for the House Historic Buildings Revitalization Trust Fund, the bill continues the Committee's commitment to advance planning for major capital renewal projects which will be essential to sustaining the performance of historic House buildings.

The AOC is responsible for the maintenance, operation, development, and preservation of the United States Capitol Complex. This includes mechanical and structural maintenance of the Capitol, Congressional office buildings, the Library of Congress buildings, the U.S. Botanic Garden, the Capitol Power Plant, and other facilities, as well as the upkeep and improvement of the grounds surrounding the Capitol complex.

Working Capital Fund: The Committee has created a working capital fund (WCF) for the Architect of the Capitol. The WCF provides a tool to ensure that its appropriated funds are being used in the most efficient manner possible to support Congress and the Supreme Court. Specifically, the WCF will ensure that the AOC's Construction Division can continue to operate in the most efficient and economical manner. The AOC will establish standard operating procedures to administer and operate the WCF. The WCF will also be subject to AOC policies, internal controls, and auditing requirements to ensure that the WCF is operating within the parameters of appropriations law requirements.

Baby Changing Stations: The Committee recognizes the importance of providing designated baby changing stations for members of the public and Members and staffers who visit the Capitol Complex, including in both male and female publicly accessible bathrooms. Flag Office Modernization: The Committee recognizes the flag flying service available to House and Senate Offices and their Constituents as an important and popular service the AOC provides.

While the Flag Office operates as efficiently and effectively as they can with their current operating procedures, the process is often cumbersome and antiquated.

Numerous studies in the past have looked at the entire life-cycle of the flag flying process, the results of which have been little or no change to current operations. The AOC is directed to perform an analysis of the current flag process and identify improvements in order to make the process more efficient and effective, including but not limited to identifying ways to automate processes, streamline ordering and delivery of flags. The automation approach shall take into consideration several key aspects of the process such as order entry and submission, order tracking, consolidated delivery of flags from office supply, and payment for this service. Since the flag flying process involves other House and Senate organizations, the AOC shall coordinate the analysis with the Chief Administrative Officer of the House of Representatives and the Secretary of the Senate in order to streamline one agreed upon process.

The AOC shall complete the analysis and provide recommendations to the Committee in 120 days. The recommendations shall include but not be limited to a detailed description of the options, associated implementation costs for each option, and timeline for their implementation.

Cannon House Office Building: The Committee is pleased with the progress that the Architect of the Capitol has made advancing the much needed renovation of the Cannon House Office Building. Using an integrated project delivery method, the AOC has successfully managed this project in collaboration with congressional oversight to keep the renewal on time and on budget. As Phase 0 concludes and Phase 1 begins, the Committee is confident the AOC will continue to utilize best practice methods and procedures to deliver the project in an efficient manner to meet the needs of Congress and the public.

There is severe corrosion of the reinforcing steel and spalling and delaminating of the concrete slabs and columns. This project provides structural and architectural modifications for life safety, accessibility, lighting, electrical, mechanical, plumbing, fire protection, and security system upgrades.

ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISIONS

Section 1201 prohibits payment of bonuses to contractors behind schedule or over budget.

Section 1204 provides the Architect of the Capitol House Office Buildings jurisdiction authority to operate shuttle service between the House Office Buildings, O’Neill Building and Capitol.

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS

Established by Congress in 1800, the Library of Congress is one of the largest libraries in the world, with a collection of more than 162,000,000 print, audio, and video items in 470 languages. Among its major programs are acquisitions, preservation, administration of U.S. copyright laws by the Copyright Office, research and analysis of policy issues for the Congress by the Congressional Research Service, and administration of a national program to provide reading material to the blind and physically handicapped. The Library maintains a significant number of collections and provides a range of services to libraries in the United States and abroad.

Primary Computing Facility (PCF): The Committee includes $24,000,000 to migrate the Library’s Primary Computing Facility in the James Madison Building to an alternate facility. The Library’s current PCF, built in the 1970’s can no longer provide the level of data center reliability and availability that is needed. The current PCF is vulnerable in general to environment threats such as weather and earthquakes; a prime target for physical acts of terrorism and threats to Washington, DC as well as the facility power and cooling infrastructure to provide uninterrupted services are lacking.

National Collection Stewardship Fund: As stewards of the national collection, the Committee supports the ongoing need to provide secure, state-of-the art facilities in which to store and preserve the Library’s holdings. Costs for new Fort Meade modules, upgrades to the Library’s Capitol Hill facilities, and related collections preservation work can, however, exceed amounts available in annual budget allocations. To stabilize the funding stream for collections preservation and storage across fiscal years, the Committee includes a provision establishing a National Collection Stewardship Trust Fund into which the Congress may appropriate funds, the Library may transfer funds, and funds may be donated to remain available until expended. The trust fund will be available for collections storage construction or leasing upon the approval of the Joint Committee on the Library and the Committees on Appropriations. The Library will report to the Committees annually on use of the fund.

Veterans History Project: The Committee expects the Veterans History Project to be funded at least at the fiscal year 2016 level. The Committee recognizes the critical importance of the Veterans History Project as a way to collect, preserve and make accessible the personal accounts of American war veterans for the benefit of future generations. As the Veterans History Project relies on volunteers to collect and submit veteran's stories, the Committee encourages the Library of Congress to do further outreach with schools, Girl and Boy Scout programs, and other potential partners to enhance the project.

Mass Deacidification Program: Recognizing that the Library's extremely diverse collections require a well balanced approach of preservation assessment, treatment, reformatting, environmental storage, and protective housing. The Committee directs that the $5,500,000 base provided for the mass deacidification program be maintained for the fiscal year as a reasonable level of activity at this time for a balanced preservation program. Other preservation approaches should not be compromised by this investment in mass deacidification and the Committee further recognizes that adjustments to long-term program targets are necessary to reflect changes in overall collection condition and other preservation alternatives.

Computer Network Activity: Section 208 of the general provisions is not intended to limit the Library of Congress or the Copyright Office from carrying out their work as required under law.

Outreach: The Committee encourages the Library of Congress to increase cooperative partnerships, fellowship opportunities, and curriculum program associations with post-secondary institutions that have significant percentages of minority students including Hispanic Serving Institutions and Historically Black Colleges and Universities.

Teaching with Primary Sources Program: The goal of the Teaching with Primary Sources (TPS) program is to teach educators and librarians how to incorporate the digital collections of the Library of Congress into educational curricula. To help meet this goal, in the most recent fiscal years, the Library's National and International Outreach Office has launched a competitive program within the TPS for the development of online and interactive apps for classroom use on Congress and civic participation. The Committee applauds the National and International Outreach Office for their efforts in this regard and recognizes that these projects require significant time and professional skills. As such, the Committee directs the Library of Congress to prioritize the support and expansion of existing projects rather than initiating new ones. Additionally, the Library of Congress is reminded that the original intention of the competitive program was to facilitate the development of programs focused on Congress and citizen participation, and existing programs should reflect these priorities.

To the extent practicable, the Committee instructs the Library to maintain certain subject headings that reflect terminology used in title 8, United States Code.

Survey: The Committee directs the Library of Congress to conduct a survey of ethnic collections of populations displaced as a result of World War II conflict found throughout the United States, and to share the results of the survey with the Committee.

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

	449,971,000

The Committee recommends $443,621,000, plus authority to spend $6,350,000 in receipts, for the salaries and expenses appropriation. This amount is $24,000,000 above the fiscal year 2016 enacted level and is $29,264,000 below the budget request.

COPYRIGHT OFFICE

Appropriation, fiscal year 2016	$23,098,000
Budget request, fiscal year 2017	28,331,000
Recommended in the bill	27,098,000
Offsetting collections	37,198,000
Prior Year Unobligated Balances	4,531,000
	$68,827,000

Copyright Modernization: The Committee recognizes and strongly supports the need for a robust information technology modernization effort within the Copyright Office to support the growth of creativity and commercial artistic activity in our nation and to effectively serve users and copyright owners in the 21st century.

Last year the Committee required the Copyright Office to provide a plan on necessary IT upgrades to the Copyright Office and to seek public comments on efforts to modernize. The provisional report was received on February 29, 2016 with public comments to be provided later.

The Committee directs the Copyright Office, in collaboration with the Library of Congress Chief Information Officer, to modify the plan to include cost estimates and a timeline to execute this much needed improvement of the Copyright Office in alignment with the Library's Strategic Plan and Information Technology Strategic Plan. This report should also include funding strategies based on the comments received from the public. We expect these comments will give Congress a path to move forward on a funding strategy to implement modernization. The Committee remains convinced that the Copyright community will support a fee structure change alongside a commitment from Congress to improve the Copyright system. Finally, the report shall include a comparison between the software and requirements used by the recently modernized Patent and Trademark Office's Trademark processes and the software the Copyright Office plans to implement. This modified plan is to be provided to the Committee within 90 days.

Therefore the Committee appropriates an additional $4,000,000 above last year to support modernization totaling $68,827,000, which includes authority to spend $37,198,000 in receipts, and authority to spend $4,531,000 in prior year unobligated balances for the Copyright Office. This is $9,952,000 above the fiscal year 2016 level and is $5,199,000 below the budget request. The increase above the current level is comprised of $5,952,000, offset with increased authority to spend receipts of $1,421,000, and prior year unobligated balances of $4,531,000. The increase of $1,421,000 in offsetting collections authority will fund 5 FTEs for supervision and staffing for emerging registration policies, 6 FTEs for public records and repositories staffing, and mandatory pay related and price level increases for Copyright Licensing Division and the Copyright Royalty Judges. The authority to spend prior year unobligated balances of $4,531,000 will fund the contract portion of the Data Management Initiative ($1,091,000) and the Searchable Historic Copyright Records Project ($3,440,000).

To be consistent with the Legislative Branch mandate on shared services to achieve efficiencies and savings where practical and GAO findings on the Library’s information technology investment management, the House directs the Copyright Office to utilize the new hosting facility as the primary data center for infrastructure support including data storage and mission oriented software applications. Additionally, any development or use of commodity information technology services not provided by the Library should be done only by exception after collaboration with the Library’s Office of the Chief Information Officer and approval of the Chief Information Officer. Furthermore, all efforts by the Copyright Office to modernize its mission critical software applications should be accomplished in close collaboration with the Library’s Chief Information Officer to ensure there is no duplication of any shared services currently supported by the Library. The Committee expects to see savings from taking a shared services approach.

The Committee understands the Copyright Office has offered its expertise on copyright matters to the Executive Branch, including participation in international discussions, and expects the Office to continue that important role.

Consistent with historical practice, the Committee expects the Library to continue to defer to the copyright expertise of the Register of Copyrights.

The Committee commends GPO for its continuing use of digital technology to support the information requirements of Congress, including support for the development of the Constitution, Jefferson's Manual, and the Rules of the House of Representatives in XML format; the introduction of a new website, govinfo, for providing permanent access to public documents including congressional information; and the agency's ongoing work to digitize all issues of the Congressional Record dating back to its introduction in 1873. GPO's skilled use of digital technology has allowed the agency to constrain the costs of its operations while expanding Government information access options to the American people, bringing greater openness and transparency to the operations of the Government and Congress.

For many years the Committee has had concern with the placement of the Open World Leadership Center (OWLC) in the Legislative Branch with it mirroring numerous similar or nearly identical programs administered by other Federal agencies. In this fiscal environment where our national debt exceeds $19 trillion, it is important to eliminate duplicative programs. The Committee has provided $1,000,000 to cover the cost associated with the shutdown of the OWLC. The Committee directs the Director to retain any necessary prior year funds in the Trust to cover any cost in excess of the $1,000,000 provided in this bill to be utilized for the orderly shutdown. MINORITY VIEWS OF NITA LOWEY AND DEBBIE
WASSERMAN SCHULTZ

For the first time in many years, the subcommittee received a fair allocation of $3.48 billion, $72 million more than the fiscal year 2016 enacted level. However this bill continues to neglect areas that would rebuild Congressional capacity and continues to fund areas that promote politics over policy. Congress must invest in itself to ultimately improve its service to the Country. This bill is instrumental in what should be a bipartisan goal of rebuilding Congress.

A small change in full committee improves the bill in small measure. Representative Farr's amendment to increase the Members Representational Allowance (MRA) by $8.3 million, or 1.5%, was adopted by voice vote after a group of bipartisan Members gave examples of how additional resources for staff are needed. According to the 2010 Census, the average congressional district is a little over 710,000 people, which is 63,815 more than the average sized based on Census 2000. As districts grow, their representatives in Congress must keep pace to properly serve their constituents. The MRA allows Members to provide constituents with vital services in their districts and to adequately analyze policy decisions while ensuring the Legislative Branch of government remains an equal branch of government. After three years of flat MRA budgets, the Farr amendment is a small step toward strengthening the capacity of Members' ability to serve their constituents.

Representative McCollum offered an amendment, which failed 20–28, which would have saved taxpayer dollars by defunding the Select Investigative Panel of the Committee on Energy and Commerce. This Select Panel is engaging in reckless and political actions, through unilateral subpoenas, the public release of names despite privacy and security concerns, and denial of minority access to documents.

Unfortunately this is but one example of the House majority using official taxpayer dollars to engage in partisan politics. The Benghazi Committee has spent more than $6.5 million in taxpayer funds to engage in partisan politics during the Presidential election. House Republicans have also used resources from the Legislative Branch Appropriations bill to defend the Defense of Marriage Act, to sue the President over the Affordable Care Act, and to hire an outside attorney to work on a case against the President regarding his Guantanamo Bay policy. The political parties have legitimate disagreements about these important policy areas, but both should draw the line at using taxpayer dollars to further political causes. It is no wonder public approval of Congress, along with Congress' policy-making capacity, are both at an all-time low. The McCollum amendment would have allowed the House Energy and Commerce Committee to focus on passing legislation rather than engaging in McCarthyism, improving the public's view of Congress.

As Member and Committee budgets have been cut, Congress has had to rely on support agencies to fill the gaps in staff expertise. One of those agencies is the Congressional Research Service (CRS). The bill funds the agency at $107.9 million, $1 million above the fiscal year 2016 enacted level. At that level, CRS remains $4.6 million below the fiscal year 2010 level. According to CRS, recent funding levels have led to a loss of 13 percent of its purchasing power since 2010. The $1 million increase will not even cover mandatory pay for CRS' current staff.

CRS's budget request sought to rebuild the agency. They asked for two defense policy staff, five health policy staff, three education policy staff, two budget/appropriations staff, four technology policy staff, and two data management and analysis staff. None of those staff would be funded under the current bill, depriving Congress of a non-biased analysis of these critical policy areas.

In addition to inadequate funding priorities, this bill wades unnecessarily into the Nation's immigration debate by including report language that seeks to influence the Library of Congress to continue to use the term "Illegal Alien" in its subject headings. Ranking Member Wasserman Schultz had an amendment to remove the contentious language that failed on a close vote of 24–25.

Subject headings serve as the mechanism for how the Library catalogs or groups information—something the Library of Congress is well positioned to understand. They use headings that reflect current day uses of words and phrases so information is easily accessible by its users. There was a time when the Library used the subject heading "Insanity;" today it uses "Mental Illness." The Library once had the subject heading "Negro," then moved to "Afro American," and now uses "African American." In March 2016, the Library found that the term "Illegal Aliens" had become pejorative and decided to use the terms "Noncitizen" and "Unauthorized Immigration."

Four Republicans joined with the Democrats to strip this language from the report. While the amendment did not pass, it showed there is bipartisan support to reduce the political rhetoric surrounding immigration and to allow the Library of Congress to remain free of political influence.

While we appreciate increases to areas such as the Copyright Office and the Historic Buildings Revitalization Trust Fund, we remain disappointed by the inclusion of the report language on "Illegal Aliens." As this bill continues, we stand ready to work with the majority to remove partisan obstacles and return the Legislative Branch Appropriations bill to a bipartisan endeavor with the goal of better serving our constituents and passing legislation for the good of the American people.
