Purpose and Summary

H.R. 7910, the “Protecting Our Kids Act” is a comprehensive bill that contains numerous measures focused on addressing gun violence, gun safety, responsible gun ownership, regulation of certain firearms and components, gun trafficking, and public safety. The bill was introduced on May 31, 2022, by Chairman Jerrold Nadler (D-NY), with Crime Subcommittee Chairwoman Sheila Jackson Lee (D-TX), and Representative Mike Thompson (D-CA) as original cosponsors.

Background and Need for the Legislation

I. OVERVIEW

Today, more Americans carry guns, legally and illegally, than ever. Fueled, in part, by politics and anxieties brought on by the pandemic, firearm sales have surged in recent years, along with police recovery of illegal firearms. There are nearly 400 million firearms circulating in America—more guns than people—and gun violence is responsible for more than 32,000 deaths every year. In the last two weeks, 31 people have been murdered and another 20 injured at the hands of two 18-year-olds legally armed with semiautomatic assault rifles. These latest attacks primarily targeted the most vulnerable of our communities—the young and the elderly.

H.R. 7910 would employ a variety of strategies to effectively reduce gun violence across the country by raising the age that certain semiautomatic firearms can lawfully be possessed, limiting the accessibility of large capacity magazines, prohibiting straw purchasing, promoting the safe storage of firearms, and building on existing regulations to take ghost guns and bump stocks out of our communities.

Mass shootings are, unfortunately, a common occurrence in the United States. The country recorded 692 mass shootings with four or more injuries last year, up from 610 in 2020 and 417 in 2019. There have already been 214 mass shootings in 2022. The incidents of the last two weeks—mass murders committed by young people with semiautomatic weapons—are tragically illustrative of gun violence issues faced by our nation. First, in Buffalo, New York, a gunman motivated by white supremacy targeted a grocery store in a predominantly Black neighborhood and killed 10 people. Then, just 10 days later, another 18-year-old killed 19 fourth graders and two teachers in Uvalde, Texas. It was the deadliest school shooting since the 2012 attack in Sandy Hook, Connecticut. Following the Uvalde attack, President Joe Biden called for passage of “common-sense gun laws.”

Though garnering major public attention, firearm safety issues go beyond mass shootings and are a daily threat to communities and law enforcement. America’s gun violence epidemic consists of much more than high-profile media events. In 2020, firearm deaths replaced motor vehicle accidents as the leading cause of death for Americans ages 1 to 19, according to an analysis of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention data published in the New England Journal of Medicine. Every 16 hours, a woman in America is shot and killed by a current or former intimate partner. Suicides account for 60 percent of all gun deaths. The proliferation of ghost guns—guns that lack serial numbers—presents a particular challenge to law enforcement by circumventing established methods of tracing guns, connecting guns and individuals to a crime, removing guns from criminal entities, and seeking justice for victims of gun violence.

The COVID-19 pandemic has placed unprecedented pressure on public systems to address all aspects of gun violence as U.S. gun deaths have spiked during the pandemic. Some 20,726 people died from homicides, unintentional deaths and other types of gun violence—not including suicides—in 2021, and 19,486 died in 2020, up from 15,468 in 2019, according to the Gun Violence Archive.¹ 48% of Americans believe gun violence is a very big problem in the country, according to a Pew Research Center survey conducted in April 2021.²

Incidents of domestic violence, suicides involving firearms, and violent crime have surged as the pandemic has lingered. Recent incidents have shown that gun violence continues to be a persistent threat. Prior to the attacks in Buffalo and Uvalde, a minor with access to a gun shot and killed four and injured seven at Oxford High School in Michigan in December 2021; a man used a handgun to take four people hostage at Congregation Beth Israel in Colleyville, Texas in January 2022; and two young, Latino NYPD officers were shot and killed while responding to a domestic disturbance call that same month. Just this past weekend, a young man shot and killed one person and injured seven others during a Memorial Day celebration in Taft, Oklahoma, and six people—all under the age of 16—were victims of a shootout in Chattanooga, Tennessee. These horrific incidents represent just a small sample of the more than 200 mass shootings and additional individual acts of gun violence that have harmed our communities and taken away family members just this year.

As Americans continue to lose loved ones to gun violence, guns are more available than ever. Gun purchases began to surge in early 2020 and remained relatively high for more than a year. Between 18.5 million and 19.9 million firearms were sold in 2021, making it the second-busiest year for gun sales on record. 2020 was a record-breaking year—22.8 million firearms were sold. Meanwhile, the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) ran 38.9 million background checks in 2021 and 39.7 million in 2020,³ although the FBI's data does not correspond precisely with purchases because not all background checks are associated with individual sales of new guns, and there continue to be many gun sales for which no background check is required. According to the National Shooting Sports Foundation's annual surveys of gun retailers and National Instant Criminal Background Check System background checks, an estimated 5.4 million people in the United States became first-time gun purchasers in 2021, while 8.4 million background checks were performed for first-time buyers in 2020.⁴

Following two years of record-breaking gun sales, gun violence prevention advocates fear the rise in gun sales has magnified the risk of gun injuries and violence. The increasing number of guns in our communities is especially troubling given that many guns are stored loaded and unsecured such that they are accessible to minors and more likely to fall into the wrong hands.

H.R. 7910 would (1) raise the lawful age to purchase certain semiautomatic centerfire rifles from 18 to 21 years old; (2) establish a new federal offense for the import, sale, manufacture, transfer, or possession of large capacity magazines, with exceptions for certain law enforcement uses and the possession (but not sale) of grandfathered magazines; allow state and local governments to use the Edward Byrne Memorial Justice Assistance Grant (Byrne JAG)

Program to compensate individuals who surrender large capacity magazines through a buyback program; (3) establish new federal offenses for gun trafficking and straw purchasers and authorize seizure of the property and proceeds of the offense; (4) establish voluntary best practices for safe firearm storage, require most firearms to include a label that says “Safe Storage Saves Lives,” require dealers to provide a secure gun storage or safety device with the sale of a shotgun or rifle (as already required for handguns), and award grants for Safe Firearm Storage Assistance Programs; (5) establish requirements to regulate the storage of firearms on residential premises and create criminal penalties for violation of the requirements; (6) build on the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives’ (ATF) regulatory bump stock ban by listing bump stocks under the National Firearms Act (like machineguns) and statutorily banning the manufacture, sale, or possession of bump stocks for civilian use; and (7) build on ATF’s regulatory ban of ghost guns by ensuring that ghost guns are subject to existing federal firearm regulation by amending the definition of “firearm” to include gun kits and partial receivers and changing the definition of “manufacturing firearms” to include assembling firearms using 3D printing.

II. ISSUES ADDRESSED BY H.R. 7910

A. The Age for Purchase Eligibility

Under federal law, only those 21 years of age or older are legally allowed to purchase handguns at licensed gun dealers.⁵ However, the age restriction does not extend to semiautomatic rifles. Historical data shows that 18- to 20-year-olds are uniquely likely to engage in impulsive, emotional, and risky behavior, providing further support for limiting access to firearms to such individuals. One in eight school shootings are perpetrated by shooters aged 18 to 20, and 18- to 20-year-olds commit gun homicides at four times higher the rate of adults 21 and older.⁶ Neuroscientific and sociological research also demonstrates that young adults under the age of 21 have less capacity to control impulsivity, make good decisions, and appreciate the consequences of their actions than older individuals.

It should also be noted that the national legal drinking age is 21, and credit card applicants under the age of 21 require a cosigner or “financial information . . . indicating an independent means of repaying any obligation arising from” credit obligations related to the card.⁷ Recently, the Food and Drug Administration announced that, as of December 20, 2019, the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act had been amended to “raise the federal minimum age of sale of tobacco products from 18 to 21 years.”⁸ Finally, in all states that have legalized marijuana use, including California, the age threshold is also 21 for recreational use.⁹

A review of some of the deadliest mass shootings in America over the last two decades highlights the risk associated with allowing individuals under the age of 21 to legally access semiautomatic assault rifles:

- In 1999, an 18-year-old male and 17-year-old male carried out a massacre at Columbine High School in Littleton, Colorado, leaving 15 dead and 21 injured.
- In 2012, a 20-year-old male murdered 26 people, including 20 first and second graders, and injure another two in Newtown, Connecticut.
- In 2018, a 19-year-old male murdered 17 students and teachers and wounded another 14 at Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School in Parkland, Florida.
- In 2019, a 19-year-old male killed four people and wounded 17 at the Gilroy Garlic Festival in Gilroy, California.
- On May 14, 2022, an 18-year-old male murdered 10 people and injured 13 at a Tops supermarket in Buffalo, New York.
- On May 24, 2022, an 18-year-old murdered 19 children and two teachers at Robb Elementary School in Uvalde, Texas.

So far, six states—Florida, Washington, Vermont, California, Illinois, and Hawaii—have increased the minimum purchase age for long guns to 21. These laws have been shown to prevent firearms suicide attempts by teenagers, who frequently lack impulse control. One study found that laws of this nature resulted in a 9% decline in firearms suicide rates among 18- to 20-year-olds.¹⁰ Yet these laws have been challenged in the federal courts.¹¹

B. Gun Trafficking, Straw Purchasers, and Impacted Communities

Gun violence is responsible for a more than four-year reduction in life expectancy for Black men in America.¹² While gun violence touches Americans in diverse communities across the country, homicides are largely concentrated in urban areas with high minority populations. The most recent 5-year average of CDC data on gun deaths shows that approximately 80% of them occur in such areas.¹³

The overwhelming majority of guns recovered in a crime start as a legal sale from a licensed dealer. Irresponsible gun dealers are the source of many crime guns, and a scourge on these communities. These dealers often willfully engage in illegal or corrupt behavior—selling guns that they know will be trafficked into areas of high crime.

Guns move easily from states with weak gun laws into states with strong gun laws, undermining state-level gun laws and creating significant threats to public safety. Every year, thousands of guns are diverted from legal to illegal markets. Most of the cities chronically impacted by gun violence do not have many, if any, federally licensed gun dealers within their city limits. Instead, gun dealers typically sit outside these communities, frequently in less diverse and more affluent suburbs, and profit from irresponsible or illegal sales that drive guns into cities that later turn up at crime scenes. In Chicago, for example there are no gun dealers inside city limits, and the state of Illinois has strict gun laws. But crime gun tracing undertaken by the city of Chicago has shown how guns are trafficked from dealers in surrounding counties, and even from neighboring Indiana.

Gun violence in communities of color is often driven by two factors: easy access to guns and a small group of people at high risk of engaging in violence—sometimes no more than 0.25% to 1% of the city’s population.¹⁴ One study from the Urban Institute found that it “remains too easy for this [small] group to obtain guns. In the hands of these high-risk people, guns escalate minor disputes into fatal incidents, and firearm violence poses a particular risk to law enforcement officers. Limiting easy access to guns by this group is an essential step in reducing gun violence.”¹⁵

Access to guns is a critical driver of chronic violence. Gun trafficking is the diversion of firearms from the legal market into the hands of criminals or others who cannot legally possess guns. The most frequent type of trafficking channel identified in ATF investigations is straw purchasing—purchasing a weapon for someone who is prohibited from having one—from federally licensed firearms dealers. Often, guns recovered during crimes were recovered from someone who was not legally allowed to possess a gun. These individuals obtain their firearms from a myriad of sources: straw purchasing or “off the books” sales by negligent gun dealers, theft, and the “underground” gun market. Cutting off access for these individuals can reduce the number of guns available for criminal use.

C. Untraceable Firearms—Ghost Guns

Ghost guns are firearms constructed with component parts that can be obtained anonymously, without a background check, and which lack serial numbers. Sometimes referred to as “do-it-yourself guns,” ghost guns are assembled by unlicensed persons, rather than manufacturers, and generally evade all regulations that apply to the licensed firearms industry. While ghost guns may be made with 3D printers, the overwhelming number of ghost guns are assembled from parts or “kits.” Numerous online and brick-and-mortar retailers offer ghost gun kits which contain all the parts needed to assemble a firearm, including unfinished receivers, tools, and step-by-step instructions. In recent years, there has been a large increase in the availability of these components, and at least 16 companies that sell ghost gun kits have reported order backlogs and shipping delays due to overwhelming demand.

Ghost guns have been linked nationwide to homicides, suicides, mass shootings, robberies, shooting deaths of law enforcement officers, and domestic violence. Since ghost guns are devoid of serial numbers and other identifying marks, such guns recovered in crime are not traceable by law enforcement. The absence of a manufacturing record, serial number, or background check is exactly what draws prohibited persons to ghost guns and makes them the perfect guns to use in committing crimes. The threat ghost guns pose to public safety and law enforcement has risen in recent years. In Southern California, for instance, even prior to the pandemic-inspired surge in sales, the ATF reported that almost half of all new investigations involved ghost guns.¹⁶ Likewise, the District of Columbia has reported a dramatic increase in ghost guns recovered in crimes, from just three in 2017 to 116 recovered in 2019.¹⁷ In 2021, almost 20,000 suspected ghost guns were recovered by law enforcement in criminal investigations and reported to the ATF.¹⁸

Earlier this year, the ATF published a final rule to curtail the proliferation of ghost guns by requiring serialization and background checks for certain gun kits and to require the serialization of some existing ghost guns.¹⁹ This rule will go into effect in August.

D. Safe Storage and Child Access Prevention

An overwhelming amount of research shows that easy access to firearms leads to an increased risk of gun violence among young people. Studies estimate that 70–90% of guns used in youth suicides, unintentional shootings among children, and school shootings perpetrated by shooters under the age of 18 are acquired from the minor’s home or the home of a relative or friend.²⁰ An estimated 4.6 million children in the U.S. live in homes with at least one loaded, unlocked firearm,²¹ and many young people are able to access these guns. One study found one in five children handled a gun without parental permission or supervision.²² The American Academy of Pediatrics recommends that if parents keep firearms in their home, all firearms should be locked, unloaded, and stored separately from ammunition. However, only 3 of 10 adults in households with children report storing all guns unloaded and locked up.²³

The presence of unsecured firearms in the home increases the risk of unintentional and intentional shootings. Nearly 40% of all unintentional shooting deaths among children 11–14 years of age occur in the home of a friend, and in 16% of unintentional firearm deaths among children younger than 13 years of age, the gun was mistaken for a toy.²⁴ A major factor contributing to the risk of suicide for minors is the ease with which they can access firearms. Over 75% of firearms used in youth suicide attempts and unintentional firearm injuries were stored in the residence of the victim, a relative, or a friend.²⁵

The Oxford High School shooting that left four students dead, the Santa Fe High School shooting that left 10 dead, including 17-year-old Kimberly Vaughan, and the accidental killing of 15-year-old Ethan Song further underscore the need to ensure that minors do not have unsupervised access to guns. The United States Secret Service and the Department of Education report that in 65% of deadly school shootings, the attacker obtained the firearm from his or her own home or the home of a relative.²⁶ And in nearly 80% of gunfire incidents at schools where the perpetrator is under 18, the shooter obtained the firearm from their home or the home of extended family or friends.²⁷

Safe storage practices are also important to keep firearms away from dangerous individuals. In the last decade, nearly 2 million firearms have been reported stolen.²⁸ Unregulated, stolen guns present a danger to society and handicap police investigations. Gun owners who do not secure their guns are at higher risk of someone stealing them. An increased risk of gun theft may increase the likelihood of further crime occurring.²⁹ These guns are then trafficked through unregulated markets, giving people who cannot pass a background check a method of obtaining guns. Between 2010 and 2016, police recovered more than 23,000 stolen firearms that were used to commit kidnappings, armed robberies, sexual assaults, murders, and other violent crimes.³⁰ Stolen firearms complicate and slow law enforcement investigations into violent crimes because investigators often must uncover the trafficking pattern of the firearm in order to identify a suspect.³¹

To safely store firearms, gun owners need to follow three practices: (1) all ammunition inside of the gun should be unloaded, including chamber rounds; (2) ammunition should be locked in a secure location separate from where the firearms are locked; and (3) gun owners should use a firearm locking device. Locking devices, safes, and lock boxes thwart gun theft because they have biometric technology, combinations, or keys.

Thirteen states have laws concerning firearm locking devices. These state laws aimed at reducing minors' access to firearms vary greatly by state, from imposing criminal liability for negligent storage regardless of any harm that occurs, or imposing criminal liability for unsecured weapons after a death or injury occurs, to prohibiting provision of a firearm to a minor. Massachusetts and Oregon remain the only states that require all firearms to be locked when not in use. Likewise, Connecticut, Colorado, and California impose a looser version of the Massachusetts law and impose the regulation only in distinct situations.

Currently, there are no federal laws that mandate safe storage, though federal law does require safe storage devices to be made available when a federal firearm licensee sells a handgun³² and provides immunity from certain civil actions if an owner secured a handgun with a safety device.³³ Existing federal law is narrow in scope: it applies only to dealers and does not require gun owners to use the safety device given to them at the time of purchase. The Department of Justice recently announced a new rule to ensure that federal firearms licensees have safe storage devices available that are compatible with the firearms available for purchase.³⁴

E. Bump Stocks

Historically, the gun industry has evaded national gun laws through the creation of supplemental and unregulated devices to augment firing capabilities. Such devices can turn a regular gun into one that is as deadly as a machinegun. Although machineguns have been illegal in the United States for decades, bump stocks have allowed gun manufacturers to circumvent the law to produce weapons like the ones used in the mass shooting that occurred in Las Vegas, Nevada. During the 2017 massacre in Las Vegas, 58 people were killed and more than 800 were injured at the Route 91 Harvest Music Festival.³⁵ The shooter used bump stocks which he was able to purchase due to a loophole in the law that allowed these accessories to be purchased, even though they enable a semi-automatic rifle to mimic the rate of fire of an automatic weapon.

A bump stock attaches to a semi-automatic rifle to increase the rate of fire. Bump stocks harness a gun's recoil energy to rapidly move the firearm back and forth, bumping the shooter's stationary finger against the trigger. Federal law generally bans civilian ownership of machineguns manufactured after May 1986, including any parts used to convert an otherwise legal firearm into an illegal machinegun. It defines a machinegun as a weapon which fires "automatically more than one shot, without manual reloading, by a single function of the trigger." In 2018, the ATF issued a rule re-interpreting the terms "single function of the trigger" and "automatically" and clarifying the meaning of "machinegun" to ban bump stocks.³⁶

Gun Owners of America and other groups challenged the ATF rule and asked for a preliminary injunction to block it. The district court denied the challengers' request. Bump stocks remain illegal for now, following the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals decision to uphold the ATF's bump stock ban.³⁷ Bump stock proponents are seeking U.S. Supreme Court review, and several state attorneys general have urged the Supreme Court to overturn the ban. Congressional action to ban bump stocks could ensure that these extremely deadly devices remain illegal and do not threaten the safety of our communities.

F. Large Capacity Magazines

Generally, a magazine is a spring-loaded container for ammunition that may or may not be detachable from a firearm. Following the discharge of a round, the spring mechanism in the magazine forces a new round into the firearm's breach, enabling it to fire another round.³⁸ A firearm that can accommodate a detachable magazine may be fitted with magazines of variable size.³⁹ For example, a rifle with a detachable magazine may be able to accommodate magazines that hold a multitude of rounds. Certain rifles can accommodate drum magazines, which hold ammunition in a circular mode and may accommodate hundreds of rounds.⁴⁰

With the passage of the Violent Crime Control and Law Enforcement Act of 1994, Congress banned the possession or transfer of magazines capable of holding more than 10 rounds of ammunition.⁴¹ Those who possessed magazines on or before the date of enactment that exceeded 10 rounds were "grandfathered in," and could therefore continue to possess banned magazines.⁴² The federal ban expired in 2004.⁴³ Since then, nine states and the District of Columbia have adopted restrictions on the size of magazines.⁴⁴

Large capacity magazines have been used in many high-profile mass shootings. The shooter who murdered 20 children and six school employees at Sandy Hook Elementary School in Newtown,

CT used a 30-round magazine to carry out his attack. The larger magazine he used allowed him to fire 154 rounds in under five minutes. The shooter who targeted U.S. Representative Gabrielle Giffords, killing six and injuring the Congresswoman and six others, used a handgun with a 33-round magazine. The perpetrator of the Pulse nightclub massacre in Orlando, Florida killed 49 people using a rifle with a 30-round magazine and a handgun with a 17-round magazine. More recently, the perpetrators of the mass casualty shootings in Dayton, Ohio and El Paso, Texas used high-capacity magazines to gun down their victims.⁴⁵ The Dayton shooter had a 100-round drum magazine, which enabled him to kill nine people in less than a minute.⁴⁶

The sale of high-capacity magazines in the United States has also contributed to mass murders beyond our borders. In 2011, a shooter killed 67 people, including many children, at a summer camp in Norway using 30-round magazines purchased by mail from a dealer in the United States.⁴⁷

An analysis of mass casualty shootings that reviewed incidents between 1982 and 2012 found that large capacity ammunition magazines were recovered in over half of the incidents.⁴⁸ Not only were high-capacity magazines used in half of the mass casualty incidents, but, on average, their use caused twice as many fatalities, and 14 times as many injuries.⁴⁹ Even removing the 2017 Las Vegas shooting from the analysis, between 2009 and 2017, firearms with high capacity magazines resulted in twice as many fatalities and six times as many people shot per incident on average.⁵⁰ According to one recent poll, 70% of Americans support a ban on large-capacity magazines.⁵¹

Committee Estimate of Budgetary Effects

New Budget Authority and Congressional Budget Office Cost Estimate

Pursuant to clause 3(c)(2) of House rule XIII and section 308(a) of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, and pursuant to clause (3)(c)(3) of House rule XIII and section 402 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, the Committee has requested but not received from the Director of the Congressional Budget Office a budgetary analysis and a cost estimate of this bill.

Duplication of Federal Programs

Pursuant to clause 3(c)(5) of House rule XIII, no provision of H.R. 7910 establishes or reauthorizes a program of the federal government known to be duplicative of another federal program.

Performance Goals and Objectives

The Committee states that pursuant to clause 3(c)(4) of House rule XIII, H.R. 7910 would employ a variety of strategies to effectively reduce gun violence across the country by raising the age that certain semiautomatic firearms can lawfully be possessed, limiting the accessibility of large capacity magazines, prohibiting straw purchasing, promoting the safe storage of firearms, and building on existing regulations to take ghost guns and bump stocks out of our communities.

Advisory on Earmarks

In accordance with clause 9 of House rule XXI, H.R. 7910 does not contain any congressional earmarks, limited tax benefits, or limited tariff benefits as defined in clause 9(d), 9(e), or 9(f) of House rule XXI.

Section-by-Section Analysis

The following discussion describes the bill as reported by the Committee.

Sec. 1. Short Title. Section 1 sets forth the short title of the bill as the “Protecting Our Kids Act” and includes a table of contents for the Act.

TITLE I—RAISE THE AGE

Sec. 101. Prohibition on Federal Firearms Licensee Selling or Delivering Certain Semiautomatic Centerfire Rifles or Semiautomatic

Centerfire Shotguns to a Person Under 21 Years of Age, With Exceptions. Section 101 amends section 922(b)(1) of title 18 of the U.S. Code to prohibit anyone under the age of 21 from purchasing a semiautomatic centerfire rifle or semiautomatic centerfire shotgun that has or can accept a magazine of more than 5 rounds. It includes an exemption for active-duty military members, as well as full-time law enforcement officers.

Sec. 102. Operation of the Federal Bureau of Investigation's Public Access Line. Section 102 requires the FBI to submit a report to Congress regarding the FBI's Public Access Line (PAL) that must include, at minimum, a description of the protocols and procedures in effect with response to information-sharing between the PAL and the field offices of the FBI, as well as recommendations for improving the protocols and procedures to improve the information-sharing.

TITLE II—PREVENT GUN TRAFFICKING

Sec. 201. Prohibition on Straw Purchases of Firearms; Prohibition on Gun Trafficking. Section 201 amends chapter 44 of title 18 of the U.S. Code to make it unlawful for a person (other than a federal licensee) to knowingly purchase or acquire a firearm for a third party or to request someone to purchase a firearm on their behalf. It also requires the Attorney General to include a statement of the applicable penalties for violating this Section on firearm transaction records. Section 201 also amends section 982(a)(5) of Title 18 of the U.S. Code to require forfeiture of any property that is traceable to the gross proceeds obtained from unlicensed firearms sales, illegal gun transfers, or gun trafficking, from a person convicted of a violation of those crimes or conspiracy to commit those crimes. It further amends Section 1956(c)(7) of title 18 of the U.S. code to include unlicensed firearms sales, illegal gun transfers, and gun trafficking among the specified unlawful activities whose proceeds are covered by the statute prohibiting money laundering.

Sec. 202. Prohibition on Disposition of Firearm to Person Intending Unlawful Further Disposition. Section 202 amends section 922(d) of title 18 of the U.S. Code to prohibit the disposition of a firearm or ammunition to anyone who intends to sell or otherwise dispose of it in violation of federal law, or to a person in another state in violation of a law of that state.

Sec. 203. Penalties. Section 203 amends section 924(a) of title 18 of the U.S. Code to establish a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison for a knowing violation of the straw purchaser statute established in Section 201.

Sec. 204. Firearms Subject to Forfeiture. Section 204 amends section 924(d) of title 18 of the U.S. Code to require the forfeiture of any firearm or ammunition by a person found in violation of the prohibition established in Section 201.

TITLE III—UNTRACEABLE FIREARMS

Sec. 301. Requirement That All Firearms Be Traceable. Section 301 amends Section 921(a) of Title 18 of the U.S. Code to define the terms “ghost gun,” “fire control component,” and “frame or receiver.” It amends the definition of “manufacturer” so that “manufacturing firearms” includes assembling firearms using 3D printing technology.

It further amends section 922 to establish criminal offenses for the following activities, absent appropriate licenses: the manufacture, sale, offer to sell, transfer, purchase, receipt, knowing possession, or possession with intent to sell of a ghost gun in or affecting interstate or foreign commerce; engraving or casting a serial number on a firearm in or affecting interstate or foreign commerce; the sale, offer to sell, or transfer, possession, purchase, or receipt, in or affecting interstate or foreign commerce, of a machine that has the sole or primary function of manufacturing firearms.

Section 301 updates existing federal firearms serialization requirements in accordance with the Act and requires the Attorney General to prescribe regulations for engraving unique serial numbers onto ghost guns. It establishes criminal penalties for the offenses established within the section.

Sec. 302. Modernization of the Prohibition on Undetectable Firearms. Section 302 amends section 922(p) of title 18 of the U.S. Code to modernize the existing prohibition against the manufacture, import, sale, shipment, delivery, possession, transfer, or receipt of undetectable firearms and major components thereof.

TITLE IV—SAFE STORAGE

Sec. 401. Ethan's Law. Section 401 amends section 922(z) of title 18 of the U.S. Code to prohibit any person from keeping any firearm unsecured on their premises if they should reasonably expect that a minor or other resident who cannot lawfully possess a firearm may gain access to that firearm. If a person stores their firearm using a secure safety device, within a secure location, or within readily retrievable proximity to that person, then the firearm is considered safely and securely stored.

This section establishes a penalty of a $500 fine for each instance in which a person fails to securely store a firearm as required by Ethan's Law. It also requires the seizure and forfeiture of any improperly stored firearm. Section 401 also amends title I of the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Acts of 1968 (34 U.S.C. §10101 et seq.) to allow States and Tribes to receive grants to assist law enforcement agencies and courts in implementing State law that similarly prohibits unsecure storage of firearms.

Sec. 402. Safe Guns, Safe Kids. Section 402 amends section 922(z) of title 18 of the U.S. Code to add an enhanced penalty of up to 5 years in prison for the owner of an unsecured firearm if a minor or resident who cannot lawfully possess a firearm gains access to that unsecured firearm and causes injury as a result.

Sec. 403. Kimberly Vaughan Firearm Safe Storage. Section 403 requires the Attorney General to establish voluntary best practices relating to safe firearm storage and to publish them on a website and in print. Section 403 amends section 923 of title 18 of the U.S. Code to require gun dealers and manufacturers who serialize at least 250 firearms annually to provide a clear written notice with each manufactured or imported handgun, rifle, or shotgun that states "Safe Storage Saves Lives," followed by the address of the public website setting forth the best practices established by the Attorney General.

Section 403 also amends section 922(z) of title 18 of the U.S. Code to expand the current requirement that federal firearms licensees provide safe firearm storage devices during sales of handguns to include sales of rifles and shotguns as well. This section also amends part PP of title I of the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 (34 U.S.C. 10101 et seq.) to create a 10-year, $10 million grant program for States and Indian Tribes for the development, implementation, and evaluation of Safe Firearm Storage Assistance Programs. These programs will be carried out by units of local government and nonprofit organizations with the sole purpose of acquiring and distributing safe firearm storage devices.

Section 403 also establishes the grant application and reporting requirements for the grantees and the Attorney General. It amends the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to allow for a 10% credit against tax for retail sales of external safe firearm storage devices, with a maximum $40 credit per item sold.

TITLE V—CLOSING THE BUMP STOCK LOOPHOLE

Sec. 501. Bump Stocks. Section 501 amends section 5845 of the Internal Revenue Code and sections 921 and 922 of title 18 of the U.S. Code to define the term “bump stock” and regulate bump stocks similarly to machineguns—requiring that they be registered with the ATF under the National Firearms Act and generally prohibiting the manufacture, sale, or possession of bump stocks for civilian use.

TITLE VI—KEEP AMERICANS SAFE

Sec. 601. Definitions. Section 601 amends section 921(a) of title 18 to define “large capacity ammunition feeding device,” commonly known as a high-capacity magazine, and “qualified law enforcement officer.” It defines “high-capacity ammunition feeding device” as a device such as a magazine, belt, drum, feed strip, and helical feeding device and includes devices that can be joined together, restored, changed, or converted to increase the ability of a device to feed more than ten rounds of ammunition to a firearm. It also defines the term “qualified law enforcement officer” to give it the same meaning as in the statute which authorizes carrying of concealed firearms by qualified law enforcement officers.

Sec. 602. Restrictions on Large Capacity Ammunition Feeding Devices. Section 602 amends section 922 of title 18 to prohibit importation, sale, manufacture, transfer, or possession of large capacity ammunition feeding devices. This section provides exceptions for: (1) large capacity ammunition feeding devices possessed prior to the date of enactment; (2) the importation for, manufacture for, sale to, transfer to, or possession by Federal, State, local, and campus law enforcement officers for law enforcement purposes; (3) the importation for, manufacture for, sale to, transfer to, or possession by licensees or employees and contractors of licensees for purposes of establishing and maintaining an on-site physical protection system and security organization on-site or off-site for training purposes or transportation of nuclear materials under title I of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954; (4) possession by retired law enforcement officers in good standing and not otherwise prohibited from receiving ammunition; and (5) the importation, manufacture, sale, transfer, or possession by a licensed manufacturer or importer for testing or experimentation authorized by the Attorney General.

Section 602 defines “campus law enforcement officer” to include individuals employed by private institutions of higher education who are responsible for prevention or investigation of crime; are authorized by law to carry a firearm, execute search warrants, and make arrests; and are recognized, commissioned, or certified as law enforcement officers.

It also amends Section 923(i) of title 18 to require that large capacity ammunition feeding devices manufactured after enactment of the Act be identified, legibly and conspicuously, by a serial number, date of manufacture, and any other identification as determined by the Attorney General through regulation.

Section 602 also amends section 924(d) of title 18 to require seizure and forfeiture of large capacity feeding devices possessed, manufactured, or imported in violation of the Act. It also authorizes the return of such items upon acquittal of the owner or possessor, or dismissal of the case against them.

Sec. 603. Penalties. Section 603 sets penalties for possession or importation in violation of the Act. A person convicted of knowingly importing, selling, manufacturing, transferring, or possessing, in or affecting interstate or foreign commerce, a large capacity ammunition feeding device, would be fined, imprisoned for not more than five years, or both.

Sec. 604. Use of Byrne Grants for Buy-Back Programs for Large Capacity Ammunition Feeding Devices. The bill would authorize the use of Byrne JAG grants for State and local “buy-back” programs to provide compensation for surrendered large capacity ammunition feeding devices.

TITLE VII—MISCELLANEOUS

Sec. 701. NICS Report. Section 701 would require the Attorney General to submit annual reports to Congress on the demographic data of those who were determined to be ineligible to purchase a firearm in the preceding year based on a background check performed by the National Instant Criminal Background Check System. The reports would include demographic data on the race, ethnicity, national origin, sex, gender, age, disability, average annual income, and English language proficiency of such individuals, if available.

(F) the occurrence of violent crime in school zones has resulted in a decline in the quality of education in our country;

(G) this decline in the quality of education has an adverse impact on interstate commerce and the foreign commerce of the United States;

(H) States, localities, and school systems find it almost impossible to handle gun-related crime by themselves—even States, localities, and school systems that have made strong efforts to prevent, detect, and punish gun-related crime find their efforts unavailing due in part to the failure or inability of other States or localities to take strong measures; and

(I) the Congress has the power, under the interstate commerce clause and other provisions of the Constitution, to enact measures to ensure the integrity and safety of the Nation's schools by enactment of this subsection.

(2)(A) It shall be unlawful for any individual knowingly to possess a firearm that has moved in or that otherwise affects interstate or foreign commerce at a place that the individual knows, or has reasonable cause to believe, is a school zone.

(vi) by a law enforcement officer acting in his or her official capacity; or

(vii) that is unloaded and is possessed by an individual while traversing school premises for the purpose of gaining access to public or private lands open to hunting, if the entry on school premises is authorized by school authorities.

(3)(A) Except as provided in subparagraph (B), it shall be unlawful for any person, knowingly or with reckless disregard for the safety of another, to discharge or attempt to discharge a firearm that has moved in or that otherwise affects interstate or foreign commerce at a place that the person knows is a school zone.

(B) Subparagraph (A) does not apply to the discharge of a firearm—

(i) on private property not part of school grounds;

(ii) as part of a program approved by a school in the school zone, by an individual who is participating in the program;

(iii) by an individual in accordance with a contract entered into between a school in a school zone and the individual or an employer of the individual; or

(iv) by a law enforcement officer acting in his or her official capacity.

(4) Nothing in this subsection shall be construed as preempting or preventing a State or local government from enacting a statute establishing gun free school zones as provided in this subsection.

(r) It shall be unlawful for any person to assemble from imported parts any semiautomatic rifle or any shotgun which is identical to any rifle or shotgun prohibited from importation under section 925(d)(3) of this chapter as not being particularly suitable for or readily adaptable to sporting purposes except that this subsection shall not apply to—

(1) the assembly of any such rifle or shotgun for sale or distribution by a licensed manufacturer to the United States or any department or agency thereof or to any State or any department, agency, or political subdivision thereof; or

(2) the assembly of any such rifle or shotgun for the purposes of testing or experimentation authorized by the Attorney General.

(s)(1) Beginning on the date that is 90 days after the date of enactment of this subsection and ending on the day before the date that is 60 months after such date of enactment, it shall be unlawful for any licensed importer, licensed manufacturer, or licensed dealer to sell, deliver, or transfer a handgun (other than the return of a handgun to the person from whom it was received) to an individual who is not licensed under section 923, unless—

(A) after the most recent proposal of such transfer by the transferee—

(i) the transferor has—

(I) received from the transferee a statement of the transferee containing the information described in paragraph (3);

(II) verified the identity of the transferee by examining the identification document presented;

(III) within 1 day after the transferee furnishes the statement, provided notice of the contents of the statement to the chief law enforcement officer of the place of residence of the transferee; and

(IV) within 1 day after the transferee furnishes the statement, transmitted a copy of the statement to the chief law enforcement officer of the place of residence of the transferee; and

(ii)(I) 5 business days (meaning days on which State offices are open) have elapsed from the date the transferor furnished notice of the contents of the statement to the chief law enforcement officer, during which period the transferor has not received information from the chief law enforcement officer that receipt or possession of the handgun by the transferee would be in violation of Federal, State, or local law; or

(II) the transferor has received notice from the chief law enforcement officer that the officer has no information indicating that receipt or possession of the handgun by the transferee would violate Federal, State, or local law;

(B) the transferee has presented to the transferor a written statement, issued by the chief law enforcement officer of the place of residence of the transferee during the 10-day period ending on the date of the most recent proposal of such transfer by the transferee, stating that the transferee requires access to a handgun because of a threat to the life of the transferee or of any member of the household of the transferee;

(C)(i) the transferee has presented to the transferor a permit that—

(I) allows the transferee to possess or acquire a handgun; and

(II) was issued not more than 5 years earlier by the State in which the transfer is to take place; and

(ii) the law of the State provides that such a permit is to be issued only after an authorized government official has verified that the information available to such official does not indicate that possession of a handgun by the transferee would be in violation of the law;

(D) the law of the State requires that, before any licensed importer, licensed manufacturer, or licensed dealer completes the transfer of a handgun to an individual who is not licensed under section 923, an authorized government official verify that the information available to such official does not indicate that possession of a handgun by the transferee would be in violation of law;

(E) the Attorney General has approved the transfer under section 5812 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986; or

(F) on application of the transferor, the Attorney General has certified that compliance with subparagraph (A)(i)(III) is impracticable because—

(i) the ratio of the number of law enforcement officers of the State in which the transfer is to occur to the number of square miles of land area of the State does not exceed 0.0025;

(ii) the business premises of the transferor at which the transfer is to occur are extremely remote in relation to the chief law enforcement officer; and

(iii) there is an absence of telecommunications facilities in the geographical area in which the business premises are located.

(2) A chief law enforcement officer to whom a transferor has provided notice pursuant to paragraph (1)(A)(i)(III) shall make a reasonable effort to ascertain within 5 business days whether receipt or possession would be in violation of the law, including research in whatever State and local recordkeeping systems are available and in a national system designated by the Attorney General.

(3) The statement referred to in paragraph (1)(A)(i)(I) shall contain only—

(A) the name, address, and date of birth appearing on a valid identification document (as defined in section 1028(d)(1)) of the transferee containing a photograph of the transferee and a description of the identification used;

(B) a statement that the transferee—

(i) is not under indictment for, and has not been convicted in any court of, a crime punishable by imprisonment for a term exceeding 1 year, and has not been convicted in any court of a misdemeanor crime of domestic violence;

(v) is not an alien who—

(I) is illegally or unlawfully in the United States; or

(II) subject to subsection (y)(2), has been admitted to the United States under a nonimmigrant visa (as that term is defined in section 101(a)(26) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1101(a)(26)));

(vi) has not been discharged from the Armed Forces under dishonorable conditions; and

(vii) is not a person who, having been a citizen of the United States, has renounced such citizenship;

(C) the date the statement is made; and

(D) notice that the transferee intends to obtain a handgun from the transferor.

(4) Any transferor of a handgun who, after such transfer, receives a report from a chief law enforcement officer containing information that receipt or possession of the handgun by the transferee violates Federal, State, or local law shall, within 1 business day after receipt of such request, communicate any information related to the transfer that the transferor has about the transfer and the transferee to—

(A) the chief law enforcement officer of the place of business of the transferor; and

(B) the chief law enforcement officer of the place of residence of the transferee.

(5) Any transferor who receives information, not otherwise available to the public, in a report under this subsection shall not disclose such information except to the transferee, to law enforcement authorities, or pursuant to the direction of a court of law.

(6)(A) Any transferor who sells, delivers, or otherwise transfers a handgun to a transferee shall retain the copy of the statement of the transferee with respect to the handgun transaction, and shall retain evidence that the transferor has complied with subclauses (III) and (IV) of paragraph (1)(A)(i) with respect to the statement.

(B) Unless the chief law enforcement officer to whom a statement is transmitted under paragraph (1)(A)(i)(IV) determines that a transaction would violate Federal, State, or local law—

(i) the officer shall, within 20 business days after the date the transferee made the statement on the basis of which the notice was provided, destroy the statement, any record containing information derived from the statement, and any record created as a result of the notice required by paragraph (1)(A)(i)(III);

(ii) the information contained in the statement shall not be conveyed to any person except a person who has a need to know in order to carry out this subsection; and

(iii) the information contained in the statement shall not be used for any purpose other than to carry out this subsection.

(C) If a chief law enforcement officer determines that an individual is ineligible to receive a handgun and the individual requests the officer to provide the reason for such determination, the officer shall provide such reasons to the individual in writing within 20 business days after receipt of the request.

(7) A chief law enforcement officer or other person responsible for providing criminal history background information pursuant to this subsection shall not be liable in an action at law for damages—

(A) for failure to prevent the sale or transfer of a handgun to a person whose receipt or possession of the handgun is unlawful under this section; or

(B) for preventing such a sale or transfer to a person who may lawfully receive or possess a handgun.

(8) For purposes of this subsection, the term “chief law enforcement officer” means the chief of police, the sheriff, or an equivalent officer or the designee of any such individual.

(9) The Attorney General shall take necessary actions to ensure that the provisions of this subsection are published and disseminated to licensed dealers, law enforcement officials, and the public.

(t)(1) Beginning on the date that is 30 days after the Attorney General notifies licensees under section 103(d) of the Brady Handgun Violence Prevention Act that the national instant criminal background check system is established, a licensed importer, licensed manufacturer, or licensed dealer shall not transfer a firearm to any other person who is not licensed under this chapter, unless—

(A) before the completion of the transfer, the licensee contacts the national instant criminal background check system established under section 103 of that Act;

(B)(i) the system provides the licensee with a unique identification number; or

(ii) 3 business days (meaning a day on which State offices are open) have elapsed since the licensee contacted the system, and the system has not notified the licensee that the receipt of a firearm by such other person would violate subsection (g) or (n) of this section, or State, local, or Tribal law; and

(C) the transferor has verified the identity of the transferee by examining a valid identification document (as defined in section 1028(d) of this title) of the transferee containing a photograph of the transferee.

(2) If receipt of a firearm would not violate subsection (g) or (n) or State, local or Tribal law, the system shall—

(A) assign a unique identification number to the transfer;

(B) provide the licensee with the number; and

(C) destroy all records of the system with respect to the call (other than the identifying number and the date the number was assigned) and all records of the system relating to the person or the transfer.

(3) Paragraph (1) shall not apply to a firearm transfer between a licensee and another person if—

(A)(i) such other person has presented to the licensee a permit that—

(I) allows such other person to possess or acquire a firearm; and

(II) was issued not more than 5 years earlier by the State in which the transfer is to take place; and

(ii) the law of the State provides that such a permit is to be issued only after an authorized government official has verified that the information available to such official does not indicate that possession of a firearm by such other person would be in violation of law;

(B) the Attorney General has approved the transfer under section 5812 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986; or

(C) on application of the transferor, the Attorney General has certified that compliance with paragraph (1)(A) is impracticable because—

(i) the ratio of the number of law enforcement officers of the State in which the transfer is to occur to the number of square miles of land area of the State does not exceed 0.0025;

(ii) the business premises of the licensee at which the transfer is to occur are extremely remote in relation to the chief law enforcement officer (as defined in subsection (s)(8)); and

(iii) there is an absence of telecommunications facilities in the geographical area in which the business premises are located.

(4) If the national instant criminal background check system notifies the licensee that the information available to the system does not demonstrate that the receipt of a firearm by such other person would violate subsection (g) or (n) or State local, or Tribal law, and the licensee transfers a firearm to such other person, the licensee shall include in the record of the transfer the unique identification number provided by the system with respect to the transfer.

(5) If the licensee knowingly transfers a firearm to such other person and knowingly fails to comply with paragraph (1) of this subsection with respect to the transfer and, at the time such other person most recently proposed the transfer, the national instant criminal background check system was operating and information was available to the system demonstrating that receipt of a firearm by such other person would violate subsection (g) or (n) of this section or State local, or Tribal law, the Attorney General may, after notice and opportunity for a hearing, suspend for not more than 6 months or revoke any license issued to the licensee under section 923, and may impose on the licensee a civil fine of not more than $5,000.

(6) Neither a local government nor an employee of the Federal Government or of any State or local government, responsible for providing information to the national instant criminal background check system shall be liable in an action at law for damages—

(A) for failure to prevent the sale or transfer of a firearm to a person whose receipt or possession of the firearm is unlawful under this section; or

(B) for preventing such a sale or transfer to a person who may lawfully receive or possess a firearm.

(u) It shall be unlawful for a person to steal or unlawfully take or carry away from the person or the premises of a person who is licensed to engage in the business of importing, manufacturing, or dealing in firearms, any firearm in the licensee's business inventory that has been shipped or transported in interstate or foreign commerce.

(v)(1) It shall be unlawful for a person to import, sell, manufacture, transfer, or possess, in or affecting interstate or foreign commerce, a large capacity ammunition feeding device.

(2) Paragraph (1) shall not apply to the possession of any large capacity ammunition feeding device otherwise lawfully possessed on or before the date of enactment of this subsection.

(3) Paragraph (1) shall not apply to—

(B) the importation for, or sale or transfer to a licensee under title I of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 (42 U.S.C. 2011 et seq.) for purposes of establishing and maintaining an on-site physical protection system and security organization required by Federal law, or possession by an employee or contractor of such licensee on-site for such purposes or off-site for purposes of licensee-authorized training or transportation of nuclear materials;

(C) the possession, by an individual who is retired in good standing from service with a law enforcement agency and is not otherwise prohibited from receiving ammunition, of a large capacity ammunition feeding device—

(i) sold or transferred to the individual by the agency upon such retirement; or

- (2) It shall be unlawful for any person who is a juvenile to knowingly possess—

(5) For purposes of this subsection, the term "juvenile" means a person who is less than 18 years of age.

§ 923. Licensing

(a) No person shall engage in the business of importing, manufacturing, or dealing in firearms, or importing or manufacturing ammunition, until he has filed an application with and received a license to do so from the Attorney General. The application shall be in such form and contain only that information necessary to determine eligibility for licensing as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe and shall include a photograph and fingerprints of the applicant. Each applicant shall pay a fee for obtaining such a license, a separate fee being required for each place in which the applicant is to do business, as follows:

(1) If the applicant is a manufacturer—

(A) of destructive devices, ammunition for destructive devices or armor piercing ammunition, a fee of $1,000 per year;

(B) of firearms other than destructive devices, a fee of $50 per year; or

(C) of ammunition for firearms, other than ammunition for destructive devices or armor piercing ammunition, a fee of $10 per year.

(2) If the applicant is an importer—

(A) of destructive devices, ammunition for destructive devices or armor piercing ammunition, a fee of $1,000 per year; or

(B) of firearms other than destructive devices or ammunition for firearms other than destructive devices, or ammunition other than armor piercing ammunition, a fee of $50 per year.

(3) If the applicant is a dealer—

(A) in destructive devices or ammunition for destructive devices, a fee of $1,000 per year; or

(B) who is not a dealer in destructive devices, a fee of $200 for 3 years, except that the fee for renewal of a valid license shall be $90 for 3 years.

(b) Any person desiring to be licensed as a collector shall file an application for such license with the Attorney General. The application shall be in such form and contain only that information necessary to determine eligibility as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe. The fee for such license shall be $10 per year. Any license granted under this subsection shall only apply to transactions in curios and relics.

(c) Upon the filing of a proper application and payment of the prescribed fee, the Attorney General shall issue to a qualified applicant the appropriate license which, subject to the provisions of this chapter and other applicable provisions of law, shall entitle the licensee to transport, ship, and receive firearms and ammunition covered by such license in interstate or foreign commerce during the period stated in the license. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to prohibit a licensed manufacturer, importer, or dealer from maintaining and disposing of a personal collection of firearms, subject only to such restrictions as apply in this chapter to dispositions by a person other than a licensed manufacturer, importer, or dealer. If any firearm is so disposed of by a licensee within one year after its transfer from his business inventory into such licensee's personal collection or if such disposition or any other acquisition is made for the purpose of willfully evading the restrictions placed upon licensees by this chapter, then such firearm shall be deemed part of such licensee's business inventory, except that any licensed manufacturer, importer, or dealer who has maintained a firearm as part of a personal collection for one year and who sells or otherwise disposes of such firearm shall record the description of the firearm in a bound volume, containing the name and place of residence and date of birth of the transferee if the transferee is an individual, or the identity and principal and local places of business of the transferee if the transferee is a corporation or other business entity: Provided, That no other recordkeeping shall be required.

(d)(1) Any application submitted under subsection (a) or (b) of this section shall be approved if—

(A) the applicant is twenty-one years of age or over;

(B) the applicant (including, in the case of a corporation, partnership, or association, any individual possessing, directly or indirectly, the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of the corporation, partnership, or association) is not prohibited from transporting, shipping, or receiving firearms or ammunition in interstate or foreign commerce under section 922(g) and (n) of this chapter;

(C) the applicant has not willfully violated any of the provisions of this chapter or regulations issued thereunder;

(D) the applicant has not willfully failed to disclose any material information required, or has not made any false statement as to any material fact, in connection with his application;

(E) the applicant has in a State (i) premises from which he conducts business subject to license under this chapter or from which he intends to conduct such business within a reasonable period of time, or (ii) in the case of a collector, premises from which he conducts his collecting subject to license under this chapter or from which he intends to conduct such collecting within a reasonable period of time;

(F) the applicant certifies that—

(i) the business to be conducted under the license is not prohibited by State or local law in the place where the licensed premise is located;

(ii)(I) within 30 days after the application is approved the business will comply with the requirements of State and local law applicable to the conduct of the business; and

(II) the business will not be conducted under the license until the requirements of State and local law applicable to the business have been met; and

(iii) that the applicant has sent or delivered a form to be prescribed by the Attorney General, to the chief law enforcement officer of the locality in which the premises are located, which indicates that the applicant intends to apply for a Federal firearms license; and

(G) in the case of an application to be licensed as a dealer, the applicant certifies that secure gun storage or safety devices will be available at any place in which firearms are sold under the license to persons who are not licensees (subject to the exception that in any case in which a secure gun storage or safety device is temporarily unavailable because of theft, casualty loss, consumer sales, backorders from a manufacturer, or any other similar reason beyond the control of the licensee, the dealer shall not be considered to be in violation of the requirement under this subparagraph to make available such a device).

(2) The Attorney General must approve or deny an application for a license within the 60-day period beginning on the date it is received. If the Attorney General fails to act within such period, the applicant may file an action under section 1361 of title 28 to compel the Attorney General to act. If the Attorney General approves an applicant's application, such applicant shall be issued a license upon the payment of the prescribed fee.

(e) The Attorney General may, after notice and opportunity for hearing, revoke any license issued under this section if the holder of such license has willfully violated any provision of this chapter or any rule or regulation prescribed by the Attorney General under this chapter or fails to have secure gun storage or safety devices available at any place in which firearms are sold under the license to persons who are not licensees (except that in any case in which a secure gun storage or safety device is temporarily unavailable because of theft, casualty loss, consumer sales, backorders from a manufacturer, or any other similar reason beyond the control of the licensee, the dealer shall not be considered to be in violation of the requirement to make available such a device). The Attorney General may, after notice and opportunity for hearing, revoke the license of a dealer who willfully transfers armor piercing ammunition. The Secretary's action under this subsection may be reviewed only as provided in subsection (f) of this section.

(f)(1) Any person whose application for a license is denied and any holder of a license which is revoked shall receive a written notice from the Attorney General stating specifically the grounds upon which the application was denied or upon which the license was revoked. Any notice of a revocation of a license shall be given to the holder of such license before the effective date of the revocation.

(2) If the Attorney General denies an application for, or revokes, a license, he shall, upon request by the aggrieved party, promptly hold a hearing to review his denial or revocation. In the case of a revocation of a license, the Attorney General shall upon the request of the holder of the license stay the effective date of the revocation. A hearing held under this paragraph shall be held at a location convenient to the aggrieved party.

(3) If after a hearing held under paragraph (2) the Attorney General decides not to reverse his decision to deny an application or revoke a license, the Attorney General shall give notice of his decision to the aggrieved party. The aggrieved party may at any time within sixty days after the date notice was given under this paragraph file a petition with the United States district court for the district in which he resides or has his principal place of business for a de novo judicial review of such denial or revocation. In a proceeding conducted under this subsection, the court may consider any evidence submitted by the parties to the proceeding whether or not such evidence was considered at the hearing held under paragraph (2). If the court decides that the Attorney General was not authorized to deny the application or to revoke the license, the court shall order the Attorney General to take such action as may be necessary to comply with the judgment of the court.

(4) If criminal proceedings are instituted against a licensee alleging any violation of this chapter or of rules or regulations prescribed under this chapter, and the licensee is acquitted of such charges, or such proceedings are terminated, other than upon motion of the Government before trial upon such charges, the Attorney General shall be absolutely barred from denying or revoking any license granted under this chapter where such denial or revocation is based in whole or in part on the facts which form the basis of such criminal charges. No proceedings for the revocation of a license shall be instituted by the Attorney General more than one year after the filing of the indictment or information.

(g)(1)(A) Each licensed importer, licensed manufacturer, and licensed dealer shall maintain such records of importation, production, shipment, receipt, sale, or other disposition of firearms at his place of business for such period, and in such form, as the Attorney General may by regulations prescribe. Such importers, manufacturers, and dealers shall not be required to submit to the Attorney General reports and information with respect to such records and the contents thereof, except as expressly required by this section. The Attorney General, when he has reasonable cause to believe a violation of this chapter has occurred and that evidence thereof may be found on such premises, may, upon demonstrating such cause before a Federal magistrate judge and securing from such magistrate judge a warrant authorizing entry, enter during business hours the premises (including places of storage) of any licensed firearms importer, licensed manufacturer, licensed dealer, licensed collector, or any licensed importer or manufacturer of ammunition, for the purpose of inspecting or examining—

(i) any records or documents required to be kept by such licensed importer, licensed manufacturer, licensed dealer, or licensed collector under this chapter or rules or regulations under this chapter, and

(ii) any firearms or ammunition kept or stored by such licensed importer, licensed manufacturer, licensed dealer, or licensed collector, at such premises.

(B) The Attorney General may inspect or examine the inventory and records of a licensed importer, licensed manufacturer, or licensed dealer without such reasonable cause or warrant—

The Attorney General may make available to any Federal, State, or local law enforcement agency any information which he may obtain by reason of this chapter with respect to the identification of persons prohibited from purchasing or receiving firearms or ammunition who have purchased or received firearms or ammunition, together with a description of such firearms or ammunition, and he may provide information to the extent such information may be contained in the records required to be maintained by this chapter, when so requested by any Federal, State, or local law enforcement agency.

and the Attorney General approves such alternate method of reporting.

(6) Each licensee shall report the theft or loss of a firearm from the licensee's inventory or collection, within 48 hours after the theft or loss is discovered, to the Attorney General and to the appropriate local authorities.

in the community, and such location is in the State which is specified on the license. Records of receipt and disposition of firearms transactions conducted at such temporary location shall include the location of the sale or other disposition and shall be entered in the permanent records of the licensee and retained on the location specified on the license. (D) ESTATES AND TRUSTS.—In the case of an estate or trust, the $25,000 amount specified under subparagraph (B) of paragraph (1) shall be reduced to an amount which bears the same ratio to $25,000 as the portion of the income of the estate or trust which is not allocated to beneficiaries bears to the total income of the estate or trust.

Minority Views

H.R. 7910 is an assortment of various Democrat gun-control proposals that would restrict Americans' Second Amendment rights. The legislation, crafted entirely without input from Republicans, would fail to prevent gun violence or improve public safety. Instead, it would unconstitutionally limit the Constitutional rights for young adults to purchase certain firearms, ban detached magazines with a capacity of more than 10 rounds of ammunition, and regulate the storage of firearms in private residences, among other provisions. Republicans believe that life is precious, especially the lives of children, but H.R. 7910 is not the silver-bullet solution to the recent tragedies.

H.R. 7910 WOULD RESTRICT AMERICANS' CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS

The Second Amendment protects the right of Americans to keep and bear arms, including the right to purchase them. H.R. 7910, however, would restrict this right for a category of Americans, prohibiting 18 to 20 year-olds from purchasing nearly all semiautomatic rifles and shotguns. During the Committee's business meeting, Rep. Steve Cohen conceded that the bill would cause some law-abiding Americans to lose their constitutional rights: "Will [the bill] stop a law-abiding citizen? Sometimes. Maybe. Will it stop non-law-abiding citizens? Yes."¹ Courts have already struck down similar laws as unconstitutional. In May 2022, the liberal U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit overturned a California law banning the sale of long guns and semiautomatic centerfire rifles to anyone under 21 years old as "a severe burden on the core Second Amendment right of self-defense in the home."² In a concurrence, one judge wrote separately to emphasize "how California's legal position has no logical stopping point and would ultimately erode fundamental rights enumerated in our Constitution."³ Similarly, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit recently ruled that prohibiting 18 to 20 year-olds from purchasing certain firearms is unconstitutional.⁴

H.R. 7910 WOULD PREVENT LAW-ABIDING AMERICANS FROM DEFENDING THEMSELVES

This legislation would prohibit law-abiding 18 to 20 year-olds from purchasing nearly all semiautomatic centerfire rifles and semiautomatic centerfire shotguns.⁵ Americans use these firearms to defend themselves. For example, in 2017, Stephen Willeford used his AR-15 to help stop the deadliest mass shooting in Texas history. Mr. Willeford confronted and shot Devin Kelley, who had just fatally shot 26 people in the First Baptist Church in Sutherland Springs, Texas.⁶ Mr. Willeford likely prevented further casualties and he was hailed a hero by local law enforcement. Also in 2017, Zach Peters used his AR-15 rifle to stop three masked intruders who broke into his home.⁷ In 2013, a 15 year-old boy used his father's AR-15 to defend himself and his sister against two men who broke into their house.⁸

H.R. 7910'S BAN ON "LARGE CAPACITY" MAGAZINES WILL NOT MAKE AMERICANS SAFER AND WILL NOT REDUCE CRIME

H.R. 7910 would ban "large capacity ammunition feeding devices" (LCAFD), which is defined as a magazine that has the capacity to carry more than ten rounds of ammunition.⁹ However, LCAFDs also play a role in self-defense. For instance, on April 15, 2018, a Glen St. Mary, Florida resident awoke at 4 a.m. to a home invasion that was motivated by an apparent Facebook dispute.¹⁰ According to reports, seven masked and armed individuals forced their way into a mobile home where one of the residents was armed with an AR-15.¹¹ The resident fired more than 30 rounds during the event to stop the home invasion.¹² Under H.R. 7910, the resident would not have had access to the rounds necessary to defend his home.

In addition, studies show that the prohibitions on large capacity magazines, such as the ban contained in H.R. 7910, do not result in lower crime. For example, the Violent Crime Control and Law Enforcement Act of 1994 banned magazines with a capacity to carry more than ten rounds. In 2003, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) examined 51 studies that evaluated gun control measures, including the Violent Crime Control and Law Enforcement Act of 1994, and was unable to determine that any ban on "large capacity" magazines reduced crime.¹³ In 1997, the Department of Justice's National Institute of Justice found that the 1994 ban was not effective in reducing crime because large capacity "magazines were never used in more than a modest fraction of gun murders."¹⁴ Another study suggested that a "large capacity" magazine prohibition is ineffective because, on average, 3.2 to 3.7 rounds are fired during the course of a criminal shooting involving a semi-automatic handgun.¹⁵ self-defense.”¹⁶ The safe storage provision in H.R. 7910 mandates that all firearms be secured by a gun lock or some other secure container, or that the firearms be kept on the person, in close proximity to the person, or in a place that is reasonably secure.¹⁷ Any law that prevents a firearm from being immediately retrievable is in violation of the plain language of Heller. Legislation that requires a firearm owner to run a lock through the components of the firearm or that requires the firearm owner to store the firearm in a manner that restricts the quick possession of the firearm for self-defense is unconstitutional. This restriction may also endanger the firearm owner, her family, and others in an emergency scenario when time is of the essence. It is the prerogative of a law-abiding firearm owner to decide how and where the firearm is stored within the home.

H.R. 7910 FAILS TO IMPROVE PUBLIC SAFETY

At the Committee’s business meeting, Chairman Nadler admitted that gun-control laws do not stop criminals from obtaining firearms.¹⁸ In fact, according to the Crime Prevention Research Center, approximately 94% of all mass shootings since 1950 have occurred in gun-free zones.¹⁹ Evil people intent on doing harm will still do us despite H.R. 7910’s onerous restrictions on the rights of law-abiding Americans.

If Democrats were serious about improving public safety, they would focus their efforts on the overwhelming number of shootings that occur in Democrat-run cities. In the weekend following the Committee’s consideration of H.R. 7910, for example, 33 people were shot in Democrat-run Chicago.²⁰ Many of these Democrat-run jurisdictions, of course, have progressive leaders who have backed efforts to defund the police and championed proposals to disincentivize effective policing. Republicans have urged Democrat leaders on the Committee to convene hearings to address these problems,²¹ but they have declined to do so.

DEMOCRATS REJECTED REPUBLICAN AMENDMENTS THAT WOULD HAVE IMPROVED THE LEGISLATION

During the Committee’s business meeting to consider H.R. 7910, Republicans offered several amendments to improve the legislation. Chairman Nadler and the Democrat members of the Committee rejected the following common-sense amendments offered by Republicans:

Representative Massie offered an amendment that would have prohibited victims of domestic violence from being subject to criminal penalties for gun trafficking. Under H.R. 7910 as drafted by the Democrats, if the purchaser of a firearm were to lend the firearm to a domestic violence victim for self-defense, the domestic violence victim would be guilty of gun trafficking and could face up to ten years in federal prison. Representative Massie's amendment would have ensured that a domestic violence victim could adequately defend herself. During the debate, several Democrats demonstrated a fundamental misunderstanding about the plain language of their legislation. Democrats were curiously unable to imagine a scenario in which someone might seek to borrow a firearm from a neighbor or friend. Although Rep. Stanton voted in favor of the amendment, all other Committee Democrats rejected the amendment.

Representative Massie offered a second amendment that would have allowed 18- to 20-year-old individuals registered for the selective service to purchase semiautomatic centerfire rifles and semiautomatic centerfire shotguns. This amendment would have ensured that individuals who are signed up for the draft and may be called to give their lives in defense of their country would be able to purchase a semiautomatic centerfire rifle or a semiautomatic centerfire shotgun. Chairman Nadler admitted that he supported sending 18-20-year-old men into combat but he still maintained that he did not believe the brains of these young Americans were sufficiently developed to handle a firearm. Committee Democrats rejected the amendment.

Representative Massie offered a third amendment that would have allowed the 18- to 20-year-old spouses of active-duty members of the military to purchase semiautomatic centerfire rifles and semiautomatic centerfire shotguns. This amendment would have ensured that the husbands and wives of service members who are fighting for our country would be able to exercise their Second Amendment right to purchase a semiautomatic centerfire rifle or a semiautomatic centerfire shotgun. Committee Democrats rejected the amendment.

Representative Chabot offered an amendment that would have expressed the sense of Congress that states and local school districts should hire more retired police officers and honorably discharged servicemembers. This amendment would have encouraged state and school districts to utilize funding through the Community Oriented Policing Services (COPS) Secure our Schools grant program. Committee Democrats rejected the amendment.

Representative Tiffany offered an amendment that would have required the Attorney General to coordinate with state attorneys general and state law enforcement officials to prosecute violations of 18 U.S.C. § 922(g), which makes it unlawful for several categories of individuals to purchase or possess firearms. Representative Tiffany offered this amendment in response to the inactions of progressive prosecutors throughout the country, who have continually refused to prosecute broad categories of crimes, including crimes associated with firearms. This amendment would have ensured that the Department of Justice and the Attorney General work with the appropriate state and local law enforcement entities to prosecute violations of federal law. Committee Democrats rejected the amendment.

Representative Gaetz offered an amendment that would have expressed the sense of Congress in opposition to red-flag laws. Committee Democrats rejected this amendment as well.

CONCLUSION

H.R. 7910 is a Democrat one-size-fits-all gun control bill that would place significant burdens on Americans' Second Amendment rights while failing to meaningfully prevent gun violence or to improve public safety. This bill is a continuation of House Democrats' overarching fight against the fundamental rights of American citizens.
