PURPOSE OF THE BILL

The purpose of H.R. 4506 is to provide incentives to encourage tribal job creation and economic activity.

BACKGROUND AND NEED FOR LEGISLATION

Title I of H.R. 4506 would amend the Native American Business Development, Trade Promotion, and Tourism Act of 2000,¹ the Buy Indian Act,² and the Native Programs Act of 1974³ to increase access to capital for Indian tribes and businesses. Title II would establish within the Department of the Interior a “business incubator” program to promote entrepreneurship and economic development on Indian reservations. Title II would also require the Department of the Interior to coordinate its business incubator activities with other federal agencies to promote Native American business development. Title III would direct the Secretary of State to aid countries in the Western Hemisphere to promote and facilitate entrepreneurship among their indigenous peoples by strengthening the capacity of civil society organizations and local governments, and supporting projects involving sustainable natural resource management, agricultural development, and handicraft production.

For decades, Native American⁴ communities have struggled with a wide array of difficulties relating to economic development on their land, including poor access to capital, remote and rural locations, and degradation of the local infrastructure. Only around half of all Native Americans (16 or older) residing on or near tribal communities have jobs, and a quarter of Native families earn an income that is below the federal poverty line.⁵

Today, approximately 56 million acres of land are held in trust by the United States (through the Department of the Interior) for the benefit of individual Indians and Indian tribes.⁶ Many of these lands are in remote areas, and none may be leased for business, agriculture, and mineral uses without the approval of the Secretary of the Interior. Trust land is generally a prerequisite for a tribe to conduct gambling under the Indian Gaming Regulatory Act.⁷

The economies of Indian reservations in remote areas, where casinos may be a break-even proposition at best, suffer from great poverty. Many reservations and other Indian communities lack grocery stores, retail outlets, or banks. Residents may have to travel great distances (sometimes up to a two-hour drive) to buy groceries or go to a bank, while spending their disposable income on purchases off the reservation. Tribes have sought to keep dollars on their reservations to create sustainable economies, but they face a variety of challenges:

- Federal Approval. Tribes and individual Indians may not lease their trust land without the permission of the Secretary of the Interior (this problem is not directly addressed by H.R. 4506).

- Legal Systems and Infrastructure. To attract businesses to the reservations, tribal governments need to provide business-friendly laws and independent court systems. Companies and investors, Indian and non-Indian alike, rely on governments to ensure fair competition, maintain law and order, and create laws and judicial systems that help enforce contracts and property rights. Not all tribal governments have enacted the kinds of business and commercial codes that businesses and banks need before they will locate and operate on reservations. Additionally, many components of tribal infrastructure need significant repair or replacement.

- Access to Capital. In many Native American communities, there is a lack of equity resources, such as home equity or intergenerational family assets. Likewise, trust land cannot be used as collateral, so access to capital is complicated further in Indian Country. Even if access to private capital is available, it may come at a higher cost.

- Remote Locations. The remoteness of many Indian communities diminishes the possibility of building commercial markets for goods and services or developing many types of industrial or manufacturing economies.

- Sovereign Immunity. Under a legal doctrine developed by federal courts, Indian tribes enjoy sovereign immunity against States and private citizens. Such sovereign immunity exists on and off an Indian reservation. A tribe may not be sued unless its sovereign immunity is waived by the tribe or by Congress, which has not debated this issue in many years. Tribes consider sovereign immunity a valid exercise of self-governance which promotes economic development. Developers or investors unfamiliar with a tribe's use of sovereign immunity may be reluctant to engage in business ventures with it.

In recent years, Congress has enacted laws to grant tribes stronger, more comprehensive control over business, agricultural, and residential leasing of tribal lands. One example is the Helping

Expedite and Advance Responsible Tribal Home Ownership Act of 2012, or the HEARTH Act.⁸ Congress has also enacted multiple laws to assist these communities in obtaining access to capital in the forms of loan guarantees, procurement programs, and community development financial institutions (CDFI). One of these laws, the Native American Business Development, Trade Promotion, and Tourism Act of 2000,⁹ assists tribes with business development and in ensuring tribal businesses follow all legal and regulatory requirements, among other things.

While Congress has attempted to alleviate challenges experienced by tribal businesses, various challenges remain. As mentioned previously, many Indian reservations and communities are in predominantly rural, remote locations, and enticing entrepreneurs to fund and support businesses in these areas can be difficult.

Title II of H.R. 4506 is premised on the idea that federal grant programs supporting business incubators are uniquely able to support tribal businesses in ways that broad legislation cannot, as incubators can be tailored to fit the needs of the various regions where tribal businesses exist. By offering services that range from workplace enhancement, comprehensive skills training, and networking assistance, business incubators have been a reliable and consistent solution to the many problems that continue to plague Indian Country.

Sincerely,

MARK P. HADLEY
(For Keith Hall, Director)

Enclosure.

H.R. 4506—Jobs for Tribes Act

Summary: H.R. 4506 would authorize and amend several programs across the government to encourage job creation and economic activity within Indian communities. The bill would create programs within the Department of Commerce (DOC), Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA), Department of State, and Department of Health and Human Services.

CBO estimates that implementing H.R. 4506 would cost $46 million over the 2019–2023 period, assuming appropriation of the necessary amounts.

Enacting H.R. 4506 would not affect direct spending or revenues; therefore, pay-as-you-go procedures do not apply.

CBO estimates that enacting H.R. 4506 would not increase net direct spending or on-budget deficits in any of the four consecutive 10-year periods beginning in 2029.

H.R. 4506 contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act (UMRA).

Estimated cost to the Federal Government: The estimated budgetary effect of H.R. 4506 is shown in the following table. The costs of the legislation fall within budget functions 450 (community and regional development) and 150 (international affairs).

| Estimated Authorization Level | 11 | 11 | 12 | 12 | 12 | 58 |
| Estimated Outlays | 5 | 8 | 10 | 11 | 12 | 46 |

Basis of estimate: For this estimate, CBO assumes H.R. 4506 will be enacted near the end of 2018 and that the necessary amounts will be appropriated for each year beginning in 2019. Estimated outlays are based on historical spending patterns for similar programs.

Department of Commerce

Section 103 would reorganize the Office of Native American Business Development (ONABD) within DOC. That office would be required to serve as the liaison between DOC and Indian tribes. Current law authorizes the annual appropriation of whatever amounts are necessary for ONABD operations; however, no funds have been specifically appropriated for such purposes since ONABD was originally authorized.

Using information from DOC, CBO estimates that implementing this section would cost $19 million over the 2019–2023 period. That spending would cover the costs of a Washington, D.C. based director for the office and support staff along with four small regional offices.

Bureau of Indian Affairs

Title II would authorize a grant program to aid development of Native American businesses. The program would be managed by BIA and would involve providing physical workplaces, business skills training, and access to networks of potential investors, among other services. All grants would be awarded for three-year periods and could be renewed for additional three-year terms.

Using information on the cost of a similar program previously run by the Small Business Administration and accounting for anticipated inflation, CBO estimates that implementing the program would cost $27 million over the 2019–2023 period.

Other agencies

Section 305 would authorize the Department of State to provide foreign assistance to facilitate entrepreneurship among indigenous peoples in countries of the Western Hemisphere. The department and the U.S. Agency for International Development currently provide such assistance in several countries, including Colombia, Brazil, Peru, Guatemala, and Paraguay. Although they could increase the amount of that assistance under the bill, CBO has no basis for estimating any such increase.

Section 105 would amend the Native American Programs Act of 1974 to slightly expand the number of institutions eligible for social and economic development grants under that act and to prioritize financial and technical assistance for applicants that seek assistance for certain types of community and economic development. The authorization of appropriations for the social and economic development grant programs under the Native American Programs Act of 1974 expired at the end of fiscal year 2002. However, the Congress has continued to appropriate funds for those programs, including about $34 million in 2018. The bill would not reauthorize those programs, and CBO estimates that implementing section 105 would have no significant budgetary effects.

Pay-As-You-Go considerations: None.

Increase in long-term direct spending and deficits: CBO estimates that enacting H.R. 4506 would not increase net direct spending or on-budget deficits in any of the four consecutive 10-year periods beginning in 2029.

Mandates: H.R. 4506 contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in UMRA. Tribal governments would benefit from grants established in the bill to support the growth of Native American businesses and Native American entrepreneurs. Any costs to tribal governments would result from complying with conditions of assistance.

Previous CBO estimates: Portions of H.R. 4506 are similar to other pieces of legislation for which CBO has published estimates:

- On June 22, 2017, CBO transmitted a cost estimate for S. 1116, the Indian Community Economic Enhancement Act of 2017, as ordered reported by the Senate Committee on Indian Affairs on May 17, 2017. Title I of H.R. 4506 is similar to S. 1116. Differences in CBO's estimates reflect differences in the authorization language in the two pieces of legislation.
- On April 21, 2017, CBO transmitted a cost estimate for S. 607, the Native American Business Incubators Program Act, as ordered reported by the Senate Committee on Indian Affairs on March 29, 2017. Title II of H.R. 4506 is similar to S. 607. Differences in CBO's estimates reflect differences in the authorization language in the two pieces of legislation.

Estimate prepared by: Federal Costs: Sunita D'Monte (Department of State), Jennifer Gray (Department of Health and Human Services), Robert Reese (Other Agencies), Mandates: Zach Byrum.

Estimate reviewed by: Kim P. Cawley, Chief, Natural and Physical Cost Estimates Unit, Sheila Dacey, Chief, Income Security and Education Cost Estimates Unit; David Newman, Chief, Defense, International Affairs, and Veterans' Affairs Cost Estimates Unit; H. 2. General Performance Goals and Objectives. As required by clause 3(c)(4) of rule XIII, the general performance goal or objective of this bill is to provide incentives to encourage tribal job creation and economic activity.

EARMARK STATEMENT

This bill does not contain any Congressional earmarks, limited tax benefits, or limited tariff benefits as defined under clause 9(e), 9(f), and 9(g) of rule XXI of the Rules of the House of Representatives.

COMPLIANCE WITH PUBLIC LAW 104-4

This bill contains no unfunded mandates.

COMPLIANCE WITH H. RES. 5

Directed Rule Making. This bill does not contain any directed rule makings.

Duplication of Existing Programs. This bill does not establish or reauthorize a program of the federal government known to be duplicative of another program. SEC. 2. FINDINGS; PURPOSES.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that—

(1) clause 3 of section 8 of article I of the United States Constitution recognizes the special relationship between the United States and Indian tribes;

(2) beginning in 1970, with the inauguration by the Nixon Administration of the Indian self-determination era, each President has reaffirmed the special government-to-government relationship between Indian tribes and the United States;

(3) in 1994, President Clinton issued an Executive memorandum to the heads of departments and agencies that obligated all Federal departments and agencies, particularly those that have an impact on economic development, to evaluate the potential impacts of their actions on Indian tribes;

(4) consistent with the principles of inherent tribal sovereignty and the special relationship between Indian tribes and the United States, Indian tribes retain the right to enter into contracts and agreements to trade freely, and seek enforcement of treaty and trade rights;

(5) Congress has carried out the responsibility of the United States for the protection and preservation of Indian tribes and the resources of Indian tribes through the endorsement of treaties, and the enactment of other laws, including laws that provide for the exercise of administrative authorities;

(6) the United States has an obligation to guard and preserve the sovereignty of Indian tribes in order to foster strong tribal governments, Indian self-determination, and economic self-sufficiency among Indian tribes;

(7) the capacity of Indian tribes to build strong tribal governments and vigorous economies is hindered by the inability of Indian tribes to engage communities that surround Indian lands and outside investors in economic activities on Indian lands;

(8) despite the availability of abundant natural resources on Indian lands and a rich cultural legacy that accords great value to self-determination, self-reliance, and independence, Native Americans suffer higher rates of unemployment, poverty, poor health, substandard housing, and associated social ills than those of any other group in the United States;

(9) the United States has an obligation to assist Indian tribes with the creation of appropriate economic and political conditions with respect to Indian lands to—

(A) encourage investment from outside sources that do not originate with the tribes; and

(B) facilitate economic ventures with outside entities that are not tribal entities;

(10) the economic success and material well-being of Native American communities depends on the combined efforts of the Federal Government, tribal governments, the private sector, and individuals;

(11) the lack of employment and entrepreneurial opportunities in the communities referred to in paragraph (7) has resulted in a multigenerational dependence on Federal assistance that is—

- (A) insufficient to address the magnitude of needs; and
- (B) unreliable in availability; and
- (12) the twin goals of economic self-sufficiency and political self-determination for Native Americans can best be served by making available to address the challenges faced by those groups—
 - (A) the resources of the private market;
 - (B) adequate capital; and
 - (C) technical expertise.

(b) PURPOSES.—The purposes of this Act are as follows:

(1) To revitalize economically and physically distressed Native American economies by—

- (A) encouraging the formation of new businesses by eligible entities, and the expansion of existing businesses; and
- (B) facilitating the movement of goods to and from Indian lands and the provision of services by Indians.

(2) To promote private investment in the economies of Indian tribes and to encourage the sustainable development of resources of Indian tribes and Indian-owned businesses.

(3) To promote the long-range sustained growth of the economies of Indian tribes.

(4) To raise incomes of Indians in order to reduce the number of Indians at poverty levels and provide the means for achieving a higher standard of living on Indian reservations.

(5) To encourage intertribal, regional, and international trade and business development in order to assist in increasing productivity and the standard of living of members of Indian tribes and improving the economic self-sufficiency of the governing bodies of Indian tribes.

(6) To promote economic self-sufficiency and political self-determination for Indian tribes and members of Indian tribes.

(c) APPLICABILITY TO INDIAN-OWNED BUSINESSES.—The findings and purposes in subsections (a) and (b) shall apply to any Indian-owned business governed—

(1) by tribal laws regulating trade or commerce on Indian lands; or

(2) pursuant to section 5 of the Act of August 15, 1876 (19 Stat. 200, chapter 289; 25 U.S.C. 261).
