PURPOSE OF THE BILL

The purpose of H.R. 329 is to amend the Indian Employment, Training and Related Services Demonstration Act of 1992 to facilitate the ability of Indian tribes to integrate the employment, training, and related services from diverse Federal sources.

BACKGROUND AND NEED FOR LEGISLATION

The Federal government has a wide range of programs to assist State, local, and tribal governments in developing the workforce of their communities. Specifically, the Departments of the Interior, Health and Human Services, and Labor award grant monies for employment, training, and related workforce service programs that provide grant funding to tribes. Tribes use that funding to provide services such as education and workforce training, resume building, on-the-job training, and childcare services to individuals attempting to enter the workforce.

In 1992, the Indian Employment, Training, and Related Services Demonstration Act (Public Law 102–477, 25 U.S.C. § 3401 et seq.) was enacted with the intent to enable tribes to integrate the federal resources they received from multiple executive agencies under comprehensive plans. The integration of services was meant to reduce administrative burdens or costs by allowing tribes to report and audit multiple programs (up to ten) under a single plan and budget. These are deemed “477 plans”.

The ten eligible programs are: the Department of the Interior Bureau of Indian Affairs’ General Assistance Program, Division of Workforce Development’s Job Placement and Training Program, Higher Education and Adult Basic Education programs, and the Johnson-O’Malley programs; the Department of Labor’s Comprehensive Services Program and Supplemental Youth Services Program; and Department of Health and Human Service’s Native Employment Works, Tribal Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF), and Child Care and Development Fund programs (CCDF).

In fiscal year 2014, the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) estimated that there were more than 250 participating tribes that benefited by approximately $90 million in grant funding. A majority of those funds have come from the TANF, CCDF, and Native Employment Works programs at the Department of Health and Human Services. Funds from the Department of Health and Human Services and the Department of Labor are transferred to the Department of the Interior, which then transfers all employment, training, and related services funding to the tribes once the tribes’ 477 plans are approved.

While tribal programs participating under Public Law 102–477 have had few, if any, negative audit findings, the Administration began in 2008 to require tribes to report and audit their programs by breaking their funds back down to the original federal source of funding. Tribes considered this requirement contrary to the original intent of the law, and after further consultation, the Administration did not enforce the new requirement. Since those consultations began, the Administration and tribes have worked together to try and reconcile their differences in interpreting Public Law 102–477. However, the interested parties still do not agree on how certain provisions of the law should be implemented by the federal agencies.

In response to concerns over the implementation of Public Law 102–477, the 2012 omnibus appropriations act included report language requiring the Administration and tribes to form a workgroup to resolve differences in how funds should be transferred to tribes and how tribal programs should be audited. In addition, report language in the fiscal year 2014 consolidated appropriations act required the Bureau of Indian Affairs to submit a report summarizing the workgroup's efforts. This report indicated that Congressional action would be required to make the authority of the program permanent and to provide clarity on how the program should work. H.R. 329 amends and makes permanent the Indian Employment, Training and Related Services demonstration project authorized by Public Law 102-477, while aiming to improve the structure of the 477 program and ensuring that the burdens Public Law 102-477 intended to address are resolved.

COMMITTEE ACTION

H.R. 329 was introduced on January 13, 2015, by Congressman Don Young (R-AK). The bill was referred to the Committee on Natural Resources, and within the Committee to the Subcommittee on Indian, Insular and Alaska Native Affairs. On April 14, 2015, the Subcommittee held a hearing on the bill. On March 15, 2016, the Natural Resources Committee met to consider the bill. The Subcommittee was discharged by unanimous consent. Congressman Don Young offered amendment designated 113; it was adopted by unanimous consent. No further amendments were offered, and the bill, as amended, was ordered favorably reported to the House of Representatives by unanimous consent on March 16, 2016.

COMMITTEE OVERSIGHT FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

Regarding clause 2(b)(1) of rule X and clause 3(c)(1) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Committee on Natural Resources' oversight findings and recommendations are reflected in the body of this report.

COMPLIANCE WITH HOUSE RULE XIII

1. Cost of Legislation. Clause 3(d)(1) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives requires an estimate and a comparison by the Committee of the costs which would be incurred in carrying out this bill. However, clause 3(d)(2)(B) of that Rule provides that this requirement does not apply when the Committee has included in its report a timely submitted cost estimate of the bill prepared by the Director of the Congressional Budget Office under section 402 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974. Under clause 3(c)(3) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives and section 403 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, the Committee has received the following cost estimate for this bill from the Director of the Congressional Budget Office:

U.S. CONGRESS,
CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE,
Washington, DC, March 29, 2016.

Hon. ROB BISHOP,
*Chairman, Committee on Natural Resources,
House of Representatives, Washington, DC.*

DEAR MR. CHAIRMAN: The Congressional Budget Office has prepared the enclosed cost estimate for H.R. 329, the Indian Employment, Training and Related Services Consolidation Act of 2015.

If you wish further details on this estimate, we will be pleased to provide them. The CBO staff contact is Megan Carroll.

Sincerely,

KEITH HALL.

Enclosure.

H.R. 329—Indian Employment, Training and Related Services Consolidation Act of 2015

Under current law, a variety of federal agencies provide financial assistance to Indian tribes for a wide range of purposes. Under the Indian Employment, Training and Related Services Demonstration Act and subject to approval by the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA), tribes can consolidate certain types of federal grants, particularly those that support programs related to employment, training, and education. H.R. 329 would amend that act to expand the types of federal grants that tribes could consolidate.

CBO estimates that enacting H.R. 329 would have no significant effect on the federal budget because the legislation would not affect the overall amount of assistance provided by federal agencies to tribes. Based on information from BIA, CBO estimates that any increased federal costs to oversee and administer tribal plans under the bill, which would be subject to appropriation, would not exceed $500,000 in any year.

Enacting H.R. 329 would not affect direct spending or revenues; therefore, pay-as-you-go procedures do not apply. CBO estimates that enacting H.R. 329 would not increase net direct spending or on-budget deficits in any of the four consecutive 10-year periods beginning in 2027.

H.R. 329 contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act.

On January 8, 2016, CBO transmitted a cost estimate for S. 1443, the Indian Employment, Training and Related Services Consolidation Act of 2015, as ordered reported by the Senate Committee on Indian Affairs on October 21, 2015. H.R. 329 and S. 1443 are similar, and the CBO cost estimates are the same.

The CBO staff contact for this estimate is Megan Carroll. The estimate was approved by Theresa Gullo, Assistant Director for Budget Analysis.

2. Section 308(a) of Congressional Budget Act. As required by clause 3(c)(2) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives and section 308(a) of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, this bill does not contain any new budget authority, spending authority, credit authority, or an increase or decrease in revenues or tax expenditures. The Congressional Budget Office has concluded that enactment of this bill “would have no significant effect on the federal budget because the legislation would not affect the overall amount of assistance provided by federal agencies to tribes. Based on information from BIA, CBO estimates that any increased federal costs to oversee and administer tribal plans under the bill, which would be subject to appropriation, would not exceed $500,000 in any year.”

3. General Performance Goals and Objectives. As required by clause 3(c)(4) of rule XIII, the general performance goal or objective of this bill is to amend the Indian Employment, Training and Related Services Demonstration Act of 1992 to facilitate the ability of Indian tribes to integrate the employment, training, and related services from diverse Federal sources.

EARMARK STATEMENT

This bill does not contain any Congressional earmarks, limited tax benefits, or limited tariff benefits as defined under clause 9(e), 9(f), and 9(g) of rule XXI of the Rules of the House of Representatives.

COMPLIANCE WITH PUBLIC LAW 104-4

This bill contains no unfunded mandates.

COMPLIANCE WITH H. RES. 5

Directed Rule Making. The Chairman does not believe that this bill directs any executive branch official to conduct any specific rule-making proceedings.

Duplication of Existing Programs. This bill does not establish or reauthorize a program of the federal government known to be duplicative of another program. Such program was not included in any report from the Government Accountability Office to Congress pursuant to section 21 of Public Law 111-139 or identified in the most recent Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance published pursuant to the Federal Program Information Act (Public Law 95-220, as amended by Public Law 98-169) as relating to other programs. In fact, this bill could help reduce overlap and duplication by authorizing approved tribal plans for consolidating various tribal employment and training grant programs from different agencies. Several of these underlying programs have been identified by the Government Accountability Office as providing similar services.

PREEMPTION OF STATE, LOCAL OR TRIBAL LAW

This bill is not intended to preempt any State, local or tribal law.

The Honorable Bob Goodlatte
 Chairman
 Committee on the Judiciary
 2138 Rayburn HOB
 Washington, DC 20515

Dear Mr. Chairman:

On March 16, 2016, the Committee on Natural Resources favorably reported as amended H.R. 329, the Indian Employment, Training and Related Services Consolidation Act of 2016, by unanimous consent. My staff has shared the reported text of the bill with your staff.

The reported bill contains provisions regarding judicial review, a matter within the jurisdiction of the Committee on the Judiciary. Specifically, section 9 of the bill amends section 8(d) of the Indian Employment, Training and Related Services Act of 1992 to provide for judicial review of the Secretary of the Interior's denial of a plan. I understand that you have concerns regarding this provision. Based on my agreement to drop this text from the bill when it is considered by the House of Representatives, I ask that the Committee on the Judiciary not seek a sequential referral of the bill so that it may be scheduled by the Majority Leader before the House adjourns for the election. This concession in no way affects your jurisdiction over the subject matter of the bill, and it will not serve as precedent for future referrals. In addition, should a conference on the bill be necessary and the issues raised by the omitted text are within the scope of the conference, I would support your request to have the Committee on the Judiciary represented on the conference committee. Finally, I would be pleased to include this letter and any response in the Congressional Record to document this agreement.

Thank you for your consideration of my request, and I look forward to further opportunities to work with you this Congress.

Sincerely,

Rob Bishop
 Chairman
 Committee on Natural Resources
