PURPOSE AND SUMMARY

This bill amends the Homeland Security Act of 2002 (Pub. L. 107–296) to require the Secretary of Homeland Security to issue Department of Homeland Security-wide guidance and develop training programs as part of the Department of Homeland Security Blue Campaign to combat human trafficking.

BACKGROUND AND NEED FOR LEGISLATION

Human trafficking is a multi-billion dollar industry that enslaves 20 million people around the world whether for the purposes of prostitution, sex exploitation, or forced labor. According to the FBI, the most effective way to investigate human trafficking is through a collaborative, multi-agency approach with our Federal, State, local and tribal partners.

DHS describe the Blue Campaign as a unified effort by the Department to conduct outreach to enhance awareness of trafficking and provide training and materials to those in the best position to identify trafficking victims. The Campaign works in collaboration with law enforcement, government, non-governmental and private organizations to identify victims and trains others in identification techniques. The Department uses the resources and expertise of the Customs and Border Patrol, Immigration and Customs Enforcement, the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services, and the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center to help with this effort.

This bill adds the Transportation Security Administration to this fight by training its personnel to recognize the signs of trafficking and serve as a liaison to aviation workers and requires the Department to share information across the Department and with the National Network of Fusion Centers regarding patterns and practices of human trafficking and potential connections to terrorist activities.
