PURPOSE AND SUMMARY

H.R. 8286, the Protecting Americans’ Retirement Savings from Politics Act, was introduced on April 15, 2026, by Republican Representative Bryan Steil (WI–01). H.R. 8286 reinforces the materiality standard in financial disclosures and increases the accountability of proxy advisory firms by mandating that the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) disclosures focus strictly on information relevant to investment or voting decisions, requiring proxy advisors to register and face liability for misstatements, and prohibiting automated robo-voting to ensure institutional investors fulfill their fiduciary duties.

BACKGROUND AND NEED FOR LEGISLATION

TITLE I: MANDATORY MATERIALITY REQUIREMENT

Section 101 amends the Securities Act of 1933 (Securities Act) and the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (Exchange Act) to mandate that information required to be disclosed to the SEC by issuers be material to voting or investment decisions regarding those issuers, and for other purposes.

The SEC's pursuit of environmental, social and governance (ESG) disclosure initiatives under its prior Chair, Gary Gensler, threatened the Commission's longstanding materiality standard. This standard has been the touchstone of our public company disclosure regime since the concept was first included in the Securities Act and the Exchange Act. Under the principles-based materiality standard, a company must disclose information to prospective investors and shareholders so that they can make informed investment and proxy voting decisions.¹ With respect to ESG information, public companies are already required to make disclosures under current law when such information is material. Furthermore, the SEC has previously stated that mandatory disclosures regarding environmental and social issues should only be imposed if required by law or if such information is material to investors.² This title will ensure that when the SEC is engaged in rulemaking regarding issuers' disclosure obligations, the SEC will expressly provide that an issuer is only required to disclose information in response to such disclosure obligations to the extent the issuer has determined that such information is material to a voting or investment decision.

A standalone discussion draft of the language of this title was noticed for consideration as H.R. ___, the Mandatory Materiality Requirement Act of 2025, by Representative Huizenga, in the September 10, 2025, Committee hearing titled, "Proxy Power and Proposal Abuse: Reforming Rule 14a-8 to Protect Shareholder Value."

TITLE II: PUBLIC COMPANY ADVISORY COMMITTEE

Section 201 amends the Exchange Act to establish within the SEC the Public Company Advisory Committee (PCAC). The SEC has four advisory committees, including the SEC Small Business Advisory Committee, which was established by the SEC Small Business Advocate Act of 2016. The committee is designed to provide a formal mechanism for the SEC to receive advice and recommendations on SEC rules, regulations, and policy matters relating to small businesses. While this committee's recommendations relating to small businesses include smaller public companies, the SEC does not currently have an advisory committee that provides recommendations related to all public companies. This title will establish the PCAC to provide advice and recommendations on SEC rules, regulations, and policies regarding its mission. The committee will consist of appointed members from public companies, business associations, and professional advisors.

A standalone discussion draft of the language of this title was noticed for consideration in the September 10, 2025, Committee hearing titled, “Proxy Power and Proposal Abuse: Reforming Rule 14a–8 to Protect Shareholder Value” and was subsequently introduced by Representative Lucas as H.R. 6967, the Public Company Advisory Committee Act of 2026.

TITLE III: PROTECTING U.S. BUSINESS SOVEREIGNTY

Section 301 requires the SEC to conduct a study on the detrimental impact of the Corporate Sustainability Due Diligence Directive (CSDDD) and Corporate Sustainability Reporting Directive (CSRD) on United States companies. The CSDD is a European Union directive that requires certain EU and non-EU companies to identify and prevent, stop, or mitigate the actual and potential impacts of their activities on the environment and human rights. The CSDD would require companies to conduct due diligence not just on their own operations, but also on the activities of their subsidiaries and other entities in their value chains with which they have direct and indirect established business relationships. They would need to develop and implement “prevention action plans,” obtain contractual assurances from their direct business partners that they will comply with the plans, and subsequently verify compliance.

Similarly, the EU’s CSRD requires U.S. companies with EU subsidiaries to provide comprehensive and granular disclosures covering a spectrum of ESG topics. The information reported may not be limited to a company’s own operations but would extend to direct and indirect business relationships across the value chain. These disclosures are expected to be some of the most challenging areas of reporting, given the scope and the reliance on information from parties not controlled by the company. This title mandates a study of the potential harmful effects and implications of the CSDD and CSRD on U.S. companies, consumers, investors, and the economy.

TITLE IV: CORPORATE GOVERNANCE EXAMINATION

Section 401 requires the SEC to conduct comprehensive studies on proxy advisory firms and the proxy process. The study will be done within 180 days of the bill’s enactment and repeated every five years, covering the previous 10 years initially and the previous 5 years subsequently.

The studies will address key issues, such as financial incentives and obligations of parties involved, the impact on long-term retail investors and the influence of proxy advisory firms. The studies will provide data-driven insights to enhance shareholder value and promote transparent corporate governance practices. Results will be reported to relevant congressional committees.

A standalone discussion draft of the language of this title was noticed for consideration as H.R. ___, the Corporate Governance Examination Act, by Representative Wagner, in the April 29, 2025, Subcommittee hearing titled, “Exposing the Proxy Advisory Cartel: How ISS & Glass Lewis Influence Markets”, and the September 10, 2025 Committee hearing titled, “Proxy Power and Proposal Abuse: Reforming Rule 14a–8 to Protect Shareholder Value.”

TITLE V: REGISTRATION OF PROXY ADVISORY FIRMS

Section 501 requires proxy advisory firms to register with the SEC, establish requirements for managing conflicts of interest, and mandate disclosure of certain information.

The outsized influence of proxy advisory firms, such as Institutional Shareholder Services (ISS) and Glass Lewis, on the proxy voting system has raised concerns about bias and accountability. These firms command over 90% of the market and hold significant sway over institutional investors' voting decisions, impacting corporate governance's fairness and transparency. Factors contributing to their increasing influence include their role in providing voting recommendations to busy institutional investors and the rise of passive investing, which magnifies their impact on voting decisions. Investment advisors should not wholly delegate their fiduciary responsibilities to proxy advisors, and the SEC should actively monitor investment advisors to ensure they fulfill their duties. This title would require proxy advisors to provide economic analysis when considering social and political issues, ensuring their recommendations align with investment advisors' fiduciary duties. In addition, the title enhances transparency and accountability by requiring proxy advisors to share draft reports with issuers, disclose methodologies and sources of information, and publish annual reports summarizing their activities.

A standalone discussion draft of the language of this title was noticed for consideration as H.R. ___, To amend the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 to provide for the registration of proxy advisory firms, by Representative Steil, in the April 29, 2025 Subcommittee hearing titled, "Exposing the Proxy Advisory Cartel: How ISS & Glass Lewis Influence Markets," and the September 10, 2025 Committee hearing titled, "Proxy Power and Proposal Abuse: Reforming Rule 14a-8 to Protect Shareholder Value."

TITLE VI: LIABILITY FOR CERTAIN FAILURES TO DISCLOSE MATERIAL INFORMATION OR MAKING OF MATERIAL MISSTATEMENTS

Section 601 amends Section 14 of the Exchange Act to state that failure to disclose material information or making material misstatements regarding proxy voting advice will be considered false or misleading with respect to a material fact.

Proxy advisors play a significant role in influencing voting decisions of institutional investors, who rely on their recommendations. If these firms provide inaccurate or incomplete information, investors may make uninformed decisions that can have detrimental effects on their investments. Liability for proxy advisor firms is essential to protect investors, maintain market integrity, promote transparency, ensure fairness, and provide legal recourse in cases of inaccurate or misleading proxy voting advice. Holding these firms accountable for material misstatements or non-disclosures encourages accuracy, objectivity, and independence in their recommendations, safeguarding shareholder interests and enhancing trust in the corporate governance process.

A standalone discussion draft of the language of this title was noticed for consideration as H.R. ___, To amend the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 to provide for liability for certain failures to disclose material information or making of material misstatements, by

Representative Steil, in the April 29, 2025, Subcommittee hearing titled, “Exposing the Proxy Advisory Cartel: How ISS & Glass Lewis Influence Markets.”

TITLE VII: DUTIES OF INVESTMENT ADVISERS, ASSET MANAGERS, AND PENSION FUNDS

Section 701 requires proxy advisor clients to provide annual reports to beneficiaries and customers, revealing how they voted on shareholder proposals and whether the votes aligned with proxy advisory recommendations. Larger entities must also conduct economic analyses for votes against board recommendations, which will be made public.

To enhance transparency and accountability, it is imperative that proxy advisory firm clients are required to publish detailed annual reports. These reports should encompass essential information, such as the percentage of votes cast in accordance with proxy advisory recommendations, the percentage of votes in favor of ESG-related shareholder proposals, and an explanation of how firms reconcile their votes with their fiduciary duty to act in the best economic interest of shareholders. By providing such comprehensive reporting, investors gain valuable insights into the decision-making processes of proxy advisory firm clients, enabling them to evaluate whether the firm is meeting its fiduciary obligations.

Similarly, large asset managers must demonstrate their commitment to accountability and transparency by publicly disclosing the economic analysis behind their shareholder voting decisions. By sharing the rationale behind their voting decisions, including the financial factors considered when opposing boards of independent directors, asset managers should justify these inconsistencies and empower shareholders to comprehend how economic interests are prioritized. This level of transparency fosters trust and enables investors to evaluate whether voting decisions align with their own financial objectives effectively.

A standalone discussion draft of the language of this title was noticed for consideration as H.R. ___, To amend the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 to require certain disclosures by institutional investment managers in connection with proxy advisory firms, by Representative Loudermilk, in the April 29, 2025, Subcommittee hearing titled, “Exposing the Proxy Advisory Cartel: How ISS & Glass Lewis Influence Markets”, and was subsequently introduced as H.R. 3402, which was noticed at the September 10, 2025 Committee hearing titled, “Proxy Power and Proposal Abuse: Reforming Rule 14a–8 to Protect Shareholder Value.”

TITLE VIII: PROTECTING AMERICANS’ SAVINGS

Section 801 prohibits robo-voting, the practice of automated proxy voting based on proxy advisory firm recommendations. It also clarifies that individuals are not obligated to vote on proxy materials.

Investment advisers bear the ultimate responsibility for overseeing the proxy advisory firms they retain. While SEC Staff Legal Bulletin 20 provides a starting point for this oversight, it is necessary to examine whether institutional investors are genuinely fulfilling their fiduciary duties when relying on these firms’ recommendations.³ The concern arises when institutional investors blindly follow proxy advisory recommendations without conducting thorough evaluations. This hasty approach not only undermines the quality of decision-making but also compromises companies' ability to present their case effectively. While proxy advisory firms play a role in the proxy voting analysis, they should not have undue influence over voting decisions. Institutional investors must exercise their fiduciary duties by critically evaluating recommendations and ensuring they align with the best interests of their clients. The prohibition of robo-voting will prevent hasty and uninformed decisions, encouraging investors to engage in thorough analysis before casting their votes. Moreover, by removing the robo-voting mechanism, institutional investors will be compelled to critically evaluate proxy advisory firm recommendations before casting their votes. This shift will allow for greater due diligence, thereby protecting the economic interests of retail investors.

A standalone discussion draft of the language of this title was noticed for consideration in the April 29, 2025, Subcommittee hearing titled, "Exposing the Proxy Advisory Cartel: How ISS & Glass Lewis Influence Markets", and the September 10, 2025 Committee hearing titled, "Proxy Power and Proposal Abuse: Reforming Rule 14a-8 to Protect Shareholder Value." The bill was subsequently introduced by Representative Nunn as H.R. 8383, the Protecting Americans' Savings Act.

TITLE IX: EMPOWERING SHAREHOLDERS

Section 901 requires managers of passive funds to either follow the specific instructions of individual investors, vote in alignment with the company's board, mirror vote, or abstain from the vote entirely.

The dominant position of the three largest index fund providers grants them unparalleled influence, with a combined voting share of approximately one-quarter at shareholder meetings of most S&P 500 companies. However, it's crucial to emphasize that passive index funds are designed to be exactly that—passive. Their primary goal is not to pick winners and losers but rather to replicate the performance of the underlying index more broadly. Consequently, using these funds as a platform to advance specific social and political ideologies, such as ESG and DEI, may not align with the true essence of passive investing and can potentially divert focus from maximizing investor returns. This divergence in the intended nature of passive index funds raises legitimate concerns about the prioritization of political ideologies over the financial interests of retail investors. As such, it is essential to take measures to safeguard the integrity of these funds and ensure that they remain true to their passive nature. For instance, when an investment adviser has the authority to vote on a proxy in connection with a passively managed fund, they should give deference to the recommendations of those boards on shareholder proposals related to social or political policy issues.

A standalone discussion draft of the language of this title was noticed for consideration in the September 10, 2025, Committee hearing titled, “Proxy Power and Proposal Abuse: Reforming Rule 14a–8 to Protect Shareholder Value” and was subsequently introduced by Representative Huizenga as H.R. 8265, the Empowering Shareholders Act of 2026.

TITLE X: BEST INTEREST BASED ON PECUNIARY FACTORS

Section 1001 amends the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 to specify requirements concerning the consideration of pecuniary and non-pecuniary factors, with the option for investors to consent to the use of non-pecuniary factors in decision-making.

Investment advisers have a fiduciary duty to act in the best financial interest of their clients. Title X aims to ensure that investment advisers are not prioritizing non-financial goals over financial returns without the explicit consent of their clients. Moreover, this title ensures such clients are provided with information regarding the expected pecuniary effects and all fees, costs, and other expenses incurred to consider non-pecuniary factors. The goal is to safeguard investors from potentially harmful consequences and to guarantee that ESG investing does not compromise the fiduciary duty of investment advisers.

Such rules and regulations may require such issuer to pro-

(4) ANNUAL ADJUSTMENT.—For each fiscal year, the Commission shall by order adjust the rate required by paragraph (3) for such fiscal year to a rate that is equal to the rate (expressed in dollars per million) that is applicable under section 6(b) of the Securities Act of 1933 for such fiscal year.

(5) FEE COLLECTIONS.—Fees collected pursuant to this subsection for fiscal year 2012 and each fiscal year thereafter shall be deposited and credited as general revenue of the Treasury and shall not be available for obligation.

(6) EFFECTIVE DATE; PUBLICATION.—In exercising its authority under this subsection, the Commission shall not be required to comply with the provisions of section 553 of title 5, United States Code. Such reports shall include for each such equity security held on the last day of the reporting period by accounts (in aggregate or by type as the Commission, by rule, may prescribe) with respect to which the institutional investment manager exercises investment discretion (other than securities held in amounts which the Commission, by rule, determines to be insignificant for purposes of this subsection), the name of the issuer and the title, class, CUSIP number, number of shares or principal amount, and aggregate fair market value of each such security. Such reports may also include for accounts (in aggregate or by type) with respect to which the institutional investment manager exercises investment discretion such of the following information as the Commission, by rule, prescribes—

(2) The Commission shall prescribe rules providing for the public disclosure of the name of the issuer and the title, class, CUSIP number, aggregate amount of the number of short sales of each security, and any additional information determined by the Commission following the end of the reporting period. At a minimum, such public disclosure shall occur every month.

(3) The Commission, by rule or order, may exempt, conditionally or unconditionally, any institutional investment manager or security or any class of institutional investment managers or securities from any or all of the provisions of this subsection or the rules thereunder.

(4) The Commission shall make available to the public for a reasonable fee a list of all equity securities of a class described in section 13(d)(1) of this title, updated no less frequently than reports are required to be filed pursuant to paragraph (1) of this subsection. The Commission shall tabulate the information contained in any report filed pursuant to this subsection in a manner which will, in the view of the Commission, maximize the usefulness of the information to other Federal and State authorities and the public. Promptly after the filing of any such report, the Commission shall make the information contained therein conveniently available to the public for a reasonable fee in such form as the Commission, by rule, may prescribe, except that the Commission, as it determines to be necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors, may delay or prevent public disclosure of any such information in accordance with section 552 of title 5, United States Code. Notwithstanding the preceding sentence, any such information identifying the securities held by the account of a natural person or an estate or trust (other than a business trust or investment company) shall not be disclosed to the public.

(5) In exercising its authority under this subsection, the Commission shall determine (and so state) that its action is necessary or appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors or to maintain fair and orderly markets or, in granting an exemption, that its action is consistent with the protection of investors and the purposes of this subsection. In exercising such authority the Commission shall take such steps as are within its power, including consulting with the Comptroller General of the United States, the Director of the Office of Management and Budget, the appropriate regulatory agencies, Federal and State authorities which, directly or indirectly, require reports from institutional investment managers of information substantially similar to that called for by this subsection, national securities exchanges, and registered securities associations, (A) to achieve uniform, centralized reporting of information concerning the securities holdings of and transactions by or for accounts with respect to which institutional investment managers exercise investment discretion, and (B) consistently with the objective set forth in the preceding subparagraph, to avoid unnecessarily duplicative reporting by, and minimize the compliance burden on, institutional investment managers. Federal authorities which, directly or indirectly, require reports from institutional investment managers of information substantially similar to that called for by this subsection shall cooperate with the Commission in the performance of its responsibilities under the preceding sentence. An institutional investment manager which is a bank, the deposits of which are insured in accordance with the Federal Deposit Insurance Act, shall file with the appropriate regulatory agency a copy of every report filed with the Commission pursuant to this subsection.

(6)(A) For purposes of this subsection the term “institutional investment manager” includes any person, other than a natural person, investing in or buying and selling securities for its own account, and any person exercising investment discretion with respect to the account of any other person.

(B) The Commission shall adopt such rules as it deems necessary or appropriate to prevent duplicative reporting pursuant to this subsection by two or more institutional investment managers exercising investment discretion with respect to the same amount.

(3) When two or more persons act as a partnership, limited partnership, syndicate, or other group for the purpose of acquiring, holding, or disposing of securities of an issuer, such syndicate or group shall be deemed a "person" for the purposes of this subsection.

(4) In determining, for purposes of this subsection, any percentage of a class of any security, such class shall be deemed to consist of the amount of the outstanding securities of such class, exclusive of any securities of such class held by or for the account of the issuer or a subsidiary of the issuer.

(5) In exercising its authority under this subsection, the Commission shall take such steps as it deems necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors (A) to achieve centralized reporting of information regarding ownership, (B) to avoid unnecessarily duplicative reporting by and minimize the compliance burden on persons required to report, and (C) to tabulate and promptly make available the information contained in any report filed pursuant to this subsection in a manner which will, in the view of the Commission, maximize the usefulness of the information to other Federal and State agencies and the public.

(6) The Commission may, by rule or order, exempt, in whole or in part, any person or class of persons from any or all of the reporting requirements of this subsection as it deems necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors.

PROXIES

SEC. 14. (a)(1) It shall be unlawful for any person, by the use of the mails or by any means or instrumentality of interstate commerce or of any facility of a national securities exchange or otherwise, in contravention of such rules and regulations as the Commission may prescribe as necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors, to solicit or to permit the use of his name to solicit any proxy or consent or authorization in respect of any security (other than an exempted security) registered pursuant to section 12 of this title.

(2) The rules and regulations prescribed by the Commission under paragraph (1) may include—

(A) a requirement that a solicitation of proxy, consent, or authorization by (or on behalf of) an issuer include a nominee submitted by a shareholder to serve on the board of directors of the issuer; and

(B) a requirement that an issuer follow a certain procedure in relation to a solicitation described in subparagraph (A).

(b)(1) It shall be unlawful for any member of a national securities exchange, or any broker or dealer registered under this title, or any bank, association, or other entity that exercises fiduciary powers, in contravention of such rules and regulations as the Commission may prescribe as necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors, to give, or to refrain from giving a proxy, consent, authorization, or information statement in respect of any security registered pursuant to section 12 of this title, or any security issued by an investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, and carried for the account of a customer.

(2) With respect to banks, the rules and regulations prescribed by the Commission under paragraph (1) shall not require the disclosure of the names of beneficial owners of securities in an account held by the bank on the date of enactment of this paragraph unless the beneficial owner consents to the disclosure. The provisions of this paragraph shall not apply in the case of a bank which the Commission finds has not made a good faith effort to obtain such consent from such beneficial owners.

(c) Unless proxies, consents, or authorizations in respect of a security registered pursuant to section 12 of this title, or a security issued by an investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, are solicited by or on behalf of the management of the issuer from the holders of record of such security in accordance with the rules and regulations prescribed under subsection (a) of this section, prior to any annual or other meeting of the holders of such security, such issuer shall, in accordance with rules and regulations prescribed by the Commission, file with the Commission and transmit to all holders of record of such security information substantially equivalent to the information which would be required to be transmitted if a solicitation were made, but no information shall be required to be filed or transmitted pursuant to this subsection before July 1, 1964.

(d)(1) It shall be unlawful for any person, directly or indirectly, by use of the mails or by any means or instrumentality of interstate commerce or of any facility of a national securities exchange or otherwise, to make a tender offer for, or a request or invitation for tenders of, any class of any equity security which is registered pursuant to section 12 of this title, or any equity security of an insurance company which would have been required to be so registered except for the exemption contained in section 12(g)(2)(G) of this title, or any equity security issued by a closed-end investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, if, after consummation thereof, such person would, directly or indirectly, be the beneficial owner of more than 5 per centum of such class, unless at the time copies of the offer or request or invitation are first published or sent or given to security holders such person has filed with the Commission a statement containing such of the information specified in section 13(d) of this title, and such additional information as the Commission may by rules and regulations prescribe as necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors. All requests or invitations for tenders or advertisements making a tender offer or requesting or inviting tenders, of such a security shall be filed as a part of such statement and shall contain such of the information contained in such statement as the Commission may by rules and regulations prescribe. Copies of any additional material soliciting or requesting such tender offers subsequent to the initial solicitation or request shall contain such information as the Commission may by rules and regulations prescribe as necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors, and shall be filed with the Commission not later than the time copies of such material are first published or sent or given to security holders. Copies of all statements, in the form in which such material is furnished to security holders and the Commission, shall be sent to the issuer not later than the date such material is first published or sent or given to any security holders.

(2) When two or more persons act as a partnership, limited partnership, syndicate, or other group for the purpose of acquiring, holding, or disposing of securities of an issuer, such syndicate or group shall be deemed a "person" for purposes of this subsection.

(3) In determining, for purposes of this subsection, any percentage of a class of any security, such class shall be deemed to consist of the amount of the outstanding securities of such class, exclusive of any securities of such class held by or for the account of the issuer or a subsidiary of the issuer.

(4) Any solicitation or recommendation to the holders of such a security to accept or reject a tender offer or request or invitation for tenders shall be made in accordance with such rules and regulations as the Commission may prescribe as necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors.

(5) Securities deposited pursuant to a tender offer or request or invitation for tenders may be withdrawn by or on behalf of the depositor at any time until the expiration of seven days after the time definitive copies of the offer or request or invitation are first published or sent or given to security holders, and at any time after sixty days from the date of the original tender offer or request or invitation, except as the Commission may otherwise prescribe by rules, regulations, or order as necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors.

(6) Where any person makes a tender offer, or request or invitation for tenders, for less than all the outstanding equity securities of a class, and where a greater number of securities is deposited pursuant thereto within ten days after copies of the offer or request or invitation are first published or sent or given to security holders than such person is bound or willing to take up and pay for, the securities taken up shall be taken up as nearly as may be pro rata, disregarding fractions, according to the number of securities deposited by each depositor. The provisions of this subsection shall also apply to securities deposited within ten days after notice of an increase in the consideration offered to security holders, as described in paragraph (7), is first published or sent or given to security holders.

(7) Where any person varies the terms of a tender offer or request or invitation for tenders before the expiration thereof by increasing the consideration offered to holders of such securities, such person shall pay the increased consideration to each security holder whose securities are taken up and paid for pursuant to the tender offer or request or invitation for tenders whether or not such securities have been taken up by such person before the variation of the tender offer or request or invitation.

(8) The provisions of this subsection shall not apply to any offer for, or request or invitation for tenders of, any security—

(A) if the acquisition of such security, together with all other acquisitions by the same person of securities of the same class during the preceding twelve months, would not exceed 2 per centum of that class;

(B) by the issuer of such security; or

(C) which the Commission, by rules or regulations or by order, shall exempt from the provisions of this subsection as not entered into for the purpose of, and not having the effect of, changing or influencing the control of the issuer or otherwise as not comprehended within the purposes of this subsection.

(e) It shall be unlawful for any person to make any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state any material fact necessary in order to make the statements made, in the light of the circumstances under which they are made, not misleading, or to engage in any fraudulent, deceptive, or manipulative acts or practices, in connection with any tender offer or request or invitation for tenders, or any solicitation of security holders in opposition to or in favor of any such offer, request, or invitation. The Commission shall, for the purposes of this subsection, by rules and regulations define, and prescribe means reasonably designed to prevent, such acts and practices as are fraudulent, deceptive, or manipulative.

(f) If, pursuant to any arrangement or understanding with the person or persons acquiring securities in a transaction subject to subsection (d) of this section or subsection (d) of section 13 of this title, any persons are to be elected or designated as directors of the issuer, otherwise than at a meeting of security holders, and the persons so elected or designated will constitute a majority of the directors of the issuer, then, prior to the time any such person takes office as a director, and in accordance with rules and regulations prescribed by the Commission, the issuer shall file with the Commission, and transmit to all holders of record of securities of the issuer who would be entitled to vote at a meeting for election of directors, information substantially equivalent to the information which would be required by subsection (a) or (c) of this section to be transmitted if such person or persons were nominees for election as directors at a meeting of such security holders.

(g)(1)(A) At the time of filing such preliminary proxy solicitation material as the Commission may require by rule pursuant to subsection (a) of this section that concerns an acquisition, merger, consolidation, or proposed sale or other disposition of substantially all the assets of a company, the person making such filing, other than a company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, shall pay to the Commission the following fees:

(i) for preliminary proxy solicitation material involving an acquisition, merger, or consolidation, if there is a proposed payment of cash or transfer of securities or property to shareholders, a fee at a rate that, subject to paragraph (4), is equal to $92 per $1,000,000 of such proposed payment, or of the value of such securities or other property proposed to be transferred; and

(ii) for preliminary proxy solicitation material involving a proposed sale or other disposition of substantially all of the assets of a company, a fee at a rate that, subject to paragraph (4), is equal to $92 per $1,000,000 of the cash or of the value of any securities or other property proposed to be received upon such sale or disposition.

(B) The fee imposed under subparagraph (A) shall be reduced with respect to securities in an amount equal to any fee paid to the Commission with respect to such securities in connection with the proposed transaction under section 6(b) of the Securities Act of 1933 (15 U.S.C. 77f(b)), or the fee paid under that section shall be reduced in an amount equal to the fee paid to the Commission in connection with such transaction under this subsection. Where two or more companies involved in an acquisition, merger, consolidation, sale, or other disposition of substantially all the assets of a company must file such proxy material with the Commission, each shall pay a proportionate share of such fee.

(2) At the time of filing such preliminary information statement as the Commission may require by rule pursuant to subsection (c) of this section, the issuer shall pay to the Commission the same fee as required for preliminary proxy solicitation material under paragraph (1) of this subsection.

(3) At the time of filing such statement as the Commission may require by rule pursuant to subsection (d)(1) of this section, the person making the filing shall pay to the Commission a fee at a rate that, subject to paragraph (4), is equal to $92 per $1,000,000 of the aggregate amount of cash or of the value of securities or other property proposed to be offered. The fee shall be reduced with respect to securities in an amount equal to any fee paid with respect to such securities in connection with the proposed transaction under section 6(b) of the Securities Act of 1933 (15 U.S.C. 77f(b)), or the fee paid under that section shall be reduced in an amount equal to the fee paid to the Commission in connection with such transaction under this subsection.

(4) ANNUAL ADJUSTMENT.—For each fiscal year, the Commission shall by order adjust the rate required by paragraphs (1) and (3) for such fiscal year to a rate that is equal to the rate (expressed in dollars per million) that is applicable under section 6(b) of the Securities Act of 1933 (15 U.S.C. 77f(b)) for such fiscal year.

(5) FEE COLLECTION.—Fees collected pursuant to this subsection for fiscal year 2012 and each fiscal year thereafter shall be deposited and credited as general revenue of the Treasury and shall not be available for obligation.

(6) REVIEW; EFFECTIVE DATE; PUBLICATION.—In exercising its authority under this subsection, the Commission shall not be required to comply with the provisions of section 553 of title 5, United States Code. An adjusted rate prescribed under paragraph (4) shall be published and take effect in accordance with section 6(b) of the Securities Act of 1933 (15 U.S.C. 77f(b)).

(7) PRO RATA APPLICATION.—The rates per $1,000,000 required by this subsection shall be applied pro rata to amounts and balances of less than $1,000,000.

(8) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Commission may impose fees, charges, or prices for matters not involving any acquisition, merger, consolidation, sale, or other disposition of assets described in this subsection, as authorized by section 9701 of title 31, United States Code, or otherwise.

(h) PROXY SOLICITATIONS AND TENDER OFFERS IN CONNECTION WITH LIMITED PARTNERSHIP ROLLUP TRANSACTIONS.—

(1) PROXY RULES TO CONTAIN SPECIAL PROVISIONS.—It shall be unlawful for any person to solicit any proxy, consent, or authorization concerning a limited partnership rollup transaction, or to make any tender offer in furtherance of a limited partnership rollup transaction, unless such transaction is conducted in accordance with rules prescribed by the Commission under subsections (a) and (d) as required by this subsection. Such rules shall—

(A) permit any holder of a security that is the subject of the proposed limited partnership rollup transaction to engage in preliminary communications for the purpose of determining whether to solicit proxies, consents, or authorizations in opposition to the proposed limited partnership rollup transaction, without regard to whether any such communication would otherwise be considered a solicitation of proxies, and without being required to file soliciting material with the Commission prior to making that determination, except that—

(i) nothing in this subparagraph shall be construed to limit the application of any provision of this title prohibiting, or reasonably designed to prevent, fraudulent, deceptive, or manipulative acts or practices under this title; and

(ii) any holder of not less than 5 percent of the outstanding securities that are the subject of the proposed limited partnership rollup transaction who engages in the business of buying and selling limited partnership interests in the secondary market shall be required to disclose such ownership interests and any potential conflicts of interests in such preliminary communications;

(B) require the issuer to provide to holders of the securities that are the subject of the limited partnership rollup transaction such list of the holders of the issuer's securities as the Commission may determine in such form and subject to such terms and conditions as the Commission may specify;

(C) prohibit compensating any person soliciting proxies, consents, or authorizations directly from security holders concerning such a limited partnership rollup transaction—

(i) on the basis of whether the solicited proxy, consent, or authorization either approves or disapproves the proposed limited partnership rollup transaction; or

(ii) contingent on the approval, disapproval, or completion of the limited partnership rollup transaction;

(D) set forth disclosure requirements for soliciting material distributed in connection with a limited partnership rollup transaction, including requirements for clear, concise, and comprehensible disclosure with respect to—

(i) any changes in the business plan, voting rights, form of ownership interest, or the compensation of the general partner in the proposed limited partnership rollup transaction from each of the original limited partnerships;

(ii) the conflicts of interest, if any, of the general partner;

(iii) whether it is expected that there will be a significant difference between the exchange values of the limited partnerships and the trading price of the securities to be issued in the limited partnership rollup transaction;

(iv) the valuation of the limited partnerships and the method used to determine the value of the interests of the limited partners to be exchanged for the securities in the limited partnership rollup transaction;

(v) the differing risks and effects of the limited partnership rollup transaction for investors in different limited partnerships proposed to be included, and the risks and effects of completing the limited partnership rollup transaction with less than all limited partnerships;

(vi) the statement by the general partner required under subparagraph (E);

(vii) such other matters deemed necessary or appropriate by the Commission;

(E) require a statement by the general partner as to whether the proposed limited partnership rollup transaction is fair or unfair to investors in each limited partnership, a discussion of the basis for that conclusion, and an evaluation and a description by the general partner of alternatives to the limited partnership rollup transaction, such as liquidation;

(F) provide that, if the general partner or sponsor has obtained any opinion (other than an opinion of counsel), appraisal, or report that is prepared by an outside party and that is materially related to the limited partnership rollup transaction, such soliciting materials shall contain or be accompanied by clear, concise, and comprehensible disclosure with respect to—

(i) the analysis of the transaction, scope of review, preparation of the opinion, and basis for and methods of arriving at conclusions, and any representations and undertakings with respect thereto;

(ii) the identity and qualifications of the person who prepared the opinion, the method of selection of such person, and any material past, existing, or contemplated relationships between the person or any of its affiliates and the general partner, sponsor, successor, or any other affiliate;

(iii) any compensation of the preparer of such opinion, appraisal, or report that is contingent on the transaction's approval or completion; and

(iv) any limitations imposed by the issuer on the access afforded to such preparer to the issuer's personnel, premises, and relevant books and records;

(G) provide that, if the general partner or sponsor has obtained any opinion, appraisal, or report as described in subparagraph (F) from any person whose compensation is contingent on the transaction's approval or completion or who has not been given access by the issuer to its personnel and premises and relevant books and records, the general partner or sponsor shall state the reasons therefor;

(H) provide that, if the general partner or sponsor has not obtained any opinion on the fairness of the proposed limited partnership rollup transaction to investors in each of the affected partnerships, such soliciting materials shall contain or be accompanied by a statement of such partner's or sponsor's reasons for concluding that such an opinion is not necessary in order to permit the limited partners to make an informed decision on the proposed transaction;

(I) require that the soliciting material include a clear, concise, and comprehensible summary of the limited partnership rollup transaction (including a summary of the matters referred to in clauses (i) through (vii) of subparagraph (D) and a summary of the matter referred to in subparagraphs (F), (G), and (H)), with the risks of the limited partnership rollup transaction set forth prominently in the fore part thereof;

(J) provide that any solicitation or offering period with respect to any proxy solicitation, tender offer, or information statement in a limited partnership rollup transaction shall be for not less than the lesser of 60 calendar days or the maximum number of days permitted under applicable State law; and

(K) contain such other provisions as the Commission determines to be necessary or appropriate for the protection of investors in limited partnership rollup transactions.

(2) EXEMPTIONS.—The Commission may, consistent with the public interest, the protection of investors, and the purposes of this title, exempt by rule or order any security or class of securities, any transaction or class of transactions, or any person or class of persons, in whole or in part, conditionally or unconditionally, from the requirements imposed pursuant to paragraph (1) or from the definition contained in paragraph (4).

(3) EFFECT ON COMMISSION AUTHORITY.—Nothing in this subsection limits the authority of the Commission under subsection (a) or (d) or any other provision of this title or precludes the Commission from imposing, under subsection (a) or (d) or any other provision of this title, a remedy or procedure required to be imposed under this subsection.

(4) DEFINITION OF LIMITED PARTNERSHIP ROLLUP TRANSACTION.—Except as provided in paragraph (5), as used in this subsection, the term “limited partnership rollup transaction” means a transaction involving the combination or reorganization of one or more limited partnerships, directly or indirectly, in which—

(A) some or all of the investors in any of such limited partnerships will receive new securities, or securities in another entity, that will be reported under a transaction reporting plan declared effective before the date of enactment of this subsection by the Commission under section 11A;

(B) any of the investors’ limited partnership securities are not, as of the date of filing, reported under a transaction reporting plan declared effective before the date of enactment of this subsection by the Commission under section 11A;

(C) investors in any of the limited partnerships involved in the transaction are subject to a significant adverse change with respect to voting rights, the term of existence of the entity, management compensation, or investment objectives; and

(D) any of such investors are not provided an option to receive or retain a security under substantially the same terms and conditions as the original issue.

(5) EXCLUSIONS FROM DEFINITION.—Notwithstanding paragraph (4), the term “limited partnership rollup transaction” does not include—

(B) Every registered broker and dealer shall annually send to its customers its certified balance sheet and such other financial statements and information concerning its financial condition as the Commission, by rule, may prescribe pursuant to subsection (a) of this section.

(C) The Commission, by rule or order, may conditionally or unconditionally exempt any registered broker or dealer, or class of such brokers or dealers, from any provision of this paragraph if the Commission determines that such exemption is consistent with the public interest and the protection of investors.

(2) The Commission, by rule, as it deems necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors, may prescribe the form and content of financial statements filed pursuant to this title and the accounting principles and accounting standards used in their preparation.

(f)(1) Every national securities exchange, member thereof, registered securities association, broker, dealer, municipal securities dealer, government securities broker, government securities dealer, registered transfer agent, registered clearing agency, participant therein, member of the Federal Reserve System, and bank whose deposits are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation shall—

(A) report to the Commission or other person designated by the Commission and, in the case of securities issued pursuant to chapter 31 of title 31, United States Code, to the Secretary of the Treasury such information about securities that are missing, lost, counterfeit, stolen, or cancelled, in such form and within such time as the Commission, by rule, determines is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors; such information shall be available on request for a reasonable fee, to any such exchange, member, association, broker, dealer, municipal securities dealer, transfer agent, clearing agency, participant, member of the Federal Reserve System, or insured bank, and such other persons as the Commission, by rule, designates; and

(B) make such inquiry with respect to information reported pursuant to this subsection as the Commission, by rule, prescribes as necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors, to determine whether securities in their custody or control, for which they are responsible, or in which they are effecting, clearing, or settling a transaction have been reported as missing, lost, counterfeit, stolen, cancelled, or reported in such other manner as the Commission, by rule, may prescribe.

(2) Every member of a national securities exchange, broker, dealer, registered transfer agent, registered clearing agency, registered securities information processor, national securities exchange, and national securities association shall require that each of its partners, directors, officers, and employees be fingerprinted and shall submit such fingerprints, or cause the same to be submitted, to the Attorney General of the United States for identification and appropriate processing. The Commission, by rule, may exempt from the provisions of this paragraph upon specified terms, conditions, and periods, any class of partners, directors, officers, or employees of any such member, broker, dealer, transfer agent, clearing agency, securities information processor, national securities exchange, or national securities association, if the Commission finds that such action is not inconsistent with the public interest or the protection of investors. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, in providing identification and processing functions, the Attorney General shall provide the Commission and self-regulatory organizations designated by the Commission with access to all criminal history record information.

(3)(A) In order to carry out the authority under paragraph (1) above, the Commission or its designee may enter into agreement with the Attorney General to use the facilities of the National Crime Information Center ("NCIC") to receive, store, and disseminate information in regard to missing, lost, counterfeit, or stolen securities and to permit direct inquiry access to NCIC's file on such securities for the financial community.

(B) In order to carry out the authority under paragraph (1) of this subsection, the Commission or its designee and the Secretary of the Treasury shall enter into an agreement whereby the Commission or its designee will receive, store, and disseminate information in the possession, and which comes into the possession, of the Department of the Treasury in regard to missing, lost, counterfeit, or stolen securities.

(4) In regard to paragraphs (1), (2), and (3), above insofar as such paragraphs apply to any bank or member of the Federal Reserve System, the Commission may delegate its authority to:

(A) the Comptroller of the Currency as to national banks;

(B) the Federal Reserve Board in regard to any member of the Federal Reserve System which is not a national bank; and

(C) the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation for any State bank which is insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation but which is not a member of the Federal Reserve System.

(5) The Commission shall encourage the insurance industry to require their insured to report expeditiously instances of missing, lost, counterfeit, or stolen securities to the Commission or to such other person as the Commission may, by rule, designate to receive such information.

(g) Any broker, dealer, or other person extending credit who is subject to the rules and regulations prescribed by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System pursuant to this title shall make such reports to the Board as it may require as necessary or appropriate to enable it to perform the functions conferred upon it by this title. If any such broker, dealer, or other person shall fail to make any such report or fail to furnish full information therein, or, if in the judgment of the Board it is otherwise necessary, such broker, dealer, or other person shall permit such inspections to be made by the Board with respect to the business operations of such broker, dealer, or other person as the Board may deem necessary to enable it to obtain the required information.

(h) RISK ASSESSMENT FOR HOLDING COMPANY SYSTEMS.—

(1) OBLIGATIONS TO OBTAIN, MAINTAIN, AND REPORT INFORMATION.—Every person who is (A) a registered broker or dealer, or (B) a registered municipal securities dealer for which the Commission is the appropriate regulatory agency, shall obtain such information and make and keep such records as the Commission by rule prescribes concerning the registered person's policies, procedures, or systems for monitoring and controlling financial and operational risks to it resulting from the activities of any of its associated persons, other than a natural person. Such records shall describe, in the aggregate, each of the financial and securities activities conducted by, and the customary sources of capital and funding of, those of its associated persons whose business activities are reasonably likely to have a material impact on the financial or operational condition of such registered person, including its net capital, its liquidity, or its ability to conduct or finance its operations. The Commission, by rule, may require summary reports of such information to be filed with the Commission no more frequently than quarterly.

(2) AUTHORITY TO REQUIRE ADDITIONAL INFORMATION.—If, as a result of adverse market conditions or based on reports provided to the Commission pursuant to paragraph (1) of this subsection or other available information, the Commission reasonably concludes that it has concerns regarding the financial or operational condition of (A) any registered broker or dealer, or (B) any registered municipal securities dealer, government securities broker, or government securities dealer for which the Commission is the appropriate regulatory agency, the Commission may require the registered person to make reports concerning the financial and securities activities of any of such person's associated persons, other than a natural person, whose business activities are reasonably likely to have a material impact on the financial or operational condition of such registered person. The Commission, in requiring reports pursuant to this paragraph, shall specify the information required, the period for which it is required, the time and date on which the information must be furnished, and whether the information is to be furnished directly to the Commission or to a self-regulatory organization with primary responsibility for examining the registered person's financial and operational condition.

(3) SPECIAL PROVISIONS WITH RESPECT TO ASSOCIATED PERSONS SUBJECT TO FEDERAL BANKING AGENCY REGULATION.—

(A) COOPERATION IN IMPLEMENTATION.—In developing and implementing reporting requirements pursuant to paragraph (1) of this subsection with respect to associated persons subject to examination by or reporting requirements of a Federal banking agency, the Commission shall consult with and consider the views of each such Federal banking agency. If a Federal banking agency comments in writing on a proposed rule of the Commission under this subsection that has been published for comment, the Commission shall respond in writing to such written comment before adopting the proposed rule. The Commission shall, at the request of the Federal banking agency, publish such comment and response in the Federal Register at the time of publishing the adopted rule.

(B) USE OF BANKING AGENCY REPORTS.—A registered broker, dealer, or municipal securities dealer shall be in compliance with any recordkeeping or reporting requirement adopted pursuant to paragraph (1) of this subsection concerning an associated person that is subject to examination by or reporting requirements of a Federal banking agency if such broker, dealer, or municipal securities dealer utilizes for such recordkeeping or reporting requirement copies of reports filed by the associated person with the Federal banking agency pursuant to section 5211 of the Revised Statutes, section 9 of the Federal Reserve Act, section 7(a) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act, section 10(b) of the Home Owners' Loan Act, or section 8 of the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956. The Commission may, however, by rule adopted pursuant to paragraph (1), require any broker, dealer, or municipal securities dealer filing such reports with the Commission to obtain, maintain, or report supplemental information if the Commission makes an explicit finding that such supplemental information is necessary to inform the Commission regarding potential risks to such broker, dealer, or municipal securities dealer. Prior to requiring any such supplemental information, the Commission shall first request the Federal banking agency to expand its reporting requirements to include such information.

(C) PROCEDURE FOR REQUIRING ADDITIONAL INFORMATION.—Prior to making a request pursuant to paragraph (2) of this subsection for information with respect to an associated person that is subject to examination by or reporting requirements of a Federal banking agency, the Commission shall—

(i) notify such agency of the information required with respect to such associated person; and

(ii) consult with such agency to determine whether the information required is available from such agency and for other purposes, unless the Commission determines that any delay resulting from such consultation would be inconsistent with ensuring the financial and operational condition of the broker, dealer, municipal securities dealer, government securities broker, or government securities dealer or the stability or integrity of the securities markets.

(D) EXCLUSION FOR EXAMINATION REPORTS.—Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to permit the Commission to require any registered broker or dealer, or any registered municipal securities dealer, government securities broker, or government securities dealer for which the Commission is the appropriate regulatory agency, to obtain, maintain, or furnish any examination report of any Federal banking agency or any supervisory recommendations or analysis contained therein.

(E) CONFIDENTIALITY OF INFORMATION PROVIDED.—No information provided to or obtained by the Commission from any Federal banking agency pursuant to a request by the Commission under subparagraph (C) of this paragraph regarding any associated person which is subject to examination by or reporting requirements of a Federal banking agency may be disclosed to any other person (other than a self-regulatory organization), without the prior written approval of the Federal banking agency. Nothing in this subsection shall authorize the Commission to withhold information from Congress, or prevent the Commission from complying with a request for information from any other Federal department or agency requesting the information for purposes within the scope of its jurisdiction, or complying with an order of a court of the United States in an action brought by the United States or the Commission.

(F) NOTICE TO BANKING AGENCIES CONCERNING FINANCIAL AND OPERATIONAL CONDITION CONCERNS.—The Commission shall notify the Federal banking agency of any concerns of the Commission regarding significant financial or operational risks resulting from the activities of any registered broker or dealer, or any registered municipal securities dealer, government securities broker, or government securities dealer for which the Commission is the appropriate regulatory agency, to any associated person thereof which is subject to examination by or reporting requirements of the Federal banking agency.

(G) DEFINITION.—For purposes of this paragraph, the term “Federal banking agency” shall have the same meaning as the term “appropriate Federal bank agency” in section 3(q) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act (12 U.S.C. 1813(q)).

(4) EXEMPTIONS.—The Commission by rule or order may exempt any person or class of persons, under such terms and conditions and for such periods as the Commission shall provide in such rule or order, from the provisions of this subsection, and the rules thereunder. In granting such exemptions, the Commission shall consider, among other factors—

(A) whether information of the type required under this subsection is available from a supervisory agency (as defined in section 1101(6) of the Right to Financial Privacy Act of 1978 (12 U.S.C. 3401(6))), a State insurance commission or similar State agency, the Commodity Futures Trading Commission, or a similar foreign regulator;

(B) the primary business of any associated person;

(C) the nature and extent of domestic or foreign regulation of the associated person’s activities;

(D) the nature and extent of the registered person’s securities activities; and

(E) with respect to the registered person and its associated persons, on a consolidated basis, the amount and proportion of assets devoted to, and revenues derived from, activities in the United States securities markets.

(5) AUTHORITY TO LIMIT DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Commission shall not be compelled to disclose any information required to be reported under this subsection, or any information supplied to the Commission by any domestic or foreign regulatory agency that relates to the financial or operational condition of any associated person of a registered broker, dealer, government securities broker, government securities dealer, or municipal securities dealer. Nothing in this subsection shall authorize the Commission to withhold information from Congress, or prevent the Commission from complying with a request for information from any other Federal department or agency requesting the information for purposes within the scope of its jurisdiction, or complying with an order of a court of the United States in an action brought by the United States or the Commission. For purposes of section 552 of title 5, United States Code, this subsection shall be considered a statute described in subsection (b)(3)(B) of such section 552. In prescribing regulations to carry out the requirements of this subsection, the Commission shall designate information described in or obtained pursuant to subparagraph (B) or (C) of paragraph (3) of this subsection as confidential information for purposes of section 24(b)(2) of this title.

(i) AUTHORITY TO LIMIT DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Commission shall not be compelled to disclose any information required to be reported under subsection (h) or (i) or any information supplied to the Commission by any domestic or foreign regulatory agency that relates to the financial or operational condition of any associated person of a broker or dealer, investment bank holding company, or any affiliate of an investment bank holding company. Nothing in this subsection shall authorize the Commission to withhold information from Congress, or prevent the Commission from complying with a request for information from any other Federal department or agency or any self-regulatory organization requesting the information for purposes within the scope of its jurisdiction, or complying with an order of a court of the United States in an action brought by the United States or the Commission. For purposes of section 552 of title 5, United States Code, this subsection shall be considered a statute described in subsection (b)(3)(B) of such section 552. In prescribing regulations to carry out the requirements of this subsection, the Commission shall designate information described in or obtained pursuant to subparagraphs (A), (B), and (C) of subsection (i)(5) as confidential information for purposes of section 24(b)(2) of this title.

(j) COORDINATION OF EXAMINING AUTHORITIES.—

(1) ELIMINATION OF DUPLICATION.—The Commission and the examining authorities, through cooperation and coordination of examination and oversight activities, shall eliminate any unnecessary and burdensome duplication in the examination process.

(2) COORDINATION OF EXAMINATIONS.—The Commission and the examining authorities shall share such information, including reports of examinations, customer complaint information, and other nonpublic regulatory information, as appropriate to foster a coordinated approach to regulatory oversight of brokers and dealers that are subject to examination by more than one examining authority.

(3) EXAMINATIONS FOR CAUSE.—At any time, any examining authority may conduct an examination for cause of any broker or dealer subject to its jurisdiction.

(4) CONFIDENTIALITY.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—Section 24 shall apply to the sharing of information in accordance with this subsection. The Commission shall take appropriate action under section 24(c) to ensure that such information is not inappropriately disclosed.

(B) APPROPRIATE DISCLOSURE NOT PROHIBITED.—Nothing in this paragraph authorizes the Commission or any examining authority to withhold information from the Congress, or prevent the Commission or any examining authority from complying with a request for information from any other Federal department or agency requesting the information for purposes within the scope of its jurisdiction, or complying with an order of a court of the United States in an action brought by the United States or the Commission.

(5) DEFINITION.—For purposes of this subsection, the term “examining authority” means a self-regulatory organization registered with the Commission under this title (other than a registered clearing agency) with the authority to examine, inspect, and otherwise oversee the activities of a registered broker or dealer.

RULES, REGULATIONS, AND ORDERS

SEC. 211. (a) The Commission shall have authority from time to time to make, issue, amend, and rescind such rules and regulations and such orders as are necessary or appropriate to the exercise of the functions and powers conferred upon the Commission elsewhere in this title, including rules and regulations defining technical, trade, and other terms used in this title, except that the Commission may not define the term “client” for purposes of paragraphs (1) and (2) of section 206 to include an investor in a private fund managed by an investment adviser, if such private fund has entered into an advisory contract with such adviser. For the purposes of its rules or regulations the Commission may classify persons and matters within its jurisdiction and prescribe different requirements for different classes of persons or matters.

(b) Subject to the provisions of chapter 15 of title 44, United States Code, and regulations prescribed under the authority thereof, the rules and regulations of the Commission under this title, and amendments thereof, shall be effective upon publication in the manner which the Commission shall prescribe, or upon such later date as may be provided in such rules and regulations.

(c) Orders of the Commission under this title shall be issued only after appropriate notice and opportunity for hearing. Notice to the parties to a proceeding before the Commission shall be given by personal service upon each party or by registered mail or certified mail or confirmed telegraphic notice to the party’s last known business address. Notice to interested persons, if any, other than parties may be given in the same manner or by publication in the Federal Register.

(d) No provision of this title imposing any liability shall apply to any act done or omitted in good faith in conformity with any rule, regulation, or order of the Commission, notwithstanding that such rule, regulation, or order may, after such act or omission, be amended or rescinded or be determined by judicial or other authority to be invalid for any reason.

(e) DISCLOSURE RULES ON PRIVATE FUNDS.—The Commission and the Commodity Futures Trading Commission shall, after consultation with the Council but not later than 12 months after the date of enactment of the Private Fund Investment Advisers Registration Act of 2010, jointly promulgate rules to establish the form and content of the reports required to be filed with the Commission under subsection 204(b) and with the Commodity Futures Trading Commission by investment advisers that are registered both under this title and the Commodity Exchange Act (7 U.S.C. 1a et seq.).

(g) STANDARD OF CONDUCT.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Commission may promulgate rules to provide that the standard of conduct for all brokers, dealers, and investment advisers, when providing personalized investment advice about securities to retail customers (and such other customers as the Commission may by rule provide), shall be to act in the best interest of the customer without regard to the financial or other interest of the broker, dealer, or investment adviser providing the advice. In accordance with such rules, any material conflicts of interest shall be disclosed and may be consented to by the customer. Such rules shall provide that such standard of conduct shall be no less stringent than the standard applicable to investment advisers under section 206(1) and (2) of this Act when providing personalized investment advice about securities, except the Commission shall not ascribe a meaning to the term “customer” that would include an investor in a private fund managed by an investment adviser, where such private fund has entered into an advisory contract with such adviser. The receipt of compensation based on commission or fees shall not, in and of itself, be considered a violation of such standard applied to a broker, dealer, or investment adviser.

(2) RETAIL CUSTOMER DEFINED.—For purposes of this subsection, the term “retail customer” means a natural person, or the legal representative of such natural person, who—

(A) receives personalized investment advice about securities from a broker, dealer, or investment adviser; and

(B) uses such advice primarily for personal, family, or household purposes.

(3) BEST INTEREST BASED ON PECUNIARY FACTORS.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of paragraph (1), when providing personalized investment advice, the best interest of a customer shall be determined using pecuniary factors, which, subject to applicable law, may not be subordinated to or limited by non-pecuniary factors, unless—

(i) the customer provides informed consent, whether by e-delivery or e-sign, that such non-pecuniary factors be considered; or

(ii) the personalized investment advice is consistent with the customer’s written investment profile information.

(B) DISCLOSURE OF PECUNIARY EFFECTS.—If a customer provides a broker, dealer, or investment adviser with the informed consent to consider non-pecuniary factors described under subparagraph (A), the broker, dealer, or investment adviser shall provide qualitative disclosure of the potential pecuniary effects to the customer of prioritizing non-pecuniary factors over pecuniary factors in making investment decisions.

(C) PECUNIARY FACTOR DEFINED.—In this paragraph, the term “pecuniary factor” means a factor that a fiduciary prudently determines is expected to have a material effect on the risk or return of an investment based on investment objectives, risk tolerance, and time horizon.

(h) OTHER MATTERS.—The Commission shall—

(1) facilitate the provision of simple and clear disclosures to investors regarding the terms of their relationships with brokers, dealers, and investment advisers, including any material conflicts of interest; and

(2) examine and, where appropriate, promulgate rules prohibiting or restricting certain sales practices, conflicts of interest, and compensation schemes for brokers, dealers, and investment advisers that the Commission deems contrary to the public interest and the protection of investors.

(i) HARMONIZATION OF ENFORCEMENT.—The enforcement authority of the Commission with respect to violations of the standard of conduct applicable to an investment adviser shall include—

(1) the enforcement authority of the Commission with respect to such violations provided under this Act; and

(2) the enforcement authority of the Commission with respect to violations of the standard of conduct applicable to a broker or dealer providing personalized investment advice about securities to a retail customer under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, including the authority to impose sanctions for such violations, and the Commission shall seek to prosecute and sanction violators of the standard of conduct applicable to an investment adviser under this Act to same extent as the Commission prosecutes and sanctions violators of the standard of conduct applicable to a broker or dealer providing personalized investment advice about securities to a retail customer under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

Re: April 21st, 2026 Financial Services Committee Markup

Dear Chairman Hill and Ranking Member Waters:

The American Securities Association (ASA)¹ appreciates the ongoing work of the Financial Services Committee to promote capital formation and to improve the transparency and efficiency of the U.S. proxy system.

The ASA is pleased to support H.R. 8286, the Protecting Americans' Retirement Savings Ahead of Politics Act. This legislation would establish meaningful and long-overdue oversight of the proxy advisory industry by the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC).

I. Overview.

The proxy advisory industry is dominated by two foreign-owned firms – Institutional Shareholder Services (ISS) and Glass Lewis – that have built a lucrative, largely unregulated duopoly and exploited their positions of influence to push radical political ideologies at public companies during proxy season.

Together, ISS and Glass Lewis control an estimated 97 percent of the proxy advisory market,² yet both operate with structural conflicts of interest that would be impermissible for any other regulated market participant. ISS provides paid consulting services to the same companies it evaluates — a dual role that academic research has found produces biased recommendations in favor of paying clients.³ Glass Lewis maintains financial relationships with activist groups and ESG ratings providers whose views are directly incorporated into its proxy recommendations.⁴ Neither firm is required to disclose these conflicts to the investors who rely on their advice.

These firms have no fiduciary duty to shareholders, have a track record of making significant errors when providing vote recommendations, and face no accountability for the damage their bad advice causes. The consequences for ordinary investors are not abstract. Academic research has found that proxy advisor influence induces boards to make governance decisions that decrease shareholder value,⁵ and that passing ESG-related shareholder proposals — like those the proxy advisors routinely champion — produces no measurable improvement in firm financial performance.⁶

Research published in the Journal of Accounting Research found statistically significant abnormal negative stock returns of -0.5% to -0.7% around the release of ISS negative recommendations, and Stanford researchers concluded that proxy advisor influence induces boards to make compensation decisions that decrease shareholder value⁷. These losses land squarely on the retirement accounts of working families whose savings are managed by the institutional investors that blindly follow proxy advisor dictates.⁸

Every issuer, asset manager, broker, custodian, and transfer agent in the proxy process is subject to a comprehensive regulatory regime that protects investors and ensures the voting process is fair and transparent. Yet proxy advisors have escaped even modest regulatory standards for years,⁹ wielding extraordinary influence over corporate America with no accountability, no fiduciary obligation, and no meaningful check on the accuracy of their recommendations or the ideological agendas embedded within them. The result is a system in which two foreign-owned firms function as unelected, unaccountable arbiters of American corporate governance — tilting the field toward political outcomes that serve their owners ideological preferences rather than the financial interests of American investors.

The ASA appreciates the ongoing leadership of Rep. Steil to hold proxy advisors accountable and protect shareholders from their ideological agendas. We also support legislation offered by Rep. Nunn that prohibits fund managers from rotely following the recommendations of proxy advisors – a practice better known as “robovoting.”

II. Priorities for Reform

The ASA previously submitted to the Committee our priorities for reform of the proxy advisory industry. We are pleased that the Protecting Americans’ Retirement Savings from Politics Act address many of our key issues.

1. Subject the recommendations of proxy advisory firms to the SEC’s antifraud rules.

Proxy advisors have a demonstrated track record of committing errors and flaws in the analysis the firms use to develop vote recommendations. A report from the American Council for Capital Formation (ACCF) detailed 58 instances during the 2024 proxy season where proxy advisors based their vote recommendations on either faulty analysis or outright falsehoods.¹⁰ This followed reports from ACCF that found similar performance of proxy advisors during previous proxy seasons. These are not isolated clerical mistakes – they are systemic failures by firms that face no legal liability for the damage their bad advice inflicts on shareholders.

When a registered broker-dealer issues flawed research, it faces regulatory consequences. When ISS or Glass Lewis issues a flawed vote recommendation that drives institutional investors to vote against management at hundreds of companies simultaneously – potentially destroying billions of dollars in shareholder value – they face nothing. That accountability gap is indefensible.

If a public company made a false statement in one of its annual or quarterly filings, or an SEC-registered asset manager included a false statement in its prospectus, they would be subject to shareholder legal action and enforcement action from the SEC. There is no reason why this same principle should not apply to proxy advisors.

The consistent failure of proxy advisors to provide fair, objective, and accurate information to their institutional investor clients inexplicably escapes SEC penalty. This is particularly egregious given that proxy advisors’ outsized influence – institutional investors acting on their recommendations collectively control trillions of dollars in assets – means their errors are not merely inconvenient; they are market-moving events with real consequences for company valuations, capital allocation decisions, and ultimately, the retirement savings of ordinary Americans.

At the very minimum, proxy advice must become subject to the antifraud rules under Exchange Act Rule 14a-9. Anything less is a regulatory double standard that protects a powerful industry at investors’ expense.

2. Require enhanced disclosure of proxy advisory firm conflicts of interest.

It is also unclear to the public whether proxy advisors have committed to disclosing specific conflicts. For example, do proxy advisors disclose whether a shareholder proposal they recommend voting for has been submitted by one of their own clients to the company? Have they ever recused themselves in such a situation?

The SEC and Congress must examine the foreign ownership of both ISS and Glass Lewis and whether these firms are controlled by foreign organizations and/or foreign governments whose political or policy positions may be at odds with U.S. law. This is not a theoretical concern. ISS is owned by Deutsche Börse, a German company.¹¹ Glass Lewis is owned by a Canadian fund.¹²

The idea that foreign government-affiliated entities are directing billions of dollars in American shareholder votes – on matters ranging from executive compensation to U.S. energy policy to corporate political spending – without any disclosure of their own political interests or regulatory oversight should alarm every Member of Congress regardless of party. Foreign entities acting at the direction of foreign government officials that intentionally inject social and political biases into our markets through voting recommendations are not engaged in protected speech under the First Amendment. It is also unclear whether proxy advisors' lobbying of Congress and the SEC complies with the Foreign Agents Registration Act.¹³

3. Public companies should be provided with an opportunity to review and respond to proxy advisor vote recommendations.

To correct the errors in proxy advisor recommendations – or to simply guarantee a company's view on a particular matter is heard during proxy season – the SEC's 2020 rules provided a mechanism for companies to review proxy advisor recommendations and provide a written response before their annual general meeting.

Under that provision, proxy advisors were under no legal obligation to change their recommendation, but shareholders would be provided with more complete and accurate information before casting their votes. The review-and-respond mechanism should be restored, either through the Putting Americans' Retirement Savings Ahead of Politics Act or SEC regulation.

¹¹ Deutsche Börse AG acquired a majority stake of approximately 80 percent in ISS in 2020. Deutsche Börse AG is a publicly listed German corporation and operator of the Frankfurt Stock Exchange. See ISS STOXX GmbH, company overview, available at <https://www.issgovernance.com/>.

¹³ <https://www.justice.gov/nsd-fara> FARA requires certain agents of foreign principals who are engaged in political activities or other activities specified under the statute to make periodic public disclosure of their relationship with the foreign principal, as well as activities, receipts and disbursements in support of those activities. Disclosure of the required information facilitates evaluation by the government and the American people of the activities of such persons in light of their function as foreign agents. The FARA Unit of the Counterintelligence and Export Control Section (CES) in the National Security Division (NSD) is responsible for the administration and enforcement of FARA.

III. Materiality

The ASA also strongly supports a provision in H.R. 8286 that would require any public company disclosure requirement adopted by the SEC to meet the standard of materiality, as articulated by the Supreme Court in TSC Industries v. Northway.¹⁴

Over time, the materiality standard has eroded as SEC disclosure mandates have continued to grow, and the securities laws are increasingly weaponized in attempts to address social or political matters that have no bearing on a company's financial condition or prospects.¹⁵

Proxy advisors have been active accelerants of this trend – routinely recommending votes in favor of shareholder proposals demanding disclosures on controversial cultural and political issues that fail any reasonable materiality test, while institutional investors who mechanically follow those recommendations outsource their fiduciary judgment to firms with no skin in the game.

The result is increased compliance costs for public companies that ultimately flow through to shareholders, a disclosure regime so bloated that investors cannot identify the information that actually matters, and a proxy process in which politically motivated proposals – championed by proxy advisors and their activist clients – crowd out substantive governance discussions.

Enshrining the materiality standard into law will restore discipline to the disclosure process and deprive proxy advisors of one of their most potent tools for injecting ideology into the boardroom. The ASA strongly supports this provision.

IV. Conclusion

The ASA commends the Financial Services Committee for advancing H.R. 8286 and urges its swift passage. For too long, ISS and Glass Lewis have operated in an unelected, unaccountable, way that has nothing to do with maximizing returns for American investors.

They have exploited a regulatory blind spot to build an extraordinarily profitable duopoly, profiting from conflicts of interest that would disqualify any other market participant, and using their stranglehold over institutional voting to impose ideological agendas on American companies and their shareholders.

H.R. 8286 closes that blind spot.

The bill subjects proxy advisors to the same basic standards of accuracy, transparency, and accountability that every other participant in the capital markets must meet. The retirement savings of millions of teachers, firefighters, and hard-working Americans depends on a proxy system that serves their financial interests – not the political preferences of foreign-owned advisory firms. This legislation represents a critical and long-overdue step toward that goal.

We look forward to continuing to work with the Committee on these important reforms.

Re: Support for H.R. 8286, the Protecting Americans' Retirement Savings from Politics Act

Dear Chairman Hill and Ranking Member Waters:

On behalf of the National Association of Manufacturers, we write in strong support of H.R. 8286, the Protecting Americans' Retirement Savings from Politics Act. This legislative package, introduced by Rep. Bryan Steil (R-WI), would bring much-needed oversight to the influential proxy firm duopoly and ensure that the retirement savings of America's workers are protected from politically motivated proxy advice. Manufacturers thank Rep. Steil for his years of leadership on this critical issue, and we encourage the Committee to support this bill.

The NAM is the voice of the manufacturing community and the leading advocate for a policy agenda that supports and empowers the 13 million people who make things in America. The NAM's membership includes businesses of all sizes, across all industrial sectors, and in all 50 states. Manufacturers collectively contribute $2.93 trillion to the U.S. economy—and right-sized, commonsense proxy voting and disclosure rules are critical to sustaining the manufacturing strength that underpins our nation's prosperity.

Manufacturers thank the Committee for holding hearings to illuminate the threat that proxy firms pose to public companies and Americans' retirement security and for scheduling H.R. 8286 for markup.

I. Lawmakers Should Act to Rein in the Pervasive Influence of Proxy Firms and Protect American's Retirement Savings

Proxy advisory firms play a central role in the proxy voting process by providing voting research, recommendations, ratings, and other services to institutional investors. Two firms—ISS and Glass Lewis—are estimated to control more than 97% of the U.S. proxy advice market. Yet as this duopoly's influence has increased in recent years, due in large part to the increase in institutional ownership of American stocks, the regulatory guardrails under which proxy firms operate have failed to keep pace. Today, there is no meaningful regulation of these powerful entities and minimal accountability for their conflicts of interest, opaque methodologies, rigid and inflexible policies, propensity for errors and misleading statements, and their unwillingness to engage with publicly traded companies. For example:

- Proxy firms operate with undisclosed and unaddressed conflicts of interest. Of particular concern, ISS operates a consulting business that counsels companies on equity incentive plans and other governance policies on which the advisory side of the firm makes recommendations. Glass Lewis has a different type of conflict; it offers “stewardship” and “custom engagement” services to assist activist investor campaigns and then makes recommendations on activists’ shareholder proposals.

- Proxy firms typically apply a one-size-fits-all approach to corporate governance that does not consider differences in companies’ business models and the flexibility allowed under U.S. securities laws. Increasingly, these firms seek to influence rather than analyze and report on corporate behavior, particularly as it relates to environmental and social issues.
- The guidelines on which proxy firms based their recommendations, and the recommendations themselves, are developed with minimal transparency or consideration of corporate input. The lack of transparency associated with these quasi-regulatory standards is a significant contrast to the rigorous notice-and-comment procedures that the Securities and Exchange Commission and other regulators are required to follow.
- Proxy firm reports and recommendations often include errors and misleading statements, ranging from specific incorrect facts to mistaken assumptions about, for instance, a company’s peer group or executive compensation practices. The recommendations also feature terms with common market meanings like “total shareholder return” but often use opaque calculation methodologies that vary from traditional market practice.
- Proxy firms have steadfastly resisted engaging in a productive dialogue with companies to correct errors and misunderstandings. ISS rescinded the limited issuer engagement practices it had previously had in place, while Glass Lewis charges companies for the opportunity to review its report drafts.
- Proxy firms routinely engage in the automatic submission of proxy votes on behalf of their clients in a practice known as “robo-voting.” Robo-voting deprives asset managers—and by extension the Main Street investors they represent—of an opportunity to review a proxy firm’s recommendation and make an informed voting decision.

After more than 10 years of studying these concerns and seeking feedback from companies and investors, the SEC acted in 2020 to adopt a compromise rulemaking to improve the accuracy of proxy advice. Unfortunately, Chairman Gary Gensler suspended enforcement of this much-needed rule in 2021 before it could take effect and then pushed through a hastily drafted rescission in 2022.

In addition, ISS filed a lawsuit challenging the SEC’s authority to regulate proxy advice under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (“Exchange Act”). Regrettably, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit failed to fully appreciate the pervasive influence of proxy firms and ruled in July 2025 that the SEC does not have authority under the Exchange Act to regulate proxy advice. As a result of this decision, proxy advisors are the only participants in the U.S. proxy voting process that are not subject to direct SEC oversight. Public companies, activist investors, investment managers, transfer agents, and other intermediaries are all subject to SEC scrutiny, but not proxy advisory firms, even though they routinely sway 20% to 30% of the shareholder vote at companies’ annual meetings.

Congress has heard extensive testimony about proxy firm abuses from the NAM¹ and other stakeholders at multiple hearings over the past several years. We are grateful that the Committee is considering Rep. Steil's legislation to address this important issue, and we are pleased to support H.R. 8286.

II. Manufacturers Strongly Support the Protecting Americans' Retirement Savings from Politics Act

The NAM strongly supports the following provisions of H.R. 8286:

- Section 501 (Registration of Proxy Advisory Firms): This provision directs proxy advisory firms to formally register with the SEC and to certify that their voting recommendations are based on accurate data and serve the best economic interests of shareholders.
- Section 601 (Liability for Certain Failures to Disclose Material Information or Making of Material Misstatements): This section amends Section 14 of the Exchange Act to state that failure to disclose material information (or making material misstatements regarding proxy voting advice) will be considered false or misleading and thus subject to liability. To accomplish the goals of Sections 501 and 601, the SEC should mandate a pre-publication draft review process, whereby companies would have a reasonable opportunity to review draft research reports and identify errors before investors vote on flawed proxy advice.
- Section 701 (Duties of Investment Advisors, Asset Managers, and Pension Funds): This provision requires institutional investment managers who utilize proxy advisory firms to file annual reports with the SEC providing a detailed explanation of their voting record on every shareholder proposal. Such disclosures would help Americans better understand how their mutual fund shares and other investments are being voted.
- Section 801 (Protecting Americans' Savings): This section prohibits institutional investment managers from engaging in "robo-voting." The NAM believes that "robo-voting" through proxy firms is not consistent with investment managers' fiduciary duties to the millions of Americans whose investment savings they oversee.
- Section 1001 (Best Interest Based on Pecuniary Factors): This provision would amend the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 to specify requirements concerning the consideration of pecuniary and non-pecuniary factors, with the option for investors to consent to the use of non-pecuniary factors in decision-making. The NAM believes that Americans' retirement savings should not be invested to promote non-financial goals unless they have affirmatively consented to that strategy.

¹ See, e.g., Testimony of Charles Crain, Managing Vice President, Policy, National Association of Manufacturers, Before the U.S. House of Representatives, House Committee on Financial Services, Subcommittee on Capital Markets, Hearing on "Exposing the Proxy Advisory Cartel: How ISS & Glass Lewis Influence Markets (29 April 2025), available at <https://docs.house.gov/meetings/BA/BA16/20250429/118146/HHRG-119-BA16-Wstate-Crain-20250429.pdf>; Testimony of Charles Crain, Managing Vice President, Policy, NAM, Before the U.S. House of Representatives, Committee on the Judiciary Subcommittee on the Administrative State, Regulatory Reform, and Antitrust, Hearing on "The Proxy Advisor Duopoly's Anticompetitive Conduct" (25 June 2025), available at <https://judiciary.house.gov/sites/evo-subsites/republicans-judiciary.house.gov/files/evo-media-document/crain-testimony.pdf>.

The NAM also supports other provisions of Rep. Steil's bill that relate to important issues beyond proxy voting:

- Section 101, which would amend the federal securities laws to mandate that all information required to be disclosed by public companies be material to voting or investment decisions regarding those companies.
- Section 201, which would establish a Public Company Advisory Committee at the SEC. Manufacturers and other non-financial companies are the only SEC-regulated entities that are not represented on the SEC's advisory committees.
- Section 301, which would require the SEC to conduct a study of the detrimental impacts that the European Union's Corporate Sustainability Due Diligence Directive may have on U.S. companies, consumers, and investors. The NAM, which has urged the Trump administration to negotiate with EU officials to exempt U.S. companies, believes that an SEC analysis would help illuminate the significant costs resulting from this far-reaching EU mandate.

The NAM respectfully encourages the Committee to pass H.R. 8286, which would ensure that proxy firms are subject to effective SEC oversight and that Americans' retirement savings are not jeopardized by politically tainted proxy advice. The NAM looks forward to working with lawmakers to pass this bill and other legislation to promote long-lasting reforms to the U.S. proxy process.

Re: AFR opposes deregulatory bills in April 21, 2026 House Committee on Financial Services markup.

Dear Chairman Hill and Ranking Member Waters:

Americans for Financial Reform (AFR)¹ is writing to respectfully urge Members to oppose the following bills noticed for markup in the House Financial Services Committee on April 21, 2026.

H.R. 941, the Small Lenders Exempt from New Data and Excessive Reporting (LENDER) Act

AFR along with over 200 civil rights, community, family farm, small business, women's, consumer, civic, and other organizations oppose this legislation. This bill weakens Section 1071 of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act by further delaying its implementation and exempting 1,500 financial institutions from complying with its requirements. Section 1071 amended the Equal Credit Opportunity Act (ECOA) to require lenders to compile and maintain data about their small business and farm lending. This commonsense measure provides much needed information and transparency for lenders, communities, and local governments to identify small business and farm credit needs, gaps in access to credit, and patterns of lending discrimination. Weakening this provision would make it significantly more difficult to root out and address patterns of discrimination as well as undermine effective civil rights enforcement for small business and small farm lending.

H.R. 8286, the Protecting Americans' Retirement Savings from Politics Act

AFR opposes H.R. 8286. This package would undermine investor protections, limit access to essential information, restrict the voice and power of shareholders, insulate management of public companies from investor accountability, and wrongfully target proxy advisory firms. This legislation would tip the scales of our corporate governance system in favor of management and against shareholders, including workers saving for retirement. A coalition of 40 investors, labor unions, and public interest organizations wrote to oppose these bills in the last Congress. More details in this letter here.

¹ AFR is a nonpartisan and nonprofit coalition founded by more than 200 civil rights, consumer, labor, business, investor, faith-based, and civic and community groups. Formed in the wake of the 2008 crisis, AFR continues to work towards a strong, stable, and ethical financial system. We are committed to eliminating economic and racial inequity in the financial system and fighting for a just and sustainable economy. More at ourfinancialsecurity.org

H.R. 425, the Repealing Big Brother Overreach Act

AFR opposes H.R. 425. This legislation repeals the Corporate Transparency Act (CTA), a bipartisan measure signed into law by President Trump. The CTA is a key tool to prevent the abuse of anonymous shell companies for illegal activities. Repealing the CTA would embolden fraudsters, tax cheats, traffickers, and cartels and make it harder for law enforcement to monitor and track illicit financial activities. Repealing the CTA would also promote real estate money laundering and allow anonymous, all-cash home purchasers unfair advantages over average homebuyers. The CTA provides necessary transparency in our economic system.

Thank you,
Americans for Financial Reform

MINORITY VIEWS

H.R. 8286 includes several provisions that make it more difficult for shareholders to offer shareholder proposals, thereby limiting their ability to have a say in how the corporations they own are managed and giving more power to corporate management. Specifically, this bill limits investor voices by silencing proxy advisory firms. These firms provide independent analysis of the impact of shareholder proposals to shareholders and their representatives to help them make informed voting decisions at a company's annual meeting. In this way, proxy advisory firms ensure investors have an outside perspective that may differ from what management is recommending on specific proposals. Among its provisions limiting the role of proxy advisors are provisions: mandating that investment advisers, asset managers, and pension funds that use proxy advisors file an annual report with the SEC to disclose the use of such services; requiring the SEC to issue final rules prohibiting investors from allowing their fiduciaries to automatically vote on their behalf based on common-sense proxy advisor analysis and recommendations; and preventing investment advisers that vote on behalf of shareholders of passively managed funds to rely on and use analysis from proxy advisors. This bill would also impede the use of the systems proxy advisors have created to help fund managers vote on behalf of their fund's shareholders.

Additionally, H.R. 8286 would allow issuers, rather than investors, to determine which types of information get disclosed in a company's SEC filings. The legal concept for determining what information is important enough for a company to be required to disclose it is known as "materiality". Under current case law and SEC precedent, information is "material" if there is a substantial likelihood a reasonable investor would find it important in determining whether or not to invest in the issuer's securities. This particular provision of H.R. 8286 amends the law to require issuers to only disclose information "to the extent the issuer has determined that such information is material" (emphasis added). In doing so, the entity whose conduct is being disclosed now gets to decide what investors need to know about that conduct. This is the opposite of how a disclosure regime works, and flies in the face of how courts and the SEC have conducted the materiality analysis—which has long treated investors, rather than issuers, as the primary determiners of the types of information that a company should disclose to the public.

Furthermore, the bill would restrict the SEC's ability to require public companies disclose critical information about climate risk and political spending—depriving markets and investors of information needed to make sound and fully informed investment decisions. H.R. 8286 would also create a Public Company Advisory Committee that would give companies, their attorneys, and lobbyists an additional insider avenue to influence SEC policy.

Many of the titles in this bill were included in a package offered in the 118th Congress, which Financial Services Committee Democrats unanimously opposed at markup. That package went on to receive near-unanimous Democratic opposition when it was considered on the full House floor.

Various titles within this package were also opposed in the 118th and/or 119th Congress by the following groups: AFL CIO; Americans for Financial Reform; Better Markets; US SIF; Interfaith Center on Corporate Responsibility; Ceres; OUT Leadership; US Impact Investing Alliance; Shareholder Rights Group; Green America; PRI; Family Farm Defenders; Food and Water Watch; Institute for Agriculture and Trade Policy; and Union for Concerned Scientists. In a letter submitted by AFL CIO in opposition to the bill, the authors stated:

“this bill will undermine corporate accountability to investors—including the retirement savings of working people—by undermining our nation’s public company disclosure rules and the ability of retirement plans to vote proxies in the best interests of their participants and beneficiaries . . . [it will also] restrict the ability of the [SEC] to adopt effective disclosure rules by allowing public companies to opt out of disclosure if the company determines that such information is not material to its investors [thereby making] corporate disclosure[s] less comparable and less consistent, and will allow corporate bad actors to conceal information from their investors. In effect, allowing public companies to determine whether they must comply with disclosure rules is letting the fox guard the henhouse. H.R. 8286 also will interfere with the rights of investors to vote proxies at company shareholder meetings by putting the thumb on the scale in favor of corporate CEOs and boards of directors. In sum, H.R. 8286 would insulate corporate CEOs from accountability to their own investors, reduce corporate transparency, and restrict investors’ access to information and their freedom to make their own investment and proxy voting decisions, all to the detriment of working people’s hard earned retirement savings.”¹⁰

In another letter in opposition, Americans for Financial Reform stated:

formation they need to provide to investors—even in the context of SEC disclosure rules—by creating an advisory entity within the SEC to represent the interests of corporate boards and executives, and by mandating studies and reports biased in favor of management interests. These changes would undermine the SEC’s statutory investor protection mission and distort it into a corporate management-protection mission. The bill would also further tilt the playing field in favor of corporate boards and executives by creating strong and inappropriate incentives for asset managers to either cast votes in favor of management or not vote at all. Similarly, other provisions would strongly disincentivize proxy advisors from making voting recommendations against management. This would undermine the ability of these service providers to act in the best interests of the investors who hire them.”¹¹

A coalition of over 30 investors, labor unions, and public interest organizations also wrote to oppose a similar bill last Congress.¹²

For these reasons, we oppose H.R. 8286.
