IN THE MATTER OF ALLEGATIONS RELATING TO REPRESENTATIVE BEN RAY LUJÁN

AUGUST 1, 2017.—Referred to the House Calendar and ordered to be printed

Mrs. Brooks of Indiana, from the Committee on Ethics, submitted the following

REPORT

In accordance with House Rule XI, clauses 3(a)(2) and 3(b), the Committee on Ethics (Committee) hereby submits the following Report to the House of Representatives:

I. INTRODUCTION

On May 11, 2017, the Office of Congressional Ethics (OCE) transmitted to the Committee a Report and Findings (OCE's Referral) regarding Representative Ben Ray Luján. OCE reviewed allegations that Representative Luján violated laws, House rules, and other standards of conduct by (1) improperly conducting campaign or political activity from the floor of the House of Representatives; (2) improperly soliciting campaign contributions from a federal building; and (3) improperly using an image of a House of Representatives floor proceeding for campaign and political purposes.¹

OCE found that there was "substantial reason to believe that Representative Luján conducted campaign or political activity from the House Floor, solicited a campaign contribution from a federal building, or used an image of a House Floor proceeding for campaign or political purposes." For that reason, OCE recommended that the Committee further review these allegations. However, OCE acknowledged that "the evolving nature of electronic communications and campaign solicitations sometimes presents novel issues that are not directly addressed by the House Ethics Manual," and that OCE's review "raised difficult questions about the application of House rules to solicitations via email." OCE suggested that "Members may benefit from additional guidance regarding campaign activities and electronic communications." 5

 $^{{}^{2}}Id.$ at 1, 16. ${}^{3}Id.$ at 1.

The Committee agreed that this was an area where additional guidance could be useful, and did further review the allegations. Following its review, the Committee concluded that the evidence is insufficient to warrant further action against Representative Luján. Specifically, the Committee did not find that Representative Luján engaged in campaign or political activity, or solicited campaign contributions, from the House Floor or any other federal building. The Committee did find that Representative Luján's campaign consultant used an image of House proceedings from the House recording system in a campaign communication, which was an inadvertent, technical violation of House Rule V, clause 2(c)(1). Members are ultimately responsible for actions taken in their name that they delegate to third parties. Thus, Members should take reasonable steps to ensure that their campaign committees or consultants comply with all applicable laws, rules, and regulations. However, given the limited nature of the violation, as well as Representative Luján's subsequent efforts to prevent any recurrence of this issue, the Committee did not find that a sanction was war-

Accordingly, the Committee unanimously voted to dismiss this matter, publish this Report, and take no further action. Upon publication of this Report, the Committee considers the matter closed.

II. PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

OCE commenced a preliminary review of this matter on February 4, 2017. On March 6, 2017, OCE initiated a second-phase review. On May 5, 2017, the OCE Board voted five to one to adopt the Findings and refer the matter to the Committee with a recommendation for further review.

The Committee received OCE's referral on May 11, 2017. The Committee issued voluntary requests for information to Representative Luján, and he responded by voluntarily providing documents and other information to the Committee. In total, the Committee reviewed over 1,250 pages of materials, including the transcripts of four voluntary interviews.

On July 27, 2017, the Committee unanimously voted to release this Report and take no further action with respect to Representative Luján.

III. HOUSE RULES, LAWS, REGULATIONS, AND OTHER STANDARDS OF CONDUCT

Federal law, 18 U.S.C. § 607, makes it "unlawful for . . . Members of Congress, to solicit or receive a donation of money or other thing of value in connection with a Federal, State, or local election, while in any room or building occupied in the discharge of official duties by an officer or employee of the United States, from any person." According to the House Ethics Manual, "[t]he prohibition against House Members or employees soliciting campaign or political contributions in or from House offices, rooms, or buildings is very broad."6 With one minor exception—an allowance for Members to solicit campaign contributions from other Members in House buildings—"the prohibition applies to all forms of solicitations—solicitations made in person, over the telephone, or through the mail." The Ethics Manual specifically notes that a Member may not prepare or make a campaign communication in a House building, even if the Member uses his own phone or other communications device.7

A separate statute, 31 U.S.C. §1301(a), requires that "appropriations shall be applied only to the objects for which the appropriations were made except as otherwise provided by law." Based on this statute, the Committee has long cautioned Members and House employees against the use of House buildings for unofficial activities. With respect to the use of official resources, including House buildings, for campaign or political activity, the Ethics Man*ual* states that the statutory prohibition is absolute:

A provision of the Members' Handbook permits the incidental personal use of House equipment and supplies "when such use is negligible in nature, frequency, time consumed, and expense." However, this policy applies only to incidental personal use of those resources, and not to their use for campaign or political purposes.8

In addition, the Ethics Manual states that "the House rooms, offices, and buildings are considered official resources, and as such, they [should] not be used for the conduct of any campaign or political activity." "Among the specific activities that clearly may not be undertaken in a congressional office . . . are the solicitation of contributions; the drafting of campaign speeches, statements, press releases or literature; the completion of FEC reports; the creation or issuance of a campaign mailing; and the holding of a meeting on campaign business." 10

The purpose of these laws and rules is generally to preclude campaign or political activity from taking place in a congressional office. However, the Committee has recognized that there are certain limited activities that, while related to a Member's campaign, may properly take place in a congressional office. The Committee's view has been that it would be impractical and unnecessary to attempt to prohibit these specific activities. In this regard, the Committee has long advised that certain very limited and very specific activities are permissible. 11

The Committee's jurisdiction is of current House Members, officers, and employees. However, many Members delegate certain campaign communications functions to outside entities. Antici-

⁷See id. at 144-45 ("A telephone solicitation from a House office or building would not be permissible merely because the call is billed to a credit card of a political organization or to an outside telephone number, or because it is made using a cell phone in the hallway. Similarly, when a House Member or employee makes solicitation calls somewhere else, such as at one of the campaign committee offices, and has to leave a message, the individual should not leave his or her House office telephone number for the return call. In addition, a fundraising mailing should not be either prepared or assembled in a House room or office, even if no House equipment or supplies are used in the process.").

of the House office Building Commission concerning the use of the House office buildings prohibit the soliciting of contributions in the buildings other than for certain charitable purposes." $^{10}Id.$ at 124 (emphasis in original).

pating this practical reality, the Ethics Manual states that "under these rules, a Member or employee must take reasonable steps to ensure that any outside organization over which he or she exercises control—including the individual's own authorized campaign committee or, for example, a 'leadership PAC'—operates in compliance with applicable law." ¹²

With respect to use of images from the House Floor, House Rule V, clause 1, provides that "[t]he Speaker shall administer, direct, and control a system for close-circuit viewing of floor proceedings of the House," and clause 2(c) states that "[c]overage made available under this clause, including any recording thereof—(1) may not be used for any partisan political campaign purpose." ¹³ The Ethics Manual further explains that "[b]roadcast coverage and recordings of House Floor proceedings may not be used for any political purpose under House Rule V, clause 2(c)(1)." ¹⁴

IV. BACKGROUND

On June 22 and June 23, 2016, Representative Ben Ray Luján, Representative for New Mexico's 3rd District, participated in a sitin on the House Floor. The sit-in was an organized attempt by Democratic Members to force a vote on the "No Fly No Buy" bill prior to adjourning for the July 4th recess. Frepresentative Luján joined the sit-in around midday on June 22, 2016, and participated in the sit-in until he left and went home after 7:00 AM on June 23. According to Representative Luján, he did not remain on the House Floor throughout the entire sit-in. Instead, he recalls leaving the House Floor for a pre-scheduled "lunch or meeting outside of the building." Representative Luján also stated that he "left for a bit of time and then came back to the floor during the night," and recalled leaving the House Floor to take bathroom breaks and to walk "outside to the front of the building of the Capitol, just [to] get a breath of air." In addition, Representative Luján told OCE that "[t]here were people gathering outside the Capitol, so members would leave periodically to go and either just stand with the crowd or speak to the crowd." 21

When questioned regarding what time he joined the sit-in on the House Floor, Representative Lujan stated that he could not recall the exact time but that it was around lunchtime. Emails produced by Representative Luján also indicate that at 9:37 AM on June 23, 2016, he was en route to a meeting at the offices of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee (hereinafter "DCCC"), and he arrived there shortly after 9:45 AM. A. REPRESENTATIVE LUJÁN'S EMAIL TO A CAMPAIGN VOLUNTEER

On June 22, 2016, at 3:00 PM, while Representative Lujan was on or near the House Floor for the sit-in, he received an email from Representative Michelle Lujan Grisham's campaign committee. The email stated that Representative Lujan Grisham was "literally on the House floor," and requested that the recipients "add your name to this petition," which related to the "No Fly No Buy" bill.²² The email did not request a campaign contribution.²³

At 4:02 PM, Representative Luján forwarded Representative Lujan Grisham's email to a volunteer for his campaign (Campaign Volunteer),²⁴ with a one-sentence email stating "Get something out." ²⁵ The email was sent from Representative Luján's personal email account to Campaign Volunteer's personal email account, and the email did not provide additional details regarding what Representative Luján wanted to "get out." ²⁶ Representative Luján does not recall whether he was on the House Floor, inside the Capitol, or inside any other federal building at the time he forwarded the email to Campaign Volunteer.²⁷

B. THE JUNE 22, 2016, CAMPAIGN EMAIL BY BOULDER STRATEGIES

Representative Luján's principal campaign committee, People for Ben, contracted with Boulder Strategies, a private political consulting firm, to handle campaign solicitations and petitions through "[o]nline fund-raising and digital strategy." ²⁸ Boulder Strategies' responsibilities included creating a calendar of when to send targeted email correspondence based on current events, the news cycle, and items relevant to Representative Luján's voting base.²⁹ Boulder Strategies sent both "solicitations for contributions and also [] emails that were petitions, asking people to sign on with different policy issues" to Representative Luján's supporters throughout the 2016 election cycle. 30 Representative Luján left the decision whether a particular occasion called for a petition or a solicitation up to Boulder Strategies because Boulder Strategies was using a technology called HubSpot.³¹ HubSpot is a marketing software ²⁴Campaign Volunteer is the Chief of Staff for the DCCC, but Representative Luján has asserted that he was acting in his personal capacity in assisting Representative Luján's campaign. See June 2, 2017, Letter from Representative Luján to Chairwoman Brooks and Ranking Member Deutch (hereinafter "Representative Luján Submission"), at 6. During the course of the sitin, it appears Campaign Volunteer's email correspondence with Boulder Strategies, Representative Luján, and Representative Luján's campaign committee was limited to emails from his personal email account.

See Exhibit 3; Exhibit 1 to OCE's Referral, Interview of Representative Luján at 34 ("I was in and out of the Capitol quite a bit. I don't remember exactly where I was when I sent [the 4:02 PM email to Campaign Volunteer]".).

31 Exhibit 1 to OCE's Referral, Interview of Representative Luján at 31–32 ("I don't know that it's up to Aaron to make a decision of whether something is a petition or if it's an online solicitation for money. That's what Boulder Strategies was hired to do and that's their job."); Exhibit 3 to OCE's Referral, Interview of DCCC Chief of Staff at 56 ("They were in charge of his entire platform that was used by Boulder Strategies to test the type of messages and content that best captured public attention, and to determine which messages were ideal for generating fundraising revenue. 32

Campaign Volunteer told OCE he viewed Representative Luján's email to "Get something out" as a suggestion and did not convey the message to Boulder Strategies because Boulder Strategies already had email correspondence addressing the "No Fly No Buy" bill scheduled to be released on June 22, 2016.³³ Indeed, after the Orlando shooting prompted the 2016 "No Fly No Buy" bill, Boulder Strategies scheduled multiple emails to be released on Representative Luján's behalf regarding the bill, bill-related events, and the general issue of gun violence in America.34

On June 22, 2016, at 7:11 PM, the President of Boulder Strategies sent an email 35 to Representative Luján's campaign committee staff and to Campaign Volunteer, requesting that they review a draft message on behalf of People for Ben. 36 According to the President of Boulder Strategies, the "e-mail was a continuation of a series of e-mails [Boulder Strategies had] been doing on [the] No Fly No Buy" bill.³⁷ Boulder Strategies "simply took an e-mail that was already in the pipeline," which they "were already planning to send," and "inserted the first line of the e-mail that talked about [Representative Luján] being on the floor to make it relevant for the day's topic." 38

The message included a link redirecting recipients to a contribution page allowing them "to make a contribution if they so choose."39 Representative Luján told OCE that he did not review the draft, propose any language with respect to the draft, or participate in the decision whether to include the contribution link. 40 Neither OCE nor the Committee obtained any information to the contrary.

The email was ultimately sent at approximately 8:15 PM on June 22, 2016,41 to People for Ben supporters, with the following text included:

Friend,

Today I join countless colleagues on the House floor to demand action that will make our country safer.

Facts matter—and the facts are that right now a suspected terrorist can go into a gun store and purchase a military-style assault rifle. In what world do we think that's a good idea?

Sign our pledge if you demand a vote on the bipartisan

No Fly, No Buy bill.

My Republican colleagues would rather go on a 4th of July recess before voting on this time-sensitive bill. That's why we're on the House floor demanding action.

Enough is enough—no bill, no break. Full stop. SIGN

HERE.

I'm a strong believer in our Second Amendment rights to bear arms, but also recognize that our system is broken when it's too easy for a powerful gun to get in the hands of someone who wants to hurt us.

The Orlando shooter, who was interviewed by the FBI just a couple years earlier, was able to legally purchase an AR-15, military-grade assault rifle.

Stand up if you support our sit-in.

At a minimum, we must come together, put aside our politics, and pass this commonsense measure.

Thank you,

Ben Ray

C. THE JUNE 23, 2016, CAMPAIGN EMAIL BY BOULDER STRATEGIES

On June 23, 2016, at 9:29 AM, Campaign Volunteer sent an email to the President of Boulder Strategies and the People for Ben campaign staff.42 The email stated "[p]lease get another email ready for this morning. The members will have been on the floor for 24 hours, as of 11:00 this morning. We need to do a $$ ask on this." 43 Campaign Volunteer's request was based on a perceived impending shift in the news cycle away from the sit-in and the "No Fly No Buy" bill. 44

Boulder Strategies complied with the request, and the June 23, 2016, email was sent to a campaign distribution list at 11:11 AM.45 The email contained an image of the House Floor that was obtained from an Associated Press news article.46 The original source of the image appears to be the House Broadcast network; Boulder that we should probably send out another e-mail based on everything that was going on because the news cycle was probably about to shift.").

45 See Exhibit 11 (Boulder Strategies' email confirming that the June 23, 2016, "Email is out"). Boulder Strategies sent their emails on Representative Luján's behalf from their offices in Boulder, Colorado. See Exhibit 3 to OCE's Referral, Interview of DCCC Chief of Staff at 67.

Strategies included a citation to the image that stated "Credit to House Television via AP." 47

The email from Boulder Strategies read as follows:

As we pass the 11 am hour in Washington DC, my Democratic colleagues and I have now been on the House floor for greater than 24-hours, staging a sit-in to demand a vote on the bi-partisan No Fly, No Buy bill.

Despite the fact that Speaker Ryan has turned off the cameras and the microphones, I will stand with my colleagues to call for a vote on commonsense legislation that keeps guns out of the hands of those on the FBI Terrorist Watch List.

Do you stand with us? Chip in $24 towards our emergency fundraising goal—$1 for every hour we've been in the well of the House Chamber demanding action.

A moment of silence on the House floor is simply not enough to honor the lives of those we have lost. We need action to keep guns out of the hands of suspected terrorists and it begins with a vote right here on the House floor.

Tell the GOP: It's simple—No Fly, No Buy, No Break. Click to contribute $24 (or whatever you can) right now to show your support!

As I said in my email last night, this is a matter of national security. We must come together to pass this commonsense bill.

Thanks for having our back,

—Ben Ray

Representative Luján left the Capitol around 7:00 AM on June 23, 2016, and went home to sleep. 48 An email from Representative Luján's staff at 9:37 AM indicated he was on his way from his home to a meeting off the Capitol grounds at the DCCC office building.49 Based on this and other contemporaneous emails, it does not appear that Representative Luján was in a federal building when Campaign Volunteer sent his email to Boulder Strategies.⁵⁰ It is possible that Representative Luján was on the House Floor at 11:11 AM on June 23rd, when Boulder Strategies sent the second sit-in related email to supporters; the email suggested that he was "now" on the Floor, and communications between Representative Luján's staff indicated that he was hoping to return to the floor after his 9:45 AM meeting at the DCCC.⁵¹ However, given that Representative Luján did not actually write, review, or send the June 23 email to his supporters,⁵² the statement that he was "now" on the Floor may have been mere puffery, or based on an expectation of what Representative Luján would do, rather than his actual movements. And the internal communications between

V. FINDINGS

- A. SOLICITATION OF CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTIONS AND OTHER CAMPAIGN ACTIVITY IN HOUSE BUILDINGS
- 1. Representative Luján's email did not solicit campaign contribu-

As previously discussed, Representative Luján did not personally send the June 22 and June 23, 2016, emails to supporters that were the subject of OCE's Referral. Instead, Representative Luján's campaign consultant, Boulder Strategies, sent the two messages to supporters on behalf of Representative Luján's campaign committee, People for Ben. However, if the Committee found that Representative Luján, while on the House Floor, directed a third-party to solicit campaign contributions, such conduct would raise serious questions about compliance with at least the spirit of 18 U.S.C. § 607, which prohibits the solicitation of campaign contributions from a federal building.⁵³ However, in this case, the evidence does not establish any improper conduct by Representative Luján with respect to either the June 22 or June 23 emails from Boulder Strategies.

As a threshold matter, it does not appear that either campaign email was actually sent at the direction of Representative Luján. Boulder Strategies told OCE that the June 22 email to supporters was already planned and largely prepared at the time Representative Luján told Campaign Volunteer to "Get something out." 54 While the June 23 email was not planned and prepared in advance of the sit-in, it was created at the direction of Campaign Volunteer, with no input or direction from Representative Luján. 55 Boulder Strategies did send drafts of the June 22 and June 23 emails to Representative Luján's campaign committee before releasing them, but it does not appear that those drafts were shared with Representative Luján. 56 This is significant because campaign committees are permitted to work, independently but simultaneously, on campaign matters while a Member is working on official House business.⁵⁷

54 See Exhibit 4 to OCE's Referral, Interview of President of Boulder Strategies at 6 ("We had that the President of Boulder Strategies at 7–11 (indicating that the President of Boulder Strategies crafted the language of the June 22 and June 23 emails himself, without input from Representative Luján, that Representative Luján was not provided drafts of the emails, and that Representative Luján did not sign-off on the messages).

57 See Committee on Standards of Official Conduct, Investigation of Alleged Improper Political Solicitation, 99th Cong., 1st Sess. 19 (1985) "In view of the foregoing, since the DCCC had no knowledge of Wilhelm's actions on its behalf, it follows that the DCCC should not be held liable for whatever actions Wilhelm took vis-à-vis the solicitation efforts, particularly as regards any alleged violation of 18 U.S.C. 602 or 607. From this it, therefore, also follows that, absent any Further, the evidence does not show that when Representative Luján gave the direction to "Get something out," he meant that his campaign consultants should send a solicitation for campaign funds. Representative Luján forwarded an email that another Member sent to supporters with a petition related to the "No Fly No Buy" bill. The other Member's email did not include any solicitation of campaign contributions.⁵⁸ Thus, to the extent Representative Luján intended his campaign to "get out" a similar petition, there would be no solicitation, and no violation of 18 U.S.C. § 607. It is worth noting that Representative Luján gave Boulder Strategies the discretion to determine whether any particular email they sent from his campaign committee would be a solicitation or something else.⁵⁹ Thus, he created a condition in which an ambiguous instruction to Boulder Strategies could be read, and implemented, either way. Moreover, as previously discussed, the Committee holds Members responsible for ensuring that campaign consultants who work on their behalf follow all applicable laws, rules, regulations, and other standard of conduct.⁶⁰ In this case, however, there is no evidence that Representative Luján expected, or should have expected, that when he forwarded a petition from another Member's campaign to his own campaign consultants, that would result in a campaign solicitation.

Accordingly, the Committee did not find that Representative Luján violated either the letter or the spirit of the federal law prohibiting the solicitation of campaign donations from a federal building.

2. The record does not show that Representative Luján engaged in campaign activity in a House building

While the evidence does not establish that Representative Luján's email to "Get something out" solicited campaign contributions, there is a separate question whether, by sending the email, he engaged in any campaign or political activity from a House building. Doing so would violate both a federal statute, 31 U.S.C. § 1301(a), and regulations from the Committee on House Administration (CHA). As previously discussed, the Committee and CHA have made clear that even "incidental" campaign or political activity in a House building is not permitted.61

Representative Luján's email, on June 22, 2016, to Campaign Volunteer, with the direction to "Get something out" about the sitin was clearly campaign or political activity. This inference is supported by the message that Representative Luján forwarded with his direction, which was a petition about the sit-in from another Member's campaign to her supporters,62 and by Campaign Volunteer's role with Representative Luján's campaign, and as a conduit between Representative Luján and the paid campaign consultants at Boulder Strategies.

DCCC responsibility for the solicitations, the respondents should similarly not be held liable for ⁶² See Exhibit 2 to OCE's Referral.

However, any allegation that Representative Luján engaged in campaign or political activity from a federal building would require proof that Representative Luján was on the House Floor or in another federal space when he sent out his sole email at issue here, the instruction to "Get something out." ⁶³ After reviewing all of the available evidence, including C-SPAN footage of the sit-in, Representative Luján's testimony to OCE,64 and contemporaneous emails and text messages from and between the Member and his staff, the Committee could not establish Representative Luján's location when he forwarded another Member's petition to Campaign Volunteer. Without some proof of Representative Luján's location, the Committee will not find that he violated the letter or spirit of federal law or House regulations regarding campaign activity in House buildings.

Nonetheless, the Committee cautions all Members that drafting, editing, commenting on, or sending campaign or political communications from a House building is not permitted. The Committee has long recognized that there are certain limited campaign or political activities that, while related to a Member's campaign, may properly take place in a congressional office.65 However, sending a direction to a campaign consultant or volunteer to "Get something out" does not fall within the very limited and very specific exceptions to the general rule. In this age of always-on mobile communications, Members may find it impractical or unreasonable to have to exit a House building before sending a three-word campaign email. However, that is what the relevant law, rules, and regulations require.

B. BOULDER STRATEGIES' USE OF AN IMAGE OF THE HOUSE FLOOR IN THE JUNE 23, 2016, CAMPAIGN SOLICITATION

The Committee found that Boulder Strategies' use of a still image of the House Floor 66 in campaign correspondence on behalf of People for Ben was a technical violation of House Rule V, clause 2(c)(1), which prohibits partisan use of the "system for close-circuit viewing of floor proceedings of the House," which the Speaker administers, directs, and controls.

While Representative Luján's submission to the Committee argues that Rule V only prohibits use of video footage from floor proceedings and not still images, 67 this interpretation finds no support in the express language of Rule V or the guidance historically dispensed by the Committee. House Rule V prohibits the use of "[c]overage made available under this clause, including any recording thereof." ⁶⁸ Limiting the term "coverage" to video recordings when the provision expressly lists "recording[s]" as simply one example of coverage would be inconsistent. Further, in a 2014 "Pink ⁶⁶This image was not sourced from C-SPAN's rebroadcast of images that House Members were broadcasting from their phones, using third-party, nonofficial mobile applications, after the House Floor cameras were turned off. Rather, as previously discussed, the still image that Boulder Strategies used came from an Associated Press article, which included a screen shot from the cameras that are part of the House broadcasting system.

68 House Rule V, Clause 2(c).

Sheet" distributed to all Member offices, the Committee made clear that Members may not re-use an image of floor proceedings published by a third-party, if the Member could not use that image in the first instance. 69

Representative Luján's submission to the Committee indicates that the image was originally sourced from the House Broadcast network, although the video capture was made by the Associated Press and published by them as a still image. Thus, Representative Luján's campaign committee and consultant did not directly source the image from the House recording system, but made derivative use of it. 70 However, the Committee's guidance has made clear that such a derivative use is not permissible.

Representative Luján has presented evidence that he was not aware that Boulder Strategies would include a still image of the House Floor in its email correspondence, and that he played no part in creating or reviewing the correspondence.⁷¹ The Committee has long held that Members of the House are responsible for ensuring that individuals speaking on their behalf comply with applicable House rules.⁷² The Committee believes such a Rule is necessary to ensure that individuals do not rely upon third parties to circumvent relevant House rules.⁷³ In this case, the Committee is satisfied that, after Boulder Strategies sent the email that was the subject of OCE's Referral, Representative Luján took steps to prevent a recurrence of this issue, by instructing Boulder Strategies that "[a]s a standing rule from here out," "[w]e will not be using any images of the [H]ouse floor in any of our emails." ⁷⁴ In addition, while the Committee disapproves of any violation of House rules, given the totality of the circumstances here, this is not the type of conduct that would merit any further action. Indeed, the Committee regularly addresses allegations of violations of House Rule V in an advisory manner, rather than investigating each such allegation.

VI. CONCLUSION

As noted by OCE, "the evolving nature of electronic communications and campaign solicitations sometimes presents novel issues that are not directly addressed by the House Ethics Manual." 75 The Committee agreed that this is an area where additional guidance could be useful.

Although the Committee did not conclude that Representative Luján made, or directed the making of, campaign solicitations from the House Floor or any federal building, the Committee cautions all Members that use of a third party to send campaign correspondence does not absolve them of their responsibility to ensure campaign correspondence complies with applicable laws and House rules. A Member's campaign committee or consultants may release campaign correspondence on the Member's behalf at any time, regardless of where the Member is. However, Members are reminded that, subject to very limited exceptions, they may not conduct campaign or political activity from a House building, whether hallway, office, or cafeteria, and thus, they may not draft, edit, or send campaign communications, or direct the drafting, editing, or sending of such communications, from a House building. This rule, which is embodied in federal law, applies even where the Member is using a personal or campaign communications device, and even if they are not using the House internet system.

See Exhibit 5. 74 Exhibit 6; Exhibit 4 to OCE's Referral, Interview of President of Boulder Strategies at 12 (after a follow-up conversation, "[w]e agreed not to use further images from the house floor, regardless of their sourcing, going forward"). 75 OCE's Referral at 15.

With respect to the use of a screen shot sourced from the House recording system, the Committee found that the campaign consultant's actions did violate House Rule V, and that Representative Luján is ultimately responsible for that violation. However, there is no evidence that Representative Luján was aware of the decision to use the image before it was included in a campaign solicitation, and Representative Luján and his campaign have taken steps to prevent any recurrence of this issue in the future. For these reasons, the Committee does not believe that any sanction of Representative Luján would be appropriate.

The Committee has determined to take no further action in this matter, and upon publication of this Report, considers the matter closed.

REPORT

Review No. 17-8362

The Board of the Office of Congressional Ethics ("the Board"), by a vote of no less than four members, on May 5, 2017, adopted the following report and ordered it to be transmitted to the Committee on Ethics of the United States House of Representatives.

SUBJECT: Representative Ben Ray Luján

NATURE OF THE ALLEGED VIOLATION: In June 2016, Representative Luján requested that his congressional campaign committee issue communications during a "sit-in" demonstration. The committee issued emails stating Representative Luján was on the House floor at the time the emails were sent. One of the emails specifically requested a campaign contribution and contained an image of the House floor.

If Representative Luján conducted campaign or political activity from the House floor, solicited a campaign contribution from a federal building, or used an image of a House floor proceeding for campaign or political purposes, then he may have violated House rules, standards of conduct, and federal law.

RECOMMENDATION: The Board recommends that the Committee on Ethics further review the above allegation because there is substantial reason to believe that Representative Luján conducted campaign or political activity from the House floor, solicited a campaign contribution from a federal building, or used an image of a House floor proceeding for campaign or political purposes.

FINDINGS OF FACT AND CITATIONS TO LAW

Review No. 17-8362

On May 5, 2017, the Board of the Office of Congressional Ethics (hereafter "the Board") adopted the following findings of fact and accompanying citations to law, regulations, rules and standards of conduct (in italics). The Board notes that these findings do not constitute a determination of whether or not a violation actually occurred.

I. INTRODUCTION

A. Summary of Allegations

- On June 22 and 23, 2016, Representative Luján participated in a "sit-in" on the floor of the House of Representatives. On June 22, Representative Luján requested that his campaign committee "get something out" related to the sit-in. Representative Luján may have been on the House floor or inside a federal building when he made the request.
- Representative Luján's campaign committee then sent an email with language stating that Representative Luján was on the House floor at the time. The email contained links so that potential visitors to the site could make campaign contributions to his campaign committee.
- On June 23, Representative Luján's campaign committee sent another email that again contained language that Representative Luján was on the House floor. That email specifically requested a campaign contribution and also contained an image of the House floor.
- 4. The Board recommends that the Committee on Ethics further review the above allegation because there is substantial reason to believe that Representative Luján conducted campaign or political activity from the House floor, solicited a campaign contribution from a federal building, or used an image of a House floor proceeding for campaign or political purposes.

B. Jurisdiction Statement

5. The allegations that were the subject of this review concern Representative Ben Ray Luján, a Member of the United States House of Representatives from the 3rd District of New Mexico. The Resolution the United States House of Representatives adopted creating the Office of Congressional Ethics (hereafter "OCE") directs that, "[n]o review shall be undertaken... by the board of any alleged violation that occurred before the date of adoption of this resolution." The House adopted this Resolution on March 11, 2008.

Subject to the Nondisclosure Provisions of H. Res. 895 of the 110th Congress as Amended

Because the conduct under review occurred after March 11, 2008, review by the Board is in accordance with the Resolution.

C. Procedural History

- The OCE received a written request for preliminary review in this matter signed by at least two members of the Board on February 3, 2017. The preliminary review commenced on February 4, 2017.² The preliminary review was scheduled to end on March 5, 2017.
- 7. On February 6, 2017, the OCE notified Representative Luján of the initiation of the preliminary review, provided him with a statement of the nature of the review, notified him of his right to be represented by counsel in this matter, and notified him that invoking his right to counsel would not be held negatively against him.
- 8. At least three members of the Board voted to initiate a second-phase review in this matter on March 3, 2017. The second-phase review commenced on March 6, 2017. The second-phase review was scheduled to end on April 19, 2017.
- On March 6, 2017, the OCE notified Representative Luján of the initiation of the secondphase review, notified him of his right to be represented by counsel in this matter, and notified him that invoking his right to counsel would not be held negatively against him.
- 10. The Board voted to refer the matter to the Committee on Ethics for further review and adopted these findings on May 5, 2017.
- 11. The report and its findings in this matter were transmitted to the Committee on Ethics on May 11, 2017.

D. Summary of Investigative Activity

- 12. The OCE requested testimonial and in some cases documentary information from the following sources:
 - (1) Representative Luján;
 - (2) Representative Luján's Former Communications Director;
 - (3) The Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee ("DCCC") Chief of Staff; and;
 - (4) The President of Boulder Strategies.

² A preliminary review is "requested" in writing by members of the Board of the OCE. The request for a preliminary review is received by the OCE on a date certain. According to H. Res. 895 of the 110th Congress, as amended (hereafter "the Resolution"), the timeframe for conducting a preliminary review is 30 days from the date of receipt of the Board's request.

II. REPRESENTATIVE LUJÁN MAY HAVE VIOLATED HOUSE RULES, STANDARDS OF CONDUCT, AND FEDERAL LAW BY REQUESTING THAT A CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE COMMUNICATION BE ISSUED WHILE ON THE HOUSE FLOOR

A. Applicable Law, Rules, and Standards of Conduct

13. House Ethics Manual

"Official resources of the House must, as a general rule, be used for the performance of official business of the House, and hence those resources may not be used for campaign or political purposes...."³

"The House buildings, and House rooms and offices... are supported with official funds and hence are considered official resources. Accordingly, as a general rule, they may not be used for the conduct of campaign or political purposes."

"Among the specific activities that clearly may not be undertaken in a congressional office or using official House resources (including official staff time) are the solicitation of contributions; the drafting of campaign speeches, statements, press releases or literature; the completion of FEC reports; the creation or issuance of a campaign mailing; and the holding of a meeting on campaign business." ⁵

"The prohibition against House Members or employees soliciting campaign or political contributions in or from House offices, rooms, or buildings is very broad." The House Ethics Manual also explains, "the House rooms, offices, and buildings are considered official resources, and as such, they are not [sic] be used for the conduct of any campaign or political activity, including the solicitation of contributions."

"Moreover, under these rules, a Member or employee must take reasonable steps to ensure that any outside organization over which he or she exercises control – including the individual's own authorized campaign committee or, for example, a 'leadership PAC' – operates in compliance with applicable law."

In addition, "[a]nything supported with official funds is an official resource, including congressional offices. The House Office Building Commission, comprised of the Speaker, the Majority Leader, and the Minority Leader, has issued regulations governing the use of House facilities. These regulations generally ban solicitation and commercial activity, limit photography, restrict use of meeting rooms to congressionally related purposes, and impose various health and safety restraints. In addition, as is true of all official

In addition, under House Rule 11, clause 4(b), radio and television tapes and film of any coverage of House committee proceedings may not be used, or made available for use, as partisan political campaign material to promote or oppose the candidacy of any person for public office." ¹⁰

(a) Prohibition (1) In general -

It shall be unlawful for any person to solicit or receive a donation of money or other thing of value in connection with a Federal, State, or local election from a person who is located in a room or building occupied in the discharge of official duties by an officer or employee of the United States. It shall be unlawful for an individual who is an officer or employee of the Federal Government, including the President, Vice President, and Members of Congress, to solicit or receive a donation of money or other thing of value in connection with a Federal, State, or local election, while in any room or building occupied in the discharge of official duties by an officer or employee of the United States, from any person.

B. Representative Luján Participated in a Sit-in on the House Floor from June 22, 2016 to June 23, 2016

- 15. Representative Luján participated in a June 22, 2016 "sit-in" on the floor of the House of Representatives. 11 He told the OCE that he was in his office during a meeting and saw on C-SPAN that House members were gathering on the House floor concerning the "No-fly, No-buy" bill. 12 He did not recall what time he made the decision to go to the House floor and participate, but told his staff to "clear the day." 13 Representative Luján's participation in the sit-in began on June, 22, 2016, continued overnight, and ended on June 23, 2016. 14
- 16. Representative Luján described to the OCE various instances when he may not have been directly on the House floor, or in the Capitol complex during the sit-in.
- 17. Representative Luján stated that on June 22, 2016, he recalled an afternoon meeting "around" lunchtime where he left the Capitol in a vehicle. ¹⁵ He then came back to the House floor later on June 22, 2016, "during the night." From that time, Representative Luján stated that he was on the House floor "off and on" until the morning of June 23, 2016.17

- 18. Representative Luján told the OCE that during the sit-in, crowds had gathered outside the Capitol and members would sometimes leave the Capitol to greet the crowds. 18 He did not say whether he took part in greeting the crowds. Representative Luján also stated that "bathroom breaks, walking outside to the front of the building of the Capitol, just to get a breath of fresh air. . ." and getting a drink of water were all reasons Members may have left the House floor during the sit-in demonstration. 15
- 19. When describing the timeframe when he may have left the House floor, after his afternoon meeting, and into the night, Representative Luján stated that it "wasn't just during the time that the sun went down . . . what I would describe as nighttime. It was throughout that period that I would [leave the House floor]."20
- 20. Representative Luján told the OCE that he concluded his participation in the sit-in and "walked home" on June 23, 2016 at "6:00 or 7:00"AM.

C. During the Sit-in Representative Luján Requested that His Campaign Issue a Communication

21. On June 22, 2016 at 3:00PM, Representative Luján received an email from Representative Michelle Luján Grisham's campaign committee concerning the "No-fly, No-buy" bill, claiming that Representative Luján Grisham was "literally on the House floor...."21 The email asked recipients to "add your name to this petition...."22 The email did not appear to request a campaign contribution.

22. At 4:02PM the same day, Representative Luján forwarded the email to the DCCC Chief of Staff, directing him to "Get something out."²³ At the time, the DCCC Chief of Staff was Representative Luján's primary contact for campaign messaging with Boulder Strategies, an online fundraising and digital strategy firm Representative Luján hired in 2016.²⁴

- 23. Representative Luján could not recall where he was physically located at 4:02PM on June 22, 2016.²⁵ When asked if it was possible that he sent the email while in a House building or within the Capitol complex, he responded that "I think anything's - it's possible, but I was – like I said, depending on where I was moving to or moving from."²⁶
- 24. Representative Luján told the OCE that upon receiving the email from Representative Luján Grisham's campaign committee, he thought that "Michelle had a good idea" and that his intention was to tell the DCCC Chief of Staff to "get something out."27

- 25. The OCE asked Representative Luján repeatedly about the meaning and intention behind telling the DCCC Chief of Staff to "get something out." Representative Luján told the OCE that he wanted the DCCC Chief of Staff to "Get a message out, maybe get something out, take a look at this good idea . . ." and "It was to tell [the DCCC Chief of Staff] get something out, I guess. So I guess something similar [to Representative Luján Grisham's email], yeah. Get something out."
- 26. He stated further that "Michelle had a good idea here to say she wanted to create some attention that whatever all the work that people were doing, and lend your voice to say, sign a petition and say, let us vote . . . This wasn't a solicitation for money, that was in this email . . . it was my hope that we could get something out that would ask people to lend their voices." ²⁹
- 27. Representative Luján told the OCE that he recalled that Boulder Strategies generally would "send solicitations for contributions and also send emails that were petitions, asking people to sign on with different policy issues." 30
- 28. In this instance, Representative Luján told the OCE that both the DCCC Chief of Staff and Boulder Strategies had the authority to decide whether the campaign message would be in the form of a petition or solicitation for campaign contributions.³¹
- 29. After receiving the email from Representative Luján to "get something out," the DCCC Chief of Staff told the OCE that he did not believe the message from Representative Luján was a "directive to go get something out." He believed "it was him just like expressing that he thought this was either a good way to talk about the issue, or maybe he thought the [email from Representative Luján Grisham] looked good or something, kind of left up to my own interpretation a little bit." 33
- 30. In contrast to the DCCC Chief of Staff's testimony, the President of Boulder Strategies told the OCE that he was "instructed" to send a campaign email on behalf of Representative Luján's campaign committee on June 22, 2016 and that although he could not recall specifically who issued the instruction, typically it would have been from the DCCC Chief of Staff.³⁴

D. Representative Luján's Campaign Committee Sent an Email Stating that Representative Luján Was on the House Floor

31. At 7:11PM on June 22, 2016, roughly three hours after Representative Luján asked the DCCC Chief of Staff to "get something out," the President of Boulder Strategies sent an email to members of Representative Luján's campaign committee staff and the DCCC Chief of Staff, requesting that the recipients "Please review for immediate send . . ." and stating that "Immediate $$ after action after the form submit." 35

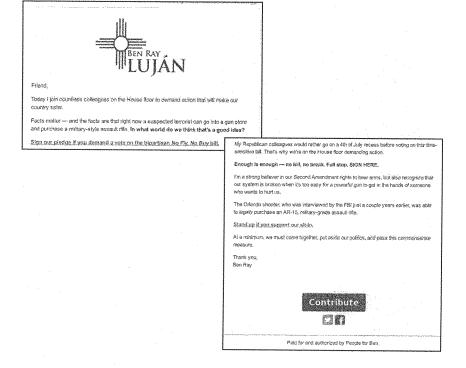

32. The President of Boulder Strategies told the OCE that "Immediate $$ after action after the form submit" meant that if someone "clicked on the link that says 'Sign or Pledge' . . . then it would automatically redirect to a contribution page to where they would then be able to make a contribution if they so choose."36 He stated that he was not directed to add that feature by Representative Luján or his campaign staff but that it was "standard practice" for "most petitions" that Boulder Strategies created.37

33. The email discussed above accompanied a draft email shown below that would become the first campaign committee email issued on June 22, 2016 regarding the sit-in.³⁸ The email concludes with a "contribute" link.³⁹ The contribute link was "permanent" on any Boulder Strategies email, according to the DCCC Chief of Staff.⁴⁰

34. The text of the draft email reads:

Today I join countless colleagues on the House floor to demand action that will make our country safer. Facts matter - and the facts are that right now a suspected terrorist can go into a gun store and purchase a military-style assault rifle. In what world do we think that's a good idea?

Sign our pledge if you demand a vote on the bipartisan No Fly, No Buy bill.

My Republican colleagues would rather go on a 4th of July recess before voting on this timesensitive bill. That's why we're on the House floor demanding action. Enough is enough - no bill, no break. Full stop. SIGN HERE.

I'm a strong believer in our Second Amendment rights to bear arms, but also recognize that our system is broken when it's too easy for a powerful gun to get in the hands of someone who wants to hurt us.

The Orlando shooter, who was interviewed by the FBI just a couple years earlier, was able to legally purchase an AR-15, military-grade assault rifle.

Stand up if you support our sit-in.

At a minimum, we must come together, put aside our politics, and pass this commonsense measure.

Thank you,

Ben Ray

- 35. Although Representative Luján asked the DCCC Chief of Staff to "get something out" on June 22, 2016, the President of Boulder Strategies told the OCE he created the "House floor" language shown in the email and that Representative Luján did not take part in the email's creation. 42 Representative Luján corroborated this information. 43
- 36. The President of Boulder Strategies also told the OCE that the email was part of a "series" of campaign emails "on this topic" that had been issued "at least a week prior."44

- E. Representative Luján's Campaign Committee Sent Another Email Stating that Representative Luján Was on the House Floor and Specifically Requested Campaign Contributions
- 37. On June 23, 2016 at 9:29AM, the DCCC Chief of Staff sent an email to the President of Boulder Strategies and Representative Luján's campaign staff, requesting "another email ready for this morning. 39. The text of the draft email reads:

As we pass the 11 am hour in Washington DC, my Democratic colleagues and I have now been on the House floor for greater than 24-hours, staging a sit-in to demand a vote on the bi-partisan No Fly, No Buy bill.

Despite the fact that Speaker Ryan has turned off the cameras and the microphones, I will stand with my colleagues to call for a vote on commonsense legislation that keeps guns out of the hands of those on the FBI Terrorist Watch List.

Do you stand with us? Chip in $24 towards our emergency fundraising goal -- $1 for every hour we've been in the well of the House Chamber demanding action.

A moment of silence on the House floor is simply not enough to honor the lives of those we have lost. We need action to keep guns out of the hands of suspected terrorists and it begins with a vote right here on the House floor.

- 40. Representative Luján and the President of Boulder Strategies both stated that Representative Luján played no part in drafting the second email on June 23, 2016.⁴⁸
- 41. However, the President of Boulder Strategies told the OCE that he believed "there was a conversation prior to [sending the email] . . . about the Congressman wanting to time this email appropriately." Although he could not identify who specifically told him about Representative Luján's desire to time the email appropriately, the President of Boulder Strategies assumed that the DCCC Chief of Staff told him. 50

- 42. He stated that the second email "was an email that was not on the calendar. It was not one that we had already prepared. It was one that they asked for specifically to be added to the schedule for the morning."5
- 43. Concerning the use of a photograph of the House floor, Representative Luián's Former Communications Director told the OCE that he believed he became aware of the photograph's usage after the President of Boulder Strategies informed him "a couple days" after the second email was sent. 52 The President of Boulder Strategies told the Former Communications Director that the photo came from a "news account and not directly from the floor."53
- 44. The President of Boulder Strategies told the OCE that he had a conversation with Representative Luján's campaign staff about the photo and "whether the usage met certain standards." He stated that "we agreed not to use further images from the House floor, regardless of their sourcing, going forward, despite that the email went through the appropriate approval process . . . It was a photograph that we sourced from an AP article that was syndicated in thousands of papers across the country that day."55
- 45. In sum, Representative Luján may have conducted campaign or political activity by requesting that his campaign committee "get something out" while on the House floor or in a federal building. The committee then sent two emails stating that Representative Luján was on the House floor and connected campaign contributions to the sit-in. A photograph of the House floor was also used in one of the emails as partisan political campaign material.
- 46. The Board notes that Representative Luján was cooperative throughout the review. The Board recognizes that the evolving nature of electronic communications and campaign solicitations sometimes presents novel issues that are not directly addressed by the House Ethics Manual. This review raised difficult questions about the application of House rules to solicitations via email. Ultimately, according to House standards of conduct, Members are also responsible for the activities of their outside organizations, including their congressional campaign committees. The Board believes that Members may benefit from additional guidance regarding campaign activities and electronic communications.

III. CONCLUSION

- 47. On June 22 and June 23, 2016, Representative Luján's congressional campaign committee sent campaign emails stating that Representative Luján was on the House floor contemporaneous with the email's issuance.
- 48. The first email, on June 22, was specifically requested by Representative Luján during a time when he may have been on the House floor or in a federal building. Although the email did not make an overt request for a campaign contribution in the email text, it may have provided links so that viewers could make a contribution to Representative Luján's campaign committee.
- 49. The second email, on June 23, contained similar language to the first and specifically requested a campaign contribution. The second email also contained an image of the House floor.
- 50. For the reasons stated above, the Board recommends that the Committee on Ethics further review the above allegation because there is substantial reason to believe that Representative Luján conducted campaign or political activity from the House floor, solicited a campaign contribution from a Federal building, or used an image of a House floor proceeding for campaign or political purposes.

Conducted on March 2, 2017. 1 PROCEEDINGS 2 CONGRESSMAN BEN RAY LUJAN, 3 INTERVIEW BY COUNSEL FOR THE 4 OFFICE OF CONGRESSIONAL ETHICS 5 BY MR. PAYNE: Good morning, Congressman. 6 7 Α. Good morning. 8 Q. So, as I just stated, you were presented 9 with the False Statements Act; is that correct? 10 Α. Correct. 11 And you were advised that it does apply; 12 we advised you that? 13 Α. Correct. 14 Let me just begin with a little bit of 15 background. 16 Are you familiar with Boulder Strategies? 17 Α. Yes. 18 And what is Boulder Strategies? 19 Boulder Strategies is a consulting group Α. 20 that does online strategy, fund-raising. 21 And do they assist your campaign with 22 those type of services?

1 We hired, or I hired Boulder Strategies to 2 do some work this last election cycle for me, for 3 People for Ben. And when did you hire Boulder Strategies 4 exactly? 5 6 I don't know. Sometime at the end of 2015 7 or into 2016. 8 Q. And what specifically did you want them to 9 do for you? 10 Online fund-raising and digital strategy. Α. 11 And digital strategy, can you give me a little bit more details of what you mean by that? 12 13 To work with helping me with, I guess, 14 Twitter, Facebook, things of that nature. 15 And with whom have you communicated at 16 Boulder Strategies; who are your contacts there? 17 I rarely visit with them, with any of 18 principals there. I think I had some of the 19 initial conversations, when we hired them, with one 20 of the principals. I couldn't even tell you with 21

Q.

Trujillo, who is a Dtrip (Phonetic) staff, also helps me -- volunteers, helps me with my efforts on my campaign, is the individual that communicates with them predominantly. And was Aaron involved in the hiring of Boulder Strategies? Α. Yes. How did you find Boulder Strategies? Word of mouth. And then we were looking Α. 10 for a group, and we sat down with three or four different entities, and then ultimately decided on 12 Boulder Strategies. 13 I think Boulder did some work for 14 Congressman Polis and it may have been just word of mouth, so something like that. 16 Do you know Nick Passanante? I think he's one of the principals there. Do you believe you've met Nick before? I think he's the gentleman that we sat with when we were looking to hire a digital strategist.

Do you routinely communicate then with

1 Boulder Strategies? 2 It sounds like you're saying that you were 3 not the main contact with the organization. 4 I don't routinely communicate with Boulder 5 Strategies in any way; online, E-mail, phone. 6 Now, when Boulder Strategies --7 Α. Or in person I guess I should say, yeah. Okay. When Boulder Strategies is going to 8 9 send one of these online fund-raising 10 communications -- and I'm assuming those are 11 E-mails; is that correct? 12 So Boulder Strategies predominantly, I 13 think -- I don't know that they do anything else 14 for online or for electronic solicitations other 15 than E-mails. 16 MR. SVOBODA: One thing, just so the 17 record's clear, we've been talking back and forth 18 in the present tense, but we're talking about what 19 happened during 2016, correct? That Boulder 20 Strategies no longer is engaged by People for Ben. 21 MR. PAYNE: Oh, let's clarify that for the 22 record.

1 BY MR. PAYNE: 2 Q. So is Boulder Strategies -- are they 3 retained by your campaign at this time? 4 Boulder Strategies no longer does work for 5 my campaign, for People for Ben. 6 And when did that end? 7 I want to say at the end of this last 8 election cycle, so maybe sometime right after 9 November of '16. 10 And why did that relationship end? 11 Just decided not to use Boulder Strategies 12 any more. There were some questions during the 13 campaign, and it was just time to move on. 14 So during the time period when Boulder 15 Strategies was retained by your campaign, you're 16 saying they would send out E-mail with campaign 17 contribution solicitations? So Boulder Strategies, it's my 18 19 recollection that Boulder Strategies would send 20 solicitations for contributions and also send 21 E-mails that were petitions, asking people to sign 22 on with different policy issues.

Q. Have you ever requested that Boulder Strategies send out any particular solicitation?

A. I don't recall asking Boulder specifically to send out a particular solicitation. But early on with hiring Boulder Strategies, I definitely would maybe suggest different areas of attention as I would see other members sending out E-mails, and I would suggest, you know, what about a kind of an idea of something like this, but never directly with Boulder that I can recollect.

You know, I would visit with other people, maybe someone like Aaron, and offer an idea. But that was early on in the process in January. And then things just started moving along and it was rare for me just to jump in and even offer ideas.

Q. Let me make sure I follow what you just said.

18 A. Yeah.

Q. So around January of 2016, you would suggest to Boulder Strategies certain E-mails that they may send, but you would do that directly with Boulder Strategies or indirectly?

A. I would not -- I rarely, if ever, communicated directly with Boulder Strategies. If I ever had an idea, it would be just talked about or -- with Aaron or someone like Aaron I guess, to communicate that. And, I mean, sometimes I think did them, sometimes they didn't.

- Q. Okay. So you would talk to Aaron and he would know to then speak with Boulder Strategies about your idea of an E-mail solicitation?
- A. I would hope that he would talk to Boulder Strategies. Like I said, sometimes they did E-mails and sometimes those ideas came to fruition, sometimes you wouldn't see anything that reflected whatever you -- whatever was suggested.
- Q. And you mentioned it could be Aaron or someone else.

Who are the other potential people who you may have communicated an idea with during that time period of early 2016, that would then be communicated to Boulder Strategies?

A. Aaron or Drew Stoddard. If Drew and I were I were having a conversation about this.

Conducted on March 2, 2017 12 1 And who is Drew? 0. 2 Drew Stoddard is my former communications Α. director in the office, no longer with the office. 3 4 And what was his role with your campaign? 0. 5 Drew volunteered on the campaign in 6 different capacities, predominantly giving me ideas 7 of some, you know, maybe talking points or visiting 8 with him about how we could communicate with 9 supporters. 10 I'd share ideas with him as well, and he'd 11 share those either with Aaron or I'm guessing with 12 Boulder Strategies directly. I don't know what his 13 line of communication was directly with Boulder or 14 with Aaron. 15 Who else from your congressional office 16 would work on these matters for your campaign, whether that's volunteer basis or --17 18 My chief of staff, Angela Ramirez, would 19 volunteer as well. 20 Anyone else? 21 Predominantly, the two of them. My 22 district director sometimes would occasionally volunteer, but that was more, you know, knocking doors or something on the weekends. That's kind of the work that Jennifer would do to volunteer.

Q. And your district director was not

- involved in Boulder Strategies services?

 A. No. I very much doubt. I'm not aware of
- Jennifer being involved in any of those conversations.
- Q. Who on your campaign staff would communicate with Boulder Strategies?
- 11 A. Tara Lujan, if anyone, would communicate 12 with Boulder Strategies. But predominantly, it
 13 would be --

A. Tara Lujan, no relation, served as our campaign director, campaign manager during this last cycle. But Tara, I don't believe that Tara had direct communications with Boulder Strategies on online work.

Predominantly it was Aaron that would communicate with them. Aaron is the gentleman as well, that when I sat down to hire Boulder

Strategies, that process was with Aaron. Yeah.

- Q. Now, why was Aaron the main contact with Boulder Strategies?
- A. I trust Aaron. I think that Aaron's very thorough in how he scrutinizes contracts and scrutinizes the process, and that's why Aaron was the person.
 - Q. How do you know Aaron?

A. Jeez, we grew up in the same community, and Aaron began working on my campaign sometime back in 2007. Was part of my official office from a ledge perspective.

Left the office and then joined the DCCC some years later when I was appointed chair, and is still working with the DCCC today.

Q. You mentioned that he'd started working with your office, I think, around 2007.

18 When did you first meet Aaron?

- A. Not my office, on my campaign.
- Q. On your campaign, okay.
- A. Yeah, so I wasn't sworn in until 2009.

 And Aaron may have joined -- I don't know if Aaron

1 joined in 2007 or 2008. Sometime in that 2 timeframe. 3 I wouldn't say that I knew Aaron 4 personally. I knew Aaron because we grew up in the 5 community. Small communities, families go to the 6 same churches, we went to the same high school. 7 He's a lot younger than I, some years, I 8 don't know, ten or more years, eight or more years, 9 something like that. 10 Q. But no relation? 11 Α. No. And I want to now just make sure I 12 13 understand your role in general when it comes to 14 E-mail solicitations. 15 So when E-mail solicitations were going to 16 be sent, you've explained that you wouldn't 17 necessarily tell Boulder Strategies directly to 18 send an E-mail; is that correct? 19 That's correct. Α. 20 What was your role in solicitations, what Q. 21 did you do? 22 Α. With online?

Q. Correct.

A. So we hired Boulder Strategies to assist us in reaching out to supporters via E-mail. And early on, I think there -- if my recollection serves me correct, there would be ideas that might be shared with staff like Aaron about E-mails that I might see from other members of Congress. I guess you get put on different lists as well.

So if you see E-mails that good, you can say, hey, that sounds like a nice idea or maybe something like that. You would send something early on and say, hey, take a look at this one or, you know, I received this today, take a look at it. But that was predominantly it.

- Q. Would they send -- they meaning your campaign or Boulder Strategies, would they send drafts to you for approval before they were sent out?
- A. Early on, there -- I think there were drafts that may have been sent to us, or sent to me. But like I said, it's my recollection that that was early in the process.

And that stopped happening through, I don't know, maybe after the first quarter, maybe after the first month. It wasn't normal practice after, if ever.

- Q. Okay, so just so I have the time period straight. You're saying maybe from January to March approximately 2016, they would send you drafts, but then that stopped a little bit after that time period?
- A. I would say if it lasted that long. But I'm thinking that it -- you know, it's probably speculation, but it was early in the process. So maybe the first month, maybe into February, but I couldn't tell you that it continued to happen after that.

I just know that that wasn't the process going in as we were moving, you know, through the campaign and I was traveling or we saw even different reports coming in from Boulder with what the success or what they were not doing with their online solicitations.

19

Q. Now, most companies that have -- that provide these type of services, send online solicitations quite frequently, but I'm not sure about Boulder Strategies.

How often would you say they were sending out online solicitations?

- A. It appeared that they treated different clients differently, and other clients may have received -- gotten more E-mails go out. I don't think that my campaign had a lot of E-mails going out.
- 13 Q. So per week, would you estimate?
- 14 A. I couldn't even tell you.
- 15 Q. Would you say more than one?
 - A. Sometimes yes, sometimes no. I really couldn't tell you, but I know the volume was not what I saw that other members would show or that you would see with other.

I think Boulders could probably answer that question better, give you a report or something.

MR. SVOBODA: And Kedric, so the record is clear, when you refer to solicitations, you mean not simply the direct asks for money but also the petitions to which the congressman referred, correct? Any sort of E-mail that they might send as part of the E-mail program?

- Q. That is correct, I'm referring to how you define solicitations, which falls into two categories; the campaign contribution solicitations as well as petitions.
- A. Okay, thank you. And yes, the answer still holds true. I'm not certain of the volume of what they were sending out. It just didn't seem like there was a big volume.
- Q. How often would you send E-mails that you might forward along indirectly to them about what other members were doing so that they would send out E-mail solicitations?
- A. I don't know that it was on a regular basis. It would be if you would read something that seemed like a good idea and you pass it along.

 Sometimes you read something that was a good idea and you just -- it didn't get passed . along. I don't know that I could put a number of how many that -- that was.

Q. But you are saying that you saw other members sending out multiple E-mails, so I'm assuming you're receiving multiple E-mails.

And would it be like once week you may forward something along to Aaron or someone else to say, look at this, or whatever you referred to earlier?

A. It probably was either once a week, once every few weeks. It was random. It just depends on when you would see something that you thought, hey, this -- this looks like something we should consider.

And like I said, just because I sent it didn't always mean that Boulder would do something with that idea that I would see anyway.

- Q. But when you sent it, these type of forwards, what did -- you wanted them to consider sending something as a result of you forwarding?
 - A. I would send, you know, like an E-mail to Aaron, for example, if I received it from another member, whatever their team was.

And it wasn't even from another member, it's whoever their online consultant was or whoever was doing work like Boulder Strategies. And say, hey, take a look at this, what do you think.

BY MS. EISNER:

- Q. And just to clarify, you said earlier that the policy sort of changed earlier on, there might have been some communications about receiving drafts but that changed later. What --
- A. I think it's unfair to describe it as policy. I mean, I think early on, you know, you hire a consultant and you say, hey, I want to see kind of what you're doing a little bit more. So you know, kind of include me in what's happening.

But then you establish a trust with a team, you hope that they're doing the job they're supposed to be. And so you tell the team, hey, you have autonomy, keep moving. And I would say that's what it was like early on in the --

Q. Understood. And my use of policy wasn't

Conducted on March 2, 2017 1 -- doesn't necessarily have to be binding, just 2 kind of what was happening in practice. 3 But as far as kind of final 4 communications, whether they were solicitations or 5 petitions, would you always receive those types of 6 E-mails? 7 A. I think early on, I may have received 8 them. But later, E-mails would get sent out to 9 whatever list Boulder Strategies had, without me 10 seeing them or editing them at all. 11 Q. Okay. BY MR. PAYNE: 12 13 I want to now just talk about the sit-in 14 that happened in Congress around June 22nd, 2016; 15 do you recall that? 16 I do. Α. 17 And you participated in that sit-in? 18 19 When did you begin participating in the Q. 20 sit-in? 21 So I was in a meeting and C-span was on 22 and I saw that members began to go to the floor and

I don't even know that I had the volume on. I turned the volume on at that time and saw that the members were going down and reading something to the Speaker or whoever was in the chair and it was clear that this was about 'No-Fly No-Buy' and that members were gathering on the floor.

And so I don't know what the time was, but I made decision at that time with the staff and I said, I'm going to the floor, to which they replied, you know, you have some -- you have a schedule today.

And I told them, I'm going to the floor.

Clear the day, let me know if there's anything that we have to do or if there's some people that we can still meet with maybe during the day, but I'm going to the floor. And I went to the floor.

- Q. And then when you went to the floor, how long did you stay on the floor?
- A. So I was on the floor off and on until the next morning for the -- I sat there for a period of time and then we had a lunch or we had a meeting outside of the building.

So I left for a bit of time, I don't know how much time, but I left for a bit of time and then I came back to the floor during the night.

There were people gathering outside the Capitol, so members would leave periodically to go and either just stand with the crowd or speak to the crowd. You know, bathroom breaks, walking outside to the front of the building of the Capitol, just get a breath of air, and then go back in.

So from the time I went in to the time that I left, it was 6:00 or 7:00 a.m. the next morning with times that I left in between, I would say.

- Q. Okay. Let me just walk through it again.
- A. Okay.

- 17 Q. So when you went there before lunch?
- A. I don't know if it was before lunch, but it was somewhere in that timeframe. That sounds about right.
- 21 Q. And then you left for lunch?
 - A. There -- I wouldn't say it was for lunch.

There was a meeting in the afternoon sometime. I think it was a lunch meeting, I'm not sure. But there was something in the afternoon that I remember leaving the Capitol and the actual, you know, getting in a vehicle and going somewhere.

And then came back later on that day. And then once I came back that day, I didn't leave the building in a car. As a matter of fact, I even walked home the next morning at whatever it was, 6:00 or 7:00.

But, you know, the crowds again were gathering and so we'd go inside and outside of the Capitol Building to the front there, in front of the steps or in front just to chat with another member, like I said, just to get a little bit of that cold air on your face that night.

- Q. So at nighttime, you were there after lunch when you returned from this meeting?
- A. Uh-huh.

- Q. And then at night, you would go out where the crowds were gathered outside of the Capitol?
 - A. So from the time that I returned in and out, like, you know, I don't know if it was every hour or every whatever it was. Well, you're sitting there on the floor and your legs kind of get a little tight. You know, you want to get a drink of water or something.

So you get up periodically, stretch your legs, go outside, just take a breath of air or something and then just -- and go back in.

But that wasn't just during the time that the sun went down, what I would describe as nighttime. It was throughout that period that I would do that.

- Q. And do you recall that a E-mail was sent out from your campaign on June 22nd about the sit-in?
- A. I don't recall. After E-mails were shown to me, then it was clear that something was sent out from Boulder Strategies, but I didn't recall.
- Q. And let me show you this E-mail, which I'm sure you've seen, that's Bates-stamped THRL 0098.

If you can just walk me through what's going on here. So it's an E-mail from Ben Lujan to

| | Conducted on March 2, 2017 |
|----|---|
| 1 | Aaron Trujillo, and it says, get something out. |
| 2 | Can you just explain to me, what does that |
| 3 | mean, what is this E-mail that you forwarded to |
| 4 | him, and all the context? |
| 5 | A. So this is an example of an E-mail that |
| 6 | you would see that you might receive from another |
| 7 | member from their people and that I saw it. |
| 8 | You know, Michelle is asking in this |
| 9 | E-mail from her folks for people to lend their |
| 10 | voices to be heard, right, sort of this is a |
| 11 | petition. And so when I saw this, I forwarded it |
| 12 | to Aaron, you know, get something out. |
| 13 | Q. And why did you forward it to Aaron? |
| 14 | A. Aaron's a person that I would communicate |
| 15 | with on things like this. |
| 16 | Q. And what did you mean by, get something |
| 17 | out; get what out? |
| 18 | A. Get a message out, maybe get something |
| 19 | out, take a look at this good idea. |
| 20 | Q. Get a similar E-mail to the one that's |
| 21 | from Michelle Lujan Grisham; is that what you mean? |
| 22 | A. Get something out. |

Q. But do you --

A. It's just that. So get something out I think just means that there's different members that do different things, different strategists that do different things.

Boulder Strategies created E-mails, content, whatever it was. So get something out I think just means that, get something out.

- Q. So this E-mail assumes that what you referenced before, what you intended for Aaron to speak with Boulder Strategies about getting out an E-mail solicitation?
- A. I would say that I would ask Aaron to reach out. And like I said, sometimes there were communications, sometimes there weren't.
- Q. But just so I follow with this E-mail, did you intend that Aaron would discuss with Boulder Strategies this idea of a message to get out to your E-mail list?
- A. It was to tell Aaron get something out, I guess. So I guess something similar, yeah. Get something out.

Transcript of Interview of Congressman Ben Ray Lujan 29 Conducted on March 2, 2017 1 And Boulder Strategies would send that 0. 2 out? Boulder -- again, Boulder -- so I think 3 4 the way that you started the questioning was asking who the consultant was. The consultant that was 5 hired to do online work was Boulder Strategies. 6 7 ο. Okav. Boulder Strategies sent E-mails out, 8 9 whether it was petitions or it was online 10 solicitations or anything like that. So Boulder Strategies is the group that would send things out 11 12 or not send things out. 13 Okay, okay. 14 Often times the reason they're not doing work any more is because they wouldn't send things 16 out as well. But it was up to Boulder Strategies. 17 I think you and I are on the same page, I 18 think I understand you. So let me just run through 19 it again. 20 You sent it to Aaron with the idea that 21 Aaron would send this to the people who get E-mails 22 out, Boulder Strategies?

A. With the idea that at least Aaron would talk to them about something. Like I said, sometimes they, Boulder Strategies, would send something out, sometimes they wouldn't.

But the idea here was to get something to Aaron, say talk to them and say I guess in this case, it was get something out.

Q. Now, I've gone through the technical part.

Now we're just getting to the why.

Why did you want to send out a message at this point?

A. Well, you know, Michelle, I think, had a good idea here to say she wanted to create some attention that whatever -- all the work that people were doing, and lend your voice to say, sign a petition and say, let us vote.

I -- you know, there's petitions that you send out to folks that say, we just need your voice to be heard. This wasn't a solicitation for money, that was in this E-mail at all.

And so I think there's different tools. Like I said earlier, Boulder Strategies would either send petitions out or they would send direct asks for contributions for money.

This was a request from Michelle to people to say lend your voice, sign a petition. And I thought that was a good idea, so that's what I said, is get something out. And it was my hope that we could get something out that would ask people to lend their voices.

- Q. Now, was Aaron to understand the distinction between sending out an E-mail that is a solicitation for a petition versus solicitation for a campaign contribution?
- A. I don't know. The E-mail, you can see it for yourself, it's a -- this doesn't ask for money.

 And when I said, get something out, right, it's -- I'm -- do you want me to read this into the record or --
- Q. It's in the record when I --
 - A. I think that's what this says, is get something out. So it's -- I don't know that it's up to Aaron to make a decision of whether something is a petition or if it's an online solicitation for money. That's what Boulder Strategies was hired to do and that's their job.

- Q. So Boulder Strategies makes the distinction between whether or not it's going to be a solicitation for campaign contribution or solicitation for petition?
- A. Boulder Strategies was hired to come up with an online strategy and presence for online programs, whether it was for money or if it was for petitions.

And so Boulder, it's my understanding, would create different E-mails depending on what they thought would work and what wouldn't work in reaching out to the community, and not only educating them through petitions or asking them to lend their voices, or if they would send an online solicitation. But Boulder would do that, that's my belief.

Q. So it was your belief that once your campaign communicated with Boulder, it would be either a campaign solicitation, or an E-mail petition solicitation, but it could be either/or

1 the moment they were notified by your campaign? 2 I believe so. You know, whether someone's 3 asking Boulder for a petition or for an online 4 solicitation, they're the experts. And I think that Boulder Strategies should 5 6 know what strategy they're deploying based on their 7 practices and why they do the work they do. 8 And did Aaron respond to this E-mail? 9 Α. No. 10 Q. How do you know? I mean, just --11 Because you all had me do a search to see 12 if there were any E-mails. And, you know, in the 13 timeframe that you sent me, that's what I found. 14 Do you think you had any conversations 15 with Aaron at this time about the request to get 16 something out? 17 I don't remember that I did. 18 MR. SVOBODA: And at this time, you mean 19 the 22nd? 20 MR. PAYNE: That's correct, the 22nd 2016.

So, you know, I 1.3 was in and out of the Capitol quite a bit. I don't 14 remember exactly where I was when I sent it. 15 Is it possible that you sent it while you were within the House, Capitol Building? 16 17 I think anything's -- it's possible, but I 18 was -- like I said, depending on where I was moving 19 to or moving from. 36 1 Α. Okay. 2 Q. Thank you for your patience. 3 No, sir. 4 Instead showing you document Bates-stamped 5 THRL 0036 through 0038. 6 Feel free to read the entire E-mail, but I 7 want to ask you about the draft E-mail from Ben Ray 8 Lujan to friends at the bottom. 9 Okay. 10 Okay. So the first sentence of the E-mail 11 from Ben Ray Lujan says, today I joined countless 12 colleagues on the House floor to demand action that 13 will make our country safer. 14 What was your role in that language being 15 in that E-mail? 16 Α. None. 17 Did you review this language before it was sent? 18 19 Α. No. 20 Q. Did you approve the language? 21 Α. No. 22 Did you instruct anyone to include that

1 language? 2 Α. No. 3 And when did you first see that this 4 E-mail had been sent? 5 Α. I couldn't even tell you. 6 Do you receive the E-mails that are sent 7 from your campaign similar to the way you received 8 them from other members of Congress? 9 So I sometimes do. That's a -- one of the 10 questions that I had, is sometimes it seemed that I 11 would receive E-mails and other times I would hear 12 from supporters that they received an E-mail, and I 13 would go check my inbox and I wouldn't see it. 14 MR. SVOBODA: Perhaps you were spam 15 blocking yourself. 16 Whatever was happening. 17 So you don't recall whether or not you saw 18 this while you were still participating in the 19 sit-in? 20 Α. Uh-uh. 21 Q. Now, this was sent, it seems, in the evening of Wednesday June 22nd, 2016, which is 22

1 after you sent the request to Aaron to get 2 something out. 3 Is it your understanding that you saying 4 get something out led to this E-mail being sent 5 later in the evening? 6 A. It could be. I don't know what Boulder 7 Strategies was doing or not doing, if they were 8 already putting E-mails together for their clients 9 or not putting together E-mails for their clients. 10 Let me now look at that second document 11 that I gave you. 12 0041? Α. 13 That's correct. 0. 14 Okay. 15 Q. Again, feel free to read the entire 16 document, but I wanted to draw your attention to 17 the Ben Ray Lujan for Congress E-mail. 18 Okay. 19 Q. What was your role in drafting -- well, I 20 should -- let me rephrase it. 21 What is your exact role in this E-mail 22 being sent?

| BY MS. EISNER: |
| Q. So after that conversation with Aaron, was |
| there any effect on the relationship with Boulder | or with your campaign staff with regards to E-mails of this nature?

A. I think Aaron said he called Boulder and asked, you know, what they sent out because of maybe the article, something like that. And there were a lot of questions as to what Boulder did and making sure that they follow all the rules associated with citing information.

And I believe Boulder assured Aaron that there was -- and so this is, again, me getting it third-hand, right? Assured Aaron that this was a photo that was taken from a news website or a television station or something, a print media folks. And I don't know what other follow-up there was after that.

MS. EISNER: That's all I have.

MR. PAYNE: Well, Congressman, thank you so much. If there's anything that I didn't cover, anything that you believe may clarify something, let me know now and we can share it with board.

CONGRESSMAN LUJAN: It seemed pretty thorough. I don't know. Is there anything else?

From: Michelle Ligen Gildham -Date: June 22, 2016 at 3:00:59 PM EDT To: Bent Ligen -Subject: Update: House Dems are staging a sit-in Rank-To: B

Dear Ben,

I'm literally on the House floor with dozens of my Democratic colleagues to demand a vote on the "No fly, no buy" gun safety bill.

It is time to deal with the gun spidemic in this country. If you are on the "no-fly" list, you should not be allowed to buy a gun. Period.

But Speaker Paul Ryan has refused to let us vote on this issue before we break for our planned recess. We aren't leaving until he does. House Democrats have had enough — we are tired of being silenced by some Republicans and the NRA.

If you think the House recess can wait, add your name to this petition and tell Speaker Ryan — LET US VOTE.

Sincerely

Michelle Lujan Grisham U.S. Congresswoman

PAYNE: How long have you been 5 employed there? 6 I've been employed there 7 since January of 2015. 8 MR. PAYNE: And were you ever employed 9 with Representative Luján's congressional office? 10 Yes, I was. 11 MR. PAYNE: And when was that? 12 : My last date of employment 13 there was in 2000 -- 2012 or 2013. After I worked 14 in his office I went over to the US Department of 15 Commerce and I worked in the Office of Legislative 16 and Intergovernmental Affairs there before going to 17 the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee. 18 MR. PAYNE: And you said you ended 19 employment with Representative Luján in 2012. 20 About how long were you employed with his 21 congressional office?

I had a few different tiles. I started off as a legislative correspondent, and I made my way up to a legislative assistant by the time that I was finished in his office.

MR. PAYNE: Okay. Have you ever been employed with Representative Luján's campaign committee?

E Yes. In 2008, 2007 and 2008 I worked on his first campaign for Congress. I was a political director for his campaign, and then in 2009 before the 2010 reelect campaign I took a leave of absence from my job on the Hill, and I went back to New Mexico for several months to work on his first reelection campaign. I was the campaign manager, and then after the campaign was over I came back after my leave of absence, and I began working in the congressional office again.

1 MR. PAYNE: Okay. Do you currently 2 provide any services to Representative Luján's 3 campaign committee? : I mean I'm in touch with 4 5 the individuals who work on his political work back 6 in New Mexico. I'm more of a volunteer capacity. 7 I'm not paid by the campaign, but, you know, I've 8 worked with the Congressman for many, many years. 9 I'm from New Mexico. I've done politics in New 10 Mexico, and I'll often give my advice on just what 11 I think might be good ideas or, you know, things 12 to, to look at in further detail, but I do that 13 with a number of different campaigns as well in my 14 role at the Campaign Committee. 15 MR. PAYNE: So can you walk me through 16 the type of work that you currently provide to the 17 campaign? I know you say it's on a volunteer 18 basis, but can you give more details besides just 19 the types? 20 Sure. If anybody who is 21 involved in his political campaign might have a 22 question about who somebody is or, you know, if

| 1 | there's an issue happening in New Mexico that I |
|----|---|
| 2 | might be familiar with, they might give me a call |
| 3 | and I might provide advice to them on, you know, |
| 4 | how they should who they should talk to, how |
| 5 | they might be able to handle any given issue given |
| 6 | the circumstances, things of that nature, because, |
| 7 | again, I am from New Mexico, and I've worked in New |
| 8 | Mexico politics. Even before I worked for |
| 9 | Congressman Luján I had worked in New Mexico |
| 10 | politics for about four or five years before I |
| 11 | worked for him. So I have a good lay of the land, |
| 12 | and sometimes the people that worked on his |
| 13 | campaign side will just ask me questions. |
| 14 | MR. PAYNE: Okay. |
| 15 | : And, you know, they know |
| 16 | that they can call me in the evenings or whatever |
| 17 | like, you know, when I'm around to ask me |
| 18 | questions. |
| 19 | MR. PAYNE: You mentioned people who work |
| 20 | on his campaign. Who were those people who contact |
| 21 | you? |
| 22 | : Mm-hmm. So currently he | has two people working on his campaign that are in the role of finance, finance consultants, and that would be Steve Fitzer who is his primary finance consultant. He does work in both Washington, DC and New Mexico, and then there's another individual that works for Steve Fitzer and his name is Sean Marcus, and he does primarily work in New Mexico.

MR. PAYNE: Do you do any work related to sending out campaign e-mails for Representative Luján's campaign?

providing ideas or reviewing any sort of content that is sent out by the Congressman's e-mail program simply because, you know, there are nuanced ways to talk about certain issues especially if you're trying to communicate to grassroots supporters and things of that nature, and so like every now and again, if I get an opportunity, I'll sort of scan the e-mail to say, oh, this looks good or, you know, you know, say this maybe a different way or, you know, if there are any flags that I might raise regarding an e-mail or something like that, I will, but it's not a consistent thing.

It's kind of just like on a case-by-case basis just depending on whether or not I have time during the day, you know, like if I'm, you know, I've got an extra minute or two here or there and, and I have time to look at things.

Sometimes, you know, like especially last

Sometimes, you know, like especially last year, I will help, like if there's a conference call with the campaign staff because last year the Congressman had basically a fully operating campaign with a campaign manager and their finance consultants and Boulder Strategies who was the main e-mail, e-mail program consultant, if there are, like, conference calls or anything like that that are scheduled for any time during the week, I'll participate in those conference calls just depending on what's going on during the week.

I'm just kind of like a volunteer; like I'll listen you know, clarification or provide ideas sometimes, but it's the primary function of the other individuals to, like, execute whatever we talked about on the phone calls. So, for example, if it's finance related, it's Steve Fitzer; if it's e-mail related, it's -- it was Boulder Strategies; if it's like field or anything related, it's whoever the campaign manager is at any given point in time, but I'll just sort of like participate in an advisory role, but I'm basically a volunteer. MR. PAYNE: What was your role with Boulder Strategies? You mentioned them. How often would you interact with Boulder Strategies? : I interacted with them quite a bit I would say, especially in the beginning of their time as Congressman Luján's e-mail consultants, especially because that was a time when they were trying to get to know the Congressman and, you know, create content that was maybe in his voice, if you will, the way he would say things or the way that, you know, certain pictures looked or things of that nature, the

| formatting of the e-mails, that kind of stuff, | | |
|---|--|--|
| because they wanted to do right by him. So I would | | |
| talk to them quite frequently to kind of just give | | |
| them advice on what I thought would, would be a | | |
| good way for them to approach any given project or | | |
| creating content and things of that nature. Simply | | |
| because I had worked for the Congressman for so | | |
| many years, I had worked on his campaign, you know, | | |
| I had a lot of experience with being in New Mexico | | |
| and doing politics in New Mexico, and so that was | | |
| basically the advice that I gave him. | | |
| MR. PAYNE: Now, when was this? You said | | |
| it was when they first came on, but when was that | | |
| time period? | | |
| : It was the majority I'm | | |
| saying the majority of my interaction with them was | | |
| when they first started, that was very frequent. | | |
| MR. PAYNE: When did they first start? | | |
| : Let me think. I don't | | |
| remember if it was late 2015 or early 2016, but at | | |
| some point in early 2016 I know that they were | | |
| fully on board, and that's when they reached out to | | |

| 1 | me for advice and |
|----|---|
| 2 | MR. PAYNE: Were you involved in the |
| 3 | hiring of Boulder Strategies? |
| 4 | : I was involved in their |
| 5 | interview, but I didn't, like, make the decision to |
| 6 | hire them. There were a number of different |
| 7 | companies that came to pitch Congressman Luján on |
| 8 | what services they could offer in terms of an |
| 9 | e-mail program, and I was sitting in on those |
| 10 | interviews just to hear what they had to say |
| 11 | because, like I said, you know, I would offer |
| 12 | advice to Congressman Luján's campaign, you know, |
| 13 | anybody that was involved in his political side |
| 14 | like Steve Fitzer and others. Steve Fitzer was |
| 15 | also in those interviews as well, but I didn't make |
| 16 | the decision to hire Boulder, but I was involved in |
| 17 | those interviews. |
| 18 | MS. EISNER: Who invited you to |
| 19 | participate in the interviews? |
| 20 | : I sort of invited myself. |
| 21 | I mean I knew that sort of there was an open door |
| 22 | for me to participate in Congressman Luján's |

campaign because I had done it for many years, and it was something that I kind of just took upon myself to go and sit in on those interviews because I wanted to be in the loop, especially if somebody had asked me a question or anything of that nature, especially if they asked me a question about New Mexico. So I knew that, like, it was an open invitation. I didn't have to, like, ask for permission, or nobody had to ask me to be involved in that at all. MR. PAYNE: Did you have anything else? MS. EISNER: You can go ahead. MR. PAYNE: So in the very beginning which you think may have been some point early 2016 were you the main point of contact for Boulder Strategies with respect to the campaign for Representative Luján? I -- I was probably one of their main contacts simply because they were asking me their opinion on how they should approach the

e-mail program and, you know, how widespread e-mail use is in New Mexico and that kind of stuff just because I had worked on campaigns before and I kind of just know that information from my work on campaigns, but I would say in addition to me another one of their primary contacts was Steve Fitzer because Steve Fitzer oversees all of the finance operations, and included in that would be e-mail fundraising as well. So, so part of the e-mail program obviously sometimes is asking for campaign donations through e-mail, and because that had a financial component Steve Fitzer would be the one to be the main contact for anything related to that.

MR. PAYNE: Okay. So then you would work on helping them draft the e-mails? And let me be more specific. You would help Boulder Strategies in its very beginning know the voice and know how to draft the campaign e-mails that they would send; is that correct?

: Yeah, sometimes.

MR. PAYNE: Would you also approve any solicitation, an e-mail solicitation that Boulder Strategies would send on behalf of the campaign?

So, so I wouldn't say approved because I wasn't, like, the end-all be-all voice of, like, who was in charge of the e-mail program. There were several people that Boulder wanted to just keep in the loop consistently about what they're sending, and so we had this sort of like piecemeal system where, you know, we always knew that, that I would be on an e-mail before it went out. They would share the content with an e-mail before it went out with a number of individuals, and, and Steve Fitzer and myself sort of like took it upon ourselves to be like, yeah, we'll take a look and say, like, we're good with this or maybe we should change a line here. I often line edited e-mails because, you know, it didn't sound right or, you know, there were things that were in the e-mails that concerned me. For example, like there was a point in time early on when Boulder was drafting content where they were like using e-mail, or they were using pictures from the Internet and pasting them in the body of the e-mail without citing them properly. So naturally that was like a big red flag for me, and I said any time you use a picture or anything -- it doesn't matter if it's, like, a picture of a sunset or a picture of anything -- like, you have to cite it because if, if somebody's picture or intellectual property is captured in one of our campaign e-mails, it's going to be a problem especially if we don't cite where it comes from.

So things like that, yes, absolutely I would be involved in helping them figure out

So things like that, yes, absolutely I would be involved in helping them figure out before, you know, they sent an e-mail out or something like that as it related to the content of the e-mail.

MR. PAYNE: How about when the decision was made to even send out campaign e-mails? How did that -- how would those typically start?

started sort of big picture with a calendar. So Boulder Strategies was in charge of creating a calendar of e-mails that would go out every month, and their expertise was how to sort of create the best possible structure for the calendar and then creating the content therein that would follow the calendar, and that calendar was sort of based on like current events, like what was in the news cycle, you know, sort of anything that was relevant to Congressman Luján's district back home, you know, like New Mexico's birthday or, you know, anything like that that would go into delivering a message to show that Congressman Luján was, you know, very much had his pulse back in New Mexico but has his pulse on current events across the country, and so a yearly calendar would get formulated, and then from there a quarterly and a monthly calendar would get formulated, and just depending, like, if anything popped in the news cycle, like sometimes that would influence whether Boulder or not created content and stuff like that. So they also had their ear to the ground when it came to that kind of stuff, but that's basically how the process worked, and then, you know, they would, you know, go back with their writers, or I don't know if they had writers or however they did it, and come back to that e-mail chain that I described earlier where we would provide our 1 2 feedback with whatever they had created on any given day or any given week based on what was going 3 4 on or what they had planned in the calendar, 5 anything lining that. MR. PAYNE: Okay. And would you ever 6 7 initiate campaign e-mails such that, you know, you speak to them and you instruct them to draft 8 9 something or you --10 : Yeah. Sometimes if I --MR. | 1 | MR. PAYNE: You mentioned your role with |

| 2 | the solicitations and Steve's role and Boulder |
| 3 | Strategies. What was the role of Representative |
| 4 | Luján with these e-mails? |
| 5 | : Well, first I want to |
| 6 | clarify. It wasn't just solicitations. It was |
| 7 | it was just content delivery as well. Like that |
| 8 | was it was like an all-encompassing program, |
| 9 | right. It was thanking people for being engaged. |
| 10 | It was sharing current events, and then sometimes |
| 11 | there would be a solicitation for support for the |
| 12 | Congressman's campaign. So it wasn't just that. |
| 13 | MR. PAYNE: Okay. |
| 14 | : And then can you repeat |
| 15 | your question again? |
| 16 | MR. PAYNE: Well, let me just |
| 17 | : I wanted to clarify that |
| 18 | point though. |
| 19 | MR. PAYNE: I'm glad you did. So how |
| 20 | would you decide whether or not the e-mail was |
| 21 | going to be one of these categories, that is a |
| 22 | thank-you versus a current event versus a campaign |

1 solicitation? 2 : Well, Boulder would decide 3 because they had a technology called HubSpot that 4 basically they would like message test things, and they did this for all their clients, right. So we 5 6 weren't the only client that they had. They had a 7 number of different congressional clients and 8 corporate clients and organizations and things that 9 they do e-mail communications for, and from 10 whatever technology that they had they could decide-11 like, wow, people are really paying attention to, 12 like, you know, this issue or that issue or 13 whatever. So we never really knew what they were 14 going to say we should fundraise off of. It was 15 based on their recommendation as to what was 16 getting the most clicks. That's how they described 17 it; you know, this is getting a lot of clicks from 18 our other clients, or this is getting a lot of 19 clicks from what we're seeing out there through our 20 technology HubSpot, and then they wouldn't even 21 necessarily ask for our permission to say, like, 22 hey, we want to do a fundraising e-mail on this.

They would write the content. It was kind of like a known fact that if an e-mail came across for our, for us to kind of look at, that if it had a solicitation within it that they had already identified that that was a subject matter via this technology HubSpot, that could potentially yield a good amount of campaign donations online. MR. PAYNE: Were there ever occasions where you instructed Boulder Strategies to include the solicitation in an e-mail? : I can't remember specifically, but I would probably say yes. MR. PAYNE: And then what would you base it on? So if they're basing the decision on clicks --I kind of just based it on like a gut feeling. Like if something was, like, in the news cycle for several days, then I would probably say, oh, hey, this might be a good idea for a fundraising e-mail. There were many times when they came back and they're, like, no, that's not a good idea; but I kind of just based it off of sort of my own political pulse, if you will, of what I thought activists and voters and people were paying attention to at the time.

MR. PAYNE: Now going back to the original question which was Representative Luján's involvement. So what was his involvement in these type of e-mails where they are solicitations or the other categories that you described?

e-mails or say, like, this is something I want to send out or anything like that. The majority of his feedback came sort of after the fact, and also he, for whatever reason, subscribes to a lot of other members of Congress and organizations' e-mail lists as well, and he would say sort of like after the fact, so, so I'll take our e-mail program, for example, if, if Boulder Strategies had created the content based on the calendar and all the other things and HubSpot and everything and they decided that we wanted to send an e-mail out about climate change, and then, you know, I might get an opportunity to review it and say I'm good with this, and Steve Fitzer might get an opportunity to review it and say he's good with it, and Boulder decides to send that e-mail out to the list. Congressman Luján would comment after the fact: I don't like how this looks. This doesn't sound like me. You know, we need to figure out a better way to talk about this issue because there are some nuances there that you're not capturing, that kind of stuff. MR. PAYNE: Nothing positive? You said it was always --: I mean if it was positive, you know, we didn't get any feedback so we felt like we were doing a good job. MR. PAYNE: Okay. : But, you know, I mean -and then there were also like, you know, plenty of times where he would maybe forward an e-mail from another list that says, oh, I think this is neat or, like, you know, we should look at this or something because he liked the way either the content looked or he liked the way that the content

1 was being talked about in the e-mail and that kind 2 of stuff. 3 MR. PAYNE: So he, in those situations 4 where he would forward something, he would send 5 that forward to you, or would he send it to someone 6 else? 7 He would more than likely 8 send it to me. 9 MR. PAYNE: And why would he send it to 10 you? 11 : Just because he and I have 12 a lot of face time, and we often talk about 13 political strategy and messaging and things of that 14 nature, right, and so he probably just felt more 15 comfortable sharing that information with me 16 knowing that, you know, if I have the opportunity, 17 I would share that and maybe with Boulder or with 18 Steve Fitzer or anybody that was involved, his 19 campaign or anything like that, as opposed to 20 having to go to too many people to share the same 21 idea. 22 MR. PAYNE: Okay. And so -- well, I want to understand, are there any times where Representative Luján would initiate an e-mail, but it sounds like you're saying in certain situations he would forward something to you, and that would start an e-mail that Boulder Strategies would send?

No, not necessarily, because I think almost all of the time Boulder was already working on creating maybe the e-mail that he said, oh, hey, this looks neat, like a neat idea or whatever, right. So if it was a question about formatting or not capturing his voice properly or not talking about an issue in the way that he wanted to talk about the issue or whatever's happening, current events, that kind of stuff, that sometimes is direct feedback that I would share with Boulder, but in terms of, like, the actual idea for a subject matter or things of that nature, more often than not I would never even tell Boulder, like, hey, Congressman Luján really likes this, this e-mail from so-and-so simply because I already knew that Boulder was already working on something because of the calendar that they, because on the calendar that they had created, the weekly calendar, monthly calendar, all that kind of stuff.

MR. PAYNE: But did he ever just say, I need a particular e-mail sent out? So not necessarily something that falls into this category you described him forwarding, but he would communicate to you, I need e-mail to go out on a particular subject or whatever?

No, no. I was never directed specifically by him to send an e-mail out on a specific subject.

MR. PAYNE: Was anyone from the Congressional Office involved in the solicitations or the e-mails? I should -- let me -- you made a good point of how you distinguish the e-mails, so let me just speak broadly. In terms of those e-mails that were sent by Boulder Strategies, during the time period that you were working with them last year 2016, were people from the Congressional Office involved in reviewing those or any type of approval?

MR. SVOBODA: And Kedric, would you distinguish between in their official capacity or volunteer capacity or either? I mean how are -help me to understand, to follow that. MR. PAYNE: Well, sure. So answer that part, and I can distinguish it that way. Okay. Or I can just describe it how I understood it to be, the situation to be. MR. PAYNE: Okay, mm-hmm. : For the sake of keeping people in the loop, knowing that both Steve Fitzer and I were the individuals that were most of the time involved in either taking a look at the e-mail or anything like that, Boulder Strategies added the e-mail addresses of Angela Ramirez, the personal e-mail addresses of Angela Ramirez and Andrew Stoddard to the e-mail chain generally, but that was just to keep them in the loop so that when they was happening, but in terms of approvals, no. They were on those e-mail chains simply to know what was in the loop and, if they felt necessary, provide any type of feedback that they wanted to give given the, you know, the time when they had personal time during the day or, you know, whatever they were doing. I mean I don't know where they were or, you know; I'm sure that they kept track of their own personal time and all that kind of stuff, but it was simply to keep them in the loop on what was happening on any given day. MR. PAYNE: Okay. And you mentioned that you have face time with the member. : Mm-hmm. MR. PAYNE: When did this face time typically occur? It occurred between drives between, between his office in the DCCC. So, you know, he has a car and a driver, and I would wait for him outside the Congressional Office and, you know, if he was on the way or something, I'd come and jump in the car and chat with him for five or ten minutes, and then he does keep office hours at the DCCC several times a day. So in those time blocks I would get, you know, 15 or 20 minutes with him most days.

Sometimes on Fridays I would drive him to the airport from his home just to get a little bit of extra time to talk with him, and then there were several occasions last year through my duties at the DCCC that we actually traveled together on long trips to California and other places, so that gave us plenty of time to talk in an airplane or in a car or anything like that. So those were the times when we would discuss his campaign. Those were the times when we would discuss different ideas, things of that nature, or I would keep him updated on what was going on, that kind of stuff.

MR. PAYNE: Okay. I want to now specifically talk about the sit-in demonstration that happened around June 22nd, 2016.

: Mm-hmm.

 $$\operatorname{MR}.$$ PAYNE: And do you remember that sit-in demonstration on the Hill?

1 : I do. 2 MR. PAYNE: Okay. And do you recall that 3 Representative Luján's campaign sent out e-mails related to the sit-in? 4 5 : I do. 6 MR. PAYNE: And do you recall how many 7 e-mails were sent out? 8 : Oh, I don't. I don't re-9 -- I mean two. 10 MR. PAYNE: Okay. 11 : But it was actually not 12 related to the sit-in because the sit-in was 13 prompted by this whole no fly-no buy because of the 14 Orlando shooting. That was the sort of impetus of 15 the e-mails, right, and so when I mentioned current 16 events or things that were happening in the country 17 or, you know, issues that are important to 18 constituents or things of that nature, the Orlando 19 shooting was what prompted a bunch of e-mail action 20 during that time. 21 MR. PAYNE: Okay. I want to show you I 22 think one of the e-mails that you're referring Transcript of Interview of Conducted on March 1, 2017 33 1 About this e-mail? 2 MR. PAYNE: Right. 3 Yeah, totally. 4 MR. PAYNE: And what was your role in 5 this e-mail? 6 So if I remember 7 correctly, before this e-mail was drafted Boulder 8 Strategies sent out their ideas for the week or 9 whatever they did, and, and somewhere in the 10 conversation because the Orlando shooting had 11 happened I think it was on a Saturday night, 12 Saturday or Sunday -- it was during the weekend, 13 right -- so everything for that week was sort of surrounding this, this topic, and, and then Boulder 14 15 Strategies just went to work and, and started 16 drafting e-mails based on what was happening 17 surrounding the Orlando shooting. 18 The -- the idea for the, for the no fly-19 no buy concept or whatever, that was what Boulder 20 had come up with, and then they sent this e-mail 21 around for approval at that time.

: I don't remember, but it came -- it would -- it used to come in the form of, like, a content calendar or content for the week, whatever, that was going to happen, and so when this happened, obviously all of that changed ${\ \ }^{<}$ because it was a current event that was a hot topic especially amongst people in New Mexico and around the country, and I believe Boulder wanted to capitalize on that. So they decided to, to start drafting the content, and it was actually kind of assumed -- when they sent us this for approval or for, you know, to look at or whatever, they called it approval, but basically it was like if Aaron or Steve Fitzer can take a look at these, that's great; if not, they're going to, like, move forward anyway, and if something was wrong with the e-mail or whatever, they'd just, like, blame it on us and say you didn't approve it or you didn't look at it or whatever, but yeah, I mean I think it was just sort of assumed that because that was happening, given the nature of, like, how e-mail programs work, like, there's this underlying assumption about e-mail programs, right, and it's, like, you plan as much as you can, but if a big topic happens or something or something happens in the press or whatever and there's an opportunity to communicate with your supporters or grassroots voters or anything like that, then you take what's in the news cycle and you try to add additional information or your way of talking about the issue or whatever the case may be. And so given that common understanding, when Boulder had presented this to us, even if it did deviate from whatever the proposed calendar had been, we were kind of just, like, okay, you know, this is the direction they want to go because they have that technology HubSpot and they have other congressional clients who are probably also talking about the same thing, and there were many other members of Congress talking about this issue and organizations and the news and everything like that. So it was, like, a common understanding that, yeah, obviously they're going to draft an e-mail about this because if, if they were to send out an e-mail from Congressman Luján's account saying like, oh, how great are puppies, you know, like, they would sound tone deaf to everything that's going on, so, and then, you know, once you start an e-mail program the people who receive your e-mails expect to get an e-mail from you especially if there's like something big happening, right, at that particular point in time, right. So Boulder Strategies was well aware of that, and that was the reason that they started to generate this type of content because the news cycle was completely filled by this subject matter. MR. PAYNE: So after they generated this and sent it to you what did you do with this e-mail or with this draft I should say? : I don't remember, but I probably looked at it, and I -- I don't know. I might have said, hey, I'm good with this; this looks good or, you know, I might have made some

| 1 | line edits, but that's what I would do, you know, |
|----|--|
| 2 | in e-mails that I was sent if I had time. |
| 3 | MR. PAYNE: The first sentence here says, |
| 4 | "Today I join countless colleagues on the House |
| 5 | floor to demand action that will make our country |
| 6 | safer." |
| 7 | : Mm-hmm. |
| 8 | MR. PAYNE: Did you have any role in |
| 9 | drafting that language? |
| 10 | : No. I didn't draft that |
| 11 | language. That was Boulder Strategies, and I don't |
| 12 | know, that I didn't draft that language, but, |
| 13 | like, at the time, if you remember the news |
| 14 | coverage from that time, it was like 24/7 of |
| 15 | basically this debate on the floor. So I think |
| 16 | that that's why Boulder Strategies wrote that. |
| 17 | That's just an assumption. |
| 18 | MR. PAYNE: Did you have any |
| 19 | communication with Representative Luján concerning |
| 20 | an e-mail related to this sit-in? |
| 21 | : No, not about the sit-in, |
| 22 | but this is different from the sit-in. This is the |

38

1 bill. 2 MR. PAYNE: Okay. Did you have any 3 communications with Representative Luján concerning 4 this e-mail? 5 : No, not that I recall. 6 Maybe he -- I mean he -- I think he forwarded an 7 e-mail that he thought was, like, a good idea or 8 something that, like, he liked, the way that they 9 were talking about the, about the, the subject 10 matter, but like I said before, when it came to 11 Boulder Strategies' role in this, you know, a 12 hundred times out of a hundred they were already 13 like drafting e-mails about what the subject matter 14 that the Congressman might have said, oh, this 15 looks like a neat idea or something like that. 16 Like they were already on it. So that's not 17 necessarily even an idea I would have gone back to 1.8 even tell Boulder, like, hey, this is what the 19 Congressman wants to say because I never did that. It was just because I knew that Boulder was already 20 21 sort of on the case based on what they were, what 22 they were drafting and what was being sent around by other members of Congress and all that kind of stuff, right, to prevent that the, the optics of being tone deaf on what's going on around the country. I knew that they were professional enough to know that they better be focusing on this because everyone else was.

MR. PAYNE: Okay. And let me make sure I follow it. So in the first sentence it talks about today I joined countless colleagues on the House floor. You're saying that does not refer to the sit-in?

I don't think so. I think it refers to this bill because at the time, and again, I'm just trying to remember this all right now, there were countless people on the floor giving speeches about gun violence in America, and that was prompted by the Orlando shooting at the time, and, and so, yeah, members were on the floor or at the time talking about gun violence.

MR. PAYNE: Can you turn to the second page, and this may refresh your recollection. In the next-to-the-last sentence, paragraph I should

| 1 | say, it says, "Stand up if you support our sit-in." |
|----|---|
| 2 | : Oh. So then maybe the |
| 3 | sit-in must have started by that time. |
| 4 | MR. PAYNE: And so does that refresh your |
| 5 | recollection that this e-mail was related to the |
| 6 | sit-in as well as the no fly-no buy legislation |
| 7 | that you just mentioned? |
| 8 | : Well, to me it seems like |
| 9 | a contradictory e-mail that we screwed up because |
| 10 | it refers to two separate things, and so that just |
| 11 | means to me that, you know, as Boulder was drafting |
| 12 | stuff that they wanted to get as much content in an |
| 13 | e-mail as possible to prompt people to click on the |
| 14 | e-maíl and read it. |
| 15 | MR. PAYNE: Now, did you have any |
| 16 | discussions with Representative Luján about the |
| 17 | sit-in? |
| 18 | : Not about the sit-in. |
| 19 | MR. PAYNE: What about? |
| 20 | : Not about the sit-in. |
| 21 | MR. PAYNE: About anything else |
| 22 | : Oh, no. |

1 actually just, is something that's permanent. 2 MR. PAYNE: Such that any e-mail that 3 they send may have that "contribute" button at the 4 bottom? 5 Yeah. Like sometime -- I think it's just like one of the, like the Face book 6 7 or Twitter button, it's like something that's, 8 like -- so, for example, if the subject of an 9 e-mail is climate change is bad, you know, get 10 involved in your local community about climate 11 change, that "contribute" button is always just at 12 the bottom next to the Twitter and the Face book, 13 but if the communication is, give me five dollars 14 because today is the fifth anniversary of whatever, 15 right, that's a direct ask, that "contribute" 16 button is always there as well. So I think it's 17 just something that's permanent. I don't know. 18 You'd have to ask Boulder Strategies why they put 19 that there. I don't know. 20 MR. PAYNE: I want to show you an e-mail, 21 and the document is Bates stamp THRL0098. 22 : Mm-hmm.

| 1 | MR. PAYNE: Can you walk me through this |
|----|---|
| 2 | e-mail? It's an e-mail that is from Ben Luján to |
| 3 | you dated June 22nd. |
| 4 | : Sure. |
| 5 | MR. PAYNE: And if you could just walk me |
| 6 | through what this means. So he says to you, get |
| 7 | something out. |
| 8 | : Mm-hmm. |
| 9 | MR. PAYNE: What did that mean to you? |
| 10 | : To me that just means he |
| 11 | thought this was an idea that he liked. Like I |
| 12 | said, he would forward me e-mails from members and |
| 13 | organizations all the time because he liked the way |
| 14 | they talked about an issue or something like that, |
| 15 | and so I already, you know, at this point in time I |
| 16 | already knew that Boulder was drafting this because |
| 17 | given the subject matter of everything that was |
| 18 | happening. So it was sort of just like, hey, this |
| 19 | is a way I like to talk about the issue or |
| 20 | something like that. I would almost describe it as |
| 21 | like, you know, if you're, if you're on the |
| 22 | Internet or you're walking around or something and |

|----|---|
| 1 | you see something that's like really neat, like, |
| 2 | hey, we should do that, like, hey, we should go eat |
| 3 | there sometime or whatever. It's not a directive. |
| 4 | It's kind of just like an acknowledgement that he |
| 5. | may have liked the way that this e-mail read or |
| 6 | looked or whatever. |
| 7 | MR. PAYNE: And how did you respond when |
| 8 | he sent this that says get something out? |
| 9 | : I don't think I responded |
| 10 | at all. |
| 11 | MR. PAYNE: Is it common for you not to |
| 12 | respond when the Congressman sends you an e-mail? |
| 13 | : Sometimes, yeah. |
| 14 | MR. PAYNE: And when you say that they |
| 15 | were already working on something, it was your |
| 16 | understanding that they were working on e-mail |
| 17 | about the no fly-no buy legislation? |
| 18 | : No. It was my |
| 19 | understanding that they were working on e-mails |
| 20 | surrounding gun violence in America, that the |
| 21 | specific subject matter, you know, while obviously |
| 22 | the coverage of the House floor probably had a lot |

to do to influence it and all that kind of stuff, it was the Orlando shooting that had started the whole new shift in communications from the e-mail program.

So they could have general -- you know, I don't know what the time is on this, but if I remember correctly from what happened that week, everyone knew that all of the Democrats were going to be talking about gun violence in America because up to that point there had been so many things that had happened with regard to gun violence that the Orlando shooting shined a spotlight on gun violence generally, and obviously that's a hot topic of debate, and CNN was covering this, this no fly-no buy bill, but that was sort of a more specific subject matter of the larger subject of gun violence as a whole in America.

So when, when I received this e-mail message from Congressman Luján, I took it to mean, oh, he thought this was a good way to talk about gun violence or something to his grassroots e-mail list knowing that because Boulder Strategies was a

| 1. | firm in charge of our e-mail program and knowing |
|----|--|
| 2 | that they're not tone deaf that they were probably |
| 3 | already drafting something regarding guns; it just |
| 4 | happened to be the no fly-no buy bill. |
| 5 | MR. PAYNE: Okay. And can you read the |
| 6 | subject line of this e-mail that was forwarded to |
| 7 | you |
| 8 | : Oh, this one. Okay. |
| 9 | MR. PAYNE: the subject line from |
| 10 | : Subject. Update: House |
| 11 | Dems are staging sit-in. |
| 12 | MR. PAYNE: Okay. And then what was the |
| 13 | sit-in? |
| 14 | : Well, first, that was |
| 15 | probably the subject line of this e-mail that was |
| 16 | sent out by Michelle Luján Grisham, not the subject |
| 17 | line that Congressman Luján typed in the subject |
| 18 | box. |
| 19 | MR. PAYNE: Okay. And does that subject |
| 20 | say anything about gun violence? |
| 21 | : No. |

I think he was just forwarding me this e-mail which the subject of this e-mail, and I don't know who Michelle Luján Grisham's online consultant is or whatever, is update: House are staging a sit-in, and I don't think that was a signal to me at all. What I think the Congressman was trying to convey was the fact that a member had sent out an e-mail regarding gun violence. The specific issue in this e-mail was no fly-no buy, but the fact that all of this stuff was happening on the House floor and people were trying to sort of capture the greater subject matter of qun violence and, and regulation on keeping guns out of the hands of people that don't have guns as a general subject matter, that that's what he was trying to convey by forwarding

| 13 | e-mail that they sent? |
| 14 | : So like I said before, |
| 15 | Boulder Strategies has many clients including other |
| 16 | members of Congress. In addition to that the way |
| 17 | that the e-mail communication consultant world |
| 18 | works, just like many other consulting practices in |
| 19 | different industries, is that people tend to start |
| 20 | speaking the same language. Like there's sort of |
| 21 | group think, if you will, in terms of like what to |
| 22 | talk about and what the hot topic issue is of the | time period or anything like that. So I knew given my previous work with Boulder that they were probably already drafting material based on what was happening in the news cycle, and what was happening in the news cycle was first Orlando, then whatever was happening on the house floor, and then all of a sudden the sit-in started popping up on the TV, right, and people were, like, live streaming and doing all that kind of stuff, and I knew that they were paying attention. So that's probably how that got into these e-mails. MR. PAYNE: I'm just thinking back to what you said where you're the main point of contact at this time period for Boulder Strategies. No. I said early on I was the main point of contact. MR. PAYNE: And you said that was in 2016. The early 2016, like in March or in April of 2016. I would have more regular conversations with Boulder at that time than at this time because at this time they had already been doing Congressman Luján's e-mail program for several months. So I didn't need to speak with them frequently. I was concentrating on other things. I would, you know, if I got a chance, review any of the e-mails. Like if there was a hot topic or something, I might suggest, you know, hey, we should try to do something with this or whatever, but I wasn't necessarily their main point of contact. Like they did -- they did pay attention if I gave feedback for sure, absolutely, because they knew that, like, I had been involved in New Mexico politics, and I had worked on the Chairman's campaign once upon a time and that kind of stuff. MS. EISNER: So who was the main point of contact then on June 22nd, 2016? I don't know. Steve Fitzer perhaps. MS. EISNER: So --: I don't necessarily know if there was -- sadly enough to say, I don't even know if there was a main contact for Boulder because, like, they had been hired to do this e-mail program, and they would keep everyone in the loop by showing us content and showing us calendars and things of that nature, but there was never a designated main point of contact, like this is the person you always talk to.

I kind of, like I said before, when I sat in on the interviews and things of that nature regarding the Congressman's campaign or if I were to ever participate in conference calls or anything like that, I knew that I had an open door to participate in the campaign regardless, and if I found time to do that in my day, I would do it, and on particular days like this, it was a day where I was helping the campaign, so I did.

MS. EISNER: Okay. So I'm looking at this same document and, you know, the forwarded e-mail from Ben Luján is sent just to you.

: Mm-hmm.

MS. EISNER: So maybe you can help me understand, you know, why did he have the expectation that you were the individual that he

| 1 | |
|----|---|
| 1 | should e-mail as far as get something out? |
| 2 | : Hmm. Well, I mean I would |
| 3 | often be the main person he contacted for a number |
| 4 | of reasons, like if he needed to get something |
| 5 | figured out with his campaign or anything like |
| 6 | that. So this, this to me just wasn't like, oh, my |
| 7 | God, go get an e-mail out right now. It was just |
| 8 | more of him sort of like communicating with me as |
| 9 | he normally did about ideas that he had. It could |
| 10 | |
| 11 | MS. EISNER: So the |
| 12 | : be anybody. |
| 13 | MS. EISNER: get something out, who |
| 14 | would have gotten something out then? Who was he |
| 15 | expecting to get something out? |
| 16 | : Boulder Strategies |
| 17 | probably, mm-hmm. |
| 18 | MS. EISNER: So, so his expectation, and |
| 19 | correct me if I'm wrong then, is he was sending you |
| 20 | an e-mail with an expectation that you would |
| 21 | communicate to Boulder Strategies; is that correct? |
| 22 | MR. SVOBODA: Well, to be clear, you're |

Conducted on March 1, 2017 1 asking him --2 3 MR. SVOBODA: -- for his understanding --4 MS. EISNER: His understanding. 5 MR. SVOBODA: -- of what the 6 Congressman's expectations. 7 MS. EISNER: I'm asking for your 8 understanding of his expectations. 9 : No, I don't think that's 10 what he meant because, again, it comes back to a, 11 sort of like a nuanced view of like how the, how 12 the Congressman communicates with me because I've 13 worked with him for so long, right. 14 MS. EISNER: Mm-hmm. 15 : So like I said before, 16 there were many times when we would be, you know, 17 at a campaign rally or doing anything, and he would 18 be, like, oh, that's a greet idea; we should do 19 something like that. That's what I meant him to 20 say in this e-mail. I didn't -- I didn't interpret 21 this to be a directive of go right now, go to your 22 computer, write something about fly-no buy, and | then hit "send." That's not what I meant I |

| thought he meant by this, and then your question |
| about who was in charge of getting something out, |
| it was Boulder Strategies. They were in charge of |
| his entire e-mail program. They are the people who |
| physically clicked "send" with their technology |
| HubSpot or whatever they used to, like, message |
| test and see which e-mails get more clicks and less |
| clicks and how to include e-mail solicitations and |
| all that other stuff, right. They were sort of the |
| keeper of the keys when it came to that kind of |
| stuff. |
| MR. PAYNE: Are you saying you saw this |
| as an FYI, like he's sending this to you as a for |
| your information with no action that was supposed |
| to be taken on your part? |
| Yeah. |
| MR. PAYNE: And get something out to you |
| means take no action? |
| : Wait. You have to |
| understand that the Congressman and I have, have a |
| longstanding working relationship, and I know the |

| 1 | way he sort of like talks in like free, free lingo |
|-----|--|
| 2 | speak right. This was not a direct proper sentence |
| 3 | to tell me to do something. This was him just like |
| 4 | expressing that he thought this was either a good |
| 5 | way to talk about the issue, or maybe he thought |
| 6 | the e-mail looked good or something, kind of often |
| 7 | left up to my interpretation a little bit. This |
| 8 | was not a directive to go get something out. This |
| 9 | was more like, hey, we should think about doing |
| 10 | something like that. |
| 11 | MR. PAYNE: Mm-hmm. |
| 12 | MR. SVOBODA: Kedric, I know we've been |
| 13 | going for almost an hour, and I'm gathering we're |
| 14 | probably not quite to the goal line yet. |
| 15 | MR. PAYNE: We're getting close. We're |
| 16 | getting close. I'm about to move on to another |
| 17 | question. |
| 18 | MR. SVOBODA: Aaron, how are you doing? |
| 19 | Do you need water or anything? |
| 20 | : No. I've got my coffee. |
| 21 | I'm good. |
| 22 | MR. PAYNE: Yeah. Like I said, I never |
| - 1 | |

58

| 1 | intended this to take too much time. Let's move |
|----|--|
| 2 | on. Well, do you have any more questions? |
| 3 | MS. EISNER: Go ahead. |
| 4 | MR. PAYNE: I want to talk about, you |
| 5 | mentioned that there were two e-mails that were |
| 6 | sent |
| 7 | : Mm-hmm. |
| 8 | MR. PAYNE: related to this subject |
| 9 | matter. One is this one we just mentioned here. |
| 10 | What was the second one that you recall? |
| 11 | : So I recall the no fly-no |
| 12 | buy one because of this graphic. That's why I |
| 13 | recall that. |
| 14 | MR. PAYNE: Mm-hmm. |
| 15 | : And then I recall a second |
| 16 | one that was definitely during the time after the |
| 17 | sit-in, after the sit-in. |
| 18 | MR. PAYNE: Okay. And when you say |
| 19 | "after the sit-in," you mean after well, what do |
| 20 | you mean by "after the sit-in"? |
| 21 | : I mean by after the sit-in |
| 22 | because at that time, because by this time Boulder | and I were communicating, right. We're communicating through these e-mails, and everyone was watching what was happening on the House floor, and there was 24-hour coverage and everything like that, and then it was being reported that the Republicans were going to end the sit-in on CNN. So given the sake of time I, I probably communicated to Boulder Strategies like, hey, you know, the Republicans are going to end the sit-in as it's being reported; like we should probably try to get another e-mail out that just basically expresses the same sort of sentiment, because remember, the sit-in was prompted by the Orlando shooting and the string of gun violence well before the actual sit-in. That's why -- and that's what was being reported on TV, and that's what the organizers of the sit-in were saying on TV, and so given the discussion that was shown on CNN about no fly-no buy and then given what was being reported on CNN about the fact that the Republicans were going to use a rule or something of that nature to end the sit-in, then I probably told Boulder, like,

60

| 1 | hey, we should try to get something out as soon as |
|-----|---|
| 2 - | possible regarding everything that's happening. |
| 3 | MR. PAYNE: Did you have any |
| 4 | communication with Representative Luján before you |
| 5 | sent that communication to Boulder Strategies about |
| 6 | another e-mail? |
| 7 | : No. |
| 8 | MR. PAYNE: So for two days you had no |
| 9 | communication with a Representative Luján? |
| 10 | : That's correct. |
| 11 | MR. PAYNE: And at this point you're |
| 12 | directing Boulder Strategies to send out an e-mail. |
| 13 | So are you the point of contact at that point to |
| 14 | tell them what e-mail should be sent and which ones |
| 15 | should not? |
| 16 | : Mm-hmm. As I stated |
| 17 | before, they knew that I was somebody who had |
| 18 | worked on the campaign for a very long time, and I |
| 19 | probably had as good a read of anybody as to what |
| 20 | was going on or like ideas for communicating with |
| 21 | constituents or people on the e-mail or grassroots |
| 22 | people or voters or whatever. So yeah, they, they |

61

| 1 | trusted me at that particular point in time |
|----|---|
| 2 | probably as somebody that they should pay attention |
| 3 | to if I had an idea. So if you want to call that |
| 4 | the main point of contact and in the context of |
| 5 | them taking my idea and doing something with it, |
| 6 | then yeah, because it was probably my idea. |
| 7 | MR. PAYNE: And did you take part in |
| 8 | drafting that e-mail that you requested Boulder |
| 9 | Strategies to send the following day June 23rd? |
| 10 | : I didn't draft it. I, I |
| 11 | may have made some line edits. I didn't draft the |
| 12 | entire thing, and then I think I said, hey, I'm |
| 13 | good with this. |
| 14 | MR. PAYNE: Let me show you a copy of it. |
| 15 | This is a document Bates stamped THRL0041 through |
| 16 | 0044. |
| 17 | : Okay. |
| 18 | MR. SVOBODA: Aaron, you'll want to read |
| 19 | the whole thing closely. |
| 20 | : Sure. Okay. |
| 21 | MR. PAYNE: Okay. So is this the e-mail |
| 22 | that you're referring to, the second e-mail that |

Transcript of Interview of Conducted on March 1, 2017 1 was sent? 2 : Mm-hmm. 3 MR. PAYNE: And then what were your edits to it? What section did you edit? What did you 4 5 add? 6 : Oh, I don't know. 7 MR. SVOBODA: Do you recall whether you 8 edited at all? 9 : Well, no. 10 MR. PAYNE: Well, you just stated that --11 : I said I might have. I 12 said I might have, but you know --13 MS. JACOBS: Ask the court reporter to 14 read it back. 15 MR. PAYNE: That's not necessary. I just 16 -- I mean --17 MS. EISNER: I think you said you may 18 have made line edits and said, hey, I'm good with this. 19 : Mm-hmm. So I don't --20 21 MS. EISNER: Do you recall specific line 22 edits?

| 5 | MR. PAYNE: Okay. With either of these |
| 6 | e-mails, the first one, the second one, did you |
| 7 | have those conversations that you mentioned before |
| 8 | with Representative Luján following them being sent |
| 9 | out with him having any type of comments on the |
| 10 | e-mails? |
| 11 | MR. SVOBODA: During what time frame, |
| 12 | Kedric? I'm sorry. |
| 13 | MR. PAYNE: Any time frame. So, well, |
| 14 | I'll divide it. So during this time period 2016 |
| 15 | did you have any communications with Representative |
| 16 | Luján about these e-mails after they were sent? |
| 17 | 2016. |
| 18 | MR. PAYNE: Mm-hmm. |
| 19 | : The year of 2016. |

days, but some time had occurred after, after all. of this had happened, right, like, and everything was great, like, you know, we were moving forward, and then a blogger, some blog raised issue with the e-mail and said that they thought something was wrong with it, and then a news story came out about the e-mail particularly because they were raising issue with a number of things that were happening at the particular point in time. I guess there was some issues with the live streaming and other things that were happening at that particular point in time. This e-mail was mentioned in that news story. When that news story occurred, Congressman Luján obviously saw the news story and then became concerned that there might be something wrong with the e-mail. That -- I remember that specifically happening regarding, regarding this. MR. PAYNE: And what did he say? : He said, is there something wrong with the e-mail? You know, if they're -- if they're saying that there's something wrong with it, is there? Like is there something

| 1 | wrong with it? And then in addition, like, they |
|-----|---|
| 2 | knew that, like, this group that did the blog |
| 3 | before the news story was, like, a right wing group |
| 4 | that always would raise issues about anything and |
| 5 | kind of hype them up and blow things out of |
| 6 | proportion and that kind of stuff. So he but he |
| 7 | was generally concerned that something might have |
| 8- | been wrong. |
| 9 | MR. PAYNE: And what was your response |
| 10 | when he asked is something wrong with the e-mail? |
| 1.1 | : My response was, I don't |
| 12 | know. Let me go find out. |
| 13 | MR. PAYNE: And what did you find out? |
| 14 | : Well, I think |
| 15 | MR. SVOBODA: You'll want to be careful |
| 16 | here not to talk about conversations with your own |
| 17 | attorneys about that with the DCCC, but beyond that |
| 18 | I mean obviously you should answer the question. |
| 19 | : Well, specifically I, I |
| 20 | thought I read in the news story, I don't remember |
| 21 | specifically, but I thought I read in the news |
| 22 | story that they had referenced the fact that there |

| was a picture of the House floor in the e-mail, and |
|---|
| so what I did is I went back to Boulder Strategies, |
| and I asked: Where did you get this picture of the |
| House floor? And if you recall what I said early |
| on in the interview was that they were pulling |
| pictures off the Internet and putting them in |
| e-mails without properly citing them, and so I, I |
| asked: Where did you get this picture of the House |
| floor, and they said they had gotten it from a news |
| story, a CBS news story or an AP news story and |
| that they had properly cited it in the e-mail and, |
| you know, I had forgotten all about the e-mail at |
| that point, and so then I went back and looked, and |
| there was a citation on the bottom of the picture |
| that says where Boulder Strategies got the picture |
| from. |
| MR. PAYNE: And did you have any |
| conversations with Representative Luján at that |
| time in 2016 about whether there was concern with |
| the appearance that this e-mail was sent from him |
| on the House floor? |
| : No, never, because e-mails |

| 1 | are never sent from him. So, so no. We were never |
|--|---|
| 2 | concerned that people thought he was sending |
| 3 | e-mails from the House floor because he wasn't. |
| 4 | Boulder Strategies in Boulder, Colorado was in |
| 5 | charge of drafting content and physically hitting |
| 6 | "send" on their HubSpot or whatever it's called, |
| 7 | and so no, never. |
| 8 | MR. PAYNE: I want to show you another |
| 9 | e-mail, and that's Bates stamped THRL0080 through |
| 10 | 82. Feel free again to read the entire e-mail, but |
| 11 | I'm going to ask you questions about the first two |
| 12 | sentences. |
| 12 13 | sentences. |
| 13 | : Okay. |
| 13 | MR. SVOBODA: The first two sentences of |
| 13 14 15 | MR. SVOBODA: The first two sentences of Nick Passanante's e-mail or the first two sentences |
| 13 14 15 16 | MR. SVOBODA: The first two sentences of Nick Passanante's e-mail or the first two sentences of the draft e-mail that was being sent to people? |
| 13 14 15 16 | MR. SVOBODA: The first two sentences of Nick Passanante's e-mail or the first two sentences of the draft e-mail that was being sent to people? MR. PAYNE: Nick Passanante's? |
| 13 14 15 16 17 | : Okay. MR. SVOBODA: The first two sentences of Nick Passanante's e-mail or the first two sentences of the draft e-mail that was being sent to people? MR. PAYNE: Nick Passanante's? MR. SVOBODA: Got it. |
| 13 14 15 16 17 18 | : Okay. MR. SVOBODA: The first two sentences of Nick Passanante's e-mail or the first two sentences of the draft e-mail that was being sent to people? MR. PAYNE: Nick Passanante's? MR. SVOBODA: Got it. : Okay. |
| 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 | : Okay. MR. SVOBODA: The first two sentences of Nick Passanante's e-mail or the first two sentences of the draft e-mail that was being sent to people? MR. PAYNE: Nick Passanante's? MR. SVOBODA: Got it. : Okay. MR. PAYNE: So in this e-mail Nick is |

68

| 1 | quote, But it's ready to go when the boss wants to |
|----|--|
| 2 | send it, end quote. |
| 3 | : Mm-hmm. |
| 4 | MR. PAYNE: What is your understanding in |
| 5 | this e-mail to you about who Nick considered to be |
| 6 | the boss? |
| 7 | : Sure. So this is Nick not |
| 8 | understanding how, how we do e-mail I guess. The |
| 9 | boss was, boss, I consider the boss, Congressman |
| 10 | Luján, was never involved in saying hit "send" on |
| 11 | this, don't hit "send" on that or anything. He |
| 12 | provided his feedback after the fact, and so this |
| 13 | is Nick just not understanding that Congressman |
| 14 | Luján is not involved in the process. |
| 15 | MR. PAYNE: And where do you think he got |
| 16 | that misunderstanding from? I mean I mean you |
| 17 | mentioned earlier that you were the one who |
| 18 | basically showed him the ropes in the beginning |
| 19 | : Sure. |
| 20 | MR. PAYNE: understanding his voice |
| 21 | and everything else on how everything works. |
| 22 | : I don't know. I really |

69

| | Condition of Whitel 1, 2017 |
|----|---|
| 1 | don't know. I don't know if it's appropriate to |
| 2 | talk about our relationship with Boulder right now, |
| 3 | is it? |
| 4 | MR. SVOBODA: Do you need to do you |
| 5 | need to take a break and confer before we do that? |
| 6 | : Yeah. That would be |
| 7 | great, if we could talk about it. |
| 8 | MR. SVOBODA: Could we have just like two |
| 9 | minutes? |
| 10 | MR. PAYNE: Sure. |
| 11 | MR. SVOBODA: Thank you very much. |
| 12 | (A brief recess was taken.) |
| 13 | (A discussion was held off the record.) |
| 14 | MR. PAYNE: So my question for you is |
| 15 | just can you provide us with some context of the |
| 16 | relationship between the campaign and Boulder |
| 17 | Strategies? |
| 18 | : So there was a formal |
| 19 | relationship with Boulder Strategies. They were |
| 20 | hired as the e-mail and online consultant for |
| 21 | Congressman Luján's campaign, and they were hired |
| 22 | by the campaign manager. |

70

1 MR. PAYNE: And has that relationship 2 been a positive relationship, or had there been 3 some concerns? I think one of the biggest 4 5 struggles with the relationship just viewing how 6 Boulder created content and sent content and 7 things, one of the biggest struggles during the 8 time that they were under contract with the 9 campaign was sometimes, sometimes they weren't 10 always as organized as, as I think people would 11 have liked them to have been. MR. PAYNE: Okay. 12 13 : And that in particular 14 leads me to my answer to this question that Nick 15 doesn't know what he's talking about because they 16 were unorganized, and so obviously Congressman 17 Luján for however many months up until now that 18 Boulder had been doing his e-mail program had never 19 once personally approved an e-mail to go out. So 20 why he's asking this question now is confusing to 21 me, so that's all. 22 MR. PAYNE: Okay. Helen, do you have any questions? 1 2 MS. EISNER: Yeah. Just one follow-up 3 area, and going back to the e-mail. I think you 4 still have it in front of you, the HRL98, the 5 e-mail that the Congressman wrote with get something out. 6 7 : Mm-hmm. 8 MS. EISNER: What actions were taken in 9 response to this statement, "get something out"? 10 : Nothing. I mean this, 11 this did not prompt any specific actions that were 12 not already occurring based on what was happening 13 on TV with the understanding that Boulder was probably already drafting things and that we would 14 15 probably get to review whatever content they had 16 put together shortly. So, so nothing. Like I 17 think everyone expected that Boulder would try to 18 generate some sort of e-mail regarding what was 19 happening on TV. 20 MS. EISNER: Okay. So the Congressman's 21 statement "get something out" generated no action? 22 : Not from me, and I was the only one on the e-mail. Again, I took it to mean like, hey, this is a good idea; this, I like the way this looks, like up for sort of interpretation to me almost as if, you know, people see something that they like and say, you know, I like that or, you know, we should try that one day or something, you know. It was -- it was not a directive. It was just more of a suggestion.

MR. SVOBODA: But you're not saying you ignored him. You're saying that their wheels were already moving to achieve the outcome you would have wanted.

E Yeah. I mean based on, based on what was happening I knew that there, that they were already doing their thing here to create content, and so I, I didn't do anything. I mean I didn't do anything.

MS. EISNER: Okay. And then besides the two e-mails that we've been discussing from the 22nd and the 23rd what other contact was already in -- you know, wheels were in motion, as you said. What other content was generated by Boulder

1 Strategies that you thought, you know, was already 2 in motion based on this statement "get something 3 out?" : I have no idea. I don't 4 know what Boulder was drafting at the time. I 5 6 just -- I just knew or assumed based on having seen 7 how Boulder operated before and knowing that what 8 was on CNN and on the TV and being reported was a 9 huge topic that our e-mail list was very interested 10 in and knowing that Boulder knew that because they 11 had been our online consultants or the Chairman's 12 online consultants for many months, I assumed that 13 they were already drafting something that 14 referenced what was happening on TV. 15 MS. EISNER: Okay. But besides drafting, 16 because I understand the statement you don't know. 17 exactly what they were drafting. 18 : Mm-hmm. 19 MS. EISNER: But as far as any type of 20 outreach, anything that actually went out, what, 21 you know, outreach, e-mails, communications, 22 besides the two we've already talked about which

| 1 | you've explained were sort of part of that same | | | | |

| 2 | process, what other e-mails or communications went | | | | |
| 3 | out that would have been a part of that same | | | | |
| 4 | process? | | | | |
| 5 | : Like formally like this? | | | | |
| 6 | MS. EISNER: Formally what are you aware | | | | |
| 7 | of? | | | | |
| 8 | : I don't think there were | | | | |
| 9 | any others, but I don't know. | | | | |
| 10 | MR. PAYNE: And you said during this | | | | |
| 11 | first day on Saturday, on the 22nd, you assumed | | | | |
| 12 | that they were drafting, you knew they were | | | | |
| 13 | working, so you didn't have to tell them to do | | | | |
| 14 | anything. | | | | |
| 15 | . Mm-hmm. | | | | |
| 16 | MR. PAYNE: Why was the next day | | | | |
| 17 | different when it was still on CNN, still in the | | | | |
| 18 | news media, why did you then have to tell them to | | | | |
| 19 | write another e-mail and frame it as, quote, | | | | |
| 20 | another e-mail? | | | | |
| 21 | : Because I had seen on TV | | | | |
| 22 | that the house Republicans were getting ready to | | | | |
| | | | | | |

| 2 | by ending the sít-in, by not having a vote or | | | | | |
| 3 | whatever was happening on the House floor at that | | | | | |
| 4 | time because that was being reported on CNN, and | | | | | |
| 5 | before the move, the news cycle moved to another | | | | | |
| 6 | subject which it often does very quickly I had | | | | | |
| 7 | suggested to them that we should probably send out | | | | | |
| 8 | another e-mail based on everything that was going | | | | | |
| 9 | on because the news cycle was probably about to | | | | | |
| 10 | shift. | | | | | |
| 11 | MR. PAYNE: And you were watching the | | | | | |
| 12 | sit-in during this entire time? | | | | | |
| 13 | : Mm-hmm. | | | | | |
| 14 | MR. PAYNE: Even on Wednesday? | | | | | |
| 15 | : I watched I watch CNN | | | | | |
| 16 | all day every day. | | | | | |
| 17 | MR. PAYNE: Like most of America. | | | | | |
| 18 | MR. SVOBODA: Poor man. | | | | | |
| 19 | : So, so yeah. I mean I | | | | | |
| 20 | watch day and night all the time. So I'm sure I | | | | | |
| 21 | was watching. | | | | | |
| 22 | MR. PAYNE: And so did you see | | | | | |

| 1 2 3 4 5 6 | Kedric Payne: | So Kedric Payne here with Helen Eisner. We are interviewing President of Boulder Strategies and his counsel, Eric Kleinfeld, is also on the telephone. President of Boulder Strategies is appearing over the telephone as well. It is 5:03 PM on Tuesday, February 28th, 2017. President of Boulder Strategies, you did receive the False Statements Act and you signed the Acknowledgment Form. Is that correct? |
| 7 | | |
| 8 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | That is correct. |
| 9 10 11 12 | Kedric Payne: | Okay. I just want to first start with a little bit of background. Where are you currently employed? |
| 13 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | I'm the president of Boulder Strategies. |
| 14 | | |
| 15 16 | Kedric Payne: | And what is Boulder Strategies? |
| 17 18 19 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | We are digital consulting firm that works with political and non-profit organizations, primarily in regards to digital advertising and marketing, as well as with e-mail communications and fundraising. |
| 20 21 | Kedric Payne: | And how long have you been employed with Boulder Strategies? |
| 22 | | |
| 23 24 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | Boulder Strategies was founded in October of 2013 and I've been employed as the president since then. |
| 25 | | |
| 26 27 28 | Kedric Payne: | You mentioned that your clients are political and non-profit organizations. Can you give me an example of those clients? I don't necessarily need specifics, but I just need something more detailed. |
| 29 | | |
| 30 31 32 33 34 35 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | Sure. We work for we have relationships with the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, for example. We work for members of Congress on the campaign side, not the official side, and we also work with organizations like environmental groups, trade organizations, things like the American Heart Association, Healthier Colorado, groups like that, that are either 501C3 or 501C4 with an advocacy tintplan to them. |

| 2 3 | Kedric Payne: | Okay. You mentioned the broad services that the company provides. What specific services do you personally provide? |
| 4 | | |
| 5 6 7 8 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | So in my role, I manage a team of staff that does the primary writing and content developments for our clients. I also provide general consulting advice in terms of message development and overall strategy on the digital side of the campaign, or the digital side of the organization. |
| 9 | | |
| 10 | Kedric Payne: | And Representative Lujan is one of your clients. Is that correct? |
| 11 | | |
| 12 13 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | He is not any longer. He was a client from February of 2016 through December 31st of 2016. |
| 14 | | |
| 15 | Kedric Payne: | And how did it come to be that you were working with Representative Lujan? |
| 16 | | |
| 17 18 19 20 21 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | We responded to a request for proposal in, I believe it was June of 2015, and I'll have to check that date. It called for a request for a proposal for new digital side digital consultant for their campaign operations. We went through a process of pitching them our services and then we became under contract with them in February of 2016, again on the campaign side. |
| 22 | | |
| 23 | Kedric Payne: | Okay, so the contract was with whom specifically? |
| 24 | | |
| 25 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | It was with People for Ben, which is his campaign committee. |
| 26 | | |
| 27 | Kedric Payne: | Who were your points of contact with People for Ben? |
| 28 | | |
| 29 30 31 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | We had four primary points of contact. One of them was Aaron Trujillo. Another was Angela Ramirez. Another was Steve Fister. And the final was Andrew Stoddard. |
| 32 | | |
| 33 | Kedric Payne: | And did you have any communications with Representative Lujan? |

| 1 | | |
| 2 3 4 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | Not day to day. The only communications that we had were on occasional conference calls, typically once a quarter and before we were under contract during the pitch process to obtain the contract. |
| 5 | | |
| 6 7 | Kedric Payne: | And during those quarterly conference calls, what type of discussions did you have with Representative Lujan? |
| 8 | | |
| 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 | Pres, Boulder Strat.: | They were typically with multiple consultants that handle everything from polling and research, to digital, to campaign activities in his district on a field level. So we typically covered our respective roles in terms of what the congressman gave us, his updates, and on the campaign operations. We also would discuss goals and benchmarks for digital fundraising activities and, in general, we would cover certain overarching themes that we would be talking about, but we would never beyond that, all the day to day activities went through our other four staff contacts. |
| 17 | | |
| 18 19 | Kedric Payne: | Okay. So who would provide you guidance on the type of campaign e-mails they wanted from your company? |
| 20 | | |
| 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31 32 33 34 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | So the typical process would be that we would propose a monthly calendar, as topics and e-mails and social media content, etc. They would then have the opportunity to review our ideas and our thoughts about what those topics should be and provide feedback. This was always done by the same four points of contact that I IDed earlier, Aaron, Andrew, Angela and Steve. And then we had the approval process in place in terms of, once we actually got topics approved or they decide if they want to interject other topics besides what we had proposed. They could do that at any point during the course of the week or during the course of the month. We would do our best to get that into the pipeline and then we would have the approval process that, once we wrote the content, my staff wrote the content, they would then have a period of time to review all that content and provide edits or feedback and then the final approval on actually sending e-mails on their behalf. |
| 35 | | |
| 36 37 | Kedric Payne: | And with respect to that final approval, what was your understanding of Representative Lujan's role in any type of final approval? |
| 38 | | |

Transcript of Interview of President of Boulder Strategies February 28, 2017

| 1 2 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | I have no knowledge of his role in any type of approval. Our approval process was strictly related to the staff contacts. |
|----------------------|-----------------------|--|
| 3 | | |
| 4 5 6 | Kedric Payne: | So you mentioned that you would have the monthly calls, I'm sorry, monthly plan, but were there other ways that a solicitation may be initiated, where something may come up that was not necessarily on the monthly plan? |
| 7 | | |
| 8 9 10 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | Yes, absolutely. The typical process would be for them to e-mail or call one of us, either myself or a project manager. They would get that different topic into our pipeline. |
| 11 | | |
| 12 13 | Kedric Payne: | Okay. You say that one of those four people you mentioned before would contact you and then would request a different topic or different focus? |
| 14 | | |
| 15 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | That's correct. |
| 16 | | |
| 17 18 19 | Kedric Payne: | And did you ever self-initiate during that monthly period to do a different type of E-mail that had not been covered or not been requested by those four? |
| 20 | | |
| 21 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | No, sir. |
| 22 | | |
| 23 24 25 26 | Helen Eisner: | Of those four individuals you mentioned, Angela, Steve, Aaron, Andrew, which one of those, or what percentage of the time did you hear from those four as far as initiating a solicitation that wasn't going through the normal calendaring process? |
| 27 | | |
| 28 29 30 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | Aaron Trujillo would be the most common point of contact on that. Angela would be the second, and Andrew would be the third. Steve almost very rarely would interject in that way. |
| 31 | | |
| 32 33 | Kedric Payne: | And how often would they give you something that was not on the monthly plan? |
| 34 | | |

|----------------|-----------------------|--|
| 4 5 | Kedric Payne: | But do you have a sense that it was quite frequent for them to give you something that was a little different or that was more of a rare occurrence? |
| 7 8 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | I would say that it was \dots common to me that would be get maybe two or three of those requests every month. |
| 10 11 | Kedric Payne: | I want to ask about a particular e-mail. Do you recall the sit-in demonstration that occurred in the capitol around June 22nd, 2016? |
| 12 13 14 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | l do. |
| 15 16 | Kedric Payne: | And are you familiar with an e-mail that was sent by People for Ben? |
| 17 18 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | I am, yes. |
| 19 20 | Kedric Payne: | Okay. And can you explain to me how that all came about? |
| 21 22 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | So, can you [inaudible 00:09:50] of which e-mail you're speaking of around that particular time period? $. \label{eq:continuous}$ |
| 23 24 25 | Kedric Payne: | Okay, no problem. |
| 26 27 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | I will refer you to the document and you did receive the packet of documents that we sent to your attorney? |
| 28 29 30 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | I did, yes. |

| 2 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | Yes, okay. |
| 3 | | |
| 4 5 | Kedric Payne: | And, I think this is an initial draft of the email, but it still is, for the most part, the core email. This is the email we're referring to from June 22, 2016. |
| 6 | | |
| 7 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | Correct. Okay. I understand. |
| 8 | | |
| 9 | Kedric Payne: | Okay. |
| 10 | | |
| 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 | Pres, Boulder Strat.: | This email, let me just read it real quickly. This email was a continuation of a series of emails that we had been doing on "No Fly, No Buy" which was the concept that if you could not, if you were on the No Fly List, then you shouldn't, also be able to buy a gun. We had done a series of emails about this topic already. Then when the sit-in began on the House floor, we simply took an email that was already in the pipeline, we were already planning to send an email of this type, and we simply inserted the first line of the email that talked about him being on the floor to make it relevant for the day's topic. |
| 20 | | |
| 21 22 23 24 | Kedric Payne: | And, about how Let me see how to phrase this. Basically, I'm trying to see with a series of emails on this topic, help me understand how long that series had been going? Are we talking about a few weeks before this? Or that had been going on for months? |
| 25 | | |
| 26 27 28 29 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | This series had been a planned part of the monthly calendar. It was something that we had been doing for at least a week prior before the sit-ins began. I believe, I'd have to go back and check, but I believe we sent at least two or three emails prior to this email that were on this topic. |
| 30 | | |
| 31 | Kedric Payne: | Okay. |
| 32 | | |
| 33 | Helen Eisner: | Prior to this email, how successful had that effort been as far as raising funds? $ \$ |
| 34 | | |
| 35 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | I do not have that information off hand. |

| 2 3 4 5 | Helen Eisner: | Do you have a general sense? We're not looking for dollars and cents, just was it raising a significant amount of money? Or was it an unsuccessful approach? Just your general read on how that campaign solicitation was working as far as outreach and funds that were coming in. |
| 7 8 9 10 11 12 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | Sure. I can say that this line of messaging has been very successful for the preceding days. It was one of the reasons why we were continuing with it, irregardless of what was going on in Washington that day. It was part of the extended plan because it had a very high engagement rate in terms of open and clicks, which we judge ourselves on, as well as from a fundraising standpoint |
| 14 15 16 | Kedric Payne: | Who drafted the language that you just mentioned to make it relevant, that first sentence? |
| 17 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | I inserted that myself. |
| 18 | | |
| 19 20 | Kedric Payne: | And did you have any contact or communication with Representative Lujan when you drafted that? |
| 21 | | |
| 22 23 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | I did not. |
| 24 25 26 | Kedric Payne: | Did you have any communication with anyone in his Congressional office when you drafted that? |
| 27 28 29 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | As you can see in that email thread, everybody on our point of contact list was involved in that in terms of seeing it as well. So, Andrew, Aaron, Angela, and Steve were all involved in that, definitely. |
| 30 | | |
| 31 32 | Kedric Payne: | Had any of those people you just mentioned instruct you or request that you include that first sentence? |

| 1 2 3 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | I do not believe that it was I do not recall if it was a specific instruction. I do believe that we were instructed to make it relevant to the topic at hand that day, which was the sit-in. |
| 4 | | |
| 5 6 | Kedric Payne: | And did you have an understanding that Representative Lujan wanted an email to be sent that day during the sit-in? |
| 7 | | |
| 8 9 10 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | I can't speak to whether or not the Congressman would have specifically requested that. I can only speak to the fact that we were instructed to send an email that day that was relevant to the topic at hand by the staff. |
| 11 | | |
| 12 13 | Helen Eisner: | Who specifically in the staff instructed you to make that email relevant to the topic at hand? |
| 14 | | |
| 15 16 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | I do not recall, but it would typically have either It would have typically come from Aaron Trujillo. |
| 17 | | |
| 18 | Kedric Payne: | What was Andrew Stoddard's role in that email? |
| 19 | | |
| 20 21 22 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | Andrew was typically the first edit process in all the emails. He was involved in their communications. He would typically edit emails before we got approval from Aaron and Angela to actually send those emails. |
| 23 | | |
| 24 25 | Kedric Payne: | Okay. There's a line in that email that says, "Immediate dollar sign, dollar sign, after action, after the form submit." What does that mean? |
| 26 | | |
| 27 28 29 30 31 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | It means that if they had clicked on Somebody had read that email and clicked on the link that says "Sign or Pledge", once they actually got to the website, and they filled out the form on the website to add their name, then it would automatically redirect to a contribution page to where they would then be able to make a contribution if they so choose. |
| 32 | | |
| 33 | Kedric Payne: | Okay. Did anyone direct you to add that feature to this particular email? |

| 1 2 3 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | No, they did not. That would be standard practice for most petitions that are related to things like this where we're trying to take an action and then immediately push them for an upsell into a contribution. |
| 4 | | |
| 5 6 7 | Kedric Payne: | Okay. I want to ask you now about an email on June 23rd. You can go to the documents that were sent to you. It is bates stamped THRL0039? $ \frac{1}{2} \left(\frac{1}{2} \right) = \frac{1}{2} \left(\frac{1}{2} \right) \left(\frac{1}{2} $ |
| 8 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | Three Nine Okay, yes I have it. |
| 9 | | |
| 10 11 12 | Kedric Payne: | Can you take a look at it? That is an email that is from Aaron to you dated June 23rd, 2016. If you can just take a look at it and then just explain to me what it means and what happened. |
| 13 | | |
| 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | Yes. This would be the email. After we had sent the previous email that we just discussed, the day earlier. That email had performed quite well. This was an email from Aaron in the morning of June 23rd, at 9:29 am. That basically instructed us to prepare another rapid response email. So this was an email that was not on the calendar. It was not one that we had already prepared. It was one that they asked for specifically to be added to the schedule for the morning. They wanted it out as quickly as possible. That was him specifically saying the members have been on the floor for 24 hours as of 11:00, and he specifically wanted to do a money ask surrounding that issue. |
| 24 | | |
| 25 26 27 | Kedric Payne: | Was it also standard for Aaron to give you a telephone call to discuss these details or to give you more context of the type of email or what they wanted you to do? |
| 28 | | |
| 29 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | That was quite rare. It was almost always done over email. |
| 30 | | |
| 31 32 | Kedric Payne: | Okay. Did you get any indication from Aaron that this particular second email was something that the Congressman wanted to go out? |
| 33 | | |
| 34 35 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | He never specified that specifically and I $\mathop{\rm did}\nolimits$ not have that conversation with $\mathop{\rm him}\nolimits.$ |

| 1 2 | Kedric Payne: | You mentioned that Drew Stoddard would take a first draft at emails such as this. Did he take a first draft, or review this email, or provide you any edits? |
| 3 | | |
| 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | He did not. This second email, because it was a rapid response email, our internal protocol for that we have approval processes that are written in, or that are in place that he requires. On standard emails, we have a two thumbs up approval process, which means that at least two of the four contacts needed to sign off an email before it gets sent. On a rapid response email, we only have a one thumbs up approval process, which means that only one person needs to say, "Yes" and ready to go. Because this was rapid response, we wrote it very quickly. We inserted it into the email system, and we got approval just from Aaron. Aaron gave the approval and then we pressed send. Nobody else was involved in the editing. |

| 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 | Pres. Boulder Strat: | No, it is not standard. I believe I was simply saying that Hold on. Let me read this second email for a second. It was not a practice for the congressman to actually to read or approve the emails as far as I know. I, again, was not involved in that process on their end. We, our process, is only about the staff approval side of things. However, I believe there was a conversation prior to this about the congressman wanting to time this email appropriately. Therefore, I wrote that in the email to say that it was ready to go whenever it was actually approved on their end. |
| 10 | Kedric Payne: | Who told you about a desire to have it timed to the congressman's wishes? |
| 11 | • | , |
| 12 13 14 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | Because it's not in the email, specifically, I don't recall, but I would always assume that that instruction came from Aaron. That was our primary point of contact on things like this. |
| | | |
| 16 | Kedric Payne: | Did you receive the go-ahead from the congressman on this email? |
| 17 | | |
| 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | I did not receive any notification from the congressman. I also do not recall offhand if the email went out, but I have to say I believe it did, however, because it was the immigration case, and that was something that we had been planning for. So it was something that This was an email that had already been written more than a month earlier in expectation of the case being decided. We had two different emails, one that, if it came down one way, one if it came down another way, and it was simply about the timing on their end of when they wanted to send it. I believe this email did go out, but I do not have any knowledge of the actual approval from the congressman from their end. |

| 29 30 | Helen Eisner: | What phone conversations did you have with Aaron that day or that morning about this email or the approval process? |

| 1 2 3 4 5 | Helen Eisner: | Going through these different emails and talking about June 22 and June 23, and the solicitations that went out, after those dates, what conversations did you have, I guess we'll start with the four individuals, with Aaron and Andrew, and Angela and Steve, about these solicitations after the emails had already gone out? |
| 6 | | |
| 7 8 9 10 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | The only conversations that we had had about these emails after they had gone out was about the usage of an AP photograph in the fundraising email. That was the only conversation that we had about this, beyond they went out. |
| 11 | | |
| 12 13 | Helen Eisner: | What was the nature of that conversation about the AP photograph? |
| 14 15 16 17 18 19 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | It was simply a conversation about whether the usage met certain standards. There was basically a conversation about whether or not that was appropriate at the time. Also, we basically set up a We agreed not to use further images from the house floor, regardless of their sourcing, going forward, despite that the email went through the appropriate approval process. |
| 20 | | |
| 21 22 | Helen Eisner: | How do you know that it was an AP photograph? What's the basis of that statement? |
| 23 | | |
| 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | It was a photograph that we sourced publicly from an AP article that was syndicated in thousands of papers across the country that day. It was an AP source photograph. On their website it was sourced, and it was sourced as I have pull it up here a second. It was sourced as "Credit to House Television via AP." We kept the exact citation for that in the email itself, as well, for that sourcing, practices of that. Because that's typically If it was publicly sourced, it's our understanding that we can utilize publicly sourced images in emails, with those citations. |
| 32 | | |
| 33 34 | Kedric Payne: | Just so we're clear, the picture that you're referring to, is that the same picture that is on document number THRL0042? |
| 35 | | |
| 36 37 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | That is correct. |

| 1 2 | Helen Eisner: | We talked about conversations that might have occurred with staff after June 23. What about with the congressman? |
| 3 | | |
| 4 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | I had no direct conversation with the congressman. |
| 5 | | |
| 6 7 8 | Kedric Payne: | Were there any conversations after the emails were sent concerning the nature of the language referring to the member being on the House floor when the solicitation was made? |
| 9 | | |
| 10 11 | Pres. Boulder Strat.: | There was no conversation about the language. There was only conversations about the image. $$ |

| 13 14 | Kedric Payne: | Have you been contacted by Representative Lujan's office with respect to this Office of Congressional Ethics review? |

| 22 23 | Eric Kleinfeld: | I don't know if we want to answer that question directly. I mean, there has been attorney conversations that we're not going to divulge. |
| 24 | | |
| 25 26 27 | Kedric Payne: | Well, what I'm referring to are documents being sent from your client to the congressman or the congressman's representatives. So not to his attorney and not regarding any legal advice. |
| 28 | | |
| 29 30 31 | Eric Kleinfeld: | Okay. Well, he can answer a question as to whether he sent any documents directly, not through an attorney, to the congressman or the congressman's staff. |
| 32 | | |
| 33 34 35 | Kedric Payne: | I don't see how you're seeing the attorney-client privilege that way. I also will point out that, with the House of Representatives, attorney-client privileges do not even apply. Nevertheless, I'm respectful of not needing to |

| 5 | | |
| 6 | Helen Eisner: | Either directly or indirectly. |
| 7 | | |
| 8 9 | Eric Kleinfeld: | Again, we object to any question relating to whether attorneys may have provided documents to each other. |
| 10 | | |
| 11 12 13 | Kedric Payne: | The situation is that, with our proceedings, this is not a And, Eric, I know you haven't dealt with our office before. This isn't a proceeding before a court, so there's no objection that can be made. Again, you've been- |
| 14 | | |
| 15 | Eric Kleinfeld: | Well, I certainly can instruct him not to answer the question. |
| 16 | | |
| 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 | Kedric Payne: | You actually cannot. Let me just set the tone here. I'm not trying to We're at the end of the interview, and I'm not trying to delay or cause any issue. But just to set the legal restrictions clear. If you have your client not answer, then we can find that he is not cooperating with this federal investigation. Now, that is not where I want to take this, but my final question for this interview is just to understand whether there's been a production of documents. Maybe I can do it this way. Would you prefer, Eric, that I sent you a request for information for all documents that are in your client's possession related to this matter, and do it that way? I just think that is going to be more cumbersome. I'm just trying to see whether or not any documents have been provided to Representative Lujan's office. |
| 28 | | |
| 29 30 31 32 | Eric Kleinfeld: | Well, I understand what you're saying, and we're not trying to interfere with the spirit of the question. But my point is I think a narrowly tailored question or a more narrowly tailor is appropriate, but to say indirectly, I think that goes beyond what I would allow my client to answer. |
| 33 | | |
| 34 35 36 37 38 | Helen Eisner: | I mean, this is our process. It's your client's choice whether he wants to be cooperative or not. He's been incredibly cooperative and answered all of our questions. It's extremely relevant to our board to understand when any witness in our review process has shared any information with another witness. I think anyone who understand the basics of investigations would |

| 1 2 3 4 5 6 | | see that it's just a matter of understanding what information has been shared between key individuals who are relevant to our review. The question that Kedric asked was whether or not your client provided documents to the congressman's office. That would include whether he provided them directly of whether he gave them to counsel, and those were provided in turn to the counsel for the congressman's office or to staffers. |
| 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 | | I think that, if we went back to our board and said a witness would refuse to answer whether or not documents were shared between key witnesses, that's something that they would consider very seriously. I don't think that we're trying to ask any type of trick question here. We're just trying to understand what information might have been passed between individuals. You've been very cooperative. If you want this request to come in a more formal way, I think Kedric suggested we're willing to work with you to figure out an avenue that make your feel comfortable. But this is an important part of our process. President of Boulder Strategies, we really appreciate you answering all of our questions. As a witness to this review, we're just kind of leaving it up to you. This is the final questions. Really, I think we've gotten everything else we need from you. So it's really up to President of Boulder Strategies whether you want to answer the question or not. |
| 21 22 23 24 25 26 | Eric Kleinfeld: | How about, since we're doing this by telephone Again, I totally understand what you're saying, and yeah, President of Boulder Strategies does want to be cooperative, and I think you've recognized that. How about this? Is there an avenue by which President of Boulder Strategies and I can confer, and then we can get back to you? |
| 27 | | |
| 28 29 30 31 32 33 | Kedric Payne: | Yes. You can confer with your client on this. I'm just point out the fact that, if he does not answer, you know the consequences. I just want you to understand that there's no basis for objection. But, clearly, feel free to speak to your client. This is moving very quickly. We have to present it to the board on this Friday. Would you be able to go get back to me no later than tomorrow? |
| 34 | | |
| 35 | Eric Kleinfeld: | I was actually thinking something faster. |
| 36 | | |
| 37 38 | Kedric Payne: | Okay. |

Friend,

As we pass the 11am hour in Washington DC, my Democratic colleagues and I have now been on the House floor for greater than 24-hours, staging a sit-in to demand a vote on the bi-partisan No Fly, No Buy bill.

Despite the fact that Speaker Ryan has turned off the cameras and the microphones, I will stand with my colleagues to call for a vote on commonsense legislation that keeps gurs out of the hands of those on the FBI Terrorist Watch List.

Do you stand with us? Chip in $24 towards our emergency fundraising goal - $1 for every hour we've been in the well of the House Chamber demanding action.

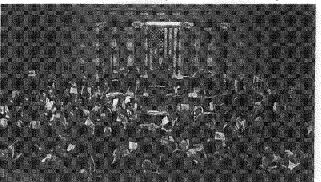

A moment of silence on the House floor is simply not enough to honor the lives of those we have lost. We need action to keep guns out of the hands of suspected terrorists and it begins with a vote right here on the House floor.

| 3 | | |
| 4 5 | Former Comm. Dir.: | Yes, on a volunteer basis on my personal time. |
| 6 | Kedric Payne: | And what type of work did you perform? |
| 7 8 9 | Former Comm. Dir.: | I would write speeches, press releases, edit material that the campaign was producing. |
| 10 | | |
| 11 | Kedric Payne: | Anything else? |
| 12 | | |
| 13 14 15 | Former Comm. Dir.: | Those would be kind of the broad strokes, I mean, I reviewed fundraising emails that the campaign was sending out. I made phone calls close to Election Day, and went out and knocked on doors, those sort of things. |
| 16 | | |
| 17 18 | Kedric Payne: | And for those fundraising e-mails, can you walk me through the type of work or drafting you would do for getting those out? |
| 19 | | |
| 20 21 22 23 24 | Former Comm. Dir.: | Sure. Generally we would have our consultants that Boulder Strategies I believe is the name, or our finance team would usually draft up e-mails, and then I would they would send the others to review, and I was one of the people that generally would look at them and review them and sometimes offer edits. |
| 25 | | |
| 26 27 | Kedric Payne: | And you would review them looking for what? What type of edits were you making? |
| 28 | | |
| 29 30 | Former Comm. Dir.: | There's some punctuation, grammar stuff. Also things that were, you know, consistent with Congressman Lujan had been saying. |
| 31 | | |
| 32 33 | Kedric Payne: | And when you say, "What he's been saying", what do you mean? |

| 15 | | |
| 16 | Former Comm. Dir.: | Steve Fitzner was the Congressman's finance person. |

| 22 | | |
| 23 | Kedric Payne: | Steve Fitzner, and anyone else on the finance team? |
| 24 | | |
| 25 26 | Former Comm. Dir.: | It really was only him, I guess team is not the best way to put it. He was more with the fundraiser and handled that duty for our Congressman. |
| 27 | | |
| 28 | Kedric Payne: | What typically initiated these campaign solicitations that you would review? |
| 29 | | |
| 30 31 | Former Comm. Dir.: | Usually the way the process worked is that they would send me something when they had an idea for something they wanted to do. |

| 9 | rormer comm. Dr.: | Usually it would be via email. |
| 10 11 12 | Kedric Payne: | Where was Aaron located for the most part? Was he typically in the office when these types of things were going on or did you have to communicate with him in a different type of way? |
| 13 | | |
| 14 15 | Former Comm. Dir.: | Well he worked over at the DCCC so I would either have to communicate with him via email or phone. |
| 16 | | |
| 17 | Kedric Payne: | And Nick? Where was Nick located? |
| 18 | | |
| 19 20 | Former Comm. Dir.: | I believe he was in Colorado but I \dots I just know that he was remotely and not in the area. |
| 21 | | |
| 22 23 24 25 26 | Helen Eisner: | If you did have any type of edits and you conveyed that to Nick or Aaron you said that at that point if they were going to bring something to the Congressman's attention it would go through them but not through you. What's your understanding of their process then for discussing any draft solicitation with the Congressman? |
| 27 | | |
| 28 | Former Comm. Dir.: | I don't really know for sure. |
| 29 | | |
| 30 31 | Helen Eisner: | Even if you don't know for sure, what's your understanding just based on working with them over a number of years of how it might have occurred? |
| 32 | | |
| 33 34 35 | Former Comm. Dir.: | ${\bf I}$ don't want to speculate too much but in from my time working with them ${\bf I}$ think it developed into particular complexity or something they felt they needed to make sure the Congressman was aware of or wanted to make sure |

| 11 | | |
| 12 | Former Comm. Dir.: | Yes. |
| 13 | | |
| 14 15 | Kedric Payne: | Do you recall emails that Representative Lujan's campaign sent concerning that sit in? |
| 16 | | |
| 17 | Former Comm. Dir.: | Yes. |
| 18 | | |
| 19 20 | Kedric Payne: | Approximately how many emails were sent? I'm referring to the emails that were these campaign solicitations. |
| 21 | | |
| 22 23 24 25 | Former Comm. Dir.: | Do you mean specifically that the campaign sent out or email as I've seen from the documentation you provided and from what I remember there were emails back and forth with edits, so do you mean all of those or just emails that went out from the campaign to [inaudible]? |
| 26 | | |
| 27 | Kedric Payne: | The emails that went out from the campaign to potential donors. |
| 28 | | |
| 29 | Former Comm. Dir.: | I believe there were two of them. |
| 30 | | |
| 31 32 | Kedric Payne: | Okay. Can you walk us through each one? Walk us through the first one that you recall or the first one that was sent out. |

| 1 2 3 | Former Comm. Dir.: | Sure. There was one that I believe that Nick had put together that he sent around for our review that I did send edits to and sent back to him and that is my only recollection of that one. |
| 4 | | |
| 5 6 7 | Kedric Payne: | Do you have the documents that we sent over in front of you? I want to draw your attention to a particular one. |
| | | |
| 8 | Former Comm. Dir.: | Yes. |
| 9 | | |
| 10 11 | Kedric Payne: | The document Bates-stamped T-H-R-L-0-0-3-6 which is an email from you to Nick dated June 22, 2016, can you take a look at that? |
| 12 | | |
| 13 14 15 | Brian Svoboda: | Former Communications Director that will be page seven of the PDF that you were sent and what Kedric called a Bates number is the number in the lower right hand corner of the document. |
| 16 | | |
| 17 | Former Comm. Dir.: | Okay. I'm sorry. Could you say the Bates number one more time? |
| 18 | | |

| 20 | | |
| 21 | Former Comm. Dir.: | Okay. Yep, I have that one. |

| 1 2 3 | Former Comm. Dir.: | I received it from Nick, looks like asking for us to review it and so I would have went through it for content as well as any grammatical or punctuation issues and then sent back a couple of edits that I add to it. |
| 4 | | |
| 5 | Kedric Payne: | Do you know what initiated Nick drafting this email? |
| 6 | | |
| 7 | Former Comm. Dir.: | I don't recall what would have started that. |
| 8 | | |
| 9 10 11 | Kedric Payne: | When you made your comments did you discuss those comments with anyone other than what's on this email? What I mean is did you have any phone conversations about those edits that you put into this email? |
| 12 | | |
| 13 | Former Comm. Dir.: | I don't recall having any conversations with anyone about that. |
| 14 | | |
| 15 | Kedric Payne: | Did you discuss the email with Representative Lujan at that time? |
| 16 | | |
| 17 18 | Former Comm. Dir.: | I don't recall having any conversations with him about this when I was editing it. |
| 19 | | |
| 20 21 | Kedric Payne: | Is it possible that you spoke with him about it or communicated with him via email or some other way at that time? |
| 22 | | |
| 23 24 25 26 27 28 | Former Comm. Dir.: | I mean I don't recall but it's possible that when I saw him I might have told him that we were working on this. I do recall that throughout that evening I had a number of materials that I was working with him on from speeches and social media stuff that I was telling him about and it's possible I may have told him about this but I don't recall. I just don't recall a conversation about it. |
| 29 | | |
| 30 31 32 | Helen Eisner: | When you say working with him that evening were you present speaking with him in person or was this through the phone? How were you communicating with him? |
| 33 | | |
| 34 | Former Comm. Dir.: | I was certainly speaking with him in person. |

| 3 | | |
| 4 5 6 | Former Comm. Dir.: | I may have There could have been some emails from my official account on things that we were working with Things that we're doing on the floor as well but I don't recall but I do know that I was speaking with him in person. |
| 8 | Helen Eisner: | The same and the s |
| 9 | neien bisher: | Those conversations in person, where did those occur? |
| 10 11 | Former Comm. Dir.: | Those would have either been on the floor of the House or probably right off the floor. |
| 12 | | |
| 13 14 | Kedric Payne: | You were staffing the Congressman throughout that entire sit in demonstration? |
| 15 | | |
| 16 17 | Former Comm. Dir.: | Not the entire time. I was with him for a significant portion of the time but I was not there the entire time. |
| 18 | | |
| 19 20 21 | Kedric Payne: | Do you happen to know approximately when you were no longer there, even if you don't know the precise time? Did you stay around midnight, after midnight, or well before then? |
| 22 | | |
| 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 | Former Comm. Dir.: | I was with him kind of shortly after everything started, which in my best recollection is it was kind of early afternoon. I was kind of with him off and on throughout the night because he wanted something To help him write a possible speech that he may give on the floor or some remarks or if there was other information pertinent to this that he wanted-So I was kind of back and forth The floor to our office and my desk and I believe I was there Pretty sure I didn't leave before 1 o'clock in the morning but I might have been there as late as two-ish that morning. |
| 31 | | |
| 32 33 | Helen Eisner: | And was any other staff with you providing the same kind of service, staffing the congressman on the floor? |

| 1 2 3 4 5 | Former Comm. Dir.: | Angela Ramirez would've also been on the floor at certain parts. I can't recall exactly when but she also staffed the congressman generally when he was on the floor. Sometimes we would switch off, sometimes we would both be there. So, I think it's highly likely that during some of that point she was probably down there. |
|----------------------------------|--------------------|---|
| 7 | W. J. D | |
| | Kedric Payne: | Anyone else? |
| 8 | | |
| 9 | Former Comm. Dir.: | Myself and Angela are the only two that had a pass to get on the floor. |
| 10 | | |
| 11 12 13 | Helen Eisner: | And I know it's kind of hard to remember exactly the time going back a number of months now but you left approximately one or two a.m. Do you know what time you came back the next morning? |
| 14 | | |
| 15 16 | Former Comm. Dir.: | It was probably nine or ten-ish in the morning, but probably close to nine to my best recollection. |
| 17 | | |
| 18 19 | Helen Eisner: | And at that point, what were your responsibilities when you returned to the office that morning? |
| 20 | | |
| 21 22 23 24 25 26 | Former Comm. Dir.: | I think at that point it was probably unclear whether the congressman would be making more speeches on the floor so I think I was probably trying to figure out if I needed to write anything else. Also, considering if I needed to write anything more for social media or any press releases about what transpired throughout the evening and what was going to continue to transpire through the rest of the day. |
| | W 3 / B | |
| 28 29 30 | Kedric Payne: | Going back to June 22nd, that first day of the sit in, during your conversations with the member over the course of the day and evening, did he indicate to you that he wanted an email to go out on this topic? |
| 31 | | |
| 32 | Former Comm, Dir.: | l do not recall any conversation to that effect. |
| 33 | | |
| 34 35 36 | Kedric Payne: | So you mentioned a moment ago that there were two emails that you recall. Let's go to the second one that was sent regarding the sit in, what do you recall about that email? How it started and your role with getting it out. |

| 2 3 4 5 6 7 | Former Comm. Dir.: | Well, I don't remember seeing this email until after it was sent out, maybe even a couple of days later. I think with everything that had been going on with the late night and then continuing in the morning, I don't think I had the chance to ever look at that email and I think other people reviewed and approved it and it went out and it wasn't until much later that I saw that it had been sent. |
| 8 | | |
| 9 10 | Kedric Payne: | And when you say "this email" are you referring to the email that's on document bates stamped THRL0041? |
| 11 | | |
| 12 | Former Comm. Dir.: | Yes, 41, pages 41 and 42. |
| 13 | | |
| 14 15 | Kedric Payne: | Okay. Do you recall having any conversations with representative Lujan about this email? |
| 16 | | |
| 17 | Former Comm. Dir.: | I don't think I had any conversations with him, I don't recall any. |
| 18 | | |
| 19 20 | Kedric Payne: | And are you aware of Representative Lujan requesting that this email be sent out on the 23rd? |
| 21 | | |

| 17 | | |
| 18 19 | Kedric Payne: | With him sending this email to you, what was the understanding of "who the boss is" when it comes to this email? |
| 20 | | |
| 21 22 23 | Former Comm. Dir.: | My understanding from this would be that the boss is congressman Lujan however he wouldn't always be involved in the decision on when exactly to send something. |
| 24 | | |
| 25 26 | Kedric Payne: | And in this case, why would representative Lujan need to "OK" whether or not these particular emails were sent? |
| 27 | | |
| 28 29 30 | Former Comm. Dir.: | He wouldn't necessarily have to, someone else could have given Nick the "OK" to send that without necessarily showing it to the congressman or reviewing it with him. |
| 31 | | |
| 32 33 | Kedric Payne: | We touched on this before but let me make sure I understand it. When it comes to representative Lujan reviewing emails at this time period, around |

| 7 | | |
| 8 9 | Kedric Payne: | Would you say he was quite involved with the email solicitations and knowing what was going on, what was being sent? |
| 10 | | |
| 11 12 | Brian Svoboda: | What do you mean by "quite involved"? Is there a more precise way I can get you to phrase that? |
| 13 | | |
| 14 15 16 | Kedric Payne: | Well, I'll ask Former Communications Director. Former Communications Director, how would you rate his involvement with the review, and just awareness of email solicitations of this nature being sent. |
| 17 | | |
| 18 19 20 21 22 | Former Comm. Dir.: | Then I would I would put kind of on the lower end. He wasn't reviewing everything that was going out. I don't know if others shared everything that went out, or at least after the fact. I mean, I know that they would update him on what they were working on at times, but I don't know the extent of if he knew every email that was going and what was in there. |
| 23 | | |
| 24 25 | Kedric Payne: | Did you get the impression that he wasn't that interested in knowing which campaign solicitations were going out under his name? |
| 26 | | |
| 27 28 | Former Comm. Dir.: | No. I think he was interested in a broader picture, but I don't think he was always felt like he had to read every last one of them. |
| 29 | | |
| 30 31 32 33 | Helen Eisner: | I think you sort of explained your awareness and involvement in the two emails we've been discussing for June 22 and June 23. What about any conversations that you had with the congressman after they were sent? What can you tell us about those conversations? |
| 34 | | |
| 35 36 | Former Comm. Dir.: | I don't know remember having any conversations with the congressman about it. I did have conversations with Angela Ramirez about the second |

|----------------------------|--------------------|--|
| 5 6 7 | Kedric Payne: | When were you told that that it was from a news account and not from the floor? |
| 8 9 10 | Former Comm. Dir.: | I don't remember specifically, but I believe it was Nick, Bolder Strategies, told us that's how they got it. |
| 11 12 | Helen Eisner: | How did Nick communicate that to you? |
| 13 14 | Former Comm. Dir.: | I don't remember if it was either email or if we had a call to talk about that. |
| 15 16 | Helen Eisner: | Okay. When was that call, approximately, or email? |
| 17 18 19 | Former Comm. Dir.: | I don't remember, because, again, I don't think I even saw that email for maybe even a couple days after. |
| 20 21 22 23 24 | Helen Eisner: | Let me just make sure I understand. When you say you didn't see the email, you're talking about the second solicitation email, the number 42 one that you mentioned. But when you're talking about Nick and communicating about a picture, that's a separate communication? When would that communication have occurred, whether it was email or phone call? |
| 25 26 27 28 29 | Former Comm. Dir.: | A couple days after the solicitation was sent, when I would have seen it for the first time, sometime after that there was some sort of communication about it. |
| 30 | Helen Eisner: | Okay. What else can you tell us about that communication? |
| 32 33 34 | Former Comm. Dir.: | Not much. I mean I don't think that there's much more to add to what I've already said. |

| 7 8 | Former Comm. Dir.; | It's possible that Angela Ramirez and Aaron Trujillo would have also been involved. |

| 26 27 28 29 | Former Comm. Dir.: | I think the first time that would happen was when there started to be some news reports about that sort of activity and Republican members talking about it and bringing up issues surrounding it. I think that was the first time I became aware. |
| 30 | | |
| 31 32 | Kedric Payne: | Did you have conversations with Angela about that, similar to the one you had about the picture? |

| 4 | | |
| 5 | Kedric Payne: | What was the content of those emails? What are they discussing? |
| 6 | | |
| 7 8 9 | Former Comm. Dir.: | I know I found one where I I don't remember who I sent it to, but where I said that I hadn't seen or reviewed this second solicitation due to everything that had been going on. I hadn't seen it prior to going out. |
| 10 | | |
| 11 | Kedric Payne: | The others? |
| 12 | | |
| 13 14 | Former Comm. Dir.: | The others were similar to what you have there. Edits, peoples' comments on there. Those are the ones that I looked at. |
| 15 | | |
| 16 | Kedric Payne: | Do any of those emails have Representative Lujan as a recipient or a sender? |
| 17 | | |
| 18 19 | Former Comm. Dir.: | Let's see. I think at one point Well, after the second solicitation had been sent, I think I forwarded it to him. |
| 20 | | |
| 21 | Kedric Payne: | Okay. What's the date of that email? |
| 22 | | |
| 23 | Former Comm. Dir.: | I have to look it up. |

| 28 | | |
| 29 30 | Kedric Payne: | It was not. In the initial contact with him, there was not a request for documents, just be patient for about a moment or so and that will occur. |
| 31 | | |
| 32 33 | Brian Svoboda: | I just want the record to be clear that he hasn't somehow failed to meet some sort of request that's already been tendered. |

The Honorable Theodore E. Deutch, Ranking Member
U.S. House of Representatives Committee on Ethics
1015 Longworth House Office Building
Washington, DC 20515

Re: Review No. 17-8362

Dear Chairwoman Brooks and Ranking Member Deutch:

On behalf of Representative Ben Ray Luján ("the Congressman"), we write in response to the above-referenced referral from the Office of Congressional Ethics ("OCE"). We respectfully request that the Committee on Ethics ("the Committee") dismiss this matter and take no further action.

INTRODUCTION

This referral is about whether Representative Luján—after cooperating completely with OCE in its review—should face continued investigation over three emails:

- 1. The first email was sent by a campaign vendor in Colorado. It was written in the Congressman's "voice" and said he was on the House floor. But the evidence is clear and uncontroverted: the Congressman did not write the email, he did not see it before it was sent, and the vendor sent it from private space more than a thousand miles away from the U.S. Capitol. Still, OCE alleged that Representative Luján may have solicited a contribution from a federal building in violation of 18 U.S.C. § 607.
- 2. The second email was also sent by the campaign vendor. It contained a photo of the House floor that the vendor took from a news article. Again, the evidence is clear; the Congressman did not write or approve the email, the vendor sent it from Colorado, the Congressman did not know about the email beforehand, and his representatives later took steps to see that the vendor used no such images in future communications. Still, OCE alleged that Representative Luján may have solicited a contribution from a federal building and used an image of House floor proceedings for political purposes.
- 3. The third email was three words long, sent by Representative Luján to a campaign aide: "Get something out." The record does not show that the Congressman was in House space when he sent that email. Rather, it shows that he was in and out of the Capitol building during that afternoon. The record also shows that there was no connection between this email and the other two emails at issue in this review, because the campaign vendor had already planned to email about this same topic, and the Congressman's campaign aide said consistently that he took no action on the Congressman's email. Still, OCE alleged that Representative Luján may have "conducted campaign or political activity from the House floor."

OCE appears to have been unsure about the basis for further investigation. Its Board divided over whether to send the referral in the first place. ¹ Its Findings could not even consistently state one of the allegations. ² Its Board found "that Representative Luján was cooperative throughout the review"; that "the evolving nature of electronic communications and campaign solicitations sometimes presents novel issues that are not directly addressed by the House Ethics Manual"; that the "review raised difficult questions about the application of House rules to solicitations via email"; and that "Members may benefit from additional guidance regarding campaign activities and electronic communications."³

However, Representative Luján's complete cooperation with OCE gives the Committee a full record that should allow it to resolve and close this matter. A correct review of that record should lead the Committee to find that the referral was erroneous, and that the facts and the law fail to support any of the alleged violations. The Committee should immediately dismiss this referral and take no further action.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

On June 22 and June 23, 2016, Representative Luján participated in a "sit-in" on the House floor regarding gun legislation with many of his Democratic colleagues. He "was on the floor off and on until the next morning." For example, he sat on the House floor "for a period of time and then [he] had a lunch or [he] had a meeting outside of the building." He also "left for a bit of time and then [he] came back to the floor during the night." The Congressman recalls that "[t]here were people gathering outside the Capitol, so members would leave periodically to go and either just stand with the crowd or speak to the crowd" and he would take bathroom breaks, take walks "outside to the front of the building of the Capitol, just get a breath of air, and then go back in." Representative Luján and other members would "go inside and outside of the Capitol

This review involves three emails sent during those two days. Two of them were drafted and sent by Boulder Strategies, a private political consulting firm to People for Ben, the Congressman's principal campaign committee. The campaign hired Boulder Strategies for "online fund-raising and digital strategy" during the 2016 election cycle. ¹⁰ Boulder Strategies would send email petitions and solicitations for contributions to People for Ben supporters. 11 Like many other candidates, Representative Luján participated only occasionally in this process, largely entrusting the review and dissemination of these emails to his campaign team. 12 The third email was a private email that Representative Luján sent to a campaign aide on a private device from a personal account.

The June 22 campaign email sent by Boulder Strategies

Sent on June 22, 2016, the first campaign email sent by Boulder Strategies was one that the vendor was "already planning to send" when the sit-in unfolded. That email said:

The email asked supporters to sign a petition and contained a "Contribute" button, which was a standard feature of the vendor's emails, even those that were not intended to raise funds. 15 It was sent through the campaign's normal process. Under that process, Boulder Strategies would work with campaign representatives to develop a monthly calendar of emails to send for the campaign; the staff at Boulder Strategies "wrote the content" and then campaign representatives would "review all that content and provide edits or feedback and then the final approval on actually sending e-mails on their behalf." Representative Luján did not have a role in final approval of these emails. Rather, Boulder Strategies' "approval process was strictly related to the staff contacts" at the campaign. ¹⁷

When this first email was drafted, it "was already in the pipeline." 18 The President of Boulder Strategies inserted the "first line of the email that talked about [Representative Luján] being on the floor to make it relevant for the day's topic." This language was submitted without any contact or communication with Representative Luján or his staff. 20 Representative Luján had no role in the language being drafted.²¹ He did not review or approve the email before it was sent.²²

II. The June 23 campaign email sent by Boulder Strategies

The second campaign email sent by Boulder Strategies was sent the next morning on June 23, 2016, and was prompted by an email sent from a campaign aide to the President of Boulder Strategies, as would happen from time to time. ²³ Specifically, the campaign aide requested that Boulder Strategies "get another email ready for this morning. The members will have been on the floor for 24 hours, as of 11:00 this morning. We need to do a $$ ask on this."24 This second email said the following:

Friend,

As we pass the 11am hour in Washington DC, my Democratic colleagues and I have now been on the House floor for greater than 24-hours, staging a sit-in to demand a vote on the bi-partisan No Fly, No Buy bill.

Despite the fact that Speaker Ryan has turned off the cameras and the microphones. I will stand with my colleagues to call for a vote on commonsense legislation that keeps guns out of the hands of those on the FBI Terrorist Watch List.

Do you stand with us? Chip in $24 towards our emergency fundraising goal -- $1 for every how we've been in the well of the House Chamber demanding action.

A moment of silence on the House floor is simply not enough to honor the lives of those we have lost. We need action to keep guns out of the hands of suspected terrorists and it begins with a vote right here on the House floor.

Tell the GOP: It's simple -- No Fly, No Buy, No Break. Click to contribute $24 (or whatever you can) right now to show your support!

As I said in my email last night, this is a matter of national security. We must come together to pass this commonsense bill.

-Ben Ray²⁵

This second email also contained a photograph of the House floor. The email contained no audio or video of floor proceedings. Rather, the photograph was a still image of the House floor that was drawn from a CBSNews.com/AP story, which in turn credited that image to "House Television via AP."26

As with the first campaign email sent by Boulder Strategies, Representative Luján was not consulted regarding the drafting of this email, nor was he aware of the use of the image.²⁷ At 10:48 am, the President of Boulder Strategies sent a draft of the email to the campaign aide and other members of Representative Luján's campaign team at their personal email addresses, but not including Representative Luján. Representative Luján had no role in the email being sent. He did not read a draft of the email before it was sent, did not approve of the sending of the email, and did not request that the email be sent.

III. The June 22 email sent by Representative Luján to a campaign aide

The third email at issue in this review was sent by Representative Luján to a campaign aide on a private device and private account. According to the email, it was sent at 4:02 pm on June 22, 2016. Representative Luján forwarded an email he had received from another Member's campaign about the sit-in. He said simply: "Get something out." This was the sort of communication the Congressman would sometimes send to the campaign aide, who was the "person that [he] would communicate with things like this." Despite the email's terseness, it represented no command or specific direction. Rather, "once every few weeks" Representative Luján would forward an email along this [campaign aide] or someone else to say "hey...this looks like something we should consider." As the Representative acknowledged, "just because [he] sent it didn't always mean that Boulder [Strategies] would do something with that idea that [he] would see anyway." [S] ometimes they, Boulder Strategies, would send something out, sometimes they wouldn't."

The record does not establish where Representative Luján was when he sent this email. While he was participating in the sit-in, he "was in and out of the Capitol quite a bit" and does not "remember exactly where [he] was when [he] sent" the email. 37 Under repeated questioning by OCE, Representative Luján said that "it's possible" that he sent the email to the aide while he was "within the House, Capitol Building" but he did not "remember where [he] was." 38

OCE asked about the email between Representative Luján and his campaign aide only because the Congressman produced this same email himself voluntarily to OCE. As the OCE Board noted, "Representative Luján was cooperative throughout the review." Nonetheless, OCE used the email as the basis for a third allegation against Representative Luján that had not been previously disclosed to him in the review—that the Congressman himself "conducted campaign or political activity from the House floor ..." OCE referred the allegation even though the record showed Representative Luján may have been outside the Capitol or House buildings when he sent the three-word email.

LEGAL DISCUSSION

I. None Of The Emails In This Matter Violated 18 U.S.C. § 607

There is no factual or legal basis to allege that Representative Luján "solicited a campaign contribution from a federal building." While cooperating completely with OCE, Representative Luján proved beyond a reasonable doubt that the two campaign emails sent by a private campaign vendor were indeed sent by Boulder Strategies from private space in Colorado— more than 1,000 miles away from the Capitol. The third email, from Representative Luján to his campaign aide, presents no issues whatsoever under 18 U.S.C. § 607, as it does not solicit a contribution at all. The Committee should dismiss summarily this baseless allegation.

Federal criminal law makes it "unlawful for an individual who is an officer or employee of the Federal Government, including...Members of Congress, to solicit or receive a donation of money or other thing of value in connection with a Federal...election, while in any room or building occupied in the discharge of official duties by an officer or employee of the United States, from any person."

All This law prohibits (1) a Member of Congress (2) from soliciting or receiving money or a thing of value from any person (3) in connection with a federal election (4) while in any room or building occupied in the discharge of official duties by an officer or employee of the United States. Thus, a Member is prohibited from soliciting a campaign contribution in his House office, or in another building of the House of Representatives where he is performing official duties as a Member of Congress.

The Committee has made clear that 18 U.S.C. § 607 was "designed to address coercive activities—that is, political 'shakedowns'—directed at Federal employees." That statute is "designed to protect Federal employees from coercion vis-a-vis political solicitations and ... this protection extends to the workplace—a Federal building." For this reason, in 1985 the Committee found that the statute did not apply when a private DCCC contractor sent a fundraising solicitation with two Members' signatures and on the letterhead of the DCCC's ⁴⁰ Compare Letter from Omar S. Ashmawy to Representative Luján (Feb. 6, 2017) ("statement of the nature of review") with Report and Findings at 1 ("nature of the alleged violation").

Chair to other Members of Congress inside their House offices. ⁴⁶ Although the use of House staff or office space to send a political fundraising solicitation would "represent an inappropriate use of resources" covered by official allowances, the specter of coercion is necessary for the solicitation to violate 18 U.S.C. § 607.

Besides quoting the text of the statute, ⁴⁸ OCE offers no exegesis of it, nor any explanation of how it could apply to any of the three emails at issue in this review. In fact, the Findings provide a subtle hint that OCE was divided over whether the statute applied. The Findings Table of Contents refers to "a campaign committee soliciation [sic]," while the corresponding body text refers only to "a campaign committee communication."

In any case, none of the emails meets any of the elements of 18 U.S.C. § 607. The record shows that the June 22 and June 23 campaign emails were sent not by Representative Luján, but by Boulder Strategies, a private political consulting firm operating in private space in Boulder, Colorado. No federal officer sent these emails, and no federal building was involved. Despite OCE's suggestion to the contrary, 18 U.S.C. § 607 cannot extend to the conduct of third parties in private space that is merely "contemporaneous" with when the Member is "on the House floor." Otherwise, every time a Member votes on the floor, or attends a committee hearing, or sits in her office, she would have to worry about what her campaign's telemarketers are doing at that moment in their offices, or what her campaign's direct mail consultants are sending from theirs. OCE offered no authority to support such an expansive reading of the statute—and there is none.

Nor does Representative Luján's June 22 email to his campaign aide meet any of the elements of 18 U.S.C. § 607. The record strongly indicates that this email may have been sent from outside federal space. Moreover, that email was neither a solicitation nor a request for a solicitation. The Congressman's three-word communication—"Get something out"—cannot be construed as a solicitation, nor as a request for a fundraising solicitation, because the record shows the Congressman's campaign often emailed for purposes besides fundraising. ⁵¹ Even if the email could be construed as a request for a solicitation, the statute would not reach it. Rather, 18 USC § 607 reaches only the actual solicitation and receipt of contributions—which makes sense, given its purpose of presenting shakedowns. Finally, none of the emails is even alleged to have involved any sort of coercion, making the statute inapplicable to all of them.

Neither the facts nor the law support the fanciful allegation that Representative Luján "solicited a campaign contribution from a federal building." The Committee should summarily dismiss this allegation.

II. A Vendor's Use of a Still Photo From a Commercial News Outlet Does Not Violate the Restrictions on Using Video Coverage of House Proceedings

The June 23 campaign email sent by Boulder Strategies contained a photograph of Democratic Members on the House floor during the sit-in. Boulder Strategies took this photograph from a CBSNews.com/AP story and inserted it into the email, crediting the image to "House Television via AP." Moreover, they did so without the Congressman's knowledge. The facts and law provide no basis for further action against Representative Luján for use of this photograph.

House Rule 5 regulates "a system for complete and unedited audio and visual broadcasting and recording of the floor proceedings of the House." To implement this system, Rule 5 prohibits Members from using coverage and recordings "for any partisan political campaign purpose." The rule s purpose is to promote decorum in House debate by minimizing the likelihood of its future political use. The rule also buttresses the general prohibition on the use of official resources for political purposes. There is no clear authority that extends the prohibition to the use of a still photo obtained from a private, non-House source that itself was only indirectly derived from floor video coverage. 55

Thus, House Rule 5's prohibitions do not clearly apply to the email at issue in this review. Even if they did apply, the record shows that Representative Luján did not know that the photo would be used, and that he disapproved of its use when he learned of it later. ⁵⁶ Members can be held responsible for the conduct of their vendors and agents, and they should take reasonable steps to ensure compliance. Still, in a case like this, a vendor's departure from the Member's expectations of compliance and the own Member's lack of knowledge weighs against the Member's responsibility for the vendor's conduct. ⁵⁷

Finally, even if House Rule 5 covered the email, and even if the Member were appropriately held responsible for the resulting lapse, that would be the sort of matter that the Committee would normally handle in an advisory fashion. Each election cycle is replete with charges and countercharges that Members and Members-elect have used actual video of the House floor in campaign television ads. Such claims are commonly, wisely and proportionately resolved without resort to public investigative processes like this one. To engage in months of investigation over a campaign vendor's single use of a still photograph obtained from a non-House source is unprecedented overkill—especially when the Member's representatives, after learning of the use, disapproved and took steps to prevent recurrence. ⁵⁸

The facts and the law do not support OCE's recommendation of investigation over the use of the photo in the June 23 campaign email sent by Boulder Strategies.

III. The Record Does Not Support a Finding Against Representative Luján Over His June 22 Email to His Campaign Aide.

Because Representative Luján cooperated completely with OCE's review, he produced to OCE an email he sent from a private device and a private account to a campaign aide. Forwarding a separate email that he had received from another Member's campaign, the Congressman told the aide simply: "Get something out." From this lone email, OCE assumed that Representative Luján requested a campaign communication while in a House building and used official resources for political purposes.

However, as noted above, the record does not show that Representative Luján was in House space when he sent the email. Even if he had been in House space, a single three-word email sent on a private device without using House staff or equipment would not provide a sufficient basis for continued investigation and enforcement.

Representative Luján does not dispute that official House resources may not be used for campaign or political purposes, ⁵⁹ nor that this prohibition extends to House buildings. ⁶⁰ As the House Ethics Manual says, these prohibitions stem from 31 U.S.C. § 1301(a), which provides that "[a]ppropriations shall be applied only to the objects for which appropriations were made." ⁶¹ Because "public funds may be used only for the purpose or purposes for which they were appropriated," ⁶² and because "unauthorized items" may not be charged "to any appropriation," ⁶³ House buildings are considered "official resources" and hence cannot be used for non-appropriated purposes. ⁶⁴

⁵⁹ House Ethics Manual at 123-24. ⁶⁰ Id. at 127, 145.

⁶² Principles of Appropriations Law, U.S. Government Accountability Office 4-6.

⁶⁴ House Ethics Manual at 127.

Still, OCE's referral fails to present any substantial reason to believe that Representative Luján would have committed an actionable violation, even if he had been in House space when he sent the email. First, he used a private account and private device to send that email. He used neither House staff nor House equipment to send it. Second, without seeking in any way to undermine the general prohibition on using official resources for campaign activity, drafting and sending a three-word email involves less use of appropriated resources than certain activities the rules expressly permit, like the "Member-to-Member solicitations" in House buildings that the Committee has expressly and consistently permitted.⁶⁵ The Committee properly and aggressively prohibits the use of official space for political meetings, events, receptions, photo and film shoots, and the like. 66 Still, it has not gone so far as to suggest that enforcement lies against a brief, isolated, one-way aside to a third party, which happens every day in the House. Representative Luján's three-word communication to his campaign aide was simply an electronic version of such remarks, in a world where face-to-face interactions are rapidly giving way to digital communications, whether by text message or email. Furthermore, there is nothing on the record to indicate that any action was taken as a result of, or in response to, Representative Luján's three-word communication. There was no response to his email, no reference to his email in the communications between the campaign and Boulder Strategies, and the campaign email sent on June 22, after Representative Lujan's three-word communication was sent, was already in the pipeline.

IV. The Findings Contain Misstatements and Clear Errors by OCE in This Review

The Findings present misstatements and errors that were prejudicial to Representative Luján and others involved in the review:

First, OCE's Report and Findings repeatedly mischaracterize witness testimony to create the illusion of a violation. For example, regarding the June 23 campaign email sent by Boulder Strategies, OCE said that "the President of Boulder Strategies told OCE that he believed 'there was a conversation prior to [sending the email] ... about the Congressman wanting to time the email appropriately." '67 Yet a closer look at the transcript reveals that the email to which the President of Boulder Strategies was referring was a different email entirely—a document Batesnumbered THRL0080, which was about an immigration case decided at the Supreme Court. 68 Thus, the Findings give the misimpression that Representative Luján was involved in decisions about the June 23 campaign email, when all of the testimony and documents confirm that he was not.

⁶⁵ See House Ethics Manual at 145-46.

House Ethics Manual at 127.
 Record and Findings, ¶ 41.

⁶⁸ See Record and Findings, Exhibit 4, page 10, line 22; page 11, lines 18-27 (17-8362_0174-75).

Likewise, OCE labors to establish a causal connection between Representative Luján's June 22 email to his campaign aide, and the June 22 and June 23 campaign emails sent by Boulder Strategies. Thus, for example, the Findings say:

In contrast to the [campaign aide's] testimony, the President of Boulder Strategies told the OCE that he was 'instructed' to send a campaign email on behalf of Representative Luján's campaign committee on June 22, 2016 and that although he could not recall specifically who issued the instruction, typically it would have been from the [campaign aide]. 69

The plain implication of this statement is that the campaign aide shared Representative Luján's email with Boulder Strategies. However, the President of Boulder Strategies' direct testimony clearly says that the June 22, 2016 email "was already in the pipeline" and that he "simply inserted the first line of the email that talked about [Representative Luján] being on the floor to make it relevant for the day's topic." The campaign aide testified separately that Boulder Strategies was already working on an email that day, that he did not see the Congressman's email as a "directive," and that he did not think he communicated anything about the sit-in to Boulder Strategies to include in the e-mail that they sent. Once again, OCE drafted its findings to create the misimpression that the Congressman was involved in an errant email—when the testimony and documents make clear he was not.

Second, OCE's Findings identify a cooperating witness and misstates the capacity in which he was acting. Specifically, the Findings repeatedly refer to Representative Luján's campaign aide as "the DCCC Chief of Staff," even though the testimony makes clear that he was acting as a volunteer for Representative Luján's campaign in his personal capacity had had a relationship with Representative Luján that long preceded his involvement with the DCCC. The effect was to create the misimpression that the DCCC was somehow involved in this matter, when in fact it was not. Moreover, in direct contravention of the OCE Resolution's anonymity protections, the Findings juxtapose anonymized references to this same witness with images of emails that contain his name, thus stripping him unnecessarily of the anonymity to which he is entitled under House rules.

⁶⁹ Report and Findings, ¶ 30.

⁷⁰ Report and Findings, Exhibit 4, page 6, lines 16-19; page 7, lines 14-17 (17-8362_0170-71).

⁷³ See e.g. Report and Findings, ¶ 22.

 ⁷⁴ See Report and Findings, Exhibit 3, page 7, line 6 (17-8362 0070).
 ⁷⁵ Report and Findings, Exhibit 3, page 6, lines 13-14 (17-8362 0069).

These matters may not be dispositive, and they do not affect the credibility of the underlying documents and testimony, which provide a sound basis for summary dismissal. ⁷⁶ Still, they show the careless zeal with which OCE sought to ascribe violations to Representative Luján, despite the facts and law—all over two emails sent by a campaign vendor, and a single three-word email the Congressman sent privately to an aide.

CONCLUSION

The Committee on Ethics should summarily dismiss these allegations. The claim that Representative Luján violated 18 U.S.C. § 607's violation on soliciting contributions from a federal building is factually and legally wrong. The claim that the Congressman violated the restrictions on using video coverage of House floor proceedings is stretched beyond reasonableness, involving as it did a single still photo that the vendor obtained privately from a news report without the Congressman's knowledge or participation. Finally, the claim that Representative Luján should be investigated further because he sent one email on a private device from a personal account to a campaign aide represents a draconian application of the rules—if, indeed, he were even in House space at all when he sent it.

Representative Luján appreciates the opportunity to respond publicly to OCE's Report and Findings in this review and respectfully requests the Committee to dismiss this referral.

Very truly yours,

Brian G. Svoboda Kate Sawyer Keane

Rachel L. Jacobs Counsel to Representative Luján

cc: Tom Rust, Esq.

Patrick McMullen, Esq.

Representative Ben Ray Luján

⁷⁶ Also, when this investigation began, OCE would not even tell Representative Luján which emails were the subject of their review. The statement of the nature of the review OCE gave him on February 6 said that, in June 2016, he "sent a campaign solicitation email that contained an image of the House floor," Letter from Omar S. Ashmawy to Representative Luján (Feb. 6, 2017). When the Congressman's counsel asked OCE to identify that email, OCE refused, saying that the Congressman ought to be able to identify the email himself through news accounts. These tendentious and unsupportable interpretation of OCE's confidentiality obligations made it harder for Representative Luján to respond to the initial notice and resolve the matter at preliminary review, which ought to have been possible given the nature of the issues involved, and the fact that he cooperated completely with the review.

He wants to go back to floor but will probably do the PFB check drop at 9:45. He expects the sit in to continue until at least 11 (the Leader wants to say we did it for 24 hours). Will update with more info as I receive it.
