Joint Statement by the United States, India, Brazil, and South Africa on the Group of Twenty (G–20) Nations

September 9, 2023

We, the Leaders of India, Brazil, South Africa, and the United States, met on the margins of the G20 Leaders' Summit in New Delhi to reaffirm our shared commitment to the G20 as the premier forum for international economic cooperation to deliver solutions for our shared world.

As the G20's current and next three Presidencies, we will build on the historic progress of India's G20 Presidency to address global challenges. In this spirit, together with the World Bank President, we welcome the G20's commitment to build better, bigger, and more effective multilateral development banks. This commitment underscores what we can do, by working together through the G20, to support our people toward a better future.

NOTE: The joint statement referred to Prime Minister Narendra Modi of India; President Luiz Inácio Lula da Silva of Brazil; President Matamela Cyril Ramaphosa of South Africa; and President Ajay Banga of the World Bank Group.
