

Administration of Donald J. Trump, 2019

Remarks to Reporters at Joint Base Andrews, Maryland

April 26, 2019

The President. The GDP numbers were just announced and they were far higher than even the high expectation. There were many people who thought it would be less than 2, and they were at 3.2.

Inflation numbers are very low. The gasoline prices are coming down. I called up OPEC. I said: "You've got to bring them down. You've got to bring them down." And gasoline is coming down. We're doing great.

GDP is an incredible number. But remember this: Not only that, we have a great growth—which is growth. We have great growth and also very, very low inflation. Our economy is doing great, number one in the world. We're number-one economy right now in the world and it's not even close.

So thank you very much.

NOTE: The President spoke at 9:48 a.m. on the tarmac, prior to boarding Air Force One en route to Indianapolis, IN.
