

HOUSING OPPORTUNITIES MADE EASIER ACT

JANUARY 29, 2018.—Committed to the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union and ordered to be printed

Mr. HENSARLING, from the Committee on Financial Services, submitted the following

R E P O R T

[To accompany H.R. 2255]

[Including cost estimate of the Congressional Budget Office]

The Committee on Financial Services, to whom was referred the bill (H.R. 2255) to clarify that nonprofit organizations may accept donated mortgage appraisals, and for other purposes, having considered the same, report favorably thereon without amendment and recommend that the bill do pass.

PURPOSE AND SUMMARY

Introduced by Representative Trott, H.R. 2255, the “Housing Opportunities Made Easier Act” amends the Truth in Lending Act (TILA) to deem mortgage appraisal services donated by a fee appraiser to an organization that is eligible to receive tax-deductible charitable contributions to be customary and reasonable.

BACKGROUND AND NEED FOR LEGISLATION

Title XIV of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (Dodd Frank Act)(P.L. 111-203), also known as the Mortgage Reform and Anti-Predatory Lending Act, made a number of changes to the regulation of property appraisals. The Dodd-Frank Act set new federal standards for the independence of appraisers, mandated independence for appraisers, and created rules for customary and reasonable fees.

Section 1472(i) of the Dodd-Frank Act directed the Bureau of Consumer Financial Protection (CFPB) to establish reasonable and customary fees for fee appraisers, professionals who furnish appraisal services for a fee. The definition of fee appraiser excludes employees of banks and appraisal management companies. Under this provision, fee appraisers are to receive payment that is “customary and reasonable” for appraisal services performed in the market area of the property being appraised. As the prudential financial regulators seek to formulate these fees, Title XIV of Dodd-Frank requires them to consider objective third-party information, such as government agency fee schedules, academic studies, and independent private sector surveys. As the prudential regulators collect the necessary information to formulate customary and reasonable fees, Section 1472(i) also directs relevant federal agencies¹ to exclude fees that are connected to assignments ordered by appraisal management companies. The CFPB promulgated rules to implement the statute, which went into effect in 2014.²

However, the CFPB’s use of the terms “customary” and “reasonable” in its rule created an issue for non-profit housing organizations, such as Habitat for Humanity, who enlist individuals and groups in local communities all over the world to help build or improve dwellings for low-income and impoverished families. In many cases these organizations require volunteer labor and monetary donations to complete projects, help build homes and obtain affordable mortgages. In 2017 alone Habitat for Humanity assisted more than 30 thousand low-income Americans construct or rehabilitate their dwellings. This figure could have been substantially higher if organizations such as Habitat for Humanity were permitted to receive appraisals at no cost.³

As a result, the CFPB’s definition for the cost of appraisals has hindered certain non-profit housing organizations’ ability to provide cost effective residences for the needy because the CFPB could interpret appraisal donations as a violation of the law. With appraisal costs reaching up to more than $1000 each, Habitat for Humanity has said that the “provisions in [the Dodd-Frank Act], including appraisal independence regulations, created unintended consequences for Habitat for Humanity and other nonprofit organizations providing responsible homeownership opportunities to families without access to bank mortgages.”

COMMITTEE OVERSIGHT FINDINGS

Pursuant to clause 3(c)(1) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the findings and recommendations of the Committee based on oversight activities under clause 2(b)(1) of rule X of the Rules of the House of Representatives, are incorporated in the descriptive portions of this report.

PERFORMANCE GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

Pursuant to clause 3(c)(4) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Committee states that H.R. 2255 will allow mortgage appraisal services donated by a fee appraiser to an organization that is eligible to receive tax-deductible charitable contributions to be deemed customary and reasonable.

NEW BUDGET AUTHORITY, ENTITLEMENT AUTHORITY, AND TAX EXPENDITURES

In compliance with clause 3(c)(2) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Committee adopts as its own the estimate of new budget authority, entitlement authority, or tax expenditures or revenues contained in the cost estimate prepared by the Director of the Congressional Budget Office pursuant to section 402 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974.

CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE ESTIMATES

Pursuant to clause 3(c)(3) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the following is the cost estimate provided by the Congressional Budget Office pursuant to section 402 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974:

U.S. CONGRESS,
CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE,
Washington, DC, January 26, 2018.

Hon. JEB HENSARLING,
*Chairman, Committee on Financial Services,
House of Representatives, Washington, DC.*

DEAR MR. CHAIRMAN: The Congressional Budget Office has prepared the enclosed cost estimate for H.R. 2255, the HOME Act.

If you wish further details on this estimate, we will be pleased to provide them. The CBO staff contact is Stephen Rabent.

Sincerely,

KEITH HALL,
Director.

Enclosure.

H.R. 2255—HOME Act

Under current law, mortgage lenders are required to compensate property appraisers at a customary and reasonable rate for performing appraisal services. H.R. 2255 would deem appraisal services donated to an organization that is eligible to receive tax-deductible charitable contributions to be customary and reasonable for purposes of that requirement.

Using information from the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB), CBO estimates that enacting H.R. 2255 would cost $1 million over the 2018–2020 period for several agencies to prepare an interagency rule amending their regulations to reflect the new appraisal requirements.

Costs incurred by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the National Credit Union Administration, the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, and the Federal Housing Finance Agency are recorded in the budget as increases in direct spending. Those agencies are authorized to collect premiums and fees from the financial institutions they regulate to fully cover such administrative expenses. The CFPB is permanently authorized to spend amounts transferred from the Federal Reserve. Because that activity is not subject to appropriation, the CFPB's expenditures are recorded in the budget as direct spending. In total, CBO estimates that enacting H.R. 2255 would increase net direct spending by less than $500,000 over the 2018–2020 period.

Costs to the Federal Reserve System reduce remittances to the Treasury, which are recorded in the budget as revenues. CBO estimates that enacting H.R. 2255 would decrease such revenues by less than $500,000 over the 2018–2020 period.

The net effect on the deficit would be insignificant. Because enacting H.R. 2255 would affect direct spending and revenues, pay-as-you-go procedures apply.

CBO estimates that enacting H.R. 2255 would not significantly increase net direct spending or on-budget deficits in any of the four consecutive 10-year periods beginning in 2028.

H.R. 2255 contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act.

The CBO staff contact for this estimate is Stephen Rabent. The estimate was approved by H. Samuel Papenfuss, Deputy Assistant Director for Budget Analysis.

(2) mischaracterizing, or suborning any mischaracterization of, the appraised value of the property securing the extension of the credit;

(3) seeking to influence an appraiser or otherwise to encourage a targeted value in order to facilitate the making or pricing of the transaction; and

(4) withholding or threatening to withhold timely payment for an appraisal report or for appraisal services rendered when the appraisal report or services are provided for in accordance with the contract between the parties.

(c) EXCEPTIONS.—The requirements of subsection (b) shall not be construed as prohibiting a mortgage lender, mortgage broker, mortgage banker, real estate broker, appraisal management company, employee of an appraisal management company, consumer, or any other person with an interest in a real estate transaction from asking an appraiser to undertake 1 or more of the following:

(1) Consider additional, appropriate property information, including the consideration of additional comparable properties to make or support an appraisal.

(3) Correct errors in the appraisal report.

(d) PROHIBITIONS ON CONFLICTS OF INTEREST.—No certified or licensed appraiser conducting, and no appraisal management company procuring or facilitating, an appraisal in connection with a consumer credit transaction secured by the principal dwelling of a consumer may have a direct or indirect interest, financial or otherwise, in the property or transaction involving the appraisal.

Fee studies shall exclude assignments ordered by known appraisal management companies.

(2) FEE APPRAISER DEFINITION.—For purposes of this section, the term “fee appraiser” means a person who is not an employee of the mortgage loan originator or appraisal management company engaging the appraiser and is—
