I. PURPOSE AND BILL SUMMARY

The purpose of H.R. 4256, the “Investing in Main Street Act of 2021,” is to increase the amount of capital and surplus a financial institution or savings association may invest in a Small Business Investment Company (SBIC) licensed by the Small Business Administration (SBA) from 5 to 15 percent with the goal to improve access to investment capital for small businesses.

II. BACKGROUND AND NEED FOR LEGISLATION

H.R. 4256 was introduced by Rep. Judy Chu (D-CA) and Rep. Andrew Garbarino (R-NY) on June 30, 2021. H.R. 4256 is identical to H.R. 116, which was introduced in the 116th Congress. H.R. 116 was introduced on January 3, 2019, by Rep. Chu and Rep. Ralph Norman (R-SC). H.R. 116 passed the House on January 14, 2019, under Suspension of the Rules by a vote of 403-2 (Roll Call No. 30). H.R. 116 was received in the Senate and read twice and referred to the Committee on Small Business and Entrepreneurship on January 15, 2019.

Authorized by the Small Business Investment Act of 1958, the SBIC program provides access to low-cost, government-backed investment capital for small businesses, which strengthens local communities and empowers American business owners to grow and compete in the global economy. SBA licenses and regulates privately owned and managed investment funds that use their own capital, plus SBA-guaranteed leverage, to make equity and debt investments in small businesses. Leveraged funds obtained under the program generally carry rates lower than would otherwise be available from traditional lending sources. This enables SBIC funds to make investments in greater amounts than would be possible solely with private funds. The size of an SBIC fund's private capital determines the amount of SBA funding for which the SBIC fund is eligible. SBIC funds are generally eligible for up to two tiers of leverage on their private capital, meaning an SBIC fund with $75 million in private capital could have a total fund size of up to $225 million, with up to $150 million of SBA leverage. Investors that typically provide SBICs with private capital include public and private pension funds, banks and other financial institutions, institutional investors, and other high-net-worth individuals. SBIC funds represent approximately $30 billion in investment capital, which have helped create or sustain more than 9.5 million jobs since 1995.

Currently, the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency's (OCC) regulations permit financial institutions and savings associations to invest up to 15 percent (subject to OCC approval) of their capital and surplus into qualified public welfare investments. An SBIC is considered a public welfare investment,¹ however, the Small Business Investment Act of 1958 restricts these institutions from investing more than five percent of their capital and surplus in SBICs.² To harmonize the Small Business Investment Act of 1958 with the OCC's public welfare investment regulations, the bill permits financial institutions and savings associations to invest up to 15 percent of their capital and surplus in an SBIC, subject to the approval of the appropriate federal regulator.

On September 26, 2019, the Committee held a management review hearing on the SBIC program, with Mr. Joe Shepard, Associate Administrator of Investment and Innovation, and a panel of private sector SBIC program participants and stakeholders.⁵

VIII. NEW BUDGET AUTHORITY, ENTITLEMENT AUTHORITY, AND TAX EXPENDITURES

Pursuant to clause 3(c)(2) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives and section 308(a) of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, the Committee provides the following opinion and estimate with respect to new budget authority, entitlement authority, and tax expenditures. While the Committee has not received an estimate of new budget authority contained in the cost estimate prepared by the Director of the Congressional Budget Office pursuant to Sec. 402 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, the Committee does not believe that there will be any additional costs attributable to this legislation. XII. CONGRESSIONAL EARMARKS, LIMITED TAX BENEFITS, AND LIMITED TARIFF BENEFITS
