I. SUMMARY AND BACKGROUND

A. PURPOSE AND SUMMARY

The bill H.R. 6306, as reported by the Committee on Ways and Means expands access and enhances the utility of health savings accounts (HSAs) through several common-sense improvements to the eligibility, contribution and expenditure rules governing HSAs. Specifically, this bill would increase the contributions limits for HSAs, permit spousal catch-up contributions into the same account and create a grace period for medical expenses incurred before the establishment of an HSA.

B. BACKGROUND AND NEED FOR LEGISLATION

According to a survey of 52 health insurers conducted by America’s Health Insurance Plans (AHIP), 21.8 million people were covered by a HDHP with an HSA as of January 2017. These plans and accounts are an increasingly popular option for workers and enrollment growth shows no sign of slowing. A survey of employer-sponsored health benefits found that 17 percent of all employers offered a HDHP with an HSA in 2017 compared to 2 percent in 2005.

HSA account holders are diverse. According to WageWorks, Inc., the administrator of benefits for more than 7 million people, the median household income for an HSA accountholder is $57,060. In addition, a JCT analysis found that of the tax returns that took an HSA deduction in 2015, 71 percent of the returns reported an income of $200,000 or less, and 28 percent reported an income of $75,000 or less. Account holders are also distributed across age groups, with nearly a third between the ages of 25–44 and another third of account holders between the ages 45–64.

Most critically, research has consistently found that such coverage, which empowers individuals and families to be more engaged health care consumers, is capable of significantly reducing health care costs.

C. LEGISLATIVE HISTORY

Background

H.R. 6306 was introduced on July 3, 2018, and was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Committee action

The Committee on Ways and Means marked up H.R. 6306, the “Health Care Security Act of 2018,” on July 12, 2018, and ordered the bill, as amended, favorably reported (with a quorum being present).

Committee hearings

The policy issues associated with Health Savings Accounts (HSAs) and need for legislative response were discussed at the following Ways and Means hearings during the 114th and 115th Congress:

- Full Committee Hearing on the Tax Treatment of Health Care (April 14, 2016)
- Subcommittee on Health Member Day Hearing on Tax-Related Proposals to Improve Health Care (May 17, 2016)
- Subcommittee on Health Hearing on Rising Health Insurance Premiums Under the Affordable Care Act (July 12, 2016)
- Subcommittee on Health Hearing on Lowering Costs and Expanding Access to Health Care through Consumer-Directed Health Plans (June 6, 2018)

II. EXPLANATION OF THE BILL

A. MAXIMUM CONTRIBUTION LIMIT TO HEALTH SAVINGS ACCOUNT INCREASED TO AMOUNT OF DEDUCTIBLE AND OUT-OF-POCKET LIMITATION

PRESENT LAW

Health savings accounts

An individual may establish a health savings account (“HSA”) only if the individual is covered under a plan that meets the requirements for a high deductible health plan, as described below. In general, HSAs provide tax-favored treatment for current medical expenses as well as the ability to save on a tax-favored basis for future medical expenses. In general, an HSA is a tax-exempt trust or custodial account created exclusively to pay for the qualified medical expenses of the account holder and his or her spouse and dependents.

Within limits,<sup>1</sup> contributions to an HSA made by or on behalf of an eligible individual are deductible by the individual. Contributions to an HSA are excludible from income and employment taxes if made by the employer. Earnings in HSAs are not taxable. Distributions from an HSA for qualified medical expenses are not includible in gross income. Distributions from an HSA that are not used for qualified medical expenses are includible in gross income and are subject to an additional tax of 20 percent. The 20-percent additional tax does not apply if the distribution is made after death or disability, or after the individual attains the age of Medicare eligibility (age 65).

High deductible health plans.

A high deductible health plan is a health plan that has a minimum annual deductible of $1,350 (for 2018) for self-only coverage and twice this amount for family coverage, and for which the sum of the annual deductible and other annual out-of-pocket expenses (other than premiums) for covered benefits does not exceed $6,650 (for 2018) for self-only coverage and twice this amount for family

<sup>1</sup>For 2018, the basic limit on annual contributions that can be made to an HSA is $3,450 in the case of self-only coverage and $6,900 in the case of family coverage. (The 2018 limitation for family coverage was revised by the IRS to permit taxpayers to disregard the $6,850 limitation under the modified inflation adjustment of Pub. L. No. 115–97. Rev. Rul. 2018–27, 2018–20 I.R.B. 591, May 14, 2018.) The basic annual contributions limits are increased by $1,000 for individuals who have attained age 55 by the end of the taxable year (referred to as “catch-up” contributions).

coverage.<sup>2</sup> These dollar thresholds are subject to inflation adjustment, based on chained CPI.<sup>3</sup>

An individual who is covered under a high deductible health plan is eligible to establish an HSA, provided that while such individual is covered under the high deductible health plan, the individual is not covered under any health plan that (1) is not a high deductible health plan and (2) provides coverage for any benefit (subject to certain exceptions) covered under the high deductible health plan.<sup>4</sup>

Various types of coverage are disregarded for this purpose, including coverage of any benefit provided by permitted insurance, coverage (whether through insurance or otherwise) for accidents, disability, dental care, vision care, or long-term care, as well as certain limited coverage through health flexible savings accounts.<sup>5</sup> Permitted insurance means insurance under which substantially all of the coverage provided relates to liabilities incurred under workers' compensation laws, tort liabilities, liabilities relating to ownership or use of property, or such other similar liabilities as specified by the Secretary under regulations. Permitted insurance also means insurance for a specified disease or illness, and insurance paying a fixed amount per day (or other period) of hospitalization.<sup>6</sup>

REASONS FOR CHANGE

The Committee believes connecting consumers to their health care dollars through consumer-directed health plans, including high deductible health plans, reduces health care costs. The Committee further believes that HSAs are an important tool used in conjunction with high deductible health plans to permit consumers to set aside funds and provide such consumers the choice on how to spend those funds to pay for medical care.

The Committee believes that raising the basic limit on aggregate HSA contributions for a year to equal the maximum of the sums of the annual deductible and out-of-pocket expenses permitted under a high deductible health plan will expand access and enhance the utility of HSAs.

EXPLANATION OF PROVISION

Under the provision, the basic limit on aggregate HSA contributions for a year is increased to equal the maximum of the sum of the annual deductible and out-of-pocket expenses permitted under a high deductible health plan. Thus, for 2018, the basic limit is $6,650 in the case of self-only coverage and $13,300 in the case of family coverage. As under present law, basic contribution limits are increased by $1,000 for an eligible individual who has attained age 55 by the end of the taxable year. In addition, as under present law, the annual HSA contribution limit for an individual is generally the sum of the limits determined separately for each month (that is, 1/12 of the limit for the year, including the catch-up limit, if applicable), based on the individual's status and health plan coverage as of the first day of the month.

EFFECTIVE DATE

The provision is effective for taxable years beginning after December 31, 2018.

B. ALLOW BOTH SPOUSES TO MAKE CATCH-UP CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE SAME HEALTH SAVINGS ACCOUNT

PRESENT LAW

An individual with a high deductible health plan and no other health plan (other than a plan that provides certain permitted insurance or permitted coverage) may establish an HSA. HSA contributions for a year are subject to basic dollar limits that are adjusted annually as needed to reflect annual cost-of-living increases. The basic contribution limits are increased by $1,000 for an eligible individual who has attained age 55 by the end of the taxable year (referred to as “catch-up contributions”). If eligible individuals are married to each other and either spouse has family coverage, both spouses are treated as having only family coverage, so that the contribution limit for family coverage applies. The contribution limit (without regard to any catch-up contribution amounts) is divided equally between the spouses unless they agree on a different division.

If both spouses of a married couple are eligible individuals, each may contribute to an HSA, but they cannot have a joint HSA.<sup>7</sup> Under the rule described above, however, the spouses may divide their basic contribution limit for the year by allocating the entire amount to one spouse to be contributed to that spouse’s HSA.<sup>8</sup>

This allocation rule does not apply to catch-up contribution amounts, however. Thus, if both spouses are at least age 55 and eligible to make catch-up contributions, each must make the catch-up contribution to his or her own HSA.<sup>9</sup>

REASONS FOR CHANGE

The Committee believes connecting consumers to their health care dollars through consumer-directed health plans, including high deductible health plans, reduces health care costs. The Committee further believes that HSAs are an important tool used in conjunction with high deductible health plans to permit consumers to set aside funds and provide such consumers the choice on how to spend those funds to pay for medical care.

The Committee believes that allowing both spouses to make catch-up contributions to the same health savings account will enhance a couple’s ability to save and plan for future health care expenses.

EXPLANATION OF PROVISION

Under the provision, if both spouses of a married couple are eligible for catch-up contributions and either has family coverage under a high deductible health plan as of the first day of any month, the annual contribution limit that can be allocated between them includes catch-up contribution amounts of both spouses. Thus, for example, the spouses can agree that their combined basic and catch-up contribution amounts are allocated to one spouse to be contributed to that spouse's HSA.<sup>10</sup>

<sup>7</sup>Notice 2004–50, 2004–2 C.B. 196, Q&A–63.

<sup>8</sup>Notice 2004–50, Q&A–32. Funds from that HSA can be used to pay qualified medical expenses for either spouse on a tax-free basis. Notice 2004–50, Q&A–36.

EFFECTIVE DATE

The provision is effective for taxable years beginning after December 31, 2018.

C. SPECIAL RULE FOR CERTAIN MEDICAL EXPENSES INCURRED BEFORE ESTABLISHMENT OF HEALTH SAVINGS ACCOUNT

PRESENT LAW

Distributions from an HSA for qualified medical expenses are not includible in gross income. Distributions from an HSA that are not used for qualified medical expenses are includible in gross income and are subject to an additional tax of 20 percent. The 20-percent additional tax does not apply if the distribution is made after death, disability, or after the individual attains the age of Medicare eligibility (that is, age 65).

In order for a distribution from an HSA to be excludible as a payment for a qualified medical expense, the medical expense must be incurred on or after the date that the HSA is established.<sup>11</sup> Thus, a distribution from an HSA is not excludible as a payment for a qualified medical expense if the medical expense is incurred after a taxpayer enrolls in a high deductible health plan but before the taxpayer establishes an HSA.

REASONS FOR CHANGE

The Committee believes connecting consumers to their health care dollars through consumer-directed health plans, including high deductible health plans, reduces health care costs. The Committee further believes that HSAs are an important tool used in conjunction with high deductible health plans to permit consumers to set aside funds and provide such consumers the choice on how to spend those funds to pay for medical care.

The Committee believes that allowing an HSA to be treated as established on the date coverage under a high deductible health plan begins will expand access to and enhance the utility of HSAs.

EXPLANATION OF PROVISION

Under the provision, if an HSA is established during the 60-day period beginning on the date that an individual's coverage under a high deductible health plan begins, then, solely for purposes of determining whether an amount paid is used for a qualified medical expense, the HSA is treated as having been established on the date coverage under the high deductible health plan begins. Thus, if a taxpayer establishes an HSA within 60 days of the date that the taxpayer's coverage under a high deductible health plan begins, any distribution from an HSA used as a payment for a qualified medical expense incurred during that 60-day period after the high deductible health plan coverage began is excludible from gross income as a payment for a qualified medical expense even though the expense was incurred before the date that the HSA was established.

EFFECTIVE DATE

The provision is effective with respect to coverage beginning after December 31, 2018.

B. STATEMENT REGARDING NEW BUDGET AUTHORITY AND TAX EXPENDITURES BUDGET AUTHORITY

In compliance with clause 3(c)(2) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Committee states that the bill involves no new or increased budget authority. The Committee further states that the revenue-reducing tax provision involves no new tax expenditure.

C. COST ESTIMATE PREPARED BY THE CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE

In compliance with clause 3(d) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the following statement is made concerning the effects on the budget of the bill, H.R. 6138, as reported. As of the filing of this report, the Committee had not received an estimate prepared by the Congressional Budget Office (CBO).

V. OTHER MATTERS TO BE DISCUSSED UNDER THE RULES OF THE HOUSE

A. COMMITTEE OVERSIGHT FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

Pursuant to clause 3(c)(1) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Committee advises that the findings and recommendations of the Committee, based on oversight activities under clause 2(b)(1) of rule X of the Rules of the House of Representatives, are incorporated into the description portions of this report.

B. STATEMENT OF GENERAL PERFORMANCE GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

With respect to clause 3(c)(4) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Committee advises that the bill contains no measure that authorizes funding, so no statement of general performance goals and objectives for which any measure authorizes funding is required.

C. INFORMATION RELATING TO UNFUNDED MANDATES

This information is provided in accordance with section 423 of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 (Pub. L. No. 104-4).

The Committee has determined that the bill does not contain Federal mandates on the private sector. The Committee has determined that the bill does not impose a Federal intergovernmental mandate on State, local, or tribal governments.

D. APPLICABILITY OF HOUSE RULE XXI 5(b)

Rule XXI 5(b) of the Rules of the House of Representatives provides, in part, that “A bill or joint resolution, amendment, or conference report carrying a Federal income tax rate increase may not be considered as passed or agreed to unless so determined by a vote of not less than three-fifths of the Members voting, a quorum being present.” The Committee has carefully reviewed the bill and states that the bill does not involve any Federal income tax rate increases within the meaning of the rule.

E. TAX COMPLEXITY ANALYSIS

Section 4022(b) of the Internal Revenue Service Restructuring and Reform Act of 1998 (“IRS Reform Act”) requires the staff of the Joint Committee on Taxation (in consultation with the Internal Revenue Service and the Treasury Department) to provide a tax complexity analysis. The complexity analysis is required for all legislation reported by the Senate Committee on Finance, the House Committee on Ways and Means, or any committee of conference if the legislation includes a provision that directly or indirectly amends the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 and has widespread applicability to individuals or small businesses.

Pursuant to clause 3(h)(1) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the staff of the Joint Committee on Taxation has determined that a complexity analysis is not required under section 4022(b) of the IRS Reform Act because the bill contains no provisions that amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 and that have “widespread applicability” to individuals or small businesses, within the meaning of the rule.

F. CONGRESSIONAL EARMARKS, LIMITED TAX BENEFITS, AND LIMITED TARIFF BENEFITS

With respect to clause 9 of rule XXI of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Committee has carefully reviewed the provisions of the bill and states that the provisions of the bill do not contain any congressional earmarks, limited tax benefits, or limited tariff benefits within the meaning of the rule.

G. DUPLICATION OF FEDERAL PROGRAMS

In compliance with Sec. 3(c)(5) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Committee states that no provision of the bill establishes or reauthorizes: (1) a program of the Federal Government known to be duplicative of another Federal program, (2) a program included in any report from the Government Accountability Office to Congress pursuant to section 21 of Public Law 111–139, or (3) a program related to a program identified in the most recent Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance, published pursuant to section 6104 of title 31, United States Code.

H. DISCLOSURE OF DIRECTED RULE MAKINGS

In compliance with Sec. 3(i) of H. Res. 5 (115th Congress), the following statement is made concerning directed rule makings: The Committee advises that the bill requires no directed rule makings within the meaning of such section.

DISSENTING VIEWS

H.R. 6306 Health Care Security Act of 2018 (Paulsen)

H.R. 6306 (Paulsen, R-MN) increases health savings account (HSA) contribution limits to match the qualifying deductible and out-of-pocket maximum for a high-deductible health plan (HDHP) (for 2018, $6,650 for individuals and $13,500 for families) and allows individuals over 55 to make additional contributions (similar to catch-up provisions in other retirement savings accounts). The bill also would allow for HSA-eligible expenditures to be made in the 60 days prior to commencement of coverage under the HDHP. Individuals already struggling with medical bills do not have the disposable income to contribute to these tax shelters, and the increase in limits is a meaningless change that still leaves those who struggle to afford care without help.

HSAs mostly benefit high-income taxpayers while doing little to help moderate-income families or the uninsured. Currently only five percent of HSA account holders contribute the annual maximum. This bill explicitly only helps the small proportion of high-income people who can best afford to save for health care expenses and are therefore the most likely to contribute to HSAs. Higher income filers are much more likely to establish HSAs than lower income filers—70 percent of HSA contributions come from households with incomes over $100,000, according to the Joint Commission on Taxation (JCT)—and they are also likelier to max out their contributions. Additionally, high-income individuals receive the biggest tax benefit for each dollar contributed to an HSA because the value of a tax deduction rises with an individual's tax bracket. More than 44 percent of Americans cannot afford a $400 emergency visit. For these families, it is unlikely that they have excess income to devote to a tax-preferred account.

Legislation busts the deficit to benefit the wealthy, again. Altogether, the 11 marked up in committee would add another $92 billion in unoffset tax cuts to the deficit. Republicans' attempts to expand HSAs (and encourage more enrollment in plans with high deductibles, covering very few up-front health costs) are a continuation of their platform of shifting families into health plans that provide fewer health benefits and higher out-of-pocket costs—while providing greater tax benefits for higher-income individuals and corporate special interests. According to 2014 Treasury data, only five percent of families with adjusted gross income of under $100,000 held money in an HSA, and those users' average account balances were $1,700.

HDHPs and HSAs do not promote healthy behavior. It is widely acknowledged that HSAs and HDHPs lead consumers to delay care. They do not encourage individuals to make better health care decisions, as Republicans' "skin in the game" talking points assert. Decades of research shows that exposure to high out-of-pocket costs leads consumers to delay or forgo both necessary and unnecessary care. Delaying care and increasing costs run counter to Democratic policy goals of better coordinated, high-value affordable care for the American family.

According to the American Hospital Association, "Hospitals and health systems report that increased enrollment in HDHPs over the past several years has reduced access to care and subjected patients to costs they cannot afford. In addition, patients enrolled in HDHPs appear to delay care until they have reached their deductible or are in an emergency situation, which could lead to poorer health outcomes.”

H.R. 6306 does not undo Republican sabotage, premium hikes, and benefit cuts they have caused over the past 18 months. This bill was one in a series of 11 bills this Committee marked up that Republicans claim will help lower health care costs for consumers. This legislation does not undo the disruption and sabotage the Republicans have continued to inflict on the American health care system. Instead of focusing on expansion of HSAs and HDHPs, Democrats encourage the Committee to redirect its attention to legislation that could actually ensure that uninsured, low-income, and vulnerable people have real access to care. For example H.R. 5155, sponsored by Reps. Pallone, Neal, and Scott would protect people with preexisting conditions, help lower premiums for Americans, and improve affordability of health coverage.

JCT estimates the cost of this bill to be $15.3 billion over 10 years. With this bill Republicans are adding more tax cuts and increasing the deficit. Republicans are using the deficit, which they keep making larger with cuts for the wealthy, to justify the deep cuts they plan to make to Medicare and Medicaid. Republicans already are proposing to cut Medicare and Medicaid by nearly a trillion dollars to try to pay for the tax cuts they have already enacted. This bill will only increase Republicans’ call for further cuts to these critical programs.

Representative Doggett (D-TX) offered an amendment would require that a HDHP associated with an HSA covered under the underlying bill be offered by an issuer that does not discriminate or raise premiums on the basis of pre-existing conditions. This commonsense amendment was also defeated on party lines, 15–23.

Representative Chu (D-CA) offered an amendment would allow individuals to use HSA funds to pay for health care expenses of minors separated from their parents by the Trump Administration without penalty. This compassionate amendment was also defeated on party lines, 16–22.
