“(2) APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS.—The Secretary shall require each State that applies for a grant under this subsection to do the following:

“(A) Describe how wage subsidies will be provided (such as whether paid directly to the employer or the individual), the duration of the subsidies, the amount of the subsidies, the structure of the subsidies, and how employers will be recruited to participate in the subsidized employment program.

“(B) Describe how the State expects those participating in subsidized employment to be able to retain employment after the subsidy ends.

“(A) IN GENERAL.—A State to which a grant is made under this subsection may use the grant to subsidize the wages of an eligible recipient for a period not exceeding 12 months, and only to the extent that the total of the funds paid under this project and any other Federal funds so used with respect to the recipient does not exceed 50 percent of the amount of the wages received by the recipient during the period.

“(B) ELIGIBLE RECIPIENT.—For purposes of subparagraph (A), an eligible recipient is—

“(i)(I) a recipient of assistance under the State program funded under this part or any other State program funded with qualified State expenditures (as defined in section 409(a)(7)(B)(i)); or

“(II) a noncustodial parent of a minor child who is receiving assistance referred to in subclause (I);

“(ii) who, at the time the subsidy begins, is unemployed; and

“(iii) whose income, at that time, is less than 200 percent of the poverty line (as defined by the Office of Management and Budget, and revised annually in accordance with section 673(2) of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1981 (42 U.S.C. 9902(2))).

“(4) LIMITATIONS.—

“(A) NONDISPLACEMENT.—A State to which a grant is made under this subsection shall ensure that no participant in a subsidized job program funded in whole or in part under this subsection is employed or assigned to a job under the program—

“(i) when any other individual is on layoff from the same or any substantially equivalent job; or

“(ii) if the employer has terminated the employment of any regular employee or otherwise caused an involuntary reduction of its workforce in order to fill the vacancy so created with an adult described in paragraph (1).

“(B) GRIEVANCE PROCEDURE.—A State with a program funded under this subsection shall establish and maintain a grievance procedure for resolving complaints of alleged violations of subparagraph (A).

“(E) specifies the median earnings of eligible recipients who received a subsidy who are in unsubsidized employment during the second quarter after the subsidy ended.

“(6) EVALUATION.—The Secretary, in consultation with each State conducting a demonstration project, shall conduct a high-quality evaluation of the demonstration project, and may reserve funds made available under this subsection to conduct the evaluation in accordance with the following:

“(A) EVALUATOR QUALIFICATIONS.—The Secretary may not enter into a contract with an evaluator unless the evaluator has demonstrated experience in conducting rigorous evaluations of program effectiveness including, where available and appropriate, well-implemented randomized controlled trials.

“(B) METHODOLOGIES TO BE USED.—The evaluation of a demonstration project shall use experimental designs using random assignment or other reliable, evidence-based research methodologies that allow for the strongest possible causal inferences when random assignment is not feasible.

I. SUMMARY AND BACKGROUND

A. PURPOSE AND SUMMARY

H.R. 2842, as amended, the “Accelerating Individuals into the Workforce Act,” as ordered reported by the Committee on Ways and Means on June 15, 2017 encourages employer-led partnerships to help people move from welfare to work.

B. BACKGROUND AND NEED FOR LEGISLATION

In 1996, the Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) program was replaced with today's Temporary Assistance for Needy Families program (TANF), which included work requirements and state flexibility to invest in services that would help welfare recipients prepare for work and find jobs.

The number of families receiving cash assistance under the TANF program fell by more than 50 percent during TANF's early years, and has generally remained low over time. Employment rates of single mothers with children increased by 15 percent through 2007 compared with 1995; while their work rates declined as a result of the 2007–09 recession, they have risen again since 2011 and remain 10 percent higher than before. Poverty among female-headed households with children remains lower today than before the 1996 reforms—despite two intervening recessions.

The TANF program has helped shield some American families from sinking deeper into poverty by providing temporary assistance that is also linked to support for employment. But it's been at least a decade since any meaningful changes have been made to this law.

While moving welfare recipients into employment is a central goal of TANF, some welfare recipients have a difficult time transitioning from welfare into a job. In some cases, employers may be reluctant to hire welfare recipients who may have limited work experience or other barriers to working, which can be better managed when the cost of hiring a TANF recipient is decreased.

H.R. 2842, as amended, would encourage the following:

- Employers would take the lead by partnering with state and local agencies to hire TANF recipients, providing recipients with highly-valued work experience and on-the-job training.

- Up to $100 million (reserved from the TANF Contingency Fund in FY 2018) would be provided to subsidize the wages of TANF recipients for up to 12 months.

- Fifteen percent of these funds would be set-aside for career pathways programs, which combine work, training, and other supports to help individuals enter the workforce and move up the economic ladder.

- No more than 50 percent of the wage for a TANF recipient could be subsidized using funds from this bill, while the other half of the wage would be paid by the employer, or with state or local funds.

- High-quality evaluations would be used to determine whether these public-private partnerships were effective in helping welfare recipients move into jobs and retain work.

- Based on what is learned from the projects, the Department of Health and Human Services would have to submit recommendations to Congress on how to increase the employment of TANF recipients, as well as how to help them retain their jobs and increase earnings over time.

C. LEGISLATIVE HISTORY

Background

H.R. 2842, the “Accelerating Individuals into the Workforce Act,” was introduced on June 8, 2017, by Congressman Carlos Curbelo and Congressman Danny Davis, and was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Committee hearings

The Committee began a bipartisan, comprehensive review of the TANF program at the beginning of the 114th Congress. The Human Resources Subcommittee held a series of hearings with witnesses ranging from current and former recipients to service providers to employers to researchers. Members of the Human Resources Subcommittee introduced a series of bills focused on smaller provisions within TANF, and then those provisions were compiled into a larger, more comprehensive draft reauthorization bill. That bipartisan draft was distributed for public comment and dozens of stakeholders provided valuable feedback, some of which has been incorporated in H.R. 2842.

Throughout the 114th Congress, the Human Resources Subcommittee held a series of hearings on possible reforms to the TANF program, including discussions focused on the need for private sector engagement, on-the-job training, and subsidized employment programs. Those hearings included:

- Challenges Facing Low-Income Individuals and Families in Today's Economy, February 11, 2015
- Expanding Opportunity by Funding What Works: Using Evidence to Help Low-Income Individuals and Families Get Ahead, March 17, 2015
- Next Steps for Welfare Reform: Ideas to Improve TANF to Help More Families Find Work and Escape Poverty, April 30, 2015
- Protecting the Safety Net from Waste, Fraud, and Abuse, June 3, 2015
- Joint Subcommittee Hearing on How Our Welfare System Can Discourage Work, June 25, 2015
- Welfare Reform Proposals, July 15, 2015
- Better Coordinating Welfare Programs to Serve Families in Need, November 3, 2015
- Moving America's Families Forward: Lessons Learned from Welfare Reform in Other Countries, November 17, 2015
- Getting Incentives Right: Connecting Low-Income Individuals with Jobs, March 1, 2016

In addition, on May 24, 2016 the Ways and Means Committee held a full Committee hearing entitled Moving America's Families Forward: Setting Priorities for Reducing Poverty and Expanding Opportunity.

Thus far in the 115th Congress the Human Resources Subcommittee has conducted the following related hearings:

- The Geography of Poverty, February 15, 2017
- Opportunities for Youth and Young Adults to Break the Cycle of Poverty, May 17, 2017

Committee action

The Committee on Ways and Means marked up H.R. 2842, the "Accelerating Individuals into the Workforce Act," on June 15, 2017. The bill, H.R. 2842, was ordered favorably reported to the House of Representatives as amended by a voice vote (with a quorum being present).

II. EXPLANATION OF THE BILL

SECTION 1: SHORT TITLE

PRESENT LAW

No provision.

EXPLANATION OF PROVISION

This section contains the short title of the bill, the “Accelerating Individuals into the Workforce Act.”

REASON FOR CHANGE

The Committee believes that the short title reflects the policy actions included in the legislation.

EFFECTIVE DATE

The provision is effective on October 1, 2017.

SECTION 2: DEMONSTRATION PROJECTS TO SUPPORT SUBSIDIZED EMPLOYMENT FOR TANF RECIPIENTS TO ENTER THE WORKFORCE

PRESENT LAW

The Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) block grant allows states to spend funds on activities that can be “reasonably calculated” to achieve the purpose of TANF, including the goal of ending dependence of needy parents on government benefits through work and job preparation. Federal TANF funds may be spent on employment subsidies. States may also count expenditures on employment subsidies toward the TANF state spending (maintenance of effort, or MOE) requirement. Employment subsidies are payments to employers or third parties to help cover the costs of employee wages, benefits, supervision, and training.¹

Additionally, TANF measures state performance through a “Work Participation Rate” (WPR) that measures the percent of families receiving assistance in the state who are considered “engaged in work.” To be considered “engaged in work,” a work-eligible individual in the family must participate in specific activities for a minimum number of hours per week in the month. Two of the specific activities creditable toward the WPR are subsidized private sector employment and subsidized public sector employment. Education and training, including career pathways programs and employer-based programs which combine work with training, are allowable but subject to restrictions.

EXPLANATION OF PROVISION

The Committee bill, as amended, would establish a subsidized employment demonstration program, administered by the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS). The Secretary of HHS would award grants to states for the development of subsidized employment demonstration projects that would evaluate strategies that provide wage subsidies to help low-income individuals obtain and retain employment. States applying for subsidized employment demonstration funds would be required to describe the wage subsidy program, how the state expects those participating in subsidized employment to retain employment after the subsidy ends, and how the state will coordinate subsidized employment funds with other efforts to help low-income individuals enter the workforce.

The Committee bill, as amended, would provide that wage subsidies extend for no more than 12 months, and that federal funds account for no more than 50 percent of a participant's wage. It would require that those participating in the subsidized employment program:

1. be unemployed;
2. have income at the time of program entry of less than 200% of the federal poverty guidelines; and
3. be either recipients of assistance funded from TANF or state MOE dollars or noncustodial parents of children receiving such assistance.

States in the subsidized employment demonstration would be prohibited from displacing regular employees by placing participants in subsidized jobs. States are also prohibited from placing an individual with employers who have terminated the job of a regular employee or have involuntarily reduced their workforce to hire a subsidized employee. States would be required to have a grievance procedure in place for regular employees to resolve complaints of displacement. The non-displacement provisions and procedures for the subsidized employment demonstration would not pre-empt or supersede state or local laws that provide greater protections for employees.

States receiving subsidized employment funds would be required to report annually to HHS on the number of persons in subsidized employment, the structure of activities of the program, and the employment outcome measures following the end of subsidized employment. The outcome measures would be employment in the 2nd quarter and 4th quarter following exit and median earnings in the second quarter following exit.

The Committee bill, as amended, would require HHS to conduct an evaluation of the demonstration project using experimental designs using random assignment, unless such research design is not feasible. If a random assignment experiment is not feasible, the research would be conducted using other reliable evidence-based research methodologies.

HHS would be required to report to Congress recommendations on how to increase employment, retention, and advancement of individuals currently or formerly receiving TANF assistance.

The Committee bill, as amended, would require the Secretary to reserve $100,000,000 of the Contingency Fund for State Welfare Programs for FY2018 to carry out the demonstration. Of that amount, 15 percent ($15,000,000) is reserved for the operation of career pathway training programs. Career pathway programs are a combination of education, training, and other services that aligns with the skill needs of industries in the economy of the state or regional economy involved. They are designed to help an individual enter or advance within a specific occupation or occupational cluster.

Funds for this demonstration must be expended by the end of FY2019. The provisions in this bill would be effective October 1, 2017.

REASON FOR CHANGE

The Committee believes moving welfare recipients into employment is a central goal of TANF. However, in some cases, employers may be reluctant to hire welfare recipients who may have limited work experience or other barriers to working, which can be better managed when the cost of hiring a TANF recipient is decreased. This provision is designed to overcome those barriers and enhance employer engagement, strengthen public-private partnerships, and help move more individuals from welfare to work quickly.

EFFECTIVE DATE

The provision is effective on October 1, 2017.

SECTION 3: EFFECTIVE DATE

PRESENT LAW

No provision.

EXPLANATION OF PROVISION

This section includes an effective date of October 1, 2017.

REASON FOR CHANGE

The Committee believes it is appropriate to have an effective date of October 1, 2017, i.e., the start of the next fiscal year.

EFFECTIVE DATE

The provision is effective on October 1, 2017.

The Committee on Ways and Means marked up H.R. 2842, the “Accelerating Individuals into the Workforce Act,” on June 15, 2017. The bill, H.R. 2842, was ordered favorably reported to the House of Representatives as amended by a voice vote (with a quorum being present).

IV. BUDGET EFFECTS OF THE BILL

U.S. CONGRESS,

Hon. KEVIN BRADY,
*Chairman, Committee on Ways and Means,
House of Representatives, Washington, DC.*

DEAR MR. CHAIRMAN: The Congressional Budget Office has prepared the enclosed cost estimate for H.R. 2842, the Accelerating Individuals into the Workforce Act.

Enclosure.

H.R. 2842—Accelerating Individuals into the Workforce Act

H.R. 2842 would amend title IV of the Social Security Act to enable the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) to provide grants to states to conduct demonstration projects that would support subsidized employment for individuals who receive aid under the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) program. Specifically, states could use grants to subsidize up to 50 percent of the wages provided to a TANF recipient for up to 12 months. HHS would be required to conduct evaluations of those demonstration projects. The bill also would require HHS to fund programs that offer career pathways to individuals receiving assistance under TANF. H.R. 2842 would reserve $100 million of the $608 million already appropriated for the TANF contingency fund for 2018 to fund the demonstration projects and their evaluations. States would have up to two years to spend any grant money provided by HHS.

Based on information from HHS, CBO estimates that direct spending from the contingency fund under the bill would mostly follow similar patterns as spending from the fund under current law. Thus, any net effect on direct spending would be insignificant. Because enacting the bill would affect direct spending, pay-as-you-go procedures apply. Enacting H.R. 2842 would not affect revenues.

CBO estimates that enacting H.R. 2842 would not increase net direct spending or on-budget deficits in any of the four consecutive 10-year periods beginning in 2028.

H.R. 2842 contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act. The bill would authorize a demonstration grant program that would allow states to provide low-income individuals with wage subsidies to help them find jobs and retain employment. Any costs to states that result from implementing the demonstration project authorized by the bill would be incurred voluntarily as a condition of federal assistance.

The CBO staff contact for this estimate is Susanne S. Mehlman. This estimate was approved by H. Samuel Papenfuss, Deputy Assistant Director for Budget Analysis.

VII. ADDITIONAL VIEWS

Democrats strongly support efforts to help welfare recipients gain the skills and support that they need to get good jobs that will lift their families out of poverty and into the middle class. Many of us have supported legislation to promote research on subsidized jobs, career pathways, and other effective education and training approaches for many years, especially for parents who are struggling. We also were pleased that the Majority acknowledged the potential of apprenticeship programs and accepted and supported Congresswoman DelBene's amendment.

Although more research is welcome and needed, there is already clear evidence about how to help individuals get good jobs and stay employed. Research already has demonstrated, for example, that education leading to a credential results in higher earnings and more stable employment. We also know that access to affordable, high-quality child care is key in supporting employment, which is why we oppose the President's proposal to cut support for child care an estimated $438 million a year, in total, through his proposals to cut the Social Services Block Grant (SSBG), the Child Care Development Block Grant (CCDBG), and Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF).

We are concerned that this bill does not address the ways the TANF program has been increasingly failing families, a failure which certainly would not be solved by the Trump Administration's proposal to arbitrarily cut TANF by $22 billion over the next decade. TANF currently serves only about one in four poor families, and states spend less than half of TANF funds on TANF's core purposes—work, child care, and assistance to families. Specifically related to H.R. 2842, TANF puts states at risk of financial penalties if they help too many parents upgrade their education or their skills, including by participating in the kinds of evidence-based programs H.R. 2842 potentially would advance.

Democrats support gathering additional evidence of what works to help struggling parents find good jobs and move out of poverty. We also support helping Americans upgrade their skills right now to get better jobs and move up the economic ladder. That is why we oppose the President's proposal to slash workforce development funding by almost 40 percent, and also why we urge the Majority to work with us to address the fundamental problems with TANF so that states can and do support parents working hard to get good jobs and support their families.
